

Eastern's Important Publications

[illegible]

ORDER THE PUBLISHERS—

EASTERN LAW HOUSE, 15, COLLEGE SQ CALCUTTA

Eastern's Important Publications.

	Rs.	A.
A. C. Dutt's Indian Contract Act, 1936	...	7 0
A. C. Dutt's Commentaries on Indian Succession Act, 1933	...	10 0
A. C. Ganguli's Civil Court Practice & Procedure, 5th Ed 1936	..	5 0
A. C. Ganguli's Practical Guide to Criminal Court Practice, 1937	..	4 0
A. Ghosh's Provincial Insolvency (Amended) Act, 10th Ed Reprinted 1936	4	0
A. Ghosh's Land Acquisition Acts, with L. A. (Mines) Acts &c. 3rd Ed 1935	5	0
A. Ghosh's Law of Endowments (Hindu & Mahomedan) 2nd Ed 1938 (Just out)	10	0
B. B. Mitra's Criminal Procedure Code, 9th Ed 1937	...	12 0
B. B. Mitra's Provincial Small Cause Courts Act, 7th Ed 1935	3	0
B. B. Mitra's Transfer of Property Act, As Amended to 1934, 8th Ed 1934	7	8
B. B. Mitra's Guardian & Wards Act, 7th Ed 1937	...	2 8
B. B. Mitra's Indian Succession Act, 4th Ed. 1938 (Just out)	...	5 0
Bhashyam & Adiga's Negotiable Instruments Act, 7th Ed 1938 (In the press)	12	0
B. K. Pal's Civil Reference, 1836—1937 6th Ed 1938	8	0
B. K. Pal's Up to-date Criminal Reference, 1836—1933 4th Ed. 1933	7	0
B. C. De's Law of Impartible Estates, 1934	...	7 8
Major Cox's Medico Legal Court Companion, 3rd Ed 1938 (In the Press)	7	8
De Souza's Indian Conveyancing Forms & Precedents, 2nd Ed 1936	2	8
D. C. Banerji's Law of Arbitration & Award in B. I., 4th Ed 1933	10	0
D. N. Guha's Law of Defamation & Malicious Prosecution 1934	..	2 0
Sir D. F. Mulla's Civil Procedure Code, 10th Ed 1934 with Supplement upto May 1938	22	0
Sir D. F. Mulla's Indian Registration Act, 4th Ed 1938 (In the press)	...	10 0
Sir D. F. Mulla's Hindu Law, 8th (Enlarged) Ed 1936	..	14 0
Sir D. F. Mulla's Transfer of Property Act, 2nd (Enlarged) Ed. 1936	..	18 0
Sir D. F. Mulla's Mahomedan Law, 11th Enlarged Ed 1938	6	0
Sir D. F. Mulla's Law of Insolvency in India T. L. L. 1929—1934	8	0
Sir Mulla & Pratt's Indian Stamp Act, 3rd Enlarged Ed 1935	7	0
Sir Pollock & Mulla's Indian Contract & Specific Relief Acts, 6th Ed 1931	16 0	} Together Rs 28
Sir Pollock & Mulla's Indian Sale of Goods Act, 1933	.. 7 0
Sir Pollock & Mulla's Indian Partnership Act, 1934	1 7 0
E. C. Ormond's Law of Patents in B. I. 1936	..	12 8
F. C. Brewster's Fingerprints, fully illustrated 1936	5	0
G. K. Roy's Indian Arms Act Manual 9th Ed 1935	6	12
G. K. Roy's Indian Press Laws, 4th Ed 1938 (In the Press)	3	0
G. K. Roy's Rules Relating to Public Servants, 9th Ed 1938	2	11
H. C. Mitra's Indian Limitation Act, 12th Enlarged Ed 1938	7	8
H. C. Mital's Statute Law of Divorce in B. I. 1936	7	0
H. C. Mital's Statute Law of Marriage in India, 1936	4	0
J. L. Kapur's Law of Adoption in India 1933 with Supplement upto 1935	10	0
Jethabhai 100 year's Indian Calendar, 1845-1944	6	0
Jagat Narain's Indian Election Petitions, 1920-33 (in 4 Vols)	30	0
Do. Law of Elections & Election Petitions in India & Burma, 1937	18	0
K. C. Chakrabarti's Criminal Pleadings, Evidence & Practice in B. I., 3rd Ed 1936	...	3 0
K. J. Aiyar's Manual of Law Terms & Phrases, 2nd En. Ed. 1934	...	5 0

For Immediate Despatch Write to—

EASTERN LAW HOUSE, POST BOX 7810, CALCUTTA.

THE
LAW OF EVIDENCE
IN BRITISH INDIA
AS AMENDED UP TO DATE.

The only Exhaustive and up-to-date work N. D. Basu's Law of Injunctions

Principles and Practice

In 1,200 pages Royal 8vo.

The author with his remarkable industry has consulted every available literature on the subject, English, American and Indian, and every decision, English, American and Indian in their original, with the result that it is not a cheap digest work, but a mine of all possible information on the subject—with which no other work can stand comparison.

Bound to take its rank as the foremost work on Injunctions—just look into this work before you buy any other.

In 1,200 pp. Royal Octavo

1934 Ed.

Price Rs. 7.

N. D. BASU'S

I. THE UNREPEALED ACTS OF THE G.-G IN COUNCIL (1834-1933)

In 9 Vols

Price Rs. 33-6

	Rs. As.		Rs. As.
Volume I 1834-1874	... 7 8	Volume IV 1900-1910	... 4 0
" II 1875-1882	...not sold separately	" V 1911-1921	... 5 8
" III 1883-1899	... 5 8	" VI 1922-1927	... 6 8
Acts of the Indian Legislature for 1922, 1924, 1925, 1927, 1929, 1930, 1932, each	" VII 1928-1933	... 5 0
Acts of the Indian Legislature for 1923... 1 8
" " " " for 1926, 1928, 1931, 1933, each... 2 8 ... 1 0

In 2 Vols

Price Rs. 16

II. THE BENGAL COUNCIL ACTS (1862-1932)

	Rs. As.
Volume I (1862-1912) for use of Behar and Orissa lawyers also	12 0
Volume II (1913-32)	5 0
Acts of the Bengal Council for 1927-30 and 1931-1932, each	1 0

One Volume

Indispensable to Bihar and Orissa lawyers!

Price Rs. 6

III. ACTS OF THE BIHAR AND ORISSA COUNCIL (1913-32.)

	Rs. As.
The Bihar and Orissa Acts for 1924-1930	... 0 12
" " " " for 1931 and 1932	... 0 4

(1931-34) 2nd Ed.

Price Rs. 3.

IV. THE INDIAN PENAL CODE

Exhaustive annotations—Up-to-date amendments and Case-law—Sections printed in bold types—Printed on best paper—Excellent Get-up.

A marvel of reliable Edition for the Courts

the only practical

In 1,000 pages. With latest case law and amendments upto 1934

THE
LAW OF EVIDENCE

IN BRITISH INDIA

SECOND EDITION

BY

NRISINHA DAS BASU B.L.

ADVOCATE HIGH COURT, CALCUTTA.

AUTHOR OF THE INDIAN SUCCESSION ACT SUBJECT-NOTED INDEX OF CASES, THE PRINCIPLES AND PRACTICE OF INJUNCTION ETC.

EASTERN LAW HOUSE
LAW BOOK SELLERS AND PUBLISHERS.
15. COLLEGE SQUARE-CALCUTTA
1936

Preface to the First edition.

The Indian Evidence Act, unlike all other enactments consists of a number of abstract and abstract rules, which are by no means easy to understand. According to Lord Erskine the rules of evidence 'are founded in the charities of religion—in the philosophy of nature—in the truth of history—and in the experience of common life.' To understand the truth of the observation some knowledge is required; the origin and growth of the rules of evidence is absolutely necessary. So the historical treatment of a particular rule is not altogether out of place. I have tried my best in these pages to trace the origin and show the development of each and every particular rule of law, in order to enable the reader to have a firm grasp of the principle underlying it. "Our law observed Sirgent Plowden, "like all others, consists of two parts, namely of body and soul. The letter of the law is the body of the law, and the sense and reason of it is the soul, 'quia ratio legis est anima legis' And the law may be resembled to a nut, which has a shell, and a kernel within, the letter of the law represents the shell, and the sense of it the kernel. So you will receive no benefit by the law if you rely upon the letter."†

It is well known that the Indian Evidence Act in the main is based on the English law of Evidence. According to Sir James Fitzjames Stephen, the great jurist and the framer of the Indian Evidence Act "every principle applicable to the circumstances of British India which is contained in 1598 royal octavo pages of Taylor on Evidence, is contained in the 117 sections of the Act. To understand such an enactment a thorough knowledge of the English law on the subject is sine qua non. Keeping that point in view, I have stated under each section the English law on the subject either in the ipsa verba of the great Judges who have shaped and moulded the law of evidence in its present form or in the language of those text-writers whose statements of law the great Judges themselves felt bound to follow. But as the Indian Evidence Act is not a servile copy of the English law of Evidence, it differs in some places from the law to which it owes its origin. Whenever such divergence occurs, it is clearly indicated in the book, and the difference between English and Indian law has been stated in full.

* 21 How St Jr 966

† Ejston v Studd Plowd Rep 465, Wigmore Vol I p VI

Under each section I have given the principle underlying that section bearing in mind the following observation of Joseph Chitty: 'We all confess, but few adequately perceive, why it is so difficult to recollect a dry rule of practice, and we incorrectly impute to a defect of memory what in reality is attributable to our never having adequately known the subject. The simple truth is that reason or principle is the appropriate food of the mind, and it follows that no position is received with adequate appetite unless it be associated with the reason upon which it is founded *.' This also I offer as an apology for the large number of pages occupied in elucidating the principle underlying the section. It is very difficult to remember isolated decisions now-a-days when three dozen of reports (official and non-official) are vying with each other in reporting larger number of cases. But the necessity of remembering the majority of these cases will be obviated if once the trouble is taken of mastering the principles thoroughly, because 'the law does not consist in particular instances, though it is explained by particular instances and rules, but the law consists of principles, which govern specific and individual cases as they happen to arise†'. Moreover the thorough knowledge of the principle underlying the section will enable the reader to discard cases lying down the wrong law. In going through the book it will be seen that some cases decided even by the highest tribunal are not well founded in law.

* Joseph Chitty Practice of the Law Second Edition Preface to Part II cited in Wigmore Vol I p VI a particular section of the same by citing passages from Dr Greenleaf which have been drawn from by Justice Pitt Tylor himself. These rules are explained by Prof Wigmore more fully and comprehensively.

† Per Lord Mansfield in R v Benbridge 22 How St Tr 155 Wigmore Vol I p VI

Moreover the limits of the commentary are by no means tied by the prejudices of certain Courts. Because in expounding the rational system of judicial evidence, reason is equally welcome—whether it comes from the great Judges of England or the great Jurists on the other side of the Atlantic. In this connection it would not be out of place to recall to mind the following passage of Lord Cockburn C J in Scaramanga v Stamf, 10 C P D 29, at p 30, where he said: 'Although the decisions of the American Courts are of course not binding on us yet the sound and enlightened views of the American lawyers in the administration and development of law—a law so far as altered by statutory enactment, derived from a common source with our own—entitle their decisions to the utmost respect and confidence in our part.' In Macmillan Co Limited v K & J Cooper, 28 C W N 61 (P C) at page 620, Lord Atkinson after quoting from a judgement of Story reported in the United States Report also said: "This decision is, of course not binding on this tribunal, but it is in the opinion of the Board sound and convincing and helpful." Similar observations were made in India by Sir Lawrence Peel in Braddon v Abbot, 11 Indr & Bells Reports, 347, 359, 360 and in Malcolm v Smith ibid, 283, 288 and cited by Woodroffe J in the Preface of his Evidence Act with approval. The only reasonable objection which can be legitimately urged against citing American decisions is thus forcibly put by Lord Halsbury L C in In Re Missorie Steam Ship Co, 42 Ch D 321 (330): 'We should treat with great respect the opinion of eminent American lawyers on points which arise before us, but the practice which seems to be increasing, of quoting American decisions as authorities, in the same way as if they were decisions, of our own Courts, is wrong. Among other things, it involves an inquiry, which often is not an easy one, whether the law of America on the subject in which the point arises is the same as our own." So this objection loses much of its force where it is demonstrated that the English, American and Indian Laws on a particular subject are the same. This, in my humble opinion, is a fit scope of the work of a commentator. A busy judiciary may be unintentionally misled by a still more busy practitioner, but on a subject where a jurist like Prof. Wigmore, whose systematised knowledge in the domain of the Law of Evidence is second to none either in the old world or in the new, undertakes to show similarity and dissimilarity of the English and the American Laws, there is scarcely any reason for the apprehension expressed by His Lordship. Moreover, the advice given by His Lordship is not applicable in the case of commentators, whose duty it is in the first place to establish the similarity of law in both the systems and then to cite cases from the other system.

As the English law of evidence has its own peculiarities and as it is very difficult to have a complete grasp of the same without some knowledge of its origin and growth, I have given a history of the English law of Evidence in the introduction.

The book is replete with quotations from the judgments of the great Judges both of India and elsewhere. The quotations from English and American cases are given purposely in as much as the majority of the Indian lawyers have not got English or American Law Reports in their library. Even to the busy lawyers practising in the Presidency towns, these excerpts will be helpful to a certain extent as they will save them much time.

In the Appendix I have given the various reports which led to the passing of the Indian Evidence Act and the objects and reasons of subsequent amending Acts as well as Act II of 1855. I have also added in the Appendix the Indian Oaths Act and the Bankers' Books Evidence Act, fully annotated, as these two Acts may well be considered as forming part and parcel of the Indian Evidence Act.

I am conscious of the various shortcomings which will be found in the book. But my only apology is that these are unavoidable in the first edition of a book of this size.

I shall deem my trouble amply rewarded if the book be of any help to the members of the Bench and the Bar.

Konnagar
1st November 1930 }

N D BASU

CONTENTS OF THE BOOK.

— 0 —

Preface	iii
Contents of the Indian Evidence Act	.			xv
Table of Cases	xxlii
Introduction	cxli
Addenda	clvii
The Indian Evidence Act with commentary	i
Schedule of Enactments repealed		1504

Appendices—

(A) Fifth Report of Her Majesty's Commissioners etc.				1504
(B) Report of the Select Committee, etc	.	.		1522
(C) Act II of 1856	1556
(D) Act XVI of 1853				1563
(E) Statement of Objects and Reasons of Amending Acts				1563
(F) The Bankers' Books Evidence Act			..	1568
(G) The Indian Oaths Act	1573
Subject Index	1586

The Indian Evidence Act.

CONTENTS.

	PAGE
PREAMBLE	1

PART I.

RELEVANCY OF FACTS

CHAPTER I

PRELIMINARY

SECTIONS

1	Short title	}	29
	Extent
	Commencement of Act
2	Repeal of enactments		33
3	Interpretation clause		35
4	"May presume"	}	69
	"Shall presume"
	"Conclusive proof"

CHAPTER II

OF THE RELEVANCY OF FACTS.

5	Evidence may be given of facts in issue and relevant facts	82
6	Relevancy of facts forming part of same transaction	90
7	Facts which are the occasion, cause or effect of facts in issue	119
8	Motive, preparation and previous or subsequent conduct	130
9	Facts necessary to explain or introduce relevant facts	158
10	Things said or done by conspirator in reference to common design	176
11	When facts not otherwise relevant become relevant	189
12	In suits for damages, facts tending to enable Court to determine amount, are relevant	200
13	Facts relevant when right or custom is in question	203
14	Facts showing existence of state of mind, or of body, or bodily feeling	250
15	Facts bearing on question whether act was accidental or intentional	283
16	Existence of course of business when relevant	296

ADMISSIONS

SECTIONS

PAGE
201

17	Admission defined
18	Admission—
	by party to proceeding or his agent	} 318
	by suitor in representative character by party interested in subject matter by person from whom interest derive ¹
19	Admissions by persons whose position must be proved as against party to suit	35
20	Admissions by persons expressly referred to by party to suit	35
21	Proof of admissions against persons making them and by or on their behalf	35
22	When oral admissions as to contents of documents are relevant	36
23	Admissions in civil cases when relevant	37
24	Confession caused by inducement threat or promise when irrelevant in criminal proceedings	37
25	Confession to police officer not to be proved	41
26	Confession by accused while in custody of police not to be proved against him	41
27	How much of information received from accused may be proved	4
28	Confession made after removal of impression caused by inducement threat or promise relevant	4
29	Confession otherwise relevant not to become irrelevant because of promise of secrecy etc	4
30	Consideration of proved confession affecting person making and others jointly under trial for same offence	4
31	Admissions not conclusive proof but may estop	4

STATEMENTS BY PERSONS WHO CANNOT BE CALLED AS WITNESSES

32	Cases in which statement of relevant fact by person who is dead or cannot be found etc is relevant—	} 4
	When it relates to cause of death or is made in course of business, or against interest of maker or gives opinion as to public right or custom or matters of general interest or relates to existence of relationship, or is made in will or deed relating to family affairs,
	or in document relating to transaction mentioned in section 13 clause (a),
	or is made by several persons and expresses feelings relevant to matter in question
33	Relevancy of certain evidence for proving in subsequent proceeding the truth of facts therein stated

STATEMENTS MADE UNDER SPECIAL CIRCUMSTANCES

34	Intrics in books of account when relevant	633
35	Relevancy of entry in public record made in performance of duty	647
36	Relevancy of statements in maps, charts and plans	661
37	Relevancy of statements as to fact of public nature contained in certain Acts or notifications	669
38	Relevancy of statements as to any law contained in law books	672

HOW MUCH OF A STATEMENT IS TO BE PROVED

39	What evidence is to be given when statement forms part of a conversation, document, book or series of letters or papers	676
----	---	-----

JUDGMENTS OF COURTS OF JUSTICE WHEN RELEVANT

40	Previous judgments relevant to bar a second suit or trial	679
41	Relevancy of certain judgments in probate etc., jurisdiction	687
42	Relevancy and effect of judgments, orders or decrees other than those mentioned in section 41	696
43	Judgments, etc., other than those mentioned in sections 40 to 42 when relevant	700
44	Fraud or collusion in obtaining judgment or incompetency of Court may be proved	704

OPINIONS OF THIRD PERSONS WHEN RELEVANT

45	Opinions of experts	719
46	Facts bearing upon opinions of experts	758
47	Opinion as to handwriting when relevant	760
48	Opinion as to existence of right or custom when relevant	772
49	Opinions as to usages, tenets etc. when relevant	774
50	Opinion on relationship when relevant	777
51	Grounds of opinion when relevant	783

CHARACTER WHEN RELEVANT

52	In civil cases character to prove conduct imputed irrelevant	786
53	In criminal cases previous good character relevant	791
54	Previous bad character not relevant except in reply	797
55	Character as affecting damages	803

CONTENTS

PART II.

ON PROOF

CHAPTER III

FACTS WHICH NEED NOT BE PROVED

SECTIONS	PAGE
56 Facts judicially noticeable need not be proved	811
57 Facts of which Court must take judicial notice	818
58 Facts admitted need not be proved	828

CHAPTER IV

OF ORAL EVIDENCE

59 Proof of facts by oral evidence	816
60 Oral evidence must be direct	851

CHAPTER V

OF DOCUMENTARY EVIDENCE

61 Proof of contents of documents	871
62 Primary evidence	872
63 Secondary evidence	872
64 Proof of documents by primary evidence	882
65 Cases in which secondary evidence relating to documents may be given	884
66 Rules as to notice to produce	903
67 Proof of signature and handwriting of person alleged to have signed or written document produced	911
68 Proof of execution of document required by law to be attested	915
69 Proof where no attesting witness found	932
70 Admission of execution by party to attested document	936
71 Proof when attesting witness denies the execution	939
72 Proof of document not required by law to be attested	943
73 Comparison of signature writing or seal with others admitted or proved	943

PUBLIC DOCUMENTS

74 Public Documents	951
75 Private documents	958
76 Certified copies of public documents	958
77 Proof of documents by production of certified copies	959
78 Proof of other official documents	961

PRESUMPTIONS AS TO DOCUMENTS

SECTIONS.	PAGE.
79 Presumption as to genuineness of certified copies . . .	963
80 Presumption as to documents produced as record of evidence .	965
81 Presumption as to Gazettees, newspapers, private Acts of Parliament and other documents	969
82 Presumption as to document admissible in England without proof of seal or signature	971
83 Presumption as to maps or plans made by authority of Government	975
84 Presumption as to collections of laws and reports of decisions	978
85 Presumption as to powers of attorney	978
86 Presumption as to certified copies of foreign judicial records .	981
87 Presumption as to books, maps and charts	981
88 Presumption as to telegraphic messages	983
89 Presumption as to due execution, etc., of documents not produced	984
90 Presumption as to documents thirty years old	985

CHAPTER VI.

OF THE EXCLUSION OF ORAL BY DOCUMENTARY EVIDENCE.

91 Evidence of terms of contracts, grants and other dispositions of property reduced to form of document	997
92 Exclusion of evidence of oral agreement	1010
93 Exclusion of evidence to explain or amend ambiguous document	1089
94 Exclusion of evidence against application of document to existing facts	1096
95 Evidence as to document unmeaning in reference to existing facts	1100
96 Evidence as to application of language which can apply to one only of several persons	1105
97 Evidence as to application of language to one of two sets of facts, to neither of which the whole correctly applies . .	1109
98 Evidence as to meaning of illegible characters, etc.,	1111
99 Who may give evidence of agreement varying terms of document	1117
100 Saving of provisions of Indian Succession Act relating to wills	11

Part III.

PRODUCTION AND EFFECT OF EVIDENCE

CHAPTER VII

OF THE BURDEN OF PROOF

SECTIONS	PAGE
101 Burden of proof	1119
102 On whom burden of proof lies	1123
103 Burden of proof as to particular fact	1123
104 Burden of proving fact to be proved to make evidence admissible	1127
105 Burden of proving that case of accused comes within exception	1149
106 Burden of proving fact especially within knowledge	1153
107 Burden of proving death of person known to have been alive within thirty years	1160
108 Burden of proving that person is alive who has not been heard of for seven years	1162
109 Burden of proof as to relationship in the cases of partners, landlord and tenant principal and agent	1171
110 Burden of proof as to ownership	1176
111 Proof of good faith in transactions where one party is in relation of active confidence	1181
112 Birth during marriage conclusive proof of legitimacy	1190
113 Proof of cession of territory	1199
114 Court may presume existence of certain facts	1120

CHAPTER VIII

ESTOPPEL

115 Estoppel	1136
116 Estoppel of tenant, and of license of person in possession	1291
117. Estoppel of acceptor of bill of exchange, bailee or licensee	1303

CHAPTER IX

OF WITNESSES

118 Who may testify	}	1309
119 Dumb witnesses		1318
120 Parties to civil suit and their wives or husbands		1319
Husband or wife of person under their criminal trial
121 Judges and Magistrates		1321
122 Communications during marriage		1325

SECTIONS

PAGE

123	Evidence as to affairs of State	1329
124	Official communications	1333
125	Information as to commission of offences	1336
126	Professional communications	1339
127	Section 126 to apply to interpreters, etc	1351
128	Privilege not waived by volunteering evidence	1355
129	Confidential communications with legal advisers	1356
130	Production of title deeds of witness not a party	1358
131	Production of documents which another person having possession could refuse to produce	1361
132	Witness not excused from answering on ground that answer will criminate	1361
	Proviso	1362
133	Accomplice	1365
134	Number of witnesses	1397

CHAPTER X.

OF THE EXAMINATION OF WITNESSES

135	Order of production and examination of witnesses	139
136	Judge to decide as to admissibility of evidence	1393
137	Examination-in chief	1395
	Cross examination
	Re examination
138	Order of examination	1395
	Direction of examinations
139	Cross examination of person called to produce a document	1419
140	Witnesses to character	1419
141	Leading questions	1419
142	When they must not be asked	1420
143	When they may be asked	1425
144	Evidence as to matters in writing	1427
145	Cross examination as to previous statements in writing	1427
146	Questions lawful in cross examination	1433
147	When witness to be compelled to answer	1437
148	Court to decide when question shall be asked and when witness compelled to answer	1438
149	Question not to be asked without reasonable ground	1410
150	Procedure of Court in case of question being asked without reasonable grounds	1411
151	Indecent and scandalous questions	1411
152	Questions intended to insult or annoy	1411
153	Exclusion of evidence to contradict answers to questions testing veracity	1413

SECTION	PAGE
154 Question by party to his own witness	1119
155 Impugning credit of witness	1158
156 Questions tending to corroborate evidence of relevant fact, admissible	1167
157 Former statements of witness may be proved to corroborate later testimony as to same fact	1467
158 What matters may be proved in connection with proved state- ment relevant under section 32 or 33	1174
159 Refreshing memory When witness may use copy of document to refresh memory	1471
160 Testimony to facts stated in document mentioned in section 159	1482
161 Right of adverse party as to writing used to refresh memory	1483
162 Production of documents	1485
Translation of documents
163 Giving as evidence of document called for and produced on notice	1487
164 Using as evidence, of document production of which was re- fused on notice	1489
165 Judge's power to put questions or order production	1490
166 Power of jury or assessors to put questions	1490

CHAPTER XI

OF IMPROPER ADMISSION AND REJECTION OF EVIDENCE

167 No new trial for improper admission or rejection of evidence	1496
--	------

SCHEDULE—ENACTMENTS REFERRED

TABLE OF CASES.

[illegible]

Abdur Emp, 95
 Abdur K L 150
 Abdur Rahim t Syed Abu b, 23
 Abdur Ramgopal, 1060
 Abdur Razak t Gouri Nath, 1153
 Abey t Dale, 1
 Abhade t Petron 1112

al, 667

977 Abinash v Dwarath 921, 974, 925
 Abinns v Majub, 1082 1128
 Abinash t Paresh, 83, 85 227, 681
 701, 704
 Abinns v Pratul 551
 Abinger v Empr, 753
 Abot t Emperor 1356
 Abonloff v Oppenheimer 710, 711
 Abot v Rion, 895, 901
 Abuelam Abuelo 916 1022

Accero v Petroni, 1423
 Accidental Ins Co t Mackenzie 1301

Achaibar t Ram, 329

1047,

Ackland v Pearce, 907
 Actaeon, 308
 Acton's Trial, 810
 Adair v Kansas City, 534
 Adam v Case, 130
 Adams t Adams, 854
 Adam v Kerr, 933, 934
 Adams t Arnold, 1453
 Adams v Clutterbuck, 929
 Adams v Gray, 1093
 Adams t Lloyd, 1359, 1363
 Addams v Sautzinger, 566
 Adjoodhya v Shedas Mohan, 1180
 Adam Khan t Emperor, 409
 Adarat v Dandi 1295
 Adho t Emperor, 445
 Aditya In the matter of, 976
 Aditya t Emperor, 1216
 Adityam t Ram Krishna, 1034
 Administrator General t Premlal, 1, 1119
 Admiralty Com t Aberdeen 375, 1331
 Adolf Beck's trial, 170
 Advocate General t Hormuzji, 1099

Advocate General t Jumbharu, 111
 Adu t R, 110, 412, 156, 157, 162
 v P C Co t R 1114

A G t Berkeley, 1319
 A G t Bradlaugh, 670
 A G t Ch Isea, 21
 A G t G E R Co, 11
 A G t Lockwood, 1
 A G t Mortgage Pier, 1
 A G t Sillem, 8
 A G t Iheak stone, 671
 A G v Weymouth, 1
 Agri Hajee, 1117
 Agri Mohabbat, 1291
 Agri t London Tr Co, 90 103, 101, 110, 118 110, 329
 Aghore t Kamini, 1098
 Aghore t Premchand, 1302
 Aghore t Radhika, 702, 703, 1115, 116
 Aghoru t Ramolu, 1136
 Agorchand t Rakhma, 1258
 Agri Bank t Barry, 266
 Agri Bank t Kashi, 1572 Agricultural Cattle Co t Fitzgerald 1019
 A H Forbes t Sir L E Ralli, 1273
 Ah Loong t L, 388, 393 442
 Ahmad v Mt Channi, 772
 Ahmad t Jamat, 551
 Ahmad t Jawahar, 352
 Ahmad v Mohammad, 1128
 Ahmad t Safiz in, 1253
 Ahmad t Sayaid, 985
 Ahmad v Secy of State, 1253
 Ahmada v Crown, 753
 Ahmad Ali t Hanuman, 1580
 Ahmadjekhan t Gulmir, 1147
 Ahmed v Ali, 1215
 Ahmed t Babu Devji, 1268
 Ahmed t Emperor, 1228
 Ahmed t Mordin, 1592
 Ahmed t Safiz in, 1251
 Ahmed t Ubhaya, 1069
 Ahmedoolah v Gour, 1260
 Ahmedbhoj v Vulebbhoj, 680, 705
 713 716
 Abobila t Thulasi, 1006
 Ah Sham Shoke v Mathia, 1017
 Ah Skin v Emperor, 149, 156
 Ahtat v K E, 1382
 Aibeshwar t Nohar, 342
 Aifaz v Ram, 1083
 Ainsworth t Wilding, 1300
 Airport v Muk, 945
 Airey Re 961, 995
 Arsha t Muhfuzunnissa, 1146
 Atkin v Mc Veika, 754
 Aiyabam t Secretary of State, 13
 Aiyannachariar v Lakshmi 1267
 Aiy Samier v Venkata, 7
 Aiyathura t Siya, 1033

Aizaj t Ram, 1007
Ajah t Mangal, 924
Ajibulla t Bilahi 1296, 1297, 1400
Ajodhya t Emperor, 621
Ajodhya t Ishaaric, 490
Ajodhya t Hardwar, 417
Ajodhya t Jagdish, 1018
Ajodhya t Kamal 247
Ajoodhya t Umora 478
Ajudhya t Chatterpal, 1216

Akbar t Shronarayan 693
Akbar t Bashir 1169
Akbar t Saved 1169
Akhan t Venkyan 126
Akhal t Indian General Navigation 1134
Akhal t Naya 1179
Akshoy t Commissioner of Bogra
913 Akshoy t Farhatulla 1071 1149
Akshoy t Inat 1149
Akshoy t K E 1317, 1576
Akshya v Shama Charan 937
Aktowli t Taral, 516, 532, 636 637, 644
Ala etc R Co, t Yarbrough 772
Alagapillai t Rimaswami, 1295
Alagaya v Sunanda 1097
Alinga Bali In re, 491, 193
Alam Shah t Nurzarab, 1762
Alay Re, 1991
Alchome v Gomme 1296
Alcock t Cook 576
Alcock t Ins Co, 1176
Alcock t Roy 1480
Alcock v Royal Exchange, 739, 1115
Alcock v Whatmore 874
Aldersey Re 1160 1165, 1174
Alderson t Clay 1018, 1080
Alderson t Maddison 1250
Alderson v White 1046
Aldridge v G W Ry, 126
Alexander t Amrunissa 30 31
Alexander v Caldwell, 349
Alexander v Gibson, 1453
Alexander v Mir Mahomed, 504
Alexander v United States 1353
Alexander Davison t Frial 807 813
Alfalo t Fould-inier, 905
Alfanzo v United States 729
Alfoo v Baburali 89
Alfred v Wilkinson 4 10
Algernon Sidney's Trial, 676

Allen D t Warton t Simon, 1190
Allice t Perumal, 570
Alisock t K E, 67
Aliyan t K F 123
Ali Jawa t Kulnanjan, 1070
Alihan t Indar Prochand, 1139
Alkhan t Malik Madan, 1178
Ali
Ali
Ali

Almuddin t Q E 1269
Almair t Manik, 162, 197, 613, 631, 676 657
Al Sheikh t Imam Ali, 1015, 1016
Alvan t Furnival, 674, 900
Alladit t K I 1576
Alladad Khan t Ismail, 95
Alla Ditta t Bhagwan, 1216
Allah Ditta t Gian Singh 1289
Allauldin t Imperor, 1192
Allahwarayo t Crown, 1575
All Bright t Hannah, 1327
Allured v Skinner, 1186
Allen t Allen, 628, 1104, 1108
Allen v Bennett, 1015
Allen t Dundas 699, 694
Allen v Fucker, 14
Allen t Flood 179
Allen t Macpherson, 711
Allen v Merchant's Bank, 775
Allen v Pink, 1023, 1025
Allenborough t London and St
Katherine's Dock Co, 1309
Allen's lessee t Haskell, 319
Allesbrook t Rooch 943
Allgood v Blake, 1081
Allisab v Emperor, 1369
Allison t Clayhall, 1186
Allison v United States 268
Allkins v Jupe, 4
Aldort t Meek, 948
Allen t ... 626

Ambalavan v Minakshy 209, 619	Anant Lal v Gokul, 77
Ambalika v Arpana, 219	Anantram v Yusuff 929
Ambar Ali v Emperor, 260, 305 359, 382 420 495	Ander-on v Bink, 1339 1345
Ambar Ali v Tuffe Ali 87 24 , 310 342, 501 571 572 5 3	Anderson v Clay, 1175
Ambica v Emperor 1573	Anderson v Halver on, 301
Ambica v Ka n Chand, 705, 711	Anderson v Hamilton, 1330, 135
Ambica v Kumud, 190, 131 19 552 662, 1173	Anderson v Sinder on, 372
Ambica v Nareswar, 751 951	Anderson v Taylor, 887, 1253
Ambika v Gaultan 1011	Ander-on v Walter, 10 8
Ambika v Whitehall, 1273	Anderson v Wholly 14-0, 1182
Ambirulla v Emperor, 486	Andrews v Askey 173
Ambler v Bradford Crop 1	Andrews v Mahomed, 718
Ambs v R Co, 106	Andrews v Motley, 9-6
Ameer Chand v Mohanandi 926	Andrews v Palmer, 614
Ameer Hasan v Ejaz Hussain 60	Andrews v Winal, 879
American Express Co v Haggard 299	Angell v Duke 1022, 1061
Amiruddin v Emperor, 105 408	Anglesey v Huberton, 206, 207, 220, 576 577
Amerunissar v Abedunnissa, 885 897	Anglo India Jute Mill v Onademull, 11 8
Amey v Long, 1186	Anni v Hinde, In the goods of, 974
Amic v Wilson, 1071	Anis v Beni 956 959
Amick v Woodworth 922	Anjuman v Achiq, 249
Amir v Mahomed 1381	Anjuman v Eudiq 585
Amir v Nur Mahomed 996	Anna Cholm v Ram rmy, 912
Amir v Zebo, 12 9	Anand v Bhuban, 1188
Amir Begam v Mt Begam 1430	Anand v Hargoland 1027 1057
Amir Bai v Abdul 1188	Anagurubai v Krishna, 917, 1011, 1066
Amir Buksh v Yusuf Ah, 552	Anahaganda v Singadigayya, 349
	Annapoe v Laxman, 1178
	Annamalai v Annamalai 605
	Annapurna bai v Ram Chandra, 1290
	Ananth v Biehu, 1259
	Anant v Emperor, 22, 617, 628
	Arnesly v Angle or Lord of, 115, 179, 274, 511, 582, 587, 592, 1339, 1351, 1352
	Annu Kumari v Muthupayal, 837
	Annundo v Gunee, 293
	Anundomoyee v Sheeb Chunder, 1277
	Anny v Burton, 250
	Anny v Long 1390
	Anon, 150, 1079 1460 1476, 1180
	Anon v Anon, 119 1197
	Ansa v Kemchappa 1047
	Anson v Stuart 866
	Anspell v Alexander, 1152
	Antray v Mubab, 682
	Antray v Emperor, 1471
	Anthony v Hulstead 1499 Anukal v Kamal 199 231
	Anund v Basu, 1324
	Anundo v Debendra, 1246
	Anundo v Shih, 1277
	Anundo v Thikoor, 223
	Anupchard v Chausai, 1055
	Anwar Ali v Fazil, 901, 959, 960
	Apothecaries Company v Bentley, 1157
	Apothecaries Company v Jones, 96, 100

181
1337,

Amrita v Rajani, 339, 341
Amrita v Sherauddin, 977
Amritabai v Joabhabai, 1223 Amritabazar Patrika In the matter
of, 957
Annuaga In re, 538
Amys v Barton 109, 366
Anand Priya v Bijav, 1029, 1190
Anan la v Parbati 479
Ananda v Secy of State 665, 902
Anandaro v Gunesb, 1295
Anandi v Emperor, 1152
Anandi v Nandlal 583, 593 603
Anangamajori v Scharmon, 1
Anant v Gunn, 1259

- Apothecaries Company v Warburton, 1153
 Appasami v Rama Tevar
 Apputhurai v Gopala 691
 Apperrie v Hager, 1167
 Appo v Nanjappa 67, 111, 753, 754, 760, 769
 Appleton v Bray Brook 910, 912
 Aptabuddin v Ali 248
 Arappa v Emperor 19
 Arlon v Russell 915
 Archangel v Thompson 709
 Archer v English 89
 Archer v Hulson 1184, 1185
 Archer v Walker, 89
 Arlesco Oil Co v Oil on 713
 Arfan Ali v Emperor 219
 Argentine 1201
 Argo, 851
 Ari Chaitany v Rama, 661
 Ariff v Mahanath 121
 Arisiputhire v Muthukumar 1010
 Arif Ali Shauk 1016
 Arjun v Emperor 11493, 11497, 11509
 Arjun v Dayanathi 77, 89
 Arjun v Kallu 909, 913, 917
 Arjun v Kallu, 841, 937
 Arjun v Mathura, 690
 Arlanda v Saptamboram, 718
 Arlapa v Narai 215
 Arnoy v Delamare, 150
 Armstrong v Buckland, 1101
 Armstrong v Marshall 33
 Armstrong v Stockhams, 991
 Army v Long 1159
 Arnold v Pawlert 41
 Arnold v Sute 160
 Arnos v Hughes 1125
 Arnot v Hayes, 1570, 1571
 Arrowmeah v Chetti, 96
 Arshed v Emperor, 164
 Arthur v Bokenham 12, 17
 Arton Ro, 741
 Arujid v Nabab Ali 1145
 Aruna Chellum v Olgappah, 888
 Arunamoyi v Mohendra, 692
 Asa Sing v Uanai Ram 658, 701
 Asa Ram v Krishna 1204
 Asa Ram v Sukha 886
 Ashabai v Hiji, 211
 Asha nualla v Trilochan, 1210
 Ashanullah v Dikhlani 343
 Ashe v De Rosset, 299
 Asher v Whulock 1177
 Ashf v S 111, 1023, 1110
 Ashutosh v Chandi, 219
 Ashutosh v Emperor, 110, 117
 Asia v Nanjan 1281
 Asiatic Petroleum v Anglo Persian Oil Co, 1730 Asiatic Steam Navigation v Bengal Coal, 756, 621
 Asiruddin v K E, 1172
 Askaran v E I Ry Co 336
 Aslum v Crown, 1140
 Asman v Deoria 887
 Asmutoo v Ali Hafiz, 316, 702
 Asmutun v Harendra, 1216
 Asmoonah v S R Chetti, 923
 Asquith v Hossain In the matter of, 622
 Asaram Birlwan v Mathura, 1131
 Asan v Dean 99
 Asayran, 733
 Asramoorthi v Nambudripad 1270
 Asramoorthi v Ram Mudali, 1268
 Astley v Astley, 789, 1219
 Aswini v Bonowala, 705, 716
 Aswin Kumar v Emperor, 40
 Asylum for Idiots v Hindyades, 1570, 1572
 Atal Behary v Lal Mohan 891
 Ata Mahanmad v Javan, 216
 Atar v Thakur, 57
 A I Chetty Firm v Mahomed Kasim, 1116
 Atcherson & Co v U S 712
 Atchayya v Gangayya, 80, 31, 30, 37
 Atcheson v Excess, 1310, 1577
 Atchley v Spragg, 780, 1192, 1107 Athernankuth v Chandronath, 1583
 Athlone's Claim, 672
 Atmaram v Bhagwat, 7
 Atmaram v Umedram, 1160
 Ator v Q E 1383
 Attrakour v Bhograj 1168
 Att Gen v Burdaxox College, 151
 Att Gen v Bowman, 790, 792
 Att Gen v Briant, 1837, 1566
 Att Gen v Bertrand, 844
 Att Gen v Bradlough, 652, 671, 1575
 Att Gen v Divison 33
 Att Gen v Dean, 150
 Att Gen v Dean of Windsor, 1211
 Att Gen v Drummond 151, 831, 1512, 1084, 1102
 Att Gen v Emerson, 206, 772
 Att Gen v Great Eastern Ry 73
 Att Gen v Hitchcock, 1116, 1416, 1417, 1448, 1119
 Att Gen v Horner, 57
 Att Gen v Lampson
 Att Gen v Le Mer

Att Gen & Mayor of Bristol, 151
 Att Gen & Moore, 36
 Att Gen & Nottingham Corporation, 126 1331
 Att Gen & Pearson, 776
 Att Gen & Pelletier, 150
 Att Gen & Shore, 108
 Att Gen & Sidney Sussex, 151
 Att Gen, & Theakstone, 671, 903, 970
 Attorney In re, 1341, 1350
 Attwater Exp 11
 Attwood v Impson, 1131
 Attwood & Small 321
 Atur v Emperor, 525, 526
 Atur & Small 107

Aubin v ...
 Ault v Lorn Assn 297
 Aung Hla & Emperor 491 1369, 1373
 Aung Myat & Queen Empress, 1132
 Aung Rhi & Mi Aung, 937
 Aung Ihein & Crown 381, 131
 Austen & Vesj, 1349
 Austin v Chamber, 321, 1273
 Austin & First 316, 503
 Australia v Nautilus, 733 Avel & Covenham, 306
 Austin & Wells, 940
 Austin & ... In re 903

1328
 Avery & Wood, 31
 Awadh & Mahbub, 921
 Awe & Queen, 10
 Ayerati v Esmael, 939
 Ayetun & Ram Sahuk, 499, 501
 Azevanti & Mohammad, 940
 Aylesford Pierage, 110, 112
 Ayja same & Kiliam, 924
 Azgar Ali & Abdulddin, 347
 Azma & Mohammad, 150
 Azmuddy & Emperor, 119, 309, 352, 469, 530 630, 1203, 1431, 1163,
 1470, 1471
 Aziz v Gira, 57
 Aziz & Ibrahim, 741
 Aziz Ahmad & Chhote Lal, 5

B

Babu Twila & Pirant 310
 Bababhai & Narabhai 653
 Baboo & Chakouree, 1139
 Baboo & Rance, 1097

Babu & Gokul, 1003
 Babu & Jaswant, 5
 Babu & Lala, 1004
 Babu & Nathu, 1791
 Balu & Parmessar, 971
 Balu & Chak, 1056
 Balu & Sitaran, 1499
 Bahm & Ram Khelawin, 89
 Baccio & People 173
 Bakhra & Emperor
 Baelchar & Hagan, 1117
 Bakhoun & Jones 105
 Bacon & Bicon, 1319
 Bicon & Chesney 311
 Badal & Jhulo, 1067
 Badal & Sarsawat, 1163
 Badam & Abdul, 1267
 Badan & R, 103
 Badar Bee & Habim, 651, 651
 Badhonah & Hira, 1075
 Badiddin & Nizamuddin, 1782
 Badger & Jones, 1027
 Badhu & Uttam, 513, 554
 Badri & Q. E., 496
 Badri & Ambier, 1189
 Badri & Levinstein, 823
 Baddely & Mortlock, 906
 Badri & Abdul, 922, 921, 926
 Badri & Anupurna, 947
 Badri & Brijnath, 1125
 Badri & Brijnath, 1276
 Badri & Emperor, 170, 1133
 Badri & Gambhir, 927 941
 Badri & Jai Kishan, 361, 362
 Badri & Sadappal, 152
 Baduwa & Akbar Ali, 880
 Bageshri & Panchoo, 1027, 1118
 Baggu & Tara, 1912
 Bagridhi & Rahim, 835
 Bagot & Bagot, 173, 760
 Baghat & Crown, 434 489
 Baghal Sing & Emperor, Bahadur & Balchand, 925
 Bahadur & Cradattuli, 30
 Bahadur & Emperor, 400, 467, 170
 Bahdur & Ismael, 13
 Bahadur & Madho, 880, 909
 Bahadur & Mohar, 589
 Bahadur & Ram Bahadur, 1282
 Bahadur & Yarn, 1195, 1196
 Bahar Khan & Kishan, 1280 Baharuddin & L., 175, 252, 251 802
 Bahawala & Lamp 393, 479, 540, 1464, 1473
 Bai Adhar & Lalbhai, 1032, 1046
 Bai Baiti & Bai Sintok, 243, 697, 772, 1233 Budnath & Narku, 550
 Bu Deomani & Rabi, 360
 Baid & Ika, 1021
 Baidulla & Empress, 428, 445
 Baidyanath & Alep, 237
 Baidyanath & Aljan, 691

Badvannath v Kamini, 879	Bala Prasad v Shyam B hary, 9
Bai Horkor v Maniklal, 1015	Bala Prasad v Gajun Singh, 1289
Bai Nath v Bahadur, 676, 822, 835	Balaram v Bali Pannabai, 700
Bajunath v Bhai, 926	Balaram v Mangta, 15
Bajunath v Haju, 1023, 1070	Bali Sundara v Ranginatha, 1075
Bajunath v Jamal, 980	Balasuri v Mrityanjunda, 1262
Bajunath v Mahomed, 573	Balaya v Kirtuappi, 1168
Bajunath v Padmanabai, 708	Balbhai v Ram Jewan, 1167
Bajunath v Raghun, 1132, 1177	Balbhand v Sripur, 603
Bajunath v Raju, 597, 775	Balbir v Jugul, 1219
Bajunath v Saligram, 1005	Balbir v Gobind, 1235
Bajunath v Saral, 5	Balchand v Emperor, 1372
Bajunath v Sri Bhogwan, 1211	Balchand v Tarakanth, 31, 36, 1587
Bajunath v Sukhu, 151, 957	Baldev v Abhoy, 1172
Bajunath v Vally Mahomed, 1055	Baldeo v Bharos, 987, 993
Baju v K. C. 1202	Baldeo v Emperor, 1171
Bai Kamala v Bibu Bhai, 1197	Baldeo v Govind, 955
Baikant v Balu, 1311, 1313, 1316	Baldeo v Indad, 1279
Baikant v Lalchun, 110	Baldeo v Jaiaram, 897
Baikant v Chandra, 311	Baldeo v Kankun, 1130
Baikant v Mohan, 718	Baldeo v Lal, 16
" " "	Baldeo v Pattu, 1119
" " "	Baldeo v Ram Autor, 1078
" " "	Baldeo v Sheoraj, 661, 1196
" " "	Baldeo v Sunder, 1266
" " "	Baldney v Richie, 889
" " "	Baleswar v Bhagirathi, 211
Baley v Bidwell, 1203	Balgangadhar v Sakwaru, 690, 1015
Baley v Harris, 690, 691	Balgangadhar v Shrinivas, 613, 615, 1130
Bun v Fothergill, 201	Balgobind v Beharilal, 1213
Bain v Whitehaven & F R Co., 29 88	" " "
Baird v Fernandez, 1217	" " "
Baird v Tunbridge Wells, 7	" " "
Bai Shanta v Umrao, 1365	" " "
Baj Bahadur v Raghunir, 237	" " "
Bajrang v Bhagwan, 1250	" " "
Bajronji v Manokarika, 773	" " "
Baker v Biker, 1145	" " "
Baker v Butt, 1149	" " "
Baker v Denning, 914	" " "
Baker v Haines, 949	" " "
Baker v Haskell, 319	" " "
Baker v Sood, 823	" " "
Baker v Wordsworth, 710	" " "
Baker Ali v Anjuman, 599	" " "
Bakhtwar v Bulwant, 19	" " "
Bakshi v Kakha, 1009	" " "
Bakshi Habi v Alla Bakshi, 1175	" " "
Bakshi v Laladhar, 346, 348, 362	" " "
Bakshi v Sajjad, 1290	" " "
Bakelush v Emperor, 537	" " "
Baku v Govinda, 152, 1013, 1014	" " "
" " "	" " "
Bakulla v Debiruddi, 1341	" " "
Bala Bahadur v Laksami, 921	" " "
Balakrishna v Saminath, 718	" " "
Balaji v Balbin, 682	" " "
Balaji v Chakka, 930	" " "
Balaji v Gangamma, 930	" " "
Balakram v Md Said, 762, 950	" " "
Balak Ram v Nanu Mal, 351, 597, 1141	" " "
Balakusabai v Abai, 1292, 1296	" " "
Balam v Emperor, 497	" " "
Balangowda v Gadigippra, 1265, 1266	" " "
	Bals v West wood, 197
	Ballu v Emperor, 538
	Bully v Bhugwan, 1009
	Balmakend v Ghansham, 49, 140
	Balmakend v Emperor, 183, 184, 187, 1299,
	" " "
	Balnicken v Achane, 1169
	Balse v Assurance Co, 262
	Baltic Wriehson. In re. 1108

Bappa Raja v Kondu Raja, 793
Bapuji v Magistrate of Kbedra, 10
Barada v Jaiindra, 1137
Barapa v Sundarva, 1017
Barak ilim v Rajendra, 1111
Barbar v Gungell, 205
Barden v Kervenberg, 206
Bardin v State 518
Birindia v Emperor, 74, 76, 177, 180, 184, 187, 189, 331, 478, 770, 761, 91,
946, 950
Bimindra v R, 85
Birjorji v In re, 1376
Birkat v Crown, 1385
Birkat v Dchi, 1190
Birkat v Prasana, 1219
Birkatnagar v Lachhu 705
Birau v Emperor, 1373, 1378
Burker v Dixie, 1326
Burker v Ray, 140 767
Birley's Case, 896
Barlett v Gibbs, 14
Barlett v Mayo, 315
Barlow v Chundil, 311
Barlow v Ross, 7
Barlow v Terl, 11
Barlowe v Orda, 1233
Birn v Suka, 8-6
Bernard v Terl, 293
Barnashi v Lulla Mal, 1031
Barnett v Brandu, 10-0
Barnhart v Green shuella, 267
Baroda v Ananda, 1223
Baroda v Jaiindra, 1144
Barola v Monmo hi, 242
Baron Bode's Case, 560, 674
Baron de Ruizen v Fur, 567
Barony of Sale, 1196
Barrough v White 319 351
Barr v Harpar, 948
Barr v People, 173
Barrasclough v Johnson, 550
Barret v Buxton, 1056
Baring v Clerk, 326, 328
Barrkat v Fazl Huj, 717
Bartlett v Long 271
Barrow v Wadkin 13
Barrows v White, 565
Barra v Jackson, 692
Barry v Babbington, 553, 565 56
567
Barry v Bullin 56 1055, 1149
Barter v Barter, 741
Barton v Dices, 1039
Barton v London L. W. Ry, 1270
Barton Coal Co v Cox 89
Barton v Bank of New South Wal 1014, 1057

TABLE OF CASES

- Bartholomew v Stephens 870, 899
 Bartley v State, 1191
 Bartlett v Smith, 1312
 Barwell v Adkins, 271
 Barwell v Brooke, 834
 Barwick v Mayor of Richmond v
 Thompson 1202
 Barwick v Thompson, 1296, 1300
 Basappa v Pakirappa, 12-0
 Basappa v Tayawa 1002 1017
 Basant v, Chanda, 1235
 Basanti v Q E 844
 Basantappa v Renu, 1272
 Basanti v Secretary of State, 1181
 Basava v Linga 213
 Basdeo v John Smith, 201
 Basdeo v Raghobhara 941
 Bisharat v Nurch 1170
 Bisgu v Emperor, 732, 950
 Bisruddin v Sahebulla 1124 1125
 1139
 Bisi Nath v Jagat Kishore 610
 Basir v Girija Nath, 87
 Basiruddin v Afsaneneeson 1037
 Bashi v Enayet Ali, 1277
 Baski v Sayad Mirza 1290
 Basur Venkat Rao v Emperor 750
 Bashein v Emperor 1039
 Bassireddi v Emperor, 434
 Bavantrao v Montappa, 213
 Batahu v Parmeswar, 951
 Batasi v K E 803
 Bate v Kinsay 905, 906 907, 1316
 1361
 Bateman v Bailly, 91, 107, 108, 112, 152
 Bater v Bater, 714
 Bates v Townsh, 314
 Bathajee v Parmeswar, 7-0
 Bati Reddi, Re, 485
 Battie Wrightson, Re, 871
 Baugh v Crodlocke, 13-0
 Bawa v K E, 402, 903
 Bawa Lehma v Jagannath, 1257
 Bawa Rowther v Emperor, 170
 Bawa Suchet v Ratin 1580
 Bawa Sarup v Emp, 662, 863, 886, 970, 971
 Bawa Singh v Emperor 399
 Baxter v Combe, 1307
 Baxter v Doe, 123
 Biya v Bhanrao, 876 878
 Bayabai v Haridas, 1095
 Biyan v Child, 12
 Bayana, In re, 1463 1473
 Bayley v Bradley, 1205
 Bayley v Wylie, 954
 Baylis v Att Gen, 1 93
 Bazari Hazam v Emperor, 9-0
 Baz Bahadur v Raghubar, 310, 314, 1240
 B B and C Railway v Ramlaz 1126
 Beacon L & I Ass Co, 1085, 1112
 Banks v Drett 607
 Beal Doyle v Carr, 119
- Beale v Percy, 727
 Beaman v Russell, 1219
 Bean v Quimby, 1413
 Bear v Ward 778
 Bears v Copley, 736
 Beasley, Re, 1166
 Beason v State, 48
 Beaton v Skene, 1329, 1330, 1331, 1332
 1435
 Beatty v Cullingworth, 153, 155
 Beatty v Michon, 167
 Beuchamp v Parry, 351
 Beuchamp v Winn, 1079, 1271
 Beaufort v Crashtway 6-0, 624
 Beaufort v Smith, 603, 6-0
 Bechaba Beccot, In re, 413
 Beckett v Howe, 925
 Beckwith v Syde Bigham, 732, 744
 Bedell v Long Island R Co, 729
 Belgett, Cooper v Adams 10
 Beebe v Parker, 206
 Beebe v James, 1405
 Beer Chunder v Ramgutta, 1131
 Beevor v Hanson, 270
 Behareo Lal v Kaminee, 31, 1062
 Behari v Abdul, 1011
 Behari v Crown, 113
 Behari v Habibha, 1189
 Behari v Jaggu Mohan, 1015
 Behari v Fejnaram, 1011
 Behari v Amir, 89
 Behari v Emp 799
 Beknapp v Sink v Lamer Land, etc
 Co, 349
 Belhot Khan v Rash Behari, 636, 637, 644
 Bela Rani v Mahabir, 114, 190, 532, 616
 Belbin v Skeets, 941
 Belk v Stewart, 1493
 Bell v Frankis, 121
 Bell v Kennedy, 1224
 Bell v Lord Ingestre 1066, 1068
 Bell v Marsh, 1251, 1254
 Bell v Morrison, 337
 Bell v Norwood, 771
 Bell v Parke, 805
 Bell v Walker, 26
 Bellafontaine v Bailey, 740
 Bellaney v Debruham 1015
 B N. R v Mooly 1202
 Bench v Jones, 1493
 Bengal and N R Co v Co operative Hindustan, 1253
 Bengal and N W Railway v Special Manager, Court of Wards, 16
 Bengal Indigo Co v Farmer, 851
 Benham v Trust, In re, 1169
 Beni v Bista 641, 646
 Beni v Devi, 1083
 Beni v Dinabandhu, 365
 Beni v Dudha Nath, 314, 317
 Beni v Emperor, 1490, 1576
 Beni v Jaikishna, 316

Beni v Kundan, 1256
 Beni v Muktesar, 1256
 Beni v Raj Kumar, 1176
 Beni v Sadasub, 1011, 1075
 Beni v Sarbajit, 683
 Beni v Sobu, 957
 Beni Din v Ram Nareah, 1190
 Beni Madhav v Ram Lakhan, 886
 Benison v Cart right, 152
 Benjamin, In re, 1162, 1171
 Bennetts' case, 131
 Bennet v Francis, 839
 Bennett v Lubhori, 166
 Bennet v Marshall, 1106
 Bennet v Taylor, 934, 936
 Bennison v Cartwright, 105, 112
 Benode Kishore v Ashutosh, 1029, 1031
 Benodelal v Secy of State, 689, 701
 Beney Bhusan v Dharendra, 937, 942, 1147
 Benson v Olive, 620, 989
 Beni v Baker, 2311
 Benton v Powell, 553
 Bentley v Rutherford Local Board, 1, 2
 Benyon In re, 1173
 Benyon v Nettleford, 1055
 Bepin v Jogeshwar, 1639, 1277
 Bernasconi v Atkinson, 1021
 Berch v Depeyster, 1079
 Berd v Lovelace, 1330
 Berg v Pater-on, 767
 Bergh v Pater-on, 767

4, 580,
 10, 591,
 8, 779,

96

Berry v Binner, 214, 578
 Berry v Binner, 214, 578
 Berry v Com, 393
 Berry v Mubwa, 315
 Berry v U S, 406
 Berryman v Dahlgren, 771
 Berryman v White, 964, 965, 1014, 1210
 Berry v Binner, 697
 Berry v The, 743
 Berthan v Loughman, 158
 Berwick v Murry, 147
 Berwick v Price, 266
 Besela v Starn, 46, 303
 Best v German Ins Co, 299
 Betham v Benson, 326
 Bethell v Blencowe, 1000
 Bett v Collector of Fwy, 1664
 Betts v Bitts, 1451
 Bettley v Bitts, 1206
 Betty v Neile, 526
 Bewly v Atkinson, 55, 566, 568
 Bhadrangana v Khendra, 1015
 Bhadravandari v Ram Kamal, 1038

Bhadravandari v Taira, 552, 611
 Bhadravandari v Emperor, 190
 Bhadu v Ganpat, 1025
 Bhadrav v Akbar, 901
 Bhagabhatt v Bholanath, 1081
 Bhagan v Ali Dutt, 151
 Bhagani v Gooroo, 975
 Bhagat v Ropkishore, 962
 Bhagat v Harish, 1129
 Bhagat Prasad v Sher Khan, 966
 Bhagawan v Balgovind, 216
 Bhagwanji v Sampurni, 613
 Bhagun v Ram, 363
 Bhagbhari v Khatri, 1149
 Bhag v Nadir, 1279
 Bhagat v Huro Goland, 1220
 Bhag v Emperor, 13, 170
 Bhagirath v Ram Ghulam, 1575
 Bhagirath v Emperor, 1010
 Bhagobhuti v Gooroo, 1083
 Bhag Singh v Emperor, 341
 Bhag Singh v Jai Singh, 114
 Bhagwan v Bhagwan, 20, 821
 Bhagwan v Daulatram, 1254
 Bhagwan v Emp, 53
 Bhagwan v Lachmi, 1270, 1278
 Bhagwan v Lochman, 663
 Bhagwan v Mal, 1011, 599

Bhagwan v Jasada, 1267
 Bhagwan v Ujagar, 1246
 Bhagwan v Hindeswari, 199
 Bhagwan v Debi Dojal, 1526
 Bhagwan v Narayan, 1195
 Bhagwan v Rupa, 1260
 Bhawani v Deo Ram, 1347, 1349, 1351, 1351
 Bhagwan v Sheo Prasad, 198
 Bhagwan v Prasad, 614
 Bhagwat v Emperor, 142
 Bhagwan v Choli, 1183, 1189
 Bhagwan v Marid, 901
 Bhagwan v Hummat, 1246, 9301
 Bhagwan v Hummat, 1223
 Bhagwan v Emperor, 1577
 Bhagwan v P. C. Datta, 691
 Bhagwan v Gopi, 1193
 Bhagwan v Hindu, 887
 Bhagwan v Laxmi Narayan, 56, 1211
 Bhagya v Beni, 651
 Bhagya v Sheo, 1249
 Bhagya v K F, 377
 Bhagwanji v Sandrabai, 211
 Bhag Singh v Gokul, 1014
 Bhag Singh v Thakurdas, 1007
 Bhagwan Das v Krishnabai, 917
 Bhagwan Laxman, In re, 1207

Bharat : Gangi, 1223
 Bharat National Bank : Mohanlal, 1032
 Bharora : Sukhlal, 1002
 Bhasker Tatva : Vajlal, 321
 Bhattacharya : Sanjaya, 1008
 Bhawan Lal : Umar, 1291
 Bhawanima : Ramanna, 111
 Bhau : Sundarhu, 189, 215, 211
 Bhawabul : Rajendra, 716
 Bhawani : Deo Ram, 1111
 Bhawani Prasad : Jaganmull, 1130
 Bhawoo : Mulji, 209
 Bhaya : Panik 28, 701, 91
 Bhayalal : Dwarka, 1111
 Bhika : Purn, 751
 Bhikaji : Bulwant, 708
 Bhika Mal : Ganga Ram, 31-Bhika : Rajahur, 1113, 1113
 Bhika : Lala, 206, 1178
 Bhiloo : Motu, 1111
 Bhumi : Dhulipha, 1198
 Bhuma : Mt. Senler, 791
 Bhim Sinker : Mont Ram, 989
 Bhutto : Kesho Prasad, 25, 226 - 7
 23, 10, 11, 199
 Bhogi M. ver : Hum Lakhani, 1011
 Bho : Kesri, 211
 Bhogi : Kishori, 1023
 Bhogilal : Royal Insurance Co., 1115, 1173
 Bhogirath : Halizuddin, 1200
 Bholi : Bhagwati, 1121
 Bholi : Sheo Chnd, 1155
 Bholanath : Bhut Nath, 1188
 Bholanath : Emperor, 90, 310
 Bholanath v Kali Prasad, 1011
 Bholanath v Nigendra, 713
 Bholi Roy : Jung Bihadur, 653
 Bhooban : Ambica, 620, 621
 Bhora Ganga Prasad : Pooran, 1281
 Bhoses : Emperor, 1203
 Bhowani : Devji, 1056
 Bhubaneswari : Haradhan, 1281
 Bhubaneswari v Harisaran, 885, 890
 Bhubanmohini : Kumudbala, 1220
 Bhugulpur, v Mulvi, 660
 Bhuggobutty v Gooroo, 1081
 Bhujangrao : Mal juro, 215
 Bhugwant v Lal Jha, 316
 Bhulu v K. E., 1431, 1472
 Bhulan v Emperor, 839, 841
 Bhullan v Khushi, 1028
 Bhuneswari : Emperor, 1373
 Bhuneswari v Sukdeo, 1159
 Bhupa v Jaichand, 638
 Bhupati v Khelat, 603, 987
 Bhupathi v Rangaya, 1261
 Bhupendra : Haribar, 1016
 Bhupendra v Midnapore Zemindari Co., 1082
 Bhuneswari : Sukhdeo, 1141
 Bhyro : Lakhance, 1256
 Bbzoj Hong : Ramnathan, 638

Bibee : Achmut, 316
 Bibi Fatma : Abdul Kassim, 685
 Bibi Gyanessa : Moharak, 196, 113
 Bibi Imambandi : Haji, 139
 Bibi Rukhm : Ahmad, 1183
 Bibi Sahib : Savai, 661
 Bibi Sonu : Mir Abdul, 1310
 Bibi Sagra : Angad, 897
 Bibby : Charles, 1113
 Bichha : Jai Pershad, 618, 617
 Bickley : Case, 1106
 Bichchand : Bhugbut, 70
 Bichinta : Crown, 1185
 Bicker : Brij, 667, 990
 Bickis : James, 962, 969
 Bidli : Bond, 1211, 1305, 1306, 1308
 Bidhu : Hari, 1332, 1331
 Bidhumukhi : Jitendra, 667
 Bidya Hari : Pran Gopal, 601
 Bidya Prasad : Suakhar, 690
 Bidin : Yorke, 1 Bigger : Lawrence, 1151
 Bigna : Emperor, 157, 159
 Biharee : Kaminee, 1930
 Bihari : Emperor, 141, 141
 Bihari : Mukhlum, 316, 162
 Bihari : 1010
 Bijo : Kalipada, 639
 Bijo : Kunnid, 1057
 Bika : Queen Empress, 1431
 Bikram : Emperor, 1450, 1173
 Billage v Souther, 1181, 1187
 Bilas : Emperor, 36, 37, 91
 Billu : Emperor, 113
 Bimala : Deb, 1268
 Binayak : Dinakar, 1217, 1218
 Binda : Mangala, 1265
 Pinda : Q. 1, 102
 Binda v Sankata Prasad, 1145
 Bindeswari v Bu Sakha, 1149
 Bindesh : Emperor, 167, 172
 Bipi : Sreedam, 595, 596
 Bipi v Sudam, 599
 Bipi Krishna v Priyabram, 55
 Bipra Das : Monoraina, 663
 Bipradas : Secy of State, 1338
 Birbal : Behari, 346
 Birch : B. 716
 Birch v Depeyster, 1117
 Birch v Ridgway, 914, 915
 Birchall v Bullough, 1480
 Bir Chandra : Bansidhar, 1257

Bird & Butler, 919
 Bird & Keep, 649, 659
 Birendra & Ali, 1149
 Birendra & Baikuntha, 1211
 Birkswar & Haythns, 195
 Biral & Bihari, 962
 Birmingham & Starr, 127
 Birmingham & Wildman, 1355
 Birt & Barlow, 652, 781
 Birt & Whistle & Vardil, 929
 Biscoe & State, 423
 Bieshwar & Harbans, 243
 Bieswar & Purbhoo, 1149
 Bishambhar & Emperor, 597
 Bishambhar & Lakhtulrah, 1029
 Bishambhar & Parghadi, 343
 Bishan Das & Ram Singh, 63, 1014
 Bishan Dutt & K. E., 487, 535
 Bishan Dayal & Khaduna, 897
 Bishan Singh & Bulanda, 1272
 Bishan & I. de Hussain, 1300
 Bishen & Abdul, 957
 Bishen & Ram, 302, 361
 Bishen Das & Emperor, 19, 1329
 Bishen Das & Ram Labhaya, 360, 699
 Bishen Butt & Emperor, 1429
 Bishen Sahu & Anmore Pandey, 1140
 Bishen Singh & Wasawa Singh, 706, 718
 Bisheshur & George, 987
 Bishnoo & Queen, 453
 Bishnu & Baldeo, 1075
 Bishnu & Rajendra, 1266
 Bishnu Priya Chaudhury, In re, 1143
 Bishop, Re, 1166
 Bissamun & Q. L., 13
 Biswunnath & Bhagwan, 705
 Bivens & Mc Elroy, 313
 Biza & On Gaing, 1005
 Black & Braybrook (Lord), 960, 982
 Black & Holmes, 1335
 Blackburn & Brooks, 32
 Blackburn & Crawford, 1192
 Blackburn & I. Lavelle, 17, 890
 Blackburn & Scholes, 839
 Blackley Ordinance Co., In re, 1202
 Blackett & Royal Exchange Assn. Co., 1079, 1080, 1085
 Blgrave & Belgrave, 622
 Balgus & Gold, 1104
 Blake & Allion Life Assn. Co., 275, 217, 290

Blake & Assurance Co., 77, 84, 141, 235
 Blake & Ars Soc., 141
 Blake & Blake, 925, 976, 912
 Blake & Knight, 942
 Blake & Piztor, 1335
 Blackney & Ferguson, 340
 Blake & Clerk, 1181, 1197
 Blanche & Charles, 11
 Blandy & De Barch, 1175
 Bland Re, 1225
 Blandey Jenkins & Dunraven, 222, 609
 Blandy's Case, 139
 Blaquiore & Ramdhane, 1275
 Blatch & Archer, 149, 1118
 Blatherwick's Case, 1376, 1378
 Blenner Hackett & Day, 1273
 Blewitt Re, 763
 Blewitt & Tregonning, 216
 Block & Heigh, 671
 Bloodworth's Case, 1363
 Bloot & Town of Delaheld, 128
 Blount & State, 149
 Blundell & Howard, 193, 206, 220
 Border & Power, 970
 Board & Board, 1292
 Bobba & Bobba, 200
 Bodh Singh & Ganesh, 313, 501
 Body & Halse, 923
 Boentlinck & Schneider, 174
 Boger & Koram Singh, 1209
 Bogra & Emp, 967
 Bohun & Delessert, 1210
 Bojnath & Raja Sing, 582
 Bolan & Ruthin, 356, 686, 841
 Boissomoff & Nahapiet Jute Co., 51, 751
 Bold & Hatchison, 1039
 Bold & Rayner, 1115
 Bolton & Crop of Liverpool, 1340
 Bolton & Tomlin, 1450
 Bombay Cotton Manufacturing Co. Ltd. & Moulal Shivalal, 58, 1407, 1483
 Bombay Co. Ltd. & Municipal Council, 1234
 Bomiya & Virappa, 1041
 Bommaranje & Rangaswami, 1801
 Bonai & Emperor, 282, 799
 Bonaparte & B., 716
 Bond & Douglas, 271
 Bonamali & Talu, 1129,
 Bond's Trial, 149
 Bondurant & State Bank, 1415.
 Bonerjee & Sitanath, 880
 Bonis Savory In, 914
 Borner & State, 490
 Bonomalee & Hafizuddin, 150
 Booker & Haynes, 1262
 Border & Sailford, 125
 Bordie & B.
 Bornart & Fulberth, 39
 Boorne & Swan, 99
 Booray & Davidson, 900

Booth v R, 390
 Born v Rosemand, 1420
 Borthwick Peersage, 602
 Boston v State, 413
 Bosland v Walrath, 750
 Boston v Carew, 1155
 Boston v Danna, 902
 Boston v Luzzarland, 1099
 Bosville v A G, 1192
 Boswell v First National Bank, 931
 Bosworth v Catchitt, 538
 Both v Rute, 1094
 Bottle v Blunde, 919
 Bottle v Blundell, 919
 Bottomly v Forke, 1115
 Bottomly v Laborne, 1116, 1161
 Bottomley, Re, 351, 1623
 Bottoms v Kent, 781, 786
 Boucher v Boucher, 814
 Boucher v Taylor, (91, 192)
 Boulter v Poplow, 370, 371
 Bourne v Giffith, 206
 Bow v Allenstoun, 575
 Bowden v B, 754, 758
 Bowden v Henderson, 1116, 1166
 Bowen v Henderson, 1071
 Bowen v Snell, 342
 Bowes v Foster, 508
 Bowes v Shand, 1079, 1080
 Bowley v Barnes, 976
 Bowman v Bowman, 939, 1413, 1416
 Bowman v Hodgson, 941
 Bowman v Sanhorn, 949
 Bowman v Norton, 1355
 Bowman v Taylor, 1239
 Bowsher v Cally, 187
 Boyce v Chapman, 119
 Boydell v Drummond, 101
 Boyd v Guckiah, 55
 Boyes v Cook, 1084
 Boylam v Misher, 54
 Boyle v State, 527, 528
 Boyle v Wiseman, 891, 900
 Boyle v Rosborough, 1055, 1149, 1187
 Broombond v Woodley, 946
 Bracegirdle v Bailey, 1405
 Bracegirdle v Oxford, 205
 Bradburn v U S, 145
 Braddock, Re, 924
 Barddon v Abbot, 23
 Barddon's Trial, 1578
 Bradley v R Co, 125
 Bradley v Ricardo, 1453, 1457, 1458
 Bradshaw v Murphy, 1360
 Bradshaw v Waterlow & Sons, Lime, 1378
 Bradshaw v Widderington, 1499 Brabham v State, 736

Brahmadat v Chndan, 910
 Brahmo Dutt v Dharma, 1170, 1262, 1263, 1266
 Brailly v Rhodessan, 711
 Brailly v Wood, 624
 Brain v Preece, 517, 549
 Brainbridge v Brown, 1185
 Brainwell v Lucas, 1351
 Braithwaite v Coleman, 1216
 Brajbhallav v Ak-hoy, 611 (1895), 1011
 Brojkishore v Kritt Chander, 132
 Brananath v Anandmoyee, 101
 Brajeswar v Budeannuldy, 316
 Brainwell v Lucas, 1311
 Branchman v Hall, 765
 Brandao v Barnett, 211
 Brandon v Woodthrope, 1212
 " " " " 31
 " " " " op of
 " " " " 50
 Brendbone's Case, 778, 779
 Brembridge v Osborne, 1217
 Breckon v Smith, 314
 Bremer v Freeman, 671, 741
 Brennan's Case, 740
 Brett v Beale, 577, 607, 670, 990
 Brett v Brett, 2
 Bretton v Prattman, 357
 Brewer v Palmer, 999
 Brewster v Sewell, 894
 Brice land v Com, 194
 Bricknell v Hulce, 355, 366
 Brindaban v Durag, 1291
 Brindaban v Umrao, 1036
 Bridgman v Jennings, 292, 315, 346, 602, 664
 Bridoon in the goods of, 950
 Briggs v Briggs, 625, 673
 Bright v Coffman, 313
 Bright v Doe, 935
 Bright v Legerton, 518, 551, 559
 Briggs v Wilson, 566
 Brij Basi v Q L, 1187
 Brij Bhuvan v Ramjam, 1005
 Brij Nandan v Emp, 411, 403
 Brij Raj v Bissant, 994, 1223
 Brij Ratan v Raghunand, 1287
 Brijonath v Lal Mesh, 1299
 Brijmohan v Rudra Porlash, 56
 Brij Gorun v Raghunandan, 1287
 Brij Kishore v Beni, 994

Baker v. Baker 919
 Baker v. Knap 149, 65
 Bakula v. Ali 1140
 Baker v. B. Kumtha 1 41
 Baker v. H. H. 19
 Baker v. H. 46
 Baker v. H. 127
 Baker v. H. 135
 Baker v. H. 74
 Baker v. H. 929
 Baker v. State 42
 Baker v. H. 213
 Baker v. H. 148
 Baker v. H. 597
 Baker v. H. 1029
 Baker v. H. 318
 Baker v. H. 1014
 Baker v. H. 537
 Baker v. H. 897
 Baker v. H. 1272
 Baker v. H. 1300
 Baker v. H. 957
 Baker v. H. 361
 Baker v. H. 1324
 Baker v. H. 699
 Baker v. H. 1429
 Baker v. H. 1149
 Baker v. H. 706
 Baker v. H. 987
 Baker v. H. 453
 Baker v. H. 1028
 Baker v. H. 1266
 Baker v. H. 1113
 Baker v. H. 1166
 Baker v. H. 1331
 Baker v. H. 937
 Baker v. H. 317
 Baker v. H. 1201
 Baker v. H. 329
 Baker v. H. 776
 Baker v. H. 1095
 Baker v. H. 686
 Baker v. H. 824
 Baker v. H. 703
 Baker v. H. 1141
 Baker v. H. 19
 Baker v. H. 705
 Baker v. H. 312
 Baker v. H. 1805
 Baker v. H. 960, 962
 Baker v. H. 1336
 Baker v. H. 32
 Baker v. H. 1192
 Baker v. H. 820
 Baker v. H. 839
 Baker v. H. 1252
 Baker v. H. 1080, 1085
 Baker v. H. 612
 Baker v. H. 1104
 Baker v. H. 275

Blake v. Assurance Co. 77, 84, 111, 235
 Blake v. Ass. Soc. 141
 Blake v. Blake, 925, 946 912
 Blake v. Knight, 942
 Blake v. Pistor, 1335
 Blake v. Fergusson, 119
 Blake v. Clerk, 1181, 1197
 Blake v. Clerk, 1175
 Blake v. De Barch, 1175
 Blake v. De Barch, 1225
 Blake v. Jenkins v. Dunstan, 222, 609
 Blake v. Case, 139
 Blake v. Ramdhane, 1278
 Blake v. Archer, 149, 1118
 Blake v. Case 1376 1378
 Blake v. Day, 1273
 Blake v. 763
 Blake v. Tregonning, 215
 Blake v. Heigh, 671
 Blake v. Case, 1363
 Blake v. Town of Delaheld, 129
 Blake v. State, 149
 Blake v. Howard, 193, 206, 220
 Blake v. Power, 970
 Blake v. Board, 1292
 Blake v. Board, 200
 Blake v. Ganesh, 813, 501
 Blake v. H. 929
 Blake v. Schneider, 674
 Blake v. Koram Singh, 1299
 Blake v. H. 967
 Blake v. De Barch, 1210
 Blake v. H. 532
 Blake v. H. 841
 Blake v. H. 51,
 Blake v. H. 1079
 Blake v. H. 0
 Blake v. H. Co Ltd
 Blake v. H. 1433
 Blake v. H. Coun-
 Blake v. H. 1254
 Blake v. H. 1041
 Blake v. H. 1501
 Blake v. H. 790
 Blake v. H. 716
 Blake v. H. 271
 Blake v. H. 1129
 Blake v. H. 149
 Blake v. H. 1415
 Blake v. H. 880
 Blake v. H. 914
 Blake v. H. 420
 Blake v. H. 150
 Blake v. H. 1262
 Blake v. H. 125
 Blake v. H.
 Blake v. H. 39
 Blake v. H. 99
 Blake v. H. 900

- Bristol & Fint, 10
 Bristol Mfg v Palmer, 159
 Bristol v Cormier, 206, 207, 227, 219, 609 699 986
 Bristol v Sequelville, 731, 741
 British Farmers & Co., In re, 4
 British & Beningtons N W Cichu
 Per Co., 1075
 British Am Teleg Co & Colson, 297
 British American Tobacco Ltd &
 Alahboob 1301
 British S A Co, v Lennon, 28
 British Thompson Houston Co, v British Insulated & Helsby 334, 358
 Broad v Pitt, 1340 1341, 1343
 Broadbent & Wilkes, 215 216
 Broadus v James, 350
 Broadman & Woodman, 730, 736
 Brock v Kent 355
 Brocklebank v Johnson 1100
 Bocklebank & Thompson, 350 362, 579 581
 Broja Kishore v Kish, 1232
 Brojendra v Chairman Dacca Municipality, 330, 499, 500, 501 Brojendra v Mohim, 208 209, 217, 243, 1501 Brojeswari v Budhanuddi, 213 573
 Brojeswari v Rishi 1053, 1149
 Brojo v Bishonauth, 503
 Brojo Behari v Kedar Nath, 221, 225
 Brojola & Sharajubala 23
 Brojomohan & Gaya, 195, 244, 573
 Brojomohan v Radha, 1143
 Brown & Lalit 666
 Bromley v Wallace 806
 Bromage, & Rice 948
 Brooke & Brock 728, 980
 Brookford & Woolly 948
 Brookman & Rothchild, 1185
 Brooks & Lichborne, 165
 Brophy & Holmes 33
 Broucke & Chatter Singh 1046
 Brough & Pakin, 826
 Broughton's Case 429
 Re Brown, 892
 Brown & Bellows, 1466
 Brown v Brown 581
 Brown & Byron 1022, 1076 1079
 Brown & Com, 164
 Brown & Cutts, 1035
 Brown v Dunn, 1434
 Brown v Fisher, 56
 Brown & Foster 45, 1348
 Brown & G V R Co, 31
 Brown v Johnson, 655
 Brown & King, 1181
 Brown & Kennedy, 1146
 Brown & Pringle 1212
 Brown & R Co, 128 277
 Brown & Stock, 150
 Brown's Case, 8369
 Brown & White, 632
 Brown & Woodman, 876 878, 890, 851
 Brown & Macdonald, 813
 Browne & United State, 795
 Brownell & R Co, 115
 Bruce & Garden, 315
 Bruce & Hurley, 91
 Bruce & Nicolupolo, 891, 899
 Bruff & Gt N Ray Co, 128
 Brane & Rawling, 918
 Brunet & The King, 294
 Brunne & Thompson, 828
 Brunner & Co, 351, 354
 Brush & Wilkins, 712
 Bruyn & Russell, 339
 Bryant & White, 921 921
 Bryant & Wagstaff 907
 Bryant & Binguedu People, 980
 Bryant & Foot, 835
 Bridges v King, 851
 Bube & Parker, 576
 Bucha & Luke, 333
 Buchhu & Imperor, 137
 Buchanan & Racker, 982
 Buchart v Buchart, 783
 Bucher & Jarratt 905, 905
 Bucklin & State, 807
 Budha v Emperor, 459, 1584
 Budha & Fatima 657
 Budha v Surwan, 936, 938
 Budha & Karan, 1289
 Budhan Tali v Madan Mohan 1007 1278
 Budhoo & Emperor, 410
 Booger v New York 741
 Buffum & R Co, 727
 Buladi v Imperor, 451
 Bulaki & Mad, 1048
 Bulchand v Iarakhnath, 1585
 Bulchely v Butler, 83
 Bull v Loveland, 905, 1459 1486
 Bullen v Michal 567, 576, 607, 910
 Buller's Trial, 1466
 Bulley & Bulley 308, 500, 501
 Bullivant & A G, 1340 1343, 1344
 1353
 Bullock & Carry, 1341 1343 1344
 Bullock & Thomas, 959
 Bul-trod v Let Chmre, 1346
 Bulter v Mountgarret, 299
 Bunbary v Bunbary, 1345
 Bungo Chunder v Kashoo Chander
 1180
 Bunver & Atkyns, 831
 Bughe & Chowdhury 1396
 Bunwan v Ramjee, 267
 Buwarilal v Hitharam 618 649, 871
 Bunwary & Ferlong, 897
 Burchard & McFarlane, 906, 1486
 Burchell & Clarke, 874
 Burdett v Spilsbury, 921, 922
 Burdick v Punt, 949
 Burford v Mccru, 166
 Burghart & Angerstein, 333

- Burgoyne v Showler, 940
 Burgess v Bennet, 1181
 Burjorj Curestij v Manchery 501, 51, 542
 Burkinshaw v Nicholls, 1217
 Burleigh v Scott 113
 Burlett v Wells, 1267
 Burn v B humbut 116, 977
 Burma Oil Co v Bynath, 16
 Burn & Co v Rushmore 1301
 Burnaby v Bulze 173, 191, 1192
 Burnad v Bank Pock Case 1270
 Burnee v Moor, 1072
 Burnath v Simpkins, 7e9
 Burnside v Dayrell 325
 Buroda v Rughoonath 150
 Burjorj v Manchery 838
 Burr v Harper 717
 Burr v Dyer 527 825
 Burr v North, 900
 Burry v Blogg 876
 Burrrough v Martin, 1479, 1480 1482
 Burshud v Angerstein 652
 Bursell v Tanner 1317
 Burt v Palmer 155
 Burt v State, 737
 Burt v Walker, 934
 Burton v Bank of New S W 1036
 Burton v Burton Stock Car Co 714
 Burton v Isit 335
 Burton v Plummer 1450 1481
 Bury v Oppenheim 1185
 Bury v Philpot, 1191
 Busby v State 727
 Bushell's Case 25 26
 Bushnell v Hammond 13
 Busoid v Newaj 578 582
 Busord v Levering, 297
 Bustras v White 1486
 Buta v Impress 302, 361, 480
 Buta Singh v Crown 618
 Butnath v Emperor 1204
 Butcher v 1191 807
 Butta v Empress 529
 Butta v Arlok 641
 Butteley v Reed 1305 1306
 Buttrick v Allen, 991
 Buttol v Prandhan 247
 Buzloor v Shamsunissa 1183
 Byatham v Avulla, 233, 657, 704
 Bynum v Preston 1246
 Byomkesh Chakraverty v Jagadishwar Roy, 230
 Byrd v Beall, 1080
 Byrd v Fleming, 167
 Byrd v Nunm, 841 845
 Byrne v Harvey, 905
 Byrne v Londonderry Co, 574
 Cadet v Frie, 1113
 Caddick v Skimmore, 1015
 Caffera v Caffera, 321
 Cairncross v Lorimer, 1237
 Calcraft v Guest, 892 1313, 1314
 Calder v Rutherford, 1154
 Caldwell v Murphy, 366
 Caledonian R Co v N. Birt R Co, 6
 Calho v Jhoro, 335
 Call v Dunning, 917
 Callan Re, 1171
 Calvert v Fowler, 1158
 Calvin v, Procurator General, 1171
 Camden v Cowze, 775
 Cameron's Coolbrooke etc, 1187
 Cameron Earl of v, Villafors, 527
 Cameron v Light foot, 594
 Cameron v P, 1171
 Canadian Pacific Ry v The King, 1245
 Canem v People, 791, 792 793
 Canning's Trial, 149, 280
 Carey v Atkins, 554
 Carl v Winton, 693
 Cartis v Brogg, 1073
 Carlos v Brook, 1460
 Carlton v Bowcock, 1298
 Carmarthen v Manchester, 90, 110
 Carne v Nicoll, 106, 560
 Carnorvan v Villebois, 577, 579, 581, 603, 698
 Carpenter v Penn, 71
 Carpenter v Wall, 806
 Carpmal v Powis, 1316
 Carr v L & N W. Railway, 1247, 1218, 1252, 1254
 Carr v Mostyn, 350
 Carr v Royal Exchange Ass Co, 2
 Carr v Hampton, 762
 Carrington v Worcester, 1362
 Carter v Pryke, 1100
 Carter v State, 528
 Carlton v Bowcock, 1296

- Cartwright v Cartwright, 741
 Carty's Trial, 472
 Carver v U S 528
 Carrick v Blagrove, 1300
 Case of Bishops, 31
 Casey v O' Shanaghnessy, 592
 Casper v Keeler Nath Cur's Case 872
 Carson v Dade, 923
 Castleton's Case, 173
 Caston v Caston, 707
 Castrique v Inrie, 680 683, 698 691
 Catherwood v Calson, 781, 782
 Caton v Lenox, 618
 Catt v Howard, 311, 677
 Cavalry Veneris v Collector of Masulipatam, 1142
 Cavan v Hart, 932
 Caves v Jackson, 719
 Cazenave v Vaughan, 627, 1104
 Central Bank of India v Nader Shih 1032
 Central Bridge v Batter, 1122
 Central India Spinning v Gr I P. R., 1859 Cent R Co v Murray, 621
 Chadgi v Emp, 13
 Chadwick v Founier, 350
 Chadwick v Manning, 1250, 1270
 Chaerand v Angerstein 1116
 Chaffe & Co v U S 541
 Chogan Lal v Kashiram, 1007
 Chain Mahto v Emperor, 94, 95, 93, 102 105, 113 114
 Chaimnamat v Akulu Ammal, 832
 Chairman, Serajganj Municipality v The Chittagong Co Ltd, 1106, 1107 Chaitan v Chaturdhar, 151
 Chakraborty Singh v Suraj Kuer, 615, 620, 632
 Chakravarti v Puspavathi, 658
 Chaito Singh v Jharo, 340, 365, 553
 Chalai v Surendra, 1275
 Chalk v Jahar, 323
 Challa Lakshnakhia v Cala Ranguppa, 1143
 Challa Venkata v Deva Ahaktuni, 1029 1019
 Chalmers v Mfg Co 738
 Chalor v Emp 618
 Chalpat v Kuldip, 1117
 Chaman v Ganesh, 1145
 Chanan v Emperor, 100, 1473
 Chance v Adams, 1
 Chanda v Beharilal, 329
 Chand Rikha v Janki, 1750
 Chandan v Aniruddh, 1007
 Chandan v Bhabhuti, 1142
 Chandanor v Chuni Ahir, 330
 Chandu v Boistab, 576, 959, 1572
 Chandur v Simla, 1231
 Chandika v Muna, 213, 218, 1225
 Chandler v Grove, 821, 831
 Chandler v Horne, 1391
 Chandoo v Murlidhar, 573, 1267
 Chandoo v Purbhoo, 1294
 Chandra v Gulam, 102
 Chandra v Sewadat 1078
 Chandra v Sheikh 200
 Chandra Binode v Sheikh Ala Bux 20
 Chandra Das v Akbar, 1073
 Chandra Kant v Broj Nath 931
 Chandra Kant v Pearee Mohan, 700, 957
 Chandra Ka Prasad v Emperor, 159
 Chandra Kumar v Chaudhuri, 422, 701 502
 Chandra Kumar v Ramdin, 343
 Chandrama v Rangayan, 514
 Chandra Mal v Mahmud Hussain, 1140
 Chandra Mohan v Sheikh Elim, 245 369 Chandra Nath v Nilmadhab 518, 593, 611
 Chandra v Shaheed 878
 902 955, 1318, 1461, 1474
 Chandraeswar v Chuni Ahir, 341
 Chandrika v Ramkabar, 480
 Chandrika v K E 520, 620
 Chanham v Beharilal, 1289
 Chanan v Crown, 390, 443
 Channemon v Government, 977
 Channulal v Mt Puna, 936
 Chant v Crown 1311
 Chapman v Chapin, 85
 Chapman v Smith, 214
 Chapman v Walton, 738
 938 Charkieh, 831
 Charles v Edward, 1285
 Charlesworth v Macdonald, 15
 Charlton v Barret 271
 Charlton v Coombs, 1353
 Charlton v Hindmarsh, 921

- Chamock's Trial, 1366, 1371
 Charnocks v Dewings, 1391
 Charter v Charter, 1031, 1103
 Chase v Lowell, 103, 110, 611
 Chauhukelin v Govinda, 361
 Chithu v Virargan, 889
 Chatoo v Rajaram, 1101
 Chatterpal v Lachmi Das, 901
 Chatterton v Secretary of State, 1335
 Chattera Kumari v Mohan Bikram, 846
 Chatur v Emperor, 1364
 Chattu v Radha Kishan, 718
 Chatur v Mukund, 1176
 Chaudhuri Mahomed v Mander Das, 1218
 Chaudhury Abdul v Mt Tahira, 217
 Chaudhury Nazir v Abdul, 665
 Chaudhury Ram v Ram Chandra, 1257
 Chaurand v Angerstein, 731, 776
 C H Booth v Emperor, 195
 C H C Arach v Indu Nath, 1273
 Chedan v K L, 793, 401
 Chelilal v Jawala, 1550
 Chelilal v Kanhai, 1283
 Chedu Singh v Jagannath, 1108
 Chetani v Chutturdhari, 151, 1103
 Chogamull v Govinda Swami, 337
 Chichester v Mary of Danegall, 1360
 Chidambaram v Valldilingo, 1268
 Chidambaram v Emperor, 180, 181, 279
 Chidambaram v Subbaraghava, 926
 Chiddu v Crew, 1116
 Chiddu v Kuar Sen, 1579
 Chiddu v Nawar, 1279
 Child v Grace, 158
 Childerson v Birett, 1390
 Chinnip v Din Kar, 887
 Chinnarun v Daya Chand, 1022
 Chinnar v Ram Dyal, 712
 Chinnar v Dinakar, 878
 Chinnar v Venkata, 857
 China Byan v Mahomed, 1
 Chinammol v Varo laryulu, 215
 Chinnasami v Hartharaborda, 691
 Chinayenakardu Re, 1578
 Chinnar v Tegrai, 217
 Chinnaya Nayudu v Gurunatham, 320
 Chintumon v Dureppa, 267
 Chiranjit v Katio, 350
 Chiranjit v Poorna, 920, 935
 Chitsun v Crown, 482
 Chit Ram v Togi Ram, 750
 Chittor Singh v Emperor, 1470
 Chockalingam v Swami Battar, 1199, 1232
 Choda Achama, In re, 455
 Chogatha v Emperor, 1470
 Choithram v Khemchand, 899
 Chokhey v Jote Sing, 502
 Chota Lal, In re, 31
 Chotey Lal v Emperor, 15
 Chowdhurani v Narmada, 1178
 Chowdhuri Ram Prosad v Ram Chandra, 1287
 Chowdhury v Shih, 1396
 Christian v Delanney, 675
 Chunder v P. Wise, 1000
 Chunder v Ramnarain, 339, 341
 Chandumun v Phakoor, 1267
 Chani v Bu Muli, 1116
 Chani v Bai Samrath, 1055
 Chani v Basanta, 1077
 Chani v Emperor, 482, 526

- Collector of Rajshahi : Doorga Soonderv 206, 666, 977
- Colledge : Horn, 333
- Colledge's Trial 1153
- Collett : Collett, 852
- Collett : Emperor, 287
- Colie In re, 1 52
- Collier : Nokes, 826 1418
- Collier : Simpson, 739 869
- Colling : Frewick 874
- Colling : Treweek, 576, 878 907
- Collingwood : Barkely, 323
- Collins : Blantern 1051, 1053, 1057 1210
- Collins : Garbon 907
- Collins : Gohsan 1489
- Collins : Gordon, 1489
- Collins : Martin, 1208
- Colonial Bank : Whanney, 11
- Colonial Sugar Refining Co Ltd :
Irving 0
- Colpoys : Colpoys 1092
- Colquhoun : Brooks 1b
- Com : Andrews, 769
- Com : Bednorski, 509
- Com : Carey 714
- Com : Choote, 712
- Com : Coyle 737
- Com : Cunningham, 171
- Com : Dessinger, 904
- Com : Dillon, 429
- Com v Gilavan, 149
- Com v Harman 173
- Com : Hill, 1318
- Com v Howe, 477
- Com v Jackson 780
- Com v Jefferies 136, 299
- Com : Keyes, 678
- Com v Knapp 474
- Com : Marzynsky, 836
- Com : Maessinger, 890
- Com v Mrey 419
- Com v Montgomery, 151
- Com : Nefus, 762
- Com v Pilsinger, 394
- Com v Richardson, 905
- Com v Russell, 254
- Com : Trefethen, 193
- Com : Vaughan 137
- Com : Webster, 137 763, 793 794
- Com : Wheeler, 878
- Com : Williams, 171
- Com v York 1231
- Comfield : Bird 271
- Comm v Piper, 176, 146
- Comm v Sturivant, 164
- Commander v Sate, 137
- Commissioner for the Port of Rangoon
v Moola Dawood, 842
- Commissioner of Income tax v T K
S Ibrahim, 6
- Commissioner of Madras v Ekambara, 982
- Committee of Management : Ramchand, 822
- Commonwealth : Cosley, 57, 66
- Commonwealth : Cate 795
- Commonwealth : Emery 883
- Commonwealth : Fox, 1478
- Commonwealth : Galligan, 313
- Commonwealth : Harman, 51
- Commonwealth : Hardy, 792
- Commonwealth : Rogers, 738
- Commonwealth : Tuckerman, 109
- Commonwealth : Thurlow, 1165
- Commonwealth : Vox 357
- Commonwealth : Webster, 48, 66, 715
- Commonwealth : Worcester 788
- Commonwealth Shipping Representative : Peninsular Oriental Branch Service 829
- Comp Broadbent : Imperial Gas Co, 12
- Comyan : Emperor, 1200
- Con : Commonwealth, 1371
- Concha : Concha, 338 690
- Concha : Marietha 741
- Condrich v Sonne 1231
- Conner v Fitzgerald, 164, 573
- Conner : R Co, 775
- Connings—Mark's Trial, 1452
- Conradi v G L R 617
- Consteen v Zouts, 327
- Constantine v Constantine 34
- Continental Insr Rogers 903
- Control India Spinning v G I P. Rail way, 1262
- Conway v Beazley, 652
- Coole : Coode, 652
- Cook v Field, 271
- Cook v Hearn, 909
- Cook v Host, 204
- Cook v Nehercote, 1391
- Cook : Stout, 621
- Cook v Transwell, 931
- Cook v Ward, 611
- Cooke v Booth, 1171
- Cooke v Loxley, 1291
- Cooke : Wilby, 980
- Cook v Wilson, 827, 828
- Cooker : Maxwell, 1355
- Cookes v Hellier, 150
- Coole : Brahan, 353
- Cooms v Coether, 249, 577, 607, 610
- Coons : Renick, 901
- Cooper, In re, 266, 351
- Cooper King v C K 741
- Cooper v Backell 940
- Cooper v Beckett, 942
- Cooper : Blindy, 1296
- Cooper v Cooper 1283
- Cooper v Dedrick, 1275
- Cooper : Gibson, 906
- Cooper v Marsden, 447
- Cooper v Meyer, 1501
- Cooper : Randall, 125

Cowling : Ely, 358
Cowling : Haganson 207, 1178
Cox : Burd 350
Cox v Buck 322
Cox v Burbidge 271
Cox : Commonwealth, 1275
Cox : Middleton 1015
Cox : People 475
Coxhead : Mullis 1
Cowan : Hite 315
Cozzens : Gillispie,
Craig : Angle-e, 863
Craig : Lacombeux 1187
Crane : Public Prosecutor 1490
Craven : Harrington, 1034
Craven : Prudmore, 315
Crawford : Blaise, 521
Crawford : Spooner, 1, 4, 5
Crawford and Landeray Peerrage, 918
Cray : Halte, 310
Cray v Halla 677
Cray : Sprague, 61 621
Crease : Barret 211 346, 560 567 572
574, 576 578, 580, 777, 1206, 1198
Creedy : Curr 202 1405
Creswell : Jackson 105, 945, 1432
Crew : Johnstone, 769
Crouse : Holman 729 1137
Crippen's Case, 136
Crisp v Anderson 951 985
Crispin v Daghlioni 587, 871
Crofter : R Co 127
Croinack : Heathcote, 1341
Crompton & Co : Secy of State, 1309
Cronch v Drury 517
Cronton : May 1231
Crosby v Perey, 935
Crosby : Berger, 1357
Crosby's Trial 1447
Crossly v Dixon, 1907
Cross v Cross 1192, 1197
Cross v Kaye 1014
Cross : Williams 323
Crossee v Gardner 1060
Crouse v Holman 1229 1233
Cronton : May, 1231
Crowe v Peters, 631
Crowell : DeLi 313
Crown : Ahmad 143
Crown v Andai 31
Crown v Balch 135, 1481
Crown : Bhongatta 33
Crown : Chowgatta, 33 145
Crown : Ghazee 532
Crown v Ghulam, 78
Crown v Ghulam 93, 94
Crown v Godra 1283
Crown v Goola, 49
Crown : Haider Ali 530

- Crown v. Hera Misher 1383
 Crown v. Hoornace, 1350
 Crown v. Hoornace 1372
 Crown v. Huzuri 468
 Crown v. Isarlas, 1379
 Crown v. Jai Ram 131 1350
 Crown v. Jhobu, 151
 Crown v. Long, 117, 418
 Crown v. Meerkhan 115
 Crown v. Mishra 966 1012
 Crown v. Mohamed Khan 135
 Crown v. Motan, 131 1353
 Crown v. Neo Po Hlang, 444
 Crown v. Nihal Singh, 153, 1350
 Crown v. Oomra 107
 Crown v. Pakriwami, 103
 Crown v. Pakuswami, 119
 Crown v. Photo 468
 Crown v. Radhi Kissen 423 131
 Crown v. Ramchand 612 1350
 Crown v. Ramchand 58 67
 Crown v. Rubenec 583 1350
 Crown v. Shuldham, 151 151
 Crown v. Shullemam 160
 Crown v. Sun murder 91
 Crown v. Zoolfo 407
 Croxton v. May 1199
 Croy v. Batten 350
 Cruckenden v. Fuller, 108
 Cummins v. Crawford 788
 Cundy v. Le Coq 259
 Cunliff v. Sefton 935
 Cunningham v. Bank 762
 Cunningham v. Cunningham 778, 779
 Cunningham v. Ponblaque 775
 Cunningham v. Hudson River Bank, 766
 Cunningham's trial
 Curlews v. Borfi Id 150
 Curlew v. Corfield 1215
 Curie v. Child, 934, 936
 Currumbay v. L. F. Creet 1293
 Cursetji v. Crowder, 83
 Cutbush v. Irving 1300
 Curtis v. Bradby, 47
 Curtis v. Cochran 1147
 Curtis v. Hunt, 312
 Curtis v. Mar-b 826
 Curtis v. Stoom, 8
 Curtis v. Wheeler 1392
 Cutler v. Newlin, 345
 Cuts v. Pickering 1351
 Cutter v. Newton 30
 Cutter Tower v. Clements 326, 890
 Cutts v. Brown 1052
 Curzon v. Loman 577 608

D

- D Agle v. Fryer, 652
 Dobbukota In re, 537
 Dada v. Bahiru, 1023
 Dadabhai v. Cowasji, 837
 Dadabhai v. Jamesji, 837
 Dadan Gazi v. Emperor, 1431, 1

- Dadapa v. Krishna, 1171
 Dadashah Dadashantho v. Bu Nanam, 1261, 1266
 Dadi Lodhi v. Emperor, 109, 170
 Dagdu v. Nana, 1017, 1018, 1053
 Diggers v. Van Dyck, 51
 Dairy v. Jugobondhoo, 106, 207, 217 223, 213 913
 Duntrege v. Pasalo, 926
 Dunt v. Bockhurst, 1077
 Duntrey, In re, 1 xparto Hall 376, 377
 Duxonayaga Reddujar v. Renukambal Ammal 9
 Daya v. Emperor, 1401
 Day Ahji v. Govind, 316, 336, 513, 637
 Dal v. Emperor, 412 111
 Dal Bahadur v. Bijoy Bahadur, 556, 570, 628
 Dalgaish v. Guzaffar, 212, 213, 213, 699, 773, 790
 Dalia Chand v. Latu 922, 924
 Dalchand v. Shuram, 925
 Dalip v. Dalip, 1093
 Dalip Singh v. Nawal Kunwar, 110
 Dalson v. Sturl, 1125
 Dalpat v. Pratab 960
 Dalrymple v. Dalrymple, 741
 Dalton v. Angus, 118, 215
 Dakhineswar v. Harish Chandra, 30
 Damas v. People, 392
 Damodar Jagganath v. Atmarani Babaji, 371, 896
 Damodar v. Chowdhury, 1210
 Damodar v. Deoram 828 837, 1200
 Damodar v. Gordhen, 837
 Damodar v. Jada Nath, 87 89, 244
 Damodar v. Mossodan Singh, 1007
 Damodar v. Ram Sarup, 718
 Damodar Das v. Dayabhai, 1100
 Damodar Gardhan v. Ganesh Davoram, 1199
 Demurverabhadra, In re, 1386
 Dan v. Brown, 117 320, 339
 Dana v. Conat 908
 Dano v. Kemble 297
 Danapati v. Balasundara, 369 507
 Dandapani, In re, 574
 Dandoon v. Kimpton, 1221
 Datnellan's Case 136
 Dattu Singh v. Emperor, 532, 540
 Daniel v. Pitt 355
 Daniel v. Potter 311
 Daniel v. Wilkin, 530, 607, 661
 Darapti v. Sutti, 993
 Darburi v. Mahabul Ali 766
 Darbux v. Dar Meah 1581
 Darbux v. Dar Meah 1581

Dash v Van Kluck, 8
 Dashwood v Mangnane, 1076
 Dashes v Waters 1316
 Dassonai v Ramchand, 1145
 Dassonai v Yusuf Ali, 849
 Dad's Case 11
 Dadya v Partab 959
 Dattaram v Bisantra Kumar, 1215
 Dattatraya v Sridhar, 1176
 Dutton v Fitzgerald, 1300
 Datto v Ramchandri, 1046, 1049
 Daulat v Baliram 1102
 Daulat v Corporation of Calcutta, 1224
 Daulat v Emperor, 193 497
 Daulat Rai v Khub Lal 248
 Daulat Ram v Emperor, 49, 121, 80^o 1378
 Davey v Corey 209
 Davey v L & S W Ry Co, 845
 David M Bruce v Mg Kayw Zan, 1159
 Davidas v Sharnal, 1300
 Davidson's trial 792 1460
 Davidson v Kimpton, 105, 1199, 1471
 Davies v Pratt, 964
 Davindar v Lachmi 591
 Davis, In re, 823 834
 Davis v Bush, 1222
 Davis v Dale, 1405
 Davis v Davis, 1284 1487
 Davis v Dinwoody, 1326
 Davis v Jones, 1066
 Davis v Humphreys 564 565
 Davis v Lowndes, 226 581, 562, 387,
 591, 601, 1127
 Davis v Lloyd 558, 561
 Davis v Marlborough 5 893
 Davis v Mel on 361
 Davis v Morgan 311 579
 Davis v Pierce 116 346
 Davis v Ridge, 339
 Davis v Symond 1021
 Davis v Sinto, 736 742
 Davis v Spooner 969
 Davis' Estate In re 831
 Davis v Woless 1360
 Davies v White 1571
 Davis v Wood, 866
 Davlata v Ganesh, 1215
 Dawson v Dawson, 167, 543
 Dawkins v Lord Rokby, 1234, 1441
 Day v Day, 173
 Day v Irig 1104
 Dayal v Ho Lon 1993
 Day v King, 1485
 Dayman v Dayman, 911
 Dayrell v Glascock, 910
 Dazey v Mills, 324
 D Cruz v D Cruz 660
 Deacon v Brodie, 115
 Dean's Case 164
 Dean v Callcott, 558
 Dean v Green, 14
 Dean of Lily v Stewart, 969

Dear v Knight, 1451
 Dearnette v. Commonwealth, 712
 Debendra v Arun, 643
 Debendra v Emperor, 417, 493, 496, 755 Debendra v Mira, 1303
 Debendra v Narendra, 1215, 1223
 Debendra v Pitamber, 213, 218 776
 Debendra v Surendra, 665, 668
 Debendra v Beharilal, 929
 Dehendrahal v Secretary of State, 666 Debendra Nath Sen v Muzar Abdul Samed, 1276
 Debi Dutt v King Emperor, 421
 Debi Dutt v Main Sing, 641
 Debi Dutt v Sri Ram 958
 Debi Prasad v Brijnath, 1251
 Debi Prasad v Golap Bhagat, 1142
 Debi Rai v Gokal Prasad, 1260
 Debi Singh v Emperor, 615 Debnaram Dutt v The Chairman of Birupur Municipality, 1158
 Debroos Banco, v Nawab Syed, 1188
 Dehri v Krip 800
 Deivrayagam v Muthukumar Swamy
 675
 Dela Motte's Case, 763, 764
 Delaney v Little, 256
 Delaney v Rahamat Ali 1014
 Delany v Cor, 1292
 Delari Koer v Bahagram 1278
 Delassalle v Guildford, 1060
 Delesline v Greenland, 357
 Delhi Cloth etc Mills v Income tax Commissioner, Delhi, 8 9
 Delip v Rola 1190
 Demerari Baunite Co v Hubbord
 1186 Demisetti v v Demisettij, 1216
 Dempster v Purnell 1211
 Dench v Dench 141
 Denew v Daverall, 202
 Denials v Ev Ins Co 1252
 Denis v White, 83^o 1201
 Deniscalle v Denisdale, 1185
 Dennis v Codrington 1340, 1341
 Dennis v Parker 1499
 Dennis v Tovell 4
 Dennis v Vanvoij, 315
 Dent v Bennett, 1184 1185 1187
 Dent v Dent, 652
 Deogil v Pitamber 1096
 Deokali v Ranchoor Bux, 1286
 Deoki v Rajkumar 33
 Deoki v Sri Ram 607
 Deokeur v Man Kuor, 1189
 Deolal v Bindeshri,
 Deolir v Raj 162

Deonand n t Emperor, 161, 166, 1371.
1379 1382
Deonairan t Agyan, 1413
Deonairan t Dwarka, 533, 637, 613
Deonirain t Kakur, 922
Deonath v Debendra Nath, 1223
D orao t Dhandirao, 938
Depue t Plice, 919
Deputy t Bannu, 429
Deputy Commissioner t Mopesh
Bikash, 987
Deputy Commissioners of Bora Binki
t. Ram Prachad, 512, 639, 612, 614
Deputy Legal Remembrancer t
Kamna Bustabi, 487
Deputy Legal Remembrancer t
Kamara, 256
Deputy Legal Remembrancer t.
Karuna, 257
Deputy Legal Remembrancer t
Sarwarjan, 1210, 1211
Deputy Legal Remembrancer t
Upendra, 617, 1369
Deputy Superintendent v Promotha
Nath, 1364
De Rosaz, In the goods of, 1093
De Ross Peerage, 602
Derrick's case, 704
Derry v Peak, 269
De Rutzen v Farr, 538
Desai v Nilahaganda, 758
Deshrani v Thakur, 1170
Desouza v Pestonji, 216, 216
Desraj n Emperor, 392, 397
Dessila v Fels, 29
Dethoren n Att Gen 778
Detroit v Von Steinbury, 736
Devala Provident Gold Mining Co,
Re, 324, 328
Delvaraju v Mahummed Zaffar Sahab, 1176, 1297
Devi Bai n Dayabai, 1250
Deyn v W. 1250
Dewin Roy Bejoy Bahadur Indrapal, 1220
Dewan Raw n Collector of Shahabad, 977
Dewa Singh v Crown, 483
Dewey n Hethkiss, 679
Dewhelpdale n Milburn, 504
Dewhurst v Feilden, 19
Dews v Cornish, 268
Deya v King Emperor, 1423
Deybel's Case, 827, 828
Dhaju n Emperor, 1356
Dhana v Nastulla, 930
Dhandraj t Soni Basi, 1275
Dhaneshwar t Ramrup, 1005, 1008
Dhani Ram t Emperor, 1314, 1585
Dhani Ram n Muruli, 619
Dhanur Lal v Shambhu, 937
Dhannu Belder t Emperor, 1422
Dhanpat t. Jowahur, 1040
Dhanpat Rau t Garanditta, 1271
Dhanuk Dhari t Nithuni, 1273
Dharam Kuwar t. Balwant Singh, 1271
Dharam Prakash t Kalawant Devi, 1238
Diaz v U. S., 87
Dibdad v Empero, 753
Dickinson v Dickinson, 572
Dickinson v Sheo, 1405
Dickinson v Wilton, 175, 1330
Dickson n Evans, 1154, 1155
Dickson v Inhabitants, 783
Dickson v Zizamia, 1026
Diemen's Land Co v Marine Board 1117
Digby n Steelman, 1480
Dike v Polhill 661
Dilawar Ali n Rabia Begum 1189
Dilgazi v Reg, 135
Dilkes, In bonis, 924
Dilkuar n Udal Ram, 73
Dileukh v Raja Ram, 1583
Dinendra Nath t Ramkumar, 347 1181
Dinabai n Fromroz, 1358
Dinabai n Fromroz, 1358

- Dash : Van Kluck 8
 Dashwood : Mangaine 1076
 Datta : Waters 1316
 Dassanai : Ramchand 1147
 Dassanai : Yusuf Ali 849
 Dada's Case 11
 Dalju : Partab 950
 Dattaram : Basanti Kumar 1215
 Datatraya : Sudhar 1176
 Datto : Luygerald 1300
 Datto : Ramchandra 1016 1049
 Daulat : Bahram 1102
 Daulat : Corporation of Calcutta 1221
 Daulat v Emperor 192 497
 Daulat Rai : Khub Lal 245
 Daulat Ram : Emperor, 49 171, 802, 1378
 Davey : Corey 219
 Davey : L & S W Ry Co, 845
 David M Bruce : Mg Kyaw Zan, 1159
 Davidas : Shamal, 1360
 Davidson : trial 79 1460
 Davidson : Kimpton 165, 1199 1171
 Davies : Pratt 961 Davinder : Lachmi 501
 Davis, In re 823 834
 Davis v Bush, 1223
 Davis : Dale, 1405
 Davis : Davis 1234 1487
 Davis : Dinwoody, 1326
 Davis : Jones, 1066
 Davis : Humphreys 561 565
 Davis v Lowndes, 226, 551, 552, 387, 591, 601, 1127
 Davis : Lloyd 555, 561
 Davis : Marlborough 5, 893
 Davis : Melson 361
 Davis : Morgan 311 379
 Davis : Pierce 118 346
 Davis : Ridge, 339
 Davis : Symond, 1021
 Davis : Tate, 73 742
 Davis : Spooner, 909
 Davis' Trusts : In re, 831
 Davis v Wales, 1360
 Davies : White 1571
 Davis : Wood, 866
 Davlata : Ganesh, 1215
 Dawson : Dawson 167, 545
 Dawkins : Lord Rokby, L. 41, 1411
 Day : Day, 173
 Day : Day 1104
 Dayal : Ho Lon 1793
 Dayal : King, 1585
 Dayman : Dayman, 911
 Dayrell : Glascock, 910
 Dazey : Mills, 323
 D Cruz : D Cruz, 660
 Deacon : Brodie, 119
 Dean's Case 161
 Dean : Callcott, 353
 Dean : Green, 14
 Dean of Lily : Stewart, 950
 Dear : Knight, 1451
 Dearnette : Commonwealth, 712
 Debendra : Aran, 613
 Debendra : Emperor, 417, 493, 496, 755
 Debendra : Mira 1303
 Debendra : Narendra, 1215, 1223
 Debendra : Putamber, 213, 218 776
 Debendra : Sutedra, 665, 668
 Debendra : Beharilal, 929
 Debendralal : Secretary of State, 666
 Debendra Nath Sen : Mirza Abdul Samed, 1276
 Debi Dyal : King Emperor 121
 Debi Dutt : Main Sing, 611
 Debi Dutt : Sri Ram 958
 Debi Prasad : Bajnath, 1251
 Debi Prasad : Golap Bhagat 1142
 Debi Rai : Gokal Prasad, 1260
 Debi Singh : Emperor, 615
 Delmarin Dutt : The Chairman of Burapur Municipality, 1159
 Debroos Banco, : Nawab Syed, 1188
 De Bretton : De Bretton, 1321
 De Bure : Alt, 1269
 De Crestingny : Wellesley, 203 Desires : Davies 271
 Dehri v Emp 800
 Desivanavagam v Muthukumar Swamy 675
 Dela Motte's Case 763, 764
 Delaney : Little, 256
 Delaney : Rahamat Ali 1014
 Delani : Fox, 1292
 Delari Koer : Sahigram 1278
 Delassalle : Guilford, 1060
 Delestine : Greenland, 357
 Delhi Cloth etc Mills : Income tax Commissioner, Delhi, 8 9
 Delpra : Rela 1195
 Demerari Baunite Co : Hubbard, 1186
 Demisetti : : Demisetti, 1216
 Dempster : Parnell 1211
 Dench v Dench 141
 Denew : Daverall, 202
 Denials : Ev Ins Co, 1252
 Denis : White, 836 1201
 Denisdale : Denisdale, 1163
 Dennis : Codrington 1310, 1241
 Dennis : Parker 1499
 Dennis : Fovell 1
 Dennis : Vanyov, 315
 Dent : Bennett, 1181, 1185 1187
 Dent v Dent 602
 Deogil : Putamber 1096
 Deokali : Ranchoor Bux, 1286
 Deoki : Rajkumar 73
 Deoki : Sri Ram 657
 Deokeur : Man Kuor, 1183
 Deolal : Bindeshri, Doolal : Raje 162

TABLE OF CASES.

215

Deonandan v Emperor, 161, 1368, 1371.
1379 1382
Deonarin v Agyan, 1413
Deonarin v Dwarka, 533, 637, 613
Deonarin v Kakur, 922
Deonath v Debendra Nath 1223
Deora v Dhandirao, 938
Depue v Plice, 919
Deputy v Bunnu, 129
Deputy Commissioner v Mopesh
Bakish, 957
Deputy Commissioners of Bora Bank
v. Ram Prashad 512, 639, 612, 611
Deputy Legal Remembrancer v
Kamna Bustabi, 187
Deputy Legal Remembrancer v
Kamana, 256
Deputy Legal Remembrancer v
Karuna, 257
Deputy Legal Remembrancer v
Sarwarjan, 1210 1211
Deputy Legal Remembrancer v
Upendra, 617, 1369
Deputy Superintendent v Promotha
Nath 1 64
De Rosaz In the goods of, 1093
De Ross Peerage, 602
Derrick's case, 764
Derry v Peak, 269
De Rutzer v Farr, 558
Desai v Nilahagandu, 758
Deshrani v Thakur, 1170
D Souza v Pestonji 215, 216
Desraj v Emperor, 392, 397
Dessilla v Fels, 29
Dethoren v Att Gen 778
Detroit v Von Steinbury, 736
Devala Provident Gold Mining Co., Re, 324, 328
Delvaraju v Mahummed Zaffar Sahib, 1176, 1207
Devibai v Dayabai 1250
Devine v Wil-on, 950
Devjee Frikjee v Dayamoye, 1046
Devonshire v Neill, 575, 576 590
Dew v Clark, 730
Dewan Roy Bejoy Bahadur Indrapal, 1220
Dewan Raw v Collector of Shahabad, 977
Dewa Singh v Crown, 483
Dewey v Hethkiss, 679
Dewhelpdale v Milburn, 504
Dewhurst v Feilden, 19
Dews v Cornish, 268
Deya v King Emperor, 1423
Deybel's Case, 827, 878
Dhaja v Emperor, 1386
Dhanna v Nastulla, 930
Dhandraj v Sont Basi, 1275
Dhaneshwar v Ramrup, 1005, 1008
Dhani Ram v Emperor 1314, 1585
Dhani Ram v Muruh, 619
Dhanur Lal v Shambhu, 937
Dhannu Belder v Emperor, 1122
Dhanpat v Jowahur, 1010
Dhanpat Rai v Garanditta 1271
Dhanuk Dhuri v Nithani, 1273
Dhanumal v Runchandra, 593 599
Dhann v Emperor 1286
Dharam Kuwar v Balwant Singh, 308, 322 500
1271
Dharam Prakash v Kalawat Devi, 1238
Dharam Singh v Emperor, 1131
Dharu Singh v Hurocomaree, 1141
Dharup Nath v Gobinda Saran, 1161
1168, 1169
Dhan Singh v Gardit Singh, 1218
Dhara Singh v Motilal, 927
Dholan Das v Italya Singh, 1032
Dhondo v Bhikaji 1169
Dhono Mondal, In Re, 628
Dhondur v Ganesb, 45
D H. R. Moses, In the matter of, 1308
Dhuka v Grant, 516, 617
Diaz v U S, 87
Dibdad v Empero, 753
Dickinson v Dickinson, 372
Dickinson v Shee, 1405
Dickinson v Wilton, 175, 1330
Dickson v Evans 1154, 1155
Dickson v Inhabitants, 783
Dickson v Zizima, 1026
Diemen's Land Co v Marine Board
1117
Digby v Steelman, 1480
Dike v Polhill 661
Dilawar Ali v Rabia Begam 1189
Dilgazi v Reg, 135
Dilkes, In bonis, 924
Dilkuar v Udal Ram, 73
Dilsakh v Raja Ram, 1583
Dinendra Nath v Ramkumar, 317.
1181
Dinabai v Fromroz, 1358
Dinabai v Emperor 1282

- Doe v Richards, 331
 Doe v Rickarby, 560
 Doe v Ridgway, 511 780 869
 Doe v Roberts, 206, 327, 661, 890, 960
 Doe v Robson 558, 567, 568
 Doe v Ross, 800, 851 832 893, 894, 1360, 1361
 Doe v Samples, 936, 990
 Doe v Serton 316, 1250, 1361
 Doe v Sisson, 206, 214 220, 573
 Doe v Smythe, 1297, 1301
 Doe v Spitty, 910
 Doe v Stacy, 567
 Doe v Stell, 308, 504
 Doe v Sucker, 745, 746, 747, 749, 761, 763, 765, 767, 770, 916, 947, 948, 951
 Doe v Taver, 948
 Doe v Thomas, 607, 1349, 1359, 1361
 Doe v Thynne, 597
 Doe v Traver, 590
 Doe v Turford, 543, 546, 548, 566, 567
 Doe v Tyler, 565, 1498
 Doe v Vowels 564
 Doe v Wainwright, 333, 371
 Doe v Wallaston, 649
 Doe v Watkins 1341, 1350
 Doe v Watson, 1296
 Doe v Webber, 362
 Doe v Webster, 371
 Doe v Westlake, 1108
 Doe v Wiggins 1300
 Doe v Whitcomb, 608
 Doe v Whitroe, 1300
 Doe v Williams, 106
 Doe v Wilson, 944
 Doe v Wooley 986, 999
 Doe d Baiges v Whitehead, 906
 Doe d Bainbridge v Bainbridge, 757
 Doe d Bristow v Pegge, 1292
 Doe d Brodbelt v Thomson 1098
 Doe d Bullen v Mills, 1296
 Doe d Carter v James 1487
 Doe d Devine v Wilson, 65, 859
 Doe d Dunning v Cranstown 1104
 Doe d Freeland v Burt 1082
 Doe d G lbert v Ross, 873 893 1487
 Doe d G rge v Jesson, 1162, 1163
 Doe d Hindley v Rickarby, 563
 Doe d Hiccocks v Hiccocks 1084 1091 215
 Doe d Manton v Plomer, 1296
 Doe d Marlow v Wiggins, 1296
 Doe d Marrzot v Edwards 1296
 Doe d Perry v Newton, 947
 Doe d Smith v Galloway, 1104
 Doe d Stode v Seton 1296
 Doe d Templeman v Marten 1093
 Doe d Thompson v Hodgson, 906
 Doe d Welch v Longfield, 560, 57
- Doedem Manton v Austin, 1201
 Dobby v Iles, 1292
 Doghton v Crishen, 692
 Dolder v Lord Huntingfield, 820
 Dolganjan Singh v Parsidh Narain, 1153
 Doggers v Van Dyck, 871
 Doger Mal v Jamiat, 1267
 Donnai Bara Medhi v Keral Kolita, 887
 Donald Watson v Peary Mohan, 65 1407, 1412
 Don Ba v Crown 1206
 Don Mahomed v Bint Zohrn, 1286
 Doneley v Broughton, 914
 Donmu v Pudnan, 1148
 Donnelly v States 528, 561
 Dono Ghoe v People 764
 Donovan v Saint Anthony Co 922
 Donzelle v Kedar Nath, 1240, 1293
 Dookha v Ramlal 1041
 Doolhar Jha v Ranjit, 1356
 Door v Geary, 1104
 Doorga v Narendra 223, 697
 Doorga Churn v Syed Najmooddeen 1157
 Doorga Das v Doorga Charan, 703
 Doormu v Stevens, 636
 Dorab Ally v Abdool, 347
 Doran's trial, 810
 Doraisami Ayyar, In re, 200
 Doraisami v Bala Sundaram, 617
 Doraisami v Chitambaram 1283
 Doraisami v Kannappa 247
 Dorai Samy v D, 888
 Dorasamy Reddy v Muthulingo, 1277
 Doremus v M. Cormick, 935
 Dorghai v Emperor, 619
 Dormoy In re, 742
 Dost Ali Khan, Re, 741
 Dottie v Lo hmi, 1268
 Doucet v Geoghegan, 96 108
 Douglas Peerage Case, 172 5 2
 Douglas v Fellows, 1106
 Douglas v Tousey, 812
 Dovers trial 793 795
 Dowlat v Khajra, 1168
 Dowley v Winfield, 1167
 Dowling v Dowling, 195
 Downey v Murphy, 810
 Downing v Butcher 266, 788
 Downs v Cooper, 358 1296, 1297
 Dowsett v Sweet, 1104
 Doybe v R Co, 126
 Draveot v Talbat, 652
 Drake v Stewart, 176
 Dryne's Case, 139
 Drayton v Wells, 621
 Dred Scott v Sanford 831
 Dreher v Fitchburg, 317
 Dr Foster's Case, 145, 147
 Drine's Case, 1 63
 Drinkwater v Arthur, 17, 820
 Drinkwater v Porter, 577, 579, 580
 Driscoll v City of Taunton, 303

- Earl v Stevens, 1252
 Earl v Vere, 1330
 East India Railway Company v
 Kalida, 1129
 East and West India Dock v Shaw, 1
 East and West India Dock v Kirk &
 Randal, 33
 Eastern Counties R Co v Marriage, 12, 13
 Eastern Counties Rail Co v Robertson, 33
 Eastern U A R 931
 Eastman Photographic Co v Comptroller of Patents, 6
 Easwara Panga v Vannachari, 699
 Eaton's Trust, 311, 677
 Eastwood v Ashton, 1103
 Ebrahim v Cursetji, 1035
 Ebrahim v Essa Abba, 1308
 Ebrahim v Esafi, 1137
 Ebrahim Goolam v A M Chetty, 1038 Ebrahimbhoy v Hassan, 1004
 Eccleston v Petty, 333, 339
 Eeroyed v Coulthard, 548
 Edderton's case, 829
 Eddie v Kingsford, 545
 Edelstein v Schuler, 822
 Eden v Blake, 1022
 Eden v Ridsdales Railway Lamps and Lighting Co, 1184
 Edgerley v Emerson, 1027
 Elie v East India Co 775
 Edinburgh Tramway Co v Forbain, 6
 Edington v Fitzmaurice, 39, 40
 255
 Edmonds v Challa, 906 1430
 Edmonds v Rowe, 1310
 Edmonds v Walter, 1424, 1426
 Edmund's Case, 632
 Edmondson v Thompson, 1253
 Edu v Behan, 849, 856
 Edua v Harold, 1355
 Edward Caston v L H Caston 694, 708
 Edward v City of Watertown, 315
 Edward v Kanras City Times Co 303
 Edward v Tracy, 372
 Edwards v Roe, 1578
 Edwards v Tuch, 1222
 Edwards, Ex parte, 517 560 570
 Edwards, Ex parte, Re Tollemache, 351 566
 Egan v Cowan, 944, 945
 Egan v Larkin, 622
 Egg v Barnezz 1217
 Egger v Hotges, 744
 Egremont v Egremont, 1359
 Ehtisham v Jamna 897, 1136
 Eichhorst v Morat, 1094
 E I R Co v Piyaralal, 1147
 Eisenhart v Slaymaker, 907
 Lkcowree v Kylaash, 990
 Elizabeth Canning's Case 53, 508
 Elizabeth May v Bhupendra, 210
 929 Elkin v Janson, 1156
 Ellahi Bun, Re, 1381, 1382
 Eltem v Emperor, 1231
 Ellen v G N Ry, 1025
 Eilershaw v Robinson, 805
 Elliot v Dyche, 634
 Elliot v Kemp 1177
 Elliot v Parl, 1468
 Ellis v Allen, 33, 841
 Ellsworth v Moore, 167
 Eltons v Larkin, 841
 Elmer v Farsenden 271
 Elmondroff v Carmichael 670
 Elseny v Kirby, 36
 Elwes v Flower, 852
 Emanuel v Symon, 683
 Emer v Marie, 805
 Emery v Berry, 673
 Emerson v Blomden, 332
 Emerson Re 763
 Emerson v Lowell Gasfield Co 123
 Emmanuel v Constable, 2
 Emma Silver Mining Co, In re 1485
 1486
 Emmons v Barton, 346
 Emmott v Star Newspaper Co 1570, 1571, 1572
 Emperor v Abani, 181 183 493
 Emperor v Abdul 190 200 269 802
 Emperor v Abdul Gan 160 984
 Emperor v Abul Hamid 752
 Emperor v Abdul Wahid, 253 283
 Emperor v Ahmed 19 1431
 Emperor v Ahilya Mannaji 755
 Emperor v A J Cooke, 1153
 Emperor v Akbar, 302 361
 Emperor v Akbar Badu, 1473
 Emperor v Alhifleswar 427, 428
 Emperor v Akhtar, 446
 Emperor v Ali, 442
 Emperor v Ali, 48
 Emperor v Akhmita 285
 Emperor v Ali Razi, 1152
 Emperor v Alisab, 1374
 Emperor v Allom ja, 190, 199
 Emperor v Aloornya 278 790 1502
 Emperor v Amedsha 1214
 Emperor v Amode, Ali, 1170
 Emperor v Ananda Rao, 427, 115, 450 Emperor v Anant, 421, 428
 Emperor v Annap, 467

- Emperor : Annappa 179, 180
 Emperor : Ashgar Ali 176
 Emperor : Amiruddin 140
 Emperor : Azim Khan 118, 152
 Emperor : Babur Ali 192
 Emperor : Azimuddin 191
 Emperor : Balu Lal 151, 736
 Emperor : Balul 797
 Emperor : Balu Dhandi 783
 Emperor : Bakur Sahib 628
 Emperor : Bakhtawar 292, 112, 502, 592
 Emperor : Bajikrishna 1379
 Emperor : Bala 1354
 Emperor : Balaram 135, 50, 531
 Emperor : Balganadhar 819
 Emperor : Balakrishna 1213
 Emperor : Balakund 393
 Emperor : Balwant 91
 Emperor : Banarsi 360, 1365
 Emperor : Bano Bala 908 Emperor : Barilal 19
 Emperor : Bhandu 815
 Emperor : Bhagi 111, 412, 131
 Emperor : Bhagwati 132, 135, 1336
 Emperor : Bhavanrao 957
 Emperor : Bhum Rao 1372
 Emperor : Bireswar 132, 131
 Emperor : Bishan Dutt 48
 Emperor : Budhu 113, 116, 195
 Emperor : Chauu 156, 1182
 Emperor : Chand Singh 1152
 Emperor : Chattri Pal 459
 Emperor : Chaturbhaj 1367
 Emperor : Chatur Singh 1305
 Emperor : Cherath, 535, 1161
 Emperor : Chinman 1579
 Emperor : Chinna, 845
 Emperor : Chinnapayan 811
 Emperor : Cunn, 51, 109, 421, 1765
 Emperor : Dil Singh 783
 Emperor : Darga Singh 1275
 Emperor : Datta 93, 95
 Emperor : Debenara 279, 181, 287, 295, 296
 Emperor : Debendra Prosha 253
 Emperor : Dewan Kahr 400, 410
 Emperor : Dhamla 388, 968
 Emperor : Dhan 396 Emperor : Dharmannand, 1210
 Emperor : Dinshaw, 412
 Emperor : Diwan Chand 1211
 Emperor : Dost 621
 Emperor : Dunning, 862
 Emperor : Durant, 1576
 Emperor : Ebrahim 1431
 Emperor : Edward, 1768
 Emperor : Edward William Smith, 1367
 Emperor : Elahar, 1207
 Emp : Faziz, 526
 Emperor : Garesb, 418, 473
 Emperor : Ganesb Damodar, 162
 Emperor : Ganesb Narain, 91
 Emperor : Gangappa 493, 494, 495, 498
 Emperor : Gangaram, 138, 148
 Emperor : Ganpat, 916
 Emperor : Gaun, 1378
 Emperor : Garib Hari, 479
 Emperor : Ghulam, 1110, 1571
 Emp : Govind 1576
 Emperor : Gulle, 1152
 Emperor : Gutli 1231
 Emperor : Haji Sher Mahomed, 282, 580
 Emperor : Harajan Valji 285, 295
 Emperor : Hanment, 1379
 Emperor : Hanmasuddi, 1472
 Emperor : Harakumar, 1325
 Emperor : Hari 1585
 Emperor : Hari Ramji, 1315
 Emperor : Hari Roat, 91
 Emperor : Hari Singh, 410
 Emperor : Har Puri, 118, 113, 1231
 Emperor : Himanchal 19
 Emperor : Hira 140
 Emperor : Hira Gohar 144, 419
 Emperor : Hurped 799
 Emperor : Ismail 799, 800, 803
 Emperor : Jadal Das, 1496
 Emperor : Jagatram, 49, 91
 Emperor : Jagrup, 379
 Emperor : Jagurdeo 1464
 Emperor : Jamalali 1384
 Emperor : Janki, 68
 Emperor : Jasba Dewa, 421
 Emperor : Jakhanger Cama, 1457
 Emperor : Jethalal 95
 Emperor : Jiban Krishna, 94
 Emperor : Jiji Bhai, 1481
 Emperor : Jivan, 91
 Emperor : Jofful 1381
 Emperor : Josha 417
 Emperor : Kadarbhari, 19
 Emperor : Kailash, 1872
 Emperor : Kaliprosanna 751
 Emperor : Kangal 621
 Emperor : Kangal Miah, 380, 381, 416, 623, 1227
 Emperor : Kanhaiya, 1236 Emperor : Kasim, 751
 Emperor : Kazi, 419, 1365
 Emperor : Keramat, 481
 Emperor : Kesbal, 183, 562
 Emperor : Kheoraj 481
 Emperor : Kheroje, 493
 Emperor : Khesari, 413, 497
 Emperor : Khetli, 887
 Emperor : Kotal Khan, 1378
 Emperor : Krishappa, 41
 Emperor : Kulkappa, 1378
 Emperor : Kunda, 30
 Emperor : Kumaramuttam Pillai, 1471
 Emperor : Kushi 1578, 1585
 Emperor : Kukul, 415, 418, 432
 Emperor : Lakshman, 615, 1465
 Emperor : Lakshmi, 1203

Emperor v Lal Moh 1571	Imperator v Phagun 151 619 628
Imperator v Lal Mohan 157 191 194 493	Imperator v Phaniudan 279 286
Imperator v Lalulhu 1382	Imperator v Philip 252 117 421
Imperator v Lallu 382	Imperator v Phuchai 16
Imperator v Lator 1203	Imperator v Pramatha 392 421
Imperator v Lukman 11 93	Imperator v Purna 869
Imperator v Mathay 93	Imperator v Riglo 1430 1163
Imperator v Matha 180	Imperator v Raghunath Rao 30
Imperator v Mahalev Prasad 182	Imperator v Rajani 1172
Imperator v Mahomed 300 309 119 146	Imperator v Ralte 968
Imperator v Mamadbukh 4 143 40	Imperator v Rama 1172
Imperator v Maharaj 625 1211 1213	Imperator v Ramathan 118
Imperator v Mune 1271	Imperator v Ram Anil 418
Imperator v Mallugowda 119 470	Imperator v Ram Chandra 1461
Imperator v Maruti 300 404 1013	Imperator v Ramji 1318
Imperator v Mathews 628 1350	Imperator v Ram Nath 372 419
Imperator v Mehn 414	Imperator v Ramrad 917 900
Imperator v Mokhoor 1373	Imperator v Ram Rang 1221 1431
Imperator v Muthu 609	Imperator v Ramrao 1221
Imperator v Munro 469	Imperator v Ram Sattu 718 519 533
Imperator v Munglha Dho 10	Imperator v Ratham 377
Imperator v Mhalil Ror 10	Imperator v Ring 9 489
Imperator v Moji 10	Imperator v Robert 14 8
Imperator v Mulhankar 411	Imperator v Rukla Singh 1431
Imperator v Mulshankar 31 411	Imperator v Rup Singh 31
Imperator v Must Jawa 434	Emperator v Salit Khan 493 491 495
Imperator v Nawab Ali 1012	Imperator v Sadhu Chaman 529
Imperator v Naba Kumar 282 709	Imperator v Sahdeo 702
Imperator v Naga 110 19	Imperator v Santya Bandu 379 497
Imperator v Nagar 401	Imperator v Satish Chandra 1373
Imperator v Nanihi 1330	Imperator v Satyen Lal 1450 1457
Imperator v Nanihi 624	Imperator v Sati Ahmad 182 184
Imperator v Nani Gopal 379	Emperator v Sher Mahomed 446 709
Emperator v Narain 107	Imperator v Sheo Charan 1137
Imperator v Narayan 1003	Imperator v Sheo Ram 449
Imperator v Narbada Prasad 637 640 920 922	Emperator v Sheo Sankarpuri 30
Emperator v Narab Ali 967	Imperator v Sheri 16
Imperator v Nari Aung Ba 144 403	Emperator v Sikan Lal 538
Imperator v Nari Ba 500	Emperator v Shivadihai 482 490 526
Imperator v Nari Hising 1400	Imperator v Shivas 1288
Imperator v Nari In 94	Imperator v Shivapuriya 109 464 1200
Imperator v Nari Polin 1316	Emperator v Shrinivas 51 1380 1394 1380
Imperator v Nari Po 114 435	Imperator v Shuldhan 444
Emperator v Nari Thi Din 470, 1464 1471	Emperator v Soma 41
Imperator v Nari Lun 900	Imperator v Soma 1206
Imperator v Osman Sultar 177	Imperator v Soopi 104 393
Imperator v Panchu 167	Imperator v Srinaran 91
Imperator v Panchu Das 80 137 160 167 171 191 200 202 209 281 287 96	Imperator v Srinivas 73 964
Imperator v Panchu Kori 404 110 413 421 430 1427	Imperator v Sripal 1210
Imperator v Pande 67	Imperator v Stewart 137 142
Imperator v Panjab 166	Imperator v Suphar 1207
Imperator v Premaman 523 536 539 539	Emperator v Suklu Bewa 537
Imperator v Patey Singh 398	Emperator v Sander Das 1372
Imperator v Percy Henry 1367	Imperator v Surnomoyee 19
Imperator v Phagan 153	Imperator v Sarathi 401
	Imperator v Iazem Ali 130
	Imperator v Tilak 421 434
	Imperator v Iramul 181
	Imperator v Tularam 279
	Imperator v Tularam 402
	Imperator v Turna 467
	Imperator v Umda 488
	Imperator v Ujendra 1153

Emperor t Vaman 625	Empress t Kali Charan, 1014
Emperor t Viramul, 90	Empress t Kallu, 762
Emperor t Viswath, 31	Empress t Karim Bux, 193
Emperor t Vitlu, 1132	Empress t Kendu, 1318
Emperor t Wahiduddin, 162, 189, 283, 799 1470	Empress t Keshab 30
Emperor t Wajid Hussain, 1151	Empress t Keshab Dutt, 1206
Emperor t Wazir Singh, 413	Empress t Kola Li Lang, 19
Emperor t Wheeler,	Empress t Kuarpil, 452, 451
Emperor t William Cooper	Empress t Kura 393
Emperor t Yakub, 193	Empress t Lakshman, 491
Emperor t Yakub Ali, 200, 282, 285	Empress t Madir, 109
Emperor t Yellaradai 396	Empress t Maher Ali, 308, 737
Emperor t Zawan Rahman, 1432	Empress t Mindor, 131
Empress t Ananda Kishore, 49	Empress t Mathew, 415
Empress t Arshad, 783	Empress t Maya Deb, 9, 7, 1012
Empress t Arshad Ali, 609	Empress t Mt Vyapoory, 193
Empress t Ashgar Ali, 430, 620, 1317	Empress t Mohanlal, 424 420
Empress t Ashutosh Chakravarty, 21, 482, 488, 491, 492, 494	Empress t Moharim, 391
Empress t Biju, 398	Empress t Mulu, 157, 615 623
Empress v Bala Patel, 186	Empress t Mus-t Jugri, 402
Empress t Bilai, 431	Empress t Nabhakumar, 278, 279
Empress t Balgangadhar Tilak 10	Empress t Nagir, 481
Empress v Bilwant, 743	Empress t Nanhe Beg, 446
Empress t Banko Bihari, 444	Empress t Nilmadhab, 308, 389
Empress t Bhawani, 194, 495	Empress v Pancham, 452, 453, 457, 458, 462
Empress t Bhurma 618	Empress t Pandharinath, 303
Empress v Biju, 187	Empress t Pahuji, 484
Empress t Bisanath, 1206	Empress t Patrick, 1569
Empress t Blechyaden, 523, 721	Empress t Pjanlal 1620
Empress t Chaitar, 400	Empress v Piria, 495
Empress t Chidon, 1322	Empress t Pitamber, 782, 783
Empress t Chimanlal 30	Empress t Prosonno, 615
Empress t Chima, 485	Empress v Rama, 430
Empress t Chandranath, 491	Empress v Rania Birappa, 152, 152, 453, 457, 458, 462
Empress t Chutia, 431	Empress t Ramchand, 615
Empress t Dade Anr 387	Empress t Ramanand, 431
Empress t Daji, 480 487, 490	Empress t Ramanjaya, 450
Empress t Datta Perchud, 380, 445	Empress t Ramchand, 494
Empress t Datta Perchud, 388, 389, 623	Empress t Ramreddi, 624
Empress t Dillon 1207	Empress t Ram Saran 484
Empress t Donnelly, 1523	Empress t Raz Ali, 401
Empress t Dora 618	Empress t Rochia, 526, 620, 621, 632
Empress t Fateh Ali, 615	Empress t Suleva Ieli 1431
Empress t Gayadhar, 401	Empress t Sabikhan, 451
Empress t .	Empress t Shara, 1217
Empress t .	Empress v Shaku, 1272 1330
Empress t .	Empress t Sambha, 1315
Empress t .	Empress t Samiruddin 531, 1478
Empress t .	Empress t Saubhaa, 1576, 1584
Empress t .	Empress v Sudhabodhe Bhattacharya, 173 174
Empress t .	Empress t Sukha, 793
Empress t Ishri Singh, 1473	Empress t Sundara, 492 493
Empress t Jacob, 615	Empress t T. Burke, 623
Empress t Jadau Das 469 411	Empress t Tania Bhull, 1385
Empress t Jagrup 368, 369, 3 5, 356	Empress t Teruul, 1496
Empress t Jata Singh, 146	Empress t Thakuria, 330
Empress t Jhulu 627 755	Empress t Tika Ram, 431
Empress t Jogerdra, 967	Empress t Veraperumal, 1312
Empress t Jugri, 359	Empress t Vyapoory, 103
Empress t Kalir Baksh, 459	Enayet Hosain v Girdharee Lal,
Empress t Kalwa, 159	347

Evans v. State, 411

823 832, 962

Enoch and Zaretzky, In re, 32, 1197

Egon, Re, 921

Enoch v. Wythe, 892

Enos v. Tottle, 101

Enya Sathya In re, 237

Eorissen v. Perrin, 776

Epping v. Scott, 299

Epps v. State, 1490

Equitable office v. Cling, 1057

Erlanger v. New Sombrero Phosphate, 1181

Errissen v. Parrin, 776

Erskine v. Aderne, 1061

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Evans v. State, 411

Exparte Conates, 707

Exparte Cranmer, 1076

Exparte Dwyer, 1307

Exparte French, 970

Exparte Geisel, 970

Exparte Lacy, 1185

Exparte Leecroyd, 691, 970

Exparte Magae, 923

Exparte Morgan, 313, 1075

Exparte Official Receiver, 682

Exparte Reynolds, 1362

Exparte Slater, 1053

Exparte St Sepulchre's, 4, 5, 803

Exparte Swan, 128

Exparte Taylor, 652

Exparte Young, 311 315

Exparte Villars, 1230

Exp Thorne, 11

Ezekiel Joshua Abraham, 1015

Izra v Secretary of State, 23, 31, 37

F

Fabrigas v Mostyn, 109 260, 377, 510

Fachina v Sabine, 1577

Fadu v Gour, 12

Faez Bux v Fakiruddin, 55 840

Fair Bank v Simpson, 1053

Fairlie v Denton, 149

Fairlie v Fenton, 1016

Fairlie v Hastings, 324, 326

Fairfield S B Co v Gardner, 1250

Fairfield S B Co v Gardner, 1250

Fairfield S B Co v Gardner, 1250

Fairfield S B Co v Gardner, 1250

Fairfield S B Co v Gardner, 1250

Fairfield S B Co v Gardner, 1250

Fairfield S B Co v Gardner, 1250

Fairfield S B Co v Gardner, 1250

Fairfield S B Co v Gardner, 1250

Fairfield S B Co v Gardner, 1250

Fairfield S B Co v Gardner, 1250

Fairfield S B Co v Gardner, 1250

Fairfield S B Co v Gardner, 1250

Fairfield S B Co v Gardner, 1250

Fairfield S B Co v Gardner, 1250

Fairfield S B Co v Gardner, 1250

Fairfield S B Co v Gardner, 1250

Fairfield S B Co v Gardner, 1250

Fairfield S B Co v Gardner, 1250

Fairfield S B Co v Gardner, 1250

Fairfield S B Co v Gardner, 1250

Fairfield S B Co v Gardner, 1250

Fairfield S B Co v Gardner, 1250

Fairfield S B Co v Gardner, 1250

Fairfield S B Co v Gardner, 1250

Fairfield S B Co v Gardner, 1250

Fairfield S B Co v Gardner, 1250

Fairfield S B Co v Gardner, 1250

Fairfield S B Co v Gardner, 1250

Fairfield S B Co v Gardner, 1250

Fairfield S B Co v Gardner, 1250

Fairfield S B Co v Gardner, 1250

Fairfield S B Co v Gardner, 1250

Fairfield S B Co v Gardner, 1250

Fakiruddin v Emperor, 484, 485

Fakir v Emperor, 526 1813, 1814

Fakir v Tirumala, 838

Fakir Singh v Secretary of State for India, 1178

Falk v Williams, 1128

Falcon v Famous players, 323, 650

Falconer v Haugson, 621, 623

Falkner v Earle, 206 218

Falmouth v Moss, 1361

Falmouth v Roberts, 931

Fanabhuca v Surja Kanta, 1104 1169, 1174

Fannell v Wallace, 1498

Fanning v Doon, 313

Faqir v Dan Bahadur, 1170

Faqir v Dan Bahadur, 1170

Faqir v Dan Bahadur, 1170

Faqir v Dan Bahadur, 1170

Faqir v Dan Bahadur, 1170

Faqir v Dan Bahadur, 1170

Faqir v Dan Bahadur, 1170

Faqir v Dan Bahadur, 1170

Faqir v Dan Bahadur, 1170

Faqir v Dan Bahadur, 1170

Faqir v Dan Bahadur, 1170

Faqir v Dan Bahadur, 1170

Faqir v Dan Bahadur, 1170

Faqir v Dan Bahadur, 1170

Faqir v Dan Bahadur, 1170

Farmers Bank v Whitehall, 915

Farmingham Mfg & Co v Bernard, 566

Fanel v Maguri, 651

Farrow v Bloomfield, 371

Fuzand v Zafar Ali, 196, 211, 246, 832

Fatta v Emperor, 1386

Fateh Muhammad v Hakim Khan, 1

955

1183

Fort v Clarke, 607
 Fort v Lihor, 184
 Foster's Will, 750, 877
 Foster v Case, 16
 Foster v Globe Venture Syndicate Ltd
 825, 827, 831
 Foster v Hall, 1310
 Foster v Hinchett, 807
 Foster v Mackinnon, 1053
 Foster v Plumber's Co, 987
 Foster v Pointer, 705, 910
 Foster v Shaw, 702
 Foster v Tine Panten Co, 1236 Foulkes v Bellway, 805, 812
 Fountain v Bullock, 788, 789
 Founding v Crane, 1065
 Foulz v Emperor, 1152
 Fowler v Berington, 76, 79, 607
 Fowler v Chadd, 751
 Fowler v Lloyd, 709
 Fowler v Secretary of State, 1019
 Fox v Bearblock, 777
 Fox v Clifton, 831
 Fox v Mackreth, 1270, 1271
 Fox v Pratt, 991
 Fox v Walters, 38
 Foxcroft v Case, 1191
 Foxley's Case, 147
 Framji v Mobun Singh, 22, 1351
 Framji v Weaving Company, 22
 France v Gaudin, 201
 France v Lucas, 106
 Francis Re, 912
 Francis v Doe d Harvey, 1202
 Francis v Paverett, In re, 942
 Frank v Berry, 762
 Franklin Bank v Pennsylvania, 321
 Franklin v State, 269
 Fransworth v Briggs, 917
 Fraser v Marsh, 338
 Franks v Hobbs, 943
 Fraser v Fraser, 1231
 Fredrick v Att Gen, 593, 593
 Freeman v Arkell, 894
 Freeman v Brewster, 348
 Freeman v Coke, 1242, 1246, 1247
 1284, 1219, 1250, 1268, 1303
 Freeman v Phillips, 590, 590, 591
 Freeman v Reed, 607
 Freeman v Steggall, 1160
 French v French, 691
 Freckfield v Reed, 921, 932
 Friend v Hamill, 108, 270
 Frendlauder v London Assurance Co, 1453
 Frith v Frith, 167, 723
 Prognell v Lowelyn, 377
 Fryer v Gathercole, 167, 728
 Froste's Trial, 256
 Fry v Wood, 614, 619, 620
 Fuchs etc Mfg Co v Killredge, 739
 Fulley v Redman, 31
 Fuller v Rice, 1106
 Fulton v Andrew, 56.

Purdon v Clogg, 566
 Furneaux v Hutchins, 180
 Furneaux v Hutchins, 220
 Furzand v Kaniz, 1107 Futch Khan v Budan, 1138
 F W Cole v Crown, 1105

 Gada v Ramp, 1279
 Gadhar v Mudnapore Zemindars, 1290
 Gadian v Veerappa, 315, 362
 Gadiappa v Balangowda, 1265
 Gadi Bih v Parotam, 337
 Ganes v Pelf, 651
 Gansford v Gesslin, 17
 Gansford v Grammar, 1441
 Gajdhur v Emperor, 100, 1471
 Gajendra v Durga, 13
 Gajendra v Mula, 1, 1271
 Gajhoo v Jagat Paul, 661, 668, 697, 701 1123
 Gajin Singh v Emperor, 530
 Gajin v Biker Ali, 896
 Gajraj Puri v Achasor Puri, 339
 Gajshi v Pir Sakah, 1179
 Gals v Half King, 101
 Gals v Packington, 570
 Galloway v Emperor, 1317
 Galloway v London Assurance Co 935
 Galsman v Banks, 97
 Galsman v Mirza Abd, 230, 245, 351
 Galsman v Sinaitin, 751, 800
 Gam Mulla In re, 94
 Ganapat v Emperor, 279, 428
 Ganapat v Multan, 1297
 Ganapathi v Sukharajappa, 868, 878
 1013
 Ganapathi v Sivamai, 1015
 Ganapati v Emperor, 381
 Ganbisen v Mura, 1532
 Gancik v Ahuandro, 943
 Ganda Singh v Sulab Singh, 1281
 Gane v Kine, 1225
 Gane v Bharu, 1047
 Ganes v Turine, 992
 Ganeah v Bapu, 1262, 1263, 1264
 Ganeah v Chundee, 1140
 Ganeah v Dhundiraj, 232
 Ganeah v Durga, 113
 Ganeah v Emperor, 95, 116, 280
 Ganeah v Harthar, 23
 Ganeah v Khetoo, 1217
 Ganeah v Mungeram, 1147
 Ganeah v Parshotam, 1291
 Ganeah v Ram Chandra, 692
 Ganeah v Ram Nulhee, 707
 Ganeah v The firm of Mangal Ram
 Atma Ram, 611, 617
 Ganeah Dis Aurora, In the goods of, 1171
 Ganeah Dis v Dhaluram, 591
 Ganeah Dis v Harlal, 16
 Ganeah Narayan In re, 13

- Ganga : Emperor, 1 2
 Ganga v Impres, 151
 Ganga v Indery, 647
 Ganga v Kaka, 616
 Ganga v Pandoo, 1027
 Ganga v Ram Oulh, 1676
 Ganga v Rex, 1 2
 Ganga v Sarod, 32
 Gangabai v Pildargowla, 651
 Gangabai v Pandoo, 1115
 Gangabai v Thayar, 1085
 Gangabai v Lukaram 576, 583, 1007
 Ganga v ... 113
 1171
 Ganga Ram v Imperator, 133, 118, 161, 296, 497
 Ganga Ram v Kakuram, 611
 Ganga Ram v Lachuram 162, 197, 613, 1213
 Ganga Ram v Ruler, 1135
 Ganguli v Watson, 12
 Ganhar v Ghulam, 996
 Gannet The, 733
 Ganjundar v Bardar, 1113
 Ganoda v Girish, 1061
 Ganpat v Bani, 411
 Ganpat v Imperator 202, 261, 169, 491
 Ganpat v Gourisanker, 616
 Ganpat v Ram Chunder 1142
 Ganpat v Raghubar 1279
 Ganpat v Schara, 19
 Ganpat v Hanuman, 660
 Ganpat v Lukaram, 168
 Ganu v Bahu, 1033
 Garder v Gardner, 1160, 1192
 Gardner v Ivin, 1317
 Gardner v Jones, 8
 Gardner v Mouth, 276
 Gardner v Percege Case 272, 280, 286, 670, 737, 742, 902, 1480
 Carlam v Jeter, 20
 Garrett v Ball, 350, 37
 Garnett v Br Rev, 7
 Garrett v Garrett, 13
 Garrels v Alexander 763, 764, 769 915
 Garrison v Percege, 111
 Garth v Howard 36
 Garth v Mayle 1, 1103
 Gaskett v Gaskett, 742, 1152, 1193
 Gates v How, 8
 Geraradhwai v Supersonhwai, 677, 849
 Gerthe Cole v Mial 593
 Gamlichar v Abhi, 1 2
 Gamwood v Drums, 24
 Gattappa v Drums, 212
 Gathrook v Mial, 263
 Gatin v State 1 67
 Gaur v Imperator 161
 Gaur v Imperator, 651, 66, 665
 Gaur v Gauram, 1285
 Gaur v Bhundi, 1115
 Gaur v Man 1 255
 Gaur v Rant, 17
 Gaur v Dulari, 2 6
 Gaur v Imperator 1373
 Gaur v Javari, 886, 897, 898 93
 Gaur Singh v Mahom 1 98 1021
 Gaur Singh v Surangh 485
 Gaur Singh v Bhulal, 1 6
 Gaur v Shundh, 1 16
 Gaur v Ward 5-9
 Gehmul v Kurmural, 673
 Gelott v Good speed, 931
 Gehul v Imperator, 1078
 Gelston v Hayt, 525, 8-9
 Gendur v Saldi, 719
 General Insurance & Co. v Laborator 1256 1119
 General Accident Cor v Robert or 1157
 Gentry v McGinnis 52
 Gerg v Administrator, 651
 George v Davies, 822
 George v Jones, 1162
 George v Surrey, 762
 George v Thayer, 773
 George v Thomsen, 905
 George White v Cayman, 1250
 Gerardo v Wier, 917
 Gerding v Harkon, 293
 Gerish v Charter, 265
 German Steamship Dranchetels, In the matter of 837
 Gerth v Keyley, 326
 Geyer v Agator, 631
 Ghadhi v Bandulal, 1068
 Ghahm v K. N. N. M. D., 1013
 Ghahm v R. H., 1073
 Ghahm v Singh v Nihil Singh, 151
 Ghahm v Tam Singh 1269
 Ghahm v Karia, 1 52
 Ghahm v Mong 1175
 Ghahm v Ruy, 1110
 Ghahm v Upari, 117
 Ghahm v J. N. H., 1167
 Ghahm v R. H., 616
 Ghahm v P. N. H., 1112, 111
 Ghahm v Cr. W., 31
 Ghahm v Cr. W., 153
 Ghahm v K. B. H., 1271
 Ghahm v Imperator 187 1871
 Ghahm v H. H., 990
 Ghahm v Cr. W., 617

Ghoshal : Pulcheria, 99
Gholam : Abdul 302
Ghor : Apulha, 99
Ghulam : Allah, 995
Ghulam : Crown, 49, 617, 1313 1385
Ghulam : Emperor, 101, 111, 119
614 617, 623, 758, 1159, 1311 1317, 1576
Ghulam : Ghulam, 1137
Ghulam : Kalim 19, 215
Ghulam : Mthome, 129, 313, 372
Ghulam : Nagina 11 9
Ghulam : Secretary of State 619, 650
838
Ghulam Distigir : Taji Singh 1292
Ghulam : Rishi 157
Ghu Mamulish : Paper Bu 12, 5
Ghunreb Hosen : L. Sumonari, 600
Ghurbin : Q. E. 129
Ghor and others : Chitrapat 979
Gibblehouse : Storing 31
Gibson : Featherstonhaugh 1217
Gibson : Powell, 905
Giblan : National Amalgamate Labourers 1 J
Gibley : Wills 13 5
Gibson : Att Gen 119
Gibson : Col lithgate 630
Gibson : Hunter, 83, 19, 206 276
Gibson : Jessey, 1183 1186
Gibson : Minet, 1079
Gibson : Small, 10 9
Gibson : Winter 323
Gibbs : Pike, 1497
Gibley : Waffle 1351
Gifford : Yarborough 211
Gilani : Musamat Husin 903
Gilbert : Guild 744
Gilbert : Ross 1216
Gilbey : Great Western Ry, 101 109
Gilechrist : Bale, 272
Giles : Byromore 1125
Gill : Emperor 731
Gill : Gill 1094 1456
Gillford : Bates 1346
Gillet : Albott 874 931
Gillet : Pepper Corne, 118, Gillette Safety Razor Co : Garage 1307
Gillman : Corbett 1209
Gulpin : Fowler, 15
Gingall : Stepney Council 207 1178
Gippin : Backland 1277
Gr I P Ry : Humumdar 1219
Girhar : Gumpat, 151
Girdhar : Harish 1211
Girdhardas : Kerwala 544 755
Girhar : Crown, 251 800
Girhar : Emperor, 153 282, 287, 295
750
Girdhar : Lal, 1168
Girhar : Emperor 250
Girhar : Sahas 1251
Girhar : Government 1470

Gokul : Hara Sundari, 228, 657
 Gokul : Kailash, 322
 Gokul : Moharaja, 67
 Gokul : Padmanand, 10
 Gokul : Puran Mal, 1210
 Gokul Chamar : Emperor, 170
 Gokul Chand : Balden, 886
 Gokulchand : Hukumi, 1225
 Gokuldas : Baldeo Sakul, 47
 Gokuldas : Chandiban, 602
 Gokuldas : Gulabrai, 1266
 Gokuldas : Odhary, 718
 Gokul Pershad : Kailash Nath, 311
 Gola : Emperor, 13, 16, 469, 170
 Golab : Choudhury, 767
 Golab : Emperor, 110
 Golab : Tachai, 362
 Golab : Suraj Prasad, 6, 12
 Golab : Syed, 679
 Golabu : Ramthaher, 1257
 Golam : Emperor, 136, 173
 Golam : Hem Chander, 1265
 Golden : State, 160
 Golden R Mining Co : Bernton, 1105
 Golea Cheema : Emperor, 176
 Golla Channa : Emperor, 1315, 1781
 Goloke : Magistrate, 91
 Golsheide : Swan, 107
 Goluk : Buddhadher, 848
 Goluk : Nund Mohun, 848
 Golestan : Profulla, 1092
 Golestan : Sunatun, 951
 Gondu : Tularam, 947
 Goucher : Clayton, 1307
 Goneesh : Lachmi, 51
 Gonnathula : G Cheimayya, 89
 Gooralal : Emperor, 1473
 Good : Reeve, 305
 Goodall : Little, 1316
 Goodinge : Goodinge, 1101
 Goodman : Goodwin, 779
 Goodison : Goodison, 441
 Goodman : Simonds, 1203
 Goodered : Armour, 908 Goodrich : Re, 658
 Goodrich : Stevens, 1079
 Goodright : Moss, 590, 591, 600, 624
 Goodright : Saul, 780, 1191
 Goodtitle : Braham, 274
 Goodtitle : Southern, 1100
 Goodwin : Roberts, 212
 Goodwin : Spray, 576
 Goodwright : Moss, 602, 605, 1197
 Goonemonree and ore, In re, 843
 Gopal : Abdul, 216
 Gopal : Bishnu Nath, 29
 Gopal : Dacorathi, 692
 Gopal : Emperor, 783
 Gopal : Gopal, 340, 341
 Gopal : Hanmant, 213
 Gopal : Khaw, 601
 Gopal : Laloo, 1058
 Gopal : Madhab, 160
 Gopal : Mogheterswar, 682

Gopal : Moras, 1017
 Gopal : Mamek, 1165
 Gopal : Marimamunee, 976
 Gopal : Rajaram, 1017
 Gopal : Ram Chur Singh, 1031
 Gopal : R, 95
 Gopal : Sakhegya, 12
 Gopal : Suraj, 1212
 Gopal : Subram, 212
 Gopala : Jayaji, 1111
 Gopalyan : Raghupotiyann, 206
 Gopiswar : Aras Chellam, 600, 720, 1163
 Gopal Bhurji : Manaji, 1170
 Gopal Chandra : Gauri Churn, 5
 Gopal Chandra : Hirandra, 1032
 Gopal Jann : Brojmojan, 502
 Gopal Mundal : Nobokichen, 6, 611
 Gopal Pandey : Pirootam, 12
 Gopal Rao : Harid, 1125
 Gopal Rao : Sagar, 190, 678
 Gopal Sahu : Nandunur, 1298
 Gopal Singh : Mangal Singh, 5
 Gopali : Sukari, 1021
 Gope : Ahlool, 66
 Gope : Harakhand, 1096
 Gope : Nataraji Chetty, 89
 Gopekhet : Ganga Prasad, 1219
 Gopewar : Dutt, In the goods of, 52, 53, 76, 67, 758, 1391
 Gopi : Buj, 1262
 Gopi : Kherod, 228, 680, 690, 701
 Gopi : Mahanandi, 827
 Gopi : Rajkrishnan, 3
 Gopi : Rup Ram, 1027, 1054
 Gopi : Syani, 347
 Gopichand : Emperor, 1433, 1464
 Gopikar : Madholal, 1287
 Gopi Kishen : Gopi Kishen, 1008
 Gopilal : Lakhpat, 1349
 Gopilal : Chandrabole, 502
 Gopinath : Anundmoyee, 87
 Gorechand : Ramnarain, 87, 1404
 Gorechand Haldar : Profulla Kumar Roy, 70
 Gordon : Gordon, 193, 269
 G O R C : Wills, 326
 Gorfrey : Maculay, 265
 Gordhan : Husan, 307, 358
 Gordhan Das : Husan, 502
 Gordhan : Harid, 927
 Gordon's Case, 935
 Gordon : Bejoy, 501, 502
 Gordon : Gordon, 1192
 Gordon : Price, 769
 Gore : Gibson, 476
 Gorebollah : M R G D Boyd, 321
 Goribulla Kaye : Goorodis Roy, 872, 1071

Goss : Tract, 931
Goss : Watlington 311
Go-winn : Ram Narain, 1063, 1079
Gubereale : Mall 970, 971
Gott : Anamora 76
Gott : Grundy, 17
Gotta : Saram 1'13
Gould : Jones 766, 767
Gould : Lakes 111
Goulesworth : Knights 1200
Gounden : Emperor 1367
Gout : Har-kishore, 883, 891
Gour : Kailash, 857
Gour : Mohesh, 316
Guramma : Verrumma 1153
Gouranah : Phion, 1'19
Gouthandri : Emperor 185 196
1113

Gountas : Emp, 5'1 1001
Gouri Sinkar : Minat Ali, 1019
Gour Jal : M hesh 51
Gour Monce : Haret Kishore 891
Gour Monce : Hari har Chandra 1311
Gourporoy v Woodman & Junr, 910
Gouri : Emp, 600
Gouri Sinkar : K L, 30
Gour Sundu Labiri v Hem Chandrn, 317, 1277
Goverdhan : Harid 1128
Goverdhan : Rowj 1039, 1050
Govt of Bengal v Santiram, 1459
Govt of Bengal : Gundo 1430
Govind : Anund 817
Govind : Billex 1433
Govind : Chokhe, 1883
Govind : Impres*, 1159
Govind v Mantora 1336
Govind v Q E, 1491
Govin : e Kelly, 1132
Govind v Santal 1134
Govind Per had v Chatterbhuj 310
Govinda : Emperor 151, 482, 968, 1202
Govinda v Joshi, 1125 Govinda v Pratap Nasaim, 991
Govinda v Ram Charan, 1269
Govinda v Sonlal, 1145
Govinda : Shiyamal 15
Govindji : Chhorwal 232, 373, 324
Govindo : Narain, 1387
Govindorio v Hirschand 1236
Govind Rau : Rahu 662
Gov
Gov
Gov
Gov
1
Govt Sec L A : Narsimha, 596
Grace v Bryantm 376
Graham's Case, 154, 155
Graham : Dyster, 906

Graham : Manning, 110, 167
Graham : Older, 900
Graham : Phumdra 655
Gramuhil : Sullivan 1582
Granade : Cor of Calcutta, 531, 819
Grandle Venkata Subbach 11 r. 169
Grand Rapid : Cheshoro 745
Grand Rapids : Huntley 306
Grant : Gould, 883
Grant : Grant 1098 1107 1108, 1117
Grant : Maddox, 1079, 1115
Graphic Arts Co : Hunters, 99
Greyson : Woodhouse 1200, 1298
Gray : Key, 503, 1217
Gray : Luller 812
Gray : Fowler, 91
Gray : Hug 170
Gray : Hankinson 1053
Gray : Kannaham, 901
Gray : Munro Thrope, 1100
Gray : Palmer, 312, 313
Gray : Portland, 1435
Gray : Stat 117
Grayson : Atkinson, 919
Great Eastern Ry Co : Bristol Cor, 1031 Greathhead : Bramely, (85) Great Western Ry Co : Bristol Corporation, 1092 1097, 1098
G W R Co : Baird, 1157
Greaves : Tolfield 11
Green : Culk 1182
Green : Chelsea, 576
Green : Gutwick, 622
Green v New River Co, 703
Green v Sexon 811
Green : Sun, 915

1155
0, 1311,

Green's Sculment, In re, 1169
Greenshields v Crawford, 566
Greenwood : Woodham, 672
Greesh Chunder : Bimal 889
Gregg : Wallis, 1213, 1217
Gregory v Brudge, 1299
Gregory v Deodige, 1292, 1295 1297
Gregory v Duke of Brunswick, 178
Gregory : Howard, 312, 315, 373
Gregory : Michell, 1253
Gregory : Parker, 332
Gregory : Invenor 679 1176 1181
Gresham : Manning, 101, 118, 510, 875 Gresson : Ruck, 1017
Greville v Chapman, 759
Grey : Grey, 1217
Grey : Perron, 1 1, 1098 1100
Grey : Reiman, 100, 57,
Grey : Shih, 1083
Grey : Sharp, 1082
Grey : Young, 272
Griel v Lomax, 159

Grien's Trail, 119
 Grifflus Case, 1332
 Griffin v Brown, 702
 Griffin Re, 100
 Griffith v Davies, 1370
 Griffith v Griffith, 921
 Griffith v Hanulston, 190
 Griffith v Juliette, 1121
 Griffith v Williams, 313, 917
 Grimwade v Stephens, 596
 Gross v Brodrecht, 816
 Gross v Sate, 771
 Gross v Watlington, 558
 Gross, In the goods of 7
 Grove, Re, 103
 Grover and Baker Sewing Machine Co
 v. Millard, 108
 Groves v Groves, 105, 1222
 Grose v Ware, 907
 Gronenburg v Smith, 331
 G. S. Hannah v Jagannath, 1708
 Gt W Ry Co v Willes, 329
 Guardhouse v Blackburn, 1021, 1067
 Gudadhur v Blyrnub, 930
 Gular v Bryanndon, 1110
 Gudaru v Maradugula, 683
 Gudadhur v Tarachand, 666, 976
 Guddalur v Kunnator, 1075
 Gudgen v Deiser, 1067, 1068
 Gudri v Jhangri, 1170
 Gupratte v Young, 1114
 Gugi v Maquire, 1335
 G. v. G. 201, 172

1
 2 213
 27, 228,
 74

Gujari v Samandher, 1011
 Gula Khan v Emperor, 461
 Gulab v Badhawa, 1251
 Gulab v Bhagwan, 612
 Gulab v Bhayyalal, 317, 1232
 Gulab v Chuni, 235
 Gulab v Divan, 1303
 Gulab v Empress, 128
 Gulab v Fadhli, 312, 559
 Gulab v Ganoo, 352
 Gulab Din v Monji, 1148
 Gulab Singh v Emperor, 177
 Gulam v Emperor, 100
 Gulamali v Miyabhai, 1035
 Gul Hossain v Crown, 331, 432, 189
 Gully v Exeter, 893
 Gulrang v Vani, 1257
 Gulshern v Emperor, 1203
 Gulzar v Fidi, 1257
 Gulzar v Madoh, 347, 1215
 Guman v Sorabji, 849
 Gun v Mc Carthelr, 1053

Gunabhu v Motilal, 1111
 Gundi Singh v Crown, 183
 Gundry v Pinniger, 1
 Gunch v Mohes-pur, 213
 Gunza Parshala v Anderja, 911, 1075
 Gung v Radhika, 977
 Gupta v Ram Gali, 1279
 Gumbard v Rajendra, 85
 Gunnar v P. P. S. 70
 Gunraj v Ablok, 162
 Gunwant v, Emperor, 91, 277, 281, 293
 Gupta v Emperor, 950
 Gurhiksh v Gurdial, 1216
 Gurhiksh v Portap, 217
 Gurhian v Chutti Singh, 1061
 Gurdas v Ishar Das, 1001
 Gurdial v Jhanda, 213, 698
 Gurdial v Handu Mal, 213
 Gurdial v Jaid, 1276 Gurdial Singh v Central Board and Local Committee, 12
 Gurdial v Nati Baksh, 360
 Gurdial v Emperor, 10, 467, 170
 Gurdial Singh v Crown, 164, 1786
 Gur Dyal v Sukhannu, 1101
 Gureebullah v Mohun Lall, 5
 Gurlinga Swamy v Ramlak-hammam, 1267, 1274
 Gur Prasad v Ramlal, 347
 Guru v Lachemma, 1168
 Guru Charan v Surendra, 314
 Guru Charan v Sitya Narayan, 818
 Gurudas v Girdhari, 1475
 Guru Das v Is-war Chunder, 1224
 Gurudayal v Darbari Lal, 897
 Gurudayal v Emperor, 130
 Guru Mahadev v Jagatraj, 695
 Gurupad v Irap, 1259
 Gururudhwaji v Suparamdhmwaji, 576, 583, 772, 773, 775, 1137
 Guruprosanna v Mathuradan, 1095
 Guru Swami v Lall Kujan, 1265
 Gurvey v Guery, 1196
 Gusain v Ram, 1251
 Guthri v Abdul, 1051
 Gutteridge v Smith, 839
 Guttee Koiburto v Bhukat Koiburto, 223, 231
 Guy v Hall, 349
 G Venkata Subbuth v Emperor, 96
 Gwillim v Gwillim, 925
 Gwynne v Burnell, 4

H

H v H, 1255
 Harib v Samuel, 1211
 Habib v Eslamat, 1278
 Habib Ali v Lalali Ram, 1669
 Habirum v Hem Nath, 911, 956, 911
 Habibulla v Bikh, 195, 200

Habibunnissa v Mu-haroff, 980
 Hackett v Martin, 351
 Haddow v Parry, 567
 Hadfield's Case, 730
 Hadjee Kasem v Hadjee Isup, 982
 Hadley v Barclay, 201
 Hadley v Carter, 273
 Hadimian v Cauble, 1491
 Hafiz v Abdullah, 1132
 Hagrin v Mc Dermont, 1394
 Hagar v Baker, 33
 Haggitt v Ineff, 951
 Haglar v K E, 1013
 Haider Abu, 1364
 Haigh v Kaye, 1036
 Haimes v Guthrie, 583, 585, 591, 595
 Haire v Wilson, 260, 130
 Hajee Ismail v Wilson & Co, 15
 Hajee Lia v Maung Bi, 1037
 Hajee Mohamed v Spinner, 1080, 1081, 1117
 Haji Ismail, In re, 214
 Haji v Laxman, 1053
 Haji v Purmanand, 706
 Haj v Skinner, 157, 986
 Haji v Sulbram, 995
 Haji Bibi v H H Sultan, 244, 572, 1303
 Hikam v Emperor, 1384, 1386, 1387
 Hakeem v Bijoy, 267
 Hakim v Bharat, 1132
 Hakim v Emperor, 1386
 Hakim v Najban, 1185
 Hakim Ali v Amri, 244
 Hakuman v K E, 303, 380, 450, 437
 Haldane v Harvey, 1214
 Haldurs v Bindoo, 1257
 Hale's Trial, 165
 Hales v Kerv, 254
 Halifax Union v Wheelwright, 1569
 Hall v Bail, 800, 997
 Hall v Benson, 775
 Hall v Brown, 290, 790
 Hall v Butler, 1290, 1298
 Hall v Griffin, 1309
 Hall v L & N W Ry Co, 812
 Hall v Mayo, 576
 Hallet v Cousins, 1424
 Halliberton v Fletcher, 372
 Hallingford v Secretary of State, 20
 Hall's Estate Re, 973
 Hallmark's Case, 266
 Hattikdir v Audar, 1282
 Hamabi v Bamanji, 22
 Hamberton v Honey, 215
 Hamber v Roberts, 913
 Hamid v Naque, 1582
 Hamid v Wilayat, 1280
 Hamid Fatima v Bhole, 216
 Hamilton v Nicholson, 776
 Hamlin v Great N Ry, 202, 204
 Hamlyn & Co v Indi Kar Distillery, 29
 Hammer Smith v Brand, 12

Hampshire v Pierce, 1103
 Hancock v Kelly, 1185
 Handerson v Bank of Montgomery, 770
 Handley v Pithugh, 954
 Haniman v Hanuman, 1238
 Hankin v Turner, 711
 Hanumantrao v Secretary of State, 819, 852, 1178, 1179
 Hannay v Stewart, 306
 Hannel v Lyon, 900
 Hanumada, In re, 532
 Hanoom in v Must Bahooo, 109
 Hanson v Gurudas, 920
 Hanson v Parker, 320
 Hansin v Shuckleton, 826
 Harvey v Comm, 57
 Harwants v Akbar, 615
 Haradon v Grish, 347
 Haradas v Secy of State, 608
 Haradhan v Lawardass, 1178
 Harak v Bishnu, 87
 Harakrishna v Ramesh, 705
 Harakumar v Ram, 1032
 Haranand v Ramgopal, 858, 891, 892, 902, 911, 955, 963, 982
 Harhack v State, 269
 Harbahadur v Chand Raj, 199, 604
 Harbins v Emperor, 368, 390, 402, 449, 455, 1330, 1338, 1464
 Harbert's Case, 17
 Harbhagat v Narayan, 363
 Harbhannjan v Emperor, 442
 Harby v Wall, 1094
 Harcharan v Lachman, 1212
 Harideo v Kapil, 247
 Hardai v Dhandhi, 1143
 Hardih v Kristinger, 903
 Harding v Strong, 828
 Harding v William, 1570
 Hardman v Wilcock, 1305
 Hardwick Re, 840
 Hardy v Merrill, 171, 719, 726
 Hardy's Case, 184, 185, 186, 809, 1333
 Hardy's trial, 185, 311, 677, 792, 793, 1336, 142, 1426, 1476
 Hareeshur v Charu, 87
 Harek v Bishnu, 1034
 Harekrishna v Ramesh, 713, 714
 Harendra v Durg, 1215
 Harendra v Emperor, 753, 1503
 Harford v Morris, 674
 Harford v Wilson, 1193
 Hargrave v Baldev, 383
 Hargobind v Kishen, 957
 Hargrave v Hargrave, 327, 710, 1, 1194

1141

- Hargraves v Ridd, 841
 Hari v Abdul 15
 Hari v Dhand 1176, 1178
 Hari v Kist, 1112
 Hari v Moro 567, 569
 Hari v Murmon
 Hari v Newland 48
 Hari v Soudendra 329
 Hari v Mirak Chand 551, 914, 927
 Hari Chand v Govind 1132
 Hari Charan v Q. L. 1576
 Hari Chaudhary v Moro Lal Shuman, 990, 1108
 Haridas v Mercantile Bank of India 1039
 Haridas v Secretary of State 978
 Haridhar v Bera Dey 987
 Harihar v Guruganth 71
 Harihar Partap v Bisheshwar Biksh 247, 592
 Harihar Prasad v Bal Singh 10
 Hariprosad v Hari v 113
 Harihar Prasad v Mahabir 1145, 1147
 Harihar Prasad v Kesbo Prasad, 193, 368, 702
 Hari Keshore v Abdul 1324
 Harikishan v Kashi 1281
 Hari Kishan v Raghubar 9
 Hari Lal v Bhikur 628
 Hari Mandal v Durgalhan 129, Harimohan v Kaulash 360
 Harimohan v Krishna, 1050
 Harimohan v Rameswar 1111
 Harimohan v Soudendra 1001
 Harimoni v Moti Sheikh 1158
 Haripriya v Rikmini 899
 Hari Prasad v Harhar 115
 Hari Ram v Emperor 1274
 Hari Ram v Hardevibai 1235
 Hari Ram v Madangopal, 360, 1245
 Hari Ram v Sheo Kuan 1006
 Hari Ramji v Emperor 1573
 Hari Singh v Lachmi Din 751
 Hari Vaidya v Ambaban 71
 Harish v Nishikanto 117
 Harish v Prosunna 31, 321, 961 Harish v Radhanath 502
 Harish v Secretary of State 729
 Hariy Mal v Abdul 145
 Haridul v Basan 1251
 Harkhu v Emperor, 1492
 Harman v Valinton, 375
 Harimongal v Ginnour Singh, 923
 Harimurji v Bu 642
 Harinam Singh v Emperor 465, 466
 Harinarayan v Nand Kishore 718
 Harinarayan v Suresh, 1143
 Haranath v Mohanlal 222, 702
 Haranath v Mondal, 243, 693, 699
 Harok v Bishun, 1022 Haromoni v Haricharan, 6
 read v Sheo Dyal 57
 Harp 319
 Dyldson, 1493
 Har Prasad v Bikram, 992, 993
 Har Prasad v Dey v Bishu, 29
 Harprasad v Emperor, 121, 141
 Harpur v Brock, 556
 Harrit v Wise, 26, 671, 672
 Harri v Emperor, 189
 Harriman v See, 15
 Harrington v Fry, 165, 726
 Harrington v Lancolo, 54
 Harris, In re, 56
 Harris v Brown, 1114
 Harris v Harris, 812
 Harris v Hall 140, 141
 Harris v Knight, 942, 964
 Harris v Pickett 1022, 1046
 Harris v Lockett, 1148
 Harris v Truman 1252
 Harrison v Fild, 167, 974
 Harrison v Blades 55, 620, 736
 Harrison v Hugon, 1084
 Harrison v Mayor, 1252
 Harrison v Remington Paper Co 315
 Harrison v Rowan 721
 Harrison v Vallance 151
 Harrod v Harrod, 1318
 Harshukh v Emperor, 1368
 Hart v Alexander, 266, 299
 Hart v Hart 984
 Hart v Powell, 115, 116
 Hart v Randolph, 516
 Hart v R Co, 279
 Hart v Ten Eyck, 871
 Hartford Bridge Co v Granger, 374
 Hartung v People, 744, 761
 1011 Hasruddin v Emp, 845
 Hashim v Empress 969
 Hashmat v Wali, 1279
 Haslam Foundry v Hall, 1343
 Hasmathella v Hari, 857
 Hassi v Emperor, 101
 Hassan v Pazzal, 1180
 Hassan Khan v Emperor, 483
 Hastings Preage, 602
 Hastings v Goullives, 1223
 Hasun v Emperor, 391, 395
 Hata v Ismail 1591
 Hatch v Hatch, 1183, 1185
 Hatch v Lewis, 738
 Hatem Gyaw v Emperor, 172
 Hathaway v Crocker, 1134
 Hathaway v Haskel, 320

[illegible]

- Himachalprabhu & Jatwar 377, 378
 Himrod Coal Co v Adock 322
 Himrinda & Emperor, 1776
 Hinchley & Thatcher, 776 Hindustan Co-operative & Secretary of State, 1245, 1250
 Hindson & Ashby, 167, 177
 Hindson & Weatherill, 1187
 Hinga & Emperor, 455
 Hingunmija & Herimba, 633, 641
 Hingur v Droz 579, 681
 Hine & Promerov, 300
 Hipfoong & Nestor, 711
 Hira & Hala, 222
 Hira & Birm, 214, 776
 Hira & Burn, 213
 Hira & Crown, 195
 Hira & Jogat, 1210
 Hirabai v Dhanjibai, 570
 Hirabhaigat v Goyinda Ram, 615
 Hira Bibi & Ram Dhone Lal, 937
 1189
 Hira Bibi v Ram Har, 922, 923, 926, 937 Hira Gobai & Emperor, 411
 Hira & Vishnu, 1028, 1220
 Hiralal & Benarasi, 1967
 Hiralal & Dhammo, 1116
 Hiralal v Emperor, 967
 Hiralal v Ganesh 877
 Hiralal v Hilla, 224
 Hiralal v Saheb Jan 1319
 Hiralal v Shankar, 883
 Hiralal v Sudhiram, 1250
 Hiranand v Ahmed, 360
 Hira Nanad Ojha, v Emperor 31
 Hiranmija, In the matter of, 400, 409, 438 442, 447, 451
 Hiranmoy v Ranjan, 1209
 Hiscocks & Hiscocks, 174
 Hitendra v Rameshwar, 222 701
 Hitarain v Rambhrai, 602, 1210
 Hinkel & Pope, 983 Hoare & Johnstone, 339
 Hoyt Veera v Venka 993
 Hoaston & Blythe, 621
 Hobson Re, 1228
 Hobbs & London & South Western Ry Co 408
 Hochrieter v People, 1220
 Hockin v Cook 835
 Hocking, Re, 65
 Hodgson & Scarlett, 1411
 Hodkinson v Wille, 975
 Hodge v Taylor, 201
 Hoe Moe & J M Seedat, 1147
 Hogg v Barrett, 376
 Hoghton & Hoghton, 374
 Holdfast & Dowling, 919
 Holes & Keer, 127
 Holka v Nanupan, 1011
 Hoff v Griffin, 1305
 Holliday & Atkins, 1208
 Holliday v Holgate, 1475
 Holmes & Burton, 810, 812
 Hollingham & Head, 161, 205 276
 1467
 Hollingworth & Palmer, 6
 Hollins & Fowler, 1252
 Holloway & Baker, 116
 Holman & Burrow, 524 821, 826
 Holman & Loynes 1154
 Holme & Green, 511
 Holmes & Per, 1093
 Holmes & Buta Krishna, 1010
 Holmes & Gold Smith 100
 Holmes & Mathias, 1044
 Holmes & Johnston, 317
 Holt & Collyer, 1027, 1118
 Holt & Miers, 905
 Holt & Squire, 317
 Homana & Corning, 79
 Home & Bentinck, 110
 Home & F C Bentinck, 1117, 1337
 Home & Malkin, 105
 Homer & Homer, 1111
 Hood & Beauchamp, 655
 Hood & Reece, 34
 Hoodley & Seward & S Co, 117
 Hoodking, In re, 1199
 Hook & A G 684
 Hooper & Truett, 175
 Hoore & Allen, 91
 Hoove & Hoove, 1312
 Hopcroft & Key, 1295
 Hope & Evans 412
 Hope & Hope 518
 Hope & Laidet 1457
 Hope v Laidell 1360
 Hope & People, 422
 Hoper v Achzy, 763
 Hoper & Mackenzie, 1055
 Hopewill & De Pinna, 1163
 Hopkins v Meggitt, 769
 Hora Kumar, v Jogendra, 220
 Horendra & Chandra, 925
 Horigrave v Horigrave 1183, 1191
 Horigrave & Everard, 1153
 Hormasji v Peddor, 636
 11
 Horne Toke's Case, 91, 186, 256, 763, 764, 765 911
 Hornsey Local Board v Monarch Investment Building Society, 6
 Horroath & Siam Mia 967 26
 240
 240 & 241, 241
 Hoshim & Empress 532
 Hoskins & Warren, 776
 Hospell & Collins 1194
 Hosain Ali & Abid Ali, 831
 Hota Veera & Venka Krishna, 901
 Hot Chand & Prem Chand 1029

[illegible]

I

- Ibrahim Ashraf v Inayatullah, 1703
 Ibrahim v Emp 413 115 679
 Ibrahim v R 2, 413, 447 478, 570
 Ibrahim v R v Nizam, 957
 Ichhmoni Das v Prasanna Kumar, 1261
 Ichangir v Secretary of State, 1331
 Ida v Empress 793
 Ida v Aulia, 1231
 Ihab v Mikhan, 378
 Ihab Bahsh v Emperor 307 349 350
 425, 466 487, 1207 1352
 Iltis v Genge, 976
 Illinois etc Ry Co v Von Horn, 729
 Imam Ali v Buj Nakh 1220
 Imamband v Hap, 641 643
 Imamband v Mutezli 197 643
 Imamdin v Muhammad Din 1118
 Imamdin v Dramatulla 967 1012
 Imami v Ibrahim, 1269
 Iman v Nathi 985 990
 Imdad Ali v Ghulam Jilani 1118
 Imdad Ali v Jagan L 1 706
 Imdad v Piteeshri 68
 Imperator v Hay 1579
 Imperator v Bahji 459 490
 Imperator v Bilu Patel 484
 Imperator v Byagi Karm, 192 495
 Imperator v Chandishad, 494
 Imperator v Ginnapabhai 194 495
 Imperator v Jybhav 1472
 Imperator v Juma, 879
 Imperator v Malapa Bir, 491
 Imperator v Pandhari Nath 379 380
 Imperator v Pimamber 441 467 1500
 Imperator v Rudra, 533 540
 Imperator v Sangavalad Shivan, 468
 Imperator v Dihal 417, 455
 Imperator v Mairi 398
 Imperator v Hay Alle 1493
 Imperial Bank v London Dock 1079
 Amay Ghomer v Sah Ravi 107, 147, 244 245 247 365 572, 573, 610
 642 992, 995 1360
 Imrit Koer v Debee Prosad, 1276
 Imrit v Lalla, 323
 Imrit v Dhumran, 347
 Ina v Queen, 151
 Inayat Ali v Emperor 537
 Inclined v Berry, 702
 Income tax Commissioner v Pemsel 3
 Indar v Jagmohan 1575
 Indar Chandra v Lichmi Bhi, 1070
 Indar Das v Emperor 399, 401, 1373
 Indarjit v Lalchand 1041
 Indar Nath v Emp, 496
 Indar v Emp 615
 Indar Pal v Mewah Pal, 379
 Indar Prosad v Lali Jagmohan, 1574,
 1579
 Indar Singh v Fateh Singh, 192, 240, 241
 Indar v Koer v Sheikh Mahboob Ali, 1245
 Indar v K v Satchell 1100
 India General Navigation v Dehpara
 104 Co, 23
 India Proof Co v Gubinda, 719
 Indro Singh v Thakur Singh, 1232
 Indra v Emperor, 185, 187, 418
 Indra v Mahomed, 243
 Indraj Mul v Laj Ram 1150
 India Nagolu C Ry Co v Harveyuck, 722
 Indra Pal Singh v Thakur Din 239
 Indro Debi v Aswar, 1045
 Indra v Golah
 Indubhai v Manmatha 1033
 Ingham v Rynor, 1058
 Inghis v Usherwood 675
 Ingram v Little 722 Inhabitants of North Brookfield v Inha bitants of Warren 595
 Innes v Ashgar, 1129
 Insurance Co v Mosley, 99, 104, 110
 115 273
 Insurance Co v Robin, 125
 Insurance Co v Weide 1477
 Ippari Ramalinga In re, 144, 449
 Iqbal v Emperor 445
 Ireland v Powell 579
 Irwin v Official Receiver, 1083
 Irish Society v Bishop of Derry, 618, 952
 Irish Society v Derry 656, 664
 Irsham v Child, 1022
 Irhan v Jogendra, 1021, 1057, 1067, 1068
 Irshad v Mt Kariman, 313
 Ireland v Kanto 1211
 Irwin v D J Reid, 1382
 Irwin v Lever 889, 890
 Isak Mardal v Queen Empress 74
 Isakson v Williams 1050
 Isan v Benimadhai, 347, 349, 502, 1277
 Isan v Bhyrah 685
 Isan v Haran 310 311, 678
 Isan v Sifatulla, 17
 Isan Chandra, Ry In re, 692
 Isan Chandra v Queen Empress, 1367
 Isan Chandra v Rahmuddin, 1138
 Isher Singh v Crown, 467
 Isherwood v Oldknow 20
 Isharan v Emperor, 1528
 Ishar Das v Butil 1273
 Ishri Prosad v Lallyus Kanwar, 995
 Ishri Prosad v Sri Ram, 982
 Ishur Chandra v Nobodweep 704
 Ishurwall v Karamatullah, 1159
 Ismail v Broughton 1271
 Ismail v Emperor 19, 126, 1493, 1496
 Ismail v Hafz 1011
 Ismail v Sayabill 1146
 Israel v Benjamin, 839
 Isri Prosad v Gurga Prosad, 657, 923

Jasur Sing v Crown, 49
 Jasur v Kalsaram, 153
 Jasur Chandra v Naldeep, 810
 Jasur Din v Dhani, 1159
 Jasur v Emperor, 49
 Jasur Chandra v Gouraunder, 1276
 Jasur Chandra v Lutanath, 459
 Jethanun v Banwar, 1275
 Jethunt v Kalaria, 84
 Jett v Finch, 320, 330
 Jetturi v Aravara, 1205
 Jettunness v Pariah Singh, 1291
 Jivatal v Nalanda, 1075

J

Jagge v Kally, 54
 Jack v Life Ass, 117
 Jack v Mutual R L Life Ass, 116
 Jack v Wool, 621
 Jackson v Allen, 905, 1149
 Jackson v Buley, 618
 Jackson v Burton, 915
 Jackson v Bird, 319
 Jackson v Bird, 346
 Jackson v Daire, 170
 Jackson v Irvin, 101, 1223
 Jackson v Jackson, 413
 Jackson Re, 1173, 1241
 Jackson v McCall, 170
 Jackson v Myers, 319
 Jackson v Thommason, 1155, 1156
 Jackson v Vrendenburg, 522
 Jackson v Wallron, 955
 Jackson v Wooley, 8
 Jacob v Lee, 906
 Jacob v Landau, 1000, 1140, 1452
 Jacob & Co v Vimmsey, 1009
 Jacob v State, 514
 Jaquon v Kally, 56
 Jaddonath Dutt, In re, 1364
 Jadoo Nath v Burdkaant, 311
 Jodrell Re, 1113
 Jadubor v Sheosaran, 702, 703
 Jadub Lal v Khemankari, 1234
 Jadulal v Jankee, 822
 Jadu Mondal v Jogendra Nath, 1135
 Jadunandan v Emperor, 1430
 Jadunandan v Kalyan Singh, 1071
 Jadunath v Mohendra, 364
 Jadunath v Ruplal, 314
 Jadu Rai v Bhabatran, 87, 1016, 1017, 1021, 1035, 1117
 Jaffer v Budg Budg Moll, 1033
 Jaffree Khunon v Imdad, 896
 Jafferda v Al, 1200

Jagann v Atchanna, 1135
 Jagannath v Amara, 1218
 Jagannath v Bahu, 1144
 Jagannath v Bahuram, 718
 Jagannath v B. Jeong, 924
 Jagannath v Bhuraj, 913
 Jagannath v Emjer, 1178, 1183
 Jagannath v Gangi Reddy, 1250
 Jagannath v Hanuman, 1170
 Jagannath v Jakeshen, 1, 52
 Jagannath v Kalschand, 717
 Jagannath v Kaldas, 591
 Jagannath v Laha, 1241
 Jagannath v Rinja, 691
 Jagannath v Roy, 997
 Jagannath v Shanko, 1074
 Jagannath v Syed, 1219, 1276
 Jagann Prasad v Indra Mal, 1009
 Jagannath v Kambhara, 321
 Jagat Mohun v Dwarka, 822
 Jagat Mohun v Rakhai, 1027, 1114
 Jagat Narain v Angashar, 694
 Jagat Pal v Hotnam, 1039
 Jagat Lal v Jageswar, 518, 570, 591
 Jagat Singh v D, 1074
 Jagwa v Emperor, 166
 Jagdit v Sheo Par, 610
 Jagdeo v Balaki, 1213
 Jagdeo v Baidie, 167
 Jagdeo v Emperor, 191, 395, 396, 1156
 Jagdeo v Vetholn, 602
 Jagdip v R, 1251
 Jagdram v Kupanram, 1282
 Jagdishor v Mahadeo, 1170
 Jagganatha v Secretary of State, 876
 Jaggomohun v Manik Chand, 212
 Jaggun, In the matter of, 197
 Jagjivan v Nathji, 1033
 Jago Mohon v Kauri, 1080
 Jagmohan Das v Mangul Das, 772
 Jagornath v Crosswell, 1307, 1308
 Jagornath v Lala, 1263
 Jag Prosad v Mt Singari, 1215
 Jageshu v Rudha, 1142
 Jaggessur v Recunt, 666
 Jagut v Haj, 566
 Jagvn Koor v Raghooanndon, 636
 Jagwa v V. E., 169, 799, 967, 1373, 1171

1171
 Jagwa v V. E., 169, 799, 967, 1373, 1171

- Jauram v Rynarain, 1029
 Jaising v Emperor, 137
 Jauram v Nirotham, 769
 Jalal Ali v Akhal, 1255
 Jaker Ali v Rajchandra, 824, 1233
 Jakkim Reddy v Subramaniam, 934
 Jakkimnull v Sudda, 316
 Jalidhar v Amrita, 1281
 Jalil v Crowe, 751
 Jalla v Emperor, 461
 Jalpa v Emperor, 119
 Jaluluddin v Emperor, 736
 Jamal v Emperor, 1464
 Jambhantichu v Rymannararami, 1265
 Jambhannar v Choudri, 1052
 Jambhu v Income Tax Com, 1224
 Jambu v Muhammad, 93
 Jambhu v Pigul, 216
 James v Biddington, 204
 James v Bion, 150
 James v Brown, 1014
 James v Dinanath, 1181
 James v Hodson, 741
 James v Robert, 1029
 Jamiia Khatoon v Pagal, 216
 Jami v Jagabandhu, 1135
 Jannaruddi v Regent, 388, 392, 1380, 1381, 1385
 Janna v Nanda, 1583
 Jansheer Baidar, In re, 1150
 Jina v Mohamda, 1141
 Janna v, Dooler, 313, 499, 500, 501 Janardhan v Janardhan, 898
 Jangol v Lalit, 718
 Jin v Arjun, 602
 Jang Bahadur v Chandraj Singh, 995
 Jang Bahadur v Shankar, 331, 509
 Jangi v Gudri, 1170
 Janginath v Jankinath, 502
 Jangi Ram v Sheoraj, 1074, 1261
 Jangla v Jhirgaya, 779
 Jangol v Lalit, 718, 719
 Jang Singh v Emperor, 1873
 Jangi v Sheoraj, 1303
 Janki v Dino, 160
 Janki v Emperor, 369, 468
 Janki v Kamalathammal, 1273
 Janki v Ramkishore, 879
 Janki v Ram Sihal, 1295
 Janki v Sheo Narain, 1396, 1406
 Janki v Thaker, 1159
 Janki v Usmari, 351
 Janmajoi v Keshabhl, 1167
 Janmat v Chatterdhari, 1176
 Janno v Narsingdas, 1130
 Janno v Neap, 15
 Janu v Fakira, 13
 Janu v Sheridan, 377, 378
 Jasad Kumari v Laloo, 976
 Jasad Kumari v Bisaur, 54
 Jarip Khan v Durfi Bawa, 1066
 Jarkson v Lowe, 1015
 Jarret v Leonard, 351
 Jarrey v Strying, 106
 Jas Bahadur v Emperor, 110
 Jasoda v Emperor, 381, 488
 Jasoda Lal v Bilaram, 57
 Jasoda Nandan v Ram Kunar, 1097
 Jaspat v Devi Dayal, 897
 Jasraj v Siliwar, 322, 1264, 1265
 Jati Mili v Emperor, 614, 615, 617
 Jaturama v Bili, 1196
 Jaszeinleski v Marxhausen, 16, 814
 Jasvein v Emperor, 970
 Jaundra v Gaunder, 816
 Jatindra v Brij, 672
 Jatindra v Momrupa, 1212
 Jaurim v Lokanath, 361
 Jattamra v Boli Shuk, 1582
 Jawal Mall v Nayro, 1134
 Jawan v Emperor, 117, 132, 196
 Jawsan v Dayson, 206
 Jawa Proind v Mohanlal, 1031
 Jawala Sihni v Emperor, 93
 Jry v Johnstone, 11
 Jayawant v Ram Chandra, 1168
 Jay Lal & Co, In the matter of, 1050
 Jaynarain v Kadumbini, 1298
 Jayne v Price, 1222
 Jays v Harris, 100
 Jayne v Huges, 1058
 Jayret v Price, 1177
 Jems v Whetdon, 850
 Jenson v East and West India Dock, 202
 Jeelien Sing v Collector, 1279
 Jeeva v Yacoo, 1266
 Jeffers v People, 177
 Jfficey v Walton, 1063
 Jeffery v Rooney, 1
 Jeffries v Harris, 788
 Jehanna v Emperor, 400, 1868
 Jehangir v Emperor, 1458
 Jehangir v Kukubai, 1015
 Jehangir v Rev Savarkar, 1023
 Jehro v Jaisanesan, 618
 Jelf v Ballard, 1151
 Jenkins v Blizera, 266
 Jenkins v Gunstford, 914
 Jenkins v Turner, 274
 Jenner v Joliffe, 103
 Jenoure v Delmege, 175
 Jesa Lal v Musamat Ganga Devi, 996
 Jeshankar v Divali, 1170
 Jeshankar v W. A. S. 1115
 Jewaram v E. I. R., 1034
 Jewson v Dyson, 220

- J H Power v Day Shaw 1136
 Jhabbar v Chhoyrao 1048
 Jhabbar v Dohaz 937
 Jhandal v Harnam 1286
 Jharam v Iokkaram 1028
 Jharalal v Mohant, 37
 Jhabbar v Sakhi, 597
 Jhingar v Emperor 240
 Jhingari v Darga, 1253
 Jhaloo Mahan, In re, 1484
 Jia Lal v Sava Bibi, 1284
 Jinnatullah v Ramon 22
 Jiban Khat Monmaha 87
 Jiji Bai v Ratan Singh, 1086
 Jiyambai v Vengalakhani 654 993
 Jiva v State 143
 Jivatalat v Hussain 1203
 Jit Singh v Emperor 1373
 Jit v Neki, 611
 Jitan Mohan v Lala Bawaan, 1275
 Jitullah Sheikh v Inukhan, 225 229
 Jivadas Keshav v Pramp Nambhan 86 1019
 Jiw v Wood 1380
 Jivan v Jivan 587
 Jiva Ram v Jhania Singh, 1115
 Jivan v Dhip 920
 Jiwanadas v Larind, 1118
 Jiwanlal v Beharilal, 1282
 Janendra v Gopal, 1001
 Jnanendra v Nalini, 1128, 1267
 Jnanendra v Nesea Dasi, 217
 Jnanendra v Official Assignee, 351
 Jnanenda Nath Roy, In the goods of, 1233
 Jodee v Pugh, 1341
 Jabbbar Ali v Monmohan, 571
 Jolela v Monabali, 899
 Jodha v Ditta, 643
 Jodharaj v Byram, 1063
 Jodi Bibi v Vajior Khan, 1158
 Jodrell, Re, 1113
 Joennullah v Emperor 1267
 Joginnath v Kanta 1235
 Jogendra v Budya Nath 16
 Jogen ra v Dwarla Nath 293, 390
 Jogendra v Fanindra, 229 241, 689
 Jogendra v Khoda Bak-h, 1032, 1273
 Jogendra v Kur Pal 1320
 Jogendra v Mahesh, 1294
 Jogendra v Mininder 1281
 Jogendra v Nitai, 924 937, 942
 Jogendra v Sangah, 1380
 Jogendra v Secretary of State 248
 Jogendra v Shyam Dass, 11
 Jogesh v Natuz, 1249
 Jogesh v Fazor Ali, 1270
 Jogi v Emperor, 867
 Jojinet Bhutnath, 1703
 Jojraj v Emperor 417, 418
 Jogwant v Sidan 1268
 John v Sw 1, 1213
 John Crispnet v Sayed Mahommed, 1212
 John v Jones, 1297
 John Elliot, In the goods of, 974
 John Howe v Charlotte Howe, 1193, 1197, 1320
 Johnson v Arwine 598
 Johnson v Carl, 215 1068
 Johnson v Davine 718
 Johnson v Keshow 912
 Johnson v Lawson 582, 583, 587, 592 528
 Johnson v Masan, 1296
 Johnson v Smith, 204
 Johnson v State, 85, 155, 142, 146, 147, 801
 Johnston v Ward, 376
 Johnston v O'Neill 207
 Johnstone v Gopal 1117, 1240, 1246
 Johnstone v Mitting, 1308
 Johnstone v Spencer 100
 John Cowie v Barburn, 36
 Johura Bibi v Emperor, 19
 Joilal v Emperor, 116
 Joilal v Shoo Chand 1187
 Jokhn v Ram Din, 35
 Jokhomull v Saroda 1272
 Jolley v Taylor, 904 908 Jolly v Young 1115
 Joman v Ah Yu, 1096
 Jonab v Siva Kumar, 516 644
 Jones v Brewar, 936
 Jones v Carrington, 346
 Jones v Edwards, 906
 Jones v Fort, 630 1405
 Jones v Golee, 824
 Jones v Goodrich 690
 Jones v Great Central Railway, 297, 1339
 Jones v Hoar, 839
 Jones v Hopkins, 310
 Jones v Huggins 768
 Jones v James, 789, 801, 806
 Jones v Jones, 166, 605 1455, 1456
 Jones v Muffet 673
 Jones v Mersey Dock, 153
 Jones v Morrel, 153
 Jones v Newman, 1108
 Jones v Perry, 274
 Jones v Randall, 651 670 900, 960 1231
 Jones v Seerrington 1
 Jones v Stevens 804 805
 Jones v Stroud, 1479 1431
 Jones v Tapping 20
 Jones v Turkton, 899
 Jones v Turilton 370 899
 Jones v Thompson, 230
 Jones v Turbeville, 310 341

[illegible]

Karim : Wahaj ud din, 1287
Karim Buksh : Emperor, 1369
Karim Buksh : Bahian, 1233
Karim Khan : Crown, 47
Korimulla : Gudor 576, 918 928
Karamali : Karim, 346
Korumul : Crown, 1372
Karim : Lord Wainers Co., 2
Karomal v Emperor 1372
Kari Bahanna : Sunkari Yerramma, 785
Kartten : Kartsten, 1166
Kartir : Lodh Singh 1235
Kantar v Nanda, 1256
Kartick : Gossain, 111
Karuna v Gobind, 239
Karuppa Gounden : Peria Thambi, 1102, 1103 1111
Karuppannan : Pambyan, 1065
Karuppanna : Raga Swamy, 553, 71
Karuppan Chetti : Veriyal, 1167
Karuppan Simban, 969
Karur Singh : Emperor 467
Kasani : Firm of Haj Jamal, 197, 613
Kushemati v Emperor 1374
Kasem v Emperor, 189
Kashechurree v Krishna Kamini 1138
Kashee Nath Chatterjee : Chandi Charan 1041, 1043 1044
Kasheem v Emperor, 1369
Kashi : Bina, 321
Kashibai v Loduram, 1125
Kashibai : Manrikhan, 848
Kashi Chand v Aimaram, 1179
Kashi Das v Ishan Chandra 1256, 1257
Kashi Kanto v Chandra Kanta, 1142
Kashi Na h v Brindaban, 1054, 1055
Kashi Nath v Chandi Charan, 152, 999
Kashinath v Ganesh, 1178
Kashinath : Harribur 1043, 1056
Kashi Nath v Jagat Kishore, 222, 227, 228, 236 653 995
Kashi Nath v Murari Chandra, 1224
Kashi Nath : Nawconry 843
Kashi Prasad v Panna Lal, 1009
Kashi Ram : Bhulu 1582
Kashi Ram : Emperor 282, 1463
Kashi Ram : Thakar Das, 1102
Kashi Singh : Biraj Singh, 593 593
Kashu Sing v Ram Narain, 495
Kavandanbi v Ganga 923
Kasim Noor : Belree, 1154
Kasim Ali v Ahyakhan, Kasimulla v Gudor Kori, 913
Kasimath v Harihar, 152, 991
Kasimath : Jagat Kishore, 699, 701, 903
Kashinath v Mibeah, 887
Kasimath : Uthumansi 347
Kasiram v Emperor, 283, 283, 1431
Kaswar : Ammudhin, 718

Koerpanna v Ranga Swamy, 209
Kasrayan : Shannon, 335
Katchiyunna : Urothel, 1282
Kattir, In re, 393
Kajma Nalariar : Raja of Shira Gang, 626, 1113
Kattari : Karuppa 1129
Kattu : Crown 1373
Katwari : Emperor, 94
Kaulman : Ganghman, 730
Kausman : Gerson, 1055
Kunal umal v Virasami, 1274
Kaurtabai : Umihar, 1234
Kavanough : Wilson, 853
Kawa Manji : Khawaj Nuisoi, 1179
Kay : Pooran Chund, 1343
Kavasth Scholarship Trust v Shan Kardin, 876
Kazee Abdul : Burada Kant, 1111, 1279
Kazi Gulim : H H Agakhan, 1445
Kazi Hussein : Ram Sarup, 1130
Kazi Zaimuddin : Queen Empress, 19
K L : Anuya 1676
Kearney : King, 828
Kearney v Lloyd, 178
Kearley v Phillips 1850, 1487
Kedar : Emperor, 779
Kedar : Hari 20
Kedarnath v Benjamin, 1240
Kedar Nath : Bhukhan Singh, 1145
Kedarnath : Bhupendranath, 1391
Kedarnath : Donzella, 1293
Kedarnath v Mahesh 1144
Kedarnath v Muti umal, 599
Kedarnath v Netram 8
Kedar Nath : Shamsi, 999
Kedar Nath Re, 87
Kedar Singh v Sumer Singh, 1075
Keed v Ian b 974
Keelng v Bill, 934, 976
Keen v Keen, 141, 281
Keener v State 591
Ketzhanathi : Govindas, 1284
Kehar Singh : Emperor 494
Keighley Mixsted & Co In re, 33
Keir v Leemar, 377
Kell : Charmer, 1091, 1116, 1117
Kellam v Duff Dev Co, 1026, 1097
Kell v Chimes 1112
Kellong : Thompson, 1027
Kelley v Stockport 1075
Kelly : Jackson, 1453
Kelly v Kelly, 1321 1394
Kelly v Ningyung Ben, 357
Kelnor v Savage, 908 Kelokey v Sratikumar, 314
Kelway v Kelway, 1340 1345
Kemble : Lyons, 629
Kemp v King 1359, 1487
Kemp v Waddingham, 31
Kemplaid v Macaulay, 354, 355, 356
Kemp-on : Ashbe, 1185
Kemmora : Srinivasa, 1028
Kennebe : Binking Co, 1026

Kennedy v Brown, 1411
Kennedy v Com, 148
Kennedy v Doyle, 541 652
Kennedy v People, 134
Kennedy v R Co., 116
Kennel v Chambers, 825
Kenney v Murray, 373
Kensington v Enchah, 831
Kent v Lowen, 297
Kent v Millard & Co., 1157
Kent county Council Ex parte 11
Keoroy v King 825
Keramani v B Joy 1179
Keramat v Emperor, 144 149 1106, 1191
Keramat v Ghulam, 702
Kerr v Wonchope, 1284
Kerr v Clara Ruston 930
Kerwick v Kerwick 1219
Kesava Pillai, In Re, 132
Kestral Corporation 3
Keshab Bhabant, 2
Keshabhjee v Sishu CCC, 167
Keshabji v Raja 1047 1054
Kesharbai v Jannodar 1172
Keshub Lal v Dewan Chant 101
Keshav v Rudra, 158
Keshavn v Vasudevan 11
Kesho v Vithal 1149
Kesho v Thakur 1031, 1098
Kesho Prosad v Kistnath, 687
Keshoram v. Piri 357
Kesho Rao v Ganesh, 110
Kesho Singh v K D 394 193
Keshri Mul v Emperor, 390
Keshub v Radha, 1189
Kesoram v Bonamah, 1295
Kesarbai v Janodir, 1267
Kestrel, The, 733
Keshwor Minton v Sheonandan, 1011

07

Key v Key, 1100
Keyasob v Gorhad 1478 1479
Keynes v Duke of Wellington, 690
Khadijahi v Abdol, 1463
Khadom v Emperor 1368
Khador v Subramanya, 1279

Khan v Crown, 101
Khanmohal v Adm Gen 1183
Khatiji v Iemal 1183
Khatji v Union Sahib 1591
Khattar Mohan Dutt In re 89
Khattar Mohan v Girdhar, 815
Khayyar v Rakha Sultan, 190
Khuban v Emperor, 180
Khaweg D n t Mt Nur, 1581
Khedon v Rajendra, 1110
Kheht v Emperor, 105
Khemani v Emperor, 390 102, 96
Khemchand v Dhilont, 1012
Khemchand v Male, 921, 929
Khem Singh v Emperor, 621 623
Khenum v Gur 11 319 116
Khera v B Joy 540, 611
Khetia Ahir v Ramrooad, 1277
Khetramani v Emperor, 1179
Khetri Nath v Mahomed, 659
Khetriji v Shih Narain 1030
Khetter Chunder v Khetter Paul, 837, 896
Khir v Emperor 1211

Kine v Beaumont, 100
Kings Settlement, Re, 1029
King v Atwood, 1383
King v Beecham, 1499

- King v Brasier 1311
 King v Cator, 913
 King v Cole, 370
 King v Durham, 1343
 King v Dixon 1230
 King v Inhabitants of All Saints, 1211
 King v Inhabitants of Gloucestershire, 1222, 1228
 King v Inhabitants of Erith, 582
 King v Inhabitants of Somton, 1197
 King v Jones 1383
 King v Kent 828
 King v King 65
 King v Luffe, 1791
 King v Norman, 681, 703
 King v Osborne, 165
 King v Plumer 189
 King v San Pao 195
 King v Turner, 1151
 King v Weir 729
 King v Winn, 1084
 King Emperor v Anshi Bahu, 417
 King Emperor v Baker Ali, 492
 King Emperor v Bhutnath, 399
 King Emperor v Diulat Ram, 632
 King Emperor v Dep, 463
 King Emperor v Durga, 431
 King Emperor v Dwijendra 1217
 King Emperor v Kulabu 402, 1013
 King Emperor v Keshab, 157
 King Emperor v Kumaramuniya, 1131
 King Emperor v Mulhar, 1267, 1271
 King Emperor v Man Mohan, 181
 King Emperor v Mathura 531, 54
 King Emperor v Maung Aung 94
 King Emperor v Maung Pwa 1153
 King Emperor v Mohiuddin, 424, 1378
 King Emperor v Nagachi, 1150
 King Emperor v Nagochi Pomin, 453, 1371
 King Emperor v Nga Aung 461
 King Emperor v Nga Po, 405, 454
 King Emperor v Nga Po Tha, 664, 1393
 King Emperor v Nilakanta, 1469
 King Emperor v Pkiss 46, 1774
 King Emperor v Pramothea, 399, 478
 King Emperor v Rango Harman, 445
 King Emperor v Shedin, 1152
 King Emperor v Shur Co, 78
 K E v Shwe, 94
 King Emperor v Wajid Hasan 1152
 Kingsley v Inglis, 599
 Kink v Kuonah, 1581
 Kinlock v Asaram 1070
 Kinlock's Case, 1479
 Kinsman v Crooke 6217
 Kinsman v Porkhurst, 1207
 Kip v Brigham, 702
 Kips v Queen, 1222
 Kiran v Jagannath, 228
 Kiran v Srinath, 245
 Kirenchist v Ananda, 1046, 1082
 Kirby v Coudroy, 207, 1181
 Kirkland v Nisbet, 1115
 Kirkman v Onley, 805
 Kirkman v Weyver, 729
 Kirkstall v Furness, 324, 329
 Kirtley v Ram, 552
 Kirwan v Cockburn, 963, 970
 Kishan v Har, 329
 Kishan v Lachman, 353
 Kishan Ghule v Paranen, 1489
 Kishan Raghun v Empe or, 1378
 Kishan Singh v Paqur, 218
 Kishor v Chandi, 1070
 Kishan Chand v Emperor 179, 180
 Kishan Lal v Ramlal, 1047
 Kishan v Ramdhan, 251
 Kishomal v Vishan Das, 1029
 Kishori v Ganesh, 1324
 Kishori v Gangra, 262
 Kishore v Gardut, 1063
 Kishore v Lachman 353
 Kishori v A C 1176
 Kishori v Chundul, 1175
 Kishori v Mohamed, 349, 1376
 Kishorbhay v Rinchodin, 712, 717
 Kishori Lal v Rikhal, 878
 Kishon v Ishernath, 957
 Kisori v Rakhal, 887
 Kisari v Link 1571
 Kissen v Rani Chandra, 68, 1397
 Kistna Das v Mukinmala, 897
 Kisto Mohan v Jugurnath 20
 Kichen v Iohann, 268
 K K Janoo v Joseph, 15
 Klashaba Heep v Abhi Amrit, 1201
 K M P R Firm v Sampundat 1079
 Knight v Barber 1022
 Knight v Cox, 1394
 Knight v Danner 896
 Knight v Lee, 8
 Knight v Martin, 889, 890
 Knight v New England Worsted 1086
 Knight v Waterford 564, 565
 Knight v Wiffen, 1369
 Knobel v Fuller, 205
 Knoff v Raymond, 314
 Knouff v Thompson, 1251
 Knott v Savings Bank, 741
 Knodur v Phumuluri, 1265
 Knorr v Raymond
 Knodur v Emperor, 44
 Kohl v State, 397
 Kola China v Cannikanti, 1059
 Kolla Kumar v Kalpan Kal, 1270
 Kokumann v Peddi, 1266
 Kolandau v Kunhunn, 901
 Kolokey v Sarat 291
 Kommueni v King Emperor, 1445

Konebala v Velupala 578
Konigart Emperor, 111
Kondati v Nukamma, 716
Konda Reddi v Puchi Reddi, 9-9
Kondiba v Nana 267
Koni v Firm of M, 970
Konwar Doorga Nath v Ramchander, 311, 12-5
Konkey v Gaylord 767
Kooder v Govt of India 317
Koomodini v Poocha, 666
Koondon v D'oeer Chunder, 223
Koonjo v Rev Mothara 551
Kopra v Shamu 8-7
Kora v Queen, 1317
Kora Govindan, In Re, 398 428
Korgan v Crawshaw, 20
Kora Ramaswami v Bangari 329
Kora v Kanni 1155
Kotam v Umar, 617
Kotam Reddy v Vennalakani, 1005
Kothondaraman v Shunmugan, 337
Kotayy v Kanna 911
Kotammal In re, 117
Kour v Shro Gohind 701
Kouram v Crown 175
Kover v Sreenath 331
Kowsuliah v Mukta, 331, 335, 310
Kowale v Sreenath 35
Kripa Sing v Ajupal, 1216
Krishna v Atul, 216
Krishna v Bhander 1116
Krishna v Bhupati 317
Krishna v Bidya, 33
Krishna v Lingann, 1180
Krishna v Madhara, 32
Krishna v Nagendra, 55
Krishna v Nella 12
Krishna v Rajmal 317 1006
Krishna v Ramam, 216
Krishna v Tribhuban, 980
Krishna Aiyangar v Nalla 12
Krishna Ajar v Emperor 91
Krishna Bai v Rama, 1047
Krishna Behari v Brojeswari, 224, 231
Krishnappa v Emperor 732
Krishna Bhupati v Rama Murti, 714
Krishna v Kallurao 1038
Krishna Chandra v Rasik Lal 1261
Krishna Charan v Sanat Kumar 1033
Krishna Charis v Krishna Charan, 975
Krishna Charu v Vijay Sarathy 661
Krishna Doyal v Corporation of Calcutta 1576
Krishna Iyer v Secretary of State, 1180
Krishna Jiva v Biswanath, 935
Krishna Kamini v Nilmadhub, 17
Krishna Kishore v Kishori Lal, 885, 897, 900, 957, 960
Krishna Kishore v Narendra, 11 6, 1159
Krishna Kamini v Nilmadhub, 821
Krishna Kurup v Veerankutti, 1110
Krishna v ...
Krishna Rao v Aiyasami, 1111
Krishna Rao v Mungusu, 1297
Krishna Rao v Raja of Putapur, 620, 1116
Krishna Rao v Srinivas, 1518
Krishna Reddy v Sundara, 84, 90
Krishna Row v Muthangi, 901
Krishna Swami v Ananthachar, 660, 993
Krishna Swami v Mangala Thammal, 1118
Krishna Swami v Rajagopala, 237, 331, 657, 701
Krishna Swami v Viraswami, 216
Krishna Thevar v Ramasami, 608
Kristo Nath v Brown, 3, 37, 821, 825, 930
Kristo Moni v Secretary of State, 665
Kristomoney v Narendra, 1117
Kshetra Mohan v Bhairab Chandra, 998
Kuar Nageshar v Kuar Mathura, 5
Kuar Sen v Mamman, 215
Kubera v Kornan Nair, 686
Kubra v Ajodhya, 1188
Kucharam v Ghansham Das, 718
Kudach Emperor 459
Kukarini v Laxmibai, 1223
Kuka Singh v Emperor, 169
Kulanda v Kalidas, 152
Kulasekari v Bilal, 11-1
Kulasekari v Khembai, 1083
Kulda v Suran, 1146
Kul Sambai v Khensarbi, 1085
Kuluappa v Emperor 418
Kumaon Ry Co v Secd Alvi, 80
Kumar v Radhika 1072
Kumar v Secy of State, 1047
Kumarappa v Manavale, 360
Kumarappan v Narayan, 1158
Kumar Gangannand v Sir Rameswar, 1165
Kumar Gopika v Atal Singh, 240, 241, 242, 1063
Kumar Kamakhya v Surendra, 665, 1295
Kumar Krishna v Veeravelli, 604
Kumar Nares Naryan v Secretary of State, 142

Kumar Prasad v. Emperor, 1233

" " " 1219

4

Kunja v. Emperor, 109 431, 19

Kunja Mohan v. Munindra, 706

Kunj Lal v. Emperor 531

Kunneth v. Vayoth 897, 902

Kunwor v. Ghugi 918, 919

Kunwor v. Emperor, 1350

Kunwor v. Kunwor 214

Kunwor Behari v. Kalka, 1074

Kunwor Br v. Suraj Baksh, 1006

Kunwor Derganath v. Ram Chandra, 938

Kunwor Dutt v. Divan Ramdar, 1275

Kunwor Ram v. Ananda Krishna, 1175

Kuppi Korin v. Thirn Girma, 1299

Kuppam, In re, 494, 495

Kuppartham v. K. F. 443

Kuppi Bhachan, 417

Kupu v. Venkata, 1256

Kuraji Prasad v. Anantaram, 951

Kura Ram v. Binomali, 713

Kursid v. Ranigany Mun, 1210, 1211

Kurtz v. Spence, 376

Kurappa v. Perin, 1604

Kurun v. Mahomed 1173

Kurupani v. Meranji, 2

Kush v. Smith, 483

Kushai v. Emperor, 94

Kushal Singh, In re, 532

Kush Santa v. Chandra Sinto, 1233

Kusir Bap v. Emperor, 180, 183, 487

Kusum v. Satyaram 619

Kutha Perumal v. Secretary of State, 1299

Kutha v. Pyanda, 1046

Kutner v. Phillips, 7

Kuttiappa v. Emperor, 432

Kuverji v. Bibaji, 1274

K Venkatarayudu, In re, 775

Kvesti v. Dela Megha, 1235

L

La Banque v. La Banque, 1273

Lacey v. Lacey 115

Lachchi v. Bhawani, 1278

Lachho v. Harsahai 1180

Lachipat v. Umanath, 552

Lachman v. Bhagurath 309

Lachman v. Surendra, 932

Lachman v. Mansukh 339

Lachman v. Akbar Khan, 206, 215, 216, 218, 219, 772

Lachna v. Das v. Ram Prasad, 1036, 1031

Lachman Gir v. Iahor Singh, 240

Lachman Singh v. Mukhan Patel, 1070

Lachmepat v. Sadaulla, 216

Lachmeram v. Radha, 351

Lachmi v. Bhuti 684

Lachmi v. Emperor, 512

Lachmi v. Ramakrishna, 501

Lachmi Das v. Bishkali, 103

Lachmi Das v. Ramannath, 1020

Lachmi Lal v. King Emperor, 1432

Lachmi Narain v. Chairman, Ranchi Municipality, 1158

Lachmi Narain v. Mr. Nazir Fauma, 1110

Lachminarain v. Raja Pratib Singh, 825, 831, 1200

Lachmi Narayan v. Maulavi Zahurul, 928

Lachmipat v. Jangali, 552

Lachmi Prasad v. Jagmohan, 665

Lachomal v. Chandra Mah, 1023

Lackey v. Vanderhilt, 38

Lacon v. Higgins, 671, 741

Ladkhan v. Crown, 1483

Ladhe Ram v. Jindu Ram, 1146

Ladha Singh v. Hukam Dabi, 989

Ladhi v. Emperor 955, 958

Lady Darmouth v. Roberts, 935

Lady L. erik v. Lord Limerik, 1019

Ludy Mohar v. Emperor, 1387

Lacharam v. Gurmukh Rao, 668

Lahini v. Bali 544, 914

Lahore Bank v. Kedar, 13

Labaun v. Mooram, 103

Lathulan's Case, 1077

Layan v. Emperor, 87, 164, 167, 172

Laing v. Barclay, 1361

Laing v. Kaiwe, 936

Lajpat Rai v. Faiz Ahmed, 195, 244

Lakami v. Durah, 710

Lake v. People 134

Lakeshore v. Herrick 97

Lakhan v. Emperor, 483

Lakhan v. Taki, 899

Lakhatullah v. Bishambar, 1034, 1072

Lakhschand v. Emperor, 19

Lakhschand v. Lalchand 841

Lakshmi v. Ruplal, 1185

Lakshmi v. Sadatula, 216

Akshman Re, 1494
Akshman v Gokul, 979, 941
Akshman v Govinda, 1019
Akshman v Krishna Ji, 921, 941
Akshman v Ram Das, 681
Akshman v Ramp, 1291
Akshman v Takim, 511, 619
Akshammamma v Sreeramulu, 1273
Akshmayya v Emperor, 891
Akshmayya v Marahate, 1083
Akshmayya v Naralaya, 68
Lakshmi Mukta, 1092
Lakshmi v Nala Swip, 1071
Lakshmi v Rooplal, 1187
Lakshmi Secretary of State, 1215
Lakshmi v Venkatarama, 51
Lakshmibai v Ganapat, 1085
Lakshmi Chand v Mukti Prachad, 1302
Lakshmi Devanma v Krishniah, 89, 617
Lakshmi Prasanna v Rajundar, 1290
Lakshmi Nachiar v Ramchandrar, 1303
Lakshmi v Amrit, 210, 231, 232, 617, 704, 774, 978
Lal Biharlal v Rameshwari, 943
Lal Behari v Srinath, 1141
Lal Chand v Mahant Ramrup, 1070
Lal Chandra v Mahant Ramrup, 1070

Lalla Mal v Rostom, 1039
Lalor v Lalor, 576, 596
Lalmohan v Nundlal, 956
Lalsingh v Dinodajal, 172
Lalsingh v Emperor, 179
Lalia v Babu, 737
Lalia v Darsan, 941
Lalia v Emperor, 760
Lalia Prosad v Raghundan, 1254
Lalu v Empress, 98, 909, 1576
Lalu Dame v Bijoy, 837
Lalu Mulji v Kashi Bai, 847
Lalu Singh v Sahadeo, 674, 610
Lamaswami v Bhawan, 1160
Lambert v People, 856
Lambert v Hull, 1186
Lamor v Micoz, 339
Lamposse v Corm, 315
Lancaster v Heaton, 1311
Lalum v Lovell, 567
Lander v People, 119
Langdon v Halls, 907
Lane v Brainerd, 624
Lanes' Case, 823
Lang v Barclay, 1361
Lang v Stat, 315
Langford v Selme, 1291, 1297
Langham v Thompson, 778
Langhor's Case, 1460
Langhorn v Allrott, 376
Langley v Lord Oxford, 839
Langlois v Ratray, 1255
Langton v Higgins, 1022
Langton v Reynolds, 890 Lanka v Lanka, 618, 619
Lapslay v Grierson, 1109
Larnit v Ram Dial, 30
LaRoche v Armstrong, 377
Larpent v Bibee, 8
Latifat Hoosain v Emperor, 1378
Latichayya v Seetaramayya, 878
Lathan v Latone, 12
Latif v Emperor, 1308
Latouche v Hutton, 560
Latrimlad v Browne, 32
Laiti Begam v Nawab Mahomed Azmat, 1137

- Lohun Singh v. Hitaran, 880
 Lockley, In re, 91
 Lockwood v. Wood, 211, 773
 Lohia Mohan v. Kally Das Roy, 1219
 Loid v. Muthulu, 1057
 Loid Govindas v. Rakmani, 1318
 Lodge v. Huddersfield Corp., 7
 Lodge v. Pritchard, 776
 Lohar v. Emperor, 1387
 Loell v. Wall, 1075
 Logan Thirar, In re, 802
 Logan v. Coutown, 1
 Logan v. Princess of George, 671
 Lockhart's Case, 196
 Lokhee Narain v. Kally Padlo, 1251
 Lokman v. Ganga, 815
 Lokorani v. Bales Rai, 1295
 Lokumal v. The Sind Bank, 1001, 1003
 Londerberger v. Gorham, 1355
 London v. Walpole, 166
 London & Blackwall v. Lane House, 7
 London and N. W. Rail Co. v. West, 1296
 London etc. Bank Exp. Jones v. 11
 London & W. Bank v. Bilton, 1550
 London Chartered Bank of Australia v. White, 211
 London Corporation v. Cox, 211
 London County Council v. Bermondsey Discope Co., 1, 2
 London Freehold Co. v. Subfield, 1068 Londonderry Case, 619
 Long's Case, 391
 Long v. Barrett, 271
 Long v. Kerr, 12
 Long v. Long, 316
 Longane v. Thiar, 1473
 Longenecker v. Hyde, 311
 Longford v. Selmes, 1199
 Longman v. Bath Electric Tramway, 1251
 Longman v. Winchester, 291
 Long Sulton, Re 1165
 Loomis v. Loomis, 335
 Loomis v. Wadham, 372
 Looloo v. Rajender, 1396
 Loofsunier v. Goor, 499
 Lodd Govindas v. Rakmani, 1222
 Lord v. Bigalow, 333
 Lord v. Colvin, 628, 675, 1105, 1476
 Lord Advocate v. Lord Lovat, 207
 Lord Ashburnham v. Michael, 1161
 Lord and Bright Ry. Co. v. Farelough, 1160
 Lord George Gordon v. Case, 186, 883
 Lord Leicester v. Walter, 805
 Lord Lovat's trial, 1418
 Lord Macquaire's Trial, 767
 Lord Melville's trial, 145, 301, 363, 510, 737, 823
 Lord Owne & Co. v. Wood, 333
 Lord Russell's Case, 185, 186
 Lord Say and Sele's Case, 1371
 Lord Stafford's Case, 185, 1118
 Lord Talbot v. Curack, 1180, 1181, 1481
 Lord Trimblestown v. Kemmis, 307
 Lorenzina v. Casarillo, 321
 Loring v. Whittermore, 878
 Lorton v. Kingston, 1493
 Losses v. Losses, 932
 Lovat Peirce Case, 161, 590
 Lovelock and Lewis v. Malabar Timber and Sawmills, 21
 Lovelidge v. Botham, 199
 Lovett v. Lovett, 1245
 Loughboro Highway Board v. Curzon, 129
 Louis Dreyfus & Co. v. Humandis, 294, 300
 Low v. Bouveria, 1235, 1238
 Lowdon v. Lowdon, 1125
 Lowe v. Perkins, 1361
 Lowe v. Jilliffe, 730, 910
 Lowell v. Wall, 1059, 1081
 Lowther Castle, The, 853
 Lucas v. Dela Cour, 331, 335
 Lucas v. Grouing, 776
 Lucas Novosilski, 299
 Lucas v. Williams, 167, 871
 Luckhneedhur v. Raghoobur, 223, 897
 Luckram v. Radhacharan, 55, 87, 1154, 1157, 1195, 1490, 1501, 1532
 Luckett v. Clark, 909
 Lucknow Improvement Trust v. P. L. Jaily, 377
 Lucum v. Lovell, 550
 Ludiam's will, 681
 Luke v. Shunkuree, 87
 Lukhimon v. Koruna, 896
 Lukhmaran v. Jodu Nath, 1133
 Lukhun v. Madho, 1227
 Lurch v. Commissioners of Sewars, 1270
 Lun v. Tynesborough, 101
 Lush v. McDaniel, 730
 Lushington v. Boldero, 1231
 Lutchmeeput v. Sadaulla, 215
 Luteffonnica v. Goor Sirun, 987
 Lutf Ali v. Piar Muhan, 298
 Lyddon v. Lilson, 1199
 Lyddy, In re, 853
 Lyon v. Reed, 1145
 Lyell v. Kennedy, 517, 618, 650, 651, 653, 704, 1339, 1343, 1347, 1349, 1355, 1486
 Lyle v. Ellwood, 590, 778
 Lyon v. Harcock, 136
 Lyod v. Horne, 1186
 Lyon v. Lyman, 747
 Lyon v. Reed, 1241
 Lyn v. Wyn, 7
 Lynch v. Clarke, 882, 885, 896, 972, 973

M

Ma Bai v Maung Kin, 1180

Ma Bai v Mollatun, 1221

Macdonald v Longbottom, 1082, 1087, 1117

Macdonell v Evans, 847, 873, 982 1428

Macfarlane v Curr 1080

Macfarlane v Com 529

Macfarshaw v New Dhurumsey, 712

Mackenzie v Yeo 1344

Mac Langblin v Westgarth 18

MacLarn & Sons v Davies 1494

Macleod v Wakeley, 271

Macombie v Anton, 628

Macomber v Parker, 315

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Madras Deposit and Benefit Co v Poonamali, 929

Madras Railway Co v Ratilal Kalika 1157

Ma Dun v Lee, 1478, 1481

Madura Dwasthanam v Madura Municipality, 7

Ma In v Maung Aung Hinwa 857

Mafeezooden v Mahar Ali, 885

Mafizuddin v Emperor, 1130

Magbulan v Ahmad, 618

Magdalen v Knott, 209 1157

Magge v Magge 1373

Magenta v Wright, 805

Mahabul v Ahmad, 830

Mahabul v In re 165

Mahabir v Dyt Murr, 1782

Mahabir v Dhuyyoo, 377

Mahabir v Emperor, 1162

Mahabir v Lalla 887

Mahabir v Marsintulla 1098

Mahabir v Muhammad, 1098

Mahabir v Iaj Begam 1180

Mahabir v Ahmed, 779

Mahadeo v Emperor, 488

Mahadeo v Gayadhar, 686

Mahadeo v Harbalaah, 1170

Mahadeo v Jainarain, 1297

Mahadeo v Labore, 1136, 114

Mahadeo v Mahadeo, 719

Mahadeo v Mata Prosad 1280

Mahadeo v Nasibin, 989

Mahadeo v Raghirai, 988

Mahadeo v Ram Prosad 1181

Mahadeo v Ram Raj 1303

Mahadeo v Sunderbai, 814

Mahadeo v Tukaram, 1054

Mahadeo Patil v Narayan, 1269

Mahadev Prosad v Emperor, 491

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Mahamed v Emperor, 16

Mahamed v Fir Mohamed, 368

Mahammad v Bishen, 1132

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Ma

Mahamed Ali v Mir Nazur Ali, 1215

Maharaj Bhanu Das v Krishnabai, 654

963 1234

Maharaj Lal

Maharaj Lal

Maharaj Lal

Maharaj Lal

Maharaj Lal

TABLE OF CASES.

lxxxi

[illegible]

M

Ma Ba v Maung Kim, 1180

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Ma B v Mahtaton, 1231

Madhusudan v Bama Charan, 5

Madhusudan v Brae, 225

Madhusudan v Raja Mohesh, 5

Madras Deposit and Benefit Co v

Poonmali, 929

Madras Railway Co v Ratilal Kalal

1157

Ma Dun v Lee, 1478, 1481

Madura Dwaithnam v Madura Muni cipality, 7

Ma Lin v Maung Aung Hing, 857

Mafezooden v Mahar Ali, 885

Mafizuddin v Emperor, 1430

Maghulan v Ahmad, 618

Magdalen v Knotta, 209 1157

Magee v Magee, 1773

Magenta v Wright, 805

Maghulan v Ahmad, 850

Mahabibya, In re 165

Mahabir v Dit Mirr, 1582

Mahabir v Dhujoo, 377

Mahabir v Emperor, 1152

Mahabir v Lalla, 887

Mahabir v Marsatulla, 1098

Mahabir v Muhammad, 1099

Mahabir v Iaj Begam, 1186

Mahabta v Ahmed, 779

Mahadeo v Emperor, 488

Mahadeo v Gayadhar, 686

Mahadeo v Harbakhsh, 1170

Mahadeo v Jainaran, 1297

Mahadeo v Labore, 1186, 114

Mahadeo v Mahadeo, 719

Mahadeo v Mata Prasad, 1280

Mahadeo v Nasiban, 989

Mahadeo v Raghira, 988

Mahadeo v Ram Prasad, 1181

Mahadeo v Ram Raj, 1303

Mahadeo v Ram Raj, 1303

Mahadeo v Ram Raj, 1303

Mahadeo v Ram Raj, 1303

Mahadeo v Ram Raj, 1303

Mahadeo v Ram Raj, 1303

Mahadeo v Ram Raj, 1303

Mahadeo v Ram Raj, 1303

Mahadeo v Ram Raj, 1303

Mahadeo v Ram Raj, 1303

Mahadeo v Ram Raj, 1303

Mahadeo v Ram Raj, 1303

Mahadeo v Ram Raj, 1303

Mahadeo v Ram Raj, 1303

Mahadeo v Ram Raj, 1303

Mahadeo v Ram Raj, 1303

Mahadeo v Ram Raj, 1303

Mahadeo v Ram Raj, 1303

Mahadeo v Ram Raj, 1303

Mahadeo v Ram Raj, 1303

Mahadeo v Ram Raj, 1303

Mahadeo v Ram Raj, 1303

Mahadeo v Ram Raj, 1303

Mahadeo v Ram Raj, 1303

Mahadeo v Ram Raj, 1303

Mahadeo v Ram Raj, 1303

Mahadeo v Ram Raj, 1303

r, 1029,

1046

1502

Mahammad v Air Attomed, 368

Mahammad v Bishen, 1132

Mahammad v Feroze, 1, 29

Mahammad v Muhammad, 1029

Mahammad v Mandir, 55

Mahammad v Mora, 1271

Mahammad v Mora, 1271

Mahammad v Mora, 1271

Mahammad v Mora, 1271

Mahammad v Mora, 1271

Mahammad v Mora, 1271

Mahammad v Mora, 1271

Mahammad v Mora, 1271

Mahammad v Mora, 1271

Mahammad v Mora, 1271

Mahammad v Mora, 1271

Mahammad v Mora, 1271

Mahammad v Mora, 1271

1303

15

651,

Sub 1234

Mahammad v

TABLE OF CASES.

1xxv:

[illegible]

Maybur : Israh Smari 1302
 Mayle : Safiari Begum, 215
 Mayman v. Sadr Ali, 5
 Makar Ali : Surfuddin, 7
 Makbul : Emperor, 1381
 Makbul : Muznah, 578
 Makbul Ali : Masnab Ali, 559
 Makbul Khan : K. L. 117
 Makbul Ahmad : R. H. 67
 Makhan : Govindo 898
 Makhan : Jahan, 1062
 Makhan Lal : Purnab : L. 56
 Makhan Singh : B. H. 1233
 Makhan Singh : Crown 172
 Makin : At. G. 137 141, 253, 284, 287, 288 29 1-95
 Makundi : Bilakishen 1 6
 Makyn : R. M. Perchud 115
 Malabar Timber Sands etc 194
 Malachuk : State 1321
 Malakya : Ko Po, 1027
 Malappa : Nagu Chetty, 847, 1074
 Malcolm : Smith 24
 Malcolmson : O'Dea, 206 227, 249 608 609 699 704 996
 Malaya Gondin, In re, 1463
 Male v Roberts 670
 Malik v Kellogg 503
 Mali Muthu v Emperor 691
 Malik : Kushi 661, 959
 Malik Husain v Emperor 468
 Malikorjuna : Secretary of State, 649 653 663
 Malikorjun : Narahari, 707
 Malin : Andrew 175
 Mali Muttu : Servai, 698
 Malladi : Tondapu, 1149
 Mallappa : Matam Naga 649
 Ma Lon : Maung Myo 991
 Malony : Kerman, 1182
 Malrajee v Koppuravun, 544
 Malby : Christie, 317
 Malton v Nesbit 735
 Maluk Chand : Karlu Chandra 1018
 M. A. Maistri v Abdul Az 4, 717
 Ma Mein : Gale 661
 Mann : Calendar 880
 Ma Mi : Maung Sung 963 1028
 Mamadi : In Re, 1013
 Mammichand : Crown, 1469
 Mamma : Sallayo, 1268
 Mamraj v Balao, 1131
 Ma Mya v Ma Shew Bru 1199
 Mamtar : Wazir, 609
 Mamun v Empress 1375
 Man : Kichels, 1210
 Manala : H. 220

Mancher Shaw : New Dharmari, 6 9, 612
 Mandan : Mandan, 571
 Mandi Ghazi : Emperor 253
 Mandi : Maung Po 1067, 1069
 Mandi : Emperor, 1207
 Mandi Goadi : Emperor, 1152
 Mandi Sene : Emperor, 628
 Mandi Singh : Hari Singh, 960
 Mandi : R. H. Lal 1145
 Mandi R. : Emperor, 795, 1409
 Mandiham : H. H. 941
 Mandi Ram : K. D. 31
 Mandi Prosid : Mandi D. : 641
 Mandi : Shivanand, 388
 Mandi : Wright, 139
 Mandi : B. H. 217
 Ma Ngwe : Ma Thi 1132
 Ma Ngwe : Maung 418 876
 Manick : Pindaychi, 133 426, 137
 Manic Chand : Corporation, 11 639
 .
 .
 .
 Manik : Narhar au, 1183
 Mani Lal : Durga, 1273
 Manilal : Trustees 3, 11
 Manilal : Umacharan 334
 Manindra : Durga 1046, 1072, 1074
 Manindra : Emperor, 189
 Manindra : Hari Mandi, 710, 718
 Manindra : Secretary of State, 729
 Maniram v Emperor, 1991
 Manikam : Venkateri, 1052
 Manira : J. H. 1075
 Manjanab : R. M. D. 691
 Manjanab : D. B. : R. M. D. 690, 703
 Manjan Ali : Emperor, 691
 Manji : Prayag, 1081
 Manju : Emperor, 460
 Manjunatha : Emperor, 449, 470, 465
 Mankee : Khedoo Lal 1167
 Mani : Amir Hossain, 472, 494
 Mankur v Q. E., 253, 278, 799
 Manley : Curtis 565
 Manley : Paliche, 1498
 Manmatha : Probodh 83, 89, 1099
 Manmatha : Nobin, 1095
 Manmatha v Rajeswar 1159
 Manmohan : Emperor, 250
 Manmatha v Mathur, 1123, 1124
 Manmohan : Rajeswar, 245
 Ma Nan : Yang, 1037
 Ma Nagwe v Maung Po Taw, 204
 Mann : Russel, 315
 Mannu : Emperor, 390, 460
 Mannal v Emperor 131 535, 467, 494, 1372 1375 1381
 .
 .
 .
 Manners : Portan 917
 Mannier, Re, 1273
 Manni v Emperor, 1314
 Manning : Clement 72

Manno Chowdhury & Munshi, 701
Manohar & Sumitra, 62
Mansel & Emperor, 701
Mansell & R., 11
Mansing's Case, 136
Mansingh & Emperor, 491
Mansingh & Nawalkhabati, 1188
Munsha & Emperor, 1335
Mansharu & Sugra, 419
Munshasingh & Emperor, 167
Manshum & Huhbari, 1181
Manson & Dutchborne, 1105
Mansukh & Tricamlu, 992
Manta & Khula, 1781
Manu & Long, 312
Manufacturers' Assn & Dorgan, 717
Manun Singh & Unadit, 1158, 1180
Mansa & Ibrahim, 176
Manyim & Mayin, 899
Ma Ou Nam, & K. E., 102
Ma Park & Ma Nwa, 897
Ma Park & Ma Nwa Park, 1012
Ma Pau & Mg Po, 1270
Ma Paw & Maung Ghyin, 1351
Magbul & Brylas, 886
Maglulin & Ahmad Hussein,
Mara Karutu & Verin Kattu, 87
Maraduthu Padagachi, In re, 491
Marbar Ali Budh Singh, 1169
March & Collnett, 989
Marcone's wireless etc. & Common wealth, 1932
Marcy & Barney, 950
Marcy Seward & The Vera Cruz, 17
Mariam v Ibrahim, 215, 1016
Mariam Bibi & Shaikh Mahmood, 1169
Mariam Bibi & Sikhu, 1169
Marine Investment Co. & Harinde, 985, 1223
Marion v State, 728
Marks & Beyfus, 1337
Marks & Lhee, 558, 563, 561, 567
Marmayon Peerge, 602
Marnell & Blake, 1053
Marnun & E., 161
Maroti v Bhagi, 1199
Marquis of Anglesey v Hatherton, 214
Marriot v Marriot, 691
Marriot v Pascal, 834
Marry & George, 1099, 1100
Marry v Wetz, 630
Morsey & Allen, 570
March & Collnett, 986
Marshfield Re, 1570
Marshall v Cliff, 333, 839
Marshall & Lamb, 964
Marshall v R. Co., 511
Marshall v Prince, 322
Marshall's Case, 6
Marston v Dawnes, 893, 1216, 1350
1360, 1487
Martand & Radhabu, 150
Martin, Re, 924
Martin & Hardestry, 807
Martin & Harding, 1084
Martin & Ins Co., 1152
Martin, Inbonis, 934
Martendale & Falkner, 1232
Maru Lamuthu Palayachi In Re, 153
Marulapha & Nenkata, 917
Maryan & Nagina, 959
Mary Jackson's Case, 1389
Marz D'eruz & Jalandranath, 1072
Ma Saw & Maung Ba, 1010
Mashe & Maizyn, 676
Mashe & Maung Dal, 119
Mashe & Maung San, 1037
Ma Si & Maung Ye, 1180
Ma Sit & Annamalai, 89
Mason & Butson, 1091
Mason & Golam, 87
Mason & Lothrop, 322
Mason & Mason, 1173
Mason's Case, 276
Massey & Allen, 547, 559, 566
Massey & Sladen, 203
Maschon & Downes, 1316
Masters & Masters, 113
Masters Re, 2
Mata Bikkh & Kaladin, 1269
Matabbhos & Mulji Barilal, 311
Matadin & Emre, 393, 391, 395
Matridin & Q. E., 1361
Matario & Emperor, 1207
Mathang & Ma Than, 1081
Mathen Shwe & Maung Kan Gyi, 837
Ma The Nh & Mg Ni Ta, 887
Mathew v Blackmore, 17
Mathew v Lodge, 1102
Mathews & Minister, 331
Mathews & Smallwood, 874
Mathew & D., 1105
Navigation, 13
Matter of Williams, 000
Matteson v New York, 742

- Mattison v Hart 4
 Mattox v U S 519
 Math Dayal v Lalji Sahni, 1205
 Mauby v Curtis, 767
 Mauch F A Co v Iubelman 27
 Maula Buksh v Emperor 189
 Mauli Bulsh v Jafar Ali 319
 Maulud v Abdul 598
 Muah v Emperor 1203
 Maung Aung v Maung Shwe 51
 Maungat Ru v Emperor 1369
 Maung Ba Thun v Maung Sein Win 1294
 Maung Ba v Ma Hahiz 1148, 1019
 Maung Chit v Maung Tha, 55
 Maung Hemat v Ma Hing 64
 Maung Hui v Maung Po 1494
 Maung Hlaing v Maung Chit 161
 Maung Hlaw v Ngirant 1019
 Maung Khan v Maung Myat 41
 Maung Kin v Maung Sun 1130
 Maung Ko v U Heraw 1031
 Maung Kot v Maung So 839
 Maung Kpa v Pesia Kurham 1032
 Maung Kyaung v P L Firm 1269
 Maung Kye v Ma Ma 1016, 1008
 Maung Kya v Animal 714
 Maung Kya v Maung Po Win 842
 Maung Kyin v Ma Shew 1028, 1049, 1049, 1118
 Maung Kejin v Ma Shew 1018
 Maung Kywe v Maung Kata 134
 Maung Lal v Emperor, 460
 Maung Lay v Emperor, 448, 1834
 Maung Lee v Maung Kyaw, 1237
 Maung Lee v Maung Hla, 1045
 Maung Lee v Maung Lee 119
 Maung Lin v Maung Shwe 1176
 Maung Min Din v Maung on Gaing 1179
 Maung Mon v K Minoh, 1009
 Maung Mya v Ma Tha 309, 368, 501
 Maung Mya v San Singh, 1315, 1352
 Maung Myat v Maung Law, 1673
 Maung Net v Maung Hmo, 883
 Maung Ngwe v Ma Gyi, 1232
 Maung Nwe v Maung Po, 1179
 Maung Nyo v Maung Hene 1179
 Maung Nyun v Ma Nyein 1179
 Maung On v Maung Shwe 772
 Maung Pan v Ma R... 900, 1000
 .
 .
 ..
 908 Maung Po v Mathue, 950
 Maung Po v Vellappa, 1019
 Maung Po Din v Maung Po, 397
 Maung Po Gyan v Maung So, 848
 Maung Po Kin v Maung Shwe, 841
 Maung Po Thak v Maung Tha Byaw, 1132
 Maung Po Thet v Arnachelliam, 1004
 Maung Po Hui v Queen Express, 894
 Maung Po Yin v Maung Jet Ter, 1254, 1257
 Maung Pwa v Maung Po Sa, 1115
 .
 .
 .
 1460
 Maung San v Maung Taw, 1176
 Maung San v Subramaniam, 895
 Maung Saung v Maung So Hla 1053
 Maung Sein v Ma Hlaw 1052
 Maung Shewe v Chetty Firm, 1074
 Maung Shewe v Maung Tun, 1033
 Maung Shewe v Maung Thu Gya, 1001
 Maung Tha v Palmetapha, 1178
 Maung Thi v Mun, 213
 Maung Thaya v Q E, 469
 Maung Thein v Maung Pyu, 1028
 Maung Thein v Mozam 877
 Maung Tin v Ma Lan, 1264
 Maung Tok v Emperor, 101
 Maung Ton v Ko Lu, 1008
 Maung Tu Pe v Maung Sein, 1011
 Maung Tun v Maung Po, 1028
 Maung Tun v Maung Pu, 1180
 Maung Tun v Maung Yon, 1180
 Maung Tun v Maung Khan, 1011
 Maung Wun v Q E 448
 Maung Ya v Kahjin 875
 Maung Ya Baing v Ma Khyin, 1180
 Maung Ya Gywa v Mg Ngw, 976
 Mauly v Barber, 805
 Mawman v Legg 294, 902
 Mawson v Hart Sink, 812, 1460, 1461
 Max Mink v Shankardas, 1454
 Maxwell, 779
 May Pe 682
 May v Brown, 1460
 May v Burdett 274
 May v Hawkins, 1362
 May v May, 619, 652, 655
 May v Platt, 1031
 May v Ploil, 1059
 Mayandi v Oliver 1072
 Mayandi v Sam, 1319
 Maya Singh v Emperor, 186
 Maybre v Saffien 1220
 Mayen v Rum Satta 519
 Mayers v Walker, 776
 Mayeth v Emperor, 967
 Mayfair Property Co, 1n re, 6
 Mayhew v Nelson, 329
 Mayo v Williams, 691, 711
 Ma Yin v Ma Rok, 401
 Mayor v Marrey, 1407
 Mayor of Dun Castor v Day, 614, 617, 619
 Mayor of Hull v Horner, 896

Mayor of New York & Ponto 734
Mays v State, 173
Mazuch v Cassim Ali, 1052
Mayet v Maung Gye 1215
Mathar Ali v Bulh Singh, 75, 1198
Mc Clary v Wright, 1374 1376
Mc Comb e t Anton, 627
Mc Alhm In the goods of, 4-8
Mc Adony t State, 393
Mc Adroy t State, 116, 391
Mc Blain t Edgar, 321
Mc Bride t Thompson, 106
Mc Carthy t Boston Dock Co, 7-9
Mc Carthy t Kenneby, 670
Mc Collin t Gilpin, 10-2
Mc Connell t Meyer, 1256
Mc Corquodale t Bell, 37
Mc Cullough t Munn, 950
Mc Dunnell t Conry, 1356
Mc Donough's Trial, 1160
Mc Duff Re, 1091
Mc Lave t Frowbridge, 370
Mc Gabey t Alston 315
Mc Gill t Byrne, 1-63
Mc Grohey v Alston 915
Mc Gowan t Smith 701 - 812
Mc Intire t Oliver, 315
Mc Kinney v Grand Street, etc, 137
Mc Kinnon t Bliss, 882
Mc Konkey t Gaylord, 767
Mc Lain t Winchester, 901
Mc Leed t Ginther s Adm., 115
McLeod v Wakelaw, 843
Mc Lord v Johnson, 937
Mc Master t Ins Co of North America, 1027
Mc Merson v Snerman, 1035
Mc Minn v O'Connor, 953
Mc Mohan t, Mc Livoy, 1167
Mc Murrin v Rigby, 366
Mc Cormic v Garnett, 741
Mc Naughton, Re 757
Mc Queen v Phepp, 167
Mc Pherson v Watt, 1156
Mc Donnel v Alcorn, 680 694
Md Ozullah v Beni Madhab, 962, 965
Meard v Dinbigny, 271
Meade v Medonell, 345
Meayn v Alimunddi 310, 342, 377, 378
Meal Ram t Mt Bhola, 1291
Means v Means 54
Meath v Wnchester, 350 362, 936, 937
989
The Medina, 201, 202
Medirpath's Case, 298
Medicott v Joyner, 896
Mddina v St ughton 1060
Medly v People, 909
Mee v Reid, 1578
Meennakshicendram v Chenchu, 1003
1048
Meebi v Emperor, 443
Meer Jangoo v Chota Sahib, 35
Meer Sujud v Kashinath, 1401

Meernallah t Imman, 817, 899
Meeryappa t Maung Ba Bui, 12-0
Megat Sardur Ram, 1138
Megha t Makhan, 1028
Megharaj t Dargen, 1017
Meghinj t Mukundaram, 1221
Megharaj t Ramlopal, 12
Megharaj t Rash Bhar Singh, 1139
Megharaj t Trehal, 1262
Meghi t Ramp, 317
Mecht t Nur Muhammad, 73
Meendi Haroon t Abdul, 676
Mehta t ...
Meher Dhol t Mahammed, 5-6
Meher t Sakht, 1170
Meher Singh t Crown, 13-6
Mehr t Daw Datto, 1252
Mhtab t Secy of State, 1330
Mehro t Crown, 195
Meka t Sri Raja, 1054
Mi Ram t Dhnu Nayal, 11
Miram t Mt Bhola 1299
Melbourne t Brouham 362
Melmish t Collier, 1119, 1170, 1154
Mellor t Muthia Cheffs, 392
Mellor t Walmsley, 747, 668
Mellus v Vicar Apostolic, 911
Melnish t Milton, 711
M Elveney v Connellan, 1334
Memon v Abdul Karim, 1350
Memon Hajee t Moulayi Abdul, 1347, 1351
Menapi v Secretary of State, 1272
Menda t K E, 182, 183, 184
Mendum v Commonwealth, 736
Menger Bhayan, 389
Mennier, In re, 1281
M E Pillay Bank t Official Assignees of Madras, 23
Mercantile Bank v Taylor 10-6
Mercur v Denn, 668
Mercer v Donne, 215 216, 547, 548, 549 575 576, 577 599, 668, 693,
990
Mercer v Adm'r v Machin, 556
Mercer v State, 397
Mercy v Barney 744
Meredit h Footner, 327, 332
Merest v Harvey, 203, 205
Merle v More, 893, 1341, 1355
Merille v Moore, 1343
Merril v Frame, 17
Merriman v United States 1085
Merit t Thomson, 1165
Mercy Dock v Cameron, 20
Mersey Dock v Turner, 4
Meshaw v Abdul, 1123
Messrs Coromption Co v Secy of State, 1407

Messers Erskine & Co & Ohoy Chander, 1029
Merharam & Jamral, 662
Messers & Brown, 378
Methyan Chetty & Vayya Dravan, 996
Metropolitan Asylum & Hill, 124, 125
Metropolitan Engineering & Walter Engine, 1104, 1102
Metropolitan Asylum District & Hill, 125
Metzels Sing & Secy of State, 1341
Meuz's Executors Case, 323
M' Evey & Drogheda Harbour Commissioner, 1254
Mewa Singh & Bhagwant, 1220
Mewton & Chaplin, 1366
Meyer & Montrieux, 339
Meyer & Befton, 902
Meyer, Re, 914
M'adden & Murdock, 286
M'Th & Langer, 91

Millard & Buley, 1097
Miller & Cohen, 871
Miller & Curtiss, 806
Miller, Official Assignee & Babu Madho
Das, 89
Miller & Heinrick, 671
Miller & Madho, 87, 1143, 1401, 1701
Miller & People, 129
Miller & Russell, 620
Miller & Salomons, 1575, 1577
Miller & Travers, 1091, 1101, 1106
Miller & Williams, 839
Miller's Estate, In re, 165, 1199
Milles & Lamson, 167
Mills & Taylor, 141, 211, 771
Mills & Heinrick, 671
Mills & Colchespere, 670
Mills & Fox, 1263
Mills & M., 517
Mills & Odly, 891, 1710, 1860, 1361
Mills & Snowe, 1263
Mills & Twist, 935
Mills & Wilkins, 1
Milne & Lerner, 84, 110, 112, 118, 565
Milner, Gib-on Cullum & Att General, 1106
Milword & Hibbert, 206, 218
Mina & Queen & Hepburn, 866
Mi Me & Mi Shwe, 837
Mi Me Ma & Queen Empress, 1365
Mi Myat & Q E, 1207
Mi Myat & K E, 799, 1395, 1470
Mi Myat & Uchaing, 1179
Mi Naye & Mi Shwe, 691
Minabai & Yadrao, 1128
Mina Koonwar & Jagat Sarani, 1260
Mina Kumari & Bejoy Singh, 55
Mina Kumari & Rajah Bijoy Singh, 1223
Minet & Leman, 17
Minet & Morgan, 1341, 1344, 1345, 1357
Mi Nga Ma & Nga Tulak, 571
Minna Craig & Chabreed, 694
Minnat Ali & Narendra Kishore, 1118
Mina Sircar & Rhedoy Nath, 959
Mi Nyem & R L, 397
Mir Abdul & Must Bibi, Son, 617
Miraj & Abdul, 1168
Miriam & Ibrahim, 1045
Mirabibi & Velliyanna, 216
Mir Asabullah & Bibi Imaman, 849
Miran & Crown, 431
Miran & Ramsser, 1260
Mir Mozuffer & Kali Proad, 712
Mir Sayed & Taiyaba Begum, 198, 351, 425
Mir Suzad & Kashinath, 1104
Mirza & Munshi, 665
Mirza Hidayat & Nga Kyang, 835
Mirza Sadique & Mohamed Karim, 5
Mirza & Jhanda, 1263
Mirza Sadique & Syad Hashin Ali, 760
Mirza Shamsheer & Kunj Behary, 665
Misa U. & Nga Pyan, 662

Michum & State, 113, 114, 116
Middlesex Justice & R, 1
Middleton & Barried, 1491
Middleton & Melton, 315, 553, 558, 559
565, 567
Middleton & Sanford, 766
Midnapore Zemindary & Enistulla, 887
Midnapore Zemindary & Jogendra, 1082, 1098
Midnapore Zemindari Co. Ltd. &
Nawal Nara & 1202

831
Mi Gywe & Kesban Ram, 1018
Mibi Lal & Son, Ram, 1159

Miles & Dawson, 1360, 1486
Miles & Knight, 1222 Miles & O' Hora, 618
Milne & Lester, 105
Millar & Taylor, 211, 700

Mieri Gossein v Emperor, 282
Missouri Steam Ship Co., In re, 21
Mitchell v Reynolds, 1075
Mitchell v Work, 69
Mitchell v Henry, 1113, 1115
Mitchell v Jacobs, 969
Mitchell v Justices, 1332
Mitchell v Simpson, 10
Mitchell v State, 621
Mites v O'Fly, 592
Mithan Bibi v Bishere, 77, 58
Mithulal v Sripal, 1551
Mithar v Q E L 68
Mittra Sen Singh v Mt Janki Kurr, 1251-1278
Mittan Sing v Roop Ram, 1250
M Kenzo v British Lion Co, 151
1270-1271
M'Kenzie v Fraser, 956
M'Kenna v Howth, 315
Moharik Ali v Emperor, 121
Moharik v Sewa Ram, 1138
Mohil & M R Co v Ashraf, 116
Moharuck v Loofing, 1233
Mockaba v Com, 515
Modce Hullah v Sanders, 1111
Modhu v Sahi, 1137
Modich v Voradja, 1028
M of Retail Co, 1270

" " " "
" " " "
" " " "
" " " "
" " " "
" " " "
" " " "
" " " "
" " " "
" " " "
" " " "
" " " "
" " " "
" " " "

Mohammad v Kishori, 1033
Mohammad v Motlal, 353
Mohammad v Queen, 30
Mohammad v Shams Ali, 229
Mohammad v Zukur, 1140

" " " "
" " " "
" " " "
" " " "
" " " "

Mohesh Chunder v Gooroo Pehad, 1293
Mohesh Lal v Bisunt, 321
Mohesh Roy v Boldhun, 812, 920
Mohi v Dhuro, 679
Mohun v Emperor, 811
Mohum v Mohesh, 1130, 1315
Mohum v Wira, 666
Mohum Chunder v Mothorn, 583
Mohum Chandra v Konnilal, 1169
Mohund v Emperor, 1105
Mohure Bibee v Dharimda, 1251, 1261

-- --
55

Mohyteen v Mulammar, 1111
Mohoram v Emperor, 1238
Mohun v Chutto, 316, 321
Mohundal v Unoopoorra, 1086
Mohun Maho v Mur Shumool, 1176
Mohunt Bhagwan v Mohunt Raghunandan, 599
Mohunt Dis v Nilkomal, 1259, 1271
Mohunt Gour v Hayagriv Dis, 1115
Moian v Emperor, 57
Moises v Thornton, 763
Mokshed v Emperor, 637
Mold v Wheatcroft, 1270
Moli v Madho, 1018
Molla Cassim v Molla Abdul, 1165
Molladi v Iondepai, 1130
Mollwo v Court of Wards, 17
Molony v Gibbons, 952
Molton v Camroun, 177
Molton v Harris, 895
Momari v Dhanni, 1276
Monchkonte v Aichi, 934
Monroe v Twistleton, 1328
Money v Jordan, 1242
Mongal v Hira, 915
Monora v Dedi, 891
Mongha Ram v Emperor, 95
Monlal v Improvement Trustees, 2
Monindra v Iroyloekho, 267
Monkton v Att Gen, 581, 583, 589, 590, 591, 596-605
Monmohun v Harinath, 552

5, 883

603

Mohesh v Dhuro, 223
Mohesh v Juggat, 666
Mohesh v Mohesh, 485

Mt. Subrahmaniam v Lutchman, 999
Mt. Ajotha v Emperor, 662
Mt. Bhagbhari v Mt. Khatun, 570
Mt. Amir Begum v Mt. Begam, 1165
Mt. Bibi v Syed Mohirak, 81
Mt. Bibi Ramji v Kasim, 1269
Mt. Chando v Sri Ram, 662
Mt. Chando v Crown, 131
Mt. Hakim v Mt. Jinde, 314 8, 9 1472
Mt. Har Datt v Kishan, C16
Mt. Indr v Jinal Singh, 1232
Mt. T. Jan Kur v Latha, 1293
Mt. Jacoda v Janak, 769
Mt. Kasturba v Balikam, 1135
Mt. Lahini v Bala, 7
Mt. Khushali v Sahil zila, 1278
Mt. Khushan v Emperor, 1373
Mt. Lanmiba v Lal Meah, 1299
Mt. Makhduman v Syed Altaf Hussain, 1018
Mt. Manauar v Ishar Das, 1291
Mt. Mechi v Emperor, 442
Mt. Mehro v Crown, 364
Mt. Norani v Jawahir, 657
Mt. Pheknit v Mt. Nanki, 691
Mt. Ramanandi v Mt. Kulawati, 6
Mt. Radhi v E, 483
Mt. Rupa v Mohan Lal, 1137
Mt. S. ryu v Ram Harak, 603
Mt. Sons v Puran, 835
Mt. Srimati Anandaji v Ram Jas, 358
Mt. Surja v Bijai, 1140
Mt. Tabi v Saudagar, 657
Mubarak v Ahmad, 3
Mubarak v Mahomed, 1270
Mucher Shaw v New Dhurmsey, 1420
Mudd v Suckermore, 766 915, 918
Mudhu-oodan v Saroop, 849, 851, 856
Mugge v Adams, 919
Muhammad v. Abdul, 616, 1076
Muhammad v Ali, 1262
Muhammad v Ali Biksh, 1199
Muhammad v Ashgar, 1434
Muhammad v Behary, 1579
Muhammad v Chupar, 195
Muhammad v Crown, 418 431
Muhammad v Emperor, 443, 493
Muhammad v Ganga Diyal, 228, 239
Muhammad v G. Kalchand, 1219
Muhammad v Ghulam, 218
Muhammad v Hamiduddin, 897
Muhammad v Husain, 221, 313

Muhammad v Sultan Singh, 977
Muhammad v Wali, 1289
Muhammad v New Jan, 718
Muhammad Akhyat v Muhammad
Samiruddin, 1136
Muhammad Allihaddad v Muhammad
Ismael, 1193
Muktamala v Ramcharan, 710
Mukta v Ananda, 1132
Muktonath v Jitendra Nath, 926
Mukundram v Diyarum, 361, 633, 639, 610 616, 1127, 1178
Mukund v Lady, 34
Mukund v Mt. Ghafurunnissa, 1495
Mula Mal v Churanj, 87
Mula Shah v Kripa Ram, 1259
Mulchand v Jamambi, 1211
Mulchand v Madho, 1028
Mulchand v Fungachand, 22
Mulchay v Ruern, 177, 179
Mulholand v Killen, 697
Mulumajandi In re, 118
Mulla v De Korun, 897
Mulla v Lek v Karim Babal, 1136
Mulpura v Sri Rajah Vardaraja, 834 Muncher Shaw v New Dhurmsey, 22, 639
Mumford v Getting, 1082, 1087, 1117
Munger Bhoojam, In the Case, 397
Muniamma v Surappa, 1063
Munapha v Villachami, 815
Munakshammal v Ramaswami, 1255
Muneshwarshaw v New Dhurmsey, 644, 1257
Munderson v Reeve, 313
Municipal Corporation of Bombay v
Caverji, 1016
Munna v Kameshri, 190 662
Munna v Narain, 1023, 1037
Munna v Kameshri, 600
Munna Lal v Kameshor, 1145

- Munna Lal v E I Rv 1132
 Munna v Naimun 901
 Munnoo Lal v Lallu Choonee Lal, 1258
 Munshi v Bepari 1181
 Munshi Basoil v Munshi Nawaj 49
 Munshi v Surendra 710
 Munshi v Emperor 189
 Murad v Khadim 1149
 Murari v Radha 1187
 Marietta v Wolfagen 761 767
 Murle Das v Achut Das 982
 Murle Das v Manick 1225
 Murphy v Hagerman 771
 Murphy v Killinger 356
 Murphy R., 965 1212
 Murple v State, 418
 Murray v George, 370
 Murray v Mason 1481
 Murray v Milner 600 (11)
 Murray v Lord Stair 1006 1068
 Murray R., 1174
 Musa v Emperor 1387
 Musahab v Emperor 1374
 Musamat Khooob Koonoor v Biloo Moodnorain, 1219
 Musamat Pirbati v Rani Chandrapal 682, 657
 Musgrave v Emmerson 564
 Mushool v Emperor 496
 Mussi Kazim v Haji Mutisaddi 1183
 Mussa v Empress, 497
 Musamat Imrit v Lalla, 347
 Musamat v K E, 110
 Musamat v Mathura, 694
 Musamat v Mir 1262
 Musamat v Onkur Lal, 1052
 Musamat v Rutan, 886
 Musamat Bhagabhati v Chowdhury, 1097
 Musamat Bilas v Dessing, 1297
 Musamat Fatima v Crown, 1328
 Musamat Imam v Hurgobind 847 849
 Musamat Lal v Musli Dhar 657, 773
 Musamat Latuffunnis v Gour Sisi 501
 Musamat Naimat v Mahomed Fiaz 1128
 Musamat Ram v Biboo Beston 1829
 .
 .
 .
 ..
 ..
 .
 .
 Must Gill v Emperor 754
 Must Jio v Mt Rakuram 1082
 Mustan v Mohendra, 718
 Muthalagiri v Pappi Naicken, 41
 Muthunan v Sinna Samy, 1301
 Muthu Papayya, In re, 1387
 Muthu Krishnayya v Mahomed, 1057
 Muthu Chetti v Muthu 334, 373
 Muthu Chetty v Kothandoramaswami, 1039
 Muthu v K E, 417
 Muthu Chettiet v Muhammed, 343
 Muthu Eruluppa v Vannukar, 1033
 Muthu Kumar v Govind, 1033
 Muthu Krishna v R m hindra, 107
 Muthu Kumar Swami v Emperor, 331, 410, 417 1370 1173
 Muthu v Viswanath, 1006, 1009
 Muthuswami v Verodai 1061
 Muthuswami v Solai, 1299
 Muthu Venkara v Pyanda Venkata 1049
 Muthu Babce v Basher Khan, 851, 1324
 Muttaridi v Bhagwan, 1240
 Muttaridi v Crown 417, 421
 Muttensumi v Dharmaraj, 1031
 Muttu v Annundo, 1014
 Mutual Benefit Ins Co v Newton, 310
 Mutual Life Ins v Hillmon, 39
 Musaffer v Emperor, 537
 Myer v Sol 1079, 1113, 1115
 Mysapore Krishna Swami, In re, 1183
 Myne In the goods, 980
 My Po Nein v Maung My, 551
 Mytton v Thornbury, 986

N

- Nabab Mirza v Nabab Takar, 1143
 Nababwip v Purna, 31
 Nabakishore v Upendra, 1131, 1142
 Nabi Bika v Emperor, 1368
 Nabi v Sona, 1057
 Nabi Bikhshi v Ram Jawayn, 1579
 Nabin Chandra v Debendra 1064
 Nabi Khan v Musamat Sawah, 1052
 Nabin Krishna v Rasik Lal, 533, 951
 Nabindra v Durga 956
 Nabindra v Rahima 956
 Nabo Coomur v Gobinda, 666
 Nabi Kumar v Rudra Narayana 14 0
 Nabooma v Khedar Hussain, 1031
 Nachuppa v Chinna, 1135
 Naddai v Merjan, 1224
 Nadia v Birendra, 1053, 1054
 Nadir Chan v Chander Sikhur, 712
 Nadir v Crown 410 442
 Nadir Shaw v Piroj Shaw, 283 295
 Nafir v Emperor, 1311, 1312, 1314, 1317, 1578 1585
 Nafir Chandra v Bhusi Molla, 1268
 Nafir Jorndar v Pratima Sundari 248
 Nafir v Emperor, 1216
 Naga K. wet v Q E, 1207
 Naga Methu v Emperor, 396
 Nagammal v Sankarappa, 610
 Naga Po v Q E, 503
 Nagaraja v Vytheanatha, 1335, 1187

Nagaraja v Secretary of State 1734
Nagendra v Dimonth, 1186
Nagendra v Lawrence Jute Co., 311, 312
Nagendra v Parbutty, 719
Nagendra v Parv, 11
Nagendra v Raghv 214, 776
Nagendrabala v Dhanraj, 1116
Nagendrabala v Emperor, 180
Nagendra Nub v Nazend a Bala
1183 Nageshar v Ganesha, 1143
Nageshar v Hanuman Singh, 702
Nageswar v Bichu 925, 937 938
Naghi v Ali Khan, 1311, 1311
Nagina v Emperor, 1163 1170
Nagina v Bihala, 1296 1295
Nagina Singh v Sundar, 311
Nagina v Kari Jeeva, 1230
Naghi v Emperor, 1267
Nago v Raj shwar, 1179
Nago v Tukaram 1018
Nagor Dist v Moser, 1010
Nath Singh v Shyam Kuar 210
Naiker v Corporation of Madras, 912
Nana v Gobardhan, 511 1472 1178
Nana Malu Kinar, In re 165 467, 1203
Nannapillai v Ramnathar, 984, 1111
Nayhan Bibi v Syed Rosh, 929
Niko Cawdhury v Sukdeo Choudhury, 1281
Nalin v Manda Villi, 863
Nalini v Hari, 710 718
Nalini Kumar v Gudadhar 1130
Nalla Rao v ... 121
Nandakishore v Bikan Singh, 229
Nandakishore v Ganesha, 152
Nandlal v Bank of Bombay 11
Nandlal v Dhanukdhari 1006
Nand Singh v Crown, 1385
Nandoo v Bapat, 657
Nandram v Chootoo, 1225
Nandamoni v Sushula, 1266
Nand ... 127
Nand ... 1008
Nandoo v Emperor, 110, 412
Nanu Nair v Kantan Achia, 993
Narayan v Kazi, 1052
Napper v Sunder 1161
Narhari v Ambalal, 87
Narain v Dipa Umed, 221
Narain v Chandu 593, 590
Narain v Durg, 1223
Narain v Emperor 1376
Narain v Gobard 11
Narain v Lachar 1111
Narain v K E 54
Narain v Krishna 1220
Narain Chandra v Chohan 610
Narain ... 5
Narain Singh v Emperor, 1372
Narain ...
Narappa v Thumamah 992
Nara Reddier v Doria Swami, 1033
Narasimma v Billa Kishor 367
Narasimgar v Panuguti, 1019 1088
Narasimma v Kirtanama, 1405
Narasimma v Ramesami, 1034
Narasimma v Bill Kesu, 152
Narasimma ...
Narayana v ... 1101
Narayana v Emperor, 1967 1385
Narayana v Hindutta Rai 194
Narayana v Kesheosa, 1074
Narayana v Lakshmandra, 929
Narayana v Laxmanrao 1269
Narayana v Raoji 1290
Narayana v Sbrinivas, 1165, 1169
Narayana v ... 153

Nga Nwe : K E. 1317
 Nga Nyi : E. 102
 Nga Nyoi : Emperor, 615
 Nga Nyoi : K E. 91
 Nga Ok Gyi : Q E. 799
 Nga Paw : Q E. 1383
 Nga Po : Emperor, 510
 Nga Po : K E. 368, 799
 Nga Po : Q E. 128, 813
 Nga Po Chit : Emperor 1382
 Nga Po Kank : E. 191
 Nga Poket : Q E. 31
 Nga Po Nyai : Emperor 191
 Nga Po Sin : Q E. 399
 Nga Po That : Q E. 1367, 1382
 Nga Po Tok : K E. 186
 Nga Po Yin : K E. 152, 1372
 Nga Pym : Emperor, 1165
 Nga Pys : K E. 128
 Nga That : Q E. 395
 Nga Saing : Ngaha Lu Aung, 1031
 Nga Sam : K E. 968
 Nga Sam Nyim : K E. 493
 Nga Sanya : K E. 399, 403, 151
 Nga Seik : Nga Pu 618, 1130
 Nga Shaya : Nga Ka : 1168, 1169
 Naga : Crown, 192, 1385
 Naganj Bahari : Empress, 191
 Naga : H. 100, 101, 102, 103, 104, 105, 106, 107, 108, 109, 110, 111, 112, 113, 114, 115, 116, 117, 118, 119, 120, 121, 122, 123, 124, 125, 126, 127, 128, 129, 130, 131, 132, 133, 134, 135, 136, 137, 138, 139, 140, 141, 142, 143, 144, 145, 146, 147, 148, 149, 150, 151, 152, 153, 154, 155, 156, 157, 158, 159, 160, 161, 162, 163, 164, 165, 166, 167, 168, 169, 170, 171, 172, 173, 174, 175, 176, 177, 178, 179, 180, 181, 182, 183, 184, 185, 186, 187, 188, 189, 190, 191, 192, 193, 194, 195, 196, 197, 198, 199, 200, 201, 202, 203, 204, 205, 206, 207, 208, 209, 210, 211, 212, 213, 214, 215, 216, 217, 218, 219, 220, 221, 222, 223, 224, 225, 226, 227, 228, 229, 230, 231, 232, 233, 234, 235, 236, 237, 238, 239, 240, 241, 242, 243, 244, 245, 246, 247, 248, 249, 250, 251, 252, 253, 254, 255, 256, 257, 258, 259, 260, 261, 262, 263, 264, 265, 266, 267, 268, 269, 270, 271, 272, 273, 274, 275, 276, 277, 278, 279, 280, 281, 282, 283, 284, 285, 286, 287, 288, 289, 290, 291, 292, 293, 294, 295, 296, 297, 298, 299, 300, 301, 302, 303, 304, 305, 306, 307, 308, 309, 310, 311, 312, 313, 314, 315, 316, 317, 318, 319, 320, 321, 322, 323, 324, 325, 326, 327, 328, 329, 330, 331, 332, 333, 334, 335, 336, 337, 338, 339, 340, 341, 342, 343, 344, 345, 346, 347, 348, 349, 350, 351, 352, 353, 354, 355, 356, 357, 358, 359, 360, 361, 362, 363, 364, 365, 366, 367, 368, 369, 370, 371, 372, 373, 374, 375, 376, 377, 378, 379, 380, 381, 382, 383, 384, 385, 386, 387, 388, 389, 390, 391, 392, 393, 394, 395, 396, 397, 398, 399, 400, 401, 402, 403, 404, 405, 406, 407, 408, 409, 410, 411, 412, 413, 414, 415, 416, 417, 418, 419, 420, 421, 422, 423, 424, 425, 426, 427, 428, 429, 430, 431, 432, 433, 434, 435, 436, 437, 438, 439, 440, 441, 442, 443, 444, 445, 446, 447, 448, 449, 450, 451, 452, 453, 454, 455, 456, 457, 458, 459, 460, 461, 462, 463, 464, 465, 466, 467, 468, 469, 470, 471, 472, 473, 474, 475, 476, 477, 478, 479, 480, 481, 482, 483, 484, 485, 486, 487, 488, 489, 490, 491, 492, 493, 494, 495, 496, 497, 498, 499, 500, 501, 502, 503, 504, 505, 506, 507, 508, 509, 510, 511, 512, 513, 514, 515, 516, 517, 518, 519, 520, 521, 522, 523, 524, 525, 526, 527, 528, 529, 530, 531, 532, 533, 534, 535, 536, 537, 538, 539, 540, 541, 542, 543, 544, 545, 546, 547, 548, 549, 550, 551, 552, 553, 554, 555, 556, 557, 558, 559, 560, 561, 562, 563, 564, 565, 566, 567, 568, 569, 570, 571, 572, 573, 574, 575, 576, 577, 578, 579, 580, 581, 582, 583, 584, 585, 586, 587, 588, 589, 590, 591, 592, 593, 594, 595, 596, 597, 598, 599, 600, 601, 602, 603, 604, 605, 606, 607, 608, 609, 610, 611, 612, 613, 614, 615, 616, 617, 618, 619, 620, 621, 622, 623, 624, 625, 626, 627, 628, 629, 630, 631, 632, 633, 634, 635, 636, 637, 638, 639, 640, 641, 642, 643, 644, 645, 646, 647, 648, 649, 650, 651, 652, 653, 654, 655, 656, 657, 658, 659, 660, 661, 662, 663, 664, 665, 666, 667, 668, 669, 670, 671, 672, 673, 674, 675, 676, 677, 678, 679, 680, 681, 682, 683, 684, 685, 686, 687, 688, 689, 690, 691, 692, 693, 694, 695, 696, 697, 698, 699, 700, 701, 702, 703, 704, 705, 706, 707, 708, 709, 710, 711, 712, 713, 714, 715, 716, 717, 718, 719, 720, 721, 722, 723, 724, 725, 726, 727, 728, 729, 730, 731, 732, 733, 734, 735, 736, 737, 738, 739, 740, 741, 742, 743, 744, 745, 746, 747, 748, 749, 750, 751, 752, 753, 754, 755, 756, 757, 758, 759, 760, 761, 762, 763, 764, 765, 766, 767, 768, 769, 770, 771, 772, 773, 774, 775, 776, 777, 778, 779, 780, 781, 782, 783, 784, 785, 786, 787, 788, 789, 790, 791, 792, 793, 794, 795, 796, 797, 798, 799, 800, 801, 802, 803, 804, 805, 806, 807, 808, 809, 810, 811, 812, 813, 814, 815, 816, 817, 818, 819, 820, 821, 822, 823,

Owakar Seth v Baijnath, 1258
Oxford poor rate, Re, 836

P

P v P, 1193
Paban v Bolal, 937
Paban v Rakhal, 924
P v P, 1284

Padam Pray v Q E, 132
Padar Nath v Ram Narain, 923
Padayachi v Krishna Swami, 1251
Paddock v Forrester, 371, 376, 377

Page v Horne, 1185
Page v Leapingwell, 1031
Page v Parker, 733, 736
Page's Case, 531
Pagon v Bank of Bengal, 1031
Pahaiya v Government, 953
Pahad v Emperor, 94
Pahlwan v Emperor, 308
Pahalwan v Maharaja, 1111
Pakhar Singh v Emperor, 96
Pakhoo v Dayal, 1202
Palainappa v Rajagopal, 930
Palakdhari v Manners, 219
Palam v Sothu, 1193
Palan v Mani, 1214
Pala Singh v Emperor, 496
Paleswari v Sankar, 911
Palethrop v Furnish, 832
Pallia v Emperor, 1386
Palmer v Coyle, 274
Palmer v Secretary of State, 201
Palmer v Thatcher, 4
Palmer's Case, 133, 273
Palsingh v Jagir, 1193
Palvasam Re, 1378
Pamappyya v Mamavaru, 1096
Paltu Behari v Watson, 311
Pame M Vaz v Emperor, 491
Panchanan v Anast, 1219
Panchanon v Emperor, 1137, 1452, 1458

Panchu Das v Emperor, 531
Panchu Mandal v Emperor, 752, 751
Pandurang v Anant, 662
Pandaya v Pali, 1195
Pandah v Gyadhar, 346
Pande v Suraj, 1100

K

Pandit Hunuman v. Nufsi Asadulla, 1260

Pandit Veerabhadra, 237
Pandurang v Narayan, 1290
Pandu v Bapudaa, 899
Pandu v Ganesh, 1029

Pank v Ma Myat, 1001
Pankhurst v Lawton, 1317, 1362
Pannalal v Bhuwandari, 1183
Pannalal v Tarakanta, 719
Pannum Ram v Ghulam, 1135
Pannuswami v Skhegaram, 617
Pan Nyan v K E, 1585
Pang Gang v Emperor, 1386
Panton v Jones, 1296
Pappumal v Almelu, 1270, 1285

327, 344, 353

1246
Parasurama v Mahireddi, 1281
Parbati v Chandrapal, 216, 576, 593
Parbati v Dharmraj, 814
Parbati v Digpati, 228
Parbati v Jagadish, 1225
Parbati v Maharaj, 249 593 1197
Parbhu v Emperor, 172
Parbhulal v Mylu, 1277
Parbutty Dass v Paru Chandra, 278 657 951

Parcell v Macnamara, 702
Parchappa v Ma U, 1355
Pardoe v Price, 893
Parfit v Lawless, 1182
Parsh v Anath, 348 1259
Parfit v Lawless, 1184, 1187
Parker v Hoskins, 934
Parker v Ibbetson, 1079
Parker v Manning, 1300
Parker v Morrell, 335, 339
Parker v Yates, 1344
Parkin v Moon, 1425, 1426 1453 1455
Parkin v Parkin, 1111
Parkins v Hawtshaw, 333
Parmalle v Thompson, 670
Pamanand v Arabat, 1118
Parmanand v Sahib Ali, 1180
P v A v G v H 1112

- People v Kenyon, 846
 People v Kubuk, 1207
 People v McGee, 1318
 People v McMichen, 175
 People v Moett, 793
 People v Olmstead, 528
 People v Perverelly, 139
 People v Robinson, 135, 176
 People v Sanchez, 528
 People v Schlessel, 678
 People v Sharp, 292
 People v Shea, 800
 People v Southern, 539
 People v Strong, 66
 People v Superior, 51
 People v Taylor, 1317
 People v Thomas, 397
 People v Union Insurance Co., 2
 People v Van Alstine, 1351
 People v Vandam, 791
 People v Van Horn, 129
 People v Varle, 55
 People v Vileto, 50
 People v White, 175, 800
 Perry v Rim, 1580
 Percival v Nason, 518, (1) 61 765
 567, 574
 Percy's Case, 173
 Percy Supper Club v Whyte, 298
 Perham v Rynal, 813
 Perkins v Adams, 1433
 Perkins v Jeffery, 251, 291
 Perkins v Sewell, 2
 Perkins v Vaughan, 108
 Perriannah v Blhaw, 926
 Periaswami Moopan In re, 187, 193
 Permanand v Sri Prasad, 980
 Permanent Trustee v Fels, 893
 Perry v Gibson, 1405, 1419
 Perriman v Siggall, 33
 Perry v Phosphur Bros, 1571, 1572
 Pershad v Ram Pershad, 22
 Persons v Hayward, 1175
 Perry v Smith, 1350
 Perth Peerage Case, 605
 Pertip v Mohendra, 1032
 Pertapnarain v Triloknath, 626
 Perton, Re, 307, 566, 561
 Perumal Chittur v Raghavachariar, 927
 Peston Re, 303
 Pestonji v Framji, 1095
 Pestonji v Queen, 1137
 Petch v Lyon, 333
 Peter v Mahomed, 551, 911
 Peterborough v Morduant, 877
 Pethering v Turner, 321
 Peto v Hague, 325, 326
 Peto v Westham, 19
 Petric v Nuttal, 698
 Petroleum v Deen, 741
 Pettibone v U S, 176
 Pettison v Bankes, 2
 Petumbar v Ruten, 87
 Pfaff v Vanbatenberg, 911
 Phandri v Hemangini, 1081
 Pharoa v Emperor, 1175
 Phatali Singh v Emperor, 818
 Phukan Singh v Emperor, 1502
 Pheloo v Greenh, 1011, 1086
 Phelps v Prew, 130, 1187
 Phenes' Trusts, In re, 1161, 1165, 1169, 1170
 R v Phibbs, 936
 Phiffs v Hild, 921
 Phillips v L S W Ry, 201
 Phillimore v Barry, 1015
 Phillips v Bene, 1193
 Phillips v Cole, 555
 Phillips v Davies, 1455, 1176
 Phillips v Lamer, 1105
 Phillips v Elget, 120
 Phillips v Lare, 8
 Phillips v Chare, 571
 Philipson v Chase, 907
 Phillips v Hopwood, 51
 Phillips v Hodson, 661
 Phillips v Im Thurn, 1301
 Philpot v Bath, 1178
 Philpott v St George's Hospital, 3
 Phoenix Mut Life Ins Co, v Clark, 601
 Phoenix Trading Co v Dewar Chund, 1505
 Phool Bibec v Gobind Chunder, 917, 950
 Phot v Rance, 976
 Phil Chund v Lakkha, 1183, 1185
 Phillo v Bhims, 1185, 1256
 Poylo v Wardell, 1053
 Pura v Empress, 456, 181
 Pura Ram v Solawa, 1212
 Pichara v Hitchcock, 702
 Pichamma v D, 535
 Pichayayam v Subbayyan, 1256
 Pickens v State, 813
 Pickering v Bask, 1251
 Pickering v Dawson, 1023
 Pickering v Noyes, 1359, 1486
 Pickering v Stamford, 1221
 Pickering Re, 1349
 Pickard v Sears, 503, 1236, 1241, 1245, 1246, 1247, 1248, 1252, 1253, 1271, 1308
 Pickup v Harris, 1123, 1124
 Picton's Trust, 167, 674, 1460
 Pidlun v Franks, 1307
 Percy Re, 923
 Piers v Piers, 778
 Piggot v E C Ry, 126
 Piggot v Stratton, 1241
 Pike Bewa v R, 391
 Pike v Bradbury, 940
 Pilkington v Gray, 911
 Pillakkakadu v Chandrayy, 718
 Pilot v Craze, 179
 Pim v Corell, 577, 697, 698
 Pindell v Rubenstein, 320

Premji t Dasa, 377
Prem Sukh t Bhupar, 1176
Prem Sukh t Prithee Ram, 373
Prenties t Russ, 1053
Preonath t Bissesswar, 937
Preonath t Durga, 668 976, 977, 977
Preonath t Madhu, 1041, 1041 1046, 1048, 1049
President of U. B t Balkrishna, 1212
President t Chalikaman 1099
Price wood t Watson, S 8
Pria Krishna t Aiyappa, 15
Priannath t Durgatarami, 88
Prildat t Salub Khan, 929, 938
Price t Burra, 158
Price t Earl of Torrington, 516 517
Price t Hollis, 357
Price t Lay, 1059
Price t Manning, 1450, 1455, 1456
Price t Neale, 1304
Price t Page, 1033
Price t Price 1174, 1209
Price t Simon, 311
Price t State 171
Price t Torrington, 516 519 63, Price t United States 1491
Price t Woodhouse, 370
Pridde t Napper, 681
Prideaux t Collier, 91
Primrose, A J, in the goods of 974, 975, 979
Priestman t Thomas, 692, 710, 711 717, 1240
Prince v Blackburn, 931
Prince t Nawab, 598
Prince t Simo, 311, 677, 678, 679, 1118
Prinsep v Dyce 1 30
Prionath v Madhusudan, 1011
Pritchard t Bhugabaw 356
Pritchard t Drapper, 735
Pritchard t Emperor, 44, 254, 282, 284 295
Pritchard v Pritchard, 350
Prithee Singh t Court of Wards, 956
Problakor t Vishambhar 23
Probbat v Bijoy Chandra, 1299
Probbu v R 395
Probodh v Birsinha 1139
Probodh t Harish, 1256
Proctor v Bennis, 1270, 1307
Prodyot t Jori 1277
Profila v Bickford, 504
Prof. H. C. B. 1007 1007 1007 1007

Promotha t Mohini, 7
Promod Das t Russick Lal, 1221
Proanno t Chunder, 845
Proanna t Land Mortgage, 666
Proonno t Kaldas, 317
Proser v Lancashire, 1025
Prosunno t Golab, 1112
Prosunno t Mahabarat, 1293
Prosunno t Secretary of State, 1116, 1213
Protah t Shornaj, 1183
Protap t Emperor, 167, 403, 530
Protap t Empress, 68
Protap t Jagadiah, 581, 661, 777
Protap t Mohammad, 1095
Protap t Rex, 68
Provat t Cherag Ali 1018
Prowse t E & A's Co, 740 Prudential Assurance Co v Edmonds 1071
Pludham t Phillips, 716, 717
P. S. Narayan t Emperor, 1383
P. Somraj t M. Venkata Subbaraya, 1609
P. Subba T. ran 525
Public Prosecutor v Bala Nogi 592
Public Prosecutor t Bonegari, 279
Public Prosecutor t Chandaya, 408, 409, 120
Public Prosecutor t Kandi Simi, 753, 950
Public Prosecutor t Nagarajus, 1213
Public Prosecutor v Sarabu, 1013
Public Prosecutor v Veda, 1432
Public Prosecutor t Veera, 440 752
Pudai Singh t Brij Mangal 879
Palaka Vietil t Thiruthipalli 929
Pulin t Emperor, 180 391, 400
Pulin t Satya 705, 711
Pulin Behari v Mohendra 905
Pulin Bihari v K. D., 950
Pulin Bihari v Watson, 678, 1127
Pullama t Emperor, 1495
Punim Chand, in re, 37
Punardeo t. Ram, 13
Pundlik v Bhagwant, 1265
Pundlik v Urkunda, 1293
Punji t Bhadu, 1493
Punjab v Nathu, 1170
Punjab Court of Wards v Lal Kanwar, 1237
Punjab N Bank t Mercantile Bank
750
Punjab Singh v Ramautar, 378
Puran Chand t Chabir, 1580
Puran Pande v Dhanapat, 350
Puran v Girish 951
Puran v Nani, 1118
Puran v Sariff, 341
Purbatty v Purno, 704

Purna Chandra v Radhika, 988
 Purna Chandra v Ramesh Chandra, 229
 Putnam v Nand, 631
 Pushong v Moorin, 1185, 1186
 Pussel v Padon, 1391
 Puthen Vithal In re, 1167, 1111
 Puthi v Nand Kishore, 1012
 Puthen V. Hd. Re, 202 1206
 Puthiah v Veeranna, 37
 Putnam v Goodall, 873
 Pyarilal v Ghansaram, 1072
 Pyralil In the matter of, 622 623
 Pye v Butterfield, 1462
 Pyke v Cronch 610 627
 Pym v Campbell 1036 1065 1066 1058 1069
 Pynda v Pynda, 1072

Q

Q v Narattam, 18
 Q v Perumal, 1585
 Q v Shufut, 14
 Qunheong v Mg Po 9 6 970
 Q v Tribunal, 1576
 Quartzhill etc In re, 32
 Que n's Case 146 185 310 391, 677, 883, 1314 1417, 1429 1461
 Queen Caroline v King, 145
 Queen v Abdul, Latif, 30
 Queen v Alagan, 86 16
 Queen v Ahmed Ali, 758
 Queen v Amrullah, 948
 Queen v Amir Khan, 159 181, 182 193
 Queen v Amiruddin, 183 671 629
 Queen v Ammugon, 939
 Queen v Anurag, 783
 Queen v Anunta, 1312 1315 1385
 Queen v Babar Ali, 135
 Queen v Babu Lal, 92, 1447
 Queen v Balduruddeen, 68
 Queen v Bujoo, 487, 489 490, 494 1341
 Queen v Baikuntha, 1382
 Queen v Bakhore C, 318
 Queen v Banwaree, 188
 Queen v Bisruddin, 480
 Queen v Bedfordshire, 576, 578
 Queen v Behary, 769, 1368
 Queen v Belat, 490
 Queen v Belat Ali, 480, 487 489
 Queen v Bhamra, 46
 Queen v Bholanath, 1321
 Queen v Bishnath, 617
 Queen v Bishoo, 791
 Queen v Bissorajin, 523 530
 Queen v Bouj, 57
 Queen v Boora, 1780
 Queen v Brindaban, 1132
 Queen v Brown, 1460
 Queen v Bunwaree, 487, 488, 190
 Queen v Bykunt, 1381
 Queen v Caroline, 213
 Queen v Chaka Khan, 391
 Queen v Chandra Kanta, 1312

Queen v Chandra Kumar, 87
 Queen v Chando, 1785
 Queen v Cheria Kona, 30
 Queen v Chirag, 1380
 Queen v Chunder Bhattacharyya, 491, 492, 495 498
 Queen v Chutterhare, 1371, 1383, 1496
 Queen v Deoli, 1327
 Queen v Digambar, 523 510
 Queen v Dora, 453
 Queen v P.
 Queen
 Queen
 Queen
 Queen
 Queen v Etwaro, 629
 Queen v Evans, 151, 1201, 1206
 Queen v Exeter, 554
 Queen v Gangadhar, 1325
 Queen v Ganraj, 490
 Queen v Gola, 1372 1380
 Queen v Goloka, 888
 Queen v Gopal Das, 1313, 1361, 1439
 Queen v Gozloo, 518, 620, 841
 Queen v Greedhory, 893
 Queen v Halbert, 631
 Queen v Hardew, 433
 Queen v Haribol, 438, 440, 411, 450 1700
 Queen v Hari Charan, 1432
 Queen v Hick, 173 128
 Queen v Hiralal, 1 21
 Queen v Hosain, 1513
 Queen v Hyder, 392
 Queen v Ishan, 1491
 Queen v Ishri, 675
 Queen v Issen, 1350
 Queen v Itwaria, 1312
 Queen v Itwary, 1315, 1587
 Queen v Jaffir Ali, 359, 451, 453, 491
 Queen v Jagat, 425
 Queen v Jachand, 185
 Queen v Ju Singh, 419
 Queen v Jire Charin, 449
 Queen v Jemr, 431
 Queen v Jhuree, 391, 395
 Queen v Jannavata, 483, 1380
 Queen v Kahi, 87, 869
 Queen v Kallichand, 1380
 Queen v Kally Charan, 480
 Queen v Kala Paul, 854
 Queen v Kamah, 152
 Queen v Kamner, 755
 Queen v Kanwar, 844
 Queen v Keshub, 457, 490
 Queen v Khander, 46, 152
 Queen v Khulree, 187, 488, 190, 192
 Queen v Khyroollah, 1319
 Queen v Kristo, 420 1130
 Queen v Kunj, 491
 Queen v Kuluom Sheikh, 799
 Queen v Lakh, 518, 621

Queen t Lakkum, 615 623
 Queen t Lachmea, 1332
 Queen t Lachoo, 130, 473
 Queen t Luckhy, 623
 Queen t Lal Sahai, 1312
 Queen t Mac lannat, 119, 379
 Queen t Ma lhab, 68 156
 Queen t Mahesh, 187, 189, 190
 Queen t Mahun, 799 1351
 Queen v Malapa, 491
 Queen t Manaji, 31
 Queen t Mangal, 30
 Queen t Manikan, 1321
 Queen v Manu, 402
 Queen v Narain, 450
 Queen v Narain Tel, 492
 Queen v Narain, 1321
 Queen v Pagori, 452, 458, 461, 462
 Queen t Perumal, 1315
 Queen v Petta, 68
 Queen v Phoolchand, 799
 Queen t Pitambar, 809 1196
 Queen t Poorusoolah, 68
 Queen t Price, 30 31
 Queen t Prince, 37
 Queen v Prosonna, 623
 Queen t Queen, 46
 Queen v Ramchandia, 1429
 Queen t Rani Charan, 849
 Queen v Ram Churn, 159
 Queen t Ram Dutt, 611
 Queen t Ramgopal, 87
 Queen t Ramlal, 36
 Queen v Ramsadry, 1585 1576
 Queen t Ramsagar, 1380
 Queen v Ram Saran, 1384
 Queen v Rina, 625
 Queen v Ranjert, 391
 Queen v Salders Company, 713
 Queen t Sadhu Mandal, 410, 481 492 494 1331
 Queen t Sagin, 476
 Queen t Sewa, 1315

Queen t Shikhabat, 450
 Queen t Shama Charan, 1101
 Queen t Sheikh Boodhoo, 391
 Queen t Sheikh Bunoo, 183
 Queen t Sheikh Mogan, 87
 Queen t Sheikh Mustafa, 135
 Queen t Shoo Bhogin, 1312, 1541
 Queen t Shibu, 809
 Queen t Shitya, 968
 Queen v Sonnoolih, 391
 Queen t Soohyun, 391
 Queen t Soroh Roy, 68, 135
 Queen t Subarayan, 778
 Queen t Saroop, 1401
 Queen t Tarapershal, 1321
 Queen t Tarnee, 571
 Queen t Thomson, 106
 Queen t Tulsi, 1350
 Queen t Ujjad, 523
 Queen t Uzier, 127
 Queen t Vajram, 190 968
 Queen t Whitehead, 131
 Queen v Warringham, 117
 Queen t Lalur, 136
 Queen Empress t Abdulla, 3 11 10, 87, 110 111, 152 51, 516 520, 816
 Queen Empress v Alagappan, 191
 Queen Empress v Alagu, 1576
 Queen Empress v Ali Baksh, 110
 Queen Empress v Amba Prasad, 279
 Queen Empress v Angavallayan, 399
 402
 Queen Empress v Appa, 396
 Queen Empress v Arumugan, 953
 Queen Empress v Bibu Lal, 879, 438, 439 110 417, 451, 452, 453, 456 178
 160, 62
 Queen Empress v Baldro, 1385
 Queen Empress t Bai Mahakur, 1187
 1153
 Queen Empress t Balgangadhar, 579
 1114
 Queen Empress t Ballurichna, 1137
 Queen Empress t Ballappa, 433
 Queen Empress t Bilya, 406 410 132
 Queen Empress v Bapu Narain, 1012
 Queen Empress t Barton, 1368
 Queen Empress v Basya, 460
 Queen Empress t Basyuta, 406 111, 629
 Queen Empress v Baswant, 410 431
 630
 Queen Empress v Bava, 491
 402
 Queen Empress v Bharmappa, 431
 Queen Empress v Bhika, 401, 1364
 Queen Empress t Bindu, 431
 Queen Empress v Bipin, 438

Queen Empress v Raghv, 102
Queen Empress v Ramam, 112
Queen Empress v Ram Chandra, 629,
629, 1401, 1500, 1502
Queen Empress v Ram Charan, 175
Queen Empress v Ramin, 1132
Queen Empress v Ramia, 36
Queen Empress v Ramjin Ali, 133, 822
Queen Empress v Ramnarayan, 191
Queen Empress v Ramnarup, 615
Queen Empress v Ram Sewik, 1311
Queen Empress v Rana Dhan, 1339
Queen Empress v Rang, 131
Queen Empress v Rana, 431
Queen Empress v Rahoo, 1212
Queen Empress v Rappya, 431
Queen Empress v Sahnah, 197
Queen Empress v Silub Singh, 629
Queen Empress v Silamu bin, 192
Queen Empress v Silig Ram, 31
Queen Empress v Sami Papi, 113, 150
Queen Empress v Sami, 101
Queen Empress v Samiappa, 969, 1351
Queen Empress v Sa gappa, 393
Queen Empress v Sayad Sirfuldin, 641, 1477
Queen Empress v Shaya, 1585
Queen Empress v Sha la, 100
.

1101
Queen Empress v S. Jayam, 22
.. 1 32
.
.
.
.
450,
100, 803
Queen Empress v Surendra, 526
Queen Empress v Suman, 82
.
.
31
Queen Empress v Tipru, 1369
Queen Empress v Tribhovan, 380 441, 446
Queen Empress v Tiru Narasimha, 31
Queen Empress v Tulja, 30, 31, 36, 37
Queen Empress v Tulasp, 947, 950
Queen Empress v Tulsh, 1231
Queen Empress v Uma, 498
Queen Empress v Uzeer, 479
Queen Empress v Vajram, 22, 93
Queen Empress v Vaju, 869
Queen Empress v Viram, 896, 966, 1013
Queen Empress v Viraperumal, 1315, 1584, 1585
Queen Empress v Yakub, 1473
Queen Empress v Zahir, 115
Quick v Quick, 281

Quick v Staines 503
Quinn v Higgins, 737
Quinn v Leatham 177, 179
Quiter v Jorss, 893

R

R v Abbot, 16
R v Abdulla, 22
R v Abdul Wahid, 232
R v Abraham, 109
R v Abraham*, 152
R v Abramowitz, 135
R v Adams, 158, 1205
R v Addis, 1371, 1376
R v Ahmed, 68
R v Aickles, 618, 908
R v Akhileswar, 126
R v Alexander, 151
R v Alison, 783, 1019
R v Allerton, 1190, 1191
R v Ali Hussain, 392
R v Amanulla, 618
R v Amrit 490
R v Anderson, 1323
R v Antrim, 1491
R v Appleby, 480
R v Antrobus, 578, 771
R v Armstrong, 256, 284, 290
R v Arnold, 430, 479
R v Arundel, 150
R v Ashbur, 428
R v Ashton, 521
R v Ashutosh 36, 46, 56
R v Aspinall, 1466
R v Attrin, 1391
R v Atwood, 1372
R v Audley, 1152
R v Austin, 521, 522, 621
R v Autrobus, 525, 701
R v Avery, 1350, 1353
R v Babu Lal, 305, 397, 389, 450
R v Bailey, 291
R v Baines, 15
R v Baldry, 392, 427
R v Ball, 135, 165, 275, 1453
R v Balls, 293
R v Balret, 1327
R v Banbury 4
R v Banies, 14
R v Banton, 187
R v Barbot, 125
R v Baker, 520, 523, 525, 803
R v Baldry, 1430
R v Barham, 4
R v Barlet, 147, 477
R v Barnet, 1476
R v Barron, 280
R v Baskerville 185, 41386
R v Bate 427, 472
R v Bateman, 389, 413
R v Bayaji Kom, 492
R v Bealsdale, 141

- R v Beard, 265 1231
 R v Bedfordshire, 574, 575 576, 578, 580 607
 R v Beddingfield, 92, 101, 102, 104, 112 117, 119
 R v Beecham, 801
 R v Beezely 1418
 R v Beeston 632
 R t Behary, 66, 257
 R v Belaney, 135
 R v Bell, 472
 R v Behari Sing 69
 R v Bellies, 658
 R v Berenger, 1424
 R v Berger 576, 580
 R v Berrard, 1337
 R v Barriman, 478
 R v Berryman, 437
 R v Best, 178, 437
 R v Bertrand 46
 R v Beshor, 394
 R v Bexly, 158 530
 R v Bezezeley, 1404
 R v Bhakeree, 1389
 R v Bhima, 442, 466
 R v Rhodes 290
 R v Bholu, 255
 R v Bird, 389, 617
 R v Biggn, 796
 R v 9

 R v Blandey, 214
 R v Blatherwick, 1376
 R v Bleasdale, 100
 R v Bleasdale, 255
 R t Bliss 101, 103 852 560, 576, 577, 579
 R v Bloomesbery, 1211
 R v Bodle, 1404
 R v Bond 100, 128 251, 255, 284 285 287, 293, 295, 1482, 1484 1486
 R v Bous and another, 1570
 R t Bottomly, 538, 1461
 R t Boulton, 178
 R v Bowes, 188
 R v Boyes, 1362, 1373
 R v Boyle, 389
 R t Boyle & Merchant, 293
 R t Brailford, 178
 R v Brampton, 741
 R v Brandreth, 162, 184, 188
 R t Brasier, 141, 153, 783
 R t Brayness, 293
 R t Brogler, 1312
 R t Brennan, 993
 R t Brewer, 1354
 R t Bridgely, 96
 R v Brightside Brierley, 222 577, 681, 635, 699
 R v Briggs, 161
 R v Brikett and Brady, 1375, 1376
 R t Brimingham, 569
 R v Briscoe, 179
 R v Britain, 179
 R t Brojo, 85
 R v Brook, 1405
 R t Broome, 164
 R t Brown, 826 1460, 1461
 R v Broughton, 390
 R v Broodbury, 792
 R v Bryan, 472
 R v Buckley, 133
 R t Buddho, 389
 R t Bundy, 172
 R t Bury, 691
 R v Burdett, 50, 69, 71, 150, 1154, 1156, 1210
 R v Bendock, 156
 R t Bulz, 620, 1404, 1453
 R v Burdott, 1404, 1405
 R v Burridge, 828
 R t Burke, 1448
 R v Burbey, 175
 R v Burnadott, 521
 R t Butcher, 451 618
 R v Butler, 394
 R v Bynaunt Nath, 1371
 R v Byasgov, 389
 R t Cambell, 858
 R t Cammelleri, 155
 R v Canning, 300
 R v Car, 1373
 R v Carey, 1374
 R v Carter, 275
 R t Cartwright 172
 R v Casement, 260
 R t Castro, 164 167, 177, 690, 632
 R v Cartleton, 894 906
 R v Caton, 188
 R v Champneys, 7
 R v Chakoo Khan, 678
 R v Chander Kumar, 87
 R v Chandra Kant, 1341
 R v Chapman, 389, 652, 1373
 R t Chudley, 319, 1027
 R v Cheverton, 430
 R v Child, 617
 R v Choaramoni 389
 R v Christie, 161, 104, 157, 158, 521
 R v Chrisopper 613
 R v City of London, 4
 R v Chapman, 172, 644
 R v Clark, 154
 R t Clarke, 803, 1361, 1405
 R t Cleary, 520, 521
 R v Clay, 803
 R v Cleverton, 472, 473
 R t Clewes, 133 136, 165, 303, 423, 472, 677
 R v Cluse, 1465
 R t Lobbit, 813
 R t Cobden, 96, 100
 R t Cockburn, 621

R v Cockcroft, 1165
 R v Cockcroft, 803
 R v Cohen, 621, 1376
 R v Cole, 381, 800
 R v Coleman, 749
 R v Coley, 430
 R v Collier, 430, 172
 R v Colmer, 418
 R v Colpus, 360
 R v Connell, 311
 R v Connolly, 1226
 R v Cook, 19
 R v Cooke, 1231
 R v Cooper, 393, 479, 172, 173, 1203
 R v Coote, 359, 418
 R v Cope, 180, 513
 R v Corbit, 538
 R v Corder, 139
 R v Cotton, 591
 R v Cotton, 288
 R v Court, 403, 427
 R v Cowle, 610, 618
 R v Cox, 158
 R v Cox and Railton, 1353
 R v Craven, 521
 R v Crease, 133
 R v Criffen, 148, 164, 165
 R v Crossfield, 392
 R v Crouch, 760, 770
 R v Croydon, 416, 417, 430
 R v Crowe, 351
 R v Crowhurst, 109, 150, 1203
 R v Crump, 159
 R v Crutenden, 1205
 R v Cuffery, 185
 R v Culpepper, 896
 R v Curtes, 523
 R v Curvey, 1228
 R v Dadu, 391
 R v Daji, 388
 R v Dale, 293
 R v Daspard, 1366
 R v Davies, 100, 265
 R v Davis, 275
 R v Davlin, 511
 R v Davison, 809
 R v Dawber, 1373
 R v Day, 631
 R v Daye, 1485, 1497
 R v Dearey, 185
 R v Debendra, 137
 R v Debendra Prosad, 253
 R v DeBerenger, 651, 670, 954
 R v Denio, 899
 R v Dent, 741
 R v Derrington, 198, 475
 R v Desard, 137, 1375, 1376
 R v Dewherat, 1205
 R v Dewhurst, 893
 R v Dexter, 541
 R v Dhanka, 403
 R v Dhurm Dutt, 453
 R v Dickson, 172
 R v Dilmore, 632

R v Dina Shakh, 1371
 R v Dipnarnun, 192
 R v Dixon, 1211, 1361
 R v Degharty, 127
 R v Doherty, 261
 R v Donellan, 151
 R v Donnall, 112, 148, 118
 R v Dergal, 397
 R v Doolinn, 1105
 R v Doolin, 630
 R v Dorgett, 112
 R v Doucet, 111, 263
 R v Dougal, 437
 R v Douglas, 1576
 R v Dowling, 1366
 R v Downer, 331, 334, 1353
 R v Drage, 275
 R v Drew, 130
 R v Duke, 1376
 R v D - 500, 500
 1318

 R v Durham, 1372
 R v Dwyer, 115
 R v Dwyer, 168, 183
 R v Dyann, 393
 R v Dyer, 1317
 R v Dyke, 1279
 R v Elahi Bux, 22
 R v East, 899
 R v Edge, 870, 900
 R v Edmonds, 311, 677, 678
 R v Edmondsons, 20
 R v Edmundson, 20
 R v Edwards, 118, 1476
 R v Egerton, 161, 293
 R v Elahi Bux, 1371
 R v Eligh, 384, 393
 R v Elies, 477
 R v Elizabeth, 476
 R v Elizlaugher, 116
 R v Elus, 90, 96, 98, 100, 161, 206, 478, 479
 R v Ellwood, 135
 R v Elworthy, 889, 908
 R v Ely, 827
 R v Enoch, 427
 R v Eriawell, 582, 596, 597, 614, 621, 624, 866, 1404
 R v Erith, 595, 594
 R v Essex, 20
 R v Ethos, 2
 R v Evans, 109
 R v Exall, 109, 1202
 R v Exeter, 560, 564, 573
 R v Eytrehan, 1578
 R v Eyre, 154
 R v Fagant, 621
 R v Farnie, 125, 317
 R v Fakrap, 22

- R v Fakiappa, 253
 R v Farler, 1374, 1376
 R v Francis, 770
 R v Farbay, 1353
 R v Farr, 908
 R v Farrel, 620
 R v Ferringdon, 802, 986, 989, 1231
 R v Fata Adazi, 530
 R v Feignbum, 1373
 R v Ferguson, 167
 R v Fennal, 427
 R v Fennel, 420
 R v Firth, 96, 99, 476
 R v Fitzgerald, 538
 R v Fitzpatrick, 538
 R v Flanagan, 137
 R v Flannagan, 288, 289
 R v Flapert, 317
 R v Fletcher, 480
 R v Fantam Morean, 222, 700
 R v Folut, 751
 R v Forbes, 275, 631
 R v Ford, 1476
 R v Forsey, 899
 R v Forsyth, 672, 970, 1314
 R v Fowkes, 95, 115, 112
 R v Forester, 521
 R v Froster, 275
 R v Frost, 135
 R v Fureay, 870
 R v Furey, 161, 165, 883
 R v Galbarauh, 265
 R v Gangin, 432
 R v Garner, 416, 420
 R v Garbet, 1362
 R v Garbett, 451
 R v Gardner, 390, 437, 476, 903, 1317
 R v Garner, 288, 414, 423, 424, 427, 672
 R v Gay, 533
 R v Gazard, 617
 R v Geo Gordon, 182
 R v Georing, 141, 142, 253, 288
 R v Gellis, 427
 R v George Gordon (Lord), 175, 1363
 R v Gbarya, 432
 R v Gholam Ismail, 31
 R v Gibbons, 415, 416, 1343
 R v Gibson, 123, 118, 691, 1198
 R v Gibney, 427
 R v Gilham, 426, 427, 473, 479, 1313
 R v Gellies, 419, 428
 R v Girod, 292
 R v Gloster, 109, 272, 290, 523
 R v Gobordhan, 147
 R v Gocool, 66
 R v Goddard, 101, 104, 140
 R v Goodwin, 275
 R v Gopal, 389
 R v Gopal Das, 22, 1433
 R v Gopcenath, 389
 R v Gordon, 105, 162, 188, 893, 964, 1011
 R v Gordon Kinlock, 1479
 R v Gould, 396
 R v Gour, 391
 R v Governor, 970
 R v Govinda, 499
 R v Grant, 135, 137
 R v Gray, 288, 291, 309, 358
 R v Grayson, 476
 R v Green, 146, 275, 423, 429, 479, 608
 R v Greene, 652, 671
 R v Greenwich, 334, 594
 R v Griffin, 396, 1343
 R v Grinberg, 1204
 R v Gully, 823
 R v Gunnell, 108
 R v Gurney, 185
 R v Guttridge, 272, 622
 R v Hagan, 173, 143, 620, 1405
 R v Haines, 359, 362
 R v Hall, 326, 479, 1217
 R v Hammond, 185
 R v Hankins, 1361
 R v Hannanta, 315, 567
 R v Hannat More, 423
 R v Hanson, 116
 R v Hardwick, 179, 416
 R v Hardwicke, 370, 334, 340
 R v Hardy, 103, 109, 184, 350, 362, 1337
 R v Harner, 620
 R v Harringworth, 940
 R v Harris, 396, 679, 1157, 1359, 1404
 R v Harrison, 143, 622
 R v Harvey, 947, 951, 1228, 1481
 R v Harwood, 275
 R v Hastings, 1373
 R v Hawes, 652
 R v Haworth, 418, 877, 910
 R v Haworthy, 903
 R v Hay, 1174
 R v Haywood, 1353
 R v Hayward, 521, 522
 R v Hezy, 148
 R v Heal, 390
 R v Heanthmore, 389
 R v Hearn, 423, 427
 R v Hearne, 391
 R v Hedger, 137
 R v Hemp, 1461
 R v Heramun, 140
 R v Heseltine, 126
 R v Hearom, 137, 214, 287, 289, 620
 R v Hewit, 471
 R v Hewitt, 473
 R v Hewlett, 1205
 R v Hibert, 178
 R v Hickoy, 158
 R v Hicks, 294
 R v Higgins, 393, 394

R t Hall 120, 1231, 1312, 1315 1316
 R t Hind, 520 522 523, 524
 R t Hinley 275, 283
 R v Hurst, 137, 179
 R t Hutchell, 571
 R t Hodge, 67
 R t Hodgkins, 1419
 R t Hodgkins 801
 R t Hodgson, 803
 R v Hodnett, 4
 R t Hogan 621
 R v Hogg, 621
 R v Hoke, 631
 R v Holborn Union Guardian, 823
 R t Holden 1101
 R t Holmes 403, 420, 803 1311, 1578
 R v Holmes and Farnes, 1165
 R t Holt, 253 291 671, 831, 962, 970
 R v Holy Trinity, 591
 R t Hook 1359
 R t Hopkins, 268
 R v Hornbrook 422 430, 172 174
 R t Horne Tooke, 165
 R v Horner 429 472
 R v Horsford 105
 R v Howell 571
 R v Howes 423 472
 R t Hubbard 521
 R v Hulan, 621
 R t Huggins 274
 R v Hughes 1228
 R v Hungton, 697
 R t Hunt, 100 105 184, 280 678, 874, 883
 R v Hunter 880 890, 1359 1360
 R v Hurribole, 393
 R v Hurringworth, 917
 R t Husey 1409
 R v Hutchings 1240
 R v Hutchison, 520 522, 525
 R t Hyde 630
 R v Inhabitants of Brompton 783
 R v Inhabitants of Holy Trinity 1000
 R v Inhabitants of Mansfield 1194 1195
 R v Ishan, 1407
 R v Iswri, 140
 R v Isle of Ely 828
 R v Ismail 1481
 R v Jacobs, 185 471
 R v Jadab, 1473
 R v Jadubdas 433
 R v James, 1151
 R v Jameson 1151 1491
 R v Jarvis 139 275 476, 477
 R v Jellyman 1368 1369
 R v Jenkins, 511 522
 R v Jessop 530
 R v Johnson, 299
 R v J Lee 154
 R v John 158, 523, 534
 R v Jolliffe, 618
 R v Jones, 275 393, 396, 429, 824, 1014 1353, 1373

R t Kakolo, 1126
 R t Kalappa 161
 R t Kallou 161
 R t Kally Churan, 87
 R t Kamahia 112
 R t Kangol Mah, 789
 R t Kaye 109
 R t Kea, 1197
 R t Keating, 161
 R t Kelsey 1376
 R t Kelsie, 432
 R t Kenilworth 898, 899
 R t Kerr 437, 477
 R t Kershaw 137
 R t Kiddle 151
 R t King 255
 R t Kinghorn, 1571
 R t Kingston, 222, 416, 430
 R t Kirshna 46
 R v Kisto, 388
 R v Kiston, 909
 R t Kitson 905
 R t Klorowski 289
 R v Knight 473, 478 1226
 R v Kurash, 789 ...

R v Launder, 411, 421
 R v Lavin 479
 R v Law 137
 R v Lawton 877
 R v Laver 390
 R v Leatham, 893
 R v Ledbitter 632
 R v Lee C7, 632
 R v Lee Kun, 630
 R v Leibling, 437
 R v Leigh, 178, 697
 R v Leverson 1343
 R v Lian faethly 893
 R v Lillyman 152, 151 175 1401 1496
 R v Lindsay, 317
 R v Llafaethly 891, 1486
 R v Little 1452
 R v Lloyd 255 293 393 423 520
 R v Lochhurst 423
 R v Lonie, 516, 529
 R v Long, 96 473 739
 R v Loom 19
 R v Lord Mayor of London 1319
 R v Lovell 513
 R v Lovegrove, 294
 R v Local Govt Road 12
 R v Luchoo, 417 442
 R v Luckhurst 416, 4 9
 R v Luff 1190
 R v Luffe 1197
 R v Lumeley, 1160, 1170
 R v Lundy, 117
 R v Mabe, 4
 R v McDonald 308, 389, 442

R t Murphy, 179, 182, 183, 1405, 1407, 1453, 1461
R t Murry, 1190
R t Murton, 525
R t Muthu 614
R v Nabadoorp, 388, 475
R t Nagla Kali, 403, 450
R v Naguib, 317, 741
R v Nabakumar, 799
R t Nana, 383, 45C, 459, 102
R t Nash, 161, 1230
K t Natras, 292
R t Navorji 414
R v Nawaz Jan, 1371
R t Niz r, 392
R t Netherthong, 990
R t Neville, 125
R t Newstead, 1079
R t Nicholas 109 151, 272 331
R t Nichols, 1461
R t Nidheeram 1371
R t Norke, 620, 623
R t, Norcott, 155
R t Norris, 1201
R t Northcott 103, 154
R t Nutley, 591
R v Nur Mahomed, 253
R t O'Brien 283, 1337
R v O'Connell, 105, 181, 188, 677, 678
880, 900, 970, 1240
R t O Connor, 810
R v Oddey, 275
R t Oddy, £5 275
R t, O'Donnell, 183, 810
R v Ogilvie, 143, 150
R v Ohepman, 1401
R v Oldham, 13
R t Oliphant 93
R v Ophenheimer, 951
R v Orchard, 1401
R t Orton 661
R t Osborne, 101, 153, 151
R v Osman 522, 523
R v Owen, 418
R v Pagree Shabir, 442, 458
R v Paine, 391
R t Palm, 293
R t Palmer, 145 299
R v Pamentor, 1329
R t Panchanon 433, 442, 447
R t, Pandharinath 393, 442
R t Parnell, 178, 179
R t Parrat 416
R v Parsons, 179
R t Patch 145
R t Patridge, 429 1205 1206
R v Payne, 1316
R t Pearce 161, 859
R t Peel 522
R t Peet 522

R t, Petherton, 619
 R t Pears Lal, 22
 R t Phillips, 275
 R t Philpotts, 1150, 1192
 R t Pictou 742, 970
 R t Pike, 513 521, 522 531
 R t Pilly, 176
 R t Pirbhu, 581
 R t Pitambar, 87, 112, 417
 R t Piyari, 611
 R v Plumer, 299
 R v Pook, 103
 R v P. P. A., 161
 R v Prabhu Das, 57, 96, 91, 251, 793
 R v Pratt 129
 R t Fridmen, 179
 R v Pringle, 826
 R t, Pround, 292
 R t Pray, 520
 R t Pruiney 620
 R v Quin, 189, 1476
 R v Radford, 415 426
 R v Radhanath 128
 R v Raj Coomer, 339
 R v Rama, 456
 R v Rama Birapi, 22, 417, 450
 R v Raman, 432
 R v Ramchandra Govind, 87
 R v Ramcharan, 53
 R v Ramdoyal, 417
 R v Ram Dutt, 610
 R v Ramgopal, 87
 R v Ramsaran 798
 R v Rani Reddi 22
 R v Ram Lal 36
 R v Ram Luchan 68
 R v Ram Sabai 264
 R v Ramsden 1476
 R v Rangt, 450
 R v Rawden, 999
 R v Rawton, 807
 R v Rayton, 990
 R v Readon, 292
 R v Rearden, 96 141
 R v Reason 420, 423, 476 530
 R v Reason and Transfer, 533
 R v Redd, 780
 R v Rees, 477
 R v Reeve 426
 R v Regan 292, 953
 R v Ryan, 269
 R v Remnant 1491
 R v Rhodes 254 287, 1317
 R v Reley, 1365
 R v Richards, 423 429, 473
 R v Ruby 1466
 R v Richardson, 136 141, 173, 293, 295, 1337, 1338
 R v Richard, 770
 R v Rig 618
 R v Rivers 478
 R v Roberts, 100 186, 290

R t Robin, 803 1165
 R t Robinson, 276, 382, 390
 R t Rochia Mohatta, 632
 R v Ro len, 289
 R t, Rodrigues 1317
 R t Rogers, 679
 R t Rolat, 211
 R t Rooney, 111, 165
 R t Rose, 112, 473
 R t Rosa, 1359
 R t Row 115
 R t Rowlands, 178
 R t Rowley, 618
 R t Rowton, 111, 787, 801, 1161
 R t Radd 1312
 R t Rudge, 1160
 R t Rule, 171 173
 R t Russell, 11 1331
 R t Ruston, 1318
 R v Rutton, 257
 R t Ryan, 803, 1465
 R t Ryton, 959
 R t Sidhu Mondil, 191, 527
 R t Saha lu 393
 R t Sadler 530
 R t Silemukdin 412
 R v Salisbury, 100
 R t Salmon, 127
 R v Sankaricharya 391
 R v Sandys 418
 R v Saunders 291
 R v Savage, 317, 620, 741
 R v Sayer, 1079
 R v Scarfe, 527, 537, 539, 621, 622
 R v Schama 1204
 R v Scholy, 265
 R v Scott 953
 R v Searle, 734
 R v Seferg, 1019
 R v Sellers, 526
 R v Senton 423
 R v Sharpe, 828
 R v Shaw, 416, 474 1340
 R v Shecham, 1373, 1376
 R t Sheenan 1371
 R v Shepherd, 430 1195 1231
 R v Sherrington 471
 R v Silverocke 951
 R v Shumnein 1317
 R v Shimplan 801, 803
 R v Shrimton, 718
 R v Shiply, 40
 R v Silverlock, 734, 749, 860
 R v Simmonds, 1404
 R v Simmons, 315, 390, 392
 R v Simmony 1327
 R v Simonsie, 503
 R v Simpson 416, 429, 430
 R v Sippet, 390
 R v Skeen 4
 R v Skinner, 1441
 R v Slaughter, 415
 R v Sleeman 416, 426, 427

R t Whilbain, 750
R t Wilcock, 1
R t Wild, 426, 127, 177
R t Wilkes, 1373 1371, 1376
R t William, 172
R B Williams, 716, 642, 1121, 1152
R t Williams, 1113, 1371, 1317, 1476 1176, 1180
R t Willis, 1376
R t Will Shuk 1160
R t Williamson, 781
R t Wilson, 169, 165, 478, 620, 621, 778, 782, 1019, 1376
R t Winkworth, 293
R t Winslow, 258
R t Winsor, 116
R t Withers, 831, 1310 1313
R t Wonchum Kwai, 331
R v Wood, 151, 812, 1119
R t Woodcock, 519, 520 521, 522, 523, 539
R v Woodfol, 1228
R t Woodby, 1359
R v Wooldale 1082
R t Work, 188
R t Worth, 517, 559 563, 561
R v Wrangle 1025
R t Wright, 737
R v Wyatt, 291
R v Wylie, 275, 285
R v Yewin, 418
Rabutti Doosi v Shib Chunder, 171, 1081
R v Chole v R R Bell 5

[illegible]

Radha v Sarbeswar, 120
Radha v Sacamant, 1404
Radha Chowdhurani v Girdharce, 606
Radha Churn v Anund Sein, 666
Radha Churn v Zumutooniassa, 229
Radcliff v United Ins Co 651, 671 951
Radha v English, 1130
Radha v Giridhari, 151
Radha v Kalpataru, 266
Radha v Lakshmi, 23
Radha v Rakkhal, 247
Radha v Sarbeswar, 209, 366, 573
Radha Kanta v Abhoy Churan, 371, 1005
Radha Kanta v Ramnarain, 1217
Radha Kisan v Marwar, 901
Radha Kishan v Bhore Lal, 1263

Raghunath v budhounam 10 v
Raghunath v Lmperor, 233, 257, 487, 1372
Raghunath v G. Ganat 1129

Raghunath & Sir Rameswar, 65
Raghunathji v Yarywan Diu 1129

Hari

Rahman v Impress 43 513 5
Rahman v Isha Bih 103 1011
Rahman v Q 1 90
Rahmat v Bala Zuhra 189
Rahmat v Emperor 497
Rahia San I rans co Ry Co 1933
Rahimanesar v Madhab 1794
Rahmat Bai v Hirabai 77
Rahmatulla v Kamarnji 1915
Rahmatulla v Secretary of State 164
976 Rahim v Emperor 803
Rahim Bux v Emperor 502
Rahim v Channan 1138
Rahimbhoy v Charles 1111
Rahim Bibi v Chiragh Din 1193
Rahim B v 1 6 2 1600

Rahmatullah Sahib v Mahomed, 1138
Rai Bhaiya v Deobabdur 634
Rai Charan v Kumud 685
Rai Das v Bagolap 1116
Rai Ganga Pershad v Ishri Persad 923
Rai Jaung Bahadur v Rai Gudar 228, 235, 703
Rai Deo Mani v Ravi Sanhar 361
Rai Jatindra v Hari Charan 216
Rai Kiran Chandra v Srinath 1274
Rai Kishori v Kumudini 57
Rai v Forbes 172
Raines v Rames 509
Rai Radha Kishore v Jagat ulu 923

Raj Durga Prasad v Rajendra Narai
yan 1034
Raj Gopala v Ramanuja 1489
Raj Gopala v Subhimal 642
Raj Goundan v Rajah Goundan, 216, 604
Raj Gour Chandra v Raj Mukunda
1087
Raj Biren Lal v Akram Ali 1279
Raj Lelannal v Mt I akh ipatee, 571
1134
Raj Leclanun la v Mr Bisheeroonier, 819
Raj Leclanun la v Nasc b 577
Raj Leclanun la v Rajah Mohendra
71 1174
Raj Nalunoy v Ramnagarika 110

Raj of Kalahasti v Main Venkat 10-9
Raj of Bobbili v Bhovayamm, 1277
Raj of Coorg's Case, 1330
Raj of Coorg v East India 1335
Raj of Deo v Abdulla, 1276
Raj v Min 887
Rajulal v Shannmuga, 1251, 1267
1275

Rajmanna v Venkat, 1260
Rajni v Abani 1132
Rajni v Panchananda 924
Raj Proanno v Ramonee, 1389
Rajram v Bapu, 1135
Rajram v Emperor, 1304

Raj Bahadur v Bindeshri, 994
Raj Bahadur Mansing v. Nowala Khatu 1273

Raj Coomra v Bisceswar 363
Rajdulari v Krishna 1149
Rajendra v Behari, 877, 896
Rajendra v Bijoy 333, 334
Rajendra v Ganganda 215
Rajendra v Gopal 991
Rajendra v Jogendra, 914 951
Rajendra v Menoka, 925
Rajeswar v Ajabasing, 1222
Raj swari v Pulin Behari, 88, 89
Raj Lateh v Bala o Singh 218, 239
352 592
Raj Gir v Iswardi 897
Raj Gobordhan v Nasibn, 901
Rajib v Chowdhury 713
Rajib v L Khan 705 716, 717
Rajib v Zingeri, 1028 1254
Rajind v Ramprad 1149
Raj Kishen v Ramprad, 213, 214 215, 216 607
Raj Krishna v Kali 1140
Raj Kuer v Rabi Baksh, 1001
Raj Kumar v Alimuddi, 1176
Raj Kumar v Balanta, 667
Raj Kumar v Emperor, 302, 361, 419
458
Raj Kumari v Bama 703

Raj Mahomed v Hanoo, 552
Raj Narain v Abdul, 974
Raj Narain v Ashutoh, 1116
Raj Narain v Olivia, 513 636, 863
Raj Narain v Rawhani Mull, 281

Raj Narain v Universal Life Ass, 1267
 Raj Narain v Jadu Nandan, 1703
 Rajani Kant v Asan Mullick, 1268
 Rajoni v Asan 569
 Rajoni Kant, In the matter, of 1372
 Raj Rani v Hakem Chaud, 1067
 Raju Bazi v Krishna Ram 1277
 Rajwant v Mahant Ram 709
 Rajya Lakshmi v Surya Narayan, 213
 Rakhai v Emperor, 1130
 Rakhai v King Emperor, 1576
 Rakhai v Queen Empress, 148
 Rakhai v Prosad, 1135
 Rakhai Das v Indra Monee, 885
 Rakhai Bibi v Rihai Bibi, 1168

1052

1011

Ram v Banachudhar, 776
 Ralph v Carrick 1099
 Ram v Dildes, 1282
 Ram v Churkul, 991, 995
 Ram v Hurry, 636
 Ram v Kalab 1223
 Ram v Kanai, 1240
 Ram v Kishori, 1404
 Ram v Lakhpati, 603
 Ram v Malik, 901
 Ram v Mahammad 339
 Ram v Raghu, 1188
 Rama v Emperor, 470
 Rama v Appavu 216
 Ramachari v Sadho Saran, 991
 Ramadge v Rayan, 734, 739 769
 Ramakha v Rigaram, 1430
 Ram v 402

Bank

626 655

Rama Krishna v Adityam, 1064
 Rama Krishna v Narayan 695
 Ramalakshmi v Sivantha, 213, 578
 Ramalakshmi v Suranjit 215
 Ramal v Kakalkoli, 1915
 Ramalinga v Ganpat 623
 Ramal 650

Raman v Emperor 149, 151
 Ramanadi v Mt Kalawati 12
 Ramanamma v Golasu, 687

Ramanath v Lakshman 932
 Ramanath v Rogge 1217
 Ramanatham v Ramanathan, 1285
 Ramanathan v Maruguppi, 361 553, 554

Ramasami v Lokman 1137
 Ramasami v Nagendra, 760
 Ramasami v 1210

297
 , 657

7

516
 616

, 225,

Ram Bakshi v Kishori, 326 327
 Ram Birman v Sanat Kumar, 1034
 Rambert v Cohen, 1018
 Ram Bhagwan v Emperor, 603
 Rambhaji v Dhuni 1581
 Rambhajan Lal v Sheo Prosad 344
 Ram Bharosay v Janki Prosad, 1059, 1060 1094

Rambler v Tryon 783
 Ram Boran v Raminhora, 1251
 Rimbuddin v Rancee Sree Konwar
 1035

Ram Buksh v Kishori 302
 Ram Chand v Chhunoo 1133
 Ram Chand v Horman 129
 Ram Chand v Ratnawati, 1170
 Ram Chandra v Arhad Ali 1111
 Ram Chandra v Chandra Das 1129
 Ram Chandra v Emperor, 875 971
 1479 1480

Ram Chandra v Farzand 1212
 Ram Chandra v Gouri, 14
 Ram Chandra v Gulam 1206
 Ram Chandra v Hanif 1401
 Ram Chandra v Jogeswar 533, 593, 596 599, 601
 Ram Chandra v Jayram, 1266
 Ram Chandra v Kulas 1038

Ram Chantra v Kaniram, 1211
 Ram Chandra v Krishnath, 1023
 Ram Chandra v Prayath, 1297
 Ram Chandra v Raghunath, 682
 Ram Chandra v Tama, 1007
 Ram Chandra Rao v Mahomed, 1365
 Ram Charan v Gya Prasad, 329, 339
 Ram Charan v Shiva Jagat, 1278
 Ramcharitar v Emperor, 1463, 1466, 1471
 Ram Chori v Soraswati, 1275
 Ram Chunder v Bunsheedhar, 15
 Ram Chunder v Guri Nath, 19
 Ram Chunder v Harid, 266
 Ram Chunder v Durrani, 1138
 Ram Coomar v Beejoy Govind, 1158
 Ram Coomar v Mc Queen, 348, 362
 Ram Coomar v Moqueen, 176
 Ramdas v Chandrabik, 1147
 Ramdas v Ajuddin Das, 561
 Ramdas v Appavu, 771
 Ramdas v Bhawanit, 1129
 Ramdas v Chandi, 1144
 Ramdas v Chandra, 125
 Ramdas v K E, 1487
 Ramdas v Lal Chand, 1208
 Ramdas v Secretary of State, 731
 Ramdas v Chhotak, 1253
 Ramdas, Bishnudas Re, 1583
 Ramdas v Official Liquidator, 1
 Ram Das v Gumoni, 1148
 Ram Dayal v Empress, 451
 Ram Dayal v Heera Lal, 1043
 Ram Dayal v Pulab, 932
 Ram Das v Naipal, 581
 Ram Dei v Munna L, 927, 934, 942
 Ramdhan v Purushottam, 240
 Ramdhan v Emperor, 967
 Ramdhan v Kewal, 1035
 Ramdhan v Popi Bibi, 716
 Ram Dhan v Ram Dayal, 1483
 Ram Din v Kayastha, 603
 Ramdhan v Kewal, 1046
 Ramdoolal v Ridha, 1031, 1042
 Ramendra v Brojendra, 22
 Ram's Admir v Rames Creditors, 563
 Ramesh v K E, 967

Rameswar v Ghisawan Prasad, 1285

Ramhit v Emperor, 482
 Ram Horak v Hanwant, 1277
 Ramien v Veerappa, 73
 Ramien v Veerappa, 964, 995
 Rami Reddi In re, 22
 Rami Siran v Prin Peary, 499
 Ram Jadu v Lakshmi, 552
 Ramjng v Emperor, 1456
 Ram Jewan v Collector of Shihaba, 977
 Ramjban v Ahmed, 874
 Ramjban v Oghur Nath, 87, 1087, 109
 Ramjbanlal v Nandalal, 835
 Ramji Das v Shujuddin, 1003
 Ramji Das v Mithnal, 879, 1146, 121
 Ramji v Miheir, 1046
 Ramji v Rangayya, 689
 Ram Jolana v Emperor, 1312
 Ram Jotadar v Ramkrishna, 1582
 Ramkaran v Emperor, 848, 1471
 Ramkariyappa v Emperor, 451
 Ramkhetwan v Maharaja, 1262
 Ramkrishan v Emperor, 485
 Ramkrishan v Hardi Ram, 330
 Ramkrishna v Chinna, 778
 Ramkrishna v Emperor, 295
 Ramkrishna v Manindra Mohan, 200, 599
 Ramkrishna v Sriramulu, 662
 Ramkrishna v Tirunaryana, 589, 1141, 694
 Ram Lal v Hari Lal, 1260
 Ram Lal v Ghasiram, 961
 Ram Lal v Gobinda, 1071
 Ram Lal v Harrison, 1087, 1089
 Ram Lal v K E, 13, 15, 876
 Ram Lal v Muesi Spti, 939
 Ram Lal v Satya Niranjan, 991
 Ram Lal v Tula Ram, 703
 Ramlochan v Harinath, 878, 887
 Ramlochan v Unno Poorna, 1096
 Ramnal v Kakal Kol, 921
 Ram Mohine v Prankoomaree, 1257
 Ram Mulla, In the matter of, 492
 Ramnandan v Jorgovind, 665, 667, 936
 Ram Narain v Babu Singh, 1579
 Ram Narain v Chota Nagpur Banking Ass, 140
 Ram Narain v Durga Dutt, 694
 Ram Narain v Haro, 365
 Ramnarain v Monu Bibee, 581, 586, 601, 604

Ramnarain v Ram Coomer, 221
 Ram Narain v Tooki 710 718
 Ram Narayan v A. Hundre 929
 Ram Narayan v Chirkut, 9-9
 Ram Nath v Bhagwant Prasad, 1278
 Ram Nath v Special Managers, 1012
 Ramnathan v Murgappa 601
 Ram Nawan v Emperor 1151
 Ramnandan v Jangorin la 602
 Ram Oran v Doman Kalia 1278
 Ramrathin v Muruga swa, 739
 Rampal v Emperor 383
 Rampal v Prokash, 1261
 Rampal Ram v Subha Singh, 1118
 Rampal Singh v Bojrun Singh 239
 Ram Pershad v Lalhpatti 612 613
 Rampayara v Balaji 617
 Ramperahad v Lakhpati 247
 Ram Pershad v Renu Khoola patee, 1186 11-8
 Ram Pershad v Rattan Chand, 902 982
 Ram Prasad v Shriraman 373
 Ram Pray v Ram Raghur 89
 Ram Pratib v Sheo Lal 175
 Ram Prokash v Anand 200 227 658
 Ramprasad v Emperor, 172, 182, 1873, 1378
 Ram Prasad v Shrinaman 560
 Ramprasad v Lakhpati 197
 Ramprasad v Lala Sham, 365, 1532
 Ramprasad v Nathu, 1008 1018
 Ramprasad v Raghunandan 873 877
 Rampyarnabai v Balaji 545 552, 637
 Ram Rikha v Munnalal 1298
 Ramranjin v Emperor 1308
 Ramranjin v Jayanti Lal 1038
 Ram Rinjan v Ramnarain 225 226 227, 229, 230 232, 240, 241 636
 Ramratan v Shew Nandan 1261
 Ramratan v Ramlal 1583
 Ram Reddi v Seshu Reddi 631
 Ramrao v Ghulam, 1269
 Ramratan v Binda, 1288
 Ramratan v Sheodattarai, 1270
 Ramratan v Tarak 57
 Ramrathan v Muru Goppe, 591
 Ramrup v Debi Pershad 661
 Ramruden v Lyson 1269
 Ramsihoy v Secretary of State 729
 Ramsahu v Guri 925 941
 Ramsahai v Dwarka 57
 Ramsamujh v Mainath 924
 Ramsamy v Emperor 1311
 Ramsanehi v Emperor 399 402, 1311
 Ramsaran v Bhagwan 11
 Ramsaran v Govinda 1190
 - - - - - 11 - 217

Ramarup v Insola Kunwar, 1005, 1007, 1008
 Ramarup v Kishen, 1266
 Ramarup v Mja, 1250, 1251
 Ramarup v Ramnarain, 248 352, 658, 659
 Ramarup v Ramnarain, 1286
 Ramsotham v Bu khurst, 222 935
 Ramsotham v Tanbridge 990, 1025
 Ramsotham v Senior, 1310
 Rameden v Jacoba, 1391
 Ramdin v Dy on 1273 1270, 1231
 Ramfon v People, 793
 Ramshingh v Crown 459
 Ramshingh v Debi Din 0
 Ramshingh v Hannu 1278
 Ramshingh v Ibrahim 1068 1069
 Ramshingh v Imperial Bank 1267
 Ramshingh v Poramal 1067
 Ramshingh v Shrinar Dayal, 9
 Ramson v State 382
 Ramsonder v Akima, 817
 Ramsubhgh Chube v Keshu Prasad, 818
 Ramsundar v Collector of Gorakhpur, 1077
 Ramsundar v Chandaswar 902
 Ramsundar v Haribala, 250 657
 Ramswami v Kulandai 1288
 Ram Taran v Nanda, 1142
 Ramuchetty v Panchammal, 1001, 1039
 Ramudip v Ram 1262
 Ramzan v Asurn, 1295
 Rambert v Cohen, 1000
 Rambeer v Emperor 1873
 Ranched v Ravjohan 1003
 Ranchodas v Bihu 22 100 192, 210, 217 221, 231 232 235 641, 714
 Rancliff v Parkyns 9-6
 Randle v Blackburn 310, 503
 Rane v Hardyal 897
 Rane Shurut Sonduree v Collector of Mymensingh, 1138
 Rane Surnainoyee v Maharrajah Satis Chunder, 1500
 Rane Tillesree v Rane Ashmedh, 1300
 Raneswami v Balkishan 638
 Ringaswami v Sudrajulu 619
 Rangammal v Venkatachari, 716
 Rangam v Atchama 849 866
 Ringal v Chantal 1039
 Ringanayaka v Alwar 1051
 Ringappa v Rangaswami, 658 886 1176
 Ranga Rod v Kuthari Ammal 1033
 Rangasami v Gurna Sambandu 1140
 Rangasami v Soura Ayyan 965
 - - - - - 11 - 27

- Ringaswami Isenger, In re, 1155
 Ringay v Bisana, 1295
 Rang v Sheshappa, 1149
 Rang v Mungal 1144
 Rang v Mulhyappa, 1169
 Rang v Monee v Rajcoomsee, 1277
 Rang v Likhshman 1002
 Rani v Chaudhuri, 313
 Rani v Khagendra, 533
 Rani v Pindar, 79
 Rani v Rani 1268
 Rani Chandra v Chowdhury 501
 Rani Chandra v Kumud Mohan, 5
 Rani Dinomont v Jagat Chunder 208
 991 993
 Rani Herangona v Sarat Sunari 689
 Rani Hemanta Kumari v Mahariya
 Jogindra Nath, 1140
 Rani Mohi v Lichumsee 216
 Rani Prayag Kumari v Siva Prasad
 592
 Rani Ruddy v Beshu Reddi 613
 Rani Sander v Chandrareshwar 902
 Rani Suratsunari v Rajendra 843
 Rani Surnomoyee v Maharaja Satish Chandra 851
 Ranjan Saha v Dhiku 1373
 Ranjha v Jinwal 246
 Rang v R 52 59
 Ranjit v Bisana 27
 Ranjit v Bhagobuttay 686
 Ranjit v Chundil 897
 Ranjit Singh v Crown 1214
 Ranjit Singh v Schoenelilburn 1131
 Rankin v Harner 317
 Ranna v Prabh 1213
 Rannan v Emperor, 35 135 413
 Rana v Laxman Rao 92 96 110
 Ranzor v Secy of State 378
 Rao Nur v Batimaha 1199
 Raph v Latham 336
 Raphael Pereira v Emperor 44
 Re v Behari v Hari Mani 1148
 Re v Behari v Nabiy 1111
 Rehidudin v Nazratlin 304
 Reonada v Sitaram 1138
 Rathamanna v Secy of Stat 661
 1336
 Rathwell v King 1553
 Rati Pal v Uday Bhan 891
 Rati Ram v Harwar 103
 Rattumbhar v Chribildas 601
 Rattan Dharuck v Emperor 1371 1374
 Rati Ram v Nandalal 1195
 Ratur v Pahlwan 16
 Ravert R 570 1103
 Ray v Vinyalk v Lakshambai 1274
 Rawley v Rawley 1
 Rawlings v Bill 267
 Rawlins v Richard 513, 613
 Rawlins v State 137
 Rawson v Haigh, 95, 97, 103, 107 139, 161
 Rawstorne v Gandell, 320, 326
 Raw Sahag v K E, 91
 Rayad Dasudh v Emperor, 1503
 Ray v Lamb 1176
 Rayappa, In r, 38
 Raynoll v Sprye 179
 Rayulu Gudu v Emperor, 119
 Rayson v South London Ironways
 Co, 12
 Razik v Man 799
 Razman v Fakir Mithred, 1146
 Re v Yorkborough 772
 Re D Sehnar v Mirza Mithomed 114 191
 Reid v Brookman, 896
 Reid v Gamble, 908
 Reid v Jackson, 577 581, 697
 Rejnd v Gungar 572
 Rejnd v Chint, 1176
 Rej Re 945
 Rebrati v King Emperor, 10 1973
 Rechoia v Atchoda, 448
 Red v State 143 769
 Redford v Birla, 186 280
 Redont v Derton 764
 Reed v Lamb 971
 Red v Passer 631
 Reed v Territory, 52
 Reed v James 1360
 Reede v King, 1452
 Rees v Downe 955
 Rees v Rees 770
 Reever v State 534
 Reg v Abdulla, 1318
 Reg v Ahbbai 429
 Reg v Ambigora 194
 Reg v Amitta 394
 Reg v Andrews 1376
 Reg v Arnold, 479
 Reg v Avery, 1376
 Reg v Bulhu, 1385
 Reg v Bu Ratan, 1013
 Reg v Bulmer, 110
 Reg v Bulwant 395 411
 Reg v Bulwant 406
 Reg v Biringstoke, 370
 Reg v Backer Vile 1379
 Reg v Bijnaj, 46
 Reg v Bernard 617
 Reg v Bhustala Mudanna 18
 Reg v Bulket, 1377
 Reg v Blicq, 579
 Reg v Brackenbury, 478
 Reg v Buckley 515
 Reg v Castro 664
 Reg v Chatur 1378 1380, 1333
 Reg v Collough 285
 Reg v Cox, 1353
 Reg v Dajanund 1002
 Reg v Dize, 44
 Reg v Dyke 1377
 Reg v Farler, 1377
 Reg v Latr, Adaji 969
 Reg v Patch Chand, 1380
 Reg v Francis, 251, 255 285, 291, 757, 1131

Reg v Fuller, 285
 Reg v Ganapatrao, 30
 Reg v Gauri Bahu, 1491
 Reg v Garbaird, 143
 Reg v Gargard, 1322
 Reg v Gaurin, 138, 178
 Reg v Gilham, 115
 R v Gloucester, 367
 Reg v Gohinda, 157
 Reg v Goldbury, 801, 802
 Reg v Gorschand Gope, 1271
 Reg v Graham, 128
 Reg v Gray, 142, 285
 Reg v Gowla, 1338
 Reg v Haulton, 290
 Reg v Hanmant, 611
 Reg v Hanmantha, 1317, 1490
 Reg v Hartley, 110
 Reg v Holt, 191
 Reg v Hodges, 55
 R v Hemmants, 519, 1776
 Reg v Imam, 1386
 Reg v Imam Valad, 1286
 Reg v Inhabitants of Lower Heyford, 563
 Reg v Ierao, 1203
 Reg v Jora Hassi, 447, 452, 454, 456, 457, 458, 461, 463, 468
 Reg v Jora Hassi, 152
 Reg v James Johnson, 1151
 Reg v Kalu Patel, 484
 Reg v Lamson, 273
 Reg v Linton, 757
 Reg v Lower Heyford, 551
 Reg v Lumoy, 90
 Reg v Mab, 478
 Reg v Madaline Smith, 273
 Reg v Malapa, 1384, 1474
 Reg v Malapa Bin, 1384
 Reg v Mankuhan, 1378
 Reg v Marapa, 1468
 Reg v Maybrick, 273
 Reg v Milton, 923
 Reg v Moore, 1310
 Reg v Mullins, 482, 1379
 Reg v Nankuhan, 1380
 Reg v Navroji, 400, 413, 417, 424, 430, 473, 1500
 Reg v Newton, 757
 Reg v Ollis, 285, 290
 Reg v Overseer of Birmingham, 565
 Reg v Owons, 1232
 Reg v Palmer, 134
 Reg v Pate, 707
 Reg v Pestonji, 840
 Reg v Pichard, 273
 Reg v Prabhudas, 84, 1190, 193, 277, 1445, 1502
 Reg v Priest, 479
 Reg v Rabimut, 15
 Reg v Ramasami, 1382, 1384
 Reg v Raley, 803
 Reg v Rhodes, 285, 286, 295
 Reg v Richardson, 285

Reg v Russell, 1195
 Reg v Sahadev, 1321
 Reg v Sakharan, 191, 1115
 Reg v Sherufalli, 93
 Reg v Shivya, 103, 968
 Reg v Shrunbona, 136, 271
 Reg v Shenson, 290, 291
 Reg v Stokes, 1150
 Reg v Stuffs, 1376
 Reg v Stubbs, 1477, 1380
 Reg v Sudaram, 161
 Reg v Sussex, 20
 Reg v Tamaya, 497
 Reg v Tolson, 259
 Reg v Uttamchand, 1011, 1161, 1181
 Reg v Vyanakateswami, 21
 Reg v Wainwright, 103
 Reg v Warburton, 177
 Reg v Welch, 370
 Reg v William, 165
 Reg v Wood, 151
 Regina v Amrita Biswas, 487, 490
 Regina v Farr, 833
 Regina v Goull, 461
 Regina v Mergan, 918
 Regina v Lillymon, 101
 Reid v Hodgson, 768
 Reid v Longleis, 1315
 Re v. Morgan, 270, 271

Rekkab v Mt Shashal, 1170
 Reliance Lumber v. Western Union Tel Co, 980
 Rennie v Hall, 311
 Rennie v Clerk, 100
 Rennie v Robinson, 1202, 1300 Republican v Rob, 143
 Requantiz Exp Young, 1405
 Revet v Braham, 745
 Rex v Akers, 1337
 Rex v Atwood, 1371, 1376, 1380
 Rex v Ball, 283
 Rex v, Bard, 287, 291
 Rex v Baskerville, 180, 482, 1380
 Rex v Best, 478
 Rex v Birket, 1376
 Rex v Blake, 180
 Rex v Bond, 285
 Rex v Blatherwick, 1378
 Rex v Blandy, 67
 Rex v Bryant, 566
 Rex v Broomhead, 156
 Rex v Bundett, 68, 72
 Rex v Clarke, 500
 Rex v Cohen, 1378
 Rex v Cooper, 1378
 Rex v Davidson, 804
 Rex v Dawning, 49
 Rex v De Bunjee, 829
 Rex v Dickson, 53
 Rex v Dixon, 71, 1166
 Rex v Eccles, 177

- Rex v Erith, 596
 Rex v Everest 1377, 1378
 Rex v Exeter Guardians, 560
 Rex v Fagant, 58
 Rex v Fisher, 286, 290
 Rex v Foster, 102
 Rex v Fuller, 138
 Rex v Gidham, 1310
 Rex v Handson, 1151
 Rex v Hardwick, 186
 Rex v Hardy, 1337
 Rex v Harringworth, 934
 Rex v Hastings, 1376
 Rex v Hastings and another 1353
 Rex v Himely, 825
 Rex v Hobson, 67
 Rex v Hunt, 166
 Rex v Hutchinson, 523
 Rex v Inam, 1383
 Rex v Jones, 1153
 Rex v Jones 824, 1360
 Rex v Journeymen Tailors 177, 178
 Rex v Justice of Staffordshire 959
 Rex v Lowe, 970
 Rex v Lunny, 102
 Rex v Miller, 824
 Rex v Norke, 1370
 Rex v Norton, 156
 Rex v Patch, 50
 Rex v Rodley, 287
 Rex v Rowton, 810
 Rex v Rudd, 1371
 Rex v Sh Saleb 444
 Rex v Simons, 312, 476
 Rex v Salter, 186
 Rex v Smith, 50, 290
 Rex v Stacey, 768
 Rex v Stannard, 794
 Rex v Staffs, 1383
 Rex v Tate, 1381
 Rex v Thompson 156
 Rex v Turner 994
 Rex v Vadala, 630
 Rex v Watson 1337
 Rex v West Riding Yorkshire County Council 12
 Rex v Wilkes, 1577, 1353
 Rex v Williams, 1
 Rex v Willis, 1378
 Rex v Wilson, 1378
 Rex v Woodward, 831
 Rex v Wyatt, 285, 290, 290
 Reyburn v Belotti, 768
 Reynoldson v Parkin, 350
 Reynell v Sprye, 1353
 Reynolds v Reynolds, 1231
 Reynolds v Rowley, 1359
 Reyvell v Lewis, 323
 R G White, 712
 Rhee v Stat., 409
 Rhady v Nabin, 1134
 Rhadoy v Prannan, 857
 Rhodes v Bate, 1182, 1181, 1186
 Rhodes v Rhodes, 3
 Rholer, Re 1170, 1174
 Ricard v Williams, 1177
 Ricardo v Gorieta 683
 Rice v Howard, 1424, 1425, 1150, 1452, 1456
 Rice v Hownle, 1123
 Rice v Outhell, 1453
 Rich v Purpoint, 738
 Richard v Durga, 8
 Richard v Samuel, 1096
 Richards v Birret, 541
 Richards v Johnston, 1276
 Richards v Morgan, 375
 Richards v Richards, 805
 Richardson v Allen, 1455
 Richardson v Anderson, 741
 Richardson v Newcombe, 919
 Richardson v Peto 334
 Richardson v Richardson, 814
 Richardson v Watson, 1161
 Rieche, Re, 913
 Richie v Outfield, 910
 Richmond v Norwich, 810
 Rickets v Lopham, 921
 Rickett v Lurquard, 1082
 Rickman v Carstairs, 1098
 Rider v People, 147
 Ridgway v Phillip, 500
 Ridgway v Wharton, 1015
 Ridley v Plymouth Banking Co., 328
 Ridley v Gyde, 107, 108, 161
 Rigg v Curgenven, 818
 Riggs Miller v Whenteley, 980
 Rigway v Durwin, 1056
 Riley v Snyder, 832
 Riley v Sate 382
 Ringes Piller v Whatby, 550
 Ripon v Davies, 1350
 Rishi v Mela, 1797
 Rishon v Nishitt 535
 Rist v Hobson 298
 Rubaram v Emperor, 372
 River Steam Co. Re, 373
 River Werr Commis sioner v. Admison 36, 17, 1081, 1099
 Rive v Brabham, 948
 R Leche Limited v Sheill, 1264
 Robb v Starkey, 890
 Robert v Chandran 662
 Roberts v Bethel, 298
 Roberts v Bordshaw, 907
 Roberts v Donovan, 217
 Roberts v Donon, 902
 Roberts v Gee, 202
 Roberts v Phillips, 921, 922, 924
 Roberts v Simpson, 1359, 1360
 Roberts v Sridhar 1131
 Roberts v Trawick, 500
 Robertson v French, 1178
 Robert Watson v Moheeb, 151
 Robins v Maidstone, 811
 Robins v National Trust, 1124, 1149
 Robert on v French 1178
 Robinson v Ainet, 771

Robinson v Bland, 829
 Robinson v Brown, 907
 Robinson v Cutter, 909
 Robinson v Davis, 896
 Robinson v Tenner, 714
 Robinson v Gregory, 971
 Robinson v Harman, 201
 Robinson v Jenkins, 1309
 Robinson v Jones, 835
 Robinson v Gilman, 621
 Robinson v May, 1330, 1337
 Robinson v Reynolds, 1209
 Robinson v Salter, 1173
 Robinson v Smith, 836
 Robinson v Alexander, 317
 Robinson v Att Gen, 591, 780
 Robson v Kemp, 91, 107, 161, 1313, 1354
 Robson v Roche, 951
 Roby, In re, 1073
 Rochefoucauld v Boustead, 1350
 Rochester v Cester, 731
 Roden v Ryde, 166, 1226
 Rodley's Case, 293
 Rodriguez v Todmure, 266
 Roe v Davis, 874, 876, 878
 Roe v Day, 677
 Roe v Ferrars, 308
 Roe v Harvey, 150
 Roe v Jerome, 351
 Roe v Jeffroy, 218
 Roe v. New York Press, 1360
 Roe v Parker, 576
 Roe v Rawlins, 608, 949, 936
 Roe v. Vernon, 1105
 Roed Brune v Rawlings, 556, 558
 Rogers v Allen, 206, 232, 219, 609, 610
 Rogers v Brown, 842
 Rogers v Cady, 527

3
 117
 Rouch v G. W. R., 91, 94, 101, 117, 118
 Rouch v R. Co, 107, 161
 Rouch v W. Ry., 140
 Roupell v Hows, 96, 133
 Rouseau v Pinto, 58, 1324
 Rowa's Trial, 119
 Rowe v Brenton, 206, 220, 561, 577
 Rowlands v De Vecchi, 301
 Rowland v Blakeley, 679
 Rowley v Horne, 266
 Rowley v London and N. Ry. Co., 1451
 Rowley v N. W. Ry. Co., 1481
 Royal Aquarium Society v. Parkinson, 175
 Royal Warrant etc. v. Deane, 90
 Raymonee, In re, 925
 Rozario v Harballabh, 1065
 Rozario v Ingles, 1197, 1319
 Rozzuddi v Kali Nath, 929
 Ruan v Perry, 790
 Rucker v Palsgrave, 839
 Rudd v Wright, 564
 Rudd's Case, 393
 Rudolph Stalman, In re, 29, 34, 963, 982
 Ruhulla v Hassan Ali, 1190
 R. v. B. D. D. 277

Rummeos v Cecil, 92, 1000

1-10, 1004
 Rupkishan v Bhagat Govind, 12
 Rupkishore v Govinddas, 12
 Rush v Smith, 1405, 1419
 Rushno Teh v Emperor, 421
 Russell v Jackson, 1340, 1344, 1350, 1351, 1353
 Russel v Smith, 693
 Russel v Russel, 1195, 1197
 Russian Steam Navigation, v. Silva, 1116

Rustam v Emperor, 1014, 1201, 1471, 1472
Rutherford v Maule, 853
Ruthy Madalnor v Arunga, 1030
Ratther, Re, 656
Ruttlege v Caruthers, 1190
Rutton Bysack v Bocha Babee, 1130
Rutton Sing v Bojrang, 1133
Rutzen v Farr, 1493
R Vaithianda v Subramadia, 1293
R Walker v Atma Ram, 1180
Ryall v Hanman, 1110
Ryall v Rolle, 2
Ryam v R Co, 144
Ryan v Ring, 548

S

Sabaji v Newal Singh, 1028, 10-8
Sabbai v Emperor, 1432
Saboji v Nawab, 1093
Sabran Sheikh v Odoj Maho, 207
Sachindra v Ramjash 1030
Sabuktulla v Hari, 1241
Sada v Jalla, 501
Sadakavur v Tadepally, 929
Sadaruddin v Chhaju, 1034
Sadasiv v Emperor 1404
Sadasiv v Maruti, 1580
Sadhares Lal In re 36
Sadhamya v Gour Chandra, 920
Sadho v Jhinra, 1234
Sadhu v Ambika, 247, 658
Sadhu v Botha, 377
Sadhu v Nga, 843, 1061
Sadhu v Raja Ram, 197, 657

Sau v Emperor, 403 411 431, 433

Said v Amirunnisa, 440
Saidu v Meher, 341
Saifal v Emperor, 467
Saikaja Nath v Raja Reshee Case, 983

Saish v Bechar, 1250
Saish v Belbai, 1033
Saling v Hickie, 578
Sayid v Sayid, 1074
Sayankunwar v Joti Prosad, 1123
Saydunnissa v Hidayot, 16
Sayad v Emperor, 432
Sayar v Empe or, 314, 623
Sayur Mull v Manraj, 247
Sikhan v Emperor, 677
Sabharam v Sriram, 349, 361
Sakhdeo v Ganesh, 1580
Sakhina v Laddan Saheba 955
Sakhuuddin v Somaulla, 1290
Sakku v Emperor, 492
Salak v Mt Tamiz Bano, 913
Salam v Emperor, 442, 467
Sala Mahomed v Dame Janbai, 1053
Salamon v Warner, 178
Salamat v Budh, 266, 741
Sazeha Bibi v Oudh Commercial Bank 901
Saleru v Mchnish, 904
Salik v Emperor, 49
Salik v Wali, 1581
Salim v Emperor, 1473
Saliman v Hakim Mukdan, 890
Salimatul v Kaylashpati, 824
Salisbury v Gladstone, 215
Salkeld v Johnson, 1, 2
Salomans v Miller, 1311
Santern v Melhnish, 896
Salter v Turner, 955
Salvin v Coal Co, 744
Salvo v Duncan, 744
Samaidin v K E., 141, 519, 528, 532, 1318, 1470
Samul v Ahmada 657

Sambhu v Anama Narayan, 1019
Sam Rao v Vannajee, 426
Samar Dasadh v Jugal Kishore, 650, 651
Sambayya v Gangayya, 896
Sambhu v E, 483
Sambhuset v Sitaram, 1097, 1098
Samoo Patter v Abdul, 929
Sampat v Gruti, 653
Samsam v Ram Parshad, 1005
Samson v Rumsey, 150
Samsuddin v Abdul, 1188
Samsuddin v Aga, 1293
Samuel v Cooper, 33
Samuel v Ofner, 1084, 1117
Sanatan v Dina Nath 929, 930
Santan Ali v Chand Bibee, 287
Sanatun v Joggut, 1093
San Biv v Crown, 403, 968
Sanborn v Nelson 374
Sandan v Turner, 829
Sandhi v Dani, 602
Sanders v Karnell, 369
Sanders v Keller, 314

Sanders v Sanders, 815
 Sanders v Wough, 128
 Sanderson v Collman, 1250, 1301
 Sanderson v Graves, 1075
 Sandilands v Marsh, 331
 Sandys v Hodgson, 1251
 Sanford v Sanford, 312
 Sangram Singh v Rajan Bai, 593, 593
 Sangra v Romappa, 1030, 1017, 1053
 Sangraraya v Balambik, 1158
 San Hla v Mikhovrow, 1195
 Sanjib v Santosh, 1269
 Sankappa Rai, In re, 449

1215

Sankaralinga v Emperor, 1471
 Sankaralinga v Theva, In re, 1471
 Sankaran v Periasami, 1300
 Sankashai v Din Dyal, 3
 Sankar Ray v Secretary of State, 1088
 Sankaro v Ramji, 697
 Sankayha Rai In re, 483
 Sankappa v Keraga, 619
 San Paw Aung v Emperor, 409, 411, 443
 San Pedro Lumber Co v Reynolds, 316
 Sansa Rao v Dhazi, 901
 Santa v Emperor, 464
 Santala v Badaswati, 837
 Santappayya v Ramgappayya, 1274

Sanuman v Emperor, 94

Sanwal Das v Emperor, 432
 Sanyari v Artu Swaro, 1583
 Saph v Atkinson, 851
 Sarabjit v Indrajit, 213, 218
 Sarada v Durga, 329
 Sarada v Triguna, 925
 Sarada v Uma, 197

Sarban v Kawal, 1059

Sarda v Emperor, 755

Sarda v Emperor, 755

Sarje Rao v Narayan, 718

Sarje Rao v Narayan, 718

Sarles v Proconnamayee, 8

Sarle v Arnold, 736

Sarnath v Butler, 956

Saroda v Gosta, 1252

Saroda v Umakanta, 192, 704

Saroda Prosad v Anademoyi, 1232

Saroda v Gobinda, 691, 1167

Saroj v Emperor, 801

Sarojini v Haridas, 750, 762, 914, 947, 1051

Saroj Kumar v Emperor, 1134

Saroj Kumar v Umed Ali, 195, 196, 218, 243

Sardor v Bel, 1209

Sardor v Bel, 1209

Sasi Bhusan v Ramjis Agarwalla, 686, 669, 977

Sashi Kanta v Ganda Sheikh, 1233

Sashi Sekhor v B r Bikram, 1212

Sasimukhi v Monmohini, 928, 941

Sasi Mukhi v Saraswati, 228

Sasser v Harring, 577

Sastimoni v Sibnarain, 1116

Satcowri v Secretary of State, 666, 667, 977Satindra v Krishna, 238, 250, 571, 610, 703

Satindra v Emperor, 199

Sati Prosad v Gobinda, 1128

Satish v Bireswar, 361

Satish v Jogendra, 937

Satish v Joyram, 228

Satish v Kali Das, 1189

Satish v Kamini, 1063

Satish t. Mohendra, 162, 581, 599 601, 654, 659
Sati-h v. Ramdayal, 15
Sati Prasad v. Gohinda, 1146
Satnaram n. Naram, 955
Sater n. Bolinger, 766
Satrugnan v. Emperor, 1324
Satya n. Emperor, 1203
Satya v. Gohindb, 15
Satya n. Kartik, 1234
Satyanarain t. Satya, 214
Satyendra n. Chairman 19
Satyesh v. Dhanpul, 1011

Savage t. Blanchard, 630
Savrey t. King, 1186
Savitra n. F. A. Savi, 924
Sivary, Re 763
Savory, n. World, 1117
Sawan t. Emperor, 537, 1432
Siddamonee t. Spanding, 1062
Sawyer t. French 87
Sayamma t. Venkata, 1059
Sayyed v. Ultap, 1219 1220
Sayer n. Glossop 763, 763 892, 1018
Sayer t. K. K. K. 1401

Scales v. Ray, 1, 109
Scale v. Rawlins, 1098
Scaramanga v. Stamp, 23
Scarborough v. Smith 217
Searle v. Jardine 1238
Schaefer v. St. Louis 1496
Scheerer n. Harber 357
Schlaff n. R. Co., 127
Scholes v. Chadwick, 560
Schobfield n. Lockwood, 1262
Scholey t. Walton, 338
Schuchort n. Allen 42
Schuliz v. Schuliz 692
Schuttler t. Williams, 357
Schutz v. Plankinton, 1027
Schwartz t. Archibald, 1017
Scorle v. Lord Banington, 558, 560
Scott n. Brown, 1056
Scott v. Jones, 905 909
Scott v. Simpson, 805, 1417
Scott n. State, 726
Scott's Cases, 405
Scutton v. Patullo, 1174
Sendul Ali v. Emperor, 37
Senjot v. Dale, 1324
Seal t. Claridge, 922 924
Seales t. Chambliss, 321
Seaman t. Nether Cliff 1461
Seater n. Lawren, 320
Seaton t. Bendict 839
Secretary v. P. N. Bank, 1283
Secretary t. Satish, 661
Secretary of State n. Ahmed, 238, 241

Secretary of State t. Ananda, 978
Secretary of State t. B. B. B. 729 783
ed, 7 3, 1216
35
1155
Secretary of State v. Kumar, 1046
Secretary of State t. Mahara of Bob bali, 3
Secretary of State, V. V. V. 877 878
9 3
Secretary of State v. Fominatha, 1342
Secretary of State t. Sinteraja, 822
Secretary of State n. Shanmugarayn, 729, 839
Secretary of State v. Subraya, 239, 250
Secretary of State t. Upendra, 665, 668, 1209 1215
Secretary of State n. Vidyaratn, 501, 1266
Secretary of State t. Wazed, 667, 639, 977 Seethapatty n. Venkanna, 238
Seethaya v. Subramanya, 360, 994
Seetz t. Prewers, etc 1062
Seibert v. Eric R. C., 852
Seizer v. Burt, 677
Selby v. Commonwealth, 410
Selfe v. Isaac on 1191
Sella Muthu v. Palla Muthu, 260
Sellen v. Norman, 209
Sellick n. Booth 1074
Selwyn Re 1073
Selwood v. Midway, 1084
Semali Goundan, In re, 144 460
Sennimili n. Selappa, 1285
Sen v. Chuni Lal, 334
Sen Raja n. Public Prosecutor, 1206
Serau v. Sunder, 317
Serajuddin v. Johur Jun, 501
Sergeant v. Nash 1297, 1298
Serumah n. Palathan, 213
Seshagiri n. Sankayya Setti, 1581
Seshagiri v. Sadachi, 341
Seshammal v. Kuppaniyyanar, 597, 778 Sessions Judge v. Gorle, 1206
Setheramayya n. Suryadevar, 1033
Seth Gokul Das v. Janki, 281
Seth Kanhai Lal v. National Bank, 990
Seth Luxmichand v. Subabuddin, 1063
Seth Lakshmi v. Bajirao, 7
Seth Magunmai v. Darbarilal, 368, 647
Seth Manik Lal t. Bijoy, 1132, 1220, 1501

Seth Sujan Chand v. Lal Chhabilram, 1293
 Seth v. Seth, 636
 Seth Utam Vasoomal v. Seth Haridas, 22
 Seth v. Seth, 1293

Sewdeo v. Ajodhya, 365, 573
 Sexton v. N. Bridgewater, 783
 Seyer v. Glossop, 870
 Seymour v. Franco, 1300
 Shadal Khan v. Amirullah, 236
 Shaden Pood v. Ram v. Lal, 1200

Shah v. Shah, 1200
 Shah v. Shah, 1200

Shah Muhammad v. Ram Dutt, 1041
 Shaikh Nujumuddi v. Ployd, 1300
 Shaikh Yusuf v. Jyotish, 1296
 Shaular v. Bunshend, 323
 Shailend v. Girji, 988
 Shailesh Chandra v. Bechni Gope, 1286, 1287

Shamburam v. Emperor, 835
 Sham Chand v. Pratap Chand, 1133
 Shamdas v. Emperor, 1490
 Sham Koer v. Dah Koer, 1183

Shan v. Shan, 1200

Shape v. Lail, 890
 Sheradi v. Jamal, 1045
 Sharaf Ali v. Jagandar, 1018
 Sharfara v. Dhuno, 1407
 Sharfuddin v. Nismut Ali, 775
 Sharman In bonis, 834
 Sharnomoyee Dasi, In re, 1167
 Sharp v. Birch, 922
 Sharp v. Maddison, 1094
 Sharp v. Powell, 202
 Sharp v. Seoging, 1460
 Sharad v. Shah Pood, 1200

Shaw v. Broom, 327
 Shaw v. Moon, 1675
 Shaw v. Ruddin, 1
 Shazida Mahomed v. Danie Wedge-
 Barry, 954

Shazid v. Secretary of State for India, 515

Shazi v. Crown, 530
 Shea v. Green, 32
 Shearma v. Fleming, 1217
 Shedden v. Att Gen, 581, 559, 591
 Shedden v. Patrick, 708, 713
 Sheeb Chunder v. Brojonath, 1111
 Sheen v. Bumpstead, 267
 Shee Sihayce v. Goodar, 847
 Sheetal Pershad v. Junmejoy, 88, 1401
 Sheikh v. Ashruf, 1104
 Sheikh v. Bebari Lal, 215
 Sheikh v. Boodhoo, 678
 Sheikh v. Horomal, 1137
 Sheikh v. Monohar Das, 501
 Sheikh Abdul v. Emperor, 487, 443
 Sheikh Abdul v. Mt Barira, 1250
 Sheikh Ahmed v. Babu Derj, 1267
 Sheikh Akbar v. Sheikh Khan, 887, 1005

Sheikh Asud Ali v. Sheikh Albar, 1223
 Sheikh Chamman v. Emperor, 13
 Sheikh Dannu v. Sheolal, 1262
 Sheikh Edu v. Hiralal, 953
 Sheikh Jamu v. Mahamad, 1073
 Sheikh Hajur v. K. E., 1502
 Sheikh Ibrahim v. Parbati Hari, 371, 895

Sheikh Ibrahim v. Rana, 330

195, 244, 571, 1472

Sheikh Mobideen v. Official Assignee, 337

Sheikh Paribul v. Sheikh Mohammed, 1044

Sheikh Rahmatoolah v. Shurimoolah, 876, 883

Sheikh Shafiq v. Emp. 530

Sheikh Shurfuraz v. Sheikh Dhunoo, 310, 311, 503

Sheikh Sohali v. K. E., 133

Sheikh Sheroo v. Emperor, 1384

Sheikh Sheroo v. Emperor, 1384

Sheilburn v. Scotsford 1306, 1307

Sheldon v. Booth, 741

Sheo v. Jaddo, 329

Sheo Ambar v. Emperor, 485, 495, 1373

Sheo Bahadur v. Beni Bahadur 743

Sheo Bahadur v. Bishunath, 660

Sheo Baksh v. Muhammad, 1653

Sheobalak v. Emperor, 470

Sheo Dyal v. Sheo Doyal, 958

Sheodajal v. Lita Prosad, 314

Sheo Dajal v. Raja Muhammad, 1012

Sheodin v. Habibulla, 1287

Sheo Dutta v. Ganga, 930

Goor,

196,

845

Sheoproend v. Emperor, 391, 396

Sheoproend v. Gobind, 1037

Sheoproend v. Gudar, 1436

Sheoproend v. Ramanandan, 684

Sheo Ram v. Emperor, 1137

Sheo Ram v. Ramlal, 895

Sheory v. De Rutzen, 259

Sheo Ratna v. Emperor, 497

1251

Sheo Tabal v. Arjun, 735

Shepherd v. Currie, 1217

Sher Afzal v. Raja Singh 1234

Sher Ahamed v. Ibrahim, 993

Sher Ali v. Crown, 537

Sher Bahadur v. Ganga, 1083, 1084

Sherborne v. Naper, 779

Sher Jang v. Emperor, 1217, 1373

Sher Khan v. Crown 431

Sher Mahammed v. Tatteh, 240

Sher Mohammad v. Dost Mohammad

656, 903

Sheridan v. Trial 847

Sherman v. McDonald, 348

Sheroo v. Emperor 489, 490, 1378

Sherill v. State, 161

Sheru v. Crown, 537

Sheru Sha v. Q. E., 1431

Sherwood v. Sinderson, 1056

Sherzaman v. Empress, 802

Sheva v. Hayat 1281

Sheve v. K. E., 1470

Sheve v. K. E., 1470

Shimbhunath v. Goyanchand, 243

Ship Henry Ewbank, 55

Shib Money Case, 91

Shipley v. Todhunter, 297

Sorman ■ Molla, 1071
 Soshi Bhuzan v Girish, 679, 936
 So-hi Kumar t Chandra, 718
 Soubhai v Jagiwan, 1231
 Soto ■ Terr, 118
 Soudamini t Socy of S ate, 1209
 Sourindra v Surnamoyee, 675
 South t People, 477
 Southern Ex Co t Thornbon, 766
 South Indian Industrial v Rama Jogi, 1010
 South Staffordshire v Ebbamuth 1571, 1572

W O L K E ,
 Spencer ■ Williams, 693
 Spencer Cowper's Trial, 127, 193, 290
 Spensor ■ Beiling, 902
 Spicer v Cooper, 1115
 Spiers t Brown, 294
 Spiers v Parker, 1151
 Spilling, In the goods of, 1174
 Spittle v Walton, 1316
 Spokes v Grosvenor, 1360
 Sporgo v Brown, 555
 Sprague v Sprague 765
 Springfield v State, 795
 Sprinkle v United States, 97
 Spurway v S, 108
 Squire v Campbell, 1117
 S Rasul ■ Emperor, 1314
 S P Reg ■ Mellow Union 1

1200
 Sreematty Phoodoo Bibee t. Gobind
 Chunder, 356

1200

1184

Sri Kishen ■ Hari Kishen, 315
 Sri Kishen ■ Jodhari, 1159
 Sri Kishen ■ K E, 195
 Sri Kishna t Relunai, 313, 499
 Srimati t Bonamali, 199
 Srimati v Bindoo, 313
 Srimati v Pitamber, 333
 Srinath v Angul, 1005
 Srinath ■ Bindoo, 199
 Srinath v Kuloda, 991
 Srinath v Probodh, 1169
 Srimibash v Monmohini, 1098
 Srinivasa ■ Athmaram, 1075
 Srinivasa v Chenden, 903

Sri Protap v Sri Raja Jagdish, 209, 218

705
 shore,

Sri Rajah Prakasara v Venkata, 1401
 Sri Rajah Raou v Raja of Puttapur, 626
 Sri Ram v Emperor, 488
 Sri Ram v Firm of Gobha Ram, 1032
 Sri Ram ■ Nand Kishore, 1189
 Sri Ram v Ram Lal 897
 Sri Rama v Govt of Mysore, 1373
 Sri Ramsubba v Venkateratnan, 1006
 Sri Rangammal v Sandamal, 711
 Sristudhar v Rasha Kali 924 925
 Stafford v State, 476
 Stainer v Burgesses of Droitwich, 652, 831

Standage v Greighton, 933
 Standard v Danhine, 1241
 Standen ■ Chismis, 17
 Standen v Standen 561
 Standered Oil v Haridas, 1038
 Stand Fiel's Trial, 142
 Stanley v Whire 105, 112, 200
 Stanton's Case 429
 Stapleton v Clough 545
 Stapleton v Nowell, 839
 Starge v Buchanon, 311
 Startar v Reynold's, 1486
 Start ■ U S 148
 State v Adams 139, 1202
 State v Banner, 1452
 State v Beckner, 801
 State v Beebi, 790
 State v Bohan, 525
 State v Buldwin 174, 523
 State v Boswell, 1236
 State v Broughton, 393
 State v Brown, 791
 State v. Cameron, 1317

State v Campbell, 618, 1403
 State v Chandler, 768
 State v Chingun, 836
 State v Cicely, 150
 State v Clark, 176
 State v Clouginger, 801
 State v Davidson, 366
 State v D'wolf, 153, 1318
 State v Dreany, 303
 State v Evans, 268
 State v Felter, 740
 State v Fletcher, 127
 State v Foley, 97
 State v Ganey, 412
 State v Gilman, 338
 State v Goldsborough, 48
 State v Guse, 389
 State v Hastings, 769
 State v Hull, 619
 State v Hinchman, 1211
 State v Humphrey, 271
 State v Hussay, 765
 State v Hayder, 742
 State v Jandell, 1474
 State v Johnson, 803
 State v Kent, 136
 State v Kome, 98
 State v Knight, 744
 State v Lopage, 191
 State v Laundry, 1497
 State v Lanton, 785
 State v Lee, 811
 State v Long, 420
 State v Man, 845
 State v May, 193
 State v Mc Laghlin, 114
 State v Mc Nally, 714
 State v Millain, 151
 State v Muchell, 476
 State v. M & L Rail Road, 269
 State v Murf, 794
 State v Neaz, 153
 State v N O Waterworks Co., 621
 State v Parish, 1468
 State v Penney, 477
 State v Pennington, 827
 State v Phair, 513
 State v Porter, 342, 389
 State v Powell, 742
 State v Rail Road, 296
 State v Rothbun, 131
 State v Reed, 136
 State v Reinhardt, 382, 388
 State v Roberts, 473
 State v Robinson, 150
 State v Rodman, 791
 State v Ryder, 97
 State v Slagle, 743
 State v Shaw, 299
 State v Sheets, 743
 State v Smith, 732
 State v Sopor, 1337
 State v Stenson, 1269
 State v Streets, 736

State v Terrell, 521
 State v Thawzey, 528
 State v Tuter, 260
 State v Vaigneur, 419, 451
 State v Wagner, 115, 116
 State v Wentworth, 129
 State v White, 1357
 State v Willis, 362
 State v Wilson, 521
 State v Windsor, 738
 State v Winkley, 781
 Statham v Statham, 825
 Statmarsh v Hardy, 339
 Stator v Lawson, 338
 Staw v Convene, 787
 St Catherine's Hospital, In re, 831
 Stead v Dauber, 1071, 1075
 Stead v Henton, 558, 564
 Steal v Dixon, 23
 Steeds v Sheeds, 1075
 Steams L Co v Howlett, 621
 Steele v Mort, 1058
 Steel v Stewart, 1346
 Steele v Savory, 1486
 Stoppell v Stoppell, 1108
 '6, 1479

Stephen v Heathcote, 339
 Stephen v Mcklay, 106
 Stephenson v State, 815
 S. v. D. 1001, 1108

Sikes v Cardiff, 338
 St Johns Hamstead v Cotton, 4
 St Leonards v Ashburner, 207, 1181
 St Louis & S F R Co. v Deaburn, 1053
 Stowell v Phelps, 729
 Stobert v Dryden, 521, 522
 Stockdale v Bushley, 1104 Stockdale v Hansard, 203, 823
 Stockdale's Trial, 309, 676
 Stocken v Collin, 299
 Stockheld v De laetel, 317
 Stockman v Hampton, 872 Stockton v Demuth, 326
 Stockwell v Myers, 349
 Stokes v Davies, 602
 Stokes v People, 143, 270
 Stollery, Re, 651
 Stoltz v Scott, 489
 Stoneard v Demelin, 1308, 1309
 Stone v. Oxall, 377

Stone v. Nash, 571
 Stone's Case, 186
 Stoops v. Smith, 1117
 Storr v. Scott, 635
 Story v. Niddiffer, 301
 Story v. State, 164
 Stowe v. Querner, 871
 Stowell v. Robinson, 1075
 Strand v. Strand, 1271
 Strange v. Donohue, 106
 Stranger v. Searle, 770
 Strauss v. Goldschmidt, 32
 Strangeway's Case, 139
 Strathern v. Padden, 35
 Stratton v. Rastall, 103
 Streantley, In the goods of, 924
 Streeten v. Black, 1391
 Streeter v. Barlett, 913
 Stringer v. Gardiner, 174, 1110
 Stringer's Estate, 1291
 Strode v. Russell, 1101
 Strong v. Brener, 691, 699
 Strong v. Hardel, 942
 Strongy v. Brewer, 749, 762
 S trotter v. Boor, 999
 Struett v. Booyngdon, 560
 Stuart v. Lavell, 271
 Stuart v. Sherman, 678
 Studdy v. Sanders, 504
 Sturge v. Buchanan, 677, 679
 Sturgeon v. Wingfield, 1300
 Sturla v. Freccin, 509, 540, 547, 548, 585, 600, 635, 648, 650, 653, 656,
 664, 932, 973
 Subramanian v. Paramaswaran, 237, 238, 250

Subramanian v. Paramaswaran, 237, 238, 250
 Subramanian v. Seethaya, 991
 Subramanya, In re, 1473
 Subramanya v. Mysore, 1407
 Subramanya v. Subramanya, 1146
 Sukdev v. K. E., 493
 Sukdeo v. Abdul, 1148
 Sukdeo v. Ganesh, 1579
 Sukdev v. Emperor, 485, 493
 Sukdeo v. Ram Narayan, 1059
 Sukhan v. Emperor, 23, 455, 456, 457, 465
 Sukhan Rai v. Chakwari, 1083

Subramania v. K. E. 493
 Subramania v. Seethaya, 991
 Subramanya, In re, 1473
 Subramanya v. Mysore, 1407
 Subramanya v. Subramanya, 1146

S V. A. G. v Exeter Corp, 17
 Srayanhu v The Municipal Council, 14
 736
 Swair v Kalloo, 1270
 S Walls Miners' Federation v Gal-margon, 179
 Swan v Lewis, 907
 Swan v North British Australian Co., 1283, 1304
 Swantrava v Girabba, 1047
 Swarnomoyee v Sourendra, 365, 553, 662, 996
 Sweet Re, 940
 Sweet v Lee, 1082
 Sweetland v Sweetland, 924
 Sweet v State, 794
 Swift v M'Tiernan, 661
 Swift Sure Re, 564, 570
 Co., 831
 41 byama Sundari v Jagabandhu, 667, 977
 Syamlal v Luchman, 666
 Sybray v White, 355, 356
 Syed v Nuseeban, 896
 Syed Abbas v Yadeem, 896
 Syed Ahmad v K E 1674
 Syed Ahmad v M 57
 79
 Syed Mahammad v Namnarain, 220, 895 909
 Syed Mahamed v Syed Ali, 23, 1056
 Syed Mahomed Hasan v Syed Ali, 1276
 Syed Mokran v Cuttack Municipality, 963
 Syed Munir v Emp 780
 Syed Muzzum v Pirthu Singh, 1280
 Syed Pirath v Gulabbah, 901
 Syed Tojamnal v Banwari, 247
 Syed Zakir v Madhusudan, 923
 Syenuddin v Saminuddin 1178
 Symmos v Blake, 271

Thakur Rudra Protap : Thakur Nir man Proceed, 661
Thakur Singh : Emperor, 540, 931
Thakur Singh : Empress, 486, 524
Thakur Singh : Ghinaya, 653
Thakurani : Rai Jagat Pal Singh, 15
Ibama : Kondor, 233, 701
Thames Conservators : Hall, 7
Thana : Kondan, 657
Thandraya : Emperor, 417
Thane's Trial, Earl of, 231
Thane's : Komma Naraya 926

Swami,

920, 931
Thavel Bagam : Venkatarama, 1261
1205

Thibu v Emperor 400
Thikan Ram v Lall, 1138
Thiraj : Empr 12
Thiathman : Gunjeswari 1189, 1190
Thiruvengada : Maung Nyo, 1056
Thistlewood's Trial 1366
Thobakuri : Pepakayaza 1039
Thomas v Connell 103, 266
Thomas v David 1435, 1448, 1449
Thomas v Decruze, 1130
Thomas : Jenkins, 214, 578
Thomas : Kedarnath, 1463
Thomas v Kethriche, 692
Thomas v Morgan 274
Thomas v Newton 1208
Thomas v Paul, 871
Thomas : Parker, 1176
Thomas : Secy of State, 1300
Thomas v State, 518, 765
Thomas v Syed Hosain 1272
Thomas v Thomas, 201, 885
Thomas Hardy's Trial, 507
Thomason v Territory 268
Thompson : Church, 787, 788
Thompson : Drake, 338
Thompson v Gould 593

5, 102,

77,

7

Thorn : Smith, 336
Throne : Jackson, 828
Thorne Exp., 11
Thornes v White 500
Thornhill, In re, 1221
Thornton : Assurance Co., 732
Thornton : Britton, 620
Thornton : Royal Exchange, 731, 74
Thornton : Stephen, 676
Thorp : Holdworth 841
Thrope : Adams, 7
Thrope : Gisburne, 766
Thrope : Adams, 1550

Tika Ram v Moulal, 245, 569, 5
C97, 1294
Tika Ram : Sukha, 1307
Tikaya Ram v Warm Mieser, 1273
Tilak : Chhutu 339
Tilak : Anwar 907, 1480

Toniano : Young, 1176
Tooke : Abdool, 1319
Tooker : Small, 1300
Toosey : Williams, 300
Topandas : Emperor, 489, 490
Topham v Braddick, 299
Topham : M Gregor, 902, 1480, 14
1483
Toria : Kumar, 1131, 1201
Tota Ram : Mohan, 697
Tota Singh v Emperor, 1375
Tote : Williamson, 1182

TABLE OF CASES.

xxviii

Tournier v National Provincial Bank, 1572
Townsend v Greaves, 890
Townsend v Pier, 780
Townson v Ticknell, 1218
Tracey Peerage Case, 149, 605, 753, 780, 900
Tracey v People, 531
Troilokia Nath v Shurnochungoni, 990, 996
Traveller's Ins. v Sheppard, 115, 116
Travers v Blunell, 1101, 1105
Travis v Brown, 949
Travis v January, 1359
Trelawney v Coleman, 109
Trevelyan v Lawrence, 1308
Trevor v Trevor, 1231
Trial of Cowper, Mason, Stephen and Rogers, 807
Trial of Lord Campbell, 66, 67

1105

Trican Panachand v Bombay Baroda Ry, 831
Trichborne Trial, 748

Trimbak v Bhagwan Das, 1073
Trimbak v Ganesh, 195, 248, 573
Trimbak v Mattabai, 989, 1129
Trimblestown v Kemmis, 308
Trimblestown v Dalton, 342
Trinidad v Coryat, 313
Triocam v B B Ry, 34, 825
Tripura v Rokkom, 227
Turpanana v Bakkan, 657, 704
Tris chat v Ins Co, 677, 679
Trotter v McLean, 298, 299, 547
Troylukho v Mahima, 1176
Troylukhanath v Empr, 681
Trusolve v Burton, 333
Trustees of the Harbour v Best & Co, 1132
Trustees of P D v Venkatachalam, 675
Tryman v Knowles, 1214
Trywhit v Wynne, 1498
Tsangchnem v Li Po, 1029, 1036, 1096
T. S. Duraiswami v Krisnier, 330
Tucker v Bennet, 1026
Tucker v Linger, 212

Tukheya v Tupree, 1129
Tukia Mia v Nabin Chandra, 1132
Tukaram v Arjuna, 152

Tulloch v Dunn, 318
Tulsa v Mathurapur, 1111
Tulshi v Raghobir, 1140
Tulsi v Dayaram, 1579
Tulsi v Emperor, 1313

Tunno Mian v. A. L., 1361
Tunya v Emperor, 908
Tura Sardar v Emperor, 442
Turzey v Thomas, 822, 830, 1080
Turnbull v Forman, 8
Turnbull v O'Hara, 32
Turnbull v Richardson, 737
Turner v Collins, 1183
Turner v Crisp, 560
Turner v Hand, 56, 750, 853
Turner v Hoar, 944
Turner v Railton, 375, 378
Turner v Taylor, 1470
Turner, In re, 907
Turner's Case, 767
Turner's Trial, 793
Turney v State, 1420
Turquand v Board of Trade, &
Turquand v Knight, 1341
Turton v Benson, 375
Tustin v Arnold, 93
Tutton v Draka, 826
Tuttle v Rainey, 767
Twany v Sina Wongdi, 1286
Tweedie v Proona, 1268
Wyecross Grant, 7
Tyebally Abdul v James, 138
Tyler v Ulmer, 702
Tyner v Slate, 151
Tyrrell v Pantoun, 56
Tyson v Smith, 213, 215, 116

U

Ubistack Rai v Dalhal Rai, 995

Udey v Hari, 1218
 Udhe v Puran 982
 Ugappa v Emperor, 494 495
 Uggarkent v Hurro Chunder 991, 995 936
 Ujilbi v Umakanti, 1222
 U Kyo v Mg Pinyo 1073

3

Umaram v Parak 1231

Umedal v Mave, 1029
 Umedmal Davin 1075
 Umed Sheikh v Emperor, 1368
 Umar Durang v Emperor 445
 Umos v Sagemem, 1087 1106
 Umesh v Surendra, 1046
 Umra v Emperor, 530, 562
 Umra v Mahammed, 1103
 Umrao v Ramkrishna, 1262
 Umrao v Ram Singh, 961
 Unaram v Pruk, 1270
 Underhill v Durham, 896
 Underhood v Waldren 730
 Underwood v Wing, 1169, 1174
 Unila v Permetamv 879 1500

United State v Gooding 330

United State v Moses, 1327

United State v N T 1200

101

U S v Candler, 397
 U S v Doeblor, 908
 U S v Harbison, 852
 U S v Hartwell, 4
 U S v Hughes, 392
 U S v Hutching, 825
 U S v King, 115
 U S v Mackenzie, 392
 U S v Miles, 780
 U S v Nott, 392
 U S v Palmer, 925
 U S v Reynolds, 613, 622
 U S v Wiggins, 961
 U S v Wiltberger, 4
 Usher v Henwood, 1391
 Usman v Md Shafi, 1118
 Uswafooncary v Giridhari 501 Ustooran v Mohun, 855, 886
 Uthe Pe v Maung Pa, 1303
 Uthdeikso v Masan Me, 1303
 Uttam v Empress, 968
 Uttam v Habem 1183
 Uttam v Hukum, 927, 912, 1223
 Uttam v Khetra, 1259

V.

Vacher v Cocks, 91, 108, 266

64

Vaiyaperi v Subramaniam, 1180
 Vachino Dutt v Rameshri, 246
 Valda v Lawe, 714, 716
 Valla v Sidoizi, 1050
 Vallabdas v Fransankar, 932, 1212
 Vallabha v Madhusudan, 58
 Vallabho v Tollabmatul, 849
 Valampadu cherri v Chawankoran, 1087
 Valusubramania v Ramanathan, 337
 Van Aernam v Van Aernam, 1194
 Van Diemens Land Co v Marine, Board 1106, 1117
 Van Gruten v Foxwell, 1230
 Vankata Rao, In re, 750
 Venoneson v Dorwick, 963
 S. Van Omerson v Dowick, 299, 299, 831, 964, 970
 Vansant v Runyon, 1054
 Varadarajulu v Emperor, 931
 Varadarajulu v Srinivasulu, 716
 Varasapillu v Kiritamby, 30
 Vardon's Trusts, In re, 1283
 Varicons v French, 620
 Vasanbai v Radhubai, 4
 Vasinji v Haribhai, 901
 Vasinji v Lallu, 1260
 Vashudeva v. Noranama, 1011

U. S. v. Benson, 176

Vasudeh v Babaji, 1301
 Vasudeva v Waraine, 1580
 Vattiers' Trust, 652
 Vauder v Thelluson, 731
 Vauder v Thelluson, 731
 Vauder v Thelluson, 731

Veera v Muga, 703
 Veeranandan v Emperor, 1152

Velu Rangaswami v Balakrishna, 1258

Velvalapatti, In re, 923

Venulda Janki, In re, 467

Venable v Thompson, 1027

Venderdunct v Thelluson, 741

Venka v Muthu, 845

Venkappa v Munjurath, 636

Venka Sami v Queen, 484

Venkata v Aryanna, 1295

Venkata v Bhashya, 334

Venkata v Chanli, 326

Venkata v Muniammai, 1008

Venkata v Muthu, 627, 942

Venkata v Palaya, 1455

Venkata v Radha Kishun, 1039

Venkata v Sri Junganti, 888

Venkata v Subba, 634

Venkata v Subramania, 1048

Venkata v Venkata, 929, 1038

Venkata v Venkata, 686

Venkata Chala v Arunthanthachi, 1251

Venkata chela v Samapathu, 1330, 1487

Venkata v Subba, 710

Venkata raja v Narasanyya, 553

Venkatarama Aiyar v Krishnamma, 1187

Venkata Ramanappa v. Rama Setti, 1037

Venkata Rangappa v Subboraya, 238, 663, 1478

Venkataratnama v. Collector of Godavari, 1141

Venkata ratnam v Reddish, 1044

Venkataswar v Ramanatha, 1267

Venkatarama v Venkatarama, 1288

Venkata Sami v. Venkata reddi, 210, 237, 774

Venkata Subba v Subramania, 1033

Venkata Subba Reddi Re, 1373

Venkata Subba Row v Vigneswara, 1139

Venkata Subba Reddi v Emperor, 137, 526

Venkata Subbiah v. Emperor, 470, 1273

Venkata Subia v Gobinda, 1004, 1086

Venkattan v Emperor, 1318

Venkata Subbia v. Gobin Dorajulu, 912

Venkata Sudhadranyamma v Venkatabatu, 1031

Venna, Re, 1100

Vennicombe v Batter, 945

Vonulaie In Re, 50

Verabhan v. Bai Hirabhai, 837

Very v. Watkins, 806

Vertannes v Robinson, 1262, 1293, 1297

Vine v L. Clive, 179

17

Vishindas Re 1186

Vishnu v Ganesh, 170

Vishnu v Krishnan, 1249, 1274

Vishnu v New York, 1346

Vishnu Digambar v. B. B. & C. I. Ry., 1233

Vithal v Narayan, 1181

Venkataranra v Narayana, 1261

Volant v Soyer, 893, 1316, 1319, 1300, 1861 1487
Volkart v Fateh, 1133
Vozkart v Vettivelu 216
Von Lienné, Re, 892
Von Eckherdtem v Von Eckherdtemm, 788
Vooght v Winch, 685
Vowles v Young, 145, 515, 587, 593, 600
V R Firm v Md Kassim, 924
Vyankatesh v Ganesh, 1004
Vythilinga v Venkata, 199, 207, 310, 217, 237, 243, 246, 774

W.

Waddel v Glissel 1053
Waddington v Cousins, 948
Waddington v Roberts, 298, 964
Wade v Brougham, 948
Wadur v East India Co, 1330, 1331, 1335
Wadlawa v Emperor, 443
Wadlow v Wm B. Co 724

Wali Mohammed v Emperor, 525

Walker v Wilsher, 373, 376, 377
Walker v Winsfield, 547, 592, 655, 1578
Walker's Case, 97, 141
Walker, Re, 1162, 1174, 1270
Wallace v Bank, 1208
Wallace v L. B. Co 310

Walu v Londesborough, 200
Ward v Murray, 829, 891
Ward v P. & Co 554

Washaka v Gault, 246
Washak v Hussain, 314
Washington v Cole, 736
Wasinda Ram v Sita Ram, 322, 1265, 1266
Wasiq Ali v Athar Ali, 247, 656
Wasir v Empress, 799
Wasuzzaman v Faiza Bibi, 1581, Watcham v Att Gen 1091, 1093, 1095, 1103, 1106
Waterhouse v Stansfield, 929
Water Paik v Fennel, 1106
Watkins v Nash, 1068
Watkins v Nash, 1068
Watkins v Venne, 327
Watmore v Dickinson, 1460
Watson v Egglan, 1167
Watson v King, 333, 1161
Watson v Little 518, 702
Watson v Mohesh, 140, 1106
Watson v Moore, 679
Watson v Robin, 317
Watson v Sanford, 659

Watson v. State, 1367
 Watson v. Woodman, 337
 Watson's Case, 120, 1276

Webb v. Catenlow, 1334
 Webb v. Hewitt, 1075
 Webb v. Fox, 1082,
 Webb v. Mann, 768

607, 774
 Weguelin v. Weguelin, 622

Whicker v. Hume, 1015
 Whitelegs R., 734
 Whilkie v. Chebales Co. L. & T. Co., 128
 W. H. Meyrick v. Dupa Penda, 1278
 White v. City of Morquette, 117
 White v. Commonwealth, 1366
 White v. ...

9,580

1265
 Whitcomb v. Whiting, 331, 335, 343
 Whitefield v. Brand, 327
 Whitlock v. Musgrave, 166, 544, 933, 935

Widow's Trust In re, 105, 1199, 1221
 Wiedeman v. Walpole, 149, 302, 631, 623 Wigglesworth v. Dallison, 776, 1076
 Wihen = Law, 652
 Wilberforce v. Hearfield, 664
 Wilcox = Godfrey, 1467
 Wilding v. Sanderson, 1059
 Wilkinson v. Payne, 55
 Will v. Vidars, 742
 Willard = Darrab, 1110
 William v. Curtes, 203
 William Abbott, In the goods of, 974
 William Arratoon v. Bank of Bengal, 1010 William Cornell, In the goods of, 974
 William Graham v. Phanindra Nath, 248, 649

Wheeler v. Alderson, 730
 Wheeler v. Le Merchant, 375, 1343, 1345
 Wheeler v. United States, 1313
 Woeler v. Webster, 817
 Wheeler, Re, 1073

Wright v Woodgate 271
 Wurdent v Humeston Ry Co, 829
 Wazeera v Moorooden, 1136
 Wyck v Meal 310
 Wyatt v Berry 941
 Wyatt v Lord Hertford, 503
 Wyatt v Hodson, 313
 Wyatt v Palmer, 709
 Wyatt v Gore, 1331, 1325
 Wyldo v Hopkins 323
 Wymark's Case, 864
 Wymne v Trywhitt, 558, 567 986, 989

Y.

Yado v Beharilal, 1063
 Yadun The, 8
 Yaggie v Allen, 55
 Yahn v Ottumwa 727
 Yakub Khan v Gulzar Khan, 919
 Yamin v Emperor, 1203
 " " " " 75
 " " " " 1289
 " " " " 1001, 1382
 Yaswadbabai v Ram Chandra, 762
 Yates v Yates, 768
 Yates v Whyte, 202
 Yellappa v Tipbana, 1124, 1128
 Yarraganta v Sukunimalla, 1297
 Yashevent v Daulat 240
 Yavant v Puttu, 500
 Yesu Vadiyan v Subba, 641, 644, 6 6
 1483
 Yodh v Ewing 1193
 York & N M Ry v R, 4
 Young v Holmes 150
 Young v Leamington, 11

Young v Makepeace, 712
 Young v Richards, 940
 Young v Robertson 20
 Young v Slaughterford, 1578
 Young v State, 587
 Young v Wright, 338
 Young Manufacturing Co v Young, 82
 Yrisari v Clement, 828

Z

Zamindar S G R. Bomay v Virappa
 Chettu, 1240
 Zar led v Darnood 821

INTRODUCTION.

When we speak of the law of any subject, we are taken to mean those rules by which its consideration is to be governed. The laws of honour are the general rules of honourable conduct; the laws of thought are the fundamental principles of thought; the laws of war are the rules and usages recognised and accepted among civilized nations for regulating the conduct of the belligerents, the law of nature is the uniform occurrence of natural phenomena in the same way or order under the same conditions so far as human knowledge goes. The law of evidence, and by "evidence," is always to be understood 'legal evidence', consists of those rules statutory or otherwise which regulate the acceptance or rejection of that information to a legal tribunal which will justify a conclusion or judgment upon the matter in issue before it. Those rules have been adopted from the experience of ages, not only to regulate what evidence shall be admitted and what excluded, but the way in which it shall be presented or objected to—the mode and order, which its component parts shall assume—what shall be the extent of its recognition and cogency—what quantity and quality of proof, if any, shall be called for with respect to any particular matter submitted. Such are broadly the rules of evidence which taken together, are called the 'law of evidence'. A rule of evidence is defined by Barker P J, in Lapham v Marshall, 51 Hun (N Y) 561—3 N Y Supp 601, 603, to be the mode and manner of proving the competent facts and circumstances upon which a party relies to establish the fact in dispute in judicial procedure.

Meaning of "evidence" and "law of evidence".

In Sir James Stephen's monumental Digest of the Law of Evidence, he named the great artery of law which defines rights, duties and liabilities, the substantive, and the next in importance by which that substantive law is applied to particular cases, the law of procedure.

Division of law into substantive and adjective.

Wherever the human race has existed, and under whatever conditions,—whether as some savage tribe in the heart of Africa, or as the most enlightened community of modern times,—the distinct personality of its members has always been prominent. Man is, above everything, an individual. However much he may combine for protective, social or commercial purposes it is the distinct personality of the individual which is seen in all the relations which are established. In this fact that man is an individual complete in himself and not a component part of some larger personality, lies the idea which distinguishes between "mine" and "yours"—the idea of ownership. This idea, implanted in man as a part of his nature is at the basis of all law—upon it the whole system rests. Rules which have from the inception of the human race governed human action are developments of this idea. These rules made up a large part of the law of the primitive peoples. They were rules which expressed general that means exist by which B can enforce his rights in respect to his person and property. So too a piece of property—a horse for example—claimed by both A and B, might go to the stranger, though not the one rightfully entitled to it were it not for such means. In fact the rules defining the rights and obligations of men however complete and perfect they might be, would be of little use to mankind unless there existed the means of compelling men to conform their actions to them or of inflicting punishment upon them for failure to do so. So it happens that, with the growth of the substantive law, another kind of law has been established which relates not to the rights and obligations of men directly, but to the means of enforcing them. This is the law which defines the nature and powers of judicial tribunals and then prescribes the methods of procedure therein. This is known as the adjective law.

Beginnings of the Substantive Law

The rules both of substantive and adjective law have attained such vast proportions that for convenience in explaining and discussing them they are generally grouped into classes according to the nature of the subject-matter to which they relate. Each class is then spoken of by itself, as the law of the particular subject to which it relates, as the law of torts the law of contracts, the law of evidence and the like. What each subject includes is dependent largely upon the conception of the particular writer handling it for there is no well defined dividing line between many of the subjects.

The adjective law includes all the laws which have built up the judicial system whether they have had their origin in the constitution the legislature or the Courts. It embraces too the laws which have fixed the practice in the Courts—the methods of carrying on the work by Judge and jury, the laws prescribing the manner in which litigants might seek relief and carry on their cases are also included, and finally certain rules have grown up as a part of this law which relate not to the machinery of the system but having regard to the imperfections of the machinery are concerned with sorting out and selecting the materials which are supplied to it. These last mentioned rules make up the law of evidence.

The law of evidence says Sir James Fitzjames Stephens is that part of the law of procedure which with a view to ascertain individual rights and liabilities in particular cases decides, (1) what facts may and what may not be proved in such cases, (2) what sort of evidence must be given of a fact which may be proved, (3) by whom and in what manner the evidence must be produced by which any fact is to be proved.

Thus before the law of evidence can be understood or applied to any particular case it is necessary to know so much of the substantive law as determines what under given states of facts would be the rights of the parties and so much of the law of procedure as is sufficient to determine what questions it is open to them to raise in the particular proceeding.

THE INDIAN EVIDENCE ACT.

The general principle of the law of evidence consists of provisions upon the following subjects —

- (1) The relevance of facts.
- (2) The proof of facts.
- (3) The production of proof of relevant facts.

The foregoing observations show that this account of the matter is exhaustive. For if we assume that a fact is known to be relevant, and that its existence is duly proved, the Court is in a position to go on to say how it affects the existence, nature, or extent of the right or liability, the ascertainment of which is the ultimate object of the enquiry, and this is all that the Court has to do.

The matter must, however, be carried further. The three general heads may be distributed more particularly as follows —

I. The Relevance of Facts. Facts may be related to rights and liabilities in one of two ways, —

(1) They may by themselves, or in connection with other facts, constitute such a state of things that the existence of the disputed right or liability would be a legal inference from them. From the fact that A is the eldest son of B there arises of necessity the inference that A is by the law of England the heir at law of B, and that he has such rights as that status involves. From the fact that A caused the death of B under certain circumstances, and with a certain intention or knowledge there arises of necessity the inference that A murdered B, and is liable to the punishment provided by law for murder.

Facts thus related to a proceeding may be called facts in issue, unless their existence is undisputed.

(2) Facts which are not themselves in issue in the sense above explained may affect the probability of the existence of facts in issue, and be used as the foundation of inferences respecting them. Such facts are described in the Evidence Act as relevant facts.

All the facts with which it can in any event be necessary for Courts of Justice to concern themselves, are included in these two classes.

The first great question, therefore, which the law of evidence should decide is, what facts are relevant. The answer to this question is to be learnt from the general theory of judicial evidence in chapter II of the Evidence Act.

What facts are in issue in particular cases is a question to be determined by the substantive law, or in some instances by that branch of the law of procedure which regulates the forms of pleading, Civil or Criminal.

II Proof of Relevant Facts. Whether any alleged fact is a fact in issue or a relevant fact, the Court can draw no inference from its existence till it believes it to exist; and it is obvious that the belief of the Court in the existence of a given fact ought to proceed upon grounds altogether independent of the relation of the fact to the object and nature of the proceeding in which its existence is to be determined. The question is whether A wrote a letter. The letter may have contained the terms of a contract. It may have been a libel. It may have constituted the motive for the commission of a crime by B. It may supply proof of an alibi in favour of A. It may be an admission or a confession of crime, but whatever may be the relation of the fact to the proceeding, the Court cannot act upon it unless it believes that A did write the letter, and that belief must obviously be produced, in each of the cases mentioned, by the same or similar means. If the Court requires the production of the original when the writing of the letter is a crime, there can be no reason why it should be satisfied with a copy when the writing of the letter is a motive for a crime. In short, the way in which a fact should be proved depends on the nature of the fact, and not on the relation of the fact to the proceeding.

"Some facts are too notorious to require any proof at all and of these the Court will take judicial notice; but if a fact does require proof the instrument by which the Court must be convinced of it is evidence, by which I mean the actual words uttered, or documents or other things actually produced in Court, and not the facts which the Court considers to be proved by those words and documents. Evidence in this sense of the word must be either (1) oral or (2) documentary. A third class might be formed of things produced in Court, not being documents, such as the instruments with which a crime was committed or the property to which damage had been done, but this division would introduce needless intricacy into the matter. The reason for distinguishing between oral and documentary evidence is that in many cases the existence of the latter excludes the employment of the former, but the condition of material things, other than documents, is usually proved by oral evidence, so that there is no occasion to distinguish between oral and material evidence.

"III. The production of Proof. This includes the subject of the burden of proof, the rules upon which answer the question by whom is proof to be given. The subject of witnesses, the rules upon which answer the question, who is to give evidence and under what conditions? The subject of the examination of witnesses, the rules upon which answer the question, how are the witnesses to be examined, and how is their evidence to be tested? Lastly, the effect upon the subsequent proceedings, of mistakes in the reception and rejection of evidence, may be included under this head."

The word relevancy is more fully defined in sections 11 of the Evidence Act. These sections enumerate specifically the different instances of the connection between cause and effect which occur most frequently in judicial proceedings.

They are designedly worded very widely, and in such a way as to overlap each other. Thus a motive for a fact in issue (s 8) is part of its cause (s 7). Subsequent conduct influenced by it (s 8) is part of its effect (s 7). Facts relevant under section 11 would in most cases be relevant under other sections. The object of drawing up the Act in this manner was that the general ground on

'Thus in general terms the law of evidence consists of provisions upon the following subjects —

- (1) The relevancy of facts
- (2) The proof of facts
- (3) The production of proof of relevant facts

'The foregoing observations show that this account of the matter is exhaustive. For if we assume that a fact is known to be relevant, and that its existence is duly proved, the Court is in a position to go on to say how it affects the existence, nature, or extent of the right or liability, the ascertainment of which is the ultimate object of the enquiry and this is all that the Court has to do.

The matter must, however, be carried further. The three general heads may be distributed more particularly as follows —

I The Relevancy of Facts Facts may be related to rights and liabilities in one of two ways,—

- (1) They may by themselves or in connection with other facts, constitute such a state of things that the existence of the disputed right or liability would be a legal inference from them.

Facts in issue From the fact that A is the eldest son of B there arises of necessity the inference that A is by the law of England the heir at law of B, and that he has such rights as that status involves. From the fact that A caused the death of B under certain circumstances, and with a certain intention or knowledge there arises of necessity the inference that A murdered B and is liable to the punishment provided by law for murder.

'Facts thus related to a proceeding may be called facts in issue, unless their existence is undisputed.

- (2) Facts which are not themselves in issue in the sense above explained may affect the probability of the existence of facts in issue and be used as the foundation of inferences respecting them.

Relevant facts such facts are described in the Evidence Act as relevant facts.

'All the facts with which it can in any event be necessary for Courts of Justice to concern themselves, are included in these two classes.

'The first great question therefore which the law of evidence should decide is, what facts are relevant. The answer to this question is to be learnt from the general theory of judicial evidence in chapter II of the Evidence Act.

'What facts are in issue in particular cases is a question to be determined by the substantive law, or in some instances by that branch of the law of procedure which regulates the forms of pleading, Civil or Criminal.

II Proof of Relevant Facts Whether any alleged fact is a fact in issue

Proof of relevant facts or a relevant fact, the Court can draw no inference from its existence till it believes it to exist, and it is obvious that the belief of the Court in the existence of a given fact ought to proceed upon grounds altogether independent of the relation of the fact to the object and nature of the proceeding in which its existence is to be determined. The question is whether A wrote a letter. The letter may have contained the terms of a contract. It may have been a libel. It may have constituted the motive for the commission of a crime by B. It may supply proof of an alibi in favour of A. It may be an admission or a confession of crime, but whatever may be the relation of the fact to the proceeding, the Court cannot act upon it unless it believes that A did write the letter, and that belief must obviously be produced in each of the cases mentioned, by the same or similar means. If the Court requires the production of the original when the writing of the letter is a crime, there can be no reason why it should be satisfied with a copy when the writing of the letter is a motive for a crime. In short, the way in which a fact should be proved depends on the nature of the fact and not on the relation of the fact to the proceeding.

"Some facts are too notorious to require any proof at all and of these the Court will take judicial notice; but if a fact does require proof the instrument by which the Court must be convinced of it is evidence, by which I mean the actual words uttered, or documents, or other things actually produced in Court, and not the facts which the Court considers to be proved by those words and documents. Evidence in this sense of the word must be either (1) oral or (2) documentary. A third class might be formed of things produced in Court, not being documents, such as the instruments with which a crime was committed or the property to which damage had been done, but this division would introduce needless intricacy into the matter. The reason for distinguishing between oral and documentary evidence is that in many cases the existence of the latter excludes the employment of the former, but the condition of material things, other than documents, is usually proved by oral evidence so that there is no occasion to distinguish between oral and material evidence.

1 Judicial notice, 2
Oral evidence 3 Documentary evidence

produced in Court, and not the facts which the Court considers to be proved by those words and documents. Evidence in this sense of the word must be either (1) oral or (2) documentary. A third class might be formed of things produced in Court, not being documents, such as the instruments with which a crime was committed or the property to which damage had been done, but this division would introduce needless intricacy into the matter. The reason for distinguishing between oral and documentary evidence is that in many cases the existence of the latter excludes the employment of the former, but the condition of material things, other than documents, is usually proved by oral evidence so that there is no occasion to distinguish between oral and material evidence.

'III The production of Proof' This includes the subject of the burden of proof, the rules upon which answer the question, by whom is proof to be given. The subject of witnesses, the rules upon which answer the question, who is to give evidence and under what conditions? The subject of the examination of witnesses, the rules upon which answer the question, how are the witnesses to be examined, and how is their evidence to be tested? Lastly, the effect upon the subsequent proceedings, of mistakes in the reception and rejection of evidence, may be included under this head."

The word relevancy is 'more fully defined in sections 6-11 of the Evidence Act. These sections enumerate specifically the different instances of the connection between cause and effect which occur most frequently in judicial proceedings.

Obscurity of the definition

They are designedly worded very widely and in such a way as to overlap each other. Thus a motive for a fact in issue (s 8) is part of its cause (s 7). Subsequent conduct influenced by it (s 8) is part of its effect (s 7). Facts relevant under section 11 would, in most cases be relevant under other sections. The object of drawing up the Act in this manner was that the general ground on which facts are relevant might be stated in as many and as popular forms as possible, so that if a fact is relevant, its relevancy may be easily ascertained. These sections are by far the most important, as they are the most original part of the Evidence Act, as they affirm positively what facts may be proved, whereas the English law assumes this to be known, and merely declares negatively that certain facts shall not be proved.*

The definition given in sections 6-11 is that of logical relevancy. Logical relevancy plays a certain part, in the law of evidence in that no evidence is admissible unless it is logically relevant. It does not follow that all evidence which is logically relevant is admissible and in fact much that is logically relevant is excluded. Certain rules are laid down founded on various considerations, by which many matters which are logically relevant are declared inadmissible.

The modern system of Evidence says Prof Wigmore, 'rests upon two axioms. These underlie its whole structure. Implicitly but nevertheless actually and positively, recognised in the practice of Courts and in the utterances of the Judges they were first distinctly formulated by the great master and expounder of the history of our law of Evidence. The first is this. None but facts having rational probative value are admissible. This principle is indeed axiomatic, for any system of Evidence purporting to be rational. It assumes no particular doctrine as to the kind of ratiocination implied,—whether practical or scientific, coarse and ready or refined and systematic. It prescribes merely that whatever is presented as evidence shall be presented on the hypothesis, that it is calculated according to the prevailing standard of reasoning, to effect rational persuasion. The second axiom on which our law of Evidence rests is this. All facts having rational probative value are admissible, unless some specific rule forbids.'

'The great bulk of the Law of Evidence' says Sir James Fitzjames Stephens consists of negative rules declaring what, as the expression runs, is not evidence. The doctrine that all facts in issue and relevant to the issue, and no others, may be proved is the unexpressed principle, which forms the centre of and gives unity to all these express negative rules. The law has been worked out by degrees by many generations of Judges who perceived more or less distinctly the principle on which it ought to be founded. The rules established by them no doubt treat as relevant some facts which cannot perhaps be said to be so. More frequently they treat as relevant facts which really relevant, but exceptions excepted, all their rules are reducible to the principle that facts in issue or relevant to the issue, and no others, may be proved.'

'Four classes of facts, which in common life would usually be regarded as falling in with this definition of relevancy are excluded from it by the Law of Evidence except in certain cases

'1 Facts familiar to but not specifically connected with each other (R's inter alios acta)

"2 The fact that a person not called as a witness has asserted the existence of any fact (Hearsay)

"3 The fact that any person is of opinion that a fact exists (Opinion)

"4 The fact that a person's character is such as to render the conduct imputed to him probable or improbable (Character)

"To each of those four exclusive rules there are, however important exceptions which are defined by the Law of Evidence"

"The rejection on one or another practical ground of what is really probative is the characteristic thing in the English common law of Evidence, stamping it out as the child of the jury system. In the shape it has taken, it is not at all a necessary development of the rational method of proof, so that, where people did not have the jury, or having once had it did not keep it (as on the continent of Europe, although they, no less than we, worked out a rational system), they developed under the head of Evidence no separate and systematized branch of law. The greatest and most remarkable offshoot of the jury was that body of excluding rules which chiefly constitute the English 'Law of Evidence'. This judicial oversight and control of the process of introducing evidence to the jury was what gave our system birth, and he who would understand it must keep this fact constantly in mind"

Characteristic of English common law of evidence

The growth and the characteristic of the English Law of Evidence is thus described by an author of great eminence—"At once, when a man raises his eyes from the common law system of evidence, and looks at foreign methods, he is struck with the fact that English system is radically peculiar. Here a great mass of evidential matter, logically important and probative, is shut out from the view of the judicial tribunals by an imperative rule, while the same matter is not thus excluded anywhere else. English speaking countries have what we call a 'Law of Evidence' but no other country has it, we alone have generated and evolved this large, elaborate, and difficult doctrine. We have done it, not by direct legislation, but, almost wholly, by the slow accumulated rulings of Judges made in the trying of causes, during the last two or three centuries,—rulings which at first were not preserved in print, but in the practice and tradition of the trial Courts, and only during the last half or two thirds of this period have they been revised, reasoned upon, and generalized by the Courts in banc. When one has come to perceive these striking facts he is not long in finding the reason for them. Indeed the very structure of the system thus produced points to the reason, when we observe its constant, anxious, and over-anxious endeavour to prevent the tribunal to which the evidence is principally addressed from being confused and misled and from dealing with questions which it has no right to deal with. It might seem strange and not worthwhile to keep alive so long a tribunal which has needed so much watching and so many safeguards, if one did not recall the immense persistence of legal institutions and usages, as well as the deep political significance of the jury and its relation to what is most valued in the national history and traditions of the English race. It is this institution of the jury which accounts for the common law system of evidence,—an institution which English speaking people have had and used, in one or another department of their public affairs, ever since the Conquest. Other peoples have had it only in quite recent times, unless, indeed, they may belong to those who began with it centuries ago, and then allowed it to become obsolete and forgotten. England alone kept it, and, in a strange fashion, has developed it.

Peculiarity of English Law of evidence depends on jury system

This institution the jury, which is thus the occasion of our law of Evidence, and which is also at the bottom of our system of pleading and procedure, and of very much in all branches of the substantive common law, has a peculiar interest for us.

"A system of evidence, like ours, thus worked out at the forge of daily experience in the trial of causes not created, or greatly changed, until lately, by legislation, not the fruit of any man's systematic reflection or forecast, is sure to exhibit at every step the marks of its origin. It is not concerned with the nice definitions or the exacter academic operations of the logical faculty. It is attending to practical ends. Its rules originate in the instinctive suggestions of good sense, legal experience, and a sound practical understanding; and they are seeking to determine, not what is or is not, in its nature, probative, but rather, passing by that enquiry, what, among really probative matters, shall, nevertheless, for this or that practical reason, be excluded, and not even heard by the jury. From the diversity and multitude of the casual rulings by the Judges,—rulings often hastily made, ill considered, and wrong,—from the endeavour to follow these as precedents and to generalize and theorize upon them from the forgetting by some Courts, in making this attempt, of the accidental and empirical nature of much in these determinations, and the remembering of this fact by others there has resulted plenty of confusion. The pressure under which a ruling must be made is often unfavourable to clear thinking and the law of evidence largely shaped at mis prius, took on a general aspect which was vague, confused and unintelligible. One thing in particular added greatly to the confusion, namely, the habit of assuming, whenever evidential matter was rejected or received, that the result was attributable to some principle of the law of evidence, while very often indeed, the reason lay wholly in the rules of pleading, procedure or substantive law which happened to control the case. In this way the law of evidence came to be monstrously overloaded, and was made to swallow up into itself much which belonged to other branches of law, or to the wide regions of logic and legal reasoning. Thus, not only were many of these other subjects clouded and thrown out of focus, but the law of evidence itself was intolerably perplexed."

A learned author has with infinite pains tabulated a complete survey of the historical development of the English rules of evidence.† He separates it into some marked divisions—Gradual development of the law of evidence from the primitive times to the twelfth century, thence to the sixteenth, thence to the seventeenth thence to A. D. 1790, thence to 1830 thence to 1860, and thence to the present time. (1) From the section quoted we gather that up to the year 1300 we have no reliable data, although to the formalities of the earliest tribunals there can be traced the sources of our present rules for the summoning of witnesses, the effect of an oath, and the necessary production of original documents.

*Lhayer's Proc. Treat. on Evidence p 4.

† Wigmore § 8

(2) The next three centuries marked the establishment of the trial by jury. In this period, no new specific rules seem to have sprung up. The practice for attesting witnesses, oaths, documentary originals is developed. The rule for the conclusion of a sealed writing is definitely established. But during these three centuries the general process of pleading and procedure is only gradually differentiated from that of proof,—chiefly because the jurors are as yet relied upon to furnish in themselves both knowledge and decision, for they are not commonly caused to be informed by witnesses, in the modern sense.

(3) Between 1500 and 1700 the foundation of the present English system was laid. In that period we find the regulation of the competency of witnesses, the rules of privilege and privileged communications, the rules for attorneys, the compulsory attendance of witnesses, the privilege against self incrimination, the "parol evidence" rule, and the enactment of the Statute of Frauds. The "parol evidence" enlarged its scope and came to include all writings and not merely sealed documents. The mark of the new period is seen at the Restoration. Justice, on all hands, then begins to mend. Crudities which Mathew Hale permitted, under the Commonwealth, Stoggs refused under James II. The privilege against self incrimination, the rule for two witnesses in treason, and the character rule—three landmarks of our law of Evidence—find their first full recognition in the last days of the Stuarts.

(4) The fourth period of ninety years saw the final establishment of cross examination by counsel, the rule for impeachment and corroboration of witnesses, the 'best evidence' doctrine and the publication of the first treatise on the Law of Evidence by Chief Baron Gilbert in 1726. About the same time the abridgments of Bacon and Comeyns gave many pages to the title of Evidence, but no other treatises appeared for a quarter of a century when the notes of Mr. J. Bithurst (later Lord Chancellor) were printed, under the significant title of the 'Theory of Evidence'. Blackstone's commentaries were published in 1763. In this period, besides the rules for impeachment and corroboration of witnesses (which were due chiefly to the development of cross examination), are to be reckoned also the origins of the rules for confessions, for leading questions, and for the order of testimony. The various principles affecting documents—such as the authorization of certified (or office) copies and the conditions dispensing from the production of originals—now also received their final shape.

(5) The next forty years (1790-1830) saw a tremendous increase of the rulings upon evidence there being more than in the preceding two centuries. In this development the dominant influence was plain, it was the increase of the printed reports of Nisi Prius rulings. This was at first the cause and afterwards the self multiplying effect, of the detailed development of the rules. As soon as Nisi Prius reports, multiplied and became available to all, the circuits must be, reconciled, the rulings once made and recorded must be followed and the precedents, must be open to the entire profession to be invoked. There was, so to speak, a sudden precipitation of all that had hitherto been suspended in solution. This effect began immediately to be resisted and emphasized by the appearance of new treatises, summing up the recent acquisitions of precedent and practice. In nearly the same year, Peake, for England (1801), and Mac Nelly for Ireland printed small volumes whose contents, as compared with those of Gilbert and Boller seem to represent almost a different system so novel were their topics. In 1806 Evans' Notes to Pothier on Obligations was made the vehicle of the first reasoned analysis of the rules. In this respect it was epoch making. In 1813 and then in 1814 came Phillips and Starkie, in the bold combining of Evans' philosophies with Peake's strict reflection of the details of practice. There was now indeed a system of Evidence, consciously and fully realized. Across the water a similar stage had been reached. By a natural interval Peake's treatise was balanced in 1810, by Swift's Connecticut book while Phillips and Starkie were replaced by Greenleaf's treatise of 1817.

(6) The thirty years ending with 1860 will be ever associated with the names of Bentham, Brougham and Denman. The Theory of Judicial Evidence in spite of or perhaps by reason of, its philippic tone, created a mighty influence for good—an influence fortified by such doughty legal champions as Brougham and Denman. Their efforts culminated in England in the Common Law Procedure Acts of 1852 and 1854, while in the United States, Livingston and Field were the sponsors of similar results.

(7) In the period following 1860 there has been no serious emendation of the law of evidence in England later than the Judicature Act of 1873 and the Rules of Court of 1883, and the law of evidence attained rest. It is still over-patched and disfigured with multiplicitous fragmentary statutes, especially for documentary evidence. But it seems to be harmonious with the present demand of justice and above all to be so certain and settled in its acceptance that no further detailed development is called for.*

The Indian Evidence Act is ever associated with the name of Sir James

Sir James Fitzjames Stephens, the framer of the Evidence Act. Fitzjames Stephens Q. C., the great jurist and Judge who sponsored the amended Evidence Bill on which the present Act is based. At the final stage of the Bill he was vehemently criticised by competent critics but time shows how very judicious he was in enacting its provisions.

Before the passing of the Indian Evidence Act there was no complete code of evidence enforceable in every part of British India. The town of Calcutta had been from its foundation (1690) an English Colony, governed by English law. The early charters empowered the Governor in Council of each settlement to exercise civil and criminal jurisdiction therein, according to the laws of

No complete Code before the passing of the Evidence Act

England, and charters of 1726 and 1753 provided at least on paper for more regular tribunals at each of the principal settlements in shape of Mayor's Court for Civil, and Court's 'of Oyer and Terminer' and Quarter Sessions for criminal proceedings. These Courts were supposed to decide cases according to English law and adopting English procedure.

Since the establishment of the Supreme Courts of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay, the English rules of evidence have systematically been followed in the Presidency towns and several of the reforms made in England by Parliament were from time to time applied to these by the Governor General in Council. Thus incompetency on the ground of crime and interest was abolished by Act IX of 1840 and Act VII of 1841. And Act XV of 1852 enabled parties to give evidence except in criminal proceedings and proceedings for adultery or breach of promise.

But in the Muffusal there was an absolute absence of any systematic law of evidence. The English laws of evidence were not in force in the Muffusal. The Muhammadan laws of evidence as laid down in the Hedaya, as modified by Regulations passed from 1793 to 1831 as well as to a certain extent by English practice and English text books, were generally followed in the Muffusal Courts.

The Regulations of Bengal, Bombay and Madras laid down very few rules as regards evidence. Under section 15 of the Bengal Regulations III of 1793, a bond was required to be proved at least by two witnesses. But such documentary evidence was received without any proof unless objected to, such as copies of judicial proceedings, appearing to be authenticated by the signature of the proper officer, and copies of English correspondence from the Collectors or other Government officers similarly authenticated. Even copies of copies were so received. Rules as to witness, corresponding those contained in the present Codes of Criminal and Civil Procedure, were made by the following Regulations in Bengal, Beng Reg IV of 1793, ss 6, 14, Beng Reg IX of 1796 ss 2, 3 and 4, Beng Reg IV of 1807, s 7, Beng Reg VIII of 1803, s 25, Beng Reg L of 1803, ss 2, 3 and 4, Beng Reg III of 1812, s 2, Beng Reg XXIII of 1814 ss 33 and 73, Beng Reg XXIV of 1814, s 11. In Madras also rules relating to this subject were contained in several regulations, namely, Mad Reg III of 1802, s 7, Mad Reg IV of 1802, s 18, Mad Reg V of 1802, s 16, Mad Reg VII of 1802, s 18, Mad Reg VII of 1809, s 22, Mad Reg XII of 1809, s 8, Mad Reg IV of 1816 ss 15, 16, Mad Reg VI of 1816 ss 28, 34, Mad Reg VII of 1816, ss 4, 5, Mad Reg X of 1816 ss 15, 16, Mad Reg XIV of 1816 s 9, Mad Reg IV of 1821, s 10, and Mad Reg VIII of 1832, s 3. Moreover Mad Reg VI of 1816, s 35 and Mad Reg VII of 1816 s 15 have excluded documents not duly stamped. Evidence declared by the Muhammadan law-officer to be inadmissible is dealt with by Mad Regs I of 1825 s 8 and VI of 1829, s 11. In Bombay some rules as to witnesses in civil proceedings were made by Bom Reg IV of 1827 and rules as to witnesses in criminal proceedings were prescribed by Regs XII and XIII of the same year. All persons who had arrived at years of discretion and were of sane mind were made competent witnesses by Bombay Reg IV of 1827, s 33 and XIII of 1827 s 35. And the section last mentioned contain provisions (wanting in the present law) as to irregular with the law of Evidence was Act A of 1853. That Act was made applicable to all the Courts in British India. By that Act all the Acts passed by the Governor General in Council could be proved by the mere production of the Gazette purporting to contain it.

Different Regulations dealing with rules of Evidence

This Act was followed in quick succession by other fragmentary enactments, laying down rules of evidence. Incompetency as a witness was abolished by Act XIX of 1837 which was also declared to be in force in all the Courts of British India. Hindus and Muhammadans were permitted to make solemn affirmations instead of oath or declaration in the Mofussil Courts by Act V of 1840. That Act had no binding effect on any of the three Supreme Courts of Calcutta, Bombay and Madras. Act IX of 1840 declared that if a witness in any of the Supreme Courts were objected to on the ground that the verdict or judgment would be inadmissible in evidence for or against him, he might be examined, and the verdict or judgment should not be so inadmissible. The object of this enactment, which was taken from 3 & 4 Will IV Chap 42 was to render less frequent the rejection of witnesses on the ground of interest. Incompetency of a witness on the ground of interest or crime was abolished within the jurisdiction of the Supreme Courts by Act VII of 1844. But the Act did not make the party on whose behalf an action was brought or defended a competent witness. By Act XV of 1853 parties to a cause were made competent witnesses, except in criminal proceedings and proceedings for adultery or breach of promise of marriage. By this Act the parties were compelled to allow inspection of documents and Acts of State and judicial proceedings could be proved by the production of certified copies alone. It made the register of British ship and the production of the record of a conviction or acquittal. It dispensed with also in the Supreme Courts. Act XIX of 1853 extended some of these reforms to the Civil Courts of the East India Company in the Bengal Presidency. By this Act, parties to suits as well as husbands and wives of the parties were made competent witnesses. Although there was no express prohibition, henceforth, a husband or a wife is enabled to give evidence for or against each other. Incompetency of a witness on the ground of relationship or interest was also abolished and a party could be compelled to give evidence and produce documents.
But a witness was exempted from producing documents relating to a party's title deeds, state documents, and irrelevant documents. Communication between a witness and his professional adviser was also privileged. The Court could compel a witness to produce any other documents. Section 26 of the Act rendered absconding witnesses liable for damage.

In 1855 Sir Lawrence Peel introduced a Bill for the further improvement of the law of evidence which was carried by Sir James History of the pass- Colville and found place in the Statute Book as Act II of ing of the Indian Evi- 1855. This Act though totally devoid of arrangement
dence Act

was skilfully worded, and contained many valuable provisions, which applied to all Courts in British India (Vide Appendix C infra) Act X of 1855, which was in force in the Civil Courts of the East India Company in the Presidencies of Fort St George and Bombay, enacted by s 10 a provision like section 26 of Act XIX of 1853. In 1859, the first Civil Procedure Code was passed by Act VIII of 1859 and in 1861 the first Criminal Procedure Code found place in the Statute book. Act XV of 1869 provides facilities for obtaining the evidence and appearance in Court of prisoners and for service of process upon them. So it is clear that down to 1872, there was no fixed rules of evidence, except those contained in Act XIX of 1853 and Act II of 1855 which could be applied in the Muffassil Courts. The Commissioners appointed in England to prepare a body of substantive laws for India (ignoring the fact that their commission did not comprise adjective law), accordingly framed a draft code, which in October 1868 was introduced by Mr Henry Summer Maine and referred to a Select Committee, as a Bill to define and amend the law of evidence. This Bill was published and circulated to local authorities in the usual manner. But it was pronounced to be unsuited to India by some competent persons. It was far from complete, it was ill arranged, it was not elementary enough for the officers for whose use it was designed, and it assumed an acquaintance with the law of England which could scarcely be expected from them. A new Bill was therefore prepared by Sir James Fitzjames Stephens, the worthy successor of Sir Henry, which was printed, circulated and very freely criticised. Sir James accordingly recast it, and it was ultimately passed as Act I of 1872*. It is on the main based on the English law of Evidence.

This enactment purports to consolidate, define and amend the whole law of Evidence with certain exceptions mentioned in sections 1 and II. But rules contained in the Indian Evidence Act are also thus criticised by Sir Henry Summer Maine. "It must always be recollected that the affirmative or positive method of arrangement followed in the Indian Evidence Act does not represent the historical growth of the English law of Evidence. So far as it consisted express rules it was in its origin a pure system of exclusion and the great bulk of its present rules were developed as exceptions to rules of the widest application, which prevented large classes of testimony from being submitted to the jury. The chief of these were founded on general propositions of which the approximation to truth was but remote. Thus the assumptions were made that the statements of litigants as to the matter in dispute were not to be believed, that witnesses interested in the subject matter of the suit were not credible, and that no trustworthy inference can be drawn from assertions which a man makes merely on the information of other men. A complete account of it cannot in fact be given unless the mode of its development be kept in view.

Another important reason too, for remembering that our law of Evidence is historically a system of exclusion, is that we cannot in any other way account for its occasional miscarriages. The conditions under which it was originally developed must still be referred to, in explanation of the difficulty of applying it in certain cases, or of the ill success which attends the attempt to apply it. The mechanism of judicial administration which once extended over a great part of Europe, and in which the functions of the Judge were distributed between persons or bodies representing distinct sources of authority—the King, and the country, or the lord and his tenants—in England gradually assumed the shape under which we are all familiar with it in criminal trials and at Nisi Prius. A body of men, whose award on questions of fact is in the last resort conclusive, are instructed and guided to a decision by a dignitary, sitting in their presence, who is assumed to have an eminent acquaintance with the principles of human conduct whether embodied or not in technical rules, and who is the sole judge of points of law, and of the admissibility of evidence. The system of technical rules, which the procedure carries with it, fails then in the first place, whenever the arbiter of facts—the person who has to draw inferences from or about them—has especial qualifications for deciding on them, supplied to them by experience, study, or the peculiarities of his own character, which are of more value to him than could be any general direction from book or person. For this reason, a police man guiding himself by the strict rules of evidence would be chargeable with incapacity, and a General would, be guilty of a military crime.

Again the blending of the duties of the judge of law and of the judge of fact deprives the system of much though not necessarily of all, of its utility. An Equity Judge, an Admiralty Judge, a Common Law Judge trying an election petition, an historian, may employ the English rule of Evidence, particularly when stated affirmatively, to steady and sober his judgment. But he cannot give general directions to his own mind without running much risk of entangling or enfeebling it, and under the existing conditions of thought he can not really prevent from influencing his decision any evidence which has been actually submitted to him, provided that he believes it. Englishmen are extremely prone to do injustice to foreign systems of judicial administration, from forgetting the inherent difficulty of applying the English law of Evidence when the same authority decides both on law and on fact as is mostly the case in other countries.

"When India came under the British rule, there were many branches of law in which the political officers of the British Government could find few positive rules of any sort, or, if any could be discovered, they were the special observances of limited classes or castes. Thus there was no law of Evidence, in the proper sense of the words, hardly any law of contract, scarcely any of Civil Wrong. . . . Whole provinces of law became exclusively, or nearly exclusively, English. The law of Evidence became wholly English; so did the law of Contract substantially; so did the law of Tort. It is quite possible to hold a respectful opinion of many parts of English law, and yet to affirm strongly that its introduction by Courts of Justice into India has amounted to a grievous wrong. . . . No branch of law had become more thoroughly English at the time when it was first comprehensively dealt with by the Indian Legislature than the law of Evidence, and the practical evils which hence arose were even greater than those which ordinarily result from the adoption of an exotic of system of legal rules, collected with difficulty from isolated decisions reported in a foreign language. The theory of judicial evidence is constantly mis stated or misconceived even in this country. The English law on the subject is too often described as being that which it is its chief distinction not to be—that is, an Organon, or a sort of contrivance for the discovery of truth which English lawyers have patented. In India, several special causes have contributed to disguise its true character. There is much probability that our English law of Evidence would never have come into existence if we had not continued much longer than other western societies the separation of the province of the Judge from the province of the jury, and, in fact the English rules of Evidence are never very scrupulously attended to by tribunals which like the Court of Chancery, adjudicate both on law and on fact through the same organs and same procedure. Now, an Indian functionary, when he acts as a civil Judge and for the most part when he acts as a criminal Judge, decides both on law and on fact. He it is who applies the rules of Evidence to himself, and not to a body distinct from himself, and he has often to perform the delicate achievement of preventing his decision from being affected by sources of information which in reality have been opened to him.

The effects of their peculiar experience on many distinguished Indian functionaries may be seen to be of two kinds. In some minds there is a complete scepticism as to the value of the rules of Evidence, and though the man who for the time being is a Judge may attempt to apply them, he is intimately persuaded that he has gone into bondage to a foolish technical system under compulsion from the Court of Appeal above him. With others the consequences are of a different sort, but practically much more serious. They accept from the lawyers the doctrine that the law of Evidence is of the extremest importance, and unconsciously allow this belief to influence them not only in their judicial, but in their executive and administrative duties. It is often said in India that the servile reliance upon the English law of Evidence, which now a days characterizes many of the servants of Government, is producing a paralysis of administration, and though the assertion may be exaggerated it is far from impossible that it may have a basis of truth.*

'The jury trial system of rules of Evidence' says Prof Wigmore is not the only safe system of investigation in matters of liberty and property, for other nations have had a long experience of successful justice without it. Nor is it correct to assume that the general wisdom of experience which is represented in the system at large is represented in all the detailed rules rigidly enforced, quite the contrary. What is commonly forgotten is that most of the rules—nineteen

Prof Wigmore's criticism
 twentieths, let us say—are merely rules of caution: & they are based upon a possibility of error, so that the failure to observe the rule is perfectly consistent with a high probability of truth. The rule for example requiring the original of a document to be produced is merely a rule against possibilities, for thousands of banks and business houses daily deal with millions of wealth on the faith of copies not originals, to assert that truth was certainly misused because a copy was used, is an absurdity. So, too, with the hearsay rule, it aims to guard against possibilities, and is sound enough, as a rule, but all history of the past and all public news of the present, is learned by hearsay, for less than a million of our population really knew by personal observation, that our soldiers fought in a war with Germany, and the entire financial and economic operations of the country are built on a complex structure of hearsay which is as solid as a steel and concrete building.

*Village Communities in the East and West,

A second thing to remember is that the jury trial rules are intended for a constantly changing tribunals offit composed of inexperienced jury men dealing with hundred types of cases. When the tribunal is composed of experienced professional men habitually inquiring day after day into the same limited class of facts, an expert weighing of evidence can generally be counted upon. The cautions represented by the exclusionary jury rules can and will be applied by such a tribunal in weighing the evidence without the actual exclusion of it. Sir Henry Sumner Maine's comment on this feature represents a general truth. And in a community where the major part of such offices are filled by men already trained in the law, it is certain that the general wisdom of the cautions embodied in the jury rules of evidence will be employed by them.

Prof Greenleaf at the end of his famous book on Evidence says "The student will not fail to observe the symmetry and beauty of this branch of the law . . . and will rise from the study of its principles convinced with Lord Erskine, that they are founded in the charities of religion, in the philosophy of nature, in the truths of history and in the experience of common life, Commenting on this statement, says Prof James Bradley Thayer "I think that

Nature of the English rules of evidence it would be juster and more exact to say that our law of evidence is a piece of illogical, but by no means irrational patch work, not at all to be admired, not easily to be found intelligible, except as a product of the jury system, as the outcome of the quantity of rulings by sagacious lawyers, while settling practical questions in presiding over Courts where ordinary, untrained citizens are acting as judges of fact. Largely irrational in any other aspect in this point of view it is full of good sense, — a good sense indeed that occasionally nods, that submits too often to a mistaken application of its precedents that is often shortsighted and ill instructed, and that needs to be taken in hand by the jurist and illuminated, simplified, and invigorated by a reference to general principles.

"I have said that our law of evidence is ripe for the hand of the jurist. I do not mean for the hand of the codifier, it is not . . . but for a treatment which beginning with a full historical examination of the Duty of a legislature in framing the law of Evidence "subject and continuing with a criticism of the cases shall end with a re-statement of the existing law and with suggestions for the course of its future development. Such an undertaking worthily executed, if it should commend itself to the bench, could need only a slight co-operation from the legislature to give to the law of evidence a consistency, simplicity, and capacity for growth which would make it a far worthier instrument of justice than it is."

ADDENDA

§ 4—Presumptions are of two kinds, presumptions of law and presumptions of fact. Presumptions of law are true presumptions. A I R 1932 Mad 343=35 M L W. 495=1932 M W N 264

§ 4—Where one fact is declared by law to be conclusive proof of another the court cannot allow evidence to be given in rebuttal. A I R 1932 All 35=1931 A L J 360

§ 8—Evidence of witness that complainant informed them about theft long after the incident is not admissible—A I R 1934 Cal 17=57 C L J 447

§ 8—A letter written by the deceased some months before his death to the Commissioner of Police requesting police protection against apprehended assaults by the second accused is admissible in evidence under s 8 of the Evidence Act in continuing statements which accompany and explain the conduct of the deceased. 34 Bom L R 1087

§ 8—Statements of persons writing alleged forged deed and one presenting same for registration are admissible under s 8 as accompanying and explaining their conduct. 1933 M W N 96

§ 8—Where direct evidence as to commission of offence is not available, evidence as to motive need not be considered. A I R 1933 Oudh 265

§ 8—Where a particular act and act so blended together as to be inseparable. 143 Ind Cas 17=34 Cr I J

§ 8—Though the statement made by the accused to the police may be inadmissible under s 162 Cr Pro Code evidence of their conduct is certainly admissible under s 8. A I R 1932 Mad 391. Fact of production of stolen property by an accused is admissible as conduct under s 8. A I R 1932 Bom 285=56 B 172

§ 9—Section 88 of the Evidence Act is no bar to telegram being considered along with the rest of the evidence and be admissible under s 9 for the purposes covered by that section even when the original of telegram is not proved to be in the hand writing of the sender. A I R 1933 Pat 96=142 Ind Cas 809=13 P L T 802

§ 10—Where the accused have been charged under the Arms Act for possessing arms and for conspiracy to commit a dacoity the fact that one of the accused was seen showing a revolver to companion with whom it is alleged he was conspiring to commit a dacoity would be relevant as evidence of preparation under s 11. A I R 1932 Cal 474

§ 10—Statement during trial is not as conspirator in furtherance of common intention of conspiracy. A I R 1933 Oudh 86=34 Cr L J 124=141 Ind Cas 192. The question whether a post card written by the accused after his arrest to another accused person is admissible in evidence depends on whether the provisions of section 10 have been complied with. A I R 1932 Cal 557=33 Cr I J 450=137 Ind Cas 317, A I R 1933 A 690

§ 11—Recitals in deed are not inadmissible for proving how lands are dealt with by landlord. A I R 1934 Pat 81

§ 11—Display of arms by one conspirators to his co-conspirators is relevant under s 11 of the Evidence Act. A I R 1932 Cal 474=59 C 1361=55 C L J 439

§ 11—Highly probable meaning of. A I R 1933 A 670

§ 13—Judgment not interpreted can only be used as evidence of transaction but can be admitted as proof of title of the person in whose favour it was passed. 36 C W N 866, see also 56 C L J 369-A I R 1933 Cal 222=143 Ind Cas 179

§ 13—Recitals in sale deed though not evidence of grant, can be used to show nature of title A I R 1933 Pat 656

§ 13—Recitals in a kobala that a land is rent free, cannot be admitted in evidence in a suit between landlord and tenant in as much as the landlord is not a party in the kobala 59 C 454=A I R 1932 Cal 427

§ 13—Custom recognized in previous judgments are admissible in evidence, but they are not conclusive A I R 1933 Lah 553, see also A I R 1933 Oudh 246

§ 13—Right in section 13 means incorporeal right and cannot possibly refer to any question of ownership of property in contradistinction to incorporeal rights A I R 1933 Pat 285

§ 13—Previous judicial decisions making mention of status of pre-emptor are admissible in evidence under ss 13 and 42—140 Ind Cas 566=A I R 1933 Lah 57=33 P L R 1054

§ 13—Section 13 (a) refers to admissibility of transaction by which a right is asserted A I R 1932 Cal 398=54 C L J 353=137 Ind. Cas 658, see also A I R 1932 Bom 291=34 Bom L R 236

§ 13—Partition deed between two persons could not be admissible to show permanency or otherwise of tenancy A I R 1932 Cal 398

§ 14—In a prosecution under s 415 of the I P Code evidence would be relevant on the question whether the accused was in embarrassed circumstances at the date when he entered into his contract A I R 1932 Bom 273=34 Bom L R 313

§ 15—Where conduct alleged and proved against accused is susceptible of more than one interpretation evidence of similar acts is admissible to show that conduct was systematic and not capable of favourable interpretation 142 Ind. Cas 274=A I R 1933 Cal 136=132 Ind Cas 274.

§ 16—Posting of letter cannot be held to prove delivery as postal servants are not always diligent A I R 1933 Rang 76

§ 17—In case of admission the entire statement must be considered together in order to treat it as admission Particular passages which may be favourable cannot be selected and other ignored A I R 1933 Lah 179=141 Ind Cas 204=34 P L R 149=141 Ib 218

§ 18—A party's admission should be accepted as true until contrary is proved A I R 1932 All 199=1932 A L J 77, A I R 1932 Cal 538=58 C 541

§ 18—A person called by a party as his witness cannot however be regarded as his agent within the meaning of s 18—A I R 1932 D 117=34 Bom L R 35

§ 18—Proceeding refers to proceeding in which matter stated by party is an issue or is relevant A I R 1933 Rang 292

§ 18—Admission shifts burden of proof to party making admission A I R 1933 Lah 725=34 P L R 482

§ 18—Where S and R attested a will which recited that L was wedded wife of G Held that S and R had practically admitted lawful marriage between L and G 142 Ind Cas 13=34 P L R 365=A I R 1933 Lah 347

§ 18—Where admission is based on erroneous state of affairs it is not binding 142 Ind Cas 720=33 P L R 819=A I R 1932 Lah 651

§ 18—Gratuitous admission can always be withdrawn A I R 1933 Oudh 20=140 Ind Cas 580=90 W N 923

§ 20—For purposes of reference to a third party under s 20, it is not necessary that the reference should be a question of fact within the knowledge of the referee A I R 1933 A 861

§ 20—Where both parties agree to abide by the statement of the referee the statement of the referee would then be the admission of both the parties binding upon them. A I R 1933 A 861

S 21—Admissions are relevant under the Evidence Act, unless they are inadmissible by some circumstances which the Act declares to be of an invalidating nature. A I R 1932 Mad 509-62 M L J 680-35 M L W 607

S 21—An admission must be taken as a whole. 138 Ind Cas 217-33 Cr L J 570-33 P L R 287, A I R 1933 Rang 204

S 21—Where an accused points out the window by which they entered and committed dacoity it can be proved against an admission. A I R 1932 Lah 488-34 P L R 405-142 Ind Cas 699

S 21—Admission against interest of party making it must be regarded as true until it is clearly proved to be untrue. A I R 1933 Lah 885-34 P L R 788-144 Ind Cas 497

S. 21—Evidence of person not party to a suit is admissible against such person and against those who claim under or from him in subsequent suit in which he is a party. A I R 1933 Oudh 246-10 O W N 268

S 24—Confession made on superior officer's holding out inducement to subordinate, cannot be used. A I R 1933 Cal 644-60 C 719, see also A I R 1933 All 31-1932 A L J 1125, A I R 1933 All 31-1932 A L J 1125

S 24—Statement made by inducement of pardon but not under pressure is admissible under s 339 (2) Cr Pro Code. A I R 1933 Lah 910

S. 24—Confession made under mere hope of pardon cannot be rejected when proved to be voluntary. A I R 1933 Lah 368-143 Ind Cas 499

S 24—The judge is to decide whether a confession is caused by inducement, threat, or promise. If according to him it is inadmissible, it must be re-jury. A I R 1933 Cal 187-142 Ind

A I R 1932 Sind 64, 26 S L R 91=
A P 1932 Sind 64

S 24—Inducement, threat or promise by person who has no power to enquire does not make a confession to such person inadmissible. 142 Ind Cas 474-14 P L T 82-12 Pat 241-A I R 1933 Pat 149 (S B)

S 24—Tahsildar is not a person in authority. 142 Ind Cas 474-14 P. L T 82-A I R 1933 Pat 149 (S B)

S 24—Where a confession is duly recorded under s 164 the presumption is that it was freely made. A I R 1932 Sind 201-26 S L R 302-141 Ind Cas 392

S 24—Extra judicial confession of guilt made by a person, before he is taken into police custody has high probative value but it must be proved strictly when it is not in writing. A I R. 1932 Sind 201-141 Ind Cas 392-26 S L R 302

S 24—A retracted confession is not necessarily worthless. A I R 1932 Mad 391, see also 55 M 717-138 Ind Cas 240-33 Cr L J 586-35 L W 607-A I R 1932 Mad 500-62 M L J 680. A I R 1932 Oudh 115-139 Ind Cas 736-9 O W N 96, 139 Ind Cas 756-9 O W N 321, 10 Mys L J 304, A I R 1932 Oudh 321-137 Ind Cas 665-9 O W N 327

S 24—A retracted confession must be corroborated by reliable evidence, before it is acted upon. 140 Ind Cas 194-33 P L R 691-A I R 1932 Lah 557, A I R 1932 All 228-54 A 350-1932 A L J 162-33 Cr L J 201, 56 B 542-140 Ind Cas 740-34 Bom L R 1240-A I R 1932 Bom 553

S 24—Value of retracted confession depends upon circumstances of its making. 7 Luck 511-A I R 1932 Oudh 317-139 Ind Cas 751

S 24—Value of extra judicial confession made to another convict in jail is very little. A I R 1932 Oudh 324-9 O W N 170-137 Ind Cas 170

S 24—The manager of a company is a person in authority—A I R 1932 Sind 64-26 S I R 191-138 Ind Cas 618. So also a Zemindar connected with investigation. A I R 1932 Sind 55-138 Ind Cas 614-33 Cr L J 641

S 24—The question whether the word used were intended to convey to the accused an inducement etc must depend on the surrounding circumstances in which the words were used. The burden is on the prosecution to prove that the confession was not improperly induced. A I R 1933 Sind 406

S 24—No doubt the provisions of s 164 are imperative and mandatory but the court can admit the statement by calling oral evidence to prove that the statement had in fact been duly made unless the error has injured the accused as to his defence on the merits. A I R 1934 All 81—1933 A L J 1551 (F B)

S 24—Confession by accused by Magistrate not improperly induced can be proved though made under hope of pardon and even though not recorded as required by s 164 of the Cr Pro Code. A I R 1913 Lah 987

S 25—Political Mohurr Oglis is a police officer—A I R 1933 Pesh 38

S 25—Excise officer invested with police powers is not a police officer. 140 Ind Cas 283=13 Pat I T 627—A I R 1932 Pat 293 (S B) 1932 M W N 453 vide article in A I R 1932 pages 47—55 (Journal)

S 25—Statement of accused made at police station is inadmissible. A I R 1933 Lah 167=34 P L R 159=1933 Cr C 312

S 25—The term police officer should be read in a more popular and comprehensive sense. It includes police officers of Indian States. 140 Ind Cas 283=13 Pat I T 627—A I R 1932 Pat 29 (S B)

S 25—Writing taken down by police officers during investigation for comparison is not confession. 56 B 304=38 Ind Cas 708=34 Bom L R 598. A I R 1932 Bom 406

S 25—Confession to a crowd of people is not inadmissible merely because a police man was one of the crowd. A I R 1934 All 132

S 25—Confession to chaukidar is admissible. A I R 1934 All 132

S 25—Statement containing admission should be considered as a whole. A I R 1933 Rang 326

S 25—Report by accused at police station that he had killed deceased is inadmissible. A I R 1933 Lah 899

S 25—Confession made to police not used as such may be used to show that accused gave different versions to court and police. A I R 1938 Cal 308. 56 C L J 73=143 Ind Cas 220=34 Cr I J 530

S 25—Statement of accused is not admissible if it is a confession. Free will does not excluded under

S 26—Where the Magistrate has not made a record of confession under s 164 Cr Pro Code but only made a written memorandum he can prove the confession by his oral evidence and may refer the memorandum to refresh his memory. A I R 1933 Lah 76 see also A I R 1933 Lah 956. A I R 1933 Lah 513

S 26—The expression police custody does not necessarily means formal arrest. It also includes some form of police surveillance and restriction on the movements of the persons concerned by the police. A I R 1932 Lah 609

S 26—Section 164 of the Criminal Procedure Code does not apply to oral confessions. Such confession is admissible under s 26 of the Evidence Act. A I R 1933 Oudh 42

S 26—Conviction cannot be based on reported confession when the reporter cannot depose the exact confession. A I R 1934 All 8

S 26—Confession made to a fellow prisoner in judicial look up is not inadmissible as to the custody is magisterial. A I R 1934 Lah 75

S 26—Oral confession made to a Magistrate can be proved. 142 Ind Cas 619=41 R 1932 Lah 488

S 26—Oral confession made to a Magistrate soon after arrest when the police could scarcely have any opportunity to bring pressure upon the accused is admissible. A I R 1933 Lah 998

S 26—Confession to chaukidar after arrest is irrelevant. A I R 1934 Oudh 194

S 20—Confession of accused to Magistrate not deputed by police is admissible A I R 1932 Lah 261

S 28—Custody of a Police officer does not mean that the accused should be under actual arrest. The test is whether he is or is not at liberty to move from a particular place where he was when he made confession A I R 1932 Sind 149=26 S L R 1, see also A I R 1932 Sind 201=26 S L R 302=141 Ind Cas 392. In order to bar proof of confession two things must be proved, namely limitation should be imposed upon the liberty of confessor and it must be imposed upon by police A I R 1932 Sind 201=26 S L R 312

S 26—A village chaukidar is a police officer A I R 1933 Oudh 192=10 O W N 348=1933 Cr C 379

S 26—Where police officer takes magistrate with him while the former is conducting investigation the evidence by such magistrate as to what happened is not admissible A I R 1933 All 394

S 26—Magistrate of an Indian States is a magistrate under s 26—A I R 1933 All 285=1933 Cr C 481

S 26—Before retracted confession is acted upon it is necessary to make sure that corroborative evidence supports confession—57 C L J 13

S 26—Where accused is deceived into belief that the Magistrate before whom he is making confession is police officer the confession is not irrelevant 26 S L R 302=A I R 1932 Sind 201=141 Ind Cas 392=1932 Cr C 810. Test of police custody A I R 1932 Sind 149=26 S L R 1

S 26—Oral confessions made to the Magistrate can be proved under s 26 A I R 1932 Lah 488

S 26—A confession made to Honorary Magistrate is admissible 33 P L R 217=138 Ind Cas 497=A I R 1932 Lah 261=33 Cr L J 632

S 27—Where accused under detention as suspect makes statement leading to discovery of murdered body the statement is admissible A I R 1933 Lah 516. Such statement is admissible even though made in presence of police 143 Ind Cas 46=34 Cr L J 481=1932 M W N 801=A I R 1933 Mad 233=64 M L J 88

S 27—Statements made by accused to daroga showing place in jungle where occurrence took place are not admissible in evidence being in the nature of confession made to Police Officer while in custody. Section 27 does not apply and does not render statements admissible A I R 1933 Cal 146

S 27—Person accusing himself of offence and submitting to police custody under s 46 (1) Cr Iro Code is in police custody when he makes statement to police within s 27—142 Ind Cas 474=14 P L J 82=12 Pat 241=A I R 1933 Pat 149 S B)

S 27—Statement that hatchet produced was one by which murder was committed should not be allowed in evidence A I R 1933 Oudh 404

S 27—Section 27 is a special provision whereas s 162 Cr Iro Code is general and does not in any way affect the operation of the former when the conditions mentioned therein are fulfilled A I R 1932 Mad 391=1933 M W N 305 (F B)

S 27—S 27 is not a mere proviso to s 26. It cuts down the operation of ss 24 and 25 as well 59 C 1040=138 Ind Cas 116=36 C W N 373=A I R 1932 Cal 297 see also A I R 1932 Bom 286=31 Bom L R 303=66 II 172 137 Ind Cas 174

S 27—Where statements are made by several persons to the same effect leading to the discovery of some fact only the statement made by the first individual and only so much of it as related distinctly to the fact discovered can be admitted 36 C W N 373=59 C 1040=138 Ind Cas 116=A I R 1932 Cal 297 1932 M W N 113

S 27—The General rule that statements made by accused persons to the police in the course of an investigation cannot be proved does not affect special exception to that rule remaining in force by force of s 27—55 M 903 = A I R 1932 Mad 391—62 M L J 742 F B)

S 27—Where the accused makes a statement that he and another accused hid the ornaments belonging to the murdered person in a particular place that statement can be admitted under s 27 1932 M W N 801

S 27—Where police officer interviewed person charged with offence of being in possession of cocaine and walked with him to place pointed out by him where cocaine was discovered the admission was held inadmissible A I R 1933 Cal 148=1933 Cr C 215

S 27—Only statement leading directly on the recovery of property are admissible A I R 1934 Nag 71

S 27—Statements not directly bearing upon discovery are not admissible A I R 1933 Nag 252

S 28—Confession on inducement is inadmissible A I R 1933 All 31=1932 A L J 1125 34 Cr I J 487

S 29—A confession if proved to have been made voluntarily is not inadmissible merely because the accused was not warned by the Magistrate that he was not bound to make such confession The provisions of s 164 Cr Pro Code are in this respect in conflict with those of s 29 of the Evidence Act but on a question of the admissibility of a particular piece of evidence it is the Evidence Act that prevails 55M 711=137 Ind Cas 863=62 M L J 559=A I R 1932 Mad 431 see also A I R 1933 Sind 166=1933 Cr C 530

S 29—S 164 deals with persons accused and not with witnesses as also does s 29 139 Ind Cas 725=33 Cr L J 814=36 M L W 798=56M 63=64 M L J 153=A I R 1932 Mad 748

S 30—Confession of co accused implicating himself and accused tried jointly with him may be considered if proved 142 Ind Cas 87=A I R 1933 Rang 57=142 Ind Cas 87=11 Rang 4

S 30—Approvers having ample opportunity to consult each other before becoming approvers should not be considered as corroborating each other A I R 1933 Lah 946

S 30—The confession of a co accused stands even on a lower footing than that of the evidence of an accomplice as it is not a statement on oath and cannot therefore be accepted without material corroboration connecting the accused with the case A I R 1933 Lah 956

S 30—The statement of a co accused can be considered when judging the case against any person Such evidence however has very little value and though it may come as a link in the chain it cannot form the basis of a conviction A I R 1914 Pes 11

S 30—Voluntary retracted confession is admissible against co accused A I R 1934 Rang 30

Ss 30 114(b) and 133—Evidence of accomplice may be corroborated by confessions of co accused as against other accused where truth of confession is guaranteed A I R 1932 Oudh 355

S 30—Where the evidence of the approver is eliminated as against one of the accused whose name has been falsely substituted by the approver the whole fabric must fall to the ground and it should not be accepted even against the other accused though to some extent it is corroborated by independent testimony A I R 1933 Lah 871

S 30—No conviction can be based on uncorroborated testimony of approver even if he has no enmity against accused A I R 1933 Lah 838=34 P L R 660 see also A I R 1933 Nag 249 16 N I J 129

S 30—A retracted confession is admissible against a co accused but it is practically of no value unless there be independent corroboration 136 Ind Cas 27=33 I I R 602=A I R 1932 Lah 294 A I R 1932 Oudh 321=137 Ind Cas 665=33 Cr I J 502 36 C W N 874=140 Ind Cas 379=A I R 1933 Cal 6

S 30—A confession cannot be accepted in part 33 P L R 511—A I R 1932 Lah 438

S 30—Section 30 is applicable only to statements made before and proved at the trial and not to statements made by some of the co accused in the course of the trial under s 342 of the Cr Pro Code 9 O W N 1135—141 Ind Cas 19=34 Cr I J 124

S 30—Statement of accused made at police station is inadmissible and cannot be used as evidence as against co accused 34 I L R 259—A I R 1933 Lah 167=1933 Cr C 312

S 32—Before admission of statements under s 32 evidence must be given that the makers of the statements are dead or are not available A I R 1933 Rang 212

S 32(1)—Corroboration of dying declaration is not necessary as a rule of law But declaration not made in expectation of immediate death and not made in presence of accused requires corroboration as a rule of procedure A I R 1933 Bom 479

S 32(1)—Simply because declaration is false in some part it should not be disregarded as a whole A I R 1933 Bom 479 Dying declaration is relevant under this section even though maker does not expect to die A I R 1933 Bom 479

S 32(1)—The statement of a person mortally wounded is admissible under this section 140 Ind Cas 892=1933 Cr C 93—A I R 1933 Oudh 53

S 32(1)—Transactions resulting in death does not mean any fact or series of facts which have no direct and organic relation to death Statements made by deceased long before actual incident of murder are inadmissible under s 32(1) 143 Ind Cas 17=34 Cr L J 505—A I R 1933 Nag 136

S 32(1)—Evidence of prosecution witnesses as to oral dying declaration of deceased should be discarded, where the deceased received several mortal injuries and there is no definite medical evidence that he would have been able to speak A I R 1933 Oudh 333=10 O W N 557

S 32(1)—Corroboration of dying declaration is not necessary as a rule of law But declaration not made in expectation of immediate death and not made in presence of accused requires corroboration as a rule of procedure A I R 1933 Bom 479

S 32(2)—Report submitted by a process person who is dead regarding service of notice is admissible under s 32(2) and s 3,—A I R 1933 Pat 658

S 32(2)—The Zemindari papers can be used as independent evidence provided they are brought within s 32(2) of the Evidence Act by showing that the persons who prepared them are dead or cannot be found etc but the weight to be attached to them must depend on circumstances 11 Pat 701—A I R 1933 Pat 6

S 32(2)—The entries in a diary of a police officer who is subsequently murdered is admissible in evidence 140 Ind Cas 578=1932 A L J 301—A I R 1932 All 442

S 32(4)—Evidence as to family custom based on information derived from deceased is admissible if it is expression of independent opinion based on hearsay A I R 1933 Oudh 246=10 O W N 268

S 32(5)—Where the statements regarding fact of adoption of the party in the present suit were made in previous suits in which the question of adoption was directly in issue such statements should not be admitted in evidence in the present suit under subsection 3, section 32 as they were not made before the question of dispute was raised A I R 1932 Mad 198

S 32(1)
ledge and
A I R

S 32(5) — The statement of a witness on a question of relationship can be admissible either under s 32(5) or s 50 A I R 1934 All 117

S 32(5) — The statement of a deceased Mahomedan that the mother of his children was married to him is evidence of marriage for proving legitimacy A I R 1933 All 329 = 1933 A L J 483

astrologer on information by person ate of birth of particular person and is admissible under s 32(5) though not n relates to existence of relationship within s 3 (5) 30 C W N 230 = 30 C L J 253 = 142 Ind Cas 36 = A I R, 1933 Cal 51

S 32(5) — Section 32(5) does not apply because statements were made after question in dispute was raised 35 Bom L R 118 = A I R 1933 Bom 126

S 33 — The expression representative in interest is not for all purposes synonymous with the expression persons claiming under in s 11 of the C P Code A I R 1932 Mad 198 = 62 M L J 116 = 1932 M W N 31 = 55 M 40 = 139 Ind Cas 684

S 33 — Where a witness is dead but the accused had opportunity to cross examination his evidence is admissible in de novo trial 139 Ind Cas 203 = A I R 1932 Mad 559 = 1932 M W N 857

S 33 — A deposition on which there was no opportunity at all to cross-examine, is not admissible under s 33 A I R 1934 Mad 100 = 39 M L W 34

S 33 — The first proviso to section 33 of the Evidence Act deliberately inverts the requirements of the English law and means that where the two proceedings are not between the same parties in order that the proviso may be complied with the party to the first proceeding must have been a representative in interest of the party to the second proceeding and not vice versa 38 C W N 1 P C

S 33 — Evidence of witness before Coroner in enquiry into death is not admissible under s 33 where the witness dies prior to the enquiry before Magistrate A I R 1933 Bom 479, see also A I R 1933 Bom 126

S 34 — The mere filing of accounts and exhibiting them does not prove the various items in the accounts without some more evidence. The accounts may corroborate the oral evidence and there must be the evidence of some person who knows the transaction personally and he swears to them A I R 1933 Mad 756

S 34 — A entry in an account book is an admission by the maker thereof in his own favour and it is accepted as evidence only if it strictly complies with the requirements of being kept regularly in the ordinary course of business. The account books in which balances are not struck for six days running is not therefore a document which would inspire confidence in a Court of justice 33 P L R 745 = A I R 1932 Lah 417, see also A I R 1932 Sind 186

S 34 — Entries in old account books over 30 years by themselves are not sufficient to charge a person with a liability though there is presumption that they were written by person by whom they are purported to have been written 142 Ind Cas 869 = A I R 1932 All 500 = 1933 A L J 423

S 34 — Where a suit is based on entries on an account book the entries themselves should be proved 34 P L R 46 = A I R 1933 Lah 344, see also A I R 1933 Lah 212

S 34 — Where persons preparing Zemindari papers are dead or could not be found, the Zemindari papers can be used as independent evidence 141 Ind Cas 157 = 11 Pat 701 = A I R 1933 Pat 6

S 34 — Account books of respectable firms should not be stigmatised as fabricated without coming to finding that books produced are fabricated and without giving reasons. 142 Ind. Cas. 463 = 14 P L T 61 = A I R 1933 at 145

S 35—Entry in order sheet that notice has been served is presumed to be correct though it is conclusive evidence of fictum of service 1933 Pat 658

S 35—Reports of Tasildar and Extra Assistant Commissioner in inquiry into naufi of property are relevant A I R 1934 Lah 39

S 35—Entries on the books and forms maintained under rules of Education Department are relevant as evidence of conduct of parties proving and disproving a fact of adoption A I R 1934 Nag 1

S 35—School certificate as to the age of a boy, duly prepared according to authority are admitted in evidence A I R 1934 Nag 44=16 N L J 232, see also 28 N I R 127=140 Ind Cas 66=A I R 1932 Nag 117

S 35—Entries in public documents of relevant facts are admissible irrespective of the fact whether public officer recording them knows them or not A I R 1933 Sind 317 But entry in the death register as to age is not conclusive proof of age Idid

S 35—Hitchda of Chikidar containing date of birth is admissible though written by Dafidar at request of Chikidar A I R 1933 Pat 473 in Record of Rights being irrelevant are survey map has presumptive value against a landlord of a neighbouring estate The Gringetic survey map cannot have the same value as evidence of title as the Revenue Survey map A I R 1933 Pat 671.

10

S 36—Rennel's map though correct with reference to the course of rivers cannot be preferred in a matter regarding the direction of villages to the investigations of a commissioner appointed for the purpose 56 C L J 369=143 Ind Cas 179=A I R 1933 Cal 222

S 35—Where there is discrepancy between Birth Register and Guardianship certificate regarding date of birth the age should be determined by reference to birth register 142 Ind Cas 794=1932 A L J 1012=54 A 1019=A I R 1933 All 100

S 35—Where deposition is recorded in ordinary way that record is proper evidence of statement and not abstract from judgment Oral admission acted on and recorded by Court in its judgment which constituted only official record of it, such record is admissible in evidence—142 Ind Cas 548=A I R 1933 Mad 184

S 35—Wajibularz entry in respect of custom if duly attested by settlement officials and signed by zamindars of village to which it relates must be admitted under s 85 A I R 1933 Oudh 246=10 O W N 268

S 35—Entries in marriage Register kept under the Christian Marriage Act are admissible in evidence 141 Ind Cas 284=26 S L R 423=A I R 1933 Sind 27

S 41—Order in lunacy is binding on parties thereto or those claiming under them A I R 1933 Mad 624, 1935 M W N 514

S 41—A judgment in a suit for restitution of conjugal right is not a judgment in rem and a third party is not bound by it A I R 1933 Rang 250

S 41—Statement in judgment not inter partes is not admissible A I R 1932 Lah 50

S 41—A Judgment not inter partes or in rem is admissible only to show its date and legal consequences A I R 1932 Cal 292=59 C 136=137 Ind Cas 163

S 41—It is doubtful whether judgment refusing probate of will is judgment in rem 141 Ind Cas 287=56 Mad 346=A I R 1933 Mad 14

S 42—Judgment declaring person to be owner of certain properties as auction purchaser though not inter partes is admissible as assertion of title 143 Ind Cas 179=56 I L J 369=A I R 1930 Cal 22

S 42—Previous judicial decisions making mention of status of preceptor are admissible in evidence under s 13 and 42=A I R 1933 Lah 57=140 Ind Cas 566=33 P L R 1054

S 42—Judgment determining similar questions are relevant though not conclusive A I R 1937 Bom 398=34 Bom L R 802

S 42—Previous judgments cannot be used as evidence to decide points which are at issue in different case except in cases under ss 40 and 42 A I R 1932 Pat 690

S 43—Decrees not inter partes are not evidence save under ss 13 and 43 They are mere evidence of transaction A I R 1933 Cal 21=140 Ind Cas 365=36 C W N 806 see also 37 M L W 623=A I R 1933 Mad 429, 58 C 1187=58 I A 125 56 C L J 369 1932 M W N 362

S 44—the plea that a decree passed by a Native State Court was made without jurisdiction is open to the objector under s 44 and can be raised at any stage of the proceeding unless there is a bar or res judicata or any rule of equitable estoppel against him A I R 1931 All 689

S 45—Opinion as regards the date of the stamp whether admissible 11 Pat 782=A I R 1932 Pat 352

S 45—A Magistrate should not refuse to record the evidence of hand writing expert where the question of identity of handwriting is in issue as the evidence of an expert in the matter of handwriting has been made admissible and relevant 139 Ind Cas 508=A I R 1932 Lah 481=33 P L R 811

S 45—Opinion of expert that document is type written on same machine as another is not admissible A I R 1933 All 690 A I R 1933 All 498

S 45—Where one expert is contradicted by another their evidence has little value A I R 1933 Lah 805

S 45—Opinion of expert as to signature in language which expert cannot read or write is not of much value except by way of corroboration of other evidence A I R 1933 Pat 559

S 45—Expert evidence is not conclusive and a man cannot be convicted for forgery merely on the evidence of a handwriting expert A I R 1937 Lah 450=33 P I R 697=108 Ind Cs 368

S 45—Letter No 276 Home Judicial of the Punjab Government does not have the effect that the expert should never be called It merely says that expert should not be called unnecessarily A I R 1932 Lah 202=33 P L R 76=137 Ind Cas 774

S 45—Where no opportunity was given to parties to examine expert his bare report is not admissible 141 Ind Cas 707=A I R 1933 Pat 159

S 45—Deposition of experts as to results of their opinion is not expert evidence A I R 1933 P C 26=64 M L J 193=141 Ind Cas 815=1933 A L J 393

S 45—Where Court finds signature true on comparison under s 73 expert evidence can be dispensed with A I R 1932 Bom 588=34 Bom L R 1371=141 Ind Cas 747

S 45—Expert witness is generally prejudiced in favour of the side calling him A I R 1933 Lah 561

S 48—If uncontradicted
A I R 1937

according to usage
usage is sufficient =13 Lah 800

S 49—T
depends on character of deposing witnesses and on the consideration as to whether they are expressing their own opinion A I R 1933 Sind 213

S 50—Evidence of witnesses that certain man and woman were regarded as man and wife by members of community does not come under s 50 Such evidence is not opinion expressed by conduct with special means of knowledge as to existence of such relationship 1932 A I J 208=A I R 1933 All 130

S 50—For conviction under sections 497 and 498 marriage must be strictly proved A I R 1934 Sind 10

S 51—A chemical Examiner must give in his report his opinion and the ground on which his opinion is based. Mere opinion is not sufficient. A I R 1932 Nag 158=34 Cr L J 154=141 Ind Cas 448

S 54—A police officer is competent to give evidence about reputation of a person residing in his circle or about whom he has occasions to make observations or inquires. A I R 1933 All 674

S 54—Evidence of previous convictions is admissible not as evidence of character but to prove habit and association. A I R 1933 Oudh 355

S 54—Under s 54 if evidence is otherwise relevant it is not rendered inadmissible merely because it shows bad character or the commission of offences other than the offence with which the accused is charged. 59 C 1361=139 Ind Cas 873=55 C L J 439=A I R, 1932 Cal 474

S 55—General and not particular evidence of character of complainant is admissible and relevant for awarding damages. A I R 1932 Nag 158=141 Ind Cas 448=34 Cr L J 154

S 57—The Court should take judicial notice of public holidays. 14 Lah 240=A I R 1933 Lah 538

S 57—The Court can take judicial notice of the fact that 'the present political movement' is in fact a movement prejudicial to public safety or peace. 36 C W N 1158

S 58—Where the execution of an insufficiently stamped hand note is admitted by the defendant in his written statement, the plaintiff is entitled to maintain the suit. 63 M L J 303=A I R 1932 Mad 693=1932 M W N 793

S 60—Test as to value of evidence admissible under ss 32, 49 and 60 depends on the character of deposing witnesses of deceased person and on the consideration as to whether they were expressing their own opinion. A I R 1933 Sind 213. Section 162 of Cr Pro Code is an application of the rule against hearsay evidence contained in s 60. A I R 1933 Pat 589

S 65—Copies of letters of conspirators to co-conspirators which were intercepted and reported, are admissible though addressees are not called to produce originals. A I R 1933 All 498

S 65—Party not producing document in his possession should not be allowed to prove contents by secondary evidence. A I R 1933 Lah 378=37 M L W 672=69 M L J 676

S 65—Where document was tendered in evidence and exhibited but not found on record the party can produce copy or secondary evidence of contents. A I R 1933 Lah 782

S 65—Secondary evidence should not be allowed unless circumstances are sufficient justification under Evidence Act for reception of secondary in lieu of primary evidence. A I R 1933 Pat 468, A I R 1933 All 690=1933 A L J 799, A I R 1933 Lah 945

S 65—Where secondary evidence has been admitted by trial court without objection the appellate court cannot reject such evidence. A I R 1933 Lah 601=144 Ind Cas 45

S 65—An income tax return is not a public document or a public record of a private document within s 74 and so section 65 does not apply. A I R 1933 Bom 291=56 B 324=34 Bom L R 236

S 65—Where the record of a document has been burnt in the Govt Record room a certified copy of such document is admissible. 11 Pat 569=138 Ind Cas 419=A I R 1932 Pat 157

S 68—If any of the defendants to a suit denies that any of the alleged executants executed the deed the plaintiff must produce one of the attesting witnesses to prove the document. A I R 1937 All 320=1937 A L J 207=140 Ind Cas 115

S 68—Where execution is not specifically denied document is admissible without proof of execution by summoning attesting witness. A I R 1933 Lah 378, A I R 1933 Mad 432=37 M L W 677=1933 M W N 141.

§ 68 — Although by virtue of the proviso, the attesting witness need not be called still the party is not relieved from necessity of proving mortgage in form prescribed under T P Acts 59 141 Ind Crs 700—A I R 1933 Rang 6=11 Rang 26

§ 68 — Person identifying executant before registration authorities, signing as such and identifying witness, whether is an attesting witness A I R 1934 Rang 1

§ 68 — Scribe witnessing execution and appending his signature is attesting witness A I R 1933 Sind 257

§ 68 — Where mortgage is sued upon as simply money bond, proof of attestation is unnecessary A I R 1933 Sind 257

§ 68 — Person attesting document is not estopped from taking contrary position unless he knew contents of document when signing it, A I R. 1933 Lah 703

§ 68 — Proviso to s 68 is retrospective in operation A I. R. 1933 Mad 432=37 M L W 677=1931 M W N 141, 1933 Mad 612

§ 69 — Where the plaintiff has taken early steps to secure the attendance of the attesting witness and is not responsible for the last summons being ineffective an adjournment should be granted for examining the attesting witness and if the witness has died during the pendency of the appeal whether under the amendment of s 68 or under s 19 it is open to the plaintiff to prove the document by other means A I R 1933 Mad 612

§ 74 — Letter forwarding proceedings of public meeting is not public document 55 C L J 58=14, Ind Crs 367=A I R 1933 Cal 812

§ 74 — An income tax return is not a public document or a public record of a private document within the meaning of s 74—56 B 324=107 Ind Cas 381=34 Bom I R 237—A I R 1982 Bom 791

§ 74 — Certified copies of confessions by accused persons would be admissible to prove the act of the Magistrate recording the confession A I R 1934 All 81=1933 A I J 501

§ 77 — Proof of entry in public document should be proved either by producing the document or by certified copy Proof of ownership of a car can be made by producing register It is irregular for court to accept proof of ownership by mere statement of person without person being called 36 C W. N 1147—A I R 1933 Cal 70=141 Ind Cas 246

§ 77.—Deposition of witnesses must be proved properly unless they are certified copies A I R 1933 Rang 212

§ 80 — Deposition can be proved only under s 80 of the Evidence Act, when these are taken according to law 142 Ind Crs 653=34 Cr L J 430—A I R 1933 Cal 190

§ 80.—Where there are no irregularities regarding the recording of the confession and the statement was taken in accordance with law, then under s 80 there would be a further presumption that the circumstances under which it was stated to have been taken were true A I R 1934 All 81=1933 A L J 551, see also 10 Mys I J 385

§ 83.—Entries in survey map and khasat carry presumption of correctness A I R 1933 Pat 555

§ 83—Kinnel's map indicates correctly course of rivers, but not direction of villages A I R 1933 Cal 222=143 Ind Cas 179=56 C L J. 339

§ 88 — Where original of a telegram is not proved to be in the handwriting of the sender, it is not admissible in evidence unless it is proved to be a copy of the original. But section 88 is no bar to admission of evidence and can be admissible s 9—A I R 1933 Pat 96=142 Ind. Cas 507=131 L J 832

§ 89 — Where a party produces an unstamped copy of an instrument by way of secondary evidence the court may in the absence of contrary evidence presume that the original was stamped 1932 M W N. 432

§ 90 —The presumption arising under s 90 as to the due execution and attestation of a document 30 years old is equally applicable to the copies as to the original when the copy is proved to be a true copy of the original A I R 1934 Nag 67, see also A I R 1933 Mad 860

§ 90 —Repeated assertion of title in ancient documents being mere recitals are no evidence of what is there recited though actual possession in conformity therewith would constitute prima facie title 56 C L J 369

§ 90 —The presumption under this section extends to genuineness and not to holding that document was executed by person possessed of requisite authority A I R 193 Oudh 227=9 O W N 379=138 Ind Cas 513, but see A I R 1933 All 99=1932 A L J 1010

§ 90 —In the case of execution of a deed by a parda nashin lady, proof that document was explained and understood by her must be given, it being a matter to which presumption under s 90 does not attach A I R 1933 Oudh 170=10 O W N 747

§ 90 —In the case of a will the presumption as to execution under s 90 arises but presumption does not cover question of disposing mind A I R 1923 Lah 58

§ 90 —Where a document is admitted by trial court under s 90 the appellate court should be slow to interfere with such discretion unless its exercise is perverse 142 Ind Cas 13=34 P L R 365=A I R 1933 Lah 347 see also A I R 1933 All 443

§ 90 —Courts should be very careful about raising presumption under s 90 in favour of old deeds of Sankalpana produced after many years after first settlement in suit where under proprietary rights are set up on their basis 133 Ind Cas 513=8 Luck 18=A I R 1932 Oudh 227=9 O W N 379

§ 91 —Sections 91 and 92 only applies where the document on the face of it contains or appears to contain all the terms of the contract 56 B 180=137 Ind Cas 478=34 Bom L R 26=A I R 1932 Bom 151

§ 91 —Where the debt and the execution of the promissory note are contemporaneous the debt can be proved only by the note 139 Ind Cas 361=A I R 1932 Mad 637=36 I W 432 1932 M W N 1260=140 Ind Cas 193 I R 1932 All 610=140 Ind Cas 117 140 Ind Cas 193=1932 M W N 120=A I R 1933 Mad 71 A I R 1933 Mad 117=140 Ind Cas 833=64 M L J 79 A I R 1933 All 109=141 Ind Cas 177 but see 29 N L R 131=A I R 1933 Nag 57, A I R 1933 Pat 584 141 Ind Cas 163=13 P L 7 506=A I R 1932 Pat 325 9 O W N 585=A I R 1932 Oudh 235 (F B)=139 Ind Cas 298

§ 91 —An unregistered sale deed cannot be received as evidence of any transaction affecting the property A I R 1933 Lah 276=33 P L R 227=37 Ind Cas 41

§ 91 Oral evidence to prove intention of executor is not admissible especially where wakif though alive several years after never sought its rectification 1933 A L J 21=A I R 1933 All 186

§ 91 —Unregistered document relating to partition is admissible to prove mere separation in status but not to prove that particular item has ceased to be joint 141 Ind Cas 487=34 P L R 194=A I R 1933 Lah 574 see also 143 Ind Cas 634=A I R 1933 Lah 194 A I R 1933 Rang 249

§ 91 —Where document creating lease is not admissible for want of registration oral evidence as to terms is not admissible A I R 1933 Cal 612, see also A I R 1933 Bom 381 But where the partition deed is not registered possession can be proved by oral evidence A I R 1933 Nag 270, A I R 1933 Rang 249

§ 92 —Written contract cannot be varied by local custom. A I R 1933 Cal 772

§ 92 —One of the executants of a promissory note cannot be allowed to let in evidence to the effect that he signed the promissory note only as

S 92—Where the contract between the parties has been embodied in a mortgage deed, letters between the parties within several months before the completion of the mortgage are inadmissible in evidence to contradict, vary or add to the terms. They only constitute evidence of negotiation between the parties. A I R 1933 Lah 1024

S 82—Oral agreement to pay decree by instalments in court can be proved if certified within 90 days A. I R 1933 Lab 806

S 92 —Oral contract, giving preferential right to pre empt leased property
if it was brought to sale can be proved 138 Ind Cas 774 = 1933 A L J
381 = 63 M L J 403 = 56 M L W 450 = 34 Bom L R 1609 = A I R 1932
P C 231 (P C)

oral evidence to prove recession
133 Lih 278

S 92—This section has no application where letter containing some terms of the proposed lease and a lease embodying all terms is agreed to be executed later A I R 1933 Lah 61-142 Ind Cas 754-33 P L R 323-14 Lah 137

S 92 — Oral agreement to vary terms of documents can be set up when writing is not required by law 142 Ind Cas 41 = 34 P L R 266 = A 1 R 1933 Lah 453

§ 92—The absence of mention of an agreement to pay interest in a balance struck in the creditor's book does not debar him from proving an agreement to pay interest independently and by oral evidence. A I R 1932 Lah 652

S. 92.—A distinct oral agreement between co mortgagors made subsequent to the execution of the mortgage deed should, in order to be admissible under the Act, be reduced to writing. A I R 1933 Mad 218=1932 M W N 168

92.—Where an oral agreement is made by two partners to dissolve the partnership earlier than originally agreed to in their registered agreement, the agreement and any payment made in accordance therewith is not admissible. 136 Ind Cas 874—A I R 1932 Nag 42=14 N.

S. 93.—A bequest in favour of a son of L or G is void for uncertainty as extraneous evidence is not admissible to show which particular son of L or G was intended to be benefited by the testator A I R 1933 Pat 647

S 94.—Where mortgage deed is clear and unambiguous and actually applies to existing facts parol evidence is inadmissible A I R 1934 All 100

S. 95.—Where language of document is meaningless with reference to existing facts extrinsic evidence is admissible to prove its true meaning 141 Ind Cas 298—A I R 1933 Oudh 80—9 O W N 1024

S. 101.—Those who allege fraud must prove it A I R 1933 Pat 306, A I R 1932 All 825

S 101.—Where circular is issued by a public servant containing certain statement a person who challenges that statement must prove it A I R 1934 Mad 27

S. 103.—Persons claiming to succeed on ground of relationship should prove such relationship and absence of nearer heirs A I R 1934 All 117

S 105.—Where death results from the injuries caused by the accused, the burden of proving the circumstances which entitled him to kill the deceased so as to bring his case under any of the exceptions in the Penal Code is on him A I R 1933 Lah 1055

S 108.—The rule of presumption of Mahomedan law as regards missing person has been abrogated by the Evidence Act A I R 1934 Oudh 41

S 112.—The parties to marriage were in touch with each other, were residing for a short period in reasonable proximity the wife being in the house of a relation of the husband There was nothing to suggest that she was unfaithful or that the parties were on terms of personal hostility Held that the child could have been begotten during the period and his legitimacy was undeniable—A I R 1934 P C 49 The word access means no more than opportunity of intercourse Ibid The burden of showing that parties to marriage had no access to each other at any time when child could have been begotten is on the person challenging legitimacy of the child Ibid

S 114 ill (a)—It is not possible to lay down any maximum period which will apply to all cases of possession of stolen property 1932 M W N 862

S 114 ill (a)—Where revolver stolen in October found with accused in May and the accused is unable to account for its possession a presumption would arise under s 114 ill (a) because revolvers are not easily obtainable in market overt 1933 A L J 523—A I R 1933 All 461—14 L R A Cr 63

S 114 ill (a)—Court may draw presumption if accused is not able to account for his possession but the onus of proving ingredients of offence under s 411 P Code is on the prosecution and does not shift to the accused A I R 1933 All 893

S 114 ill (a)—Possession and production of part of stolen property six days after commission of the offence give rise to the inference that the accused dishonestly received stolen property knowing it to be stolen and not that he was actually concerned in burglary 1933 M W N 325—193 M Cr C 143 But possession must be definitely established in order to justify presumption of guilt 141 Ind Cas 537—34 Cr L J 163—A I R 1932 Sind 180

S 114 (b)—No conviction can be based on the uncorroborated testimony of an approver even if he has no enmity against the accused A I R, 1933 Lah 838, A I R 1933 Pat 500, A I R 1934 Lah 21, 1934 Lah 23—34 P L R 866 A I R 1931 Cal 114, A I R 1934 1es 11, A I R 1931 Oudh 90, A I R 193 Oudh 265—1933 Cr C 49 But corroboration need not be by direct evidence nor should corroboration be sufficient by itself to prove guilt A I R 1933 P 500 To justify conviction on approver's evidence it is sufficient if corroboration is merely circumstantial evidence of accused's connection with crime 140 Ind Cas 19—14 Lah 11—84 P L R 285—A I R 1932 Lah 623 Approver's evidence must be corroborated by reliable and independent evidence 34 P L R 2 Corroboration by another accomplice is not material corroboration 147 Ind Cas 809=13 P I 1 802 = A I R 1933 Pat 96 Evidence of accomplice must be regarded with suspicion A I R 1933 Rang 116 It is not necessary that the evidence corroborating the story of an approver or an accomplice should be evidence which directly connects the accused with the offence, but there must be some evidence which tends to show that the story of the approver or accomplice is true in so far as it relates to the accused A I R 1933 Bom 487 Approvers on different occasions should make their statement must always be regarded as true unless the accomplices are not necessarily accomplices in which accomplices make their statement must always be regarded as true unless the accomplices are not necessarily accomplices in which accomplices can be laid down 142 Ind Cas 809=13 P L T 802=A I R 1933 Pat 96 Evidence of approver can be corroborated by confession of co accused jointly tried implicating both himself and accused But the court must scrutinise such corroboration with care 342 Ind Cas 87=34 Cr L J 286=11 Rang 4=A I R 1933 Rang 57, see also A I R 1933 Oudh 355 Confession of co accused and testimony of accomplice without other evidence is not sufficient to justify conviction of other accused A I R 1933 Oudh 355 Retracted confession has no value against other accused unless fully corroborated A I R 1933 Rang 520, see also A I R 1933 Rang 73=143 Ind Cas 142=34 Cr L J 558

S 114 III (e)—Secretary to Government signing petition is presumed to be acting within authority until contrary is shown 37 C W N 276=A I R 1933 Cal 118 Evidence accepted by a Court is presumed to be regular and the burden is upon the party who asserts the contrary to prove it otherwise 10 Mys L J 151

S 114 III (f)—Where lawyer sends letter purporting to be instructed by client the presumption is that the letter is written under instruction A I R 1933 Rang 147 Where registered letter is returned by Post office is refused the presumption as to due delivery or service depends upon particular circumstances of each case A I R 1933 Rang 76

S 114 III (g)—Where the accused does not attempt to get certain witnesses examined it may fairly be presumed that the evidence of such witness will not be helpful to the accused A I R 1933 Sind 412 Where a party suppresses a document or evidence the opposite party is entitled to make presumption in his favour A I R 1933 Mad 451=37 M L W 672=64 M L J 676, A I R 1933 All 474 But to draw an inference under this section the Court must be satisfied that the evidence is in existence 142 Ind Cas 225=37 M L W 521=64 M L J 413=37 C W N 657=A I R 1933 P C 87=7 C L J 222 But in a criminal case the prosecution is under no obligation to call all relevant evidence and presumption in illius (g) need not be raised simply because prosecution does not call certain witness A I R 1933 Cal 620 The only witness whom the prosecution need call are those who know the facts and are able and willing to give truthful evidence which is relevant to the charge 58 C 1335=135 Ind Cas 443=A I R 1932 Cal 118

S 114 III (i)—The strength of the presumption which might be raised when the document creating obligation is produced by the obligor varies in different circumstances A I R 1933 Nag 379

S 114 III (k)—Where mortgagor produces the mortgaged deed with stamp cancelled presumption is that the mortgage has been paid up in full A I R 1933 Rang 61

S 115—There can be no estoppel unless other party has changed position on fact of representation A I R 1933 Mad 471, see also 56 Bom 501=A I R 1932 Bom 386=10 Ind Cas 171

S 115—There can be no estoppel when true state of affairs is known 143 Ind 542=14 P L L 189=A I R 1933 Pat 210

S. 115.—Attestation after hearing contents estops attester A I R 1934 Pat 93

S. 115.—Estoppel is nothing more than rule of evidence The law of India and England is the same as regards estoppel A I R 1933 Pat 708

S 115 —An admission on a point of law is not an admission of a thing so as to make the admission a matter of estoppel within section 115 A I R 1932 Pat 267 = 140 Ind Crs 687

S 115 —It is estoppel alone which can prevent the true owner from disputing the acts of his benami dar 58 C 1371 = 135 Ind Crs 433 = A I R 1932 Cal 167

S 115—There can be no estoppel when a person acts in a different capacity 36 C W. N 972

S 115—An infant is not estopped from setting up the plea of his infancy where he has fraudulently represented that he is of age and thereby induced another to enter into a contract with him A I R 1932 All 710 = 139 Ind Cas 718 application when person acts in ll 641

shed that a tenant who has been teny his landlord a title however defective it may be so long as he has not openly restored possession by surrender to his landlord 33 P L R 799 = 139 Ind Cas 46, I R Lah 623 55 M 601 = 134 Ind Cas 31 = A I R 1932 Mad 292 = 62 M L J 313

S 115 —A witness is competent if she understands questions put
36 C W N 1152 = A I R

class of witness for when of a tender age they often mistake dreams for reality, repeat glibly as their own knowledge what they have heard from others and are greatly influenced by fear of punishment, by hope of reward and desire of notoriety When considering the evidence of child witness these observations should not be lost depend upon its particular facts and circumstances Ind Crs 479

should not be rejected simply because 129 = A I R 1933 Oudh 340 Evi dence of respectable and reliable witness should not be disregarded merely because he is related to party calling him A I R 1933 Rang 162

S 118—Accused though competent to testify is incompetent witness because oath cannot be administered to him 141 Ind Cas 89 = 10 Rang 512 = A I R 1932 Rang 190 (F B)

S 122 —Prohibition against admission of communication between husband and wife extends to all communication of whatever character This prohibition can in no circumstances be waived or relaxed 33 Bom L R 174 = A I R 1933 Bom 153

SS 123, 124 —Under the above sections subject matter of police diaries is privileged 142 Ind Cas 854 = 34 Cr L J 464 = A I R 1933 Lah 498

S 126 Prov. 2.—Definite charge of fraud and some evidence to support it is necessary to compel pleader to answer question which he is privileged not to answer A I R 1933 Rang 61

S 126 —Doctor called to give evidence is not protected and he is not entitled to withhold evidence 1933 A L J 14 = A I R 1933 All 57

S. 132 —A witness is not protected unless he has objected to answering questions A I R 1933 Oudh 370

S 133 —Corroborative evidence must be taken in case of evidence of accomplice A I R 1933 Lah 294, A I R 1933 Nag 249, A I R 1933 Pat 500 But corroborating evidence need not directly connect accused with offence A I R 1933 Bom 482 So also corroboration need not be by direct evidence nor should corroboration be sufficient by itself to prove guilt A I R 1933 Pat 500, A I R 1933 Lah 294

§ 133 —The evidence of one accomplice cannot be corroborative of the evidence of another accomplice A I R 1933 Nag 372, A I R 1933 Oudh 355

§ 133 —Evidence of accomplice may be corroborated by confession of co accused as against other accused where the truth of the confession is guaranteed A I R 1933 Oudh 355

§ 133 —Retracted confession of co accused and motive and suspicion are not enough for conviction for murder 34 P L R 477=142 Ind Cas 620=34 Cr L J 372

§ 137 —Unfinished testimony if substantially complete should be submitted to the jury and should not be rejected A I R 1933 Lah 561

§ 145 —Statement made to headman of a village can be used only under ss 145 and 157 A I R 1933 Rang 119

§ 145 —The statements under s 164 Cr Pro Code cannot be put to the jury in their entirety under s 145 or under any other provision of law if there is no evidence susceptible of corroboration recorded under s 288, Cr Pro Code A I R 1934 Cal 174 The provisions contained in s 145 relates to previous statements in writing but does not militate in any way against such previous statements being used by way of corroboration of statements put in under s 288 Cr Pro Code which are substantive evidence in the case before the court of Session especially when the accused are not prejudiced Ibid The object of s 162 Cr Pro Code is plainly to exclude altogether the hearsay evidence of police officer except for the purpose of contradicting a witness in the manner provided by s 145 and if the exception thus made is to be applied it must be applied in the manner provided in the section A I R 1933 Pat 589 A document which is used to contradict a witness must be put to the witness Simply because the witness does not go to the witness box the court is not entitled to break the law and admit such document A I R 1934 Pat 55

§ 146 —The Judge should control cross examination A I R 1933 Lah 667

§ 154 —The circumstances in which a witness may be cross examined by the party calling him are not laid down in s 154 of the Evidence Act which leaves the matter entirely to the discretion of the Court and there is no legal objection to such permission being freely granted A I R 1933 Pat 488 A I R 1933 Nag 384 Discretion exercised under s 154 will not be reversed by Appellate Court A I R 1933 Rang 57=142 Ind Cas 87=34 Cr L J 286

§ 154 —This section does not lay down that a witness must be declared
A I R 1933 Na., 384 declared hostile his evidence cannot 31 at 517 Value of his testimony Ibid Either side can rely upon evidence as a whole Ibid of modifying s 155 Evidence Act

A I R 1933 Cal 307
§ 157 —Recital of boundary in document between strangers to suit relating to adjoining land is not admissible under s 157 if executant is called and deposes as to boundary or under s 37 if he is dead A I R 1933 Lat 636

§ 158 —List of stolen things given to supplement first information report is admissible and can be referred to under s 158 and proved under s 158 A I R 1933 Lah 987

§ 159 —Documents can be referred to for refreshing memory A I R 1933 Pat 305 A I R 1933 Lah 716

S 164 —In prosecution for offence under s 408 Penal Code accused not producing document after notice can use it to cross examine complainant 236 C W N 1126=A I R 1933 Cal 65=60 C 341

S 165 —Question whether particular evidence is admissible or not should be decided before it is actually given A I R 1932 Sind 201=26 S L R 302=141 Ind Cas 392

S 167 —Retrial by appellate court can be ordered if evidence is not sufficient to pronounce judgment 35 Bom L R 174=A I R 1933 Bom 153=1933 Cr C 465, see also A I R 1933 Cal 136=142 Ind Cas 274=34 Cr L J 294

S 167 —Evidence is not a ground to evidence upon which see also 141 Ind Cas

392=26 S L R 302=A I R 1932 Sind 201

ADDENDA

Latest Amendments and Case-laws reported upto January 1936

N B—The references within the parenthesis are to the page nos of the book

Amendment—In section 1, after the words "Army Act" the words and figures, "the Naval Discipline Act or that Act as modified by the Indian Navy (Discipline) Act, 1934" shall be inserted—vide, the Amending Act, 1934 (XXXV of 1934)

Case laws

Preamble (p 11) Where terms of section are clear, English law should not be applied Emperor v Ramanuja, A I R 1935 Mad 528=1934 M W N 1479

S 3 (p 38) The definition of fact in s 3 does not restrict fact to something which can be exhibited as a material object Emperor v Ramanuja, A I R 1935 Mad 528=1934 M W N 1479

Ss 3, 5, 65 (p 43) A document which is not relevant to the issue, even if admitted without objection by the opposite party must be discarded by the appellate Court Baduel Islam v Ali Begum, A I R 1935 Lah 251

S. 6. (p 119) Evidence of witnesses that complainant informed about theft long after incident is not admissible Brjibala Dhar v Nityimoyee Biswas, A I R 1934 Cal 17=57 C L J 447=150 Ind Cas 209

S. 8 (p 140) Statement of accused after arrest in course of investigation giving false name is inadmissible under s 162 Cr Pro Code and cannot be admitted under s 8 Krishna Iyer In re, A I R 1935 Mad 479=1935 M W N 82

S 8 (p 40) Statements accompanying or immediately preceding production of articles are evidence of conduct under s 8 of the Evidence Act as much as the Act of production itself In adducing evidence as to the production of articles, evidence as to absence or existence of contemporary statements should also be adduced Emperor v Rafiqueuddin 39 C W N 368

Ss 8, 27 (p 140) Where joint acts of several persons are sought to be proved, in order to ask the Court to draw an inference from such conduct, evidence should be led with some degree of particularity so that it may be possible for the Court to draw the necessary inference from the conduct of each of the persons concerned in the act The principle applies not only to evidence relevant under s 27 but also to that under s 8 of the Act Rafique uddin v Emperor, A I R (1935) Cal 184 (F B)

Ss 9, 11 13 42, 43 (p 161) Judgment in previous suit is admissible in evidence under ss 9 11 13, 42 and 43 Mirbahuddin v Vidyasagar, A I R 1935 Lah 64=36 P L R 106

S 10 (p 180) Where a person is charged under s 420 and 120 B for committing fraud on the Insurance Company by inducing the said company to accept the proposal for insurance on the life of one M by securing a false statement of the doctor that M was suffering from a fatal disease though

s 10 of the Act seeing that other grounds for believing that there was a conspiracy Kunjali Ghose v Emperor A I R 1935 N 1015

S 10 (p 180) Document written by deceased describing conversation with third person who referred to accused as conspirator is admissible under s 10 Emperor v Surja Kumar Sen, 35 Cr L J 334=147 Ind Cas 32=A I R 1934 Cal 221 (S B)

S 10 (p 186) For meaning of anything said—Vide A I R 1933 All 690=1933 A L J 799

S 11 (p 195) In determining the question as to whether recital as regards boundaries in document between strangers are admissible s 11 has no application Soney Lal v Darbdeo Varain, A I R. 1935 Pat 167=16 P L T 199 (F B)

S 11 (p 200) Where statement of deceased is not admissible under s 32 s 11 cannot make it evidence Latafat v Omkar A I R 1935 Oudh 41=152 Ind Cas 1042=1934 O L R 922=11 O W N 1589

Ss 11, 32. (p 200) Statement not falling under s 32 is inadmissible even under s 11 Naima Khatun v Basant Singh, A I R 1934 All 406 (F B)=1934 P L J 318

S 11 (p 200) A chitta prepared by the landlord recording his land to be in possession of certain persons as tenants would be admissible in evidence against a third person if there is further account introduction or verification Abdul Khaleque v Susil Chandra Chaudhuri 39 C W N 330

S 13 (p 222) A judgment not inter partes mentioning that certain rights in respect of property have been claimed and recognized by the authorities concerned is admissible in a subsequent case Matasaddi v Lainmi, A I R 1935 Lah 179

Ss 13, 43 (p 229) Judgment not inter partes is admitted for limited purposes under s 43, read with ss 11 and 13 Hemchandra v Purna Chandra A I R 1934 Cal 788=59 C L J 320=A I R 1934 Cal 653

S 13. (p 240) Where the Collector had given his decision in the course of a prior proceeding on an incidental issue also but such issue arises in a subsequent suit his decision cannot make it res judicata in the subsequent suit. But that decision is a piece of evidence under s 13 Evidence Act, to which some weight must be given in the determination of the status of the two estates in relation to each other Sonaboti v Kutymananda, A I R 1935 Pat 306=14 Pat 70

S 13 (p 242) Decision in custom case is not judgment in rem. It may only be instance of custom under s 13 Janat Bibi v Ghulam Hussain A I R 1934 Lah 861=36 P L R 256

S 13 (p 243) A recital of boundaries in a deed executed by strangers is not admissible under this section. But it may be used as a corroborative evidence under s 157 if the executant is called as a witness Rimnandan v Laley Tilakdhari A I R 1934 Pat 636=145 Ind Cas 944

Ss 13, 11 (p 250) Recitals in deed are not admissible for proving how lands are dealt with by landlord Thakur Kurmi v Lalji, 150 Ind Cas A I R =1934 Pat 81

S 13 (p 200) Where the defendant purchased by a kobola in which the lands in suit were described as niskar, Held that the kobola was not admissible in evidence for the purpose of proving niskar Kanta Mohan v Basudeb Ghose, 39 C W N 311, but see 12 Pat 285=A I R 1913 Pat 285

Ss 13 35, 32(5) (p 250) Where certified copies of decree and of two pedigrees with it are produced the Court may presume that the two pedigrees were filed in suit. Both pedigrees should be admitted as pedigrees filed by the respective parties to the suit and not as evidence of relationship under s 32(5). The statements in the decree that the predigrees are filed in evidence under s. 35 as an entry in a public record, or under s 13, as evidence of the course of proceedings in a suit Collector of Gorakhpur v Ram Sundar, 56 A 468-40 L. W. 217-38 C W. N. 1101 15 P L T 531-60 C L J. 67-36 Bom L R 267-1934 M W. N. 751-11 O. W. N. 889-1934 A. L J. 779-67 M. L J 274 (P. C)

S 14 (p 277) To prove habit and association, evidence of previous conviction is admissible Benc Madho v. Emperor, A. I R. 1933 Oudh 355 -10 O W. N. 688-146 Ind Cas 1064.

S 14 (p 282). Views held by the accused show his conduct and as such relevant under this section. Manabendra v. Emperor, A. I. R 1933 All. 495-1933 Cr C 833.

S 16, illus (b) and s 114, illus (f). (p. 300) A registered letter which is proved to have been correctly addressed and posted and which did not come back, must be presumed to have reached the addressee, although the latter's signature on the acknowledgment receipt may not be proved. Rajani Sutradhara v. Baskuntha Chandra, 39 C W. N 1041.

S 17. (p 313) Where in a document executed by a woman there was an admission and the fact that she made the statement was relevant in a suit in which the document was proved Held that the admission should also be held to be proved even though the woman was not examined A I R 1935 Lah. 628

S 18. (p 320) Admission is 'the best evidence of the party making it. Nansal v Nutbehari, 38 C. W N 861

SS 18, 21. (p. 322) In case of admission by a party, admission must be relied as whole and not by pieces Durshan Singh v. Baldeo Singh, A I R 1934 Oudh 370

S 18. (p 325) Under s 18 a statement made by a servant is admissible in evidence against his master both as regards his position, if it is in dispute, as to whether he is a servant and as regards his liability as such Occupying the position of a servant does not involve as one essential ingredient acting in the course of his employment The driver of a lorry is a servant of the owner of the lorry M E Moses v Shaikh Bakridhor, 39 C W. N 736

N 18 (p 333) Statement of opinion by counsel is not admission by party and so not binding on him Kanti Prasad v Chait Narain, A I R. 1934 All. 531

S. 18 (p 335) There is no rule of evidence under which the statement of one person can be regarded as the admission of another person merely on the allegation that the two are in collusion Motiram v Sripal, A I R 1934 All 684-151 Ind Cas 261

S. 18 (p 385) Admission by one partner binds another Thomas Bear v Rula Ram, A I R 1934 Lah 625-148 Ind Cas 763

S 18. (p 385) Ordinarily an admission is admissible against the party making it or his privies To this principle there are exceptions, namely, of admissions made by joint contractors and joint owners But admissions made by such persons must be limited within legitimate bounds, which are two in number, namely, that the admission must relate to the subject matter of the suit and that it must be made by the declarant in his character of a person jointly interested with the party against whom evidence is tendered Kanta Mohan v Makhan Satra, 39 C. W. N 277, see also Thomas v Rula, A I R. 1934 Lah 625

S 18 (p 353) Where a person offers to accept a smaller sum as a matter of compromise that offer is not an admission as to the proper amount due to him Chandrika Prasad v Bombay Biroda Ry A I R 1935 P C 59 = 1935 O W N 178 (P C)

S 21 (p 360) Confession is provable against accused unless prohibited by law Sidheswar Nath v Emperor A I R 1934 All 351 = 1934 A L J 178 = 152 Ind Cas 174

S 21 (p 361) The onus to prove the alleged joint ownership of the plot was initially on the plaintiff, but the proof of an admission shifts the onus because what a party himself admits to be true may reasonably be presumed to be so Abady v Mumtasuddin A I R 1934 Lah 662 = 35 P L R 578 = A L R 1934 Lah 853

S 21 (p 361) Admission made in prior suit can be used in subsequent suit, even when the admitting party in the prior suit is not a party in the subsequent suit. Amarnath v Ralla Rim, 35 P L R 463 = A I R 1934 Lah 527 = 149 Ind Cas 217

S 21 (p 361) An admission is no doubt a very good piece of evidence and under ordinary circumstances it would be taken as binding upon a party unless the party who makes the admission can explain it away. g, the document was executed by a pardaiashin lady Bholanath v Mritunjay 59 C L J 532 = A I R 1934 Cal 85; see also Sidheswar v Emperor A I R 1934 All 351 = 1934 A L J 178 = 152 Ind Cas 144

S 21 (p 361) Statement in admission must be taken as a whole Sundara Rajah v Gopala Thevan, 150 Ind Cas 132 = 39 L W 34 = A I R 1934 Mad 100, see also Fakhr Khan v Ismail Khan 14 Lah 218 = 34 P L R 149 = A I R 1933 Lah 179 Darson Singh v Baldeo Singh, 11 O W N 579 = A I R 1934 Oudh 370

S 21 (p 368) Admission not allowed to be explained cannot be used against maker Latafat v Onkar A I R 1935 Oudh 41 = 152 Ind Cas 1042 = 134 O L R 922 = 11 O W N 1589

SS 21, 13 (p 369) Document containing admission by third party can be allowed in evidence not as admission but as proof of transaction mentioned Jasoda v Punst A I R 1934 Pat 48 = 146 Ind Cas 937

S 21 (p 363) A statement in a judgment that a witness admitted certain things is not admissible to prove the admission unless it is proved that primary evidence is not available Meda varuppa v Meda varuppa A I R 1935 Mad 268 = 40 M L W 810

S 24 (p 393) When a confession is used against a person the whole confession must be introduced Mahomed v Emperor A I R 1934 Lah 620 = 35 P L R 659 see also Pathani v Emperor A I R 1934 Lah 673 = 152 Ind Cas 1077

S 24 (p 393) Where part of confession is found to be false the entire confession need not be rejected Emperor v Shankar A I R 1934 Oudh 222 = 11 O W N 66 = 35 Cr L J 894

S 24 (p 395) Clear consistent and convincing extra judicial confession should be believed Ramappa v Government of Mysore 12 Mys L J 73

S 24 (p 409) Plea of guilty under s 271 (2) Cr Pro Code is not confession as dealt with in s 24 Srikant Das v Emperor A I R 1934 Pat 256 = 35 Cr L J 1217

S 24 (p 409) For rejecting confession lesser degree of probability is required because the word used is appear and not proved Ajeb Shana v. Emperor, 61 C 399 = 38 C W N 659 = 35 Cr L J 1479 = A I R 1934 Cal 636 = 152 Ind Cas 44

S 24 (p 40) Where the main foundation for the conviction is the confession alleged to have been made by the accused, there are three things which the prosecution must establish (a) that a confession was made, (b) that evidence of it can be given, (c) that it is true Bhojo v Emperor, A I R 1934 Sind 172-1934 Cr C 1274-152 Ind Cas 1032

S 24 (p 409) A voluntary confession if uncorroborated by circumstances is admissible in evidence Bhurvar v Emperor, 9 O. W. N. 1191

S 24 (p 417) Mere belief of accused that person to whom confession is made is person in authority is not sufficient. Such person must have authority to interfere Mukhis are not persons in authority Bhojo v Emperor, A I R 1934 Sind 172-1934 Cr C 1274-152 Ind Cas 1032

S 24 (p 417) Honorary Magistrate who is also Zasildar is a person in authority Hesmat v Emperor, A I R Lah 417-1934 Cr C 643-15 Lah 417-1934 Cr C 643

S 24 (p 427) Unqualified expression "you had better tell the truth" amounts to inducement Hesmat v Emperor, A I R 1934 Lah 417-1934 Cr C 643-152 Lah Ind Cas 998-15 Lah 856-37 P L R. 25

S 24 (p 436) It is rule of practice and not of law that retracted confession requires corroboration Bhojo v Emperor, A I R 1934 Sind 172-152 Ind Cas 1032, see also Chinnaga v Government of Mysore 11 Mys L 407, Imamuddin v Emperor 150 Ind Cas 862-35 Cr L J 1154-11 O W N 950-A I R 1934 Oudh 388, Jahangir v Emperor, 35 Cr L J 180-150 Ind Cas 106, Bhaskar v Emperor 35 Cr L J 1113-150 Ind Cas 810-11 O W N 851-A I R 1934 Oudh 405, Aishan Bibi v Emperor 15 Lah 310-152 Ind Cas 206-A I R 1934 Lah 150-1934 Cr C 830, Mariem v Emperor, 35 Cr L J 1453-A I R 1934 Lah 89-1934 Cr C 172, Nahman v Emperor, 151 Ind Cas 716-35 Cr L J 1190-36 P L R. 2 A I R 1934 Lah 715, Sheoratan v Emperor, 35 Cr L J 1290-151 Ind Cas 298-11 O W N. 1012-A I R 1934 Oudh 418

S 25 (p 441) Statements which are not of incriminating nature is not confession Mustafa v Emperor, 35 P L R 359, see also Rudrapa v Government of Mysore 11 Mys L J 438, Misri v Emperor, A I R 1934 Sind 100-35 Cr L J 1332

S 25 (p 442) A chaukidar is not a police man A I R 1934 All 132-35 Cr L J 448-1934 A L J 143

S 25 (p 442) Village headman is not police officer Ramcharan v Emperor, A I R 1935 All 549-1935 A L J 478-36 Cr L J 636

S 25. (p 443) Excise officer is police officer within meaning of s 25 Amin Shariff v Emperor, A I R 1934 Cal 580-61 C 607-150 Ind Cas 561-35 Cr L J 1071-59 C L J 555-38 C W N 930-1934 Cr C 841 (F.B.), see also Keratala v Emperor A I R 1934 Cal 616-61 C 967-150 Ind Cas 980-38 C W N 1035, Ram Karim v Emperor, A I R 1935 Nag 13

S 25. (p 443) Sub divisional Magistrate is not police officer Srikant Das v Emperor 150 Ind Cas 991-35 Cr L J 1217-A I R 1934 Pat 256

S 25 (p 444) An admission of the accused to the Excise Sub-inspector is inadmissible under s 25 Rajmal v Emperor, A I R 1934 Nag 136-1934 Cr C 568-150 Ind Cas 1144-35 Cr L J 1233

S 25 (p 445) First information by accused to police officer admitting guilt is inadmissible being confession Harnam v Emperor A I R. 1935 Bom 26-36 Bom L R 1117

Ss 25, 26, (p 445) Evidence of police officer and complainant as to pointing out of various places by accused is evidence of his confession and as such not admissible under ss 25, 26 Turib v Emperor A I R 1935 Oudh 1-11 O W N 1385-152 Ind Cas 473-1934 O L R 875

S 25 (p 446) Where confession was made to private individual in presence of chaukidar, but where chaukidar does not take part in bringing about confession, confession is admissible Emperor v Shankar, 149 Ind Cas 69-35 Cr L J 894-11 O W N 636-A I R 1934 Oudh 222

S 26 (p 448) A chaukidar is a police officer Jangli v Emperor, 118 Ind Cas 475-35 Cr L J 664-11 O W N 119-A I R 1934 Oudh 19

S 26 (p 446) Confession to a fellow prisoner in lock up in the presence of guard of the lock up is not inadmissible A I R 1934 Lah 75-1934 Cr C 142 35 Cr L J 1432-1, Ind Cas 894 see also Barnabas v Emperor 152 Ind Cas 275-15 Pat L T 111-A I R 1934 Pat 586

S 26 (p 448) Confession to Magistrate himself while in police custody satisfies requirements of s 26 Sidh swar Nath v Emperor, A I R, 1934 All 351-1934 A L J 178 152 Ind Cas 174

S 26 (p 448) Bare possibility of inducement having been offered is not sufficient for holding confession is irrelevant Hashmat v Emperor, 15 Lah 856-37 P L R 25-A I R 1934 Lah 417

S 26 (p 448) Magistrate in Native State is included in s 26 Mahomed Bur v Emperor A I R 1934 Sind 103-1934 Cr C 82-151 Ind Cas 311-35 Cr L J 1328

S 26 (p 448) Statement containing denial by accused of dishonest intention is not confession Ramsakha v Emperor A I R 1934 Pat 651-1 P L T 586

S 26 (p 448) Mere presence of Magistrate will not make confession voluntary Krishna Iyer Iyer A I R 1935 Mad 479-1935 M W N 82

S 26 (p 446) Formalities of law should be strictly followed in recording confession Ram Saksha v Emperor A I R 1934 Pat 651-15 P L 1 586

S 29 (p 449) Statements made by the accused to a Magistrate when produced by the police for purpose of remand are admissible Nga Po Dwe v Emperor, A I R 1935 Rang 78-1934 Cr C 471-148 Ind Cas 1002-35 Cr L J 823.

S 27 (p 454) Section 27 is a proviso to both the sections 25 and 26 which immediately precede it Emperor v Ramanuj, A I R 1935 Mad 528-1934 M W N 1479

S 27 (p 456) The word fact as used in s 27 only includes physical fact Emperor v Ramanuj, A I R 1935 Mad 528-1934 M W N 1479

S 27 (p 461) Section 162 does not apply to the statement of an accused person. Such a statement would however be inadmissible under s 27, if it is of a nature of a confession and no material fact is discovered in consequence of the information received Mohammad v Emperor, A I R 1934 Lah 695-35 P L R 738

S 27 (p 461) Where a person is in police custody, such of his statements as lead to the discovery of articles are admissible Aishan v Emperor A I R 1934 Lah 150

S 27 (p 458) If a fact has been previously discovered by the police s 27 would not apply Chiragdas v Emperor A I R 1934 Lah 786-36 P I R 40, see also Hir Narain v Emperor A I R 1934 Lah 313-35 I L R 203-1934 Cr C 545-36 Cr L J 189

S 27 (p 468) Section 27 does not operate to make admissible in evidence a confession which would be otherwise irrelevant under s 24. Section 27 would make admissible only that part of the confession in consequence of which a fact deposed was discovered. Hashmat v Emperor, 15 Lah 856

S 27 (p 458) Statement of accused that leads to discovery of anything by police is only admissible. Ghandalal v Emperor, A I R 1934 Sind 159 = 26 S L R 41 = 1934 Cr C 126

S 27 (p 468) Only statements bearing directly on the recovery of property are admissible. Where therefore A stated that he handed on the property to B and B stated that he handed on to C and C to D and D to E, and recovery was made from E, the statements of A, B, C, D, have direct bearing on the recovery of the property, although they may have had an indirect bearing in giving the police a fresh starting point for investigation and they cannot be admitted. Maganlal v Emperor, A I R 1934 Nag 71 = 30 N L R 269 = 35 Cr L J 1097 = 150 Ind Cas 623 = 1934 Cr C 276

S 27 (p 468) Court should direct statement and admit only such portion as directly led to discovery. Emperor v Salve, A I R 1934 Bom 233 = 36 Bom L R 384

S 27 (p 468) It is not necessary that the information given by a person in the police custody shall be a confession before it can be proved under the provision of this section. Any information which relates distinctly to the fact deposed to as discovered in consequence of the information received may be passed. Emperor v Ramannji, A I R 1934 M W N 1479 = A I R 1935 Mad 528

S 29 (p 474) The provisions of s 164 Cr Pro Code do not affect the provisions of s 29, Evidence Act, and therefore a confession cannot be excluded from evidence as irrelevant merely because all the provisions of s 164 were not carefully complied with. Khistali v Emperor, A I R 1934 Oudh 404 = 10 O W N 931 = 146 Ind Cas 903

S 30 (p 481) Before any statement made by one of the accused person tried jointly with the others can be taken into consideration against such others it must fulfil two conditions (a) it must be a confession of guilt affecting himself equally with the others, and (b) it must be proved against those persons who are jointly tried with him. This section introduces a departure from the ordinary rule relating to the admissibility of evidence and must be strictly construed. Narvab v Emperor, A I R 1935 Lah 35

S 30 (p 482) A confession by each of the co accused throwing entire burden on the other is inadmissible as against the latter. Narvab v Emperor A I R 1935 Lah 35

S 30. (p 483) No doubt under s 30 Evidence Act the confession of an accused person may be taken into consideration as against other co accused but this is not tantamount to saying that such confession is to take the place of proof. Kasimuddin v Emperor 39 C W N 27 = A I R 1934 Cal 833 = 1934 Cr C 1368

S 30. (p 483) This section applies to proceedings under Cr Procedure Code s 110. Richpal v Emperor 152 Ind Cas 881 = 1934 A L J 1170 = 1934 Cr C 1246 = A I R 1934 All 927

S 30. (p 483) It is unsafe to rely upon confessions extracted under circumstances not free from doubt. Bhagwan Din v. Emperor, A I R 1934 Oudh 151

S 30. (p. 485) Offence in s 30 includes its abetment and attempt. Richpal v Emperor, 152 Ind Cas 881 = 1934 A L J 1170 = A I R 1934 All 927.

S 30 (p 488) If the statement of a person who is being tried jointly with the accused is a statement deprecating his own guilt, and seeks to clear himself at the expense of the accused, the statement cannot be taken into consideration under s 30 Evidence Act, or any other provision of the law as against the accused Jogendra Nath v Emperor, A I R 1934 Cal 724 = 152 Ind Cas 924 = A L R 1934 Cal 411

S 30 (p 488) The word 'proved' means proved before the prosecution case comes to an end either proved in the course of the prosecution case or proved in some proceedings previous to the trial Nawab v Emperor, A I R 1935 Lah 35

S 31 (p 496) Retracted confession and co accused - vide Jahangir Lal v Emperor 150 Ind Cas 1056 = 35 Cr L J 180, A I R 1934 Pat 586 = 15 P L T 711 = A I R 1914 Pat 586, Kuladip v Emperor, A I R 1934 Lah 718, Sheoratan v Emperor, A I R Oudh 418 = 35 Cr L J 1290, 11 O W N 1012 = 35 Cr L J 1290, A I R 1934 Pesh 1 = 35 Cr L J 719

S 32 (p 518) The expression 'written statement by person who is dead' means statement actually written or dictated by deceased Nga Mya v Emperor, A I R 96 Rang 42

S 32 (1) (p 540) Statements made by a person who is dead must be proved whether they are written statements or verbal statements. If they are verbal statements, the persons who heard the deceased make the verbal statements must be examined on oath as witness Nga Mya D v Emperor, A I R 1936 Rang 42

S 32, (1) (p 540) Statement by person who is dead as to cause of death is admissible though he was not aware of his impending death when he made the statement Inayat v Emperor, A I R 1935 Lah 14, see also A I R 1934 Lah 805 = 36 P L R 24

S 32 (1) (p 540) It is not safe to base conviction on dying declaration alone A I R 1934 Oudh 405 = 11 O W N 851 = 35 Cr L J 1113

S 32 (1) (p 540) In a trial for robbery statement of a person before death regarding the circumstances of robbery is relevant under s 32 (1), even though death was caused remotely by the wounds received at robbery Nga Ba Min v Emperor, A I R 1935 Rang 418

S 32 (1) (p 540) A magistrate should be very careful in recording dying declaration. He should see that the declarant does not get any hint or help from outside Nem Singh v Emperor A I R 1934 All 908 = 152 Ind Cas 41 = 1934 Cr C 1167

S 32 (2) S 34 (p 552) To prove books of accounts writer of the account book if alive should be called Gajendra v Shankar, 11 O W N 1323 = 152 Ind Cas 4 B

S 32 (2) and s 34 (p 552) Books of account, if no balance have been struck in them may be inadmissible under s 34 but they are however admissible under s 32 (2) as entries or memoranda made by persons who are dead, in books kept in the ordinary course of business Babuji v Ratanlal A I R 1934 Nag 106 = 30 N L R 192

S 32 (2) (p 552) Statements of boundaries of title between third parties are not admissible under s 32 (2) as this cannot be deemed to be statements made by persons in ordinary course of business Soney Lal v Darbeto Niran, A I R 1935 Pat 167 = 15 P L I 199 (F B)

S 32 (3) p 553 A statement in a sale deed by the executant that he was liable for a particular amount is admissible under s 32 (3) as a statement made against the pecuniary or proprietary interest Babhnaji v Ratanlal, A I R 1934 Nag 106 = 30 N L R 192 = 140 Ind Cas 1033

S 32. (3) (p 553). A statement in order to be admissible under s 32 (3) must be a statement of a relevant fact and must be against the proprietary interests of the person making it Soney Lall v Darbdeo Narain, A I R 1935 Pat 167 = 16 P L T 199 (F B)

S 32 (3) (p 561) Statement which makes a person liable to criminal prosecution is admissible Gerold v Olga, 150 Ind Cas 445 = A I R 1934 All 618 (F. B); but see Kunjulal v Emperor, 38 C W N 1015

S 32 (3) (p 571) Statements of boundaries in documents of title between third parties are not admissible under s 32 (3). Such a statement cannot be said to be necessarily and prima facie against the proprietary interest of person making it. It will be admissible only if it is shown that (1) at the time it was made it was contrary to interest of maker and (2) at the time it is sought to be used it is a statement of relevant fact Soney Lall v. Darbdeo, A I R 1935 Pat 167 = 16 P L R 199 (F. B)

S. 32 (3) and (7) (p 573) Where there is recital in deed that land in deed is bounded by property over which another person exercises proprietary rights, recital is no evidence against third party Hari Ahir v Sanglat Chada, A I R 1934 Pat 617 = 152 Ind Cas 829

S 32 (p 597) Entries in books of priests are admissible but should be accepted with care. Acharaj Ram v Ganesh Das, A I R 934 Pesh 78

S 32 (p 597) Statement as to age of adopted son by adoptive mother is admissible under s 32 (b) Naina v Basant A I R 1934 All 406 (F. B) = 1934 A L J 318

Ss 32 (5) and 50 (p 600) Statement of witness as to relationship between two persons can be admissible only under s 32 (5) or s 50 Chunna Kumar v. Mukhat Beharilal, A I R 1934 All 117.

S 32 (5) (p 600) Party producing a witness for proving pedigree, should elicit from his requirement under s 32 (5). Chunna Kumar v Makhat Behari Lal, A I R 934 All. 117

S 32 (5) (p 600). Where the relationship is created by adoption is of such importance and specifically included in the act, evidence of incidents bearing more or less directly on the fact or otherwise of an adoption and its validity would be allowed subject of course to careful scrutiny as to value Handis v Manmatha Nath, A I R 1936 Cal 1

S 32 (5) (p 600) Where pedigree was filed for purpose of preparation of Khewat, and document was more than 30 years old and signatories are all dead, pedigree is admissible Mahadeo v Suraj Bal, 148 Ind Cas 1041 = A I R 1934 Oudh 210

S 32 (5) (p. 600). Pedigree table relied on in previous suit is not admissible under s 32 Jagmahar Singh v Sidhu Ram, A I R 1934 Lah 283 = 36 P L R 503 = 15 Lah 688 = 149 Ind Cas 943

S 32 (b) (p 601) Hearsay evidence is to be restricted to proof of pedigree and not to proof of birth, death, etc Naina v Basant, A I R 1934 All 406 (F B) = 1934 A L J 318

S 33 (p 616) Section 33 makes evidence given by a witness in "a judicial proceeding" admissible in evidence in a subsequent judicial proceeding, where the question in controversy in both proceedings is identical and where the witness is dead or cannot be found or is incapable of giving evidence Sri Krishna v. Ahmadi Bibi, A I R 1935 All 187 = 1935 P L J 235

S 33 (p 616) Where in a case under ss 366 and 458, Penal Code, the horoscope of the accused was produced to show that the girl was below 18 years of age as the person, preparing the horoscope was examined in the committing Court and he admitted that the horoscope was prepared by him but he did not appear in the Sessions Court though summoned, and it was alleged that he did not get the summons. Held that it was not open to the prosecution to invoke s 33, Evidence Act, and the Sessions Judge was right in refusing to admit evidence given in the lower Court Superintendent v Forhad, A. I. R 1934 Cal 766

S 33 (p 616) An inquiry before the Coroner, although it may be a judicial proceeding, is not a proceeding between the prosecutor and the accused. The proceedings before the Coroner are merely an inquiry into the circumstances leading to the death of the person whose death is under inquiry, and it is impossible to say that the Crown is a party to those proceedings, even if it can be said that the accused is a party on the ground that he was during those proceedings a suspect. Hence the evidence given by a witness before a Coroner is not admissible under s 33 if such witness dies prior to inquiry before Magistrate Emperor v Mahomed Yusuf, A I R 1933 Bom 479

S 33 (p 622) The statement made by a person before a committing Magistrate can be transferred to the record of the Sessions Judge only if the person is examined as a witness before the Sessions Judge. If such a person is not examined before the Sessions Judge as a witness his statement can not be transferred under s 288, Cr 1ro Code. The proper section applicable is section 33 Evidence Act, but in such a case it is necessary for the Sessions Judge to hold that the witness was incapable of giving evidence within the meaning of that section Emperor v Nath Singh A I R 1934 Lah 212 = 35 P L R 75 = 35 Cr L J 349 = 149 Ind Cas 234

S 33 (p 623) A witness who had been brought from Calcutta and examined on two occasions once before framing of the charge and again after framing of the charge was cross examined and re examined in great detail so that there could be no doubt that all that could be got out of this witness had been got out of him. The complainant was not a man of means to bring such witness from Calcutta, for the de novo trial must have been a very heavy drain on his purse. Moreover there would be delay in securing attendance of such a witness. Held that the difficulty and expense involved in calling this witness were sufficient to make such evidence admissible under s 33 Fernandes v Emperor, A I R 1935 Rang 484

S 33 (p 626) The person who is called by Proviso (1) 'a representative in interest' of another is a person who was a party to the first proceedings. Whatever may have been the intention of those who framed the section, the first proviso exactly inverts the requirements of the English law, which requires that the parties to the second proceedings, should legally represent the parties to the first proceeding, or be their privies in estate. The first proviso requires that the party to the first proceeding should have represented in interest the party to the second proceeding in relation to the question in issue in the first proceeding to which 'the facts which the evidence states' were relevant. It covers not only cases of privity in estate and succession of title, but also cases where both the following conditions exist, viz, (1) the interest of the relevant party to the second proceeding in the subject matter of the first proceeding is consistent with and not antagonistic to the interest therein of the relevant party to the first proceeding and (2) the interest of both in the answer to be given to the particular question in issue in the first proceeding is identical. There may be other cases covered by the first proviso; but if both the above conditions are fulfilled, the relevant party to the first proceeding in fact represent in the first proceeding the relevant party to the second proceeding in regard to his interest in relation to the particular question in issue in the first proceeding, and may grammatically and truthfully be described as a representative in interest of the party to the second proceeding. What the first proviso aims at securing is that the evidence shall not be admitted unless the person who tested, or had the opportunity of testing, the evidence by cross examination either is himself or represented the interests of, the party to the latter proceeding against whom the evidence is tendered is that he was (in the latter case), in effect, fighting that person's battle as well as his own. Where a party to the second proceedings were not himself a party to the first proceeding the admissibility of the evidence in favour of such a party must be tested by its admissibility if tendered against him. If not admissible against him it cannot be admissible in his favour. Krishnaaya v Venkata, A I R 1933 P C 202-60 I A 336-1933 P L J 1039-38 L W 409-1933 M W N 191-38 C W N 1-35 Bom I R 1076-58 C L J 335-65 M L J 479

S 33 (p 629) The accused has a right to cross examine a prosecution witness before the charge is framed against him and if he has failed to do so not only had he opportunity but he had the right of cross examining the witness and the action of the Court in treating the evidence of any such witness under s 33 is justified when it is found impossible to produce him for further cross examination under the provisions of s 256 Cr Pro Code. Gurudin v Emperor, A I R 1935 Nag

S 33 (p 629) Actual cross examination by adverse party is not necessary, it is enough if there was opportunity to cross examine. Gouri Dutta v Dowling A I R 1934 Pat 413-151 Ind Cas 683

S 34 (p 638) Entries in account books by the agent of a party are irrelevant against the party under this section. Nanilal v Nutbehari Das, 38 C W N 861

S 34 (p 638) A day book which has been entered after four months from the happening of an event and the rough notes of which are available is not a document which can be held to have been kept in the regular course of business. These remarks apply a fortiori to ledger which is prepared from such a day book. Arjan Singh v Sirjan Singh A I R 1935 Pesh 44 see also Nanilal Das v Nutbehari Das, 38 C W N 861. Nanak Chand v Parameshri Das 35 P L R 539

S 35 (p 65) Guardianship certificate does not fall under this section. Naina v Basant A I R 1934 All 406 (F B) 1934 A L J 318

S 35 (p 651) Entry as to age in school register based on statement by father since deceased is admissible under ss 35 and 32(5). Latafat v Onkar Mal A I R 1935 Oudh 41-152 Ind Cas 1042-11 O W N 1589, see also Las Baba v Government of Mysore 12 Mys L J 133-39 Mys H C R 406. Liladhar v Mabibi A I R 1934 Na. 44-16 N L J 232-149 Ind Cas 660

S 35 (p 651) Municipal register is admissible under section. Ju Bhagwan v Guttoo, 11 O W N 410-A I R 1934 Oudh 67

S 35 (p 6) The words an entry the opinions of public officer based on or made before them in the course of enquiry. Code. Ghanay v Mehleb A I R 1934 Lah 890

S 35 (p 651) The very wording of s 35 conveys the idea of a duty imposed upon the matter of the entry by law or his official position to record the information he possesses or has gathered in an official document of the nature described therein. It further imports that the entry will be of a permanent nature. Ghulan v Surindar A I R 1936 Lah 37

S 35 (p 651) Entries as to age in vaccination and school register vide Superintendent v Torhad A I R 1934 Cal 766

S 35 (653) The Khirsra Girda varis are public documents and admissible under s 35. Mohammad Din v Fat'h Din A I R 1934 Lah 698-35 P L R 725-153 Ind Cas 209-1934 Cr C 1010

S 35 (p 653) The documents consisting of mere opinions expressed in secretarial correspondence which passed between various officers of the Government who had held no personal enquiries in the matter are admissible in evidence Ghulam Mohammad v Samundar Khan, A I R 1936 Lah 37

S 35 (p 654) A certificate of birth of a person is evidence and conclusive evidence of his age unless disproved by the evidence of the witness of the party denying correctness of it Nanha v Baijnath, A I R 1935 Pat 474-16 P L T 629

S 35 (p 654) Public servant need not be compelled by legislative enactment to discharge duty of preparing or keeping document Phakkar v Progn, A I R 1935 Oudh 268=1935 O W N 321=154 Ind Cas 575=1935 O L R 176

S 35 (p 657) The entries in the riwajnam owe their weight to the principle originally laid down in English law which received statutory recognition in s 35 Evidence Act. The principle is that statements made by a public officer should be receivable in evidence because it is his duty to satisfy himself of the truth of the statements made. If the officer himself is not satisfied of the truth of the statements made such statements have less weight than they otherwise would Sukh Devi v Faquir Singh, A I R 1935 Lah 434

S 35 (p 658) Butwara record is not conclusive evidence. It is weak evidence of title Charan v Ramani, 60 C 302=38 C W N 268=A I R 1234 Cal 488

S 35 (p 658) As regards admission vide Narasayya v Veerayya, 40 L W 810

S 35 (p 660) The Khara Girdadars are public documents Mahamed v Fateh, 151 Ind Cas 786=35 P L R 405=A I R 1934 Lah 698.

S 35 (p 660) An entry in the first information report is admissible under s 35 of the Act Babu v Government of Mysore, 11 Mys L J 475=39 Mys H C R 75

S 35 (p 660) The Ahasra paimush is not a record of title but a mere record of survey and carries with it no presumption of correctness so far as the question of ownership is concerned Kartar Singh v Mehr Nishan, A I R 1934 Lah 885

S 35 (p 660) As regards value of entries in survey record Kumar Kamakhya v Abhim Singh, 13 Pat 589=39 C W N 41=150 Ind Cas 807=11 O W N 1025=1934 A L J 793=1934 M W N 810=15 Pat L T 555=40 L W 342=60 C L J 153=A I R 1934 P C 182=64 M L J 450 (P C)

S 35 (p 666) Thak maps are good evidence of the state of things at the date of the Permanent Settlement in the absence of evidence to the contrary Kumar Raj v Barbani coal, A I R 1935 Cal 361=62 C 316=60 C 477

S 40 (p 682) Vide Hridayanath v Probodh chandra, A I R 1933 Cal 923=37 C W N 1148=60 C 1171=57 C L J 549, Ramparekha v Ram Jhari, A I R 1933 Pat 690

S 41 (p 690) A judgment in heirship proceeding is not a judgment in rem in a matrimonial Court which would be binding under s 41 Evidence Act Bayata v Parvilega, 144 Ind Cas 442=35 Bom L R 118=A I R 1933 Bom 126

S 41 (p 693) A decree under s 42 Specific Relief Act but not in exercise of matrimonial jurisdiction is not a judgment in rem Khambata v Khambata, 6 Bom L R 1021

S 41 (p 694) A judgment in Insolvency proceeding is a judgment in rem Bansiram v Firm Aninda Ram, A I R 1935 Pat 213.

S 41 (p 695) An order in lunacy proceeding, vide Subba Naicker v Solappa, 56 M 904=1933 M W N 514=A I R 1933 Mad 624=65 M L J 279

S 42 (p 699) A judgment relating to wikf property is a judgment of a public nature Misbiuddin v Vidjasagar, 36 P L R 106

S 42 (p 700) Judgment in which existence of usage has been judicially recognised is admissible but is not conclusive proof Ragunath v Ramperlab, A I R 1935 Sind 38

S 43 (p 704) Previous judgment in main suit becomes relevant in objection proceedings in execution of decree Vednath v Mahomed, A I R, 1934 Rang 212=154 Ind Cas 123

SS 43, 11, 13 (p 704) Previous judgment not inter partes though does not operate as res judicata is admissible in evidence for limited purpose but not for discussing basis of its decision Hemchandra v Purnachandra, 59 C L J 320=A I R 1934 Cal. 788=A L R 1934 Cal 653

S 44 (p 705) S 44 has no application to proceedings under s 73 C P Code It is only decrees under ss 40, 41, and 42, Evidence Act, which are referred to in s 44, Evidence Act, and such decrees have no application in execution proceedings Biswambhor v Aparna, A I R 1935 Cal 290=39 C W N 490

S 44 (p 705) Vide Keshavlal v Amarchand, A I R 1933 Bom 398=35 Bom L R 630=57 B 456

S 44 (p 705). S 44 has no application to proceedings under s 73 C P Code It is only decrees under ss 40, 41, 42, Evidence Act, which are referred to in s 44, Evidence Act, and such decrees have no application in execution proceedings Biswambar v Aparna, A I R 1935 Cal 290=39 C W N 490

S 44 (p 742) Orders issued by Courts without authority is not binding on another Court Keshavlal v Amarchand, A I R 1933 Bom 398=35 Bom L R 630=57 B 456

S 45 (p 734) A Court is not to surrender his own opinion to that of experts who are called before it, but with such help as the experts can afford the Court must form his own opinion on the subject in hand In the matter of an Advocate, A I R 193, Rang 178

S 45 (p 735) Report of expert by itself is not evidence Expert should be produced in Court and his evidence should be tested by cross examination Bhoore Singh v Karan Singh, A I R 1935 All 142=193 A W R 76

S 45 (p 735) In case of expert opinion basis of expert's opinion should be put before court Tili v Alfred, 1934 A L J 1129=A I R 1934 All 27

S 45 (p 742) As regards value of evidence of interpreters of Hindu law, Vide Sabitri v F A Savi, 12 Pat 359=14 Pat L T Sub I=A I R 1933 Pat 306

S 45 (p. 743). Doctor's opinion as regards age is not entitled to more weight than that of any other person Nasrullah v Emperor, A I R 1934 Oudh 32=O W N 1274

S 45 (p 746) Judge should not take upon himself the duties of hand writing expert or form opinion about genuineness in privacy of his chamber. Borkat Ali v Kirtar Singh A I R 1935 Lah 555=16 Ind Cas 253. Objection in revision is not competent Karim Din v Ata, A I R 1934 Lah 230

S 45 (p 753) The evidence of handwriting expert has often found to be faulty but so far as finger prints are concerned it has never so far been found that two finger prints can be identical in all respects. Hence where the execution of an entry is proved by evidence of thumb impression experts, the burden of proving want of consideration is on the executant Ganga Sahai v Molar, A I R 1935 Lah 147

S 45 (p 753) Evidence of expert that one document has been typed on same machine as another is not admissible, Court must come to its own conclusion on such point Bacha Babu v Emperor A I R 1935 All 162, see also Jhabwala v Emperor, 1933 A L J 799=34 Cr L J 957=A I R 1933 All 590, Manibendra v Emperor, A I R 1933 All 498

S 45. (p 754) Where a marriage is attacked on the grounds of non-observance of ceremonies, the Court is not bound to accept the opinion of a religious expert however high his position may be placed in church Till v. Alfred, 56 A 428=1934 A L J 1123=A I R 1934 All 273

S 45 (p 756) The Imperial Geologist is a highly responsible officer and a duly qualified scientist who would never venture to give any definite opinion on a question unless he has the fullest scientific data in support of his conclusion. His opinion therefore is entitled to great weight. Ghirrao v. Emperor, A I R 1933 Oudh 265=84 Cr L J 1009=145 Ind Cas 470

S 47 (p 762) Where the only witness was examined to prove a particular letter to be in the handwriting of the accused stated "I have no writing of H with me. I have no correspondence with him. From a single letter I would not be able to identify the handwriting of any person. I was not particularly friendly with H." Held that the evidence was hardly sufficient under s 47 to prove that the letter was in the hand writing of H. Hemraj Lodhi v. Rimcharan Lodhi A I R 1931 Nag 204=1934 Cr C 898

S 47 (p 762) Where the fact to be proved is a signature and a witness merely says that the signature is of the person concerned there is no proper evidence of the facts required to be proved under section 47 Surendra Krishna v. Mirza Mahamad, 40 C W N 226 (P C)

S 4 (p 762) A finding of the lower Court to the effect that a person unable to read and write certain characters could prove the handwriting of another person in those characters because he had the occasion to see the latter write, cannot be questioned in second appeal because, though such a thing is rare, is not impossible Rim Chandra v. Jaith Mall, A I R 1934 All 990=4 A W R 676

S 47 (p 769) Statement by another in writing with regard to partnership cannot be proved different person. In the Matter of B, A I R 1935 All 1023=1935 A W R 12-9

S. 48 (p 773) A living witness may state his opinion on the existence of a family custom and may state as grounds thereof information derived from deceased person, but it must be the expression of independent opinion based on hearsay and not repetition of hearsay. The weight of the evidence would depend on the position and character of the witness, and of the persons on whose statements he has formed his opinion. However, evidence, oral or documentary as to statements of a deceased person as to the custom in a family is not admissible if it appears that such statement were made after a controversy as to the custom had arisen. Amina Khatun v. Kahlurrahman A I R 1933 Oudh 246=8 Luck 445=10 O W N 268.

S 48 (p 773) Value and sufficiency of expert evidence cannot be questioned on second appeal. Jafar Beg v. Ujagar Lal A I R 1935 All 501

§ 50 (p 778) Statement of witness as to relationship between two persons can be admissible only under s 32 (5) or s 50 Chunna v. Mukat, 151 Ind Cas. 338—A I R 1934 All 117

§ 51 (p 784) No doubt the Excise Sub Inspector is an expert in his ow but the Court should under s based Ram Karian Singh
 vi

§ 51. (p 784) It is not enough for the chemical examiner merely to state his opinion. He must state the grounds on which he arrives at that opinion. As the chemical examiner merely tenders a report and he does not appear and give evidence, it is extremely desirable that his report should be full and complete and take the place of evidence which he would give if he were called to Court as a witness. Gajrinu v Emperor A I R 1934 All 394=144 Ind Cas 357=34 Cr L J 754=1933 Cr C 654

§ 54. (p 802) Evidence of previous conviction cannot be admitted during trial. It cannot also be referred to by Judge while addressing jury. Bhura Singh v Emperor, A I R 1935 Sind 115

§ 58 (p 80) In spite of waiver of proof by an admission under s 58 Evidence Act, a note or other instrument insufficiently stamped cannot be acted upon or decree given upon it. Alipati v. Tasiraddi, A. I R 1933 Mad 17=64 L J 79=37 L W 157=1933 M W N 663

§ 58 (p 840) While s 58, can be invoked when the documentary evidence about the admitted facts is shut out by provisions made in purely revenue laws, it cannot be invoked to overrule the provisions of non revenue enactments, nor can it be used to bind the party who has made an admission of the genuineness of a document, when such admission is accompanied by a legal plea that the contract and the other facts mentioned in that document could not be relied upon by the opposite party owing to the provisions of the statutory laws relating to registration or attestation. Bashehar Nath v. Aslan Feroz Sha, A I R 1935 Pesh 12

§ 60 (p 868) Hearsay evidence is excluded. Annamuthu v Emperor, 1933 M W N 1424

§ 60 48 (p 869) Person who holds an opinion should be cited as a witness. Amin v. Khalil, A I R 1933 Oudh 246

§ 60 (p 869) The value of evidence depends upon the character of the person who deposes. Mulchand v Demgir A I R 1933 Sind, 213

§ 60 (p 869) The fact that a person is a habitual offender may in view neral reputation or otherwise the rule against receipt evidence Act Raghubar v

Emperor A I R 1934 All 735

§ 65. (p 887) Where secondary evidence of the contents of a deed are led without objection by the other party objection cannot be raised in second appeal. Umeruddin v Ghulam Moham mad A I R 193 Lah 628

§ 65, 66 (p 894) The only purpose of a notice under section 65 and 66 of the Evidence Act is to give the party an opportunity by producing the original to secure if he pleases the best evidence of the contents and under section 66 the Court has absolute power when it thinks fit to dispense with a notice under these sections. Surendra Krishna v Alisa Moham mad 40 C W N 225= A I R 1936 P C 15, see also Jhabwala v Emperor A I R 1933 All 690.

§ 65 (p 899) Where a Will has not been seen for a long period of time, a statement by a person in whose custody it is alleged to have been given, that it is not with him and never was, is sufficient evidence of loss to satisfy s 65

Kunwar Basant v Kunwar Bij Raj, 39 C W N 1057

Ss 65, 80 (p 902) Where mortgage was admitted in vajis u lars more than 30 years old and signed by another for mortgage s 90 applies and mortgage can be proved by certified copy Bhairon Prosad v Abalak, 148 Ind Cas 1972 = A I R 1934 All 529

S 66 (p 915) The identity of the machine on which two have been type written would not by itself show that the writer of the two is one and the same person But such a conclusion may be drawn from additional evidence eg internal evidence afforded by the document, or external circumstances, or the continuity of the correspondence passing between the sender and the addressee Jhawala v Emperor 145 Ind Cas 481 = 34 Cr L J 967 = 1933 A L J 799 = A I R 1933 All 690

S 67 (p 914) Thumb marks are not exempt from provisions of s 67
Ramamananama v Busarayya, A I R 1935 Mad 558 = 40 M L W 277 = 1934 M W N 443 = 151 Ind Cas 990

S 67 (p 914) S 67 is not restricted to proof of handwriting of executant alone Ponnuswami v Kalyan Sundara, A I R 1935 Mad 365 = 57 M 662 = 66 M L J 712 = 149 Ind Cas 257 = 39 M L W 571 = 1934 M W N 38

S 67 (p 915) The meaning of the term "sign" is different from one as defined in s 3 of the General Clauses Act Shasadi v Beni, A I R 1934 All 390

S 68 (p 921) If signature of attesting witness is proved, everything on face of document is proved Ponnuswami v Kalyan Sundaram A I R 1935 Mad 365 = 57 M 662 = 66 M L J 712 = 149 Ind Cas 257 = 1934 M W N 384

S 68 (p 932) In a case where attestation according to law is specifically denied but the signing of the document required to be attested is not so denied it is necessary to call atleast one attesting witness to prove execution under s 70 of the Evidence Act Ebrahim Mandal v Akshoy Konor, 40 C W N 151, see also Asizunusa v Siraj Husain, 1934 A L J 817 = 152 Ind Cas 146 = A I R 1934 All 507

S 68 (p 932) Where execution of mortgage was not specifically denied, marginal witness need not be called Jhillar v Rajnarain, A I R 1935 All 781 = 156 Ind Cas 45, see also Gobinda v Chanan Singh, A I R 1933 Lah 378; Dotas v Sheo Deo 17 R D 70

S 68 (p 932) Proviso does not dispense with proof of mortgage Karlar v Didar, A I R 1934 Lah 282 = 149 Ind Cas 1109

S 69 (p 935) Where witness says that the executant signed his name in the mortgage deed in my presence and in the presence of the attesting witnesses and also identifies their signatures but did not say that the attesting witnesses signed in his presence, the requirements of section 69 have been fulfilled Bhairon Singh v Ganga Narayan, A I R 1935 All 527

S 73 (p 947) There is considerable doubt as to whether s 73 refers to an accused person at all Kishore v Emperor, A I R 1935 Cal 308 = 39 C W N 936

S 73 (p 947) A magistrate making an enquiry before commitment has no power under s 73 to ask another magistrate to direct an accused person to make a specimen signature for comparison with other writings Kishore v Emperor, A I R 1935 Cal 308 = 39 C W N 985

S 73 (p 949) Standard writing must be proved to be in alleged writer's handwriting Comparison is hazardous proof When made by stranger to subject and without guidance from experts or arguments of Counsel Lafat v Onkar, A I R 1936 Oudh 41 = 152 Ind Cas 1042 = 1934 O L R 922 = 11 O W N 1589

S 74 (p 953) Education officers of a Government are public officers Las Babu v Government of Mysore, 12 Mys I J 133

S 74 (p 955) Certified copies of deposition are admissible Karapay v Masandi A I R 1933 Rang 212

S 74 (p 957) A certified copy of the pedigree given in the Khwat of village is admissible in evidence Sheo Shankar v Mt Ram Dei A I R 1935 Oudh 231 = 1935 O W N 162 = 1935 O L R 119

S 74 (p 957) Certified copies of confession are admissible Mahamed v Emperor, 1933 A L J 1551 (F B)

S 80 (p 968) Certified copies of confession are admissible to prove act of Magistrate recording it Mohammat Ali v Emperor A I R 1934 All 81 (F B) = 1933 A L J 1551 (F B)

S 80 (p 969) Dying declaration before Magistrate recorded by him is inadmissible in evidence without calling Magistrate as a witness Sunuj Bali v Emperor A I R 1934 All 340

S 88 (p 978) Entry in cadastral survey map has presumptive value against landlord of neighbouring estate Radhi Kishun v Shyam Das A I R 1933 Pat 671

S 87 (p 983) Maps prepared by Revenue authorities after due inquiry are presumed to be correct Tarik Dis v Secy of State A I R 1935 P C 125

S 90 (p 988) In the case of documents purporting or proved to be 30 years old and produced from proper custody s 90 allows the Court to presume that the signature and every other part of such documents which purport to be in the handwriting of any particular person is in that person's handwriting and in the case of a document executed or attested that it was duly executed and attested by the persons by whom it purports to be executed and attested, under the General Clauses Act (10 of 1897) the word sign includes mark with reference to a person who is unable to write his name S 90 makes no provision for any presumption in regard to seals nor can a seal be regarded as a signature under the definition contained in the General Clauses Act Special Manager v Tribeni Prasad A I R 1935 Oudh 289 = 1935 O W N 387 = 1935 O L R 217 = 154 Ind Cas 965, see also Nilsa v Johorlal 38 C W N 753

S 90 (p 988) When a sale has been made nearly 30 years before the suit is brought and all the parties to the transaction have died it is impossible to expect full and detailed evidence of all the circumstances that gave rise to the transaction and presumptions are permissible in the details which have obliterated by time Bishnaji v Ratanlal A I R 1934 Nag 106 = 30 N L R 192

S 90 (p 989) Under s 90 of the Evidence Act the period of 30 years is to be reckoned not from the date upon which the deed is filed in Court but from the date on which it having been tendered in evidence its genuineness or otherwise becomes the subject of proof Surendra Krishna v Mirza Mahammad 40 C W N 226

S 90 (p 989) Recitals in a deed of alienation thirty years old by a limited owner stating legal necessity can be relied on in the absence of any evidence either for or against such necessity Krishna Ayyar v Mattu Lakshmi Ammal A I R 1931 Mad 169 = 65 M L J 342 = 39 M L W 701 = 150 Ind Cas 1137

§ 90 (p 989) Period of 30 years is to be reckoned from date on which document is tendered in evidence and not date of filing it Surendra v Mirsa Mohammed A I R 1936 P C 15

§ 90 (p 991) Under s 90, what the Court may presume is that the signature and every other part of such document which purports to be in the handwriting is in that person's handwriting. In the case of imaginary persons like Imams there can be no question of signature and handwriting and an attempt to apply to such documents as Imams letters is never futile Man soor li v Taiyabali A I R 1935 Nag 15f

§ 90 (p 991) Where document was written by licensed stamp vendor 55 years ago and comes from proper custody, benefit of s 90 can be claimed A I R 1934 Lah 685-35 P L R 661-153 Ind Cas 23

§ 90 (p 993) Section 90 requires the production to the Court of the particular document in regard to which the Court may make the statutory presumption. Production of a copy is not sufficient to justify the presumption of execution of the original. If the document produced is a copy admitted under s. 65 as secondary evidence and it is produced from proper custody and is over thirty years old when the signature authenticating the copy may be presumed to be genuine Basant Sin h v Brij Raj, 39 C W N 1057

§ 90 (p 993) The presumption under s 90 in regard to documents thirty years old arises in the case of copies as well as of originals Gir Har sarooft v Bhagrandin A I R 1935 Oudh 96 11 O W N 1435-1934 O L R 890-152 Ind Cas 861

§ 90 (p 998) Presumption as to due and execution and attestation arises even to copies when copy is true copy of the original Shri Gopi Nath v M u Chitra, A I R 1934 Nag 67-30 N L R 155

§ 90 (p 994) The words 'duly executed and attested' signify execution and attestation as prescribed by law Rajeshwar v Har Kishan, A I R 1933 Oudh 170-10 O W N 147

§ 90 (p 996) Ordinarily an appellate Court would be slow to interfere with the discretion exercised by the lower Court in the matter of raising presumption under s 90 but the discretion allowed by the section is a judicial discretion in principle and after due regard to Minager v Tribeni Prosad A I R 1935 O L R 217-154 Ind Cas 963, see also Gir Har Sarooft v Bhagrandin A I R 1935 Oudh 96-11 O W N 1435-1934 O L R 890-152 Ind Cas 861 Radha Kishun v Busdeo A I R 1935 Oudh 482 156 Ind Cas 990-1935 O W N 842-1935 O L R 454

§ 91 (p 1002) Section 91 lays down that the terms of contract or of an agreement or of the disposition of property may not be established by oral evidence when they have been reduced to the form of a document but it does not say that no other evidence may be given of facts set forth in the recitals in a document Bhargu v Gaya Prasad, A I R Oudh 57

§ 91 (p 1002) Where the relationship of the parties was determined by the terms of the lease and these are embodied in the said document oral evidence to prove these terms was barred by s 91 Mohammad v Saroda A I R 1934 Lah 743-148 Ind Cas 558

§ 91 (p 1002) Production of oral evidence to prove terms of written contract is barred Shan v Raghu A I R 1934 Lah 606-153 Ind Cas 1076, but see Aimna v Lakshmi, A I R 1934 Lah 705

§ 91 (p 1002) Document not admissible to prove terms can not be used to show that it contains all terms of contract Datto Shivram v Baba Saheb, A I R 1934 Bom 149-36 Bom L R 859-58 B 419

S. 91 (p 1002) The term "in proof of such matter" must carry with it the term "in disproof of it" because if evidence were to be admitted on one side, it would have to be admitted on the other Rambhar v Chatur Ghun Rai, A I R 1935 All 58

S 91 (p 1002) Where a contract is signed by one person evidence to show that another is also a party to it or is bound by it is admissible Mun swami v Thandu Naraya, A I R 1935 Mad 5=1935 M W N 1084

SS 91, 92 (p 1002) Oral evidence to prove separate contemporaneous agreement that amount mentioned will not be paid is not admissible Mohammad Taki v Jang Singh, A I R 1935 All 529=1935 A L J 560 (F B)

SS 91, 92 (p 1002) The acknowledgment of receipt of the whole or part of the sale consideration in a deed of sale is not a term of the deed of sale and oral evidence may be given to show that the amount acknowledged or any part of it was not received Taki v Jang Singh, 1935 A L J 560=A I R 1935 All 529 (F B), see also Hukum v Shambhu, 1935 A L J 54=A I R 1935 All 346 But the amount of sale consideration is a term of deed of sale, when the terms of a deed of sale have been proved according to s 91 of the Act, no evidence of any oral agreement or statement shall be admitted as between the parties to the deed of sale or their representatives for the purpose of contradicting, varying, adding to, or subtracting from the amount of sale consideration Moham Taki v Jang Singh, A I R 1935 All 29 (F B)

S 91 (p 1002) Although a document is inadmissible for the purpose of proving a claim, it may be admissible for a collateral purpose, that is, a purpose foreign and not subordinate to the purpose, for which document was executed Tribhuvan Ojha v Ramchandra, A I R 1935 Pat 375 14 Pat 233=16 P L T 475

SS 91, 92 (p 1003) Where one party tenders oral evidence to prove that the amount acknowledged or any part of it was not received, this does not give the other party a right to produce evidence of any oral agreement or statement that the amount of sale consideration was less than what entered in the deed of sale Mohammad Taki v Jang Singh A I R 1935 All 529 (F B)=1935 A L J 560 (F B)

S 91 (p 1004) If there is a document evidencing the contract between the parties then that and that alone is the repository of the terms of the contract between the parties and all else reduced to silence U Sin v U Tun A I R 1935 Rang 473

S 91 (p 1006) Evidence of the contents of a document inadmissible for want of registration cannot be given Nantullu v Safia, A I R 1935 Bom 208 37 Bom L R 82, but see Sidamma v Chenna barappa, 12 Mys L J 236

S 91 (p 1006) Even where the loan is not antecedent to or independent of the bill but is contemporaneous with it, the lender when the note turns out to be invalid can fall upon the original contract express or implied arising from the loan The effect of s 91 is merely to provide that the contract embodied in the bill shall be proved by the bill itself, but that does not mean or imply that the bill has either destroyed or superseded the original right, for to hold that it does, would amount to holding that the rule of evidence overrides a well settled principle of substantive law, viz., that a negotiable instrument operates only as a conditional discharge The bill can be treated only as a contract but not having the effect of superseding the original right Chinnai v Srinivasa, A I R 1935 Mad 206=67 M L J 912, see also Ganesh Prasad v Bechu Singh, 147 Ind Cas 443=A I R 1934 All 271, Ma Ung Chit v Koshan, A I R 1934 Rang 389=12 Rang

500-512 (Ind Cas 1038 but see Mirsa Murad v Shipley A I R 1934 All 837-151 Ind Cas 123, Gulari v Fasihunnissa, 1934 A L J 1185, Chockalingam v Palanappa 67 M L J 595

S 91 (p 1006) Where deed is clear and unambiguous oral evidence is not admissible Sujatnand v Gobind A I R 1934 All 100, see also Allah v Punjab Bank A I R 1934 Lah 181 35 P L R 200

ES 91, 92 (p 1011) Mortgagor can prove by parol evidence that money sought to have been borrowed has not actually been borrowed Mohammad Taki v Jang Singh A I R 1935 All 529-1935 A L J 560 (F B)

S 92 (p 1011) Courts are empowered to go behind the apparent terms of a registered document and to hold that what purports to be a mortgage with possession can by the subsequent conduct and intention of the parties be shown to be in fact not a mortgage with possession but contract merely by hypothe- cating land by way of collateral security Gopichand v Mahammad Umar A I R 1935 Pesh 176

S 92 (p 1022) For admissibility of oral agreement to vary etc, terms of written contract law must be ascertained only from the section Alakesh Chandra v Aranda Chandra 61 C 341-A I R 1934 Cal 564

S 92 (p 1023) The Court in considering whether oral evidence can be given or not has to look to the Evidence Act and the equitable consideration which has influenced the English Courts in like cases have no application in this country Khunaji v Damaji 148 Ind Cas 267-35 Bom L R 1197-A I R 1934 Bom 39

S 92 (p 1024) It is doubtful whether evidence is admissible in the case of consent decree to explain the ambiguity K P Ganapatty v K P Sibra- nianiya A I R 1933 Mad 516 144 Ind Cas 95

S 92 (p 1024) A decree is an adjudication by a Court of the rights of the parties litigating before it it is not an act of the parties but an act of the Court and derives its binding force and validity from the authority of the Court and not from any agreement or contract between the parties. Hence a decree or its terms cannot be varied or modified except by the Court. It is a matter of procedure and not rules of evidence. The parties can not by their agreement alone vary or modify the terms of the decree whether the agreement be oral or written. Section 92 therefore has no application to the decrees Adappa Papamma v Dasbha Venkaya A I R 1935 Mad 860 1935 M W N 685-42 M L W 365

S 92 (p 1024) Where the judgment debtor pleads that the decree-holder has accepted a smaller sum that was due to him under the decree in full satisfaction of it s 92 Evidence Act does not bar him from proving such adjustment under order 21 rule 2 C P Code by oral evidence Kamakshi v Thangamathu, A I R 1935 Mad 424-1935 M W N 335

S 92 (p 1024) Oral evidence to prove an agreement to take less than what is due under a promissory note is not admissible Ma Ou Bar v V L P R Chattjare A I R 1935 Rang 188

S 92 (p 1024) Oral evidence as to real nature of consideration is admis- sible Gangaram v Alah Nui A I R 1935 Sind 48-28 S L R 265- 153 Ind Cas 635

S 92 (p 1024) Section 92 is no bar to consider question as to what extent consideration is absent under s 44 Negotiable Instruments Act Biru Subramani v Venkatarama, A I R 1935 Mad 253-67 M L J 650- 40 M L J 706

§ 92 (p 1028) Persons not party to a sale deed can let in oral evidence to establish that it was not executed with knowledge and consent of another as mentioned in sale deed Maung Hsane v Maung Aung, A I R 1935 Rang 122

§ 92 (p 1028) Agreement not to execute the decree against a particular judgment debtor does not vary its terms. The agreement pleaded is not one to which all the parties to the decree are parties but only some of them and s 92 does not apply Adippi Papamma v Disbha Venkaya, A I R 1935 Mad 860 = 1935 M W N 685 = 42 L W 365

§ 92 (p 1029) Section 92 excludes admission of any oral agreement or statement between the parties to the agreement Basant v Abasali, 150 Ind Cas 635 = 36 Bom L R 158 = A I R 1934 Bom 145

§ 92 (p 1031) Executant of promissory note cannot prove that as between promisee and him, he is only surety Venkata v Karnadan, A I R 1935 Mad 643 = 1935 M W N 525 = 42 M L W 24 156 Ind Cas 827, see also Akhunji v Damaji, A I R 1934 Bom 39 = 35 Bom L R 1197 = 148 Ind Cas 260

§ 92 (4) (p 1031) Contract to release between mortgagee and stranger need not be in writing and registered. It can be oral Manuswami v Gobindaraju, A I R 1935 Mad 113 = 40 M L W 942 = 153 Ind Cas 668

§ 92 (p 1033) Rate of interest and time and mode of repayment of principal are essential parts of mortgage deed. Verbal agreement making change in these terms must be excluded Maung Bi v Nimmram, A I R 1934 Rang 316 = 13 Rang 22 = 154 Rang 189

§ 92 (p 1034) Where mortgage is alleged to be modified by subsequent verbal arrangement, such subsequent verbal agreement cannot be proved Kamta Singh v Chaturbhuj, A I R 1935 P C 98 = 11 O W N 481 = 13 Pat 310 = 15 P L T 169 = 61 I A 185 = 18 C W N 575 36 Bom L R 541 = 1914 A L J 462 = 1934 O L R 371 (P C)

§ 92 (p 1035) Oral evidence is not admissible to prove intention of the executant of a document under s 92 Ma Sun v Ma Thin Kyi, A I R 1934 Rang 129 = 150 Ind Cas 966

§ 92 (p 1041) Where a sanad regarding a property is based upon a letter of the Legal Remembrancer, the intention of the sanad can be interpreted from the letter, where only an extract of the sanad is available and not the sanad Basva v Abisali, 150 Ind Cas 635 36 Bom L R 158 = A I R 1934 Bom 145

§ 92 (p 1041) Oral evidence is competent to show the real consideration at the basis of the promise made by the obligor to pay the amount mentioned in the deed Gangaram v Maluk, 28 S L R 266

§ 92 (p 1041) Oral statements intended to vary the terms of a warrant required by law to be in writing are not admissible Enperor v Subramania A I R 1935 Mad 648 = 1934 M W N 1170 = 68 M L J 421 = 41 M L W 679 153 Ind Cas 496

§ 92 (3) (p 1041) Though s 120 Negotiable Instruments Act precludes the maker of a promissory note from denying the validity of the note, where money is not advanced as a single loan unconditionally upon the promissory note but is advanced after the note had been executed and on certain conditions previously agreed upon the promisor is entitled to prove circumstances in repudiation of his liability Bichin Singh v Dhira Art Bank 143 Ind Cas 348 = 34 P L R 470 = A I R 1933 Lah 456

§ 92 (p 1041) Oral evidence can be given to show what the oral consi deration was for the Kabuliyat. Kumar Raj v Barbam Coal, A I R 1935 Cal 368=62 C 346=60 C L J 477

§ 92 (p 1041) Where a renewed promissory note has been executed in consideration of a prior promissory note, the executant can show by oral evidence that a part of the debts of the prior promissory note was paid. Section 92 does not bar the admissibility of such evidence. Bala Subramania v. Venkatarama, 40 L W 706=1934 M W N 1382=67 M L J 650

§ 92 (p 1041) A mortgagee with deposit of title deeds was acting as an agent of his mortgagor in arranging a loan for the mortgagor. At the same time he was also acting as agent of the mortgagee. but as agent of the mortgagor he sent a letter to the mortgagor containing the scope of the security and the terms. Held that the document was not the bargain between the parties to the mortgage subsequently effected but only one sent by agent of the mortgagor, that it did not require registration and that extraneous evidence was admissible to prove the scope of the security. Villa v Petty, A I R 1934 Rang 51=148 Ind Cas 721

§ 92 (p 1041) Where a tenant of an occupancy holding executed a lease by means of a patti which was registered under s 41 H. Held the land lord was not precluded by s 92 Evidence Act, from giving evidence to show that the real transaction was not a lease but a sale, the landlord not being a party to the deed. Troilokya v Jajneswar, A I R 1934 Cal. 821=38 C W N 1004=152 Ind Cas 933

§ 92 (p 1041) The recital in a bond or in a pronote that consideration has passed amounts only to an admission, and it is open to the party whose admission it is to prove that his own admission is in fact incorrect but the burden of proof lies on him. Gin, a Dewar v Tilok Dhar, A I R 1934 All 496=148 Ind Cas 1124

§ 92 (p 1041) Evidence to prove that there was no consideration for a promissory note is not debarred by this section. Ram Jash v Markanda, 4 A W. R. 964=A I R 1934 All 1068

§ (p 1050) Where compound interest payable under deed, oral agreement that stipulation will not be enforced cannot be proved. Mahesh Chudra v. Anada Chandra, 61 C 344=A I R 1934 Cal 564

§ 92 (p 1050) Where after execution of mortgage of sir land equity of redemption was also sold evidence of a separate agreement to give up ex proprietary right cannot be given. Partap v Buchan 14 L R 425 (Rev) =17 R D 500

• § 92 (p 1050) Where promissory note fails for non cancellation of stamp, the plaintiff cannot fall back upon the original loan. Afa Shree v Deva Hwar, A. I R 1933 Rang 161=145 Ind Cas 378

§ 92 (p 1050) Where the document purports to be a promissory mortgage, evidence to show that the mortgage was in reality a simple mortgage according to the intention of the parties is inadmissible under s 92. K S Mian Feroz Sha v Subhat Khan, 60 I A 273=65 M L J 150 (P C)=14 L W. 466=A I R 1933 P C 178=37 C W N 993=35 Bom L R 877=1933 A L J 1191=143 Ind Cas 659 (P C)=1933 M W N 755

§ 92, proviso 1 (p 1051) There is a distinction between the case where the plea is taken that an agreement the terms of which had been embodied in a written instrument was not intended to be acted upon ad initio and the case when the plea is that the terms had been varied by a contemporaneous or oral evidence or indirect the parties are admissible to prove such intention. In the latter, no such evidence is admissible Satyendra Nath v Pramananda, 39 C W N 888

S 92 Proviso (1) (p 1504) Executant of a bond can adduce evidence that no consideration passed Gunga v Tilak A I R 1934 All 496, see also Ranjnas v Murkundi, A I R 1934 All 1068

S 92 (p 106^A) Oral evidence that the real consideration for a promissory note was not payment of money as recited in the note but something different, namely, the construction of a sluice is admissible under s 92, proviso 3 Nima gudda v Adusumille, A I R 1935 Mad 310 = 41 M L W 298

S. 92 (p 1070) The consideration for a lease is the rent to be paid and the payment of the atakasam a kind of premium or renewal fee paid by the tenant to the landlord, is clearly in the nature of a condition precedent, evidence as to which is permitted by proviso 3 s 92, Evidence Act Punjab Kallians v Valuar Tarward, A I R 1935 Mid 190

S 92 (p 1070) Where the mortgagor intends to sell his property to the mortgagee there is nothing in law to prevent the parties from coming to a settlement, for the purpose of determining the amount of sale consideration, as to what is the amount of money which could be due to the mortgagee under the deed of mortgage accounts are taken on aforesaid basis Hari Krishna v Nasir Hasan, A I R 1934 Oubh 115 11 O W N 254 = 151 Ind Cas 581

S 92 (4) (p 1071) Where the claimant under the option of repurchase affirms the original transaction is a sale and merely seeks to enforce a mortgage by deed does not require registration no objection can arise under s 92, clause 4 Evidence Act as it does not seek to use it as to affect the provisions of the original deed Chinakal v Chunnathambi, 152 Ind Cas 634 = A I R 1934 Mad 102 = 60 M L J 635 = 40 L W 646 = 1934 M W N 1122

S 92, Prov (4) (p 1071) A document purporting to be a sale deed was presented for registration. The executant denied that he had executed a sale deed, and stated that he had merely agreed to execute a mortgage deed. After some discussion the parties agreed that the transaction should be entered as a mortgage and made statements to the Sub Registrar, who recorded the terms of the mortgage agreed to by the parties and registered the document as a mortgage deed. Held that proviso (4) to s 92 did not prevent the successor in interest of the executant from proving that the transaction entered into between the parties was really a mortgage and not a sale, as he was not producing any evidence to prove any subsequent oral agreement to rescind or modify a contract which had been registered Ganga v Praga A I R 1933 Lah 318 = 145 Ind Cas 697

S 92 (4) (p 1071) Mortgage created jointly is inadmissible, hence any agreement between a co mortgagor and mortgagee in derogation of original contract is variation and therefore is inadmissible in evidence Ma Tin v Alagappa Chelliyar, A I R. 1915 Rang 197

S 92 (4) (p 1071) Where executant orally agreed to pay in form of transfer of land instead of money agreement cannot be proved under s 92 (4) Nachiappa Chelliyar v Thervanai, A I R 1914 Rang 228 = 151 Ind Cas 398

S 92 (p 1083) This section does not preclude oral evidence to disprove that a note about presentation of petition is wrong Jivan v Umir Din, A I R 1934 Lah 452 = 148 Ind Cas 209 = 15 Lah 694 = 36 P L R 525

S 93 (p 1092) Where meaning of terms of agreement is capable of being made certain having regard to conduct of parties, s 93 is no bar to the production of extrinsic evidence to show their meaning Gadula Ram v Musala

A I R 1935 Mad 276-1933 M W N 114-40 M L W 914

S. 93. (p 1092) Where the language of a document is plain and there is no ambiguity in it, it is not permissible to produce other evidence to show that there was different intention on the part of the transferor Dhanpatti v Badri Singh A I R 1935 All 729-156 Ind Cas 53

S 93 (p 1092) In case of patent ambiguity in consent decree, evidence should not be allowed to construe it Jahuri Lal v Kanhai Lal, A I R. 1933 Pat 123

S 94 (p 1098) Where deed is clear and unambiguous and applies to existing facts, oral evidence is not admissible Sijaatmud v Gobind, A I R 1934 All 100 147 Ind Cas 633, see also Ram Rakh v Gauri Sankar, 36 P. L R 611

S 95 (p 1103) Where there is doubt about construction of security bond it must be considered in light of order directing security to be given Mohendra nath v Satish chandra 61 C 890-150 Ind Cas 985-A I R 1934 Cal 569

S 96 (p 1107) Extrinsic evidence to explain acknowledgment may be given Nipalu Ram v Radhuram, A I R 1934 Lah 835

S 97 (p 1107) Where language applies partly to one set of facts and partly to another but whole not applying to either extrinsic evidence to show which of two applies is admissible Banaphal v Noor Mohammad, A I R 1935 All 662-1935 A L J 664-155 Ind Cas 634

S 97 (p 1107) Where in mortgage decree, boundaries and area of property given are totally wrong oral evidence is admissible to explain intention of decree Allah Buksh v Punjab and Sindh Bank, A I R 1934 Lah 181-35 P L R 20-147 Ind Cas 23

S 101 (p 1124) Wrong view of burden of proof can be interfered in second appeal Pandurang v Tukaran 152 Ind Cas 441-A I R 1934 Nag 253

S 101 (p 1125) The burden of proving allegations in the plaint is on the plaintiff Anand v Deputy, 143 Ind Cas 568-O W N 412-A I R 1933 Oudh 242

S 101 (p 1125) Where in a prosecution for false entries the defence raised was that the entries were made under the direction or authority of the member of the complainant's firm it is the duty of the prosecution to call some of the partners or at least one responsible person as a witness and to give positive denial of the allegation which the accused put forward Indra Kumara v Emperor, A I R 1934 Cal 500 59 C L J 83-152 Ind Cas 226-36 Cr L J 74

S 101 (p 1125) The general rule of evidence is that, if in order to make out a title, it is necessary to prove a negative the party who avers it, must prove the title Hemchandra v Matsal, A I R 1934 Cal 68-58 C L J 85-37 C W N 1174-60 C 1253-149 Ind Cas 177

S 101 (p 1125) Where circular has been issued by public servant containing certain statement person challenging that statement must prove it Bijli v Mahomed A I R 1934 Mad 21-39 M W N 466-146 Ind Cas 572

S 101 (p 1125) Where all available evidence has been brought on record question of onus is not important Chunilal v Radha Devi A I R 1934 Pesh 134-153 Ind Cas 71, see also Matl Ram v Official Receiver, A I R 1934 Lah 936, Nipalchand v Narain Das, A I R 1934 Lah 949, Rimjital v Debi Sihar A I R 1934 Lah 542-33 P L R 462-152 Ind Cas 240, Maug Po v Reichthar, 145 Ind Cas 413-A I R

1933 Rang 211; Deendra v Nigendra, 60 C 1158-37 C W N 1001
Bhanji v Gobind, 29 N L R 298-A I R 1934 Nag 379, Pandurang
 v Tukaram A I R 1934 Nag 253

S 102 (p 1125) Where a transferor brings a suit to show that transfer was not meant to be operative ■ such onus is on him to prove it Amrit v Gurcharin, A I R 1934 All 226-147 Ind Cas 59

S 103 (p 1126) Person claiming to succeed on ground of relationship should prove such relationship and absence of nearest heir Chunna v Lala Markat A I R 1934 All 117, see also Mahabir v Rudha, 10 O W N 424-A I R 1933 Oudh 231

S 104 (p 1131) Onus of proving error of lower Court in appeal is on the appellant Abdul v Nasir, A I R 1933 Oudh 142-10 O W N 201

S 114 (p 1132) The onus of proof that property has been purchased benami ■ in the person who alleges that Ma Khatun v Ma Bt Bt, A I R 1933 Rang 393

S 104 (p 1140) Burden of proving fraud is on the person who alleges fraud Sabir v Savi, 12 Pat 359-145 Ind Cas 1-14 Pat L T (sup) 1-A I R 1933 Pat 306 But when fraud has been established, it is on the opposite party to prove that the party alleging fraud had knowledge of those circumstances which constitute fraud Ramuddin v Naimaddi, 143 Ind Cas 284-56 C L J 570-A I R 1933 Cal 339

S 104 (p 1144) In a dispute s regards tenancy, initial onus is on tenant Rikhdoo v Gangi Prosid 146 Ind Cas 1002-A I R 1933 All 825

S 104 (p 1145) The defendant who claims that the suit is barred by limitation must prove that Padhum v Tribeni, A I R 1934 Pat 44

104 (p 1145) One questioning marriage, must prove that it was not performed with requisite ceremonies, etc 56 A 428-A I R 1934 All 278

S 104 (p 1146) In a suit for possession the person claiming possession must prove his title Aruna chalam v Ko Tu, 146 Ind Cas 445-A I R 1933 Rang 174

S 104 (p 1149) In a Will case, the onus is on the propounder that the Will was duly executed Jotindra v Rajlakshi A I R 1933 Cal 449-57 C L J 8

S 105 (p 1152) The accused must prove that his case comes within any exception Ng Bashi v Emperor 144 Ind Cas 420-14 Cr L J 783-A I R 1933 Rang 142, see also Maung Sein Ba v Maung Kawe, A I R 1934 Rang 90-12 Rang 55-150 Ind Cas 667

S 106 (p 1157) A fact which is within the special knowledge of a person must be proved by that person Mahabir v Rohini, 64 M L J 413 (P C)-A I R 1933 P C 27-15 Bom L R 500 17 C W N 657 (P C), see also Dhanirajarat v Pirtha Sirathy 38 L W 714-1933 M W N 1182-A I R 1933 Mad 825

S 108 (p 1170) There is no presumption as to the time of death Ram Kali v Nirun Singh, A I R 1934 Oudh 298-11 O W N 793-149 Ind Cas 632

S 108 (p 1170) There is no presumption as to the time of death but not of time of death
v Sheo Gobind A I R 1934 Oudh 298-11 O W N 793-149 Ind Cas 632

S 108 (p 1173) Where two brothers died in same catastrophe and who died first is not known no presumption exists as to the time, of death or the survivorship of either Nikshi v Jatali, A I R 1934 Oudh 101-11 O W N 267-9 Luck 461

S 109 (p 1176) Where there is not only a decree but that the plaintiff has collected rent due under it this is sufficient to bring about the relationship under s 109 and to throw the onus of proving that tenancy terminated is on the defendants Medatapurpa v Medivarupa A I R 1935 Mad 268=40 M L W. 810

S 109 (p 1076) Where the re the burden of proving that they had ship is clearly on the person wh A I R 1935 Lah 49

S 110 (p 1179) Section 110 applies even in cases where Government is a party and s 41 (1) of Berar Land Revenue Code is not meant to lay down a rule regarding the burden of proof at variance with the provisions of s 110 Evidence Act Govind Rupchand v Secy of State A I R 1935 Nag 163=155 Ind Cas 264.

S 110 (p 1179) Where certain property is found to be held by a person who occupies the office of Mohant of a Math there is no presumption that the property belongs to the Math Ganesh Gir Giru v Fitehchand A I R 1935 Nag 114

S 110 (p 1175) Where the defendants who are in possession of a well have from time to time asserted their claim to the property as owners the mere user of the well by the public is not sufficient to rebut the presumption of ownership or to raise a further presumption that the defendants are trustees of the said property Hemraj v Alladin A I R 1935 Sind 133

S 110 (p 1179) Long possession creates presumption of ownership Champal v Toti Ram, A I R 1934 Lah. 324=150 Ind Cas 17=16 P L R 64

S 111 (p 1183) Where a gift is executed to a person standing in a fiduciary relationship to the donor the donee is bound to establish good faith of the transaction For this the donee may prove that the donor had independent advice or that the fiduciary relation had ceased for so long that the donor was under no control or influence whatever by showing existence of other circumstances sufficient to prove good faith Binoy Krishna v Panchanon, A I R 1935 Cal 671

S 111 (p 1183) The words active confidence in s 111 indicate that the relationship between the parties must be such that the one is bound to protect the interest of other, in order that the law may be really protective the word should receive a wider interpretation Benoy Krishna v Panchanon A I R 1935 Cal 671, see also Lekh Raj v Mt Mehtab A I R 1933 Lah 861

S 111 (p 1183) Where the fact of undue influence was not seriously disputed burden lay upon him who denies to show that no undue influence was used and the transaction was made in good faith Aisunnissa v Siraj Husan, A I R 1934 All 507=1934 A L J 817

S 111 (p 1187) Section 111 applies to case of a Will and burden of proving good faith of the transaction lies on propounder Nandalal v Dasa rathi A I R 1936 Cal 15=61 C L J 304

S 112 (p 1193) The presumption of law that a child born of a married woman in wedlock was begotten by the husband and born in his wedlock band nor a wife is permitted child to give evidence of no have been conceived—as enur prevails equally in India as in England The above principle is not limited to legitimacy proceedings but applies in consequence of adultery and it is in the Evidence Act The fact of no other than that of the husband Joseph Ant 1047

S 112 (p 1193) Where a person is admittedly born after his mother's marriage to a certain person the onus of establishing non access and physical incapacity to procreate on the part of the husband lies heavily on those who allege such person to be an illegitimate son Bhagwan Baksh v Mahesh Baksh, A I R 1935 (P C) 199=1935 O W N 1261 (P C)

E 112 (p 1193) Even though connection between a man and a woman is adulterous at its inception by the existence of a marriage between the woman and another man, when the latter divorces the woman and the two continue to live together and are treated as husband and wife and a child is born during such period, presumption of legitimacy can be raised Gurdial Singh v Bhagat Singh, A I R 1934 Lah 517=35 P L R 532=153 Ind Cas 241

S 112 (p 1193) In a divorce suit filed by the husband on the ground of adultery the miscarriage took place long after filing of petition, and the evidence of non access was offered by the husband Held that the evidence of the husband of non access was admissible against his wife Gerald v Olga, A I R 1934 All 618.

S 112 (p 1193) Section 112 merely requires proof to the satisfaction of the Court that there was no access to each other, not that there was no intercourse. That there was no access is a pure finding of fact Varyan, A I R 1934 Nag 124=150 Ind Cas 306

E 112 (p 1193) Presumption that child in lawful wedlock is legitimate child of its mother's husband is rebuttable. But if access or intercourse by husband is proved, presumption becomes irrebuttable Sivakami v Koolyandi, A I R 1934 Mad 318=66 M L J 283=149 Ind Cas 953, see also Samuel v Annammal, A I R 1934 Mad 310=66 M L J 279=149 Ind Cas 100

S 112 (p 1194) Access means sexual intercourse Samuel v. Annammal, A I R 1934 Mad 310=66 M L J 279=149 Ind. Cas 100. The word "access" means "effective access" and physical incapacity to procreate, if established amounts to non access within the meaning of s 112 Bhagwan Baksh v Mahesh Baksh A I R 1935 P C 199=1935 O W N 1261 (P C), see also Umaruddin v Ghulam, A I R 1935 Lah 628

S 112 (p 1194) The evidence of Indian witness on question of age is notoriously often very vague and unreliable and it is unsafe to base a finding of physical incapacity on the part of a husband on such evidence Bhagwan v Mahesh, A I R, 1935 P C 19=1935 O W N 1261. In dealing with the question of non access under s 112 in a case of child marriage among the Hindus much depends upon the question whether the case presented on either side is reconcilable with the established customs and usages of Hindus as regards child marriage Ibid

S 112 (p 1195) To brand a child born in lawful wedlock with illegitimacy on the ground of physical incapacity of the husband to procreate it is necessary in the first place to prove the precise age of the husband at the date of conception and in the second place to negative the possibility of premature virility at that age owing to precocious development Bhagwan Baksh v Mahesh Baksh, A I R 1935 P C 149=1935 O W N 1261 (P C)

S 112 (p 1195) Ordinarily onus of proving illegitimacy lies on person who so asserts. But where opposite party has failed to prove that mother of alleged illegitimate son was lawfully married to his father, onus is not on former Ram Nath v Desraj Singh, A I R 1935 Oudh 80=1934 O L R 983=1935 O W N 25=153 Ind Cas 349

S 112 (p 1196) Where a child establishes the possession of filiation, which is the acknowledgment of the parents and habit and repute everything

such as legitimacy must be presumed in his favour Akshen Singh v Sidhi and others A I R 1933 Lah 520

S 114 (p 1202) The effect of the provision of s 114 is to make it perfectly clear that Courts of justice are to use their own common sense and experience in judging of the effect of particular facts and that they are to be subject to no technical rules whatever on the subject Sirul Chaudia v Emperor A I R 1934 Cal 719 (S B) = 35 Cr L J 1335 = 151 Ind Cas 473

S 114 (p 1202) If an article stained with human blood is recovered from the possession of an accused or from a place pointed out by an accused then the case against him becomes very serious. He has to explain that point away. But if the prosecution fails to establish that there were stains of human blood on any of the articles so recovered then a Court would be wholly unjustified in drawing an inference that blood stains were of human blood. Imamuddin v Emperor A I R 1931 Oudh 385 = 11 O W N 95 = 35 Cr L J 1154 = 150 Ind Cas 862 see also Bhagwati v Emperor, A I R 1934 Oudh 373 = 11 O W N 969 = 35 Cr L J 1159

S 114 (p 1202) Court is often obliged to rely more upon circumstances than on direct evidence. Mallavarupa v Boggavarupa A I R 1935 Mad 769 = 1935 M W N 528 = 42 M L W 321

S 114 III (a) (p 1203) To raise a presumption under this illustration, possession should be exclusive as well as recent. Rajalingam v Emperor A I R 1934 Rang 85 = 149 Ind Cas 31 = 35 Cr L J 994 see also Emperor v Zahur 150 Ind Cas 558 = 35 Cr L J 1092 = A I R 1934 All 455. Jai Narain v Emperor A I R 1933 Oudh 117 = 10 O W N 47 = 34 Cr L J 649 = 143 Ind Cas 835. Emperor v Sangrim 143 Ind Cas 152 = 34 Cr L J 545 = 9 O W N 1198 = A I R 1933 Oudh 85. Hori Lal v Emperor 1933 A L J 1534 = A I R 1933 All 893 = 1933 Cr C 1523. Public Prosecutor v Kudimbachia 1933 M W N 325. Reoti v Emperor 1933 A L J 523. Joyanarain v Emperor A I R 1935 Cal 650

S 114 III (a) (p 1203) S 114 III (a) does not entitle the Court to presume the knowledge of dacoity or dacoits and a person cannot be convicted under s 412 I P Code merely on the fact of possession of recently stolen goods. Isthahar v Emperor, 39 C W N 620

S 114 III (b) (p 1208) As a broad proposition it is correct to say that in spite of s 133 of the Evidence Act the rule of the Evidence Act the rule of practice that an accused person ought not to be convicted on the uncorroborated testimony of an accomplice has virtually become equivalent to a rule of law. But this proposition is subject to various qualifications and the true legal position is the following —

(1) An accused person can legally be convicted upon the uncorroborated testimony of an accomplice if the evidence is of such a nature that a prudent and good sense of the evidence in the case (3) Prima facie evidence is unworthy of credit (4) In a Sessions case the evidence is extremely dangerous to act upon (5) The evidence is of such a nature that a prudent and good sense of the evidence in the case (6) The evidence of an approver may be corroborated by the evidence of another approver, or by the confession of the accused person.

of a person who is being jointly tried with the accused for the same offence, implicating both himself and the accused, (7) it is the duty of the Court to scrutinize with much care such corroboration as that mentioned in (6) but whether it is to be treated as evidence against the accused or not is to be determined by the Court. Emperor v Nirmal Jiban Ghose, 39 C W N 744 = A I R 1935 Cal 513-62 C 238, see also Bimal Krishna v Emperor, 39 C W N 761, Vinkaramanna v Emperor, 1933 M W N 1129, Bent Madho v Emperor, A I R 1933 Oudh 355-146 Ind Cas 1064-10 O W N 68, = 1933 Cr C 97, Bitha Babu v Emperor A I R 1935 All 162, Shiva Das v Emperor A I R 1934 Cal 114-37 C W N 348-147 Ind Cas 1028-35 Cr L J 53, Nissuddin v Emperor, A I R 1934 Pesh 134-153 Ind Cas 71, Chatumal v Emperor, A I R 1934 Sind 185-1934 Cr C 1392, Mahadeo Prasad v Emperor, A I R 1934 Oudh 90-11 O W N 62-15 Cr L J 397-9 Luck 155, Kinsu Ram v Emperor, 15 Lah 491-36 P L R 346-A I R 1934 Lah 873, Ali Mahammed v Emperor, A I R 1934 Lah 171-1934 Cr C 349, Gujar Singh v Emperor A I R 1934 Lah 21-1934 Cr C 39, Mahomed Panah v Emperor, 150 Ind Cas 917-A I R 1934 Sind 78, Hari Ram v Emperor, 15 Lah 673, Hafizuddin v Emperor, 38 C W N 777-A I R 1934 Cal 678, Mangal Singh v Emperor, 150 Ind Cas 21-35 Cr L J 1046-36 P L R 121-A I R 193 Lah 346, Nizam Din v Emperor, A I R 1934 Pesh 11-1934 Cr C 381-35 Cr L J 719, Kartar v Emperor, A I R 1934 Lah 525-35 P L R 436, Turab v Emperor, A I R 1935 Oudh 1-11 O W N 1383-152 Ind Cas 473-1934 O L R 875, Abdul Majeed v Emperor, 39 C W N 1082, Bal mukundo v King Emperor, 39 C W N 1051, Sundar Lal v Emperor, A I R 1934 Oudh 315, Turab v Emperor, 11 O W N, 1363, Ali Mahammed v Emperor, A I R 1934 Lah-1934 Cr C 349, Mallu Masheta v Emperor, 146 Ind Cas 701-16 N L J 186-A I R 1933 Nag 352, Venkat Girappa v Government of Mysore, 11 Mys L J 239, Madhusudan v Emperor, 37 C W N 934, Dhaju Manaal v Emperor, 34 Cr L J 476-146 Ind Cas 934-A I R 1933 Pat 12, Sudam v Emperor, A I R 1933 Cal 148-34 Cr L J 675

S 114 (p 1208) Evidence of one accomplice can not be corroborated by evidence of another accomplice. Kamboji Venkataramanna v Emperor, A I R 1934 Mad 248-1933 M W N 1129-40 M L W 237-67 M L J 74 see also Mallu Masheta v Emperor 146 Ind Cas 701-16 N L J 186-A I R 1933 Nag 352, Parbhoo v Emperor 146 Ind Cas 364-34 P L R 639-A I R 1933 Lah 946, Nasir v Emperor A I R 1933 All 31-1932 A L J 1125-55 A 91-34 Cr L J 489

S. 114 ill (c) (p 1208) Rule laid down in s 114 (c) is affected by subsequent enactment of Negotiable Instruments Act

S 118 Binnumul v Munshi Ram A I R 1935 Lah 549 The difference between s 114 Evidence Act and s 118 Negotiable Instruments Act consists only in this that under the first, the Court has a discretion to make the presumption or not whereas under the second the Court is bound to start with the presumption. Mallavarapu v Bogiripattu A I R 1935 Mad 769 Illustration (c) is confined to acceptance and endorsement of bill of exchange. But s 118, Negotiable Instruments Act has wider scope. Binnumul v Munshi Ram A I R 1935 Lah 599 Under s 114 a strong presumption is raised that an obligation has been discharged when the bond duly signed is in the hands of the obligor. Raigirappa v Sied 30 N L R 196-A I R 1934 Nag 29 The explanation added to illustration (c) of s 114 only indicates that it is not meant to be exhaustive of its application. Mallavarapu v Bogirappa, A I R 1935 Mad 769

S 114 ill (d) (p 1209) The rule of evidence in favour of presuming the continuity of things shown to exist at a prior date. There is no rule of evi dence by which one can presume backwards Manmatha Nath v Girish Chandra A I R 1934 Cal 707-38 C W N 763=153 Ind Cas 170, see also Hemendra v Jnanendra A I R 1935 Cal 702

S 114 ill (e) (p 1212) S 114 includes but is not limited to presumption of regularity Hindas v Mammatha A I R 1936 Cal 1

§ 114 ill (e) (p 122) Section 114 ill (e) does not presume that official act has been done. But if the act is proved to have been done it is presumed to have been regularly done S A Kumari v Raj Kumar A I R 1934 Rang 207=151 Ind Cas 337

S 114 ill (e) (p 1212) This section raises the presumption of legality and correctness of Court's proceedings. When a Judge signs a decree it is presumed that the decree is in accordance with his judgment Rajhubir Singh v Rani Ryes vari 146 Ind Cas 310-10 O W N 884=A I R 1933 Oudh 466. There is a presumption under this section in favour of the correctness of the record by a Judge in the judicial record II Srinivasa Iyengar In the matter, 12 Mys L J 311-39 Mys H C R 461. Where there is evidence of an attachment in the absence of direct evidence to the contrary it ought to be presumed that all necessary formalities were complied with Mohd Akbir v Hadur Mian 9 C W N 29 see also Mohammad Akbir v Mian Musharraf Ali A I R 1934 P C 217-11 O W N 1158-40 M L W 390=151 Ind Cas 221=59 C W N 89=67 M L J 641-61 I A 371=15 Lah 836, Arjun v Emperor A I R 1935 All 436 1935 A L J 390

S 114 (p 1212) There is a presumption in law that all official acts are regularly performed and when a document is attested by the Sub registrar as duly presented, there is an initial presumption that the document was duly presented and the person presenting it was duly authorized to do so Mahamud v Fattah A I R 1934 Lah 452=148 Ind Cas 209=15 Lah 694=36 P L R 525

S 114 ill (e) (p 1212) The pedigree table prepared in the course of each settlement is a part of the Record of Rights and as such there is statutory presumption of correctness attaching to it. It is however impossible to lay down a rule that the presumption is stronger in favour of one rather than the other. It is for the Court to decide in each case which pedigree table is to be preferred Ditai Rani v Akasana Ram A I R 1935 Lah 108

S 114 ill (e) (p 1213) The Court should not presume that the documents referred to in the order of sanction by the Governor General were the documents in question and that they were duly forwarded by the Governor General and reached complainant through the usual channel unless there be any indication on the face of the questioned documents to show that there were the annexures to the order of sanction Sardar Dewan Singh v Emperor A I R 1935 Nag 90

S 114 ill (e) (p 1213) Though official acts may be presumed to have been regularly performed such presumption cannot supply deficiency in the proof Hoogly Chinsurah Municipality v Keshab Chandra Pal, A I R 1933 Cal 347-143 Ind Cas 285=30 Cr L J 549=56 C L J 583=A I R 1933 Cal 347

§ 114 ill (e) p 1213) It may be presumed that official acts are regularly performed and a warrant once signed and issued remains actually in existence until such time it is known to have been destroyed Emperor v Kalu A I R 1933 Lah 159

S 114 (p 1213) The entry in a Jamabandi in the years following the partition to the effect that the field was joint while other fields have been recorded in the separate names of the parties raises a strong presumption that the field was kept joint Mishari v Kedar Nath, A I R 193 Nag 130-29 N L R 272-A I R 1933 Nag 130-144 Ind Cas 948

S 114 ill (e) (p 1212) Where an election officer issues a circular to polling officer stating that it is used under direction of superior office, the presumption is that the statement is correct Bijli Sihal Bahadur v Mahammad Asan, 146 Ind Cas 572

S 114 ill (e) (p 1212) Where a document was registered under s 23 A of the Registration Act the presumption is that it was represented within time Sudarsana Roy v Setharamaya, 1933 M W N 1148

S 114 ill (e) (p 1212) The papers of a survey which do not reach the stage of final publication are not altogether inadmissible in evidence even though the weight to be attached is a different matter. The presumption of final publication but the presumption of official duties are taken to have been Nund Lal, A I R 1933 Pat 468

S 114 ill (g) (p 1215) In case of failures of party to produce account in his possession regarding certain expenses where money spent for such expenses by party is otherwise proved, the mere non production of accounts does not show that no expense has been incurred Sijjad v Manammed, A I R 1934 All 71

S 114 ill (g) (p 1215) Where a party does not produce certain material document Court is entitled to draw adverse presumption Nimmag da v Adutumilli, A I R 1935 Mad 310-41 M L W 298, see also Deo Narain v Emperor A I R 1934 Pat 132-15 P L T 647-35 Cr L J 693, Baroda v Krishna A I R 1934 Cal 414-38 C W N 33-151 Ind Cas 268, Educational Book Depot v Dr Rabindranath Tagore, 55 A 564-1933 A L J 791-A I R 1933 All 474 but see Mt Boosa v Gur Prasad 10 O W N 827 A I R 1933 Oudh 412

S 114 ill (g) (p 1215) No presumption of s 114, ill (g) arises if there is no evidence that the document could be produced Popusi Ramayya v Putcha Lakshminarayana, A I R 1934 P C 84-39 M L W 329-11 O W N 468-1934 A L J 402-61 I A 177-38 C W N 669-57 M 443-67 M L J 1

S 114 ill (g) (p 1215) The petitioner not giving evidence though he was the best informed person about the matter, may be taken as an indication that he could say nothing convincing to support his case Piran Dis v Kartar Singh A I R 1934 Lah 398 151 Ind Cas 32-36 P L R 280, see also Piran Singh v Mathura Das A I R 1934 Lah 126, Bishan Das v Gurbaksh Singh 148 Ind Cas 45 A I R 1934 Lah 63 but see Kanhaya Lal v Bishan Das A I R 1934 Lah 59-149 Ind Cas 1119

S 114, ill (g) (p 1215) Omission to call material witness raises inference that evidence would have been unfavourable U Po v Edward, A I R 1934 Rang 139 150 Ind Cas 898

S 114 (p 1215) It is open to a litigant to refrain from producing any evidence, not forming part of his case, that he considers irrelevant if the other litigant is dissatisfied it is for him to apply for its production and inspection as evidence in the case if he thinks proper if this is not done the Court is not entitled at his suggestion to draw an adverse inference and the presumption will also not arise when there is sufficient explanation Shri a Prasad v Prayag Kumar A I R 1935 Cal 59-61 C 711

S 114 (p 1222) The effect of conflicting presumption is to leave the party to have their case decided by evidence produced Nanjil Dis v Nuthari, 38 C W N 861

S 114 (p 1219) It is impossible to believe that evidence consisting of oral and documentary evidence of very great strength and conclusiveness and in possession of accused's near relatives would not have been produced at once by the accused or his relations and would have been concealed till the defence stage in sessions trial Emperor v. Shro Janak Pande, A I R 1934 All 27 = 56 A 354 = 147 Ind Cas 238 = 35 Cr L J 364 = 193, A L J 1573 (F B)

S 115 (p 1237) Estoppel is not a cause of action. It may, if established, assist a plaintiff in enforcing a cause of action by preventing a defendant from denying the existence of some fact essential to establish the cause of action, or by preventing a defendant from asserting the existence of some facts the existence of which would destroy cause of action. It is a rule of evidence which comes into operation if (a) a statement of the existence of a fact has been made by the defendant or an authorized agent of his to the plaintiff or some one on his behalf, (b) with the intention that the plaintiff should act upon the faith of the statement and (c) the plaintiff does act upon the faith of that statement. There is no such thing as estoppel by waiver. A representation which can ground an estoppel must be representation of an existing fact and not of a future intention which may or may not be enforceable in contract. A statement to ground an estoppel must be clear and unambiguous. Dunson Bank v. Nippon Menkwa, 39 C W N 657 = A I R 1935 P C 79 = 1935 M W N 442 = 155 Ind Cas 1 = 1905 O W N 599

S 115 (p 1249) Where a party changed his position as a result of the representation intentionally made by the ancestors of the plaintiff in order to secure certain concession and the party's conduct was influenced by those representations. Held that the conditions requisite for an estoppel by conduct were satisfied. Special Manager v. Tribeni Prasad A I R 1935 Oudh 299.

S 115 (p 1250) The question of estoppel not being pure question of law it should be distinctly pleaded. Kankhalal v. Bhatjatal, 16 N. L J 248, see also Fakir v. Ismail, A I R 1933 Lah 179

S 115 (p 1251) No estoppel arises if truth of the matter was known to both the parties. Rajib Nirain v. Bindeshwari 15 P L T 596. But there is no obligation on person claiming estoppel in every case to make enquiry about truth of representation. Shyam Lal v. Matadin, 151 Ind C s 576 = 11 O W. N 1097 = A I R 1934 Oudh 40

S 115 (p 1252) To attract the applicability of estoppel in pari passu representation must be clear and unambiguous and it must be acted on by other party. Jethibai v. Chabildas A I R 1935 Sind 142, see also Mohini v. Kadha, A I R 1935 Cal 481, see also Afeel Hussain v. Cheddi Lal, A I R 1935 All 79 = 1935 A L J 217 = 155 Ind Cas 791, Kadhulil v. Kishori Lal, A I R 1935 Lah 527 37 P L R 301, Mohammad Musa v. Qasim Hussain, A I R 1935 All 739 155 Ind Cas 1063, Ganru Dei v. Mohammad Yasin, A I R 1935 Oudh 121 = 11 O W N 1571 = 1935 O L R 9 = 153 Ind Cas 585, Fikar Khan v. Ismail Khan, 14 Lah 218 = 141 Ind Cas 264 = 34 P L R 149 = A I R 1933 Lah 179, T. Hirst v. Syamsundar Lal, 61 C 61 = A. I R 1934 Cal 441 = 151 Ind Cas 334

S 115 (p 1254) As regards representation by conduct, vide Saddha Singh v. Minal Singh A I R 1935 Oudh 166 = 10 O W N 58 = 142 Ind Cas 860, Sikhda v. Mathra, 142 Ind Cas 606 = 34 P L R 115 = A I R 1933 Lah 412, Bhargunath Prasad Singh v. Annapurna Devi A I R 1933 Pat 644, Ditto Shivram v. Babisahab, 58 B 419 = 150 Ind Cas 555 = 36 Bom L R 359 = A I R 1934 Bom 114, Secretary of State v. Rajaram, 36 Bom L R 1055

S 115 (p 1262) As regards estoppel against minor, vide Rangarao v. Sut Chorgmisil, 152 Ind Cas 262 = 1934 M W N. 672 = 4 L W 261 = A.

I. R 1934 Mad. 560-67 M L J 257, Umor Din v Abdul Huq, 150 Ind. Cas 968-A I R 1934 Lah. 304

S 115 (p 1266) Where it is not proved that the witness knew of the contents of the deed at the time of attestation, the mere fact of attestation does not give rise to estoppel. Hareli Sha v. - - - - - 1933 Lah 703, see also Fazol Husain v Jiwan : - - - - -
Cas 454-34 P. L. R 196-A I R 19
v Ven Kanna, 145 Ind Cas 862-1933 M W N - - - - - 637-65 M L J 282, Bhagwat v Gorakh, 150 Ind Cas 765-A I R 1934 Pat 93

S 115 (p 1257) There is no estoppel against statute. Barisal Co operative v Benoy bhusun, A I R 1034 Cal 537-38 C W. N 457-151 Ind Cas 165, see also 15 P L T 661-A I R 1934 Pat 666 (F B), Hakim Husain v Mustaq Husain, 146 Ind Cas 482-A I R 1933 Oudh (F B), Jai Sri Singh v Prabhu, A I. R 1935 All 127-1935 A L J 21

S 115 (p 1258) The doctrine of estoppel cannot be invoked to render valid a transaction which the legislature has on grounds of public policy, enacted shall be invalid. Gaura Die v Mohammad Yasin, A I R 1935 Oudh 121-11 O. W N 1571-1935 O I R 5-153 Ind Cas 503

S 115 (p 1268) Where a Burmese Buddhist wife does not make any claim in husband's payin property but attested mortgage deed and makes payment of interest thereon, there is representation to creditor that she has no interest in it and she is estopped from claiming interest in such property. Ma Shin v N R A I R 1935 Rang 17

S 115 (p 1276) Even bona fide purchaser for value is representative. Dara Sivarao v Kola Subharao, A I R 1934 Mad 302-1934 M W N 316-39 M L W 431 A representative in interest is bound by the estoppel of his predecessor. Tilak Rai v Pargash Rai, A I R 1935 Pat 21-152 Ind Cas 823

S 115 (p 1276) Where the plaintiff stands in the shoes of and derives his title as successor in interest from one entitled to deny the defendant's title to certain property in suit he is not estopped from denying the title to certain property in suit he is not estopped from denying the title of the defendant merely because he was signatory to a deed of partition by which the property in suit fell to the share of the defendant. Misbahuddin v Vidyasagar, A, I R 1935 Lah 64-36 P L R 106

S 115 (p 1276) Judgment debtor is not estopped from urging that agreement for payment of enhanced interest subsequent to decree is not enforceable in execution. Narendra v Oudh Commercial Bank, A I R 1935 Oudh 465

S 115 (p 1276) The word 'representative' in s 115 is not to be limited to gratuitous transferee or volunteer and to a subsequent transferee for value. A derivative owner, estoppel is included. Dara 32-148 Ind Cas 612-1934 id 302-66 M L J 563.

S 115
Mortgagor
576-11 O

S 115 (p 1291) Party admitting partition in a previous suit cannot deny it in the subsequent suit. Barod v Krishna, A I R 1934 Cal 414-33 C W N 33-151 Ind Cas 268

S 115 (p 1291) In a case for money on accounts submitted, no estoppel arises unless the acts of the plaintiff in consequence of the accounts submitted are necessarily referable to the representation made by the defendant T A Hurst v Shyam sundar lal A I R 1934 Cal 441-61 C 64-151 Ind Cas 334

S 115 (p 1291) A person who has held office under a registered agree ment for a period of years on certain terms and conditions and who has unreservedly accepted a fresh tenure of office on the same terms and conditions cannot be heard to say that he was not bound by the terms of his service Gholam Hossain v Altaf Hossain A I R 1934 Cal 328 58 C L J 333-61 C 80-149 Ind Cas 1215-38 C W N 214

S 115 (p 1291) Where person accepts before Settlement Officer his liability to pay rent he cannot subsequently turn round and seek declaration that some other person is liable for same Man oor Hussain v Dawar Ali A I R 1935 Oudh 409-1935 O W N 537 1935 O L R 290-155 Ind Cas 295

S 115 (p 1291) Acceptance of rent at rate specified in unregistered document requiring registration does not give rise to estoppel in suit to eject tenant Datta Shitaram v Babu Sahib A I R 1934 Bom 194-36 Bom L R 359-58 B 419

S 115 (p 1291) A mistaken interpretation made by Government officers of a grant by the Crown and their consequent mistaken acts would not be binding on the Crown and would not create an estoppel as against the Crown Secretary of State v Faredoone A I R 1934 Bom 434-36 Bom L R 761-154 Ind Cas 278

S 115 (p 1291) In case of ten porary arrangement for mutual convenience no estoppel arises : Desto Din v Raj Narain A I R 1934 All 75

S 115 (p 1291) Where in a previous partition suit plaintiff reserved right to sue separately for one item defendant is not estopped in a subsequent suit from challenging plaintiff's right Gokul Prosad v Kunwar Bahadur A I R 1935 Oudh 30-11 O W N 1359 1934 O L R 849-155 Ind Cas 322

S 115 (p 1291) Insurance Company is not estopped from asserting that premium is not paid because policy recites that premium has been paid U San v New Zealand Insurance Co A I R 1935 Rang 343-153 Ind Cas 387

S 115 (p 1291) The fact that some of the earlier grantees acquired the fresh grants being made by the Government on lands which they might have claimed for stop subsequent grantees from claiming acc
N 337-39 J R 1934 P C 17-38 C W
Cas 657-1934 O L R 103-11 Rang 136-66 M L J 239-6 J A 18-59
C L J 269

S 115 (p 1294) To estop a tenant from denying the landlords title under s 116 it is not necessary that the tenant should have been actually put into possession by the landlord It is sufficient being already in possession if he passes a rent note to the landlord acknowledging that a new tenancy had arisen Krishna Rao v Gita or A I R 193 Bom 144-36 Bom L R 1074

S 115 (p 1294) The words at the beginning of the tenancy mean at the time when the tenant was let into possession The distinction between the seeks to deny and possession seems to be vided by s 116 that his land he sense vitiate

the agreement which he has entered into with the landlord Badraddin v Bhagloo Kheri, A I R 1934 Pat 555-15 P L T 519, Rachotappa v Kouchter, A I R 1935 Bom 41-36 Bom L R 1083, Alauddin v Asis, 148 Ind Cas 684-A I R 1934 Pat 369, Charubala v German Gones, A I R 1934 Cal 499-59 C L J 66-152 Ind Cas 212, Bel v Bel Ram, A I R 1934 Lah 445-154 Ind Cas 52, Chandrick v Bombay Buroda & Central India Ry, A I R 1935 P C 59-1935 O W N 319, Kumar Raj v Barboni Coal, A I R 1935 Cal 368-62 C 340-63 C L J 477

S 116 (p 1294) Section 116 relates also to tenancies other than those in which tenant was first let in possession Ram sans v Banshidhar, A I R 1935 Oudh 385-1935 O W N 449-1935 O L R 230, Bhattacharya v Ishtio, 143 Ind Cas 838-10 O W N 48-A I R 1933 Oudh 129

S 116 (p. 1294) Where persons executing a lease deed are not let into possession of the property by the landlord but they were in possession long before they signed the lease, which was done under pressure, under a mistake and in ignorance of facts relating to the landlord's title, the execution of the loan does not raise any estoppel against person executing the lease U Po Shin v Edward, A I R 1934 Rang 139-150 Ind Cas 898.

S 116 (p 1294) No doubt a tenant may dispute his landlord's title, if he has been evicted by title paramount, or if under threat of eviction by a party having a title paramount, he has attorned as tenants. But if the tenant has attorned voluntarily, he is estopped from denying his landlord's title Vayya prath v Chowa Khara, A I R 1934 Mad 197-37 M L W 116-1934 M W N 38-66 M L J 355-147 Ind Cas 1218

S 116 (p 1302) Licensee or his assignee is also barred like tenants Currimbhoy v Creet 60 I A 297-60 C 980-1933 M W N 10-37 C W N 265-37 L W 253-35 Bom J R 223-57 C L J 264-1933 A L J 611-A I R 1933 P C 29-64 M L J 103 (P C)

S 116 (p. 1303) As regards estoppel by mortgagee vide Mahamed Sherif v Syed Kasim, A I R 1933 Mad 635-1933 M W N 642

S 118 (p 1314) It not likely for a child of seven years to distinguish between things which he has heard and those which he has seen, and when, inconsistent statement occurs in his evidence much importance should not be attached to his legitimacy Ram Sakha v Emperor, A I R 1934 Pat 651-15 P L T 586

S 128 (p 1330) Vide Mahtab v Secretary of State, A I R 1933 Lah 157

S 124 (p 1334) Report of confidential enquiry held under orders of Divisional officer for taking departmental action is privileged and inadmissible in evidence under s 124 K v Mir Mahamed A I R 1935 Sind 50-28 S L R 274-153 Ind Cas 651

S 124 (p 1334) Section 124 Evidence Act, involves two matters and there is distinction between the two (1) whether the particular document for which a claim is made is a public document and it is for the Court to decide whether the document is of the nature contemplated by the section then as to whether by its disclosure public interest would suffer of which the public officer himself is the sole Judge. The ground of privilege is only in regard to the second matter and not in regard to both Srita v Secretary of State A I R 1935 Mad 342

S 126 (p 1340) Things observed in course of employment are protected Hakim v Emperor, A I R 1934 Lah 269-1934 Cr C 507-152 Ind Cas 161-36 Cr L J 31

S 126 (p 1340) The privilege afforded to a legal adviser under s 126 is of a very limited character. It protects only such communications as are made to the legal adviser in confidence, in the course and for the purpose of employment. And if the communication is not made in confidence then the communication is in no sense privileged. Bhagwan v Deoram, A I R 1933 Sind 47-27 S L R 72-34 Cr L J 562.

S 126 (p 1351) Communications between a prosecutor in a Crown case and his attorney are not privileged. Bhagwan v Deoram, A I R 1933 Sind 47-27 S L R 72.

S 132 (p 1364) The compulsion referred to in s 132 is something more than being put in the witness box and being sworn to give evidence, but such compulsion may be express or implied. Ghanshamdas v Nnumal, A I R 1934 Sind 114-1934 Cr C 955-28 S L R 251-36 Cr L J 78.

S 132 (p 1364) Where a witness answers questions put by Court and thereby he is open to criminal prosecution, he must be deemed to have been compelled to answer and this entitles him to privilege of s 132 even though he has not objected. Jagannath v Emperor, A I R 1934 Lah 386.

S 133 (p 1372) A confession of a co accused requires to be corroborated as much as and in the same way as the sworn testimony of an accomplice, and a retracted confession is of no value at all as against the co accused. Kasimuddin v Emperor, 39 C W N 27, see also Madhu Sudan v Emperor, 37 C W N 934, see also Venkataramanna v Emperor, 1933 M W N 1129, Nasir v Emperor, A I R 1933 All 31-1932 A L J 1125-55 A 91-143 Ind Cas 67.

S 133 (p 1372) In order to sustain the conviction there must be independent corroboration of the testimony of the approver and the corroboration must be on a point material to the issue. Jivan Singh v Emperor, 34 P L R 866, see also Arjun v Emperor, 34 P L R 2, Dhaju Mandol v Emperor, A I R 1933 Pat 112-34 Cr L J 476-146 Ind Cas 934, Raman Mohan v Emperor, A I R 1933 Cal 146-34 Cr L J 638, Shub das v Emperor, A I R 1934 Cal 114-35 Cr L J 551, Hafisuddin v Emperor, A I R 1934 Cal 678-3 C W N 777-35 Cr L J 1357, 35 Cr L J 1335-A 1 R 1934 Cal 719 (F B), Mahadev Prasad v Emperor, A I R 1934 Oudh 90-11 O W N 62-1934 Cr C 260-35 Cr L J 397-9 Luck 355, Bimal Prasad v Emperor, A I R 1934 Lah 583-35 Cr L J 752-148 Ind Cas 745.

S 133 (p 1372) A confession of a co accused requires to be corroborated as much as and in the same way as the sworn testimony of an accomplice, and a retracted confession is of no value at all against the co accused. Kasimuddin v Emperor, 39 C W N 27.

S 133 (p 1372) In considering evidence of accomplice, Judge sitting without jury must treat himself as jury and apply same rule as in trials with jury. Shiba Das v Emperor, A I R 1934 Cal 114-37 C W N 934-147 Ind Cas 1124.

S 133 (p 1387) Evidence of accomplice can be used for purpose of corroborating evidence of approvers. Maung Thaka v Emperor, A I R 1935 Rang 491; but see Parbhu v Emperor, A I R 1933 Lah 916-34 P L R 639-146 Ind Cas 364.

S 135 (p 1350) Where the defence wants to cross examine the prosecution witnesses in a particular order by being allowed to postpone the cross examination of the complainant on the ground that the cross examination of the complainant before some other witnesses will embarrass and prejudice the defence case, the mere fact that the complainant, a sickly man is present in Court and may not come on some other day due to his bad health is not sufficient to justify the Court in refusing to accede to the request of the defence; but the Court should exercise the discretion in favour of the defence Moosa Haji v Emperor, A I R 1933 Cal 169=37 C W N 238=142 Ind Cas 479=34 Cr L J 347

§ 155 (p 1390) Where the witnesses are not summoned at the instance of the accused for cross examination, but are summoned for examination in a de novo trial, the order in which the witnesses are to be examined in chief rests at the discretion of the prosecution Sheikh Ibrahim v Emperor, A I R 1934 Nag 209=1934 Cr C 980=152 Ind Cas 236

§ 135 (p 1391) The presence of a witness during the examination of the previous witness may well be turned an abuse of the process of the Court and therefore under s 151 the Court has inherent power to prevent that abuse and the Court can order that such witness should not be heard as a witness Lalmani v Bejat Ram, A I R 1934 All 840=1934 A L J 750=152 Ind Cas 30

§ 145 (p 1430) The provisions contained in s 145, Evidence Act relates to cross examination as to previous statements in writing but does not militate in any way against such previous statement being used by way of corroboration of statement put in under s 288, Cr Pro Code which are substantive evidence Manir Ali v Emperor, A I R 1934 Cal 124=37 C W N 1066=58 C L J 66.

§ 145 (p 1430) The previous statement must be put in strictly in accordance with the provisions of s 145 Abdul Gafoor v Kulicharain A I R 1914 Rang 273=152 Ind Cas 425

§ 145 (p 1430) A previous statement made by a party cannot be made legal evidence in the case and used against him as one admission by merely filing an attested copy of that statement without putting it to the party concerned Secy of State v Akbar Shah A I R 1934 Lah 753

§ 145 (p 1430) Admission by party in previous proceeding must be put to them before it is used against him in subsequent case Daulat v Bishan, A I R 1 34 Lah 750

§ 145 (p 1430) If questions are put and extracts included from depositions during the trial of a case it must be obvious that evidence has been admitted by the Judge and that it must form part of his record whether technically speaking it has been properly tendered or not. Malla Khan v Emperor L I R 1934 Cal 169=37 C W N 1061.

§ 145 (p 1430) A document which is used to contradict a witness must be put to the witness. Simply because the witness does not go into the witness box, the Court is not entitled to break the law and admit such document Gajadhar Tewari v Nand Lal, A I R 1934 Pat 55=150 Ind Cas 841=A A R 1934 Pat 215

§ 145 (p 1430) No doubt a witness can be contradicted by his previous statement recorded in writing under s 145, but before this is done it must be shown that the statements were voluntary Nayab Shahana v Emperor, A I R 1934 Cal 636=61 C 399=38 C W N 659=152 Ind Cas 44=35 Cr L J 1479

§s 145 146 (p 1432) Document for contradicting need not come from legitimate custody Emperor v Raja Ram, A I R 1934 Nag 85=16 N L J 193=145 Ind Cas 83=1934 Cr C 151

§ 145 (p 1432) Section 162 Cr Pro Code in its present form allows a Court no discretion to refuse an accused person copies of statements of witnesses recorded by the police in the course of an investigation whether such statements are recorded in a police diary or otherwise, unless proviso (2) to the section applies. This is the case whether the statements are in extenso or in the form of a compressed memoranda and whether they are recorded in the third person or in the first person provided they are such statements as can be utilized to contradict a witness with his statement in Court in the manner provided by s 143 Evidence Act Emperor v Hari and others, A I R 1935 Sind 145 but see Michael v Emperor, 1933 M W N 1270, Pakkiri v Emperor 1933 M W N 919

S 145 (p 1432) Where under s 162 Cr Pro Code, a statement in a public diary is to be used to contradict a witness the procedure under s 145, Evidence Act is to be observed strictly Raghuraj v Emperor, A I R 1934 All 96, see also Ponnusami Chetti In re, 56 M 475 143 Ind Cas 424-34 Cr L J 582-1933 M W N 90-A I R 1933 Mad 372-64 M L J. 519, Ram Bharosey v Emperor, 14 L R 184 Cr

S 154 (p 1452) From the mere fact that a witness before the Sessions Court makes statement relating to a part of the prosecution case different from what he made before the Magistrate does not necessarily make him hostile Nayeb Shahana v Emperor A I R 1934 Cal 636-38 C W N. 659-61 C 399-152 Ind Cas 44-35 Cr L J 1479

S 154 (p 1452) Where it does not appear that the witness unexpectedly turned out hostile, it is not a proper exercise of discretion under s 154 for the Judge to allow him to be cross examined especially when the object of such cross examination is to introduce his retracted confession in evidence Nayeb Shahana v Emperor, A I R 1934 Cal 636 38 C W N 659-61 C 399-152 Ind Cas 44-35 Cr L J 1479

S 154 (p 1450) Although s 154 gives the Court an unfettered discretion to allow cross examination of a witness by the party calling him it ought not to exercise its discretion unless during the examination in Chief of the witness something happens which makes it necessary for the facts to be got from the witness by means of cross examination. That section does not entitle any party, for instance to say 'I propose to call my opponent and cross examine him' and the Court to allow such cross examination without anything more. Something more than the mere position in which the witness stands to the party calling him is required before the Court can exercise its discretion. Therefore, it is necessary before the procedure of s 154 can be adopted either for the permission of the Court to be obtained or for it to be given by the Court without its being sought. Such permission should not be tacit but should be signified if not in words by some other action of the Court indicating permission Ammathazarammal v Official Assignee A I R 1933 M 137-64 M L J 208-37 L W 233-144 Ind Cas 629-56 M 7

S 154 (p 1450) Before the party calling the witness can cross examine him, if it is not necessary that the witness should first of all be declared to be hostile and questions to cross examine can be allowed by the Court to be asked even though the witness does not show himself to be hostile Ammathazarammal v Official Assignee, A I R 1933 Mad 137-56 M 7-37 L W 233-A I R 1933 Mad 137-64 M L J 208

S 154 (p 1456) When the Court has exercised its discretion under s 154 it ought not to be interfered with by the appellate Court Ammathazarammal v Official Assignee A I R 1933 Mad 137-56 M 7-37 L W 233-A I R 1933 Mad 137-64 M L J 208

S 155 (p 1463) Where a previous statement by a witness is used to contradict him he should be given opportunity to explain it Amrit v Gurcharan A I R 1934 All 226-147 Ind Cas 591

Ss 155 157 (p 1470) Evidence of test identification is admissible under ss 155 and 157 and otherwise also Krishna chandra v Emperor, A I R 1935 Cal 311-39 C W. N. 488

S 157 (p 1773) A former statement admitted under s 157 can only be used as corroborative evidence. But it can not be used as substantive evidence. Munda v Emperor, A I R 1933 Rang 644, Ram Das v Maya

S 157 (p 1473) The first information can be used as corroborative evidence only of the person making the report. Mt Misri v Emperor, A I R 1934 Sind 100

S 157 (p 1473) Where a person has been examined as a witness, a statement said to have been made by him to another is not admissible when no question is put to the witness as to whether the particular statement had been made to such other person. Mt Misri v Emperor, A. I R 1934 Sind 100

S 158 (p 1474) Under s 158, prior statements of deceased persons are admissible both for contradiction and corroboration. Sundarsana v Sutha ramamma, 1933 M W N 1148.

S 159 (p 1475) Horoscope may be used for refreshing the memory as regards the age of the person whose horoscope it is. Las Baba v Government of Mysore, 12 Mys L J 133

Ss 159 161 (p 1475) Panchnamas may be used to refresh memories. Baloch Pirwali v. Emperor, 144 Ind Cas 772-34 Cr L J 848-A I R 1933 Sind 220

S 162 (p 1487) Even confidential document should be produced before Court and the Court is to decide how far the privilege claimed is reasonable and justified. Karigowda v Government of Mysore, 11 Mys L J 171

S 165 (p 1493) Under s 165 the Court can not order the production by a party of any document or thing no matter how irrelevant, into Court, unless the object is to obtain indicative evidence which may lead to discovery of relevant evidence of any fact in any matter then before Court. Krishna Ayyar v Balakrishna, A I R 1934 Mad 199-39 M L W 179-60 M L J 498-57 M 635-148 Ind Cas 79

S 167 (p 1500) Section 167 of the Act provides that if a Court finds that a certain piece of evidence has been wrongly admitted, the decision need not be reversed on the ground even in second appeal provided that the Court holds there is sufficient evidence on the record to justify the finding. Soney Lal v Derbdeo, 16 P L T 199 (F B)

S 167 (p 1500) Section 167 does not apply to second appeal on the civil side or cases tried by a jury on the criminal side, and not to first appeals where the facts are a matter of decision of the appellate Court. Bhabendra chandra v Ajodhya chandra, A I R 1934 Pat 605

S 167 (p 1500) If there is sufficient evidence upon which a case could be completely decided the appellate Court is precluded from remanding the cases for hearing under s 167. The question is not whether the Judge would or would not believe the evidence other than the inadmissible evidence but whether it was possible for him to come to such conclusion as he did in the absence of that inadmissible evidence. Hari Ahir v Sri Sangat Chattri, 152 Ind Cas 829-A I R 1934 Pat 617

S 167 (p 1500) The acceptance of inadmissible evidence is not a ground to set aside a judgment or grant a new trial if there is other evidence upon which the finding could be arrived at. And the High Court even in second appeal see whether there is such other evidence justifying the decision and if there is such evidence it cannot order a new trial. Gajadkar v Nind Lal, A I R 1934 Pat 55-150 Ind. Cas 841-A I R. 1934 Pat 55

SUPPLEMENT TO N D BASU'S INDIAN EVIDENCE ACT.

Amendments to the Indian Evidence Act, 1872

The Government of India (Adaptation of Indian Laws) Order, 1937.

AT THE COURT AT BUCKINGHAM PALACE.

THE 18TH DAY OF MARCH, 1937.

Present.

The King's Most Excellent Majesty In Council

WHEREAS by section two hundred and ninety three of the Government of India Act, 1935, (hereinafter in the recitals to this Order referred to as 'the Act') His Majesty is empowered by Order in Council to provide that from such date as may be specified in the Order any law in force in British India or in any part of British India shall, until repealed or amended by a competent legislature or other competent authority, have effect subject to such adaptations and modifications as appear to His Majesty to be necessary or expedient for bringing the provisions of that law into accord with the provisions of the Act

And whereas a draft of this Order has been laid before Parliament in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (1) of section three hundred and nine of the Act and an Address has been presented to His Majesty by both Houses of Parliament praying that an Order may be made in the terms of this Order

Now, therefore, His Majesty, in the exercise of the said powers and of all other powers enabling him in that behalf, is pleased by and with the advice of His Privy Council to order, and it is hereby ordered as follows,—

1 This Order may be cited as the Government of India (Adaptation of Indian Laws) Order, 1937, and shall come into operation on the first day of April, nineteen hundred and thirty seven

2 (1) In this Order the expression 'Indian Law' means a law as defined or the interpretation of this of Parliament

3 The Indian laws mentioned in the Schedule to this Order shall, until repealed or amended by a competent Legislature or other competent authority, have effect subject to the adaptations and modifications directed by those Schedules to be made therein or, if it is so directed, shall cease to have effect

4 (1) Whenever an expression mentioned in the first column of the Table hereinafter printed occurs (otherwise than in a title or preamble or in a citation or description of an enactment), in a Central or Provincial Act or Regulation whether an Act or Regulation mentioned in the Schedules to this Order or not, then, unless that expression is by this Order expressly directed to be otherwise adapted or modified, or to stand unmodified or to be omitted, there shall be substituted therefor the expression set opposite to it in column two of the said table

Table of General Adaptations

Governor General of India in Council	Governor	} Central Government
General of India	Governor General in Council
Governor General	Government of India

Governor in Council	Governor (except in the expression 'Governor's Province')	Lieutenant Governor	} Provincial Government
Governor in Council	Lieutenant Governor	Chief Commissioner (except in the expression 'Chief Commissioner's Province')
	Local Government	Local Administration

Gazette of India	local official Gazette	local Gazette	} Official Gazette
any other expression denoting a Gazette in which official notices of a government are published, not being the Gazette of a district or other sub division of a Province

Any reference to the Governor (or Lieutenant Governor) of a named Province in Council shall be treated for the purposes of this paragraph as if it were a reference to the Governor (or Lieutenant Governor) in Council of that Province

(2) A direction in the Schedules to this Order that a specified Indian law or section or portion of an Indian law shall stand unmodified shall be construed merely as a direction that it is not to be modified or adapted in accordance with the foregoing provisions of this paragraph

5 (1) Where this Order requires that in any specified Indian law or in any section or other portion of an Indian law, certain words shall be substituted for certain other words or that certain words shall be omitted, that substitution or omission, as the case may be, shall except where it is otherwise expressly provided be made wherever the words referred to occur in that law or, as the case may be, in that section or portion

(2) Where this Order requires that in any Indian law a plural noun shall be substituted for a singular noun and vice versa or a masculine noun for a neuter noun or vice versa there shall be made also in any verb or pronoun in the sentence in question such consequential amendment as the rules of Grammar may require

6 (1) The following provisions shall have effect where any Indian law which under this Order is to be adapted or modified has before the commencement of this Order been amended, either generally or in relation to any particular area by the insertion or omission of words or the substitution of words for other words —

(a) effect shall first be given in the amending law to any adaptation or modification required by paragraphs three and five of this order to be made therein,

(b) the original law shall then be amended either generally or, as the case may be, in its application to the particular area, so as to give effect to the directions contained in the amending law or, where any adaptation or modification has fallen to be made under sub paragraph (a), in that law as so adapted or modified and

(c) all adaptations or modifications required by this Order to be made in the original law shall then be made in that law as so amended except so far as in the case of any particular area they may be inapplicable

(2) In this paragraph references to the amendment of a law by the insertion or omission of words or the substitution of words do not include references to an amendment which is effected merely by directing that certain words shall be construed in a particular manner

7 Subject to the foregoing provisions of this Order any reference by whatever form of words in any Indian law in force immediately before the commencement of this Order to an authority competent at the date of the passing of that law to exercise any powers or authorities or discharge any functions, in any part of British India shall, where a corresponding new authority has been constituted by or under any Part of the Government of India Act, 1935, for the time being in force, have effect until duly repealed or amended as if it were a reference to that new authority.

8 In any Indian law in force immediately before the commencement of this Order any reference by name or description to any territory shall, unless the contrary intention appears or unless it has been, or is by this Order, otherwise expressly provided, be construed as a reference to the territory which bore that name or answered to that description at the date when the enactment containing that name or description came into operation.

Provided that in the application of any enactment to Madras, Bombay, Bihar or the Central Provinces, references in that enactment to Madras, Bombay, Bihar or the Central Provinces, as the case may be, shall be construed as exclusive of so much of those Provinces respectively as was separated therefrom on the constitution of the Provinces of Orissa and Sind.

9 The provisions of this Order which adapt or modify Indian laws so as to alter the manner in which, the authority by which, or the law under or in accordance with which, any powers are exercisable, shall not render invalid any notification, order, commitment, attachment, bye law, rule or regulation duly made or issued, or anything duly done, before the commencement of this Order, and any such notification, order, commitment, attachment, bye law, rule, regulation or thing may be revoked, varied or undone in the like manner, to the like extent and in the like circumstances as if it had been made, issued or done after the commencement of this Order by the competent authority and under and in accordance with the provisions therein applicable to such a case.

10 Save as provided by this Order, all powers which under any law in force in British India, or in any part of British India, were immediately before the commencement of Part III of the Government of India Act, 1935, vested in, or exercisable by, any person or authority shall continue to be so vested or exercisable until other provision is made by some legislature or authority empowered to regulate the matter in question.

11 Nothing in this Order shall affect the previous operation of, or anything duly done or suffered under, any Indian law, or any right, privilege, obligation or liability already acquired, accrued or incurred under any such law, or any penalty, forfeiture or punishment incurred in respect of any offence already committed against any such law.

12 For the avoidance of doubt it is hereby declared that—

(a) nothing in this Order transferring or assigning any functions to the Central Government shall be construed as excluding those functions from the operation of section one hundred and twenty four of the said Act.

(b) the transfer by this Order of any functions to the Central Government shall not be construed as excluding that jurisdiction from the operation of sub-section (2) of section two hundred and ninety six of the said Act.

(c) nothing in this Order shall affect the provisions of any Order in Council for the time being in force made under section one hundred and fifty eight, section one hundred and fifty nine or section one hundred and sixty of the said Act (which empower Orders to be made regulating the relations of India and Burma to their monetary systems, relief from double taxation, customs, and ancillary and related matters), or under any corresponding provisions in the Government of Burma Act 1935, and

(d) no repeal effected by this Order shall affect the operation of sub-paragraph (2) of paragraph fifteen of the Government of India (Commencement and Transitory Provisions) Order, 1936.

(sd) M. P. A. Hankey

1 The Indian Evidence Act, 1872

(1 of 1872)

Section 26 —In the explanation omit 'or in Burma'

Section 36 —For 'Government' substitute "any Government in British India"

Section 37 —For 'Act of the Governor General of India in Council' substitute 'Act of the Central Legislature' and for the words from 'for the time being' to the end of the section substitute "by any laws for the time being in force or in a Government notification or notification by the Crown representative appearing in the official Gazette or in any printed paper purporting to be the London Gazette or the Government Gazette of any Dominion, Colony or possession of His Majesty in a relevant fact"

Section 57 —Substitute for paragraph (1) —

"(1) all Indian laws"

In paragraph (4) for the words from "of the Councils" to 'relating thereto' substitute 'of the legislatures established under any laws for the time being in force in British India'

In paragraph (6) for 'the Governor General or any Local Government in Council' substitute "the Central Government or the Crown representative"

In paragraph (7) for 'the Gazette of India or in the official Gazette of any Local Government' substitute 'any official Gazette'

Section 78 —In sub section (1) for "the Executive Government of British India substitute "the Central Government", after the first 'departments' insert 'or of the Crown representative', and at the end of the sub section add "or, as the case may be, of the Crown representative", in sub section (2) for 'by order of Government' substitute "by order of the Government concerned", and in sub section (4) for "public act of the Governor General of India in Council" substitute "Central Act"

Section 79 —For 'Native State in alliance with Her Majesty' substitute 'Indian State' and for the Governor General in Council" substitute 'the Central Government or the Crown representative'

Section 81 —For 'the Gazette of India, or the Government Gazette of any Local Government, or' substitute any official Gazette, or 'the Government Gazette'

Section 83 —For 'Government' substitute "any Government in British India"

Section 118 —After 'any portion of British territory, has' insert "before the commencement of Part III of the Government of India Act, 1935"

■ The Banker's Books Evidence Act, 1891

(XVIII of 1891)

Section 2 —For sub section (1) substitute—

'(1) 'Company' means a company registered under any of the enactments relating to companies for the time being in force in any part of His Majesty's dominions or incorporated by an Act of Parliament or by an Indian law or by Royal Charter or by Letters Patent'

THE GOVERNMENT OF BURMA (ADAPTATION OF LAWS) ORDER, 1937.

WHEREAS by section one hundred and forty-nine of the Government of Burma Act, 1935, His Majesty is empowered by order in Council to provide that, as from such date as may be specified in the order, any law in force in Burma shall, until repealed or amended by the Legislature or other competent authority, have as appear to His Majesty ma :

And whereas a draft of this order has been laid before Parliament in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (1) of section one hundred and fifty-seven of the said Act and an Address has been presented to His Majesty by both Houses of Parliament praying that an order may be made in this terms of this order :

Now, therefore, His Majesty, in the exercise of power conferred on him in the aforesaid and of all other powers enabling him in that behalf, is pleased, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, to order, and it is hereby ordered, as follows :—

1. This Order may be cited as the Government of Burma (Adaptation of Laws) Order, 1937.

2. This Order shall come into operation on the separation of Burma and India.

3. (1) In this Order, 'Burman law' means a law as defined in section one hundred and forty-nine of the Government of Burma Act, 1935.

(2) The Interpretation Act, 1889, applies for the interpretation of this order as it applies for the interpretation of an Act of Parliament.

4. (1) The enactments mentioned in the Schedule to this order shall, until repealed or amended by the Legislature or other competent authority, have effect subject to the adaptations and modifications directed by that Schedule to be made therein or, where so directed, shall cease to have effect.

(2) Save as otherwise provided in that or in any other Burman law, every Burman law shall be deemed to have effect throughout the whole of British Burma.

5. (1) Whenever an expression mentioned in the first column of the Table here-in-under printed occurs (otherwise than in a title or preamble or in a citation or description of an enactment) in any Burman law then, unless that expression is under the last preceding paragraph expressly directed to be otherwise adapted or modified or to stand unmodified or to be omitted, there shall be substituted therefor the expression set opposite to it in the second column of the said Table.

Table of General Adaptations.

Governor-General of India : Governor-General :	} Governor.
Governor-General of India in Council :
Governor-General in Council :
Chief Commissioner of British Burma :
Chief Commissioner :
Lieutenant-Governor of Burma : Lieutenant-Governor :
Local Government of Burma ; Local Government.

Gazette of India,
Gazette of British Burma, Burma Gazette,
Local official Gazette, Official Gazette,

} Gazette

(2) Any words contained in any Burman law, otherwise than in a title or preamble, which require the consent, assent, approval, sanction or control of the Governor General or the Governor General in Council in relation to any thing done by the Local Government or the Governor shall be omitted.

(3) A direction in the Schedule to this order that a specified Burman law or section or portion of a Burman law shall stand unmodified shall be construed merely as a direction that it is not to be modified or adapted in accordance with the foregoing provisions of this paragraph.

Where this Order requires that in any specified Burman law or portion of a Burman law certain words shall be substituted for certain other words or that certain words shall be omitted, that substitution or omission, as the case may be, shall unless the contrary intention appears, be made wherever the words referred to occur in that law or that portion.

7 (1) Where any Burman law has before the commencement of this order been amended by the insertion or omission of words, or the substitution of words for other words, the adaptations and modifications directed to be made therein by this order shall be made in the enactment as in force at the commencement of this order, that is to say, as so amended.

Provided that nothing in this paragraph shall be construed as extending the operation of any temporary amending enactment.

(2) In this paragraph references to the amendment of law by the insertion or omission of words, or the substitution of words, do not include references to an amendment which is effected merely by directing that certain words shall be construed in a particular manner.

8 Where this order requires the substitution in any enactment of a plural noun for a singular noun or vice versa or of a masculine noun for a neuter noun, or vice versa, or of a noun or adjective beginning with a consonant for a noun or adjective beginning with a vowel, or vice versa there shall also be made in any verb, pronoun or article in the sentence in question such consequential amendment as the rules of Grammar may require.

9 The adaptations and modifications which adapt or modify any enactment so as to be in conformity with the authority by which, or the law in or in accordance with which, the powers are exercisable, shall not render invalid any notification, order, commitment, attachment by law, rule or regulation duly made or issued, or anything done before the commencement of this order; and any such notification of order, commitment, attachment, by law, rule, regulation or thing may be revoked, varied or undone in the like manner, to the like extent and in the like circumstances as if it had been made, issued or done after the commencement of this order by the competent authority and under and in accordance with the provisions then applicable to such case.

10 Nothing in this order shall affect the previous operation of, or anything duly done or suffered under, any Burman law, or any right, privilege, obligation or liability already acquired, accrued or incurred under any such law or any penalty, forfeiture or punishment incurred in respect of any offence already committed against any such law.

11 Save as provided in this order, all powers which under any law in force in Burma or in any part of Burma were at the commencement of this order vested in or exercisable by any person or authority shall continue to be so vested or exercisable until other provision is made by the Legislature or by some authority empowered to regulate the matter in question.

12 (1) References in any Burman law to that or any other Burman law, or to any section or portion thereof, shall, except in so far as the contrary intention appears, be construed—

(a) as respects any period before the separation of India and Burma, as references to that law, section or portion as in force in all places to which it then extended, whether within or without Burma

(b) as respects any period after the said separation as references to that law, section or portion as in force in Burma

(2) The foregoing provisions of this paragraph extend to references to, or to any section or portion of, any Burman law by means of the short title of the law, notwithstanding that the Schedule to this Order alters that short title and notwithstanding that no consequential alteration is made in the reference.

13 For the avoidance of doubt it is hereby declared that nothing in this order shall affect the operation of sub-paragraph (2) of paragraph eleven of the Government of Burma (Commencement and Transitory Provisions) Order, 1935, or of any order in Council made under Part XI of the Government of Burma Act, 1935

THE SCHEDULE

The Indian Evidence Act, 1872

(1 of 1872 ,

In the short title omit "Indian" and "1872"

Section 1—Omit "extends to the whole of British India and"

Sections 23, 126, 128 and 150—For 'barrister pleader attorney or vakil', and 'barrister, attorney or vakil' substitute "legal practitioner"

Section 57—In clause (12) and in section 127 for "advocates, attorneys proctors, vakils pleaders and "barristers pleaders attorneys and vakils substitute "legal practitioners"

Section 26—Omit "In the Presidency of Fort St George or in Burma or elsewhere"

Section 37—For 'Act of the Governor General of India in Council or of any other legislative authority in British India constituted for the time being under the Indian Councils Act 1861 the Indian Councils Acts 1861 and 1892 or the Indian Councils Acts 1861 to 1909' substitute "enactment in force at any time in British Burma or British India", for "Gazette of India, or in the Gazette of any Local Government" substitute "Gazette"

Section 57—In clause (1) for 'British India' substitute 'British Burma or British India'

For clause (4) substitute—

'(4) the course of proceeding of Parliament and of the Burma Legislature'

In clause (6) for 'British India and of all Courts out of British India established by the authority of the Government in Council' substitute "Government in Council substitute British Burma having the force of law in British India" substitute "Burma"

In clause (7) for 'Burma' and for 'Gazette of India or in the official Gazette of any Local Government' substitute "Gazette"

Section 65—In clause (f) for 'British India' substitute "British Burma"

Section 66—For "attorney" substitute "advocate"

Section 74—For 'British India' substitute "British Burma."

Section 78—For "Executive Government of British India in any of its departments, or of any Local Government" or any department of any Local Government" substitute "Government" and for "any such Government" substitute "the Governor"

For "public Act of the Governor General of India in Council" substitute "enactment in force in British Burma"

For "British India" substitute "British Burma"

Section 79—For "British India" substitute "British Burma" and for "Native State in alliance with Her Majesty" substitute "other part of Burma"

Section 81—For "Gazette of India, or the Government Gazette of any Local Government, or" substitute "Gazette of Burma or the Government Gazette".

Sections 85 and 86—Omit "or of the Government of India"

Section 86—Omit the words from "An officer" to "territory or place".

Section 91—For Exception 2 substitute—"Exception 2—Wills may be proved by any probate thereof having effect in British Burma"

Omit section 113

The Bankers' Books Evidence Act, 1891.

(XVIII of 1891)

Section 1—Omit sub section (2)

Section 2—For clause (1) substitute the following—

"(1) 'Company' means a company incorporated or registered by or under the law of the United Kingdom, British Burma, British India or any British possession",

In clause (6) for "a High Court" substitute "the High Court"

THE INDIAN EVIDENCE ACT.

— 0 —
ACT I OF 1872.
— — —

Received the assent of the Governor-General on the 15th March, 1872

WHEREAS it is expedient to consolidate, define and amend the Law of Evidence; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Preamble

Title of an Act — "Originally, bills in Parliament were mere petitions to the King. They were entered on the rolls of Parliament, with the King's answer and at the records into Statutes to which they were first added about the eleventh century. The original title of a bill is amended at the eleventh century, when the alterations necessary, and in the body of the bill, in the third reading by Lord Mansfield in Rex v. Poulter's Case, was no part of the law, see al 11 R. p. 336, Chance v. Jefferys v. E, 15, Poulter's Case, 16, 6 O B N 8 1; 18, D 194 "The"

for the legislation; but remedy may both consistently and wisely be extended beyond the cure of that evil". In the well known Sussex Peerage Case, 11 C L & Fin 85, Tindal C J observed: "If the words of the Statute are in themselves precise and unambiguous then no more can be necessary than to expand those words in their natural and ordinary sense. The words themselves alone do in such case, best declare the intention of the lawgiver. But if any doubt arises from the terms employed by the Legislature, it has always been held a safe means of collecting the intention, to call in aid the ground and cause of making the Statute, and to have recourse to the preamble, which according to Chief Justice Dyer, is a key to open the minds of the makers of the Act, and the mischief which they intended to redress". In the Secretary of State v. Maharaja of Bobbili, 43 M 529 P C Lord Shaw said "It is the section that governs an Act of Improvement of Calcutta, the preamble of an Act may be a most useful indication of a particular Act".

90) F B 145, Kristonath v T T Brown, C L J. 8, Kesavalu Nicker v The = 92 Ind Cas 1053 = A I R 1926 Mad

381 = 50 M L J 301, Nepu v Sayer Pramanik, 103 Ind Cas 662 = A I R 1927 Cal 763, Raj Mal v Harnam Singh, 104 Ind Cas 661 = 28 P L R 505 Where a section, or an Act, is capable of two renderings or is said to mean less or more, than it says it is a maxim of interpretation that one must look at the 46 A

I admin of the which we are bound to and I say so because it is not merely a fragmentary enactment, but a consolidatory enactment repealing all rules of evidence other than those saved by the last part of section 2 of that enactment"—Per Mahmood J in Collector of Gorakhpur v Pulakdhar Singh, 12 A. 1 F B at p 35

Interpretation of Statutes A Statute is the will of the Legislature, and the fundamental rule of interpretation, to which all others are subordinate, is that a Statute is to be expounded 'according to the intent of them that made it' 4 Inst 330, Sussex Peerage, 11 Cl & F 143 It is the fundamental principle of the interpretation of Statutes that their language must be understood in the most ordinary and popular acceptance Per Mahmood J in Queen Empress v Abdullah, 7 A 335 (398) (F B) The language of a Statute, taken in its inconsistency with the rest of the instrument, in which case the grammatical and ordinary sense of the words may be modified so as to avoid that absurdity repugnance or inconsistency, but no further' Per Lord Wensleydale, in Grey v Pearson, (1852) 7 App Cas (P) 132 (1853) 12 App Cas at p 114, as in substance laid down by Hull & Bro Gt It has been stated by Lord Cranworth (when Chancellor) as 'a Cardinal Rule' from which, if we departed, we should hunch into a sea of difficulties not easy to fathom [Gundry v Punwiger, (1852) 1 De G M & G 502]. and as the Golden Rule when applied to Acts of Parliament, by Jervis C J, in Mathison v Hart, 23 L J C P 108, at p 114 "Marvell p 5 pretition of Statutes that when the law constructions, the Court should not an absurdity or obvious injustice, Khan Gul, Lakha Singh, A I R 1928 Lab 609 (F B) The Court and should construe an enactment in terms of the other Statutes which it ought to be so construed that if it can be prevented no clause, sentence or word, shall be superfluous, void or insignificant R v Bishop of Oxford, 4 Q B D 245, Hough v Windus, 12 Q B D 224, Vasanbai v Radhibai, A I R 1928 Sind 118

Rules of Construction, when language is plain 'It is not allowable' says Vattel, "to interpret what has no need of interpretation" (Law of N C 263) Absoluta sententia expositore no indiget (2 Inst 533). Such language best declares without more, the intention of the law-giver, and is decisive of it [Per Buller J in R v Hodnett 1 T R 966, Sussex Peerage (1811) 11 Cl & F 143 U S v Hartwell, Wallace 395, U S v Wiltberger, 5 Wheat 95] The Legislature must be in the Court is bound of the language of the Statute, even if the result of such construction leads to anomalies or be productive even of absurdity Rayib v Lakhan, 27 C 11-3 C W N 660 following, Bank of England v Fagholi, L R App Cas (1891) 197 p 145, St John Hamstead v Cotton 12 App Cas 6 (1896), see also, Alfred v Wilkinson, 47 B 843, R v City of London Court (1892) 1 Q B 273, Measey Docks v Turner, (1893) A C at p 477, British Farmers & Co. In re, 43 L J Ch 56, Crawford v Spooner 6 Moo P C 9, R v Allen 28 L J M C 94, Abey v Dale, 21 L J C P 104 The duty of the Court is not to make the law reasonable, but to expound it as it stands, according to the real sense of the word, Biffin v Yorke, 5 M & G 428, Dennis v Tozell 42 L J M C 33, Plasterers Co. v Parish Clerks Co, 20 L J Ex 362 A Statute need not be interpreted in the light of what is just and expedient, where it is otherwise clear from plain and unambiguous language Guyne v Burnell 7 Cl & F 572 "Our decision", says Lord Tenterden in R v Barham 8 B & C 99, "may in this particular case operate to defeat the object of the Act, but it is better to abide by this consequence than to put upon it a construction not warranted by the words of the Act in order to give effect to what we may suppose to have been the intention of the Legislature" The Act says Lord Abinger in A G v Lockwood, 9 M & W 395, "has practically had a pernicious effect not at all contemplated, but we cannot construe it according to that result" "I can not doubt" says Lord Campbell in Coe v Laurence, 22 L J Q B 140, "what the intention of the Legislature was, but that intention has not been carried into effect by the language used It is far better that we should abide by the words of a Statute than seek to reform it according to the supposed intention" It may have been an oversight in the framers of the Act, but we must see also R v Male, 22 L J Q B 225, L J Ch 372; Wilkins v Palmer v Thatcher, even if the result of such construction leads to anomalies or be productive even of absurdity Rayib v Lakhan, 27 C 11-3 C W N 660 following, Bank of England v Fagholi, L R App Cas (1891) 197 p 145, St John Hamstead v Cotton 12 App Cas 6 (1896), see also, Alfred v Wilkinson, 47 B 843, R v City of London Court (1892) 1 Q B 273, Measey Docks v Turner, (1893) A C at p 477, British Farmers & Co. In re, 43 L J Ch 56, Crawford v Spooner 6 Moo P C 9, R v Allen 28 L J M C 94, Abey v Dale, 21 L J C P 104 The duty of the Court is not to make the law reasonable, but to expound it as it stands, according to the real sense of the word, Biffin v Yorke, 5 M & G 428, Dennis v Tozell 42 L J M C 33, Plasterers Co. v Parish Clerks Co, 20 L J Ex 362 A Statute need not be interpreted in the light of what is just and expedient, where it is otherwise clear from plain and unambiguous language Guyne v Burnell 7 Cl & F 572 "Our decision", says Lord Tenterden in R v Barham 8 B & C 99, "may in this particular case operate to defeat the object of the Act, but it is better to abide by this consequence than to put upon it a construction not warranted by the words of the Act in order to give effect to what we may suppose to have been the intention of the Legislature" The Act says Lord Abinger in A G v Lockwood, 9 M & W 395, "has practically had a pernicious effect not at all contemplated, but we cannot construe it according to that result" "I can not doubt" says Lord Campbell in Coe v Laurence, 22 L J Q B 140, "what the intention of the Legislature was, but that intention has not been carried into effect by the language used It is far better that we should abide by the words of a Statute than seek to reform it according to the supposed intention" It may have been an oversight in the framers of the Act, but we must see also R v Male, 22 L J Q B 225, L J Ch 372; Wilkins v Palmer v Thatcher, and from the words of the objects drafted with by the Statute Forlyre v Bridges, 1 H. L. Cas 1-11 Jur 157 Because the Court cannot depart from the words in which it is expressed at the time. Logan v Oorloun (L silent as to them Pelasha Reddi v Varala Reddi, A I R 1929 Mad 236=29 M L W 210=1929 M W N 81=52 M 432

Construc Facts If the words are which if less correct gram the Legislature Warrall p 36 Palmer, 18 L J Ex 409; Caledonian R Co v N Bru R Co 6 App Cas 114 Edinburgh Tramways Co v Torbain, 1 App Cas 68 Firstman Photograph Co v Comptroller of Patents, (1898) A C 571, Direct T S Cable Co v Anglo-American Telegraph Co (1877) 2 App Cas 391, Walton Ex parte (1891) 17 Ch D 746 "The literal construction, then, has, in general, but prima facie preference. To arrive at the real meaning, it is always necessary to get an exact conception of the consider according to Lord Coke (Hey 10 Rep 731) (1) What was the law b mischief or defect for which the law had not provided, (2) What remedy ment was appointed and (3) the reason of the remedy Maxwell p 39 The same view is reiterated by Lindley M R in Hayfair Property Co, In re, (1890) 2 Ch 28 at p 35 in the following words "In order properly to interpret any Statute it is as necessary now as it was when Lord Coke reported (Heydon's case (1554) 3 Rep 7 (a)) to consider how the law stood when the Statute to be construed was passed what the mischief was for which the old law was and the remedy provided by Lord Sinha said "It is a statute as they stand and the previous state of the law be founded but when it is contended that the legislature intended by any particular amendment to make substantial changes in the pre-existing law it is impossible to arrive at a conclusion without considering what the law was previously to the particular enactment and to see whether the words used in the statute can be taken to effect the change that is suggested as intended" Alidu Pahm v Syed Ibrahim 5 I A 96-75 Cal 519=32 C W N 482=26 A L J 461=30 Bom L R 714=51 M L J 609 (P C) see also Per Lord Sinha in Mt Poman v Mt Halanah, A I R 1923 P C 2 Han Ray v Krishna Lal A I R 1928 Lah 361, Gulab v Iala Sir, Prasad, 29 C 517=5 C W N 610 Where intention is not clear pre-existing law can be referred to So reference to previous state of law is permissible for solving doubts in construing Rogers Pratt v Secretary of State, 52 (1=5) Ind Cas 273

It is an elementary rule that construction is to be made of all the parts together and not of one part only by itself Co Litt 741 (a) Lincoln College case, 3 Rep 59 (b) Durband v Board of Trade, 55 L J Q B 417, Warrall best harmonises with the Warrall p 31 An Act of in the English language as upon very strong ground, derived from the construed Hensley Local It v Q B D 1=29 L J Q B 165 Or construed, so as to give some meaning to every part of it Harmon v Hm Churan, 22 C 833 (S W), Suamiatha v Iutha 15 M L J 116 (T B)=28 M 166 It is a well known rule of construction that each part of a Statute must expound every other part Lah v Emperor, 5 P L J 73=1 Pat L F 117= (1920) Pat 125=51 Ind Cas 891=21 Cr L J 190 The Court must in each

Inter Wear C

It is a or for occu

v T

L. W.

Pam (in)

7 (T B).

context

s defined

Commissioners of Income Tax

B)=51 M L J 521=25 M

752 = A. I. R. 1925 Nig 219 The Severance Act, 1897 was not retrospective, and did not apply to Wills made before the passing of that Act. Richard Pies Slinner v Durga Prasad, 31 A 239 = 21 A W N 213 = 3 Ind Cas 66, Sarkar v Prosonomahce, 6 C 791. The leaning against giving certain Statutes a retrospective operation rests upon the presumption that the Legislature does not intend what is unjust. This rule is based on the maxim Novus constitutio futuris formam imponere debet et non praeteritis. (A new rule ought to be prospective, not retrospective in its operation). Retrospective laws are, as a rule, of questionable policy, and contrary to the general principle that legislation by which the conduct of mankind is to be regulated ought when introduced for the first time, to deal with future acts, and ought not to change character of past transactions carried on upon the faith of the then existing law. Per Willes, J in Phillips v Fyfe, 12 R 6 Q B 23. The case of Mason v Durden, 2 Ex Ch 22 is a leading case on the subject. That was a case in which the plaintiff claimed money on the basis of a wagering contract. During the pendency of the suit Stat 5 and 6 Vict C 169 was passed. That Statute made all wagering contracts null and void and all suits brought on such contracts not maintainable. The question raised was whether it operated to defeat the plaintiff's claim. The Court of Exchequer decided it did not. Parke B in delivering the judgment observed: 'The language of the clause, if taken in its ordinary sense, as in the first instance we ought to take it, actions both present and future, shall be void, shall be null and void to all'.

Coke says 'a rule in construction of Statutes is that they shall be construed to be prospective, and intended to regulate the future conduct of persons, is deeply founded in good sense and strict justice, and has been acted upon in many cases. But this rule, which is one of construction only, will certainly yield to the intention of the Legislature, and the question in this and in every similar case is, whether that intention has been sufficiently expressed'.

So it is abundantly clear that which takes away or impairs vested rights acquired under existing laws, or creates a new disability in respect of transactions or considerations already past, must be presumed, out of respect to the rights of the public, to be intended to operate prospectively.

Dish v Junesa Khelun v Purna Kedar Nath v Netram 23 Ind 31 C W N 1007, 1 R 1927 Cal 763, Delhi Cloth etc. Mills v Income Tax Commissioner, Delhi, 54 I A 421 = 8 Pat L J 791 = 25 A L J 964 = 50 M L J 819 = A I R 1927 P C 242.

the procedure in Gardner. So no suit can, if during Costa Rica also Wright v Stoom, 22 Ind 1927 Cal 763, Delhi Cloth etc. Mills v Income Tax Commissioner, Delhi, 54 I A 421 = 8 Pat L J 791 = 25 A L J 964 = 50 M L J 819 = A I R 1927 P C 242. The question is more to be given rise than as without doing expressed in be construed Q B 551 must unless d before or e procedure All 657, see also Netram v. Netram, 23 N L J 100 = 101 Ind Cas 284 = A. I. R. 1927

Nag 127. While provisions of a Statute dealing merely with matters of procedure may properly, unless that construction be textually inadmissible, have retrospective effect attributed to them, provisions which touch a right in existence at the passing of the Statute are not to be applied retrospectively in the absence of express enactment or necessary intendment. Delhi Cloth & Mill Co v 121-8 Pat L. T. 791-
 25 A L J 8 - " 1927 P. C. 212 In Rim Singha v. S/ B), a suit for arrears of rent for less Assistant Collector under the Agra Tenancy Act, when the old Tenancy Act, was in force. Before it could be decided, the new Act came into force, by which the right of appeal was taken away. The point of law that arises before the Full Bench, therefore is whether the coming into force of the new Tenancy Act, under which no appeal is provided, deprives the defendant of his right of appeal, which he would have had if the old Tenancy Act had continued to be operative. The Full Bench answered the question in the following terms: "It is clear to us that an appeal is a mere continuance of the original proceeding initiated by the filing of the plaint and that the right to continue that proceeding cannot be affected by a new Act unless it expressly says

Shyam Behari Lal, A. J. Ali Alian v Genda, 26 A. 375 be deemed to have been overruled by the pronouncement of their Lordships of the Privy Council in (1905) A C 369 and in A I R 1928 All 437 (F B). So it is not a mere matter of procedure from the commencement of gh v Rasulldar, A. I R alterations in the law of evidence are, therefore, retrospective in operation. Potas Ram v Meena Kumar, 1930 All 738-125 and Cas 762-28 A L J 793

Codifying Act. Construction of In Bank of England v. Vagliano, 100 L J

Q Lor
 a S Coc
 In
 is,
 its st th it see if the
 this view
 In a Statute, intended to embody in a Code a particular branch of the law, is to be treated in this fashion, it appears to me that its utility will be almost destroyed, and the very object with which it was enacted will be frustrated. The purpose of such a Statute surely was that on any point specifically dealt with by it, the law should be ascertained by interpreting the language used instead of, as before, by ransacking over a vast number of authorities in order to discover what the law was, extracting it by a minute critical examination of the prior only to which there would be reasonable exceptions. As the First Chancellor said: 'I am of course far from asserting that resort may never be had to the previous state of the law for the purpose of aiding in the construction of the provisions of the code. There are given some examples which I need not cite at length. But I have here to do, not with an Act of Parliament codifying the law, but with an Act to amend and to consolidate the law, and therefore it is I say the observations do not apply, and I think it is legitimate in the interpretation of the sections in this amending and consolidating Act to refer to the previous state of the law for the purpose of ascertaining the intention of the Legislature. When a clause in an Act which has received a judicial interpretation is re-enacted in the same terms the Legislature is deemed to have adopted that interpretation.' Cumtill I parte, In re 5 L. R. Ch 703 23 L. J. 281-18 W. R. 1046, Belmont and Dubé, In the 11 L. R. 1930 All 82-128 Ind. Cas. 357

Construction imposed by Statutes. The Legislature must be presumed to have known the interpretation put by Courts and others on the terms of a Statute, and when a provision of an earlier Statute is re-enacted in practically the same language in a latter Statute, it is legislative recognition of the correctness of the earlier interpretation. Parmesan v. Imperion, 5 Pat. L. J. 537-19 Cr. L. J. 251-14 Ind. Cir. 185-(1918) Pat. 97-1 Pat. L. W. 167 Agenda v. Pear, 21 C. L. J. 605-20 C. W. N. 312, Kent County Council v. Ripate (1891) 1 Q. B. 72-(10 L. J. Q. B. 433-65 L. L. 213-39 W. R. 115-55 J. P. 617, per Lord FitzGibbon in Young v. ... 26 per Times L. L. in Dale's Case, 6 Q. B. 143-144-145-146-147-148-149-150-151-152-153-154-155-156-157-158-159-160-161-162-163-164-165-166-167-168-169-170-171-172-173-174-175-176-177-178-179-180-181-182-183-184-185-186-187-188-189-190-191-192-193-194-195-196-197-198-199-200-201-202-203-204-205-206-207-208-209-210-211-212-213-214-215-216-217-218-219-220-221-222-223-224-225-226-227-228-229-230-231-232-233-234-235-236-237-238-239-240-241-242-243-244-245-246-247-248-249-250-251-252-253-254-255-256-257-258-259-260-261-262-263-264-265-266-267-268-269-270-271-272-273-274-275-276-277-278-279-280-281-282-283-284-285-286-287-288-289-290-291-292-293-294-295-296-297-298-299-300-301-302-303-304-305-306-307-308-309-310-311-312-313-314-315-316-317-318-319-320-321-322-323-324-325-326-327-328-329-330-331-332-333-334-335-336-337-338-339-340-341-342-343-344-345-346-347-348-349-350-351-352-353-354-355-356-357-358-359-360-361-362-363-364-365-366-367-368-369-370-371-372-373-374-375-376-377-378-379-380-381-382-383-384-385-386-387-388-389-390-391-392-393-394-395-396-397-398-399-400-401-402-403-404-405-406-407-408-409-410-411-412-413-414-415-416-417-418-419-420-421-422-423-424-425-426-427-428-429-430-431-432-433-434-435-436-437-438-439-440-441-442-443-444-445-446-447-448-449-450-451-452-453-454-455-456-457-458-459-460-461-462-463-464-465-466-467-468-469-470-471-472-473-474-475-476-477-478-479-480-481-482-483-484-485-486-487-488-489-490-491-492-493-494-495-496-497-498-499-500-501-502-503-504-505-506-507-508-509-510-511-512-513-514-515-516-517-518-519-520-521-522-523-524-525-526-527-528-529-530-531-532-533-534-535-536-537-538-539-540-541-542-543-544-545-546-547-548-549-550-551-552-553-554-555-556-557-558-559-560-561-562-563-564-565-566-567-568-569-570-571-572-573-574-575-576-577-578-579-580-581-582-583-584-585-586-587-588-589-590-591-592-593-594-595-596-597-598-599-600-601-602-603-604-605-606-607-608-609-610-611-612-613-614-615-616-617-618-619-620-621-622-623-624-625-626-627-628-629-630-631-632-633-634-635-636-637-638-639-640-641-642-643-644-645-646-647-648-649-650-651-652-653-654-655-656-657-658-659-660-661-662-663-664-665-666-667-668-669-670-671-672-673-674-675-676-677-678-679-680-681-682-683-684-685-686-687-688-689-690-691-692-693-694-695-696-697-698-699-700-701-702-703-704-705-706-707-708-709-710-711-712-713-714-715-716-717-718-719-720-721-722-723-724-725-726-727-728-729-730-731-732-733-734-735-736-737-738-739-740-741-742-743-744-745-746-747-748-749-750-751-752-753-754-755-756-757-758-759-760-761-762-763-764-765-766-767-768-769-770-771-772-773-774-775-776-777-778-779-780-781-782-783-784-785-786-787-788-789-790-791-792-793-794-795-796-797-798-799-800-801-802-803-804-805-806-807-808-809-810-811-812-813-814-815-816-817-818-819-820-821-822-823-824-825-826-827-828-829-830-831-832-833-834-835-836-837-838-839-840-841-842-843-844-845-846-847-848-849-850-851-852-853-854-855-856-857-858-859-860-861-862-863-864-865-866-867-868-869-870-871-872-873-874-875-876-877-878-879-880-881-882-883-884-885-886-887-888-889-890-891-892-893-894-895-896-897-898-899-900-901-902-903-904-905-906-907-908-909-910-911-912-913-914-915-916-917-918-919-920-921-922-923-924-925-926-927-928-929-930-931-932-933-934-935-936-937-938-939-940-941-942-943-944-945-946-947-948-949-950-951-952-953-954-955-956-957-958-959-960-961-962-963-964-965-966-967-968-969-970-971-972-973-974-975-976-977-978-979-980-981-982-983-984-985-986-987-988-989-990-991-992-993-994-995-996-997-998-999-1000-1001-1002-1003-1004-1005-1006-1007-1008-1009-1010-1011-1012-1013-1014-1015-1016-1017-1018-1019-1020-1021-1022-1023-1024-1025-1026-1027-1028-1029-1030-1031-1032-1033-1034-1035-1036-1037-1038-1039-1040-1041-1042-1043-1044-1045-1046-1047-1048-1049-1050-1051-1052-1053-1054-1055-1056-1057-1058-1059-1060-1061-1062-1063-1064-1065-1066-1067-1068-1069-1070-1071-1072-107 placed upon the provisions of the Code has been reproduced by the Legislature in successive Codes without alteration, the inference is that this constitutes a legislative affirmation of the construction adopted by the Courts.' Palani Narai 33 C L J 201=25 C W N 514=62 Ind Cis 318. In Kahmudun Mollah v Sahibulun Mollah 21 C W N 1 (F B) at p 11 Mulherjee J observed: 'It is a well settled principle of construction that the Legislature is presumed to know not only the general principle of law but also the construction which the Courts have put upon particular Statutes and therefore when a section of an Act which has received a judicial construction is re-enacted in the same words, such construction is to be followed.' Deben 14 C L J 316.]

The Legislature knows what the law is and has the power to alter the phraseology, if it inspires that its true contention has not been given effect to in judicial decisions the absence of such action on the part of the Legislature during a period of time may well be taken to indicate that the Courts have rightly ascertained its intention especially if in the interval, the Statute has been on its words, and the Legislature in a subsequent Act in just maintenance of the ing

and Ch
Isk
Ch 118, Hanson v R 1 L J D 1 C 4 Jun 5 1805 1 D 5 1 27, 1 1
Ch 180 Exp Thorne 5 Ch D 457, Attals Exp, 5 Ch D 27, 1 1
Campbell L R 5 Ch 706, Luton v Seal 15 Q B D 405 Henry v Wood
(1891) 3 Ch 118, Colonial Bank v Whinney 30 Ch D 285

Legislative Proceedings An enquiry into the visitations which a measure ture is Haji I
in the Legislative Council cannot be referred to Sarat Chandra Chatterjee 31 C 628-5 C W N 575 It is a mistake to refer to the debates on the Bill

Emperor v. Lulman, 27 Cr. L. J. 1235-98, Ind. Cas. 1924 V. I. R. 1927, Sind. L. R. 1928 Bom. 11. The question whether a municipal not can be referred to for an exposition of the meaning of a section depends upon whether the not has been inserted by or under the authority of the Legislature. Im Sarin v. Thajeri, A. I. R. 1929 All. 534, 541 A. 111 (1 B).

Punctuation. In English for 1819 follows engros. I on purcha nt without punctuations and is such th y form l no part of th Act. Since 1819 punctuations app are th r ll of Parliam nt nevertheless it has been said they are not to be taken as parts of th Statut. The City of London v C P 21 16 v 6 L R 11 Ch D 10 Sutt n v Sutt n 22 Ch D 513 Dale of Deauville v Gaur 21 Q B D 178. It is an error to rely on punctuation in construing Acts of th Legislature. The Mayor of Burton v Kesteven Hamlet 11 C 111 10 (P C) Mumfry v Trustees for th Improvement of Collyer 1 C 13 22 C W N 1-11 Ind C 770 But Thimble Sisters v Thimble 17 Bom L R 39 B 187 27 Ind C 191. Commas are no part of th Statut. Levy v Thibault 56 I A 93 3 C W N 323-7 1-31 Bom L R 702 (P C).

Proviso Argument from a proviso which seeks to extend the operative effect of the substantive enactment are not legitimate unless there is real ambiguity in the substantive Act. Held Daly v. City of New York, 1927 A.C. 617. Rumelant v. Trustees of the National Association of Manufacturers, 1927 A.C. 617. Rumelant v. Trustees of the National Association of Manufacturers, 1927 A.C. 617. Rumelant v. Trustees of the National Association of Manufacturers, 1927 A.C. 617.

Schedule A schedule is a much part of the Statute and is as much in enactment as any other part. Per Brett J in Att Gen v Lamplough (1878) 14 D 220. Forms in schedules are inserted merely as examples and are only to be followed implicitly so far as the circumstances of each case may admit. Per Lindall J in Burkitt v Ellis (1843) 5 M & G 96. But where there is a contradiction between the schedule and the enacting portion, it would be quite contrary to the recognized principles upon which the Courts of law construe Acts to enlarge the conditions of enactment and thereby restrain its operation by any reference to the words of a mere form given for convenience sake in a schedule. Per Lord Penance in Danby v Green (1882) 8 P D 89. Allen v Fisher 10 A & F 640, Ex parte Sell 18 I J M C 106, Interpretation of Deeds, Bills etc p 206 and also Ex parte Sims 12 A & E 227. Schedules annexed to an Act in the headings under which they are placed are parts of the enactment, but they are not to be taken into consideration if the language of the enactment is clear. 30 C W N 331.

Illustrations of The Law Commissioners' say — 'The illustrations are not more a sample of what it is than the whole of the law without them,' are correct if and too it is merely importing that in view

I know what the law is which they mean to make

The power of construing the law in cases in which there is any real reason to doubt what the law is, amounts to the power of making the law. On this ground the Roman Jurists maintained that the office of interpreting the law in doubtful matters necessarily belonged to the Legislature. The contrary opinion was censured by them with great force of reason, though in language perhaps too bitter and sarcastic for the gravity of a Cole.

"The decisions on particular cases which we have annexed to the provisions of the Code resemble the Imperial Rescripts in this, that they proceed from the same authority from which the provisions themselves proceed. They differ from the Imperial Rescripts in this most important circumstance, and that they are not ex post facto, that they cannot therefore be made to serve any particular turn, that the persons condemned or absolved by them are purely imaginary persons, and that, therefore, whatever may be thought of the wisdom of any judgment which we have passed, there can be no doubt of its impartiality." Report of the Indian Law Commissioners dated the 11th October 1837. In Mohomed Syed Ali Agha v. Yeoh On Gai, (1916) A C. 775=111 A 276=21 C W N 217 (P C) at page 261, Lord Shaw in delivering the judgment of the Court observed: "On the second point, their Lordships are of opinion that in the construction of the Pvidence Act it is the duty of a Court of law to accept—if that can be done—the illustrations given as being both of relevance and value in the construction of the text. The illustrations should in no case be rejected because they do not square with id as possibly derived from another system of jurisprudence as to the law with which they on the sections deal. And it would require a very special case to warrant their rejection on the ground of their assumed repugnancy to the sections themselves. The great usefulness of the illustrations, which have, although no part of the sections, been expressly furnished by the Legislature as helpful in the working and application of the Statute, should not be thus impaired. In Lala Bala Mall v. Abad Sha 35 M L J 614=16 A I J 905=29 C L J 163=23 C W N 231 (P C) at p 237, Lord Atkinson observed, "Our illustrations as part of the Statute. The illustrations authority is the Legislature." Charleson Satish Chandra Chakravarty v. Rundayal De, 32 C L J 91=21 C W N 982 (1906 987) Mr Justice Matherjee observed: "We are not unmindful that an illustration is useful so far as it helps to furnish some indication of the presumed intention of

on the section.

Somaiy, 7 C 112

v. Ganeshu, 1 A

Queen Empress v. Palnaji, 1 B 491 (196), Nanak v. Muktal 1 A 487 (197), Satiya v. Gobinda, 14 C W N 114, Raj v. Lohmat 1 B 147 Chotay Lal v.

Emperor, 85 Ind Cns 722=1925 All 220, Omul v. Adhi, 22 W R 307 Sunjo

v. Bessambhar, 23 W R 311, Gomuda v. Hanayamal, 28 M 57 (61), Balaram v.

Mangla, 14 C 950 Hyee Kmal v. Wilson a Co 23 M L R 320=4 Ind Cns 942 K H Janoo v. Joseph Heap & Sons Ltd 46 Ind Cns 197 Balmalund v.

Sohani, A I R 1929 Pat 164. But see Pria Krishna Samsu v. Aiyappa 21 Ind

Cns 924. If the meaning of the enactment itself were doubtful a reference to the illustration in order to clear the meaning would be justifiable. But, if there be any conflict between the illustrations and the main enactment, the illustration must give way to the latter. Sydnunissa v. Hadayat Hussain 22 A I J

125=80 Ind Cns 896=1924 All 743. It is the duty of the Court to accept, if that can be done illustrations given under the section as being of value in the construction of the text, it would require a special case to warrant their rejection on the ground of repugnancy with the section. Durga P. v. Durga Lal

Roy, 57 C 151=A I R 1928 Cal 201=109 Ind Cns 752

Illustrations and Marginal notes which is to be preferred. Illustrations do not stand on the same footing as marginal notes. Marginal notes may not now in that ment Rundal

Lahay Kumar

d. Macanthen

"It is well

settled that marginal notes to the sections of an Act of Parliament cannot be referred to for the purpose of construing the Act. The contrary opinion was originated in a mistake, and it has been exploded long ago. There seems to be no reason for giving the marginal notes in an Indian Statute any greater authority than the marginal notes in an English Act of Parliament. On the other hand illustrations are not and part of enactment and it is only when the Court is left upon to interpret a piece of an enactment which comprises both the substantive provision and an illustration of the same the Court is not justified in rejecting the illustration as a guide to the interpretation of the substantive provision. Idam Lal v Emperor supra, see also the observation of Lord Shaw in Mithal v Jell Ariffin v Yoh On Gai, 1916 (A C) 575-43 I A 261 P C.

May—May mean shall. The word may in certain circumstances means shall. There may be something in the nature of the thing to be done in the thing at for which it is done or in other circumstances which may convey the option in a duty. Benpal v H. J. J. v Special Manager, Court of Wards, 1911 (L J) 42-9 Ind C A 14-1 I R 19. Outth, 119, see also Government v Munnayal v Jell Ariffin v Yoh On Gai, 1916 (A C) 575-43 I A 261 P C.

Or—And. In construing statutes it is sometimes necessary to read the conjunctions or and and one for the other. Varayan v Chairman of Murch Muneyal, 87 Ind C A 29-1 I R 192, (A C) 1067.

New words to be read in a Statute. Words not to be found in a section may be supplied by necessary implication if the context so requires. Q. Ind C A 180-1 I R 160-1 I R 197 All 610 (A B). But Judges are not entitled to read words into an Act of Legislature unless clear reason for it is to be found within the four corners of the Act itself. Abhayant v Rameshwar Pat 314-A I R 1930 Pat 95, Ishtera v Franc 79 L J K B 951 Irrell v Bell, 2 M A C 219 Ishtera v Kalya Nath, 11 C W N 621-A I R 1930 Cal 767.

Every word should receive proper connotation. In a statutory enactment every word used must receive its full and proper connotation in the construction of the provision. Patil v Julla A I R 1927 Mat 949. In the interpretation of every section of a Statute a reasonable construction must be given to every word contained therein. Imperial v Sheri A I R 1923 All 207 (F B)-26 A L J 321-9 L R A C 51-9 L J 111 (F B). When two distinct words are used in the same section the ordinary rule of construction is that they do not mean identically the same thing. Imperial v Phuchan, A I R 1929 All 33 (F B).

Equity and good Conscience. Where there is a direction in an Act or Regulation that cases should be directed by equity and good conscience such a direction should generally be interpreted to mean that the rules of English law if found applicable to Indian society and circumstances are to be applied. Per Lord Tomlin in Mehrban Khan v Makhna, 57 I A 163-32 Bom L R 883-31 C W N 529-A I R 1930 P C 142.

Statutes ousting jurisdiction—Construction of. It is an elementary rule that a Statute which purports to oust the jurisdiction of a Civil Court must be very strictly construed. Shaiba Prasad v Gollammanju, (1919) Pat 147-50 Ind Cas 451, see also Ganesh Das v Harid 90 Ind Cas 279. An Act by which the jurisdiction of the ordinary Court is taken away must be strictly construed. Cheta v Baya 100 Ind Cas 507-A I R 1927 Lah 452 (F B), Shevachiam v Ghulam, 103 Ind Cas 410, Budeo v Lal A I R Pat 1928, 615. Jurisdiction vested in a superior Court is not ousted except by express language or by obvious inference from the provisions of a Statute. Mahamed Abdul v Emperor Bannath, 59 Ind Cas 960-3 U B R 212, Kama v Bhayanlal, 45 Ind Cas 654, R v Abbot, (1780) Dowd 553.

Repeal by implication. Repeal by implication is not favoured. It is a reasonable presumption that the Legislature did not intend to keep really contradictory enactments on the Statute Book, or on the other hand, to effect so do so. Such an interpretation is not to be adopted, unless it is inevitable. Any reasonable construction which affords an escape from it is more likely to be in consonance with the real intention. Maxwell p 296 cited in Gola v Emperor 63 (a). The Legislature does not intend to make any substantial alteration in the law beyond what explicitly declares, (Arthur v. Bokenham, 11 Mod 150; Harbert's Case, 3 Rep 13 b.) either in express terms or by clear implication, or in other words, beyond the immediate scope and object of the Statute. In all general matters beyond, the law remains undisturbed. It is in the last degree improbable that the Legislature would overthrow fundamental principles, infringe rights, or depart from general system of law, without expressing its intention with irresistible clearness; and to give any such effect to general words, simply because they have that meaning when used either in their widest, their usual, or their natural sense, that which was actually intended, ever wide and comprehensive they . . . and as not altering the law beyond as Commissioners v Adamson, 1 Q 80 L J K. B 636 "Maxwell p. . . s not abrogate a special one by mere implication. It is remarked by Lord Selborne in the case of Marcy Seward v The Vera Cruz, (1894) 10 App Cas 59 "Where general words in a later Act are capable of extending them to subjects special not to hold that earlier and special derogated from merely by force particular intention to do so"

Application of the maxim—Expressio unius est exclusio alterius—A general rule of the construction of Acts of Parliament is expressio unius est exclusio alterius (The express mention of one thing implies the exclusion of another) Per Sir Barnes Peacock in Blackburn v Manchester, (1881) 6 App Cas 628 at p 634 In Drumwater v Arthur, (1879) 10 Sup Ct N S W. 103, Hargrave, J observed "If there be any one rule of law clearer than another as to the construction of all Statutes and all written instruments (as, for example, sales under powers in deeds and wills) it is this that where the Legislature or the parties to any instruments have expressly authorised one or more particular modes of sale or other dealing with property, such expressions always exclude any or, as it is otherwise 183 b), enunciates written instruments covenant as to be Case, 4 Rep 80, Me R 59, Mathew v Bl an express covenant by the tenant to repair, authority is given expressly, though by affirmative words, upon a defined condition, the expression of that condition excludes the doing of the act authorised, under other circumstances than those defined Expressio unius est exclusio alterius,"

"Provisions sometimes found in Statutes enacting imperfectly or for particular cases only that which was already and more widely the law, have occuhere in mind that the method of construction summarised in the maxim cannot be applied without limitation for a failure to make an expressio complete, may easily arise from the accidents of legislative procedure and it is common to find provisions put into Statutes ex abundanti cautela and at the instance of the parties interested. Consequently provisions sometimes found in Statutes enacting imperfectly or for particular cases only that which was already and more wisely the law have occasionally furnished ground for a specious argument, based on the maxim that an intention to alter the general law was to be inferred from the partial or limited enactment. But the maxim is plainly inapplicable in such cases. The only inference which a Court can draw from such superfluous provisions (which often find a place in Act to meet unfounded objections and idle doubts) is that the Legislature was either ignorant or unmindful of the real state of the law or that it acted under the influence of excessive caution.

This point of view is lucidly explained in the following passages from the judgment of J. J. L. J. in Leve & Hartley (1906) 2 K. B. 772-773 L. J. K. B. 1049. Acts of Parliament are not in my experience, expressed with such accuracy and precision as to justify the Court in striking out unambiguous words in order to make a sentence grammatical or logical. The generality of the maxim expressio facit exclusio which was relied on renders caution necessary in its application. It is not enough that the express and tacit are merely incongruous it must be clear that they cannot co-exist.

In Colquhoun & Brooks, 19 Q. B. D. 196, Hall J. says: "I may observe that the method of construction summarised in the maxim 'expressio unius exclusio alterius' is one that certainly requires to be watched. Perhaps a few so-called rules of interpretation have been more frequently misapplied and stretch ed beyond their due limits. The failure to make the 'expressio' complete very often arises from accident, very often from the fact that it never struck the draftsman that the thing supposed to be excluded needed specific mention of any kind and the application of this and every other technical rule of construction varies so much under differing circumstances and is open to so many exceptions and what is meant."

In the same case (reported in 21 Q. B. D. 52) in the Court of Appeal Lopes J. observed: "the maxim expressio unius exclusio alterius has been pressed upon us, I agree with what is said in the Court below by Hall J. about this maxim. It is often a valuable servant but a dangerous master to follow in the construction of Statute and documents. The exclusio is often the result of inadvertence or accident and the maxim ought not to be applied, when its application having regard to the subject matter to which it is to be applied leads to inconsistency or injustice. See Colquhoun & Brooks 21 Q. B. D. 661 and on appeal to the Privy Council in (1893) 14 A. C. 493."

The warning given by Lord Halsbury in following the maxim is expressed in the following words: "It might be that modern Statutes were drawn up with greater particularity and minuteness. The misfortune in the framing of those Statutes was that any body of persons seeing a possibility of liability on their part, apply to Parliament to have special provisions inserted in their protection. That application was occasionally complied with and then the argument arose which their Lordships had heard that day namely that any body who is not taken to be excluded by the operation of the Statute from protection just because they were not excluded and others were. The doctrine applicable to such cases was that a great many things were put into a Statute ex abundanti cautela and it was not to be assumed that any body not specifically included was, for that reason alone, excluded from the protection of the Statute." Mac Laughlin & Westgarth, 75 L. J. P. C. 117-94 L. T. 831-22 T. L. R. 594.

Penal Statutes, Construction of. A Penal Statute when its language is ambiguous should be construed in the manner most favourable to the liberties of the subject, and this is more specially so, when the enactment is of an exceptional character. Reg v. Bristaban Madanna 1 B. 308 (F. B.). It should be construed very strictly. In re Ganesh Narayan 13 B. 600, Q. v. Dorottam, 13 B. 681. A penal Statute must be construed very strictly, that is nothing is to be regarded as within the meaning of the Statute which is not within the letter—which is not clearly and is not to be taken as the rule of construction. Empress v. Kola Lal Queen Empress, 28 C 50; Empress, 5 C W N. 10; 1888, 25; Lalhm Chan v.

Petiga v. R., 51 M 75; 368 In a penal Statute, if prehensive to include with Qu
 (18
 En En

of
 shc
 1926 Sind 213 (P B) The per-on charged has a right to say that the thing charged, although within the words is not within the spirit of the enactment Ram Chunder v. Gour Nath, 53 C 492=97 Ind Cas 376 In the case of penal Statutes and fiscal c ought to be adopted
 Ind Cas 593=A Singh, 102 Ind Cas
 v Bhai Kishan, 28 P it is clear that cri
 accused Said Ahm

No violence care must in its strict reasonable the benefit of the doubt must be given to the subject and against the Legislature which has failed to explain itself properly and clearly, Ismail v. Emperor, 26 Cr L J

 1387=89 Ind Cas 523

The rule is slightly different in England "The rule which requires that penal and some other Statute shall be construed strictly was more rigorously applied in former time, when the number of capital offences was very large" Maxwell p 462 "I cannot concur" says Day J in Neuby v. Sims, 68 L J impose penalties therefore ink that neither greater nor Statutes"

action of a penal Statute depended in great measure on the severity of the Statute When it merely imposed a pecuniary penalty, it was construed less strictly than where the rule was invoked in furorem vite" Maxwell p 466

Disqualifying provisions in an Act dealing with Municipal election are penal provisions and therefore ought not to be extended beyond their legitimate limit Satyendra v. Chairman, 53 C 180=53 C L J 236=31 C W N 972

Ejusdem Generis, Principle of "When two words or expressions are coupled to the more g
 p 571
 ing alone, understood
Cook, 2 E does not Dechurst in this ser unius est construing from the affected I is obvious that one Maxwell example, stand they would be ith them R. v.

 he word 'land'
 rd 'buildings,' C 240 It is

c. generis rule of interpretation would not arise. Hallinglal Moosa v Secretary of State for India, 43 M 65=37 M L J 332=53 Ind Cis 345.

"I accede to the principle." Per Lord Campbell in R v Edmundson, 23 L J M C 213, "laid down in all the cases which have been cited, that where there are general words following particular and specific words, the general words must be confined to things of the same kind as those specified." See also Halt v Kesko 51 Ind Cis 15.

Stare decisis, scope of the doctrine. The maxim of stare decisis (to stand by matter decided) is closely allied with another maxim, viz. Communis error facit jus (common error some times passes as law). The law so favours the public good, that it will in some cases permit a common error to pass for right. Reg v Sussex, 2 B & S 650 Jones v Sapping, 12 C B N. S. 846, s. c. 11 H L Cas 290 Elitham v Sykes, 1 Ld Ryam 42 Broom's Legal Maxims p 112. So communis error facit jus is a sound maxim. Jagdish v. Shro, 23 I A 100 109=5 C W N 602=23 A 367, see also Bhagwan Singh v Bhagwan Singh, 26 I A 153 (166)=21 A 412=3 C W N 154=1 Bom L R 311, Kedar v Hari, 43 C 1 (10). Though 15 Rich II enacted that the Admiralty should have no jurisdiction over contracts made in the bodies of counties, nevertheless seamen engaging in England have always been admitted to sue for wages in that Court (Smith v Tilly 1 Keb 712), where the remedy is easier and better than in the Common Law Courts, on the ground it has been said (Per Lord Holt in Clay v Sudgate, 1 Salk 33) that communis error facit jus, or rather as was observed by Lord Kenyon (in R v Foxe, 4 T R 591) not communis error, but uniform and unbroken usage, facit jus. Maxwell p 535. Where the language is obscure instead of being clear, we should not be justified in differing from the construction put upon it by contemporaneous and long continued usage. There would be no safety for property or liberty if it could be successfully contended that all lawyers and statesmen have been mistaken as to the true meaning of an old Act of Parliament. Per Lord Campbell in Garham v Exeter 15 Q B 73, see also Herbert v Purchase L R 3 P C 650, Korgan v Craushay, L R 6 H L 304 320.

The maxim of communis error facit jus although well known must be applied with very great caution. It has been sometimes said, observed Lord Ellenborough in Isherwood v Olden 3 M & S 396 397, 'communis error facit jus', but I say communis opinio is evidence of what the law is—not where persons, but where it has been made the ground work and substratum of practice.

The judicial rule—Stare decisis does however admit of exceptions where the former determination is most evidently contrary to reason. Broom's Legal Maxims p 121. In Chandra Benode v Sheikh Ula Bux, 24 C W N 818 at p 851 Mr Justice Mukerjee observed, 'We are sensible of maintaining, wherever manifestly not of universal application. In Young v Robertson, 4 Mac H L C 314, Lord Cranworth observed, 'There is another duty incumbent upon a Court of ultimate appeal which has been invariably observed, namely, that as regards those rules which regulate the settlement and devolution of property, those Courts which have to interpret the instruments and acts of parties must take care to be very guarded against letting any supposed notions as to the invalidity of any rule which has in fact been acted upon induce him to alter it so as to endanger the security of property and titles.'

In Mercy Docks v Cameron, 11 H L C 443 at p 510, Lord Chelmsford observed, 'The Courts rightly abstain from overruling cases which have been long established because if they did so, they would only disturb, without finally settling, the law. But when an appeal from any of the judgments is made to this House, however they may be warranted by previous authorities, the very object of the appeal being to bring those authorities under review for final determination, the House cannot, upon principle of stare decisis refuse to examine the foundation upon which they rest. Equally explicit is the pronouncement of Lord Loreburn in Wesham Union v Edmonton Union (1908) A C 1 (4) where he observed, 'Great importance is to be attached to the old authorities, on the strength of which many transactions may have been adjusted and rights determined. But where they are plainly wrong, and specially where the subsequent

cc 'hey Pres
w iem
I to do so by itself affirming them".

In a matter of fiscal enactment where the question is in doubt the rule of stare decisis should apply Moti Singh v Harbajan Singh, 103 Ind Cas. 657 = A I R 1127 Lah 635

Mandatory provision There is no universal rule that disobedience of a mar pro pro
circ

Means and includes Legislature, as a rule, use
Queen Empress v Narpal, A

Proviso The office of a proviso is either to except something from the enacting clause, or to qualify or restrain its generality or to exclude some possible ground of misinterpretation of its extent Reg v Vankatsuami, 2 B H C 106 In case of repugnancy between a proviso and an enacting part, the former repeals the latter A G v Chelsea, Fit 29, 165

Saving clause A saving clause cannot properly be looked at for the purpose of extending an enactment, nor can it give a new or different effect to the previous sections of an enactment Queen Empress v Sitaram 11 B 657 Where the enactment and the saving clause, (which reserves something which would be the saving been in harmony. Rep 35 ground i The late should r bodied i Rules of Interpretation of Evidence Act In considering the rules of matter Gujju Lall v Fateh daree, 14 W R 319 (320) wing statement of Mr Justice Jackson in Gujju Lall v Fateh Lall, 6 C 171 (F B) at pp 183-184 should be borne in mind "In order to arrive at a conclusion on this point (i.e. on a question of Indian Evidence the direction of the Act, as marked by careful and methodical arrangement, and that many of the more important expressions used in it are plainly interpreted It would be wholly inconsistent

but
the lly vas

Judges who have expressed a contrary opinion, that if it had been really the intention of the Legislature to depart entirely from English rule they Ashutosh wou Cha ing will and then inquiring what changes the Evidence Act has made in regard, as I think we are bound to do, the Act itself as containing the scheme of the difficulty
Evidence.
ve regard,

law, the principles, and the application of these principles to the cases of most frequent occurrence. It may be that as observed by Jfr Norton in his Preface (Law of Evidence 8th Edition), the framers of the Act overestimated what had been done, when he claimed to have reproduced within the compass of his 167 sections the whole of Taylor's Work that was applicable to India, and there can be no doubt that cases must arise for which no positive solution can be found in the Act itself and in such cases we shall probably be justified and shall always be wise in adopting English rules in so far as they follow or are in accord with the general tenor of the Act. But in respect of matters expressly provided for in the Act we must not start from the Act, and not deal with it as mere modifications of the law prevailing in England. See also P v Gopal Das 3 M 271, 279, 280. In Induchis v Bahu 10 B 139 (112) Sargent C J said: "It is true that although the code is in the main, drawn on the lines of the English Law of Evidence there is no reason to suppose that it was intended to be a verbatim copy of it." See also Is that is Dhat v Fishambir Pandit 8 B 313 321.

In Junagar Mithal v Jyoti (1917) M W N 229=17 M L T 215=25 M L J 379=16 Cr L J 91 25 Ind Cas 518=39 M. 419 Seshagiri Aiyar J observed: "The question remains whether the provisions of the Act are exhaustive of the rules of evidence and whether we can invoke the aid of the principles of jurisprudence of English Law as supplementing and explaining the rules of evidence given in the Act. The high authority of Elgar C J in the Collector of Ferozpur v Datt Dhru Singh, 12 A 1 (F. B) can be cited for the proposition that English decisions relating to evidence can be relied upon in India. I cannot agree with the learned Public Prosecutor that we are not entitled to refer to English decisions as the Act is self contained. Such a practice has the authority of a prominent Judge in India and I am not prepared to depart from it." See also Winter Sher v V. Dhurumsey S W Co, 4 B 776 (81). In the petition of Jani Lal M 18 1 v Peary Lal, 4 C L R 705 Framji v Mohan Singh 15 B 73 K v Lallu 1, 1 B 392, R v Ram Dutt 2, 3 B 17 L v Bhatt 7 A 100 Sunder v Ditta Ghella, 17 B 129 (141).

In Queen Empress v Euphras 16 B 111 at 143 Telani J observed: "According to the principle therein stated by C J, C J in Hamabi v Pamanji 7 Bom H C Rep (A C J) p 11 we are justified in looking to English decisions to elucidate the meaning of the Evidence Act, and evidence which the Judges in England have admitted and jurists have acted upon must be held to be clearly within the terms of sections 11 11 15. In Framji v Mohan Dutt, B L R Sup vol F B 159 English, American and Scotch laws were referred to.

"There is a school of legal thought in India which holds that in construing Acts of the Indian Legislature the natural meaning of the sections should be given effect to regardless of previous decisions, and especially of decisions other than those of Indian Courts. The Indian Evidence Act in general and s. 27 in particular are examples which in my opinion in bear the falsity of this point of view." Per Lord Williams in Superintendent v Bhayo, 57 C 1062=31 C W N 106.

English Cases. English cases on construction of English Statutes are of great assistance, sometimes in construing Acts of the Indian Legislature but of course, it is always necessary to see that the Indian Statute and the English Statute resemble one another in their purposes, and not only in a portion of a section which, for convenience of drafting, has been adopted by the draftsmen of the Indian Act. Persad Singh v Ram Pratab Roy, 23 C 77 (81, 85). Where an Indian Act was passed for the purpose of extending to India the provisions of the English Act, English decisions may be referred to as a guide to the Act. Ganesh v Harihar 26 A 299 P C=31 I A 116=8 C W N 521=14 M L J 190=6 Bom L R 505, Seth Loom Fasmal v Seth Haridas, 4 S L R 26=7 Ind. Cas 595, Mitchand Sunga Chand, 1 B 23, but see Mahomed v Ali Haidar, 12 O L J 1. "In construing a section of an Indian Act which is professedly based on English enactment, which in fact reproduces word by word the language of the English enactment, we are in practice if not in theory, bound by the decisions of the English Court." Per Mookerjee J in Ramendra v Brojendra, 21 C W N 791=41 Ind Cas 944. "When we are construing an Act which in many instances is taken, word for word, from an English Act, and when we are dealing with a branch of law which is essentially bound by it, yet we ought certainly of the English Court of appeal.

India Ltd v The Official Assignee of India, help authoritative as the Indian Law is may be derived from the decisions of the Superior similar or the same their authority is conclusive 12 Q B D 724, see also

Loveluck and Leves v Malabar Timber Yards and San Mills, 13 M L T 282 Unless the English Statute, and the Act of the Indian Legislature are in pari materia references, to English decisions, instead of affording any help will tend to confuse the consideration, of the matter in issue Tara v The Secretary of State, 30 C 36-7 C W N 249 In construing a section of the Indian Act, cases bearing upon the construction of the similar provisions of an English Act, different in its language, can be of little or no assistance, Collector of Dinapore v Ganga Nath, 25 C 356 A Judge should not interpret Statutory law, when it provides for a specific procedure, by reference to a decision pronounced under a different system of procedure Rudha v Lalhm,

31 C L J 233-24 C W N 151-56 Ind C 541 But where the point to be decided arises up

ary Per Lord Shau The Delhi W N 159-22 A R 1024 P C

40 So also rules relating to procedure under an Indian Act should not be interpreted, relating to another Statute in England

even when Projal v Shauju Lakhm, 24 C W

N 431 law but in its application the Courts acquainted with Indian Courts which deal with people with habits and intellectual development Syed Mohammad v Syed Ali Hyder,

O W N 803 'It is a sound rule of interpretation' Lord Sinha, 'to take the words of the Statute with law

Sec Lah 304, Silhan v Emp 197=10 Lah 283

American Cases, Value of In Scaramanga v Stamp 5 C P D 295, at

p. 303, Cockburn C J observed 'Although the decisions of the American

Courts are of course not binding on us, yet the sound and enlightened views of American lawyers in the administration and development of law—a law confidence in our authorities made on as I do upon principle, I am much strengthened by the American authorities to which my attention has been called' The following observations of Sir John Woodoffe,

J in the preface to the Ninth Edition of his Evidence Act should be taken into consideration, while interpreting the same 'Amongst the textbooks laid under contribution we wish particularly to indicate the work of Professor J H Wigmore, a valuable and exhaustive book, written in an original and modern spirit a nonsensical reasons' for the obtain and and the de England (Scaramanga v Stamp, L R 5 C P D 295, 303) and Sir Lawrence Peel observed in India (Braddon v Abbot, Taylor and Bills Reports, 342, 359, 360, Malcolm v. Smith, supra, 253-258), of great value to a correct determination of questions for which our own or the English law offers no solution". See also Preface to this book. But in this connection the advice given by Lord Halsbury L. C. in Re Missouri Steamship Co. 12 C. L. D. 321 (330) should also be borne in mind. In that case he observed: "We should treat it with great respect the opinion of eminent American lawyers on points which arise before us, but the practice which seems to be increasing of quoting American decisions, as authorities, in the same way as if they were decisions of our own Courts, is wrong. Among other things, it involves an inquiry, which often is not an easy one, whether the law of America on the subject in which the point arises is the same as our own." But this apprehension of his lordship is not applicable in interpreting the Indian Evidence Act. With reference to this book.

English Law of Evidence its origin, growth and peculiarity. "At once, when a man enters his eyes on the Perf. Thoms from the common law system of evidence and looks at foreign systems he is struck with the fact that our system is radically peculiar. Here again it may be said, logically an imperative rule, while the rule matter is not thus excluded anywhere else. English speaking countries have what we call a law of evidence, but no other country has it, we alone have generated and evolved this large, elaborate, and difficult doctrine. We have done it, not by direct legislation but, almost wholly, by the slowly accumulated rulings of Judges made in the trying of cases in print but, in the practice and tradition of the trial Courts, and only during the last half or two-thirds of this period have they been reviewed, reasoned upon, and generalized by the Courts in Law.

When one has come to perceive these striking facts, he is not long in finding the reason for them. Indeed the very structure of the system thus produced points to the reason when we observe its constant, anxious, and over-anxious endeavour to prevent the tribunal to which the evidence is principally addressed from being confused and misled and from dealing with questions which it has no right to deal with. It might seem strange and not worth while to keep alive so long a tribunal which has needed so much watching and so many safeguards, if one did not recall the immense persistence of legal institutions and usages as well as the deep political significance of the jury and its relation to what is most valued in the national history and traditions of the English race. It is this institution of the jury which accounts for the common law system of evidence—an institution which English speaking people have had and used, in one or another experiment of their public affairs, ever since the Conquest. Other peoples have had it only in quite recent times, unless, indeed, they may belong to those who began with it centuries ago, and then, allowed it to become obsolete and forgotten. England alone kept it, and, in a strange fashion, has developed it.

This institution, the jury, which is thus the occasion of our law of evidence, and which is also at the bottom of our system of pleading and procedure, and of very much in all branches of the substantive common law, has a peculiar interest for us. . . . I hope that those who attentively consider the long and strange story of the development of the English jury and the immense influence it has had in shaping our law, will find here a basis for conclusions as to the scope and direction of certain much needed reforms in the whole law of evidence and procedure.

"A system of evidence, like ours thus worked out at the forge of daily experience in the trial of causes, not created, or greatly changed, until lately, by legislation, not the fruit of any man's systematic reflection or forecast, is sure to exhibit at every step the marks of its origin. It is not concerned with nice definitions, or the exacter academic operations of the logical faculty. It is attending to practical ends. Its rules originate in the instinctive suggestions of good sense, legal experience, and a sound practical understanding, and they are seeking to determine, not what is or is not, in its nature, probative, but rather, passing by that enquiry, what, among really probative matters, shall, nevertheless, for this or that practical reason, be excluded, and not even heard by the jury. From the diversity and multitude of the casual rulings by the Judges,—rulings often hastily made, ill-considered, and wrong,—from the endeavour to follow

be made is often unfavourable to clear thinking, and the law of evidence largely shaped at this time took on a general aspect which was vague, confused, and unintelligible. One thing in particular added greatly to the confusion, namely the habit of assuming whenever evidential matter was rejected or received, that the result was attributable to some principle of the law of evidence, while very often indeed, the reason lay wholly in the rules of pleading, procedure or substantive law which happened to control the case. In this way the law of evidence came to be monstrously overloaded and was made to swallow up into itself much which belonged to other branches of law or to the wide regions of logic or legal reasoning. Thus not only were many of these other subjects clouded and thrown out of focus, but the law of evidence itself was intolerably perplexed. Thayer's Preliminary Treatise on Evidence pp 1—1

Gradual change in the Law of Evidence as Jury system changed. The old forms of trial were chiefly these (1) Witnesses, (2) The party's oath, with or without fellow swearers (3) The ordeal, (4) Battle. Trial by witnesses appears to have been one of the oldest kinds of 'one sided proof'. To such witnesses, no cross-examination was allowed. They were to state the facts on oath only. (Thayer pp 161) In my opinion says Brunner (Schw 205) 'undoubtedly we are to include under the head of the formal witness proof these (1) the proof of age, (2) the proof of property of property D 1234) in a moveable chattel'. In Bracton's time (c. 1362 (in 1220) we find that age proved by twelve legal men produced by him. Now these twelve men are not at all a 'jury' for the party selects them himself. (Thayer Pre Trial p 19) In a particularly interesting part of his great work on the jury, Brunner points out that the old witness proof was in some cases transformed at the hands of the royal power into an inquisition so that the witnesses were selected by the public authority, as they were in ordinary jury. (Thayer p 19) A witness to prove age must be 42 years of age. By 1515 A. D. it was settled that a trial of a person's age 'shall be by twelve jurors, but in giving their verdict every juror should show the reasons inducing his knowledge of the age, such as being son or daughter of the same age, or by reason of an earthquake or a battle near the time of the birth and the like. (Willoughby 176 177) Gradually the peculiar function of the jury as being triers—grew to be the chief and finally as centuries passed their only one, while that of the other witness was more and more defined, refined upon and hedged about with rules. It is surprising to see how slowly these rules came about. The attitude which long held its place as the only way of removing a false verdict

When they appeared the jury could disregard all they said and those who were not accordant with what they knew. Gradually it was recognized that while the jury might not be bound by the testimony, yet they had a right to believe it and that they were the only ones to judge of the credibility. Thayer Pre Trial pp 137 138. Originally the jury was punished for a false verdict, but in the course of time in case of unreasonable verdict without punishing the jurors a new trial was granted.

In granting new trials it became necessary for the Courts to know the facts which the jurors knew. Accordingly the old doctrine of basing the jurors' verdict on their personal knowledge began to be discouraged. The jurors were told that if any of them knew anything relating to the case they ought to state it publicly in Court.

In 1670 in Bushell's Case Vaughan 130, 142, Vaughan, C. J. finally laid down the different functions of the witnesses and the jurors in the following words. A witness swears but to what he hath heard or seen, generally or more largely, to what hath fallen under his senses. But a jurymen swears to what he can infer and conclude from the testimony of such witnesses by the act and force of his understanding, to be the fact inquired after, which differs nothing in the reason, though much in the punishment from what a Judge, out of various cases considered by him infers to be the law in the question before him'. So two things stand out prominently in Langbein's opinion in Jusell's Case, (1) The jury are judges of evidence. (2) They act upon evidence of which the Court knows nothing, and may mischievously decide a case without any evidence publicly given for or against either party. Thayer's Treatise p. 164. When the jury existed merely as a body of witnesses, supposedly familiar with the facts, who from their own knowledge went to what the facts were the Court could, in the application of the law to the facts, exercise a control over the result which was impossible when the character of the jury changed. With the development of the jury into a reasoning inference drawing body of men, possessing the power to determine the ultimate facts in issue and by their verdict to judicially settle the controversy the situation to the mind of the Judge, was full of embarrassments. To what conclusions might not these men come, men ignorant of the law and its methods, unfamiliar with the ways of counsel, open to the influence of testimony and argument presented solely for the purpose of playing upon their sympathy, passion and prejudice. This was a situation to be deplored, and to be relieved of its dangers as far as possible. In the eyes of the Judge the jury was an uncertain quantity which needed to be guarded against. The jury, from the time it began to take on the character of an arbiter of the facts must have been a disturbing element in the work of the Court.

In the submission of the facts which constitute the evidence in a case there have been embarrassments real or imaginary which have resulted in the development of a set of rules. These rules relate to the use of facts in Court as evidence and make up the 'Law of Evidence'. Accordingly with the beginning of the use of evidence before juries we find the beginning of the law of evidence. Statements to which the Courts might listen without impunity were carefully kept from the jury by excluding rules established by the Judges.

It must not be supposed that these excluding rules came into being all at once. The development of the jury into its final shape was a gradual one, and the growth of rules governing the use of evidence before the jury was equally gradual. It is immaterial to enquire here as to the kind of evidence, which was excluded, that is to be found in any English treatise on the law of evidence. It is sufficient to say that in general everything except what was actually within the personal knowledge of the witness was considered unsafe to put before the jury. Thus, hearsay and opinion were both objectionable. In this way the susceptibility of the jury played its part in moulding the law of evidence into its modern form.

The supposed ignorance of the average jury was also an important factor in the evolution of the rules of evidence. Things likely to complicate the case to confuse the mind or mislead as to the real facts in issue were accordingly excluded—Melchey's Law of Evidence pp. 9-10.

How important a part the jury played in the development of the Law of Evidence may be realised when one considers such a decision as that in Dell v. Haller, 74 N.W. 617, where it was held that the admission of improper evidence in a case tried without a jury is not ground for reversal, and every practitioner is familiar with the custom prevailing where cases are tried before the Judge alone, or in reference, of taking little account of the ordinary rules of evidence.

Other Factors, having influence to shape the Law of Evidence. With the expansion of the work of the Courts and the ever increasing volume of business brought before them, a necessity arose for the shortening of trials and the expediting of the work in every possible way. This influence was a powerful one in its effect upon the admission of evidence. Much that was logically relevant, and indeed worthy of consideration if minute inquiry were possible, became inadmissible, upon the theory that it was too remote, or of slight importance. Collateral matters these were in the main—matters likely to lead to prolonged collateral inquiry, with a merge result in the way of inference—compelling proof when finished. Other things operated to make it easy and natural for the Courts to establish rules relating to the use of evidence. The policy of the law in respect of fair- Pre Such

or hal no issue
at wor
must be cast, building barriers within which they must be confined, and, wearing grooves along which the wheels of judicial inquiry must run. Melchior, Law of Evidence, p. 10

Law of Evidence what it is. "What is our Law of Evidence?" asks Prof. Thayer. Then he answers the question in the following words: "It is a set of rules and principles affecting judicial investigations into questions of fact, for the most part controverted questions. It is concerned with the operations of Courts of Justice, and not with ordinary inquiries in pais, and even within this limited range, it does not undertake to regulate the processes of reasoning or argument, except as helping to discriminate and select the material facts upon which the court is to operate." Thayer Pre. Lea p. 263. "The law of evidence"

of
ns
facts may, and what may not be proved in such cases. II. What sort of evidence must be given of a fact which may be proved. III. By whom and in what manner the evidence must be produced by which any fact is to be proved. After defining under the first head facts in issue and facts relevant to the issue he names four classes of facts which to the issue: 1. Facts similar (Res inter alios acta) 2. The asserted existence of any fact (Hearsay) 3. The fact that any person is of opinion that a fact exists (Opinion) 4. The fact that a person's character is such as to render conduct imputed to them probable or improbable (Character)

he points document
r primarily y or an oral m, and the manner in which the proof of a particular fact must be made he lays it down that when a fact is to be proved evidence must be given by the person upon whom the burden of proof lies, or by his co-defendant, or by a witness called by him.

petent, that the witness may be examined and cross-examined and his credit tested. That brief statement, says the learned Judge, will show what he regards as constituting the Law of Evidence properly so called. With such valuable dicta for comparison, the statutory definition of the Law of Evidence seems to cover all the ground necessary for the guidance of its administration. In the California Code of Civil Procedure, section 1825 and Hord's Oregon Laws section 687, which may be taken as fair types of code definitions it is thus comprehensively dealt with:

The law of evidence is a collection of general rules established by law

'1 For declaring what is to be taken as true without proof,

'2 For declaring the presumptions of law both those which are disputable and those which are conclusive

'3 For the production of legal evidence,

'4 For the exclusion of whatever is not legal,

'5 For the determining in certain cases, the value and effect of evidence'

The Blue Book of Evidence § 1

Things excluded from the Evidence Act. This brief statement says Sir James Fitz James Stephen in his Introduction to his Digest of the Law of Evidence "will show what I regard as constituting the Law of Evidence properly le so called. My view of it excludes many things which are often regarded as forming part of it. The principal subjects thus omitted are as follows —

I regard the question, What may be proved under particular issues? (which many writers treat as part of the Law of Evidence) as belonging partly to the subject of pleading, and partly to each of the different branches into which the substantive Law may be divided.

"Again, I have dealt very shortly with the whole subject of pre-summptions. My reason is that they also appear to me to belong to different branches of Substantive Law and to be unintelligible except in connection with them. Take for instance the presumption that every one knows the law. The real meaning of this is that speaking generally ignorance of the law is not taken as an excuse for breaking it. This rule cannot be properly appreciated if it is treated as a part of the Law of Evidence. It belongs to the Criminal Law. In the same way numerous presumptions as to rights of property (in particular easements and incorporeal hereditaments) belong not to the Law of Evidence but to the Law of Real Property. The only presumptions which, in my opinion ought to find a place in the Law of Evidence are those which relate to facts merely as facts, and apart from the particular rights which they constitute. Thus the rule, that a man not heard of for seven years is presumed to be dead, might be equally applicable to a dispute as to the validity of a marriage, an action of ejectment by a reversioner against a tenant pur autre vie, the admissibility of a declaration against interest and many other subjects, after careful consideration I have put a few presumptions of this kind into a chapter on the subject, and have passed over the rest as belonging to different branches of the Substantive Law.

Practice, again, appears to me to differ in kind from the Law of Evidence. The rules which point out the manner in which the attendance of witnesses is to be procured, evidence is to be taken on commission, depositions are to be authenticated and forwarded to the proper officers, interrogatories are to be administered, etc. have little to do with the general principles which regulate the relevancy and proof of matters of fact. Their proper place would be found in Codes of Civil and Criminal Procedure. I have however noticed a few of the most important of these matters.

"A similar remark applies to a great mass of provisions as to the proof of certain particulars. Under the head of Public Documents, Mr Taylor, gives amongst other things a list of all or most of the Statutory provisions which render certificates or certified copies admissible in particular cases.

"On several other points the distinction between the Law of Evidence and other branches of the law is most difficult to trace. For instance, the law of estoppel, the law relating to the interpretation of written instruments, both run into the Law of Evidence. I have tried to draw the line in the case of estoppels by dealing with estoppels in pari only, to the exclusion of estoppels by deed and by matter of record, which must be pleaded as such; and in regard to the law of written instruments by stating those rules only which seemed to me to bear directly on the question whether a document can be supplemented or explained by oral evidence.

PART I.

RELEVANCY OF FACTS

CHAPTER I.

PRELIMINARY

Short title 1 This Act may be called the Indian Evidence Act, 1872

It extends to the whole of British India, and applies to all judicial proceedings in or before any Court, including Courts-martial, (other than Courts-martial convened under the Army Act)* (or the Airforce Act)† but not to affidavits presented to any Court or officer, nor to proceedings before an arbitrator,

Commencement of Act and it shall come into force on the first day of September, 1872

The Law of Evidence—lex fori 'The law of evidence is the lex fori which governs the Court' Whether a witness is competent or not, whether certain evidence proves a certain fact or not, that is to be determined by the law of the country where the question arises, where the remedy is sought to be enforced, and the Court sits to enforce it' Per Lord Brougham in Bain v Whitehaven and Furness Junction Railway Company 3 H L C 1 at p 19 Hamlyn & Co v Fulshear Distillery, (1894)
is taken in one country commission or with the must be the law of the country where the suit is actually pending for which the evidence is taken as being the true forum See per Cockburn C J in Dessilla v Iels, 40 T L R 423—Foot's Private International Law p 530 but see the observation of Woodroffe J in, In the matter of Rudolph Stallman, 39 C 161-15 C W N 1053 at p 1065 cited under the head the Act is not a Complete Code under section 2 infra

for Act
Dis
187
Bal

Ga

* Inserted by Act XVIII of 1919

† Inserted by s 2 of the Repealing and Amending Act X of 1927.

1. Kolhim in the District of Singhbhum—see Gazette of India 1881, Pt I p 501 (the Lohardigha or Ranchi District included at this time the Palam District separated in 1891) and the Lohardigha District of the Province of Bihar, 1876 Pt I p 505, Ganjam and Verapagam—see Gazette of India, 1899, Pt I, p 730, and under ss 3 and 4 of the same Act it has been held that the powers of a Local Government and those of a High Court were at the same time conferred on the Asst Governor General Central India, for the purposes of this Act—see Government of India 1911, p 9.

British India. The definition of "British India" in section 3 Cl (7) of the General Clauses Act (X of 1897). The following places or within British India—Andaman Islands (see Queen v. Chandra Khetri 11 M 23); Andaman and Nicobar Islands (Queen v. B. C. R. 10, 9 B 211), Island of Port Blair (Queen v. Murali 10 B 211) and Ajmer and Merwara (see Queen v. Murali 10 B 211) and Ajmer and Merwara (see Queen v. Murali 10 B 211). The Native States and Tributary States not within British India, see Empress v. Purna 10 B 184, Empress v. Khetri 10 B 211, Queen v. B. C. R. 10 B 211, Empress v. Chandra Khetri 11 M 23.

Application of the Evidence Act in places outside British India. A complaint filed in a place to which the Indian Evidence Act (I of 1872) has been declared to apply in the Proclamation of the Evidence Ordinance of Ceylon is merely the application to Ceylon of the Indian Evidence Act (Indra Prasad v. Chintamani 72 I A 372=A I R 192) P C 229.

Judicial proceedings. An enquiry is judicial if the object of it is to determine a legal relation between one person and another, or a group of persons or between him and the community generally, but even a Judge acting without authority in a case is a judicial officer. Queen v. Tulja, 12 B 36 (d). Alexander v. H. J. 10 M 1 A 340. According to section 4 (m) of the Criminal Procedure Code, judicial proceedings include any proceeding in the course of which evidence is or may be legally taken on oath. A proceeding under s 318 of the Criminal Procedure Code of 1861 was held to be a judicial proceeding. Liquor v. Magistrate of Kheola, 13 H C A C J 153.

The proceedings under Chapter XXXI of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 are judicial in their nature and must not be conducted as if they were merely ministerial matters. The notes of evidence, therefore, must not be of fact. Lorain v. Rani 5 A 221=A W N 183, 220. A Magistrate's order under Ch XX of the Criminal Procedure Code is a judicial proceeding. Rhondhor v. Panchlour 12 C L J 619=8 Ind Cas 1106=12 Cr L J 21, see also Sahar v. Cradattulla 37 C 642 (F B), Emperor v. Sheo Sanharpur, 10 N L R 177, Chaman v. Crown 1 P R 1910, Bholanath v. Emperor, 10 C W N 55, Dalhusiear v. Harish Chandra 10 C L J 450. An enquiry in which evidence is legally taken is for the purposes of the Act included in the term "judicial proceeding". Queen v. Tulja, 12 B 36 (42). Where the Legislature has authorised the formation of a judgment, and the grant or the withholding of a certificate on that judgment the inquiry is a judicial enquiry. Queen v. Price L R 6 Q B 418, see also Aichayya v. Gangayya, 15 M 138 (F B) at p 147.

An enquiry conducted by a Magistrate into the truth of allegations against a subordinate official, contained in a petition presented to a Deputy Commissioner, is a judicial proceeding. Emperor v. Anna Sak, 28 A 89=A W N 1905, 195=2 A L J 717=2 Cr L J 454. The test which has to be applied to a particular proceeding before a Court to determine whether it is or is not a judicial proceeding "for the purposes of s 476 is, whether, in the course of that proceeding, the Judge has power legally to take evidence on oath not whether he has actually taken such evidence. Chaman v. Crown, 1 P R 1910 Cr = 161 P L R 1910=5 Ind Cas 257=11 Cr L J 90.

An enquiry under the Legal Practitioners Act is a judicial proceeding. Subba Chetti v. Queen 6 M 252 (253), Gouri Sankar v. King Emperor, 9 A L J 136, Nallaswami v. Ramalingam, 32 M L J 402=18 Cr L J 785. So also is an enquiry by a Magistrate before issuing an order under section 145 of the Criminal Procedure Code. Queen Empress v Lounarasinha, 19 M 18. The proceeding of a Court holding a preliminary enquiry under s 476 of Criminal Procedure Code is a judicial proceeding. Abdulla v Emperor, 37 C 52.

An enquiry under s 8 of the Reformatory Schools Act is not a judicial proceeding. Queen Empress v Manaji, 11 B 381.

Rat Un Cr C 10.

to issue a search

A proceed

Cr Pro Code is

589, Crown v

of the Criminal F

Kishun, 36 C

1909 Cr The Collector hearing objection

Tax Act is a Revenue Court and his

Emperor v Rup Singh, 44 P R 1905 Cr

The announcement of an order under is a stage in a judicial proceeding. Queen Empress v Salig Ram 18 P R

1897 Cr An investigation by the police, under s 161 Cr Pro Code is a stage of a judicial proceeding. Nga Po Ke v Queen Empress, U B R (1897-1901)

Vol I, 31 An order made under s 202 of the Bengal Municipal Act is a judicial proceeding. The Nabadurp Municipality v Purna Chandra, 29 C W

N 817

Judic

where the something administ

v Gangay

Gholam Ismail, 1 A 1 (13), Alexandar v Amirunnessa, 10 M 1 A 340 An enquiry by a Act is not a judicial proceed ing, Extra v rga Das v Queen Empress,

27 C 820 to a crime alleged about to be committed is not a judicial enquiry. Chandrasingha v Mohan Singh, 4 C L J

181=8 Bom L R 705 (P C)=30 M 523=1 M L T 301 A departmental enquiry under section 197 of the Bombay Land Revenue Code is not a judicial proceeding. In re Chota Lal, 22 B 936 An order passed by a first class

Magistrate under sections 518, 520 of the Criminal Procedure Code 1872, was held not to be a judicial proceeding. Reference No 62 of 1877 Rat Un Cr C

129 A Magistrate cannot be said to be acting judicially in directing a search to be uch he would 36 C

433=1 It is doubtful whether the proceeding under the Land Registration Act is a judicial proceeding. Hira Nand Ojha v Emperor 9 C W N 127

Court—For definition of the term vide s 3 infra

Courts Martial

1869) It is also appl

(vide s 68 of Act XIV.

Act must adopt the s ordinary jurisdiction in martial can be compelled to answer any question or produce any document which he could not be required to answer or produce in similar proceedings in a criminal Court, Pouell p 28, Army Act, 1881, (44 and 45 Vict (58 sections 127, 128) This is an exception to the general rule that the lex fori determines the law of evidence (Woodroffe p 105)

Affidavits Order XIX of regards affidavits, under rule 1

the Court (i) to order any parties

1. (ii) to allow the affidavit of any witness to be read at a hearing or trial on such conditions as it may think reasonable, with this proviso that when the opposing party in a sue desires to cross-examine a witness, and the witness can produce such evidence as shall not be allowed to be given by affidavit. The first of these powers, which can be exercised by the Court even against the wishes of both parties, can be advantageously employed to the manifest ends of economy in proof of formal matters. The second, which, subject to the proviso, can be exercised by the Court at the instance of one party, but against the wish of the other, enables a proper review of the evidence of an absent witness to be brought before the Court without the expensive interposition of a commissioner or examiner. Powell p. 69. An affidavit is ordinarily not evidence, unless it is of order XIX. Am. Ind. Madhuca, 63 Ind. party desires to cross-examine be read at the trial if it cross-examining party (by etc. Mithun v. Bhol 7 Ch D 69. An affidavit once filed cannot be withdrawn for the purpose of preventing the deponent being cross-examined therein. In re Quarrell, etc. 21 Ch D 612. This rule is applicable to a foreigner sent out of jurisdiction making an affidavit. Stuart v. Wells (1881) 8 T L R 239. The Iranian, (1857) 13 P D 10. If the Court has a hesitation to refuse to order the attendance of a witness for cross-examination. In re Central Bank W N (1857) 205, Stuart v. Wells (1881) 8 T L R 239. Where it is not possible to cross-examine the deponent the Court may act upon the affidavit. Shea v. Green, (1896) 2 T L R 533. It is essential where evidence by affidavit is given that it every effort is taken by the solicitors and others engaged in their preparation that the affidavit should represent the real facts in order that they may be thoroughly relied upon. See the remarks of Lord Justice Russell (1910) 129 L F J 263. An affidavit of information and belief not stating the source of information and belief is inadmissible in evidence whether on an interlocutory or a final application. P. J. Young Manufacturing Co v. Young, (1900) 3 Ch 753 C A.

But in the case of arbitrators, the proceedings before arbitrators, etc.

In the Evidence Act is not applicable.

Tracy v. Wilson 4 C 231, the on the ground that the arbitrator used in evidence a letter written by a party's attorney and stated to be without prejudice. An application to confirm the award was refused by the learned Judge of the first instance upon the ground that the defendant had not in the course of negotiation between the attorneys on both sides for an amicable settlement of the dispute. The court held that the letters were clearly letter

attorney

negotiation

clearly

and on the

the Act herein)

in the

take in hit not wrong acted to justice think confirm or, that same

B 303

referred to for act

pure or a single arbitrator occupies a judicial position and exercises judicial powers, and, S.

is bound, as far as practicable, to follow legal rules.

vidence which is before him the we agree that he Halter (Co v

Fisher said "The parties have agreed to go before an umpire who is not bound by the strict rules of evidence enforced in a Court and to be bound by his decision, and in my judgment the Court ought not to fetter the arbitrator or the parties by its own rules of evidence, but should consider whether something has been discovered since the award which the arbitrator might think material, and which might alter his decision

This rule is of course contrary to the decision laid down by Chief Baron Alexander in Attorney General v. Davison, 4 Mele & Y 160 166 where he observed "But I have already understood that arbitrators are bound by the same rules of evidence as the Courts of law But in India an award of the arbitrators cannot be se strict compliance with the rules M 85 (87) The view express o, uli supra is scarcely in accor aso of East & West India Dock Q B 295

If it to the co mony, or now settle for the m 593 Per bell v Lu refuses to hear evidence 2 A & E 732, Brophy v
C L R 564 p 566
trator of evidence of collateral ma
1 D & L 498 An arbitrator side in the absence of the other opportunity to meet his oppo
It is the duty of the arbitrator of the agreement in pursu Krishna v Bilja 2 B L R Ap 25 Where an arbitrator has taken no evi dence upon matters referred to for arbitration and has not allowed a party an opportunity of proving his contention he is guilty of misconduct Dholi v
Jaylunari A W N 1889 124

Samuel v Cooper
Maina Acor 12

9 (d11)
terms

re him

2 On and from that day the following Repeal of enactments laws shall be repealed —

- (1) all rules of evidence not contained in any Statute, Act, or Regulation in force in any part of British India,
- (2) all such rules, laws and regulations as have acquired the force of law under the 25th section of the Indian Councils Act, 1861,* in so far as they relate to any matter herein provided for, and
- (3) the enactments mentioned in the schedule hereto, to the extent specified in the third column of the said schedule

* 24 & 25 Vict c 17

But nothing herein contained shall be deemed to affect any provision of any Statute, Act or Regulation in force in any part of British India and not hereby expressly repealed.

Repeal of enactments Where an Act is repealed, and the repealing enactment is repealed by another, which manifests no intention that the first shall be ab initio and not merely from the passing of the second Act, the rule was that the repeal of the second Act does not apply to repealing Acts passed since the first Act was repealed. Hippool, 10 B & C 39; Tuttle v Grimwood, L J Ch 321, Kemp v Waddingham, (1866)

1850 So the mere repeal of a Repealing Act, or the repealing portion of a Repealing Act does not by itself repeal the portion thereof 1 Weir 781-7. c 63, s 11
In the absence of a contrary intention, the repeal of an old Act cannot be deemed to affect the new Act, and the rule of estoppel based on a dictum that a more igor, does not apply, and rules of evidence which once in British India. Nor በግልጽ ሲታይ፣ ለአገሪቱ ሕዝብ ምርጫ ማድረግ ይቻላል።

Repeal by implication. Statutes are not to be considered as repealed by implication unless the repugnancy between the new provision and a former Statute be plain and unfavorable. Satapathu v Queen, 6 M 32. One Statute may be impliedly repealed by a subsequent Statute necessarily inconsistent with it, but the inconsistency must be so great that they cannot both be to their full extent obeyed. Emperor v Mulshankar 12 Bom L R 750-7 Ind Cn 963-11 Cr L J 548. For such a repeal the provisions of the latter Act must be so inconsistent with or repugnant to those of an earlier Act that the two cannot stand together. Co Litt 112, Shep Touchet 88, West Ham v Fourth City, (1892) 1 Q B 654, O Flerty v McDowell, 6 H L Cn 143, Brown v W R Co, (1885) 9 Q B D 753, Sims v Doughty, 5 Ves 243; Constantine v Constantine (1801) 6 Ves 100.

The Act is not a complete Code. The Indian Evidence Act is not a fragmentary enactment but a consolidatory enactment repealing all rules of evidence other than those saved by the last part of this section. Collector of Gorakhpur v Palakdhari 13 A 1 at p 35. The Indian Evidence Act has re-
*Lehrer v employ
 "itself"*

"The evidence Act does not contain the whole law of evidence governing this country. Section 2 of the Act Statute, Act or Regulation in force. 1 Evidence Act and in other Acts and matters of evidence. One of such S which, as applicable to this country Evidence Act. Per Woodroffe J in 164-15 C W N 1053 at p 1065. In the same case the learned Judge continued "Where evidence is taken in this country the evidence receivable must be governed by the rules of procedure here in force. It has however been argued that where evidence is received from abroad its admissibility is governed by the law of the country from which it is received."

15 A 141 (113), he was held not to be a Court. In Queen Empress v Fulja 12 B 36 (12), the enquiry contemplated by sections 73, 75 of the Registration Act (III of 1877) appears to have been the evidence of the Queen's High Court in the otherwise. In delivering therefore clear to my mind that the Registrar exercises more than mere administrative function—in the examination of witnesses he is bound to observe the rules of evidence, and he is to consider the form his own conclusions. The Registrar appeared to consider the Registrar the fact appears to have mainly influenced

Nath v I I Bhowan and other, 11 C 176. A District Registrar is not a Court within the meaning of section 622 of the Code of Civil Procedure of 1882. Malavala v Govindan, 30 M 326. Under the Land Acquisition Act, the proceedings of the Collector regarding the measurement and valuation of the land and resulting in his award are administrative and not judicial. Era v The Secretary of State 1 C L J 27 = 32 C 605 = 9 C W N 151 affirming 7 C W N 219, Durga Das v Queen, 27 C 820, Galstun v Banku 31 C W N 825. A proceeding under ss 69 and 70 of the Bengal Kofil, 17 C 872. So also a Certificate of the Bengal Public Demands Recovery at 23 C 217, but see Jhara Lal v Mohant

2 Pt 257. Similarly a Deputy Collector is a Court when he is holding an enquiry under the Bengal Land Registration for registering the name of a person. Panga Singh v Haru Khul 17 Ind Cas 710, see also Queen Empress v Munda 24 M 121. A tribunal constituted under the Calcutta Improvement Act (V of 1911) is also a Court. Nundo Lal v Khetra Mahan, 45 C 585. So also is an Income Tax Collector. Natarana v Emperor 36 M 72, In re Punam Chand 38 B 642. A District Judge is a Court while he determines election disputes under s 22 of the Bombay District Municipalities Act (Bom Act III of 1901). Jaiso Nanchand 37 Bom 865.

A commissioner appointed to take down evidence of a witness is not a Court. Seadul Ali v Emperor 11 C W N 909. Neither is an arbitrator appointed by a Court is a Court. Mula Mal v Chuanji 3 P R 1914, Fuliah v Teera Sami 17 M L J 420.

As regards the meaning of the word "Court" in s 19 of the Criminal Procedure Code vide Kanhayalal v Bhagwan Das, 48 A 63, Lilas v Emperor 47 A 934, Galstun v Banku 31 C W N 825, Nunda v Khetra 45 C 585.

Fact

"Fact" means and includes—

- (1) any thing, state of things, or relation of things capable of being perceived by the senses
- (2) any mental condition of which any person is conscious

Illustrations

- (a) That there are certain objects arranged in a certain order in a certain place is a fact
- (b) That a man heard or saw something is a fact
- (c) That a man said certain words is a fact
- (d) That a man holds a certain opinion has a certain intention acts in good faith, or fraudulently, or uses a particular word in a particular sense, or is or was at a specified time conscious of a particular sensation is a fact
- (e) That a man has a certain reputation is a fact

Facts different meanings of 'Fact' in English Law books for various transactions completed and operative transaction with executing a certain sort of writing, (factum) (c) As designating what exists fully, exist,—de facto as contrasted with de jure, (d) And so generally, as indicating things, events, actions, conditions, as happening, existing, really taking place. This last is the notion which concerns us now. It is what Locke expresses (Vide Human Understanding, Book IV C 16, s 5) when he speaks of 'particular existence' or as it is usually termed, matter of fact'. The fundam conception is that of a thing as existing or being true. It is not limited to is tangible or visible or in any way the object of sense; things invisible, thoughts, intentions, fancies of the mind, when conceived of as existing or true are conceived of as facts. The question of whether a thing exists or l is the question of whether it is or whether it exists whether it be fact or inquiry into the truth, the reality, the actuality of things, are inquiries he fact about them. Nothing is a question of fact which is not a question the existence, reality, truth or something of the fact which is not a question t p 191. Ordinarily, a fact is something which is certain. Flumer's Proc Tr at or held or even s strictly true cr tan la l De tum muric in cas sw ent with respect Fact legal meaning of Jan 1870 10 How Pr (N Y) 175 Hon 150 Ind 370-50 N E 299, fact ok Huter v Guggenheim 89 Fed 59 A fact is something fixed, unchanging

S. 3.

Fact legal meaning of Mr. Stephen in the first two editions of his Digest is a thing that is in the following words: "It means (1) every thing which is perceived by the senses (2) every mental condition of which a person is conscious." For this definition he was keenly criticised by a very able writer in the Solicitors Journal as being too narrow and not taking into account the proper meaning of the word among the legal profession.

really applicable only to the fullest form of thought no definition was necessary. The edition, and all later ones substituted in art 1 this "Fact" included of which any person is conscious, exists, and in his preface to the third edition, after saying that he "had been led to modify the definition of fact by an acute remark made on this subject in the Solicitors' Journal," he added that,
 "the real object of the definition was to show that I used the word 'fact' so as to include states of mind." Thayer Pre. Treat. E. p. 192 "No satisfactory definitions of the term 'fact' has been or perhaps can be given. Broadly it means whatever is the subject of perception or consciousness."
 A "fact" as the term is used or said, an act or action which state of mind at a given time is anger, the feeling is a fact. If the operations of the mind produce an effect, as knowledge, skill, intention, this effect on the mind is a fact. When the mental process is led up to and produce a desire or intention to do a certain thing, such state of mind is a fact. Wilfulness is a desire or intention to produce a certain result; hence wilfulness is a fact. This, at least, is the general rule. We ascertain the existence of a fact by means of evidence. The evidence, and each item of the evidence are not necessarily such facts as call in operation of the law. Burr Jones, Ev § 10(a)
 What is the real

What is the real meaning of the word "fact"? The popular acceptance of the term "fact" does not include any mental condition of which any person is conscious. It stops at a fact being an existing or true thing. The legal meaning is not limited to what is tangible or visible or in any way the object of sense. Burr Jones, Ex § 10(a). The framer of the Evidence Act also intended that the word be not understood only in its popular sense as denoting some event which occurred or something which was done, as opposed to something said or some opinion or feeling of mind or body. So under this definition statements, feelings, opinions and states of mind -- we became aware of as to relevancy are

* purpose of proving or disproving the matter to which they relate. Cunning L p 80, see also Stephen's Dig L. S. 1 Preface to Third Edition The state of a man's mind is as much a fact as the state of digestion. Buen L J in Edington v Pitmaurice, 29 Ch D 483 cited in Field's Evidence 8th Ed p 14.

Bentham's definition Bentham defined fact as follows — "By fact is meant the existence of a portion of matter, inanimate or animate, either in a state of motion or in a state of rest." This is very uninformative. Mr Best has given no definition, but he seems to have endorsed the definition given by Bentham. But all such definitions, including that of Bentham endorsed by Best, labour under the disadvantage that no accurate definition has yet been given of what is legally understood.

Stephen contain 'fact'
Clou-Bornat
v Cor GG Ten
on Best

Bentham's Classification of Facts and psychological, (2) events and
This division of course does not accord Thayer Pre Treat L p. 191.

is a fact considered to be being, by virtue, not those which it has in logical fact is considered to have its seat in some animate being; and that by virtue of the qualities by which it is constituted animate. Bentham, Jud. Ev C 3; Best Ev § 12 Thus the existence of visible objects, the outward acts of intelligent agents, the res gestae of a law suit etc, range themselves under the former class; while to the latter belong such as only exist in the mind, as for instance the sensations or recollections of any proposition, the desires intention in doing particular acts, his introduction to his Evidence Act, classifies facts stated in clause (1) as external facts and those stated in clause (2) as internal facts. "During the whole of our waking life" he says "we are in a state of perception. Indeed conscious ness and perception are two names for one thing according as we regard it from the passive or active point of view. We are conscious of everything that we perceive, and we perceive whatever we are conscious of. Moreover, our percep tions are distinct from each other, some both in space and time, as is the case with all our perceptions of material objects, as for instance, as is the case with all our perceptions of External Internal facts—Whatever is the whole sum of with which we are existence of the ex knowledge of it is,

which we draw
situated for that p

5. 3. intention will, wish, knowledge, opinion, are all perceived by the person who feels them. When it is affirmed that a man is angry that he knows the meaning of a word that he is by accident, each proposition relates to a perceived as a noise or a flash of light. The classes of propositions is this, when it is affirmed that a man has a given intention, the matter affirmed is one which he is affirmed that a man is sitting or standing the he perceived not only by the man himself, and favourably situated for the purpose. But the circumstance that either even is regarded as being or as having been capable of being perceived by some or the other, is what we mean and all that we mean, when we say that it exists or existed, or when we denote the same thing by calling it a fact. The word 'fact' is sometimes opposed to theory, sometimes to opinion, sometimes to feeling but all these modes of using it are more or less rhetorical. When it is used with any degree of accuracy it implies something which exists and it is as difficult to attach any meaning to the assertion that a thing exists which neither is, nor under any conceivable circumstances could be perceived by any sentient being as to attach any meaning to the assertion that anything which can be so perceived does not, or at the time of perception did not, exist. See the Introduction, pp 19 to 21

How psychological events are proved. It was formerly considered that psychological facts were incapable of direct proof by the testimony of witnesses and their existence could only be ascertained either by confession of the party whose mind is their seat or by presumptive inference from physical facts. See Art 12. But it is now recognised is as much as L J is are permitted or generally

What passes in a man's mind can be collected from his acts. R v Shipley, 4 Dong 73 (177), Field Ex 8th Ed 14

Events and states of things. There are two other divisions of facts which deserve to be noted. One, is that they are either events or states of things. By an "event" is meant some motion or either in the course of nature or through latter case it is called "an act" or "an act" the existence of the tree is a state of things. on Evidence § 13

Positive or Negative facts. The remaining division of facts is into positive or affirmative, and negative. In this may be seen a distinction, which belongs not, as in the former case, to the nature of the facts themselves, but to that of the discourse which we are under the necessity of employing in speaking of them.

tain denomination
existence of it lent to the existence less this sort of it may be the
A negative fact ough, in many instances, according to the mode of expression commonly employed in speaking of it, the real nature of it is disguised. Thus, by health, is meant nothing more than the absence, the non-existence, of disease, by minority, the individual's non-arrival at a certain age, by darkness, the absence of light, and so on. — Bentham Jud 1st Vol 1, p 50

as to effect as understood in the Statute

"In the first place what is 'fact' to mean and include of being perceived by the person is conscious. This then, is the only sense in which, in interpreting the Statute, I can understand the word fact." Per Mahmood J in Queen Empress v Abdullah, 7 A 385 (399) F B. "A misrepresentation as to the intention of a person (in stating the purpose for which the consent is asked) is a misrepresentation of a 'fact' within the meaning of section 3 of the Evidence Act " Emperor v Soma, 36 Ind Cas 851 (854) = 17 P. R 1916 Cr = 18 Cr. L J 18; see also Re N Jaladu, 36 M. 453 The word "fact" as used in s 157 of the Evidence Act, does not mean merely "event" but also a continuing fact such as possession. Muthalagiri v. Pappu Narayan, 25 Ind Cas 510

Matter of fact Matter of law "Matter of fact" is anything which is the law' is the general law of the land, of which Red Ex. 8th Ed p 19 The true question though related senses It means, in the first place, a question which the Court is bound to answer in accordance with a rule of law—a question which the law itself has authoritatively answered, to the exclusion of the right of the Court to answer with what is considered to be questions are questions of fact—to include everything that is not more than one meaning. In

Illustrations Illustrations (a), (b), and (c) are illustrations of the first clause and (d) and (e) of the second This division which was made by Bentham has been adopted in the Code, to prevent any metaphysical doubts as to "mental conditions" being facts Norton p 93, Stephen's Dig Ex 3rd Ed Introduction

• One fact is said to be relevant to another when the one is connected with the other in any of the ways referred to in the provisions of this Act relating to the relevancy of facts

Relevant facts The relevant facts are facts other than facts in issue which that to them word words must be taken in, the admissibility of facts says Phipson "is for the most part determined by their logical relevancy to the issue, or that connection between the two which, in the ordinary course of events, renders the latter probable from the existence of the former admissi the tw which "evident or "pri evident fact I. first d law of evidence, namely logical relevancy, for the purpose of determining whether or not the fact offered can be evidence If the fact meet this test, it may

3. or may not be admitted. For flanked around the general principle in the law of evidence, that what is logically relevant is admissible, are numerous excluding rules, which say that this or that fact though logically relevant, is inadmissible. McKelvey's Law of Evidence p 13. The word 'relevant' in the Indian Evidence Act, means admissible. Per Lord Hobhouse in Lal Lalhmi Chant Harder Shah, 3 C W N 268 (notes). So a fact in order to become relevant must be admissible in evidence under any one of the sections 5 to 55. Such facts which are themselves in issue may affect the probability of the existence of facts in issue. Stephen's Introduction p 13.

English Law—Test of relevancy The meaning of the term according to Scottish law comes nearer to the conception of the term according to English lawyers namely, the sufficiency in law of what is alleged in support or defence of an action. (Standard Dictionary) The word comes from the French, relater to assist. So whatever testimony was offered, which would assist in knowing which party spoke the truth of the issue was relevant and when to admit it did not overrule other formal rules of evidence it ought to have been taken. Plantier v Plantier, 78 N Y 11. It is not necessary however that it should itself bear directly upon the point in issue for if it be but a link in the chain of evidence tending to prove the issue by reasonable inference, it may nevertheless be relevant. Schuchardt v Allen 1 Wall (U S) 359. Relevancy is that which conduces to prove a pertinent theory in a case. Levy v Cimbell, (Tex) 20 S W 196. But there is no definition or Statute or theory of relevancy which can very greatly aid in solving the constantly recurring problem, whether a given fact offered in evidence is relevant to prove the proposition in issue. Burr Jones § 135. Prof Thayer, who seems of all the writers on evidence to have acquired a giant grasp of his subject, says 'There is a principle not so much a rule of evidence as a presupposition involved in the very conception of a rational system of evidence as contrasted with the old formal and mechanical system—which forbids receiving anything irrelevant not logically probative. How are we to know what these forbidden things are? Not by any rule of law. The law furnishes no test of relevancy. For this it tacitly refers to logic and general experience—assuming that the principles of reasoning are known to its Judges and ministers just as a vast multitude of other things are assumed as already sufficiently known to them. There is another precept which should be laid down as preliminary in stating the law of evidence, namely, that unless excluded by some rule or principle of law, all that is logically probative is admissible. These rules of exclusion have had their exceptions, and so the law has come into the shape of a set of primary rules of exclusion, and then a set of exceptions to these rules. Preliminary Treat, Evidence pp 263—264.

Reasons of the exclusionary rules The qualification to the general rule is that it does not always follow merely because a fact is logically relevant that it is always admissible. There may be a very great number of minute details all logically relevant but which if they existed in many cases would take such a long time to be given in evidence that the business of the Court would be clogged. In Amosheag Co. v Head 59 N H 333, Doe v J thus stated the reason. 'The trial to which parties are entitled is not an endless one nor one unreasonably protracted and exhausting. There may be a vast amount of evidence, relevant in a certain legal sense but not so unimportant, when compared with an abundance of better evidence easily available, as to be properly excluded. The parties being allowed upon collateral issues an equal range amply sufficient for the purposes of justice under the circumstances of the particular case, they are not necessarily entitled as a matter of law, to go further in that direction.' But there is another reason for the exclusion of logically relevant evidence. It is thus stated by Prof Thayer 'Some things are rejected as being of too slight a significance, or as having too conjectural and remote a connection, others, as being dangerous in their effect on the jury, and likely to be misused or over estimated by that body, others as being impolitic or unsafe on public grounds, others on the ground of precedent. It is this sort of thing, as I said before,—the rejection on one or another practical ground, of what is really probative,—which is the characteristic thing in the law of evidence, stamping it as the child of the Jury system.' Thayer Pre Treat Ev p 266.

"Facts in issue"

The expression "facts in issue" means S. and includes—

any fact from which, either by itself or in connection with other facts the existence, non-existence, nature or extent of any right, liability, or disability, asserted or denied in any suit or proceeding, necessarily follows

Explanation.—Whenever under the provisions of the law for the time being in force relating to Civil Procedure, any Court records an issue of fact, the fact to be asserted or denied in the answer to such issue is a fact in issue.

Illustrations.

be in issue :—

that A intended to cause B's death ;
that A had received grave and sudden provocation from B ;
that A, at the time of doing the act which caused B's death, was, by reason of unsoundness of mind, incapable of knowing its nature

" Facts in issue, what are they " Facts in issue are those facts which are pleading in a civil case ;
"not guilty," in a criminal is therefore, little difficulty in the case of a civil case, the facts in issue are, y the 78 issue"

other it or is the w of olves with at A Facts
tence ot ' is r' or

'principal fact' Vide McKelvey's Evidence, p 5

"Document" means any matter expressed or described upon any substance by means of letters, figures or marks, or by more than one of those means, intended to be used, or which may be used, for the purpose of recording that matter.

Illustrations

A writing is a document .
Words printed, lithographed or photographed are documents
A map or plan is a document .
An inscription on a metal plate or stone is a document .
A caricature is a document

Many sol evidence which the thoughts of men are represented by writing, or any other species of conventional

3. mark or symbol', and expressly includes mark in a score, exchequer tally, and the like (Best p 213) Stephen's definition is similar, though more restricted. "Any substance having any matter expressed or described upon it by marks capable of being read" (Ind Law Tr Act 1). Within those definitions, a ring or banner with an inscription, a musical composition, and a savage tattooed with words intelligible to him. If would all be documents. Photographs, caricatures, wooden tallies and the like would probably be excluded under Stephen's definition not apparently under the others. Best p 213. The definition given in this Act is wider than the definition mentioned in Stephen's Digest. This definition seems to include all those things mentioned above. This definition is in accord with the definition of the term given in s 29 of the Indian Penal Code and s 1 (16) of the General Clauses Act (X of 1897). Where a draft petition was prepared with the intention of being used as evidence of a matter, it was held that it fell within the terms of this section. O v Shusfast Ally, 10 W R Cr 61 = L R 12. An agreement in which some of the executors signed is a document. Jama v McIntosh, 41 W 789 = 43 Ind Cas 523 = 19 Cr L J 177. Letters or marks unprinted on trees and intended to be used as evidence that the trees had been passed for removal by the Ranger are documents. Imjeor v Khandajja, (1925) A I R 327 = 27 Bom L R 599 = 26 Cr L J 1014 = 47 Ind Cas 39.

What is defines a document as an instrument upon which is recorded, by means of letters, figures or mark, matter which may evidentially be used. In this sense the term applies to writings, to words printed, lithographed, or photographed on seals, plates or stones on which inscriptions are cut or engraved, to photographs and pictures, to maps and plans. So far as concerns admirability, it makes no difference what is the thing on which the words or signs offered may be recorded. They may be in stone or gems or on wood as well as on paper or parchment. What is Ev s 14, see also Reg. v Daye, (1938) 2 K B 38. A book is of course a document. Id v Lauluet Val Water Co 26 All 55.

Evidence.

'Evidence' means and includes—

- (1) all statements which the Court permits or requires to be made before it by witnesses, in relation to matters of fact under inquiry such statements are called oral evidence,
- (2) all documents produced for the inspection of the Court such documents are called documentary evidence.

The ambiguity of the word 'evidence'. The meaning of the word 'evidence' in English Text Books is ambiguous. It sometimes means the words uttered and things exhibited by witnesses before a Court of Justice. At other times, it means the facts proved to exist by those words or things, and regarded as the ground work of inferences as to other facts not so proved. Again, it is sometimes used in meaning to assert that a particular fact is relevant to the matter under enquiry.

Evidence—Different meanings of the word. The ambiguity of the word, is the cause of a great deal of obscurity apart from that which it gives to the rules above mentioned. In scientific inquiries, and for popular and general purposes, it is no doubt convenient to have one word which includes—(1) The testimony on which a given fact is believed, (2) the facts so believed, and (3) the arguments founded upon them. In judicial inquiries however, the distinction is most important, and the neglect to observe it has thrown the whole subject into confusion by causing English lawyers to overlook the leading distinction which ought to form the principle on which the whole should be classified. I mean the distinction between the relevancy of facts and the mode of proving relevant facts.

"The use of the one name 'evidence' for the fact to be proved, and the means by which it is proved, has given a double meaning to every phrase in which the word occurs". Thus, for instance the phrase 'primary evidence' sometimes means a relevant fact, and sometimes the original of a document as opposed to a copy. 'Circumstantial evidence' is opposed to 'direct evidence'. But circumstantial evidence usually means a fact from which some other fact is inferred, whereas 'direct evidence' means testimony given by a man as to what he has himself perceived by his own senses. It would thus be correct to say that circumstantial evidence must be proved by direct evidence—a clumsy mode of expression which is in itself a mark of confusion of thought. The evil, however, goes beyond mere clumsiness of expression. People have naturally enough supposed that circumstantial and direct evidence admit of being contrasted in respect of their cogency, and that different canons can be applied to each. But this is wrong. They ought to satisfy before the Court the same theory of proof, and is an abuse of the word 'evidence'. Stephen's Introduction pp. 4, 5, 8, 9.

S.

Evidence,—meaning of the word generally When we look back to the derivation of the word "evidence," we are awed by the vast area the subject evidence is understood to be anything that makes evident or clear to the mind or such things collectively, any ground or reason for knowledge or certitude in knowledge; proof whether from immediate knowledge or from thought, authority or testimony; a fact or body of facts on which a proof, belief or judgment is based; that which shows or indicates

Evidence—Meaning of the word in the Act The word “evidence” in the Act

Evidence—Meaning of the word in the Act signifies only the instruments before the Court, viz., witnesses and documents, in the case of murder [see post, section 7, illustration (b)] is not evidence in the sense in which the term is used in the Act, but a 'relevant fact' to be proved by 'evidence,' the oral testimony of those who saw it. Norton v. Brown, 113, Mass. at p. 137. So the definition of "evidence" in this Act is defective. When in a controversy between a tailor and his customer, involving the fit of a coat the customer puts on the coat and wears it during the trial, (as in Brown v. Foster, 113, Mass. at p. 137), a basis of inference is supplied otherwise than by reasoning or by statements, whether oral or written; and it seems impossible to deny to this the name of "evidence". It is what Bentham called "real evidence". It is what Thayer called "Gopal" when it does include those facts which in directly to the sense of the Court or Prof Greenleaf "evidence in legal which any alleged matter of fact, the ... approved" Green truth of which is submitted to investigation, is established or disproved." Green Et al v I § 1. It "includes all the legal means, exclusive of mere argument, which tend to prove or disprove every matter of fact, the truth of which is submitted to judicial investigation." Taylor v I p 1, Powell Et al 1.

The word "evidence" as defined in this Act does not include the whole material of a case. - S. 2002. Judge may

S. 3. "Evidence for inspection of the Court" So also would be the examination of the accused before the committing Magistrate when given in evidence at the Sessions trial. When one of the several accused persons makes a confession involving himself and some of the co-accused, it may be taken into consideration as against all the persons so involved (111e & 10 infra). Such statements are also excluded from the definition of the word "evidence". Cun Fe p 81. The term "evidence" in its ordinary sense signifies that which makes apparent the truth of a matter. It is no doubt more frequently applied to proof before a judicial tribunal but it is not necessarily confined to this sense; it applies with equal correctness to express the information acquired by any person who undertake an enquiry on any matter in question. Srinivas v Queen 4 M 393 (394). The demeanour of a witness is evidence, 111e H v Mathub 21 W R Cr 13, 14. "The manner of giving his evidence both in chief and upon cross examination, is often times not less material than the testimony itself." Starke Ld 4th Ed 82, 823, H 12-13. Destrant 1 R 1 P 615, see also Hoomesh v Rashmoni, 21 C 279 (244).

So it is clear that the definition of evidence is incomplete. It does not include the statements and admissions of parties their conduct and demeanour before the Court and circumstances coming under the direct cognizance of the Court and having a material bearing on the question in issue. It does not include the absence of probable witnesses or evidence, as to which 111e section 114 certain notorious facts of which without proof the Court takes judicial notice (111e & 10 infra) and the facts which the Court either must or may presume. These are also not evidence under the Act (111e Cun Ev p 91). In an action for breach of promise to marry the fact that the defendant was silent on a certain occasion has been held to be "inimutory evidence" corroborative of his promise to marry (111e Brayley v Stern 2 C P D 266 (1)) though it would not fall under Stephen's definition (111e p 10). When relevant fact is proved and is expressly authorized by law to be taken into consideration, it is "evidence", though the result has not been expressed in these words by the legislature, and must be used in the same way as everything else that is evidence." R v Ashworth 4 C 492 (1 B). Confession made by one prisoner affecting himself and others jointly under trial for the same offence is evidence, although the Act has not so called it (111d, referred to in R v Arshana Bhat, 10 B 326, but see Queen v Khanda 15 B 66, Reg v Bayan Rat 1 N Cr C 311, K E v Pakiri, 2 L B R 372). A statement made by an accused person during a police investigation, on solemn affirmation before a Magistrate is evidence. Queen v Alagar, 10 M 421 distinguishing Queen v Bhama 11 B 702. The term "evidence" is not necessarily confined to proof before a judicial tribunal but applies also to information acquired by any person, who undertakes an inquiry on any matter in question. Srinivas v Queen 4 M 393 (396).

The terms "evidence" and "proof". The terms are often used in such a manner as to include at one time the media by which the facts are established and at another the effect or conclusions produced by the same. It is an attempt that has been frequently made but it is not successful. The difference between the terms "evidence" and "proof" is that evidence is in the full meaning of the word, while proof is in the legal sense. More accurate medium 277; Ja 73. "We must not all of the evidence" J N W 925, 101 Ga 9, Am St Rep 108 N Y, convince the, proof in that, Common.

Testimony. The dictionary meaning of the word testimony is "a solemn declaration or affirmation made for the purpose of establishing or proving some fact." Webster. In Bouvier's Law Dictionary, the following definition occurs: "The statement made by a witness under oath or affirmation." So testimony is evidence, therefore, differs from proof as 111e H v Mathub 21 W R Cr 13, 14; Green 1 Ev 1.

is a species of evidence by means of witnesses. The broader term 'evidence' includes that which is given by witness, or offered by documents. Carroll v Banker, 43 La Am 1078. Clause (a) defines testimonial evidence.

Testimony—Evidence—Proof The three words, 'testimony', 'evidence' and 'proof' stand in their order of importance as follows: (1) Testimony—that kind of evidence which consists of verbal declarations of a witness. (2) Evidence—the means of proof, subdivided into several species or kinds, one of which is testimonial evidence. (3) Proof—the result of evidence.

ought under the circumstances of the particular case, to act upon the supposition that it exists." "It would appear, therefore, that the Legislature intentionally refrained from using the word, 'evidence' in this definition but used instead the words, 'matters before it'. For instance a fact may be orally admitted in Court. The admissibility of the word 'evidence' as given in the definition before whom the admission is made, in order to determine whether the fact is proved. C J (Sir Ramesh Chandra) with Maclean J concurring in Joy Coomar v Bundhollal 9 C 363 (366), see also Ahar Rai v Jhanjur Puri, 16 C W N 476, Per Maclean C J and Banerjee J in Dinka Nath v Prosonno Kumar, 1 C W N 682.

Difference between oral and Documentary evidence "Legal Evidence is not confined to the human voice or object capable of making a truthful statement. It is classified as documentary evidence. It is the thing which speaks, in documentary evidence the witness is the thing who speaks. In either case the witness must be competent, i.e. must be deemed competent to make a truthful statement, and in either case the competency of the witness is tested by cross examination, and in documentary evidence the difference being that in oral testimony, and in documentary evidence the witness is tested by cross examination, while in documentary evidence the credit of the witness is tested by the cross examination of those who must be called to have this competency." Per Hamersley J, in Curtis v Bradby, 65 Conn 99-43 Am St Rep 177.

Several classification of Evidence By the text writers evidence is classified under the following heads: (1) Direct or circumstantial evidence (2) real or personal, (3) original or unoriginal.

lighted the fire or in the case of a witness who has seen the facts than with that of a person who has concluded, from the evidence, that the fire was lighted.

on experience and observed facts and coincidences establishing a connection

3. between the known and proved facts and the facts sought to be proved. Commonwealth v Webster, 5 Mass (Wiss) 295=52 Am Am Del 711 (723); Adarar v Emperor, 11 C W N 1035 Legal Remembrancer v. Moti Lal, (S B) 41 C 173=17 C W N 1233 See also sections 6-16 of the Act. So direct evidence is that which proves the fact in dispute directly without any inference or presumption, and which if itself true conclusively establishes the fact. Indirect evidence is that which tends to establish the fact in dispute by proving another, and which though true does not of itself conclusively establish the fact, but which affords an inference or presumption of its existence. Direct evidence is that which immediately points to the question at issue. Indirect, or circumstantial evidence is that which only tends to establish the issue in proof of various facts sustaining by their consistency the hypothesis claimed. Vide Cal Code Cr. Pro §§ 1831, 1832. So evidence is either direct or indirect according as the principal fact follows from the evidence—the factum probandum from the factum probans—immediately or by inference. Vide Best § 27 Emperor v Ali 4 Bur L R 97. Various kinds of circumstantial evidence are codified under ss 6-16 of the Evidence Act.

Classification defective—It is clear from the definition given above that direct evidence means testimony given by a man as to what he has himself perceived by his senses whereas circumstantial evidence usually means a fact from which some other fact is inferred. These facts are called relevant facts in the Evidence Act. But a relevant fact or a fact which is called circumstantial requires to be proved by some evidence oral or documentary. So it is correct to say that circumstantial evidence must be proved by direct evidence—a clumsy mode of expression which is in itself a mode of confusion of thought. Vide Stephen's Introduction p 4. In direct evidence the facts apply directly to factum probandum while circumstantial evidence is proof of a minor fact which by indirection, logically and rationally demonstrates the factum probandum. Beason v State 43 Tex Cr 442. But in Harris v Vealand 10 N C 122, a different definition is given of circumstantial evidence. Evidence is of two kinds that which, if true, directly proves the fact in issue, and that which proves another fact from which the fact in issue may be inferred. But this definition of circumstantial evidence is against the accepted definition of the term. Vide Burrill on Circumstantial Evidence p 19.

"When the existence of any fact is attested by witnesses as having come under the cognizance of their senses or is stated in documents, the genuineness and veracity of which there seems no reason to question, the evidence of the fact is said to be direct or positive. By circumstantial evidence, on the contrary, is meant that the existence of the principal fact is only inferred from one or more circumstances, which have been established directly." Best on Presumptions p 246. In State v Goldsborough, 1 Hurst C C (Del) 302, Gulpin v J in charging the jury, thus defines circumstantial evidence. Circumstantial or presumptive evidence is, where some facts being proved, another fact follows as a natural or very probable conclusion from the facts actually proved so as readily to gain the assent of the mind from the mere probability of its having actually occurred. It is the inference of a fact from other facts proved, and the fact thus inferred and assented to by the mind is said to be presumed that is to say, it is taken for granted until the contrary be proved. And this is what is called circumstantial or presumptive evidence."

"Direct and circumstantial evidence" says Burr Jones are not different in their nature. For as Wharton says, All evidence consists of reason and fact co-operating as co-ordinate factors. Circumstantial evidence is merely direct evidence indirectly applied. And direct evidence, when closely analysed is found to possess the inferential quality. Direct and circumstantial evidence are not, therefore, in any sense opposed to each other." Burr Jones Ev § 6 b.

Circumstantial evidence, value of Circumstantial evidence to be relied upon must not merely point to the inference to be drawn but it must be of such a nature that it can possibly lead to no other inference. Kamal v Nandatal 56 C 738=33 C W N 711=116 Ind Cas 378=A I R 1929 Cal 37; Pri Chord v Emperor, 30 L J 18=112 Ind Cas 800; Okraguddin v Emperor, 15 Cr L J 193=23 Ind Cas 501=18 C W N 1147. The facts proved by circumstantial evidence should be inconsistent on a reasonable hypothesis with the innocence pronounced Emperor v Surnomoyee, 14 S. C 621; Hurju Mull v Inan Ali, 8 C W N 4 Cr L J 316-19 Ind Cas 1004=244 f. 684., Emperor v Jyot Ram, 49 Ind. 13 Ind Cas. 129-65 P L 1909, Arajala v. Emperor, 30 C W. I 16 Cr ;

Johua Bibi v Emperor, 35 C C. 391
(409) ; Daulat v Emperor, 77 I N 446.

stances and cor
439=A evidence against an accused but forming him cannot sustain a conviction Sum K
But circumstantial evidence of the strong Queen v Elahi Bux, 5 W R Cr 80 (91)

J 465
was not intended to exclude circumstantial seen, heard and felt Neel Kanto v Juggo- umstantial evidence of the most strongest Queen v Elahi, 5 W R Cr 80 p 94

Where no prima facie case had been made out against the accused, it is open to the accused to rely safely on presumption of innocence or on the infirmity of the evidence for the prosecution But when prima facie case is made out and the presumption of innocence is displaced, then the force of circumstantial evidence is augmented whenever the party attempts no explanation of facts which he may reasonably be presumed to be able and interested to explain Issar
Singh v The Crown, 7 S L R 109-15 Cr L J 497-24 Ind Cas 585

In the absence of direct evidence a person may be convicted solely on circumstantial evidence Empress v Ananla Ashore, 4 C W N cxvi

"Where there is nothing but the evidence of circumstances to guide you" said Mr Justice Bailey, those circumstances ought to be closely and neces sarily connected and to be made as clear as if they were absolute and positive proof" Re v Daunung, Salop Summer Assize, 1822 cited in Wills' Cir Ev p 288 Every circumstance therefore which is not clearly shown to be really connected with the hypothesis it is supposed to support must be rejected from the judicial balance, in other words, it must be distinctly established that there exists between the factum probandum and the facts which are adduced in proof of it a real connection, either evident and necessary, or so highly probable as to admit of no other reasonable explanation Wills' Cir Ev 289 Sir Alfred Wills in his admirable book lays down the following rules specially to be observed in the case of circumstantial evidence "(1) The facts alleged as the basis of any legal inference must be clearly proved, and beyond reasonable doubt connected with the factum probandum (2) The burden of proof is always on the party who asserts the existence of any fact, which infers legal evidence, the e of the case admits (4) In order facts must be incompatible with the innocence c reasonable hypc doubt of the gnil Cir Ev Chapte case based on

witness should swear to a fact forming only one link in a chain of circumstances, the rest of the witnesses being honest, he will be in danger of detection from the discrepancy between his testimony and theirs; when he might be sworn positively, but falsely, to the commission of the crime by the accused, without the possibility of being contradicted. For this reason, although from the imperfection and uncertainty which must ever exist in all human tribunal, I have no doubt that there have been cases in which innocent persons have been convicted on pre-emptive proof, yet from my knowledge of criminal jurisprudence, both from reading and observation I have no hesitation in expressing the opinion that when there has been one unjust conviction upon circumstantial evidence alone, there have been three innocent persons condemned upon the positive testimony of perjured witnesses." In Commonwealth v. Harman, 1 Pa. 259 Chief Justice Gibson of Pennsylvania observed "Circumstantial evidence is, in the abstract, nearly, though perhaps not altogether, as strong as positive evidence; in the concrete, it may be infinitely stronger. A fact positively sworn to by a single eye-witness of blemished character is not so satisfactorily proved as is a fact which is the necessary consequence of a chain of other facts sworn to by many witnesses of undoubted credibility."

Circumstantial evidence where to be resorted to—"The argument founded upon the abundance of the circumstances" says Sir Alfred Wills, "and the consequent opportunities of contradiction which they afford, belongs to another part of the subject. While each of these incidents adds greatly to the probative force of circumstantial evidence in particular cases, they have clearly no connection with an inquiry into the value of circumstantial evidence in the abstract. However numerous may be the independent circumstances to which the witnesses depose, the result cannot be of a different kind from, or superior to, that strong moral assurance which is the consequence of satisfactory proof by direct testimony, and for which, if such proof be attainable, every tribunal and every reasonable mind would substitute indirect or circumstantial prima facie afford strong reason for

p 18

Danger of circumstantial evidence in jury trial In a jury trial great caution is to be observed by the Judge as regards circumstantial evidence. In cases of such evidence process of inference and deduction are essentially involved, frequently of a delicate and perplexing character liable to numerous sources of fallacy. The mind itself, which has been an uneven mirror, imparting its

Ev 18, Rest on Presumptions,

XV § IV.

Circumstantial Evidence—Two kinds of Circumstantial evidence is of two kinds, conclusive and presumptive "conclusive," when the connection between the principal and evidentiary facts—the factum probandum and factum probans—is so direct and certain that the inference is irresistible. Circumstantial evidence is only probable, whatever be the degree of persuasion which it may generate. Best Ev § 293

Real or Personal Again evidence is either real or personal. By real evidence is meant evidence of things, the source, persons being to them in common with the "res" of the civilians immediately, where where its existence

the the and tion ment term, 150—

3. 1168 The real evidence is known by the name of "immediate" evidence. For obvious reason there is no class of evidence so convincing and satisfactory to a Court or a jury as that which is addressed directly to the senses of such Court or jury. Such objects are, when it is convenient, brought into the court room for such inspection. If this is not convenient or possible, the Judge or Jury may if it seems practicable and necessary, view the object or premises in question. That the Court, the tribunal has been desirous to pay a high tribute to this class of evidence is shown by the fact that where the point of issue was evidently the "object of sense," the Judges sometimes dispensed with a Jury and decided the question on their own senses. Black Com 331. It is by oral testimony of witnesses and by things which can be seen by the Jury, subject always to consistency demands that if the ends of justice require it should be produced by them. It is not calling for any unusual exercise of any of their senses. Burr Jones § 11. In Reel v. Territory, 120 Am St Rep 861, Turnman P J observed: "But this does not make them witnesses in the case. They have simply tested the credibility of the witnesses by the personal experience and observations of the jurors. A thousand things in the lives and observations of the jurors may influence them in doing this, but a knowledge of these things has never been regarded as making the jurors witnesses in this case. In this case the jurors were not trial witnesses, but the contents of the bottles were not learned by the prosecuting witnesses. If the witnesses did not learn any of her words, they were not witnesses before them to test their true character." Similarly in Gentry v. Mc Guinness, 3 Dana, (Ky) 282, Robertson C J said: "The counsel denies that personal inspection by the jurors on the trial is proper or allowable evidence. To a rational man of perfect organization the best and highest proof of which any fact is susceptible is the evidence of his own senses. This is the ultimate test of truth and is therefore the first principle in the philosophy of evidence. Hence autopsy, or the evidence of one's own senses, furnishes the strongest probability, and indeed the only perfect and indubitable certainty of the existence of any verifiable fact. Others, do not see the fact. Their own senses are the only satisfactory testimony to them. Hence the policy of the law has been permitted to require that the body be produced whenever it was practical and convenient."

So the remains of a deceased person may be produced when in a fit condition for an autopsy.

for an autopsy from the post mortem examination and

Jury may decide of a person. On inspection; and so with a putative body infra written evidence is delivered through oral (5) When real evidence is reported, either by word of mouth or otherwise Best § 29

Hearsay Evidence "There is a great head of the law of evidence, comprising indeed, with its exceptions, much of the largest part of all that truly belongs there, forbidding the introduction of hearsay. The true historical nature of this rule is hinted by the remark of an English Court, two centuries ago and over, when they checked the attempt of a woman to testify what another woman had told her. The Court, it was quietly remarked, 'are of opinion that it will be proper for Wills to give her own evidence'. [Ellis v. Canning's Case, 10 St. Tr. 383 (106)] That is to say, the objection went to the medium of communication; witnesses before the jury, in giving ordinary testimony, had by that time been allowed for some three centuries and over, as they said in the witnesses to Courts in older times not be testimony at second hand vide § 60 infra

A fact is said to be proved when, after considering the matters before it, the Court either believes it to exist, or considers its existence so probable that a prudent man ought, under the circumstances of the particular case, to act upon the supposition that it exists

A fact is said to be disproved when, after considering the matters before it, the Court either believes that it does not exist, or considers its non-existence so probable that a prudent man ought, under the circumstances of the particular case, to act upon the supposition that it does not exist.

"Not proved" A fact is said not to be proved when it is neither proved nor disproved

"Proved", meaning of "Proof" said Lord Moulton in Hawkins v. Powell's Coal Ltd, L R (1911) 1 K B 600 at 605-606 T T W R 700-701 T T 265 "does not mean impossible. It means in our acts, in our thoughts we act upon just and reasonable convictions Per Lord Coleridge J in Rex v. I cited in Wills' Cir Ev p 50 So case it is never meant that he must prove can be done is to adduce such evidence done by direct evidence or by inference fit to rest in surmise, conjecture or Powell's Coal Co Ltd, u/s supra

W N. 265 at ¶ 270 Jenkins C J

thus observed; "Demonstration or a conclusion at all points logical can not be

3. expected nor can a degree of certainty be demanded of which the matter under investigation is not reasonably capable. Accepting the external test which experience commands, the Evidence Act in conformity with the general tendency of the day adopted the requirements of the prudent man as an appropriate concrete standard by which to measure proof. See also Prasanna Mohi v. Balanthe, 49 C 132; Gowshi v. Lalani, 23 C 1 J 209. So none but Mathematical truth is susceptible of that high degree of evidence, called demonstration, which excludes all possibility of error, and which, therefore, may reasonably be required in support of every mathematical deduction. Matters of fact are proved by moral evidence alone by which is meant, not only that kind of evidence which is employed on subjects connected with moral conduct, but all the evidence which is not obtained from intuition, or from demonstration." Greenleaf Ev § 1 to be left to South rarely

Standard of belief of a prudent man

the consequence of strictly logical process. It is either partially or entirely the outgrowth of education—bias, affection, fear, or some other influencing passion. We believe what we wish to believe, and what we are in the mood of accepting as true. The same evidence which to one may be convincing to another may seem absurd. Per Vice-Chancellor Pitney, in Duval v. Duval, 34 Atl. Rep 885 at p 896. So there is no standard by which the weight of conflicting evidence can be ascertained. Per Sutherland J in People v. Superior, Ct 5 Wind (N Y) 14 (126). In estimating the weight of ounces, pounds, or tons, and yet we know from the lightest feather to the most abiding is to note all the facts and circumstances and relative weight by the lights of conscience and experience. Loylan v. Miller, 26 N J H 274 (333). We have no test of truth of human testimony, except its conformity to our own. Per Vice-Chancellor in Jersey City Bank v. O'Rowl which all evidence rests upon the mind is determined by observation and experience, the only original instructors of wisdom. Whitaker v. Farler Per Beal J 42 Iowa, 650 (587).

Evidence which will satisfy one Court may not satisfy another. Any attempt to lay down a provision that such evidence as does not satisfy a particular Court shall be insufficient in the future to prove a similar fact before any other Court is an attempt to make law rather than interpret it. Raghupat v. Emperor, 100 Ind Cas 535=28 Cr L J 311=A 1 R 1927 Oudh 140.

Legal proof, what it is. In Barindra Kumar Ghose v. The Emperor 37 C 467=14 C W N, 1114 at p 1178, Carnall J observed "Legal proof

he defines Evidence as existing so probable that a prudent man ought, under the circumstances of the particular case, to act upon the supposition that it exists' When the section speaks of the matters before the Court, it means of course, the matters properly before it; whence it follows that, if and when relevant matter has been admitted in evidence, one must be careful—I would here refer to the provisions of section 167 c.

any conceivable, admit proof of probable between the rule that this is not upto juris et de pure Emperor v. Shrinivas, 7 Bom L R 969=3 Cr L J 33, see also Jarat Kumari v. Bissessur, 39 C. 245; Bonsogomoff v. Nahapiet Jute Co., 6 C W. N 495 (505).

Suspicion conjecture, etc., probative force of "Suspicion cannot give probative force to testimony which in itself is insufficient to establish or to justify" Per Andrew C J in People v Tansley, 143 N

(C C no upon it, is without rudder and compass" (C conjecture or suspicion to take the place of legal proof' Per Carduff J in Barindra v Emperor, 37 C 467-14 C W N 1114 at p 1178 In the same case Jenkins C J observe: "Another matter to which I desire to allude is the general character of the evidence From the nature of the case it is to a large extent circumstantial, and in dealing with it, the rules especially applicable must be borne in mind There is always the danger in a case like the present that conjecture or suspicion may take the place of legal proof, and therefore it is right to recall the warning addressed by Mr Baron Allerson to the jury in Reg v Hages 2 Lewis C C 227 Where he said 'the mind was apt to take a pleasure in adapting circumstances to one another, and even in straining them a little, if need be, to force them to form parts of one connected whole, and the more ingenious the mind of matters to over reach and take for granted some to render them complete' there may be a strong mo 25 W R Cr 43

So neither juries nor Courts are permitted to render verdicts or judgments upon guesses or surmises Laggle v Allen, 24 N Y App Div 594, see also 511 (P C) 'It is not the habit of The Ship Henry Eubank, 1 Summ possibilities" A mere conjecture built upon a bare possibility will not suffice to transfer the money another Pauley v St 1039 P C-12 C becomes inconsistent plaintiff has produced sufficient evidence to establish his case he is not to be defeated upon mere surmise or conjecture Lord Chief Justice Kenyon said, he remembered in instance, 'bordering on the ridiculous where in an action on the game law not charged with fright, and to grant a new trial in person v Layton 14 14 200

In Mina Kunari v Bhoj Singh, 44 I A 72 at p 77-44 C 662-21 C W N 585 Sir Lunceford Jenkins observed that though in cases of alleged benami transactions there may be grounds for suspicion, yet the Court's decision must rest not upon suspicion but upon legal grounds established by legal testimony See also Alfred v 28 C W N 62-21 Ind Cts 667, Promode

Kumar Ro Singh, 25 Mani Lal v Raja Bhoj eeaman Chander v Gopal nat Indu 23 C W N Bipin Krishna v Priya

must rest not upon suspicion but testimony Lachnam v Radha Char 15, Jasoda Lal v Balaram, 35 C Nagendra 66 Ind Cts 691 Motilal Kumar v Bhoj 21 C W N 585 Balwant v Daulat 8 A 315 Iac v 14 14 200, 14 14 200 Mahatir, 9 C 656, Kali Chandra v Shub Chandra, 6 H L R 501

Mere suspicion of fraud 'Astute as Courts should be' says Knaff J in Muirhead v Smith 35 N J Eq 303 (309) 'in the detection of fraud, they are no justified in finding it on grounds which show no more than its possible existence When the acts of parties admit of a reasonable interpretation in favour of honesty and fair dealing, they should receive it' In a suit to set aside a fraudulent conveyance "tangible facts must be proved, from which a legitimate inference o which is a third class & other cases - they are not evidence as defined by the Act

L J 138 So also commissioner's report is to see that it is filed as an 301-51 M L J 637 Ordinarily of great importance Abdul v Emperor, 37 C 340-14 C W

N 422 there are no doubt passages in the judgment of Woodroffe J, which might seem to imply that the observation of a fact by the Magistrate could not be admitted. But a careful perusal meant is that mere observation evidence and a case cannot be the Court locally. If in looking at a place in order to understand the evidence the Magistrate thereby understands that the description of the place given in the evidence is erroneous or false he is certainly not precluded by the laws of evidence from holding that the facts stated by the witnesses who gave that erroneous or false himself a witness shown that most important matters before

To hold otherwise would be in direct conflict with Joy Comar's case 9 C 363 which so far as we know has never been dissented from Altaf Rai v Jhangur Tewari 16 C W N 426 (429)-39 C 476 But a Judge without giving evidence in a case as a witness cannot import into a case his own knowledge of particular facts Haropersad v Sheo Dyal 26 W R 55 P C-3 I A 286 see also Mithan Bibi v Bashere Khan 11 M I A 213-7 W R P C 27

only for the it should Ind Cas 60 The generally the wrong impression from the mind of the Magistrate by cross examining him. The danger is intensified if the Magistrate holds the local enquiry ex parte Ram Sahai v Durla Singh 61 Ind Cas 712-1 P L T 569 So where a Magistrate makes use of knowledge derived from a local inspection without affording the accused an opportunity to cross examine or to explain the points against him he acts with material irregularity sufficiently to vitiate the trial Moran v Emperor, 61 Ind Cas 791-2 Pat L 1 455 It is not only not objectionable but shot bear not his :

rule 9 Civil Procedure Code a Judge in a civil case makes a local inspection in person at his discretion. The decisions in Pai Krishori Ghosh v Humudini Kanti Ghosh 14 Ind Cas 377-15 C L J 138 Anant Lal v Gokul Sahu 35 Ind Cas 344 and Durla Prosad v Malhu Lal 52 Ind Cas 211 are cases the decisions of which are based on the omission from Order XXVI rule 9 of the Code of Civil Procedure of the words that occurred in section 392 of the old Code which provided for the issue of a commission for a local investigation only in cases where it could not be conveniently conducted by the Judge in person. Safapathy v Perumal 62 Ind Cas 790-41 M 640 As the rule now stands a Judge may issue a commission in any case when he deems it fit to do so irrespective of his own inconvenience. Ibid Sometimes the question arises whether the report of a process server can be considered by a Court as matters before it. But the report of a process server is not admissible in evidence unless he be examined as a witness with regard to it Fateh Muhammad v Hafiz Khan 96 Ind Cas

825-A 1 R 1926 Lah 620 So the Court can take into consideration the following things which do not fall within the definition of the word evidence in deciding a case (1) any material object brought before it (111e s 60 of the Evidence Act and section 218 of the Criminal Procedure Code), (2) the demeanour of witnesses, (3) facts of which the Court can take the parties or the accused and her by a Court (7) or by commissioners appointed by a Court vide Munipuri v. Qurn, 4 M 393 (395)

But personal knowledge of the Judge and matters not relevant duly proved cannot be the basis of any judgment. Durga Prasad v. Ram Doyal, 38 C 133, see also Thurpershad v. Shro Dyal, 31 A 286, Mitham v. Basir, 7 W. R. 27 (P. C.), Narain v. K. E. 50 C 37 Rousseau v. Pinto, 7 W. R. 190, R v. Ramcharan, 24 W. R. Cr 28, Lallabha v. Mathusulan, 12 W. 495, (500); Sooraj v. Khode, 22 W. R. 9 The same rule is true in cases of arbitration Kanhye v. Ram, 24 W. R. 81 "A Judge is not entitled to rely on specific facts not proved by the evidence in the case but known to him personally or otherwise but he may use his general knowledge and experience in determining the credibility of evidence adduced before him and apply it to a decision of the specific facts in dispute in the case" per Sunder Ayyar J in Lalshamaya v. Varadaraja, 26 M 168, see also British South African Co v. Lennon, 34 I. A. 273 (P. C.) In the unless both the parties after he so mentions to them his said personal knowledge of that particular incident, state that they have no objection to his continuing as Judge"

Probable—Probability is the term generally used to express the preponderance of the evidence or arguments, in favour of the existence or non existence of a particular event or proposition, and sometimes as assertion of the abstract and intrinsic credibility of a fact or event Hills' Civ. Ev. p. 8

Prudent Man—Truth being a phrase used in reference alike to things capable and to things incapable of absolute and quasi-mathematical demonstration, the evidence appropriate to inquiries after truth must necessarily be different according to the class of the events or propositions which are the subjects of inquiry. This classification, however, is not founded on any essential difference in the nature of truths themselves, and ability of perceiving them, the object of knowledge is in absolutely and really as it is. of probability of a prudent man is laid down vide next topic Distinction between Factum Probandum and Factum Probans Evidence is always a relative term. It signifies the factum probans, or proposition to be proved nature

spect ations ved?

each nally posi
ly be offered that John Doe left the vehicle at such a time, it is in its turn becoming a proposition, the Doe's shoes fit the track left becoming a proposition, may be stand who has placed the shoe in the track. Here each fact in its turn becomes a proposition requiring the facts, more or fewer Proposition or Evidentiary of the moment — Wigmore's Principles

Distinction between Inference and proof "Inference is the persuasive operation of each separate evidentiary fact, as to an Interim Probandum. Proof is the persuasive operation of the total mass of evidentiary facts, as to a Probandum."

"We are dealing here, always, with a state of mind, a mental process, and analogies are helpful."

"An inference may be likened to a push given to a wheel chair in which the thinker is sitting. The door of the house is open towards the door. Party A gives the push; Party B does not."

"The wheel may or may not have reached the door. — In studying the various kinds of evidence, therefore, we are not expecting proof from any one piece, but only an inference. No question of proof arises until all the evidence—pushes, have been given."

about or error
the process

"The process may or may not result in our belief that he lost it or that he never put it on, but in either case our belief as to one or the other propositions is distinct from our inference. The advocate asks the tribunal to infer, and the tribunal proceeds to infer, as to think probatively, but this inference may or may not result in belief. The term 'inference' has been some times used ambiguously to include either or both the process and the result." Wigmore's Principles of Judicial Proof § 4

Real Foundation of Proof "The real foundation of Proof is always the recognition of resemblance and difference between things or events known and observed, and those which are on their trial,—whether such recognition is based (1) on knowledge already reached and formulated in names or propositions or (2) on direct observation and experiment. (1) In proportion as we openly and distinctly refer to known principles (already generalised knowledge) is Proof deductive. (2) in proportion as we rapidly and somewhat dimly frame new principles, is Proof inductive. That is under the shadow of the sweep within the sweep broader than itself."

and interaction between two opposite processes

to say of so some of which to bring our thesis, we reach no foundation no assurance beyond what has been found to contradict the the required for all rationalization that a certain sign is trustworthy an assertion that the sign is the Thesis. In other words all rationally. But there is yet a method and deductive), and, with certain make some use of it.

deductive That is under the shadow of the sweep within the sweep broader than itself.

'Although the legence of my Thesis on its Reason must be rationalized —we must have the underlying principle made clear—before the testing operation can be called complete yet in regard to special dangers it makes considerable difference whether that principle is at first definitely apprehended or not—

Proof—and that which rests upon what is or perception of resemblance and difference or observation and experiment —that which is commonly known in its highest form as Inductive Proof —as the Argument from Analogy The required limitations the first place, a clear recognition or law connecting the cases is in the case of Inference commonly dropped out of sight or at least left highly indistinct yet the whole cogency of Inductive Proof depends upon the extent to which such principle is first rendered definite and then confronted with observable or make it of course extremely difficult in practice to label every case at once with one or the other name. Some times as where the Reason is a direct statement of the Principle itself or again where it consists of a record or some experiment no hesitation need practically be felt as to where the danger lies but in a large number of cases we have no means of deciding whether the argument may best be classed as empirical or deductive or both. "But because if we can be an argument. However we action between them has a certain real importance as already shown, and all that is intended to be done with it is to recognize that so far as the given argument may be seen to belong to one or the other class so far we are already on the track of special dangers'—vide Professor Alfred Sidgwick Fallacies pp 212. A brief examination will show that in the offering of evidence in Court the form of inference is always inductive.

Suppose to prove a charge fixed design to kill the deceased to kill B therefore A probably resemblance of a syllogism. The form of inference is exactly the same when we argue yesterday Dec 31 A slipped on the side walk and fell, therefore the side walk was probably coated with ice' or 'To day A who was bitten by a dog yesterday died in convulsions therefore the dog probably had hydrophobia. So with all other legal evidentiary facts whether circumstantial or testimonial we may argue last week the witness A had a quarrel with the nd with a After B's probably an adult of an affray obably true that B did strike first. In all these cases we take a single or isolated fact and upon it base immediately an inference as to the proposition in question. This is the Inductive or Empirical process.

—supposed is thus in the is are ably

... would kill B?

least capable y forcing into prominence the implied Law or generalization on which it rests more or less obscurely. Thus it is nothing peculiar to litigious inference that this possibility of turning it into deductive form exists here also. But it is not a question of what the form might be—for all inductive may be turned into deductive forms—but of what it is, as actually employed; and it is actually put forward in inductive form.

"(2) Even supposing this transmutation to be a possibility, it would still be usually undesirable to make the transmutation for the purpose of testing probative value; because it would be useless. We should ultimately come to the same situation as before. Thus, in one of the instances above 'A repaired machinery after the accident, therefore A was conscious of a negligent defect in it'; suppose we turn this into deductive form: 'People who make such repairs show a consciousness of negligence, A made such repairs, therefore, A was conscious of negligence.' We now have an inference sound (in form, at least) deductively, if the premises be conceded. But it remains for the Court to decide whether it proves, probably shows, etc.) that they are conscious of negligence.' But here we come again, after all, to an inductive form of inference. The consciousness of negligence is to be inferred from the fact of repairs, just as the presence of electricity in the clouds was inferred by Franklin from the shock through the kite string, i. e., by a purely inductive form reasoning. So with all other evidence when resolved into the deductive form, the transmutation is useless because the Court's attention is merely transferred from the syllogism as a whole to the validity of the inference contained in the major premise, which presents itself again in inductive form.

For practical purposes, then, it is sufficient to treat the use of litigious evidentiary facts as generally inductive in form." Wigmore's Principles of Judicial Proof, § 9

Form of Inference—Occasional deductive form. Nevertheless the deductive form occasionally may be used,—even must be used, in seeking to discover the real points of weakness of inference. The two commoner cases of this used general involving a Principles of Practical Inference — — — — — the loophole these, we shall in weighing the opponent thus set forth source of fall convenient of causes, or unknown antecedents, or of arguing esthe. post hoc ergo propter hoc or per enumerationem simplicem, or of neglecting to exclude alternative possibilities, or of forgetting that facts may bear more than one interpretation or of failing to see below the surface, or—perhaps on the whole the best of all—of unduly neglecting points of difference.

"The form of proposed inference is, a case or cases brought forward, of which a certain conclusion is asserted to be the best explanation. If, then some better explanation is possible, the theory as stated is impeachable. By the of all possible w, is narrowed, ible way against on the cure, the : nment conduct of real value ble theories are all precautions

3. have been taken against that crudest kind of unchecked generalization which the er, more directly
 -trust—concrete

over all its position the conditions under is the main lesson of is each case is, What right one out of all those conceivable? The methods of Inductive Proof may be viewed as attempts to answer this question." Subsequent Fallacies p 270

 The peculiar danger, then, of Inductive Inference is that there may be other explanations, than the alleged Probandum one, for the fact taken as the basis of proof. Therefore this principle is to be examined from the point of view of the opposing parties in a legal trial. Proponent and opponent in turn offer evidence. Both counsel and the tribunal therefore need to examine each piece of evidence, first, from the proponent's point of view, next, from the opponent's point of view, and finally, from the tribunal's point of view. Wigmore
Principles of Judicial Proof § 11

Same from the View point of the Proponent of Evidence "If the potential defect of Inductive Evidence is that the fact offered as the basis of the conclusion may be a failure to exclude a point of proof, a fact open, there might be Inference desired. If said, he could not was absolutely prove own somnambulism

of inference, evidence of an extraordinary degree of probability. The propo-sitional text, then, from the point of view of valuing the inference, would be something like this Does the evidentiary fact point to the desired conclusion (no as the only rational hypothesis of which the fact is an explanation) more of this Probans?

7 be illustrated

7 will raise akes to promi nquish

upon the practical availability of stronger facts. But the general op-mode of reasoning of the Courts substantially illustrates the dictates of scientific logic." Wigmore's Principles of Judicial Proof § 12.

Same from the view point of the opponent of evidence "Where the scientist is dealing with the subject of Proof in Logic, the single stage of the inquiry is whether the argument offered as involving Proof does really fulfil the logical requirements. But wherever, in the applications of logical principles to specific practical purposes, two parties are found contending, the proponent and the opponent—as in a formal debate, and, pre-eminently, a trial at law—the treatment of the inference falls into two stages. Whenever, on the evidential fact—complete proof
a probable inf

opponent He may now properly show, by of these hypotheses, thus left open, is admitted in evidence, but its for showing that some explanation of it other than the proponent's is the true one

"Thus every sort of evidentiary fact may call for treatment in a second aspect, by the opponent, viz. What are the other hypotheses which are available for the opponent as explaining away the force of the fact already admitted?

"The explan
a fact The grer
the less the value

Principles of Judicial Proof § 10

There are other processes available to the opponent in opposing the proposed Inference. He has three processes in all. He may, (1) As already seen, seek to explain away the proposed inference. Or, (2) he may deny the existence of the evidentiary fact itself. Or, (3) he may offer some new and rival evidentiary fact, tending independently to disprove the Probandum.

"But in neither of the latter two cases is he using any new logical principle. In (2) he is not contesting the logical value of the proponent's inference but inference pointing directly at the Probandum, but negatively, he thus becomes a Proponent, in turn as to that new rival evidentiary fact; and the same logical principle applies, in valuing his new proposed inference, that applied to the Proponent's original inference.

"To illustrate

"To charge A with murder, the prosecution shows a specific threat, an old quarrel, and traces of blood on his clothes. The defendant may answer:

(1) Explaining tion, explaining away this is the complemen facts of quarrel and complementary proces original facts,

admission, here the defendant is simply a proponent of new evidentiary facts, just as the prosecution was for its own evidence, thus new question of relevancy depends on precisely the same tests as the prosecution's original evidence.

"All an opponent's modes are reducible to these three. In the first, he is an opponent by logical nature of his argument. In the second, he is an opponent from the contradictory point of view, but this may require him to become a proponent of either a new circumstance or a new witness. In the third, he becomes himself the proponent of a new argument, which the original proponent may now attack as an opponent. The first is inherent in the probative use of the proponent's original fact, the other two are not inherent, and may or may not be resorted to"—Wigmore's Principles of Judicial Proof § 14.

3.

applicable more fruitful of results against a concrete or an abstract thesis than against a directly abstract one. And the right of the truth over all its possible rivals, depends entirely upon the depth of the conditions under which is the main lesson of Logic

In each case is What cert

right one out of all those conceivable? The methods of Inductive Proof may be viewed as attempts to answer this question. Salmuth's Fallacy The peculiar danger, then, of Inductive Inference is that there may be explanations, than the alleged Probandum one, for the fact taken as the point of proof. Therefore this principle is to be examined from the point of view of the opposing parties in a legal trial. Proponent and opponent in turn offer evidence. Both counsel and the tribunal therefore need to examine each point of evidence, first from the proponent's point of view, next, from the opponent's point of view and finally from the tribunal's point of view. Wigmore's Principles of Judicial Proof § 11

Same from the View point of the Proponent of Evidence. If the potential defect of Inductive Evidence is that the fact offered as the basis of the conclusion may be open to one or more other explanations or conclusions, the failure to exclude a single other rational hypothesis would be, from the stand point of proof, a fatal defect, and yet, if only that single other hypothesis were open, there might still be an extremely high degree of probability for the Inference desired. When Robinson Crusoe saw the human foot print on the sand, he could not argue inductively that the presence of another human being was absolutely proved, there was at least (for example) the hypothesis of his own somnambulism. Nevertheless, the fact of the foot print was, as a basis of inference, evidence of an extraordinary degree of probability. The provisional text, then from the point of view of valuing the inference, would be something like this: Does the evidentiary fact point to the desired conclusion (not as the only rational hypothesis, but as the most plausible or most natural one) state the requirement more

most to more ones?
red, the net ct, the only explanation

of this Probans?

"This test for the probative value of a proposed inference may be illustrated from various sorts of evidentiary facts

"The fact that A left the city soon after a crime was committed will raise a slight probability that he left because of his consciousness of guilt, but a greater one if his knowledge that he was suspected be first shown. Here the evident notion is that the mere fact of departure by one unaware of the charge is open to too many innocent explanations but the addition of the fact that A knew of the charge tends to put these other hypotheses into the back ground, and makes the desired explanation or conclusion—the guilty consciousness—stand out prominently as a more plausible hypothesis—epidemic in a greater naturalness of the desired expl

"Thus, throughout the whole reasoning the theory of the inductive and testi that the desired conclusion based as the other hypothesis or or natural. The degree evidentiary facts, depending with those facts somewhat

upon the practical availability of stronger facts. But the general spirit and mode of reasoning of the Courts substantially illustrates the dictates of scientific logic." Wigmore's Principles of Judicial Proof § 12 probative value if they were substantially similar to each other in all respects except the presence of x . This test is of comparatively rare employment in circumstantial evidence, because instances rarely occur which fulfil this requirement, unless where prearranged experiments are possible, but in testimonial evidence, the argument is frequently employed.

To illustrate. The injury to the by the defendant to sewer gas; for under conditions as nearly as possible, except the absence of sewer gas, argues that the sewer gas was the cause.

The purpose in using both these subordinate tests is always the same general one—to secure a fair probability for the claimed hypothesis, as against and in competition with other possible ones—It ignores Principles of Judicial Proof § 19

... evidence does not involve any already analyzed Corroboration may be several mental processes frequent use of the term 'corroboration' witness or two, duplicating the assertion of some prior witness. But this is not a new logical process.

(2) But the term "corroboration" is also used to signify the auxiliary evidential facts offered by opponent seeks to weaken the proponent, and in

... consists in offering data (as above noted) this may attempt to establish of them may cause these grounds of prop any the hesitation. The mere fact of the witness's making an assertion does not require us to believe the matter asserted, our knowledge of human nature forbids this. Hence the fact that

... less, testimony, corroboration varieties

Proof in Civil and Criminal Cases "Demonstration, or a conclusion at all points logical cannot be expected nor can a degree of certainty be demanded of which the matter under investigation is not reasonably capable. Accepting the external test which experience commands, the Evidence Act in conformity with the general tendency of the day adopted the requirements of a prudent man as an appropriate concrete standard by which to measure proof. The Evidence Act is at the same time expressed in terms which allow full effect to be given to conscience of the Court can never be bound by any rule, but that which coming from itself dictates a conscientious and prudent exercise of its judgment. And

... of the day adopted the requirements of the prudent man as an appropriate

3. speaking for myself where whatever be the form of proceeding, charges of a fraudulent or criminal character are made against a party thereto it is right to insist that such charges be proved clearly and beyond reasonable doubt though the nature and extent of such proof must necessarily vary according to the circumstances of each case. There is a presumption against crime and misconduct, and the more heinous and improbable a crime is the greater of necessity the force of the evidence required to overcome such presumption. I cannot man is a person

cord. It minal acts
And the require

See also Starke 12 817 Best 12 76 Taylor 10 112, R v White 4 Fort & 1 in 383 J v Madhub 21 W R Cr 13, R v Behare, 3 W R 23 25 R v Gocool 2 W R Cr 34 Trial of Lord Cornwallis 77 St Trials 149 Trial of R 1 Cro sfell 26 St Tr 218 The phrase proof beyond a reasonable doubt by no means imports a proof which calls for a mathematical reduction in the shape of the demonstration of guilt but is often far removed from it. Burr Jones 5 A reasonable doubt is not to be a mere quibble, an idle doubt created by questioning for the sake of a doubt nor suggested without some foundation in the evidence. It is such a doubt only as in a fair reasonable effort to reach a conclusion upon evidence using the mind in the same manner as in other matters of importance prevents the jury from coming to a conclusion in which their mind is satisfied. Commonwealth v Costley 118 Mass 1 (18)

Perhaps the best definition of reasonable doubt ever promulgated was that uttered by Chief Justice Shaw in Commonwealth v Webster, 5 Cush 295-52 Am Dec 711 (730). He observed in that case. Then, what is reasonable doubt? It is a term use I probably pretty well understood but not easily defined. It is not mere possible doubt because everything relating to human affairs and depending on moral evidence is open to some possible or imaginary doubt. It is that state of the case which after all the evidence leaves the mind of the jury feeling an abiding conviction to the truth of the charge. The burden of proof is upon the independent evidence and in favour of innocence and every person is presumed to be innocent until he is proved guilty. If upon such proof there is reasonable doubt remaining the accused is entitled to the benefit of it by an acquittal. For it is not sufficient to establish a probability, though a strong one arising from the doctrine of chances that the fact charged is more likely to be true than the contrary but the evidence must establish the truth of the fact to a reasonable and moral certainty, a certainty that convinces and directs the understanding and satisfies the reason and judgment of those who are found to act conscientiously upon it. This we take to be proof beyond reasonable doubt because if the law which mostly depends upon considerations of a moral nature should go further than this and require absolute certainty, it would exclude circumstantial evidence altogether. In Leopold v Strong 30 Cal (Am) 151 150 Currey C J says that it is "probably the most satisfactory definition ever given to the world" reasonable doubt in any case known to criminal jurisprudence.

Similarly in Com v Costley, 118 Mass 1 Gray C J said. Proof beyond a reasonable doubt is not beyond all possible or imaginary doubt but such proof as preclude every reasonable hypothesis except that which it tends to support. It is proof to a moral certainty as distinguished from an absolute certainty. As applied to a judicial trial for crime the two phrases are synonymous and equivalent each has been used by eminent judges to explain the other, and each signifies such proof as satisfies the judgment and conscience of the jury, as reasonable men and applying their reason to the evidence before them, that the crime charged has been committed by the defendant and so satisfies them as to leave no other reasonable conclusion possible.

The general rule merits and that the effects of a confession degree of proof referred to in 3 of the Evidence Act has been that. In Emperor v Agn Potha, U B R (1913) 2nd Cr 170-28 Ind Cas 166-14 on this

the
the
not

Cr L J 566 The section 114(b) amounts Magistrates that a fact of a 3, if there be witness Crown v Ra Cas 534

Stricter degree of proof in criminal cases Section 3, lays down what degree of certainty is sufficient to hold that a fact is proved Abdul v Crown 32 P R 1873 Cr Under s 3 a fact is said to be proved, when, after considering the matters before it, the Court either believes it to exist or considers its existence so probable that a prudent man ought under the circumstances of a particular case, to act upon the supposition that it exists. A stricter degree of proof is required in criminal proceedings, the persuasion of guilt must amount to such a moral certainty as convinces the mind of the tribunal as reasonable men, beyond all reasonable doubt. It is the business of the prosecution to bring guilt home to the accused, to the satisfaction of the minds of the jury but the doubt, to the benefit of which the accused is entitled, must be such as rational, thinking sensible men may fairly and reasonably entertain, not the doubt of a vacillating mind, that has not the moral courage to decide, but shelters itself in a vain and idle scepticism. There must be doubts, which men may honestly and conscientiously entertain Ali Lok v King Emperor, 3 L B R 216-4 Cr L J 383. There is a strong and marked difference as to the effect of evidence in civil and criminal cases. In the former, a mere preponderance of probability, due regard being had to the burden of proof, is a sufficient basis of decision, but in the latter, especially when the offence charged amounts to treason or felony, a much higher degree of assurance is required. The serious condemnation both to the accused and eater evils which flow from it than from a laws of every wise and civilised nation to lay down the principle, though often lost sight of in practice, that the persuasion of guilt ought to amount to a moral certainty.

as convinces the mind of the tribunal as reasonable men, beyond all reasonable doubt" P

Cooper v Slade,

2 Law C C 241, R v Lee 11 L J 111

that it is better that ten guilty men man should suffer" Per Holroyd J in see also Hale P C Ch 39, Wills' Cir Ev 511. The lower the crime is, the less the proof required

Lord Nottingham C, "the cle of Lord Cornwallis, 7 State T

said Baron Legge, "the mor should be made out to you

"The greater the crime, the more the proof required ing on the above

ed on reason and he best means of discovering truth, and are an integral part of our legal system, essential alike for private and social security. Nevertheless language of most dangerous tendency in regard to them has occasionally fallen from the learned judges, which implies that they may be modified, according to the enormity of the crime.

under any circumstances they may be relaxed according to notions of supposed expediency, they cease to be in any correct and intelligible sense, rules for the discovery of truth and the most valued rights of civilized men become the sporadic and arbitrary enactments of a legislature.

be it said that the

and

crim

relative enormity or penal consequences. Thus the law which

3. "moral certainty" is here used in certainty properly so called, for the accused person can never be excluded of criminal evidence, that degree of assurance which induces a man of sound mind to act upon it without doubt upon the conclusion to which it leads. Black's Law Dict. It is also defined as a high degree of impression of the truth and fact falling short of an absolute certainty, but sufficient to justify a verdict of guilty even in a capital case. Buriall Cr. 1 v. § 189

In ordinary civil cases a Judge of fact must find for the party in whose favour there is preponderance of proof although evidence be not entirely free from doubt. In criminal cases no weight of preponderance of evidence is sufficient short of that which excludes all reasonable doubt. Per Birch J. in Queen v. Madhub Giri 21 W. R. Cr. 13 at p. 20. Convictions must be based on substantial and sufficient evidence not merely moral convictions. Queen v. Sorob Faj 2 W. R. Cr. 28. When prisoners confess in the most circumstantial manner to having committed a murder the finding of the body is not absolutely essential to conviction. Queen v. Petta 4 W. R. Cr. 19, see also Queen v. Poorusoolah 7 W. R. Cr. 14. A Judge was held to have exercised a proper discretion in not passing sentence of death in a case in which the dead body was not found. Queen v. Baljuruddern 11 W. R. Cr. 20. Abbu Sal lar v. Empress 11 C. 64.

The difference between the trial of a civil and a criminal case is that in the former it is the duty of the parties to place their case before the Court as they think best, whereas in the latter it is the duty of the Court to bring all relevant evidence on the record and to see that justice is done. Emperor v. Jani 1 d. 1 283=60 Ind. Cas. 322

If the Judge of the Appellate is a right one and had any doubt concerning

Milar
25

original

Protap v. Rex 11 C. L. R. 25. Laljee v. Gudar 43 C. 838. Shumnugara v. Manikka 32 M. 400. Imdad v. Pateshri 32 A. 391. The Pathans of the Peshwar district being always disposed to exaggerate and add two charges against the guilty and totally false one against the innocent Peshwar murder cases invariably introduced into the evidence an element of doubt of a very intangible character. But an acquittal cannot be based on this kind of doubt. Section 3 of the Evidence Act, lays down what degree of certainty is sufficient to hold that a fact is proved. Abdul Karim v. Crown 39 P. R. 1873 Cr.

In all criminal cases, it is necessary that there should be a charge and a conviction as a foundation for the sentence everything should be strictly conjecture, the accused should not be called upon to make his defence. Cr. C. 772=Cr. Reg. 36 of 1893

Corpus delicti, proof of—in delicti is a collective name for the

—and not till then—do we require includes the facts that an injury has been inflicted and in circumstances showing that it was criminally inflicted, the enquiry who inflicted it begins only when the corpus delicti has been established. Hills Cr. Ev. 324, Evans v. R. v. Ah ned oorusoolah, table from tree of this kind may present themselves in practice, so many cases have occurred of conviction S.

Cu Li p 325, Abu Sikdar v Queen Empress, 11 C 642, R v Bepari Singh, 7 W R Cr 34

In cases of homicide three propositions must be made out in order to establish the corpus delicti (1) That a death has taken place (2) That the deceased is identified with the person alleged to have been killed (3) That the death was due to unlawful violence or criminal negligence and it is not till these propositions have been proved that the question—not included in the inquiry as to corpus delicti—Is the accused or suspected person the culprit, arises Wills' Cu Li 333 "I will never convict any person" said Sir Mathew Hale "of murder or man slaughter, unless the fact were proved to be done, or at least the body found" 2 P C Ch 39, see also R v Bepari, 7 W R Cr 34 But the above rule may in certain cases lead to absurdity and injustice and a murderer can escape conviction by successfully preventing discovery of dead body So now it is clearly established that the fact of the death may be legally inferred from such circumstances of presumption as render it morally certain, and leave no ground for reasonable doubt Wills' Cu Li 335

The terms "evidence" and "proof" These terms are often used in such a manner as to include at one time the media by which the facts are established, and at other the effect or conclusions produced by the testimony It is true the attempt has frequently been made, but without great success to distinguish between the terms "evidence" and "proof" The latter term in its popular meaning more full conviction

More accurate

medium of pr

character as to convince the intellect and conscience of men of a fact then that fact is proved Proof is that degree and quantity of evidence that produces conviction" Neving v Commonwealth, 93 Pa 322, 328 "Proof is that quantity of appropriate evidence which produces assurance and certainty Evidence, therefore, differs from proof as cause from effect" Wills' Cu Li 2, 3, Greenl. Ev § 1

4. Whenever it is provided by this Act that the Court may

May presume " presume a fact, it may either regard such fact as proved, unless and until it is disproved, or may call for proof of it

Whenever it is directed by this Act that the Court shall

"Shall presume presume a fact, it shall regard such fact as proved, unless and until it is disproved

When one fact is declared by this Act to be conclusive proof

"Conclusive proof" of another, the Court shall, on proof of the one fact, regard the other as proved, and shall not allow evidence to be given for the purpose of disproving it

Presumption, meaning of The word "presumption" in its legal significance, is used in English Law to describe either an inference or a rule of law Where the word is used synonymously with "inference" it deserves no special are many and various As a matter of fact it sometimes designates a rule of substantive law, and sometimes a rule of procedure, or other branch of adjective law. McKelvey's Evidence p 79 So in English Law, following the Civil Law,

4. presumptions are divided into three kinds: (1) presumptions of fact (presumptiones facti vel naturae), (2) rebuttable presumptions of law (presumptiones juris), and (3) conclusive presumptions of law (presumptiones juris et de jure). There is another class recognized in English text-books, viz, mixed presumptions, or presumptions of mixed law and fact. Nort Fz 97. The effect of this section is to do away with the distinction known to the English Law between presumptions of fact and presumptions of law, all the presumptions are made to fall under one or other of the three classes mentioned in the present section. Cut 84

Origin of Rules In the rules it is likely, all had their beginnings in logical inference, however independent of it they may have become in their final shape. Now the basis of inference is experience. The Judge and the jury go into Court with the experience of ordinary human beings, and, in the process of drawing inferences constantly call upon such experience. Coupled with the facts introduced as evidence at the trial it forms the basis of the inferences necessary to arrive at a determination of the facts in issue. It happens that, in the almost innumerable cases that are tried certain facts or groups of fact have been repeatedly presented to Courts as foundations for inferences, and the inferences being reasonable ones, judged by the experience of the Court and jury have been repeatedly drawn until a rule has crystallized. It is not difficult to see why these rules developed so early and where so readily adopted by the Courts. Judges have always been suspicious of juries and have seized every opportunity to establish a rule for their guidance and to control their conclusions from the evidence introduced. The mind of the Judge was supposedly nothing if not logical, while the untrained minds of the jury were open to the influences of prejudice, sympathy, and a thousand other things. Logical inference was therefore made the basis of a vast number of such rules which the Judges established and which they called presumptions,—rules relating to the manner of proving cases, and in this sense having to do with the law of evidence; fixing for example, when sufficient evidence was introduced or when a party must introduce further evidence if he would win his case. McKelvey's Ev 80. As to the effect of a presumption. Prof Thayer 513. "They have the same effect (and no other) which they have in all the other reasons of legal reasonings. Their effect results necessarily from their characteristic quality,—the quality viz, which impute to certain facts or groups of fact a prima facie significance or operation. In the conduct then, of an argument or of evidence, they throw upon him against whom they operate the duty of meeting this imputation. Should nothing further be adduced they settle the question involved in them in a certain way. He therefore who would not have it settled so must show cause." Thayer Cas Ev 2nd Ed p 41

Presumption of facts Presumption of fact, according to English Jurists, consist of those inferences which have never hardened into rules of law and as to which therefore the Judge is not entitled to direct the jury that they are bound as a matter of law to draw them, in other words they are common probabilities of fact which the jury may draw or not, as in their judgment the circumstances of the case may appear to warrant. Wills' Ev 2nd Ed 43. So a presumption of fact, is nothing more than an argument more or less cogent, it is an inference of one fact drawn from other facts. It is for the jury to draw that inference or not as they think fit, they are not bound as a matter of law to draw it. It is the duty of the Judge, when there is no evidence from which a reasonable man would honestly draw the inference, to withdraw that question from the jury, but if there is any evidence upon the matter, he must leave it to be disturbed, but equally it will not be disturbed if they decline to draw it. Pouell Ev 396. So there are no special rules which govern the subject of logical inferences, and presumptions which are merely inferences relate to all classes of things and cases. McKelvey's Ev § 37. The cases which are so often cited as illustrating the proposition that there is a presumption against the party who suppresses or destroys evidence or fails to call a witness within his control are all cases where what is talked of is inference. Carpenter v. Penn. Ry. Co. 13 App Div 328=43 N. Y. Supp 203. The first clause says Mr Norton, appears to point at presumptions of fact, or natural presumptions, or as the civilian termed them, hominis tantum" Nort. Ev 96. Inferences or presumptions are always necessarily drawn whenever the testimony is circumstantial, but presumptions, specially so-called, are based upon that wide experience of a connection existing between the facta probantia and the factum probandum, which warrants a presumption from the one to the other, whenever the two are brought into contiguity. Presumptions are drawn from the course of nature; for instance, that night will follow day, the seasons follow each other, death ensue from a mortal wound, and the like, or from the course of human affairs, from a family society, domestic illustrations and a of law, but by spontaneous operation of the reasoning faculty, all that the law does for them is to recognize the propriety of — think fit. The Court may presume them, which the fact suggests at once, and call or may refuse to draw the inference and call facts by which the inference was suggested. Thus, in the case of a man found in possession of stolen goods shortly after the theft and unable to account for his possession, the Court may either presume the guilt of the accused and throw upon him the onus of proving his innocence; or it may refuse to presume his guilt and may throw upon the prosecution the burden of proving it. Besides these natural presumptions there are several instances of presumptions as to documents dealt with in sections 86—88, and 90, in which the Court is, in like manner, empowered to throw the burden of proof on which party it pleases, to presume a fact or to call for proof of it, as it thinks best. Cun Ev 85. "A presumption of any fact" says Abbott C J in R v Durdett, 4 B & Ad 161, "is properly an inferring of that fact from other facts that are known; it is an act of reasoning Presumptions of law Presumptions of law are of two kinds. First, conclusive or imperative presumptions, that is, legal rules not to be overcome by any evidence that the fact is otherwise. Thus by the Statute of Limitation, a simple contract debt, not kept up in certain specified manners, is extinguished after a lapse of certain number of years, nor can it be recovered by proving that the sum due has plate the probable conclusive, nor m "It is an universal charged with doing injurious, the intention is an inference Re v Dixon, 3 M & S 15

estoppel against himself. An estoppel is when a man has done some act which affords a conclusive presumption against himself in respect of the matter at issue. Formerly in England all children born in lawful wedlock, if the husband was not impotent, or beyond the four seas during a period exceeding that of gestation, were legitimate, nor could evidence to the contrary be received in a court of law. Co Litt 241 C. The presumption of law was then imperative, whatever might have been the real facts of paternity, and however clearly they might be proved still the husband was considered as the father of his wife's children. Since that time, however the rule has been changed in England, and probable evidence of the child, is admissible. Banbury Marchant, 432. The presumption, therefore second or more comprehensive kind, of presumptions of law — Presumptions of L

- 4 effect of such presumptions is to shift the burthen of proof, and to throw the onus probandi on him who has to displace a presumption when once it has arisen. Lord E. 9 A well known instance of an irrebuttable presumption of law can be found in section 82 of the Indian Penal Code, where it is laid down that nothing is an offence which is done by a child under seven years of age.

Rebuttable presumption of law. The second or the more comprehensive kind of presumption of law is known by the term "rebuttable presumption of law" or the Presumptiones juris tantum of the civilians. This kind of presumption arises when presumptions of law are certain assumptions or legal rules defining the amount of evidence requisite to support a particular allegation which facts being proved may be either explained away or rebutted by evidence to the contrary, but are conclusive in the absence of such evidence. The distinction between the two kinds of legal presumptions is thus clearly stated by Lord Mansfield in Darum v. Ijt 175 b, note: "The enjoyment of lights with the defendant's acquiescence for twenty years is such decisive presumption of a right by grant or otherwise that unless contradicted or explained the jury ought to believe it, but it is impossible that length of time can be said to be an absolute bar, the statute of limitation, it is certainly a presumption but which ought to go to a jury." Legal presumptions of this latter kind (which may be termed disputable or rebuttable presumptions) are definitions of the quantity of evidence or the state of facts sufficient to make out a prima facie case, in other words of the circumstances under which the burden of proof lies on the opposite party. Of this very extensive class of presumptions a few examples will suffice. Thus a man is presumed innocent until he is proved guilty, that is if a man is charged with a crime, he is not bound to prove that he did not, but his accuser is bound to prove that he did commit it. So also if a child is born in wedlock one who questions his legitimacy must disprove it, if a child is born during a divorce it menat et loco one who maintains his legitimacy must prove it. Again the presumption of law is that a man is alive unless nothing has been heard of him for seven years, when the presumption is that he is dead, that is to say if it is averred that a man is dead the party must prove his assertion, but if nothing has been heard of him for seven years the opposite party must prove that he is alive. Waste lands which adjoin a road is presumed to belong to the owner of the adjoining enclosed land whose title is therefore valid, unless some one can show a paramount claim. The circumstances which will raise such a legal presumption or in other words, will impose on the other party the necessity of proving that the fact is not so, sometimes differ with regard to the same fact in different issues, that is, evidence which in one issue is sufficient to establish a certain fact in another is not sufficient. Thus in settlement cases proof of a long cohabitation of two persons who passed as man and wife is sufficient to raise a presumption of marriage, or to compel the other party to prove that there was no marriage. But in trials for bigamy and actions for criminal conversation proof of an actual marriage is requisite. Presumptions of Law 11 Elements of Evidence, 6 Law Magazine 348.

Mixed Presumptions. Mixed presumptions of law and fact are chiefly confined to the English law of real property. The Indian practitioner need not give them much study, nor is it necessary to pursue the subject further here. The Code provides only that a few of the ordinary presumptions recognised by law may or shall be drawn. Lord E. 1

May presume. This is a presumption of fact of the English jurists. Presumption of fact has a totally different meaning from presumption of law, and refers not to propositions, but to arguments—not to assuming but inferring. When evidence is offered which can only be brought to bear on the matter at issue by a process of reasoning the inference is termed a presumption of fact. In Rex v. Burdett 4 B. & A. 161 Lord Tenterden said: "A presumption of any fact is properly an inferring of that fact from other facts that are known, it is an act of reasoning, and much human knowledge on all subjects is derived from this source. A fact must not be inferred without premises to warrant the inference, but if no fact could thus be ascertained by inference in a Court of law very few offenders could be brought to punishment." The statement on which this inference is founded is termed presumptive evidence. Our experience of the world, for instance, leads us to infer that a man who is in possession of stolen goods shortly after the theft and can give no account of them is either the thief or has received the goods knowing them to be stolen. Our knowledge of human nature leads us to infer that a man, who does answer a question, could not but answer it in a manner favourable to himself. Such inferences are formed, not by virtue of any law, but by the spontaneous operation of the reasoning faculty, all that the law does for them is to recognize the propriety

Besides these natural presumptions there are several instances of presumptions as to documents dealt with in sections 86, 88, and 90, in which the Court is in like manner, empowered to throw the burden of proof on which party it pleases to presume a fact. in Fv 85, see also Shafiqunnissa O C 290=6 Bom L R 750 A be discretion to presume it as prov as the circum stances require. Raghu Nath v Roti Lal 1 A L J 121 (123). The presumption mentioned in this clause is not a hard and fast presumption incapable of rebuttal, a presumptio juris et de jure. Emperor v Sinwas 7 Bom L R 969 (974)=8 Cr L J 82. The be construed in more rigorous of Muhammad,
 110 P L R 1902, 290; (P C)
Ramien v Verappa 11 M L 1 69

Shall presume In cases in which a Court shall presume a fact the presumption is not conclusive, but rebuttable. A W N (1906) 316 (317). Of course there is no option until evidence is given to must produce such evidence follows: (1) Where from in a high degree probable as for instance, the genuineness of a document purporting to be the Gazette of India or of a duly signed record of evidence, or else (2) when it is as for instance that a document, called for and not produced was duly stamped, attested, and executed (section 89), or that circumstances bringing an offence within the exceptions to the Indian Penal Code do not exist. Section 100 sections 79-85 make mention of such presumptions. Cun Fv 85. The definition of the word shall presume given in the section cannot be less legislation to that effect. Per Knox 33 A 799 (803) F B. In the Indian indicate that the presumption mentioned see also Haris Ali v Parsotam Narain,

30 years old and purports to come from proper custody. Shafiqunnissa v Shaban Ali 7 O C 290, see Ramien v Verappa 11 M L 1 69 (1912), 1 M W N 117. The words shall presume in section 201 of Agra Tenancy Act have no higher force than similar words contained in the Evidence Act. Dikhar v Uday Ram, 29 A 148.

Conclusive proof The third clause of those cases in which one fact is conclusive proof of another. An artificial probative effect is given by the law to certain facts, and no evidence is allowed to be produced with a view to the combating of that effect. These cases generally occur where it is against the policy of Government open to dispute matters stated in a decision of British place (section 113). So also formerly, all children born to a husband was not impotent, or beyond the four years during a period exceeding

4 that of gestation were legitimate nor could evidence to the contrary be received in a Court of law. Co Litt 211 A see also section 112 of the Evidence Act. But that presumption strictly speaking is no longer considered as conclusive presumption in England. 11 Ir Rep 1 and Lord Redesdale in the Danbury Peerage (a Gariner Peerage by The Merchant 432, 'the law to be that the birth of a child during a black run is a presumption (of law) that such child is legitimate, that this presumption may be rebutted both by direct and presumptive evidence, that unless the first birth may be classed impotency and non access that is impossibility of issue, and under the second all those circumstances which can have the effect of raising a presumption that the child is not the issue of the husband. Var v. Var (a) in lucy proof 111 Manick Chand v. Corporation of Calcutta (11) (1) (1) 49 (49). The definition of "conclusive proof" given in this section though referred only to the Evidence Act yet it may properly be applied to the expression "conclusive proof" in the Oaths Act (X of 1873) 111 Ir Rep 1 and 111 Bom L R 19 (22).

Presumptions as rules of law. Process of Development. Rules of law of this sort were undoubtedly by themselves. They were not always rules. The first stage was that of a mere inference permissum illi to Judge or jury, the second was a mere disposition on the part of the Judge to advise the jury as to the desirability of a certain inference, the third an instruction that such an inference ought to be drawn, and the fourth a rule that the inference was a necessary one, which the jury were bound to draw. Take the case of the seven years absence rule. It is that a person is not heard from for a space of seven years by those who would be likely to hear from him if alive is a fact from which the inference may reasonably be drawn that he is dead. An absence of six years under the same circumstances would not be just as strong but an absence of eight years would be stronger. The space of seven years however, became fixed in the law as the last period from which death might be inferred. Having once fixed the period from which the inference was permissible the Judges were not long in instructing the jury that the inference ought to be drawn, and finally he drawn. Such a rule has got nothing to do with the logical inference. It is a matter not whether such inference exists. The rule has become one of equivalent to that even years absence under the circumstances mentioned is since evidence may be introduced to show that the inference which the rule requires is not in accordance with the facts. It fixes the point at which a prima facie case is established and hence directly affects the burden of proceeding. McKelvey v. Fr 43. The conclusive presumption was the result of further development of the same rule of evidence. In the process of development, Judges in some cases went on step further and said that fact No 1 should be equivalent to fact No 2 at all events and no evidence would be permitted to show that is was not. Ibid p 84.

Relation of Presumption to the Law of Evidence. What is the relation of presumptions to what we call the law of evidence. They are ordinarily regarded as belonging peculiarly to that part of law. This appears to be an error, they belong rather to a much larger topic already briefly considered, that of legal reasoning, in its application to particular subjects. Presumptions are aids to reasoning and argumentation which assume the truth of certain matters for the purpose of some given inquiry. They may be grounded on the general experience, or probability of any kind or merely on policy and convenience. On whatever basis they rest they operate in advance of argument or evidence, or irrespective of it, by taking something for granted by assuming its existence. When the term is legitimately applied it designates a rule or a proposition which still leaves open to further enquiry the matter thus assumed. The exact scope and operation of these prima facie assumptions are to cast upon the party against whom they operate, the duty of going forward, in argument or evidence on the particular point to which they relate. They are thus closely related to the subject of judicial notice, for they furnish the basis of many of those spontaneous recognitions of particular facts or conditions which make up that doctrine. Presumptions are not in themselves either argument or evidence although for the time being they accomplish the result of both. Presumption assumption, taking for granted are simply so many names for an act or process which will shorten inquiry and argument. These terms relate to the whole field of argument whenever and by whomsoever conducted and also to the whole field of the law in so far as it has been shaped or is being shaped by the process of reasoning. real application in the law the persons who apply it ion as already noticed is the Judge and attaching to one evidentiary fact certain procedural consequences as to the duty of production of other evidence by the opponent. It is based in policy, upon the probative strength as a matter of reasoning and inference, of the evidentiary fact but the presumption is not the fact itself, nor the inference itself but the legal consequence attached to it. But, the legal consequence being removed the inference as a matter of reasoning may still remain and a 'presumption of fact' in the loose sense is merely an improper term for the rational potency, or probative value of the evidentiary fact regarded as not having this necessary legal consequence. They have no significance so far as affects the duty of one or the other party to produce evidence because there is no rule of law attached to them and the jury may give to them whatever force or evidence. So long as the law may of a duty upon the opponent there is no propriety in to such facts however great their probative sense to inference was a mere born one kind of presu merely to involve absence of evi dence to the contrato have an effect increasing for the jury the weight of

the
 co ye le pr cy nt

seven years unheard from. It is not weighed down with any artificial additional probative effect they may estimate it for just such intrinsic effect as it seems to have under all the circumstances. In strictness there cannot be such a thing as a conclusive presumption. Wherever from one fact another is conclusively presumed in the sense that the opponent is absolutely precluded from showing by a evidence that the second fact does not exist the rule really provides that where the first fact is shown to exist the second fact's existence is wholly immaterial for the purpose of the proponent's case and to provide this is to

CHAPTER II. OF THE RELEVANCY OF FACTS.

Relevancy of Facts—meaning of—The words “relevancy of facts” have been used in two distinct senses in this Act. In the title of Part I the word relevancy is used in the sense of admissibility. In the heading of Chapter II of this part relevancy means that having some probative force. Stokes 819. When a fact is offered as evidence the very offering of it is an implication that it has some bearing on the proposition at issue—that it tends naturally to produce a conviction about that proposition. The situation is thus in its elements the same as when the persons engaged are not occupied in a legal controversy. One might suppose that the question would be essentially one of the ordinary law of reasoning whether it were to be decided as here, by a Judge or a jury, or by the audience of a lecturer, or by a policeman notified of an alleged misdemeanour in his district, or by a class in rhetoric. But the application of the laws of reasoning is here attended with peculiar consideration not existing for any investigation but a judicial one. 11 Jur 6 § 7. Stephen defines the word “relevant” as meaning that any two facts to which it is applied are so related to each other that according to the common course of events one either taken by itself or in connection with other facts proves or renders probable the past, present or future existence or non-existence of the other. Steph Dig Ev 1st 1. He also repeats the same thing in substance in his Introduction to the Evidence Act where he states: “The rule therefore that acts may be regarded as relevant which can be shown to stand either in the relation of cause or in the relation of effect to the fact to which they are used to be relevant may be accepted as true subject to the caution that when inference is to be founded upon the existence of such a connection every step by which the connection is made out must either be proved or be so probable under the circumstances of the case that it may be presumed without proof. Though this mode of describing relevancy might be correct it would not be readily understood. It is for this reason that relevancy was very fully defined in the Evidence Act (ss 611 both inclusive). These sections enumerate specifically the different instances of the connection between cause and effect which occur most frequently in judicial proceedings.” Introduction pp 70-72. This is a definition of logical relevancy. Logical relevancy plays a certain part in the law of evidence in that no evidence is admissible unless it is logically relevant. It does not follow that all evidence which is logically relevant is admissible and in fact much that is logically relevant is excluded. Certain rules are laid down founded on various considerations by which many matters which are logically relevant are declared inadmissible. McKelvey’s Ev 166. So also in the Indian Evidence Act the word “relevant” means admissible. Lala Lakmi v Nayad Haider 3 C W N 404viii. This distinction is made between logical and legal relevancy, because logical reasoning and legal reasoning are not the same.

The modern system of Evidence as Prof Wigmore “rests upon two axioms. These underlie its whole structure. Implicitly but nevertheless actually and positively, recognised in the practice of the Courts and in the utterances of the Judges they were first distinctly formulated by the great master and expounder of the history of our law of Evidence. The first is this. None but facts having rational probative value are admissible. This principle is indeed axiomatic for any system of Evidence purporting to be rational. It assumes no particular doctrine as to the kind of ratiocination implied—whether practical or scientific, coarse and ready or refined and systematic. It prescribes merely that whatever is presented as evidence shall be presented on the hypothesis, that it is calculated according to the prevailing standards of reasoning to effect rational persuasion. The second axiom on which our law of Evidence rests is this. All facts having rational probative value are admissible, unless some specific rule forbids. Wigmore §§ 9-10.

There is another precept says Professor James Bradley Thayer “which it is convenient to lay down as a preliminary one in stating the law of evidence viz, that unless excluded by some rule or principle of law, all that is logically probative is admissible. This general admissibility of what is logically probative is not, like the former precept, a necessary presupposition in a rational system of evidence . . . but yet it is important to notice this also as being a funda- S. mental proposition. In a historical sense, it has not been the fundamental rule positions always en, does ould be leridge eason-d to a

of these rules may be extensive in scope—the hearsay rule, for example; or their applicability may in a particular case be so plain, on the face of the offer of evidence that the objector has no burden of proving that this rule of exclusion is applicable. Nevertheless, when the rules of Evidence are taken in view as a mining everything that will contribute to bring the mind to the determination required. If we refuse to hear what will in any degree produce this effect, we must determine on imperfect evidence; and in proportion to the importance of the matter thus refused to be heard, must evidently be the chance of making an incorrect, rather than a just determination. But as in morals, we are forbidden to do evil in legislation, we should refrain from doing evil by the admission of every species of evidence may be more than counterbalanced in some instances by the evil attending it, sometimes, in the shape of inconvenience and expense inseparable from its procurement, sometimes, from the danger of error arising from the deceptive nature of the evidence itself. The great art is to weigh these difficulties, and in those cases where they are most likely to preponderate, but in no others to exclude the evidence." So "the law (of evidence) with a few exceptions on the ground of public policy now is that all which can be admitted,—not of course matters of mere moral or sensible objection, but all which are not repugnant to the law as such." Per Coleridge C J in Blake v. Callender a single condition on which alone the admission of evidence depends, and which, in general is that the fact to be proved should be one in the res gestae or relevant in some degree, to the existence of a res gestae fact

Modern Law of Evidence § 1711

Relevancy—Stephen's Theory—Criticism "Sir James Fitz James Stephen, justly to be regarded as the protagonist of the modern law of evidence, bases the system on a particular theory of relevancy. To him, relevancy furnishes a complete and universal formulæ for the determination of all questions as to the admissibility of evidence. Wherever a fact is relevant to the issue it is, or should be admissible. If a fact tendered be not relevant it is, or should be, inadmissible. He goes still further. Evidence logically probative which Courts reject is said to be 'declared' irrelevant. Facts of no logical probative force which Courts never previous good character can hardly be said reputation does not have committed a crime he did so. Still it is worth. In other words, the fact that a man has a good character is treated by the law as a matter which either has or may have something to do with the 4 question of guilt or innocence. In other words, it is deemed to be relevant, though it may not actually be relevant. On the other hand, a dying confession of murder made by a third person is deemed to be irrelevant though it is actually relevant. Such a confession can hardly be false except under extraordinary circumstances. It can hardly be caused by anything except a consciousness of guilt and it is impossible to doubt that any one who was guided by common sense alone would wish to know the fact that it had been made when he had to determine upon the guilt of another. Rightly or wrongly, however, evidence of such a confession is by our law excluded. The fact that it was so kept from the Judge and jury, it is thus treated as being, or is deemed to be irrelevant. Steph Dig Ev Preface to Art I p 21. These simple instances, though limiting the fact not probatively relevant and the other excluding a fact which is clearly so, illustrate certain difficulties involved in applying Stephen's theory of probative relevancy as a sole test and a warranty of admissibility. The former fact, that of good character is deliberately rather than probatively relevant. The dying declaration, though highly probative is an unsworn statement by one who is not a party. As such it is excluded by a highly characteristic rule of procedure or substantive law and is the rule again in this. So one may seem warranted in doubting as to whether logical relevancy is capable of satisfactorily sustaining so heavy a burden as is here imposed upon it. More than this, the conviction is forced upon the mind that the law of evidence has by no means reached the state of its evolution at which the rational element can truly be said so far to dominate the procedural and the truth of such a theory as that of Stephen would denote. Chamberlaine, Mode of Law of Evidence § 1717. In thus neglecting to give what seems to be a satisfactory weight to the influence of substantive law, is a serious difficulty which seems to warrant some consideration. The only mode of reasoning which is recognized by him is apparently that of inference, proving the unknown from the known. Ibid § 1717.

Stephen's Definition considered. The definition of relevancy is an excellent statement of that relation between facts which has hereinbefore been spoken of as probative seems unquestionable. Equally obvious is it that the definition of relevancy in general is insufficient. It takes no account of those important relations of facts to the proper conduct of judicial processes of reasoning which have been denominated constituent or deliberative relevancy. In other words, in connection with the processes of proving the res gestae Stephen's definition of relevancy seems fairly adequate. It may hereafter develop that other features of inference than those outlined by him are permissible and beneficial. But for practical objects the definition suffices. For all purposes, it is a splendid advance upon the formularies of the law of evidence as Stephen found them. When however the res gestae and constituent facts are established and judicial reasoning takes its next step that from the constituent facts to an assertion as to the existence of a right or liability, Stephen's definition at once ceases to apply. For example let it be assumed that an alleged res gestae fact which Stephen calls, at times a fact in issue, be offered and objectionably be that it is irrelevant to any proposition in issue. The previously satisfactory test of relevancy at once breaks down. What relevancy, if any, exists between the fact offered and a particular legal proposition in issue is not a question which can be answered by applying the definition of relevancy in either of the forms given us by Stephen. The reason for this is plain. No relation of logic or human experience "the common course of events" exists between a right or liability and a res gestae fact which is said to assist in constituting it. An entirely different element has entered into the situation. The relation between the fact and the proposition is one of law. It follows that the experience of the community, this common course of events, has no direct operation in such a connection. The relevancy involved in the question is in the question of order. The res gestae in Scots law, that is prescribed by statute has not come into force.

*Obvious differences exist between the relevant relation of a factum probans in any degree of remoteness in point of causation or other relation to the existence of a res gestae fact, on the one hand, and the constituent relevancy between a res gestae or constituent fact and the right or liability to which it separately or in conjunction with others give rise. Probative relevancy deals with existences physical or psychological. Constituent relevancy is concerned with the application of intellectual proposition to these existences. To put the same idea in slightly different words, constituent relevancy deals with the construction of an intellectual proposition, rule of law or the like in the terms of fact.

Facts in issue—Stephen's definition considered. The same confusion between the relevancy of facts in proving the res gestae and the relevancy of the res gestae themselves to the proposition in issue appears in a statement very fundamental in Stephen's treatment of the subject of evidence. As defined in the Act, the phrase "facts in issue" would seem to indicate the constituent facts of an inquiry, the res gestae or more nearly ultimate facts inferred from the latter by the tribunal. Assuming this to be the case, it is suggested by Stephen in this connection that an "inference" may be drawn from proof of relevant, or, as we have preferred to call them, probative facts to the existence of the res gestae or constituent ones. It is at the same time stated by him that a "legal inference" (vide p. 43 supra) may be drawn from the res gestae or constituent facts, what Stephen desires to call "facts in issue" to a right or liability. How are these phrases "inference" and "legal inference" to be distinguished? If the law would be. If law is at all times writing upon or sub-servient to the substantive. Adjective law may prescribe what steps may be taken, it is for the substantive to decide in what direction these steps shall tend. In other words, the ultimate objective towards which logical proof must go is which logic has no concern. However above that all relevant facts are admissible and no others are to be received is undoubtedly true, correctly understood "Relevant" as used in the rule just

Evidence § 1718 (2)

* To the relation between a particular fact and one in the res gestae which enables the former, as a matter of human experience, to sustain or advance in some degree a contention that the res gestae fact exists, has existed or will exist, the test is whether the fact is so connected with the res gestae that it may be considered as part of the same. The right or liability ~~issues~~ may fairly be designated legal or constituent. Until it is clearly understood in which sense the term "relevant" is being used on any particular occasion, it may fairly be said that the danger of ambiguity is fairly obvious.

4 question of guilt or innocence. In other words, it is deemed to be relevant though it may not actually be relevant. On the other hand a dying confession of murder made by a third person is deemed to be irrelevant though it is actually relevant. Such a confession can hardly be false except under extraordinary circumstances. It can hardly be caused by anything except a consciousness of guilt and it is impossible to doubt that an one who was tried by common sense alone would wish to know the fact that it had been made when he had to determine upon the guilt of another. Rightly or wrongly, however, evidence of such a confession is by our law excluded. The fact that it was made is kept from the Judge and jury. It is thus treated as being or is deemed to be irrelevant. Steph Long's Preface to 3rd Ed p 21. These simple instances show that in admitting the fact not probative relevant and the other excluding a fact which is clearly so, illustrate certainly the difficulties involved in applying Stephen's theory of probative relevancy as a sole test and a warranty of truthfulness. The former fact, that of good character is deliberatively rather than probatively relevant. The dying declaration though highly probative is an informal statement by one who is not a party. As such it is excluded by a highly characteristic rule of procedure or substantive law. It is the rule against hearsay. So it may seem warranted in doubting as to whether logical relevancy is capable of satisfactorily sustaining so heavy a burden as is here imposed upon it. More than this, the conviction is forced upon the mind that the law of evidence has by no means reached the stage of its evolution at which the rational element can fairly be said so far to dominate the procedural as the truth of such a theory as that of Stephen would demand. Chamberlayne's Modern Law of Evidence § 1716. "In thus neglecting to give what seems to be a satisfactory weight to the influence of substantive law, the form of rules of procedure upon the law of evidence Stephen has created a serious difficulty which seems to warrant some consideration. The only method of reasoning which is recognized by him is apparently that of inference, proceeding from the unknown from the known. Ibid § 1717.

Stephen's Definition considered. The definition of relevancy as an excellent statement of that relation between facts which has heretofore been spoken of as probative seems unquestionable. Equally obvious is it that as a definition of relevancy in general it is insufficient. It takes no account of the important relations of facts to the proper conduct of judicial processes of reasoning which have been denominated constituent or deliberative relevancy. In other words, in connection with the processes of proving the res gestae Stephen's definition of relevancy seems fairly adequate. It may hereafter develop that other features of inference than those outlined by him are permissible and beneficial. But for practical objects the definition suffices. For all purposes, it is a splendid advance upon the formulæ of the law of evidence as Stephen found them. When, however, the res gestae and constituent facts are established and judicial reasoning takes its next step, that from the constituent facts to an assertion as to the existence of a right or liability Stephen's definition at once ceases to apply. For example let it be assumed that an alleged res gestae fact what Stephen calls, at times a fact in issue be offered, and objectionably be that it is irrelevant to any proposition in issue. The previously satisfactory test of relevancy at once breaks down. What relevancy, if any, exists between the fact offered and a particular legal proposition in issue is not a question which can be answered by applying the definition of relevancy in either of the forms given us by Stephen. The reason for this is plain. No relation of logic or human experience 'the common course of events' exists between a right or liability and a res gestae fact which is said to assist in constituting it. An entirely different element has entered into the situation. The relation between the fact and the proposition is one the work of the law of evidence should be determined by the necessity that the positive or substantive law should be eliminated from within its domain. In the proposition that the definition of the law of evidence fulfils its duty clearly and in complete accordance with the then accepted definition of "relevance" meet this test.

*Obvious differences exist between the relevant relation of a factum probans in any degree of remoteness in point of causation or other relation to the existence of a res gestae fact, on the one hand, and the constituent relevancy between a res gestae or constituent fact and the right or liability to which it, separately or in conjunction with others give rise. Probative relevancy deals with existences physical or psychological. Constituent relevancy is concerned with the application of intellectual proposition to these existences. To put the same idea in slightly different words, constituent relevancy deals with the construction of an intellectual proposition, rule of law or the like in the terms of fact.

In the course of time it will be observed that the substantive law controlled the adjective in respect to the law of evidence. (1) Positive law may be taken as the law of evidence controlling and regulating its content as established by it as part of the time and of government. It may be present inasmuch that certain classes of proof may or may not be received that fact shall pass only by registered law. The evidence law must be evidenced by the law which the law (2) Substantive law may constitute an important element in the definition. Procedural rules may be established by positive law. Substantive law may be used by the law of evidence under a more general law and so forth. Finally (3) most of the time among the functions of positive law is that which runs through the law of evidence by presenting the evidence to which the law of evidence is applied. The most serious criticism of Stephen's definition and definition of "relevance" will be that in the ruling to diminish the law of evidence and to control the law of evidence and to control the law of evidence of the law of evidence will remain about it though and though and though in the positive law.

Every procedure of the law is in order to be a more or less a double test of a fact. The law requires that it should be in the law of evidence logically or positively relevant in some degree of remoteness to the law of evidence if a fact in the law of evidence should it have any evidence to be relevant to such a fact nothing remains but to say it is not relevant to the fact.

constitutively relevant to the fact or law as stated in the law. To reject a proof, however, of the existence of a fact which could not itself, for any reason, be used as relevant to the proposition in issue would merely be a waste of time. To reject, for this reason, the initial fact when offered is simply justified. What is not warranted is the inclusion of such a ruling within the field of evidence. Evidence has no concern whatever with it. When the law tendered was found to be positively relevant to the law of evidence was justified. That judicial administration will not receive it is due to reasons of public policy embodied in the substantive law of the right or liability itself. Undoubtedly the rule, characteristic of the branch of a positive law that only such facts will be admitted as the substantive law can use, may be part of the law of evidence. Clearly, however, evidence is entitled to be relieved of any responsibility for what the substantive law may see fit to admit in particular instances. All this is matter of positive law and apparently no substantial interest is to be advanced by the confusion which arises from treating it as part of the adjective. As has been said the most serious criticism of Stephen's definition is that by embracing rules of law and propositions of experience within the meaning of a single term his own admirable effort at segregating the field of evidence may not have been completely successful.

In the attempt to use the terms probative relevancy and constituent relevancy in connection with the law of evidence, it becomes at once plain that only with the former—probative relevancy—has this branch of the adjective law any concern whatever. Whether a particular fact is or is not a constituent particular proceeding. Constituent relevancy is a matter entirely of substantive law, properly presenting a question for the judge. Proof is up to the jury for the judicial function of the jury; it is a matter dominated by the law of men and the logical deductions which reason draws from it. The establishment of the res gestae or constituent facts, a matter of nearly ultimate facts as the jury may infer from the evidence, is the province of the jury, and the legitimate scope of the law of evidence. Anything further is a question of law to be decided by the judge.

branch of the mixed tribunal may, under the law of the forum have the function of law to the res gestae, i.e. construing the facts Chamberlayne's Modern Law of not signify that the particular fact has demonstrated or proved the proposition to be proved but merely that it is received by the tribunal for the purpose of being weighed with other evidence. Hignore § 12 But in the Indian Evidence Act the word relevancy is sometimes used in the sense of logical relevancy and sometimes in the sense of admissibility. (Vide Stephen's Introduction 65 Whitely Stokes Vol. 1 p. 849, Lal Jakhni v. Sayed Harder 3 C. W. N. colxviii) From section 5—50 of the Indian Evidence Act the word 'relevancy' is used in the sense of admissibility.

Distinction between Relevancy and Admissibility Strictly speaking admissibility is a quality standing between relevancy, or probative value, on

Rules of Relevancy and

The study of the principles of falls into two distinct parts:—

counsel
tribuna law, or

(particularly the jury) against erroneous persuasion. Hitherto the latter has loomed largest in our formal studies—has in fact monopolized them while the former virtually ignored has been left to the chances of later acquisition casual and empiric in the course of practice.

Here we have been wrong and in two ways.

For one thing there is and there must be a probative science—the principles of proof—independent of the artificial rules of procedure hence it can be and should be studied. This science to be sure may as yet be imperfectly formulated.

investigate and develop objective in every judicial are merely a preliminar

tribunals mind to a correct conclusion by safe materials. This main process is that for which the jury are there and on which the counsel's duty is focused. Principles of Judicial Proof § 1

5 Evidence may be given in any suit or proceeding of

Evidence may be given of facts in issue and relevant fact the existence or non-existence of every fact in issue and of such other facts as are hereinafter declared to be relevant and of no others.

Explanation—This section shall not enable any person to give evidence of a fact which he is disentitled to prove by any provision of the law for the time being in force relating to Civil Procedure.

Illustrations

(a) A is tried for the murder of B by beating him with a club with the intention of causing his death.

(b) A suitor does not bring with him and have in readiness for production at the first hearing of the case, a bond on which he relies. This section does not enable him to produce the bond or prove its contents at a subsequent stage of the proceedings otherwise than in accordance with the conditions prescribed by the Code of Civil Procedure

Principle "Of all rules of evidence the most universal and the most obvious is this,—that evidence adduced should be alike directed and confined to matters which are in dispute or which form the subject of investigation. The theoretical propriety of this rule never can be a matter of doubt, whatever difficulties may arise in its application. The tribunal is created to determine matters which either are in dispute between contending parties or otherwise require proof, and anything which is neither directly or indirectly relevant to

Scope of the Section Evidence may be given of two sets of facts (1) of facts in issue (2) of facts relevant to the issue. Evidence of (1) is generally governed by the law answered. There are some provisions of Civil Procedure Code is not admitted in evidence even if it be relevant. This restriction is put by the explanation at the end of the section.

Evidence may be given Evidence may be given of any fact which is relevant under the Act. But there are certain limitations to this rule. This section should be read subject to Parts II and III of this Act and subject to the hearsay, character and opinion rules of evidence. Vide Step Dig Et Intro p 12. This section does not also make evidence admissible which is not admissible under some special Criminal Procedure Code etc. is that the claimed conclusion probable hypothesis with re

Wigmore § 38 "It is sufficient if the circumstantial evidence be such as may afford a fair and reasonable presumption of the facts to be tried, and if the evidence has that tendency it ought to be received and left to the consideration of the jury to whom alone it belongs to determine upon the precise force and effect of the circumstances proved and whether they are sufficiently satisfactory and convincing to warrant them in finding the fact in issue." Gibson v Hunter 2 H Bl 998

Facts in issue The facts in issue are those which are alleged by one party and denied by the other on the pleadings, and denied by the plea of "not guilty" either case are facts in a question necessarily to the determination of the suit. Facts must be either relevant or irrelevant and there is no separate third class of facts in issue. Raghubhusana v Vidatardhi, 34 Ind Cas 875. Evidence can be given of a fact in issue or a fact which by that Act is declared to be relevant. Hanash v Parash, 9 C W N 402 (406)

Facts declared to be relevant The relevant facts are all those facts which are facts in issue that weight upon them connection a word of course both words restricted Common relevancy. A Judge might, in ordinary transactions, take one fact as evidence of another, and act

5. branch of the mixed tribunal may, under the law of the forum, have the function of applying the appropriate rule of law to the res gestæ, i.e. construing the rule of law in terms of these particular facts Chamberlayne's Modern Law of Evidence §§ 1718 (b) 1718 (i)

Distinction between Relevancy and Admissibility Strictly speaking admissibility is a quality standing between relevancy, or probative value on the one hand, and proof or weight of evidence on the other hand. Admissibility signifies that the particular fact is logically relevant and something more,—that it is also satisfied all the auxiliary, i.e. legal and extrinsic policies. Yet it does not signify that the particular fact has demonstrated or proved the proposition to be proved but merely that it is received by the tribunal for the purpose of being weighed with other evidence. Wigmore § 12. But in the Indian Evidence Act the word relevancy is sometimes used in the sense of logical relevancy and sometimes in the sense of admissibility. (Vide Stephen's Introduction p 65 Whitely Stotes Vol. 11 p 849, Lalji Lakshmi v. Sayaj Harier, 3 C. W. N. ccxviii.) From section 5—55 of the Indian Evidence Act the word 'relevancy' is used in the sense of admissibility.

Rules of Relevancy and Admissibility—Undue importance given to it "The study of the principles of evidence" says Prof. Wigmore "for a lawyer, falls into two distinct parts. One is Proof in the general sense,—the part concerned with the ratiocinative process of contentious persuasion—mind to mind counsel to Judge or juror each partisan seeking to move the mind of the tribunal. The other part is Admissibility,—the procedural rules devised by the law, and based on litigious experience and tradition to guard the tribunal (particularly the jury) against erroneous persuasion. Hitherto, the latter has loomed largest in our formal studies,—has in fact monopolized them, while the former, virtually ignored, has been left to the chances of later acquisition casual and haphazard in the course of practice."

Here we have been wrong and in two ways.

For one thing, there is and there must be, a probative science—the principles of proof—independent of the artificial rules of procedure, hence, it can be and should be studied. This science, to be sure, may as yet be imperfectly formulated. But all the more need is there to begin in earnest to investigate and develop it. Further more this process of Proof represents the objective in every judicial investigation. The procedural rules for Admissibility are merely a preliminary aid to the main activity, i.e. the persuasion of the tribunal's mind to a correct conclusion by safe materials. This main process is that for which the jury are there and on which the counsel's duty is focused. Principles of Judicial Proof § 1.

5 Evidence may be given in any suit or proceeding of

L evidence may be given of facts in issue and of such other facts as are and relevant facts hereinafter declared to be relevant, and of no others

Explanation—This section shall not enable any person to give evidence of a fact which he is disentitled to prove by any provision of the law for the time being in force relating to Civil Procedure

Illustrations

(a) A is tried for the murder of B by beating him with a club with the intention of causing his death

At A's trial the following facts are in issue —

A's beating B with the club

A's causing B's death by such beating,

A's intention to cause B's death

(b) A suitor does not bring with him, and have in readiness for production at the first hearing of the case, a bond on which he relies. This section does not

enable him to produce the bond or prove its contents at a subsequent stage of the proceedings otherwise than in accordance with the conditions prescribed by the Code of Civil Procedure

Principle 'Of all rules of evidence the most universal and the most obvious is this,—that evidence adduced should be alike directed and confined to matters which are in dispute, or which form the subject of investigation. The theoretical propriety of this rule never can be a matter of doubt, whatever difficulties may arise in its application. The tribunal is created to determine matters which either are in dispute between contending parties or otherwise require proof, and anything which is neither directly or indirectly relevant to those tribunals

probate is not with the p

Scope of the Section Evidence may be given of two sets of facts (1) of facts in issue, (2) of facts relevant to the issue. Evidence of (1) is generally known as direct evidence, that of (2) as circumstantial evidence. Cochle Cas 26 What are facts in issue are ascertained by the substantive law and the law of procedure. What facts are relevant or admissible in evidence is answered by the law of evidence. This chapter contains the law of relevancy. There is still a further restriction. Evidence the production of which is barred by some provisions of Civil Procedure Code is not admitted in evidence even if it be relevant. This restriction is put by the explanation at the end of the section.

Evidence may be given Evidence may be given of any fact which is relevant under the Act. But there are certain limitations to this rule. This section should be read subject to Parts II and III of this Act and subject to the hearsay, character and opinion rules of evidence. Vide Step Dig Ev Intro p 12 This section does not also make evidence admissible which is not be such as tried, and if the considera tion of the jury to whom alone it belongs to determine upon the precise force and effect of the circumstances proved and whether they are sufficiently satisfactory and convincing to warrant them in finding the fact in issue. Gibson v Hunter, 2 H Bl 998

Facts in issue The facts in issue are those which are alleged by one party and denied by the other on the pleadings, in a civil case or alleged in the indictment and denied by the plea of "not guilty" in a criminal case so far as they are in either case.

are facts in a question necessarily

to the determination of the suit. Facts must be either relevant or irrelevant and there is no separate third class of facts in issue. Raghubhusana v Vitharadhi, 31 Ind Cas 875 Evidence can be given of a fact in issue or a fact which by that Act is declared to be relevant. Bunash v Parash, 9 C W N 402 (406)

Facts declared to be relevant The relevant facts are all the facts which are facts in issue that bear light upon them in connection with the facts in issue. Common sense, or logical relevancy is, as a rule, wider than legal relevancy. A judge might, in ordinary transactions take one fact as evidence of another, and act upon it himself, when in Court he may exclude facts, although really material to the issue.

of Evidence is that all facts which are relevant to the issue may be proved Wright v Tatham 7 A & F 313 351 The Courts, so far as they can are disposed to receive in evidence whatever can throw any light on the matter in issue Per Pillcock C B in Milne v Lester, 7 H

Per Pollack C B in Milne & Lester, 11 nature of relevancy under the English law of Insurance Co, L R 4 C P D at p 94 and that all which can throw light on the disputed transaction is admitted—not of course matters of mere prejudice nor any thing open to real moral or sensible objection but all things which fairly throw light on the case. Sir James Stephen in the Introduction to his Digest of Evidence said: 'The great bulk of the law of Evidence consists of negative rules declaring what, as the expression runs is not evidence. The doctrine that all facts in issue and relevant to the issue and no others may be proved is the unexpressed principle which forms the centre of and gives unity to all these express negative rules.'

But the framers of the Indian Evidence Act have departed from the above mode of treatment of the law of relevancy. Facts which are relevant are fully defined in ss 6—11 of the Indian Evidence Act. These sections enumerate specifically the different instances of the connection between cause and effect which occur most frequently in judicial proceedings. They are designedly ^{not} for overlap each other. Thus a motive

for
by cases be relevant under other sections this manner was the general ground on which in as many and as popular forms relevancy may be easily ascertained as they are the most original part of the what facts may be proved, whereas and merely declares negatively that a Introduction. Ex p 75 That the will be seen

* regards section 11 the no doubt, express in terms of incorporation, be brought into connection with another so as to have a bearing upon a point in issue by the patience and the means of parties ^{On} made by ect

as the inquiry proceeded that such an extensive meaning was not in the mind of the Legislature seems to be shown by several indications in the Act itself.

ing and examining evidence that is to say, hearing and examining everything that will contribute to bring the mind to the determination required. If we refuse to hear what will in any degree produce this effect we must determine on imperfect evidence, and in proportion to the importance of the matter thus refused to be heard, must evidently be the chance of making an incorrect rather

The great art is to weigh these difficulties, and in these cases where they are most likely to preponderate, but in no others, to exclude the evidence. "So generally speaking, whatever has a tendency to prove a material part of the issue is admissible." People v Arnold, 15 Cal 481. "People were formerly frightened out of about the

In Johnson v State, 14 Cal 61 and in Haynes v State, 14 Cal 404, Lumpkin 1st 173 and 184. In People v State, 14 Cal 404, Lumpkin 1st 173 and 184. In People v State, 14 Cal 404, Lumpkin 1st 173 and 184.

shut out any fact from the jury, however remotely relevant or from whatever source. This is its purpose. They are called upon to pass."

And of no others. This is not covered by The Collector of Hearsay v Iva, Empress v Abdullah, 7 A 386. In conclusion, I feel that although by the Evidence Act,—1—ded which the Act does not extend to the admissibility of evidence, matters which may be essential for expression once used by Mr Justice

Now, I think that the law of evidence would not be worthy of its name if it made possible any such result." See also Emperor v Panchu Das, 24 C W N.

50 So one who is admissible under Chandra v Paresh N.

The words "and of evidence of irrelevant facts, irrespective of objection by the parties" Whitley Stokes v the second proviso Court is bound to People v Jarrel.

31 Cal (Am) 594. Even when there is a moral conviction of guilt the rules of evidence can not be separated from Birindra v R, 37 C 91 R v Brojo, 25 W R Cr 43 R v Sorob Roy 5 W R Cr 28, R v Oddy, 5 Cox C C 210 (213). Though a document may not be legal evidence of a fact—within the provisions of the Evidence Act yet it may be a document which is to prove that fact by consent of parties. Oriental Government Security v Sarat Chandra, 20 B 99 (103).

Admissibility Relevancy, Auxiliary probative. The rules of admissibility may be classified along with the probative value of specific facts which do not profess to define probative value but yet aim at increasing or safeguarding it and the third covering all those rules which rest on extrinsic probabilities irrespective of probative value.

The first group of rules attempts to define for legal purposes the probative value which suffices to entitle a fact to be regarded as relevant. Here the law is concerned with the rules of law and not with the application in practical

5. 5 experience i.e. with relevancy. Circumstantial testimonial, and real evidence are the three great classes, and each has its special problems. The second group of rules lays down auxiliary test and safeguards usually for particular kinds of facts, over and above the ~~major~~ minimum probative value. The hearsay rule, the rules of quantity, the rule of the oath, and a dozen others belong here. These two groups together are rules of Probative Policy. The third group of rules invokes for the exclusion of certain kinds of fact extrinsic policies which override the policy of ascertaining the truth by all available means. These rules concede that the evidence in question has all the probative value that can be required and yet exclude it because its admission would injure some other cause more than it would help the cause of truth and because the avoidance of that injury is considered of more consequence than the possible harm to the cause of truth. Most of these rules consist in giving certain kinds of persons an option—i.e. a Privilege—to withhold the evidential fact. This third group as contrasted with the first and second, represents rules of Extrinsic Policy. Ignore § 11

Multiple Admissibility—Evidence applicable to more than one purpose. It constantly happens that a fact which is inadmissible for one purpose is admissible for other purposes, while on the other hand, a fact which is entirely inadmissible so far as some rules are concerned is excluded because it fails to satisfy some other rule. An evidentiary fact in order to become admissible must not only be relevant but also satisfy the Auxiliary rules and the rules of Privilege. Now the peculiarity of the Auxiliary rules and the rules of Extrinsic policy which mainly consist in rules of Privilege is that almost all of them are in their application, for example a testimonial statement, and so on (i.e. s. 10), who ought to have been called to the stand, is inadmissible under the hearsay rule and it must remain excluded, even though he has passed the hearsay rule and could have satisfied the rule for producing the original and the rule of authentication. In other words, so far as an evidentiary fact is offered for a particular purpose, as being material to a certain issue and relevant to a certain proposition it must satisfy all the rules applicable to it in that capacity. But if the latter above referred to, be offered as an admission of the defendant, because shown to him and assented to, it may be admitted without calling for the writer of it because it is no longer offered as the writer's testimony but as the defendant's admission. In other words when an evidentiary fact is offered for one purpose and becomes admissible by satisfying all the rules applicable to it in that capacity it is not inadmissible because it does not satisfy the rules applicable to it in some other capacity and because it is in the latter capacity. Ignore § 13. So certain evidence be admissible or not it is for which it is produced, and the point it is intended to establish for it may be admissible for one purpose and not for another. Taylor v Williams 2 B & Ad 845 (855) Per Lord Tenterden C J. Evidence properly admitted for one purpose must be admissible for all purposes. Bank of Bombay v Dandial 17 C W N 358 (368)—37 B 122 P C. The rule is thus lucidly explained by Park J in Wills v Bernard 8 Bng 378, at p 383 where he said "I agree that it is more desirable that such part of the evidence as does not apply to the point to be proved should be withdrawn altogether from the consideration of the jury. But in many cases that is impossible." Manning v Clement where the plaintiff alleged that the carried on the trade of a manufacturer of butters and that the butters were ; it was held, that trade was illegal situation. See that the plaintiff's case of prisoners whose confessions are given in evidence which unavoidably involve the mention of others besides the party confessing. But the jury are always cautioned to exclude the statement as against any but the party confessing. They also received a proper caution in this case, and, subject to that the letter was properly admitted.

Admissibility of evidence The Judge in each case is to decide the admissibility of evidence (vide v 136). Questions as to the admissibility of evidence should be decided as they arise and should not be reserved until judgment in the case is given. Abdul Raach, v Ma U, U B R (1897—1901) Vol II, 376; Basir v Girija Nath, 13 C L J 18; Layan v E, 86 Ind Cas 817; Kapru v Emperor, 50 Ind Cas 481, Abdul v Ginnendra, 82 Ind Cas 974 J Diary, 224; Gora Chand v Ram Narain, 9 W R 587, Rama Karam Singh v Mangal Das, 1 A L J Diary, 224. In Ramjiban v Oghur, 2 C W N 188, at p 190, Sale J said "It was suggested on the part of the defendant that the more convenient, if not the right course would be to admit the evidence in the first instance reserving the question of law as to its admissibility until the final judgment is given. I have no objection but had advantage and having regard to the o

Bhubotaran Nundy, 11 C L J 115. I do not think that course is open to me in the present instance, but see Ramanuj v Dalhousie, 30 C W N 239 (262). The principle of the Evidence Act differs from the English Law in that it defines the evidence which may be given, so that in order to produce any particular evidence it must be shown to be admissible under some particular section of this Act, whereas the principle of the English Law is to assume that everything is admissible subject to certain exceptions. Field 6 Ed p 69. But where a Judge is in doubt as to the admissibility of a particular piece of evidence he should declare in favour of admissibility rather than of non admissibility. The Collector of Gorakhpur v Paladhar, 12 A 1, Madhab v Denak, 21 B 698, Moriarty v London C & D Ry Co L R 5 Q B, 314. In the last mentioned case Lush J said at p 333, "I also think on further consideration that the evidence was receivable. I had formed no definite opinion on the subject at the trial. It was a new point and I adopted what I considered to be the usual and the safer course, where evidence is, pressed by one party, and objected to by the other, receiving the evidence at the peril of the party presenting it." Under the Evidence Act admissibility is the rule and exclusion the exception. R v Monapuna, 16 B 661, 668, see also R v Uttam Chand, 11 B H C R 121, Gopce Nath v Mund Moyee, 8 W R 169; Mason v Golam 15 W R 490; but see R v Porthudas, 11 B H C R 93, R v Rani Chandra Gound, 19 B 755, Gujju Lal v Faltish Lal, 6 C at p 193, Hareekur v Charu Majhee, 22 W R 355, 356 357. The admission of hearsay evidence is prohibited. Queen v Kali, 7 W R Cr 2. R v Puttambur, 7 W R Cr 25, Aman Ali v A E, 18 C 109—8 Ind Cas 379. Lulceemonee v Shunkuree, 2 W R 252, Queen v Sheikh Moqon 5 W R Cr, Queen v Ramgopal 10 W R Cr 75, Queen v Chandai Koomar, 21 W R Cr 77, Atkia Beggam Muhammad, 21 C W N 815 (P C).

Objection In England the initiative in excluding evidence is left entirely to the opponent—so far at least as concerns his right to appeal on that ground to another tribunal. The Judge may, of his own motion deal with offered evidence, but for all subsequent purposes it must appear that the opponent invoked some rule of Evidence. A rule of Evidence which is not invoked is waived. Diaz v L S, 223 U S 450, Smyer v French 230 S W 126. But in India it has already been stated that the Court is bound to exclude evidence of irrelevant facts irrespective of objection by the parties. Whitely Stokes Vol II p 854 see also Amlar Ali v Lutfi Ali 21 C W N 996. Narahari v Ambabai 44 B 192. Sumitra v Bimkhar, 57 Ind Cas 561. Damodar v Jadunath, 91 Ind Cas 449, Luchram v Radhakrishnan 31 C L J 107. It is perfectly true said Mr Justice Mookerjee, in Amlar Ali v Lutfi Ali, 21 C W N 996 at p 1001 "as pointed out by Sir Richard Couch in Miller v Madho Das, L R 23 I A 106 that an erroneous omission to object to evidence which is irrelevant and consequently inadmissible under any circumstances, does not make it admissible. See also Hara v Bishu, 8 C W N 101. The moment a witness commences giving evidence which is inadmissible, he should be stopped by the Court. R v Puttambur 7 W R Cr 25, see also R v Chandar Kumar, 24 W R Cr 77. Lulhee v Shunkuree, 2 W R 252, R v Kallychurn 7 W R Cr 2, R v Kedar Nath 18 W R Cr 16, R v Ramgopal 10 W R Cr 75, Petumbar v. Ratten, W R (1864) 213. It seems that this rule is applicable to civil cases as well.

Time of objection The general principle governing the time of the objection is that it must be made as soon as the applicability of it is known to the opponent. Wignore § 19, Hissen Kamini v Ram Chandra 12 W P 13, Sheetal Pershad v Summejay, 12 W R 211. For evidence contained in a specific question the objection must ordinarily be made as soon as the question is stated, and before the answer is given, unless the admissibility was due, not to the subject of the question but to some feature of the answer. Wignore § 14. In Buttley v Butler, 2 B & C 431 443, Holtroyd, 1 and "If the objection was known a priori it should have been made before the evidence was given. When in irrelevant document is tendered, an objection should be made at that time. Objection as to the mode of proof of a particular document should be taken when it is tendered in evidence." Abdul Saeed v Gunendra 82 Ind C 974 (976) see also Sundari v Gaganendra, 9 C W N 111. So when such objection is not taken in time it is considered to be waived. Kulhananda v Shivanand 63 Ind C 625. So when rent receipts were admitted in evidence without objection in the Court of first instance no objection could be taken in the Appellate Court that they were not properly proved. Rajeswari v Palni Behary 25 C W N 881 = 62 Ind C 547, see also Gunnara v Rajen 1 C W N 530, Pranath v Dingatarani, 14 C L J 578. In fact this proposition rest upon a well known principle with regard to the mode of proof of a particular document, such objection must be taken at the time when the document is tendered for admission, for any lacunae in the mode of proof may then be at once supplied by the party who produces the document and wants to have it proved. Per Moolcrjee J in Abdul Saeed v Gunendra 82 Ind C 974 at p 976 see also Chooni v Nilmadhub 41 C L J 374. Manmatha v Protoll 43 C L J 274 = 99 Ind C 179. But irrelevant document does not become relevant for want of objection. Sumitra v Ramkhar, 57 Ind C 571 = 5 Pat L J 410.

Grounds of objections In Bain v Hutehearen & I R Co, 3 H L C 1, 16, Lord Brougham said "Now it is necessary that when a party excepts to the reception of evidence to the rejection of evidence or to the direction of the Judge given to the jury whatever is the subject matter of this exception, he must state the ground of his exception, otherwise he cannot except. If he objects to the reception of A's evidence he must show why it should not be received, as by stating that A is an incompetent witness. If on the other hand he objects to the rejection of A's evidence, he must show why it should not be rejected, as for instance that A is a competent witness, and that his evidence is admissible, and that the rejection of his evidence is contrary to law. In all these cases the ground of objection must be clearly stated, and beyond the ground of objection thus stated the court is not at all bound to look."

Waiver of objection An objection may of course be expressly waived. Of implied waivers, the usual instance is that of failure to make objection at the proper time. The question whether a party is bound by his consent that the examination of witnesses before a Judge should be dispensed with and another method substituted for the Judge's taking cognizance of oral testimony is regulated partly by the Evidence Act and partly by the law and practice relating to the Civil and Criminal Procedures and in the absence of any such law by the discretion of the Court. What is regarded by such procedure is not the law relating to the relevancy of evidence but the law under which the evidence shall be taken as contained in O XVIII, r 4 of the Civil Procedure Code. The parties have a right to waive such rules of procedure as are intended to protect a personal interest and are not based on public policy. So where the lower Court admitted in evidence on the consent of parties evidence as to the death of a person which could not be admitted in evidence under s 23 it is nonetheless binding upon the parties. Arjuna Reddy v Sundara Reddy, (1914) M. W. N 931.

When the opponent fails to object to the admission of the document, this is, of course, on general principles a waiver as to the need of any evidence authenticating its genuineness, and this waiver is commonly held to extend to the fact of authority of an agent purporting to sign the document for a principal but not as the legal sufficiency of the instrument for any purpose. Wignore § 2132. It is a familiar principle that, if testimony is offered which is relevant but repugnant to some rule of evidence, it must be objected to at once; otherwise the objection will be considered waived Barton Coal Co v Cox, 39 M. 1; 14 M I 192-4; R v ... ... to the admission of testimony

ment
Lah 630
rule be Kristiah ... or was relevant
have so consented they cannot afterwards object Gonnabathula v G. Chermaya, 22 L. W. 756 The question of the mode of proof is a question of procedure and is capable of being waived by a party Ali Bibi Kaniz Zainab v. Syed Mobarak, 72 Ind Cas 748

Where the genuineness of a document relied on by a party was not disputed by the opposite party, and the only question was as to its binding character, the opposite party must be deemed to have tacitly waived its proof by consenting to its admission in the trial Court to object to an admission which was irrelevant did not make it relevant and admissible in evidence; still as explained in Girindra Chandra v. Ryendra Nath, 1 C W N 530, an objection that a document, which per se is not admissible in evidence, has been improperly admitted in evidence, cannot be entertained in the Court of Appeal, when, if the objection had been taken in the trial Court it might have been met and the proceeding regularised" See also Manmatha v Probodh, 43 C L J 274 When a document was produced and marked in the presence of the opposite party who took no objection there but an objection was taken in appeal Held that under those circumstances the Court, may take it until the contrary is shown that the formal proof of the document was waived by consent of parties Collector of Gunjam v. Bhimayya, 24 L W 677 not competent to the admissibility. Ichint ddin, 72 Ind Cas 985-d; "We may here point Muller, Official Assignee aneous omission in the trial Court to object to an admission which was irrelevant did not make it relevant and admissible in evidence; still as explained in Girindra Chandra v. Ryendra Nath, 1 C W N 530, an objection that a document, which per se is not admissible in evidence, has been improperly admitted in evidence, cannot be entertained in the Court of Appeal, when, if the objection had been taken in the trial Court it might have been met and the proceeding regularised" See also Manmatha v Probodh, 43 C L J 274 When a document was produced and marked in the presence of the opposite party who took no objection there but an objection was taken in appeal Held that under those circumstances the Court, may take it until the contrary is shown that the formal proof of the document was waived by consent of parties Collector of Gunjam v. Bhimayya, 24 L W 677

The absence of an objection per se irrelevant or inadmissible taken as to the mode of proof. 1929 Pat 739; Kumaon Ry Co v 03 Ind Cas 625; Sumitra v I advocate cannot so alter the character of the testimony as to convert into corroborative evidence that which the law regards as merely fit for rejection as hearsay Lunyam Hong v Lal Choom & Co, 47 C L J 288-30 Bom L R 757-A I R 1928 P C 127; Jagadish v Harhar, 40 C L J 39-78 Ind Cas 219

When documents are admitted in evidence with or without formal proof in the first Court it is was raised does not make it 449; Ma Sit v. Annamalai 881; Behrai v Amir Chant,

6. 6 Facts which, though not in issue, are so connected with a fact in issue as to form part of the same transaction, are relevant, whether they occurred at the same time and place or at different times and places

Relevancy of facts forming part of same transaction

Illustrations

(a) A is accused of the murder of B by beating him. Whatever was said or done by A or B or the bystanders at the beating, or so shortly before or after it as to form part of the transaction, is a relevant fact.

(b) A is accused of waging war against the Queen by taking part in an armed insurrection in which property is destroyed, troops are attacked, and jails are broken open. The occurrence of these facts is relevant as forming part of the general transaction, though A may not have been present at all of them.

(c) A sues B for a libel contained in a letter forming part of a correspondence. Letters between the parties relating to the subject out of which the libel arose, and forming part of the correspondence in which it is contained are relevant if they were delivered by persons successively

Scope of sections 6 to 55. The Evidence Act lays down in ss 11 to 50 the rules in which the Court is empowered to base its decision on the facts proved or admitted. The rules laid down how the materials on which the Court is empowered to base its decision are to be used.

The first clause of rules refers to the use to be made of the materials, that is, the inference to be drawn from the hypothesis. But in relevant facts parties have unrestricted power to make admissions. But in regard to the logical conclusions to be deduced from the existence of the facts proved or admitted, the parties have no power to alter the directions given to the Courts by the legislature or to empower the Courts to act in a manner declared by the legislature to be illogical. Krishna Reddy v Sundar Reddy (1914) M W N 931.

Scope of the section. Acts, declarations, and circumstances which constitute, or accompany and explain, the fact or transaction in issue, are admissible, for or against either party, as forming parts of res gestae. Phil Ex 54 13 Halsbury § 585. All facts which are parts of the same transaction are relevant to each other so that, when one of such facts is in issue, the others are admissible. Such facts which are thus parts of the transaction in issue are generally known as res gestae. R v Ellis 6 B & C 154, Carmarthen and Cardigan Rail Co v Manchester Rail Co, (1873) L R 8 C P 685. But in admitting facts as part of res gestae care should be taken that facts which are res inter alios actae, are not proved. Hyde v Palmer, 32 L J Q B 176. Wright v Tatham, 5 Cl & Fin 760 H L, Agassiz v London Tramway Co, 21 W II 179 (Eng). Relevant facts are usually those which are either the cause or the effect of a relevant fact or a fact in issue (vide s 7). But where the inference is wider it may also be drawn from facts which either accompany or explain the transaction in issue. Rough v Great Western Rail Co, (1841) 1 Q B 51.

Ordinarily the facts of strangers to a transaction, — res inter alios actae, — as they are called, that is things transacted by others, are excluded from admission. Thus what others did or said about a particular matter would not be admissible. prima facie be- lieved to be true. It is not admissible to prove it with whole itself incipit whatever surrounding circumstances may be necessary to explain the nature of the prominent or principal fact in a case, are received as original evidence. Goode v. Ev 427 These facts when the nature and quality of the fact are in question, are either to be regarded as part of the act itself, or as the best and most approximate evidence of the nature and quality of the act, their connection with the act either sanctions them as direct evidence, or constitutes them indirect evidence, from which the real motive of the actor may be duly estimated Starkie on Evidence, ¶ 87.

Res gestae—me
'res gesta', 'res acta', may see by any dicti of the term seems
'a transaction', 'an = plural of the English equivalent—facts, transactions—as the details or particulars of which a single fact or transaction might be composed. It would seem that either form was quite legitimately used as meaning what we should express by the singular form,—an occurrence, a transaction." Prof Bradley Thayer—in 15 American Law Review 5, 81 The term was used for the first time in 1637, in

... as
... Ellen-
'res gesta',
So far as Appendix says "In ... only be formed by having a perfect view of the whole transaction, which of course includes the conversation which forms part of it, and, according to the phrase usually used on any occasion forms a part
... Vol. XV, pp 5, 81 per Prof James properly consists of that portion of ... claimed or asserted

sele whu be tain
English view, and (2) the broad or full fundamental difference between the two se restricts the term res gestae to the scope of the world's happenings out of which the right or liability in question arises. The American rule so extends the term as to cover all the probative facts by which the res gestae are reproduced to the tribunal where the direct evidence of witnesses or perception by the Court is unattainable—Chamberlayne's Modern Law of Evidence § 2581. In its English or restricted meaning res gestae imports the conception of action, by some person producing the effects for which liability

6. 6 Facts which, though not in issue, are so connected with a fact in issue as to form part of the same transaction, are relevant, whether they occurred at the same time and place or at different times and places
- Relevancy of facts forming part of same transaction

Illustrations

(a) A is accused of the murder of B by beating him. Whatever was said or done by A or B or the bystanders at the beating, or so shortly before or after it as to form part of the transaction, is a relevant fact.

(b) A is accused of waging war against the Queen by taking part in an armed insurrection in which property is destroyed, troops are attacked, and goods are broken open. The occurrence of these facts is relevant as forming part of the transaction.

(c) A is accused of libelling B. Any statement which is proved to have been made by B, and forming part of the correspondence in which it is contained, is a relevant fact, though they do not contain the libel itself.

(d) The question is, whether certain goods ordered from B were delivered to A. The goods were delivered to several intermediate persons successively. Each delivery is a relevant fact.

Scope of sections 6 to 55. The Evidence Act lays down in ss 6 to 55 certain rules which the Court is to follow in determining the relevancy or irrelevancy of facts. The rules are logical bearing on the relevancy of facts. The rules laying down the scope of the evidence are logical bearing on the relevancy of facts. The rules laying down the scope of the evidence are logical bearing on the relevancy of facts.

materials that is, the inference to be drawn from the hypothesis. To prove relevant facts parties have unrestricted power to make admissions. But in regard to the logical conclusions to be deduced from the existence of the facts proved or admitted the parties have no power to alter the directions given to the Courts by the legislature or to empower the Courts to act in a manner declared by the legislature to be illogical. Krishna Reddy v Sundar Reddy (1914) M W N 931.

Scope of the section. Acts, declarations, and circumstances which constitute the transaction in issue, are admissible. Phip Ev 54 13. Facts which are relevant to the transaction are relevant. The others are admissible in issue are generally relevant. Armstrong and Cardigan.

Rail Co v Manchester Rail Co (1873) L R 8 C P 685. But in admitting facts as part of res gestae care should be taken that facts which are res inter alios actae are not proved. Hyde v Palmer, 32 L J Q B 176. Wright v Tatham 5 Cl & Fin 760 H L. Agassiz v London Tramway Co 21 W R 179 (Eng). Relevant facts are usually those which are either the cause or the effect of a relevant fact or a fact in issue (vide s 7). But where the inference is wider it may also be drawn from facts which either accompany or explain the transaction in issue. Rough v Great Western Rail Co, (1841) 1 Q B 51.

Ordinarily the facts of strangers to a transaction — res inter alios actae, — are not relevant. But facts which are relevant to the transaction are relevant. The others are admissible in issue are generally relevant. Armstrong and Cardigan.

whatever surrounding circumstances may be necessary to explain the nature of the prominent or principal fact in a question, are either to be regarded as most approximate with the act itself evidence, from on Evidence, p 87

Res gestae—meaning of
 'res gesta', 'res acta', 'res gestae' may see by any dictionary of the term seems to have 'a transaction', 'an event' The plural sometimes indicated not so much the plural of the details or particulars of which a It would seem that either form should express by the singular Hadley Thayer—in 16 American Law Review 5, 81 The term was used for the first time in 1687, in the singular

formed by having a perfect view of the whole transaction, which of course includes the conversation which forms part of it, and, according to the phrase usually by occasion forms a part pp 5, 81 per Prof James consists of that portion of bility claimed or asserted ly, the phrase is too well means strong may be the select which be dr tained

 English view, and (2) The broad or American attitude on the subject the fundamental difference between the two seems to be that the English view restricts the term res gestae to the scope of the world's happenings out of which the right or liability in question arises The American rule so extends the term as to cover all the probative facts by which the res gestae are reproduced to the tribunal where the direct evidence of witnesses or perception by the Court is unattainable—Chamberlayne's Modern Law of Evidence § 2581 In its English or restricted meaning res gestae imports the conception of action, by some person producing the effects for which liability is sought to be enforced in the Levi's v.
Rogers, 1 C M & R 48, Doe William son, M & M 306; Vacher v C xels, Moo & M 335n, Tull v Parlatt, Stark 57;
Bruce v Hurley, 1 Stark. 24; mpson v.
Trivinnion, 5
 Phillips on I
 when they ac

6. subject of enquiry" Hyde v Palmer, supra While the language of the decisions is by no means uniform, constant advantage being taken of the convenient obscurity of the phrase to cover loose thinking, a tendency is distinctly visible

942. In a marked degree, this is true of the criminal liability of an accused into being, if at to place before the their occurrence which circumstances res gestae themselves provided that an act takes place within the time, space and causal limits allotted to the res gestae, the person by whom a particular act was done is not regarded as a material circumstance. The thought of actio something done or carried on implied in the phrase is not, however by any means confined to action by any special one of the parties or by either of them. So far as anything in the res gestae is done, it may be done by any one. How far, in time, space or causation the res gestae in any given case may properly extend is evidently a question of administration. No arbitrary line can be drawn on the subject. Each case is to be decided upon its own circumstances. Chamberlayne's Modern Law of Evidence § 2582. Lord Cockburn in R v Bedingfield, 14 Cox Cr C 341, said "Looking to the law as it exists applied to a criminal case? To act, or series of acts, constitute, terminate in, the principal act charged as an offence against the accused, from its inception to its consummation or final compilation, or its prevention or abandonment,—whether on the part of the agent or wrong doer, in order to its performance, or on that of the patient or party wronged, in order to its prevention—and whatever may be the continuance of the transaction suffering the action applications for assistance,—form part of the res gestae and may be given in evidence as part other hand, statements made part of the wrong doer, actus of the principal act or other ment by the wrongdoer—such as, e.g. statements made with a view to the apprehension of the offender,—do not form part of the res gestae, and should be excluded."

The term res gestae though generally applied to the fact or transaction in issue may, as will be seen, be used in the present sense of any relevant act, i.e. to indicate the admissibility of such act, and as a part of it, its accompanying declarations. This does not, of course, mean that such subordinate acts and declarations are to be regarded as forming part of any main act or res gestae.
Phip Ev 55

Transaction, meaning of the word "transaction" is not defined in the Act. But a definition of the author says "A referred to by a single subject of enquiry which transaction as the facts in issue are deemed to be relevant to the facts in issue, although not part of the same particular fact is or is not a question of law upon which no principle has been stated by authority and on which single Judges have not agreed." Simla District Judge, Art 3 This definition has been followed in Imperial, 11 C W. N. 266 and Cas. 664 = 16 Cr L J 184. Stoke's Criminal Code, not impossible, to attempt any definition of attempting to lay down general principles as a rule discuss each case on its merits." Report of the Select Committee (1922) In this connection it may also be stated that before accepting any definition not given in the Act, the Court should remember the following warning given in the Solicitors' Journal (Vol 20, great Jurist as Prof James Bradley Evidence at p 190. 'A definition is the greater probability of a correct use of it is also dangerous use; etc." The this section and section Queen Em Transaction, meaning of the word "What does or is considered to be question laid down in various cases by which it may be determined whether certain acts do or do not form part of the same transaction. In some cases it has been held that acts may be considered to form part of the same transaction if there are between these acts proximity of action." Per Cumming J in Pt Banga Chandra v Arando, 35 C 957, Emperor v. Madhab Laxmi Mallick v Emperor, 50 C 100 Lukman, 21 S L R 107 So no comprehensive formula of universal application can be stated to determine whether two or more acts constitute the same transaction. Amrita Lal v King Emperor, 42 C 957 In Reg v Sherifalli, 27 B 131 at p 138 Chandravarkar J observed "Here, again, the occasions when the two offences were committed were different, but there was continuity and community of purpose. The real and substantial test, then, for determining whether general offences are connected together so as to form the same transaction depends upon whether they are so related to one another in point of purpose, or as cause and effect or as principal and subsidiary acts, as to constitute one continuous action. A mere interval of time between the commission of one offence and another does not itself necessarily import want of continuity, though the length of the interval may be an important element in determining the question of connection between the two. For instance, in Queen Empress v Tajiram (16 B. 411) proximity of time, combined with the case as in intention and more can be said for it than that it has been much used in the course of the development of some important aspects of two of these doctrines" Wigmore Ev. § 1767. In the first edition of Phillip's Evidence, the phrase occurs but in his fourth edition, he substituted for it the English word transaction.

Transaction, meaning of The word "transaction" is not defined in this Act. But a definition of the word is given in Stephen's Digest of Evidence. There the author says "A transaction is a group of facts connected together to be referred to by a single legal name, as a crime, a contract, a wrong or any other subject of enquiry which may be in issue. Every fact which is part of the same transaction as the facts in issue is deemed to be relevant to the facts in issue, although it may not be actually in issue and although if it were not part of the same transaction it might be excluded as hearsay. Whether any particular fact is or is not part of the same transaction as the facts in issue is a question of law or —" ity and on which single

Judges
has rece (270), Jc

Ev Art 3 This definition
Emperor, 11 C W N 286
Ind Cas 664 = 16 Cr L

J 184 But this c' e . . .

ous definition "

Stoke's Anglo In

' occurs also in

Criminal Procedu

285 of Cr Pro

Code, the Joint

e dangerous, if not impossible, to a transaction'. An altered, the Courts

a long series of rule pronounced conflict of opinion, the reason being that the Courts, instead of attempting to lay down general principles, as a rule discuss each case on its merits" Report of the Select Committee (1922). In this connection it may also be stated that before accepting any definition not given in the Act, the Court should remember the following warning given in the Solicitors' Journal (Vol 20, of James Bradley

'A definition is the

a correct use of

necessary to define

it is also dangerous because one incorrect definition will confound the correct use; etc" The word transaction is used in a limited sense in illustration (a) of this section and in more general sense in the remaining illustrations of the section Queen Empress v Fakirappa, 15 B 491 (496)

Transaction, meaning of the word in ss 235 and 239 of Criminal Procedure

Code "What does or does not form part of the same transaction may be considered to be question of fact in each particular case. Certain tests have been laid down in various cases by which it may be determined whether certain acts do or do not form part of the same transaction. In some cases it has been held that acts may be considered to form part of the same transaction if there are between these ntion and continuity of action" Per C C W N 327, see also

Binga Chandri v King Emperor 42 C

957; Emperor L R 607, Khusai

Malik v Emp. L R 73, Emperor v

Lukman, 21 S L R 107 So no comprehensive formula of universal application can be stated to determine whether two or more acts constitute the same transaction Amrita Lal v King Emperor, 42 C 957 In Reg v Sherufah, 27 B

134 at p 138 Chandraravkar observed "Here, again, the occasions when the two offences were committed were different, but there was continuity and community of purpose. The real and substantial test, then, for determining whether general offences are connected together so as to form the same transaction depends upon whether they are so related to one another in point of purpose, or as cause and effect or nuous action. A mere and another does not length of the interval m of connection between

(16 B 411) proximity of time, however, will not

6. subject of enquiry" Hyde v Palmer, supra. While the language of the decision is by no means uniform, constant advantage being taken of the convenient the res gestae must be such as are so connected with the very transaction or fact under investigation as to constitute a part of it" Haynes v Com, 28 Gratt. (Va) 942 In a marked degree, this is true of the criminal liability of an accused. The obligation of the criminal to respond in society must come into being, if at all by virtue of certain res gestae which the prosecution seeks to place before the who observed their occurrence proof of facts which circumstanc er of the res gestae themselves

e, space and crucial limits allotted to the res gestae, the person by whom a particular act was done is not regarded as a material circumstance The thought of action something done or carried on implied in the phrase is not, however by any means confined to action by any special one of the parties or by either of them So far as anything in the res gestae is done, it may be done by any one How far, in time, space or evaluation

the res gestae in administration to be decided in

Evidence § 2582

"Looking to the applied to a criminal act, or series of terminate in, the principal act charged as an offence against the accused, from its inception to its consummation or final completion, or its prevention or abandonment,—whether on the part of the agent or wrong-doer, in order to its performance, or on that of the accused, in order to its prevention, and whatever of the transaction, suffering party, though in the absence of the accused, during the continuance of the action of the latter, actual or constructive,—as e g, in the case of fights or applications for assistance,—form part of the principal transaction, and may be given in evidence as part of the res gestae, or particulars of it; while, on the other hand, statements made by the complaining party, after all action on the part of the wrong doer, actual or constructive, has ceased, through the completion of the principal act or other determination of it by its prevention or its abandonment by the wrongdoer—such as, e g statements made with a view to the apprehension of the offender,—do not form part of the res gestae, and should be excluded"

issue

to and declarations This does not, of course, mean that such subordinate acts and declarations are to be regarded as forming part of any main act or res gestae

Philp Ev 55

Phrase inexact and indefinite "This phrase, as conceded on all hands, is inexact and indefinite in its scope, and is ambiguous in its suggestion of reasons for the doctrine If it were possible to say that it is properly applicable in etymology or in usage, to any particular doctrine, it would be simple enough to ascertain the doctrine"

Evidence, attributable to preserve phrase hasious u ea to which cognized race No more can be said for it than that it is a statement of some important aspects of law. In the first edition of Phillips edition, he substituted for it the English word transaction

Transaction — — — — — "the — — — — —" is not a fact in issue, but a question of fact. It is not part of the same transaction as the facts in issue. It is a question of law upon which no principle has been stated by authority and on which single Judges have given different answers. Art 3 This definition of Emperor 11 C W N 266 and Caa 664-16 Cr L is a curious definition. It is a correct use of the word. In connection with s 235 of Cr Pro Code the Joint Committee of 1922 said "We think it would be dangerous, if not impossible, to attempt any definition of the phrase 'in the course of the same transaction'. An exhaustive definition is not feasible and if the phraseology is altered, the Courts would be deprived of the guidance which they now have from a long series of rulings on the point. We do not find that there has been any pronounced conflict of opinion the reason being that the Courts, instead of attempting to lay down general principles, as a rule discuss each case on its merits." Report of the Select Committee (1922). In this connection it may also be stated that before accepting any definition not given in the Act, the Court should remember the following warning given in the Solicitors Journal (Vol 20, 1900) of James Bradley "A definition is the correct use of the word."

it is also dangerous to use, etc." The meaning of this section and section Queen Em Transaction, meaning of the word in ss 235 and 239 of Criminal Procedure Code. "What does or does not form part of the same transaction may be considered to be question of fact in each particular case. Certain tests have been laid down in various cases by which it may be determined whether certain acts do or do not form part of the same transaction. In some cases it has been held that acts may be considered to form part of the same transaction if there are between these acts proximity of time, community of purpose, and continuity of action." Per Cumming J in Famer Khan v Banga Chandra v Anando 35 C L J 327, 1907, Emperor v Madhab Laxman 43 II 14, 1907, Malik v Emperor, 50 C 1004 Groun v Ghulam 1 S L R 73 Emperor v Lukman 21 S L R 107. So no comprehensive formula of universal application can be stated to determine whether two or more acts constitute the same transaction. Amrita Lal v King Emperor, 42 C 957. In Reg v Sherifalli, 27 II 131 at p 138 Chandraraj v J observed "Here again, the occasions when the acts are done, but there was continuity and community of purpose, and so as to form the same transaction. It is not of purpose or continuity of one offence, but continuity though the length of the interval may be an important element in determining the question of connection between the two. For instance, in Queen Empress v Jayiram (16 B 411) proximity of time, combined with the case as to intention and length of the interval may be an important element in determining the question of connection between the two. For instance, in Queen Empress v Jayiram (16 B 411) proximity of time, combined with the case as to intention and

S. 6. subject of enquiry" Hyde v Palmer, supra. While the language of the deed is by no means uniform, constant advantage being taken of the convenience and obscurity of the phrase to cover loose thinking, a tendency is distinctly visible with the very transmission of the phrase. Haynes v. Com, 28 Gratt (V) criminal liability of an accused must come into being, if all by virtue of certain res gestae which the prosecution seeks to place before the jury either by the testimony of the eye witnesses who observed their occurrence or of the res gestae themselves, space and causal limits allotted to the res gestae, the person by whom a particular act was done is not regarded as a material circumstance. The thought of action something done or carried out implied in the phrase is not, however by any means confined to action by any special one of the parties or by either of them. So far as anything in the res gestae is done, it may be done by any one. How far, in time, space or causal connection the res gestae in any given case may properly extend is evidently a question of administration. No arbitrary line can be drawn on the subject. Each Case is to be decided upon its own circumstances. Chamberlayne's Modern Law of Evidence § 2582. Lord Cockburn in R v Bedingfield, 14 Cox Cr C 341, said "Looking to the law as it exists" applied to a criminal case? To the act, or series of acts, constitute, or terminate in, the principal act charged as an offence against the accused, its inception to its consummation or final compilation, or its prevention or abandonment,—whether on the part of the accused or on the part of the suffering party, though the action of the principal transaction, and may be on particulars of it; while, on the part, after all action on the part of the accused, through the completion or its abandonment, made with a view to the res gestae, and should be

The term res gestae, though generally applied to the fact or transaction in its relevant act, its accompanying subordinate acts and declarations are to be regarded as forming part of any main act or res gestae. Phip Ev 55

Phrase inexact and indefinite in its application. It is all hands, is inexact and indefinite in its application for the doctrine. If it were etymology or in usage, it is not a phrase to preserve the phrase has various uses to which it is recognized phrase. No

Phrase inexact and indefinite in its application. It is all hands, is inexact and indefinite in its application for the doctrine. If it were etymology or in usage, it is not a phrase to preserve the phrase has various uses to which it is recognized phrase. No

6. similarity of action and result, was held to bring several offences as to several fraudulent transfers of property within the meaning of the words 'same transaction' in section 235 of the Code of Criminal Procedure" The word "transaction" suggests and purpose committed, all ■ distinct inte or progressive

147-4 Cr L J 400 the words "the same manner" de of Criminal Procedure cannot embrace the examination of all the witnesses to the examination of each witness as Since So. 3 L B R 231-4 Cr L J 489
the proceeds would be parts of the same me between two acts does not necessarily and purpose and may or may not be true, in the opinion be charged with and tried a series of acts Crown v

No. 18 S L R 199-27 Cr
-27 Cr L J 456: Emperor

Krishna, 40 C 318 (criminal misappropriation and falsification of accounts in transaction. In re Ramaraju Thevan, 53 M 937=32 Cr L J. 30=A I, II 1930 Mad 857=59 M L J 945 But a transaction of abduction for which two persons have been convicted cannot be said to be part of the same transaction when a third person not alleged to have taken part in the abduction proceeds to buy the stolen property and receiving the same. Mongha Sultan v Emperor, 29 Cr L J 1030 The expression "in the course of the same transaction" must be understood as including both the immediate cause and effect of an act or omission, and the other necessary consequences of time, place, unity or proximity of place, continuity of action and community of purpose or design. Amrit Lal Hazra v Emperor, 42 C 957, see also Superintendent v Monmohan, 19 C W N 672, Emperor v Jethalal, 29 B 449, Emperor v Datta, 30 B 49

Transaction—what facts form parts of A transaction consists both of the physical acts, whether spoken or any other parts of transaction

Amirson v Irer
v Kinnaird, 6 Cr

elopement from evidence against him in an action against the adulterer In answer to the question

L C J said "It is not so clear that her declarations made at the time would not be evidence in her favour in circumstances If she declared at the time that she fled from immediate evidence, that happened at over a length

(c) and (d) I third party at the time from the real within the Ba an intention,

Best C J

away in a hurry, would not the jury be warranted in concluding that there had been a clear act of bankruptcy But it has not been written subsequently admissible in evidence I am clear of itself an equivocal act, and it cannot be used as evidence of a continuing act, and therefore departing

the realm is a continuing act, and therefore

In the same case Park J observed. "I am satisfied that declarations made during departure and absence are admissible in evidence to show the motive of the departure. It is impossible to tie down to time the rule as to the declarations we must judge from all the circumstances of the case, we need not go the length of saying that a declaration made a month after the act would of itself be letters. So where the questions were whether a person who had remained abroad for some years had acquiesced in the crime, or whether the crime had been committed by him during such permanent or otherwise residence. Doucet v. Geoghegan 11 Ch D 455. But declarations and statements are admitted in evidence as parts of res gestae or transaction under two distinct principles. Or Rule and exception. The rule but defines those classes to which the rule is in its nature not applicable. Vide Vigmore § 1745. One depends for its admission on the principle of spontaneous declaration and the other as part of the res gestae on the principle of verbal act doctrine. But acts are not parts of the same transaction unless they were done substantially at the same time although they are similar in other respects. R v. Bridgese 4 C & P 336. In that case the prisoner was charged with stealing pickled pork a bowl some knives and a loaf of bread. He went to and that as one co to admit distinct o charged allowed o must be a long period therefore is a prisoner was evidence was may taken at felony, but transaction also R v. Re

3 F & F
R v. Prabhu complaint forms part of 190=1905

Mad 579=48 M L J 195. In an abduction case where the abduction took place not be treated as a part of the transaction. Cas 433=26 C L J 504. Imperial 42 C L J 504. 674=A I R 1905.

Lsh 578

Scope and limit of facts forming the res gestae. The act or transaction may be admitted if it may be shown that the transaction was continuous or that the facts were so connected in point of time or place, or other parts of the transaction. Phip Ev 47, see also C A cited in Ibid, Apothecaries v. Jones 17 B 458, Clark v. R 14 Q B D 97 cited in P.

streets there is an unexpected collision between two men—entire strangers to each other, then the res gestae of the collision is confined within the few moments it occupies. When again there is a social fuel in which two religious factions, as in the case of the Lord George Gordon disturbances of the Philadelphia riots of 1844, are arrayed against each other for weeks, and are so much absorbed in the collision as to be conscious of little else, then all that such parties do or say under such circumstances is as much part of the res gestae as the blows given in a riot, also for which particular provocations may be brought. 11 West. L. & 255; Lockett v. Horn, 43 Ohio St. 25; Lank. Evidence, 104 Mass. App. 364 (two years); Smith v. Williams, 57 Ga. 641.

In Powers v. Hays, 2 Bing. 104, Lord Mansfield, said: "It is impossible to tie down to time the rules as to the declarations." It must be always borne in mind, however, that it is the connection with, or illustration of, the main fact which constitutes the admissibility of this species of evidence." The point is also well illustrated by Mr. Justice when he says: "If, for the sake of illustration, the question for what time the act was done is material to the issue, what A may be conclusive." and the fact of payment were not material to the issue, then although A at the time of not aware of any error, where the act done is, in its own nature, irrelevant to the issue, and where the declaration per se is inadmissible, in which it has been held that the union of the two has rendered them admissible."

The expression "the complete criminal transaction" means the complete criminal transaction, and the act of the accused until the end of the res gestae under which it is.

wholly on the character of the crime as Foley, 113 La. 52=101 Am. St. 493 circumstances must be resorted to for the purpose of proving the commission of the particular offence charged, the proof of those circumstances involves the proof of other acts, either criminal or apparently innocent. In such cases it is proper that the chain of evidence should be unbroken. If one or more links of the chain are broken, the evidence is inadmissible. The Court has held that the evidence is inadmissible if the Court is not satisfied that the evidence is relevant and that the evidence is not hearsay. The Court has also held that the evidence is inadmissible if the Court is not satisfied that the evidence is not hearsay.

ment belonged to another man; that it was taken from the house the night preceding the murder; that the prisoner was there on that night and that the pistol was seen in his possession on the day of the murder, just before the fatal act, is evidence to prove the prisoner a part of the transaction, or involve guilt, makes

Time, space and causation. No uniformity exists in the length of time over which the res gestae shall properly be held to extend. For example, in case

3. years the time covered by the most direct proof of the res gestae will be extended to the same limits Chamberlayne's Evidence § 2592 Note 2

Territorial limits No limitation has been imposed as to the territorial boundaries within which the res gestae facts must occur. Those of a sudden quarrel, a shooting and immediate surrender to justice may, for example, occur in the limited space of a hotel bar. They may on the other hand cover the breadth of a continent, or even extend from one hemisphere to the other. R v Ellis (1899) 1 Q B 230; R v Oliphant, (1905) 2 K B. 67; R v Mackenzie, 6 Cr App R 64. The relative complexity of cases may well reveal marked differences in the res gestae may be clear. They may be a problem, when conduct seems almost without springs of action. Chamberlayne's Evidence § 2592 Notes

Written declarations as part of res gestae In Tustin v Arnold, 81 L J 100, 101, 102, 103, 104, 105, 106, 107, 108, 109, 110, 111, 112, 113, 114, 115, 116, 117, 118, 119, 120, 121, 122, 123, 124, 125, 126, 127, 128, 129, 130, 131, 132, 133, 134, 135, 136, 137, 138, 139, 140, 141, 142, 143, 144, 145, 146, 147, 148, 149, 150, 151, 152, 153, 154, 155, 156, 157, 158, 159, 160, 161, 162, 163, 164, 165, 166, 167, 168, 169, 170, 171, 172, 173, 174, 175, 176, 177, 178, 179, 180, 181, 182, 183, 184, 185, 186, 187, 188, 189, 190, 191, 192, 193, 194, 195, 196, 197, 198, 199, 200, 201, 202, 203, 204, 205, 206, 207, 208, 209, 210, 211, 212, 213, 214, 215, 216, 217, 218, 219, 220, 221, 222, 223, 224, 225, 226, 227, 228, 229, 230, 231, 232, 233, 234, 235, 236, 237, 238, 239, 240, 241, 242, 243, 244, 245, 246, 247, 248, 249, 250, 251, 252, 253, 254, 255, 256, 257, 258, 259, 260, 261, 262, 263, 264, 265, 266, 267, 268, 269, 270, 271, 272, 273, 274, 275, 276, 277, 278, 279, 280, 281, 282, 283, 284, 285, 286, 287, 288, 289, 290, 291, 292, 293, 294, 295, 296, 297, 298, 299, 300, 301, 302, 303, 304, 305, 306, 307, 308, 309, 310, 311, 312, 313, 314, 315, 316, 317, 318, 319, 320, 321, 322, 323, 324, 325, 326, 327, 328, 329, 330, 331, 332, 333, 334, 335, 336, 337, 338, 339, 340, 341, 342, 343, 344, 345, 346, 347, 348, 349, 350, 351, 352, 353, 354, 355, 356, 357, 358, 359, 360, 361, 362, 363, 364, 365, 366, 367, 368, 369, 370, 371, 372, 373, 374, 375, 376, 377, 378, 379, 380, 381, 382, 383, 384, 385, 386, 387, 388, 389, 390, 391, 392, 393, 394, 395, 396, 397, 398, 399, 400, 401, 402, 403, 404, 405, 406, 407, 408, 409, 410, 411, 412, 413, 414, 415, 416, 417, 418, 419, 420, 421, 422, 423, 424, 425, 426, 427, 428, 429, 430, 431, 432, 433, 434, 435, 436, 437, 438, 439, 440, 441, 442, 443, 444, 445, 446, 447, 448, 449, 450, 451, 452, 453, 454, 455, 456, 457, 458, 459, 460, 461, 462, 463, 464, 465, 466, 467, 468, 469, 470, 471, 472, 473, 474, 475, 476, 477, 478, 479, 480, 481, 482, 483, 484, 485, 486, 487, 488, 489, 490, 491, 492, 493, 494, 495, 496, 497, 498, 499, 500, 501, 502, 503, 504, 505, 506, 507, 508, 509, 510, 511, 512, 513, 514, 515, 516, 517, 518, 519, 520, 521, 522, 523, 524, 525, 526, 527, 528, 529, 530, 531, 532, 533, 534, 535, 536, 537, 538, 539, 540, 541, 542, 543, 544, 545, 546, 547, 548, 549, 550, 551, 552, 553, 554, 555, 556, 557, 558, 559, 560, 561, 562, 563, 564, 565, 566, 567, 568, 569, 570, 571, 572, 573, 574, 575, 576, 577, 578, 579, 580, 581, 582, 583, 584, 585, 586, 587, 588, 589, 590, 591, 592, 593, 594, 595, 596, 597, 598, 599, 600, 601, 602, 603, 604, 605, 606, 607, 608, 609, 610, 611, 612, 613, 614, 615, 616, 617, 618, 619, 620, 621, 622, 623, 624, 625, 626, 627, 628, 629, 630, 631, 632, 633, 634, 635, 636, 637, 638, 639, 640, 641, 642, 643, 644, 645, 646, 647, 648, 649, 650, 651, 652, 653, 654, 655, 656, 657, 658, 659, 660, 661, 662, 663, 664, 665, 666, 667, 668, 669, 670, 671, 672, 673, 674, 675, 676, 677, 678, 679, 680, 681, 682, 683, 684, 685, 686, 687, 688, 689, 690, 691, 692, 693, 694, 695, 696, 697, 698, 699, 700, 701, 702, 703, 704, 705, 706, 707, 708, 709, 710, 711, 712, 713, 714, 715, 716, 717, 718, 719, 720, 721, 722, 723, 724, 725, 726, 727, 728, 729, 730, 731, 732, 733, 734, 735, 736, 737, 738, 739, 740, 741, 742, 743, 744, 745, 746, 747, 748, 749, 750, 751, 752, 753, 754, 755, 756, 757, 758, 759, 760, 761, 762, 763, 764, 765, 766, 767, 768, 769, 770, 771, 772, 773, 774, 775, 776, 777, 778, 779, 780, 781, 782, 783, 784, 785, 786, 787, 788, 789, 790, 791, 792, 793, 794, 795, 796, 797, 798, 799, 800, 801, 802, 803, 804, 805, 806, 807, 808, 809, 810, 811, 812, 813, 814, 815, 816, 817, 818, 819, 820, 821, 822, 823, 824, 825, 826, 827, 828, 829, 830, 831, 832, 833, 834, 835, 836, 837, 838, 839, 840, 841, 842, 843, 844, 845, 846, 847, 848, 849, 850, 851, 852, 853, 854, 855, 856, 857, 858, 859, 860, 861, 862, 863, 864, 865, 866, 867, 868, 869, 870, 871, 872, 873, 874, 875, 876, 877, 878, 879, 880, 881, 882, 883, 884, 885, 886, 887, 888, 889, 890, 891, 892, 893, 894, 895, 896, 897, 898, 899, 900, 901, 902, 903, 904, 905, 906, 907, 908, 909, 910, 911, 912, 913, 914, 915, 916, 917, 918, 919, 920, 921, 922, 923, 924, 925, 926, 927, 928, 929, 930, 931, 932, 933, 934, 935, 936, 937, 938, 939, 940, 941, 942, 943, 944, 945, 946, 947, 948, 949, 950, 951, 952, 953, 954, 955, 956, 957, 958, 959, 960, 961, 962, 963, 964, 965, 966, 967, 968, 969, 970, 971, 972, 973, 974, 975, 976, 977, 978, 979, 980, 981, 982, 983, 984, 985, 986, 987, 988, 989, 990, 991, 992, 993, 994, 995, 996, 997, 998, 999, 1000.

Basis of the theory The affairs of men consist of a complication of circumstances so intimately interwoven as to be hardly separable from each other. Each owes its birth to some preceding circumstance, and in its turn becomes the prolific parent of others; and each during its existence has its inseparable attributes and its kindred facts materially affecting its character and essential to be known in order to a right understanding of its nature. 1 Greenl Ev § 108

more or 1
whether pa
well as th necessary

are the undesigned sible when illustrative by a lapse of time concerned ndone as should be are part not produced mediate niary thus h incidents cter of the cumstances matter of get too far subject of clamations,

not only as living threatening language. Upon questions of bankruptcy, where the intentions of the alleged bankrupt are often material to be enquired into, it is usual to give evidence of declarations, as furnishing an explanation of transactions in their nature and effect. Thus it has been held, that a declaration accompanying a purchase of goods is a limited evidence, to show whether a person bought as living by living, and a living Giles v. Holford, 1 Stark C. 68.

"In a case in which murder and robbery have been shown to form parts of one transaction, it has been held that recent and unexplained possession of the stolen property while it would be presumptive evidence against a prisoner on a charge of robbery would similarly be evidence against him on a charge of murder." Queen v. Rogers, 13 M. 426 (132)

(a) Incidents other than declarations. Questions of evidence in this connection usually arise with regard to declarations, since with other incidents there is less danger of the jury being misled, and the present principle consequently is less often invoked. Id. 175.

(b) Declarations accompanying acts. Declarations which accompany a fact in issue or relevant fact become admissible under this section, if they form part of the same transaction. Hart v. Hart, 5 Cl & F 670, R. v. Bliss, 5 Cl & F 245, Hale v. Palmer, 32 L. J. Q. B. 126, Greaves v. Manning 11 R. 1 Cl 125. "When an act done is evidence of a fact, a declaration accompanying that act may well be evidence if it reflects light upon or qualifies that act." Cottman J. in Hart v. Hart, 5 Cl & F 670-71, 19 Law Quar. Rep. 492. In the same case at page (2) of 6 Cl & F, Cottman J. observed: "The act itself being admissible, whatever accompanies it and serves to explain its character is relevant and admissible also." So when the act of a party may be given in evidence, his declaration made at the time, and calculated to elucidate and explain through a police cordon is evidence of recapture and is admissible to prove their intention Yung Tol v Emperor, 3 Rang 352=90 Ind Cas 918=A I. R. 1915 Rang 351

The act must be in issue or relevant and the declarations must relate thereto. The declarations are not admissible simply because they accompany an act, the act must be in issue or relevant. Bright v Latham, 5 C & L 670 (659), Hyle v Palmer, 12 L. 1 Q B 126. So a statement made by a woman immediately after the act is not admissible. 1931 Mal 233. Judgment obiter.

Judgment ob-same tr
 the be be cons that a mere narrative of a past occurrence cannot explain an act the leading case u-R 167
 no par
 (1914)
 L T J
 R v
 Singh
 Khajir
 Srecha
 Lah 3
 302, th

mother in law P W 2, man caused from her bud on 26th statement could only be as ers as fairly down the leading (1896) 2 Q statement is 2, R v Christie,
 v Meath, 43 Ir.
 Id, 14 Cox 341;
 1 203, Pookhor
 1925 Lah 578;
 1936 Cal 139,
 or, A I R 1930
 Dharam, 10 C voluntarily caused

grievous hurt was a statement, made in the presence of a prisoner, by the person injured to a third person, immediately after the commission of the offence. The prisoner did not when the statement was made, deny that she had done the act complained of.

§ 6 In delivery consider as well and having given the conclusion

submitted by the Sessions Judge that the statement made by the girl was made in the presence of the prisoner and almost immediately after the infliction of the injuries by the tongue. I think, therefore, that it falls within the purview of § 6 [see illustration (a)] of the Evidence Act."

In Chain Mahto and ors v Emperor, 11 C W N 266, the Chowkidar deposed that one Gopal ran up to him and stated that he had seen the accused persons murder his mistress whom he had met by assignation and that he had run away from the place.

What interval of time passed between the statement and the declaration of this evidence was not stated. In Miller JJ said "We are also of opinion that the statements of Gopal are not admissible against the accused. Hearsay evidence is ordinarily inadmissible and the exceptions are to be found in the Indian Evidence Act. Other exceptions could not and should not be added. The learned Sessions Judge has relied on section 8 of the Evidence Act and illustration (a) to it and also Surat Dhoobi's Case, 10 C 302. The facts of the case of Surat Dhoobi are very clearly distinguishable. There the person who made the statement was dead, and she was the victim.

The statement is on the facts. In order to be admissible it must be made by a bystander, it must have been made, as contemplated by section 6 and illustration (a) to it, at the time the transaction was taking place or so shortly before or after it as to form part of the transaction. If the transaction has terminated and the statement is made, the statement is irrelevant. The admissibility is dependant on continuity. The statement to be relevant must be made when the transaction is in progress. When the transaction is concluded, the statement of a bystander is clearly inadmissible under the section. In the present case Gopal, if he made any statement, made it after the transaction was over. We ments are Cas 664

tion (a) tinuance
Field JJ
Rex v JJ and certain witness, driven by that immediately after, on hearing the deceased groan, he went up to him and asked him what was the matter. It was objected that what the deceased said in not receivable umstances it

In Thompson
Nisi prius, ceived by her ge, might be nce of time or t a trial for murder, a girl heard a cry and then found the deceased weak and injured, and he made a statement immediately on her coming up to him Chief Justice Mohan admitted it as a part of the res gestae. In Hutchins v Railroad Co, 128

 Iowa, 279 the plaintiff fell from a street car, by reason of negligence in failure to let down step. As she fell she exclaimed, "yes, let down the step after I fall."
 The declaration was admitted as part of res gestae. In R v North Coll, (1916)
 1 K B 347, which to an imperative quesstone testimony of pointing to the prior who threw the stone
 18 Q B D 537. see also Reg v Wainwright, 13 Cox C C. 171; R v Pook, 13 Cox C C 172n

On a charge of treasonable conspiracy, declarations made out of Court by the prisoner that "when he planned a certain convention, he had not intended to destroy the King and the Government" are inadmissible. R v Hardy, 24 How St Tr 1991. The reason for rejection is thus stated by Lyre C J
 "Since, if it were otherwise, every man, if he were in difficulty, or in view of one, might make declarations to suit his own case." Phip Ex Jrid Fil 67.
 Where a person was charged with having received illegal gratification under s 161 of the Pennl Code, on three specific occasions, in a certain year, from a firm,

Conduct: in the case
 the act may
 I am not aware of any case where the act done is in its own nature irrelevant to the issue and where the declaration per se is inadmissible, in which it has been held that the union of the two has rendered them admissible." Per Colman J in Wright v. Tatham, 7 A & E 361; see also Patten v Terquon, 18 N H. 528; Pinney v Jones, 64 Conn 545

Conduct must be equivocal. The utterances are admitted merely to assist in completing or giving legal significance to the conduct. Hence the conduct must be equivocal or incomplete as a legal act, before the utterances can be admissible. Wigmore § 1774; R v Bliss, 5 Cl & F. 550; R v Wainwright, 13 Cox 171. "Many acts are in themselves of an equivocal nature, and the effect of them depends upon the intention or disposition from which they proceed which is in general best determined by the expression accompanying them.
 Wherever, therefore, the demeanour of a person at a given time becomes the object of inquiry, expressions, as constituting a part of that demeanour, and as indicating his present intent and disposition, cannot properly be rejected in

It is not the law that any and all conversation which happened to be going on at the time of an act can be proved if the act can be in with the comes merely ng v Page, 4 Rawson v.
 nted himself
 ten by him stating his evidence were put in evidence. Best C J in admitting the letters an act in
 "But in
 be act in Wright v.

Tatham, 7 A & E 361; Lend v Tyngsborough, 9 Cush 42. But declarations are not admitted to explain previous or subsequent facts. Agassiz v London
Tram Co, 21 W R (Eng) 199; Hyde v Palmer, 32 L J Q B 126

Words must merely aid in completing the conduct.—It follows also as a necessary deduction, that the utterances must be such as to serve the assumed purpose, namely, give more definite significance to the equivocal or indeterminate conduct, by adding a missing part. They must be such as do merely this, and not more. Wigmore § 1771. "The common phraseology," said the learned author "however is, here so loose and inclusive that utterances may be held admissible which do not merely complete and define the very act by serving as a part of it but make assertions about its preceding facts, and are in effect given credit as hearsay testimony of any other matter that may happen to be connected with the act in time and place. Ibid. So in Lund v Tynesborough 9 Cush 42, Fletcher J said. If declaration has its force by itself, as an abstract statement detached from any particular fact in question, depending for its effect on the credit of the person making it, it is not admissible in evidence. But when the act of a party may be given in evidence, his declarations made at time, and calculated to elucidate and explain the character and quality of the act so connected with it as to constitute one transaction, and so as to derive credit from the act itself, are admissible in evidence. Such declarations derive credit and importance as forming part of the transaction itself. Similarly in Enos v Tuttle, 3 Conn 260 the reason for the admission of such declaration is thus stated. "[They were] well calculated to unfold the nature and quality of the facts they were intended to explain, and so to harmonize with them as obviously to constitute one transaction." See also Insurance Co v Mosely, 8 Wall 411.

These phrases about 'unfolding', 'elucidating', and 'explaining' the nature of the act, says Prof Wigmore "while not inaccurate in themselves, have served, in the hand of many later Judges, as an open sesame for utterances used purely in an assertive or testimonial way. 'Elucidation' and 'explanation', taken literally, are broad enough to include mere narrations of preceding matters, and such has been the service to which these classical terms have frequently been put. It must be noted that this application of them is unsound on principle." Wigmore § 1775.

Words must accompany the conduct in time. The declarations must be substantially contemporaneous with the fact—i.e., made either during, or immediately before or after, its occurrence—but not at such an interval from it as to allow of fabrication, or to reduce them to the narrative of a past event. Phip Ev 49 citing Thompson v Trevanion 402. "The question of contemporaneousness says Mr Phipson has given rise to much discussion. In R v Beddingfield, 14 Cox Cr 341, it has generally been thought that Conburn C J applied the rule too strictly, that case, however was quoted without disapproval in R v Christie, (1914) A C 545. On the other hand the dictum of Denham C J in Rouch v G W R 1 Q B 60, a bankruptcy case adopted by Mr Taylor (s 588), that 'concurrence of time, though material is not essential seems to err in the opposite direction, substantial though not literal, a concurrence being indispensable (Lees v Morion, 1 M & R 210, Agassiz v Lond Tram Co, 21 W R 199, R v Goddard, 15 Cox 77) Phip Ev 57. 'It was at one time thought necessary' says Mr Taylor 'that they should be contemporaneous with it; but this doctrine has of late years been rejected, and it seems now to be decided, that, although concurrence of time must always be considered as material evidence to show the connection, it is by no means essential.' But in America the old doctrine still obtains. Thus in Enos v Tuttle, 3 Conn R 250, Hosmer C J observed, that declarations, to become part of the res gestae "must have been made at the time of the act done, which they are supposed to characterize and have been well calculated to unfold the nature and quality of the facts they are intended to explain, and so harmonize with them as obviously to constitute one transaction. In R v Beddingfield, 14 Cox Cr 341, in which the rule was

... the fact was as follows. The prisoner had relations with the ...
... to kill her by cutting her throat. She ...
... with two women as assistants, the prisoner ...
... living a little distance. They were together in a room in her house sometime. He went out, and she was found by one of the assistants lying senseless on the floor, her head resting on a foot stool. He went to a spirit shop and bought some spirits, which he took to the house, and went again into the room where she was, both the assistants being at that time in the yard. In a minute or two the deceased came suddenly out of the house towards the women with her throat cut, and on meeting one of them she said something pointing backwards towards the house. In a few minutes she was dead. In the course of the opening speech on the part of the prosecution it was proposed to state what she said. It was objected to on the part of the prisoner that it was not admissible, and Cockburn C J said: "He had carefully considered the question and was clear that it could not be admitted. . . . Could it be admissible, having been made in the absence of the prisoner, as part of res gestae?" But it was not so admissible, for it was not part of something was being done, but something not as if, while being in the room, and something which was heard. When two witnesses was called She was first asked as to the circumstances, and stated that the deceased came out of the house bleeding very much at the throat, and seeming very much frightened and then said something, and died in ten minutes. It was then proposed to prove what she said, but Cockburn C J said it was not admissible. Anything he said, uttered by the deceased at the time the act was being done would be admissible, as for instance if she had been heard to say something, as 'Don't, Harry'. But here it was something stated by her after it was all over, whatever it was, and after the act was completed. The propriety of this decision was the subject of two pamphlets, one, by W^m Pitt Taylor, who denied, the other by the Lord Chief Justice who maintained, it. Steph Dig Ev p 5. This decision is thus explained by Prof Wigmore:—Of this ruling it may be said: (1) From the Verbal act point of view, the declarations did not accompany the fatal deed, was not contemporaneous and therefore was rightly excluded, from the same point of view, moreover, a declaration by one person about the deed of another could not possibly be received; (2) as involving a question under the exceptions for Spontaneous Exclamations (vide infra) the ruling in Beddingfield's Case is plainly erroneous, and would almost certainly not be followed in this country, the facts of the case, in respect to the controlling influence of the woman's situation and the recency of the shock, make it one of the strongest in judicial annals. The arguments on the ensuing controversy between Chief Justice Cockburn and Mr Taylor dealt indiscriminately with the Verbal Act precedents, as well as with others more germane to the question. merits of these arguments it is England up to that time—the Maito v Emperor, 11 C W N 266) and under section 32, clause (a) as well as under clause (3) of section 21.

Whether declarations and act must be by the same person. In Home v Malkin, 27 W R 340 (Eng), it was ruled that where acts and declarations were by different persons it could not be admitted. But though such declarations are often the only ones natural, the rule is by no means so strictly confined. It is an every day question as to what a witness can say about the acts of the victim, or the like, defendants, B & Ald unless some nor agents should be rejected (R v Pet cannot be taken as invariable, for the sometimes be both relevant and admissible. Steph Dig art 3, illus(a); Milne v Leistler, 1 H & N 100, 12 C W N 100; Cartwright, 5 B & S 1, Stanley v White, 14 East 339; The Schwalbe, Swab 521; Phip Ev 53, Whart. Crim Ev, 259.

Application of Verbal Act doctrine in cases of sale. "The declarations of a party when they tend to explain the fact and are necessary for that purpose might be given in evidence. As in the case of tender, the declaration of the party of the purpose for which the money is offered is a part of the res gestae and must be proved otherwise the transaction cannot be understood." Suff's Ev 130. So a declaration accompanying a delivery of money becomes admissible where it shows the nature of the transaction because it helps "to ascertain with what motive an act was done." Cleuser v Samuel, 15 N Br 58, Strange v Donohue 4 Ind 328. To identify land sold declarations by a deceased vendor at the time of the sale, pointing out the parcels, are admissible as part of res gestae, i.e., the delivery of the deed. Parrott v Watts, 37 L T 755, see also Jarvey v Spring 29 L T 847. Extrajudicial statements, being part of the true res gestae may constitute or assist to constitute, a sale. Clamberlayne, Ev § 262d.

6

Possessor's declaration in cases of adverse possession. The declarations of persons in possession of personal property are often received as verbal acts characterizing and explaining the nature of such possession, that is, as part of the res gestae. Possession is explained as prima facie evidence of ownership in the possessor. But such possession is entirely consistent with ownership in another and therefore, the conduct and declarations of the possessor may be material to show the nature of his possession whether as owner, part owner or agent. Burr Jones § 351. So also in cases of adverse possession by a person all declarations by the occupant importing a claim of title in himself, are admissible as verbal parts of his act of occupation, serving to give it an adverse colour. Higmore § 1778. In de Bide v Thompson, 8 Ala 650 653, Collier v J said: "It is not to be understood that such declarations are admissible to every conceivable extent. True, the affirmation of the party in possession that he held it in his own right or under another is proper evidence as part of res gestae which res gestae is his continuous possession. But his declarations beyond this are no part of the subject matter or thing done and cannot be received as such. While it is allowable to prove statements of one in possession as explanatory thereof, it is not permissible to show everything that may have been said by him in respect to the title, as, that it was acquired by him bona fide and for a valuable consideration was paid for by the money of a third person or his own etc. This, beyond and independent of it." But declarations to show the adverse character of the possession are quite as much in the nature of facts as in the nature of a medium of proof. Hobb v Richardson 4 Vt 465 (472). It is the intent to possess, with which the acts are done that gives them their character. So declarations which are made at the time of the act done and which are calculated to unfold its nature and quality are admissible in evidence. Stephen v McKay 36 I A 661. "The limitation of this doctrine must, however, be observed. It assumes that adverse possession is in some way material under the issues of the case (forcible entry, prescriptive title, or otherwise) and that the declarations were made when in possession and that they were not offered except as colouring the occupation. Subject to these limitations the use of such declarations for this purpose is never disputed." Higmore § 1718. Where the occupier is the lessee of the person claiming adversely his declarations to the effect that he holds the land as a tenant of the person who holds the land in adverse possession are also admissible. Holloway v Hales, cited in 21 R 55. The reason for such admission is that the possession of the tenant was connected with that of the landlord, which was adverse. Doe v Williams, Lamp 21, see also Darby v Pierce, 21 R 53, Peaceable v Watson 4 Laun 16. Doe v Green Gow 228, Carne v Nicoll, 1 Bing N C 430. The relevancy of such declarations may often be regarded as constituent of the right alleged to exist and they may be received in evidence in behalf of the party asserting. As evidence of the fact that extrajudicial statements of adverse claim are objectionable as Clamberlayne's Ev § 2600.

in the light of the circumstances with which it may have been made. It is no revocation." Per Wilde J. in Parnell v which a testator's nature, of various done by the of the testator no revocandi. D 212 So declarations of the testator in such cases are evidence where they show the quo animo. Dun v. Brown, 1 Cow. 190. Such declarations tend to establish the existence of a psychological fact, i. e., the animus revocandi. Chamberlayne's Fr 2622.

tion of
in the Huth

Statement by agents. Under the rule of substantive law enabling one with delegated authority to bind his principal, the extra-judicial statements which are part of the res gestae of a contract may be those of an agent. In other words, his unsworn declaration in and of itself may constitute and establish rather than prove the result at which it arrives. Chamberlayne's Et 2616.

Demand. A demand may be constituted by an extra-judicial statement. That the statement is in part at least self-serving, is not necessarily fatal to admissibility especially where the declarant's position has been fully covered by a reply made by the adverse interest. In like manner, a refusal may be so constituted. Chamberlayne's Et § 2618.

Label and Slander. One whose purpose is to prove that certain statements of a defamatory nature were made, is clearly entitled to show as part of the true res gestae the making of such extra-judicial declarations. These statements are constitutively relevant independent of their truth or falsity. Should the statement be one for which the defendant under the rules of substantive law, is in no way responsible, constitutive relevancy is not shown and the declaration is rejected, not being as is said, any part of the res gestae. Extra-judicial statements of a third person made to defendant that facts published were true, when not hearsay. A previous libellous

Declarations of a bankrupt. On this principle the declarations of bankrupts on going from and returning home have been received for the purpose of showing the motive and cause of absence, although a considerable time had elapsed. Bateman v. Buley, 5 Term Rep 512. In Ransom v. Haigh, 2 Bing 99 the question was whether a man had absented himself from the realm "with the intent to lun

Act" Letters

admissible in

"When these would not the

If so, there

second and third letters, having been written subsequently to the act of departing from the realm, were not admissible in evidence. I am clearly of opinion that they were admissible an act is equivocal, ninety-nine cases of the party himself

The declarations, in order to be admissible, must be made, or letters written, at the time of the act in question, but it is sufficient if t

r

c rupt is part of the res ge thereby constitute an act of

v Gyde, 9 Bing 319, An equivocal

his i either

v R

both departure from home, that is continuance of that act shows

Carter v. Gregory, 8 Pick 163

and

Hadley

ne an plain done

Touch

were

the

was given by way of fraudulent preference, the declarations of the bankrupt must be admitted, not so much as declarations but as part of his conduct from which inference is to be drawn that the security was given without pressure. Per Bosanquet J in Ridley v Gyle 9 Bing 349.

Since the declaration 'is received as a verbal part of the act, it must of course be contemporaneous with the alleged act of bankruptcy. Any thing said before or after that conduct could have a purely assertive force only and could not be receivable on the present principle. This limitation has caused some apparent judicial uncertainty—for example, in cases where the declaration was made after the debtor has absconded and while he was staying in a foreign country. There is however, no difficulty of principle in receiving such declarations, the difficulty is merely one of fact in determining the duration of the conduct constituting the alleged act of bankruptcy. The limitation is strict and inflexible, that the declaration must be contemporaneous with the alleged act. But as the conduct constituting the alleged act of bankruptcy may extend over a considerable period of time—as where a debtor absconds and stays abroad and then returns—there may be a considerable interval between the mere beginning of the conduct, i.e. the original departure or closing of the house and the actual time of the declaration. Thus, though the declaration, as always under the present principle must be contemporaneous with the alleged act of bankruptcy, the conduct constituting that act may allow for them a wide range of time. Wigmore § 1783, see also Thayer's Cases on Evidence (2nd Ed.) 646, 649, Philp Ev 75. Commenting on Bateman v Bailey 5 F R 512, Mr Christian said 'If the Court intended to say that what he declared after his return was complete, and when he was doing no act connected with it (is admissible) it is presumed the decision cannot be supported. Whilst he is preparing to go, or in the act of going, and during his absence from home, and whilst he is returning or unpacking his portmanteau, etc. what he says is part of the act of bankruptcy but when he is only meditating a future act, or speaking of a past one completely finished, his words surely can have no legal operation than those of any other man. See also Lees v Marston 1 M & R 210, Peacock v Harris 5 A & E 449, Brickhouse v Jones 6 Bing N. C. 65.

Declarations as to Domicile. If the questions were, whether a person who had remained abroad for some years had acquired a domicile in the country of his residence, letters written by him during such residence showing his intention to remain there permanently or otherwise, would doubtless be admissible, as part of the transaction. Doucet v Geoghegan, 9 Ch D 455, Cockle Cas 69, Cruckenden v Fuller 1 Sw & Tr 411; Platt v Att Gen 3 App Cas 896 Ry Gros, 40 Ch D 229 237, Bordie v B 4 L T N S 307, Spurway v S, (1894) 1 Ir R 385 397. That such declarations 'says Prof Wigmore, 'in the ordinary case that is when made not prior to removal, but during removal or settling, cannot conceivably be governed by the Verbal Act doctrine is more than ought to be asserted. But having regard to the element of intent as treated in the law of domicile, it may better be regarded as a separate and independent element material for its own sake and not merely as appurtenant to an act, and therefore may be shown by declarations admissible under the exception for statements of a mental condition. Wigmore § 1784.

Knowledge, belief, good faith etc. A person's knowledge of a given fact may be shown either by his own declarations or those of others conveying notice or information to him provided that the existence of the fact be first proved aliunde. Thomas v Connel & M & W 267 Pacher v Cocks M & W 553 Philp Ev 63 see also Fabrigas v Mostin 20 How St Tr 137. Such statements need not, of course be made contemporaneously with the happening of the fact, nor even at the precise time when the existence of the knowledge is in issue, since previous knowledge may be evidence of subsequent knowledge though not vice versa. R v Gunnell 16 Cox 154 R v Kaye, 16 Cox 292, 293 N., Philp Ev 63.

"Where the question is whether a party has acted prudently, wisely, or in good faith, the information on which he acted, whether true or false is original and material evidence, and not hearsay. Friest v Hamill, 31 Md 293.

Statements as regards state of health and bodily feelings. In Aceton v Kinnaird 6 East, 188 the action was upon a policy of insurance on the life of the wife of the plaintiff. The only question to be decided in that case was whether the statement of the insured's good health, given at the time of effecting the policy was false. The Court in that case admitted evidence of a friend to whom the deceased stated that she was in a bad state of health. Lord Ellenborough in delivering the judgment observed: "The question being, what was the state of her own health at a certain period, a witness has been received to relate that which has always been received from patients to explain, her own account of the cause of her being found in bed at an unreasonable hour with the appearance of being ill. She was questioned as to her bodily infirmity. She said it was of some duration, several days. What were the complaints, what the symptoms, what the conduct of the parties themselves at the time, are to from

by the surgeon and certified to be in good health, down to the day when the conversation took place, and the witness, and in that view I think see also R v Nicholas, 3 C & K 216, where declarations are evidence of contemporaneous conduct. Le March, 169-179, Gilbey v G H (1912) 1 K B 40 C A. It is usually said that such declarations are receivable though they form the only proof of the given condition (Tay § 580), but this has been doubted and it has been suggested that the manifested condition and not the sickness itself, is the true res gestae to be explained (Thayer, 15 Am L R 98 101). So, when the terms upon which husband and wife have lived are material, their letters to each other (Frelauney v Coleman, 1 B & Ald 90), or to third persons (Wills v Bernard, 8 Bing 376), are admissible evidence of that fact, though not of the truth of all the matters stated. Phil Ev p 61. Where the attempt is made to use the independently relevant statement in a probative capacity e.g., as showing some relevant mental condition or state, it cannot properly be classified as part of the res gestae. The existence of mental condition or state and may as such, be properly deduced from the res gestae. Being however, psychological fact, the extra judicial declarations or cannot well be part, of the res gestae prop.

Declaration by accused found with stolen goods. On a charge of larceny, when the accused is found in possession of the stolen goods, and this circumstance is offered against him, the accused's use of his own declaration in exonerating, may be treated from the point of view of several principles. Wigmore § 1781. In R v Abraham, 3 Cox Cr 430, which was a case of burglary, the defendant had said, before suspicion existed, that he found them in a field. Alderson B. possession of the stolen property which made, he had not the roughurst, 1 C & K 370, 170; R v Wilson, 2 F & F

Other declarations. Statements made by the guardian of a minor, when borrowing money on behalf of the minor are admissible as res gestae. Hanooman v Musst Babooee, 13 M I A 393 at p 419. Where a person's opinions at a given time are material, per se and irrespective of any act, expressions thereof, made at such time, are receivable. R v Hardy, 24 How St Tr 1066. These expressions of recognition by the spectators were admitted, to prove that a caricature resembled the object has been co-explain, so explanatory of act.

Declarations under this section, whether an exception to the Hearsay Rule. The theory of the Hearsay rule is that, when a human utterance is offered as evidence of the truth of the fact asserted in it the credit of the assertor becomes the basis of our inference, and therefore the assertion can be received only when made upon the stand, subject to the test of cross-examination. If, therefore, an extra judicial utterance is offered, not as an assertion to evidence the matter asserted, but without reference to the truth of the matter asserted,

3. the Hearsay rule does not apply. The utterance is then merely not obnoxious to that rule. It may or may not be received according as it has any relevancy in the case, but if it is not received, this is no way due to the Hearsay rule. For example in a prosecution against a defuncting embezzler Doe, it is desired to show that after leaving his employment, he concealed himself and passed under a false name here his statement "My name is Roe" is not offered to evidence that his name was in truth Roe, on the contrary, it will be shown that his name was Doe, and the statement is not used as hearsay. Or, on an issue of insanity, it is offered to show that the party said, "I am the Emperor of Africa" here the utterance is not offered as evidence that he was in truth the Emperor but, on the contrary, is circumstantially indicating his mental aberration. Again, in an action upon a warranty of a horse, it is offered to show that the defendant at the time of the bargain asserted that the horse was only four years old here the plain prove that the horse is nevertheless twelve defendant's statement with any view to using with just the contrary desires the jury to take this utterance as evidence of the truth of the fact asserted he would be much disappointed if they should accept it in that aspect, his purpose is merely by this utterance to evidence the anger which he naturally felt upon hearing it. The prohibition of the Hearsay rule, then, does not apply to all words or utterances merely as such. The Hearsay rule excludes extrajudicial utterances only when offered for a special purpose, namely, as assertions to evidence the truth of the matter asserted. Wigmore § 1766, File also § 60 of the Evidence Act.

When a declaration accompanies an act or conduct it is admissible under this section if it explains the act or conduct. Hyde v Palmer 30 L J Q B 126 Graham Hotel v Manning 1 R 1 C L 125, Agassiz v London Tram Co, 21 W R 193 Phup Ex Sid Ed 48. Such declarations attach to the act or conduct some legal effect. The conduct or act standing alone has no definite significance or at best is equivocal, and its whole legal purport or tenor is to be ascertained precisely by considering the words accompanying it. These declarations are not assertions to evidence the truth of the matters asserted. So they do not fall within the rule of Hearsay evidence. These utterances are admitted in evidence not in violation of section 69 of the Evidence Act but as verbal part of the Act or in the common phrase as verbal acts. Vide Wigmore § 1772. Declarations of a party said Clifford J in Insurance Co v Mosley 8 Wall 411, to a transaction though he was not under oath, if they were made at the time any act was done which is material as evidence in any issue before the Court, and if they were made to explain the act or to unfold its nature and quality, and were of a character to have that effect, are treated, in the law of evidence, as verbal acts and, as such, are not hearsay but may be introduced with the principal act which they accompany and to which they relate as original evidence because they are regarded as a part of the principal act, and their introduction in evidence is deemed necessary to define that act and unfold its nature it is a statement. That a given declaration was made is simply a fact which should be allowed to give rise to any relevant inference which may properly be drawn from its existence. the range of the res gestae may be admitted in evidence. statements may constitute the principal facts to be

ence of 47 49
P 658
ylesfort
b App
admis
70 In ir from because which within under state mong

ner 64

ie, unconditional by evidence of any other fact, and are covered by the paramount right of every litigant to establish the res gestae of his case by the best evidence which it is practically in his power to produce. It will not be forgotten, however, that the relevancy of such statements when thus employed is, like that of other res gestae facts, constituent rather than probative. Chamberlayne § 2593, Whart Cr Ev § 266.

proved when they are constituent question can well be raised. In re se The relation which such facts sustain to the existence of the right or liability asserted in the action has been denominated as constituent facts. The effect of unsworn statements when thus used on an issue of right or liability present to the tribunal a question of substantive law. Thus, on an indictment for perjury the fact that the defendant spoke the words now said to be false has no proper connection with the rule against hearsay. It is simply a verbal act which assists, with other facts, to constitute the liability with which the accused is charged. As such, evidence of this character is admissible as a matter of course, a res gestae or constituent fact. So in a trial of a civil action on an oral contract any material extra-judicial statement made by either of the parties during the period of negotiation in which an agreement is said to have been reached is merely a res gestae or constituent of practical consequence except for purposes of clearance. The fact to be proved may in any case be established equally well circumstantially or directly. It is for example, in the case assumed of an oral contract, by no means essential to admissibility that the unsworn statements of the parties should embody or constitute in and of themselves by a formal offer and acceptance, the precise and entire agreement. Much may be left to the interpretation of circumstances surrounding the transaction. Statements of the parties, however, still perform

The evidence furnished by the independently relevant res gestae declaration is primary. Where the extra-judicial unsworn statement is used as evidence of the facts asserted, a superior grade of evidence is possible, i. e., the testimony of the original declarant on the subject. No better or more convincing evidence of the existence of a statement can be given than the testimony of the reporting witness who says that he heard it made. In other words, while the reporting witness, in both cases, testifies directly to the declaration itself, he states a fact when the unsworn statement is to be used as hearsay which tends to establish the truth of the facts asserted only in a circumstantial way. Superior to this, is the direct testimony of the original observer whose statement is reported to the tribunal. The fact, however, that the statement was made is provable by the primary evidence of any person who heard it. A statement which is irrelevant is to be excluded, not because it is a statement, but for the reason that under the fundamental rule it is not evidence, because not relevant. Should such relevancy appear, on the other hand, it is not objectionable that the declaration is self-serving. Nor need the relevancy, provided it exists, rest upon any particular ground, such as contemporaneous incorporation with a principal fact. On an enquiry as to what was actually said, however, the subjective mental condition of the declarant, the extent of his knowledge or his motive to misrepresent, are naturally immaterial. So long, therefore, as relevancy is preserved the unsworn declaration may precede or follow, even by considerable interval, a principal fact with which it is logically connected.

The making of the independently unsworn statements must be proved by proper evidence. Hearsay, for example extra-judicial statements used in their assertive capacity, will be rejected when offered for the purpose. Instances of the independently relevant use of unsworn statements as constitutively relevant

6. are very numerous. On close parallel lines with this employment are found examples of the probative use of such declarations. A particular statement may be regarded as employed in either capacity, according as the specific words themselves effect the legal result which they contemplate, in which case the relevancy is constituent, or, on the other hand, tend to prove the existence of a relevant mental state, in which event their relevancy is probative. Chamberlayne's Ev § 2596

Should the unsworn statement in and of itself, logically tend to establish the veracity of the fact in support of which it is adduced, judicial administration is satisfied. Nothing further need be shown. We are not asked to believe that the declaration states the truth. We are merely made to know that it exists. How much the maker of the unsworn statement knew about the matter or what was his motive, if any, to misstate the truth need not be inquired. It is not surprising to find that self-serving declarations are perfectly admissible, although statements in derogation of title are equally competent under proper circumstances. Chamberlayne's Ev § 2605

Declarations by bystanders. The independently relevant statement may be that of a bystander. "Courts, so far as they can, are disposed to receive in evidence whatever can throw any light on the matter in issue, and advance the search after truth. No doubt, for that reason, in the case of an exclamation by any one in a crowd when an accident occurs, and the conduct of a particular person is in question, it may be asked whether some one did not call out 'shame', for it is part of the res gestae." Per Pollock C B in Milne v Leister, 7 H & N 786. Wherever it can fairly be inferred that the declarations of such a person affected the action of the participants themselves in some essential particular, or promoted the doing of some important act, the evidence will be received. The facts that the declaration offered was made while the res gestae was going on is not sufficient ground for admitting the statement. So the relation of causation is deemed essential. According to judicial custom in the United States, evidence of the extra-judicial statement of any legitimate purpose connected with part of the res gestae. Chamberlayne's Ev x 79, where it was held that unless some common object be proved the declarations of the participants if neither parties nor agents, should be rejected. "But this limitation," says Phipson "cannot be taken as invariable, for the exclusion is not applicable to evidence which is relevant and admissible." R v B & H 1, Stanley v White, 11 Cr 111.

The same administrative course is adopted where the exclamation of one standing near is felt to be necessary or expedient for connecting other facts into the narrative of significant events. These declarations of bystanders are not offered in their assertive capacity, i. e. as evidence of the facts stated. Chamberlayne's Ev § 2597

Proof of such declarations not subject to limitations of Hearsay Rule. These declarations can be proved whether the declarant be called as a witness or not (Dysart Peerage, 6 App Cas 516); or even though he would be incompetent if so called (Boteman v Bailey, 5 T R 512; Aveson v Kinnaird, 6 East 168, Aylesford Peerage, 1 App Cas 1). Nor is it material whether the declarant be alive or dead at the date of the trial. (Dysart Peerage, supra) Phipson's Ev p 59.

Verbal Act doctrine—Strict interpretation of—much valuable evidence is left out. From the illustrative cases given above it is clear that much valuable evidence cannot be admitted if the Verbal act doctrine be too strictly followed as in R v Beddingfield, 14 Cox 311. This case was the subject matter

Just as rule on the Law company it either matters tempora respect" of the transaction, is a relevant fact. In Chambers v. Lempert, 11 C. W. N. 266 at p. 270 the Court said: "We are also of opinion that the statements of Gopal are not admissible against the accused. They are hearsay and proved only by those who heard them. They were not made in the presence of the accused. Hearsay evidence is ordinarily inadmissible and the exceptions are to be found in the Indian Evidence Act. Other exceptions cannot and should not be added." Then it adds at p. 271: "In order to make the statement of a bystander admissible, and Gopal must be supposed to be a bystander, it must have been made, as contemplated by section 11 and illustration (a) to it, at the time the transaction was taking place or so shortly before or after it as to form part of it, and then the statement is the first part of their same judgment. It violates the Rule against But in the latter part it is hinted that had the statement been made during the continuance of the transaction it would have been admissible under this section. So illustration admit declarations which do not violate the Declarations falling under Verbal Act doctrine must not be confused with Spontaneous Exclamations. Certain kinds of statements are admissible, by universal concession, but which do not fall within the Verbal Act doctrine. The typical case presented is a statement or exclamation, by a participant, immediately after or at the time of the transaction of which it is a part.

§ 1772

v. State, 83 Ala. 230. These exclamations differ from declarations falling under they clearly do involve the testimonial use of the assertion to prove the truth of the fact asserted,—for example, when the injured person declares who assaulted him. In such cases the statement is either the first part of the transaction or it is a part of the transaction. Some of these are admissible under the Indian Evidence Act. See Terrence v. Skinner, 10 C. W. N. 261. In the last mentioned case the facts of which are stated at p. 102 the Court observed: "In the present case

Gopal if he had made any statement, made it after the transaction was over. We do not exactly know what the interval between the murder of Laly and Gopal's statement to the Chowkidar was. Gopal was not then in such condition as to be fabricating evidence or his being out of his state of mind to be such as the law requires. He was perfectly in his senses at the time.

the above observations. The assertions and admissions in evidence had the other requirements been fulfilled. But those relationship is in the Act. The provisions by the Act to construe the important this inclusion of it is not done. He cloak of res gestae or as being made in the same transaction. Similarly it has been held that section 11 is controlled by section 32 of the Act. Bela Rani v Mohabir, 34 A 341-9 A L J 351-14 Ind Cas 116, see also P D Sethna v Mir a Mahomed, 9 Bom L R 1047 dealt elaborately under section 11.

that under excitement and control so response to the actual sensations and perceptions already produced by the external shock. Since this utterance is made under the immediate and uncontrolled used the rec La

assault and battery upon the wife of the plaintiff, Lord Holt J "allowed that what the wife said immediately upon the hurt received, and before she had time to devise or contrive anything for her own advantage, might be given in evidence." In Aleson v Hinnard, 6 East 193, counsel for the plaintiff contended that

g. Made at the same time. The explanation of the mind and purpose of the actor as it is involved in that fact, they are presumed to be as veritable, as reliable, as the fact is itself, and would guarded "in its practical application, there is no principle in the law of evidence more safe in its results. In the ordinary concerns of life, no one would doubt the truth of these declarations, or hesitate to regard them, when uncontradicted, as conclusive. Their probative force would not be questioned" Insurance Co. v Mosley, 11 Wall 397; Brownell v R Co, 47 Mo 246; Harriman v. Stoe, 57 Mo 93

The reason for their reception is thus forcefully stated by Brown J in State v Brown 51 Mo 107.

the
utt
the ort
Ro giving any weight to such statements made by a declarant, the Court must be sat tru
clo sut
for Ga /d1

Reason for accepting such statements In order to admit evidence of such statements, death, absence, etc, need not be shown. This kind of statement ■

"When a person receives a sudden injury, it is natural for him, if in the possession of his faculties, to state at once how it happened. Metaphorically, it may be said, the act speaks through him and discloses its character." Murray v Boston & M. B Co, 72 N. H. 32, 37.

6. not admitted, as an exception to the

be obtained from the same person for resorting to it" Wymore § 17 out the party's only defence"

Because "it is impossible for a witness to convey such scenes to the mind and their effect and influence upon it," so this kind of evidence is more convincing than the testimony of the persons themselves sometime after the occurrence Mobile & M. R. Co v. Wright, 49 Ala. 31. "We merely say that, whatever force is given to dying declarations as the utterances of those who on account of the peculiar situation may be relied on to tell the exact truth as it appears to them must needs be accorded also to the exclamations of mental terror caused by a deadly assault. To reject the evidence afforded by the agonized entreaties of one standing face to face with death in the person of a murderer with an uplaid manner, who is a witness by the person of a murderer with an by
by

had example of the perfection of human reason Per Barons & M. L.
Wagner, 61 Me 195

Requisites for admitting such evidence (1) Nature of the occasion—There must be some shock startling one who is not a party to a quarrel and

Thompson v. Lickerton 402

(2) Time of the utterance The utterance must have been before there has been time to contrive and misrepresent, i.e. while the nervous excitement may be supposed still to dominate and the reflective powers to be yet in abeyance. It is to be the exciting the exc
In Miel
Court has said, that the a question] which must the rule is formulated. It is the law of 20 or 30 days or a few of the hours and a few of a party are to (Unless such

said that the declarations must be contemporaneous with the main fact, no rule can be formulated by which to determine how near, in point of time they tious

of the

element for consideration; that being close in point of time ■ not, however, all S. (the basis for receiving such evidence, and that the ultimate test is spontaneity or instructiveness and logical relation to the main event, that the tendency of the declaration was to "reception of such testimony." In a the defendant steamer was backing steamer, who was on the bridge, helm is still a starboard" The

Schualbe, Swab 521 In R v Lundy, 6 Cox Cr 477 the deceased's statements on the arrival of on the 21st Ma herself was exclu was whether A c B when running out of the room in which h it had been, was not allowed to be proved by field, 14 Cox Cr 341

In Hutchins v Railroad Co, 138 Iowa, 279 the plaintiff fell from a street car, by reason of negligence in failure to let down a folding step As she fell she exclaimed, "Yes, let down the step after I fall" The declaration was a typical instance of re and having the plaintiff with the ever so near in point of time to the fact which is the subject of proof In Rothrock v City Cedar Rapids, 128 Iowa, 257, the declarations which referred to the manner and place in which plaintiff had sustained injuries, but were made on the arrival home, that s where hour a that H end, rather than to er the grounds which Jack v Life Asso-

statements are spontaneous, whether there was an opportunity for fabrication or a likelihood of it; the lapse of time between the act and the declaration relating to it, the attendant excitement; the mental and physical condition of the declarant worthiness jury I

(3) of the o logically person ■ him, the any other to some there is not the same necessity for employing them It seems clear on precedents, that utterances thus relating to some distinct prior circumstance would not be received Wigmore § 1750, see Khyruddin v Emperor, 92 Ind Cas 442-43 C 372

Know of testime that the de which he speaker.

neither infamy by conviction of crime Nech v State, 56 S W 625 the disqualification of insanity should probably be treated for the present purpose like that of infancy Wilson State, 49 Tex Cr 50, Wigmore § 1751

contemporaneous with the act Now all four c peculiar to the Verbal Act doctrine, have be present exception for spontaneous exception in the Verbal Act doctrine acts are admissible in evidence principal act, relevant under made definite; (2) The words act, (3) The words must be by 4) the words must be precisely testimonial use of words, whu ignore § 1752 So in Gresham

"The act which they (declara be evidence in the cause without 12 Cox Cr 230 This form of expression is frequent enough But such a limitation has no place in this Exception What is required here is merely that there shall be some startling occurrence calculated to produce nervous excitement and spontaneous utterance
Wigmore § 1753

As regards the second limitation, ordinarily declarations which do not in some way or other elucidate or explain the occurrence, are not given in evidence
So from this 6 East 193, in with misconduct should not admit it, if it were a collateral declaration of some matter happened at another time' So also in Jassir v Framway Co, 21 W R 100

the driver "has been off the
"The conductor's remark referred to the conduct of the the beating or so shortly before or after it as to form part of the transaction, is a relevant fact Vide illustration (a) So also in Milne v Letsler, 7 H N 786 796, Pollock O B said: 'Courts so far as they can are disposed to receive in evidence whatever can throw light on the matter in issue and advance the search after truth No doubt, for that reason, in the case of an exclamation by any one in a crowd, when an accu question, it may be asked part of the res gestae' that limitation murder of B by standers at going past,

one went in

's utterance therwise is testimonial

assertion of a past act But under the present exception an utterance is, by Wigmore § 1756 The case of R v Bedingfield, 14 Cox Cr 341 fully reported at p 104 is an example of evidence which is clearly erroneous. The facts of the woman's situation and the recency of the shock, make it one of the strongest in judicial annals. Of course from the Verbal Act point of view, as the declaration did not accompany the fatal deed, it was not contemporaneous, and therefore was rightly excluded. Vide Wigmore § 1756

st
pe
M :
police that M was not present at the riot and that he had made no charge against him. He stated that the report was written by one J. Subsequently M prosecuted J and P for an offence under section 211 of the Penal Code. Held that the statement made by P to the police as part of a confession or as part of the section 6. Jalpa v Emperor, 50 Ind Cas

7. Facts which are the occasion, cause or effect, immediate or otherwise, of relevant facts, or facts in issue, or which constitute the state of things under which they happened, or which afforded an opportunity for their occurrence or transaction, are relevant.

Illustrations.

(a) The question is, whether A robbed B

The facts that, shortly before the robbery, B went to a fair with money in his possession, and that he showed it or mentioned the fact that he had it, to third persons, are relevant.

(b) The question is, whether A murdered B

Marks on the ground, produced by a struggle at or near the place where the murder was committed, are relevant facts

(c) The question is, whether A poisoned B

The state of B's health before the symptoms ascribed to poison, and habits of B, known to A, which afforded an opportunity for the administration of poison, are relevant facts objective inference as to the existence of a fact still more complex in its nature, of men consist, it owes its origin to those which have preceded it, it is intimately connected with all others which concur at the same time and place, and often with those of remote regions, and, in its turn, it gives birth to a thousand others which succeed. Stark Fr. Vol 1, 496 Such relations make it possible, when the existence of one fact in the chain of causation is asserted, to test the truth of the assertion by an inquiry as to the existence of those facts with which, had

ns to Hearsay Rule, the declarant qualifications that would be required 1751 But infancy is not such a , Beal Doyle v Carr, 85 Ark 479), neither infamy by conviction of crime Neely v State, 36 S W 625 The disqualification of insanity should probably be treated for the present purpose like that of infancy. Wilson State, 49 Tex Cr 50, Wigmore § 1751.

Certain Spurious Limitations borrowed from the Verbal Act doctrine
 Under certain conditions only verbal parts of acts are admissible in evidence They are as follows (1) There must be a main or principal act, relevant under ade definite; (2) The words
 (3) The words must be by the words must be precisely contemporaneous with the act Now all four of these limitations, though entirely peculiar to the Verbal Act doctrine, have been misapplied in some cases to the present exception for spontaneous exception That it is a case of misapplication is clear; for here the concern is with a hearsay or testimonial use of words, while there no such function is attributed to them Wigmore § 1752 So in Gresham
v. Manning, 1r R 1 C L 125, O'Brien J, said "The act which they (declarations) accompany should be one that would be evidence in the cause without any such declarations" But see R v Edwards, 12 Cox Cr 230 This form of expression is frequent enough But such a limitation has no place in this Exception What is required here is merely that there shall be some startling occurrence calculated to produce nervous excitement and spontaneous utterance
Wigmore § 1753

As regards the second limitation, ordinarily declarations which do not in some way or other elucidate or explain the occurrence, are not given in evidence
 So from this aspect the limitation becomes a real one In Aieson v Kinnaird
 6 East 193, in which declarations of wife upon elopement, charging the husband with misconduct causing it, were admitted Lord Ellenborough observed, "I should not admit it, if it were a collateral declaration of some matter which the beating or so shortly relevant f 796, Pollo

 evidence
 after truth No doubt for that reason in a crowd, question, it r part of the

the declaration hat limitation murder of B
 by slanders at insaction, is a r, 7 H N 786 to receive in ance the search by any one erson is in for it is 541 which going past
 one went in r's utterance otherwise it testimonial

 e is, by the only ral effu continue may be enough is there-
 that the

utterance must be precisely contemporaneous with the act or occurrence

Wigmore § 1756 The case of R v Beddingfield, 14 Cox Cr 341 fully reported at p 104 is an example of this. As an exception to Spontaneous Exclamation the evidence is clearly admissible and the ruling of Cockburn C J is plainly erroneous. The facts of the case, in a woman's situation and the recency of the judicial annals. Of course from the fact that the statement did not accompany the fatal deed, it was not contemporaneous and therefore was rightly excluded. Vide Wigmore § 1756

Statement made to the police by one of the persons who had committed the offence and handed in a written report.

M. The report was read out to the police that M was not present at the riot and that he had made no charge against him. He stated that the report was written by one J. Subsequently M prosecuted J and P for an offence under section 211 of the Penal Code. Held that the statement made by P to the police was not admissible against J either as part of a confession or as part of the transaction under investigation under section 6. Jalpa v Emperor, 50 Ind Crs 487 = 17 A L J 760

7 Facts which are the occasion, cause or effect, immediate or otherwise, of relevant facts, or facts in issue, or which constitute the state of things under which they happened, or which afforded an opportunity for their occurrence or transaction, are relevant.

Illustrations

(a) The question is whether A robbed B.

The facts that, shortly before the robbery, B went to a fair with money in his possession, and that he showed it or mentioned the fact that he had it, to third persons are relevant.

(b) The question is whether A murdered B.

Marks on the ground produced by a struggle at or near the place where the murder was committed, are relevant facts.

(c) The question is, whether A poisoned B.

The state of B's health before the symptoms ascribed to poison and habits of B, known to A, which afforded an opportunity for the administration of poison are relevant facts.

Principle The principle contained in this section has a logical foundation.

objective inference as to the existence of a fact still more complex in its nature and so on in many degrees of involution. The necessary method of drawing of men consist, it owes its origin to those which have preceded it, it is intimately connected with all others which concur at the same time and place, and often with those of remote regions and in its turn, it gives birth to a thousand others which succeed. Stark F. 101 J. 196 Such relations make it possible when the existence of one fact in the chain of causation is ascertained, to test the truth of the assertion by an inquiry as to the existence of those facts with which, had

it existed it would every or at least principle implied in own existence neces § 1784 "There is a an assumption with and the order of the universe, namely, that there parallel cases that what happened once, will under of circumstances, happen again, and not only again but as often as the same circumstances recur This, I say, is an assumption involved in every case of induction And if we consult the actual course of nature, we find that the assumption is warranted The universe so far as known to us is so constituted, that whatever is true in any one case is true of all cases of certain description the only difficulty is to find out at descrip tion' Mills's System of Logic Book III Chap III § 1 Chamberlaine's L § 3150

In order that an alleged actor should have been capable of doing a specific act which requires his bodily presence at the locus of its being done, it is necessary where the evidence is circumstantial to establish that he was present at the time at that place This may be shown by his actions on a previous occasion His other acts at about the same time as the act in question and near the scene of the act go to show the same chief value is that it prevents the accused from denying his presence But the frequent difficulty here is that the evidentiary fact is not that the accused was present at the exact time and place of the act, but that he was near enough to have been able to be there at the exact time and place Ibid

Scope of the section by not more or less close a fact can or cannot be meaning of section 6 S of facts Leaving the classes of facts which the yet connected with it in particular modes and so are relevant when the trans tion itself is under enquiry Then and so are relevant when the trans occasion or cause of its occurrence, (4) as They are in truth different aspects of causation and hence the combination of facts of this nature is that if you want not almost the first natural step is to only led to read

order moreover, properly to appreciate things in which it occurred For all Cunningham, p 91

Causation As it is

Logic p 199

with the other

-

-

-

what acceptance of the words is his expression a cause or effect of the act of stab bing? Or consider the case of the White Chapel murder in London Upon the issue, Did Wainwright murder Harriet Lane? It is offered in evidence that the body before the Court is that of a woman who never bore children. How is this a cause or effect of the fact in issue? The widest acceptance of the words 'cause' and 'effect' will not include such facts as these. And if we give them the meaning necessary to make true the statement that relevancy means the statement it self becomes of no question that relevancy and a two is recognizable by an ling expressible in ordinary language

"The definition that relevancy means the connection of events as cause and effect, leaves us then, in this difficulty that if we take the words in any, even the widest con-which we know from transcendent meanin
gone together to make up the state of things existing at any time, and that no fact could ever have existed without the co existence of every other fact that did exist at the same time, then the definition includes everything, and so ceases to be a definition

"Thus the statement that relevancy means the connection of events as cause and effect, requires some addition, if the words are used in any ordinary sense, and some limitation, if they are given a transcendent sense" Woodhoffs
p 80

Limit of the rule The rule, therefore, that facts may be regarded as relevant which can be shown to stand either in the relation of cause or in relation of effect to the fact to which they are said to be relevant, may be accepted as true, subject to the caution that, when an inference is to be founded upon the existence of such a connection, every step by which the connection is made out must either be proved, or be so probable under the circumstances of the case that it may be presumed without proof. Stephens's Introduction p 70

Occasion, Cause and Effect An event may be evidenced circumstantially by a cause or by an effect. This mode of inference is available in three forms, namely prospectant, retrospectant, and concomitant. For example, the sinking
the
its
of 191.

the falling of barometer eruled car
—these are Such inferences, however, rarely raise evidential questions in practice. Thus, in the illustration above used, the destruction of the herbage is evidently relevant, without question, as indicating the same destructive influence of atmosphere, soil, or the like, but in the further process of fixing on the flames in question is the precise cause of the process to effect it. Such a fact is not through an expert witness of fact. Thus, in general, the inference from an effect to the existence or operation of a cause is usually so proper as to be unquestionable, or else leads to a new controversy as to whether the supposed cause has any causing tendency of the alleged sort, and this new controversy involves a different sort of inference—Wigmore § 436

Concomitant Events as the basis of inference An event cannot be inferred from its concomitant event except on the assumption that they have a common cause, or unless the inference is really not one of concomitancy but of cause and effect. An example of the latter sort is the inference of fire from smoke &c., it is really the inference of fire as a cause from smoke as the effect. An example of the former sort is the inference of revolving wheels from the motion of the car &c. there is really an inference, first from the motion to the motive power as a cause and next from the motive power to the revolution of the wheels as a common effect of the same cause. In some instances, however, for practical purposes this latter analysis may be neglected and the inference treated as a single one. Wigmore § 436

Real meaning of cause or effect It must be noted from the remarks stated above that, that which is the main or first apparent inference offered is upon analysis to be resolved into an proposition to be evidenced is a ten- inference is from specific instances to the supposed tendency, inference from effects to capacity or tendency to produce those effects illustrates the general form to which all such inferences are reduced. The question at issue may be a conceded injury in a former is the cause the argument is obviously confined to those things which have a tendency or capacity to produce such effects. Thus while one of the ultimate issues for the Court still remains the question whether the factory caused the injury, yet the subsidiary proposition to which the evidence has to be directed is whether the factory has such a tendency or capacity. In short when it is desired to show broadly the or usually resolve something to and, secondly that something else is evidence of such a capacity or tendency, and it is the second of these inferences which in practice raises evidential questions. Wigmore § 441

Principle of probative value—General Rule There is presented as the effect B is introductory or capacity in X is not an abstract and absolute one but a limited and specific one, namely a capacity under the circumstances in which B occurred, to be followed by B. What X's capacity or tendency under other circumstances might be is immaterial, the single question is whether under the circumstances in hand I this specific capacity or tendency by c tendency evidence here, the the case in anying X, unless another is have a tendency to injure other adjacent houses B, an old house and B" were a wooden house, which was a new brick house, the case B would at most indicate a tendency in X to injure an old house not a new house B, and the case B would at most indicate a tendency in X to injure a wooden house, not a brick house B. The general logical requirement is then that when a thing has capacity or tendency to produce an effect of a given sort is to be evidenced by instances of the same effect found attending the same thing elsewhere these other instances have probative value—they are relevant—to show such a tendency or capacity only if the conditions or circumstances in the other instances are similar to those in the case in hand. But this similarity need not be precise in every detail. It need include only those circumstances or conditions which might conceivably have some influence in affecting the result in question. Wignore § 44⁷. So in evidencing a quality tendency capacity etc. by instances of its effects or exhibitions or operations on other occasions the natural and logical limitation is that the evidential instances should have occurred under substantially the same circumstances or conditions as at the time in question because otherwise they might well be attributed to the influence of some other element introduced by the differing circumstances. Greenl. Ev. § 14 (v).

Illustrative cases—Admissible evidence. In Hunt v. Louell Gaslight Co. 3 All 169 171, the question was whether the illness of the plaintiffs was caused by gas leaking from the defendant's pipes. In that case the plaintiffs were permitted to offer evidence that A. H. and his family had been in perfect health up to the time when the gas began to escape into their house and that immediately or soon after every member of the family became seriously ill. The sickness of the persons is admissible merely for the purpose of showing the nature of the gas which came into the house to the influence of which all the inmates were subjected alike. Evidence that inmates of another house were held to be inadmissible upon those who Per Chapman J.

board the defendant's vessel scurbutic food and medicine

sioned by want of anti-scurbutics

Illustrative cases—Inadmissible evidence. In Emerson v. Louell Gaslight Co. 3 All 410 417 the question was whether the illness of the plaintiff was caused by gas leaking from the defendant's pipe. Evidence was offered by the plaintiff that whenever the gas which escaped from the fracture in the defen-

in the occupants of another

When it is asked for example whether certain factory vapours were the cause of a destructive analysis broadest and cause as the y no

tain
cess d in its equence be made hot from each is a f bullets ullets, in how that u. The ay

of fact Thus, in general, the inference from an effect to the existence or operation of a cause is usually so proper as to be unquestionable, or else leads to a new inference—

Concomitant Events, as the basis of inference An event cannot be inferred from its concomitant event except on a common cause, or unless the inference is based on a common effect. An example of the latter is, it is really the inference of fire as a cause from smoke as the effect. An example of the former sort is the inference of revolving wheels from the motion of the car, &c., there is really an inference, first from the motion to the motive power as a cause, and next, from the motive power to the revolution of the wheels as a common effect of the same cause. In some instances, however, for practical purposes, this latter analysis may be neglected and the inference treated as a single one. Wigmore § 436

Real meaning of cause or effect It is above that, that which is the main analysis to be resolved into an inference. Illustrations, to the inference from effects to capacity or tendency to produce those effects furnishes the general form to which all such processes are reducible. For example, the question at issue may be whether the vibrations of factory-machinery have caused a conceded injury in an adjacent house. The main controversy is whether the former is the cause of the latter but, in searching among the probable causes, the argument is obviously confined to those things which have a tendency or capacity to produce such effects. Thus while one of the ultimate issues for the Court still remains the question whether the factory caused the injury, yet the subsidiary proposition to which the evidence has to be directed is whether the factory has such a tendency or capacity. In short, when it is desired to show broadly the occurrence of something to which usually resolves something to which and, secondly that something else is evidence of such a capacity or tendency; and it is the second of these inferences which in practice raises evidential questions. Wigmore § 441

Principle of probative value—General Rule There is presented, as the effect B, the introduction of a limited and specific one, occurred, to be followed by circumstances might be immaterial, the single question is whether there was such a capacity or tendency under the circumstances in hand. In looking elsewhere, therefore, to evidence this specific capacity or tendency by observing the same effect elsewhere, the case in any X, X, unless cause other of

Thus, if the proposition is that A factory's vibrations have a tendency to injure an adjacent building B, the falling of timbers in other adjacent houses B, and B might not evidence such a tendency if B were an old house and B' were a wooden house, while B was a new brick house, the case B' would at most indicate a tendency in X to injure an old house, not a new house B; and the case B would at most indicate a tendency in X to injure a wooden house, not a brick house B. The general logical requirement is, then, that when a thing's capacity or tendency to produce an effect of a given sort is to be evidenced by instances a ten-

puty
in its 90, Ashburner J in excluding such evidence observed "This class of testimony was incompetent because calculated to surprise and take undue advantage of defendant at the trial. Ordinarily he could not be prepared to meet and contest the merits of each particular case of loss from unknown cause introduced. To deprive him of this privilege would be the denial of the legal right, and to admit them would overwhelm the case with collateral issues of fact and distract judicial investigation, solution of the line of exclusion."
in v. Westmor

Classification of such facts. The arrangement of the various precedents in a matter of much difficulty, but having regard to the kind of fact offered in illness produced by a poisonous substance, injury caused by a defect in a highway etc), and (3) psychological or moral effects, i.e. effects on human conduct (e.g. efforts to escape danger, time required for work, cautions taken out of a dangerous place etc). Greenleaf Ev § 147; Wigmore § 450

Material effects. Under this head may be noted the use of similar instances as evidence of the character of a place, building, factory, alleged to be a nuisance, in particular a railroad, of the injurious effect of water by flowage, etc., of the injurious qualities of gases on trees, paint, etc., of the tendency of the machines to operate defectively or otherwise, as shown by the other instances of the action of the same machine or of a similar machine; and of sundry other things. Greenleaf Ev § 147.

Illustrative cases—admissible evidence. In Tenant v Hamilton, 5 Cl & F. 122, the question was whether A's land was injured by noxious discharge from B's works. Lord Cottenham admitted evidence on both sides as to the condition of land similarly circumstanced to those of the party complaining "for ascertaining what the effect was of the smoke and vapour emitted by this manufactory." See also R v Neville, 1 Pea N P C 91, R v Faurie, 8 E & B 480, 486, 488.

In Border v Sailard, 2 Ch D 692, which was an action to restrain a noise

...imately be ascertained, ...
...re case Lord Selborne ...
...admissible, when such ...
...tion as to the matter in ...

...Atl 997, the question ...
...was whether a factory caused nuisance. In that case effect of defendant's ...
...business ...

...limiting evi ...
...s observed ...
...complained ...
...neighbourhood ...
...ted, it would ...
...also Bradley ...

7. In Daybe v R Co, 128 N Y 488, the question was whether damage was caused to plaintiff's building by the operation of an elevated railroad. Evidence of the effect upon premises similarly situated and not too distant was received. The Court in receiving the evidence observed "The Court may undoubtedly in such cases, in the exercise of its discretion, limit the number of witnesses to be called, and may confine the examination of the witnesses to premises in the vicinity, giving a reasonable range."

The tendency or quality of tools, weapons, vehicles, acids, and other materials can be proved by their effects upon similar substances under similar conditions. R v Heseltine, 12 Cox Cr C 404.

The question being whether A's premises were ignited by sparks escaping from a railway engine,—proof (1) that the same engine, and other engines of similar construction belonging to the same company, have previously caused fires along the same line is admissible. Aldridge v G W Ry, 3 M & Gr 592, Piggot v E C Ry, 3 C B 229, Philp Ev 133. In Piggot v E C Ry, 3 C B 229, Maule J in admitting the evidence observed "The evidence objected to was that other engines used on the defendant's line, of the same description as that which was said to have caused the injury here had on various other occasions been seen to throw particles of ignited matter to a distance from the line as great or greater than the spot in question. The matter in issue was whether or not the plaintiff's property had been destroyed by fire proceeding from the defendant's engine, and involved in that issue, was the question whether or not the fire could have been so caused. The evidence was offered for the purpose of showing that it could, and for that purpose it was clearly material and admissible."

Illustrative cases—Inadmissible evidence. The question being whether an obstruction to a harbour was caused by the erection of a sea wall in its vicinity, evidence that similar obstructions occurred at some other harbours on the same coast which were in the vicinity of the sea walls, was held inadmissible, as an attempt tuem lile resolvers. Philp Ev 133. But in Folkes v Chadd, 3 Doug 857, Lord Mansfield, C J admitted evidence of the state of other harbours along the same coast where no embankment existed, to show that no such change had occurred as at the harbour in question where an embankment existed.

In Attorney General v Nottingham Corporation (1904) 1 Ch 673, where the question also was whether small pox hospital was a nuisance, experience of other similar hospitals as to the risk of infection, was admitted by consent following Hill v Metropolitan Asylum (Supra). But Farrwell J, in writing the opinion observed "As I understand that this case is likely to go to the House of Lords, I desire to add an observation as to the evidence in the hope of obtaining some direction from a superior tribunal. Both parties concurred in asking to accept evidence in which of what had happened with other hospitals and I acceded to the request in deference to the opinion expressed in Hill v Metropolitan Asylum District, and also because the same evidence of the same cases (with the same results) appears to have been admitted in the other reported cases relating to small pox hospitals. The result is that the case has taken a week to try, and I venture to suggest that the admission of such evidence in chief is wrong in principle, as raising a number of side-issues on which it is impossible for the Court to adjudicate without injury to absent parties—e.g. how can I rely on the case without injustice to them?"

In Hukes v General Electric FL & P Co, 107 Ky 485, which was also a case of nuisance of smoke etc., effects of smoke in other dwellings were excluded.

In Lacoste v Alf Co 9 All Miss 181 which was a case of destroying meadow crops by poisoning of a stream by copper acids, the evidence of similar effects produced upon other meadows along the river, was excluded for reasons of confusion of issues and of the slight probative value. So also where the question was whether the removal of certain stones from a river had caused the latter to wash away the plaintiff's land, evidence that the removal of stones from another part of the river had the same effect was rejected as tending to mislead the jury, no satisfactory proof being given that the conditions of the two occurrences were the same. Haikes v Charlemont, 110 Mass 110, Comm v Piper, 120 Mass 115 cited in Philp Ev 3rd Ed 133.

In Clark v Water Power Company, 52 Me 75, which was caused to plaintiff's mills for diverting a stream, evidence of injuries to other mill-owners was rejected.

were no elements of comparison offered which could afford any safe or reliable S. 7 data for the judgment of the jury."

Under this head may be noted experiment) of the tendency of of want of knowledge of the nature of issues as explained above have been thought to have an especial bearing here

The other instances of the injuries thus offered in evidence may concern defects in high way, or defects in railroad tracks, machines, premises, and the like Greenl Ev § 14v

Illustrative cases—Admissible evidence In Spencer Cowper's Trial, 13 How St Tr 1162, which was a case for murder, the body of the deceased was found in the river; the question was whether she had committed suicide or had been killed and thrown into the water The prosecution advanced the proposi

The fact that two other persons had acquired the itch at the defendant's shop, was held admissible, as showing the unclean condition of the razors etc In Croft v R Co L R 1 C P 300, which was an action for injury on a defective staircase, evidence from defendant was admitted without question that about 43 000 persons had passed over it without injury during the previous year, in which alone it had been used In District of Columbia v Ames, 107 U S 519, 524, which was an action for damage caused by a fall on a defective side walk, evidence was admitted to show that other persons had fallen at the same place

24 Or, 295

1 found on

In Schlaff

bridge were ular falls at the same place about the same time, e g a month before or after was admitted; but evidence of falls at other times or at times unspecified was excluded

Effects on Human conduct—Instances of mental and moral effects, as evidence The tendency or nature of a material object may often be ascertainable by seems proper to place here a number of not usual to perceive such a process of as at once to embrace the various kind which their admission depends It the con

whistle, a pile of stones, a flag, a rail road car etc,—is evidence of its tendency to cause fright in horses. Closely analogous to this is the use, on an issue whether a person's fright and jumping from a train, etc., was natural of the alarmed conduct of other persons in the same situation. On the same general principle—the use of mental impressions is indicating the nature of a material object—the impressions of other persons (usually obtained by experiment) as to whether a thing could be seen in a certain light and position.

or custom under the
of evidence is consistent propriety in litigation of others merely,
standard or test of liability or excuse. Greenl Ev 14v

Illustrative cases—Admissible evidence In Brown v R Co 22 Q B D 391 the question was whether a heap of refuse and earth in a highway, has the dangerous tendency to frighten horses. To prove its tendency to frighten horses the fact was received of the shying of various other horses than the plaintiff's in passing the heap. The finding to B the fact that a mountain on a Saturday the same mountain in 1891. 1 F L R 153, 1

Illustrative cases—inadmissible evidence In Wulke v Chelalis Co L & F Co 55 Wash 324 one instance of another horse being frightened at fresh meat, was excluded. In Bloom v Town of Delafield 56 Wis 228 the evidence that numerous other horses had been frightened was excluded. The question being evidence that (1) it had occurred before (2) it had occurred after. 1897 or (2) had 1896, 2 Q B 109 is irrelevant. Phip Ev 3rd 132

State of things under which they happened Often the physical conditions under which the main fact happened or any other matter intimately connected therewith must be placed before the jury in order to make the incident intelligible to them. Under such circumstances such facts may be relevant. Ides R v Bond, (1909) 2 K B 309, Phip Ev 6th Ed 57

Opportunity Proof of opportunity possessed by the accused to commit the crime may raise an inference that he is the criminal. Lauzon v R Ev p 38 When an act is done, and a particular person is seen at the scene, it is obvious that his physical presence is one step on the way to the belief that he committed the crime.

not and exclusive the very person a number who are in a way alone, and not exclusive. Wignore § 131, see also indicted for poisoning R and had opportunities for rr Jones Ev 75f T is using his money. The fact showing an opportunity.

In Reg v Graham 11 Q B 111

the person ther the person a minister. If he had not the poison, the having the opportunity becomes unimportant. So without opportunity of committing the imputed act, neither existence of motives nor the manifestation of criminal intention by threats or otherwise, followed even by preparations for its commission, can be of any weight. Wills Cir. Ct. p. 52. The opportunity is in fact the "state of things" under which an offence took place. Without an opportunity no deed can be perpetrated. Hence opportunity must be. Wells Cir. Ct.

On the indictment it may be shown that the accused the offence was committed by evidence that he placed other obstructions on the rails at about the same time. State v Wentworth, 37 N. H. 196. So, too, on the trial of a homicide case, where the accused claims that he was not in the vicinity of the place where the crime was committed at the time of its commission, the Government may show his presence shortly before the homicide near the scene of the crime, though when seen by some of the witnesses he was committing another offence. People v Jennings, 252 Ill. 531; Chamberlayne's Ex § 3250.

Opportunity—Explanation The accused may explain away his presence by any fact of his behaviour consistent with his presence other than doing the act alleged, e g he may have been a mere spectator, he may have come there to solicitate business, he may have been a friend or a relative.

Explaining away; equal opportunity for others. If a person is shown to have been in a building, at the time when a murder was committed he immediately the do that the doing possible with that charged against him. Such is the principle of explaining away opportunity. Higmore § 132. When it is proved that another person had a better opportunity than even the accused, the presumption is further weakened. Lauson's Pre Ev 387.

In the morning the wife is was not guilty See also Exclusive opportunity Exclusive opportunity proves conclusively, that the deed was committed by the person having such an opportunity. People v Van Horn, 119 Cal 323-51 Pac 533, Miller v People, 39 Ill 566. But it is not always safe to convict a person solely relying on exclusive opportunity of committing the crime in question. The statement will be fully illustrated by the following two cases: (1) A female servant was charged with having murdered her mistress. No persons were in the house but the deceased and the prisoner, and it was secured as usual. The prisoner was co-presumption that no one else could by means of a house to an and committed

the murder, they retreated the same way, leaving no traces behind them. Starkie
Ev 4th Ed 865 cited in Best § 453

(2) One Sunday morning when the whole of a household except T, a female servant, was absent at Church, the house was robbed and a small cabinet containing jewels and gold coin to a very large amount taken and carried away. T maintained that no one had entered or gone out of the house during the time of the family's absence. T was convicted of the robbery. Many years after T, having served out her sentence, was going through the market, a butcher tapped her on the shoulder and said in a half whisper and ironical tone of voice "Ah! he had made that was arrested. He was forgotten to take some minced veal home on Saturday evening, as he should have done, he carried it in a large basket on Sunday morning. The family had gone to Church, I was upstairs, and setting out and to shut the door off his shoes crept softly

T presently came up to change her clothes, and unconscious that any human being was near her being entirely undressed and contemplating her naked figure uttered the exclamation above, which being plainly overheard by the butcher he immediately went through the house and took what he wanted, escaping by the back door before I was through her toilet. Trantje's Case, Phil, Cnt Et, XXXVIII cited in Lausons Pre Li, p 355

Alibi. The theory of an alibi is that the fact of presence elsewhere is essentially inconsistent with personal participation in the crime. It is universally perceived among these defences that the Government show, I present at the place where his act was done and at the time when he is said to have done it. The defendant may properly attempt to show that he was somewhere else at the time, —not for the purpose, primarily, of establishing that he was at the special place at that particular time but with the object of throwing doubt upon the truth of the Government's contention that he was present when and where the crime was committed. The nature of an argumentative traverse which the defendant has assumed the burden of proving, in jurisdictions, the correct rule is adopted, —that it is a necessary part of the Government's case to show, when disputed, that the defendant was present at the scene of the doing of the crime.

Every element of its jury as to whether crime at the time when he must have been there in order to have committed it he is entitled to an acquittal.

"Other Courts confusing the burden of proof with the burden of evidence treat alibi as if it were an affirmative defence in a civil action on which he has the burden of proof and require that, in order that the defence should succeed the defendant should establish affirmatively by a fair preponderance of the evidence, the fact that it was impossible for him to have reached the scene of the crime at the time when it must have been committed. Naturally, in any case, to the weakness of the inference drawn from the fact of the crime home to the accused."

ing from 123 Ind

s relevant as giving ) of facts constitut
Cunningham Et

Motive, preparation and previous or subsequent conduct

8 Any fact is relevant which shows or constitutes a motive or preparation for any fact in issue or relevant fact

The conduct of any party, or of any agent to any party, to any suit or proceeding, in reference to such suit or proceeding, or in reference to any fact in issue therein or relevant thereto and the conduct of any person an offence against whom is the subject of any proceeding, is relevant, if such conduct influences or is influenced by any fact in issue or relevant fact, and whether it was previous or subsequent thereto

Explanation 1 — The word 'conduct' in this section does not include statements, unless those statements accompany and explain acts other than statements but this explanation is not to affect the relevancy of statements under any other section of this Act

Explanation 2 — When the conduct of any person is relevant, any statement made to him or in his presence and hearing, which affects such conduct, is relevant

Illustrations

(a) A is tried for the murder of B

The facts that A murdered C, that B knew that A had murdered C, and that B had tried to extort money from A by threatening to make his knowledge public, are relevant

(b) A sues B upon a bond for the payment of money. B denies the making of the bond

The fact that, at the time when the bond was alleged to be made, B required money for a particular purpose, is relevant

(c) A is tried for the murder of B by poison

The fact that, before the death of B, A procured poison similar to that which was administered to B is relevant.

into with
be

(d) A is accused of a crime

The facts that either before or at the time of, or after the alleged crime, A provided evidence which would tend to give to the facts of the case an appearance favourable to himself, or that he destroyed or concealed evidence, or prevented the presence or procured the absence of persons who might have been witnesses or suborned persons to give false evidence respecting it, are relevant

(e) The question is whether A robbed B

The facts that, after B was robbed, C said in A's presence—"the police are coming to look for the man who robbed B," and that immediately afterwards A ran away, are relevant

(f) The question is whether A owes B rupees 10,000

The fact that, in A's presence and hearing, C said "A owes me 10,000 rupees," and that A denied it, are relevant

(g) A is accused of a crime

The facts that, after the crime, A absconded, or was injured by the crime, or used in committing it, are relevant average hue or constitution, and it does not follow that because there is something shown which would lead to crime in one man, or many men, that it would necessarily lead to crime in the class under consideration. Many a murder has been committed for the sake of a very few pounds; and yet there are hosts of people to whom millions would not offer the slightest inducement to anything of the kind; and we must be careful not to forget that when we have found a motive which might lead to crime it by no means follows that we have found one which did lead to as well as towards the crime. Halls' Cr. Ev. pp. 56, 58

Motive -Judicial Proof of In judicial proof three aspects of the above motive analysis have greatest importance, the first two of which receive little emphasis from the psychologist (A) External stimulus; (B) Expression; (C) Opposition of impulses

External stimulus Whether an emotion was excited at all is the first great question. For this purpose, the facts constituting the supposed stimulus are offered, e.g. lack of money as exciting desire to obtain it.

Expression. On the same question, the existence of an emotion may be evidenced by conduct or words alleged to express it. Whether they do express it may become an important issue.

Opposition of Impulses — Assuming that the emotion is established, and that from its existence it is to be inferred a consequent act, still this evidence may be explained away by the cessation or counteraction of the emotion, e.g. by fear or by lapse of time. This is the other most frequent aspect in judicial proceedings — Hignire's Principles of Judicial Proof § 70

Principle admitting motive as evidence. The laws regulating the action of the human mind, in its more obvious manifestations, are known to the Court. The common operations of the mind in men or animals are as fully within the knowledge of the jury as that of a skilled witness. The orderly processes of reason-

What motives influence instinct for self preservation gain something when a Judge's experience and the common knowledge of the community It is known that persons do not borrow property of no value It will be known that the desire for gain is so general that men do not gamble except in the hope of gaining property of some value, and do not hunt for an object which is worthless Chamberlaine's Ev § 769

Motive is relevant. In Palmer's Case, 1856, Wills 931, Lord Campbell C J said "It is of great importance to see whether there was a motive for committing such a crime, or whether there was not." Lord Alton of Liverpool C J also took the same view in Bennell's Case reported in Times (1901) Feb 25, Wills 167, see also R v Dill 12 Cox 202. Cresswell v Cox 509 (510); R v Westcot, 25 T L R 1. Cleaves, 4 C & P 231, Y 245, 251, Hoodroff. J said "It is always a just argument on behalf of the accused that there is no apparent motive to the perpetration of the crime. Men do not act wholly without motive. On the other hand, proof of motive tends in some degree to render the act so far evidence of guilt." But when the evidence is circumstantial only, and the guilt of the prisoner is only inferential and is not proved as a matter of fact by the evidence of witnesses, the question of motive becomes of vital importance, or even made reasonably certain. lex v Monson (Not Trial) 1 Park C C 32, where a murder is charged and the evidence is wholly circumstantial then it is peculiarly proper to look at the motive. And in all cases you will naturally seek for the motive. And where the proof is circumstantial, and there be doubt about the circumstances, then it becomes 8 important to examine into the motive. If how ever, the evidence of murder by design be direct and positive, then the guilt is established without looking further. And in all these cases a question as to the adequacy of motive almost always arises. It is commonly generally that the motive was inadequate, that it is not sufficient to induce the commission of murder. But all this must depend on the peculiar circumstances of the case and the peculiar character of the accused. There is no motive which, to the mind of an honest man, can be a pretext to the commission of a crime and just in proportion as the mind is debased and immoral, to that extent the motive may be less which induces the criminal act. Hence, there can be no one rule for all cases as regards adequacy of motive it must depend on the moral character of the person accused in each case. The worse it is the less the motive which will tempt to the commission of crime."

Whether motive is a necessary element in the proof of murder is a question which has been much discussed.

Prof. H. J. Moore that show a possible motive.

118 So a motive is a point on a trial for a motive becomes relevant in very many cases.

arises at or near the time of the act. The People, 1 Parl. C. C. 30 in Poulter v. The People, 151 U. S. 39, 413. Hurlan J. observed: "The law does not require impossibilities. The law recognises that the cause of the killing is sometimes so hidden in the mind and breast of the party who killed that it cannot be ascertained by the jury. It does not require a direct item of evidence."

going to show whether a particular party may have committed an act, and sometimes going to show the characteristics of that act. It is not indispensable to conviction that the particular motive for taking the life of a human being shall be established by proof to the satisfaction of the jury. The absence of evidence suggesting a motive for the commission of the crime charged is a circumstance in favour of the accused to be given such weight as the jury claims proper, but it is not a necessary element of evidence.

crime is a thing of half frenzy and intelligible incentives to crime. But a prisoner's counsel there is no motive for no more than that the motive has not been committed there must have been a motive or incentive, and yet we may never discover what it was. The motives of human action as we know from history and experience, are often inscrutable. When any person committed a heinous crime, it is usual and natural, to look whether there existed any adequate motive.

crime is a thing of half frenzy and intelligible incentives to crime. But a prisoner's counsel there is no motive for no more than that the motive has not been committed there must have been a motive or incentive, and yet we may never discover what it was. The motives of human action as we know from history and experience, are often inscrutable. When any person committed a heinous crime, it is usual and natural, to look whether there existed any adequate motive.

Adequacy of motive. In Reg. v. Palmer Will's Cir. L. 63, Collyer's Case Lord Chief Justice Campbell observed of great importance to see whether crime, or whether there was not a motive.

Absence of proof of motive when material. "Motive to commit crime, if shown may in many cases be sufficient alone, almost to induce a belief of guilt. Upon the other hand where no motive for the commission of a crime can be shown, it is a small matter."

3. any facts or circumstances which tend, even in the slightest degree, to show motive, therefore properly excluded unless the Court can be thought of as necessary and unusual, namely, the circumstance must have excited the emotion must be shown to have probably become known to the person; because otherwise it would not have affected his emotions. Wigmore § 59. In Son v. Terr, 5 Okl 521 Dile C 1 said "A motive cannot operate to influence motive. The facts upon which are known by the party against whom should contemplate an undertake a great wrong against another, — such a wrong as would induce in the mind of the person against whom it was directed a motive to kill, — and yet such contemplated wrong was unknown to the party, it cannot be justly said that a motive to kill could exist, because the party wronged had no knowledge of the facts which would be necessary to create the motive." But the evidence as to the motives which led a prisoner to commit a crime, must be of the strictest kind. Queen v. Zahur, 10 W R Cr 11

A motive is generally proved by showing the desire of gain, the gratification of passion, or the preservation of reputation accomplished or attempted or able to be accomplished by the perpetration of the crime charged. Tolson's The Empress Ly p 177 But strictly speaking the circumstances that may serve as motives for other deeds are innumerable. In many cases several passions may lead to a desire to kill. See The Vrs Mayrick v. Cree, Notable Trial Series, where a lustrous intrigue with another man was held to be a sufficient motive by Stephen J for getting rid of her husband. So also in Prichard v. Case (Not Tr) the crown suggested that the prisoner's motive for poisoning his wife was to make way for a second marriage, see also Reg v. Stauntons (1876) Notable Trials, Cryppen's Case (Not Tr). So a man who counts his neighbour's wife has a motive for desiring the death of his neighbour. State v. Lee, 4 Kan 767. Sometimes murder is committed in order to prevent the discovery of a former crime or of evading an arrest or See also illustration (a) previously employed. Relevant R v. Clever, 4 and former parish, had appears at R's house, then to his room and cuts her t See also R v. Richardson, Burr Cr L v 213

"In several ways the pecuniary circumstances, of one or another person or trying may tend to show the excitement of a motive in some person. It will be convenient to distinguish the situation according as the evidence deals with (1) the pecuniary condition of A as exciting exciting a motive to respects," Wigmore § with B who keeps crime is not far to seek. The appellant was in very poor circumstances. But the practical result of much unfair suspicion and fairness this argument. The motive is in under no reasons of the graver below C J. true that in a large party accused of The reason for the certain or known conclusion which is a man is destitute or fraud because he was in embarrassed circumstances, but for the purpose of showing the natural and necessary consequences of his act which the law presumes he intended. . . . If at the time of the transaction he was deeply insolvent, and was cognizant of his condition, the necessary consequence of his act was to deprive the vendor of his property without recompense or the chance of payment, and leads to the just and almost unavoidable inference that it was done with an intent to defraud." Wigmore § 392, but see Tauell's Trial, Woodall's Celebrated Trials, I, 189. On the other hand the fact that a person was in possession of money tends to negative his desire to obtain money by crime or borrowing. So in R v Grant, 1 F & F 322, where the indictment was for an attempt to obtain the insurance, evidence of the defendant's wealth was admitted. In that case Pollock C B said "the circumstances were such as not to raise any temptation to the act. . . . where the motive is a pecuniary one, the wealth of the offender is no unimportant consideration." Peel C J in R v Hedger cited in Woodroffe Stt Et p 112.

Motive, how to be proved 1031 Mad 689-61 M L.

can be proved by direct evidence

Act
the n 8, want itted
= 85
used

was financially embarrassed and had attempted to cheat on other occasions. In Wigmore § 392, it is said that "the intention or design is of the essence of the crime. . . . if the defendant did other acts similar to those charged in the indictment." Walsburg Vol IX p 380; see also R v 16 Cox 387, R v Flanagan, 1 Cox Cr 40; R v Debendra, 36 C 573; but see Impero v Panchudas, 47 C 671-24 C W N 501.

Conduct proves motive. Motive in the sense of emotion is often proved by conduct of a person. In Com v Webster, 5 Cush 295 (316), Shaw C J said. "The ordinary feelings, passions, and propensities under which parties act, are facts known by observation and experience, and they are so uniform in their operation that a conclusion may be safely drawn that, if a party acts in a particular manner, he does so under the influence of a particular motive."

Feelings at other times. Where an emotion of hostility is to be proved the existence of the same emotion at another time is clearly admissible. R v Law, 10 M 270; R v 15 C 145; R v 15 C 145; R v 15 C 145.

tends to show . . . if it is relevant to the issue, it is admissible. A I R 1927, 19 C W N. Sind 28, Mal 483. It is material to the purpose.

of gain do resort to the nefarious system of entering into a transaction unauthorisedly in the expectation of its subsequent ratification, but it is a far cry that because an agent had been shown to be guilty of shady practice once, his evidence is to the circumstances under which the contract in suit was entered into should be entirely discarded. Tyebally Abdul v Mrs James, 1921 Sind 105=80 Ind Cr 100. So also where certain persons are charged with murder it is not open to the accused to adduce evidence to show that on two previous occasions the accused had committed the same offence but had falsely charged because the fact does not constitute under section 301 of the Act, a motive or preparation for the subsequent murder. Gangaram v Imperial, 62 Ind Cas 745=22 Cr L J 629. So also Imperial v Gangaram 22 Bom L R 1271.

Preparation Preparations on the part of the accused to accomplish the crime charged or to prevent its discovery, or to aid his escape, or to avert suspicion from himself are likewise relevant on the question of his guilt. Lauzon's Presumptive Evidence p 394. For preparation is a part of a design or system, vide note under s 15, under the heading "Theory of evidencing Design or System." Premeditated crime is a crime which must necessarily be preceded not only by impelling motives, but by appropriate preparations. Possession of the instruments or means of crime, under circumstances of suspicion—as of poison, coining instruments, combustible matters, picklocks, house-breaking instruments, dark lanterns, criminal or suspicious weapons, materials or instruments, are important facts in the judicial consideration. If a man had in his possession a large quantity of countess evidence that he was the murderer, it was held to raise a presumption that he had procured it with intent to slay it. Rex v Fuller, R & R 303. But the personal character for probity and the civil station of the party, are highly material in connection with facts of this kind. A medical man for instance, in the ordinary course of his profession, has legitimate occasion for the possession of poisons and lock smith for the use of picklocks. Facts of the kind referred to become more powerful indication of guilty purpose if false reasons are assigned to account for them as in the case of possessing poison that it was procured to destroy vermin, which is the excuse commonly resorted to in such cases. Wills' Cr L pp 79-80.

Preparation to accomplish the crime charged or other act Evidence tending to show that the accused was preparing to commit the crime is always admissible. The present case is one in which the accused was charged with only evidence of a design or not to do a given act has been shown. The existence of such evidence is not sufficient to prove the fact was done or not done. A plan is not planned. There is no evidence of such evidence. Wignore § 102. The bare possession of the means or mere acts of preparation are not in general of great weight without more conclusive evidence, because the intended guilt may not have been consummated; and until that takes place there is the locus poenitentiae. Wills' Cr L p 80.

In State v Adams, 20 Kan 320 which was a case for burglary, the four accused held a meeting to arrange for the crime. A bar of iron and a pair of pincers were alone necessary, and these the accused brought, the facts were admitted of the accused having taken a carpenter's brace from a store and hidden it; a third person removed it, and the defendant never used it. Brewer observed: "Would not the act be one tending to show preparation,—a preparation—frustrated by the unexpected act of another? Could it not be shown that the accused had immediately prior thereto was providing for the crime? If one weapon was not in order. Would the others was admitted? It is enough that the time, and then the motive

The fact of possession of a number of false coins, wrapped in separate papers, etc., was admitted to show a plan to utter them. R v Jarvis, 7 Cox Cr 53. A was accused of the murder of B by poison. C of the murder of D by shooting, E of committing a burglary, I of arson, G of counterfeiting. The fact that A had previously purchased some poison; that C had bought borrowed or stolen a gun or pistol that E had procured an axe a picklock or a dark lantern, that F had procured a quantity of turpentine, that G had made an instrument to manufacture coin are relevant and raise an inference of fact of guilt in each case. Lawson Pre F1 § 106, see also R v Hill 20 How St Tr 1317; People v Carroll 12 Cr 17. The fact that I, a few days prior, had procured a pistol and had spent sometime practising at a mark, is relevant. R v Parbot 18 How St Tr 1261. S was indicted for murdering R by shooting. The fact that a day or two previous S had borrowed a gun from a friend stating that he wanted it to kill deer with, is relevant. Stranger's Case 5 Leg Obs 91.

Preparation to prevent discovery of crime. An innkeeper and his wife are accused of a murder of a guest. It is shown that on the night the murder was committed they sent the maid servant out of the house and when she returned made her sleep in another part of the building. This is relevant. Draine's Case 5 Leg Obs 123, Ferris's Case, 19 How St Tr 904.

Preparation to aid his escape. A was charged with the murder of T. The fact that the day before the murder A had drawn a quantity of money from a bank in which he had it on deposit, is relevant as raising an inference that he was preparing to escape if necessary from the country. Adam's Case, 11 Leg Obs 410.

Preparation to avert suspicion from himself. B and P lived in the same house and the former, while sitting one evening in his parlour was shot by a pistol in an unseen hand. B had at home a loaded gun. B claimed at the time by him. This fact is relevant. Pre Ev p 581. A on the day

St Tr 1123
he deceased the prosecu
to the world

Apparitions noises voices music, reported to be heard from time to time in the deceased's house, even his days are numbered out, and his own child limits the space of his life but till the following month of October. What could be the meaning of this but to prepare the world for a death that was pre-determined? who would limit the days of a man's life but a person that knew what was intended to be done towards the shortening of it?

Reference of execu
secution

of which the preparations were made may have been subsequently frustrated or voluntarily abandoned. Lau v. Pre 100. A is indicted for murdering B by poisoning him. It appears that shortly before A purchased a quantity of poison. This raises an inference of guilt. The poison for no other reason than to kill & of guilt. Best 12 § 456. A is accused of the sometime previous had spread a rumour that on account of his nervousness not be likely to live long. It turns out that A was really speaking the conviction of his own mind. This destroys any inference of guilt. Best 12 § 456, Hills 12 81, Leg v. Blane, 20 C. C. C. Sec 3 Pap 411 (1814), Leg v. Hartley Times August 18th, 1861 cited in Hills 12 81. A is found killed by a bullet from a gun. It is proved that B a neighbour had purchased a gun the day

Conduct of any party. The second paragraph of this section makes relevant the conduct of any person who is a party to a suit or proceeding in reference to such suit or proceeding or in reference to any fact in issue therein or relevant thereto. The conduct of a party interested in any proceeding at the time when the facts occurred, out of which the proceeding arises, is extremely relevant. Per Patterson C. J. in Queen Empress v. Abdullah 7 A 385 (1 B) up 391, see also Dalambul v. Ghansham, 22 C 391 401, 406. R v. Isher, 29 A 46. R v. Heramun, 5 W. R. Cr 5, R v. Mahi 37 A 895. Dalij Singh v. Anant Kanwar 30 A 238 (P. C.), Fa uruddin v. King Emperor 42 C. L. J 111-90 Ind Crs 133. The word 'party' includes not only the plaintiff and the defendant in a civil suit, but parties in a criminal prosecution, as for instance, a prisoner charged with murder. This section provides that the term is to include any one against whom an offence is the

of a party is relevant. Anjivun v. Emperor 53 C 312. A person and the latter tion, porin but (Eng) -

war
of
at =3

B)- a deaf

mute at the place where a dead body was found during the police enquiry, and subsequently in Court are not admissible against the accused as conduct under s 8 of the Evidence Act Samaul v King Emperor, 5 O C 216 But the signs made by the deceased, being the conduct of a person, an offence against whom is the subject of a proceeding are relevant under s 8 of the Evidence Act Queen v Abdullah 7 A 395 (F B) = A W N 1885, 78

Conduct, meaning of Conduct is the expression in outward behaviour, of the quality or condition operating to produce those effects These results are the traces by which we may infer the moving cause In point of time, conduct is closely associated with the internal condition giving rise to it; nevertheless the indication is strictly not a concomitant, but a retrospective one, because the argument is backwards from effect (conduct) to cause (internal condition) Wigmore § 199

Criminality of conduct, if material if it is otherwise relevant On principle the criminality of conduct is immaterial if it is otherwise relevant In Blake v The Soc 11 Cox Cr 251 Lord Coleridge C J said "In any but an English Court and to any but an English lawyer, the controversy whether this evidence is admissible or not, would seem, I imagine supremely ridiculous; because inherent conduct as showing other things If there is any other material or evidential proposition, for which it is relevant, and if it is offered for that purpose, it is receivable and its quality as misconduct or crime does not stand in the way R v Wyley, 2 Leach, 11th Ed 985 986, P v Moore, 2 C & P 235, R v Poole, 7 C & P 517, R v Tinsington 1 Cox Cr C 12 R v Dorset, 3 C & K 306, 2 Cox Cr 213 R v Bealstead, 2 Cr & K 76, R v Gearing 18 I J M C 215, R v Weeks, Leach & C 18, 21 R v Bearden, 4 F & E 79, Blake v Assur Co, L R C P D 91, 102 In R v Richardson, 2 F. & F 346, Williams 1 said "There is no principle of law which prevents that being put in evidence which might otherwise be so merely because it discloses other indictable offence Evidence which is admissible for such other felon 520, 541, ■
The obj

antecedents as for the purpose of showing that he had opportunities of committing the offence, or that in a particular instance his act could not have been accidental But these cases only establish the principle that a relevant fact which is hereby rendered inadmissible

Walkers Case 1 Leigh

should exclude them, more than other facts apparently innocent Thus if a man murder just before the act was committed is undoubtedly admissible although it has the tendency to prove the prisoner guilty of a larceny Such circumstances constitute a part of the transaction and whether they are perfectly innocent themselves, or involve guilt makes no difference as to their bearing on the main question which they are adduced to prove But if the circumstances have no intimate connection with the main fact if they constitute no link in the chain of evidence then, supposing them innocent

ed with great
A C 57 = 63
undoubtedly

- 8 not competent for the prosecution to adduce evidence tending to show that the accused has been guilty of criminal acts other than those covered by the indictment. It is likely which alluded tends to show the commission of other crime & does not render it inadmissible if it is relevant to an issue before the jury. So evidence of conduct or character is inadmissible if otherwise relevant. Injurer v Steiert 21 S L R 65 = A I P 1927 Sind 25, see also Heera Gajjar v Injurer, 21 Bom L R 724 = 5. Ind C 15 601

Antecedent conduct Under this head come motives to commit the offence, including preparations for the commission of it, declarations of intention and threats (b) and (c) are instances of antecedent conduct. 'In trials for murder enmity against the dead man and previous conduct are accepted as evidence. Per Fort Illin on in Director of Public Prosecution v Ball 80 L J K B 691 at p 692 = (1911) A C 47

Previous attempts to commit it Previous attempts to commit an offence are closely allied to preparations for the commission of it, and only differ in being carried one step further and in their proximity to the criminal act of which they are like the former they fall short. Test § 1. Bentley Jud Fo 69 So a former attempt by the accused to perpetrate the same crime in the same or in a different manner is relevant on the question of his guilt of the latter crime. Lacey v Pre 559 A 1 in dicta for poisoning his wife by giving her laudanum. The fact that A had on a former occasion given her laudanum which made her sick is relevant. Johnson v State 17 Ala 657. In that case the Court observed that his former attempt to poison his wife had been proved by a witness on the trial the question of the admissibility of the guilty knowledge in the first instance house in order fire to his house Graj 4 F & F Z had previous 18 L J (N C) 2 C & K 300 that V, at is charged ous day th Dorgelt 2 C & K 306 domestic circle but in doing so if he would be very material. In such a case attempt to poison the patient might not be a felony for the purpose of showing that A is charged with setting fire to his house. A had previously attempted to do so. The fact that A had previously attempted to do so is relevant. Per R v Gearin and R v Donnell also R v Donnell 'him Proof & R 53 D on a pre-ant h v mal or tortious § 919 the sion and the Et Fr 1371 the accused, now at sev ral d he would int [these on that of qualification [the circumstance] that the saying that a son would cut a father's throat is but a remote circumstance. It is replied that the law and lawyers do not regard it as a remote qualification were to that it ad it is that he said his father these six or seven years this is relevant State v. Landfield, 11 How St Tr 1397. A woman and her paramour were accused of murdering her husband.

unhappy witness accuse of J.

St Tr 841 J. is indicted for the murder of W. The fact that J sometime previous said that he intended to "lay for W if he froze next Saturday night" is relevant State v. Humph 116, Republican v. Rob, 1 Dall 145 If J is charged with the murder of W. He has been heard to say of W "If he don't do as he has agreed to do I will kill him" This is relevant People v. Hon 2 Wheel, Cr Cas of her husband, she had previous If she had a dose she would give it to him this is relevant State v. Wylie 15 How St Tr 1273 S was found dead in a well. It is proved that some time previous T had said that he would put S "in the well for two coppers" This is relevant on the Trial of T for the murder of S. W. Spooner v. Case 2 Chand Cr Tr 14 R is indicted for murder of S. Before the murder R was heard to say of S "I will kick hell out of her I will break her damned neck" This is relevant State v.
Reed, 62 M C 130 In this last mentioned case the Court observed, "Threats are significant. Out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh, Threats unexecuted amount to nothing, but when the thing, threatened is done, and is done as it was threatened, then the fact of the threat becomes an article of circumstantial evidence tending to inculcate the person threatening 'I will break her damned neck' The dislocated neck of the victim of wrath and violence, her beaten and bruised body, show that what was threatened, was done The content of a man's language is to be judged of by the facts, and by the manner in which is

the
as
the
he threats indicate an intention a probability that he has exclusive, but it may be determining the question of guilt North v. K 10 Bl, 100 110 111 112 113 Hagan, 12 Cox Cr 357, which was a case for murder of a child brought up in the family of the accused the following statement of the accused about a fortnight before, "the child is no good, he is eating the other children's food" was admitted

Time of threats In Redd v. State, 68 Ala 492 (496) Brickell C J said "The length of time elapsing between the making of the threat and the criminal act, when the crime is to be proved only by circumstantial evidence, is of importance inasmuch as a long period intervenes, injury and there it would be a slight there would be more thoughtless utterance, length of time would be the So the

probative force of the
during the whole continued to exist;
that may have been
Wigmore § 108

8. Plans and Intentions as to wills, contracts, Deeds Where the issue is whether a will was executed, or whether a will was revoked or whether a will was made in a certain tenor or provision (as where an alteration is at issue) the plan or design or prior intention of the testator is relevant to show the doing or not doing of this alleged act, as any other act. The argument is, "because he planned to make a will or planned to revoke a will, or planned to will property to A, he executed his will, or he carried out his plan." The relevancy of such a plan is not affected by the fact that the testator died without having executed a will.

Contemporaneous Conduct This would include the pleadings of parties their behaviour as such, and their demeanour as witnesses. Do enough Cr. P. 32

Illustrative Cases. The fact that the accused pointed out the place where the weapon (with which the murder was committed) was concealed in a very agitated state and showed the spot where the weapon used in the commission of the murder was concealed are evidence of conduct under this section, which renders highly probable the oral evidence in the case.

accompanying at le-21 Bom L R 724= evidence against a person is open to doubt his to be such evidence of against him in the
L J 167

Falsehood, fraud, fabrication and suppression of Evidence, etc. It has always been understood—the inference, indeed, is one of the simplest in human experience—that a party's falsehood or other fraud in the perpetration and presentation of his cause, his fabrication or suppression of evidence by bribery or spoliation, and all similar conduct, is receivable against him as an indication of his consciousness that his case is a weak or unfounded one, and from that consciousness may be inferred the fact it merit Wymore § 278; vide illustration (c); Palmer, Cockle Cr 17 58. In the last case to the jury said "Then gentlemen it is attention to the conduct of the prisoner at the bar, and there are some instances of his conduct of which you will say whether they belong to what might be expected from an innocent or a guilty man. He was eager to have the body fastened is certainly was being conveyed, to be analysed; he obtained of his guilt. Again, and procuring from the postmaster the opening of a letter from Mr. Anjor, who had been examining the contents of a jar, to Mr. Gardiner, the attorney employed on the part of Mr. Stevens. And then, gentlemen, you have tampering with the coroner, and trying to induce him to procure a verdict from the coroner's jury which would amount to an acquittal. So a party who gives or produces false evidence may by so doing give rise to a general presumption against the truth of the case. Gurish Chunder v. Iswar Chandra, 3 B L R A C J 341, see also Step Dig Fr Art illus (c), Annesley v. Earl of Inglesca, 17 How St Tr 1217. In Morarity v. R Co, L R 5 Q B 319, Cockburn C J said "The conduct of a party to the cause may be of the highest importance in determining whether the cause of action in which he is plaintiff, or the ground of defence if he is defendant, is honest and just,—just as it is evidence against a prisoner that he has said one thing at falsehoods leads to an inference can issue. So, if you or and his endeavoured to have recourse to perjury, it is strong evidence that he succeed by righteous means, has recourse to means of a different character, that that which he desires, namely, the gaining of the victory, is not his due, or that he has not good ground for believing that justice entitles him to it. but it is always evidence. In R v. Castro (Pichborne Case) Cockburn C J in his charge to the jury said "these falsehoods [of the defendant], however, must not operate unduly to the prejudice of the defendant beyond this, that falsehood is a badge of fraud; and a case which is sought to be supported by means of deception may 'prima facie', until the contrary be shown, be taken to be a bad and dishonest case, and further, the recourse to fraud and falsehood necessarily engenders distrust." Similarly, Phillimore J in R v. Platt 20 Cox Cr 852

R v. On D 657, 645. In the last mentioned case which he can he was

R v Donnell, Wills' Cir Ev 188 A is accused of shooting B with a pistol. A pistol is found beside B in such a position that it would appear that it is a case of suicide. But it is proved that it is A's pistol and that A placed it there. This raises a presumption of A's guilt. R v. Green, 7 How St Tr, 159

tion
p r he oid

if a witness has been suborned by B, a clerk in the defendant's bank, it is idle to argue that such a clerk has no implied authority to tamper with witnesses, and the question, whether the offer of evidence by one employed as an agent to procure evidence is admissible, and "This is a lawful employment necessary in many cases, and being a lawful employment, it is to be presumed, until the contrary be shown that the employer means and intends that his agent shall execute it by lawful means. The prosecutor may, up to the very moment when the proof is offered, be wholly ignorant of the wicked act of his agent, it is informed of it, he may have rejected it with the proffered testimony and withholden the same. If he is absent from the trial, which frequently happens, it may be impossible to prove his ignorance in the one case or the propriety of his conduct in the other. [Nevertheless] I am by no means prepared to say that in no case and under no circumstances appearing at a trial might not be fit and proper for a Judge to allow proof of this nature to be submitted.

Subsequent conduct. Subsequent conduct of a party or his agent is relevant to this class belong sudden change of life or circumstances, silence when accused false or evasive statements made by the accused, suppression or elignment of evidence, forgery of exculpatory evidence, evasion of justice, by flight or other wise, tampering with officers of justice, and fear, indicated either by previous conduct, or by a previous occasion, or by the conduct of the accused. Ganesh

Demeanour when charged, of accused. One of the common and established time, or who may evidence against it, nor can their be, and often

ness at such a moment, are show the prisoner's guilty w his crime itself. Doubtless flight cause it is ence

of crime, flight, a necessary flight was it is certain which consists of outward signs of conscious guilt? So far from it, any indications of it, arising from the conduct, demeanour, or expressions of the party, are legal evidence against him. The law can never limit the number or kind of such indications. In Moore v State, 2 Oh St 592, Caldwell J said: "From our knowledge of the human mind and its workings, we expect, with almost positive certainty, that when it is the sole repository of so dreadful a secret it will affect the conduct and sayings of the person; hence the mind naturally looks to these with the most anxious scrutiny, and would require for its satisfaction, if such a thing were possible, a complete transcript of the person's conduct and sayings. Sometimes a person is detected as the author of the crime by showing an unusual anxiety to discover the perpetrator, at other times the discovery is led by the person showing too much indifference. In some instances the observation that the person appears to know too much about the transaction leads to the discovery, at other times the inquiry is started by his appearing to know too little. These are generally acts that in themselves show no disposition to do mischief, but it is because they are unnatural, because they tend to show a mind conscious of guilt that they are in themselves nothing, except as evidence. So the conduct or demeanour

Cox. ble to

Demeanour during trial The demeanour of an accused person in Court during trial is too elusive to be justifiably considered as any indication whatever. People v People, 140 Ill 50. But the accused is the witness stand and during the trial. Rider

Flight etc Flight from justice, and its analogous conduct, have always been deemed indicative of a consciousness of guilt. R v Sorab Roy, 5 W R Cr 23, R v Gobardhan, 9 A 528 (568); Gangaram v Emperor, 62 Ind Crs 545. The wicked flee, even when no man pursueth, but the righteous are bold as a lion. Wigmore § 276, Best Ev § 460. In primitive times, the accused who fled, whether he be found or not, was held guilty. facinus qui jud law will not a are admitted. Wigmore § 109 b. In prosecution a prisoner has at he has ended, that unconsciousness of is very great. Johnson is period Under importance probably shown charged with an offence different from that for which he was being tried, no effect should be given to his running away. Rakhial v Queen Empress, 2 C W N 81. In R v Donnell, 2 R Rep (1817) p 175 Abbot J said "A person however conscious of innocence might not have courage to stand a trial, but might although innocent think it necessary to consult his safety by flight. But see the case of Deacon Dohe Not Tr, R v Crispen, Donough Cir Ex p 40.

In R v Hry 2 C & P 159 which was a case of trespass, running away from the premises when let out was admitted as evidence of not being thereby permissive. The reason of this presumption is thus stated by Parker J in Start v L 164 U 5 (2). "The law says that a man is to be judged by his consciousness of the right or wrong of what he does, to some extent. If he flees from justice because of that act, if he goes to a distant country and is living under an assumed name because of that act the law says that is not in harmony with what innocent men do and jurors have a right to consider it as evidence of guilt, because he is in the witness to the occurrence, he knows how it felt, therefore he is presumed to have a consciousness of that act. It is a principle of human nature—every man is conscious of it, I apprehend—that if he does an act which is conscious is wrong, his conduct will be along a certain line. He will pursue a certain course not in harmony with the conduct of a man who is conscious that he has done an act which is innocent right and proper. The truth is—and it is 'an old scriptural adage'—that the wicked flee when no man pursueth but the righteous are as bold as a lion. Men who are conscious of right have nothing to fear. They do not hesitate to confront the jury of their country, because that jury will protect them."

Explanation of flight etc. When a flight has been proved as furnishing evidence of guilt it is competent for the accused to prove other circumstances which may have influenced him to fly, and leave the jury to decide whether his flight was caused by a consciousness of guilt and apprehension of conviction or by any other cause. As he may prove to his satisfaction Kennel v Com, 14 Bu H 316. Rakhial v Queen Empress, 2 C W N 81. Gaujam v Inspector, 62 Ind Cir Cr 14 = 14 I J 229. Evidence of fact that he had been advised to leave, to avoid vengeance by the leaders of his friends is allowed. Ruthe v U S 3 Ind 604. To the same end the advice of friends may be assigned as the cause of flight from the jurisdiction. In all cases the accused is entitled to prove by his own testimony the actual motive which has influenced his conduct. An absence due to insanity obviously gives rise to no inference of guilt. Chamberlayne v Ex § 1399 a. In a case where the only evidence against the accused was that he absconded after the murder of a person it was held that the fact of accused's absconding was not inconsistent with his innocence known, but an incorrect assumption has been brought against him. Cron v Smith, 1 P L R 1915 = 16 Cr L J 186 = 27 Ind Cir 219, see also Empress v Gaugam, 23 Bom L R 1274. Post cards mailed by the accused shortly after his departure were admitted to indicate non-concealment of his whereabouts, and thus to rebut the inference of guilt of a murder from his flight. Gosforth v State, 183 Al 66.

Attempt to escape. An attempt to escape stands in the same position as would escape itself. Not unnaturally, moreover, the possession of tools calculated to assist an attempt at escape is regarded as a probative fact in such a connection. Efforts to bribe a custodian of the jail in order to facilitate flight give rise to a similar inference, etc., consciousness of guilt. None of these incriminating circumstances constitute a prima facie case of liability to the consequences of a crime. Standing alone therefore it will not warrant a conviction. Chamberlayne v Ex § 1399 (a).

Actor alone affected. Naturally, flight or an attempt to flee affects only the actor—the person so conducting himself. Chamberlayne v Ex § 1399 (a).

Declining to flee, voluntary return etc. In such a connection, only such portions of conduct as bear against the accused are relevant. It follows that while flight is competent, as grounding an inference, that the accused knew he was guilty, declining to flee when urged to, at most, a self-serving act without probative force. Any other rule of administration, indeed, would flood the Courts with fabricated testimony. For the same reasons, one accused of crime cannot show that, having fled, he afterwards voluntarily returned. Chamberlayne v Ex § 1399 (a).

Complaint by prosecutor The prisoner was indicted for theft and dishonestly receiving stolen property. The prosecutor, while travelling by train to Calcutta, discovered that his courier bag, containing his watch, chain, and a sum of money, had been stolen. He reported his loss to a railway police inspector at the first station at which the train stopped after he became aware of the theft, the prisoner not then being present. Evidence of this report is held admissible under s. 8, illustration (k) Queen v. MacDonald, 10 B. L. R. App. 2. The first information report against the accused is admissible under this section. Arimudha v. Emperor, 41 C. L. J. 23-A I. R. 1927 Cal. 17; Soosa Lal v. Emperor, 82 Ind. C. 112; Roman v. Emperor, 4 Lah. L. J. 191; Ishid Ghafu v. The Crown, 25 P. W. R. 1910-6 Ind. C. 957-11 Cr. I. J. 125.

Silence. Silence. The ... of the accused when charged with an offence
... the cha c Fr 625
antic v Denton

upon the maxim qui tacet this more § 1071. A is accused of administering of killing her. A witness testifies that the wife had declared that A had attempted to poison her, in his presence, and that A was standing nearby, but made no response. This is relevant Com v. Galarran, 9 Allen 271. S is indicted for the murder of T. Certain observations were made by his wife in the presence of others on the subject of crime, to which S made no direct reply. These statements are relevant against S. R v. Smithes, 5 C. & P. 332, see also R v. Mallory, 15 Cox 106 (158). The conduct, demeanour to the Police that he had purchased opium from the accused is inadmissible, unless it is made in the presence of the accused th Shau v Emperor, 12 Cr L J 429-12 Ind. Crs 87 In resting on silence as to a particular matter as a legitimate ground of inference regard must be had to the circumstances, it must be considered whether there was any occasion for the words, and any reasonable explanation of the silence. Chabit Das v Dayal Mouji, 6 Bom L R 557

Conduct as evidence of consciousness of innocence. The lack of guilty consciousness may be useful to show innocence of a crime. This lack of guilty consciousness—in other words—seems not to have been doubted by the Court. But, assuming the proposition—the fact to be feigned and Tr. 159 (207).

Failure to prosecute In general a delay in instituting a prosecution is some indication of a consciousness of the weakness of one's cause. The failure to complain speedily of a rape is universally conceded to be a damaging circumstance against the woman making the charge. Wigmore § 284

Failure to produce evidence The non production of evidence that would naturally have been produced by an honest and therefore fearless claimant is a maxim that is applied to the party's cause. Wig Trial 32 Rowan's Trial, 22 11, 603, Boyce v Chapman, 11 F 150, 180 189, Vaughton v 11 Cr 119 (132) In Blatch is certainly a maxim that which it was in the power of one side to have produced and in the power of the other to have contradicted it. Similarly in R v Burdett, 1 B & Ald 122, Best J said: "If the opposite party has in its power to rebut it by evidence, and yet offers none, then we have something like an admission that the presumption is just. The law does not impose impossibilities on parties; it expects that a man who has the means of knowing who may be witnesses shall call them."

Party's failing to testify A party's failing to appear when he had a strong motive to appear, would be evidence against him. Brown v Stock, 77 Pa 471. So refusal to testify himself or to call available witnesses in his own behalf warrants inference unfavourable to the respondent. All Gen v Pelletier, 134 N E. 406.

malicious pro

tion, it was

raise an inference that his motive was a consciousness that he had no probable

1931 Bom 97, see also Donomalce Churn v Hafi-uddin, 13 B L R 247 Note= 12 W R 317, Bwola v Rughoonath, 16 W R 295

Destruction or non production of documents, etc In Anon 1 Ld Raym 731, Holt C J said "If a man destroys a thing that is designed to be evidence against himself, a small matter will supply it" and so a copy sworn was admitted to prove a note of defendant torn by him. See also R v Arundel, Hob 109, Ward v Apprice, 6 Mod 264, Samson v Rumsey, 2 Vern 361; Young v Holmes 1 Stra, 70, Armory v Delamirie, 1 Stra 505. In Cooke v Hellier, 1 Ves Str 234, Hardwicke L O said "If dec" arty who would take benefits thereof a Court of further than the Court of law" See also R document is not produced after proper notice, a strong presumption is raised against the party. Roe v Harrey 1 Burr 284; see also Cluney v Peggy 1 Camp 8; James noted may lead based upon the maxim omnia praesumunt (presumed against a spoliator) against the persons keeping it. Devonport, 27 L J C P 54, Cold 1 Q R 214. This rule is are

he ng

poisoned if It appears that B has tried in every way to prevent the body of T from being exhumed and examined. Stansfield, 11 How St Tr 1402 being suspected of murdering him

ment floor, objected strongly, ar would fall down The officers of underneath the floor A strong

Burr Ev 462

her feet with put her feet in

13 S & M 205

Fear exhibited by the accused The fact of fear exhibited by the accused raises an inference against the accused. A being accused of the murder of B shows a great repugnance to looking at the dead body of B. This is relevant

R v Stewart, 19 How St Tr 156, R v Ogilvie, 19 How St Tr 1284. T comes into a town with a horse and immediately employs an auctioneer to sell it. While the sale is going on T is observed to look excited and apprehensive, and on receiving the purchase money leaves the place at once, and on subse-

Complaint Illustrations (j) and (k) make statements of a person against whom an offence has been committed, relevant. But a mere statement is not relevant. Statement of a person of conduct is only relevant. These illustrations are :
 committed an offence has been conduct, accompanying such statement of fact of rape and r conduct, the former has no such it in discriminating between a staten the essential difference between redress or punishment, and must b for instance, or a parent, or some other person to whom the complainant was justly entitled to look for assistance and protection. The distinction is of importance, because while a complaint is always relevant, a statement not amounting to a complaint will only be relevant under the particular circumstances, e.g., if it amounts to a dying declaration or can be used as a corroborative evidence. Norton Ex 111

Complaint in cases of rape, criminal assault, etc. Illustration (j) is an thus coming into issue, the circumstance that at the time of the alleged rape the a self contradiction ning the victim of

 That she did not,
 " assertion that
 , at the time of ice as a virtual arity, therefore,
 be allowed to

Neal, Utah 151 So in cases of rape, indecent assault and similar offences upon females (k) shortly after the prosecution, not to prove the truth of the matters stated, but as evidence of the consistency of the conduct of the prosecutrix with the story told by her in the
 of which she 905) 1 K B
 6) 60 J P.
 of conduct

If the conduct of a woman who has been ravished is such that she lodges a complaint, then that conduct is relevant and the terms in which the complaint was made are relevant as conduct but they are not relevant as direct proof of the act. The particulars of the complaint, may so far as they relate to the evidence of facts of the woman on her part

Cas 1018, see also Soosalal v Emperor, 82 Ind Cas 142, Raman v Emperor 4 Lah L J 491 But if she only answered questions her evidence would be hearsay. Ibid, see also Nga Som v Emperor 43 Ind Cas 113-19 Cr L J 115, Emperor v Soori, 31 P L R 391-120 Ind Cas 539-31 Cr L J 141 V I R 1930 Lah 81

Whether
woman's statement
2 Moo & R
126, R v O
2 F & L 575
decided in 1830 Parke B, excluded the statement but said, 'The sense of the thing certainly is, that the jury should in the first instance know the nature of the complaint made by the prosecutrix and all that she then said. But for reasons which I can never understand the usage has obtained that the prosecutrix's counsel should only enquire generally whether a complaint was made by the prosecution of the prisoner's conduct towards her leaving the prisoner's counsel to bring before the jury the particulars of that complaint by cross examination' See also Steph Dig Tr Note 1; R v Eyre, 2 F & L 519 Reg v Wood 14 Cox 16 A series of rulings beginning with R v Williams (1890) 2 Q B 167 repudiated the original practice and declared the whole statement admissible. In that case at p 177 Huckins J observed 'After a very careful consideration any authority to the contrary is not bound by the fact of our doing a complaint of the woman is consistent with her testimony on oath given in the witness box negativing her consent and affirming that the acts complained of were against her will and in accordance with the conduct they would expect in a truthful woman under the circumstances detailed by her. The jury, and they only, are the persons to be satisfied whether the woman's conduct was so consistent or not. Without proof of her conduct demeritours and verbal expressions, all of which are of vital importance in the consideration of that question, how is it possible for them satisfactorily to determine it? Is it to be left to the witness to whom the statement is made to determine and report to the jury whether what the woman said amounted to a real complaint? Are the jury bound to accept the witness's interpretation of her words as binding upon them without having the opportunity to form their own conclusions from imperfect evidence? The witness's speculation as to the charge for the prosecution 9 Cox Cr 447 301 Hedge v Osborne (1903) 1 K B 301 Graham v Newell (1900) Case, 3 Cr App 262, Graham's Case 4 Cr App 218, Christie's Case, 10 Cr App 141-1914 A C 45, R v Norcott (1916) 1 K B 347 It appears from illustrations (i) and (j) that the Indian Legislature has given effect to the sound reasoning expressed by Parke J in R v Waller, 11 M & R 212 and Bramwell in Reg v Wood 14 Cox 46 So under this section the particulars of a complaint are also admissible in evidence. Stoke's Anglo Indian Code, 858, see also Soosalal v Emperor, 82 Ind Cas 142, Emperor v Phagunia, 82 Ind Cas 1043-1926 P 58

Time for making the complaint The rule is that the complaint should be made at the earliest reasonable opportunity. But what is the earliest and reasonable opportunity of complaint depends on the circumstances of each case. R v Lee 7 Cr A. R 31 In Chesney v Neusholme, (1908) P 301, which was a case of immoral acts by a clergyman with a boy the boy's statement to his mother on the same evening was admitted, but not his statement on the next evening to negative assent' In the case of the rape of an innocent girl of tender age, the evidence is not sufficient to sustain a conviction unless the accused is identified by the victim. In the case of the rape of an innocent girl of tender age, the evidence is not sufficient to sustain a conviction unless the accused is identified by the victim.

Complaint in answer to question. The complaint must be volunteered, and not in answer to questions. R v Mervin, 19 Cr C C 432. In King v Osborne, (1905) 1 K B 551, the prisoner was indicted for an indecent assault on a girl, and the question was whether the girl's reply to a question put to her by the prisoner was a complaint of the prisoner's conduct to her. In that case Ridley J in reading the judgment said that the girl's reply was a complaint of the prisoner's conduct to her. In that case Ridley J in his first point, the girl had been put to the question, and the complaint was made in answer to a question, it was a conversation and not a complaint, and he declined to allow it to be given in evidence. It does not appear, however, from the report, what the question was that was put to the girl. It appears to us that in such cases

What is the matter? or why are you crying? will not do so. These are natural and, if he do ought to be rejected. In each case the decision on the character of the question put, as well as other circumstances, such as the relationship of the questioner to the room, in no anti

R v Norcott, 12 Cr A R 166

18
R
J ob that the way a such evidence male person
R 162-86
in that case
pre-ent law, be thought in Lillyman's on of consent
1) where no present day, use historical by females in Cullinworth, admissibility girls but when one looks at the facts of those cases, it is apparent that the antithesis which the Judge had in mind was not an antithesis between cases in which a complaint of this nature was made by a female and cases where a complaint of this nature was made by a male person, but the antithesis between what may be broadly described as sexual offence on the one hand and non-sexual offences on the other" But section 8 of the Evidence Act is very wide, and a complaint of any offence is admissible. Vide illustration (k)

In R v Foster, 6 C & P 325, which was a case of man-slaughter Parle J allowed the statement of the deceased, made to a prisoner by immediately after the accident, to . . . the best possible test . . . what it was that had . . . that was the evidence . . . was not admitted to show the conduct of the prosecutor but apparently as part of res gestae. Strictly speaking this testimonial evidence was admitted as an exception to the ordinary rule as spontaneous declaration for which no provision has been made in the Act, but the admission of which is indicated as a part of res gestae under section 6, illustration (a)

Explanation 2 Under this explanation another class of statements, i.e. statements which affect the conduct of a person, whose conduct is relevant under this section, is admissible. Illustrations (f), (g) and (h) are examples of such statements. The conduct of A in illustrations (f), (g) and (h) shows nothing unless the statements are put before the tribunal. Here the statements made in the presence of the party are admissible as the ground work of their conduct. Here the conduct of A is equivocal and statements are admissible to explain that conduct as part of the res gestae under the rule of Verbal Act doctrine explained in s 6. In this explanation statement includes document addressed to a party. Vide illustration (h); Reg v Thompson, (1910) 1 K B 640. "But before a bare statement made by another person in an accused's presence and prejudicial to him is allowed to be used as evidence against him, there must be something in the shape of action, conduct or words, which in the opinion of the Judge, would justify the jury in drawing an inference that the accused sub-

Emperor, 12
over to make luded which e statement, being one explanation
ster of any observations or explanations he thought fit to make, substantially admitted the truth of the whole or portion of it" Ibid. But in Rex v Thompson, (1910) 1 K B 640 = 79 L J K B 321 at p 322, Lord Alton of Liverpool said, "But if the case is never is true it goes to 71 J
P. 103, by the consideration whether the prisoner has admitted the truth of the statement such that such a would Reg v
and the strenu admitted

indul n years.
d done
"Steele
it, she said 'you' and on being asked by another person said 'you' Norton," and pointed to the accused. The accused said, "No, Madge, you are "on," and pointed to
"If I have done it, whether the statement a Court consisting of Richford J observed, investigation are ay; but to this rule there are exceptions. One is that statements, made in the presence of a prisoner upon an occasion on which he might reasonably be expected to make some observation, explanation, or denial, are admissible under certain circumstances. We think it is not strictly accurate and may be misleading, to say that they are prisoners, as such an expression may seem to

of the facts stated in them; they explanatory of the answer given to them by the person in whose presence they are made. Such answer may of course be given either by words or by conduct—for example, by remaining silent on an occasion which demanded an answer.

some part of
is are admitted;

relevant to the

it seems to us to be

(10th Ed.) = 814

such acceptance he

of such statements

is said that there is an answer to them

whether given by words or conduct, acknowledges the truth of all or part of them. If there be no such evidence the contents of such statements should be excluded. It is perhaps too wide to say that in no case can the statements be given in evidence when they are denied by the prisoner as it is possible that a denial may be given under such circumstances and in such a manner as to constitute evidence from which an acknowledgment may be inferred, but as above stated we think they should be rejected unless there is some evidence of

v Christie,

I was charged

tly after the

"That is the

I was whether

Lord Atkinson

the statement made in the presence of the accused is admissible. In giving his judgment observed: "As to the second ground, the rule of law undoubtedly is that a statement even upon an occasion which should explanation or denial from him, save so far as to make it, in effect his only, then to that extent alone it becomes his statement. He may accept the accused of the facts mentioned in the statement necessarily render the statement inadmissible because he may deny the statement in such a manner and under such circumstances as may lead a jury to disbelieve him, and constitute evidence from which an acknowledgment may be inferred by them." In the same case Lord Moulton said: "If the prisoner admits the charge the evidence is obviously relevant. If he denies it it may or may not be relevant. For instance, if he is behaviour of the prisoner, for the fact that some one makes a statement to him subsequently to the commission of the crime cannot in itself have any value as evidence for or against him. The only evidence for or against him is his behaviour in response to the charge but I can see no justification for laying down as a rule of law that any particular form of response, whether of a positive or negative character, is such that it cannot in some circumstances have an evidential value. I am therefore of opinion that there is no rule of law that evidence cannot be given of the accused being charged with the offence and of his behaviour on hearing such charge where that behaviour amounts to a denial of his guilt." In the same case Lord Reading also observed: "In general, such evidence can have little value in the direct bearing on the case unless the accused, upon hearing the statement, by conduct and demeanour, or by the answer made by him, or in certain circumstances by the refraining from

Which affects such conduct. The statements whether oral or written must be shown "to affect the conduct" of the person to whom they are made, and therefore mere statement to persons, which cannot be shown to be in any way connected with or to bear upon his conduct, would be inadmissible. Cum Er 97
In R. v. Bexley, 70 J P 263, the prisoner was charged with murder of her child.

1 A & E 165
Subsequent conduct of the accused is not a basis for establishing the guilt of the accused. The correct conduct of the accused is not a basis for establishing the correctness of the evidence of the prosecution witnesses. By itself however it is not a legitimate proof of the guilt of the accused. Chandra Ka Prasad v Emperor
126 Ind Cas 684-31 Cr L J 1051-A 1 R 1930 Oudh 324-7 O W N 564

Facts necessary to explain or introduce relevant facts

nary to explain or introduce a fact in issue or relevant fact, or which support or rebut an inference suggested by a fact in issue or relevant fact, or which establish the identity of any thing or person whose identity is relevant or place at which any fact in issue or relevant fact show the relation of parties by whom any fact is proved, are relevant in so far as they are necessary.

Illustrations

(a) The question is, whether a given document is the will of A. The state of A's property and of his family at the date of the alleged will may be relevant facts.

(b) A sues B for a libel imputing disgraceful conduct to A; B affirms that the matter alleged to be libellous is true

The position and relations of the parties at the time when the libel was published are facts in issue and a matter unconnected with the dispute may be proved.

(e) A is accused of a crime

(e) A is accused of a crime
The fact that, soon after the commission of the crime, A absconded from his house, is relevant under section 8, as conduct subsequent to and affected by facts in issue

The fact that at the time when he left home he had sudden and urgent business at the place to which he went, is relevant, as tending to explain the fact that he left home suddenly.

The details of the business on which he left are not relevant, except in so far as they are necessary to show that the business was sudden and urgent.

(d) A sues B for inducing C to break a contract of service made by him with A. C, on leaving A's service, says to A—"I am leaving you because B has made me a better offer." This statement is a relevant fact as explanatory of C's conduct, which is relevant as a fact in issue.

(e) A, accused of theft, is seen to give the stolen property to B, who is seen to give it to A's wife. B says as he delivers it—"A says you are to hide this." B's statement is relevant as explanatory of a fact which is part of the transaction.

(f) A is tried for a riot and is proved to have marched at the head of a mob. The cries of the mob are relevant as explanatory of the nature of the transaction.

Introductory facts. It would be practically impossible, in the conduct of

These circumstances in relation to an action or suit may not per se be relevant, but in connection with the main issues to be put before the tribunal, they are treated as the introduction to the main matters or by way of inducement to it. They take the place of the preamble to a statute, which, while it has no power in variety of variety of s to their re illustra ons Hunt, land referred to at a foreclosure sale with her money and for her. Upon direct its, setting ought the introductory and explanatory are

R 36 (50, 51)=17 W R Cr 15; see also illustrations (a) and (b) and illustration (c) to section 6 used in a conversation, the demonstration of the use of a scientific instrument, testimony showing that extraneous facts may be drawn are those which may be explanatory. A fact may well be a limited inference neither one of the res gestae nor probative in any direct line of proof to the existence of such a fact. It will be received if it explain or complete a res gestae or probative fact in such a way as to create, increase or diminish its direct probative value. The objective inferences which may properly be drawn from it. If a fact is not in evidence fulfil these conditions it is not even a bar to its admissibility, that, as direct evidence it would be rejected under our positive rule of law or procedure. Facts of this nature are as it were correlating; they state the relations between the res gestae or probative facts either with each other or with extrinsic circumstances necessary to their full understanding. Where the latter are entirely intelligible and complete in and of themselves no explanatory or supplementary facts are rationally required. Facts of an explanatory or supplementary nature may even be used to give force and cogency to those in the direct line of proof. The effect of evidence of this nature is not however in all cases affirmative. An explanation may equally well be intended and calculated to diminish the force of the evidence produced by one's adversary. In point of time, the explanatory or supplemental fact may precede accompany or follow the probative or res gestae fact to which it is correlated. (Chamberlayne's Ev. 1755 Clause (c)) affords an illustration of how an accused person alleged to have absconded after the events can produce evidence to explain his sudden departure, and thereby rebut the presumption which arose from his equivocal conduct. Donough Ev. 46. The field book or Chitta which describes the various plots is admissible under this section as explanatory of the partition paper which without the Chitta might be very difficult to understand. Janki v. Dingo, 2 Ind. Cas. 367, but see Gopal v. Madhub, 11 W. R. 29. The Bombay Police received a telegram purporting to emanate from the chief commissioner of Police Naya salad, informing him that bank drafts in duplicate had been stolen and it was feared that signatures would be forged and negotiation attempted in Bombay. A second telegram was received from Naya salad in reply to inquiries made by Bombay Police. The accused cashed a draft at the French Bank, Bombay and presented another at the Eastern Bank, Bombay. The clerk informed his superiors and as a result the accused was arrested. It was held that the telegrams purporting to be sent by the Naya salad Police were relevant to explain the conduct of the clerk of the Eastern Bank and the Bombay Police and were therefore admissible in evidence under this section. Emjor v. Abdul Gani 91 Ind. Cas. 690 = 27 Bom. L. R. 1373 = 49 B. 879 = A. 1 R. 1926 B. 71.

Sudden flight—explanation. The fact of the flight of the accused or his attempts to escape, is relevant under s. 8. It may be the result of guilty knowledge or conscience, or it may be perfectly innocent. Anything therefore that the party absconding says at the time of the act is receivable as explanatory of a relevant fact. It would also be receivable as part of the res gestae and as a declaration accompanying an act. Norton Ev. 119 see also illustrations (c) A and B after the commission of a murder which they are suspected of being guilty of, fly from their houses to a distant State. This raises a presumption of guilt. The fact that A and B fled because of a fear of violence at the hands of their pursuers overthrows this presumption. Plummer v. Com. 1 Bush 76, Golden v. State, 25 Ga. 52, Arnold v. State, 11 Tex. App. 436. In Plummer v. Com. the Court observed: "But there was evidence before the jury tending to explain the concealment and flight of appellant upon the ground that they were occasioned by an apprehension of violence for soldiers or otherwise, and this in our opinion was competent evidence which the jury had a right to regard as conducing to rebut the presumption of guilt arising from the concealment of flight of the appellants. In the case of Oscar Slater, who was charged with murder he was able to prove that his trip to America was not a flight from justice as the prosecution alleged, but made in pursuance of a long contemplated plan and that his apparently sudden departure a few days after the event was a mere coincidence. Donough Ev. 46. If after the commission of a crime a person, whose name is mentioned as a participator in the crime [the crime] the crime [the crime] the other [the other]

an explanation made sometime after flight is excluded State, 76 S. W. 167 But Sherrill v. State, 37 So 129 doctrine (vide § 6) has been the test of an alleged act of bankruptcy and requires explanation Robinson v. Haugh, 9 Moore Gyde, 9 Bing 349, Touch v of flight under section 8 at p 148.

Facts of the utmost importance unexplained, legitimate suspicion against a man, and any fact which tends to dispel that suspicion is relevant Cum F 100 case by bringing in new data capacity to produce

really important and was likely to have been the true source of the effect observed, so that the proponent's instance may or must be attributed to that other and not to the alleged tendency or cause in question (3) The third method takes away the force of the proponent's instance by offering other instances in which the same effect is found, but without the presence of the alleged cause Wigmore § 449 Evidence of other offences committed by the prisoner is somewhat more admissible of a witness el, where the to produce received by after R v Swain, 111 Il. 40 So where the prisoner was charged with robbing the prosecutor of a coat by threatening to accuse him of an unnatural crime, evidence of a ticket was found on his back, as confirmatory of by proving that, shortly the prisoner had robbed another person [R v Briggs 2 M & Rob (199)], and question of his guilt and whether the previous statement is made to a Police officer, or to a judicial officer or to a third party is immaterial if the statement is relevant to the fact in issue. - F 11 for

"3 Ind Cas 963-1 P L R 831
of minority when the question

Pande, 18 A 176 (179), Sulish Chandra v Mohendralal, 17 C 849 Where the accused were charged with committing or conspiring to commit dacoity and not with the charge of belonging to any gang it was held that the evidence tending to show the closeness of their association with the approver was inadmissible under s 11, though the same might be admissible under section 9 Imperor v Shahiduddin 51 B 524-A I R 1930 Bom 157. The absence of an entry in a book of account has no doubt been required as a relevant fact, not under section 31 but under sections 9 and 11 of the Indian Evidence Act to prove that an alleged payment was not made Ganjiram v Lachiram 19 C W N 612-23 Ind Cas 70. Tara Kumar v Kumar Irin Chitra 74 Ind Cas 393-36 C L J 389; Jari v Siddhar 15 C L J 7-17 C W N 105, Sagarmal v Manraj, 4 C W N 107. His Vahir v Hanil 25 A 90 Deoha v Rye 11 N L J 21-A I R 1918 Nag 153 In Imperor v Ginesh Damodar, 34 B 391 the accused published a book containing eighteen poems, of which four were subject matter of charge. The general trend of the poems charged as well as the remaining ones in the books evinced a spirit of blood thirstiness and murderous eagerness directed against the Government. Held, that the Court was entitled to look into the poems other than those forming the subject matter of the charge for the purpose of finding out the intention of the writer and the design of the publication. In order to rely on the evidence of persons who identified the accused in jail but failed to do so in Court the fact of the jail identification must be stated in witness evidence. An identification in jail is in essence a statement by the witness "I saw this man who is before me taking part in the dacoity." That statement can be used to corroborate this evidence given in Court if the witness says in his evidence "A number of persons were shown to me at the jail and from among them I pointed out those persons whom I had seen taking part in the offence." identant evidence such to prove the identity though the witness himself may not correctly remember who they were Chutthan v King Emperor A I R 1926 Oudh 36-90 Ind Cas 444-28 O C 283, Abdul v Emperor 47 A 39

Basis for admission of explanatory facts The peculiar danger, of inductive proof is that there may be other explanations than the desired one for the fact taken as the basis of proof Silguick Fallacies 270 But in the study of Logic we are concerned with discovering the defects of a mode of Proof, while in the Law of Evidence, we are concerned merely with the propriety of admitting the fact at all with its quality as a possible Inference, not as absolute Proof. If then, the potential defect of inductive Proof is that the fact offered as the basis of the conclusion may be open to one of the test or requirement for mere identity, the fact must be something far short of this. If other rational hypothesis would be and yet if only that single other hypothesis an extremely high degree of probability for the conclusion under the Law of Evidence Wigmore § 37 Thus throughout the whole realm of evidence, circumstantial and testimonial, the theory of the inductive argument, as practically explanatory fact will be non it is when hable

Identity as a probandum—other principles discriminated "In evidence that proposition commonly spoken of as Identity, there is apt to be a confusion in thought with two other processes which are really not germane (1) It is perhaps natural to apply the notion of Identity or Identification to the general process of proving an accused person guilty. He is said to be "identified" as the murderer or the thief, & the whole process of proof and the whole mass of evidence is thought of as involving identity of the accused and the guilty person. From this point of view, all distinctions between the various sorts of evidence heretofore analyzed are merged and become useless. Such an indiscriminate confusion and merger of all sorts of probative elements naturally excites suspicion of the propriety of the term (identification) as thus applied. In truth, there is no propriety in it. The very looseness of the term shows that, since the various sorts of evidence thus covered by it may be further analyzed and separated, there would remain no but needs to be distinguished

"Suppose, for example, to prove a murder evidence is offered that a gun found three days later in the defendant's possession is exactly fitted by a bullet found in the body of the deceased. Here there are two inferences involved (a) Because the defendant possessed the gun when found later, therefore he probably possessed it at the time," this inference is always open to doubt, since the defendant may have borrowed the gun since the killing, or some third person may have surreptitiously placed the gun on his premises, (b) 'Because the gun, thus possessed by the defendant at the time of the killing, fitted the bullet found in the body, therefore the defendant's gun must be the one that shot the deceased', here the inference is open to doubt because the bullet may fit other

the ces
is element of the Identity ces as pointing back to an Wigmore's Principles of General Principle of Identity Evidence 'Identity may be thought of as a quality of a person or thing,—the quality of sameness with another person or thing. The essential assumption is that two persons or things are first thought of as existing, and that then the one is alleged because of common features, to be the same as the other. The process of inference thus has two necessary elements (1) it is a concomitant one, in its logical scheme, and (2) it operates by comparing common marks, found to exist in the two supposed separate objects of thought, with reference to the possibility of their being the same. It follows that its force depends on the necessity of the association between the mark and a single object. Where a certain circumstance feature or mark, may commonly be found associated with a large number of objects, the presence of that feature or mark in two supposed objects is little indication of their identity, because, on the general principle of relevancy, the other conceivable hypotheses are so numerous: a the objects that possess that mark are numerous and therefore two of them possessing it may well be different. But where the objects possessing the mark are only one or a few, and the mark is found in two supposed instances, the chances of the two being different are nil or are comparatively small. Hence, in the process of identification of two supposed objects by a common mark the force of the inference depends on the degree of necessity of association associated with a single object. Rarely can one circumstance alone be so instance is circum whole cannot be Wigmore § 411

cation thus consists of which by itself
er can conceivably

9. to exist in a single object only. Each additional circumstance reduces the chance of there being more than one object so associated. The process thus corresponds accurately to the

"It may be negative as well as affirmative. If an object in issue, the lack of that feature in a particular object offered tends to show that it cannot be the object in issue—in analogy with the argument from essential inconsistency. Wigmore's Principles of Judicial Proof § 140.

Scope of the identity. This section does not deal with Circumstantial evidence of identity. It may be proved or disproved not only by with a certain person in issue (height, size, hair, complexion, voice, marks, faculties, or peculiarities), relationship, education, travel, religion, knowledge of particular people, place, or facts, and other details of personal history (R v Collins, Stephens). In this connection too identity of mental qualities, habits and disposition may become relevant, though it would be excluded in more specific enquiries. Phy Et 132. The inference of identity of a person, made by the use of singular motion a mark of identification. The sound in question may well be that of a voice. Clamberlayne's Et § 186. Peculiar facts and many other facts, in a very satisfactory way, as part of the basis of the inference of the witness as to identification. In much the same fashion, the possession of skill and other mental training may be shown by its exhibition on other occasions and, in this way, serve to identify the doer of a particular act who must have possessed the qualities in question in order to have been able to do as he has done. Id § 1869.

Test of Admissibility. The only matter that is here of concern is the admissibility of circumstantial evidence of identification, and it will easily be low that it is that but it does not make it up Wigmore § 412

of a person can be ascertained

(139), R v Broome, Danough 81, R v Crippen Wills 490, R v Wainwright Sturivant 117 Mas 131. Not Tr

(1909), Arshad Layton 61 (1909) knowledge used was

45; R v the murder of a man, same ball

(b) Residence, and Peerage L R 10 App C 763, 775

Hule's Tr. of a writing. S.
Fulborne in Brooks v.
the plaintiff, so to spell the word was proved, it was some evidence against the plaintiff to show that he wrote the libel. Indeed, we think that proposition a a habit of pecul degree of plain which the

the identity of that person are relevant see also R v. Ball, (1911) A C 47, R v.
other offences committed by the prisoner is sometimes admitted, with a view to establish identity. Taylor § 107. At a trial for offences under ss 302, 120 B and 380 I some two years subsequent identity, design and motive pursued by the accused alleged in the subsequent alleged in the or 14 or 15 of the Evidence Act Emperor v Panchu Das, 38 Ind C 19 929=24
C W N 501=31 C L J 102=47 C 671

the next indictment. So the general principle that where a circumstance is relevant for some purpose, the incidental revelation, in offering it, of other criminal conduct by an accused does not stand in the way of receiving the evidence. Higmore § 416

Identity of name Identity of name raises a presumption of identity of person, where there is similarity of residence or trade, or circumstances, or where the name is an unusual one, but aliter where the name is a common one and there are several persons known of the same name and of the same place Lewisson Pre Dy 307 "A concordance in name alone is always some evidence of identity, and it is not correct to say — 'it is not proof of the facts relating to the person named, then to the person named, then of name goes for nothing, conclusion," Grales v L T R N S 795; Re W, R 14 Eq 245; Maden v D 218 Re Hocking, (1898)

The question is whether one Samuel Fry of Plymouth Rock, has written certain letters—he being the defendant in the case. A witness testifies that he knows the handwriting of a Samuel Fry of Plymouth Rock the only person of that name at the place. Ph vessel. A pilot named Henderson was in Court and answered this description. The presumption was that he was the defendant. There the Court observed, "The Court will not assume to be the defendant. But then the counsel objects that the statement is not made under oath. As to that there are many things which are

9. incapable of strict legal proof. A man's name is mere matter of reputation, that which is termed in Scotch law the status of a man is matter of reputation and if precise evidence of the relationship of one man to another or other matters of that nature were always required no fact of that kind could ever be proved in practice. Here there was evidence of the identity of the defendant although it was not proved directly that the name of the party who answered in Court was William. There was evidence that he was a pilot, that he was the pilot on board the vessel, and he answered to the name of Henderson. I think that is sufficient. In an action against Charles Lyon for goods sold to his intestate, and a plea in plene administration the plaintiff in order to show assets offered a copy of a bill and answer by one Charles Lyon to a Bill filed in Chancery against him in the character of an administrator. The presumption is that they are the same person and evidence is admitted. Hennell v Lyon, 1 B & Ald 112. In that case Bayle J observed: "There is nothing to show two administrations, and it is rather extraordinary to suppose that two persons of the same name should sustain the same character. It is not to be presumed that there are two persons but the identity is rather to be presumed, unless the plaintiff could have shown the contrary."

An action is brought on a bill of exchange directed to, 'Charles Binner Crawford, East India House,' and accepted 'C B Crawford.' A witness proves that the signature was that of a gentleman of that name, formerly a clerk in the East India House but he does not know whether that Mr Crawford is the defendant here. The presumption is that the two are the same. Green v Green, 9 M & W 314. Lord Abinger said: "I am of opinion that the evidence was quite sufficient. Here the bill is drawn upon by Charles Binner Crawford, and addressed to him at the India House. The evidence is that there is a person of the name of Charles Binner Crawford; that he once belonged to the India House and the acceptance is in his hand writing. That is surely sufficient evidence of identity. In an action against one William Evans for goods sold and delivered it appears that five years before, a person of that name had been a customer of plaintiff and had written a letter acknowledging the receipt of the goods. The witness who proves this does not know whether the defendant who answered to the name is the same person. The presumption is that he is. Smell v Evans, 4 Q B 626. In the course of argument Denman C J asked: Does the name go for nothing at all in any case? Suppose the name of the defendant had been William Lionel Gulliver Evans and a sale had been proved to a party so named? An action is brought against Henry Thomas a person of that name had kept cash at the bank when the bill was made payable and that the acceptance is in his hand writing. He cannot identify him with the defendant of the same name. This is sufficient prima facie case. Roden v Ryde, 4 Q B 626. In this case Lord Denman said: "In cases where a particular circumstance tends to raise a question as to the party being the same, even identity or name is something from which an inference may be drawn. If the name were only John Smith which is of very frequent concurrence there might not be much ground for drawing the conclusion. But Henry Thomas Rydes are not so numerous, and from that and the circumstances generally there is every reason to believe that the acceptor and the defendant are identical. Lord Lydhurst asks (in Whitlock v Musgrove, 3 Tyrw 513) 'why the onus of proving a negative in these cases should be thrown upon the defendant?' the answer is because the proof is so easy. He might come into Court and have the witness asked whether he was the man."

A note signed "Hugh Jones" is sued upon. It appears that there are several "Hugh Jones" at the place where the note was signed, and there is no evidence to show that the "Hugh Jones" who is sued is the "Hugh Jones" who signed the note. The plaintiff is non-suited. Jones v Jones, 9 M & W 75.

Identity from family name and initial. The fact that family name and initials are the same raises no presumption that the parties are the same. Ambs v R Co 44 Minn 266; London v Walpole 1 Ind 321; Bennet v Labhart, 27 Mich 489; Burford v McCru, 53 Pa St 431; Law Pro 314.

Two persons of same name but of different position. Where two persons of the same name occupy different positions or relations, the presumption is that they are different persons. Law Pro 315; Nicholas v Lanstute, Lull Sel Cas. 21, Ellisworth v. Moore, 11 Iowa, 486; Correns v. Gillispie, S. 94 Mo 82.

of things may be presumed from circumstances 234; Byrd v. Fleming, 4 Bible 145. Person Pro Ex 320 The inference of a witness from the great and he like. Chamberlain those in common use, the fact that while such object, of special attention In other words, they either have no "ear mark" or none which is commonly observed In the first class would fall ordinary coins, stamped out in large numbers by means of a die In the second would be embraced bank notes, seldom identified by their position in a numerical series Pay checks may be regarded in a similar way This difficulty of identification affects merely the weight which may properly be attached to the mental result of the witness The evidence of the inference is, nevertheless, admissible. Ibid § 1872 Identification by the witness may extend to establish

Ibid § 1872

Surendra

Identity of a person by voice or appearance A witness may testify to a person's identity from his voice alone Hulet's Trial 5 How St. Tr 1185, Harrison's Trial 12 How St. Tr 846, The Threshers' Trial, 30 How St. Tr. 197; Pickens Trial, 30 How St. Tr 245, R v Castro Tichborne Case, see also Emperor, 20 C W N 100, Emperor, A I R 1925 Lah 137, testified from observing his stature, from the sight of the person's photograph, person's age, or intoxication merely from his appearance Chattels may be identified by their appearance and other qualities Wigmore § 660

Identity of person by photograph "The photograph was admissible" said Wills J in R v Tolson, 4 F. & F 103, "because it is only a visible representation of the image or impression made upon the minds of the witnesses by the sight of the person or the object it represents, and therefore is in reality only another species of the evidence which persons give of identity when they speak from memory, Hindson v. Ashby, (1896) 2 Ch 21, 27, Hill v. Hill, 11 T L R. 541

The identity of a person may be established by a person's photograph Frith v. Frith, which was a case for divorce upon a photograph alone and this is asked to do this, but it should be known that it is not the practice of the Court, except under very special circumstances, to act upon a photograph alone It is high time that this should be understood The same rule is applicable in all matrimonial cases, Vide, Dawson v. Dawson, 23 T L R 716, Hill v. Hill, supra, Philp 386 As regards identification by photograph, Vide Emperor v. Panchu Das, 24 C W N 501 (F B) at p 524 In cases of officer to show to persons photographs of those whom they 19 R v Ferguson, (1924) hat of a prisoner whom prisoner was picked out by the prosecutor from a number of men in a room Held, that there was no ground for complaint against the method of identification R v Melaney 157 L J Jo 46; see also Bindle

Ind Cas 167 So, an engraving to a 9 given by a witness who has precisely identified the prisoner by a photograph must always be subject to that fact. R v Dwyer, (1925) 2 K B 799

Identification of Prisoners Act The Identification of Prisoners Act, 1920 (Act No XXXIII of 1920) has been passed in order to provide legal authority for taking measurements, finger impressions, foot prints and photographs of persons convicted of, or arrested in connection with certain offences. This Act has been passed because the value of the scientific use of finger impressions, foot prints and photographs as agents in detecting crime and the identification of criminals is well known in England and other European countries and as such this subject can no longer be ignored—See Statement of Objects and Reasons Under section 5 of the Act which authorises a Magistrate to take the measurement which as defined in the Act includes finger impression and foot print impressions or photographs of convict and others, the thumb impression of the accused taken at the trial is admissible in evidence. Superintendent v Kiran Bala, 11 C L J 79=30 C W N 373=27 Cr L J, 109

Identity evidence—Foot prints To connect a person accused of crime with the scene of its commission in a most important circumstance is frequently that of foot prints or other tracks or marks made in the soil or on surrounding objects by some portion of the body of the person involved in the inquiry or the vehicle in which he was carried or by the animal which drew it. The discovery of such marks and the legitimate inferences to be drawn from them may constitute a valuable link in the chain of incriminating evidence especially necessary in cases where no direct proof of the res gestae is attainable. Naturally the probative force of such circumstances resides largely in the correspondence discovered to exist between the marks at the place of the res gestae and those produced appropriate articles is credited with the individual in question. These correspondences may under certain circumstances be stated by one who has observed them although an element of reasoning is necessarily combined with such a statement. The declaration it is true be simply a method of stating facts. Thus an observer may properly say whether a certain boot, shoe, or other specimen of foot wear is capable of producing particular tracks. On the other hand, that certain marks were actually made by a given individual or even were the same as or similar to those made by him is an invasion of the province of the jury to justify which an adequate administrative necessity must be shown. A contrary view has however been maintained. The inference that certain foot prints corresponded has been received although there is a lack of unanimity on the point. It is not required that a skilled witness should testify as to the existence of a correspondence. It will be required as an administrative matter that the witness be shown to be possessed of knowledge so adequate to the statement made that jury might reasonably be justified in acting upon it. In connection with inferences from correspondence of foot prints it will not be regarded as sufficient that the witness from a general idea of the size and configuration of the boot, believes that the shape of the individual in question would make the marks actually found or ones similar to them. In general where the facts detailed by the witness as the basis of his inference are clearly insufficient to support it as a matter of reason the results of the mental process are excluded.—Chamberlain v Freese 1874

Actions of blood hounds The conduct and behaviour of blood hounds after being set on the trail of a fugitive criminal cannot be given in evidence to prove that the scent of the accused and the scent of the person who perpetrated the crime which is being investigated are identical. Chamberlain v Freese 1874 (a)

Circumstantial and Testimonial Evidence of Identity, distinguished The foregoing inferences from circumstances forming an identity mark, and the inference from testimony asserting identity, must be distinguished. In the former type, the identifying mark or marks are supposed to be known and proved; and it then becomes a question of the strength of the inference from those circumstances as tested by the logical principle. But in the latter type we are given simply the testimonial assertion that the two things are identical, and our problem then is, to enquire into the testimonial basis of perception and recollection for that assertion and to ascertain the possible sources of error. For example, if the identity of J S with a testamentary claimant is in issue, and it is known that J S ten years ago had a deep knife scar on the sole of the left foot, and if it is equally a fact that the claimant now has a similar knife scar, the problem is the validity of an inference from this knife scar to identity of the person. But in the same case we may have, of ten witnesses who know J. S. five of them now and five of them asserting these opposite basis for these opposite inferences. But on the other event, the testimonial evidence of Wigmore's Proposition, and person B is now presented to an observer who has seen A, and the observer is asked, 'Is this now person the same human being as that former person seen son bearing the same mark has been some how proof was effected. But upon assertion of the fact with the conditions with the inference from identity thus brings up recollection, and (sometimes) in Narration

'Now, in ordinary judicial practice, a testimonial assertion as to identity is made in one of three typical forms saw his left the prin pres look is t vari he gives a reason for his recognition, but the essential thing in the recognition so that our enquiry now must be, what is the psychic process of recognition of identity?

'Let us here realize that we have only one mental process to examine, be Resem- In the words more or less quoted in Arnold, Psychology Applied to Legal marks b c d e f, and the observer perceived or involved in Recognition, ness' in varying degree of Identity?—Wigmore'

Mental conditions attending the Recognition of Identity The original mental record of a perceived event preserves the several items of the perceived event connected in the memory record, this is the 'association of ideas' When later, a record, This pre blance,

9. is, first, that the original stages of perception and record and the later one of recognition may be (not necessarily are) subconscious, and secondly, that the revival or recognition stage may be merely a general or single sensation of sameness (or resemblance) without a consciousness of the particular item or mark that has served as the stimulus e.g. when I first make the acquaintance, at a convention of Mr A from San Francisco of my perception and record of his marks of personality are or may be subconscious; i.e., I am not conscious of any specific items b c d etc. and when next year I meet that person again, I may recognize him, with a single idea as Mr A from San Francisco without first being conscious of the particular item or items that have stimulated the idea of Mr A as a single whole. Wignam's Principles of Judicial Proof § 207

Caution and Precaution in dealing with Testimony to Identity (1) It calls for caution in that testimony as to identity must be accepted only after the most careful consideration. On the one hand, the process of Recognition being often more or less subconscious it may be quite correct, even though no specification of marks can be given as reasons for recognition. On the other hand the risk of injustice being so serious, the great possibilities of lurking error should cause hesitation and the investigator should seek to establish as many marks as possible that may serve circumstantially to check the testimonial assertions. At this point there may be a logical value in numbers of witnesses.

(2) The process also calls for precaution in taking measures beforehand objectively to reduce the chances of testimonial error.

(i) At the time of original observation the investigator (police) should obtain from the observer a note of any marks of the personality observed, so that there will be less need to depend later on the observer's memory.

(ii) At the time of presenting for recognition, whether upon arrest or at trial in the Court room measures should be taken to increase the stimulus of association and to decrease the risk of false suggestion. (a) The person to be identified should be clothed and placed (so far as feasible) in the same conditions as when originally observed. (b) The person to be identified should be presented in company with a dozen others of not too dissimilar personalities. Wignam's Principles of Judicial Proof § 208

Value of evidence as regards identity based on personal impression "You compare in your mind said Baron Parke, in Fryer v Gethercole, 13 Jur 542, the man you have seen with the man you see at the trial." But 'evidence as to identity based on personal impression however bona fide, is perhaps of all classes of evidence the least to be relied on and therefore unless supported by other facts an unwise basis for the verdict of the jury." Wignam's Principles of Judicial Proof § 209

Qualification of observer To be qualified as witnesses in this matter of identity the ordinary observers who testify must have seen the persons or articles to be identified and speak upon the basis of such personal perception. They are not at liberty to testify from information furnished by others. They cannot, as would be proper in the case of experts state their judgment upon the facts observed by others. It has been held that the mental result of the witness will not be received at all unless accompanied by a detailed statement of such constituent phenomena as will enable the Court to perceive that the jury might reasonably act in accordance with this inference. Chamberlayne's Ev § 1863. Direct and positive evidence of identification is not in all cases obtainable. Obviously, therefore, it is not indispensable. The primary evidence of inspection is naturally, however, of greater weight, other things being equal, than the secondary evidence of circumstantial proof. Witnesses therefore, who speak as to identity from the inspection of the person in question will, so far as this single circumstance is concerned be accorded greater weight than those who speak merely as to identifying circumstances. Where more forceful proof of identity is lacking even as low a grade of evidence as that a given individual resembled defendant more than he did any one else known to the witness, or that two things appear to be similar, has been received. It is not, however, sufficient identification especially in a serious matter, that the witness 'thought' or was 'impressed' to the effect that defendant was identical with the doer of a given act. That a witness was 'satisfied' with the identity of a defendant is not sufficient. Only the weight of the evidence is affected by the fact that the basis is a slight one.

Where no ground whatever is furnished, the inference is rejected, as of course S.
Chamberlayne's Et § 1864

that a person is of opinion to th list, is not relevant is not admissible is the general rule of law, and is founded matters in dispute—the Judge or jury, as the their conclusions from the facts before whether the defendant was genuine, so far as the witness proposed, not merely to speak of the apparent sameness of appearance, with the person he the case In ion evidence as l from minute be described in human language, so as to convey any accurate impression of the object, and therefore, unless opinions are received there must be a failure of evidence. When facts and peculiarities upon which the opinion is formed can be stated and described, they must be, and it is then for the jury and not the witness to form an opinion. The reasons for its admission is thus also stated in Cooper v State, 23 Tex. 341 "I may feel a strong conviction, not, however, amounting to certainty same man whom I knew in another place. My opinion is entitled to some weight because it is the statement of a fact, about which, to be sure, I can not speak certainty as to satisfy the minds of hand writing, quantity, value, weight, measure, time, distance, velocity, form, size, age, strength, heat, cold, sickness, and health questions, also, concerning photographs and powder puffs were found upon him and in his rooms. Held that the evidence was admissible as it tended to show that the appellant had abnormal propensities of the kind in question, and therefore that it was some evidence of identity. Thompson v R (1918) A C 221=87 L J K B 478-118 L T 418. So photographs could properly be put in evidence as being things unlikely to be found on a male. Tuis, (1918) for conviction.

clearly identified by persons who were picked out of a crowd in circumstances of fraud or error, conviction based on such evidence is not valid. R v Emperor, 2 Luck 411=101 Ind Cas 407. R v Dundayal, 81 Ind Cas 949, dissented from. The evidence which goes to prove that a person has identified another person as having taken part in a particular offence either in jail identification proceedings or elsewhere is admissible though the value of such evidence is weakened perceptibly as a general rule by failure to identify subsequently in Court. Parbhu v Emperor 104 Ind Cas 626=28 Cr L J 800, see also Ramprosad v Emperor, 1 Luck C 339=A I R 1927 Oudh 369. Evidence of identification of person precisely unknown after a number of months that certain persons took part in an attack is unreliable, unless there was a regular identification parade in which the witnesses picked out those persons from among others especially where it is not stated that such persons bear any distinguishing marks by which they can be recognised. Wilham Singh v Crown 1924 Lah 722. In criminal cases it is improper to identify the accused only when in the dock the police should place him, before hand with others and ask the witness to pick him out. Nor should the witness be guided in any way nor asked is that the man? R v Cartwright, 10 Cr App R 219, R v Williams, 11 id 81 R v Chapman 7 id 53, R v Bundy, 5 id 270-1. R v Dickson 11 id 142-143 R v Smith, 1 id 203, Philip Li 387. There is no section in the Evidence Act, which renders identification proceedings in jail illegal.

28 O C 258

Admissibility of other evidence in question of identity One of the questions in Gauri Shank whether one of a totally different case.

Use of burglary the thief had gained admittance to the house by means of a pen knife which was broken in the attempt, and part left at the window frame, the broken knife was found in the pocket of the prisoner, and perfectly corresponded with the fragment. In another case identification was established by the correspondence of the wadding of fire arms with a the N pistol, ponde 3rd section: Suren. Lall, 11 C 171. Fattich.

A man may survey ten thousand people before he sees two faces perfectly alike, Collect Jud s as an tinct on nimals.

and in an army of an hundred thousand men every one may be known from another. If there should be a dissimilarity of features there may be a dissimilarity of voice, a difference in the gesture, the smile and various other things; whereas a family likeness generally runs through all these, for in everything there is a resemblance, not of features size, attitude and action." See also Percy's Case, 12 How St Tr 1199, James v Angles, 17 How St Tr 1139, Day v Day quoted in Hibbert's Case, 351, Inch v 1st J 9 C & P 7, Morris v Davis 3 C & P 211-5 Cl & F 1836, Bailey v Bigot (1878) 1 L R 1 R 308, Furnaby v Bullie, 12 Ch D 282 (-90)

Thumb Impression A comparison of thumb impression of the person, who presented the document for the Registrar with that of another person is admissible under this section if the similarity of the impressions can establish the identity of that person with the second person or under clause (2) of section 11 of the Act if their dissimilarity makes such identification improbable. In order to come under this section such comparison must be made by the Court itself. Per Danerjee J in Queen Empress v Jalir Sheikh 1 C W N 33. The opinion of an expert as to the similarity of such impression is now admissible under s 45 of the Act. Often a criminal is detected from finger prints. From the finding of the trace or mark it is inferred that some person leaving that trace or mark was present at the time or place of doing the act charged and from the peculiarities of the trace or mark it is inferred that the accused was identical with that person. Now the question is do human finger prints present a combination having the highest degree of certainty? Science answers that they do. In brief the accepted conclusion, after much other evidence, is that the thumb impression of a criminal mark a mathematical combination confirmed the marks is the properly held view. See § 414

In the case of finger prints the inference from identical marks is extraordinarily strong. But in the case of foot marks this inference is especially weak. This is because the features usually taken as the basis of inference—size, depth, colour etc.—may not be

Verification of time and place Under this section facts which are necessary to fix the time and place of an occurrence are admissible. The time and place of the crime should be stated with certainty in the indictment though it is not necessary to prove them precisely as stated unless they are necessary ingredients in the crime. Underhill Cr Et 56. When however time and place are material the details of time and place must be proved previously as alleged. Ibid. The question is

For removal of the son, woman

was charged with the murder of a young man on the day the deceased was murdered, he replied, seemingly without embarrassment that he had been all day employed at his master's work a statement which his master and fellow servants who were present, confirmed. Subsequently it was proved that he was absent from his work about half an hour (the time being distinctly ascertained) in the forenoon of that day. It was also proved by a young girl that she saw a person exactly like him where the deceased was absent at the time of the crime. Attorney v Lyon's

Med Jurisprudence Where the defence rests on alibi, the accused must show that he was present at some other place before the time of the alleged crime for such a length of time that it was impossible for him to have been at the place where the crime was committed either before or after the time he was at such other place. Alays v State, 72 Neb 723-101 N W 979. So the question of time is material in the case of an execution of a document when both persons die from a common accident, etc. Similarly the place of occurrence is very material in many cases.

This section makes admissible all facts which fix the time and place. Often time is proved by Opinion evidence. In State v. Baldwin, 40 Kan 10, Johnson J said "Facts which are made up of a great variety of circumstances and a combination of appearances which from the infirmity of language cannot properly be described [are admissible] in this category may be placed matters involving magnitude or quantities portions of time, space, motion, gratification value, and such as relate to the condition or appearance of persons or things."

"Amongst the numerous physical and mechanical circumstances which occasionally lead to the detection of forgery and fraud, a discrepancy between date of a writing and the anno domini water mark in the fabric of the paper is one of the most striking. -- was detected by the circumstance that a letter was written upon paper made in England the death of a person by violent means, it often becomes necessary to ascertain the time of his death. In such a case in the absence of any direct evidence, the time of death is ascertained by post mortem examination. Time of death is generally ascertained by digestion, by putrefaction by rigor mortis and by temperature of the body. Lyons v. Med Juris

In the case of Empress v. Sudhabode Bhattachary, Reported in Lyons Medical Juris at p. 154, the hour of the death of the deceased became very important. The deceased had taken a meal of chapatties curry and rice with her husband (the prisoner) and then left the house at 4 A.M. The prisoner was returned at 10 P.M. The question to be decided was whether the death occurred at 4 A.M. during which the prisoner was in her room, or did it occur after his leaving the house? After examining the contents of the stomach the medical expert gave the opinion that in all probability the death occurred before the prisoner left the house. So in such a case in order to ascertain the time of death evidence is admissible to show what food she took, when she took the food condition of her health, her age etc. vide Lyons Medical Juris p. 154.

Testimonial evidence as regards time. The ordinary observer, the average man, is entirely familiar with the duration of intervals of time. Such a witness may state the moment at which a given event occurred or the place between two events. In the latter case the amount of elapsed time may be stated in standard units of duration hours, minutes seconds and the like or on the other hand, the statement may be one more general in form. Such an act of reasoning is, in many instances merely the statement of a fact. Although such an inference more largely embodies the element of reasoning an observer may be required for the doing of a funeral or a telegram and so forth. How long it crosses a high way or bring about some other definite result or occurrence may be to one familiar with the facts, a very simple act of reasoning. Chamberlaine v. Dv & 2093

Illustration (a) This illustration is an example of introductory fact. This may also serve to illustrate section 7, as being an instance of facts which may be taken into consideration of the court. It is to be noted that the illustration is of a fact which is not the altered fact, (XXXIX) Hiscocks v. Wilson 9

O.I. & F. 556 and other cases cited in Basu v. Succession Act under section 75. So where the factum of the will is in issue such evidence is ordinarily admissible as introductory facts. Where the question is whether a will is forged or not, these facts may rebut an inference suggested by a fact in issue. Ido Act 117 on him Clair v Motenoux 3 Q B D 237, Jenoué v Delmege (1891) App Cas 73, Royal Aquarium & Socy v Jarlison (1892) 1 Q B 443. Malice is proved when it is shown that the defendant 9 Ex 615, Dickson v L

 C 457. But to go into waste of too much time. It is sufficient to show that there was a quarrel Simpson v Robinson 12 Q B D 511. Valin v Andrews, M & W 336, Nort Ev 117.

Illustration (c) The fact of absconding which is a misfeasance under s 8 is in itself equivocal. It may be the result of guilty knowledge or conscience, or it may be perfectly innocent. Anything, therefore, that the party absconding says at the time of the act is receivable as explanatory of a relevant fact. It would also be receivable as part of the res gestae and as a declaration accompanying an act. The question frequently arises in bankruptcy when it is necessary to decide whether leaving the house is an act of bankruptcy or not. The presumption of inference arising from the act of absconding is thus rebutted. Nort Ev

Illustrations (d) and (e) It is presumed says Norton that the statements made by C in one case, and B in the other are only to be receivable as evidence transaction. Hoodroffe Ev 104. But it is submitted that explanation presupposes an adverse inference after which only an explanation is admissible to rebut that inference. As regards illustration (e) the statement is neither admissible as part of res gestae under the Verbal Act doctrine nor is it not being a spontaneous declaration its sanctity is guaranteed.

Illustration (f) This illustration is founded on the well known case of R v Lord George Gordon 21 How St Trial 514. In the case put the cries

10 Where there is reasonable ground to believe that two or

Things said or done by conspirator in reference to common design more persons have conspired together to commit an offence or an actionable wrong, anything said done or written by any one of

0. such persons in reference to their common intention, after the time when such intention was first entertained by any one of them, is a relevant fact as against each of the persons believed to be so conspiring as well for the purpose of proving the existence of the conspiracy as for the purpose of showing that any such person was a party to it

Illustrations

Relevant ground exists for believing that A has joined in a conspiracy to wage war against the Queen

The facts that B procured arms in Europe for the purpose of the conspiracy, C collected money in Calcutta for a like object, D procured persons to join the conspiracy in Bombay, E published writings advocating the object in view at Agra, and F transmitted from D letters to G at Calcutta the money which C had collected at Calcutta and the receipt for a letter written by H giving an account of the conspiracy, are each relevant to his proof the existence of the conspiracy and to prove A's complicity in it, although he may have been ignorant of all of them, and although the persons by whom they were done were stranger to him and although they may have taken place before he joined the conspiracy or after he left it

Conspiracy A conspiracy may be described in general terms, as a combination of two or more persons by some concerted action, to accomplish some criminal or unlawful purpose or to accomplish some purpose not in itself criminal or unlawful, by criminal or unlawful means. Greenleaf Cr. Vol III § 89, see also Dial v Stuart 10 U S App 173, U S v Benson, 44 U S 219; State v Clark, 9 Hon 1 536, Pettibone v U S, 149 U S 197 'Conspiracy' says Mr Bishop is the corrupt agreeing together if two or more persons to do by concerted action something unlawful either as a means or as an end. Fishp Cr Law Vol II § 171 The English Commissioners in their Report of 1843 proposed 'The crime of conspiracy consists in an agreement of two persons (not being husband and wife), or more than two persons to commit a crime or fraudulently or maliciously to injure or prejudice the public or any individual person. 7th Rep Cr Law Com 1843 p 27. Section 120 A of the Indian Penal Code, lays down — When two or more persons agree to do or cause to be done — (1) an illegal act or (2) an act which is not illegal by illegal means such

U J observed The crime of conspiracy is complete, if two or more than two should agree to do an illegal thing that is to effect something in itself unlawful or to effect by unlawful means something which in itself may be indifferent or even lawful. It has accordingly been always held to be the law that the gist of the offence of conspiracy is the agreement itself, whether mean criminal for there are many cases in which a combination to do a thing is a crime, although the act itself, if done by an individual, would not be a crime, on the other hand, 'unlawful' does not mean 'tortious' for there are torts which it is not a crime to conspire to commit. Nor again, does any case go so far as to decide that a combination to commit a breach of contract is a criminal conspiracy. Roscoe, Cr Ev 526 Hence the word unlawful in the definition of conspiracy has no precise meaning. Ibid But a conspiracy consists not merely in the intention of two or more, but in the agreement of two or more to do an unlawful act or to do a lawful act by unlawful means.

for criminal object for the use of criminal means The number and the

L S.

is not necessary, in order to constitute a conspiracy, that the acts agreed to be done should be acts which if done should be criminal. It is enough if the acts agreed to be done, although not criminal, are wrongful: e, amount to a civil wrong." Thus a combination to use another's automobile without his consent may be a civil wrong, but it need not affect the individual. It is sufficient if it does and for which, by which, by towards another person. It may be punished criminally by indictment, or civilly in my opinion, the same though to sustain an action special damage must be proved. It has often been debated whether, assuming the existence of a convinced that a number of actions and things not in themselves actionable or unlawful if done separately without conspiracy may with conspiracy, become dangerous and alarming, just as a grain of gunpowder is harmless but a pound may be highly destructive, or the administration of one grain of a particular drug may be most beneficial as a medicine but administered frequently or in larger quantities with a view to harm may be fatal as a poison. Many illustrations of these views might be suggested, but I need them not if I have made myself understood." Per Lord Hampton in Quinn v Leatham, (1901) A C at pp 529, 530, see also Mogul Case, (1892) A C 25, Rex v Journeymen Tailors, and Mansfield

So conspiracy differs from other charges in this respect, that in other charges the intention to do a criminal act is not a crime of itself, until something is done amounting to the doing or attempting to do some act to carry out that intention. Conspiracy on the other hand, consists simply in the agreement of confederacy to do some act no matter whether it is done or not. Per Chesby B in R v Herbert 13 Cox 82; R v Most, 7 Q B D 214, Kahl Munda v King Emperor, 28 C 797. But a conspiracy agreed to be done, and have involved a civil in Hearney v Lloyd, 26 L v Laurie 25 B 230. Only where acts without preconcert nons, 1 Q B 155 T 132, Templeton

Union of Wills Obviously there must be, between the conspirators, a con

conspirator. Let where the conspiracy is to commit a particular offence, it is not essential that both should be capable of it as principals of the first degree. One to be chargeable need not have been the original contriver of the mischief, for he may become a partaker in it by joining the others while it is being executed. If he actually concurs, no proof is required of an agreement to concur. Dist p Crim have The inferred by the jury from other facts proved, in other words from circumstantial evidence Bishop's Cr Lau § 190 (2)

Combination to commit crime A combination to commit a substantive crime is an indictable offence. Roscoe Cr Ev 526. In England at common law, husband and wife who are considered as one person are incapable of conspiring together. 1 Russ Cr 146; Director of P P v Blady, (1912) 2 K II 89, 90. But they can severally or jointly conspire with other persons. R v Whitehouse 11 Cox 38. It is immaterial whether the principal offence is a felony, or misdemeanour or wil

150 Wright on cause public

R v Boulton, 12 Cox 87. Criminal conspiracy consists in the agreement of two or more persons to commit an offence punishable by law. It is undoubtedly true the law does not take notice of the intention or the state of the mind of the offender and there must be some overt act to give expression to that intention. Numal v King Emperor, 31 C W N 239.

Combination to Commit Torts an indictable conspiracy in many, it what cases Kenny says any tort that is a trespass committed bona fide by persons eager to assert their supposed right of way. Roscoe Cr Ev 526. In many cases an agreement to do a certain thing has been considered as the subject of an indictment for conspiracy at common law, though the same act if done separately by each individual without any criminal or even actionable have certainly a right to express by ap

369, see also Gregory v Duke of Brunswick, 6 M & G 953, R v Leigh 1 C & K 28n, Wright on Conspiracy, 37. The law on the subject is thus summarised by Bouen L J in Mogul Steamship Co v Mc Gregor & Co, 23 Q B D 598. Of the general proposition that certain kinds of conduct not criminal in any one individual may become criminal if done by combination among several there can be no doubt. The distinction is based on sound reason, for a combination may make oppressive or dangerous that which if it proceeded only from a single person would be otherwise and the very fact of the combination may show that the object is simply to do harm and not to exercise one's just rights. This case was approved by the House of Lords on appeal vide (1892) A C 25 see also Allen v Flood (1893) A C 1, Quinn v Leatham (1901) A C 495 S Wales Minerals Federation v Glamorgan (1905) A C 239, 252. But in the application of this undoubted principle it is necessary to be very careful not to go beyond that which is necessary for the public interest. Mogul Steamship v McGregor 23 Q B 600. So a combination to violate without just cause private rights contractual or other in which the public has a sufficient interest is an action. Violation of the private right is an action. McGregor (1893) A C 25 (48) see also R v A conspiracy to commit fraud is indictable R v Warburton, 11 Cox C C 56. If it can be proved to be co-trespassers by other competent evidence the declarations of one as to the motives and circumstances of the trespass will be evidence against the others.

Courts
public public Ev 576

which the gerous to the is involving Roscoe Cr

Agree to commit breach of contract : Agreement to commit a breach of contract in circumstances that are peculiarly injurious to the public is conspiracy. Verdine v L Clive & Burr 2473, see also Roscoe Cr Ev 527.

Proof of conspiracy. Direct evidence is not essential to prove the conspiracy. It need not be shown that the parties actually came together and agreed in express terms to enter in and pursue a common design. Underhill Cr Ev § 491. In many cases the existence of conspiracy is a matter of inference deduced from criminal purpose.

I L 306 (317). The conspiracy may be and the jury from proof of facts and circumstances which taken together apparently indicate that they are merely parts of some complete whole. R v Parsons 1 W B 392. Emperor v Annappa 9 Bom L R 347. Kishen Chand v Emperor 92 Ind Cas 419. Although the common design is the root of the charge it is not necessary to prove that the defendants came together and actually agreed in express terms to have the common design and to pursue it by into execution for in many cases of the most there are no means of proving any such thing. Brilliant, 3 Cox 76, R v Parnell 14 Cox 60. persons pursue by their acts the same object, often by the same means one per forming one part of an act and the other another part of the same act so as to conspiracy is to be inferred from the conduct of the parties R. v Duffell 5 Cox 404; R. v Cope, 1 Str. 144

When the proof of conspiracy depends upon proof of the participation of the accused in an overt act which itself amounts to an offence, the proper course is to put the accused on the trial for that offence. However, the accused may legally be charged merely with the offence of criminal conspiracy. The mere association of an accused with any of the conspirators is not enough by itself to convict him of being a member of the conspiracy. Kalidas v Emperor, 39 C L J. 151-83 Ind Cas 513. Where the accused is charged with an offence of conspiracy and acts of cheating in pursuance of conspiracy, the charge is not bad and it is open to the prosecution to prove such acts in order that from these the existence of the conspiracy may be proved. Abdur King Emperor, 35 C L J. 279, Subramania v Emperor, 25 M 61 distinguished. Conspiracy can be proved from surrounding circumstances and conduct of the accused. It need not be proved by direct evidence. Emperor v Annappa, 5 Cr L J 323 see also Chidamboran Pillai v Emperor, 32 M. 3. Criminal conspiracy might be proved by direct or circumstantial evidence. In a charge for the offence of conspiracy the overt acts by which the object of the conspiracy is sought to be attained need not be given. Aishen Chind v Crown, 92 Ind Cas 419-27 Cr L J 243-20 S L R 18-A I R 1926 Sind 171

Scope of the section The operation of this section is strictly conditional upon there being reasonable ground to believe that two or more persons have conspired together to commit an offence. Per Jenkins C J in Barindra v Emperor, 97 C 467 at p 504. Before anything said done or written by any one alleged member of a conspiracy can be used as evidence against another, the Court must have reasonable ground for believing that the conspiracy between them existed. 1930 M W N 1264. So it is reasonable as a general rule, that some prima facie and satisfactory evidence should, in the first instance, be given of the common purpose, before evidence of the acts in it by a multitude of persons who but for such common purpose would be absolute strangers, should be received. Nori Ev 120. In R. v McKenna, 1r Circ Rep 461, Pennefather C J said "It is necessary to prove the evidence of a conspiracy, and to connect the prisoner with it in the first instance where you seek to give in evidence against him the declaration of a co-conspirator; and having done so you are then at liberty to give in evidence against the prisoner acts done by any of the parties, whom you have connected with the conspiracy, but when a party's own declarations are to be given in evidence such preliminary proof is not requisite and you may as in any other offence, prove the whole case against him by his own admissions. So if a prima facie evidence of a conspiracy is given and accepted, the evidence of statements made by any one of the conspirators in furtherance of the common object is admissible against all. Rez v Blake 6 Q B D 126, Per v Baskerville (1916) 2 K B 658-86 L J K B 28. The Indian Evidence Act did not mean to depart from the law as expounded in those cases. Lalaram Gangannull, 1r 81 Ind. Cas 817-25 Cr L J 1041-20 L W 203. But a conspiracy within the terms of section 10 of the Act contemplates something more than the joint action of two or more persons to commit an offence. If that were not so this section would be applicable to any offence committed by two or more persons jointly with deliberation and this would import into a trial a mass of hearsay evidence which the accused persons would find it impossible to meet. Agantra Bala v The Empress, 4 C W N 528. For the application of this section there must be reasonable ground to believe that two or more persons have conspired together to commit an offence, and that being shown, anything said, done or written by any one of such persons in reference to their common intention may be proved both for the purpose of proving the existence of the conspiracy as also for showing that any such person was party to it. Kalid v King Emperor, 25 C 797, see also Kusir Bap v Emperor, 18 C L J 590. But statements made by an alleged conspirator to a third party suggesting that there had been a conspiracy between the plaintiff and others in connection with the forgery of an alleged will, are not relevant when such statements are used to prove (a) the existence of a conspiracy as to which there is no issue, or (b) that the plaintiff was a party to it. Kadambam Dass v Kumudini, 30 C 933, see also Pulni v Emperor, 15 C L J 517. Where an agreement exists between two parties, in pursuance of which speeches are delivered by them such speeches are admissible of law is that when several persons are proved to have combined together for the same illegal purpose any act done by one of the parties in pursuance of the concerted plan and with reference to the common object, is in the contemplation of the law the act of the whole. Each party out the objects of the conspiracy and do common design. Per Couch C J in Queen v

R Cr 15; see also Emperor v Abani, 33 C 100-101 W N 20

It is a rule of substantive law and not a rule of Evidence. The rule underlying this section is a rule of substantive law and not a rule of evidence. The following extracts from the writings of Professor James Bradley Thayer, from American Law Review, XV 80, is very instructive on the point. "The term res gesta is whether a part

tion of another;

whether it shall be so used as having been brought home to him, and whether he shall be chargeable with it as if it were his own. When the enquiry is whether the utterance of a agent or a co-conspirator is chargeable as not a party and it is said

business

business

engaged in the common enterprise and regarding that,—in such cases it is common to express this idea by saying that the declarations must be made as a part of the res gesta, and if it is not so made, it is deemed to be res inter alios gesta. Now it is obvious, on a little reflection, that to settle this question adversely to the admissibility of that which is offered in evidence, is really to settle a question as to the law of evidence, and not as to the law of conspiracy.

said
business
when tor, the enterprise, about the affairs of it, and as a part of the res gesta, but as regards nothing, it is used as a compact expression for the business, as regards which the law for certain purposes identifies the two conspirators or the principal and agent. In such cases, evidently, the declaration may be about a past fact as well as a present one, so long as it comes up to the above-named requirements.

Part of the res gesta is the declaration of other conspirators.

part of the res gesta,

conspiracy is to be inferred from the conduct of the parties R v Duffield, 5 Cox. 404; R v Cope, 1 Str. 141

When the proof of conspiracy depends upon proof of the participation of the accused in an overt act which itself amounts to an offence, the proper course is to put the accused on the trial for that offence. However, the accused may legally be charged merely with the offence of criminal conspiracy. The mere association of an accused with any of the conspirators is not enough by itself to convict him of being a member of the conspiracy. Kalidas v Emperor, 33 C L J. 151-82

conspiracy and
and it is open existence of t

Conspiracy can be proved accused. It need not be 3 Cr. L J 323, see also

Chidamboran Pillai v Emperor, 32 M. 3 Criminal conspiracy might be proved by direct or circumstantial evidence. In a charge for the offence of conspiracy the overt acts by which the object of the conspiracy is sought to be attained need not be given. Kishen Chand v Crown, 92 Ind Cas 419-27 Cr L J 243-208 L R. 18-A I R 1926 Sind 171.

Scope of the section. The operation of this section is strictly conditional upon there being reasonable ground to believe that two or more persons have with it declarat give in have connected with the conspiracy, but when a party's own declarations are to be given in evidence, such preliminary proof is not requisite, and you may as in any other offence, prove the whole case against him by his own admissions. So if a prima facie evidence of a conspiracy is given and accepted, the evidence the terms of section 10 of action of two or more persons

section jointly evidence Bala v must be together

written by any one of such persons in reference to their common intention may be proved both for the purpose of proving the existence of the conspiracy as also for showing that any such person was party to it. Kahl v King Emperor, 25 C 797, see also Kusir Bap v. Emperor, 18 C L J 590. But statements made by an alleged conspirator to a third party suggesting that there had been a conspiracy between the plaintiff and others in connection with the forgery of an alleged will, are not relevant when such statements are used to prove (a) the existence of a conspiracy as to which there is no issue, or (b) that the plaintiff was a party to it. Kadambini Dassi v. Kumudini, 30 C 983, see also Pulin v Emperor, 15 C 1. J. 517. Where an agreement exists, between two parties, in pursuance of which speeches are delivered by them such speeches are admissible

Emperor, alleged must existed ne prima
of the one who received said "It owner in the erty to in you are to you may as admissions"
evidence of the common v Baskerville, id not mean annul. In re, piracy within than the joint not so, this more persons is of hearsay et Nagendra section there ave conspired aid, done or

This section makes evidence communications between different conspirators while conspiracy is going on, with reference to the carrying out of a conspiracy. But it is not intended to make evidence the confession of a co-accused and put it on the same footing as a communication passing between conspirators, or between conspirators and other persons, with reference to the conspiracy. Emperor v. Abani, 15 C W N 25=38 C 169. So letters written by one co-conspirator may be evidence against others even when they are not written in furtherance of the conspiracy. Vide, Queen v. Amir Khan, 17 W R Cr 15; Queen v. Amuruddin, 7 B L R 63=15 W R Cr 25. The illustration to this section is inconsistent with the section. The way that the words "and to prove A's complicity in it" come into the illustration are not quite in accordance with common sense or with the section but where the fact from the nature of things matter much. Emperor, 28

Existence of Reasonable Ground. For the application of this section there must be reasonable ground to believe that two or more persons have conspired together to commit an offence and that being shown anything said, done or written by any one of such persons in reference to their common intention may be proved both for the purpose of showing that any such C 797, see also Kusir Bap v 14 C W N 1114=37 C 467, N 676, 1930 M W N 1264

248 But before admitting portions of the evidence ie existence of a conspiracy hat case the prisoner was

and done by Ramray when the prisoner was not present are not relevant facts as against the prisoner, as the prisoner was not present when they were told unless

And here, also, as in the case of other conspirators, while the conspiracy is said or done by them in furtherance of the common intention, the declarations made and done by them are admissible. Greenleaf T

guishable from that of (1892-1896) Vol I, 118 fo fel
entertained Emperor v Shafi Imam, 31 Bom L R 515; Queen v Amir Khan, 9 B L R 36-17 W R, Cr 15

Difference between English and Indian Law
sible in cases of conspiracy much evidence under the English Law. The provisions of the English Law. Ramprasad v Emperor

ance of the common design. Per Coleridge J in R v Murphy, 8 C & P 311. So also it does not matter, whether the acts were done, or the declarations made, in the presence or in the absence of the accused, but everything said or done by any one of the conspirators or co-

the evidence against a conspirator is admissible, whether written or oral, or absent, and where it takes place. R v Brand, 535. As the English doctrine, a distinction is made between statements themselves purporting to accompany and explain the acts, which, although made during the continuance of the plot are in fact a mere narrative of the measures that have already been taken. The last statement accordingly is inadmissible. So a letter written by a co-conspirator to a private friend unconnected with the plot is inadmissible. Per Lord Hale society to which he belonged, which excluded the writer, and that it was not the act of the part of the conspirators against him. Macdonald, 32 How St Tr 451, 453 and laid down the law which is consonant with the principle indicated above. It has already been stated that this rule, is not a rule of evidence as erroneously believed but is a rule of substantive law which considers the conspirators as one person and as such any statement made by one should be considered as an admission by each one of the rest. Per Lord Hale used against other conspirators as explained under s 10 of the Indian Evidence Act, only when they are in the nature of narratives, declarations or admissions, and not when they are in the nature of statements of fact. The provisions of s 10 of the Indian Evidence Act, which the act or declaration must have been done or said, not only with reference to the common intention but also in pursuance of the same. Menda v King Emperor, 5 Oudh Cas 321; Ram Prasad v Emperor, 1 Luck C 339-A I R 1927 Oudh 369.

This section makes evidence communications between different conspirators while conspiracy is going on, with reference to the carrying out of a conspiracy. But it is not intended to make evidence the confession of a co-accused and put it on the same footing as a communication passing between conspirators, or between conspirators and other persons, with reference to the conspiracy. Emperor v. Abani, 15 C W N. 25=38 C 169. So letters written by one co-conspirator may be evidence against others even when they are not written in furtherance of the conspiracy. Id., Queen v. Amir Khan, 17 W R Cr 15; Queen v. Amiruddin, 7 B L R 63=15 W R Cr. 25. The illustration to this section is inconsistent with the section. The way that the words "and to prove A's complicity in it" come into the illustration are not quite in accordance with common sense or with the section but where the fact from the nature of things matter much. Emperor, 28 application of this section there more persons have conspired g shown anything said, done or written by any one of such persons in reference to their common intention may be proved both for the purpose of for showing that any such pers C 797, see also Kusir Bap v En 14 C W N 1114 = 37 C 467, Am N 676, 1930 M W N 1264 81 I.

Attenuat v King Emperor, 5 Oudh Cas 321 In that case the prisoner was provisionally herse

ment
conspired together. The Sessions Judge has found that the prisoner had Indian Evidence afforded a re to murder J
A J C said:
Evidence Act. The Sessions Judge does not state the portions of the evidence of Buraja which afforded a reasonable ground for believing that the prisoner and against the prisoner, and that unless such reasonable ground exists things said and done by Ramiraj when the prisoner was not present are not relevant facts as they are not the reason for the arrest of the prisoner when they were told unless they are relevant to the case.
Bura

590 There is a difference between a reasonable ground to believe a thing and a proof of that thing. Balmulani v Imperor, 23 Ind Ca = 738 = 1. P R 1915 Cr = 16 Cr L J 358 Proof of conspiracy is not essential to the admissibility of the evidence itself. Reasonable proof of a conspiracy may however, be demanded before the agency of one alleged conspirator may be properly held to affect those claimed to be his associates. Chamberlains Ex § 3244

Communications between conspirators As soon as it is proved that the prisoner was privy to the general conspiracy, everything done by each of his fellow conspirators must be imputed to him as a part of the conspiracy if it was done to carry out their general purpose. Per Eyre J in R v Hardy 24 How St Tr 151 The day book kept by one of the conspirators is evidence of something done in the course of the transaction (Per Lord Denman C J in R v Blake 6 Q B 137), and as such it is receivable in evidence as a step in the proof of the conspiracy. Ibid, per Patterson J In the same case Coleridge J said at p 140 'As to the counterfoil it is quite clear that no declaration of it is needed in evidence against Blake which was made in Blake's absence then was the statement' In Hardy's Case, 24 How of a letter written by wife, who was not a party to the crime. Tyde the whole matter up thus 'I letter as anything more than J'

in carrying the papers and the transaction itself' See also Paril 70 But it appears that such a letter is admissible under this section

Order of Proof It has already been stated that this section comes into

Emperor, b Quun C O Connell, 5 State Tr N S 710, Pennfather O J said "When evidence is once given to the jury of a conspiracy, against A, B, and C whatever is done by A, B, or C, in furtherance of the common commercial object is evidence against A, B, and C, though no direct proof be given that A, B, or C, knew of it or actually participated in it. If the conspiracy be proved to have existed, or rather if evidence be given to the jury of its existence the acts of one in furtherance of the common design are the acts of all, and whatever one does in the furtherance of common design, he does as the agent of the co-conspirators"; see also R v Hardy, 24 How St Tr 401, R v Stone, 25 How St Tr 1; R v Watson 30 How St Tr 80 359, 539, R v Brandreth 24 How St Tr 766, 852, R v Hut must be proved before giving related acts may be proved. Fort v Elliot 4 Ex In R v Duffield, 5 Cox pen one in a thousand times comes before the jury to conspire together, and species of evidence conspiracy is to be seen taking seen through for the jury about that end. Russ Cr 192

So the fact of conspiracy must be established before the act of one can be made the act of all. But the common law may be proved by direct or indirect evidence. R v Blalock, 6 Cr 22; R v Baskerville, (1916) 2 K B 659; 120; 1 East P C. 96, 2 Stark Ev 326; 2 B & B 302; R v Jacobs, 1 Cox 414. The object of this section is merely to ensure that one person shall not be made responsible for the acts or deeds of another until some bond in the nature of agency has been established between them and the acts words or writing of another which it is proposed to attribute vicariously to the person charged must be in furtherance of the common design and after such design was entertained. Indra v Chandra Emperor, 116 Ind Cas. 756=30 Cr L J 646=A. I R 1929 Pat 145 (F. B.)

The rule is applied by East as follows: "In this (high treason), as in cases founded in conspiracy, the conspiracy or agreement among several to act in concert together for a particular end must be established by proof, before any evidence can be given of the acts of any person not in the presence of the prisoner. And this must generally speaking, be done by evidence of the party's own act, and cannot be collected from the acts of others, independent of his own, as by express evidence of the fact of a previous conspiracy together, or of a concurrent knowledge and approbation of each other's acts." But it may also be done by "evidence of the acts of the prisoner, and of any other with whom he is seen Sic

evidence against another who is charged as a fellow conspirator, until such a

act, etc. . . . of one . . . can properly be used as evidence to show designs of another; yet in some peculiar instances where it would be difficult to establish the defendant's privity without first proving the existence of the conspiracy, a deviation has been made from this rule, and evidence of acts and conduct of

to the law on the Mr Phipps common existence
, though
v Frost, clear is rec in it perfectly conspired his share cases of in otherwise of strangers remembered that it is an inversion of the usual order for the sake of convenience, and such evidence is, in the result, material so far only as the assent of the accused to what has been done by others is proved." Roscoe Cr Li pp 533, 534; Per Buller J in Hardy's Case 21 How St Tr 451. So it is clear that the general principle affecting the order of evidence leaves it ultimately to be controlled by the trial Court's discretion. In the present application, the rule of conditional relevancy naturally applies, i.e. statements of A being receivable against B as conspiracy must a given case, the 79; see also the 229, 244; R v

seen first given of general conspiracy before any proof of the particular part which it was to St Tr 1218, Lord Purcell's Case, v Hammond, 2 Esp 712; R v

C 331. In the Queen's Case

2 B & B 303 (310) Abbot C J observed We are of opinion that on a prosecution for a crime to be proved by conspiracy general evidence of an existing conspiracy may, in the first instance, be received as a preliminary step to the more particular evidence by which it is shown that the individual defendants were guilty of the particular of the acts of it is permitted But it is to be observed, that in such cases the general nature of the whole evidence intended to be adduced is previously opened to the Court, whereby the Judge is enabled to form, an opinion as to the probability of affecting the individual defendants by particular proof applicable to them of the alleged conspiracy, and the proof of a sufficient quantity of evidence to be received, as to be an unreasonable prejudice would certainly be a useless waste of time

The admissibility of the act or declaration of a co conspirator against the party defendant before the Court does not depend on whether such co conspirator is indicted or not or tried or not with the defendant 2 Starkie Ev 309 see also R v Duguid 94 L T 897 In the case of a conspiracy to carry on the business of common cheats, proof at different times of similar acts is admissible as cumulative instances are necessary to prove the offence R v Roberts 1 Camp 399

Anything said or done etc In England originally such evidence was admissible on the principle of res gestae Vide Phil Ev 9th Ed Vol I 189 It follows, that any writings or verbal expressions, being acts in themselves explaining other acts, and therefore part of the res gestae, and coming home to one conspirator, are evidence against him if it sufficiently appears that they were used in the design Phil Ev 9th Ed Vol I, 204, see also r 404 What the effect of such evidence will be must depend on a variety of circumstances, as whether the prisoner was attending to the conversation whether he approved or disapproved Per Eyre C J in It 1 see also Stone's Case 6 f R 527, Rex v Salter 5 Esp 125 So also consult It 189 lance (1 ord Russel's Cu e

pany etc do not these acts, and not being of them Upon this pr era found ably con ner was t ions or 10ner is y reconi lly out of fection t of the ions of meeting kind of 549 On pon banner, hav front, 3 B & A 566 ry where words or but a mere relation persons have had nature original and therefore v St Tr 349 b had been to the design o be admitt s admitted in evidence is v Hardwick, 11 East 585, Pouell v Holgetts 2 Q & P 132, North v Miles, 1 Compb 389, S.

Bn
Al
oth dec evident object

common

declara

tion of a fellow conspirator against a defendant whether the former be indicted or not, or tried or not with the latter, for the making one a co defendant does not make his acts or declarations evidence against another, any more than they were before, the principle upon which they are admissible at all is, that the act or declaration of one is that of both united in common design, a principle which is wholly unaffected by the consideration of their being jointly indicted." 2 Stark Ev 329 3rd Ed. But where the conspiracy was charged with "divers other person" Watson J made an order for the names to be given forthwith R v Perin, 72 J P 144

A letter written by a person who is a stranger to the transaction is not admissible Ang Emperor v Keshab 25 Bom L R 248 In a trial of several accused for sedition an exercise book was put in evidence On each one save five of the 63 pages of the book there appeared an entry consisting in most cases of a name or pseudonym followed by an address and in most cases by a series of what was clearly pass words Each name was preceded by a pair of letters or a single letter and these were arranged in order so as to be divided into groups and it was clear that a particular letter or pair of letters was appropriate to the addresses in a particular locality Simultaneous searches at the residence of several of the named persons and investigation of their activities disclosed evidence that for the greater part they exhibited a form of activity manifested in different ways but in nearly all cases of a revolutionary trend and in many instances directed to actual violence in support of such trend The accused could give no account or explanation of the code Held that the cipher code book was not to be treated as the act, word or deed of a particular individual, but the fact that it existed, the fact that set forth the names and address of a substantial number of persons charged, the fact that it was in a peculiar form such as is not likely to be found in any code intended to be used for lawful purposes, and many internal in use of words and names having a probability amounting almost associated for some unlawful purpose be kept secret and in absence of evidence that the persons named in it were associated for some legitimate purpose to be kept secret for some legitimate reason, the cipher code was in itself a good ground for supposing that the persons named have conspired to commit an offence and any other acts or writings of individual conspirators in furtherance of the common design became admissible under s 10 Indra Chandra v Emperor, 116 Ind Cas 756-A I R 1929 Pat 145-30 Cr L J 646 (F B) A and B are indicted in England for a conspiracy to commit a felony The only evidence of the conspiracy consists of facts done to and by

Ev 81

Illustrations In Balmukand v Emperor, 28 Ind Cas 733-17 P R 1915 Cr Johnstone J observed "I am however inclined to agree with Mr Beechey as to point (2) in support of which he quoted Barindra Kumar Ghosh v Emperor, 7 Ind Cas 359-14 C W N 1114-11 Cr L J 453-37 C 467 They say that the words "and to prove A's complicity in it come into the be section as Calcutta and A's complicity or otherwise implicating A only of adling proof of the existence and nature of conspiracy At the risk of being tedious, I must give an illustration to explain my view. In the case given in the text, a manufacturer, to send otherwise prima facie, both as to the nature and A's name in no way comes into the business of ordering arms in Europe, how can it be said that B's ordering of arms there can produce in the mind of the Judge any added conviction that A was a member of the conspiracy? Of course in framing a law for the purpose the idea that the create a barren, an ar matte matte the this is not to ot, if as a towards nderlying absence committing jointly any criminal offence are deemed to be mutual agents or confederates for the purpose only of the execution of the joint purpose. Accordingly any act done by one of them in the execution of common purpose is deemed the act of the others also. Wills' Ev 167; see also R v Caton, 12 Cox 634; R v Blake, 6 Q B 126; R v Murphy, 8 C & P 297. So when a co-conspirator leaves a conspiracy, the mutual agency terminates so far as he is concerned and as such acts and declarations of other conspirators should not be admissible against him. In England also, a conversation held by D and E, two members of the conspiracy an hour after th an abortion which A and B conspired to procure on July, 24. Evidence of doctor that B called on him in June and asked for a remedy for her condition, was held admissible against A as the act was in furtherance of the common purpose. But a diary kept by B, incriminating A, and a letter intended for, but not sent to him, both written after the abortion, were rejected as not in furtherance of the common purpose. Statement of a co-accused after arrest is not admissible against other co-accused. Sital v Emperor, 46 C 7000-30 C L J 255. The acts and declarations of a particular defendant conspiracy Dwyer, 24.

are indicted, in Middlesex for a conspiracy to destroy property. After proof acts in Surrey don 21 54, Phip 222 death in attempting to escape from confinement in jail. He procured 'saw' by some with certain as witness r the death e convicts 100. The request was repeated twice. Held, that the evidence of the constable was admissible under the circumstances under s 10 Maula Bahsh v Emperor, 119 Ind. Cas

762=30 Cr L J 1103=129 Cr L J 190=A I R 1929 Lab 631 Where S.
 previous associa-roborate approver
 ahnuddin, A I R.
 1950 Bom 151=52 Bom L R 321

American law—common purpose is not sufficient A common purpose is not sufficient, standing alone, to secure admissibility for the evidence of what happened on other occasions. The several acts may well have been done for the same purpose or in pursuance of a single agreement, the evidence nevertheless is not admissible unless the common purpose runs through the several acts rather than up to them. In other words, the individual transactions must be connected, correlated and systematized in such a way that each act, though, perhaps, in a sense, complete in itself, is yet a necessary element in a plan to reach an ulterior object which has been in view from the start, simply unity of purpose is not sufficient. A mere conspiracy to do a number of disconnected acts of a similar nature, e. g., to rob all the houses of a given neighbourhood and the carrying out of such an arrangement, would not be sufficient to authorize the Court in receiving evidence of one robbery as proof of the commission of another. Those associated in common plan may each be liable, under the rules of substantive law governing the relations of conspirators, for the doing of any acts which may have been done during and in pursuance of the conspiracy. But such a situation does not disclose an instance of the working of the rule under consideration. Chamberlayne's Ev § 3244

with or the see a a cor Mani
 one them were acquitted, the other is entitled to an acquittal, as a matter of course Profulla v King-Emperor, 30 C W. N 94=91 Ind Cas 813; R v Manning, 13 Q B D 241, Kasem v Emperor, 45 C L J 204, Manindra v. Emperor, 41
 C 754

When facts not otherwise relevant become relevant

11. Facts not otherwise relevant are relevant—

- (1) if they are inconsistent with any fact in issue or relevant fact;
- (2) if by themselves or in connection with other facts they make the existence or non-existence of any fact in issue or relevant fact highly probable or improbable.

Illustrations

(a) The question is whether A committed a crime at Calcutta, on a certain day.

The fact that, on that day, A was at Lahore is relevant.

The fact that, near the time when the crime was committed, A was at a distance from the place where it was committed, which would render it highly improbable, though not impossible, that he committed it, is relevant.

(b) The question is, whether A committed a crime

by A comm
 relevant

Scope of the section. This section is, no doubt, expressed in terms so extensive that any fact which can, by a chain of ratiocination, be brought into which are regarded as relevant facts either because the circumstances under which they are made invest them with importance, or because no better evidence can be got. The sort of facts which the section was intended to include are facts which either exclude or imply more or less distinctly the existence of the facts sought to be proved. Some degree of latitude was designedly left in the wording of the section (in compliance with a suggestion from the Madras Government) on account of the variety of matters to which it might apply.

This section is not always controlled by s 32. As a general rule s 11 of the Evidence Act is controlled by s 32 of the Act where the evidence consists of statements of persons who are ' ' rule is subject to certain exceptions. 1 9 Bom L R 1047, Ambica v Humud A 521. In the former case Bentan J in question being whether a will was made in forged for the s been w is tende cannot on the ground that it is itself a relevant fact under s 11. While I adhere to the correctness of general rule s of persons wh exceptions. Tl

tion Where however witnesses cannot be brought before the Court their previous statements may be read in evidence, not, except under by necessity to take plainly and at once of testing the man statement of a person who is dead or who cannot be found is relevant under Section 11 and 13.

that he did say it. In these circumstances no one at all was even alter the fact, if it be a fact that he did needed to bring the thing said under a case at this for example, suppo-

119 will where the fact that is relevant under s 11 is not what a deceased person chose to predicate about a thing but that he mentioned it at all, whether what he predicated of it were true or false, then and then only it is a case out side s. 32'

Fact whether includes judgment Everything which has been called into being by some agency or other, is in the widest sense a fact and in certain sense, a judgment may be said to be a fact within the meaning of s 3 of the Act. Gajul Lal v Fattah Lal, 6 C. 171, Per Jackson J, contra ibid Mitter J Former judgments which are not of the nature of judgments in rem, nor judgments be admitted, where parties are different, as s 11 or under any other section of the Act, 10 B 43 The Collector of Gorakhpur v Palal, 12 A 1 Though the recital in a judgment cannot be used as evidence still the judgment is evidence as a relevant fact in issue or as a transaction with families see also Indar Singh v Fateh Singh, 1 Lah 540

Facts, not otherwise relevant As regards clause (2) of this section Mr

it is a ma made so cannot be depended upon for any important purpose unless they are made usual special circ they render and if they which may probative fc judgment of Beaman J in 9 Bom. L R 1047 cited supra.

Facts inconsistent with any facts in issue The usual theory of essential act is istency, it since ly fair bsolute and its ntral ough place ding, nth, arm unt in it with fact in issue Sheo Bhandan v Cas 895 essentially with active is a nt is tally nth a tent f is th to it is really positive evidence which in the nature of things necessarily implied a negative.' When a defence rests on proof of an alibi, it must cover the time when the offence is shown to have been committed, so as to preclude the possibility of the prisoner's presence at the place of the murder for it is possible that he could have been at both places the proof of the alibi is valueless. Per Agnew J in Brice and v Com, 74 P 463 469. Such expressions however seem in truth to refer only to the weight of the alibi argument, by pointing out that it falls short of complete proof except on these conditions. If they were intended to mean anything more, they are clearly unsound, and would exclude nine alibi arguments out of ten. Even as affecting the weight of the argument (with which statements seem erroneous, for an alibi but only high improbability, and yet be

Non access of husband to show illegitimacy Since legitimacy of offspring implies a begetting by the husband it would be relevant, in disproving legitimacy to use his absence from wife at the probable time of begetting as showing the impossibility of the act of begetting. Wigmore § 137, Binbury Peerage Case, App p 1 etc, Le Marchants Rep of Gardner Peerage 436, 489, 1 Sim & St 153, Morris v Davies 3 C & P 215, 217, Gordon v Gordon, Prob 141.

Survival of the alleged deceased Where the corpus delicti is disputed as for example, in a charge of homicide the alleged deceased is claimed by the defendant not to have been killed the argument is obviously available that he is still alive after the time of the supposed death for this would be absolutely inconsistent with his death as supposed. Wigmore § 138.

con
cle
sive
/ c mit
or both might be innocent, and a common guilt or a common innocence was as presumable as the guilt of one only. But proof that certain acts constituting a part of the criminal transaction itself were done by W M might have been of high importance to the prisoner by removing so much of the inference of guilt as would be raised were those acts brought home to him. Proof that the taking was by any one other than the prisoner perhaps might repel this inference (of guilt)—not because the guilt of one shows the innocence of the other but because proof that specific acts were done by one weakens or removes the presumption that the same acts were done by another.

defendant is ive killed the as or desires or probability be matter for the evidence y also not be ought not to en 157 Mass

180, Field C J said. If it could be shown that during the week before her death she had actually attempted to drown herself and had been prevented from doing so it seems manifest that this act, according to the general experience of mankind would have some tendency to show that she might have made a second attempt. In Spencer Cowpers Trial, 13 How St Tr 1166 where the issue was whether the deceased had committed suicide or was killed, evidence was received of her being melancholy and depressed, she said her d stemper lay in her mind and the sooner it did kill her the better, she neglected herself in doing those things that were necessary for her health in hope it would carry her off and often wished herself dead.

Highly probable The words 'highly probable' point out that the connection between the facts in issue and the collateral facts sought to be proved must be so mediate as to render the co existence of the two highly probable. Per Mitter J in Empress v M J Vyapoory, 6 C 655 at p 662. In Govt of Bombay v

Merwanji, 10 Bom L R 997, at p 419, Batchelor J observed: "In s 11 of the Evidence Act provision is made for the admission of facts not otherwise relevant when they make the existence or non existence of any fact in issue or relevant fact highly probable or improbable, and the adverb was not introduced into the section without good reason" In In the matter of the Malabar Timber Yards etc 13 M L T 282=18 Ind Cas 997 at p 1004 Layaby J said: "It has recently been pointed out by the Bombay High Court, in Government of Bombay v Merwanji Mencharji, 10 Bom L R 997, that the words 'highly probable' are of great importance in considering this section. It is clear that, in regard to this section the admissibility of the particular piece of evidence, that is offered, is closely connected with and in fact depends upon the weight to be attached to that piece of evidence if it is taken into consideration. In other words, this section makes only those facts admissible which assuming that they are admitted in evidence, will be of great weight in bringing the Court to a conclusion one way or the other as regards the existence or non existence of the facts in question. I agree with the learned Chief Justice, that if these letters were admitted in evidence they would not be of much assistance to us in coming to the conclusion one way or the other on the facts in question. That being so, it seems to me that under section 11 of the Evidence Act, that cannot be admissible at all." So there must always be room for the exercise of discretion when the relevancy of testimony rests upon its effect towards making the affirmation or negation of a proposition highly probable. R v Prabhu Das, 11 B H. C. R 90. The following extract from professor Thayer's article in 3 Harvard Law Review, p 143 is very instructive. "In stating thus our two fundamental conceptions, we must not fall into the error of supposing that relevancy, logical connection real or supposed, is the only test of admissibility, for so we should drop out of sight the chief part of the law of evidence. When we have said (1) that, without any exception, nothing which is not supposed to be logically relevant is admissible, and (2) that subject to many exceptions and qualifications, whatever is logically relevant is admissible, it is obvious that, in reality, there are tests of admissibility other than logical relevancy. Some things are rejected as being of too slight a significance, or as having too conjectural and remote a connection, others as being dangerous and likely to be misused or over estimated by a jury, others, as being impolitic and unsafe for the State, others on the bare ground of precedent. [The law] assuming, as it does, that in general what is evidential is receivable is occupied in pointing out what part of this matter is excluded. It denies to this excluded part not the name of evidence but the name of admissible evidence. Admissibility is determined, first by relevancy—an affair of logic and not of law,—secondly, but only indirectly by the law of Evidence which in strictness, only declares whether matter which is logically probative is excluded. It is here that Mr Justice Stephen's treatment of the law of evidence is perplexing, indeed it comes to have the aspect of a tour de force..... How are we to know what those things are (that are logically probative)? Not by any rule of the law. The law furnishes no test of relevancy, for this it tacitly refers to logic, assuming that the principles of reasoning are known to its Judge and ministers just as a vast multitude of other things are assumed as already sufficiently known. ... Admissibility is determined, first, by relevancy,—an affair of logic and not of law." But the statement is not accurately true. So long as Courts continue to declare in judicial rulings what their notions of logic are just so long will there be rules of law which much be observed. Wigmore § 12 in State v Lapage, 57 N H 288 Currier C J thus differentiates the rules of logic and the rules of law. "Although undoubtedly the relevancy of testimony is originally a matter of logic and common sense, still there are many instances in which the evidence of particular facts as bearing upon particular issues has been so often the subject of discussion in Courts of law, and so often ruled upon that the united logic of great many Judges and lawyers may be said to furnish evidence of the sense common to a great many individuals, and, therefore, the best evidence of what may be properly called common sense and thus to acquire the authority of law. It is for this reason that the subject of the relevancy of testimony has become, to so great an extent matter of precedent and authority that we may with entire propriety speak of its legal relevancy.

Admissibility, on the other hand falls short of Proof or Demonstration. The distinction is due to the circumstance that each evidential fact is offered separately and the quality of complete demonstration could therefore never be expected of it. Since the production of evidence takes time and since one piece of evidence must precede another, the rule of admissibility if there be any at all, can have nothing to do with the inquiry whether certain evidence effects complete proof. Wigmore § 12

Degree of probative value required The general and broad requirement for Relevancy is that the claimed conclusion from the offered fact must be a probable or a more probable hypothesis with reference to the possibility of other hypotheses. Wigmore § 38. So it is competent to a jury to find matters of fact without direct or positive testimony of those facts and upon circumstantial evidences only although the inference or conclusion to be drawn from the circumstances proved be not absolutely certain or necessary, that it is sufficient if the circumstantial evidence be such as may afford a fair and reasonable presumption of the facts to be true, and if the evidence has that tendency it ought to be received and left to the consideration of the jury, to whom alone belongs to determine upon the precise force and effect of the circumstances proved and whether they are sufficiently satisfactory and convincing to warrant them in finding the fact in issue. Gibson v Hunter, 2 H M 298. 'The proper test for the admissibility of evidence ought to be, we think, whether it has a tendency to affect belief in the mind of a reasonably cautious person who should receive and weigh it with judicial fairness. Stewart v People, 23 Mich 75

Illustration (b) Where the guilt lies between A and C and there is no reason for believing that C has any concern with the commission of the crime, while the motive and other surrounding circumstances are too incriminating against A, the irresistible inference is that A has committed the crime. Mehro v Crown 8 P W R 1907 Cr = 5 Cr L J 182

Venereal Disease to show adultery The existence of venereal disease in a husband is some evidence of an act of adultery on his part. Whether this disease is sufficient evidence of adultery may depend upon circumstances. Popkin v Popkin, 1 Hog Eccl 765, 767

Pecuniary Capacity A party's pecuniary capacity to pay a debt or to lend money is relevant to the probability of his paying or lending. To show his pecuniary condition as to his capacity, his conduct in borrowing and not paying thus becomes relevant. Wigmore § 224, see also Dowling v Dowling, 10 Ir C L R 224

Report to the police In cases where forcible re entry by the lessor is set up by the lessee the fact that a report complaining of the use of force or intimidation was made to the police soon after the occurrence is a relevant fact under this section and is admissible in evidence. Habibullah v Bakht Bati 30 Ind Cas 292 = 2 O L J 299 between strangers to the suit, suit or their predecessors cutants of the document is 9 Lah 78 = 111 Ind Cas Lah 448 = 8 Lah 651. So third parties in favour of utant is not dead and does I H 1928 Lah 428, see 448 = 8 Lah 276 = 9 L L J "Nisar Chandra, 44 C L J adhab 86 Ind Cas 734 = 41 = A I R 1928 Cal 893; Laypat v Faiz 8 Lah 651 = 103 Ind Cas 889 = A I R 1927 Lah 448. Abdul v Jonabadi A I R 1923 Cal 299, Trimdak v Ganesh A I R 1923 Nag 21, Brojo v Gaya 30 C W N 761 = 97 Ind Cas 265, Abdul Karim v Chhab Ahamei 91 Ind Cas 688 = A I R 1926 Cal 479, Nihar v Kider Bakht 1923 C W N 1092 = 84 Ind Cas n Saroj Kumar v Uned Ali, ided that a document of this rovisions of either section 11 uthorities some of which are Mr Justice Mukherjee who C L J 659 had apparently held that a document of this nature was admissible in evidence under sections 11 and 13 of the Indian Evidence Act, altered his view in the decision in Abdulla v Kunj Behari 16 C W N 252=14 C L J 467 where he held that a document of this nature was not admissible in evidence under the provisions of sections 11 and 13 of the Indian Evidence Act, thus differing from the view which he had previously expressed. Both the cases in Saroj Kumar v Umed Ali and Abdulla v Kunj Behari, must be taken to overrule the decision in Dwarkanath v Mukunda Lal, 5 C L J 55, where it was held that a document of this nature was admissible under the provisions of sections 11 and 13, of the Indian Evidence Act. See also Abdul Ali v Sayed Rajan 19 C W N 468, Cherig Ali v Mohini Bardhan, 19 Ind Cas 61, Sarat Chandra v Sarala Bala, 105 Ind Cas 61, Kumud Kumari v Dilsukh, 45 C L J 138=101 Ind Cas 542. A lessor's statement in the pattah previously granted would not be said to be a fact within the meaning of section 11 and that section could not be invoked for admitting the statement. Radha v Sarbeswar, 29 C W N 469=86 Ind Cas 674.

Laypat v Faiz 8 Lah 651 = 103 Ind Cas 889 = A I R 1927 Lah 448. Abdul v Jonabadi A I R 1923 Cal 299, Trimdak v Ganesh A I R 1923 Nag 21, Brojo v Gaya 30 C W N 761 = 97 Ind Cas 265, Abdul Karim v Chhab Ahamei 91 Ind Cas 688 = A I R 1926 Cal 479, Nihar v Kider Bakht 1923 C W N 1092 = 84 Ind Cas

Where certain lands are entered in the record of rights as chaukidari chikran lands so far as a stranger is concerned, the only way in which those papers can be treated as evidence would be under this section. Rahimuddin v Umesh Chitra, A I R 1926 Cal 115=87 Ind Cas 694.

A document relating to land on the boundaries of the land in dispute is not admissible in evidence for the purpose of determining whether a certain party was or was not in possession of the land in dispute at the date of the execution of the document. Abdul Karim v Chhale Ahmed, 91 Ind Cas 688=A I R 1976 Cal 479.

The plaintiff brought a suit against his son for recovery of possession of a land which stood in the name of the latter alleging that the same was acquired benami by him. The defendant alleged that the land was purchased for him by his paternal grandfather. The plaintiff answered that his father had died before the property was acquired, and he produced a mortgage bond executed by him long before the date of the purchase in which he described his father as dead. Held that the statement made by the plaintiff in the mortgage bond to which the defendant objected was admissible in evidence as against the latter with section 11, clause (2) of the Evidence Act. Sayeruddin R 1923 Cal 378.

Documents containing recitals that a particular plot of land belongs to a particular Will are admissible in evidence either under section 11 (b) or section 13 of the Evidence Act although they are no between parties to the suit. Fartand v Zafar Ali 46 Ind Cas 119=132 P W R 1918. This case was decided relying on Dwarkanath Bakshi v Mukunda Lal, 5 C L J 55 in which also reliance was placed in Vythilinga v Venkataswami, 16 M 194 and Dattaraj Mohanti v Jugadinaho, 73 W R 293. But the case of Dwarkanath v Mukunda Lal, 5 C L J 55 was overruled by Suraj Kumar v Umed Ali, 25 C W N 102=35 C L J 19.

In the case of a house said to have been built to who constructed it may not be easily ascertained by whom it was built are admissible. Jari 82 Ind Cas 582=A I R 1924.

All 526

and 4 sold a jote to defendant subsequently colluded with the sale, the statements previously made by him, and the statements were made in pursuance of clause (2) of the Evidence Act. Bibi v Narhan 16 B 125.

Statements made by testator in his Will. In Nana v Shanter, who attended on the testatrix and made the statement to the witness by Will. The District Judge in delivering the judgment of the Court Jenkins C J observed: "For the appellant it is urged that it would be admissible under section 11 of the Evidence Act The defendant on the other hand refers to Atkinson v Morris, L R 1897 P D 40 as a conclusive authority against its admissibility; for it was there held that statements made by a testator are not admissible to prove the execution by him of a Will. This case, however, and the others on which it proceeds, are based on the fact that the English Wills Act prescribes a particular form of proof, while to the Will in this case no such rule applies (the testator being an inhabitant of Poona) Atkinson v Morris therefore, throws no light on the point, we have to decide and it must be determined by other principles. Now this Will would only operate on that, which, in its absence, would devolve on Ganga's representatives, and a statement by her suggesting any inference as to the execution of a Will would be an admission relevant against her representatives and would therefore be admissible as evidence."

History of a family. Where the history and status of a particular family, which is one of a group, is in question, evidence may be adduced to elucidate the history and status of connected families in the same group, and such evidence is admissible under this section. Sarada v Uma Kantia 77 Ind. Cas 450=37 C L J 433=50 C 370

Absence of entry. The fact that no found in the defendant's books is relevant. Haji Jamil, 75 Ind Cas 337=A I R 1 v Manraj, 4 C W N 161, Imrit v Sr Ali Naur v Manik, 25 A 92, but see Queen Empress v Gries Chandra, 10 C 1024, In the matter of Jaggun Lal, 7 C L R 356. Ramprasad Singh v Lakshpati Kuar 30 C 231 (247)=7 C W N 162. So it is clear that on this point there is some divergence of judicial opinion. It was pointed out in Imzimbandi v. Mulsadar, 45 C 878=28 C L J 407=23 C W N 50 P C and Imrit v Sridhar, ubi supra, the cases of Queen Empress v Gries Chunder Ranerjee, ubi supra and In the matter of J Juggun of account are relevant to Evidence Act such a book is absence of any entry. The Davey and Lord Robertson in at 247=30 I A 1=7 C V.

Manraj ubi supra it was ruled, however, that the cases just mentioned did not decide that the fact of absence of an entry is no evidence at all under any section of the Indian Evidence Act, and that evidence that there is no entry in the account books, though not admissible under section 34 may be admissible under sections 9 and 11. The question arose again before a Full Bench of the Allahabad High Court in Sadhu Sahu v Raju Ram, 16 A 40 (F B)=A W N 1893, 200 and the Judges were divided in opinion. The point may now be taken to have been set at rest by the judgment of the Judicial Committee in Imzimbandi v. Mulsadar ubi supra, where the fact of absence of entry was held relevant, its effect to be determined in the light of the general evidence in the case. This fits in with the opinion expressed by Turner J in Wise v Bhobon Majeed, 10 V I A 165 at 174. In that case, reliance was placed on the fact that a disputed Taluk was not mentioned in the Decennial or Quinquennial Settlement as such, the relevancy of the circumstances was not questioned, but Judicial Committee observed, that even assuming the statements to be accurate, in the absence of particulars of the settlements, the fact did not seem to afford any strong inference against the existence of the Taluk, see also Dwarka Nath Roy v Horonauth W. R. (1864) 238, Tara Kumar Ghosh v Kumar Arun Chandra, 30 C L J 389=A I R 1923 C 261, Ganga Ram v Lachmi Ram, 28 Ind Cas 705=19 C W N 611.

Highly probable or improbable—Cases. Accused were charged with having obtained money from complainants by falsely representing that they were servants of one Albari Begum, a wealthy lady of Rampur, who was anxious to lend money on easy terms. held that the evidence that at or about the very same time when the accused were alleged to have made such a representation to the complainants they had been making precisely the same representation to a third person, was admissible under sections 11 and 14 of the Evidence Act to corroborate the story of the prosecution and to prove the intention of the held that a document of this nature was admissible in evidence under sections 11 and 13 of the Indian Evidence Act, altered his view in the decision in Abdulla v Kunj Behari 16 C W N 232=14 C L J 467 where he held that a document of this nature was not admissible in evidence under the provisions of sections 11 and 13 of the Indian Evidence Act, thus differing from the view which he had previously expressed. Both the cases in Saroj Kumar v Umed Ali and Abdulla v Kunj Behari must be taken to overrule the decision in Dwarkanath v Mukunda Lal 5 C L J 55 where it was held that a document of this nature was admissible under the provisions of sections 11 and 13 of the Indian Evidence Act. See also Abdul Ali v Sayed Rajan 19 C W N 463 Cherig Ali v Mohini Bardhan, 19 Ind Cas 61, Sarat Chandra v Sarala Bala, 105 Ind Cas 61, Kumud Kumari v Dilhoo, 45 C L J 138=101 Ind Cas 542. A lessor's statement in the pattish previously granted would not be said to be a fact within the meaning of section 11 and that section could not be invoked for admitting the statement. Radha v Sarbeswar, 29 C W N 469=86 Ind Cas 674.

Where certain lands are entered in the record of rights as chaukidari and as lands so far as a stranger is concerned the only way in which those papers can be treated as evidence would be under this section. Rahmuddin v Umish Chandra A I R 1926 Cal 115=87 Ind Cas 694.

A document relating to land on the boundaries of the land in dispute is not admissible in evidence for the purpose of determining whether a certain party was or was not in possession of the land in dispute at the date of the execution of the document. Abdul Karim v Chhale Ahmed, 91 Ind Cas 688=A I R 1956 Cal 479.

The plaintiff brought a suit against his son for recovery of possession of a land which stood in the name of the latter alleging that the same was acquired benami by him. The defendant alleged that the land was purchased for him by his paternal grandfather. The plaintiff answered that his father had died before the property was acquired and he produced a mortgage bond executed by him long before the date of the purchase in which he described his father as dead. Held that the statement made by the plaintiff in the mortgage bond to which the defendant was not a party might be admissible in evidence as against the latter either under section 21, clause (3) read with section 11, clause (2) of the Evidence Act or under section 37, clause (5) or under section 159 of the Act. Sayeruddin v Samiruddin 72 Ind Cas 935=A I R 1923 Cal 378.

Documents containing recitals that a particular plot of land belongs to a particular Will are admissible in evidence either under section 11 (b) or section 13 of the Evidence Act although they are not between parties to the suit. Fazlud v Zafar Ali 46 Ind Cas 119=132 P W R 1918. This case was decided relying on Dwarkanath Bakshi v Mukunda Lal 5 C L J 55 in which also reliance was placed in Vythilinga v Ventatachali, 16 M 194 and Dufari Mohanti v Jugabanahoo 23 W R 293. But the case of Dwarkanath v Mukunda Lal, 5 C L J 55 was overruled by Suraj Kuar v Umed Ali, 25 C W N 1027=35 C L J 19.

Recital in old documents. In the case of a house said to have been built over half century ago direct evidence as to who constructed it may not be easily available and old documents mentioning by whom it was built are admissible in evidence. Raghunath v Bindshwari 82 Ind Cas 582=A I R 1914 All 526.

Admission. Where the defendants Nos 2 and 4 sold a jote to defendant No 1 and he subsequently colluded with the sale, the statements previously made by him and the statements made by him and the statements made by him (2) of the Evidence Act. Biya v Narhan 16 B 125. 5 C 210, see also Naro Vinayak.

Statements made by testatrix to prove the Will. In Nana v Shanter 3 Bom L R 465, which was a probate case, a witness who attended on the testatrix during her last illness, was asked to depose to a statement made to the witness by the testatrix as to the disposition of her ornaments by Will. The District Judge disallowed the question. On appeal to the High Court, in delivering the judgment of the Court Jenkins C / observed - 'For the appellant it is urged that it would be admissible under section 11 of the Evidence Act S

The defendant on the other hand refers to Atkinson v Morris, L R 1897 P D 40 as a conclusive authority against its admissibility; for it was there held that statements made by a testator are not admissible to prove the execution by him of a Will. This case, however, and the others on which it proceeds, are based on the fact that the English Wills Act prescribes a particular form of proof, while to the Will in this case no such rule applies (the testator being an inhabitant of Poona). Atkinson v Morris therefore, throws no light on the point, we have to decide and it must be determined by other principles. Now this Will would only operate on that, which, in its absence, would devolve on Gangu's representatives, and a statement by her suggesting any inference as to the execution of a Will would be an admission relevant against her representatives and would therefore be admissible as evidence."

History of a family Where the history and status of a particular family, which is one of a group, is in question, evidence may be adduced to elucidate the history and status of connected families in the same group, and such evidence is admissible under this section Sarada v Uma Kanta 77 Ind Cas 450=37 C L J 433=50 C 370

Absence of entry The fact that no entry of the alleged payment was to be found in the defendant's books is relevant under this section Kalam v Firm of Hujji Jamal, 75 Ind Cas 327=A I R 1924 Nag 23, see also Sagurnull v Manraj, 4 C W N 200, Imrit v Sridhar 15 C L J 7=17 C W N 108, Ali Naur v Manik, 25 A 93, but see Queen Empress v Grees Chandra 10 C 1024, In the matter of Juggun Lal, 7 C L J 1000, Kuar, 30 C 231 (247)=7 C W N 16 is some divergence of judicial opinion
Mutadai, 45 C 878=28 C L J 403=23
ubi supra, the cases of Queen Empress,
In the matter of Juggun Lal, ubi supra, assume that though entries in a book of account are relevant to the extent provided by section 35 of the Indian Evidence Act such a book is not by absence of any entry. The same view Davey and Lord Robertson in Ram F. at 247=30 I A 1=7 C W N 16
Manraj ubi supra it was ruled, how decide that the fact of absence of an of the Indian Evidence Act, and that evidence that there is no entry in the account books, though not admissible under section 34 may be admissible under sections 9 and 11. The question arose again before a Full Bench of the Allahabad High Court in Sadhu Sahu v Raja Ram, 16 A 40 (F B)=A W N 1893 200 and the Judges were divided in opinion. The point may now be taken to have been set at rest by the judgment of the Judicial Committee in Imzambandi v Mutsaddi ubi supra, where the fact of absence of entry was held relevant, its effect to be determined in the light of the general evidence in the case. This fits in with the opinion expressed by Turner J in Wise v Bhoobon Moyee, 10 M I A 165 at 174. In that case, reliance was placed on the fact that a disputed Taluk was not mentioned in the Decennial or Quinquennial Settlement as such, the relevancy of the circumstances was not questioned, but Judicial Committee observed that even assuming the statements to be accurate, in the absence of particulars of the settlements, the fact did not seem to afford any strong inference against the existence of the Taluk, see also Dwarka Nath Roy v Horonauth W 11 (1864) 238, Tara Kumar Ghosh v Kumar Arun Chandra, 30 C L J 389=A I R 1923 C 261, Ganga Ram v Lachmi Ram, 28 Ind Cas 705=19 C W N 611

Highly probable or improbable—Cases Accused were charged with having obtained money from complainants by falsely representing that they were servants of one Akbari Begum, a wealthy lady of Rampur, who was anxious to lend money on easy terms. Held, that the evidence that at or about the very same time when the accused were alleged to have made such a representation to the complainants they had been making precisely the same representation to a third person, was admissible under sections 11 and 14 of the Evidence Act to corroborate the story of the prosecution and to prove the intention of the

accused Emperor v Yakub, 39 Ind. Cas. 673=15 A L J 241=39 A 273=18 Cr L J 529

Where in a case of a disputed deed of adoption the defendant alleged that the deceased executant had become shortly after the execution of the deed, aware of its existence, purport a cancel it or to nullify became admittedly a merely a relevant fact, but a very important fact in the case; and the evidence offered by the defendant as to statements made by the executant in the interval of the view taken by him of the deed which he had conceived himself to be irrelevant, but is admissible under section 11 of the Act Mir Sayed

v Tayyaba Begam, 26 Ind Cas 547=1 O L J 591

Self serving statements are admissible where they make relevant fact highly probable or improbable or where they are res gestae Harishar Prosad v Keiko Prosad, A I R 1925 Pat 68=92 Ind Cas 954

A cablegram, purporting to be from one, in Calcutta was sent to P in London on the receipt of the cablegram and expressly referring to it P posted a reply to B would be a relevant fact under section 11 that B was the sender of the cablegram C H 79=18 C L J 567=18 C W N 386=15 Cr L J 33, see also R v Derrington, 2 C & P 418

An admission made by one of the defendants in a previous suit (to which he was himself a party, as to the common character of a portion of a lane, may be used in evidence against other defendants even though they may not be parties to that previous suit. A statement to the same effect made by one of the defendants in a deed put in by him to prove his title to his own house is admissible in evidence to establish the common character of the entire lane alleged by the plaintiff under section 11 of the Evidence Act. Facts are relevant which make the existence of a fact in issue highly probable, therefore, the fact of common ownership in other parts of the lane should be treated as relevant to the issue as to the common character of the entire land Naro Vinayak v Narahari, 16 B 125

Where in a suit for rent under a lease of land, alleged to be purchased from and leased to the defendant again the defendant totally denied the sale and lease of the defendant proved that he did not sell the land the fact that he did not sell it would be inconsistent with the fact of the lease, and hence, relevant under 11 (1) King Hla Pru v San Paw, 3 L B R 90

Frequent transfers of the interest in a tank without any change in the terms of the holding, or in the amount of rent paid extending over a period of more than 60 years, were held to prove that the tenure was permanent and transferable, the fact of the transfer being inconsistent with the interest being terminable at will Nidhi Krishina v Nistarini, 13 B L R 416=21 W R 316

On the question whether certain lease, were perpetual, it was held that the fact that the intention implicated by the acts and conduct of the parties was to make perpetual, under similar circumstances, same was the intention with a view to these leases would be Dayal v Ram Narayan, 30 C N 297, Kamalahari v Kanhari

In a charge of forgery, evidence of possession by the accused of other documents suspected or even proved to be forged is admissible under this section Reg v Prabhudas, 11 B H C 90

The statement of a witness for the defence, that a witness for the prosecution was at a particular place at a particular time, and consequently could not then have been at another place, when the latter states he was and saw the accused persons, is properly admissible in evidence, even though the witness for the prosecution may not himself have been cross examined on the point Reg v Sathis Ram, 11 B H C 166

When the question is whether a man is a habitual cheat, the fact that he belonged to an organisation formed for the purpose of habitually cheating in concert is relevant under 5 of the Evidence Act Kalu Misra v Emperor, 37 C 91=14 C W N 49=5 Ind Cas 29

The mental feelings of a person who is dead are highly relevant to the question of his religion and the expression of these feelings in a formal manner, such as in a Will executed by the deceased, are valuable evidence as to their existence. Such statements are admissible both under s 11 (2) and s 21 (2) of the Evidence Act. Leong Hone v Leon Ah Foon, 7 R 720=121 Ind Cas 796=A I R 1930 Rang 42

Where the suit related to rights to properties belonging to a math and the question as to dedication was put in issue and the gift of a certain item of property belonging to the institution was sought to be relied on as throwing light on the general question held that it was admissible under s 11 (2) of the Evidence Act. Bhagwati Prasad v Bindeswar, 1930 A L J 964

In a charge under s 401, I P Code, a former judgment of 25 years old convicting accused of dacoity, was held admissible to show criminal tendency and not habit. A I R 1925 Bom 195=26 Bom L R. 1223=26 Cr. L J 1391=89 Ind Cas 527

In a trial for an offence under s 4 (a) of the Prevention of Gambling Act, 1887, the evidence that he was previously convicted of similar offence cannot be let in either under s 54 or s 11 of the Evidence Act. Emperor v Alloomya, 28 B 129

The statement of a person who is dead is admissible evidence where the statement is made at a period of extremely strained communal feeling enunciated that it was the

Emperor, 33 C W N 477=47 C L J 444=111 Ind Cas 396. Judgments inter partes are relevant as authoritative statements of facts as found by the Court. Gopal Rao v Sitaram, A I R 1927 Nag 19. The author of a book was proceeded against by the Government for creating class hatred and the books themselves were forfeited. The author applied to the High Court under section 99 of the Criminal Procedure Code to set aside that order. It was dismissed. The judgment was held admissible in a prosecution against the same person under s 153 A of the Penal Code. Kali v Emperor, 25 A L J 845=A I R 1927 All 654=28 Cr L J 785. Balwara papers are admissible in evidence against strangers if they can be under s 11 of the Evidence Act. Rahimuddin v Umesh 87 Ind Cas 694. Ex parte decrees for rent obtained by a landlord against the heirs of a tenant and satisfied by the latter, are evidence of the existence of the tenancy at the date of those decrees. Anukul v Kamala, A I R 1923 Cal 270. Where the question was whether proceedings in lunacy held under Act XXXIV of 1858, are admissible in evidence in a subsequent suit to show that the defendant was a lunatic at a particular time it was held that the orders and reports made under the Act by the Judge before whom the lunacy proceedings were held, were admissible in evidence. Srimati Padmabati v Bonomali, 24 C W N 378=58 Ind Cas 566. A full horoscope prepared from a short one is admissible in evidence so far as the date of the birth and the parentage is concerned. Harbahadur v Chand Raj, 21 O C 298=48 Ind Cas 400. An entry made in a register of indoor patients in a hospital is admissible in evidence to prove that the person mentioned in the entry was in the hospital on a certain date. Amolak v Emperor, 56 P L R 1918=13 P W R Cr 1918=43 Ind Cas 429. The judgment and the proceedings in a civil suit against a vakil, out of which a charge of professional misconduct is framed against him, are admissible in evidence in an enquiry into the latter charge. Row, 23 M L J case was that a charge of intimidation was made soon after the occurrence was a relevant fact under s 11 of the Evidence

Scope of the section. In a case for damage no denial or defence shall be necessary as to damages claimed, or their amount, but they shall be deemed to be put in issue in all cases unless expressly admitted—vide Roscoe v Nis, Pius Ev 286 So in a suit in which damages are claimed, the amount of damages is

Damage—definition of Damages may be defined as the pecuniary compensation which the law awards to a person for the injury he has sustained by reason of the act or default of another, whether such act or default is a breach of contract or tort, or, to put more shortly, damages are the recompense given by process of law to a person for the wrong that another has done him. Halsbury, Vol 10 p 303.

Amount of damages how ascertained Theoretically speaking the great underlying principle by which the Courts are guided in awarding damages is restitutio in integrum Per Bowen J in The Argentina, 13 P D 191 at p 200, 201 By this is meant that the law will endeavour, so far as money can do it, to place the injured person in the same situation as if the contract has been performed (Robinson v Harman 1 Exch 850, Bain v Fothergill L R 7 H L 150, Gray v Fowler, L R 8 Exch 249, Mance v Gandet, L R 6 Q B 199), or in the position he occupied before the occurrence of the tort (Philips v Landon and South Western Rail Co (1879) 5 Q B D 78, Livingston v Bauyards Coal Co 1 App Cas 25; The Mediana, (1900) A C 113) which adversely plary damages the principle

ry damages are generally Finlay v. Churney, 2 Q.

re concerned, an exemplary damage is only awarded in the case of breach of promise of marriage Smith v. Woodfine, 1 C B N. S 660; Berry v Da Costa, L R 1 C P. 331 Such damages are generally awarded in an action for tort, as for instance, assault, trespass, negligence, nuisance, libel, slander, seduction, malicious prosecution, and false imprisonment: Halsbury Vol. 10, p 307

Measure of damages in breach of contract Upon a breach of contract such damages are to be given which will put the injured party in the position he would have been in the contemplation of the law had the contract been performed, or the probable result of the breach where the contracting parties arrange beforehand among themselves at what sum the amount of damages for breach of contract shall be estimated, it is the duty of the Courts to enforce the law Palmer v The Secre cannot recover as damages Madhab v Lukhu, 9 W R before a Court can give a decree for damages Kisto Mohun v Juggurnath 11 W R 236 The measure of damages in a suit for breach of contract is the date of breach Sut, 1 L B R v Messrs Gokul Chand, 27 C W

that of Hender v

Damages in cases of torts In cases of torts "one who commits a wrongful act is responsible for the ordinary consequences which are likely to occur, but generally speaking he is not liable for damage which is not the natural or ordinary consequence, unless it is shown that he knows or has reasonable means of knowing that the consequences not usually resulting from the act are, by reason of some existing cause, likely to intervene so as to cause damage" Sharp v Powell, (1872) L R 7 C. P 253

Aggravation and mitigation In actions of contracts as a rule the motives or conduct of the defendants are not to be taken into account in assessing damages, nor feelings, injury to feelings, injury to 323 In Hamilin v Great Generally speaking, entirely with the jury, ry to the party's feelings and the pain he has experienced, as, for instance, in extent of violation in an action of assault, and many of the find place in an action for tort or wrong place of place in an ordinary action of con

moneys counted, of money which would replace a person in his position as he was before he underwent by reason of an injury or damage which he has suffered, and which he recognises that as a topic upon which damages can be given Thomp-Evidence in son v Place 1 Mood in giving such evidence the al matters
Simpson v Thompson N C 272, Jebson v East and O, Greery v
 C. P. 7 C & P 64 -tracted

claimed the difference between the value of the work done by him as a member of the firm and the value of the work done by him as a member of the firm, showing that the value of the work done by him as a member of the firm was greater than the value of the work done by him as a member of the firm, and that he had been the J stopped this judgment for the examination of damages. In that case the loss had been for this liability that acting the ant ought the face could prob-

The evidence of character is not admissible in an action of contract or defence as the character is not admissible to which, measure of damages with one whose character is unblemished and is still to crime negligent to show that by evidence."—v. Moor, 1 M & S 281 In Eduard v. Kansas City Times Co., 32 Fed 813, a leading American case, Bence J puts it a little better. After stating: "repute, he is impure, and is entitled to n that I am known in the community, and justly so, as a common drunkard, a bar room loafer, one that every man despises as he meets, and one of you should circulate and publish a statement against me that I had told a lie, or that I had stolen money. That may not have been my reputation before. People may simply have looked upon me as a mere wreck, a dissipated and worthless man, and may not have looked upon me as one who was a liar or a thief. Of course, in a certain sense, by the publication of statement you have injured my reputation; you have gotten people before but on the other hand, if I say 'Well, it does not hurt before me they do after the statement; my character and reputation in the community is not worth much, you cannot hurt that which is already injured.' And inasmuch as the action for libel or slander is brought for the injury to the reputation the less valuable that reputation is, the less proportionate damage is suffered. In the last mentioned case the learned Judge thus applies his reason-added to a bad reputation that she had already. Now, in respect to her reputation you have the testimony of their witnesses as to what it was in that community; you have also the testimony of one witness in which he says that he saw this plaintiff and her brother having improper intercourse. If it be true that she did have that incestuous intercourse with her brother, then, although it may not be true that she was injured by that intercourse, your common sense tell by this defendant may show that she was injured by reason of the sum by way of damage v. Mukund Roy, 17 thereunder

Conduct of the defendant. In an action for libel the plaintiff may show that the libel was scattered broad cast when the defendant was under no duty and had not right to publish v. Wellsley, 5 Bing 4 Miall, 15 L J Ex 179 of the suit, may aggravate 12 Q B 511 at pp 5 conduct in putting a prove and will not abate ant from the time

rdict They may tion, and in Court
Q B D p 55

DO ALSO IN CASES OF SEDUCTION THE CONDUCT OF THE DEFENDANT of the plaintiff's daughter by fraud and under cover of a promise of marriage may be taken into consideration Halsbury Vol 10, p 325 So also where a insulting or oppressive though actual injury is laden, L R 4 Exch 13;

Moore v Shelley 8 App Cas 285, 294 P C The defendant's conduct may also be proved in mitigation of damages Mountford v Gibson 4 East 411, Cook v Hostle 8 C & P 568

Proof of financial standing of defendant It comes rather as a shock to the lay mind that there is one law for the rich and another for the poor although in the administration of the law the better of the community is easily analysed. We have relevant in civil actions and that generally when admitted such evidence received to affect the measure of damages. The stage marks one law for the man of good repute and another for him who is said to live evilly. Under ordinary circumstances the financial situation and standing of the parties are wholly irrelevant. The amount of damages depends upon the terms of the contract or in action of tort upon other circumstances wholly independent of the wealth or poverty of the parties but it is well settled that there is a class of cases in which the wealth of the defendant becomes a material fact, and which may be proved on the question of the amount of damages. For example fortune. Evidence of the wealth or standing of the defendant is relevant for the purpose of determining compensatory damages. This is for the reason that the financial standing of the defendant is one of the elements of his social environment and there are injuries caused by the fact that the persons responsible for the cause of action rests upon an injury to the character or an insult to the person. Compensatory damages may be increased by proof of the wealth of the defendant. This is upon the ground that wealth is an element which goes to make up his rank and influence in society and thereby renders the injury or insult resulting from the wrongful acts the greater. Johnson v Smith, 64 Mc 553 (555). Evidence of the pecuniary circumstances of the defendant is admissible in two

1
1
C

may be ndant ct ons ible ly fall n as a berate with such gro ther= and in such 159 of award of at loss ondent
350=86

Ind Cas 1018=A 1 R 13 30 C 1 363 (R R)

Breach of promise of marriage In estimating the damages, in an action for breach of promise of marriage where the plaintiff had been seduced by the defendant, the altered position of the plaintiff in relation to her house and family through the defendant's conduct is relevant. Maung Hamaing v Ma Pica We, L R 1 C P 331, Hamlin v Ducosta, L R 1 C P 331, Parshotamdas v Parshotamdas 21 B 23. Damages for a breach of contract of marriage may be awarded to a man. But the fact that the man has merely become the butt of his acquaintances' jests or has experienced a feeling of shame does not constitute an injury for which damages can be awarded in a suit of this nature. Ma Ngue Yin v Maung Po Tai 7 Bur L T 14-23 Ind. Cas 376

Defendant's fortune In an action for breach of a promise of marriage obviously tends to duress (James Taylor, L R 9

Q. B. 79); nor for malicious prosecution; for it is nothing to the purpose, "that damages are taken from a deep pocket." Short v Story, Winton Sun; Roscoe v P Lr 86

S. 1

Time and place In an action for assault and battery the circumstances of the time and place, when, damages, thus it is a greater in a private room Per Bath v Oxford, 2 M & S 77 Merest v Harvey, 5 Taunt 412

Proof of facts attending of plaintiff Amerson v Is In actions in assault and battery, the pecuniary circumstances, and condition of his family may be given in evidence especially where the case is one of exemplary

13. Where the question is as to the existence of any right or custom, the following facts are relevant.—

- (a) any transaction by which the right or custom in question was created, claimed, modified, recognised, asserted or denied, or which was inconsistent with its existence;
- (b) particular instances in which the right or custom was claimed, recognized or exercised, or in which its exercise was disputed, asserted or departed from

Illustration

fisher grant instances in which A's father exercised the right, or in which the exercise of the right was stopped by A's neighbours, are relevant facts

Principle and Scope The general principle is that a party may prove all facts tha 315 of as an ancient water course or a right of common, or corporeal, as a field, or a road strip In such cases every act of enjoyment or possession is a relevant fact, since the right claimed is constituted by an indefinite number of acts of user exercised animo domini But inasmuch as such acts are more or less discontinuous in their character—and in the case of ancient rights the evidence of them is by lapse of time rendered even more so—the question for the jury is whether the acts proved are so numerous and so connected that the right of possession may be inferred from them If they are so frequent and of such a character as existence of a right and the el rarnama comes both within clauses (a) and (b); it is both a transaction in which the right was claimed and an instance in which the right was exercised. If authority, that course with a must

under various conditions, are to be taken into account in determining the sufficiency of possession." Per Lord O'Hagan in Lord Advocate v Lord Lavat, 5 App Cas 273 (283), cited with approval by Lord Macnaghten in Johuston v O'Neill, (1912) A C 552 (583) and by Lord Shaw in Kirby v Couderoy, (1912) A C 599-81 L J P C 232

So title to real or personal property may be inferred from acts of ownership, done by the party for or against whom they are tendered, e.g. possession, receipts of rents and profits, or the discharge of burdens and repairs of the property. Planting or felling timber Ashburner, 21 L T 595, and agginson, 4 M. & W. h facts are receivable proof is admissible

head of hearsay are usually classed those cases in which expired leases, grants, part of from w such ch

though
Dug 189, Bristow v Cormican, 3 App Cas 641 And such counterparts are evidence of seisin, though only executed by the lessee Doe v Palman, 8 Q B D 622, Magdalen v Knolls, 8 Ch D 709 C A ; Roscoe Lk 18th Ed ¶ 53

Clause (a) Where the ques brahmattar right in a certain p that the father of the defendants brahmattar land, was produced :

clause (a) of section 15 is the requirements or that clause are satisfied The question being whether the defendants have a niskar brahmattar right, a deed conferring the niskar brahmattar right on the defendant's predecessor would be admissible as a transaction by which the right was created, but not a sale deed executed by the defendants in respect of that right. The word, claimed, need not from the transaction by which it was created or modified and so the words 'created' or 'modified' are omitted in clause (b). There may be a transaction by which there has been the recognition of a right or custom, there may also be particular instances of its recognition, and so 'recognised' appears in both the clauses. Instead of the words, "by which the right or custom is asserted or denied or which was inconsistent with its existence" we have the words "in which the right or custom was exercised or in which the exercise was disputed, asserted or departed from". It is clear that in clause (b) instances of assertions or denials of a right or custom are not covered by the words "by which the right or custom is asserted or denied".

fail to see any. I am therefore of opinion that a transaction or instance in which there is mere assertion or denial of a right is not covered by clause (b) 13 but only such a transaction is covered by clause (a). It has been urged that the word "transaction" is used in a wide view, but I do not see that it does.

question is whether A has a right to a fishery. In such a case a deed conferring the fishery on A's ancestors should be a transaction by which a right to the fishery was created; so a mortgage by A's father would be a transaction by which a right to a mortgage was created.

Recitals in a deed are not transactions but instances of assertions or denials of the existence of the right. They come neither under clause (a) nor under clause (b). They are statements which unless they are relevant under some other provisions of the law e.g., as admissions or statements of deceased persons, etc., are not admissible in evidence." Brojendra Kishore v Mohun Chandra, 31 C W N 88 (88, 89).

The word "claim," denotes a demand or assertion in relation to a thing or attribute as against or from some person or persons, showing the existence of a right to it in the claimant. A bare statement may or may not be a claim according to the attending circumstances in which it is made. It may amount to a claim or be a mere statement of claim though in some circumstances a statement may amount to a claim. A statement in the pattah that the land to the west of a judgment may be an instance. Sri Protap Chandra v Sri Raja Jagadish, 82

Right, meaning of. In Guyy Lal v Fattah Lal 11 C. 171 (F B), at pages 186, 187 Garth C J said "It may be difficult, perhaps, to define precisely the scope of the word 'right' but I think it was here intended to include those

3. properties only of an incorporeal nature, which in legal phraseology are generally called 'rights'. It is certain that the word 'custom' (see s 48 and art 1 'rights of customs' and in private rights of that is a right which may the expression is used in this limited sense is shown also, as it seems to me, in the words with which it is associated. The right mentioned in the section is one which can be 'created or exercised' which expressions are perfectly appropriate when speaking of an incorporeal right, but would be wholly inapplicable to the word 'right' when used in its more extended sense. It would be quite correct to speak of the creation or the exercise of a right of way or of a franchise, but a lawyer would think of saying that a right to a chattel or to damages had been 'created or exercised'. In the same case Jackson J said at pp 184, 185 "It seems to me as clear as anything can be, that the 'right' here spoken of is something quite distinct from ownership. What is referred to in the section cited is evidently real rights only, because in other places where the same words occur in conjunction in that sense. In the first place, it is a real right. It is not a general natural or corporeal, but it is a in question refers only to a does not seem to me to be suggest a reason which rights respectively

v Rayon Mohun
nerjee J observed incorporeal right limitation on the
the view taken b ed of in Kalidhar
Palakdhari, 12 A

Full Bench in Guyul
the word 'right'

Sir Charles Sargent C

Bapu, 10 M 439, that the majority of the Full Bench of the High Court in Guyul v Palleh Lall, put too narrow a construction on the word 'right' in s 13 and that 'right' there includes not only incorporeal rights but a right of ownership. This view was also accepted by Ranode J in Lakshmi v Amrit, 24 B 591 (599). See also Rama Sami v Appa, 12 M 113, Venkata Sami v Venkataraddi, 15 M 12, Pythulinga v Venkatacharya, 16 M 194, Stephen Dig Art 5. The illustration to this section shows that the right mentioned in it, is not a public right only the right there mentioned being a private one viz A's right to a fishery. Surya v Bushambhar, 23 W R 311. So right and custom in this section must be understood as comprehending all rights and customs recognised by law, and therefore, including a right of ownership. Ranchhodas v Bapu, 10 B 439 (441). At present the balance of authority favours the extension of the term "right" to include every right known to the law. Per Beaman J in Mahammad v Ali on 31 B 143 (154). The whole context indicates that the section is dealing with continuous rights which may be interrupted without being necessarily destroyed. Ibid at p 155. But a right which is not a public right is not a public right. A document does not admit of denial, and is, therefore, the rights denoted in this section. 1014 p 154.

Custom A custom is a particular rule which had existed either actually or presumptively from time immemorial, and has obtained the force of law in a particular locality. S.
 common law
 218 A custom is a general right

can never be considered binding until it has become a law by some act, legislative or judicial, of some sovereign. It is to be found in one judgment of the House of Lords (Charlu, 1 Mad H C 424). It is open to the obvious objection that a decision in its favour would ever be judicially recognized for the first time. A decision in its favour would assume that it was already binding. The sounder view appears to be that law and usage act and react upon each other. A belief in the propriety, or the propriety of a rule, is a source of law in a particular locality.

v. Lsu 4 B 545; Mayne's Hindu Law, 6th Ed 56. So local customary law has its source in those immemorial customs which prevail in particular parts of a country and in the general law of the country. In derogation of the general law of the country, an immemorial custom does upon occasion respect of the former operation, it is which as a source of law retains the distinguished as legal and conventional. A legal custom is one whose legal authority is absolute—one which in itself and proprio vigore possesses the force of law. A conventional custom is one whose authority is conditional on its custom, prevalent or having the force of law in a particular locality only, or the general custom of the realm, in force as law throughout all over the country.—Salmond's Jurisprudence, p 211. The word 'custom' in this section

3. properties only called 'rights'
It is certain sub section 4 of s 32, wh
'rights', and in s 13

when speaking of word 'right' when speak of the lawyer would think of saying that a right to a chattel or to damages had been this interpretation, the object, the particular to the section, all seem to me to conduce in question refers only to incorporate does not seem to me to be warranted suggest a reason which would justify the existence of a right the word 'rights'

Sir Charles Sargent C J Bapu, 10 B 439, that the in Guppal v Talleh Lall, and that 'right' there incl
This view was also seen see also Rama Sami v Vythilinga v Venkatacha, tion to this section shows tha the right there mentioned be v Bishambhar, 23 W R 311 which in legal phraseology are generally conjunction with the word 'evidence' quent parts of the Act (see s 45 and or general 'rights' or o include both public or the illustration stances That me to me, by a section is one tly appropriate pplicable to the quite correct to franchise, but no uninjuries had been

"It seems
In the same case Jackson J said at pp. 184, 185

But in the same case Mitter J, in dis-
-interpretation to the word 'right' Evidence Act, the e in other parts of cur in conjunction first place it is by rights It is not general nature al but it is by e section
a nature, fficial, to ween the rights respectively, observed al right n on the taken by Kaldhuan
12 A
of the
on of he interpre hu k, however, as del in Ranchhodas v
Calcutta High Court
construction on the word 'right' in s 13, real rights but a right of ownership,
Shakim v Amrit, 24 B 591 (500),
Shakata Sami v Venkataraddi, 15 M 13, Article 5 The illustr right only Surya must be law and
10 B 439 (44)
favour the extension of the term "right" to law Per Beaman J in Mahammad v Hassan
it indicates that the section is dealing with necessarily destroyed
ly bound up in a stances of ascert on guishable from all

rights and customs recognised by nership Ranchhodas v Bapu, 10 B 439 (44)
favour the extension of the term "right" to
law Per Beaman J in Mahammad v Hassan
it indicates that the section is dealing with necessarily destroyed
ly bound up in a stances of ascert on guishable from all

171. Although I always have a S recognised in I cannot see why usage Dalglish v. Gutzuffer, 23 C 427; ng to Sir John Woodroffe the word custom as used customs what th place may be ordinari would be 'usage' within the meaning of the section " Dalglish v. Gutzuffer, 23 C.

427 (429); Sariatallah v. Prun, 26 1b5 In the Indian Evidence Act we find mention of three kinds of customs, (1) private, (2) general (vide s 48) and (3) public (vide s 32 clause 4)

Private Custom—usage of a single family In Raj Kishen v. Ramjoy, 1 C 186 (195, 196) 19 W R 8 P C their Lordships of the Privy Council said
"Their Lordships cannot find any principle or authority, for holding that in point of law a manner of descent of an ordinary estate, depending solely on family

Family custom—how proved If a party rely upon the especial custom of particular family has from a long usage obtained the force of law which must be the general rule

3 I A 259 (285), Cas 43 Such a v Janki, 3 Ind of comparatively period is wholly Narayan, 3 M L
h distinctness and certainly Serumah v. Palathan 15 W. R 41 r. C as an acknowledged

3. Durga Charn v Raghu Nath, 18 C W N 55 (58) A family custom must be established by clear and unambiguous evidence Abdul v Sona 45 C 40-27 C. L. J 240; see also Lal Gayendra v Lal Mathura, 20 C W. N. 876, Nogendra v Raghu, W R (1861) 20

General Custom The words "general custom" are used in section 48 of the Evidence Act. The term "general custom" in that section probably includes "public custom" Whitely Stokes, Vol II p. 881. According to English law the term includes the custom of manors.

Brandao v Barnett 3 C

Bank of Australia v White, 4

of gravel kind and borough Langham v Deudamore, 1703, 2 Ld Raym 1024-1026) i.e. such as have an extended local application Wills' Ev 2nd Ed 20

According to Mr Justice Woodroffe the expression "general custom" is defined to include customs common to any considerable class of persons and includes (a) local custom; (b) caste or class custom, and (c) trade custom or usage Woodroffe's Evidence 8th Ed p 169. If we are to take the analogy from public rights and "general rights" we must say that general customs are those in which some class of the community has a common interest, as for examples, those which are based on the customs of manors (Doe v Sisson 12 East 59. Crease v Barrett 1 C M & R 919), public customs are those in which all the subjects of the king are interested Public M D C (1899) 1 C are connected with hamlets (Thomas v of manors (Barnes customs are those in which all the subjects of the king are interested

In order that a local custom may be valid and operative as a source of law, it must conform to certain conditions

1. C 116; Satyannarain v Satya v Barn 17 W R 316; Marquis By Ben Reg IV of 1827, s 26 the though contrary to Mahomedan law Abas R 36. As to pre-emption in village Kuniar Ahmad, 19 C W N 393, Madhab or usage is termed desachar. Field Ev 7th Ed 563

Caste or class custom Cutcha the whole of their property by will regards the succession amongst the Alemon's Case, Perry Or Cas 110, In re Hajj Ismail 11 B 452; Ashabai, s 115. As regards tribal custom, vide 16 B 470 (476) and 24 P L R 1903

Requisites of valid custom Under the English law a valid custom must fulfil the following conditions—

- (a) It must be ancient; i.e., it must be in existence beyond the memory of man or it must go back as far as the reign of Richard I (Leake v Cooper, 7 C & P 119)
- (b) It must be reasonable.
- (c) It must be certain
- (d) It must have been continued
- (e) Perceivable (Lala v Hira, 2 A 49)
- (f) Compulsory
- (g) Not immoral or unnecessary

Antiquity In the words of Littleton "No custom is to be allowed, but such custom as hath been used by title of prescription, that is to say, from time out of mind" So "no usage can be part of law, or have the force of custom, but is not" 15 In London Corporation "A custom originating within at law." In Chapman v practice

Smith, 2 Ves 505, Lord Hardwicke, L. C. at p 610 said: 'Local, common law, S.

word "

if proved to extend for a hundred years may very well be called immemorial

7 B 528; Hur Prosad v Sheo Dyal, L J. 806; Jugamohan v Manick,
Gouria 6 B L R 238; Durg, v
1, 11 B H. C R 271, Mahamaya

Reasonableness. A custom must be reasonable. Co Litt 62 (a), Tanistry Broadbent v Wilkes,
1005 24 C W N
H C 19, De Souza
A 257, Kuarsen v
235; Hurpurshad v
Shubnarain v Bhut-
W N 735, Gauri
1-61 Ind Cas 182;

Radha Prasad v Dinunath, 43 Ind Cas 451 (Pat) So even where a custom is established by evidence, it cannot be treated as a valid custom on the ground of ively proves that the usage, even though it may have existed from time immemorial, must have resulted from accident or indulgence and not from any right conferred in ancient times on the party setting up the custom. Halsbury Vol Johnson v Clark, (1903) valid must be reason Clark, ubi supra The s inception Mercer v

Tyson v Smith, 11 Add

& El 406; Sheikh v Behar, Lall 6 Pat. L J 11-61 Ind Cas 132 A custom is not unreasonable where it is beneficial to a community but against the interest of a particular person Tyson v Smith, ubi supra

Certainty

Dov 1r at p 33;
Blount v Tregon,
Hurpurshad v St
Laichman v Abb

Tanistry Case (1603)
v Scott, Filz G 55
10, (1904) 2 Ch 534;
anya, 17 W R 553,
voy, 1 C 195 (196);

Raturaj v Pahlwan, 33 A 196 (F B); Lali v Hira Singh, 2 A 48; Krishna v Atul, 39 C L J 612, Lachman Bai v Akbar Khan, 1 A 449, Jamila Khatun v Pagal, 1 W R 250; Beni Madhab v Joy Krishna 7 B L R 152, Rani Mina v Ichamoyee, 27 C L J 587, Rai Jatindra v Hari Charan 20 C L J 426 Gop v Abdul, 34 C L J 319, Tekari v Tekari, 20 W. R 157, Bhagawan Das v Balgobind, 1 Bc R S N (X) In Broadbent v Wilks, Wiles, 360, Wiles C J said "That every custom must be certain is laid down as a rule in all the books, which treat of customs. It is still of a custom as by way of definition, that consuetudo ex certa et rationabili causa privat communum legem, and it must be certain because, if it be not certain, it cannot be proved to have been time out of mind, for how anything can be said to have been time out of mind when it is not certain what it is?" There must be some definite limit to the right claimed as exist under an alleged custom—in respect of its nature generally, in respect of the locality where the custom is alleged to exist and in respect of the person alleged to be affected by the custom. Halsbury Vol X p 227 228

Continuity A custom to be valid must be continued without interruption since time immemorial Halsbury Vol X 231, Tanistry Case, Dov Jr 32, Lyon v Smith 9 Ad & El 406 Simpson v Walls, L R 7 B 314, Abraham v Abraham, 9 V L A 242, Rama v Apparau, 12 V 14, Sulemanja v Muthu, 3 M H C 75, Beni v Jai Kissen, 7 B L R 152 It should be unaltered, uniform and constant Jameela v Pagul, 1 W R 250, Lala v Hira 2 A 49, In Ram Kishen v Ramjoy, 1 C 190 'It is the esse and continuous, and them This would causes, about b 3 M H s been intentionally brought also Tara Chand v Reeb Ram C A C J 113 In cases

3 M H of a widely spread local custom want of continuity would be evidence that it had never had a legal existence Mayne's Hindu Law, p 58, see also per Jessel M R in Hammerton v Honey, 24 W R 603 There is however, a distinction between an interruption of the right which forms the subject matter of the custom, and an interruption in the possession of that right, or the user and enjoyment of that right. If for a short a period, the right revival would involve upon the custom would be void But as regards interruption of the possession or enjoyment of the right such an interruption may occur and continue for ten or twenty years without being merely non-user during it was no interruption of the possession or enjoyment of the right. Fatima v Bhola, 52 Ind Cas 869

Kart v Velthelus 11 M 459, 461, 462 A caste custom which is against law ought to be established by very clear proof that the conscience of the members of the caste had come to regard it as binding Patal Vendra ran v Patal Mamal 16 B. 470 A custom to be valid must be acquiesced in Ailya v Provas 24 C W N 309

Not immoral or unreasonable A custom deserves to be recognized and enforced by the Courts, unless it is injurious to the public interests, or is in conflict with any express law of the ruling power. Tiruchani v Reeb Ram, 3 M H C 56, Ihau v Sundrabai, 11 B H C 249, Mathura v Esu, 4 B 545. So a custom should not be immoral or opposed to public policy or unreasonable. Raja Yurmah v Rabi Yurmah, 1 M 235, Lakshmi v Sadatula, 9 C 65. Lachmeepul v Sadatulla, 9 C 693, Krishna Sircani v Vira Sircani, 10 M 133. DeSosa v Pestonji, 2 B 408, Langa v Pengari 20 C W N 406-22 C L J 92, Syed Ah v Sarjan, 18 C W N 733, Krishna v Raman, 14 L W 329.

Immoral custom is not recognized as valid Ghasbi v Umarayan, 20 I A 149 S. 1 (P C), Chinna v Tegarai, 1 M 168

Transaction Transaction in its ordinary management of any undertaking or business been brought partly or wholly to a conclusion or obligations Standard Dictionary Worcester defines it as the act of transacting or conducting any business, negotiation, management a proceeding Webster, as in the management of any affair; performance, as the derivation of persons by a cross or reciprocal action as it were 1st Jackson J in Guppu Lall v Fattah Lall 6 C 180 Whatever may be done by one person which affects another's rights and out of which a cause of action may arise, is a transaction Scarborough v Smith, 18 Kan 399, 406 It is a broader term than the contract for while every contract is a transaction every transaction is not a contract Roberts v Donorian, 70 Cal 108, 113 The term transaction is one of large import, and might although by in a suit, Jackson J in Guppu Lall v Fattah Lall 6 C 180 vide post

The word 'transaction' in section 13 of the Evidence Act means a business or dealing which is carried on or transacted between two or more persons Written statements filed in suits are not transactions within the meaning of the section Where in the specified boundaries of an adjacent land the suit land is described as belonging to one of the parties it is transaction but not a party is asserted claimed or even recognised dence under section 13 Saripali v Fota Ind Cas 747 A private transaction between

m) A transaction contemplated by section 13 is a genuine and bona fide transaction, but a benami transaction land was held admissible both under clause (a) and clause (b) of section 13 on the ground that it was a transaction in which the right was exercised In this case the was dou Ali v Sjed Rejanah 19 C W N 468 Mahanti 194 and also upon the decision later Ind Cas 747

Previous transaction in respect of different property is not a transaction within the section Radha Krishna v Sarabeswar Nag 29 C W N 469 86 Ind Cas 674 = A. I R 1925 Cal 684, see also Abdul Ali v Rejan Ali, 21 Ind Cas 618.

Instar something (Webster's Dictionary the right or custom which its Section 13 of the Evidence Act of lands other than Abdulla statement of an agent that his principal was a bastard was admissible under section 13 of the Evidence Act as establishing an instance in which the legitimacy of the person in question was denied. Held also that a judgment referring to such illegitimacy was also admissible under the same section. Raj Fateh Singh v Baldeo Singh 5 O W N 143-109 Ind Cas 310-A I R 1928 Oudh 233. When a custom has been established, instances showing that there has been no variation in the custom are important and should be relied upon, no matter if such instances relate to transactions which took place after the suit involving the question of custom had been instituted. Akshan Singh v Faqir, A I R 1928 Lah 166. Uncontested instances are by no means worthless evidence of the existence of a right. Muhammud Husain v Ghulam Muhammad 10 Ind Cas -138 P L R 1911. Statements contained in petitions by members of a family recognizing the existence of a custom of primogeniture in the family, are relevant and admissible as evidence of particular instances in which the custom was recognized as affecting their own rights. Shyamanand v Rama Kant 32 C 6. Instances in the neighbouring subdivisions of a town are relevant on the question of custom in a particular subdivision of a town under section 13 of the Evidence Act and they may be treated as evidence supplementary to the evidence afforded by instances in the subdivision. Admission by a vendee in a suit for pre-emption that the custom for pre-emption existed in the locality is an instance of the recognition of a right which is relevant under section 13 of the Evidence Act. Sant Singh v Jowala Saik 59 P L R 1903-42 P R 1903. Statements made by persons in a suit cannot be considered as instances although the whole litigation ending in a judgment can well be called an instance. Sree Pralab v Sree Raja Jagadis 40 C L J 331 (363).

Proof of trade custom by particular instances. In evidencing a custom or usage (i.e. the habit of a body of persons) by specific instances, the following general principle is applicable that is the instances offered (a) should be sufficiently numerous to indicate a regular course of business, and (b) should occur under conditions substantially similar to that in question. Wigmore § 379.

Number of instances. Individual instances offered one at a time are receivable. Doe v Mason 3 Wills 63. In Roe v Jeffrey 2 M & S 92 Ellenborough L C J said. It is true that one act undisturbed does not make a custom, but it will be evidence of custom. The alleged custom must be very satisfactorily proved by evidence of particular instances so numerous as to justify the Court in finding in favour of the custom. Durga v Raghunath, 18 C W N 55. Lachman v Akbar, 1 A 440. Debendra v Putamber 93 Ind Cas 43-A I R 1927 CIL 177. Jugmohandas v Mangaldas 10 B 528 (543), Sarabjit v Indrajit 27 A 203, Chandika v Minia 24 A 273-291 A 70.

Custom should occur under conditions substantially similar to that in question. It is obvious that there must be such a similarity or unity of conditions that what is done by one or more persons or sets of persons may be taken as indicating the probable general habit of the class of persons under similar circumstances. The precedents illustrate all sorts of trade and usage and no detailed generalization seems feasible. Wigmore § 376. To prove a custom of London as to the stowage of goods in regard to general average a similar custom in other English ports was received. Milward v Hibbert 3 Q B 120 139. So also to prove a custom of trade between Liverpool and California, after incorporation with the United States as to discounts on freight, a similar custom as to trade with Texas after incorporation and as to other ports of British America, etc. was received. Falkner v Earle 3 B & S 360. Similarly in proving, usage as to bleaching linen in Nottingham usage at Loughborough was admitted by reason of the vicinity of the places and the interchange of trade. In Flet v Morton, L R 2 Q B D 126-41 L J Q B N S 49 the action was for the price of fruit on a sold note signed by the brokers only the dispute being whether in that trade brokers were liable on such notes for the default of principals. The custom of trade being held to be involved in the contract, evidence was received with some hesitation, of the custom on the point in the colonial market. Blackburn J observed. It seemed to be conceded in the trial that the two trades were so far allied to each other that the same usages would be likely to prevail in both, and I thought that upon the question of the liability of a broker evidence of his liability in a similar trade ought to be received. So it is enough to point out (1) that no particular circumstance is conclusive either pro or con, (2) that instances from another trade or another region are not necessarily without effect at the place where the custom is claimed. The same locality are not the offered they are receivable anyway, 2 Doug

100, M. Raman v. Munnai, 1 I R C 11 110

Customary rights in land, etc Custom in India is transcendent law But a custom cannot be established by a few instances or by instances of recent date Consequently, it is the duty of the Court when it has to pronounce upon the not only as to the sufficiency in fact the also required to

sion of the alleged custom has been acted upon, and by the proof afforded by judicial or revenue records of private accounts and receipts that the custom has been enforced" Per Turner J in Lachman Rai v. Akbar Khan, 1 A 440 (441), see also Ashutosh v. Chandi, A I R, 1927 Cal 177-98 Ind Cas 43 Though judicial the establishment of custom-Tara Chand v. Reeb Ram, v Baboo Burm Narain Singh, t to establish a family custom clear, distinct and the c pecu

v OI
a family recognising the existence of a custom of primogeniture in the family, are relevant and admissible as evidence of particular instances in which the custom was recognized as affecting their own rights Shyamanand v Rama Kanta, 32 C 8 In Pal & Dhari Rai v. Mannars, 23 C 179, a suit by a landlord for ejectment of purchasers from rayats having only a right of occupancy, on the ground that the holdings of such rayats were not transferable without the landlord's consent, the defendants pleaded custom or usage in support of the transfers Questions arose as to the character of the usage required to be proved in such cases, and the nature of the evidence required to prove the usage In that case the Court observed at p that he has been purcha 200 lobalas of such lands which are on the record and by themselves would certainly establish neither a custom nor a usage as to such transactions We would here refer to section 13 of the Evidence Act as showing the character of evidence by which a right or custom may be proved Mr Mannars' evidence is not of that description The Subordinate Judge next states that 'one of the purchases was made so long ago as in the year 1277' which is a related instance, and it relates ced in evidence also ext refers to the fact some of their other not be properly regarded as a recognition of a custom or usage by the consent of the landlord"

Instances occurring within the same manor, it is clear, will be received, because the original unity of the holding allows each instance to appear as merely one illustration of a general system working uniformly. So in order to prove a custom of descent in the female line, particular instances were received of such descent in other estates of the manor, as well as of a general custom of descent in the manor, "branches from the same root" P

12 East. 62 Similarly to prove custom in the same township were admitted

Howard, 1 M & S 292, see also Jett v Dearley 4 L R 1re 63 On the same principle however, instances from other manors may be received, provided that, behind their apparent difference of conditions a unity of some sort can be shown which makes instances from the one equally illustrative of a general system including and operating in the other Wigmore § 390 In Moulin v Dallison Cro Car 484, the question was whether an estate descended by custom to the eldest daughter in manor S After showing that S was a part of a manor O, and thus establishing the unity of custom, the fact was received of the rule of descent in O see also Champion v Atkinson, 3 Keb 90, Someset v France, 1 Biza 654 In Furpeaux v Hutchins 2 Cowp 807 Lord Mansfield C J said, "Proof of the custom in other parishes is no evidence to affect the parish in question unless the custom had been proved as a custom of the whole country" In Ross v Brenton, 8 B & C 737, 738, the issue was as to the ownership of copper mines and the rights of a plaintiff who was a 'conventional lessee' in the copper on his land there were 17 manors in the duchy, and some of the above tenancies, renewable every 7 years, existed in each manor Evidence was received as to the terms of the customary right of such a tenant in those other manors Tenderden 1 C J said 'The same character, whatever that may be belongs to them all It certainly belongs to all those called 'free conventionals', in this district Must we not, then in fairness, in order to ascertain what are the relative rights of the lords and these tenants in one part of the district enquire what are the rights in another' In the same case Bayley J said "I am of opinion that the usage which has prevailed in one part, is evidence to explain a grant expressed in similar terms to any other part of the district" Similarly in Anglesey v Hatherton 10 M & W 218 Abinger C B said "It should be established clearly and beyond all controversy that the two manors originally formed one manor there prevails throughout those manors a particular species of tenure, called tenant right, since in those manors all the tenants hold under the same right if it should happen that in one particular manor no example can be adduced of what is the custom in any particular case in order to explain the nature which is not confined to one manor but prevails in a great number you may show what is the general usage in respect to that tenure' He also approved Ross v Brenton, ubi supra In the same case, Alderson B said, "If indeed there be some general connecting link between them—for instance if the custom in question be a particular incident of the general tenure which is common to two manors then you have a right to show what the custom of one manor is as to the tenure, for the purpose of showing what the custom of the other manor is as to that tenure; but you must begin by showing that there is a general tenure common to both, that fact fails here"

To prove a custom or usage that occupancy holdings are transferable in any locality, it is not sufficient to show simply that such holdings are sold in the village or neighbouring villages The essence of a usage of transferability is that transfers made to the knowledge of but without the consent of the landlord are valid and must be recognised by him Pearry Mohun v Jote Kumar, 11 C W N 83

Transaction whether includes judgment 'A transaction in the ordinary sense of the word is some business or dealing which is carried on or transacted between two or more persons If the parties to a suit were to adjust differences inter se, the adjustment would be a transaction, and by a somewhat strained use of the word the proceedings in a suit might also be called transaction, but to say that the decision of a Court of Justice is a transaction is an application of the term' Per Garth C J C. 171 at p 186 A transaction, as the deed has been concluded between persons by a cross the Court admitted, in evidence against the defendant the instance right had been successfully asserted the tenure that was said to have created the defendant had not been a party. Sir Richard ment of the Court said that he could not think that such judgments were intended to be excluded, and that the expression 'transaction' in section 13 was large enough to include proceedings in suits, and that the section did not require the suit to have been between the same parties, but left it to the Court to decide what weight attached to it. In Narain Bikhambai v Dipa Umed, 11 B 3, where the plaintiffs sought to recover arrears of a Chirda Lak, Westroff, C. J and Melville, J., adopting the views taken by Couch O J. of section 13, held that decrees establishing the right in prior suits between the same persons were admissible in evidence "for the purpose of been asserted, but recognized by the tribunals" In Ranchhoddas v. Bapu, 10 B 439 at

as is to be found in
be understood as therefore, including doubted whether such was the intention of the framer of the code. In Tepu Khan Roions Mohan, 2 O W N 501, (504)=25 C 522 (F B) Banerjee J said: "If the meaning of clause place, ransac-

the instition
is, it

B 143 "It seems to me the true point is, not that the judgments and decrees themselves are 'transaction', and the place they are the best evidence. Per kdhari, 12 A 1 (F. B); see also I per Sir William De Grey.

says Pr from sequence
no long In othutteran-determining what are the terms of their act. In ignore 3 21-10 100 m 6 tion of a transaction, either voluntary or compulsory. In the former instance it wh-

su-the law insists, independently of the parties' choice that the transaction be embodied in ces attach the only in and negotiat-
roll, as fina

3. as adjudicated, and this supercedes the miscellaneous mass of oral and written pleading, motions, and orders which have gone to make up the proceedings in legal th and many strictness need to appear in the record,—hence may be established without regard to the contents of the record. This involves the whole theory of trials and appeals. From the above observation of Prof Wigmore, one of the greatest authority on the Law of Evidence it is abundantly clear that a judgment or decree is but an integration of various transactions. When such transactions are relevant under section 13, a judgment or decree is also admissible under this section. As regards the probative value of such judgments and decrees vide infra.

Judgment whether relevant under this section. Judgments in Courts of Justice on other occasions form an exception to the exclusion of evidence of transactions not specifically connected with facts in issue. See Intro 161. There are two kinds of judgments, namely judgments in rem and judgments in personam. The former kinds of judgments are always relevant (vide s 41). Judgments in personam bind only parties and privies to facts in issue (vide Notes under s 40). So a judgment which operates as res judicata is relevant in a subsequent suit (vide s 40). So also judgments, orders, or decrees are relevant if they relate to matters of public nature relevant to the enquiry (vide s 42). Now the question is whether judgments, which are not judgments in rem, nor public nature section. Such are presumed to be faithfully recorded and as such is proof of its own existence, date and of its legal consequences not simply inter partes, but against all the world, but not of the truth of the fact on which it rested. In other words, the law attributes unerring verity to the substantive as opposed to the judicial portions of the record. Phil Ev 392. Thus where A has been tried and acquitted of a crime against B and afterwards sues B for malicious prosecution the record in the criminal trial is conclusive evidence of A's acquittal, but it is no proof whatever that A was innocent or that B was the prosecutor, or actuated by malice. Leyath v Tollerley 14 East 302, Purcell v Macnamara, 9 East 36; Leyman v Lalimer 3 Ex D 352 354 Phil Ev 392. Such judgments are also relevant under section 43 of the Evidence Act if the existence of such judgment is a fact in issue, or is relevant under some other sections (vide section 43). Hill v Clifford, (1907) 2 Ch 936. Otherwise such judgments when tendered against strangers are not admissible. Fontaine Moreau 111 more commonly, on 11 C L R 530. Ordinarily a statement of opinion made by the Judge in a previous judgment not inter partes is no evidence in a subsequent case. Harnath v Mohanlal, A. I. R 1929 Lah 123-10 L L J 519. Under section 13 a judgment is relevant if its existence is a transaction under clause (a) or its existence be considered an instance under clause (b). Tripu Khan v Bhopal 2 C W N 501 504. On this point there is some conflict of opinion and it is better to treat the decisions of different tribunals under separate headings.

English Cases. — W v W 1 App Cas 135; Bland non repairs of and judgments for the recovery of prescriptive tolls (City of London v Mather 181, Laybourn v Crisp, 4 M & W 320) are admissible as relevant facts.

when the right to the land, the way, or the toll respectively is in question. S.
Wills. Ex 61.

Calcutta Cases. A judgment in a former suit brought by other parties distance r in such Doss, 22

3, and Goroo

arose in 1880 in Gwyn Lall v Fetteh Lall, 6 C 171, which was a suit to recover possession of the land covered by right, and alleges that B was passed, the former judgment would be right, see Sooromonee D Krishna Behari v Brojeswar, 2 Evidence as at present administered in England, it would equally be considered conclusive, and, if not conclusive, at least as cogent evidence in the subsequent suit. Was it intended by the Evidence Act to declare such judgment as this irrelevant? But it would be irrelevant unless it be relevant either under s 11 or s 13. It is not relevant under s 40, because its existence does not by law prevent the Court from taking cognizance of the second case. Under the circumstances, I apprehend it would be relevant.

at least in some cases not being admissible under ss 41 and 42, but relevant under some other provision of the Evidence Act. It is not relevant under s 13, but it is relevant under s 11, as being a fact in issue in the first suit, and as being a fact in issue in the second suit. It is to be highly relevant in these reasons.

However the Full Bench in Guyy Lal v Fateh Lal Ramcooma Nath v Br Brojendra Nath was followed in Srigobind, 24 C 330; see also the case of Surender Nath v the Full Bench, McDonell and have contended before us that the Evidence Act, and that the Guyy Lal v Fateh seems to be a full Bench decision.

Full Bench in Guyy Lal v Fateh Lal Ramcooma Nath v Br Brojendra Nath was followed in Srigobind, 24 C 330; see also the case of Surender Nath v the Full Bench, McDonell and have contended before us that the Evidence Act, and that the Guyy Lal v Fateh seems to be a full Bench decision.

The Full Bench in Guyy Lal v Fateh Lal Ramcooma Nath v Br Brojendra Nath was followed in Srigobind, 24 C 330; see also the case of Surender Nath v the Full Bench, McDonell and have contended before us that the Evidence Act, and that the Guyy Lal v Fateh seems to be a full Bench decision.

It seems to us that the question raised before us is of considerable importance, and one which often arises in our Courts, and we therefore think it necessary to refer the following question to a Full Bench: Whether under the Evidence Act, a judgment in a previous suit, in which the parties were not arrayed as plaintiff and defendant, but in which the parties were not arrayed as plaintiff and defendant, is relevant in a subsequent suit in which the parties are arrayed as plaintiff and defendant, if the judgment in the previous suit was a judgment in which the parties were not arrayed as plaintiff and defendant, but in which the parties were not arrayed as plaintiff and defendant.

the circumstances stated, the judgment in the previous case is evidence or not " S. 1. But again the Wilson, O K the question think, concluded by the two Full Bench cases, Gujju Lal v Fattch Lal supra and Brojo Behari Mitter v Kedar Nath Mo undin, 12 C 580 (F B)" The Full Bench neither discussed the question nor tried to distinguish the cases referred to in the order of reference Mitter I however dissented from the view taken by the Full Bench

The question again arose in a suit for rent in which the amount of land held by the defendant was questioned, and it was contended that the land must be measured with a hath of 21½ inches and not one of 18 inches, as claimed by the plaintiff Zamindar. Certain decrees obtained by the Zamindar against other tenants in the same pergunnah in suits in which 18 inches had been taken as the hath were tendered in evidence in support of the plaintiff's contention that the customary hath in the pergunnah was one of 18 inches. In that case such decrees were admissible in evidence under the provisions of s 13 of the Evidence Act, as they furnished evidence of particular instances in which a custom was claimed. Of course such decrees and judgments are clearly admissible under s 42 of the Evidence Act as being judgments and decrees which relate to matters of a public nature relevant to the enquiries, i.e. the measurement of the hath in the pergunnah. But the Court admitted the judgments under s 13 of the Evidence Act Jianutulla v Romoni Kant, 15 C 233

In Jianutulla Sheikh v Inn Khan, 21 C 693 it was held that a decree for possession made by a Court under s 9 of the Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) in a suit beyond the pecuniary limits of that Court's jurisdiction, although not res judicata, is some evidence of dispossession by the defendant in a subsequent suit against the same defendants to recover mesne profits. In delivering the judgment the Court observed at p 697. "It was argued for the respondent, on the authority of Gujju Lal v Fattch Lal, 6 C 171 (F B), Brojo Behari v Kedar Nath, 12 C 580, and Sunder Nath v Brojo Nath, 13 C 352 (F B) that the decree, if not conclusive evidence is not evidence at all; but the decrees which it was sought to put in evidence in those cases were not inter partes. In Madhu Sudan Saha Mundal v Brae, 16 C 300, the Full Court held that an ex parte, decree for arrears of rent did not of rent res judicata, but the ques-

The case of Run Bahadur v Luc although not conclusive evidence

There the survivor of two brothers, claiming the whole estate by survivorship, brought a suit in the Court of the Subordinate Judge against the widow of the deceased brother who claimed her husband's share as her separate estate and the question was whether the brothers were joint or separate in estate. The decision of a Munsif in a rent suit between the same parties was put in to show that the brothers were separate. The Judicial Committee held that the judgment was ad as evidence to which some when the question again came up

Terju Khan v Rajam Mohun

it was whether a judgment in a previous suit by a co-sharer of the plaintiff for the recovery of possession of two thirds is admissible in evidence in the plaintiff's suit against the same defendants for the recovery of possession of the remaining third share of the same property. Mr Justice Bajorjee in referring the case to the Full Bench observed at pp 524—528. If the cases of Gujju Lal v Fattch Lal 6 C 171 (F B) and Sunder Nath v Brojo Nath 13 C 352 (F B) upon the authority of which the lower Appellate Court has held the judgments tendered in evidence for the defendants to be inadmissible are good law the first ground urged before us must fail. But if the cases have in effect been overruled by the decisions of the Privy Council in Ram Rungia v Ram Narayan 22 C 243—247 I A 60 and Bhutto Kunwar v Kesho Persad 24 I A 10—11 C W N 202 then the question arises whether the judgments referred to are admissible in evidence. In the two cases relied upon by the lower Appellate Court namely Gujju Lal v Fattch Lal, 6 C 171 and Sunder Nath v Brojo Nath 13 C 352 it was held by this Court that a former judgment which is not a judgment in rem nor one relating to matters of a public nature, is not admissible in evidence in a subsequent suit either as res judicata or as proof of the particular point decided, unless between the same parties or those claiming under them. But in the case of Ram Ranjan Chakrabarti v. Ram Narain Singh, 23 C 533=22 I A 60, it was held that a judgment passed in a suit to which the plaintiff plaintiff as evidence showing the rent Pershad, 24 I A 10=1 C W N speaking of judgment in a former suit against one of the defendants Bacha Teuani, observe 'this decision is not conclusive against Bacha Teuani, if the suit is not between the same parties as the present suit' but their Lordships agreed once against him. These in effect over ruled the being so the question as to the relevancy of the judgment, that is, the circumstance that a particular judgment was passed, is clearly a fact within the meaning assigned to the term in section 13. Next as to relevancy of the judgment in suit no 732 of 1887 under section 13. The meaning of the the meaning of the the judgment took the meaning of the term as used in the section. The judgment therefore is, in my opinion, relevant under section 13. If such judgments were not relevant under either of the two sections 11 and 13, they could not be admissible in evidence above evidence (see Tay bound by proceedings to which he was a stranger and on a conduct of which evidence being left to the Court to determine. And in the second place the reason stated above, though it is a good reason for excluding from consideration as against a stranger, the evidence offered by a stranger as far as it is the opinion of a Court upon matter stranger could have had no

Pal v Broja Nath Pal, have been referred to, I feel bound to express my opinion that having regard to the recent observations of the Privy Council in the case of Ram

S.

In Abinash Chandra Chatterjee v Paresh Nath Ghosh, 9 C W N 402 the Court agreed with the view taken by the Full Bench in Tepu Khan v Rajan, a quite 44 the e judg- ed for

It is well settled that although a judgment not inter partes may be used in evidence in certain circumstances, as a fact or as a relevant fact, of possibly as a transaction, (Ram Ranjan v Ramnaram 22 C 593; Ditto v Kesho Pershad 24 I A. 24=1 C W N 265, Dinomoni v Brojo Mohini 29 I A 24=6 C W N 386, Tepu Khan v Rajan, 25 C 52=2 C W N 501; Malcomson v O'Dea, 10 H L C 593 and Bristow v Cormican, 3 App Cas 641) the recitals in the judgment The principle is from their sumed to be dence for or istence, date rendered, in is opposed to judgment of therein and the first ground must prevail

1933 A 1 R Cal 240-56 C L J

in this connection we cannot over- 113 I Under correction of the previous decision but the fact that there had been a decision that is established by the production of the judgment This is clear from the decisions of the Judicial Committee in Ram Ranjan v Ram Narain, 22 I A 60=22 C 593; Ditto Kunua v Kesho Persad 24 I A 10=19 A 277, Dinomoni v Brojo Mohini, 29 I A 24=29 C 187, Ramprokash v Anand 43 I A 73=43 C 707=24 C L J 116, and Natal Lau Co v Good L R 2 P C 121 and of the House of Lords in Malcomson v O'Dea, 10 H L C 593 and Bristow v Cormican, 3 App Case 641 This fundamental distinction was not fully appreciated in the Court below, and references were made to the

ness ment B). inter it is a previous judgment under section 11 or section 13 in certain circumstances may be "The cases so contemplated considered that the subject matters in the two suits were not identical. It is difficult to understand how it can be said that the subject matters in the two suits were different. The amounts claimed were no doubt different and the claimants were not the same. But the real dispute in the two suits was as to what the amount of rent was. Their lordships of the Judicial Committee in Ram Ranjan v Ram Narain 22 C 533 at p 542 held that the judgment in a previous suit would be evidence for the purpose of showing what the amount of the rent was. It is to be observed also that in a case that was decided in this Court subsequent to the decision in Abdul Ali v Raj Chandra Das, 10 C W N 1081, namely in the case of Dyom Kesh v Jagadishwar, 22 C W N 304=40 Ind Ca 44, it was held that a decree obtained by a co-sharer landlord is admissible in evidence as to the rate of rent in a subsequent suit for rent brought by another co-sharer landlord. On a consideration, therefore, of authorities on the point and specially of the observations of their lordships of the Judicial Committee in Ram Ranjan v Ram Narain I am of opinion that the learned subordinate Judge was wrong in law when he held that the decree in the previous suit was inadmissible in evidence. In my opinion the decree was admissible, and that being so the case must go back to the lower appellate Court to have the appeal reheard. It should be noted in this connection that in this case as well as in the case reported in 22 C W N 304 the co-sharer landlord plaintiff relied on the previous decree of his co-sharer landlord against the tenant defendant who was also a party to the previous suit. But in Kanto Mohun Mullick v Jadab Chandra Khara 4 I R 1929 Cal 353 which was decided by another Bench of the Calcutta High Court on the previous day and in which it appears the plaintiffs appellants were the same as in the case reported in 1928 A I R Cal 355, it was held that a decree obtained by a co-sharer landlord in a previous suit was not admissible in evidence as to rate of rent in a subsequent suit for rent by another co-sharer landlord. But in that case the distinguishing feature was that the tenants respondents wanted to use the previous decrees obtained by the plaintiffs co-sharer landlords against the plaintiff. In delivering the judgment Uffer J said "On the merits it has been argued by the learned advocate for the appellant that the lower appellate Court has committed an error in law in deciding the appeal on its admissible evidence. It is said that Exs A, C and D are decrees which were obtained by plaintiffs co-shares against the defendants, and as the plaintiff who represents the estate of the late Bibu Manik Lal Seal was not a party to the suit in which the decrees were not inter partes and consequently are not admissible in evidence. Reliance has been placed in support of this contention on two decisions of this Court in the case of Abdul Ali v Raj Chandra Das 10 C W N 1081 and Pren Chand Vanlal v Official Trustee of Bengal 27 C W N 56 of the notes portion. The first two decisions support the appellant's case. The last decision which takes the contrary view, was an ex parte decision in an appeal in which the respondents were not represented. The learned advocate for the respondent argued that having regard to the decision of the Judicial Committee in the case of Ram Ranjan v Ram Narain 22 C 233=22 I A 60 such decrees by co-sharer landlords, as were admitted and acted upon by the learned Additional District Judge in this case could be treated as evidence, however weak the value of such evidence might be. But the distinction between Ram Ranjan v Ram Narain and the present case lies in the fact that the observations of the Judicial Committee were limited to cases where the subject matter of the previous judgment was identical with the subject matter of the suit in which those judgments were sought to be offered as evidence and their lordships held that under s 13, Evidence Act such judgments could be treated as evidence of a transaction within the meaning of that section. Here the suit by the co-sharer was in respect of his own share of the rent in the previous suit to which the present plaintiffs were not parties. Consequently the decrees A, C and D did not refer to the same subject matter to which the present suit relates. That was a distinction which was noticed in the Full Bench case in Tepu Khan v Jagann Mohan Das 25 C 522=2 C W N 501 (F B) and the majority of the Full Bench held that, where the subject matter of the previous judgments was not identical with the subject matter of the suit in which such judgments were sought to be introduced as evidence the earlier judgments could not be held admissible."

13

In Abdul Ali v Bychantra, 10 C W N 1051, although the plaintiff landlord wanted to use the decree of his co-sharer landlord against the same tenant defendant, it was disallowed by the High Court on the ground "that if such decrees for rent were obtained by a co sharer or co sharers for his or their share of the rent they are neither conclusive between the Plaintiff and the rayat Defendant, nor are they admissible in evidence between them, the subject matter

S.

a pro forma Defendant but which decree was obtained more than a year after the decision of the suit in question

Ex parte decrees for rent obtained by a landlord against the heirs of a tenant and satisfied by the latter are evidence of the existence of the tenancy at the date of these decrees Anukul Chandra v Kamala Kanta Roy, 67 Ind Cas 787 A decree obtained by a two auna co-sharer for enhancement of rent of his share is admissible in evidence in a subsequent suit for enhancement of rent by other co-sharers Sarat Soondary Dabia v Anund Mohun, 5 C. 273=4 C L R 448

Bombay cases The first Bombay case in which this point arose was the case of Narany v. Dipa Umed, 3 B 3 In that case Hestrop C J said at p 5 "Under the law as it stood before the Indian Evidence Act (1 of 1872) came into force, those decrees were conclusive, in as much as the right to the churda hak was established by them as the foundation on which the arrears claimed in the suits in which those decrees were made, were recovered by the plaintiffs in those suits—Soorjomonee Dayee v Sudanand Mohapatra, 12 B L R 304 P C, Arishna Behari Roy, v Brojeswari Choudranee 2 I A 283 If not conclusive since the Evidence Act (1 of 1872) came into force, those decisions are, at least, admissible in evidence under section 13 of that enactment for the purpose of

of it will be very different where it was given in a suit to which the person against whom it is used was not a

it is clear in a sub dissent

Judge adopted the view taken by majority of the full bench in Gujra Lal v cases almost, if not quite, conclusive, e, etc." But Sargent C J

the learned

1 B 591 at p 599 Ranade J in trying

"The real question at issue was if the partition deed of 1895 Though the decision in the former suit will not estop the respondents defendants from contesting the claim as being res judicata, still the record and the judgment in that case, showing the conduct of the parties, and the admissions would be admissible evidence under section 13 The interpretation placed upon the

6 C 171 seems not to as is questioned in ctor of Gorakhpur v such judgments from

are judgments not in rem, or where they relate to public matters, judgments inter partes have been always held not to be res judicata, but they cannot be

wholly excluded for other purposes in so far as they explain the nature of possession, or throw light on the motives or conduct of parties or identify property. The cases show that such judgments may have very high value as evidence and may even shift the burden of proof—Neamat Ali v. Goro Das, 22 W. R. 365. In a subsequent case it was said: "The judgments thus rejected were not inter partes but were in suits brought by other creditors against the same defendants in which the existence of the partnership claimed in this suit was asserted with success. The admissibility of such judgments would, apart from authority, be a question of some difficulty but it appears to me that the present case cannot fairly be distinguished from that of Lalshman Goward Sher v. Anrit Gopal." Born L. R. 356. 4 B. 591 is only heard and decided by Paras and Rana L. J. who dealt most exhaustively with this question. Per Jenkins C. J. in Gowindji Sher v. Chhota Lal L. J., Born L. R. 471. Assuming that to be so I think it right to point out that for a judgment to be admissible, it is not in all cases necessary that it should be either a judgment inter partes or a judgment in rem as will appear from the characterizations of the Privy Council in the cases of Pam Panyan v. Ram Narain, 3 C. 33 and Bitto Kumar v. Kesho Pershad, 24 I. A. 10-19 A. 277 (P. C.) and the remarks thereon in Ispu Khan v. Rajani Mohun Das, 3 C. 522. Speaking generally it may be said in this connection that though a judgment not inter partes may not be proof of facts there stated, it is a fact itself for the purpose of explaining the character in which possession of the estate has been enjoyed and matters of that class. Per Jenkins C. J. in Ganesh Dharmji v. Dhundray, 5 Born L. R. 230. The Plaintiff, a Mahomedan, brought a suit against his brother brother's wife and the widow of a deceased brother to recover possession of a house on the strength of a registered sale deed procured to the plaintiff by his deceased father. Subsequent to the sale to the plaintiff, certain mortgagees of the father brought a suit on the mortgage against the plaintiff his father and mother. In the said suit the sale to plaintiff was held to be a sham transaction and the plaintiff had to pay off the mortgage. In the suit brought by the plaintiff for the recovery of the house on the strength of the sale deed the defendant relied on the judgment in the suit on the mortgage to show that the sale was a colourable transaction. The first Court allowed the claim but the Judge in appeal dismissed it on the ground that the purchase by the plaintiff from his father was not proved to be bona fide. On second appeal by the plaintiff a question having arisen as to the admissibility in evidence of the judgment in the suit on the mortgage Russell A. C. J. said: "We have had addressed to us very lengthy arguments upon the question of whether that judgment is admissible at all or not and in my opinion it is impossible to hold that the judgment in this case comes within either the word transaction in section 13 or particular instances in that section. But although this is so the proceedings in that suit would come within the words particular instances in which the right was claimed for I think that we are bound by the decision of Sir Charles Sargent in Panchhodas v. Bapu Nathar, 10 B. 439 (417) where he says that 'rights and customs in section 13 must be understood as comprehending all rights and customs recognized by law and therefore including a right of ownership. Further, for my part I cannot distinguish the present case from the case of Lakshman v. Anrit supra, which was followed in Gowindji Chhotalal supra and see also the case of Dharmidhar v. Dhundray, 5 Born L. R. 230 a decision of the Chief Justice and Mr. Justice Batty. It appears to me, therefore, that proceedings in the suit of 1886 should be admitted as relevant evidence in the present suit for it must be remembered that the present plaintiff and the defendants either by themselves or their predecessors were parties to that suit of 1886. In the same case Beman J. observed: 'The question is whether this judgment not being inter partes is admissible and if so, what is its precise probative value? I should add that the plaintiff alleges that the sale was made to him by his father who was the judgment debtor in the suit of 1886. The relevancy of judgments of Courts of Justice is regulated by sections 40-43, Indian Evidence Act. Section 40 merely enacts that the existence of any judgment, order or decree which by the provisions of section 13 Civil Procedure Code, constitutes res judicata is a relevant fact. Section 41 without attempting any precise or exhaustive definition aims at and probably does let in all judgments in rem proper. Section 42 provides that judgments orders or decrees other than those mentioned in section 41, are relevant if they relate to matters of a public nature relevant to the enquiry. Section 43 declares all judgments, orders decrees other than those specified in sections 40, 41, 42, to be irrelevant unless the existence of the judgment is itself a fact in issue, or is relevant under some other section of the Act It is not contended that the fact of the judgment is itself a fact in issue, but it is contended that the existence of the judgment is relevant under some other provision of the Act. In order to bring it in, a defendant has undable array of a . . . parties to exam . . .

case were . . .

the registered instruthe pi is of course c the Court to and another dity of this of consideration exp-whe
its first ques-which are question is ther words
the Act

It certainly is not a fact in issue, but it is contended that it is relevant under section 13. To satisfy the requirements of that section the question must be served the purpose. What class of cases the section was intended to meet is as plain as possible not only from its language but from the illustrations. And those are cases in which the right or custom in question is regarded as capable of survey and report may be

nizing been given

the Court should or should not decree it. I confess I do not find it easy to understand how that language can without absurdity be applied to such a case as this. Let us substitute it for the illustration "The question is whether a sale-deed is fraudulent, [that the same sale-deed and particular instar genuine, but other per which is created by proof or disproof by particular instances of assertion and denial, and is therefore plainly and essentially distinguishable from all the rights which are denoted in section 13. The . . .

decisive in being whether that the 'custom' has since been dissented from and at present it must be conceded that of authority favours the extension of the term 'right', to include any and every right known to the law. Against that opinion, might well be advanced the fact that the Courts have been most particular conclusive but it is still conclusive of its own subject-matter. It takes the judgment qua judgment as relevant to the extent of its subject-matter and contents, then cadit questio, for in that judgment it was held that the sale-deed is relevant must, I think, be of the the leading cases it is not conclusive while relevant it is not be to the integrity of the judgment, namely that no matter what its subject offered a I suppose conclusive, it can only judge or not judgment, whether that adopting the most comprehensive view, and allowing to rights the possible meaning, judgments brought in under section 43 and section 13 must either 'transactions' or instances. All the best authorities, I think agree that contents, certainly in not such simplest and most convenient instance, namely the assertion of the right. So limited, the admissible only as the simplest proof of a transaction, or an instance. It cannot be taken than it is held to be habitually improper reason. Under which he slight on that a parties, for purposes of section 13, cannot be allowed to use its contents qua judgment virtually thereby converting it into a res judicata. That is the distinction which I have set myself to bring out clearly and I hope simply and intelligibly." Mahamad v. Hasan, 31 II 143. In a suit for damages for malicious prosecution, the following it as mages v. Rai of the Court ntirely contrary to that Court's decree. The judgment although not inter partes is a relevant fact under section 42 of the Evidence Act and under section 13 is also a very important piece of evidence. In re Enya Sidhya, A I R 1927 Bom 654=29 Bom L R 715=102 Ind Cas 546.

Allahabad cases. In the Allahabad High Court the question was fully discussed in the case of the Collector of Gorakhpur v. Palak Dhar Singh, 12 A 1 death F brought a suit against D, whom the Collector as manager of the Court of Wards had accepted as the minor son of K, and against the Collector as Uthman v. Humam Suami v. Apparu, certain person was or was not the heir nor a fact within the meaning of s 13. Sargent O J. and Mr. Justice Nanabhai B 439, that the majority of the Full Bench of the Calcutta High Court in Gujju Lal Fatteh Lal, 6 C 171, put too narrow a construction on the word 'right' in s 13 and that 'right' there includes not only incorporeal rights but a right of ownership. There are no words in s 13 which could not be applied to a right of ownership, but it is difficult to see what could, within the meaning of s 13, clause (a), be a 'transaction by which the right' of a man to have it declared that he is not or the meaning word 'right' is same. In my view, may be a right or custom alleged r in suit Pankhar

ne of eviins as at
the

3. Legislature in framing s 13 that a party to a suit could not give evidence of particular instances in which a custom, for example, was exercised or recognised, but that the other party to the suit had recognised or had exercised such party could not give evidence without showing that the former suit was inter partes. For the reasons already stated I am of opinion that the record of the previous suit in which the same case Straight in the judgments in which they were action took place they are the best evidence. Garth O. J remarks, (in 6 O 171) 'by a somewhat proper expression in connection with such a matter, thus — "what has been said at the bar is certain" parties in judicial opinion the suit of "transaction" in w Singh was asserted and recognised, and the judgments and decrees of 1874 are the best evidence of that transaction I should also have no difficulty, if it were necessary to do so, in holding that the defendant is entitled to put forward the suit of 1873 as an 'instance' in which the right of which I have spoken was claimed and recognised As I have remarked before, the question is not as to the existence of the judgments and decrees of 1874 as a fact in issue or a relevant fact under some other provision of the Evidence Act, but whether evidence" is stated by Gajju Lal of the Statute (I of 1872) was that a judgment such as that of Mr Justice Turner and my brother Brodhurst of 1874 would be admitted in evidence" Before this case, in Shadal Khan v Aminullah Kahn, 4 A 92 at p 96, Duthoit J said "The 6 O 171 and rity set up a cases in which a similar of the Evidence Act. Ind Cas 142 In a suit for foreclosure one of the defendants contended that he was a minor at the date of executing the mortgage, and so not competent to enter into a contract In judgments in proof of the defen Held that the judgments were not passed not being instances in which Musammal Dulari, though not conclusively show the conduct of parties or particular instances made by the parties or their predecessors in title or to identify property or to show how it had been previously dealt with Gobinda Krishna v Abdul Qayyum, 25 A 546—A W. N. 1903, 137 The author applied Code to set aside it to be relied on s 153 A Penal Kali Charan v 85—A. I. R. 1927

Madras Cases. In Subramanayan v Parmaswaran, 11 M 116 123 the Madras High Court concurred with the majority of the Full Bench of the Calcutta High Court. So also in Ramaswami v Appavu, 12 M 11 where a suit was brought by the trustee of a temple to recover from the owners of certain lands in certain villages money claimed under an alleged right as due to the temple and where judgments in other suits under the same right had been decreed were held relevant under s 13 of the Evidence Act in which the right claimed had been ascertained that such judgments not being 'transactions' or 'facts', they are not admissible under s 13 of the Evidence Act. The matter of a public nature within the meaning of s 42 of the same Act, and that the Act, and that the but the judgments in that case; the question for determination in the previous suits was whether payments then claimed, and which are in contest in the present suit, were claimable as of right, and in one case whether they are so claimable from a particular class of persons, viz Christians; and it appears to us that, when a right of the character now in question is at issue, such judgments are admissible in evidence as evidence of particular instances in which the right or custom was claimed and in which its exercise was disputed asserted or departed from, and was further dealt with under the same Act. there is evidence of such villages—that from those who now reside in a large number of villages in the vicinity of the temple (see Exhibit F) the payment claimed is demanded as of right, and—that such payments have been made after suits from time to time brought and determined in reference to the liability of persons occupying lands in these villages, and this being so, we are further of opinion that the decisions in the former suits are decisions which relate to 'matters of a public nature' within the meaning of s 42 of the same Act. from that claimed a of the Evidence Act the finding is not only made but also alleged claim app claim upon evidence of custom in the sense of payments extending over a long series of years the existence of a right may, in connection with other circumstances possibly be inferred and the dismissal of the appellants suits for the reasons stated are inadmissible as evidence

Act, and that the but the judgments in that case; the question for determination in the previous suits was whether payments then claimed, and which are in contest in the present suit, were claimable as of right, and in one case whether they are so claimable from a particular class of persons, viz Christians; and it appears to us that, when a right of the character now in question is at issue, such judgments are admissible in evidence as evidence of particular instances in which the right or custom was claimed and in which its exercise was disputed asserted or departed from, and was further dealt with under the same Act. there is evidence of such villages—that from those who now reside in a large number of villages in the vicinity of the temple (see Exhibit F) the payment claimed is demanded as of right, and—that such payments have been made after suits from time to time brought and determined in reference to the liability of persons occupying lands in these villages, and this being so, we are further of opinion that the decisions in the former suits are decisions which relate to 'matters of a public nature' within the meaning of s 42 of the same Act. from that claimed a of the Evidence Act the finding is not only made but also alleged claim app claim upon evidence of custom in the sense of payments extending over a long series of years the existence of a right may, in connection with other circumstances possibly be inferred and the dismissal of the appellants suits for the reasons stated are inadmissible as evidence of such villages—that from those who now reside in a large number of villages in the vicinity of the temple (see Exhibit F) the payment claimed is demanded as of right, and—that such payments have been made after suits from time to time brought and determined in reference to the liability of persons occupying lands in these villages, and this being so, we are further of opinion that the decisions in the former suits are decisions which relate to 'matters of a public nature' within the meaning of s 42 of the same Act. from that claimed a of the Evidence Act the finding is not only made but also alleged claim app claim upon evidence of custom in the sense of payments extending over a long series of years the existence of a right may, in connection with other circumstances possibly be inferred and the dismissal of the appellants suits for the reasons stated are inadmissible as evidence nger by Ammalayyanger w suits brought by him in 1836 layyanager then (deceased) as Varadayyanger, the adopt It has been objected on be are inadmissible as evidence

As pointed out by this Court in Durga v. Durga 11 M 116 Copies of judgments and decrees in reference to the decision of the majority in Gijju Lal v. Fatteh Lal 6 C 111 na v. Avulla, 15 M 19 (23) the object for which it was sought to use the former judgment in Gijju Lal v. Fatteh Lal 6 C 171 was to show that in another suit against another defendant the plaintiff had obtained an adjudication in his favour on the same right and it was held that the opinion expressed in the former judgment was not a relevant fact within the meaning of the Evidence Act. The case is clearly different where the previous judgment is produced not in order to prove an adjudication between third parties but in order to prove a statement made by a predecessor in title of the party against whom the document is sought to be used. Cf. Parbutty Dass v. Purno Chunder Singh 9 C 586 and Tanar Konda 15 M 378. Such is the case here and we have no doubt that the judgments in question are relevant under section 35 of the Evidence Act. A judgment is relevant under section 13 of the Indian Evidence Act only as an instance of an assertion of a right against third parties. The remarks in the judgment cannot be treated as evidence. They are the mere opinion of a person who is not before the Court. v. Humara 15 M 11. A judgment is not binding on an individual. Evidence Act. It judgments not inter partes will be admissible under section 13 of the Evidence Act as afford instances of a local custom or usage being recognised. Sundaram Aiyar v. Theesilaram 40 Ind Cas 159. Section 43 says that judgments, orders or decrees in sections 40, 41 and 42 are irrelevant order or decree is a fact in issue or is a fact (e.g. section 13) Secretary of State v. Subraya Karanth 18 M L T 504-2 L W 1175-1191. 67 Ind Cas 971-44 M 778-41 M L 6 (F B). The fact that the ancestor of a man failed in a contested suit to prove the relationship of his line with the deceased fifty years ago when such an issue was much more susceptible of proof than it is now is evidence against the existence of the right of that line to claim as heirs of the deceased within the meaning of s. 13 of the Evidence Act. Secretary of State v. Subraya Karanth 18 M L T 504-2 L W 1175-1191. M W N 962. In Natesu Gramani v. Venkatarama Reddi 30 M 50 the question was whether water in poramboke lands belonging to mirasdars can be used to be Sircar water and taxed as such. "Very little evidence was tendered on either side. The zamindar called the Karnam who said that the poramboke were the property of the zamindar but did not speak to any act done in assertion of his ownership. The defendants on the other hand relied on a judgment of the District Munsif of Chingleput in original suits Nos 468 to 473 of 1835 as to the property of the mirasdars to recover possession of certain poramboke in the village in which it was held that the waste lands in this village are the property of the mirasdars. We think the judgment was evidence against the zamindar in the present suit under section 13 of the Indian Evidence Act." In Seetha Pathi v. Venkanna 45 M 332-66 Ind Cas 280 at p. 284. A mirasdar Sasri J. said "I think the correct principle has been laid down by Kach Nath Pal v. Jagat Kishore Acharyee 20 C W N 643-93. It is that although a judgment not recited in the judgment tries Oudh cases The question for decision was whether the appellant was the legitimate daughter of one K and R. The respondent contended that R was not the legally married wife of K and in proof of it produced a compromise and another person by which R obtained only a small sum and the decree passed in pursuance of the Evidence Act. Parbutty Dass v. Purno Chunder Singh 9 C 586 and Tanar Konda 15 M 378. Such is the case here and we have no doubt that the judgments in question are relevant under section 35 of the Evidence Act. A judgment is relevant under section 13 of the Indian Evidence Act only as an instance of an assertion of a right against third parties. The remarks in the judgment cannot be treated as evidence. They are the mere opinion of a person who is not before the Court. v. Humara 15 M 11. A judgment is not binding on an individual. Evidence Act. It judgments not inter partes will be admissible under section 13 of the Evidence Act as afford instances of a local custom or usage being recognised. Sundaram Aiyar v. Theesilaram 40 Ind Cas 159. Section 43 says that judgments, orders or decrees in sections 40, 41 and 42 are irrelevant order or decree is a fact in issue or is a fact (e.g. section 13) Secretary of State v. Subraya Karanth 18 M L T 504-2 L W 1175-1191. 67 Ind Cas 971-44 M 778-41 M L 6 (F B). The fact that the ancestor of a man failed in a contested suit to prove the relationship of his line with the deceased fifty years ago when such an issue was much more susceptible of proof than it is now is evidence against the existence of the right of that line to claim as heirs of the deceased within the meaning of s. 13 of the Evidence Act. Secretary of State v. Subraya Karanth 18 M L T 504-2 L W 1175-1191. M W N 962. In Natesu Gramani v. Venkatarama Reddi 30 M 50 the question was whether water in poramboke lands belonging to mirasdars can be used to be Sircar water and taxed as such. "Very little evidence was tendered on either side. The zamindar called the Karnam who said that the poramboke were the property of the zamindar but did not speak to any act done in assertion of his ownership. The defendants on the other hand relied on a judgment of the District Munsif of Chingleput in original suits Nos 468 to 473 of 1835 as to the property of the mirasdars to recover possession of certain poramboke in the village in which it was held that the waste lands in this village are the property of the mirasdars. We think the judgment was evidence against the zamindar in the present suit under section 13 of the Indian Evidence Act." In Seetha Pathi v. Venkanna 45 M 332-66 Ind Cas 280 at p. 284. A mirasdar Sasri J. said "I think the correct principle has been laid down by Kach Nath Pal v. Jagat Kishore Acharyee 20 C W N 643-93. It is that although a judgment not recited in the judgment tries admissible in evidence under section 13 of the Evidence Act to show the fact that the judgment was passed, and, therefore, it is necessary evidence of the following facts, who the parties to the previous suit were, what the land in dispute was; and who was declared entitled to retain possession. For this purpose, and to this extent, it is admissible. Mohammad, 65 Ind. Cas 398-8 O 1

whether a certain person is a legitimately born son, application for mutation with regard to revenue paying properties would be admissible under ss 13 and 50 of the Evidence Act. re ld be re Cts 46 case in which a member of the family had brought a similar suit for possession and obtained a decree was held admissible and relevant on the question of the

and the W. N. 73 Judgments relating to a particular right, although not inter partes but dealing with the same question are clearly admissible under s 13 of the Evidence Act. How Koley, v. Bhabu Ch. D. et al 2 O W N 645-97 Ind Cas 252-A 1 R set S.

suit against the appellants for possession of some lands in a village on the allegation that they had acquired title to the land in suit as well as the other land of the village by adverse possession. They filed a judgment in a suit brought by their father for a declaration of his title to the lands of that village, the title being based upon mortgages alleged to have become irredeemable. The decision was that he was entitled to 22 bighas and the rest of the claim was dismissed. In the course of that judgment the Court recorded an opinion that the plaintiff was proved to be in possession of the whole land now in suit but dismissed the claim except as to 22 bighas on the ground that the plaintiff though in possession had not proved title. The judgment was inter partes. Held that the question of possession of the land with regard to which the suit was dismissed was not res judicata. A bare expression of opinion in a judgment upon a question of possession not given effect to by the decree is not a recognition of a right within the meaning of section 13 of the Evidence Act and is not admissible in proof of possession either at the date of the judgment or at any other time. Karuna v Gobind, 7 Ind Cas 122

Patna cases Judgments not between parties to the suit pronounced by a mined on the facts of the case, and that the property attached to the quest 1928 Pat

 Section 1
Jhingur

to the gods of Dharmasala to A decree having been made in defendant for held that the Evidence Act,
 to the gods of finding that a particular person was not of sound mind based on the letter of a medical man is not admissible, either under s 13 or section 43 of the Evidence Act, in a subsequent suit to prove that the person, whose mental condition is in question, was not of a sound mind where the previous suit was not between the same parties and no formal deposition on oath of the medical men was recorded Sher Mahammal v. Fattah, 6 P R. 1902.

Nagpur Cases A Judgment though not inter partes may be admissible as evidence of title Yeshevan v. Daulat, 89 Ind Cas 663. Under section 13 tent jurisdiction in a either recognised or d Cas 699 But the

"Where a judgment was not in nor, between the parties to a subsequ ant for the purpose of the iswing the question in the before the Bench that by their Lordships of the which reference is made ships of the Privy Council in Uthay Narayan v. Kesho Prasad, their Lordships suit

 suit
 appli

that was
 the
 to in a 3-sent ent ow lear t of i year were
 the use
 of we 36
 the nce

of that fact in another case. It is urged that many Courts of India have decided the question under consideration in the affirmative. If this is the case the pronouncement in Gopika Raman v Atal Singh, supra, shows that the decisions are incorrect. I remark however, that in the rulings brought to the notice of the Bench either there is doubt whether there is decision of the question or the references to this question are in the nature of obiter dicta. Such is the nature in Baleshwar Bagarti v Bhagirathi Dass, 35 C. 701 at p. 716 and Secy of State v Ahmed at p. 801 of 44 Mad. In the Madras case the question whether the decision in the previous suit was evidence was not referred to the Full Bench. In Inder Singh v Fattch Singh, 1 Lah 540-59 Ind Cas 734, the question was emphatically answered in order to prove the existence of right property was dealt with in section 11 or 13 in so far as they or conduct of part ancestors and also embody an authoritative statement of the facts which the investigation then held before the Court brought to light, such judgments have very high evidentiary value and may even shift the burden of proof. Gopal v Sitaram, 97 Ind Cas 694-9 N L J 215.

Privy Council Cases. Concerning the effect of previous judgments their Lordships of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council decided cases on

R 338,) that the decree in a former suit was not a judgment in rem, but a judgment inter partes.

A zemindar claimed the proprietary right and possession of mouzas within the limits of his estate, and it was held that the decree in the former suit was not a judgment in rem, but a judgment inter partes.

was one of the year 1817, and another of 1813, to which the zemindar's predecessor am of opinion that the documents produced by the defendants may be accepted as evidence in this case, as showing ancient possession, and that the title on which the defendants now rely was openly asserted as early as 1195, B. S., corresponding to 1783 A. D. and at subsequent dates irrespective of the findings come to in those decrees. The orders passed in these decrees themselves would

3. not be evidence against plaintiff's title; but they may be accepted to show ancient possession an-years ago' The 'As regards the admissibility of the judgments to we observe that the lower Appellate Court has only used those judgments as evidence that there was litigation.

It uses those was suing the so-those suits the extent, we think he zemindar was it of 1817 a decree

for rent of the mouzas now in question was given at the rate of Rs 35 per annum, against the plaintiff. Taken, with the other that although competent

sion at and prior to that date, now nearly 80 years ago. Taken, with the other evidence in the case, the respondents have thus established possession at a date

60=
 530 erely n of all as were ring hind

in dispute was, and who was declared entitled to retain possession for this purpose and to this extent such orders are admissible in evidence for and against any one, when

Dinoman Chor
v. Abhal, 40 C

In a previous suit by H, a co-sharer of the plaintiff against the defendant to which the plaintiff was no party, H had recovered a decree for possession of H's share. Subsequently a partition of the property was made by deed between H, defendant, and plaintiff to work out the decree but without expressly referring to it. Held, that the decree was not conclusive in plaintiff's suit to recover his share from the defendant and might, had it stood alone be

Kumar
v. C act
 in
 for iter

Gopika Ramani v. Anai Singh, A 1 R 1931 P C 33 (102). A judgment of the partes holding that a partition of a certain estate was proved in only admisible under the provisions of ss 13 and 43 as establishing a particular transaction in which the partition of the estate was asserted and recognised. The reasons upon which the judgment is founded are no part of the transaction and cannot be so regarded nor can any finding of fact there come to, other than the transaction itself, be relevant to prove partition in a subsequent suit.
Gobinda v. Sham Lal, A 1 R 1931 P C 89=1931 M W N 435=35 C
 W. N. 521

gnizing the relevant as other place cannot be L J 757=
 or custom is cognised or judgments are
 v. Shil S. 1
 115, Nizam v

Abdul, A I R 1930 S	Beuat, S.
7 W R 210; Nallathal	Jhanda
10 A 58; Indra v	C 233;
Harnabh v Mandil, 27	v Bai
Santok, 20 II 53; Dalgi

in evidence of a transaction the parties are often apt to refer to the recitals therein as relevant evidence and the distinction between the deed as a transaction and the recitals contained in the deed is frequently overlooked. In the case of Duarka Nath Bishu v Makunda Lall Choudhury 5 C L J 55, which was a case in which a deed of sale and a mortgage deed though not inter partes containing recitals that a particular land belongs to a particular houla, was sought to be admitted in a suit in which the question was whether the land belonged to that houla or not, so far as can be made out of the facts from the report of the case, they were documents executed whose share the Plaintiff's father purporting to rely upon the case Vythilinga v Venkata Chala, 16 N section 11(b) and section 13 of the Evidence Act, and observed that they may be very weak evidence or even of no weight at all, but they could not be

re
b di
n

observed "We know of no between persons who have no power to bind a person whose right is sought thereby to affect can be admitted where the Court observed "It is argued that these documents are not admissible in evidence and the Courts below were not competent to take them as

3. of the parties to the suit was mentioned as owner of the boundary land but recent decisions have finally settled the point. At one time it was attempted to make such documents admissible in evidence under section 11 clause (2) of the Evidence Act.

rest on section

Act. It is not opinion that a document between strangers to the suit in which mention is made of one of the parties or their predecessors as holding the land lying on the boundaries of the lands belonging to the executants of the documents is not admissible in evidence. See also Brojo Mohan v Gaya Prosad, 30 C W N 761; Damodar v Jadunath, 91 Ind Cas 449, Kumuda v Dilsook, 45 C L J 133, Abdul Karim v Chhalla, 31 Ind Cas 688 (c), Hakim Ali v Amril, 108 Ind Cas 264, Abdul Ghani v Faquir Mahammad, A I R 1929 Lah 78=111 Ind Cas 261, Lajpat Rai v Faiz Ahmad, A I R 1927 Lah 448=8 Lah 651, Sarat Chandra v Saralabala, 105 Ind Cas 61. The case of Imril Chamar v Sirdhari Pandey, 15 C L J 7=17 C W N 108, which laid down that recital of boundaries in the lease was admissible against a person not a party took the contrary view. There have been later decisions which have not accepted this later view and the trend of the recent decisions is not to admit evidence which have been offered in the case and the reception of which evidence is objected to either under section 13 of the Indian Evidence Act or under in Kumuda Kumari v Dilsook, 45 C L J 133, Radha Nath Banerji v Jadu Nath v Sarbeswar Nag, 29 C W N 469. A person cannot be made admissible in evidence on the basis of the decision of the Privy Council in Leherbar, 49 I A. 36=41.

I am not prepared to differ from this decision. A document may also be admissible under section 13 if it contains a recital of the word 'right' in section 13 is not confined to an incorporeal right. See also Fazlul Ali v Zafar Ali, 46 Ind Cas 119, where the Privy Council followed an earlier decision.

three aspects. The first is, where the executant of a document is called as a witness and the document is executed by him, it is admissible in evidence. The second aspect of the question arises where the executants are alive and do not give their evidence in the case. In such cases there is a strong body of opinion that such documents are not admissible either under section 11 or 13 of the Evidence Act. This has not been done in the present case.

any such documents are not admissible. That such documents, if they have been held to be admissible, there is no question that under the English law a statement in such documents would be admissible. It is unnecessary to cite any English case other than the leading case of Hight v Ridgway, 10 East 109. Whether such evidence is admissible under the Evidence Act was considered in favour of its admissibility in several cases, the Privy Council in Sharmappa v Sharmappa, 10 East 109, and the Privy Council in our Court.

6 C W N 232=14 C L J 467. S.

in the case of Naiwar v Alkhu, 11 A.followed in this Court in ImritChamar v Sirdhars 15 C L J 9=17 C W N 108 and in the case of AmbarAli v Lutfi Ali, 45 C 159=25 C L J 619 " See also Abdul Rahim v Janabali,A I R 1923 Cal 299, Promotha v Bijoy A. I R 1927 Cal 234, but see*Promatha v Krishna* 28 C W N 1093; Kumud Kumari v Dilsook, 45 C L J.138, Ghulam v Kalim A I R 1928 Lah 428=10 Lah L J. 370 Trimbakv Ganesh, A. I R 1923 Nag 22In Kiran Chandra v Srinath Chakravarti, 31 C W N 135, the plaintiffs sought for possession of a certain parcel of land, the title of which was vested in the plaintiffs by a deed of rights as declared on three deeds by descendants

the title

deed on which the defendant's claim was based as purchasers at an execution sale and the third showed that delivery of possession under the purchase was made by the first

the

descendants of the original grantee as rent-free brahmottar land, and the other two documents are connected with the title of the defendants One of them is in fact the title deed upon which the defendant's claim was based as purchasers at an execution sale The other document shows that delivery of possession under that purchase was taken "

Where in a suit between two persons the question is whether or not the adjoining piece of land is nazul land, the recitals made by successive vendors of one of these persons whereby they purported to transfer the house with all the rights and appurtenances thereof

are not evidence of title but are evidence of possession and of the fact that the land was in the possession

of the person who

transferred it

and that the

land was in the possession

of the person who

transferred it

and that the

land was in the possession

of the person who

transferred it

and that the

land was in the possession

of the person who

transferred it

and that the

land was in the possession

of the person who

transferred it

and that the

land was in the possession

of the person who

transferred it

and that the

land was in the possession

of the person who

transferred it

and that the

land was in the possession

of the person who

transferred it

and that the officer in the discharge of his official duties and therefore furnish strong evidence of the authenticity of the facts stated therein Harihar Partap v Bisheshwar Baksh, 3 Luck 326=5 O W N 299=109 Ind Cas 422=A I R 1928 Oudh 307, Wasiq Ali v Athar Ali, 110 Ind Cas 4=A I R 1928 Oudh 409 Although an entry in the uajib-ul-arz is a means conclusive particularly not parties thereto Syed Tojam

752=A I R 1926 All 43 An entry as to a custom recorded in a uajib ul-arz against the authenticity of which nothing is shown, is of great importance Chaudhury Abdul v Ali Tahira Danoo, 13 O L J 167=3 O W N 357=89 Ind Cas 51=A I R 1926 Oudh 377 A uajib-ul-arz being part of a Revenue record is of greater authority than a runajam which is of general application and is not drawn up in respect of individual villages Gurbaksh v Partapa, 2 Lab 316=(1922) Lab 232=66 Ind Cas 133 In a suit for pre-emption, the plaintiff in proof of the custom produced an extract from the uajib ul arz of 1872, which was headed dustur-i-haq-i-shafa and provided that a co-sharer who

Cas 810

Draft record of right The draft record of right cannot be used as evidence of the presumption of the correctness of the entry made therein but the draft record is admissible for the purpose of showing what was the entry made in the earlier proceedings before the publication Hardeo v Kapil, 108 Ind Cas 417=A I R 1928 Pat 353

Order of a President of District Board A recitation in the orders of a President of a Union Board is not admissible under s 35 or 13 in evidence unless such president has been examined with regard to that recitation Doraisami v Kannappa Chetti, A I R 1931 Mad, 487

Road Cess papers An entry in a road cess return in which a former proprietor of an estate admitted the existence of a lakheraj, although not binding on the auction purchaser of the estate at a revenue sale, is evidence under section 13 of the Evidence Act Monmohun v Adicault, 19 Ind Cas 549 Under the meaning of the word plaintiff Manray, under section 13 of the Evidence Act to show the fact in only one way, and to support to where they can by other evidence be sufficiently connected with those facts. Starkie's Evidence, Vol. I. c. 67. The existence of a document of execution of S. 7 said: "Ancient documents . . . purporting on the face of them to show

They are admitted in such cases as forming part of every legal transfer of title and possession by act of parties Care is first taken to ascertain their "at the documents come any presumption or "negative of second"

act which they accompany; and where long-continued enjoyment, and user of a right, has been proved, extending as far back as the duration of human life will permit, a deed or writing which is consistent with such usage and enjoyment, and expl affording and acted ments we by lapse of as give i of, and w presumption as to the existence of the right according to that deed." Starkie's Ev. pp. 67, 68.

Admissible evidence—Illustrative cases. In a dispute relating to the

4

(1915) M W N 300. In Giris Chandra v Ku the purchasers of a tenant's tenure, a plot made of land under section 13. Jogesh a suit for partition between the widow of a deceased and a particular plot of coparcener land belonged to her husband such statement is clearly admissible evidence. In a suit for partition of the land, the recital of the will was foreseen by the institution of the plaintiffs. Nita

Inadmissible evidence—Illustrative cases Statements made in conveyance or mortgage that property is limited by certain boundaries are not admissible against person not party to the deed either under section 11 or under section 13 of the Evidence Act. Abdulla v Kunya Behari, 12 Ind Cas 149 = 14 C L J 467 = 16 C W N 252. In the absence of proof been executed in accordance with the provisions of ss 13 of the Evidence Act. Panda v Sundar Nar possession of certain lands as plaintiff's nishkar brohmattur, on behalf of the plaintiff, the will of the deceased. The recital of the brohmattur title held not admissible under s 13 of the Evidence Act. Satindra Kumar v Krishna Kumari, 36 Ind Cas 300 = 13 of the Evidence Act, is of no avail where the transactions were in respect of land other than the disputed land as there was not any transaction or particular of the land, recognised, asserted or proved. Certified copies of statements made in the presence of the parties and as evidence in 11 M or 11 M or 11 M used in a case that the hebanama was not admissible in evidence under s 31(7) read with s 13(a) of the Evidence Act. Bansi Singh v Mir Amir Ali, 11 C W N 703. Recitals of the claims contained in possessory orders passed under section 145 of the Criminal Pro Code, whether inter partes or not are not admissible in evidence to prove title under section 13 of the Evidence Act. Ram Sunder v Haribala 37 Ind Cas 911.

14 Facts showing the existence of any state of mind, such

Facts showing existence of state of mind, or of body, or bodily feeling, as intention, knowledge, good faith, negligence, rashness, ill-will or good-will towards any particular person, or showing the existence of any state of body or bodily feeling, are relevant, when the existence of any such state of mind or body or bodily feeling is in issue or relevant.

Explanation 1*—A fact relevant as showing the existence of a relevant state of mind must show that the state of mind exists, not generally, but in reference to the particular matter in question.

Explanation 2*—But where, upon the trial of a person accused of an offence, the previous commission by the accused of an offence is relevant within the meaning of this section, the previous conviction of such person shall also be a relevant fact.†

Illustrations

(a) A is accused of receiving stolen goods knowing them to be stolen. It is proved that he was in possession of a particular stolen article.

The fact that, at the same time he was in possession of many other stolen articles is relevant, as tending to show that he knew each and all of the articles of which he was in possession to be stolen.

‡(b) A is accused of fraudulently delivering to another person a counterfeit coin which, at the time when he delivered it, he knew to be counterfeit.

The fact that, at the time of its delivery, A was possessed of a number of other pieces of counterfeit coin is relevant.

The fact that A had been previously convicted of delivering to another person a counterfeit coin which he knew to be counterfeit is relevant.

Y and Z, and that they had

(d) The question is, whether A, the acceptor of a bill of exchange, knew that the name of the payee was fictitious.

person

(e) A is accused of defaming B by publishing an imputation intended to harm the reputation of B.

The imputation will on the part of A be relevant as showing reputation by

The facts that there was no previous quarrel between A and B, and that A was not insolvent, are relevant as showing supposed to be solvent relevant, as showing

(g) A is sued by B, the owner, by the order of C, a contractor.

A's defence is that B's contract was with C. The fact that A paid C for the work in question is relevant, as proving that A did, in good faith, make over to C the management of the work in question, so that C was in a position to contract with B on C's own account, and not as agent for A.

the place where A was, is relevant, as showing that A did not in good faith believe that the real owner of the property could not be found.

by : : : : : 10 a. 14, s. 1 (f)

by : : : : : (b) to s.

The fact that A knew, or had reason to believe, that the notice was given fraudulently by C, who had heard of the loss of the property and wished to set up a false claim to it, is relevant as showing that the fact that A knew of the notice did not disprove A's good faith.

(1) A is charged with the crime of _____ him. In order to show A's intent the fact _____ by be proved _____

(j) A is charged with threatening letters previously sent by A to B may be proved, as showing the intention of the letters

(h) The question is, whether A has been guilty of cruelty towards B his wife Expressions of their feelings towards each other shortly before or after the facts A's death was caused by poison ring his illness as to his symptoms are relevant

(m) The question is, what was the state of his health at the time and the state of his health at or near the time in

(n) A sues B for negligence in providing him with a carriage for hire not reasonably fit for use, whereby A was injured

The fact that B's attention was drawn on other occasions to the defect of that particular carriage is relevant

The fact that B was habitually negligent about the carriages which he let to hire is irrelevant

(c) A is tried for the murder of B by intentionally shooting him dead. The fact that A on other occasions shot at B is relevant as showing his intention to shoot B.

The fact that A was in the habit of shooting at people with intent to murder them is irrelevant

(p) A is tried for a crime
The fact that he said something indicating an intention to commit that particular crime is relevant

The fact that he said something indicating a general disposition to commit crimes of that class is irrelevant

Scope of the section 'Section 14 seems to me to apply to that class of cases which is discussed in Taylor on Evidence 6th Ed ss 318 to 322,—that is to say, cases where a particular act is more or less criminal or culpable, according to the state of mind or feeling of the person who does it, as, for instance in act of manslaughter or of murder, or in cases of malice on where malice similar coins in his possession, or had passed such coins before or after the

But I think we have no right to prove that a for which he is on trial, in other words, evidence of such collateral offense cannot be received as substantive evidence of the offence on trial, though S. 1 reduced to legal certainty by a conviction) to prove the existence of another missible to prove the main fact or the connection of the parties therewith, is receivable, after evidence abunde on the points has been given, to show the state of mind of the parties with regard to such fact; in other words, evidence of similar facts may be received to prove a party's knowledge of the nature of the main fact or transaction or his intent thereto. In general, whenever it is neces-riety, and the acts tendered must also have been proximate in point of time to that in question. It is plain that the principles thus formulated are of no assistance to the prosecution. Amrita v King Emperor, 19 C W N 676 (692), see received from the mother on representation of their desire to adopt it, and whose 18 L J M C 215—Corliss Cas 99 See also R v Rhodes, (1899) 1 Q B 47 where it was held that such evidence was admissible even when such acts were subsequent to the transaction in question, if they show a connected or entire scheme or system of operation. "The matter may be roughly stated thus: connected conduct on other occasions is never admissible to prove the act in question."—other state of mind. The rule.

With regard to criminal charges

Bra J summarised the law as follows—

A careful examination of the cases where evidence of this kind has been admitted shows that they may be grouped under the three heads—(1) where the prosecution seeks to prove a system or course of conduct, (2) where the prosecution seeks to rebut a suggestion on the part of the prisoner of accident or by the prisoner ales v Kerr (1908) 1 All ER 1111

2 I he had contracted barber's itch, owing to dirty materials. Evidence was allowed to be given that he had contracted such a complaint at the same shop, in order to show that the defendant

This ing of of actual facts Prithvi v Emperor 86 Ind Cas 970=29 C W 674 When the intention of the defendant is to show that he had contracted such a complaint at the same shop, in order to show that the defendant

ed simply evidence is particular in nature may have 5, see also Prithvi 1, 232 In Key v evidence is a thing to have been intentional by showing that it formed one of a series of similar occurrences. On Ex 126 or any of such a thing though principle is admitted. In nature may have 5, see also Prithvi 1, 232 In Key v evidence is a thing to have been intentional by showing that it formed one of a series of similar occurrences. On Ex 126 mistake It is not conclusive for a man may be many times under a similar mistake or may be many times dupe of another, but it is less likely he should be so oftener than once, and every circumstance which shows he was not under a mistake on any one of these occasions strengthens the presumption that he was not on the first and this is amply borne out by authorities. Where the crime charged is receiving stolen goods the possession of counterfeit money, or the like, the knowledge of the accused person becomes one of the material facts in issue, and other acts of similar nature are admissible. Thus in Com v Russell

156 Mass. 196-30 N. E. 763, Baker J said "The admission of such evidence is necessary, because guilt is evidence and can rarely be proved. Similarly in Id. "It seems clear upon principle that when the fact that the prisoner has done the thing charged is proved and the only remaining question is whether at the time he did it he had guilty knowledge of the quality of his act, or acted under a mistake, evidence of the class recited must be admissible. See also R v Bleasdale, 2 C & K 765 R v Hoag, 1 C & P 364, L v Lloyd, 7 C & P 318, R v Bholu, 23 A 124. Such evidence which is more often resorted to the jury not to show that because the defendant has committed one crime therefore he would be likely to commit another but to establish the animus of the act and rebut by anticipation the obvious defence of ignorance, accident, mistake or other innocent state of mind. Walsh v All Gen of N S Wales, (1894) A C 57, R v Bond, (1906) 2 K B 390, P v Armstrong (1922) 2 K B 555, Phip Ev 16"

States of mind or bodily feeling, how proved. Facts are either physical or psychological. Physical facts can be perceived by senses whereas the facts which are psychological can only be subject matter of consciousness. These psychological facts are also called internal facts. These are thoughts and feelings, love, hatred, anger, intention, will, wish, knowledge, opinion, are all perceived by the person who feels them. When it is affirmed that a man is affirmed that a man has a given intention, the matter affirmed is one which he, and he only, can perceive; when it is affirmed that a man is sitting or standing,

1. Alabama 20 C 11 App 463. These facts cannot be perceived by senses. But nevertheless it can be testified by the party himself or can be proved by presumptive evidence. It is the law in Alabama in the United States that a person whether it may be, other witness has been eye on false representations, or the gift, or to any other state of testify to it. Greene Ev § 398

14. testimony, or any other whatever, to the fact of a person's intent or motive, is of course receivable only on the assumption that the intent or motive is a fact permissible to be proved under the substantive law involved in the case. This assumption conditions the admissibility of all evidence and of this sort in particular. Here 's intent or motive is not Wignmore § 581. But when a very little credit. Phip Ex 51, Whart's 505

So far as presumptive mind of being aware or evidenced either (1) by o
- 9 - of persons indica tion of ward
circumstances

Two other questions arise in this connection, namely, (1) whether a person may testify to another person's intent or state of mind in general, this involves the principle of the adequacy of the sources of knowledge; (2) whether a person's testimony to another's intent or meaning by reason of the Opinion Rule. The evidence on the first ground is based on directly see or hear, or feel the state of another person's state of mind, hence such testimony is based on conjectural and therefore on inadequate data. "This argument," says Prof. Wigmore, is flimsy enough, and it proves too much for if valid it would forbid the jury to find a verdict upon the supposed state of a person's mind. If they are required and allowed to find such a fact, it is not too much to hear such testimony from a witness who has observed the person exhibiting in his conduct the operation of his mind." Wigmore § 661, see also

"The Law of Evidence" by J. H. Wigmore, 2d ed., Vol. 1, § 661, cited in the Federal Act, 31 Geo.

ly stated by
it has been
own breath,
argument,

it A man's intentions may be manifested known, may be sworn to with as much witness undertakes to swear in a thing of ill value is at what it is worth' As regards the second point i.e. exclusion of such evidence by virtue of Opinion Rule, it must be borne in mind that in ordinary human dealings, the formation and expression of estimates as to another's mental state is constant and necessary. There is no good reason why testimony about it, based on personal observation of the c. the Opinion Rule is c re-state to the jury to convey the imprec Frost's Trial, 22 H. Watson's Trial, 32 H of Thanet's Trial, 27.

So apart from the operation of the Opinion Rule, it is settled that where there is a question whether a person said or did something, the fact that he said or did something of the same sort on different occasion may be proved if it shows the existence on the occasion in question of any intention, knowledge, good faith, malice or other state of mind or of any state of body or bodily feeling, the existence of which is in issue or in or is deemed to be relevant to the issue, but such acts or words may not be proved merely in order to show that the person in question was likely on the occasion in question to say or do what is in issue. Ex Art 11. The Court can require a material fact in issue or a person immediately after the occurrence of his state of mind, but where else said to the accused, the better statement must be proved by direct oral evidence.

evidence of a person who heard is under section 60 of the Evidence Act Kakar Singh v. Emperor 81 Ind. C. 717 S.

of
or which we may infer the moving cause In point of time, conduct is closely associated with it

(2) External facts (prospectant) pointing forward to the probable coming into existence of the quality, for example, the victim's gold, as pointing forward to the defendant's probable desire to rob him, or the reputation of A's insolency, as pointing forward to the probable coming into existence of the quality.

retrospectant indication, and in various forms, namely prior or subsequent. Thus to prove the existence of the quality, the fact that the person was seen to be in possession of the gold, is a retrospectant indication, and in various forms, namely prior or subsequent.

also
(1)
to the existence of the quality.

States of mind, knowledge
States of mind, knowledge, intention, motive, and purpose.

In an instance, where there is a question of fraud, malice is intention, or negligence Cun Ev 120

Intention meaning, of Motive is that which induces a person to act in a certain way. Intention must be a mental condition termed 'intention' is manifest in action. It determines the nature of an act. It may be dependent on surrounding circumstances, or to causes beyond the person must have a motive, though it may not be discovered. So every sane person must have a motive, or not, unless his action is accidental or involuntary.

Motive is important. A man's motive is stolen. The intention is to steal, although the motive—to save a state of mind. It is difficult to conceive that the intention can be good. In a great many instances motive and intention are so closely related, motive being parent of the intention, that it matters little of which we speak. But still it is desirable to know the motive.

Intention is the act which the law declares to be a crime? In the latter case the plea could generally be a good one. In the former case it would always be bad. It would only mean that he had formed a wrong opinion as to the legal aspect of the act.

1. conduct or as to the consequences to himself that might flow from it. For instance, a man is charged with killing a person by firing a gun at him. He says that he did not intend to kill him. If he means that the gun went off by accident, this is a good defence independent of s 80 of the Penal Code, as it shows that he never fired the gun. If he means that he fired at the man to frighten him, and did not believe the gun would carry so far, this, if a reasonable belief, would negative the criminal intention necessary under section 299 but would be no answer to a charge under s 301A which involves no intent on to injure. If he means that he fired at him mistaking him for another person whom he had no right to kill this is no defence whatever, as it is merely a description of the offence defined by s 201. If he means that he fired at him in his house at night, believing him to be a burglar, this would be a good defence under s 79, as it shows that he has committed no offence. If he means that he fired at him, intending to wound but not intending to kill him this again would be no defence, if the natural result of hitting the man would be to kill him (s 299). It is not necessary to say that he expected merely to say that he expected the particular instance for his conviction.

Theory of evidencing intent To prove intent, as a generic notion of criminal volition or wilfulness including the various non innocent mental states accompanying different criminal acts, there is employed an entirely different possibility of such an abnormal cause and points out the cause as probably a more natural and usual one, i. e. a deliberate discharge at A. In short, similar results do not usually occur through abnormal causes; and the recurrence of fact of the prisoner having done the thing charged is proved, and only remaining question is whether at the time he did it he had a guilty knowledge of the quality of his act or acted under a mistake, evidence of the class received must be admissible. It tends to show that he was pursuing a course of similar mistake, or may be so often under a mistake that he was not on the last.

4 criminal intention to harm B's reputation by the particular publication a question. Here previous ill feeling shows motive of the publication. See also illustration (j). So also where the charge is of breaking and entering into a house with intent to steal obviously 'intent' there signifies 'design' or 'plan' and whatever would otherwise be receivable to show design would also be here receivable—in particular the conduct throwing light on the design of the person's entrance. This is further illustrated by illustration (i). So on a charge of uttering counterfeit note knowing them to be spurious knowledge is an ingredient of the criminal intent and whatever evidence would be otherwise separable and proof.

more of these as ingredients in forms no separate title of proof for each of the ingredients is to be proved in the way proper to itself. Hymore § 112. There which is distinct from any of those above different evidence. This is the element of negative of inadvertent accident (Wile Section 15). The accused in a case of forgery and conspiracy had previously given evidence in a Court as to the genuineness of the document. Held that though the statement could not be

Ali v Emperor, A I R 1929 Cal 539

Intention—Presumption from act. Every person is presumed to intend the natural and ordinary consequences of his act. If the tendency of the publication was injurious to the plaintiff the law will assume that the defendant by publishing it intended to produce the injury which it was calculated to effect. Haare v Wilson 9 B & C 643. So it often occurs in human experience that the mere fact that a particular act has been done affords the best evidence of the weak and enter a presumption from his punishment of the was to be found which money or strong evidence. Id. 69 In 18— ng O J expressed intention as to be gathered from his acts. A man must be held to have intended the natural and reasonable consequences of his act. That is one of the fundamental principles.

Where a man does an consequences, you are Donough Cir 100 Young J in Ha rat G! the same case Mukherji of the rule of English Principles law that a man must be presumed to intend of his act to the Indian criminal Penal Code.

repetition. Yet in order to satisfy this demand, it is at least necessary that prior acts should be similar. Since it is the improbability of a like result being repeated by mere chance that carries probative weight the essence of this probability is erroneous a bill cause occur own favour in the same year and in the same book of accounts go to exclude the explanation of casual error, and leave deliberate intent as the more probable explanation. In short, there must be a similarity in the various instances in order to give them probative value,—is indeed the general logical canon requires

of opi juried
offenc

It is hopeless to attempt or too much depends on inciple Wigmore § 302

ve intent the strength of the
on a given person's connecssible to negative accident or inadvertence, and to infer deliberate human intent, without forming any Thus, if A's cellar window is found morning after a high wind, he may force of the wind blew the glass in; but again finds a window broken in the yelled the night before, he gives up the ation, and concludes that a cause of the breakage, although of the doer. It is thus clear the like—may be negated by anonymous instances of the previous occurrence of the same or a similar thing.

After assuming or proving the accused's connection with the deed charged, then, to negative innocent intent, resort is had to the anonymous instances; and they may have equal force for that purpose, whether they are connected with the defendant or not. This mode of proof is not infrequently resorted to. The only limitation upon this mode of proof is that the defendant's doing of the act in issue must be shown by other evidence at some stage of the trial, and the anonymous instances should not be received until the trial Court is satisfied with the amount of evidence introduced or pledged for showing that connection.
Wigmore § 303

Theory of Evidencing Design or System. When the very doing of the act charged, is still to be proved, one of the evidential facts receivable is the person's design or plan to do it. This in turn may be evidenced by conduct of sundry sorts as well as by direct evidence of the design. But where the conduct offered consists merely in that something more is required evidencing intent. The object is intent at the time of the act charged, but to prove a pre-existing design, system, plan, or scheme, directed forwards to the doing of that act. In the former plan, or scheme, directed forwards to the doing of that act. In the former features that the various acts are naturally to be explained as evidence of Thus, where the alone is in issue,

It tend to negative
ed—as, where the id the object is to plan of working off a quantity of counterin this instance, the fact of two previous a quite significant. In Balke v

4. Assurance Co L R 4 C P D 91, 106 Lindley M R said; "I agree, that in order to prove that A has committed a fraud on B it is neither sufficient nor even relevant to prove that A committed fraud upon C D and E Stopping there, I admit that proposition But let it be shown that the fraud on B is one of a class of other transactions having common features, then I disagree altogether with that proposition The answer to the objection that evidence of frauds on other persons cannot be admitted is that this transaction is one of a class that there are features in common, the features in common being a false like to the evidence is that given by testimony in cases the act charged is assumed as done and the mind asks only for something that will negative innocent intent, and the mere prior occurrence of an act similar in its gross features—i.e. the same doer, and the same sort of act but not necessarily the same mode of acting nor the same sufferer—may suffice for that purpose But when the very act is the object of proof, and is desired to be inferred suggest a grade of similarity error in where o

are to be observed in the use of this class of evidence of design (1) Anonymous acts are not available, as they are for evidencing intent, for the whole purpose of the evidence is to fix a design upon the accused, as making it likely that he carried it out and thus that it was he who did the act charged. (2) The object being to argue to the act charged from a design or plan to do it the prior acts are received to show that system, since, however, it may require a number of acts and circumstances to furnish the desired mass of conduct illustrating this design or system, and since the production of only parts or fragments of it would in effect violate the principle and remain in evidence merely as affecting the accused's character the trial Court must pass upon the offer beforehand, to see whether if offered in its entirety it satisfies the proper test and is sufficient to go to the jury, and must, if the offer is sanctioned, require an assurance that it will be forthcoming in its entirety Wigmore § 304

not of being an are The
the precisely identical, but modes of evidencing these mental states that feature is most nearly expressed by the term consciousness, i.e. presence in the mind of an impression as to a given fact Thus a person's knowledge of a city's streets may be inferred from his conduct in finding his way through them unerringly; his consciousness of guilt may be inferred from his conduct in fleeing from arrest; his belief in a or future action, consciousness when thought of as bearing on past action, and knowledge when thought of in connection with the reality of external objects

Wigmore § 300

External circumstances as evidencing knowledge, belief, or consciousness There are, in a broad analysis four kinds of circumstances (events or things) which may point forward to the probability that a given person received a given mental impression (i.e. obtained knowledge, formed a belief, or was made conscious);

307, Maule J. said "If a person were charged with having wilfully poisoned another, and it were a question whether he knew a certain white powder to be poison, evidence would be admissible to show that he knew what the powder was because he had at 3 Cox Cr 517, with the intent of by such means was offered to have stated on other occasions that he had obtained money by the same means that are stated to have been used in this case, is it not a fair inference to make to the jury that his object was to obtain money here?" Sargent Ballantine, for the accused said in reply obtain money at this particular his intention was on the second occasion, a proof of knowledge and that of intention whether on this occasion he did an act with the object One step in the proof would be to show that a certain result would follow; and if it can be proved out of his own mouth that he was aware that such a result would be produced, it is one ingredient in the necessary proof that he contemplated it was that he attempted to procure abortion, the same or without it, if it could be before and that he knew that evidence against him Or if, had been used by the prisoner to show that he knew the

Intention and Drunkenness Involuntary drunkenness, by operation of s 85 of the Penal Code, places a man exactly in the same position as if his aberration of intellect arose from any of the usual forms of unsoundness of mind would have de, Maynes his address intend the observe that it were so drink is the occasion of a large proportion of the crime which is committed but, although of its constituent elements considering whether he formed

1 Code drunkenness if it is volu unkenness does not, of course, palliate any accounts as throwing light on the ques n R v Ram Sahai, (1864) W R 609 No 24 This section was in accordance with the English law as obtained at that time In R v Monkhouse, 4 Cox C C 55, Colridge J. said: "Drunkenness is ordinarily neither a defence nor excuse for a crime, and where it is available to prove it, and it is not able, unless the intoxication from committing the act forming any specific intention son B, R v Thomas, C

the law assumes a particular that cannot be that this mind, he would not be allowed to plead that through intoxication he imagined that his life was in danger. But where it is incumbent on the prosecution to establish the circumstances or instance, if it is to be such, the necessity to be assumed, though it might be inferred, from the mere fact of passing the coin. Suppose the fact to be established that the man had several good rupees in his pocket, it would have to be made that he had the means to be clearly admissible to show that he was in a hurry to the coin, and I can see no reason to be admissible for the purpose about just as much as drunkenness. In England recently the liability of a person for voluntary intoxications has been decided. Till doct self rend p 897; see also R v Davies, 14 Cox Cr. C 563. In R v Meade, (1909) 1 K B 895=78 L J K B 476, the Court said "It is not expedient to confer upon voluntary drunkenness a wider immunity than the partial immunity it has enjoyed since 1819. The presumption that every one intends the natural consequences of his acts, may be rebutted in the case of a man who is drunk by showing his mind to have been so affected by the drink that he was incapable of knowing it. If proved, the presumption is rebutted. The language rule, and it did not murder to man slaughter or a drunken man cited in Roscoe.

1909 drunk nothing
r. R

Beard,

criminal charge to a

that the defendant moved on of the offence charged, that the defendant city, though it may establish a more ready tendency to some violent passion (than if defendant were sober), does not rebut the presumption of the existence of an intent to produce the natural consequences of his acts. Roscoe, Cr Ev 1152

Dealer with a Partnership. Modes available to one who has (1) exposure to see it, (2) as the first receive evidence of the advertisement in the Gazette, but that unless it were proved that the party had seen it, the evidence would be of little avail . . . without proof that evidence was received was a case where a person . . . inserted a notice in a provincial Sunday paper, and the Court held that it was admissible in evidence because it was probable that the party had seen it, since he took in the paper and the advertisement related to him. See also Le Loeu v. Richard 1 Stark

Prosecution without probable cause Where in an action for malicious prosecution or defamation, or for false arrest, the issue arises whether the prosecutor had reasonable grounds and acted in good faith, a bad reputation of a plaintiff is a circumstance bearing on this state of mind, and is admissible. Vide, Fabrigas v. Mostyn, 20 How St Tr 94; Rodriguez v. Tadmire, 2 Esp 731, Downing v. Butcher, 3 Mo & Rob 374; Wigmore § 253 wheth . . . The question is insol . . . knew that he was bearing post mark before it, and continuing refusals to lend him money, are bankruptcy, but admissible (after the fact of his insolvency has been proved independently) to show his knowledge of the matters referred to, but not the truth of the facts. Vacher v. Cocks, M & M 353, Thomas v. Cornmel, 4 M & W. 267, Phip Ev 68 Execution of a document will imply . . . Cooper 20 Ch D 611; Phip Ev 4th Ed 127 will be implied where it is a party's duty D 329, Phip Ev 4th Ed 128 On a question whether a captain of a ship knew that it was of the case, upon a legal presumption, so strong that it cannot be allowed to be rebutted, that the knowledge must exist, though it may not have been . . . T P. Act 2nd to an agent is of notice is Whatever puts a party on enquiry, amounts in law to notice, provided the facts by the t a dly ary not (22)

L
th
v

Greenshields, 9 Moo P. C. 18; Mancharj v. Hongoseoo, 6 B H. C R 59; Ilakeem v Beejoy, 22 W R 8; Jugul Kirsore v Kartic, 21 C 116; Bhikhi v Udit, 25 A 366; Kondiba v Nana, 34 I A 138

whether registration is sufficient Court mere registration does not W N 11, Monindra v Troylockho, n by Chief Justice Sir Arthur Collins Court in Shan Man Mull v Madras
 Bombay and Allahabad High Courts
Chenoasapa, 9 B 427, Chintaman v
 A L

has been set at rest by the decision of the P Khedampal, 25 C W. N 49-48 C 1 (P C) cannot in all cases be imputed from the mere fact of registration of a document Whether registration is or is not notice in itself depends upon the facts and circumstances of each case, upon the degree of care and caution which an ordinarily prudent man would necessarily take for the protection of his own interest by search into the registers kept under the Registration Act Ibid, but now see Act XX of 1929 s 4

Knowledge— is obviously impossible to speak a that which the principles of testir it is, and that by the owa.
 ictly his re in strictness concernac Good faith shall be deemed whether it is dor

 collateral may be proved, if they show good faith or prudence or the knowledge or information on which a person has acted when such fact is in issue These instances occur most frequently in cases of assignments for the benefit of creditors, the good faith of the holder of a bill or note, and of vendors and agents
 e the freeince, tent
 The

illustration (r) is based on the case of Sheen v Bumpstead, 2 H. & C. 100-32
 L J Ex 271 In that case which was an action brought against the defendant for false representation as to the trustworthiness of W, the plaintiff as part of the representation had the state of mind of the defendant at the time he made the representation A plaintiff may ive evidence a however, prove ose the plaintiff was insolvent, or and obvious remark to the jury that the defendant must have known what was the common after the plaintiff is not that strong evidence—morally at least—from which the jury may infer that what was the common opinion of trade shared by the defendant and that in making faith" Not Ev 136, Woodroffe Ev 193

examples of good faith Illustration (g) in dicta on the case of the Chartier, 1 Com B 13 In that case Maule J observed "The evidence was material and was properly admitted It intended to show that the defendant was not seeking to evade payments of goods ordered for his benefit but that he had actually paid the person with whom alone he had contracted It showed that the defendant conducted himself like a party who was dealing with Gas as principal and not as an agent for the benefit of the person with whom he was dealing" circumstances surrounding to support it is then a vital part of the proof to rebut the presumption of fraud Deus v Cornish, 20 Ark 33 Illustration (h) is based on the leading case R v Thurborn 1 Den Cr C R 387 In that case Parker B said "The rule of law on this subject seems to be that if a man finds goods that have been actually lost or are reasonably supposed by law to have been lost and appropriates them with intent to take the entire dominion over them really believing when he takes them that the owner cannot be found, it is not larceny But if he takes them with the like intent though lost, or reasonably supposed to be lost, but reasonably believing that the owner can be found, it is larceny In such a case the question of whether the person is guilty of larceny is to be determined by evidence of his previous acquaintance with the ownership of the particular chattel, the place where it is found, and the circumstances in which it is found, and whether it be apparent, in other words, whether the person is presumed that the goods are his, or whether he can conclude that he took it, — the mere taking it up to previous acquaintance with the ownership of the particular chattel, the place where it is found, and the circumstances in which it is found, and whether it be apparent, in other words, whether the person is presumed that the goods are his, or whether he can conclude that he took it, — the mere taking it up to he had reasonable ground to fear violence and to show that he acted in self defence R v Hopkins 10 Cox Cr 229 In Allison v United States, 160 U S 203 Chief Justice Fuller said "Here the threats were recent and were communicated, and were admissible in evidence as relevant to the question whether defendant had reasonable cause to apprehend an attack fatal to life or fraught with great bodily injury, and hence was justified in acting on a hostile demonstration and one of much less pronounced character than if such threats had not preceded it. They were relevant because indicating cause of apprehension of danger and reason for promptness to repel attack, but they could not be taken as evidence of a design to kill."

prosecution as son threatened with an actual killing in the absence of any inference was that the consistent inference could not be drawn from the evidence that the defendant was guilty of the crime charged Long C J in Thomas v territory 4 N M 150 a New Mexico case where he said "If there is even slight evidence to indicate that the act of killing was done under a present reasonable apprehension to himself of great bodily harm, prior threats should not be excluded" Evidence of communicated threats is intended to shed light upon the mental attitude of the prisoner toward the deceased when homicide was committed of the good which he had believed at a certain time is worth very little without some kind of confirmation from external conditions. Derry v Peel 11 App Cas 337. In each case good faith as defined by the Indian Penal Code should be considered with reference to the general circumstances and the capacity and intelligence of the person whose conduct is in question. Bhatia v Mulji 12 B 377 (393), Emperor v Abdul, 31 B 293 (293), Arfan Ali v Emperor 41 C 66, Davey v Cory (1901) A C 477.

In a case where an accused is charged with murder, he can assert that he has committed the crime in self defence. In such a case the state of his mind at the time of the killing becomes a material fact. An important element in determining his justification is his belief—in an impending attack by the deceased. So reasonable fear of such an attack rejects the conclusion of malice. And the character of the deceased for violence has much to do in determining the reasonableness or unreasonableness of his belief.

Negligence whether proved by habit. Negligence is in one aspect the not doing of a particular act but in another and more correct aspect it is the doing of one act in a manner which amounts to negligence in that some other

act
a b
c
C
S

engineer and fireman, had some times passed the crossing during the preceding year without those precautions observed. It would seem to be axiomatic that a man is likely to do or not to do a thing, or to do it or not to do it in a particular way, as he is in the habit of doing or not doing it. But this must be understood of acts which are done or omitted to be done without any particular intent or purpose to injure any one, if it is intentional.

object in purpose

any intention whatever and through mere give these signals on that occasion we think the enquiry was properly made as to what had not particular evidence in this ome ably ame rd lys less not wa

c? ut

n of probative

If negligence can be inferred from repair of machine high way or the like after the con which negligence reason

4 of the injured person To improve the rely that more,
contribution

again, by fencing or covering, or at any rate making safe the particular thing from which it arose. That, however, is no evidence of, and I protest against it being put forward as evidence of negligence. A place may be left for a hundred years unfenced, when at last some one falls down it, the owner like a sensible and humane man, then puts up a fence; and upon this the argument is that he has been guilty of negligence, and shows that he thought the fence was necessary because he put it up. This is both unfair and unjust. It is making the good feeling and right principle of a man evidence against him."

Ill-will, malice, etc. The term ill-will as used in the Act, is not the exact equivalent of the term the criminal intention.

In a case of defamation the libel. If for any reason this presumption is rebutted, it becomes necessary for the person charged to show actual malice. In Hellditch v Hellditch said: "It is for the defendant to prove that if the defendant does so the burden of the plaintiff; but unless the defendant shows actual malice." By the expression the criminal intention but a more positive mental

Roscoe Ev. 880, see also R v Mason, 8 Cr A R 121 (1912)

one

Given

a person is upon trial are constantly received as evidence against him, as itself is evidential as an independent circumstance to show the act. So also where an emotion of hostility at a specific time is shown, the existence in the same person of

What, that I

of each case,

The state of story

(1) a

for

time of uttering the defamation charged, other utterances of the defendant may be offered, and the question arises whether and on what terms they are admissible. The probative value of other utterances as showing malice at the time charged rests on a double argument (A) that the other utterance indicates malice at the time of utterance, and (B) that malice then indicates malice at the time charged. Higmore §§ 103, 396 401. In Barrett v Long, 3 H. L. C. 395 (414) Parke B. said "We are all of opinion that under such a plea the publication of previous libel on the plaintiff by the defendant is admissible evidence to show that the defendant wrote the libel in question with actual malice against the plaintiff. A long practice of libelling the plaintiff may show in the most satisfactory manner that he is a person who is not to be trusted."

the particular inadvertence, practice, the more or less that in question
The length of may of course the admission clear of oil him

Peake N. P. 25. In Meek v. Turner, 11 H. L. C. 115, 116, 117, 118, 119, 120, 121, 122, 123, 124, 125, 126, 127, 128, 129, 130, 131, 132, 133, 134, 135, 136, 137, 138, 139, 140, 141, 142, 143, 144, 145, 146, 147, 148, 149, 150, 151, 152, 153, 154, 155, 156, 157, 158, 159, 160, 161, 162, 163, 164, 165, 166, 167, 168, 169, 170, 171, 172, 173, 174, 175, 176, 177, 178, 179, 180, 181, 182, 183, 184, 185, 186, 187, 188, 189, 190, 191, 192, 193, 194, 195, 196, 197, 198, 199, 200, 201, 202, 203, 204, 205, 206, 207, 208, 209, 210, 211, 212, 213, 214, 215, 216, 217, 218, 219, 220, 221, 222, 223, 224, 225, 226, 227, 228, 229, 230, 231, 232, 233, 234, 235, 236, 237, 238, 239, 240, 241, 242, 243, 244, 245, 246, 247, 248, 249, 250, 251, 252, 253, 254, 255, 256, 257, 258, 259, 260, 261, 262, 263, 264, 265, 266, 267, 268, 269, 270, 271, 272, 273, 274, 275, 276, 277, 278, 279, 280, 281, 282, 283, 284, 285, 286, 287, 288, 289, 290, 291, 292, 293, 294, 295, 296, 297, 298, 299, 300, 301, 302, 303, 304, 305, 306, 307, 308, 309, 310, 311, 312, 313, 314, 315, 316, 317, 318, 319, 320, 321, 322, 323, 324, 325, 326, 327, 328, 329, 330, 331, 332, 333, 334, 335, 336, 337, 338, 339, 340, 341, 342, 343, 344, 345, 346, 347, 348, 349, 350, 351, 352, 353, 354, 355, 356, 357, 358, 359, 360, 361, 362, 363, 364, 365, 366, 367, 368, 369, 370, 371, 372, 373, 374, 375, 376, 377, 378, 379, 380, 381, 382, 383, 384, 385, 386, 387, 388, 389, 390, 391, 392, 393, 394, 395, 396, 397, 398, 399, 400, 401, 402, 403, 404, 405, 406, 407, 408, 409, 410, 411, 412, 413, 414, 415, 416, 417, 418, 419, 420, 421, 422, 423, 424, 425, 426, 427, 428, 429, 430, 431, 432, 433, 434, 435, 436, 437, 438, 439, 440, 441, 442, 443, 444, 445, 446, 447, 448, 449, 450, 451, 452, 453, 454, 455, 456, 457, 458, 459, 460, 461, 462, 463, 464, 465, 466, 467, 468, 469, 470, 471, 472, 473, 474, 475, 476, 477, 478, 479, 480, 481, 482, 483, 484, 485, 486, 487, 488, 489, 490, 491, 492, 493, 494, 495, 496, 497, 498, 499, 500, 501, 502, 503, 504, 505, 506, 507, 508, 509, 510, 511, 512, 513, 514, 515, 516, 517, 518, 519, 520, 521, 522, 523, 524, 525, 526, 527, 528, 529, 530, 531, 532, 533, 534, 535, 536, 537, 538, 539, 540, 541, 542, 543, 544, 545, 546, 547, 548, 549, 550, 551, 552, 553, 554, 555, 556, 557, 558, 559, 560, 561, 562, 563, 564, 565, 566, 567, 568, 569, 570, 571, 572, 573, 574, 575, 576, 577, 578, 579, 580, 581, 582, 583, 584, 585, 586, 587, 588, 589, 590, 591, 592, 593, 594, 595, 596, 597, 598, 599, 600, 601, 602, 603, 604, 605, 606, 607, 608, 609, 610, 611, 612, 613, 614, 615, 616, 617, 618, 619, 620, 621, 622, 623, 624, 625, 626, 627, 628, 629, 630, 631, 632, 633, 634, 635, 636, 637, 638, 639, 640, 641, 642, 643, 644, 645, 646, 647, 648, 649, 650, 651, 652, 653, 654, 655, 656, 657, 658, 659, 660, 661, 662, 663, 664, 665, 666, 667, 668, 669, 670, 671, 672, 673, 674, 675, 676, 677, 678, 679, 680, 681, 682, 683, 684, 685, 686, 687, 688, 689, 690, 691, 692, 693, 694, 695, 696, 697, 698, 699, 700, 701, 702, 703, 704, 705, 706, 707, 708, 709, 710, 711, 712, 713, 714, 715, 716, 717, 718, 719, 720, 721, 722, 723, 724, 725, 726, 727, 728, 729, 730, 731, 732, 733, 734, 735, 736, 737, 738, 739, 740, 741, 742, 743, 744, 745, 746, 747, 748, 749, 750, 751, 752, 753, 754, 755, 756, 757, 758, 759, 760, 761, 762, 763, 764, 765, 766, 767, 768, 769, 770, 771, 772, 773, 774, 775, 776, 777, 778, 779, 780, 781, 782, 783, 784, 785, 786, 787, 788, 789, 790, 791, 792, 793, 794, 795, 796, 797, 798, 799, 800, 801, 802, 803, 804, 805, 806, 807, 808, 809, 810, 811, 812, 813, 814, 815, 816, 817, 818, 819, 820, 821, 822, 823, 824, 825, 826, 827, 828, 829, 830, 831, 832, 833, 834, 835, 836, 837, 838, 839, 840, 841, 842, 843, 844, 845, 846, 847, 848, 849, 850, 851, 852, 853, 854, 855, 856, 857, 858, 859, 860, 861, 862, 863, 864, 865, 866, 867, 868, 869, 870, 871, 872, 873, 874, 875, 876, 877, 878, 879, 880, 881, 882, 883, 884, 885, 886, 887, 888, 889, 890, 891, 892, 893, 894, 895, 896, 897, 898, 899, 900, 901, 902, 903, 904, 905, 906, 907, 908, 909, 910, 911, 912, 913, 914, 915, 916, 917, 918, 919, 920, 921, 922, 923, 924, 925, 926, 927, 928, 929, 930, 931, 932, 933, 934, 935, 936, 937, 938, 939, 940, 941, 942, 943, 944, 945, 946, 947, 948, 949, 950, 951, 952, 953, 954, 955, 956, 957, 958, 959, 960, 961, 962, 963, 964, 965, 966, 967, 968, 969, 970, 971, 972, 973, 974, 975, 976, 977, 978, 979, 980, 981, 982, 983, 984, 985, 986, 987, 988, 989, 990, 991, 992, 993, 994, 995, 996, 997, 998, 999, 1000.

v. Westby 6 Q.
slander is only ad.
Davis, 7 Q. & rejected on the gr words, and yet th founded upon th
Lemaire, 5 M. &
"This ap damages, i in the m for that p against g prove it different c Denman of mot see

Good will The term 'good will' is peculiar to the Act, and there is no equivalent for it in the English law, nor is used at all, except in a different sense. The answer to a charge of 'express malice' would probably be the absence of express malice or some sort of defence that implied it. This moreover, seems to be the meaning of the last clause of the illustration. Donough Pt 123

State of body or bodily feeling etc. This section also provides for the admission of evidence regarding the state of body when that is in issue or relevant. It would be in issue in all crimes of violence, or 'offences affecting the human body,' within the meaning of the Penal Code. It would be relevant in all questions of insanity, legitimacy, life insurance, inheritance, and identity of persons. Donough Cr Pt 127 Illustration (l) shows how persons' expressions of feeling towards each other at or about any particular time may be used to show what those feelings were. (i) and (m) show the same thing in regard to states of body. Cum Li 131 So whenever the bodily or mental feelings of an individual are material to be proved, the usual expressions of such feelings, made at the time in question, are also original evidence. If they were the natural language of the affection, whether of body or mind, they furnish satisfactory evidence, and often the only proof, of its existence. And the question whether they are real or feigned, is for the jury to determine. Greenl Li § 162 (a) cited in Taylor § 580. Thus the representations by a sick person of the nature and effects of malady under which he is labouring are receivable as original evidence whether they may be made to the medical attendant, or to any other person, though the former are naturally entitled to greater weight than the latter, in as much as a physician is far more capable than a man unacquainted with the symptoms of diseases, of forming a correct judgment respecting the accuracy of the statement. Arson v Annand, 6 East 188, R v Blandy, 18 How St Tr 1185, Grey v Young, 4 M C 51; Gilchrist v Dale, 8 Watts, 35, cited in Taylor § 580. Illustration (m) is based on Arson v Kinnaird, 6 East 188. So also answers of patients to enquiries made by medical men and others are evidence of their state of health provided they are confined to contemporaneous symptoms and are not in the nature of a narrative as to how, or by whom such symptoms were caused. Gardner Passage Case Le March, 169, R v Nicholas, 2 C & K 246, R v Gloster, 16 Cox 471, R v Andridge, 9 C & P 471. The reason for the admission of such evidence is thus given by Melish L J: "Wherever it is material to prove the state of a person's mind, or what was passing in it, and what were his intentions there you may prove what he said, because that is the only means by which you can find out what his intentions were." Syden v St Leonards L R 1 P D 134. This use of such statement is often spoken of as admissible under the res gestae notion or as 'original' evidence, and is an exception to the Hearsay Rule. But this seems clearly unsound. There is one sort of evidence of mental condition which is in truth merely indirect or circumstantial, and therefore not subject to the Hearsay Rule, e.g. where the sharpening of a knife on the morning before a homicide is taken as evidence of a design to kill, or where the repeated infliction of blows indicates malice or where running away is taken as indicating fear. But where a distinct assertion, in the form of words, predicating a mental state is offered,—as "I have a pain in my side" or "I have the intention of going out of town," or "I do this for such and such a reason,"—this language is no less an assertion of the existence of a fact than an assertion of any other sort of fact; in the neat phrase of Bowen L J: "The state of a man's mind is as much a fact as the state of the digestion," and therefore such assertions, being taken on the credit of the declarant as testimonial evidence of the fact asserted, are met by the Hearsay Rule. To admit them, then is to make an exception to the Hearsay Rule. The different kinds of facts that may be the subject of such assertions may be roughly grouped as follows:—(1) assertions of pain, or other physical condition; (2) assertions of plan, design, intention, (3) assertions of feeling, emotion, motive, reason; (4) sundry assertions by a testator. Greenl Ev § 162 a, Wigmore §§ 1714 to 1740. It is usually said that such declarations are receivable though they form the only proof of the given condition (Tay § 500), but this has been doubted and it has been considered to be the manifested condition and not the verbal statement which is the true res gestae to be explained. (Thayer, 15 Jr L. T. 141—143) Phip Pt Int Cr p 51. Mr. Cunningham thinks that statements in illustration as to the circumstances in which he came to be poisoned should be admissible

On L. v. pp 121-122

Such Statements are exceptions to Hearsay Rule It has already been stated that such statements are exceptions to the Hearsay Rule. It presents itself in a on the consideration that, though the person's testimony on the stand may still be both actually and conveniently practicable yet the probability of their receiving from him testimony which shall be in value equal or superior to certain hearsay statements is small, thus, while there is hardly a necessity in the strict sense that there is a

Applied

own content

possible to obtain by circumstantial evidence (chiefly of conduct) some knowledge of a human being's internal state of pain, emotion, motive, design, and the like; but in directness, amount, and value, this source of evidence must usually be decidedly inferior to the person's own contemporary assertions of those conditions. It might be argued, however that the person's own statements on the stand would amply satisfy the need for his testimonial evidence. The answer is that statements of this sort on the stand where there is ample opportunity for deliberate misrepresentation or testing it by at times when

of trustworthiness of Court and is a fair necessity of evidence in death, insanity

test; and this has not been questioned. Wigmore § 1714; see also section 21

clause (2)

In Mason v Kinnaird, 6 East, 195, which appears as an illustration (m) of section 14 Lord Ellenborough in admitting such statements observed "A witness has been received to relate that which has always been received from patients to explain,—her own account of the cause of her being in bed at an unreasonable hour with the appearance of being ill. What were the complaints, what the symptoms, what the conduct of the parties themselves at the time, are always received in evidence upon such inquiries, and must be resorted to from the very nature of the thing.

The declaration was upon the subject of her own health at the time which is a fact of which her own declaration is evidence, and that too made unawares before she could contrive any answer for her own advantage and that of her husband, and therefore falling within the principle of the case in Skinner to which I have alluded" (The case referred to by him was Thompson v Treason, 42) So "the evidence is admitted on the presumption arising from experience, that when a man does an act his contemporaneous declarations are true, unless there be some reason for misrepresenting

"Wherever the bodily proved, the usual

evidence. These expressions are the natural reflexes of what it might be im-explanatory or correction of justice

upon which the act. "Anything in nature of narration must be excluded" Per Swayer J in Insurance Co Mosley, 8 Wall, 397 So "such declarations made with no apparent motive misstatement, may be better evidence of the maker's state of mind at the time than the subsequent testimony for the same purpose" Per Holmes J in Elmer v Fessenden, 151 Mass 359

State of body In Annesley v Anglessea, 17 St Tr. 1139, where the question was whether the claimant was the vast amount of evidence was gone condition of Lady Altham, during shortly before the claimant's birth in a belief to that effect cessation, a question d to be the heir to a son of Lady Jane of legitimacy dukedom and Douglas and the objector to the bodily points conve situation of l

These were

Staunton, Not Tr, where four prisoners were charged with conspiring to cause the death of a woman of weak intellect by a slow process evidence was admitted regarding her bodily state at various intervals down to the date of her death "The object of his evidence" said Hankins J "is to show that those who were about her and saw her from week to condition to which she was being re physical strength of a person may be peculiarly capable or peculiarly incapable of doing the act in question. Goodtitle v Braham, 4 J R 498

Owner of vicious animals "Whoever" says Lord Denman "keeps an animal accustomed to attack and bite mankind, with knowledge that it is so accustomed, is prima facie liable in an action on the case at the suit of any person attacked and injured by it"

Johnson, 36 L J. C 1 (the knowledge of the f the animal is relevant '36 Particular acts of viciousness are also relevant, for the same reason Vide illustration (c) So l to show the owner's knowledge P 3, see also Thomas v Morgan, Hudson v. Robert, 11 Ex 697,

Receiving stolen property—Proof of knowledge The act of possession in this class of cases (except rarely) concealed, and the question is as to the possession other times view of the her possession be each f the stolen character of warned the defendant

it may be assumed that the receipt of st likely to result in a warning, chiefly bec up and reclaim them, but also in part because a purchase not made in an offer in the transactions, &c that the same person comes to dispose of the st Higmore § 311 ing stolen goods edged, within five l brought in the defendant by the same person was admitted "guilty knowledge" See also R v Davis, 6 C. & Rob 524=1 Cox Cr 12, illustration (a) C 264 such evidence was held inadmissible. judgment said: "Here the evidence merely went to show that the prisoner was in possession of other property which had been stolen in December, and not that he had received such property knowing it to be stolen. Now the mere possession of stolen property is evidence, prima facie, not of receiving, but of stealing; and to admit such evidence in the prosecutor, in order to make out that a prisoner knowledge, what had been stolen in March, December previous stolen some other property from another place and belonging to other person" The result of R v Oddy, was a legislative change of the law in 1871 by Stat 34 & 35 Vict C 112 By section 19 of that Act "evidence may be given that there was found in the possession of such person property stolen within the preceding period of twelve months for the other purpose of proving that such person knew the property for which he is indicted to be stolen" But illustration (a) to the section makes no reservation as to ownership or time, so that it would seem that though the stolen property belonged to other persons than the prosecutor, and without

Jones, 14 Cox Cr 3

Forgery and Counterfeiting The Chief form of offence connected with forged and other counterfeit documents or money are (1) making the false

the inference of knowledge from such particular transactions, it would not make the evidence inadmissible" See also R v Ball, R & M 132; R v Ball, 1 Camp 324, R v Millard, R & R 245; R v Phillips, 1 Lew Cr C 105, R v Smith, 4 C & P 411, R v Forbes, 7 C & P 224, R v Ball, 7 C & P 429 In R v Frost, Dears Cr C 456, to prove a guilty uttering on December, 12, an uttering of a similar piece on December 11 was shown, see also R v Goodwin, 10 Cox Cr 531 In R v Whaley, 3 Leach 985, Thompson J. observed "As to the cases put by the prisoner's counsel of uttering bad money, the knowledge of possession

30; Blake v Albion Life

Insurance Society, 4 C. L. D 100, 24 N. W. 2d 201. In Mason's Case,

10 Cr App 169, which was a case of uttering a forged deed, evidence of possession of two other sets of forged deeds a fortnight and five months later was admitted. See also R. v Fowler, 24 L J M C 134. The possession of other forged or counterfeit documents is a different way to show knowledge. The mere fact of possession is not relevant to show knowledge of the fact that the document is a forgery. g a knowledge of the fact that the document is a forgery. rel wrapped in paper or counterfeit paper is kept. also found, and thus the prior knowledge applies equally to the article in question. Wigmore § 311

Illustration (d) The case of Gibson v. Hunter
2 H Bl 286 H drew a bill on G and indorsed in F's name, in order to show that G knew this particular bill as a fictitious bill, and the fact of the former instance of such bills with irregularities and suspicious circumstances of such a nature that they must have made G aware of the fictitiousness of F's name, and it was admitted Illustrations (1) and (2) These are illustrations of intention. The case in (1) is that of R Robinson, 2 East P C 111. Ev 137. The difference intent to kill, (o) of murder outright as pl. v. r. other acts of the de establishing the crime negative innocent intent and was to establish the crime afford and the like) No fixed ther not must bear, it ame defence was accident. The fact of the accident was and concealed himself beside the road ahead and then firing again at the same person, was received to prove intent

Explanation I Illustrations (a), (v) and (p) refer to Explanation I. The rejection of general facts rests on the ground that the collateral matter has been too remote, if, indeed, there was any connection with the factum probandum. Nort. Ev 139. The meaning of this explanation is that the state of mind to be proved must be, not merely a general tendency or disposition towards conduct of a similar description to that in question, but a condition of thought and feeling having distinct and immediate reference to the matter which is under consideration. The fact that a man is generally dishonest, generally malicious, does not bear with sufficient on or as to any particular ing his conduct what is yes and state of mind with immediate reference to that particular occasion or matter. Illustrations (a) and (b) make the knowledge necessary with guilty probability of

to see why it may be should be irrelevant in an enquiry as to his negligence in this respect on any particular occasion. Surely the evidence of habit would have some probative value. The same view has been taken by the Bombay High Court in regard to the second illustration, cl (c). It has been observed that on the issue of whether A actually shot B or not the fact that he had previously shot at him would have some probative force. So too would proof of a general malignity of disposition by evidence that 'A was in the habit of shooting at people with intent to murder them, yet this evidence is excluded, even as proof of A's intention, either as too remotely connected with the particular intention in issue, or as raising collateral questions which could not be resolved in the case' per West J in Reg v Prabhudas, 11 B H C II 90 at p 92.

"It is presumed that if evidence of 'habit' is not admissible as a 'state of mind' under section 14, it might be admissible as 'conduct' under s 8. Habit after all is only previous conduct which is provided for in section 8"—Donough Cir Ev 2nd Ed p 133.

it of the uniformity een to be such a
A, to a particular asion in a given regularity of action, there can be no doubt that this fixed sequence of acts tends strongly to show the occurrence of a given instance. But in the ordinary affairs of life a habit or custom seldom has such an invariable regularity. Hence, it is easy to see why in a given instance something that may be loosely called habit

ent regularity ice and in most epend largely that arise in connection with such evidence, both of them, however, depending on other exclusionary rules. (1) The idea of habit is sometimes difficult to distinguish from that of character—for example where negligent habit is charged, and if it is interpreted in the

(2) Assuming the to be made by r inference to a habit character of a pe probabilit ible. Pe difficulty (Dispositi

another or more correct aspect, it is the doing of one act in a manner which amounts to negligence in that some other act is omitted which ought to have

if careful action Joy v difficulties here seem to be ever be anything more than casual or occasional. If it is, are we not really predicating a careless well founded, and that such evidence is often of probative value and is not attended by the inconveniences of character evidence Wigmore § 97

By s two verbal alterations were made in the original explanation and it was numbered as 'Explanation 1'. The Explanation 2, is new. This amendment was made by the Calcutta High Court in the case 14 C 721 (F B). In that case whether in the trial of a person charged with property, evidence could be given of the fact of the accused having been previously convicted of an offence, the Full Bench decided on the 20th July 1897, that the accused person has been previously convicted of an offence, but the fact that he has a bad character is not relevant. This section does not apply to cases in which the bad character of any person is in itself a fact in issue. By Act III of 1891, the said section has been amended in such a way as to render the previous conviction of an accused person irrelevant when it is sought to prove the conviction with the object merely of showing that the accused is a man of bad character and is therefore more likely to have committed the offence with which he is charged. The fact that a person has been previously convicted of an offence has of itself little probative force to establish the fact that he has committed another offence and it is not expedient to admit evidence which can only prejudice the accused. Statement of Objects and Reasons of Act III of 1891. The result of this amendment of the law is that the rule as to the relevancy of a previous conviction is to be contained in section 43 of the Act. The existence of the judgment convicting the accused is only relevant if the fact of the conviction is a fact in issue or is relevant under some provisions of the Act. Explanation 2 has been added to section 43 so as to allow a previous conviction to be proved in order to show a guilty knowledge or intention. Statement of Objects and Reasons of Act III of 1891. As having regard to the character of the offence under s 400 I P Code, previous convictions of disrepute are relevant under s 14 of the Evidence Act so convictions previous to the time specified in the charge or to the framing of the charge

Section 43 (a) of the Indian Prevention of Corruption Act, 1947, provides that the evidence that the accused was previously convicted of similar offence is admissible in evidence if the accused was previously convicted of a similar offence. Aloomiya 25 B 139 the appellants were convicted, under section 431 of the Indian Penal Code of belonging to a gang of persons associated for the purpose of committing thefts. The question was whether evidence of previous convictions of some of the accused of theft was admissible for the purpose of proving association for that purpose and bad character. In rejecting the evidence the Court observed: "It is sufficient to add in reference to the case now before us that the character of the accused was not in issue." King Em Court observed that the evidence of previous convictions was not admissible. The question for purpose of proving association for that purpose and bad character was always been admitted, it would seem that of such more cogent than those for isolated thefts. Such evidence must of course be weighed. A single instance of theft for instance would count for little, or nothing. There to show habit, against the Empress v. Nal four unreported such evidence".

* In page 725 of I. C. this explanation is not given after section 54 although in the Act this explanation is given after section 14

S.

bad character, is inadmissible under section 14 of the Evidence Act. Emperor v. Hajj Sher Mahomed, 45 B 958—75 Ind Cas 67—25 Bom L R 214. The reason for admitting such evidence is thus given by Faulcett J. in 46 B 958 "Such evidence clearly falls under section 14 of the Indian Evidence Act, but it is a disposition on the part of the accused to commit the offence named."

doubt produce evidence description to that in question, but not of the exact description in issue. A person may be a habitual surreptitious night thief, but this goes very little way towards showing that he has a disposition towards dishonesty of bad character which is excluded by See also Public Prosecutor v. Dongre 1001—9 Cr L J 567, Emperor v. Del Emperor v. Pachu Das, 47 C 671, (is being tried for the offence of belonging to a gang of thieves, evidence that he was previously convicted of dishonesty is relevant and admissible. But if the conviction took place long before the second prosecution no weight can be attached to such evidence for the purpose of proving that the accused has a habit of committing thefts. Moti Ram v. Emperor, 29 Ind Cas 127—A I R 1925 Bom course that the guilt 144. But purpose of affecting the punishment imposed. Queen Empress v. Nga Ian, (U B R 1892—1896) Vol I, 62.

Seditious speeches—Intention. Where certain speeches form the subject in respect of the speech nam v. Emperor, 32 M 3 14 of the Evidence Act, question is one of the intention of the accused in publishing these articles. Did they intend to excite in the public mind a feeling of hostility or enmity to the government of certain government in or it may be proved action with what such on another or other conspiracy as to a diary kept by her, that she kept it to show to her husband was admitted to evidence her feelings towards her husband. But in Walton v. Webster, 7 C & P. 193, letters by a wife, offered to show her happiness with her husband, —

Stat
a state c said
to be ta
do not prove it, but wherever it is material to prove the state of a person's mind, you may prove and out what
Fr. 442, Wilde J

in itself a material fact of which such statements are the fair exponents. But where those declarations are touched to prove the fact that he had declared and embodied those intentions in a certain will they have no other title to confidence than the statements of any other person who had seen the will and could speak to its contents. In this aspect they become mere hearsay. See also Keen v Keen, L R 3 P & D 107; Wigmore §§ 1718 1722, 1729, 1730, 1735, 1736 ably, defeated. We do not mean to say that fraud can be established by any less proof, or by any different kind of proof from what is required to establish any other disputed questions of fact, or that circumstances of mere suspicion which lead to no certain result should be taken as sufficient proof of fraud, or some bearing in proving fraudulent intention by negating the probability of good under ordinary good f produc invol consid transfers are male, (3)

On the whole, while se may vary in each case
I. L. A.—36

here no fixed rule can be laid down Vide Wigmore § 333. The fraudulent intent of the transferor may be indicated by other circumstances not of the above sort,—such as the debtor's remaining in possession after the mortgage or sale, the pendency of suits at the time of the sale and other circumstances suggesting their own significance and not raising any difficulty of principle Wigmore § 33.

Illustrative Cases—Admissible Evidence A writing made some time after the committing of an offence under section 124 I P Code is admissible in evidence under s 14 of the Evidence Act Emperor v Phillip, 30 Bom L R 315=108 Ind Cas 30=29 Cr L J 320=A I R 1928 Bom 78. Former judgment more than 25 years old and convicting accused of dacoity is admissible in a case under s 401 I P Code for showing criminal tendency to commit theft and not habit of committing theft Motiram v Emperor, 69 Ind Cas 29=A I R 1925 Bom 193, see also Bonar v Emperor, 38 C 408=15 C W N 461, Emperor v Naba Kumar 1 C W N 146; Emperor v Haji Sher Mahomed 25 Bom L R 214=75 Ind Cas 67. In a trial for an offence under ss 235 and 243 I P Code of being in possession of counterfeit coins and instruments and materials for counterfeiting coin, evidence of the possession by the accused of counterfeit coins and instruments for their manufacture at his house in another district is admissible Mysr Gossain v Emperor, 61 Ind Cas 647=22 Cr L J 407. On a charge against the accused of cheating by falsely representing that they were the servants of a wealthy lady and were entrusted to act on her behalf in the arrangements for loans, to be made to her, she possessed, and thereby acted in connection with the transaction.

complain prove the A 273 charged a him, or a series of similar acts committed by of such other acts, whether previous or subsequent to the frauds charged against the accused is relevant for the purpose of showing whether or not the intention of the accused was honest or fraudulent Gurdhara v Emperor 209 P L R 1914. In cases where the other evidence has established association for purposes of habitually committing theft, evidence of previous convictions whether for offences against property or for bad livelihood is admissible, not as evidence of character but as evidence of habit and of such evidence, convictions for bad livelihood would be more cogent than those for isolated thefts Bonar v Emperor, 9 Ind Cas 455=15 C W N 461=38 C 408.

Illustrative Cases—Inadmissible Evidence Where the accused is charged under s 409, Penal Code, for embezzling three specific sums Held, that evidence of collateral offences in respect of other sums was not admissible Fritchard v Emperor, A I R 1928 Lah 382. Where in a particular trial under section 420, I P Code evidence was let in with regard to a previous act of fraud which was alleged to have been committed by the accused person on the witness who spoke to the fact that on a particular occasion he was cheated by the accused in respect of a certain sum Held, that the evidence was clearly inadmissible in law and it cannot be brought in with the aid of s 14 or 15 of the Evidence Act Golul v Emperor, 29 C W N 483=36 Ind Cas 970=26 Cr L J 906, see also It v Abdul Wahid 31 A 94. In a case of murder by administering sweetmeats the facts that the accused offered sweetmeats to boys and poisoned one of them is not evidence under section 14 of the Evidence Act Kashu Ram v Emperor, 73 Ind Cas 262=G N L J 144. In a prosecution under section 209 of the Penal Code for having knowingly made a false claim in a suit against certain persons, evidence relating to other suits brought by the accused against other persons may be admissible against the accused under sections 14 and 15 of the Evidence Act, for the purpose of showing ill will or animus of the accused, and as systematic cause of fraud or a systematic series of fraudulent claims and for the purpose of rebutting the defence that the particular suit was brought in good faith or any suggestion that it was brought under some mistake or misapprehension. But evidence relating to similar suits brought by the accused against other persons is not admissible against the accused if it is not instituted by the accused or a conspiracy between them Evidence which goes merely to the character or disposition of the accused as a person likely to have committed the offence is generally inadmissible against not become inadaccused of other N 491=19 Cr. was charged with was in excess of tion evidence was produced t was inadm

Evidence
Cas 781=1912 M of instances of acts of acts of misconduct
The defendant can justify the libel as true in substance and in fact by proving its truth, not the truth of other acts and occasions having nothing to do with the act in question, unless it is intended to show that those acts were parts of the habitual and D'oshau, restrain having dence to the rule

being that a man must be taken to have intended the reasonable and natural consequences of his own act Unnav Jauala 35 C 31 Where in a prosecu tion under s 304 I P Code it was taken part in a similar occurrence just p rash driving of his motor car certain

Bom L R 324=A I R 1030 Bom 157

15 When there is a question whether an act was accidental or intentional, * (or done with a particular Facts bearing on knowledge or intention), the fact that such question whether act was accidental or intentional act formed part of a series of similar occurreences, in each of which the person doing the act was concerned, is relevant.

Illustrations

(a) A is accused of burning down his house in order to obtain money for each of which he fires A received ng to show that to make entries in a book showing the amounts received by him He makes an entry showing that on a particular occasion he received less than he really did receive

The question is, whether this false entry was accidental or intentional

The facts that other entries made by A in the same book are false, and that the false entry is in each case in favour of A, are relevant.

*These words in s 15 were inserted by the Indian Evidence Act 1872 Amendment Act, 1891 (3 of 1891), s 2

(c) A is accused.

The question is,

The facts that, counterfeit rupees to C, D and E are relevant, is showing that the delivery to B was not accidental

Scope of the section. Section 15 of the Evidence Act is an application of the general rule laid down in section 14 Imperator v. Debendra, 36 C 573-13 C W N 973=9 C L J 610. It lays down that where there is a question, whether an act was accidental or intentional or done with a particular knowledge or intention, the fact that such act formed part of a series of similar occurrences in each of which the person doing the act was concerned, is relevant. It is wrong to say that this section only deals with bracketed words were added by s. 2. It is overlooked in construing section 15.

Panchu Das 21 C W N 501 at p 525 & L. But in the same case Mookerjee J took a different view. At page 516 he observed "There was no room for any hypothesis that the death of the woman, whoever might have caused it, was either accidental or unintentional. The medical evidence makes it incontestable that the act amounted to deliberate murder. No question consequently arises whether the act was accidental or intentional or was done with a particular knowledge or intention. In so far as the charge of theft was concerned, there was also no question, whether the act was accidental or intentional or was done with a particular knowledge or intention." Fletcher J agreed with Mookerjee J in that case. According to Sanderson C J also this section has no application where there is no question of an act being accidental or intentional. So evidence of other crimes is admissible if it bears upon the question whether the act alleged to constitute the crime charged in the indictment were designed or accidental. Per Lord Harschell in Makin v. The Gen of New South Wales 75 L J K B 693=(1906) 2 K B 339, see also R v. Bond, (1906) 2 K B 389, R v. Heesom, 14 Cox 40, R v. Stephens, 16 Cox 387, R v. Armstrong (1932) 1 K B 555. In Gumicant v. Emperor, 88 Ind Cis 723=18 N L R 35, which was a case under ss 467, 471, and 193 of the Indian Penal Code in respect of a receipt of Rs 4,200 discharging a debt, the complainant were allowed in the lower Court to file certain certified copies intended to prove that four different documents namely (1) a will, (2) a receipt, (3) a deed of lease, and (4) another receipt written by the accused K were suspected to be false documents and were not acted upon by Court. As regards the admissibility of these documents the Court observed. "There was no question here whether the writing, attestation, or production of the receipt for Rs 4,200 was accidental or intentional. Each was admittedly an intentional

Decided is whether knowledge or intention in such acts be let in of the kind of Crown, 12 P R. I had been charged under s. 420 I P Code, for having received from the two complainants certain sums of money on false pretences that he had been authorised to recruit unskilled labour for the Government of Africa and that on no account of a false pretence he would be able to do so. The Court held that the evidence was relevant and that the accused was not allowed to show that in the course of this recruiting business the accused had defrauded other persons from whom he had received sums of money on false pretences of a similar kind

In general whenever it is necessary to rebut, even by anticipation, the defence of accident, mistake or other innocent condition of mind, evidence that the defendant has same specific kind as th

Aurita Lal v. Emperor,

systematic act mentioned here should not be confused with design or system. (Vide p 236.)

'Section 14 provides that facts showing the existence of any state of mind, such as intention or knowledge, are relevant when the existence of any such state of mind is in issue or relevant and section 15 provides specifically for allowing evidence of similar occurrence in each of which the person doing the act was concerned, whenever there is a question whether the act is done with a particular knowledge or intention' Per Lancel J in Emperor v. Harwan valji, A I R 1926 Bom 231=50 B 174-38 Bom L R 115 This section amendment is act to be I merely

 1, 39 Ind
Dond, 76

lic words show the glish law
 a nature disposing a nature
Reg v charge of obtaining money on false pretence-

In that case Lord Coleridge, C. J said the fact that the prisoner has done the remaining question is, whether at the time he guilty of his act, or acted under a ved must be admissible' This amendment seems to have been overlooked by Jacob J in Emperor v. Ahmija Hussain, 28 B 129=5 Bom L R 805, where he states that this section invites consideration of the question of intention only as opposed to accident.

Woodroffe's Ev 8th Ed p 208 This case probably goes further than any other case, and the amendment which has been proposed of section 15 seems to provide sufficiently for the class of cases in which the peculiar nature of the offence makes this question the crucial test' In Reg v. Ollis 60 L J Q B 918 Bruce J stated the law to be as follows "A line of cases has established the rule that when it becomes material to establish that an act charged in the indictment and proved to have been done, was intentional and not accidental, evidence is admissible of similar acts done by the same Person (Reg v. Gray, 11 & 313), of false pretences

 I Q B 83), of coming ie, 1 Bos & P N R 92 er dit by fraud (Reg
 as necessary to negative

prisoner at the time of the offence charged against him, and, therefore negat¹ accident or mistake on his part in the last occasion'

Of course, such evidence is not admissible merely for the purpose of showing that the character of the accused was such that he was a person likely to commit the acts of cheating with which he is charged. That is a totally different question and the distinction between the two classes of cases is well brought out by Channel J in Fee v. Fisher, 26 L. J. R. 122: "The principle" said the learned Judge 'was perfectly clear and if attended to the difficulty disappeared. That principle was, that the prosecution must not prove facts was of bad character and therefore charged it was admitted that it showed that he, in a charge of embezzlement, in mistake, evidence could be given to show other instances of the same kind, because such evidence tended to show that he was not making a mistake on the occasion charged. Whenever it could be shown that the question involved was whether there was a mistake or whether there was a system evidence might be given although it proved other offence that the prisoner's actions were systematic and fraudulent.

In Reg v. Rhodes 68 L. J. Q. B. 83—(1899) 1 Q. B. 77 the prisoner was indicted for obtaining eggs by false pretences and it was proved that he had falsely represented by advertisement in news papers that he was carrying on a bona fide Dairyman's business. Evidence was admitted that subsequent to the transaction in question he had obtained eggs from other persons by means of similar advertisements and the Court for the consideration of Crown Cases Reserved held that such evidence had been properly admitted. In delivering the judgment of the Court, Lord Russell J. observed "It seems to me quite clear that if the transactions with Elston and Chambers had taken place before that with Boys and at a period not too remote the evidence of Elston and Chambers would have been admissible against the prisoner. Is that evidence admissible although the transactions were subsequent to the offence charged? That depends as it seems to me on the question whether or not the case put forward for the prosecution was that the prisoner was not carrying on a real business but that the business in which he was engaged was from first to last a bogus or show business. If the prosecution merely alleged isolated transactions of a fraudulent character against the prisoner with no connection between them I should certainly say that evidence of transactions which took place after the offence charged was not admissible more especially if such transactions took place two months after the offence. But here as I have said, the charge to be made out was that of carrying on a bogus business and on the whole, I think the evidence was admissible on the ground that it showed part of a scheme to defraud persons by immediately after the complaint or if they formed part of the same system of fraud I think it can make no difference. The only difficulty in the case is, I think, the long interval of time that elapsed between the act charged and the other acts. Very often the only reus between such transactions is the proximity in point of time. That however, is not the case here, and had there been no other connecting link, I should certainly have thought that the transaction two months after was at any rate too remote. But when it appears that the

In the same case it can only be shown do not see how way If the offence charged would have been

in any other prior to the fear that they if they were of the same the only difficulty in the case is, I think, the long interval of time that elapsed between the act charged and the other acts. Very often the only reus between such transactions is the proximity in point of time. That however, is not the case here, and had there been no other connecting link, I should certainly have thought that the transaction two months after was at any rate too remote. But when it appears that the in and that if the charge was the evil act becomes admissible

So to come under this section it must be established that the act forms part of the some common had its own Per Mookerjee nces

 "whether they were evidence or not depends upon whether they were evidence of similar transactions" Per Reading C J in Rex v Baird, 84 L J K B 1785 To admit evidence under this head, however, the other acts tendered must be of the same specific kind as that in question and not of a different proximate in point of time
 3 C W N 676 at p 692; see
 v Rhodes, (1899) 1 B 77

Section 15 of the Evidence Act covers both previous and subsequent similar occurrences Raghunath v Emperor, 22 C W N 494-46 Ind C 18 696-19 Cr. L J 776

In a case of cheating, it is open to the prosecution to show that the acts charged against the accused were parts of a series of similar acts committed by him or in which he was concerned, at or about the time in question Girdhari v Emperor, 26 P W R 1910 Cr; see also Emperor v Debendra 86 C 573-18 C W. N 973-9 C L J 610, but see Gokul v Emperor 29 C W N 483-29 Cr L J 906-86 Ind Cas 970 In the case of Blake v Albion Life Assurance Co, 1 L R C P D 97 at p 166 Lord Lindley observed, "Nothing could, at first sight, seem more appearance of fraud; that the transaction precluded from doing answer to the objection that evidence of frauds on other persons cannot be admitted in that this transaction is one of a class, that there are features in common, the features in common being the false pretence and a knowledge of it that in my opinion, that the case which the prosecution seeks to prove is that the prisoner has in his mind a scheme or plan, say for obtaining money by fraud, and the other acts, of which evidence is sought to be given, when proved will show the existence of the plan, and, therefore the guilty mind of prisoner"

 5 L J
 1 cases

Evidence of the commission by the accused of previous or subsequent offences—General Principle of In Malak v All Gen of New South Wales, 75 L J K B 693, 703, 710 712=(1906) 2 K B 389, 409, 414 417, Lord Chancellor, Lord Herschell, said "It is undoubtedly not competent for the prosecution to adduce evidence tending to show that the accused had been guilty of criminal acts other than those covered by the indictment, for the purpose of leading to the conclusion that the accused is a per on likely from his criminal conduct or character to have committed the offence for which he is being tried On the other hand, the mere fact that the evidence adduced tends to show the commission of issue before th whether the ac were designed or accidental, or to rebut a defence which would be otherwise open to the accused" In Rex v Do d, 75 L J K B 693=(1906) 2 K B 389, Mr. Justice Darling and Mr Justice Bray called attention to the fact that Lord Herschell's last words quoted above must have been intended to apply only to a defence which is really in issue, and that the words of the Lord Chancellor should be read with that limitation Per Banks J in Rex v Patten (1913) 11 K B 163-82 L J K B 1670 In Rex v Bon l, supra, Mr.

Cox 2111 On an indictment for murder by poison of S, evidence was admitted of the fact that S had been given arsenic, and that he had been given it; and it was also proved that S had been given it of the arsenic was also given to S and L. See also 14 Cox 40, see also R v Flannagan, 15 Cox 403, where Brett J took a similar view. 2 Russ Cr L 2112 In R v Armstrong (1922) 2 K B 555=91 L J K B 504, where the accused was charged with the murder of his wife by administering arsenic to a person with arsenic, the defence sought to rebut the defence kept by the accused. 1191=12 Cr L J

Causing death by other means On the trial for the murder of an infant, it was proved that the prisoners had alleged that they had received only one child to nurse before, and had given it to a woman who had taken the child, with whose murder they were charged, for the payment of £3. It was also proved that other infants had been received upon payment of sums inadequate to maintain them, and that the bodies of several infants were found to that of the infant in question in the house occupied by the prisoners. On appeal, the court was divided 3 to 2 as to the issue and was rightly divided. (1894) A C 57, 2 Russ Cr 2112 Appellant was charged with the murder of a woman with whom he lived and with whom he had gone through a form of marriage. She was found drowned in her bath. Evidence was admitted that defendant, by his cross-examination of prosecutor, had endeavoured to show that the gun might have gone off the first time by accident he charged the jury that the evidence does not show that the defendant was innocent of innocent ground for representation. The jury test the common sense of which the evidence is the basis. The circumstances are equally as the report of the prosecution.

been made innocently, we may assume that any given one might have been innocent, but cannot concede this when we notice the recurrence.

pawn-broker upon a ring by the false pretence that it was a diamond ring. Evidence was admitted that two days before the transaction in question the prisoner had obtained an advance from a pawn broker upon a chain which he represented to be a gold chain, but which was not so, and had endeavoured to obtain from other pawn brokers a diamond ring, but pretences. He was employed by his master to take order but not to receive moneys, and he was proved to have obtained the specific sum from B by representing that he was authorised by his master to receive it. Evidence of his having, within a week afterwards, obtained another sum from another person by a similar false pretence, such obtaining not being mentioned in the indictment in any way, is not admissible for the purpose of proving the intent when he committed the acts charged in the indictment. Reg v Holt, 50 L. J. M. C. 11. In R v Simson, 12 Cox C. C. 804, an order to be given of quality, for a book :

Francis, 43 L. J. M.

411=50 L. J. M. C. 11.

orders of the same sort was received to show the intent

In R v Saunders, 1 Q. B. D. 19, which was a case of false pretences by advertising to give work and requesting money by mail to pay for the preliminary instructions, the fact that a number of other persons have been induced afterwards by him in the same way to forward money on such advertisements was received to show intent. In R v Smith, 20 Cox C. C. 804, the charge was

The accused Evidence of his intent of M was convicted on an purchasing a and The fraud

evidence to show his intention. By the first transaction the prisoner obtained a actions and we are of opinion that neither of those cases was of a similar character, and that the evidence of those two transactions was not admissible

Setting fire to 1
Gray, 4 F. & F. 1102 in a note to this case this case in R v Stan doubts its authority. The fire had originated near the kitchen, where the accused stayed as servant evidence is not without prece lent and authority, more over, not o Donellan for the murder of Sir Theodosius Broughton by administering him some poison, evidence was given that a certain tree which hung over a deep and dangerous brook near a spot where Sir Theodosius was accustomed to fish had been swn almost in two by some unknown person. This was proved to show that some one entertained a design against the life of Sir Theodosius for he was accustomed to stand on the tree while engaged in fishing, and the natural presumption was that whoever cut the tree did so with the design of precipitating the deceased into the water. Those facts were given in evidence on the trial of Donellan for murdering Sir Theodosius afterwards and were received though quite unconnected with the prisoner, in order to show that some one entertained a design on his life and that the probability was that he had not come to a natural death. Of course the accused doing the act complained of must be proved by other evidence direct or circumstantial. See also the observation of Telang J in R v Jayaram, 16 B 414, where he expresses the view that such evidence is admissible. Here the principle recognised is that the recurrence of a similar fire may tend decidedly to negative innocent intent even though the author of the other fires is not shown, thus the prosecution having negruived innocent intent in the present fire by whomsoever set, the accused may be shown to have kindled it. On an indictment for setting fire to a rick of straw it appeared that the rick had been set on fire by the prisoner having previous day it evidence and that circumstance

receivable. In many cases it is an important question whether a thing was done accidentally or wilfully. It is only by the conduct of the prisoner that a admitted that on the same day articles were found on the at four in the in different parts of the house

Embezzlement Illustration (b) is founded on R v Richardson 2 F & F
348. On an indictment for embezzlement where the entries of sums were correct but the castings up incorrect a series of similar errors in casting up were but only by way

did the act of which he was accused but innocently and without fraud that the entry was a mistake; but the probability of such mistake would be greatly lessened by proof that other false entries of the same kind had been made at or about the same time by the same person " S.

Extortion and black-mail In R v Cooper, 3 Cox Cr 517, the prisoner was charged for feloniously accusing H C S of an assault with intent to commit an unnatural offence, with the intent to extort money. Cresswell J held that evidence of declarations of the prisoner on a former occasion, on coming off guard, that he had obtained money from a gentleman by threatening to take him to the guard house, and accuse him of an unnatural crime, was admissible. The evidence was not offered by way of proving simply that the prisoner had been guilty of the same crime before. The question was whether on this occasion he did an act with the design of effecting a certain object. One step in the proof was to shew that he would be likely to know that a certain result would follow, and if it could be proved a result would be produced, it was contemplated it. Russ C argument as here applied, seemed somewhat forced, such knowledge being a matter of common understanding and not needing to be proved. It is clear, however, that the intent argument is entirely applicable; i.e. the doing of similar acts at other times tends to negative the supposition that the demand on the occasion charged was made in good faith (for example with a genuine desire to obtain compensation for supposed injuries). This use of such evidence is generally sanctioned. Vide Barnard's Trial 19 How St Tr 870, R v Wink 100th 4 C & P 444, R v Egerton R & R 375, R v Boyle & Merchant (1914) 3 K B 339, but see R v McDonnell, 5 Cox Cr 153, Wignore § 352, 2 Russ Cr 1168.

Rape with intent to defile. A variety of limiting limitation. There is some evidence to show that the purpose is to assault on another general desire to satisfy the test that is involved in this crime and no particular woman is essential for this. Wignore § 357. But mere liberties taken by the defendant. R v Lloyd 7 C & P 318. Commit rape the evidence of hit and having intercourse. Rodley's Case 9 Cr App.

ten years. It is shown that the purpose of subsequent evidence is to show the real nature of the case. It has repeatedly appeared in cases of this sort that a man by a threat of violence deters the child from complaining and thus acquires a species of influence over her by terror, which enables him to repeat the offence on subsequent occasions, and this seems to me to give a continuity to the transaction which makes such an evidence properly admissible.

Abortion In R v Dale, where an instrument or appliance is used which might be properly employed for innocent treatment of woman. Charles J ruled that it was not admissible to prove that the instrument was adapted to cause a miscarriage. Charles J ruled that it was not admissible to prove that the instrument was adapted to cause a miscarriage.

another woman three months later, to procure a miscarriage. It should only be admitted where the prisoner has suggested that the administration of the drug or the use of the instrument was legitimate or accidental on his part, and not where the defence is a denial of the act itself. And proof of only one other similar case, without any special connection with the case charged in the

5. certain mysterious is at liberty to ref not have had their to the conclusion evidence is not without prece lent and authority, moreover, for on the trial of Donellan for the murder of Sir Theodosius Broughton by administering him some poison, evidence was given that a certain tree which hung over a deep and dangerous brook near a spot where Sir Theodosius was accustomed to fish had been swan almost in two by show that some one entertained a for he was accustomed to stand on the natural presumption was that whor precipitating the deceased into the water the trial of Donellan for murdering Sir Theodosius afterwards, and were received though quite unconnected with the prisoner, in order to show that some one entertained a design on his life and that the probability was that he had not come to a natural death. Of course the accused's doing the act complained of must be proved by other evidence direct or circumstantial. See also the observation of Teleng J in R v Jayaram, 16 B 414, where he expresses the view that such evidence is admissible. Here the principle recognised is that the recurrence of a similar fire may tend decidedly to negative innocent intent even though the author of the other fires is not shown, thus, the prosecution having negatived innocent intent in the present fire by whomsoever set, the accused may be shown to have kindled it. On an indictment for setting fire to a rich of straw it appeared that the rich had been set on fire by the prisoner having fired a gun very near it. It was proposed to prove that the rich had been on that circumstance does not render it inadmissible, if the evidence is otherwise both. In many cases it is an important question whether a thing was done in a civil case in which the issue arises and the foregoing principle is applicable. In almost everyone of the foregoing classes of cases there are instances of the application of the principles in civil litigation. The silent feature is the nature of the issue and the kind of evidence offered, not the period or the civil form of the proceeding. Hignore § 371

Copyright infringement. In Copyright infringement cases the defence often is that the passage in question is taken from a common source. But if the hypothesis of other sources is not available as an explanation where the same errors—either of fact or of—books. Accordingly the evidencing to a high degree by B from A. Spiers v I is unsatisfactory on the question whether the defendant did use the work in the family which the ordinary man used the plaintiff's extensive copying of other passages not otherwise shown to have been copied. This argument is always open, and its use has constantly been sanctioned, there can merely be a question of its weight in a given instance. Longman v Manchester, 16 Ves Jr 269, Wanman v Tejj, 3 Russ 380, Lewis v Julian 2 Beav 6, Hignore § 373

ILLUSTRATIVE CASES

Illustrative cases—Admissible evidence. Accused were prosecuted for misappropriation by defalcation of accounts made in 1925 and 1926, evidence was adduced by the prosecution of similar acts done by the accused before 1911. Held that the evidence was admissible under section 15 to rebut the probable

Aka reported this matter to the municipality. The accused was charged under s 77 (2) of the Bombay District Municipal Act for introducing the said goods within the Octroi limits without paying dues. Held that the evidence that the accused had been connected with similar cases is the one under charge was inadmissible to show his knowledge and intention. Emperor v. Haynam Lal, A I R 1906 Bom 231-50 B 171-28 Bom L R 115. The accused on the 7th June 1909 administered dl utura poison to A and B both of whom died from the effects thereof and on the following day administered the same poison to C and D. The former got ill and recovered but the latter died. Held that the events which occurred or were said to have occurred on the 7th and 8th of June were relevant to the case of charge of murder of D as forming incidents in series of similar transactions occurring about the same time and tending to show system and intention and to negative the idea of accident. Lala v. Emperor 9 Ind Cr 731-32 P L R 1911 see also Kasnam v. Emperor 73 Ind Cr 262-6 N L J 141. Where in a trial upon a charge under section 399 of the Penal Code the accused pleaded that their presence at a particular spot, armed and in company, which in themselves show that one or more men the accused were parties to a series of similar acts committed by him or in which he was concerned at or about the time in question. Evidence of such other acts whether previous or subsequent to the frauds charged against the accused is relevant for the purpose of showing whether or not the intention of the accused was honest or fraudulent. Evidence merely to prove that the accused person's character is such that he is likely to commit the act with which he is charged is not admissible. Girdhari v. Emperor 26 P W R 1910 Cr-6 Ind Cr 961. In a charge against the accused of cheating by falsely representing that he was the Dowry of an estate and could procure employment for the complainant and thereby obtaining a di honest

O C L J

C 407

Illustrative Cases—Inadmissible evidence. Where the accused was charged under s 407 Penal Code for embezzling three specific sums Held that evidence of collateral offences in respect of other sums was not admissible. Pritel and v. Emperor, A I R 1928 Lah 382.

substance and in fact by proving its truth not the truth of other acts and occasions having nothing to do with the act in question, unless it is intended to show conduct
130
1 review

but had falsely charged and got convicted some other persons as murderers Gangaram v Emperor, 62 Ind Cas 547=22 Bom L R 1274=23 Cr L J 529 Two persons A and B were tried on 21st July 1919 for the offence of murdering D a woman of the town, on the 10th December 1914 of conspiring to rob her, of theft of property from her house and for abetment of murder and theft At the trial the prosecution wanted to adduce evidence (1) of the association of the two accused, (2) of their association in cases spoken of by other women of the town in connection with the charges of theft which they made against them and generally of a series of incidents from 1911 to 1918 that they used to go about together under different names A taking B with him as his durwan and introducing himself as a Babu to rich prostitutes of the town and this being followed by their subsequent disappearance and discovery of loss of money and ornaments Held that the evidence was not admissible Emperor v Panchu Das, 24 C W N 501 (F B) In a case under s 49 of the I P Code the question of the guilt or innocence of the accused depends upon proof of actual facts and not upon the state of the accused's mind Therefore evidence as to any previous act of fraud (committed by the accused) is not admissible under any provision of the law Gokul v Emperor 29 C W N 483-2 (F L J 906=86 Ind Cas 970 (But see Emperor v Delendra 36 C J 3=14 C W N 923=9 C L J 610, and other English cases) In a trial of an accused person for giving false evidence in respect of an alleged forged document 'to judge of the intention and knowledge of the scribe and attesting witnesses by the opinion of other Judges on other documents written and attested by these persons in suits and proceedings to which they were not parties is a use of section 15 of the Evidence Act which was never intended by the Legislature Gunnul v Emperor, 38 Ind Cas 723=13 B L R 95

16 When there is a question whether a particular act was done, the existence of any course of business, according to which it naturally would have been done, is a relevant fact

Existence of course of business when relevant

Illustrations

(a) The question is, whether a particular letter was despatched The facts that it was the ordinary course of business for all letters put in a certain place to be carried to the post, and that that particular letter was put in that place are relevant

(b) The question is, whether a particular letter reached A The facts that it was posted in due course, and was not returned through the Dead Letter Office, are relevant

Principle Of the probative value of a person's habit or custom as showing the doing on a specific occasion of the act which is the subject of the habit or custom, there can be no doubt Every day's experience and reasoning make it clear enough Higmore § 92 Customs may, like any other facts or circumstances, be shown where their existence will increase or diminish the probability of an act having been done or not done, which act is the subject of contest Per Hanlan J in Waller v Dixon 6 Minn 503, 518, (Am) In another American case Sargent C J said, 'It would seem to be axiomatic that a man is likely to do or not to do a thing, or to do it or not to do it, in a particular way, according as he is in the habit of doing or not doing it' State v Rail Pond, 52 N H 523, 532 In Watkins v O Neil, 91 Mo 527=6 S. W. 25, (Am) evidence of a book keeper's custom of handing over collateral notes, to the teller, indicating that it was done in this instance was admitted The reason of such admission is thus given by Sherwood J It is really immaterial, under the authorities cited, whether he was able to do more than to verify his entries and prove his invariable custom These things being proven the presumption is therefrom that the usual course of business was followed in this instance Every one is presumed to govern and consequently that he acquiesces himself of his custom if it is established that one act is usual and another, the latter being proved, the former will be presumed, for this is in accord with the experience of common life. It is simply the process of ascertaining one fact by inference of the notion of regularity of action, there can be no doubt that this fixed sequence of acts tends to show the occurrence of a given instance. But in the ordinary affairs of life a habit or circumstances of each case. Wigmore § 92

S. 1

Scope of the section. In commercial transactions the presumption is that the usual course of business was followed by the parties thereto. Henry v. Bensula, 37 Fla. 609. "Where the maxim of omnia praesumuntur rite et solemniter esse acta (all acts are presumed to have been done rightly and regularly) is taken place on Tuesday, is strong evidence. C. & B. 973. So to prove any general course of business or office, whether have been done there or will be followed in a particular public office, e.g. the Post Office. Phipps v. L. 102. There is no presumption that is based on this case. particular letter. In must go further. Some the table in the counting poster, and he had said of a "You from led the ques-Loan Assn., 47 Pac. Rep. 13 (Wash.) it was said. "The evidence that a letter left at the Tremont House and addressed to H actually reached him is of the same by post, it is prima facie proof, until the contrary be proved that the party to whom it is addressed received it in due course. See also Sunderson v. Judge, 2 H. Bl. 509, Woodcock v. W. 104, Shingley v. Todhunter, 7 C. & P. 680 (686), Ab. v. Louren, 1 Camp. 175, Plumer's case, 11 Q. B. 1, Cas. 551, Household v. Grant, 48 L. J. 1, K. B. 177, Husford v. Levering, 6 Wheat. 102. that it was delivered to a clerk, took all letters delivered

Camp 193, Trotter v Mr Lean, 13 Ch D 571; Phay Es. 3rd Ed 97, Skidell v Garbett, 7 Q B 816, Ward v. Lonsborough, 12 C B 252; Percy Super Club v Whyte, 106 L T Jo 303 But without any proof that it was properly addressed, stamped and posted, there is no presumption of its receipt. Beck v German Ins Co 68 Mo (Aps) 520 (U S). So where a person refuses a registered letter or notice he cannot afterwards plead ignorance of its content. Lutf Ali v Panna Mohan, 16 W R 223, Jogendra v Dwarika Nath, 15 C 631 Gurish Chandra v Keshore Mohan 21 C W N 319; Louis Dreyfus v Humeau Das, 50 Ind Crs 191

A telegram properly addressed is delivered to a telegraph company. The presumption is that it was received by the addressee. Oregon Steam Co v Ol 100 N Y 446, Gerding v Hartin 21 N Y S 636 To prove that a certain indorsement had been made on a (lost) licence entered at the custom house it is relevant to show that the course of the office was, not to permit the entry without such licence. Butler v Illmit, 1 Stark 222, Purpion 3rd Ed 97, Taylor § 153 A; Ian Omeron v Douet, 3 Camp 11, Waddington v Roberts L R 3 B 779

In an action against the acceptor of several bills of exchange which were made in November, 1850, and became due on February 5th and March 12 1851 the defence was that they were accepted by the defendant while an infant. It is proved that the defendant came of age on March 11th, 1851. The presumption is that all the bills were accepted before he attained his majority. Roberts v Bethel, 12 C B 779. The reason of this presumption is thus expressed by Jessie C J. 'There is nothing on the face of the bill to show when it was accepted. Why then is it that this evidence is sufficient? It is because it must be presumed that the bill has been accepted during its currency, and consequently before the commencement of the action, because it is the usual course of business to present bills for acceptance before the time for the payment of them has run out and within a usual time after the drawing of them. I decide this case upon this broad ground, that we are to presume, unless the contrary is shown that a bill of exchange has been accepted not on the day of its date, but within a reasonable time afterwards. It is not to be presumed that the acceptance took place after the maturity of the bill. That view disposes of the case as to all these bills—74 to 81 of them because they became due before the defendant attained the age of twenty one 75 to the 81st, because a reasonable time for its acceptance had elapsed before the defendant's majority. "And Maule J added "Although it is not usual to accept a bill on the day on which it is drawn, it is usual to do so at some early opportunity after that day. Therefore, where the drawer and acceptor are both living in the same town the presumption is that the bill is accepted shortly—within a few days—after it is drawn, it being manifestly the interest of the drawer to have a negotiable instrument made perfect as early a conveniently may be. The date of the bill, therefore though not evidence of the very date of the acceptance is a reasonable evidence of the acceptance having taken place within a short time after that day regard being had to the distance the bill will have to travel from the one party to the other. Upon the same principle upon which this presumption rests it may be presumed in this case that the bills were accepted before they arrived at maturity.' It is alleged in a bill for relief that a certain agreement was in writing. The presumption is that it was signed. Hart v Hobson, 1 Ser & Sin 553

Course of business meaning of—The expression "course of business" must mean the ordinary course of a professional vocation or mercantile transactions, or trade. Angana v Bharmappa, 23 H 63 (66). The usage in a private house, however methodical, cannot carry the same weight as the ordinary routine of office. Rid Regularity in Public Office It has already been stated that the fixed method and systematic operation of the Government postal service have long been conceded to be evidence of the due delivery to the addressee of letters, notices, etc. duly placed for that purpose in the custody of the authorities. The only requisites to raise a presumption of due delivery are that the letters are duly stamped, addressed and posted. Waller v Hynes, Ry & M. 149, Silberk v Garbett, 7 Q B 816, Perry Super Club v Whyte, 106 L T Jo 303. This presumption is so universally conceded that the strength of the evidence of this kind has been even raised to a presumption (see illustration (j) to section 114, Madhapath v Oti, 10 L J Ch 39) Of course it is always open to show circumstances which would rebut that presumption. The requirement has given rise to the strength of this presumption is so great that provisions have been made in certain Statutes for the purpose of not allowing the presumption to be rebutted. Indian which exports much, 2

Camp 44 Taylor § 180 : An envelope produced bears the post mark and date of a certain office letter was mailed and sent at this time 15 Conn 206 (Am), Rollin 7 M & W 515, Langels v Thompson 2 Camp 623 R v Plumer R & R 264, Butler v Mountgarret, 6 Ir L R N S 77 Taylor, § 179

Course of business in private firms The habit of a private house doing business systematically a similar service being equally relevant the principle has been applied to an export of telegrams transmission g v Scott 112 of telegrams application of the course of business to of a notice or business followed further evidence where is in the case of private business the system alleged to have been followed must be proved like all other facts The course of business of an individual firm may under the circumstances not appear sufficiently fixed to be of that probative value a) was placing posting 61, the house to send circulars on every change in the firm was admitted In the course of his judgment Lord Hinger said That does not show that a particular person received a circular except upon the presumption that a jury may make upon the general habit In Woodcock v Houlsworth, 16 M & W 124 Parke B said

He has certainty or 1 H I C Labroel 3 account to a business case of injury at a highway evidence was admitted highway Hall v Bro 1 preceding month was admitted to show a specific sale In admitting such evidence the Court observed Where there is a question whether a particular act was done, the existence of any course of business according to which it was done is a receipt for rice was admitted 18 H N 73

In Lucas v Noziosheski 1 offered to the defendant

workmen Birch 3 Camp 10 which was ed over to his employer over the receipts daily was have been consigned to

In Laughan v R Co 63 N C 11 (1m) where the question was whether goods have been received by a railway company evidence of its custom to weigh and mark goods was received showing that they would have been found marked. In Hine v Promeroy 21 Viet 211, 214 (1m) the question was whether an attorney had directed a process server to take N and M as receptor. Evidence of his uniform course of business to give no instructions as to receptors was admitted as corroborative. In Howard v Surridge, L R C P 143, the question was whether the defendant's servant who had warranted a horse sold to the plaintiff had authority to do so. It was held that the probability of such authority, evidence was offered of a usage among horse dealers not to warrant under the circumstances.

Refusal of a registered letter. The use of a post mark in evidence involves at least three distinct principles. In the first place, the question arises, may it be inferred from the presence of what purports to be the official mark that the mark was genuinely affixed by an officer of the Post Office concerned? This is a question of authentication and may be answered in the affirmative, though there has been some fluctuation of judicial opinion on the subject. In the second place the question arises whether if the post mark be taken as genuine it is evidence that the cover bearing it was stamped on the date the impression bears. The answer is in the affirmative. In the third place, the post mark is evidence that the place or office mentioned therein was actually the place where it was affixed. The mere fact of a notice bearing a certain date is no proof that it must have been posted on the same date. An article posted and delivered may be inferred to have been delivered in due course of post. Gobinda v Dwarika 20 C L J 455 = 19 C W N 499.

Telegrams—Times of delivery. The documents kept by the Post Office showing the terms of receipt and delivery of telegrams are not admissible in evidence as public records in as much as they are kept only a short time and are not accessible to the public and are not the result of public enquiry and do not deal with a general public right but are merely kept for the purpose of regulating the pay and the work of the post office servants. Heyne v Fiehl, 110 L T 264 = 30 L R 190.

ILLUSTRATIVE CASES

Admissible evidence—Illustrative cases. A notice was sent by the plaintiff firm to the defendant firm by registered letter which was posted to the correct address of the latter, but was returned with the word 'refused' endorsed upon it by the Post Office. Held that under section 16 of the Evidence Act the presumption was that the letter had reached the hands of the defendant firm. Louis Dreyfus & Co v Chumandis 50 Ind Cas 190 = 2 S L R 147 see also Jogendra v Dwarika 10 C 691 Balaram v Bali Pannabai 11 Ind Cas 351 = 13 Bom L R 373. The question is whether a letter was sent on a given day. The post mark upon it is deemed to be a relevant fact. R v Cunningham 19 St 370 Gobinda v Dwarika, 20 C L J 455 = 15 C W N 499 = 26 Ind Cas 96. In a suit by one banking firm against another firm for the recovery of the balance of an account between them it was held with reference to the keeping of the firm's account books and their personal transaction to the principals that it was reasonable to presume that that which was the ordinary course was put used in that case. Dwarika v Baboo 6 M I A 83 (90).

Inadmissible evidence—Illustrative cases. An endorsement on the cover of a registered letter that the cover had been tendered to the addressee on a certain day and had been refused by him, is at best a record of the statement by the peon and would be admissible either under section 32(2) or section 33 of the Indian Evidence Act, if the requirements of those sections are fulfilled. If it be not admissible under sections 32(2) or section 33, in itself the events recorded therein by the peon must be proved by calling him as a witness. Gobinda v Dwarika 26 Ind Cas 96 = 20 C L J 455 = 19 C W N 499. To prove the facts that he had posted a letter written by A to B—evidence by or habitually copied all letters written by A then returned that afterwards, when A gave back, the witness or another told in the absence of A that he had returned to the clerk this is not admissible. Toosey v Wall 97 So also that the clerk proved that the letter

the ands an is ceive it (Re London etc

e also Ram Dass v Official posted to H at Bristol, is insufficient Walter v.

Haynes, Ry & M 149

ADMISSIONS.

17. An admission is a statement, oral or documentary, which suggests any inference as to any fact in issue or relevant fact, and which is made by any of the persons, and under the circumstances, hereinafter mentioned.

Admission defined An admission is defined by Stephen to be "a statement, oral or written suggesting an inference as to any fact in issue or relevant or deemed to be relevant to any such fact, made by or on behalf of any party to any proceedings." Step. Dir. Ev. Act 15. "An admission" says relevant fact made by a party to an action, or by a person deemed to be entitled to make such statement on his behalf. An admission is a relevant fact as against such party." Solicitors' Journal Vol XX p 894. The definition given in the section eliminates the implied statement as to the existence of a probative or res gestae fact arising from the acts of a party, "admission by conduct" so called. In English law the term admission, means any statement made out of the witness box by a party to the proceedings, whether civil or criminal, or by some person whose statements are binding on the party against his own interest. Wills' Ev. 2nd Ed 149. "In our law," says Mr Taylor "the term admission is usually cases, restrict by an other t the ad

the fac

admission been tendered in evidence to establish the charge of any misapplication of the money by the noble defendant, it would clearly have been rejected. The law was thus stated by Lord Chancellor Erskine "This first step in the proof" (namely, the r in now on trial may be affected it by the pay-master would in itself convict him of a crime" Lord Taylor § 721 citing verbalium from

by used
not,
ent,

made by an accused person is an admission only, or amounts to a confession, no reference must always be made to the terms of the statement. Every statement, oral or documentary, which suggests any inference as to any fact in issue or relevant fact, made by an accused person is an admission under s 17 and of the Evidence Act, which is provable against the person making it, and 6 In Taughan v R Co 63 N O 11 (1m) where the question was whether goods have been received by a railway company evidence of its customer to weigh and mark goods was received as showing that they would have been found marked. In Hoult v Promeroy, 21 Vict 211, 211 (1m) the question was whether an attorney had directed a process server to take N and M as receptors. Evidence of his uniform course of business to give no instructions as to receptors was admitted as corroborative. In Houart v Sherwood, L R C P 149, the question was whether the defendant's servant who had warranted a horse sold to the plaintiff had authority to do so. To show probable non-existence of such authority evidence was offered of a usage among horse dealers not to warrant under the circumstances.

Refusal of a registered letter. The use of a post mark in evidence involves at least three distinct principles. In the first place, the question arises, may it be inferred from the presence of what purports to be the official mark that the mark was genuinely affixed by an officer of the Post Office concerned? This is a question of authentication and may be answered in the affirmative, though there had been some fluctuation of judicial opinion on the subject. In the second place the question arises whether if the post mark be taken as genuine, it is evidence that the cover bearing it was stamped on the date the impression bears. The answer is in the affirmative. In the third place, the post mark is evidence that the place or office mentioned therein was actually the place where it was affixed. The mere fact of a notice bearing a certain date is no proof that it must have been posted on the same date. An article posted and delivered may be inferred to have been delivered in due course of post. Gobinda v Durarka 20 C L J 455—10 C W N 199.

Telegrams—Times of delivery. The documents kept by the Post Office showing the terms of receipt and delivery of telegrams are not admissible in evidence as public records in as much as they are kept only a short time are not accessible to the public, are not the result of public enquiry and do not deal with a general public right but are merely kept for the purpose of regulating the pay and the work of the post office servants. Heyne v Kiechel, 110 L T 264—30 1 L R 190.

ILLUSTRATIVE CASES

Admissible evidence—Illustrative cases. A notice was sent by the plaintiff firm to the defendant firm by registered letter which was posted to the correct address of the latter but was returned with the word 'refused' endorsed upon it by the Post Office. Held that under section 16 of the Evidence Act the presumption was that the letter had reached the Kothi of the defendant firm. Louis Dreyfus & Co v Chumandas 50 Ind Cas 195—25 L R 147, see also Jogendra v Durarka Nath 10 C 631, Balaram v Balu Pannabai, 11 Ind Cas 351—13 Bom L R 328. The question is whether a letter was sent on a given day. The post mark upon it is deemed to be a relevant fact. R v Canning 19 St 370. Gobinda v Durarka, 20 C L J 455—15 C W N 489—26 Ind Cas 967. In a suit by one banking firm against another firm for the recovery of the balance of an account between them it was held with reference to the keeping of the firm's account books and their periodical transaction to the principals that it was reasonable to presume that that which was the ordinary course was pursued in that case. Durarka v Baboo 6 M 1 A 88 (90).

Inadmissible evidence—Illustrative cases. An endorsement on the cover of a registered letter that the cover had been tendered to the addressee on a certain day and had been refused by him is at best a record of the statement by the peon and would be admissible either under section 32(2) or section 33 of the Indian Evidence Act, if the requirements of those sections are fulfilled. If it be not admissible under sections 32(2) or section 33, in that case the events recorded therein by the peon must be proved by calling him as a witness. Gorunda v Durarka 26 Ind Cas 962—20 C L J 455—19 C W N 499. To prove the posting of a letter written by A to B—evidence by one of A's clerks that he habitually copied all letters written by A then returned them to A to seal and that afterwards, when A gave back, the witness or another clerk posted them held in the absence of evidence to show that A had returned that particular letter to the clerk this is no proof of posting. Toosey v Williams, M & W 129, Phip L 97. So also where A's clerk, proved that the letter had with several others that the plaintiff had said to the defendant, "You always promised to marry S. 1 one, and you don't keep your word." The court held that this was "material evidence." Steen (1877) 2 C P D 265 (270), 1.

Admissions are statements, or assertions in words, and it is their inconsistency with the party's other assertions that discredits the latter. Hence conduct cannot has been suggested that an affirmative fact diminishing present evidence, should be taken the stand as a witness and to his position in the case if he does not. So far as the suggestion emphasizes the truth that there is, in principle, no distinction between statements of a party and the other facts introduced by him to the tribunal, it seems sound and helpful. An admission however presents no necessary implication of inconsistency or other injury to the cause of the declarant. Undoubtedly former statements are frequently used to show inconsistency between the declarant's present position and one which he occupied at an earlier time. Such statements are not strictly speaking admissions. A former admission may be used to prove the truth of the fact stated. Such a statement may be used as a mere verbal act to show inconsistency. But such is not the only use which may be made of it. It may be used as true or as contradictory. Either party, in proving his own case may, instead of introducing evidence to a certain effect show that his adversary has unequivocally

Commonwealth v. L. v. S. 1-20 (24)

There are two kinds of admissions according to the first formal admission, which may be made by a party in his pleading, or by stipulation or by statement in open Court. Secondly there is a statement of a fact at some previous time inconsistent with a fact to be established at the time of trial a statement which, when of evidence direct or circumstantial, an inference or inferences as to the truth.

§ 64 As to the formal admissions little need be said. They simply fix the relation between the parties as to the facts. They help to define the issues concerning which evidence is to be heard but they are not in themselves evidence. As to the second kind of admissions, those which may be called evidential lusiveness, that tantial evidence, case they are may in themselves to carry conviction. McNeeley v. L. v. S. 1-20

Direct Admissions Direct and express admissions are practically the same. They are direct statements of main facts in issue. As regards this kind of admissions there is nothing to be said, except that to be available, the statements which constitute the admissions must be proved in the ordinary way. The form in which the admission is made is immaterial so that it amounts to a statement of fact, and is not a statement of opinion or promise. Driscoll v. City of Taunton, 160 Mass 486 (Am). The proof of a direct admission is usually by the introduction of testimony, oral or written, as to the language constituting the admission. The statement constituting the admission may be oral or written. Its form is immaterial. So, also, are the place and circumstances attending its making. It may have been heard by witness over a telephone. Holfe v. Railway Co 97 Mo 173-10 Am St Rept 331 (Am).

7

Admissions are in the nature of circumstantial evidence. An indirect admission may be found in the statement of a witness, and for the image from o the damage illustration just to cover his tle caused the usion some und in 1939 killed them ffered evidence that X any more sheep

the direct admission is the statement which by omission becomes evidence of some fact. When we go still further from the direct admission, we finally reach the field of admissions by conduct, or in what are frequently spoken of as implied admissions, and which are simply circumstantial evidence. According to Bo implied admissions are those which result from some act or failure to act of the party. Bourne's Law Dict. They may also arise from acquiescence. An implied admission is proved by introducing testimony as to such conduct as shows an acknowledgment of the truth of the fact in question. There are various cases of implied admissions strictly speaking. In most instances when actions or conduct are introduced as bearing upon the truth of a fact it is as circumstantial proof of the fact itself and not as proof of an admission. The term 'implied admission' is often an element of admission is frequent admissions by conduct are not included. An admission by conduct has been dealt with in section 8. Such admissions are admissible not as an exception to the Hearsay rule. They are usually original circumstantial evidence of the fact to which they relate. Best Ev 148 citing West Chester v. McDure, 67 Pa. St. 311 (Am). Presumptive nature of admission actions and representative evidence of fact" which treats as admissions by a party, statements made in his presence and denied by him provided the circumstances were such as to make a denial necessary. Ibid

one made on is offered in Court for the male in the may the r evide purp course of judicial proceedings in a case of record or in connection with judic classified as extra judicial Chamberlayne & Co v § 1433 party says a rue may be 7 664 see e says Mr consists of nfe-9 on or admits to be taken rose who one n ay or linary n oath is administered to a witness in order to impose an additional obligation on his conscience and so to add weight to his testimony, and he is cross examined to

But in occasional warrants are generally declarations of nothing in made against the person's interest. The simple and broad rule for receiving them is, in the language of Chief Baron Pollock, that if a party has chosen to talk about a particular matter his statement is evidence against himself (Darby v Ouseley 1 H & N 1) and the theory of their use seems to be that they are to a party what prior inconsistent statements are to a witness viz, a means of discrediting smaller or the plaintiff he saw after attention to speak the truth confesses a crime, there is little human conduct are sufficient to get a prior statement of the party against the statement now advanced by him in his pleadings or through his witnesses, and thus discredit the present claim by its inconsistency with the former one. Greenl Ev § 169, see also Phip Ev p 221

S.

Mr. Gulson while allowing that admissions are evidence of the truth of the fact admitted, considers them not to be exceptions to the Hearsay rule, because the inference of truth involved is independent of the personal credibility of the declarant, but regards them rather as relevant facts, evidentiary of the facts

Ev 221

But even from this point of view, they have two kinds of probative value

"(a) One is the ordinary value of value depending on his capacity to bias or interest or lack of it, and so on satisfied, but that is a rule of law probative value as those of any they have additionally the same

Just as a witness testimony is discredited when it appears that on another occasion he has made a statement inconsistent with that testimony so also the party opponent is discredited when it appears that on some other occasion he has made a statement inconsistent with his present claim against him. The witness speaks in Court through his his part includes the whole testimony relied on by him. The party opponent may be used against him as an admission, provided it exhibits

Indirect Admissions Indirect admissions are in the nature of circumstantial evidence. An illustration of indirect admission may be found in the following. A sues X for damage done by X's cattle on A's crop and for the purpose of showing an admission on the part of X that his cattle had caused the damage A offers the testimony of a witness to the effect that X had told him that he had offered A a certain amount of money to cover the damage, from damages although not equivalent to a direct admission that the cattle caused damage, is nevertheless very nearly so. An illustration of an admission somewhat further removed in character from a direct admission is found in a case where A sued X for the loss of his sheep charging that X's dog had killed them and as a proof of the fact of the evidence that X had killed his any more sheep. In Johnson v. Mc the direct admission is the statement which by omission becomes evidence of some fact. When we go still further from the direct admission, we finally reach the field of admissions by conduct, or in what are frequently spoken of as implied admissions, in which are simply circumstantial evidence. According to Bowyer 'implied admissions are those which result from some act, or failure to act of the party. Bowyer's Law Dict. They may also arise from acquiescence. An implied admission is proved by introducing testimony as to such conduct which shows an acknowledgment of the truth of the fact in question. There are various cases of implied admissions strictly speaking. In most instances when action or conduct are introduced as bearing upon the truth of a fact, it is as circumstantial proof of the fact itself, and not as proof of an admission. The term 'implied admission' is often used to denote a statement which is really the element of an admission is frequent. Admissions by conduct are not included. An admission is a statement oral or documentary dealt with in section 8. Such admissions are subject to the Hearsay rule. They are usually of the kind which they relate. Best Ev. 148 c1 which treats as admissions by a party, statements made in his presence and not denied by him, provided the circumstances were such as to make a denial necessary. Ibid

may be the evidence. An extra-judicial admission for the purposes of the case on trial in the course of judicial proceedings in a court of record or in connection with a proceeding so classified as extra-judicial. Chamberlayne v. W. 3 L203

Principle on which admissions are received "Whatever a party says in evidence against himself, what a party himself admits to be true may be presumed to be so." Per Parke B. in Slatterie v. Pooley, 6 M & W 604, see also R v. Turner, (1910) 1 K B 346. 'Another class of evidence consists of admissions made on or after the trial, which are taken into consideration by the jury.

administered to a witness in order to impose an additional obligation of conscience, and so to add weight to his testimony, and he is cross-examined to

... statements of ...
... utility explains the proposi-
... equivalent to affirmative
... pt to stress this distinction
... isis of any instruction on

... statements of
... been stated that
... on principle not
... tements used as admissions do happen to state facts against interest, admissions are generally treated as obnoxious to the Hearsay rule, and are only allowed as exceptions to it (Vide Taylor Ev § 723) In such cases, as the statements are against the interest of the persons making it, their trustworthiness is supposed to be guaranteed That this is a mere local error of theory and in no sense represents a rule anywhere obtaining may

... been enforced for the use of a party's admissions (Vide Woolway v Rowe, 1 A. & E.
... ion of that
... e they are
... which is not
... it satisfies

... must contravene, to the knowledge
... interest In case of an admission,
... obative weight, it would not, however, be essential to admissibility To secure that, it is sufficient that the statement should be the voluntary act of the party and cover a probative or res gestæ fact.
(c) The declaration against interest is secondary ... the declarant is shown to be dead, absent from some other sufficient cause. The admission, o.
and is competent though the declarant be present (d) An admission may be made at any time The declaration against interests is incompetent if made post litem motam. (e) The admissibility of a declaration against interest is governed by the rules of sound reason That of admission is determined largely by procedure. Chamlerlayne's Ev. § 1235.

Admissions whether subject to rules of testimonial qualifications such as personal knowledge, infancy, Opinion Rule etc.—“A primary use and ... claim by
... whether
... alimony of
... that gives
... a party's
... v although
... 277: R.
... r. Taylor
“whether oral or in writing, contain matters stated as mere hearsay, it may be questionable whether such matters can be received in evidence. If tendered against the party making the statement, they are clearly entitled to very little weight, and unless connected with a further admission, that he believes them to be true, they would seem, like hearsay declarations against interest, to be inadmissible Lord Trimbleton
v. Kemmis 9 Cl. & F. in 780, 784” Taylor § 737 Mr. Justice Chamber, in the case of an

7. answer in Chancery, read against the party in a subsequent suit at law, thought this portion of it not admissible "for" he added, "it appears to me, that where one party reads a part of the answer of the other party in evidence, he makes the whole admissible only so far as to waive any objection to the competency of the testimony of the party making the answer, and that he does not thereby admit as evidence all the facts which may happen to have been stated by way of hearsay only in the course of the answer to a bill filed for a discovery. But where the answer is offered as the admission of the party against whom it is read, it seems reasonable that the whole admission should be read to the jury, for the purpose of showing under what impressions that admission was made though some parts of it be only stated from the hearsay and belief." Greent, L.J. § 203, Taylor L.J. § 737. But Stephens J. in Kitchen v Robbins, 29 Ga. 713 766 (Am.) expressed contrary view where he said "Are we to admit one good against a many unless founded on his personal knowledge? The admissions would not be true evidence which satisfies the party who is making them against his jury that they are true. And, if they are speaking from his personal knowledge, and if he will not make admissions against himself unless they are true. And if he makes them against his interest can be reasonably explained only on the supposition that he is constrained to do so by the force of evidence. The source from which a knowledge of fact is derived, is a circumstance for the jury to consider, in estimating the value of the evidence but that is all." See also Wigmore § 1053, Bishop of Meath v Mar, Bulley v Bulley L.R.Ch. App. apply when a party wants to use under clauses 1 to 3 of section 21. In such cases personal necessary. In R v Wilker 1 Cox 93 where the question was whether, an infant at the time of making a certain contract, an admission by A that R was so was received against him although founded on hearsay. See R v Symonds, 4 Cox 277 Re Peston 53 L.T. 766. As to statements by an agent containing hearsay or opinions, see The Acton 1 Speaks E. & A. 780, The Salway, 10 P.D. 137 cited in Philp Ev 196, 216.

On the same principle the admission of an infant party would be receivable. O'Neill v Read, 7 Ir. L.R. 434. See also Dharamaji Vaman v Gurjar Shrinivas, 10 B.H.C.R. 311. Theoretically, the admissions of a lunatic party would stand upon the same footing, although the weight to be given them might be nil. Wigmore § 1053. The opinion rule also does not limit the use of a party's admission. Doe v Stell, 3 Camp 115. But a bare statement that a party is informed without addition of his belief in the information will not amount to an admission. Trumbletown v Kemmis 9 C. & P. 780, Roe v Ferras, 2 B. & P. 584, Philp Ev 196.

Admission and confession distinguished.—Admission is usually applied to a civil transaction and to those matters in criminal cases which do not involve a criminal intent. While the term confession is usually used in Criminal Court as denoting an acknowledgment of guilt. The accused in a criminal case may make admissions, just as a party in a civil case, i.e. by saying things inconsistent with the present points of proof. Admissions in the sense of inconsistencies are not peculiar to civil cases. Greent Ev 170. Admission in a civil suit that a document is genuine cannot in a forgery case be regarded as confession at all. Per Rankin C.J. in Ambar Ali v Emperor A.I.R. 1929 Cal. 539. "A confession," says Prof. Wigmore "is one species of admissions namely, an admission consisting of a direct assertion, by the accused in a criminal case, of the main fact charged against him or of some fact essential to the charge." Wigmore § 1050, Taylor Ev § 724, Steph Dig Art a "species of admissions."

—A.I.R. 1927 Cal. 17. The admissions, it has not been defined in the Evidence Act. Lal, 6 A. 509 (539). But there is a distinction between an admission in the Evidence Act R v Macdonald 10 B.L.R. App. 21. Empress v Jagrup 7 A. 646, Empress v Pandharinath, 6 B. 34, Empress v Meher Ali, 15 C. 589, Empress v Dabee Pershad, 6 C. 530. Empress v Nilmadhab, 15 C. 595. A confession is only an v Ram Chunder, 2 C. 341 (350) P C ; See Dhiram v Narain, 41 M L J 535. So also in admission in pleading cannot be dissected, and if it is made subject to a condition, it must either be accepted subject to that condition or not accepted at all Vidya'Ady Mullu v Mulji Hirani, 19 C W N 713—19 II 399 ; Sanatini Ali v Chint Bibber, 9 W R 100, Sheik Surfaraz v Seetha Dhunno, 16 W R 257, Jalwanji v Burda Kani, 22 W R 220, Niamullopiah Khilim v Himmu Ali, 22 W R 319, Pattu Behree v Watson, 9 W R 190, Baikanthi nath v Chintia Mohan, 1 B I R (N C) 133 ; Ishin v Hiran 11 W R, 525 ; Taree v Dicks 15 W R 421, Shank Shurfuraz v Shank Dhunoo 16 W R 357

"The chief difficulty in the application of the rule lies in determining when statements are so connected to, either as to form a whole within the meaning of the rule. The matter does not depend on the statements being contained in one single document but on the nature and degree of connection between them ; and it may be said that the rule embraces these two propositions : () When a party's admission is so qualified or explained by some other statement made by him at the same time that the latter is in fairness necessary to present the true intention and meaning of the former, then the party is entitled, if his admission is given in evidence against him to have the qualifying statement put in evidence as a part of the admission () when the admission of a party refers expressly or by implication to some antecedent statement either of himself or his opponent or of any third person then the statement so incorporated or referred to forms a part of the whole admission within the meaning of the rule" Wills Ev 2nd Ed 159. This rule will not generally justify a party in insisting that separate letters or documents, or even distinct and separate parts of entries in one or more collections of documents, as letter-books, court rolls, etc., shall all be put in evidence by the party producing and reading any one of them unless they are on the face of them connected with the one already in evidence, and they seem to be the rule whether the documents be of a public or private nature. Where any such separate entries or distinct parts are favourable to the opposite party, he must put them in evidence as part of his own case. Thus, though the defendant is entitled to have the whole of a particular entry in an account book read, he cannot insist upon reading distinct entries in different parts of the book unconnected with the one read Cutt v Howard, 3 Stark 6 ; Remmie v Hall, Mannings, N P Q Index 376 ; Roscoe N P 180. Where the plaintiff called for the production of the defendant's letter book, and read letters of the defendant from it, the defendant was not therefore permitted to read from it on his own behalf, other letters not referred to in the letters read by the plaintiff Stange v Buchanan, 16 Ad & E 598, Roscoe N P 180. So also the answers of a party given in the course of conversation should not be proved against him without also giving in evidence the questions which drew forth these answers Pennel v Myer 2 Moo & Rob 95, Wills Ev 2nd Ed 160. But this rule is not applicable where the party gives in evidence a statement made by his opponent in the course of conversation on some previous occasion Prince v Samo, 7 A & E 634, Wills Ev 2nd Ed. Distinct matters, however, though relevant to the case cannot be introduced Davies v Morgan 1 Cr & J 587.

This general principle, however, raises two sorts of questions, first whether the party offering the admissions must, as a preliminary condition put in the whole, or other parts, of the conversation, document, etc., secondly, whether the party whose statement it is may afterwards, by way of explanation, put in the remainder, or other parts, or other statements. It does not seem to be generally required that the party offering the admission must put in at the same time any more than that which he desires to use—whether a speech or conversation (Eaton's Trial, 23 How St Tr 1030, R v Connell 5 State Tr N S 1, 196) or a writing (Corntiss's Trial, 11 How St Tr 423, Sizer v Burt, 4 Din, 426) ; and so far as the portion it is allowed to be given is concerned, the substance is sufficient, without precise words, whether of an oral statement or a lost writing (R v Limond, 1 State Tr N S 785, 820, Hardy's Trial, 24 How St Tr 681). For the party against whom the admission is offered, he may, by way of explanation, put in only so much as is necessary for his purpose, i.e., to qualify or explain the portion put in against him Price v Samon 7 A & E 627 Green's Ev § 201. But the Court may believe a part and disregard the rest. The rule only requires that what is in favour of the party making the admission should be favourably and liberally considered and weighed with other evidence. Of

17. Abbott C J in Queen's Case, 2 B & B 287; Thomson v Austin, 2 Dougl & R 361; Fletcher v Froggatt, 2 C & P 566, Cobbett v Grey, 4 Ex R 729. So this is a well settled rule of law that the whole of a declaration or statement containing

Bholanath v Emperor 26 A L J 1331 = AIR 1929 All 1. In the United States the rule is thus laid down by Mr Justice Field in Mutual Benefit Life Ins Co v Newton, 11 which a party relies on to be taken as an admission with the qualifications which limit, modify

This rule, together with its reason, is thus stated by Mr Best 'Where part of a document or statement is used as self-serving evidence against a party, he has a right to have the whole of it laid before the jury who may then consider and attach what weight they see fit to any self-serving statements it contains' Best § 520, see also Berman v Woodbridge, 2 Doug 788, per Lord Mansfield, Smith v Blondev, Ry & M 259, Cray v Hall's, cited in Ry & M 259, White v Wier, 11 Vass 610, see also Sootan v Chand Bibee, 9 W R 130, Rajah Nilmoney v Rananagarh 7 W R 29, Shishu Shurufuraz v Shashu Dhunoo, 16 W R 257, Lallah Probhoo v Sheonath W R 1864 Act 8 27, Ishan v Haran 11 W R 525, Bata Jwa'a Das v Prant Das, 34 C W V

Ind Cas 745 P C 'Where, taking the whole of the statement, completely avoided,

agent before delivering it jotted down upon it with his master's authority a note on a counter-claim which the defendant had against the plaintiffs, and the plaintiffs sought to give the account alone in evidence as an admission of the amount of their claim it was held by Lord Mansfield C J. that the whole document must be taken together, since the defendant's statement was made "all in one breath" and he never admitted the account as distinct and independent from the counter-claim Randle v Blackburn 5 Taunt 245. So also if part of a letter is offered as evidence, other explanatory parts may be offered, if a party is sought to be charged or affected by a letter received in evidence, his reply thereto is admissible, and where one party uses as evidence a number of a series of the letters written by the other party, the letter may introduce the entire series Burr Jones § 294. It is a well established principle of law that if a plaintiff wishes to rest his case solely on the admission of the defendant, he must accept the admission as a whole. It is not open to him to pick out some part of it as may be favourable to him and neglect the rest Syed Ismail v Hamids Begum, 2 Pat L T 658. If a Court takes into consideration an admission in a deed to bind a party the whole of the statement therein should be considered. Admissions must be taken though a party cannot by admission make a statement which is not true, and it is not to be used as an admission against him, taken even if they operate in his favour

41 M L J 525 = (1921) M. W. N. 639. An admission must be deemed to be exhaustive. It must be read as it stands and it is not permissible to take one part of an admission and reject another part. Bur Bahadur v Kaghbir, 49 A 707 = 25 A L J 572 = 100 Ind Cas 1037 = AIR 1927 All 385. Ordinarily a Court is bound to take the whole of an admission, either, but a Court is not bound to give equal weight to all portions of it, Rodha v Chunder Moner, 9 W R 290, see also Gowind Pershad v Chattrabhai, 60 Ind Cas 138, Shib Nath v Annada Prasad 11 CL J 382, Konwar Doregaiah

v Ram Chunder, 2 C 341 (350) P C, See Dharam v Narain, 41 M L J 525. So also in admission in pleading cannot be dissected, and if it is made subject to a condition, it must either be accepted subject to that condition or not accepted at all. Mutahay Muller v Mulji Haris, 19 C W N 713—19 B 399, Sanatin Ali v Chait Bibee 9 W R 100, Sheik Sufiyyas v Seith Dhumoo, 16 W R 257, Jaloonath v Bussat Kint, 22 W R 220, Niamuttooosh Khilim v Hirmu Ali 22 W R 519, Pattu Beharee v Watson, 9 W R 190, Baskintha-nath v Chintra Mohan, 1 B L R (N C) 131, Lahin v Haran 11 W R 521, Tarret v Durrani 15 W R 421, Shanth Shurfiyas v Shaikh Dhumoo 16 W R 257.

"The chief difficulty in the application of the rule lies in determining when statements are so connected to, either as to form a whole with the meaning of the rule. The matter does not depend on the statements being contained in one single document but on the nature and degree of connection between them, and it may be said that the rule embraces these two propositions: (1) When a party's admission is so qualified or explained by some other statement made by him at the same time that the latter is in fairness necessary to present the true intention and meaning of the former, then the party is entitled, if his admission is given in evidence against him to have the qualifying statement put in evidence as a part of the admission. (2) When the admission of a party refers expressly or by implication to some antecedent statement either of himself or his opponent or of any third person then the statement so incorporated or referred to forms a part of the whole admission within the meaning of the rule." Wills & Sons 159. This rule will not generally justify a party in insisting that separate letters or documents, or even distinct and separate parts of entries in one or more collections of documents, as letter books, court rolls, etc., shall all be put in evidence by the party producing and reading any one of them unless they are on the face of them connected with the one already in evidence, and they seem to be the rule whether the documents be of a public or private nature. Where any such separate entries or distinct parts are favourable to the opposite party, he must put them in evidence as part of his own case. Thus, though the defendant is entitled to have the whole of a particular entry in an account book read, he cannot insist upon reading distinct entries in different parts of the book unconnected with the one read. Catt v Howard, 3 Stark 6, Remmie v Hall, Manning, N P Q Index 376; Rosca N P 180. Where the plaintiff called for the production of the defendant's letter book, and read letter of the defendant from it, the defendant was not therefore permitted to read from it on his own behalf, other letters not referred to in the letters read by the plaintiff. Stargo v Buchanan, 16 Ad & E 598, Rosca N P 180. So also the answers of a party given in the course of conversation should not be proved against him without also giving in evidence the questions which drew forth these answers. Pennell v Myer 2 Moo. & Rob 95, Wills' Ev 2nd Ed 160. But this rule is not applicable where the party gives in evidence a statement made by his opponent in the course of conversation on some previous occasion. Prince v Samo, 7 A & E 634, Wills' Ev 2nd Ed. Distinct matters, however, though relevant to the case cannot be introduced. Davies v Morgan 1 Cr & J 587.

This general principle, however, raises two sorts of questions, first whether the party offering the admissions must, as a preliminary condition put in the whole or other parts, of the conversation, document, etc. secondly, whether the party whose statement it is may afterwards, by way of explanation, put in the remainder, or other parts, or other statements. It does not seem to be generally required that the party offering the admission must put in at the same time any more than that which he desires to use—whether a speech or conversation (Eaton's Trial 23 How St Tr 1030 R v Connell 5 State Tr N S 1, 196) or a writing (Cornish's Trial, 11 How St Tr 423, Sizer v Bust, 4 Din, 426), and so far as the portion of it allowed to be given is concerned, the substance is sufficient, without precise words whether of an oral statement or a lost writing (R v Elmonds 1 State Tr N S 785, 820, Hardy's Trial, 24 How St Tr 681). For the party against whom the admission is offered he may by way of explanation, put in only so much as is necessary for his purpose, e.g., to qualify or explain the portion put in against him. Price v Samon 7 A & E 627 Green's Ev § 201. But the Court may believe a part and disregard the rest. The rule only requires that what is in favour of the party making the admission should be favourably and liberally considered and weighed with other evidence. Of

S. 17. course, the one offering admissions of this character is not bound by the statements which are favourable to the declarant. He may rebut such statements or show them to be erroneous. Burr Jones Ev § 293

Probative force. In treating of the probative force of admissions, it is necessary constantly to distinguish between those which are judicial and those which are extra judicial. The judicial admission is pre-eminently a matter of procedure, under the direct control of the ad and the force and effect of an admission of this are determined by procedural rules. On the other judicial admission is determined by logic. It is not assigned or established by a rule of procedure. Substantive Law goes no further in this connection than to determine that the existence of statement will be received as evidence of the fact asserted in it, either in an action at law or in a suit in equity. It will not, in this connection, be deemed material whether the extra judicial admissions were made before or after the suit was brought. They are rated entirely at their logical value. Chamberlayne's Evidence § 1236

Judicial and extra judicial contrasted in probative force. Logic may have its appropriate effect in case of the judicial admission when used as probatio rather than as levamen probationis. When used as proof, the more deliberate and, as it is said, solemn nature of the circumstances under which the judicial admission is made may confer upon it a probative force not characteristic of the average extra judicial admission. The former having been made in solemn form, in a court of justice constituting the foundation, or a part of the procedure in cases pending, in which the rights of the parties are stated, and by which the courts are called upon to pass judgment, and upon which they must solemnly decree the rights of the parties, are for those reasons entitled to greater consideration and weight than when casually or incautiously made, at a time and place, and under circumstances not calculated or intended to affect the rights or interests of others and, perhaps, unmindful of all the facts and circumstances of the case. Chamberlayne's Ev § 1236

Value and weight of extra judicial admissions. With all verbal admissions it may be observed that they ought to 1799 v
Lang 3 A & E 702, Curtis v Hunt, 1 C as it does in the mere reception of oration and mistake; the party himself either clearly expressed his own meaning or it. It frequently happens, also, that the wit of the expressions really used, gives an effect to the statement completely at variance with what the party actually did say. Green Ev § 200, Taylor § 561, Earle v Picken, 5 C & P 542 (n), Re v Simons, 6 C & P 540, Williams v Williams, 1 Hogg Consist 304, Hope v Evans, 1 Sm & M Ch 195. In a somewhat extended experience of jury trials, we have been compelled to the conclusion that the most unreliable of all evidence is that of the oral admissions of the party, and especially where they purport to have been made during the pendency of the action or after the parties were in a state of controversy. It is not uncommon for different witnesses of the same conversation to give precisely opposite accounts of it, and in some instances it will appear that the witnesses depose to the statements of one party as coming from the other, and it is not very uncommon to find witnesses of the best intentions repeating the declarations of the party in his own favour as the fullest admissions of the utter falsity of his claim. When we reflect upon the inaccuracy of many witnesses in the original comprehension of a conversation, their extreme liability to mingle subsequent facts and occurrences with the original transactions and the impossibility of recollecting the precise terms used by the party or of translating them by exact equivalents, we must conclude there is no substantial reliance upon this class of testimony. The fact, too, that in the final trial of open question of fact, both character, in the majority of cases, is to distrust its reliability. Greenleaf's Evidence, 12th Ed. IA 74 (79). Oral admissions are careless in his mode of testifying, that he does not accurately remember the statements, that he is willing to misconstrue them, or that the declarant was misinformed, or did not clearly express his own meaning. A fortiori, where the admission is that of one deceased, the caution should deepen into suspicion, for reasons that are obvious and without corroboration is of little value. Burr Jones Ex § 295. In Kennedy v Murray, 170 Mo 674 (Am), the Court said: "Evidence of such declarations, if true, is admissible, but it never amounts to direct

S.

as contradicted are in Hence it is obvious :
upon the circumstances under which they were made as shown by the testimony, as well as upon the degree of accuracy and truthfulness with which they are related, Burr Jones § 295. But where the admission is deliberately made and precisely identified, the evidence it affords is often of the most satisfactory nature. Rigg v Cargemen, 2 Wills, 395, Grcent Ex § 200, Taylor § 861. In such a case it is neither weak evidence, nor does it require corroboration. Commonwealth v. Galligan, 113 Mass 202. On the other hand, when a confession is so proved, they may have great inherent force as evidence. Dicher v Fitchburg, 22 Wis. 675.

So what . . . ed to be true and . . . im v.
Mahomed, 65 l . . . Ind Cas. 876, Vir Singh v Marnam, 1 Lib. 137-56 Ind Cas 191. A statement in a document should prima facie be accepted as true as against the explanation unless it can be shown by independent evidence to be false. Ishad v Ali Kariman, 22 C W. N 530-28 C L J 173-20 Bom L R 790 P. C. Unless admissions are contractual or unless they constitute an estoppel they are not conclusive, but are open to rebuttal or explanation, or they were mistaken or were untrue, and is not estopped or concluded by them unless her his condition. In such a case as against that person (and those it as to third parties he is not ed Denman approved and adopt-an, in re Simpson, 2 Ch D 72 at p 89 and Trinidad Asphaltic Company v Cornat, (1896) A C 587 in effect illustrate the same principle. Ram v Chaudhuri, 11 C W N 321 P C, Gurish

v Isar, 1'

Burr Jones §
each particul

party may confess ow mistake (Bright that the response ocular manner;
of the facta Burr

Jones § 296; Sibu v Netas, 9 I representation of fact is of admission is a female Talok Bindoo 20 W R 112, Idoh & admission can be withdrawn
Muhammat v Husain 26 C B Pershad v Thakur Dei, 23 In Cas 26-A I R 1928 Lah 75

S. 17.

y were m d Lalla Prasad
v. S. S. S. S. S.

that a statement previously made by him relative to a certain fact is a false statement, he ought to be asked in re-examination by the prosecution or at any rate by the Court why he made a statement which was false. The mere fact that at the sumption Junnu Lal v. M.

175 Ind Ca 1027=1924 Lab
they are found untrue B.

Emperor, 7 Lab L J 259=6 Lab 437=90 Ind Cas 145=A I R 1905 Lab 418. The admission of a wife in a divorce proceeding unsupported by corroborative proof should be received with utmost circumspection and caution L. v. L 108 Ind Cas 416 (F B), Ovi v. Ovi, 91 Ind Cas 20=49 B 367. If a person admits a right, it is necessary implication that he also admits the legal consequences of that right Guru Charan v. Surendra Kri 10 22 Ind Cas 670=19 C W N 363. Where a guardian is appointed to a minor for purposes of litigation in order to look after his interest any admission made by the minor against his own interest is waste paper Parlati v. Dharmraj, 32 Ind Cas 368. A statement made by a person in his own favour is inadmissible in evidence on his behalf Naqina Singh v. Sander 24 P W R 1916=33 Ind Cas 487. Title by law cannot pass by admission when the statute requires a deed Mathura v. Ramkuan, 23 C W N 270=43 C 790=23 C L J 26=35 Ind Cas 305, see also Jadunath v. Pyral 4 C L J 22 16 C L J 436; 22 C L J 380, India v. Dina 6 L W 147=(1917) M W N 583=41 Ind Cas 505, Balkishan v. Aarun, 13 N L R 121, Jyoti v. Jagannath, 29 O C 18=38 Ind Cas 605. A purchaser cannot be prejudiced by admission subsequently made to the lender whose property has been sold does not bind the parties Beni v. Dudha Nath 27 C 156 P C=26 I 1 10 4 C W N 274, Duar v. Fati 26 C 250=3 C W N 222.

Admissions are always evidence against the party who makes them but marriage is a question merely of adjective law. Its probative value must depend on the facts. Latima v. M. Jhandi, A I R 1927 Sindh 20.

A person with liability still with regard to admissions & entries, against the producer's own pecuniary interest the law dispenses with all proof save that the book has been kept by or under the authority of the producer Mathilal v. Pr 96 Ind Cas 429=A I R 1926 Mad 955.

ability. Rest Lt § 528. So it is, in general, immaterial to whom the admission is made. Thus, an admission made to a stranger is as receivable as one made to an opponent; though it is said that an admission, in order to support an account stated, must have been made to the creditor or his agent, and an acknowledgment of debt made to a third person, neither agent nor privy to the creditor, will not defeat the Statute of Limitations, since it is not evidence of a promise of which he could not take advantage. (Rest Lt § 528, 11 B. 1. 11).

Rest Lt, 17 W. R. 990; Rest Lt § 1123; as are admissions made to himself in more solidary. (Rest Lt § 510), Phipps v. Post 191.

general, immaterial, Rest Lt 7th Ed.

of evidence, between direct admissions and those which are incidental or made in some other connection or involved in the admission of some other fact. Green v. Lt § 141. Frequently letters of a party are competent purely as admissions, and because some inference may be drawn from them unfavourable to the claim or defence of the writer. Burr Jones v. Lt § 269, Sisal v. Prosser v. Monohur, 23 W. R. 325. When letters of a party are in the nature of admissions, they are competent although written long before or after the commencement of the litigation, even though written to persons not parties to the litigation, on proof of their genuineness. Burr Jones v. Lt § 261. When letters are otherwise competent as admissions, they need not be signed or actually written by the party, provided they are sent by his direction. Barlett v. Mayo, 33 Me. 518. Except for the purpose of earlier reference, there would be no need to deal with other written admissions. The law is practically the same with regard to them as to letters, and is, that a properly be used in a matter may relate memo- randum written or authorized by a party may be offered as admissions against him like his oral statements. If self-serving in their character, it is immaterial in what form the document may appear. Burr Jones § 270. This rule has been applied to receipts (Harrison v. Remington Paper Co., 140 Fed. 385, (Am)),

Gadian, 27, bills of lading, acomber

Paul, Ill 535, person

(Am)], making the admission (Edward v. City of Watertown, 59 Hun, 620), maps (Brigman v. Jennings 1 Ld. Rumm. 734 Huronath v. Picoath 7 W. R. 249,

Craven, T. R. 48, rsh (Ky)

Doe v. 238], cit. Van Vey, Ald 606,

Graves, s in the an action books o against its president (Iney v. Chadsey 7 R. J. 224) Burr Jones v. Lt § 270 admissions, evidence against 41) and, of course, equally make them, against the party emalds 121 (Cal 74 (Am)).

of the defendant that the particulars contained in the entry were true. Narain Coomar v. Ramkrishna, 5 C. 861=6 C. L. R. 286. Similarly partnership books

S. 17.

of the several partners and to be tri

d

controversies between the members of the firm each member Daji ibaji v Gound 10 Bom L R 111. It may be with knowledge and consent, although the presumption may be rebutted by proof that the partner or party or against whom the entries are offered, have not had access to the books incorrect Burn Jones

the defendant under ss

Goundan 17 M 131

in affidavits or in answers to interrogatories in the same or former proceedings are also competent Phip 4th Ed p 215, Fleet v Perrius L R 3 Q B 536, Hari v Prosunno 22 W R 303; Legal Remembrances v Motilal Ghose 41 C 173, Bhugwant v Lall Jha, Marsh 48. Evidence given in Extra judicial proceedings by an accused person on his own behalf is an admission and is prima facie admissible. No particular formality is required to let it in as an

, 11 Ind Cas 50-29 Cr L J 962-1929 Sind 15 judicial admissions those contained in pleadings by reason not only of these presumed solemn contents, but with regard to the time at which they were made, their use in the action of which they form the basis, their use dehors that action, the chance of imprint, in brief by the circumstances not making them inadmissible speak only from information and belief in their pleadings, these pleadings may be offered in evidence parties no admissions of the facts so alleged Girish Chander v Shama Charn

15 W R 437 Austen v First 2 G A App 91 (Am). A statement in the plaint unchallenged and made by the plaintiff after his interest had been transferred is in no way binding upon the transferee Jahnomull v Saroda Prosal 7 C L J 604. The plaintiff may also rely upon the defendant's admission in the Pleadings or Affidavits or Answers to Interrogatories Tarinee v Duarka Nath 15

W R 451, Re Cohen (1924) 2 Ch 515. But admissions contained in a statement filed in plaintiff's name are not proof that they have been made by her,

Asmutloo v Alla Hafiz, 25 W R 125 to as evidence in plaintiff's favour

Radha Churn v Chunder Monee 9 W R

W R 519. But it does not bind his co-defendant Lochman v Sansur

395-A W N 1894, 138, Azizullah Khan v Ahmad, 7 A 353-A W N 1895,

54. So also admissions may be made in verified petitions Girish v Shama

15 W R 437, Mohun v Chitto, 21 W R 24, Gour v Mohesh 14 W R 451

An admission in a

1. An admission in

14 B L R App

(1893) 1 Ch 84

Akhoy, 19 C L J
Bibee v Achmal
J 188; Pe Hoyle

Conditions of Admissibility—Statement must be one of fact. The extra judicial statement of as would apply to the

of all essential that

be one of fact: ex affir

While inference is a

admission may be a psychological one, ex q, belief Ibid

Admission on Matter of Law. Parties cannot by their admissions of law be bound to offer to the court to adopt their view

1

from certain facts, his 'opinion' as it is frequently called are not present as for an admission except in cases where the declarant might, if present as a witness, have testified to the same inference or conclusion Chamberlain's Ex

§ 1293 An admission on
v. Sunler, A I R 1924 1 S.
 Nag 311; R v. Furtie, 81
 13 Cox 173; R v. Lane.
 I. R. 1923 Lab 779-113 Ind C 99; A I R. 1927 Lab 234; A I R 1926
 Outh 311, 92 Ind C 732 An erroneous admission by a counsel on a point of law is of no effect and does not preclude the party from claiming his legal rights in the App Hu 27 C L J 147-15 Ind C 953; 109-1 A
 Sup 17; Hem Parshil Johnston, 12 Hark (59 Gen) 155, Asraf
 14, 7 C L J 152; Ramaram v. Khikim, 11 C W N 310 So also an erroneous admission of the pleader of a party on a point of law cannot bind the party, Dicir Bux v. Fakh 3 C W N 222, see also Kishori v. Rajmal, 24 B 360, Narayan v. Venkta, 29 B 403

Statements made under constraint or duress In regard to admissions made under circumstances of constraint, a distinction is taken between civil and criminal cases, and it has been considered, that on the trial of civil actions, admissions are receivable in evidence, provided the compulsion under which they are given is legal and the party was not imposed upon or under duress. Thus, in the trial of Collector v. Lord Keith, 11 sp 212, the testimony of the defendant, in which he admitted the vindicate his conduct. In that case Le Blanc J., remarked that the manner in utter of observation to the jury, issue, he was bound to receive las v. Ramabanga, 106 P R extends also to answers voluntarily given to the cross-examination asked, and to which the witness might successfully have objected. So the voluntary answers of a bankrupt before the commissioners are evidence in a subsequent action against the party himself, he whole examination was obtained by imposition led by Lord Ellenborough

 When such admissions
Stoddard v. De Fastel,

4 Camp 11, Robson v. Alexander, 1 M & P 118

Erroneous admission An erroneous admission may be withdrawn Sita
Ram v. Pir Baksh, A I R 1931 Lab 6, see also A I R 1923 All 575, A I R
 1928 Lab 726; 77 Ind C 875, 65 Ind C 368

Statement must be certain An admission must be certain, and consistent, definite and clearly proved. It must, in addition, be couched in language reasonably capable, without forced or strained construction, to bear the interpretation placed on it. While conjectural and suppositious statements are excluded absolute precision is not demanded in case of a declaration offered as an admission. A statement is not inadmissible because of a possibility of ambiguity Chamberlayne's Lr 1295 A vague admission is not enough 83 Ind. C 9
 904-21 A L J 869

Statement must be voluntary It is further required not only that the statement should be one of fact but that it should have been voluntarily made by the declarant. A distinction should, upon principle, be drawn between the admission obtained by the use of duress, where the will is overpowered or controlled and the bare custody of an officer is not sufficient to exclude a statement otherwise

S. 18 voluntary. Nor is it ground for rejecting the statement as not voluntary that it was given by the declarant as a witness in response to compulsory process whether in Court, before arbitrators, commissioners in bankruptcy, or in other judicial proceedings. As the only important matter is the fact that the declaration was made by a party, the circumstances under which he made it are of little regard as unimportant provided he knew what he was doing and desired to do it. Chamberlayne's Li § 1294

18. Statements made by a party to the proceeding, or by an agent to any such party, whom the Court regards, under the circumstances of the case as expressly or impliedly authorized by him to make them, are admissions

Statements made by parties to suits suing or sued in a representative character, are not admissions, unless they were made while the party making them held that character

Statements made by—

(1) persons who have any proprietary or pecuniary interest in the subject-matter of the proceeding, and who make the statement in their character of persons so interested, or

(2) persons from whom the parties to the suit have derived their interest in the subject-matter of the suit, are admissions, if they are made during the continuance of the interest of the persons making the statements

Prima facie

Admission attaches primarily if not exclusively to a statement of fact, to its constituent quality in relation rather than to the relation existing between the statement and the fact. A statement competent as an admission may in many cases, be one in an independently relevant rather than an assertory capacity. Thus the offer of one accused of crime to plead guilty under certain conditions while receivable against the declarant, is plainly not within the operation of the Hearsay rule. Admission of this type are perhaps more pre-eminently those of course, however, being made by the party as belonging to the person making them and they are offered in evidence by persons not parties to the suit, the admissibility of statements against the interest of the party utterance, when made thus represents the party's own belief (Vide s 20). By adoption, the party may assent to a statement already uttered by another person, which thus becomes effectively the party's own admission. By privity of interest and by agency the party's rights may in the substantive law be affected by the acts of another person and thus the other person's admissions may equally be available evidentially. Wignote § 1070. In order that an admission may be who made it had one interest of section 18 of the Evidence Act 711; see also Ya Sheng v Mann 17, 5 W R 268

A general Procedural Requirement From the historical point of view, it seems clear that the practical development of the subject of admissions was materially affected by the existence of procedural rules now practically obsolete. These forbade a party to call his antagonist as a witness and thus confined a proponent, as to facts within the latter's knowledge, to such statements as he may have made with regard to them. But an earlier and more potent formative influence, whether the admissions were judicial or extra-judicial, has been that it demands good faith the Courts should. It is prescribed for his story. It punishes a party who attempts to deceive the Court by false The same principle en to talk about a Darby v Ouseley, is held to explain any statements he may have made in the matter Chamberlayne's Ex § 1234

Scope of the section This section deals with admissions in general. The R 434 "No to a suit. The th admissions made by nominal parties, e.g., consignees suing in the name of consignor. When the Court considers the admission of such a party fraudulent, it should be rejected at once. See notes to Banerman v Radinus, 3 Sm L C 363" Not Ex 143 Admissions under this section are only evidence against the persons

S. 18. making them. Under section 33, infra, the admissions there enumerated are evidence against all the world

In order to render the admission of one person receivable in evidence against another, it must relate to some matter in which either both were jointly interested or one was dermatively interested through the other; and a mere community of interest will not be sufficient. Thus, where two persons were in partnership and an action made by the only of co part only of co part Rau stone v Gandell, 15 M & W 304 Phillips v Elaget, 11 M & W 84 So, of the contractors, nothing

bind the personal represen 12. Foultham v Hallis 10

sions of the executor bind the survivor. Seater v. Lawson, 4 B. & Ad. 356; Hathaway v. Haskell, 9 Pick. 24. Neither will the admissions of one tenant in common be receivable against his co-tenant, though both are parties on the same side of the suit. Dan v. Brown, 4 Cowen 183 (1821); Taylor § 751.

Where a party sues in a representative capacity—a trustee, executor, administrator, and only a statements admission in his personal representative capacity.

other words, in all these relations, substantive interest rather than form of record is regarded as the determining factor. One who is to receive the fruits of successful litigation procedure holds responsible for his statements in connection with its subjects matter. Chamberlayne's Eq § 1311. In the Court of Chancery, in England, evidences are not received of admissions or declarations of the parties, which are

For example, the admission. In an action by A against X for prosecuting a suit contrary to an agreement, to prove the prosecution of the suit by X, A offered admissions by X of the obtaining of the judgment and issue of execution. They were objected to, on the ground that they were not the best evidence, and that a certified copy of the judgment should be produced.

In Smith v case of the admis grounds. The al belongs to parol evidence from other sources. A party's own statements and admissions are, in all cases, admissible in evidence against him, though such statements and admissions may involve what must necessarily be contained in some writing, deed or record. Thus the statements of a party that certain land y deed as the admit

against himself may reasonably be taken to be true.¹ A statement made by defendant in another suit may be used as an admission within the meaning of this section Hirish v Prossimo, 22 W R 303; Mohun v Chuttoo, 21 W R 34; Lala v Diqambar, 22 W R 304 N; Forbes v Mahomed, 14 W R 28 P C.

its simplest form when the admissions are made by one who is a party to the record and who is also a real party if he made the statement. When the statement proven is between the parties to the transaction, it has always been the rule that one party could prove the of the action. Such admissions, prima facie, conclusive against the party who

L. E. A.-41

S. 18. making them Under section 32, infra, the admissions there enumerated are evidence against all the world

In order to render the admission of one person receivable in evidence against another, it must relate to some matter in which he is directly interested or one was dermatinely interested through some other person of interest will not be sufficient. Thus, in Wigmore § 107, citing Pendell v. Gubens, 115 Atl 859; Stevens v. Continental, 97 N W 862; Chipman v. R. Co., 12 Utah 8 (Am) and an action was brought against them as partners of a vessel, and admission made by the one, as to a matter which was not a subject of co-partnership, but admission as executor or the like would not be receivable against them as representative in his personal capacity. A guardian so far as his powers place him in a representative capacity is subject to the same rules, but the function of a guardian ad litem begins to end with the litigation, and consequently his extra judicial admissions are not receivable at all. Wigmore § 107, citing Pendell v. Gubens, 115 Atl 859; Stevens v. Continental, 97 N W 862; Chipman v. R. Co., 12 Utah 8 (Am) not that the declarations of the real

Where procedure still permits as the real and beneficial party in

Smith v. Lyon, 3 Cramp 455, which of the owner on a charter contract. Ellenborough L. C. J. said "Although action is in the name of the master it is brought for the benefit of the owner, I am therefore of opinion that anything said by the latter is admissible evidence for the defendant." A share holder of a company is not the real party in legal interest, and his statements cannot be received as admissions of the corporation taken in England for that of the representative, here it is of the party through whom he derives his right to sue. Thus, if an executor were to sue for a debt, the declaration of the deceased against him would be receivable. Proctor v. Proctor, 29 In the same land held by him the declarations of the former owner of goods that he had sold them have been admitted against the lord of the manor who claimed them as heriot. Evat v. Finch, 1 Taunt. 141, Nort. Ev 148 has no beneficial interest in the issue of the litigation will not be permitted to affect by his admissions the substantial rights of one for whom he is acting the previous assignment. Henson v. Wild, 2 Camp. 651. Green Ev § 172. S. 1

35

 "The modern prac has no interest in prejudice of Bumstead, 99
 party is even 1
L. C. & D. Ry
Payne v. Rogers, Doug. 107.

A nominal party may be affected by the admission of a real party, who though not named in the record, has a substantial interest in the result. Falcon
v. Famous Players, (1926) 2 K B 171; Leil v. Insly, 16 East 113.

Seip fact to do law
 8 Scott. N. R. 830 I in authority to make such contract or a larger authority to make all falling within the class or description to which it belongs, or a general authority to make any;
 a relation existed between the parties for instance, that of partners, by which by law the agent of the other for all particular partnership whether general or special, or usually belonging to it, or the relation of husband and wife, in considers the husband to make his agency may be created in quoad hoc, precisely the same as a real authority given by the defendant to the agent. This representation may be made directly to the plaintiff, or made publicly, so that it may be inferred to have reached him and may be made by of the case, as expressly or impliedly authorised by him to make them' leave it open to the Courts to deal with each case that arises upon its own merits Field p. 44

The principal constitutes the agent his representative, in the transaction of certain business, whatever therefore, the agent does, in the lawful prosecution of that business, is the act of the principal whom he represents Green Ev §

the lines, any says
 So a ances ough
 (652).

S. 18.

as his mere instrument. So whatever contract for his principal or at the time, any act, within the scope of his authority, and in the course of a particular contract or transaction in which he is then engaged, is in legal effect, and by his principal, and admissible in evidence not merely because it is a deed that being made at the time is treated as the declaration the res gestae, a part of the if in fact made by himself own authority, and not accompanying the making of a contract or the doing of an act, in behalf of the transaction to which they are part of the res gestae and general rule of law, excludes statement by an agent of what not a part of the transaction.

The declarations by agents are original evidence and not hearsay, being regarded as verbal acts, they are receivable in evidence without calling the agent himself to prove them Doe v. Hawkins, 2 Q. B. 212; Tay § 602. They are the ultimate facts to be proved and not an admission of some other fact, and the only question is whether the declarations were made and relied upon. It often happens, however, that the declarations of an agent are admissible as part of the res gestae and that they form no part of any contract and contain no element of estoppel in which cases they are of course, open to explanation or may be shown to be incorrect, like admissions in general. Burr Jones § 22. The admission of an agent that he purchased as agent is evidence that the purchase was made by him in that capacity and not on his own account Goreebollah v. M. R. G. D. Boyd 2 W. R. 10, see also Mohesh Lal v. Basant, 6 C. 340 (352), Gorindj v. Chhotu, 2 Bom. L. R. 651; Parameswara v. Tijaithen, 20 Ind. Cas. 637.

Admission by agent—When receivable. The admission of an agent can not always be assimilated to the admission of the principal. The party's own admission, whenever made, may be given in evidence against him, but the admission or declaration of his agent binds him only when it is made during the transaction.

§ 1078 The b in Fairlie v in 1788 had set

some time before the true principle was defined and accepted Ibid, 100.
(1) As the case of Fairlie v Hastings, 10 Ves. 123 (1804) is of some importance as well as of interest the judgment of Sir William Grant, Master of the Rolls is given in extenso "The subject of this cause is a loan of money by the late plaintiff, Maharajah Nabokissen to the defendant Warren Hastings. As it is not by bill in equity that money lent is to be recovered, it is incumbent upon the Court for sum by instalments; that a bond remain with a Cauntloo Baboo, an agent should be advanced, and then should never received the bond, Cauntloo Baboo in S.

 real, and could not read any part evidence of declaration by Gobind is whether these declarations are the bill. Upon that question my opinion is, that these declarations do not come within the principle upon which they are supposed to be admissible. As a general proposition, what one man says, not upon oath, cannot be evidence against another man. The exception must arise out of some peculiarity of agent may, un-his agreement, be what constitutes the agreement of the principal, or the representations or statements may be the foundation of or the inducement to, the agreement. Therefore, if writing is not necessary by law, evidence must be admitted to prove that the agent did with regard to acts done, the words uently tend to determine their quality must be affected by the words. But except in one or the other of those ways, I do not know how what is said by an agent can be evidence against his principal. The mere assertion of a fact cannot amount to proof of it, though it may have some relation to the business in which the person making that assertion was employed as agent. For instance, if it was a material fact that there was the bond of the defendant in the hands of Cauntloo Baboo, that fact would not be proved by the assertion that Gobind Baboo supposing him an agent, had said there was for that is no fact, that is, no part of any agreement which Gobind Baboo, is making, or of any statement he is making, is inducement to an agreement. It is mere narration, communication to the witness in the court of conversation, and therefore dismissed Loughborn agent to B, whatever A does agent of B, is admissible which he makes for B, and the agent's account of what also Kahl v.

 C 335
 a penalty for selling short measures a witness was proceeding to state what was said to him by one Peely who managed the defendant's business, as to a sale about to take place. Lord Ellenborough admitted the evidence saying "Peely ness, what he t, or on another said respecting a sale of coals, then about to take place and respecting the deposition of the in the course of affect his master" Railway Company master to a Police ys servants, were received as admissions against the company, the station master being the proper agent to make such statements. Ibid In that case Cockburn C J said "I Archibald J said "Being in charge of the station at the time a felony was committed, it was his duty to put the police in motion. That being so, I think he was acting within the scope of his duty, that he had power to bind the not by the declarations themselves even when accompanied by acts purporting to be acts of agency. Montgomery v Leith, 162 Al. 216 (Am). Unless and until the agency is so proved and the declarations, acts or admissions of the agent come within the rule laid down, the evidence is not admissible. Such proof need not be invariably introduced in the first instance, the order of proof being within the discretion of the Court. Burr Jones § 255; see also Chamberlayne's Fe. §§ 1333, 1339, Emperor v. Rulbaram, 19 Cr. L. J. 789. Declarations and acts are competent to prove agency if there is proof of former similar acts or declarations recognized or approved by the principal. Burr Jones § 255. Agency may also be proved by proving that the agent has acquired credit by acting in that capacity and that he has been recognized by the principal in other instances of a similar character to that in question. In Watkins v Venee, 2 Stark, 368, a guarantee signed by a son for his father was admitted as evidence upon three or four occasions. House, 1 Camp. Whitefield v Brand, 10 the general agent, Ram Dinksh v Ashori Mohan, 3 B L R A C J 273.

Agency may be either general or special, and it may be express as when it and be an equivalent to an original authority; Omnis ratihabitio retrotrahitur et mandato priori equibatur (A subsequent ratification has a retrospective effect and is equivalent to prior command) So, where A and B were jointly interested in a quantity of oil, which A contracted to sell without B's authority, and B at first assented to the agreement on hearing of it, but afterwards made the contract binding upon him. The point to be regarded in this clause is no agency, as to which the Court must be satisfied, but that there was authority given sufficient to cover the particular statements relied on as admissions. Though the maxim is qui facit per alium facit per se, the identity ceases where the agent exceeds the scope of his authority, and his admissions in such a case will not bind his principal. Nort E= 144.

infant because an under agreement to make a new contract for the future occupation of it, will be wife should have this extensive power of conducting the business of the 2, Fay § 60b impliedly constitutes a third person his agent for the purpose of impliedly authorised to make a Fateh v Baldeo, 5 O W N 155=A I R 1928 Oudh 233

S. 18.

19 Pick (Mass U S) But the opinion or conclusion of an agent is not binding on his principal unless it is in his behalf and are not admitted but is admitted to make a principal Burr upon the personal action, inference is of acknowledgment. Limitation Act

(IX of 1908)

Evidence in Primary Admissions by an agent have the same quality of primary proof which characterizes other admissions. The declaration is equally competent though the declarant be in Court and available as a witness. The evidence furnished by the fact of an admission is primary. So also, the statement continues competent after the death of the principal, if made by the agent before that event. It is entirely unaffected by the death of the agent. Chaitin v. Lym's Ex § 1343

Agents
statements, which latter will on them (a) in

tion, or (b) in pursuance of an authority to make statements or reports as to matters affecting his principal's business or interests; or (c) in the due execution of a general authority to carry on the business of his principal or a particular department of it with full discretion and powers of management. Hills v. El 163. So a letter written by the secretary of a company by order of the acting directors, stating the number of shares held by M was admitted on behalf of his executors in proceedings against them. Meux's Executors Case 2 D M & G 222, see also Natural Exchange Com ment made by the chair. Act, 1862, at a general meeting against the company. In Roscoe N P 70 in rejecting the admission of the chairman in Fry J said his agency. If that were so the statement would be admissible. It is for it was made

So also the secretary of a projected company has not by any power to bind the members of the provisional committee by admission. Burnside v. Dayrell, 3 Exch 225. In Bruff v. Gl N Ray Co, 1 F & F 115. Hills J rejected an admission of the secretary of a company as to the receipt of a letter. And an admission by the board meeting of a company registered consisting of a less number of directors than was required by the deed of settlement was rejected in Ridley v. Plymouth Banking Co 2 Exch 711. Admissions by servants of a company, in dants in action to to who was responsible ence, when made at the time of tent, against the company, on the ground that his employment did not carry with it authority to make declarations or admissions at a suit performed his duty; and that which the injuries arose and was then engaged, but that it was a mere narration of past occurrence. But as has already been pointed out, that there is a class of cases in which the business, are made Kirkstall

S. 1

his, 18 C.
v. London
ramuay Co, 27 L. T. 193; Mauheir v Nelson & Co & P 58; Loughboro 389. But in the agent's
Jo. Widont

So in every case the question invariably by the agent in the scope of his authority or, as it is sometimes put, in the time of his duty? If so, it is admissible against the corporation. The declarations npo

don

by him. Durr Jones Ex. § 357.

contracts, give receipts, compromise business, Kishan v Har, 39 I. A.
V N 321 He can maintain suit on as and can receive payments and

Ramkrishna, 15 Bom L
v. Ram, 35 A 380; Sark

- S. 18. the transaction was really for the benefit of the family, he can not rely upon an acknowledgment of the liability, made by one of them as an acknowledgment duly made on behalf of all of adult co-parceners under special circumstances, bind the other suami v Krishner is also not open make an acknowledgment those who claim through the person acknowledging Ram Kishan v Hardilam 71 Ind. Cas 737 = 1923 Lrb 135 against the employer? Because made in performance of any work been asked by a brakeman when point, and had then mentioned receiving certain instructions from the despatcher, this statement might be regarded as made in the course of performing his appointed work. Wigmore § 1078.

Admission by agents in criminal cases. The rules of admissibility are in general the same for the trial of civil and of criminal causes. Not only in practice, but in principle and in spirit there is no occasion for a distinction 18 Cox 460, upon the division of opinions whether under the circumstances or not the testimony of Captain Coit to the facts stated in the record, was admissible. That testimony was to the following effect That he, Captain Coit was at St. Thomas while the General Winder was at that island, in September 1924 and was frequently on board the vessel at that time, that Captain of the authority of the master, the nature of the fittings, and the way accomplishment of the voyage, being thus laid, the testimony of Captain Coit was offered as confirmatory of the proof, and properly admissible against the defendant. It was objected to, and now stands upon the objection before us. The argument is, that the testimony is not admissible, because, in criminal cases, the force of the argument. In general, the rules of evidence in civil and criminal cases are the same. Whatever the agent does, within the scope of his authority, binds his principal, and is deemed his act. It must be shown that the agent has the authority, and that the act is within its scope; but these being conceded or be con-poison.

S.

istive or circumstantial, but this is matter for the consideration of the jury and not of the legal competency. So, in the cases of conspiracy and riot, when once the conspiracy or combination is established, the act of one conspirator, in the prosecution of the enterprise, is considered the act of all, and is evidence against all. Each is deemed to consent to or command what is done by any other in furtherance of the enterprise. The master was just as much the purview of the

The evidence here offered was not the mere declarations of the master upon other occasions totally disconnected with the objects of the voyage. These declarations were connected with acts in furtherance of the objects of the voyage, and within the general scope of his authority as conductor of the enterprises. He was the agent for the Captain. His declarations were all made with reference to that object, and as persuasive to the undertaking

he is; and principal they had

An admission criminal, as defendant him
sible for a lett letter was wi it was written Where a pers agent, then it

5. 18. as where the agent is dead, which can be produced decided that a receipt given by the agent is the best evidence of the fact.

proved in the other, each particular fact is to be proved by its own evidence." Mr Plumer on the opposite side: "I desire it may be distinctly stated that the rules of evidence are the same in all cases."

between the agent and or said by the other; Chancellor Erskine in admitting the proof must advance cases, for a fact must be followed by a crime

is admissible

the statement of his servant, the strictly proved. It is not sufficient to say that because a man is another to the third the former is a servant of the latter. Rabaram v. Embar, 46 Ind. Cas 709-4 P L W. 120-19 Cr L J 789

Admission by wife The admission of the wife will bind the husband only where she has authority to make them. Emerson v. Blomden, 1 Esp 142, Anderson v. Sanderson, 2 Stark, 204. Case v. Alderson, 4 Campb. 92. This authority does not result, by operation of law, from the fact that the wife is a servant of the husband; but is a question of fact, to be inference of with great

Greenl. Ev § 165, Gregory v. Porter, 1 Campb 355, Riley v. Snyder, 4 Barb 222, Paethrop v. Furnish, 3 Esp 142, Where a wife is authorised to manage business of her husband, during his absence, her admission is evidence against her husband. Clifford v. Burton, 10 Q B 190. The law on this subject is that laid down by Alderson v. Burton, 4 Campb 92. This authority does not result, by operation of law, from the fact that the wife is a servant of the husband; but is a question of fact, to be may be his agent to make admissions with respect to matters connected with the trade." A wife's admission has been rejected to prove a slander by her husband Tait v Beggs, (1907) 2 Ir R 525. An admission of a daughter is not binding on the father. Buchan v Luter, 2 Agr 20.

Admissions by Pleadors, Attorneys and Counsels A vikal in this country has not ordinarily any greater power to bind his client than that which is possessed by an attorney in England. Wooltrotte Et 237, Prem Sukh v Parthee Pat. 11, 117, 118, 119, 120, 121, 122, 123, 124, 125, 126, 127, 128, 129, 130, 131, 132, 133, 134, 135, 136, 137, 138, 139, 140, 141, 142, 143, 144, 145, 146, 147, 148, 149, 150, 151, 152, 153, 154, 155, 156, 157, 158, 159, 160, 161, 162, 163, 164, 165, 166, 167, 168, 169, 170, 171, 172, 173, 174, 175, 176, 177, 178, 179, 180, 181, 182, 183, 184, 185, 186, 187, 188, 189, 190, 191, 192, 193, 194, 195, 196, 197, 198, 199, 200, 201, 202, 203, 204, 205, 206, 207, 208, 209, 210, 211, 212, 213, 214, 215, 216, 217, 218, 219, 220, 221, 222, 223, 224, 225, 226, 227, 228, 229, 230, 231, 232, 233, 234, 235, 236, 237, 238, 239, 240, 241, 242, 243, 244, 245, 246, 247, 248, 249, 250, 251, 252, 253, 254, 255, 256, 257, 258, 259, 260, 261, 262, 263, 264, 265, 266, 267, 268, 269, 270, 271, 272, 273, 274, 275, 276, 277, 278, 279, 280, 281, 282, 283, 284, 285, 286, 287, 288, 289, 290, 291, 292, 293, 294, 295, 296, 297, 298, 299, 300, 301, 302, 303, 304, 305, 306, 307, 308, 309, 310, 311, 312, 313, 314, 315, 316, 317, 318, 319, 320, 321, 322, 323, 324, 325, 326, 327, 328, 329, 330, 331, 332, 333, 334, 335, 336, 337, 338, 339, 340, 341, 342, 343, 344, 345, 346, 347, 348, 349, 350, 351, 352, 353, 354, 355, 356, 357, 358, 359, 360, 361, 362, 363, 364, 365, 366, 367, 368, 369, 370, 371, 372, 373, 374, 375, 376, 377, 378, 379, 380, 381, 382, 383, 384, 385, 386, 387, 388, 389, 390, 391, 392, 393, 394, 395, 396, 397, 398, 399, 400, 401, 402, 403, 404, 405, 406, 407, 408, 409, 410, 411, 412, 413, 414, 415, 416, 417, 418, 419, 420, 421, 422, 423, 424, 425, 426, 427, 428, 429, 430, 431, 432, 433, 434, 435, 436, 437, 438, 439, 440, 441, 442, 443, 444, 445, 446, 447, 448, 449, 450, 451, 452, 453, 454, 455, 456, 457, 458, 459, 460, 461, 462, 463, 464, 465, 466, 467, 468, 469, 470, 471, 472, 473, 474, 475, 476, 477, 478, 479, 480, 481, 482, 483, 484, 485, 486, 487, 488, 489, 490, 491, 492, 493, 494, 495, 496, 497, 498, 499, 500, 501, 502, 503, 504, 505, 506, 507, 508, 509, 510, 511, 512, 513, 514, 515, 516, 517, 518, 519, 520, 521, 522, 523, 524, 525, 526, 527, 528, 529, 530, 531, 532, 533, 534, 535, 536, 537, 538, 539, 540, 541, 542, 543, 544, 545, 546, 547, 548, 549, 550, 551, 552, 553, 554, 555, 556, 557, 558, 559, 560, 561, 562, 563, 564, 565, 566, 567, 568, 569, 570, 571, 572, 573, 574, 575, 576, 577, 578, 579, 580, 581, 582, 583, 584, 585, 586, 587, 588, 589, 590, 591, 592, 593, 594, 595, 596, 597, 598, 599, 600, 601, 602, 603, 604, 605, 606, 607, 608, 609, 610, 611, 612, 613, 614, 615, 616, 617, 618, 619, 620, 621, 622, 623, 624, 625, 626, 627, 628, 629, 630, 631, 632, 633, 634, 635, 636, 637, 638, 639, 640, 641, 642, 643, 644, 645, 646, 647, 648, 649, 650, 651, 652, 653, 654, 655, 656, 657, 658, 659, 660, 661, 662, 663, 664, 665, 666, 667, 668, 669, 670, 671, 672, 673, 674, 675, 676, 677, 678, 679, 680, 681, 682, 683, 684, 685, 686, 687, 688, 689, 690, 691, 692, 693, 694, 695, 696, 697, 698, 699, 700, 701, 702, 703, 704, 705, 706, 707, 708, 709, 710, 711, 712, 713, 714, 715, 716, 717, 718, 719, 720, 721, 722, 723, 724, 725, 726, 727, 728, 729, 730, 731, 732, 733, 734, 735, 736, 737, 738, 739, 740, 741, 742, 743, 744, 745, 746, 747, 748, 749, 750, 751, 752, 753, 754, 755, 756, 757, 758, 759, 760, 761, 762, 763, 764, 765, 766, 767, 768, 769, 770, 771, 772, 773, 774, 775, 776, 777, 778, 779, 780, 781, 782, 783, 784, 785, 786, 787, 788, 789, 790, 791, 792, 793, 794, 795, 796, 797, 798, 799, 800, 801, 802, 803, 804, 805, 806, 807, 808, 809, 810, 811, 812, 813, 814, 815, 816, 817, 818, 819, 820, 821, 822, 823, 824, 825, 826, 827, 828, 829, 830, 831, 832, 833, 834, 835, 836, 837, 838, 839, 840, 841, 842, 843, 844, 845, 846, 847, 848, 849, 850, 851, 852, 853, 854, 855, 856, 857, 858, 859, 860, 861, 862, 863, 864, 865, 866, 867, 868, 869, 870, 871, 872, 873, 874, 875, 876, 877, 878, 879, 880, 881, 882, 883, 884, 885, 886, 887, 888, 889, 890, 891, 892, 893, 894, 895, 896, 897, 898, 899, 900, 901, 902, 903, 904, 905, 906, 907, 908, 909, 910, 911, 912, 913, 914, 915, 916, 917, 918, 919, 920, 921, 922, 923, 924, 925, 926, 927, 928, 929, 930, 931, 932, 933, 934, 935, 936, 937, 938, 939, 940, 941, 942, 943, 944, 945, 946, 947, 948, 949, 950, 951, 952, 953, 954, 955, 956, 957, 958, 959, 960, 961, 962, 963, 964, 965, 966, 967, 968, 969, 970, 971, 972, 973, 974, 975, 976, 977, 978, 979, 980, 981, 982, 983, 984, 985, 986, 987, 988, 989, 990, 991, 992, 993, 994, 995, 996, 997, 998, 999, 1000.

his authority to act as agent in as it is to be implied from the mere been enlarged in the particular case, extends only to the management of the cause. Yet, conversely, all his admissions during the management, including utterances in the pleadings do affect the client. Wignmore § 1063. "The attorney is not the agent of the client for the purpose of making admissions, except in the cause and for the purpose of the cause. All that appeared here was that one of the plaintiff's witnesses by a they Au a ly because Lu Art 17 n on the ala, 10 W R. as IB is not evidence in the cause. Young v Wright, 1 Camp 139, Petch v Lyon, 9 Q B 147 (154). The reason for this distinction is found in the nature and extent of d for the management of the also Parkins v Hawkshaw Wilson v Turner, Launt, 398. If the admission is made appears that the attorney was Chiff, 4 Camp 133, Ellis v Bishesuar, 5 Pat 777 = 1927

Pat 61. But in Wagstaff v Wilson, 4 B & Ad 339 a letter threatening legal proceedings, but written before action begun, was excluded. See also, Doc v Richards, 2 C & K 216. So in the absence of any retainer at that time in the ke the admissions ss 185; Burghart 34 Green Lu § "If an attorney herein binds the tams 2 B & Ad

845, 855; Standage v Greighton, 5 C & P 406, Taylor v Foster, 2 C & P 195, Griffiths v Williams 1 T R 710, Fruschie v Burton, 9 Moore 64, Lord Owen & Co v Wood, 120 Ia 303 (Am) wards be withdrawn" Taylor § 783 citing Hart v Croudson Union, per Ct. of here there was no counsel in the N 82, Mr. Justice to conduct his

S 18.

Venkata
v Minis Bhasya

see also Sen v Chunn Lal, 51 C 385, Ashtaran Muthu, 105 Ind Cas 5. A counsel's authority is less extensive than that of a solicitor Richardson v Peto, 1 M & G 806, R v Greenwich 15 C 2. Gaya, 1923 (Pat) 307. It is not binding on the to bind his client by 466, but see Bansi Lal v. Emperor, 30 Bom L. R 646-A 1 R 1928 Bom 241. If a plaintiff relies upon any statement by the defendant or his pleader made in a previous litigation between the parties, that statement must regularly proved. On proof of such statement the question arises as to its weight to be attached to it. Mam Lal v Uma Charan, 19 C L J 541. A judgment deliberately recording the admission of a pleader must be presumed to be correct, unless contradicted by an affidavit, or the Judge's own admission that the record was wrong. Hu Dyal v Hura Lal, 16 W R 107.

Oral testimony on behalf of a litigant in a litigation with B on the footing of a admitted as evidence against him in a litigation with B on the footing of a not strictly in it, although any subsequent. British Insulate Co v Jo 252-156 L T Jo 440. Per Russel J affirmed an appeal in (1934) 2 Ch 160-93 L J Ch 467-131 L T 683.

Partners and joint contractors. 1. virtue of ner concerning partnership affairs by this Act is evidence against the member. By the act of Er

1 Taunt 104; Pethering v Turner, 1 Taunt 104, R v Hardwick, 11 East 589, Fox v Chpton, 6 Bing 792, Nicholls v Dowding, 1 Stark, R. 81; Lucas v De la Cour, 1 M & S 249; Whitcomb v Whittington, 1 S L C 44-9 Doug, 622. Kals v Gope, 2 C W N 166, 189. Partners and joint contractors making admissions against or joint conf 588 (591) in the admissions admissible 281 (Am); 1 who are present one of them, within his presence within the partners have been observed made during action, are admissible against both; and entries in the partnership books made by a partner during the continuance of partnership are admissible against both. Admissions of one partner are admissible against all to prove the execution admissible. Although one admission may be received, without question of credibility." Burr received against another on the same ground that they are business and within the scope

Koersulaiah v. Mukta, 11 C. 528 (591), Steph Dig Et art 17; Re Wintely, (1891) 1 Ch 593; Catha v. Jhoro, 39 C. 995. While the firm thus created exists, it speaks and acts only by the several members; and of course when the existence ceases by dissolution of the firm the act of an individual member ceases to have the effect, as by the agreement. Bel.

v. Braddick, 1

admi

15 (A

Dore, doubt

is not the statement made during the existence of the partnership, it is undoubtedly binding on and evidence against the other members of the firm. Burr Jones § 248. In Wood v. Braddick, 1 Taunt, 104 (1803) which was an action brought to recover from the defendant the sale proceeds of certain linens, which the bankrupts, in the year 1796, had consigned for sale to America, as the plaintiffs alleged, to the defendant jointly with one Cox, who was then his partner, but, as the defendant contended, to Cox only, the plaintiff produced a letter from Cox, dated 24th June, 1804, stating a balance of £919 to be then due to the bankrupts upon this consignment. It was in proof that on the 30th of July 1802, Braddick and Cox dissolved their partnership, as from the 17th of November, 1800 Cochett and Lens Serjts, objected that this letter, being written after the dissolution of the partnership, was not admissible evidence to charge Braddick. In rejecting the contention Mansfield C J said "Clearly the admission of one partner, made after the partnership has ceased, is not evidence to charge the other in any transaction which has occurred rights created lear that one principle is it joint contract one person in regard to past last exception

Myl 191, 199,

200, when payment, against th
Whitney,
Deane V

S. 18. others, admissions made by the signatory at a time other than the execution of the contract were held inadmissible Tuft v Church, 162 Mass 527 (1m) And where one partner after having given a note in his own name said it was for the partnership in Smith, 21 Wind ("partnership, that for the rest, in con that relationship for himself in simi goods, either of t into the same business, at the same place, on his own account. The legal presumption is, when a person purchases a thing, he purchases it for him self In such case, the vendor, in order to charge another person as a partner, must show the purchase was made for the firm or that it went to their use. So where a member of a partnership bought a mule, ostensibly for himself, and when it was sent home he said it was for the firm, his declaration so made after the purchase was not of itself competent to bind them. It is a general rule of the law of evidence that the against all the rest, evidence is admis received when the rule of interest in the cause excluded the witness" Burr

all the partners, and kept more or less also generally be received as prima facie evidence inter se Gething v Keighley, 9 Ch D 547, 551; Lindley on Partnership p 566 Day " Golding v Newman 10 B & C 910. In Tolson v Pritchard 3 De G M & G the books of against them a tion If one ground for an to exclude an allegation of a mistake or erroneous omission or insertion The only question is whether the books are prima facie evidence between partners and their estates In my opinion they are" But it is not conclusive evidence again if he can by clear evidence show that there is an 9 Ch D 549, c 5 Ir 5 R in Gething v Keighley App 587, Hutchinson v Smith Day .

with
So an
But representation or in respect to some partnership 2 B & A 795, Thwaites v R 81, per Lord Ellenborough of several parties in fraud as fact by the innocent parties, created by the Court Raeburn v One member of a firm can borrow notes and such promissory notes as, 40 M 727, Karmali v Karu 11.

39 II 261.

Limitation—Saving of, by acknowledgment of one partner An acknowledgment or a payment by a partner without special authority is binding upon another partner. Under section 21 of the Limitation Act a partner who has no authority to acknowledge or to make a part payment, but if he has general authority to contract debts or make payments he has implied authority to keep the debt alive and it is unnecessary to make out a special authority.

Chegamull v Govinda Swami, A I R 1923 Mad 972 So in the absence of S.

v. Viera
18 (1918)
Ind Cas.
1 Ind. Cas.
33-35 M. 112; see also K. R. Firm v Sathyarado, 21 Ind. Cas 635=37 M.
146=25 M. L J 501

In Premji v Doss, 10 B 353, Scott J said at p 362. "It must be shown that the partner plied to do so to be presumed bad High Court in Gadu Bibi v Pirsolam, 10 A. 418 and Candy J of Bombay High Court in Dulsukham v
W R 145; Lalla v Bibu, 32 A

) and though the nership (Watson v circumstances be treated as continuing where, for instance, the retirement of a partner is kept secret and payments of interests are made in the name of the firm In re Tucler (1894)
3 Ch 429=63 L J Ch 777, see also Abulali v Ranchadlal, 38 Ind Cas 872=
19 Bom L R 80 (95), Karamali v Boralanji, 26 Ind Cas 917=39 B 201=10
C W N 277

of payments by s of Limitation as to of that particular form of liability is of first importance, and the solution lies in stripping the proposition to the bare statement of the authority, express or implied, with which the declarant was invested at the time of the declaration The discussion is limited to admissions made after dissolution Prior to it, and whether the admission be regarded as a new contract or an extension of an old one, there need be no question of the partner's ability to charge his co partners with the act which bars the Statute But after dissolution the agency and its cessation, or rather the exact time of the determination of the agency regulates the period when such admissions or payments which operate as admissions become, as to the other partners, ineffectual Burr Jones § 249 partnership does not Similarly a partner of authority to give an 36 Ind Cas 225=

8 L B R 363

Parties suing or party is receivable as interest, & relation to be affected by the ac evidence as that other person may have furnished by way of admissions on this privity may be Where the p administrator, and only adn
statements ma

41; Couling v Ely 2 Stark 366), though it may bind the person himself when he is afterwards a party, suo jure, in another action. A solemn admission, however, made in good faith, in a pending suit for the purpose of that trial only, is governed by other considerations.

startling proposition," says Taylor, "that the assets of a testator, and the consequent rights of legatees may be affected by some inconsiderate statement which the executor, before the death of the testator, may have been induced to make." Taylor § 755. But statement of such persons is competent, made while representing the person beneficially interested, and in the transaction of business or in performance of the trust in such manner as to be part of res gestae. Church v Howard, 79 N Y 415 (Am), for an affidavit of guardian of an infant. Concha v Concha, 11 App Cas 541 543. So infant in another

"If he was a while actually

607, 611, affirmed (1897) 2 Q B 192. Trustee v. Humming, (1897) 1 Q B 192. Land etc Co, 28 Colo 320, the Court ref fraudulent admission.

14, Fox & Walters, 12 A & E 43, Dr 1

v. Russell, 53 Hun 17=4 N Y Supp 781 (1st Chancery H) and 70 N.Y. 1st S operate as a waiver Katlas v. Sheikh Chhennu, 12 C 516, Woodroffe, 232.

§ 1076(2); (see also) guardian of the person of an infant as to the property right of the latter are not for other purposes as 825, see also, 10 C L R 377, Ammal 24 I A rt of Wards, made bind or prejudice Cas 825=29 C L

J. 577; Ram Aulur v. Royah Mohammad, 24 C 853=1 C W N 117, 21 W R

253 An acknowledgment of debt period of limitation Ram Charan v.

J. 375; Sobhanadasi v. Sriramulu

456, Annahaganda v. Sanjadyappa,

292; Chhata v. Bullo, 26 C 51, guardian of a Hindu minor has no power to keep debt alive against the minor Ramzuanji v. Kashinath, 103 Ind C 529=A I R 1928 Mad 226

t in receiving

to the party is same person that view that flows that the becomes recipi-

other words,

the admissions of one co plaintiff or co defendant are not receivable against another merely by virtue of his position as a co party in the litigation This is necessarily involved in the notion of an admission, for it is impossible to discredit A's claims as a party by contrasting them with what some other party B has elsewhere claimed, there is no discrediting in such a process of contrast, because it is not the same person's statements that are contrasted Moreover ordinary fairness would forbid such a license, for it would in practice permit a litigant to discredit an opponent's claim merely by joining any person as the opponent's co-party and then employing that person's statements as admissions It is plain, therefore, both on principle and in policy, that the statements of a who happen to be joined as parties to the case See also In re Whiteley

L R (1891) 1 Ch 558, Azizul

Lachman v. Tansukh 6 A 395; Amrit

W R 214=2 I A 113, Chandewar

lah v. Himmul Ali, 23 W R 519

by one defendant can not be read in evidence either for or against his co-defen-

to be read in

Johns

being,

.. have been

S. 18. afforded for cross examination (Jones v Fairbairn, 2 Ves 11, Morse v Russell, 12 Ves 355, 361, 363), and moreover, if such a course were allowed, the plaintiff might make one of his friends a defendant, and thus gain a most unfair advantage (Witch v Mead, 3 P Wms 311) Taylor § 151

But the situation has often been obscured by the circumstance that the co-party's admissions are received against himself, and that they are sometimes received also against the other co-party because of a privity of obligation or of title. But it is not by virtue of the person's relation to the litigation that this can be done, it must be because of some privity of title or of obligation, which would indeed have admitted the statements even had the declarant not been made a co-party. Hignior § 1076. In R v Hardwick, 11 East 578. Fletcher borough L C J said "Evidence of a defendant in trespass will not, But if they be established to declaration of the one, evidence against all object" The payment period of limitation for the surety's debt. Gopal Daji v Gopal Bin, 28 B 248.

In Ambar Ali v Lutfec Ali, 45 C 159=25 C L J 619=21 C W N 100, at page 999 Mr Justice Mookerjee said "There can be no room for contrivance that the admission is good evidence against the maker of conveyance, but the question arises whether it is admissible against the other defendants. These defendants it will be observed, are jointly interested in the land now in dispute, along with fourth and fifth defendants, in fact, they claim under a common lease from the landlord, and have on the basis thereof, taken a common defence to defeat the suit of the plaintiffs. But these defendants were not joint owners of the property covered by the conveyance of 1894, and were strangers to that transaction. They consequently press the view that an admission made by the owners of that property cannot be received in evidence against them, merely because, since the date of the alleged admission, they have jointly acquired the property now in suit. In our opinion this contention is well founded and section 18 of the Evidence Act is of no assistance to the plaintiffs. The principle which regulates the reception in evidence of an admission by one defendant against another defendant, is formulated in Sundari 11 C 385, Chaito Singh v Muddi, 41 C 130=20 C W N 1217 are jointly interested in the subject matter these persons is receivable not only defendants, whether they be all joint relates to the subject matter in character of a person jointly interested is tendered. The requirement of the owners of fundamental

134. C
Shim

in legal interest between the joint relationship. shop, 11 B a joint owner
as in Blakeney person cannot interest in the

the other to the litigation that frequently it is not in view of the admission against the co-defendant

the words of section 18 were perfectly clear and in as much as he made the statement when he had parted with his interest in favour of his co-defendant in the present suit, the admission made by him could not be treated as evidence of admission against the co-defendant Banbhallay v. Union Bank 30 C W N

S.

that the brothers were not joint at the date of the sale and that the properties were exclusively owned by U put in a deposition given by another brother K in the suit in which the money decree against U was passed in the course of which K stated that the family was not joint and the properties belonged exclusively to U. Hell, that the deposition of K in the previous suit was not including defendant No 6 constituted a joint family and that a certain property was joint family property. The defendant No 6 in the course of his deposition as a witness on behalf of the representatives of Upendra Nath Ghose in suit No 127 of 1911 stated that on the death of the plaintiffs' father Upendra separated from his brother and that there was no joint family. The defendant No 6 therefore was not claiming any interest in the property in question and in the 'admission' made by him in the previous suit he did not fulfil the character of a declarant jointly interested with the party, in respect of the property conurther more, it is

ay that at the time

No 6 there was

thers" Nogendra

v. Laurence Jule Mills, 25 C W N 89 (94)=61 Ind Cas 544. An admission of one defendant in a written statement in a suit will not be evidence against the by examining that defendant who

Ind Cas 924, see also Appar

4 M L T 117=25 M L J 729,

s 2, Hat Bakhsh v. Lachmuna, a confession of judgment by one of nce against the other defendant

129, Amrito Lal v. Rajanee Kant,

11 I A. 113=23 W R 214=15 B L R 10, Narindar Singh, v. C M King,

A I R 1928 Lah 769, Saidu v. Meher, 101 Ind Cas 589, Jones v. Turberville

2 Ves Jur 11, Hay v. Gordon, 10 B L R 301=18 W R 450 P C, Gopal v.

Gopal, 28 B 248, Worse v. Royall, 12 Ves 362, Daniel v. Potter, 1 M & M 503, Chandraeswar v. Chuni Ahn, 9 C L R 359. A co party cannot, indeed, as a rule use the statements of his associate on the record as against the opposing interest. He may, however, employ them in his own favour as against the declarant. Chamberlayne v. Et § 1316 interest, and may be easily applied. Many other cases arise which cannot be brought under any certain rule but must depend largely upon the facts as to identity of interest, as they are brought out at the trial. In either case the authority should clearly appear before the statement of one should be considered binding as against another. Bare statements by an agent unaccompanied by doing of his principal's business, ess it were shown that the principal

In most cases the statements of an l with acts in such a way as to be part of the res gestae. McKelvey v.

S. 18. Admissions of persons having joint interest.

Persons seized jointly are seized of the whole, each being seized of the whole, the admission of either is the admission of the other and may

Nagendra v Lawrence Jute Co, 25 C

C 159=21 C W N 996=25 C L J

8 An admission made by some of several defendants in their character of persons jointly interested with the other defendants in the matter in respect of which the admission is made is binding on the other defendants Bhika Mol v. Ganga Ram, 69 Ind Cas 35; Mansur Matbar v Alimuddin Khan, 21 J. L. C. 571.

Persons and his fellows, whether they be all jointly suing or sued provided the admissions relate to the subject matter in dispute and were made by the declarant in his character of a person jointly interested with the party against whom the evidence is given.

Masjan v Alimuddin, 34

v. Mukta, 11 C 588

in evidence against those were jointly interested, mere community of interest will not be sufficient Taylor Ev § 700. An apparent joint interest is obviously insufficient to make the admission of one party receivable against his companions, where the reality of that interest is the point in controversy. A foundation must be laid, by showing that a joint interest is not be est

but this against th.

must

promisor is not bound by such admission Manna v Madho, 21 Ind Cas 165

In ad

who releva

be made that interes.

one entitl

D'Alton,

interest is party in in example, i

the admissions of party in interest. Thus the interest of cestui que trust of a bond, in a suit by the trustee, is an original interest, and not a mere incidental interest in the result of the suit, so also, the interest of persons in a policy effected in another's name, for their benefit. It is also a requisite that the statements should have been made during the continuance of the interest. Declarations, made after the declarant has ceased to have any interest in the matter are not admissions, but mere hearsay Burr Jones § 233. The admission of one executor does not conclude another. Chunder Kant v Rammaram, 3 W.

R 63 The admissions of the executor of a donor may be treated as the admission of the donor. Dwarkanath v. Chundecchurn, 1 W R 339. The admission of a ryot of the rate of rent at which he holds a tenure cannot be treated as evidence against another ryot to prove the rate at which he holds the tenure. Nuroohun v. Naramee, W R (L. B.) 23=1 Ind Jur O S 9.

Privies in Obligation. So far as one person is privy in obligation with another, &c., is liable to be affected in his obligation under the act by the acts or admissions of here who i

Not a

31 interests

() _____, a member of the other classes of liability. If ignore § 1077.

Joint Promisors : Co promisors like principal and sureties are also privies in obligation, and on principle the admission of one should be admissible in evidence against the other provided the other conditions are satisfied. The rule is that, in the absence of fraud, if the parties have a joint interest in the matter in suit, whether as plaintiffs or defendants, an admission made by one is, in general evidence against all. Such was the rule laid down propriety and questioned

11, 2 Bing.
B. andram

and to each Thus also

Thus also
[and beyond]

•

•)

... the act of one member of a class is liable to be taken as the act of all. No acknowledgment of a Juden

Ashanullah v. Dakhini, 37

Case
nt by III be 21 of eived sions

18. of English Courts are by no means uniform in this respect. Thus in an action against joint makers of a note, if one suffers judgment by default, his signature must still be proved against the other. Gray v Palmer, 1 Esp 135, Shirreff v Wells, 1 East 48

Principal and surety. Principals and sureties are privies in obligation, i. e. one is liable to be affected in his obligation under the substantive law by the acts of the other. Wigmore § 1077. So where the effect of a contract is that a surety shall be responsible for the acts and admissions of the principal, such admissions are competent evidence against the surety. Burr Jones Et § 238. So the entries of the principal were evidence against the surety because they were made by the collector (principal) in pursuance of the stipulation contained in the conditions of the bond. Whithash v George 8 B & C 351; Goss v Watlington 4 B & B 132 (137); see also Jordon School District v Gaets, 23 D L R 739 (Canada), Sanders v Keller, 18 Ida 592. But ordinarily where a principal is not a party to the suit his declarations are not admissible, unless they are made while the employment in which the principal was engaged continued, and in such manner as to be part of the res gestae. Burr Jones § 233. The principle is thus laid down by Greenleaf: "The admissions which are thus receivable in evidence must be such as we have seen to be those of a person having at the time some interest in the suit to which he is a party."

It looks chiefly to the real parties in interest, in the same weight, as though they were parties to the record. Thus, those of the persons interested in a policy of the cestui que trust of a bond; those of the persons interested in a policy effected in another's name, for their benefit; those of the shipowners, in an action of the identifying creditor, in an action against a deputy sheriff in an action against the high sheriff, are all receivable against the party making them. And in general, the admissions of any party represented by another, are receivable in evidence against his representatives." Greenleaf Et cetera. incidental or contingent interest in the introduction of hearsay evidence. Burr Jones § 233.

so as to become part of the res gestae otherwise not. The surety is considered a party, and not for whatever he might be to proof of his conduct by original evidence, where it can be had, ex parte all declarations of the principal, made subsequent to the act to which they relate, and out of course of his official duty. Greenleaf § 197. So in an action against a surety the admissions of any admissions of the surety. Rambhia v Sreedevi, 25 M L J 668, Lush J 57.

had received. receivable. Chesney, one being a clerk, confessions of embezzlement made by the principal after his dismissal, inadmissible in evidence (Smith v. Whittingham, 6 C & P. 78. Goss v. Hail, 11 M L J 117).

37), though, Whitnash McGahay v.
cise of Lx
 it even a decree against the principal to the amount of debt, but see Drum- mond v. Priestman, 12 Wheat 515 the money that the wife's admissions of the receipt by her of the carriage and horses were admissible Francis v. Lewis, 10 Johns 35, Greenl 1; § 187 So when A guaranteed the performance of any contract that B might make with C, the admissions and declarations of B were held admissible against A, to prove the contract Wells v. McDouell, 5 Bing 195; Greenl Ft § 187.

But where the surety, being sued for the default of the principal, gives him notice of the pendency of the suit, and requests him to defend it, if judgment

they operate against the surety Greenl Ev § 189

Privies in Title The admissions of one who is privy in title stand upon the same footing as those of one who is privy in obligation (Vide supra p 343) Having precisely the same motive to make correct statement and being identical with the party (either contemporaneously or antecedently) in respect to his ownership of the right in issue, his admissions may, both in fairness and on principle, be

The grounds u 1080 the party mak with 1 A & E 1 Route, Gibbshouse v J m
 and

admissible evidence of any fact admitted by them to be true, and may be given in evidence to prove it, notwithstanding the confessions might be such as to show a non ex

 when making party extends not only to the admissions of them against himself, but against all who claim or derive their title from him, in other words, between whom and himself there is a privity There are four species of privity privity in blood, as between heir and ancestor privity in representation as between testator and executor, common privity of confessions . . It is asked, why not swear him? The answer is, the other

Admission to land is so identified in title, that his admission title, that interest are received with the self interest involved in the ownership of the truthfulness of statement against interest in 19 Ill CS3, Taylor, § 787 It is imperative prior of stat affi Kel anc fact of his being alive at the time of the trial, when, perhaps, his memory of facts was impaired, and when his interest was not the same, does not in our opinion, affect the admissibility of those declarations which he formerly made on the subject of his own rights" Woolway v. Roe, 1 Ad & E 114. So the declarations of former owners or occupiers, made while in possession, have been admitted as evidence of the nature and extent of their title against those claiming in privity of estate. Taylor § 758, Doe v. Austin, 9 Bing 41; Darke v. Pierce, 367, Jackson v. Bord, 1 Johns 230, 234.

scheme between the grantor and grantee, e.g. that the declarant, if at the time owner in possession, and conversely, that his being in possession does not make his declaration competent as an admission. 109 Cal 682 (1914).
On this ground, where the books of survey, under whose direct control they are offered, are shown to be in the possession of the declarant.
So, as to receipts for admissible against the vicar, in proof of modus, by reason of privity between them Jones v Carrington, 1 C & P 329, 330 n); Maddison v Nattall, 5 Price 485. An answer in Chancery is also admissible in evidence against any person actually claiming under the party who put it in, and it has been held prima facie evidence against persons generally reputed to claim under him, at least so far as to call upon them to prove the contrary. See Earl of Sussex v Temple, 1 Ld 16 East 331, 339. The act of a vicar in mortgaging the rectory is admissible in evidence against him in a mortgage deed in interest of the original owner. See 11 A L J 221, Briggs v 10 A L J 390 Bakhshi v Lalladhas, 35 A 353, Burba v. Behari, 70 Ind. Cas. 815.

The admission of a zamindar that the holding of certain tenants is S.
Moharrures at a given rent is binding on any zamindar who succeeds him without being an auction purchaser at a sale for arrears of revenue. Watson v Nobin, 10 W R 72.

Sales for arrears of Revenue . . .

bind v. Ralhal, 12 C Hossain v Girdharce
Lal, - Bom L R P C 78; Pureshnath v Ananta Nith, 9 I A 147, Watson v Nobin, 10 W R 72 The auction purchaser at a revenue sale acquired all the rights, which the original seller at the date of perpetual settlement had Forbes
v. Meer Mahomet, 20 W R (P C) 44 He is not also bound by the admission of the previous owner Rungo v Ry Coomaree, 6 W R 197; Radha v Ralhal, 12 C 37; Paisa P v P . . .

judgment debtor Dinendro v Ram
Kumar, 7 C 107 P C = 8 I A 65 = 10 C, L R 281, In Lala Prabhu Lal v Mylne, 11 C 101 (413) it was held that an auction purchaser is not a representative of the judgment debtor
 See also Gour S . . . vidence Act
 6 W R 197, 1 . . . ay Coomaree is not barred . . . a purchaser
Gout of India, 11 B L R 71 (P C) = 11 M I A 247 Where the property is sold in execution of a decree, it can not be correctly said that the owner gives any right to the purchaser.
Mulji v Kashi Bai, 10 B . . . Koodep v judgment debtor to the exte . . .

his wish, and he is not bound by some of the acts of the judgment debtor, such as alienations made by the latter to defeat the decree but that does not show is not the ny purpose huz v Hemi not in my
 By this
 In a later representative o Protonno
 26 C 250
 a purchaser held in execution of a simple money decree against a judgment debtor is a representative of th

the representative
 the nature of the q is between the judgment-debtor and the auction purchaser and the interests of the two are conflicting, the auction purchaser can in no sense be considered to be a representative of the judgment debtor Narotam v Sulhraj, A. I. R 1928

S. 18. Johnson v. McCull, 10 Johns (N Y) 33, to show that the ancestor had once would have been admissible 69 N Y. 404 Stating the rule for the admissions of an ancestor are admissible against him claiming under him by descent The principle upon which such evidence is 18. Am 377]; made again more would claiming under him b received in that the declar his interests were such of his title or possession would have to his own Chadwick v Fournier, 69 N. Y 404. In the same manner the admissions of a devisor are competent against the devisee, those of an intestate against his administrator, and those of a testator against his executor Broadbush v Jarvis, 13 Cal App 464. Thus in an action by an administrator against the widow of his intestate for the conversion of property, declarations of the intestate that his tenant was to pay no rent are admissible for the defendant Mooney v Mooney, 80 Conn 446, see Nuttall, 1 M. 6 C & P 100. Cox v Baird, 11 N. L. J 100. Intestate are admissible against his administrator, or any other claiming in his right Smith v Smith, 3 Bing N C 29; Lat v Finch, 1 Taunt, 141. A statement by the testatrix suggesting any inference as to the execution of a will would be an admission relevant against her representatives and would therefore be admissible as evidence Nina v Shanker, 3 Bom L R 465.

Life estate

admissions are to distinguish be tail. A tenant for life cannot, unless empowered by some statute, prejudice an admission, the interest of a remainder man or reversioner, but a tenant in tail is regarded as representing the inheritance, and, therefore, what he says or does, will often be binding on the person entitled in remainder Taylor § 20. So the remainder man is bound by release of equity of redemption by a tenant in tail in possession Reynoldson v Perkins, Amb 563, Pendleton v Smith, 4 T. R. 71, that were not the law.

Rao, 82 Ind Crs 1002; 86 Ind Crs 853. But by Act I of 1859 s 3 the decisions as regards acknowledgment have been made absolute. The declarations of the tenant for life, do not bound the remainder man, as there is no privity between them, for a privity in estate is a successor to the same estate, not to a different estate in the same property, and the statements of the tenant for life are not admissible against the owner in fee Hill v Roderick, 4 Wills & P (Pn) 221.

prideces or as though they were his own Jackson v Davis, 5 Cow. (N. Y.) 11. An admission made by landlord, after creation of tenancy is not binding on tenant. An agreement between two proprietors to become joint proprietors not binding on tenants Puran v Dhanpat, 52 Ind Crs 739. But the declarations of the tenant are not admissible to affect the title of the landlord Jones § 243.

The admissions of mortgagor as against mortgagee are on the same footing as those of grantor and grantee, and evidence only in as far as they affect estate mortgaged, and are limited in point of time to those declarations made before the signing of the mortgage Loote v Beecher 78 N. Y 155 An admission by the surviving daughter of a member of a joint Hindu family, that the children of her deceased sister were entitled to her father's share was held to be evidence of the existence of the title before the suit Gour Lal v Mohesh, 14 W R 181

Vendor or Assignor of personalty The same principle holds in regard to admissions made by the assignor of a personal contract or chattel previous to the assignment, while he remained the sole proprietor, and where the assignee must recover through the title of the assignor, and succeeds only to that title as it stood at the time of its transfer, in such case, he is bound by the previous admissions of the assignor, in disparagement of his own apparent title. But this is true only where there is an identity of interest between the assignor and already stale, or otherwise infected with circumstances of suspicion Harrison v Tallance 1 Bng 15, Greent Fv § 190, Faylor § 790 citing from Greent Fv § 190 Thus, the declarations of a former holder of a promissory note negotiable is not to be cut down by the acknowledgment of a former holder that he had no title Barrough v White, 1 B & C 325 explained in Woolway v Fove 1 Ad & Ll 114 116, Shuo v Droom, 1 D & R 730, Beauchamp v Parry, 1 B & All 89, Hickell v Martin, 3 Greent 77 So, so far as choses in action are concerned, this is one exception to the general rule already stated Therefore declarations of a former owner of negotiable paper are not admissible against one of the indorser made while the interest was in him are admissible in evidence for the defendant Bayley on Bills, 502, 503, Pocock v Dillings Ry & M 127

Admissions of the act of insolvency, evidence against one nam v Radha 31 C L J 107=49 C J3 66 Ind Crs 15, see also Re v Tolle-mache, 13 Q B D 720 Re Bottomley, 81 L J K B 1020 So also evidence taken in the public examination of an insolvent cannot be used as against a third party to prove or disprove a title Jnanendra v The Official Assignee, 30 C W N 346, Re Brunner 19 Q B D 572 In re Cooper 19 Ch D 580 Madkoram v Official Assignee, 27 C W N 611

Illustrative cases of Admissible evidence In order to be a relevant admission, it is necessary to show that the person who made the statement had an interest at the time when he made the statement Jogeswar v Akhoy 19 C L J 1=22

as admissions only when the admissions are of a date prior to the date of their deriving interest Statements made by persons in possession of property and qualifying or affecting their title thereto are receivable against the party

Galstann v Shra
by le is true
39=

18. A I R 1927

by accused to a Police officer are under ss 17 and 18 of the Evidence Act. Amrudy v. Emperor, 44 C L J 233 = A I R 1927 Cr 17. A statement made on oath by the accused before the Coroner at the time of the inquest is admissible in evidence at the trial as a statement made by a party to a proceeding under ss 18 and 31 of the Evidence Act. Emperor v. Raminath, 28 Bom L R 811 = 50 B 111 = 93 Ind Cr 690. A statement in a case drawn up by an attorney for the opinion of a pleader is admissible in evidence as it must be regarded as a statement of the persons on whose behalf he was acting and what is said or done by him in the course of his business and within the scope of his authority is said or done by the persons on whose behalf he was acting. Chandrasekar v. Bheswar A I R 1927 Pat 61 = 5 Pat 777. A party is bound by the questions of facts, whether unsupported by other proof, should be received and citation Mrs L v W L A I R 1928 Sind 55 = 105 Ind Cr 410. A statement made by an agent to the effect that his principal was a bankrupt was admissible in evidence as an admission under section 18 of the Evidence Act. Raj Futeh Singh v. Balloo Singh, 3 Luck 416 = 109 Ind Cr 310 = A I R 1928 Oudh 233. An admission if gratuitous, can be withdrawn at any time and therefore such a confession though against the interest of the party making it, is of little value. Badhu Ram v. Uttam Chand, A I R 1925 Lab. 726. A Bitwar paper signed by the Partition Deputy Collector and containing entries required by the provisions of Ch 7, is a record made in the course of official duty within the purview of s 35, Evidence Act. It would also be evidence against the proprietors under ss 18 and 13, Evidence Act, because they

Ganesan, A I R 1929 All 146. The admission

33 =
tion
such

him Jumuna v. Lal A I R 1929 Pat 254 = 10 P. L. T. 183. A pleader has authority to admit certain facts so as to dispense with the necessity of further proof in a criminal case at the trial. A I R 1928 Bom 241 = 36.
be proved by the plaintiff accused under section 18 of the Evidence Act. Amrudy v. Emperor, 44 C L J 233 = A I R 1927 Cr 17.

Illustrative cases—Inadmissible evidence. An admission made by a creditor after transferring his debt to a third person to the effect that the debt had been paid to him in part or whole before he had sold the claim, is not binding upon the vendee under section 18 of the Evidence Act. Wasana Singh 25 Ind Cr 100.

made by his Mulhinar of the authority conferred by another plaintiff in a suit between plaintiff and vendee. Ahmad v. Jauhar, 84 Ind Cr 100.

257 = A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 16. A party cannot be bound by admission of his pleader as to law in as much as the parties must be presumed to know what is correct law. Chantoo v. Murlidhar, A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 311 = 13 O. L. J. 138 = 92 Ind. Cas. 732; Fateh Ali v. Ahmal Din, A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 281 = 100 Ind. Cas. 833; Punjab v. Bhagwan, 31 Bom. L. R. 89 = A. I. R. 1928 Bom. 89, Mutha Chetti v. Muthu, A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 852 = 26 M. L. W. 465 = 39 M. L. T. 240; Ulchi v. Natlamali, A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 90. Recitals, regarding the boundaries in a document not inter partes and statements made by third parties cannot be admitted. Sarat Chandra v. Sarala, A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 63 = 105 Ind. Cas. 6. one of several defendants in Narindar v. C. M. King, A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 129. Kishan v. Lachman, A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 133. Neither the declaration of a donor nor the declaration of evidence is against the R. 1928 Oudh 114. capable of being regarded as a stale or time barred claim, it is to his interest to make allegations which would save the claim from the bar of limitation. Having were actually made Ammallu

Admission by one of the defendants that the land in a suit is ancestral is not binding on the others when they are not represented by him and have independent rights of their own. Aishore v. Lachman, 123 Ind. Cas. 109 = A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 230.

The Mohants of Deva Prithi Sahab are managers. A Chela must first be nominated cannot be regarded as admissions

Worshippers are not bound by the admissions of previous Mohants. Ram Parshad v. Shivomani, A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 161; but see Vidya Purna Tritha v. Vidyanathi Tiratha, 27 M. 435; Ilargan v. Baldev, 127 P. R. 1908 = 123 P. W. R. 1908 (F. B.)

19. Statements made by persons whose position or liability

Admissions by persons whose position must be proved as against party to suit it is necessary to prove as against any party to the suit, are admissions, if such statements would be relevant as against such persons in relation to such position or liability in a suit brought by or against them, and if they are made whilst the person making them occupies such position or is subject to such liability.

Illustrations

A statement by C that he owed B rent is an admission, and is a relevant fact as against A, if A denies that C did owe rent to B.

Scope of the section. Ordinarily statements by strangers to a proceeding are not relevant as against the parties. Cool v. Bahan, 3 Ex. 183. But in some cases, the admissions of third persons, strangers to the proceeding are receivable. Green v. Evans § 191, Taylor § 759. The admission of a third person against his own interest, when it affects his position or liability and when that

5. 19. to add to the category of persons by whom a statement may be made before it can be considered to be an admission within the terms of the Indian Evidence Act. The statements referred to in section 19 become admissible only provided that the
- 21 or an
- Apparatus
- to property,
- the nature of
- has not been statements are admissible of such persons at a particular time; in which case the practice is now evidence in general is would be legally admissible in an action between the parties themselves. Green v. Dy § 181. Thus in actions against the sheriff for not executing process against the debtor, the admission of the debtor admitting his debt to be due to the execution of the sheriff. Kempland v. Macaulay.

42, Re Brunner, 14 Q. B. D. 572. So an admission by a person has been held sufficient evidence, on the part of the defendant, to support a plea in abatement for the non joinder of such persons as defendants in that suit; it being admissible in an action for the same cause. Clay v. Longslow, 1

Re Tollemache, 14 Q. B. D. 415.
 An admission made by a land

Jarret v. bankruptcy, issue of the Dy § 181
Edna ds
 } D 72
 his being others, 1149

Mal, 11 Lah. 503—A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 579—128 Ind. Cas. 300. In title proceedings in a previous title suit instituted by defendant against three persons are relevant under this section. Jairam v. Loke Nath, 125 Ind. Cas. 782—A. I. R. 1930 Pat. 405.

Illustrative Cases—Admissible Evidence. Where in a case of a disputed deed of adoption the defendant alleged that the deceased executant had become shortly after the execution of the deed aware of its existence, purport and nullity taken regarding it, cannot be excluded as irrelevant, but is admissible under section 19, 19A or 191 or section 11 of the Evidence Act in a for a long time in an admission in the defendant tenant's favour and amount to setting up a custom. Janaki Kuar v. Usman, 62 Ind. Cas. 417, see also Rameshwar An admission made by a person against and from the for question at issue was whom her mother was it was alleged, that she was described as which she stated that she had been living with the alleged father for 10 or 12 years, even if admissible in of no weight for the reason that her statement does not amount to an admission that she was living in adultery. Maqbulan v. Ahmad Husain, 26 A. 108 P. C = 8 C. W. N. 241-6 Bom L. R. 233-31 I A. 38

20. Statements made by persons to whom a party to the suit has expressly referred for information in reference to a matter in dispute are admissions.

Illustration

The question is whether a horse sold by A to B is sound. A says to B—
"Go and ask C; C knows all about it." C's statement is an admission.

Principle. If a party, instead of expressing his belief in his own words, names another person as one whose expected utterances he approves beforehand, ment; and it "said Ellen- another upon a third person by himself,"

7 A. & E. 468, Richards v. Morgan, 33 L J Q B 114, Wills' Ev p 162

Admission by persons expressly referred to by party to suit. It not cases, the party is bound by the declarations of the persons referred to, in the same manner and to the same extent as if they were made by himself. Burns v. Jones, 263, Solomon v. Herne, 2 Esp 695, Williams v. Bridges, 3 Stark 42, Kemp v. Macaulay, Peake's Cas 65. In such a case the admission of a third person are receivable in evidence, against the party who has expressly referred another to him for information, in regard to an uncertain or disputed matter. This species of admissions is well rec-unfairness in Esp 145, on 7 to A, and he ing "Wacru

what he says

if it is connected with the business which is referred to him, is evidence." In Daniel v Pitt, 1 Camp 364 note, defendant said, "If C will say that he did deliver the goods, I will pay for them." In the circumstances C's admission was held admissible. Similarly in Brock v Kent, 1 Camp (note) defendant desired the plaintiff to enquire of Jones about it, Jones being a person who had paid money. Jones' statement was held admissible. In Garrett v Ball, 1 Stark 160, which was an action of trover for a horse the plaintiff had said "if the defendant would take his oath that the horse was his, he should keep him." The fact of the defendant's affidavit was held admissible. In 1 C & P 533 the defendant said "him" he meant one H. His statement was held admissible. In Sydney v Smith, 1 Stark 160, the defendant said "the horse was killed was the horse which I bought of you." His statement was held admissible to charge the defendant, because he was a dealer in horses. In R v Mallory, 1 C & P 533, the defendant receiving stolen goods by the accused, the accused referred the police to his wife for a list of the prices and dates of purchase of the goods, stating that he did not know the value of the goods.

20. not know them, and the next day the wife handed the police the list in his presence. The list was received, is an admission of the price, and date. This is the principle of awards by reference on a contractual basis. Rests on a contractual basis is pronounced in Higginson v. H. & Co., infra. Such statements which were in the nature of awards required no stamp even when in writing. Tay § 701.

What questions may be referred. In the application of this principle, it matters not whether the question referred be one of law or of fact; whether the persons to whom reference is made, have or have not any peculiar knowledge on the subject; or whether the statements of the reference be adduced in evidence hereafter where two parties had on the construction of a Statute, it was held bound thereby & Sel 105; Douglas v. Cooper, 2 can be referred to a third party.

Sydney v. White, 1 M & W 435; Taylor § 761

Reference must be express. This rule must not be understood as giving the force of an admission to statements made by a witness as against the party who calls him. Gardner v. Moulton, 10 A & E 468, R. v. Latchford, 6 Q B 567, 577, Bricknell v. Halse, 7 A & E 456. There must be an express reference for information in order to make the statement an admission. Thus if A says, "I will now say what I know," the matter will Killinger, 8 Wall (U S) 480 (Am). Thus, where a defendant stated that a book keeper would furnish whatever information was contained in the books, the party makes the referee his accredited agent for the purpose of giving such answer. Evatt v. Hudson, 97 Ark. 265. If a party, on motion before a Judge, uses the affidavit of another person to prove a certain fact deposed to therein, such affidavit is on any subsequent trial evidence as against him of this fact, and that too, though the person who made the affidavit is present in Court. Brickell v. Aulse, 7 A & E 454, Bollen v. Rullin, 2 Ex. R. 675 (679), Prichard v. Bughshaw, 11 Com B 459, Johnson v. Ward Esq 47; White v. Dowling, 9 Ir L R 128, Tay, § 764 does not affect the reference. McElue v. Troubridge, 111 Hun 23=22 N.Y. Supp. 674 (Am); Burr Jones § 263

is bound by the facts

Lord had reced

n to have caused mere admissions are not conclusive as is provided in section 31, but admissions

Gorahan v Husain, A I R 1927 All 659=103 Ind Cas 34, Himanchal Singh v Jatwar Singh, A I R 1924 All 570=46 A 710=10 Ind Cas 16, Muhammad Imtiaz, A. W. N (1893) 200; Keshoram v Piar, 71 Ind Cas 761, China v Venkata, 42 M 625

Admission by interpreters To render the declarations of a person referred to equivalent to a party's own admission, it is not necessary that the reference should have been made by express words but it will suffice if the party by his interpreter should be considered a nd are in no sense hearsay, nor is it necessary that his interpretation

A wife's statement
Schutter v Williams
ed by two persons ication with each statements of what circumstances is during a trial is Scheerer v Harber, cannot be admitted

People v. Ah Yute, 56 Cal 119 (1m)

Deposition of a party's witness the House of

- 21 Ings as admissions British Thomson Houston v British Insulated etc Co (194) 2 Ch 160, Phip Ev 214 Unless an express reference has been made to a witness on a certain question his statement will not constitute an admission as regards that question L R 2 All 209

Criminal Cases This section is applicable to criminal cases as well. Thus where the accused told a constable that his wife would make out a list of certain property, a list afterwards made out by her was held evidence against him. J expressly refrained from the effect of the previous evidence and where he had asked for certain inquiries to be made, facts elicited in direct answer or mere hearsay, are evidence against him v Cambell, 8 Cr App R 75, R v Westwood

Illustrative cases—Admissible Evidence The plaintiff and the defendant in a suit signed a written statement that he may against the plaintiff. Held that the statement of G must be taken to be an admission made in the suit by a nominee of a party thereto which was effectual as an admission by the party himself. Humanchala v Jatuar 80 Ind Cas. 16 A I R 1924 All 570, see also Gordhan v Husain, A I R 1927 All 603=103 Ind Cas 34, Sitaram v Prasad 47 A 921, Muhammad v Imtia, A W N (1898) 200

Illustrative cases—Inadmissible Evidence A party to a litigation is not bound by the statement of the mukteer of the opposite side who was cross-examined by the parties. Mt Srimati Ausanbati v Ram Jas, 4 U P L R 9 (Rev)

21 Admissions are relevant and may be proved as against

Proof of admissions the person who makes them, or his representative in interest, but they cannot be proved against persons making them and by by or on behalf of the person who makes or on their behalf them or by his representative in interest except in the following cases —

(1) An admission may be proved by or on behalf of the person making it, when it is of such a nature that, if the person making it were dead, it would be relevant as between third persons under section 32

(2) An admission may be proved by or on behalf of the person making it, when it consists of a statement of the existence of any state of mind or body, relevant or in issue, made at or about the time when such state of mind or body existed, and is accompanied by conduct rendering its falsehood improbable

(3) An admission may be proved by or on behalf of the person making it, if it is relevant otherwise than as an admission.

Illustrations

(a) forged or is not a statement by himself that the deed is genuine, nor can B prove a statement by himself that the deed is forged.

(b) A, the captain of a ship, is tried for casting her away.
Evidence is given to show that the ship was taken out of her proper course.
A produces a book kept by him in the ordinary course of his business day to day, and A may prove and parties, if he were dead, under section 32, clause (2)

(c) A is accused of a crime committed by him at Calcutta

He produces a letter written by himself and dated at Lahore on that day, and bearing the Lahore post-mark of that day.

The statement in the date of the letter is admissible, because, if A were dead, it would be admissible under section 32, clause (2)

(d) A is accused of receiving stolen goods knowing them to be stolen.

He offers to prove that he refused to sell them below their value.

A may prove these statements, though they are admissions, because they are explanatory of conduct influenced by facts in issue

(e) A is accused of fraudulently lawfully taking possession of a thing and told him it was genuine.

A may prove these facts for the reasons stated in the last preceding illustration heads are receivable is discussed under each topic (vide infra)

to a ci

the general rule as an admission Abdul Gham v Emperor, A. I. R. 1931 Lab. 763 The primary rule in section 21 is that an admission is relevant and may be proved as against the person Gulab v. Fadali, 68 Ind Cas evidence against him Lachman.
Ma Tha, U II R. (1897-1901) be proved in a criminal case just as much as an admission by the defendant in a civil suit under section 21 of the Evidence Act But an admission under that

- 21 section is one made by the party against whom it is tendered before the proceedings in which it is sought to be given in evidence. It does not refer to pleadings in the case or to an admission contained in such pleadings. Jemima v Vas 1 Ind Cas 961=10 M L T 506=(1911) 2 M W N 576. A statement whereby of money is in most cases an

to a police officer is not if he is on his trial as an accused person yet it is acceptable in a civil suit as an admission under sections 17, 18 and 21 of the Evidence Act. Bishandas v Bawa Labhaya, 32 Ind Cas 18=106 P I title which was non-existent though making it if the title admitted had 37 Ind Cas 933. A member of a Hindu joint family, whose house was at Lucknow, practised as a pleader at Hardoi, and made considerable savings from his professional earnings. He eventually became managing member, but was all along District earnings so entered

he purchases in the name of B was a statement against his own Sury Narain v Ratanlal 40 Ind

Cas 988=21 C W N 1065=20 O C 211=19 Bom L R 737=15 A L J 684. A written agreement by a tenant to pay the Suantantram or Thandurava is admissible as an admission of the evidence of custom unless the tenant explains away the admission and its effect can not be discounted or neutralised on the ground that the admission is recent. Kumarappa v Manappa, 44 Ind Cas 699=41 M 374=1918 M W N 350 (F B). An oral confession by an accused person not being open to exception under section 24, 25 or 26 of the Evidence Act is as an admission by an accused person a relevant fact, and may be proved at his trial under section 21, and therefore such a confession made to a Magistrate is relevant, and may be proved by the evidence of the Magistrate. Ieroz v Emperor 45 Ind Cas 843=11 P R 1918 Cr=19 Cr L J 651, see also Per Heurad J in Emperor v Maruti, 54 Ind. Cas 465=31 Bom L R 1065=21 Cr L J 65, contra Per Shah J in Id. The statement of an accused person as a witness in a previous case is admissible against him under this section to prove admission of relevant facts made by him in that statement. Emperor v Banarsi, 77 Ind Cas 629=23 A L J 144=46 A 254=25 Cr L J 477. An entry in the body of the bond that no further account is outstanding against the debtor does not bind the creditor in any way and is merely an admission by the debtor in his own interest. Gurdilla v Nabi Balsh A 1 R 1926 Lah 391=93 Ind Cas 996. The statement that a document is a copy of the original is admissible when made by a deceased person in a document admission under s 21. Secthaya

W N 578 (P C). Entries in purchase for client

Ram v Madan

531 (P C). An weight, but it operates as an after him his her

v Rabishankar

v Ahmed, 1923

before a military criminal charge in a Civil Court

17 D 190

were untrue. See Dev L R 109, see also Hirani statements made by a soldier evidence against him on a R v Colpus, (1917) 1 K B 674=50 L J wholesome provisions elaborately laid down in these two sections practically reduced to a nullity. Queen Empress v Bhaurab, 2 C W. N 702. An oral deposition made by a witness in a case before a Magistrate. J 651; see Cr; Raykumar v Emperor, 9 Pat. L. T. 449-A, I R 1928 Pat 473; Madan Guru v Emperor, 1 Pat. L. T. 381-73 Ind Cas 963-24 Cr L J 723; R v. Crouse, 81 J. P 28. D to a Police officer may m, 100 sible as admission. Satish v Bheswar, A I R 1930 Cal 559. But an admission of judgment by one of several defendants is no evidence against his co-defendant. Rashiduddin v Nazimuddin, 11 Lah L J 401-A I R 1929 Lah 721.

32, of the Evidence Act, or it must be relevant otherwise than as an admission. In either case its value would be slight. Parak Chandia v. Prosauno, 78 Ind Cas 719-28 C W. N 679-39 C L J 339

Representative in interest would be admissible against him claiming under him by descent, and the same manner as they would Green v § 189, Davis v Nelson of one having or claiming title him, they are competent against persons subsequently deriving title through or from him Burr Jones § 212. An admission against her own interest by the predecessor in title of the defendant is relevant under ss 13 and 21 of the Evidence Act to shift the burden of proof. Ind Cas 700. The term "legal representative" C. P. C. cannot be the estate of the decedent Naram v Jai Kishen are of three kinds, namely (1) privies in blood, such as ancestors and heirs (Weeks v Birch, 69 L. R. 759) (2) privies in law, such as executor of a testator or an admission made by the plaintiff's lessor in his own favour and was consequently not admissible under any of the provisions contained in section 11, 13, 21 or 32 of the Evidence Act Radha v Sarbeswar, 86 Ind Cas. 674=29 C W, N 469=A I R 1925 CIL 689

Ev § 520, Phip Ev p 223 The framers of the Indian Evidence Act in this and (3) of the section. The reason for these exceptions are thus given by Mr Cunningham "this rule (i.e. admission cannot be proved in favour of the person making it) however, if enacted without any relaxation would work harshly as there are some statements which though they are in the interest of the person making them, are yet from some particular circumstances deserving of special credit. Such for instance, are the statements mentioned in section 32 of the Act, to which illustrations (b) and (c) refer. Practically the effect of this and the following exception is to let in a very large number of admissions as evidence in a man's favour, given to them" Cum Ev 137.

tive force. An admission against evidence, not only against parties in title, but also against strangers. Rajcoomar v Bissessur Dyal, 10 C 688.

Clause (1) The securities which have been devised by municipal law for insuring the veracity and completeness of the evidence given in Courts of Justice vary, as might be expected, in different countries, and with the systems of law in which they are attached. Several of those are principally relied on by the English law, such as the publicity of judicial proceedings, the compulsory presence of witness in open Court and the right of cross examination, etc. Best Ev § 51. Of these safeguard against false testimony confrontation and cross-another, cannot be received in any criminal Court to affect anybody except him. Every individual who stands upon his trial in a British Court of Justice has a clear right to have the witness brought in front of the Court, to be submitted to his cross examination, that he may have an opportunity of interrogating him respecting all the particulars of the fact. We have seen that this rule is not violated when an admission is received against a party making it. But the same principle is not available when the admission made by a party is received in as a relevant fact must have some probative force. So in eight cases where such statements are made admissible by section 32, the circumstantial guarantee of trustworthiness has been shown. Clause (1) lays down that an admission by a person may be proved by or in behalf of the person making it, when it is of such a nature that, if the person making it were dead, it would be relevant as such admission is always admissible. Section 34 of the Indian Evidence Act enacts that entries in books of account regularly kept in the course of business shall be relevant evidence though not sufficient of themselves to charge any person with liability. Josuant v Sheo Naran, 16 A. (157 (161))=21 I A 6. The admission of such entries on behalf of a person making them is an exception to the general rule laid down in section 21 of the Act. But where the documents are not proved to be account books regularly kept in the course of business their admission is illegal because proof of the entries therein would be in violation of ments against proprietary interest custom or matter of public int sions of behalf of pay fall within the language of section 32 of the Indian Evidence Act and although they are section 21 of the Act purchased the holding the entry in the sale certificate might be used in evidence in favour of landlord. Manik v Jagadindra, 24 Ind Cas 263 see also Farah v. Prosanna, 73 Ind Cas 719=28 C W N 679=39 C L J 389. Statements as to the date of birth of a person contained in his census returns and in affidavits filed by him are admissible in evidence under section 32 of the Indian Evidence Act, if made by or hearsay. Ram v. Ram, 19 M W N 208.

inter alia that by one of the parties in suit arose in 266. A statement certificate, obtained decree against the person by him or his predecessor in title, and it cannot be used as evidence, does not come under any of the exceptions to section 71. Ramant v. Mahanand, 31 C 380. So also a recital in a writ of attachment is not admissible in favour of maker of the statement and is against persons who claim under an independent title. Moheseruddin v. Sumera, 15 Ind Cas. 510. On the question whether the Courts below should or should not have received in evidence the testimony of a document person
suit
Act,
Babu Madho Das, 19 A. 77 P. C.

section 21 of the Evidence Act and exclude road cess returns which are sought to be admitted in favour of the person by or on behalf of whom they have been filed against persons other than the one who has made the return. Chalho v. Jhara, 39 C. 995. A cess-return filed by a stranger against another

Dina Nath, 43 C. L. J. 425.

of any person who claims a title in interest. Lachmi v. Jag Mohan, 18 C. L. J. 643 (636), but see Ramprosad

v. Lala Sham Narain, 11 C. L. J. 22, where it is ruled that section 95 of the Road Cess Act has no application, to the case where the parties who tendered road cess returns in evidence were not the persons who filed them, in pursuance of the provisions of the Act. Road cess returns are admissible in evidence against the person by or on behalf of whom they are filed. Hem Chandra v. Kali Prasanna, 30 C. 1033 P. C. - 8 C. W. N. 1, Suarnamoy v. Sourindra, 89 Ind. Cas. 747-42 C. L. J. 14. The effect of section 95 of the Cess Act is to prohibit the admissibility of return when tendered in favour of person of filing it, and it has, and was intended to have no immaterial whether it was put in evidence directly to prove an admission or indirectly for some other purpose. Ram Narain v. Hara Narain, A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 727-92 Ind. Cas. 104.

Clause (2) "Clause (3) has received no illustration in the Act, probably because it has already been

21. relevant admission when religion of deceased person is a fact in issue Lang v Leon, 7 R 720—A I. R. 1930 Rang. 42.

concomitants of illness and of physical nymph of pain and distress. I think ity of the case." Dennis J. in Caldwell n State v. Davidson, 30 Vt. 383 (Am) party are received to show the extent general ground that such injuries are incapable of their effect"

It would be character of pa

statement

should be removed 543; see such as above

following able

that the

suffering In some cases it seems to be required that the person be otherwise in an apparent condition of bodily ailment, of which his statements are the natural product Penn Mutual L. Co v. Wiler, 100 Ind. 103 (Am); McMurry v.
Rogby, 80 Ia. 325 (Am), Wigmore §§ 1718, 1719

Who may testify as to statements The extrajudicial statement of one suffering pain or conscious of other bodily sensation may, as well as his coherent or incoherent (jactitation on the same subject, be testified to by any one who heard it. Accordingly, a wife, parent, daughter, nurse, other attendant, or even a mere bystander is permitted to detail the statements to the Court.
Even the declarant himself may testify as to his own statements. Chamberlayne's
Ev § 2625.

to use of any degree of coherence. Whatever this may be, whether that of a single word, or series of words, a disjointed or completed sentence, the evidentiary purposes is the same. We are dealing with circumstantial evidence, logically tending to establish the existence of a relevant bodily condition. On this ground exclamations indicative of present pain suffering or distress, are normally received without objection. Chamberlayne's Ev § 2626

Kinds of fact narrated—statements of past events and conditions, ex-because they do not relate to an inferential state and thus other evidence is is narrative is admissible as to who caused R. v. Gloster, 16 Cox Cr 471 (173) The rule

Cleland & Co v J R Co v Newell, 104 Ind essent existing pain and of its locality are admitted upon whether pain beyond the ne ings, pains or symptoms principle of guarantee of trustworthiness, for they are not naturally caused by the existing pain or other symptoms, but being deliberate accounts of past occurrences,

to the toms, and

ed in the same way. Wignmore § 1722.

Clause (3) This clause is intended to apply to cases in which the statement is sought to be used in evidence otherwise than as an admission, for instance explaining an inadmissible

by reference

31-A I R

is relevant

11, clause (1), as inconsistent with a rele-prisoner's innocence by circumstances

they will be excluded as

So also "care must likewise

res gestae The language

N 91-25 C 210, where the defendants

1 which they obtained under a parti

he plaintiff and denied the said partition

sly made by them, which went to show that there had been a partition and they had changed their attitude could be proved as against them and the statements were admissible evidence under sections 21 (3) and 11 (3) of the Evidence Act An admission may be proved on behalf of the person making it under section 21 clause (3) of the Evidence

Act if it is relevant otherwise than as an admission If self serving statements are made in the presence of the opponent, and not denied by him, they are evidence for this purpose, so in the case of taking accounts, or where the entries are of a public nature (see 35-37) or

In the case of a house said to have

Raghunath v Briendeshwari L R 5 A 231=82 Ind Crs 582-A I R 1924 AIL

21. which the defendant was not a party, might be admissible in evidence as against the latter either under section 21 clause (3) read with section 11 clause (2) of the Evidence Act, or under section 32 clause (5) or under section 137 of the Act. Sayeruddin v Samiruddin, 72 Ind Cas 985=A I R 1923 Cal 379 Self serving statements are admissible where they make relevant facts highly probable or improbable or they are res gestae. Harikar Prosad v Kesho Prasad A I R 1925 Pat 68

Party can show mistake or fraud "There is no doubt that the express admissions of a party to the suit or admission, implied from his conduct are evidence—and strong evidence—against him, but we think that he is at liberty to prove that such admissions were mistaken or were untrue, and that he is not estopped or concluded by them, unless another person has been induced by them to alter this condition, in such a case the party is estopped from disputing their truth with respect to that person (and the person claiming under him) in that transaction, but as to third persons he is not bound. It is a well established rule of law that estoppels bind parties and privies, not strangers. See Bailey J in Hearn v Rogers, 9 B & C 686. The person against whom an admission is proved is at liberty to show that it was mistaken or untrue. When an admission is duly proved and the person against whom it is proved does not satisfy the Court that it was mistaken or untrue there is nothing in the Evidence Act and there is no general principle or rule of law to prevent the Court from deciding the case in accordance with it. Misra v Ma Tha U B R (1897 1901) Vol II, 377. An erroneous admission does not bind the person making such admission. Mangru v Shivanant A I R 1923 All 575. When in a petition there is an inadvertent admission as to the nature of certain property it is open to both sides to give evidence as to whether the person who made the admission was or was not acquainted with the incidents of the property when he made the statement. Dudabanthu v Ma in Lal 52 Ind Cas 113. Statements made by a party at a previous proceeding without any definite knowledge of his rights and liabilities do not operate as an estoppel. Where the previous proceedings were compromised at an early stage without any decision of Court the party can show in a subsequent suit that the statement previously made was untrue. Mahamed v Pir Mahomed 65 Ind Cas 363=A I R 1923 Nag 67

Statements Post Litem Motam If the analogies of other exceptions be followed [vide clause (5) section 12] all statements made post litem motam are to be rejected as untrustworthy. But it is questionable whether an absolute exclusion based on this distinction is either just or necessary. Hopwood 1721

Illustrative cases—Admissible evidence Where in a suit for mortgage the defendant admits the execution of the document he also limits the scope of the consideration. Seth Jagannath v Dalborsal, 21 N L R 40=47 C L J 223=107 Ind Cas 113=A I R 1918 P C 39. The fact that a co-defendant took part in certain batuara proceedings in which the land in dispute was measured and a map was prepared is admissible in evidence though it is not. Plaintiff's title was a limited one on the other defendants who claim under him. 90 Ind Cas 643=A I R (1916) Cal 236. The accused under s 312, Cr P Code prematurely at a time sufficient to connect him with the crime, with the commission of which he was charged, had been shown to be innocent. It was held that although the Magistrate was wrong in convicting him, the Criminal Procedure Code was not rendered inoperative by his error. The purpose of enabling them to explain any circumstances which might be given, be rejected as inadmissible in evidence on account of this irregularity of procedure; and that prima facie as admissions, these statements were relevant under section 21 of the Evidence Act. Queen Empress v Naranjan, 10 Ind Cr C 679=Cr Rg 15 of 1893. The statements of an accused person, from which his guilt may be inferred are admissions and may be proved under section 21. May Mal v Empress 3 P R 1880 Cr. Mt Mehro v Crown, 8 P R 1907 Cr=5 Cr L J 182, Haroon v King Emperor, 8 O C 335=Cr L J 811, Nga Po v King Emperor, 5 Cr L J 360.

Illustrative cases—Inadmissible evidence Under section 21, a Court is bound to receive in evidence admissions of a party but no such rule applies to denials. Janki v. Emperor 49 A 482—25 A L J 337—A I R 1927 All. 383. A statement in an order for delivery of possession as to the rent payable in respect of the land is inadmissible in evidence in a suit between the landlord and the tenant in which the rent payable is in dispute. Chandra Mohan v. Sheikh Elm A I R 1926 Cal 415—87 Ind Cas 512. An admission by an agent in favour of his principal cannot be relied on by the latter to prove his title to property. Maula Baksh v. Jafar Ali, 4 Lah L J 437. A respondent's admission in a divorce suit is not evidence against a correspondent. Gordon v. Gordon, 53 P R 1870. A party's income-tax paper may be used against him but not in his favour. Shah v. Emamun, 11 W R 275. A party cannot use in his own favour an admission by his predecessor in his own interest. Bijoy v. Kalipada, 20 Ind Cas 78—17 C W N 1013—18 C L J 347.

22. Oral admissions as to the contents of a document are

When oral admissions as to contents of documents are relevant, not relevant, unless and until the party proposing to prove them shows that he is entitled to give secondary evidence of the contents of such document under the rules hereinafter contained, or unless the genuineness of a document produced is in question.

Origin of the rule In evidencing the contents of a document, it has at least, his oral accounted for as advanced in early

English rulings, in a forceful opinion, Parke B

declarations were for with that mentioned in the schedule, although such admissions involved the contents of a written instrument, not produced, and I believe my Lord Abinger, who was not present at the argument, entirely concurs. Indeed, if such evidence were inadmissible, the difficulties thrown in the way of almost every party himself admits to be true, may reasonably be presumed to be so: The an unprofessional or ignorant man may be led to believe it may be so and so, where the real and true meaning may be the very reverse or something very 21.

against
2) of the
the Act
78 Self highly Pro 14

A I R 1925 Pat. 68

Party can show mistake or fraud "There is no doubt that the express admissions of a party to the suit, or admission, implied from his conduct are evidence—and strong evidence—against him, but we think that he is at liberty to prove that such admissions were mistaken or were untrue, and that he is not estopped or concluded by them, unless another person has been induced by them to alter this condition, in such a case the party with respect to that person (and their but as to third persons he is not

privies, not strangers' Pir Bailey J in person against whom an admission is mistaken or untrue When an admission is duly proved and the person against whom it is proved does not satisfy the Court that it was mistaken or untrue there is of law, Mysa v does not bind the person making such admission" Mangru v Shivanand, A I R 1923 All 570 When in a petition there is an inadvertent admission as to the nature of certain property, it is open to both sides to give evidence as to acquainted with the bandhu v Mammal proceeding without operate as an estoppel by stage without any decision of Court, the party can show in a subsequent suit that the statement previously made was untrue. Mahamed v Pir Mahomed 65 Ind Crs 63-4 I R 1922 Nag 67

Statements Post Litem Motam If the analogies of other exceptions be followed (vide clause (5), section 32), all statements made post litem motam are to be rejected as untrustworthy But it is questionable whether an absolute exclusion based on this distinction is either just or necessary Hignior 1731

Where in a suit for mortgage document he also admits the receipt Moorital, 21 N L R 40-47 C L J 222-107 Ind Crs 113-A I R 1928 P C 39 The fact that a co-defendant took part in certain baluara proceedings in which the land in dispute was measured and a map was prepared in which the plaintiff's title was admitted is admissible in evidence though the defendants who claim in 90 Ind Crs 613-A I R the accused under s 312, sufficient to connect them with the crime, with the commission of which it is held that although the Magistrate 342 Criminal Procedure Code under section 21 of the Evidence Act Queen Empress v. Narayan, 1884 Cr C. 679-Cr Rg 15 of 1893 The statements of an accused person, from which his guilt may be inferred are admissions and may be proved under section 2 H. Mehro v Crown, 8 P W R. 1907 perior, 8 O C 205-2 Cr L J 811 is party tendering them is without admission assumes a degree to possess as of a construction

Judge may direct the docu-F & P 673, Boulter v. Peplow.

S. 2

J. C. B. 133) — 1 sup Ev 226

Scope of the section This section departs from the English law as laid down in Slatterie v. Pooley 6 M & W 664 Following Mr Taylor, the views expressed in Laurens v. Oucale 1 Ir L R 352 has been adopted in the present Act Oral admissions as to provided in this section are excluded statements as to such matters, are how

Cur Li 140 So when the existence conditions or contents of the original have been proved to be admitted in writing by the person against whom it is proved or by his representative in interest, such written admission is admissible Section 6, clause (b) But written admission mentioned here must be distinguished from written admission made under section 58 This section does not exclude admissions which the parties or their agents agree to admit at the

S B H C R A C J 163 (165) Oral admissions as to the contents of a document are admissible when the party is entitled to give secondary evidence of the contents of such document under sections 65 and 66 of the Act Such admissions are also admissible when the genuineness of the document produced is in question "Where the question is" says Norton "not what are the contents of a document, but whether the document itself is genuine—that is, in the handwriting of the party whose writing or signature it is alleged to be—evidence of the document produced is in question The effect of the last clause of this section seems to be that if such a document is produced, the admission of the parties to it, that it is or is not genuine, may be received Nort Ev 153 Even where the contents of a document may be established by admission they cannot can the be so pro is not necessary — 1 sup Ev 226

Oral admissions of contents In 79—13 C L R 271 their Lordships

money is lent on terms and, the lender suing promissory note If promissory note is a case indepen-
3 (182)—A. W. N
da v. Alhoychurn,

50 In appears to m of sections 91, denied that it
See also Damo

Rule in t on this point
fixedly approved

23. final judgment a former action against the defendant. The Court used the following language. The admissions of a party are not open to the same objection which belongs to parol evidence from other sources. A party's own statements and admissions are in all cases, admissible in evidence against him though such statements and admissions may involve what must necessarily be contained in some writing deed or record. Thus the statements of a party though the conveyance the production of written admissions of parties as what a party admits against himself may be reasonably taken as true. The weight and value to the statements and admissions will vary according to the circumstances and must be determined by the jury. Smith v Palmer 6 Cal (Mass) 513. So the admissions of a party have been received to prove the contents of letters and of a deed. Loomis v Wadham 8 Gray (Mass) 501, the existence of a partnership, 67 Pa 374, the terms of a will and the contents of a telegram. On the other hand there have been cases in which the declarations of a party or their weight and value have been determined by the jury. They point out the danger of mistake or misconception as to the terms of written evidence and also the danger of falsehood or fabrication and the difficulty of detection and the danger of following record titles to be lost by mistake only so uncertain in character. They lay down the rule that admissions rank only with oral testimony and that unless made in open Court, they are competent only where parol evidence would be admissible to establish the same fact. Hallbert v Fletcher, 22 Ark. 453, Burns v McElroy, 11 Ark. 23, Flournoy v Newton 8 Ga. 306, Burr Jones § 209.

23 In civil cases no admission is relevant, if it is made either upon an express condition that evidence of it is not to be given, or under circumstances from which the Court can infer that the parties agreed together that evidence of it should not be given.

Explanation.—Nothing in this section shall be taken to exempt any barrister pleader, attorney or vakil from giving evidence of any matter of which he may be compelled to give evidence under section 126.

Principle of exclusion on principles which examination it would be satisfactory. It would be the principles laid down not to be 209

character has always been excluded and the rule has been so broad as to exclude all admissions thus made. Another instance of exclusion of testimony is that of an offer of one party to another to pay a sum of money or other valuable consideration with a view to a compromise of the matter in controversy. It must be permitted to men to endeavour to buy their peace without being prejudiced by a rejection of their offers. Hence, evidence of such offers or proposals is irrelevant, and they are not to be taken as admissions of the legal liability of the party making them. But here a distinction exists between the cases of an offer to pay money to settle a controversy, and an admission of particular facts, connected with the case, made by a party pending a negotiation for a compromise. The more convenient rule might have been that which is applicable to communications between client and attorney, excluding as testimony, everything communicated in this relation, which rule, if applied here, would exclude every admission made during the interview which was had for such compromise. To some extent this rule was attempted to be introduced, excluding all admissions of the parties, even admissions of particular facts, where it appeared that they were expressly stated at the time 'to be made without prejudice'. But the exception was soon introduced, that the evidence was competent where it was the admission of a collateral fact. This theory is consistent enough with general theory of privileged communication, (vide ss 126 129) namely, that expeditions and extra judicial settlements are to be encouraged and that privacy of communication is necessary in order to encourage them, and there is indeed a privilege for a party's statements to an official conciliator. In policy however it may be doubted whether the recognition of that the supposed privilege does not fit the rule of law as it is everywhere accepted and applied. Wigmore § 1061(a) appear

S. 2

entered into any contract by it if the offer contained in it is not accepted. Similarly Landley L J in Walker v Wilsher, L R 23 Q B D 335, said "What I think they mean, if the terms he accepted, without prejudice, This theory contained in be used for its it contain the express words 'without prejudice', may still be inadmissible in evidence and conversely". Wigmore § 1061 (b)

Taylor § 793 'The essence of an offer to compromise is, as Thomson v Austen, 2 Drol & Ry 358, 361, 'is that the party making the offer Money paid upon

23. final judgment a former action against the defendant. The Court used the following language: "The admissions of a party are not open to the same objection which belongs to parol evidence from other sources. A party's own statements and admissions are in all cases, admissible in evidence against him though such statements and admissions may involve what must necessarily be contained in some writing declared or recorded."

"... as the best evidence does not apply to the admissions of a party as what a party admits against himself may be reasonably taken as true. The weight and value to the statements and admissions will vary according to the circumstances and must be determined by the jury." Smith v Palmer 6 Cb 4 (Mass) 513. So the admissions of a party have been received to prove the contents of letters and of a deed [Loomis v Wadham, 8 Gt. (Mass) 501], the existence of a partnership based on a written contract (Eduard v Ira 62 Pa 374) the terms of a lease in writing [Edwards v B. & C. (N. H.) 111]

1
... point out the danger of mistake or misconception as to the terms of written evidence and also the danger of falsehood or fabrication and the difficulty of detection and the danger of following record rules to be lost by testimony so uncertain in character. They lay down the rule that admissions rank only with oral testimony and that unless made in open Court, they are competent only where parol evidence would be admissible to establish the same fact. Hallberton v Fletcher, 22 Ark 453. Bucks v McLeroy 11 Ark 23, Flournoy v Newton 8 Ga 306, Burr Jones § 208.

23 In civil cases no admission is relevant, if it is made either upon an express condition that evidence of it is not to be given, or under circumstances from which the Court can infer that the parties agreed together that evidence of it should not be given.

Explanation—Nothing in this section shall be taken to exempt any barrister, pleader, attorney or vakil from giving evidence of any matter of which he may be compelled to give evidence under section 126.

covered by this section are excluded recently by different Courts. But on explanations are more or less unsatisfactory the cases and to try to find out whether satisfactory

Principle analogous to that of privileged

When

the usual way by which the privilege is by stipulating that the

Ibid In Dickinson v Dickinson,

The rules of evidence, exclude to

of a party. Thus, the more fully to protect the rights of parties litigating all their communications with counsel are held to be privileged. Evidence of this character has always been excluded and the rule has been so broad as to exclude all admissions thus made. Another instance of exclusion of testimony is that of an offer of one party to another to pay a sum of money or other valuable consideration with a view to a compromise of the matter in controversy. It must be permitted to men to endeavour to buy their peace, without being for granted, not because they are true, but because good policy constrains the temporary yielding of them to effectuate a greater good, is not admissible, truth being the object of evidence." "The preliminary question always is," says Dor U J in Colburn v. Colton, 66 N H 151, 156, "not merely whether an admission of a fact was made during a settlement or negotiation, but whether a statement or act was intended to be an admission. It is a question, not of time or circumstances, but of intention." So it is apparent that the occasion of the utterance is not decisive, that is, it may or may not have been accompanied by a reservation or an injunction of secrecy, and it may or may not have occurred during negotiations for a settlement or a compromise. What is important is the form of the statement whether it is hypothetical or absolute. If, making all implications from claim will a therefore the pl claim is abs occurrence in the course of compromise negotiations or in other words a concesstrans v Small, 1 M & M 449 An offer of compromise, in the sense of a peace offer, may be made by an where the authority of the alleged agent for example, a wife acting for her husband will be rejected Chamberlayne's Ev. § 1448 An offer to compromise might be very well made, without restriction as to confidence Ibid So also to pay money by way of compromise with a view to buy peace is not evidence Jetton, 4 C. P 461, Gregory v Howard, 143; Furner v Barton, 3 Esp 474, on v Benson, 1 P Wms 495 In Isie was whether a written notice sent by a had suspended or was about to suspend be written "without prejudice" was inadmissible in evidence to prove an act of bankruptcy upon the hearing of a bankruptcy petition In admitting the petition of a Paulan Williams I said "It prejudice' with anot

23. See also Grace v Baynton, 21 Sol Jour 631. But now the question is whether the same rule applies in India also. Such a question arose in Bombay a but it was left undecided by the Appellate Court. Madhabrao v Gulab, 23 B 177. In that case the defendant pleaded limitation. In reply the plaintiff relied on an acknowledgment of the debt by the defendant. The alleged acknowledgment was written on a post card sent by the defendant by the plaintiff. It was in Gujarat and was as follows:—"I was bound to send Rs 30 according to my taida (fixed time) but on account of the receipt of the intelligence of the death of my father I have not been able to fulfil my promise. But now on his obsequies being over, I will positively pay Rs 30 to Sant Meruanji's. You, Sir should not entertain any anxiety whatever in respect thereof. As to whatever debts may be due by my old man, I am bound to pay the same as long as there is life in me. Therefore I write without prejudice and they disagree that even if acknowledged by limitation observations evidence. To exclude it from evidence it would be necessary to hold that the words 'without prejudice' amounted to an express condition that the card should be admissible in England apparently the card of Vougan J in In re Dainary, quoted, are not, as the Subordinate Judge in the Court of first instance supposed, mere obiter dicta. There are documents marked 'without prejudice' has in dispute or negotiation with another, and the dispute or negotiation. This rule is to be found in many cases.

"Probably a person may have his demand being proved at a time for until the claim is not only to enable negotiations to be entered into to settle an existing dispute. A document marked 'without prejudice' but which contains the terms be not accepted, can be admitted. Spence, 58 L T 433 = 57 L J Ch 200. In an anecdote of a young attorney who has always brought an action for breach of promise of marriage against him. When his letters he merits of the cause and her means." For the purpose of the parties, a letter written without prejudice prevents it being read at the trial (Patterson v Forrester 33 Key 33). Forrester, has even been clearly privileged. Peacock v Harper, 26 W. R 109, Oliver v Nautilus Steamship Co (1903) 2 K.

B 639, Powell 293 The same rule is applicable in the case of conversations S. 2 Unless there be a clear break between the conversation which is clearly without prejudice and subsequent conversation no admission of a party in the latter part of the conversation can be given in evidence Thompson v Austin 2 Dowl. & Ry 361 Correspondence marked "without prejudice" can be seen s Waller v Wilsher, 23 Q B awarding costs. Ibid They r these are marked "without prejudice" In re Duntrey (1893) 2 Q B 116: Pracock v Harper, 26 W R 109.
 the statements made during
 It is ordinarily against public A conviction based on such 'superior, 11 C W N 26 N, see a dispute between two parties,

446), or where an agreement, though purporting to be a compromise, has been finally concluded (as, where it Erognell v Leuclyn, 9 Pr 122, 20 C. W. N.
 1217. Where certain letters were the plaintiffs it prejudice' and the defendant's under s 23 of the Evidence regards the letters it must be intended to claim the same 6 O W N 1088=A I R 1930 Oadh 193 Section 23 is no bar to the use of admission in compromise which is not rejected Sadhu v Botha, 11 L L J.

 446=A I R 1930 Lab 293
 In Healey v Thatcher, 8 C & P 398 Gurney H excluded a letter beginning ddock v ally M. empt to Thomas, Jordan adverse party with a view to a compromise, or to an action, you must look with very intention to admit liability to the extent of the claim" Mearns v Amman,

 11 C 130=20 C W N, 1217=25 C L J 12

24. Facts admitted can be proved by the witness "the question in the defendant, of money on compromise" and therefore to be admissible. Thomson v. Austin, 2 Dowl &

148 = 4 Pat L J. 676 = (1920) Pat 52.

which the Court can infer, etc This section d the words "infer that it was the intention of the fer that the parties agreed together that" In England there has been some difference of judicial opinion as to whether admis

be drawn almost as a matter of course from the nature and circumstances of the case" Wills' Ex 299 This difficulty is further more obviated by the words used in the section

Explanation The explanation refers to the obligation on the part of Barristers and others to answer questions as to professional communications made to them in furtherance of a criminal purpose or as to any fact observed showing the commission of a crime or fraud since the commencement of their employment Cun Ex 141

Illustration 1. A barrister is asked a question as to whether he has seen a person to it is for the Court dealing with the proper to such an admission Punjab Singh v. Ramantur, 52 Ind Cas 111 Admission made by the tenant defendant before the pleader of the plaintiff landlord, to whom one of the defendants went before the suit for compromise is admissible in evidence in the absence of any express or strongly implied condition that evidence of the same would not be given Morgan v. Almond, 20 C W N 1217 = 44 C 180 = 341 A. 571.

A I. R. 1926 Lah 509 = 92 Ind Cas 319

- 24 A confession made by an accused person is irrelevant in a criminal proceeding, if the making of the confession appears to the Court to have been caused by any inducement, threat, or promise, having reference to the charge against the accused person, proceeding from

Confession caused by inducement, threat, or promise, when irrelevant in criminal proceeding

a person in authority and sufficient, in the opinion of the Court, to give the accused person grounds which would appear to him reasonable for supposing that by making it he would gain any advantage or avoid any evil of a temporal nature in reference to the proceedings against him

merel
ackno
in ex.
fact c what defined in the Indian Evidence Act" says Mahmood J in Queen Empress v Babu Lal, 6 A 509 (1 B) at p 539, "it, however, occurs under the category of admissions, and to make my meaning clear, I adopt the definition given by Mr Justice Stephen in Art 21 of his Digest of the Law of Evidence, by saying that a 'confession is an admission made at any time by a person charged with a crime, stating or suggesting the inference that he committed that crime' In Queen Empress v Jagrup, 7 follow the definition given "was written in view of a pre

the
and kept out the spot to the effect that he whether those statements amounted 23 Held that the above statements as they suggested the inference that not intended by the accused, as a confession of guilt they were an admission of a criminalizing circumstance and would form a very important part of the evidence against the accused in showing Evidence Act makes a clear distinction between an admission and a confession. It is only under s 3 accused persons jointly as against the rest

affect both the person confessing, and the crime confessed. As held by the Yesuada taken by themselves do not fall within that category. As held by the Allahabad High Court in Emperer v Jagrup, 7 A 646, the word 'confession' must not be construed as including a mere inculpatory admission which falls short of being an admission of guilt. Section 30 must be strictly construed. The learned Sessions Judge has construed the statement into a confession by a process of inferential reasoning which is not what the terms of section 30 countenance. See also Emperer v Nani Gopal, 15 C. W. N 593 (612) = 33 C 569

In Queen v. Mac Donald, 10 B L R App 2, Phcar J observed that there is a distinction in the Evidence Act between admissions and confessions, but the judgment contains no definition of the term. This case was followed by 24. Prinsep J n.

the subject Tribhovan M

statements which it is proposed to prove against an accused person to establish an offence or in other words what admissions do amount to confession, remained unanswered

Mullik, 15 C

meaning of between admission and confession In Queen Empress v. Nidmadhub, 15 C 335, Petharam C J also said at p 607 "If the contents of the document did not amount to a confession relevant as an admission the learned Chief Justice under s 21 of admitted the existence of confession but did not give any definition of the word 'confession'. The High Court of Madras silent on this point reported Madras

sion" one should

Empress v. Jagann

the Law of Evidence

time by a person

committed the crime

26 Ind Cas. 161

ting the guilt of a

committed the crime

followed the

of the Law

it has been

admission made at any time by a person

ing the inference, that he committed that which amount to a direct acknowledgment inculpatory statements which although they of guilt, yet suggest an inference of guilt or from which an inference of guilt follows The factor determining whether a statement amounts to a confession but the fact that it leads to an

Tha v. Emperor, 5 L B R 131-4

10 P R 185 Cr

ing the inference that he committed the crime

P L R 1905=20 P R 1905 Cr; Queen Emp

(707), Superintendent v. Lalit Mohan Singa,

In Queen Empress v. Jate Charan, 19 II 363

Hakiman v. King Emperor

10 P R 185 Cr

him; it was no admission whatever of criminalizing circumstances. It was therefore, inadmissible. The statement held to be inadmissible in Imperatrix v. Pandharinath, 6 II 31 was of a different character. It admitted possession of a cheque alleged to be one of the criminalizing circumstances which were against the accused. In the present case the statement does not amount directly or indirectly, to an admission of any criminalizing circumstance, and is, therefore, outside the principle of the ruling cited." "In the result," says Carnell J.

Barindra Kumar Ghose v Emperor, 11 C W N 1114 at p 1197-37 C 167 "it seems to me that each case must be decided as it arises with reference to the question whether the particular statement concerned, whether it be positive or negative, verbal or expressed by conduct, is or is not a confession. See also Muthu Kumar Suami v King Emperor, 35 M 397; Emperor v Cuna, 22 Bom L R 1247, Ganapati v Emperor, 6 N L R 180-12 Cr L J 60-8 Ind Cas. 1181 "By confession I understand not necessarily a full confession of guilt, but any statement made which, being relevant to the issue, may be put in evidence against the person making it" R v Wong Chin Kai, Roscoe, Cr. Ev 37 Confessions of other crimes not relating to the charge e g showing or admitting a general tendency even to the crime charged, are inadmissible R v Cole, 1810, Roscoe, Cr. Ev 37

In Smith v Emperor, 13 Ind Cas 605, at p 611, Phillips J said "There is no definition of confession in the Evidence Act but I take it that it must be something more than a mere admission. In Emperor v Kangal Mahi, 26 Ind Cas 161-15 Cr L J 713-11 C 601 when dealing with the admissibility of statements, it . . . they were put . . . of the accused . . . be found to amount to confessions. Accepting both these propositions I would add that in order to make . . .

... making, I am doubtful whether the fact that it does become incriminating owing to subsequent events would make it a confession" See also Pan Gong v Emperor, 19 Cr L J 42; Jasoda v Emperor, 53 Ind Cas 691.

An admission of all the ingredients required to constitute an offence is a confession. A confession is an admission made at any time by a person charged

... recovered stolen articles from the house of the person making the confession and from the persons named by him, held, that the confession was not rendered untrue merely because the person making the statement minimised his share in the dacoity. 126 Ind Cas 498-31 Cr L J 1017-A I, II 1931 Oudh. 74 A statement of the following . . . sion of complicity in an offence "I told . . . kill my husband, they were at liberty . . . against them. But when they arrived at . . . I endeavoured to restrain them and was . . . threats to kill me and my son if I . . . in the murder, nor did in any way assist the murderers after my husband was put to death" Bhag Singh v Emperor, 4 Ind Cas 429-21 P W. R 1909 Cr-153 P. L. R 1909 A statement of an accused to the effect that under threats of death he was forced to sit outside the

Gul Hossain v Crown
A confession must state in law the offence

... 133 Where the complainant, it is . . . for the Magistrate to treat the circumstance as an indication of the accused's guilt. In re Abdul Rahman, 4 L W 556-17 Cr. L J 462-36 Ind Cas 142 To constitute a 'confession' under the Evidence Act, it is not necessary that the person confessing should make a full and explicit . . .

24. of his guilt so clean as to leave no other hypothesis tenable. Smith v Emery, 43 Ind Cas 605-19 Cr L J 189 The fact that the accused did not claim a piece of cloth as his own before the Police but admitted at that time that it belonged to the deceased might have been due to this that the defence is not judicial case the legal act of confession is not a mere statement

1929 Cal 539

Confession, meaning of--English Law Stephen defines that "a confession with a crime, stating or If the words 'any time' time they seem too wide

■ K B 108 Phipps 255

Confession, meaning of--American view The general rule that a confession, a statement by one accused of crime directly or by necessary inference admitting his guilt, is receivable in evidence, provided it complies with certain requirements of procedure, is not questioned in any quarter. It necessarily follows from the very definition of a confession that it must, as a total, incriminate the declarant, as to the crime charged in the indictment. But while every confession must be an incriminating statement, it by no means necessarily The confession confession as to to the knowledge or not conceded,

"A confession in a legal sense is restricted to an acknowledgment of guilt made by a person after an offence has been committed and does not apply to a mere statement or declaration inferred" State v Reinhard Ev § 1476; Wigmore § 821 that an acknowledgment an inference of guilt is properly design of facts which could be true whether the main fact existed or not" Puley v State, 1 Gr difference the main fact admitting with innocent or subordinate fact or marked

On the other hand, the term confession has been strictly confined, by Court, to distinct concessions of liability, nothing being left to inference. So "to constitute a declaration a confession within the legal meaning of the term it must amount to a confession of the crime charged, or participation in such commission, as distinguished from admissions or other statements tending to prove guilt or innocence, or of facts from which, taken together, guilt is directly deducible" Encyclopaedia of Evidence, Vol III, p 298

Confession . . .
of admissions,
a criminal charge
exists and a special rule based on the general testimonial principle of trustworthiness exists, and a special rule, based on the general testimonial principle of trustworthiness of narration, becomes applicable. That rule satisfied, the confession occupies the status of ordinary admission; its relation to other rules of Evidence is therefore determined by its quality as an admission. For example, as an extra-judicial statement, it would ordinarily be obnoxious to the Hearsay rule but admissions are either not within the prohibition of that rule, or are an law that it will not force any man to accuse himself; pain and force may compel men to confess what is not truth of facts, and consequently such extorted

Gilbert Ev 6th Ed (1801) p 123,

Wainwright, 8 A & E 691 (700),

Wills' Ev 2nd Ed 150, Taylor §

ived on the same principle as that d, viz, the presumption that a against his own interest Taylor §

K B 346 So it is clear that Hearsay exception for statements to day be so regarded, where the accused, not being compellable, fails to take the stand Vide section 32, clause 4 and notes thereunder; Wigmore § 816 (Foot note) As in the case of admissions, certain vicarious admissions, i.e. those of agents and other persons are often receivable, so also in the case of confessions, the confessions of co accused, co conspirators, and others are also receivable.

Wigmore § 816

matter begins to be considered, and it is recognised that some confessions should an examina

Wigmore § 1
Leach Cr
by threats o

24.

suspicion of all confessions to repudiate them upon the

of changing the law or the practice" Wigmore § 817.

The Evolution of Reason To a certain extent, the history of the evolution of the law of confessions is that of most rules in the law of evidence. As is said elsewhere the early history of the law witnesses down to the close of the sixteenth century was decreasingly one of administration and increasingly one of administration as part of the executive of the courts. Jurors as to what they might do were practically no rules, certainly none having the force of law. At most the action of the judges in this respect was determined by the custom, or practice of the various circuits of the King's Courts. The effort was to administer the customs of the realm or other provisions having the force of law with legal reasons, as that term was then understood, for the attainment of substantial justice, though, of course, conventional.

In respect to confessions by way of pleas of guilty, the judges made sure that the prisoner was fully aware of the consequences of his plea. The penal code then in force, for comparatively unimportant offences, accused laboured, it seemed but just that before the judge should allow a prisoner to plead guilty without the aid of witnesses, and hurriedly tried, often not necessarily be taken at his word, he was to be warned and even, occasionally, advised to retract his plea. Of this judicial administration, as of any other, the characteristic guide and test was reason.

The political events of the seventeenth century in England, to which brief reference is elsewhere made, were united with the assumed necessity for concealing valuable judicial legislation, the temper and philosophy of the times and much else, to evolve the use of reason into the direction of establishing rules of law in place of those of practice or administration. During the eighteenth and most of the nineteenth centuries the rules of evidence were being formed. To a very large extent, this development was marked by a change from administration, as represented by the practice on the several circuits, into rules of substantive law relating to procedure. Positive regulation of admissibility of evidence, establishing classes of facts to be received or rejected had taken the place of legal reasoning as freely applied in the administration to the facts of the individual case. It might almost be said that practice had hardened into law. It seemed to the mind of the time the protection of individual liberty as of the reasoning faculty, that a species of legal character and the like, which substantial justice

From this period or stage of legal evolution has come the multiplicity of conflicting decisions, each having the force of precedent, concerning the

and a lively consciousness, that it has been a voluntary, naturally, and a valuable from the trial of substance. The natural law that all confessions made after a certain time may be referred to the declarant by recognized classes of persons shall be respected. In many cases such statements would be calculated to mislead a jury that the usage of fact have been many and conspicuous. To a certain extent this evil consequence has been found to attend the operation of voluntary law which has but century classes or species of facts regardless of their probability effect in any particular instance even where any alternative process will never be secured in any other way. It has therefore come to be felt that a declaration should be applied to the individual case rather than employed in the creation of a treaty classes to which the quality of a declaration is subject for all purposes and denied by the substantive law relating to procedure. In other words while the feeling of the last century in favour of having a rule of law which led to the conduct of legal business and the rights and liabilities of procedure on a higher and far reaching judicial distinction of each particular case regarding the work of the courts is maintained. Where this rule is the relation to the law of procedure where certainly is important, a rule of law, having not the force of precedent and capable of codification, results from the principle of justice in any particular case. Should, on the other hand, the law, the law of actions, the law to be attained, the enforcement of the law, the expediting of trials and the law are to be reached. At this point sound legal reasoning, the flexibility of a legislative action, properly takes the place of the rigid rule of law, the precedent enforcement on appeal. Into this stream of legal evolution, the interesting structure of the element of reason, the modern law of confession is and for some time has been, gradually emerging. Chamberlaine's J. r. 25 1917, 1918

Narration as affected by Motives to Confess guilt. The trustworthiness of confessions of guilt has been a constant theme of argument in the administration of justice. From the point of view of logic, the question is whether the confessional narrative is explainable by any motive other than that of a consciousness of guilt arising from actual guilt. Obviously a double inference is involved,—first from the utterance of the confession to a consciousness of guilt as its motive cause and secondly from that cause than the actual doing of the deed. There have been false confessions in every case whether at the confession to the ords, of the confession being a voluntary one, the process was one of choice of motives. If the confession was a false one,

of utterance with non-confession who is it?
confessor chooses though damages of damaging

gence, his physical condition (hunger, fatigue, fear), and his environment. E.g. in the old English case where (under the then trial rules of Evidence) a confession was excluded because some one had promised the accused a glass of beer if he would confess, we could hardly conceive of ourselves making such a choice of motives; but we might have to believe that this particular man did make it, after we learn all the data about him. So, too, the oft-repeated case

4 in China of a man falsely confessing and implicating the guilty one out of execution, rests on motives which would not be meretricious

between the observers idea of the choice of motives that he would make and the choice of motives that the accused bears what he is, is alleged to have made. And the observer finds it difficult to judge the choice from any but his own experience and standard. The alleged choice of false confession by the accused could have been due only to the dominance of a motive so unlikely and queer (from the observer's experience) that the explanation seems far-fetched and improbable.

Hence the decision in such cases calls for wise acquaintance with the human nature of confession and an estimation of the probabilities that one of the rare or unusual motives is in deed present and dominant in the case in hand! — Wignores Principles of Judicial Proof § 222

Same—Motives for confession. 'The confession is a very extraordinary psychological problem. (1) In many cases the reasons for confession are very obvious, the criminal sees that the evidence is so complete that he is soon to be convicted and seeks a mitigation of the sentence by confession, or he hopes through a more honest narration of the crime to throw a great degree of the guilt on another. (2) In addition there is threat of vanity in confession—is among young peasants who confess to a greater share in a burglary than they actually had (easily discoverable by the magniloquent manner of describing the actual crime). (3) Then there are confessions made for the sake of care and winter lodgings. (4) confession arising political criminals and others). (4) There nobility, from the wish to save an intimate such as occur especially in conspiracy the men of the real criminal or for the destruction of in the latter case guilt is admitted only until the plan for which it was has succeeded, then the judge is surprised with a well founded regular and successful establishment of an alibi. (6) Not infrequently confession of small crimes is made to establish an alibi for a greater one. (7) And finally there are the confessions catholics are required to make in confessional and (8) The death bed confessions. The first are distinguished by the fact that they are made freely and that the confessor looks at first to state his crime, but aiming to make amends, penance. Death bed the desire to prevent person. (9) A number of cases may perhaps be explained through the of conscience persons who are would appear ceases, etc. If the confessor only intends to free himself from the cause in response to mere pressure, we have a cause of conscience. There is always considerable difficulty in explaining these cases. To deny that there is is comfortable but wrong, because we each know collection of cases in which no effort can bring to light a motive for confession. The confession is made because the confessor wanted to make it, and that is the whole story. Wignores Principles of Judicial Proof § 223 citing from Hans Gross, Criminal Psychology.

intent result a rob he imagine sion is ma
confession facts corre
confession

confessions are either rough mistakes are the mistakes a corpse for finding the body of the but do not know that legally he is not guilty. (R v Lambie, 5 C 26, 5, Neary R, 11 C 101.) In many cases false confessions are intentionally made to escape a punishment and this includes all those false confessions which are extorted from a person physically or mentally tortured. A second motive is a desire to shift the blame, which may be illustrated by the case of a man falsely accused of a conspiracy to defraud a bank, who, by a confession to throw off suspicion as to his crime, transferred the blame to another who has already committed a similar crime. A third motive is a desire to escape a punishment. A fourth motive, originating in the relation of sexes, is thus described by the Illustrations to whom we are originally indebted for the whole of this section—In the relation between the sexes, says the Illustrations, the false confession is a confession, "may be said to be the most natural expression of the need of this as of many other eccentric habits. The female unvirtually, as for seduction, hazards the situation and her reputation, for the purpose of keeping off a rival and from doing just what she allures. The female marriage—the like is said to be even though in married women with a view to marriage through life. A fifth motive is vanity. Best takes the following extract from Best 11—Vanity will at the aid of any other motive, has been known (the force of moral sanction being in this case a little against itself), to afford an interest strong enough to induce a man to sink himself in the poor opinion of one party (a woman) under the notion of raising him in that of another. A sixth motive is the desire to benefit others. A seventh motive is the desire to injure others, thus—the crime and the revenge has for its expense of their own part.

11 pp 11, 18, 28, also 121, 122, 123, 124, 125, 126, 127, 128, 129, 130, 131, 132, 133, 134, 135, 136, 137, 138, 139, 140, 141, 142, 143, 144, 145, 146, 147, 148, 149, 150, 151, 152, 153, 154, 155, 156, 157, 158, 159, 160, 161, 162, 163, 164, 165, 166, 167, 168, 169, 170, 171, 172, 173, 174, 175, 176, 177, 178, 179, 180, 181, 182, 183, 184, 185, 186, 187, 188, 189, 190, 191, 192, 193, 194, 195, 196, 197, 198, 199, 200, 201, 202, 203, 204, 205, 206, 207, 208, 209, 210, 211, 212, 213, 214, 215, 216, 217, 218, 219, 220, 221, 222, 223, 224, 225, 226, 227, 228, 229, 230, 231, 232, 233, 234, 235, 236, 237, 238, 239, 240, 241, 242, 243, 244, 245, 246, 247, 248, 249, 250, 251, 252, 253, 254, 255, 256, 257, 258, 259, 260, 261, 262, 263, 264, 265, 266, 267, 268, 269, 270, 271, 272, 273, 274, 275, 276, 277, 278, 279, 280, 281, 282, 283, 284, 285, 286, 287, 288, 289, 290, 291, 292, 293, 294, 295, 296, 297, 298, 299, 300, 301, 302, 303, 304, 305, 306, 307, 308, 309, 310, 311, 312, 313, 314, 315, 316, 317, 318, 319, 320, 321, 322, 323, 324, 325, 326, 327, 328, 329, 330, 331, 332, 333, 334, 335, 336, 337, 338, 339, 340, 341, 342, 343, 344, 345, 346, 347, 348, 349, 350, 351, 352, 353, 354, 355, 356, 357, 358, 359, 360, 361, 362, 363, 364, 365, 366, 367, 368, 369, 370, 371, 372, 373, 374, 375, 376, 377, 378, 379, 380, 381, 382, 383, 384, 385, 386, 387, 388, 389, 390, 391, 392, 393, 394, 395, 396, 397, 398, 399, 400, 401, 402, 403, 404, 405, 406, 407, 408, 409, 410, 411, 412, 413, 414, 415, 416, 417, 418, 419, 420, 421, 422, 423, 424, 425, 426, 427, 428, 429, 430, 431, 432, 433, 434, 435, 436, 437, 438, 439, 440, 441, 442, 443, 444, 445, 446, 447, 448, 449, 450, 451, 452, 453, 454, 455, 456, 457, 458, 459, 460, 461, 462, 463, 464, 465, 466, 467, 468, 469, 470, 471, 472, 473, 474, 475, 476, 477, 478, 479, 480, 481, 482, 483, 484, 485, 486, 487, 488, 489, 490, 491, 492, 493, 494, 495, 496, 497, 498, 499, 500, 501, 502, 503, 504, 505, 506, 507, 508, 509, 510, 511, 512, 513, 514, 515, 516, 517, 518, 519, 520, 521, 522, 523, 524, 525, 526, 527, 528, 529, 530, 531, 532, 533, 534, 535, 536, 537, 538, 539, 540, 541, 542, 543, 544, 545, 546, 547, 548, 549, 550, 551, 552, 553, 554, 555, 556, 557, 558, 559, 560, 561, 562, 563, 564, 565, 566, 567, 568, 569, 570, 571, 572, 573, 574, 575, 576, 577, 578, 579, 580, 581, 582, 583, 584, 585, 586, 587, 588, 589, 590, 591, 592, 593, 594, 595, 596, 597, 598, 599, 600, 601, 602, 603, 604, 605, 606, 607, 608, 609, 610, 611, 612, 613, 614, 615, 616, 617, 618, 619, 620, 621, 622, 623, 624, 625, 626, 627, 628, 629, 630, 631, 632, 633, 634, 635, 636, 637, 638, 639, 640, 641, 642, 643, 644, 645, 646, 647, 648, 649, 650, 651, 652, 653, 654, 655, 656, 657, 658, 659, 660, 661, 662, 663, 664, 665, 666, 667, 668, 669, 670, 671, 672, 673, 674, 675, 676, 677, 678, 679, 680, 681, 682, 683, 684, 685, 686, 687, 688, 689, 690, 691, 692, 693, 694, 695, 696, 697, 698, 699, 700, 701, 702, 703, 704, 705, 706, 707, 708, 709, 710, 711, 712, 713, 714, 715, 716, 717, 718, 719, 720, 721, 722, 723, 724, 725, 726, 727, 728, 729, 730, 731, 732, 733, 734, 735, 736, 737, 738, 739, 740, 741, 742, 743, 744, 745, 746, 747, 748, 749, 750, 751, 752, 753, 754, 755, 756, 757, 758, 759, 760, 761, 762, 763, 764, 765, 766, 767, 768, 769, 770, 771, 772, 773, 774, 775, 776, 777, 778, 779, 780, 781, 782, 783, 784, 785, 786, 787, 788, 789, 790, 791, 792, 793, 794, 795, 796, 797, 798, 799, 800, 801, 802, 803, 804, 805, 806, 807, 808, 809, 810, 811, 812, 813, 814, 815, 816, 817, 818, 819, 820, 821, 822, 823, 824, 825, 826, 827, 828, 829, 830, 831, 832, 833, 834, 835, 836, 837, 838, 839, 840, 841, 842, 843, 844, 845, 846, 847, 848, 849, 850, 851, 852, 853, 854, 855, 856, 857, 858, 859, 860, 861, 862, 863, 864, 865, 866, 867, 868, 869, 870, 871, 872, 873, 874, 875, 876, 877, 878, 879, 880, 881, 882, 883, 884, 885, 886, 887, 888, 889, 890, 891, 892, 893, 894, 895, 896, 897, 898, 899, 900, 901, 902, 903, 904, 905, 906, 907, 908, 909, 910, 911, 912, 913, 914, 915, 916, 917, 918, 919, 920, 921, 922, 923, 924, 925, 926, 927, 928, 929, 930, 931, 932, 933, 934, 935, 936, 937, 938, 939, 940, 941, 942, 943, 944, 945, 946, 947, 948, 949, 950, 951, 952, 953, 954, 955, 956, 957, 958, 959, 960, 961, 962, 963, 964, 965, 966, 967, 968, 969, 970, 971, 972, 973, 974, 975, 976, 977, 978, 979, 980, 981, 982, 983, 984, 985, 986, 987, 988, 989, 990, 991, 992, 993, 994, 995, 996, 997, 998, 999, 1000.

not a found
in habitual criminals the consciousness of guilt of a serious crime, plus the nervous strain of avoiding detection lead naturally to a confession upon being detected and arrested.

The process is one of a suddenly relaxed inhibition. Upon doing a heinous act the person is conscious of an emotional shock at violating common morality and at finding himself in danger of punishment and ruin upon discovery. He therefore now inhibits every form of conduct that could reveal his guilt. The nervous strain of these multiple inhibitions cumulates hourly and leads to—

If, finally (and as for the murder of X, he ally if facts are stated

So all the inhibitions

no longer released. A flood of normal nervous consciousness returns. A full nervous relief is felt—equal to the physical relief given by a purgative after long constipation. There is no longer any strain of inhibition. And the

in this condition, however brief and violent the [the person] condition reasonable hope of escaping discovery; Impress v Dade, 15 B 452 (479).

and half savage nature of the accused (Taylor's Trial of cases, para 135 cited

24 in China of a man falsely confessing and implicating the guilty one out of execution, rests on motives which would not be merited between the observer's idea of the choice of motives that he would make and the choice of motives that the accused, being what he is, is alleged to have made. And the observer finds it difficult to judge the choice from any but his own experience and standard. The alleged choice of false confession by the accused could have been due only to the dominance of a motive so unlikely and so queer (from the observer's experience) that the explanation seems far-fetched and improbable.

Hence the decision in such cases calls for wide acquaintance with the human nature of confessions and an estimation of the probabilities that one of the rare or unusual motives is in deed present and dominant in the case in hand.—Wigmore's Principles of Judicial Proof § 222

Same—Motives for confession. 'The confession is a very extraordinary psychological problem. (1) In many cases the reasons for confession are very obvious, the criminal sees that the evidence is so complete that he is soon to be convicted and seeks a mitigation of the sentence by confession or he hopes through a more honest narration of the crime to throw a great degree of the guilt on another. (2) In addition there is thread of vanity in confession—is a young peasant who confesses to a greater share in a burglary than they actually had (easily discoverable by the magniloquent manner of describing the actual crime). (3) Then there are confessions made for the sake of ease and winter lodgings. The confession arising from 'firm conviction' (as an ongoing confession arising from

of the real criminal or for the destruction

in the latter case guilt is admitted only until the plan for which it was has succeeded, then the judge is surprised with a well founded regular and successful establishment of an alibi. (6) Not infrequently confession of small crimes is made to establish an alibi for a greater one. (7) And finally there are the confessions catholics are required to make in confessional and (8) The death bed confessions. The first are distinguished by the fact that they are made freely and that the confessee does not try to mitigate his crime, but aiming to make a true penance. Death by the desire to prevent person. (9) A number of cases may perhaps be explained through reason of conscience, persons who are would appear ceases, etc. If the confessor only intends to free himself from the terms of confession, we are not but more or less with ease where such hallucinations are the confession is made freely in response to mere pressure, we have a crucifix of conscience. There is a considerable difficulty in explaining these causes. To deny that there are such is comfortable but wrong, because we each know collection of cases in which no effort can bring to light a motive for confession. The confession is made because the confessor wanted to make it, and that is the whole story. (Criminal Psychology) Wigmore's Principles of Judicial Proof § 223 citing from Hans Gross are the body for the charge . . . According to the rules of evidence, what a person says and respecting a particular fact is amissible evidence, not in the nature of a confession, but as evidence of the particular fact.' 'The distinction between a confession and an admission, as applied in criminal law, is not a technical refinement but based upon the substantive differences of the character of the evidence derived from each. A confession is a direct acknowledgment of guilt on the part of the accused, and, by the very force of the definition 'excludes an admission which, of itself, as applied in criminal law, is a statement by the accused 'direct or implied' of facts pertinent to the issue, and tending, in connection with proof of other facts, to prove his guilt but of itself is insufficient to authorize a conviction.' Per H. L. J. in State v. Gure, 5 Mont. 125-126 Pac. 329.

What are confessions and what are not confessions were very lucidly explained by H. L. J. in State v. Price, 32 Or. 15-19 Pac. 904 (sm) where he said: "We take it that the admission of a fact or of a bundle of facts, from which guilt is directly inferrible, or which within and of themselves import guilt, may be denominated a confession. But not so with the admission of a particular act or acts or circumstances which may or may not involve guilt, and which is dependent for such result upon other facts or circumstances to be established. It is not necessary that there be a declaration of an intent to admit guilt; it is sufficient that the facts admitted involve a crime, and therefore port guilt, or as put by Mr. Wharton, 'I am guilty of this', and "this" imports the admission of all the acts constituting guilt. It is necessary however, that the accused should speak with an animus confitendi or an intention to speak the truth touching the specific charge of guilt and when he with such intention, narrates facts constituting a crime the guilt becomes a matter of inference, a resultant feature of the narration without an explicit declaration to that effect. So that we conclude that whenever the statements or declarations of the accused, voluntarily made, are of such facts as involve necessarily the commission of a crime, or in themselves constitute a crime then the facts admitted import guilt, and such admissions may properly be denominated confession." So it is admitted on all hands that there is a distinction between admission and confession. R. v. Macdonald, 10 B. L. R. App. 2, Empress v. Debee Pre. 1, 6 C. 530-7 C. L. R. 531, R. v. Duthie 3 N. L. R. 51-5 Cr. L. J. 131, Emperor v. Mithomei, 5 Bom. L. R. 312, R. v. Gopal, 7 C. 95-5 C. L. R. 171, R. v. Chooramoni, 11 W. R. Cr. 25, 26, R. v. Jay Gomar, 2 C. L. R. 62, R. v. Meher Ali, 15 C. 593, Empress v. Nilmathab 15 C. 595 (607), Q. v. Jaffir Ali, 19 W. R. Cr. 57 (62); Faju Pramanik v. Empress, 25 C. 711, R. v. Hurnibole, 1 C. 207, Harris v. Emperor, 1 L. R. 1927 Lah. 650.

Confessions—Division of Confessions may be divided into two classes—Judicial and Extra-judicial. Rowce Fi. 37. Judicial confessions are those which are made before the magistrate, or in Court, in the due course of legal proceedings, and it is essential that they be made out of the free will of the consequences of the

as a complainant

Magistrate, or in Court, this term embracing not only explicit and express confessions of crime but all those admissions of ions of this kind be weighed by the itself to supply it. Cr. Ev. 17. An the person. Id. Cr. 69. Id. R. v. Gopal, 7 C. 95 (607). Oral Cr. 17. may be in any form. A favo

24 confession may properly be in written form and the accused may either prepare it for himself or adopt it as his when prepared by another. For example, a prisoner's confession taken down by some one else and signed by the declarant is as much his written declaration as would be one prepared by his own hand. As to the manner in which a written confession should be authenticated to the tribunal, no established rule exists. That some authentication is necessary is obvious. Chamberlayne's Ld § 1512. In case no written document exists covering the confession, its statement may be proved by the evidence of any person who heard them. Ibid § 1571. It may be in the form of a letter. Booth v R 15 Cr L J 55=18 C W N 386.

Form of confession writing—Best Evidence Rule. Where a confession has been reduced to writing by the witness and signed by him the document itself is preferred in proof of it being the best evidence. Parol evidence therefore will not be received until the absence of the document has been explained to the satisfaction of the presiding Judge. Chamberlayne's Ld § 1573. But when some body else has it down the confession may be proved by oral evidence of some witness who heard it made. R v Lajer 10 Win Abr 96.

To whom Extra judicial confession is Made. An extra judicial confession can be made to any person or collection or body of persons. (Harbans v K E 8 O C 395, Chanon v Crown, 21 Ind Cr 468=14 Cr L J 576, Heslin Mel v Emperor, 15 Cr L J 502=24 Ind Cr 590. It is not necessary that the statement should have been addressed to any definite individual. It may have been made to a group of persons in authority, upon the great majority of whom it is believed. 85 Gr 69). Though it is in connection with confessions so made that they are carefully scrutinized, no reason why what has been said to him even the trial judge are equal voluntary confession by oral statements made, or letters written by the accused or by the prosecutor (R v Heat 69 J P 224), 2 K B 108 where the letter was

Gardner, 85 L J K B 1, against him, if independently proved. And it is immaterial whether the per-

Welsh 3 F J F Ev 261. It is be received with lied when it is clear, consistent and convincing. The evidence of an admission of guilt to villagers may be as strong evidence against an accused person as a confession before a Magistrate. It requires no corroboration. The Court is to decide whether the persons before whom the admission is said to have been made are trustworthy witnesses. Mannu v Emperor, 134 Ind Cr 1018=A I R 1931 Oudh 415.

Extra judicial confession—Proof of corpus Delicti as corroboration. Whether extra judicial confessions uncorroborated by any other proof of the corpus delicti are of themselves sufficient to found a conviction of the prisoner has been gravely doubted in England. In the Roman Law such naked confessions amounted only to a semi plena probatio, upon which alone no judgment could be founded, and at most the party could only in proper cases be put to torture. But if voluntarily made in the presence of the injured party, or if reiterated at different times in his absence and persisted in they were received as plenary proof. Greenl Ev § 217 Taylor § 868. In each of the English cases usually cited in favour of the sufficiency of this evidence, some corroborative circumstance will be found. Ibid. In the United States the rule is held receiving and weighing the evidence of confessions in other cases, and it seems countenanced by approved writers on this branch of the law. Greenl. Ev. § 217; Taylor Ev. § 868; Guilla's Case, 5 Halst. 168, 185, Long's Case, 1 Hayw. 524, 2 Russ. & M. 825, 826.

Weight of confession. The evidence of verbal confessions of guilt is to be received with great caution. For, besides the danger of mistake, from the misapprehension of witnesses, or from the prisoner's expressing his own meaning, that the mind of the prisoner and that he is often influenced by motives of hope or fear to make an untrue confession, offenders, who persons which are exaggerated into sufficient proof, together with the character of the persons necessarily called as witnesses, in cases of secret and atrocious crimes, all tend to its rejection, Ev. § 214 decided conflict of of confessions. On affirming the slender classical precedents for's language. On in equally positive kind of evidence side of the controversy.

Judicial confession has been made testimony. Such testimony is often associates, angry victims, and over zealous testimony of these persons the suspicion of all evid § 214, Earl remark III

§. 24

'Proof may ignorance inattention, or may affected in either case, and then without this, evidence is not in that sort of negative evidence by which the proof of plain facts may be and often is confronted. In other words, the suspicion that he has found it necessary to entertain is directed entirely to the work of proving in alleged confessions and for the following reason: "This is the reason above suggested as the real cause of the distrust we are ready enough to trust the confession if there really was one, but we are going to doubt and suspect for a long time before we accept it as a fact." Per J. J. 11 Danav v People, (1917) 63 Colo 119. Mr J. Earle touched the kernel of the subject when he

it is the best e

this seems to

if we distinguish the confession as evidence, we find that few have ever really doubted value, while the second is always to be susp

So the remarks that "confession should be received especially oral confession" (S v Mc Ken 10, 35 Cal Rep 926) and that the books are full of admonitions from the wisest and best Judges in this respect" (Per Groves J in Peachout v People, 41 N Y 7, 19) are applicable to the evidence of confession and not to the confession as evidence. Emperor v Praniatha 10
50 C L J 503, see also Vellor v Vithia Chetty, 48 Ind Cas 931=35 M L J 518, R v Nazir, 9 C W N 474. The reason for this caution is that under the charge of a highly criminal offence, the mind must always be agitated and may be influenced by hopes or apprehensions which it is difficult, if not impossible sometimes to comprehend. U S v Nott, 1 Mc Lean (U S) 499. Besides being satisfied that the witness who testified to the confession speaks truly the jur must be satisfied that the witness could not be, or was not mistaken in the substance of the confession. S v Hughes, 34 Fed Rep 732. In the last named case Mr Criminal J in charging the jury said at p 736 and "For want of an ex
and make who made the confession

But it is generally agreed that voluntary and deliberate confessions of guilt are among the most effectual proofs in law, on the presumption that a rational being will not make admissions prejudicial to his interest and safety, unless urged by the promptings of truth and conscience. Moore on Facts § 1141, Greenl Ev § 21.

Conclusions from witnesses are not to be accepted. In Queen v Soobhan, 10 B L R 332, (335) Phear J said. Now, it is to be observed that these statements are in general terms and so are merely statements of a conclusion as not proved for the opinion formed by the Court, because, it may turn out that the taken together with the questions and the circumstances under which the questions were put, do not in truth amount to a confession of guilt such as the witness chose to represent it. See also R v Ali Husam 23 A 36 200, Aha Hlaw v Emperor, 4 L R 116=7 Cr L J 82. Lauab Bibi v R, 22 P R 1883, Queen v Babu Lal, 6 A 503 (519), R v Mohan Lal, 4 A 46, Nur Ali v Emperor, 81 Ind Cas 530=5 L 140. But where the actual words used in the confession are not given it does not affect the admissibility but the weight to be given to such evidence. Ibid, see also Desraj v Emperor, 19-3 Lab JS=29 P L R 486. There is no rule of law which requires an extra judicial confession to be recorded. 11 P R (1913) Cr. 31 P R 1881 Cr, 21

Bom L R 1065, 111 P R 1887 Cr.

c III, section 8, see also Greenl Ev
v Simmons, 6 C & P 510. That visions and for the following reason:
are often misreported—whether it is he is equally instruction, and disproved by

* * * h on 100

Confessions made by signs or gestures Under this head we may group direct & male in the pers because ponce in the n ge-tur canno; oft-n and vehement language A direct confession

whenever the spoken or written word could be excluded" Underhill Cr Ev §

141 But where an accused, not shown to have understood English, is asked responsible for the act and he nods his act does not amount to confession It is used under-tood to be the meaning of remarks addressed to him as to his complicity in the crime and without being satisfied that the accused exactly understood the meaning and the import of the , standing by themselves

erstood what was sought which were intended to be his questioners

approved and so

Cr L J 141-A I R 1930 Lih 81

Confession-Test of Truth A true confession made by a person who takes part in a murder invariably adds something to the knowledge already possessed by the investigating officer and that is the greatest test of its truth.

Mata Din v Emperor, 132 Ind Cas 228-32 Cr. L J 854-A. I R 1931

Oudh 166

Confession must be taken as a whole When a confession is used against an accused person, the whole confession must be introduced So where an accused person makes a confession, the confession is evidence in his favour as well as against him and must be taken as a whole Queen-Emress v Dada

Ind, 15 B 452, Kati v Ind 83 Ind Cas 455-26 Cr L J 1142 Emperor v

1 (F B), Queen v Greathory, 7

ung Po, 1 Bur 324; Wafadar,

2 v Sahadu Rik Un Cr C 771,

7, 22 C W N 834; Simras v E justice to the accused person a confession to

tion therewith,

Com 10 Bush

2 Ali 154, 160

part which is against him, and disbelieve that which is in his favour R v

Higgins, (1829) 3 C & P 603, R v Cleves, (1830) 4 C & P 221; R v Steptoe, (1830) 4 C & P 397, Halsbury Vol IX p 398, Faylor § 870, Kamoda v

Emperor, 46 Ind Cas 705 There were earlier rulings to the contrary R v

Jones, 2 C & P 629, Bosanquet Sergeant; R v Lyod, 1 Phill Ev (3rd Ed) 399

In determining whether the statement is true or not, the jury should consider

wh

inc

Jo

un

it

go

24. only for measure as to take confession as a whole Mannj Po Thin v Queen Empress, L B R (1872-1893), 321; Queen-Empress v Elgit, L B R (1872-1893), 327; Crown v Summudur, 4 P R 1872 Cr; Queen v Bishoo, 9 W R Cr. 16, Queen v Shesh Boodhoo, 5 W R Cr 33, Queen v Chala Khan, 5 W R 70; Queen v Sonapoolah, 25 W R Cr 26; Golole v Magistrate of Chittagong, 25 W R Cr 15; R v Gour Chandra, 1 W R. 16(17); R v Beshor, 18 W R Cr 29; Pila Ben v R, 16 C W N 1055; Pulin v Emperor, 40 C 873, Queen v Soobjan, 10 B L R 332. So a prosecutor is not to be allowed to give in evidence part of a confession made by a prisoner, but it must be put in proof as a whole, so that the jury in one case, and the Judge and the assessors in the other may have the fullest means of testing its accuracy and forming their opinion as to whether the whole or part, and what portion of it, can be believed. For example, if a passage in a statement made by a prisoner standing by itself amounts to an passages which merely because point Empre 1926 Lah 551, Ind Cas 178=

with the general tenor of the confession. Queen v Nityo Gopal, 24 W R Cr 80. The mere fact that the accused has been interrupted, and therefore has not stated all that he meant consequences (1) The prosecution must put in the whole of the accused's statement, including the portions favourable to himself as well as the unfavourable. But this does not prevent the use of statements which are separate in themselves though not forming all the accused's utterances nor of such fragments of a has a right to lay before the Court the whole of what was said in that conversation of a crime, the full not being confessed against him, occasion, relat. Queen's Case, C 46 § 5, R. Case, Leigh the whole which whole any part the jury for their consideration, precisely as in other cases where one part of evidence is contradictory to another, of a confession are entitled to equal charges the prisoner, and reject that on grounds for so doing. Q E v Jhina Valt, Rat Un Cr C 436, Neq v Lmt, 10 B H C R 500; Kamoda v Emperor, 19 Cr L J 785 (Nag), R v Lmt, Rat Un Cr. C 370 Mata Din v Emperor, 1930 Oudh 113, Lalsimay v Emperor, 1930 M W. N 785. If what he said in his own favour is not contradicted by evidence offered by the prosecutor, nor improbable in itself, it will generally be believed by the jury; but they are not bound to give weight to it on that account, but are at liberty to judge of it like other evidence, by all the circumstances of the case. (1) And if the confession implicates other persons by name, yet it must be proved as it was made; not omitting the names, but the Judge will instruct the jury, that it is not evidence against any but the prisoner who made it. Greenl Ev § 218.

A Judge ought to decide the question of the admissibility of a confession first and should in its ordinary course him and coming that this can be pressed to the extent of requiring that no part be accepted as true without accepting the whole. Hasun v Emperor, 53 Ind Cas 145=20 Cr L J 737; see also Kamoda v Emperor, 16 Ind Cas 705=19 Cr L J 785, K E v Injico, 15 A L J 15, Q E v Umar, Rat. Un Cr. C 371.

of the guilt of
are false Mata
Din v Emperor, A I R 1930 Oudh 113

Uncorroborated confession, evidentiary value of. If there is no reasonable
of
a ted nce
or

Shus Fat v Queen accused's confession sion of the crime =

v Sangappa, Rat Un
H C 137 But convic
sion alone Probbu v
Crown, 21 P W R 1907

cannot appropriately be fession The statements

6. 24. of an accused person are not subject to an examination on oath compelling his other than the deponent Emperor v. Yellaraddi, 6 Bom L R 73 1be ble violence used to the accused for h ised in the police custody for more than the marks on his per on, were held to have vitiated the voluntary character of his confession, which wa, therefore thus confirmed by the fact is proved to be true, and not to have been fabricated in consequence of any inducement. It is competent, therefore, to inquire whether the prisoner stated that the thing would be found by searching a particular place and to prove that it was accordingly so found, but it would not be competent to inquire whether he confessed that he had concealed it there. 1 Phil. 411; Warickshall's Case 1 Leach Cr. Cas. 293; Mosey's Case 1 Leach Cr. Cas. 301; R. v. Gould, 9 C. & P. 364; R. v. Harris, 1 Mood Cr. Cas. 333. This limitation of the rule was distinctly laid down by Lord Ellenborough and that where the knowledge of any fact was obtained from a prisoner, under such a promise as excluded the confession itself from being given in evidence, he should direct an acquittal, unless the fact itself proved would have been sufficient to warrant a conviction. East P. C. 607; Hartley's Case 130, Green's Case 231 and delivered them up.

to the prosecutor, notwithstanding it may appear that this was done upon inducements to confess, held out by the latter there seems no reason to reject the declarations of the prisoner, contemporaneous with the act of delivery, and prisoner, thus improperly induced, and of the information given, by a search for the property or person in question prove wholly ineffectual no proof of either will be received the confession is excluded, because, being made under the influence of a threat, it is not voluntary and information of the prisoner is not admitted by the finding of the jury. The influence was groundless conduct.

Cr L. J. 488=12 Ind Cas 96

Where the circumstances of the case compel a tribunal to reject all the other evidence and act only upon a confession the confession must be used in totum et verbatim, and due effect must be given to every statement contained therein whether in favour of the accused or against him. Jagdeo v. Emperor, 12 A.L.J. 15.

The law does not require that the confession of an accused person be corroborated before it can be acted upon. It is for the Court to decide whether it believes a confession or not. Empireor v Dhant, 52 Ind Cas 581 = 20 Cr L J 721. The fact that the confession was retracted before the committing magistrate would not deprive it of its voluntary character. Sheo Prasad v Emperor, 52 Ind Cas 50 = 20 Cr L J 562.

372 Apart from inadmissible in evidence, they are not of such a nature as entitles them to any weight, because it is impossible to ascertain the exact words used by the person. To base a conviction on such a confession is not safe. De Ry v Emperor, A. I. R 1928 Lah 558-29 P. L. R 156. The evidence of an admission of guilt to villagers may be a strong evidence against Magistrate. It requires no corroboration.

698 When which clearly for the conviction prison another them down, or by some one else who heard them. In the case of Munger Bhoojan, 10 W. R. Cr. 50.

Confession how construed. Where people are so ignorant as the Burmans are, of the an admission the acknowledge.

Circumstances strengthening Testimony to Admissions or Confessions. Among these would be the fact that the confession jury; that the witness and the and both of them admitted to do but does not necessarily establish the untruth of the main feature. Moore on Facts § 1182.

ions
the may
of 300 d in
of
the
the

Section 164 of the Cr Pro Code and Judicial Confessions. Judicial confessions indicate confessions which are made on a magisterial investigation

S. 24.

11 n 6

tion, in the case of Emperor v. Yelluaddi, 6 Bom L R 337, the accused admitted ill usage, viz the unjustifiable violence used to the accused for his arrest, illegal detention of the accused in the police custody for more than twenty four hours after his arrest, and the marks on his person were held to have vitiated the voluntary character of his confession, which was, therefore, not admitted. Rom L R 337. The object of a

w

a

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

(

R. v. Gould, 9 C & P 364; R. v. Harris, 1400. Cr C 338. The knowledge of the rule was distinctly laid down by Lord Eldon who said that where the knowledge of any fact was obtained from a prisoner, under such a promise as excluded the confession itself from being given in evidence, he should reject it acquittal, unless the fact itself proved would have been sufficient to warrant a

East P C 607, Harris is 430, Greenl Et 23 and delivered them up but this was done upon and no reason to reject the declarations of the prisoner, contemporaneous with the act of delivery and that may amount to a confession act of delivery, is to be rejected. And if the prisoner, thus improperly induced, and of the information given search for the property or person in question proves wholly ineffectual no promise of either will be received. The confession is excluded, because, being made under the influence of a promise, it cannot be relied upon, and the information and information of the prisoner under the same influence, not being confirmed by the finding of the property or person, are open to the same objection. The influence which may produce a groundless confession may also produce groundless conduct. Greenl Et 232

Confession four days after the offence and the fact of the accused pointing out the place of the burial of the body is admissible in evidence. In a case of dacoity and burial of the corpse, the Sessions Judge need not have tried it with the aid of the jury. Naga Methu v. Emperor, (1911) 2 M W N 197-1. Cr L J 488-12 Ind C 36

Where the evidence is et verbatim, whether in favour of the accused or the prosecutor, the tribunal to reject all the evidence. Emperor, 15 A L J 15. on build truth would not admit. 52 Ind Cas 50-20 Cr. L J 562

No doubt the extra-judicial confession is of great importance but it must be a true extra-judicial confession. Additional evidence to be taken can be taken on the question whether the evidence, they are not of such a nature as entitles them to any weight, because it is impossible to ascertain the exact words used by the person. To base a conviction on such evidence is not safe. Emperor, A. I. R 1928 Lah 558-29. It may be that the confession was made before a Magistrate. The persons before whom the admission is said to have been made are trustworthy witnesses. Emperor v. Batul, A I R 1928 O 393-5 O W N 698. When the accused were unable to explain away their confessions which clearly indicated the guilt, held that the confessions alone were sufficient for the conviction. Sitai v Emperor, 5 O W N 968.

Confessions of prisoner in another case—how proved The confession of prisoner in one case in which he was convicted cannot be used against him in another case, unless they are deposed to on oath either by the person who took them down, or by some one else who heard them. In the case of Munger Bhoojan, 10 W. R Cr 66.

Confession how construed Where people are so ignorant as the Burmans are, of the most elementary legal principles, it is extremely dangerous to accept an admission as a plea of guilty without the closest scrutiny of the meaning of the acknowledgment. Ma Nyein v Q E, U B R (1897-1901) Vol 1, 72.

but does not necessarily establish the truth of the main feature. Moore on Facts § 1182.

ons
the ne / h of 390, d in l of
the
the
; 65

24 Section 164 of the Criminal Procedure contains the provisions for recording confessions by Magistrates. The evidence of witnesses who are sent up by the police for the purpose of having their statements recorded under s. 164, Criminal Procedure Code, and who have been presumably in police custody until their production before the Magistrate, should not be recorded by such Magistrate, unless he has some assurance that their attendance and statements were voluntary. King Emperor v. Bhulnath, 7 C W N 345. The provision of this section is imperative. Indar Nath v. Emperor, 32 Cr L J 818 = A I R 1931 F 102. When an accused person is asked to make a statement, he does not, the Magistrate should (be) and ask the accused to ascertain clearly whether the statement will be made with a view to the fact that he is being recorded as though he is a free man. Gaya Singh v. Emperor, 133 Ind C 593 = A I R 1931 All 609. A Magistrate must not put any question to an accused which tends to incriminate him.

Under section 164 and prepare a record. Lalu Prasad v. Emperor, 2 P R 1893 Cr 1. Great care and circumspection are necessary in recording a confession under section 164 of the Criminal Procedure Code. Emperor v. Patey Singh, 133 Ind C 593 = A I R 1931 All 609. A Magistrate must not put any question to an accused which tends to incriminate him.

Confessions obtained by threats and not been procured by threats or inducements. Kandhar v. Emperor, 15 Cr L J 633 = 25 Ind C 833, see also Kesho Singh v. King Emperor, 20 O L J 188 = 1882 A. W. N. 166, Imperator v. Kura, 1882 A. W. N. 166, Imperator v. Kura, 1882 A. W. N. 166, Imperator v. Kura, 1882 A. W. N. 166.

At the end of the statement, the Magistrate should ascertain whether the accused had not acted properly. Royappan, 2 Weir 136; In re Royappan, 2 Weir 136. The Magistrate should ascertain whether a confession was made at the beginning of the statement, and not at the end. In re Royappan, 2 Weir 136. O. C. 191. Patil v. Emperor, 133 Ind C 593 = A I R 1931 All 609.

There is no provision for the admission in

- S. 24 a Magistrate under section 164 in exculpatory nature, Gulam v Emperor, 1 Pat 103=86 Ind Cas 811 A statement recorded by a Magistrate is admissible in evidence under section 164 Cr Pro Code, whether taken on solemn affirmation or not Bahadur v Emperor, 28 Cr L J 1063=88 Ind Cas 7=A I R 1925 Sind 289
- A confession recorded in answer to the only question viz (after due warning) 'do you want to say anything?' cannot be accepted as being in accordance with law in the absence of any indication as to what due warning was 129=59 Ind Cas 551=22 Cr L J 119 A in accordance with the provisions of section 164

gu

improbability of his guilt Madan v Guru, 4 Pat L T 381=73 Ind Cas 933=24 Cr L J 723

person made a statement in the prescribed form of question is prescribed and the extent to which a Magistrate should question the person making the confession must largely depend on the particular facts of each case Thibu v Emperor, 4 Pat L T 2=73 Ind Cas 569=24 Cr L J 649=A I R 1923 Pat 356, see also Pul Tanti v Emperor, 40 C 873=22 Ind Cas 169=15 Cr L J 25 It is highly desirable that a Magistrate in recording the confession should put various questions to an accused to enable him to decide whether the confession is voluntary one or not Emperor v Dewan Kahar, 72 Ind Cas 961=24 Cr L J 497=4 Pat L T 100

Emperor, 25 Cr L J 116=76 Ind Cas 180

Magistrate, showing that he observed all the Procedure Code, is sufficient and the confession of the persons making them, should to ascertain how long such persons have been in police and, in recording their reasons for the subject Empress v Madan, A W N 1886, 59 (F B) Section 164 of the Criminal Procedure Code does not apply to any statement of the accused taken by the Magistrate holding the enquiry Emmess v Chatter, A W N 1884, 84.

Magistrate question the confession to be recorded is made voluntarily; and that the record made by the Magistrate should contain a full and true account of the statement made by the accused Nga We v Emperor, 2 L B R 317 When the Magistrate who recorded the confession took all possible precautions to satisfy himself that the confession was made at the time and place where it would get recorded

Magistrate was recorded on a Sunday and at the house of the Magistrate and the Magistrate himself that the accused was satisfied with the questions put and a full and true account of the evidence was recorded in the presence of the accused and the Magistrate

Emperor, A I R 1931 L W 103=133 Ind. Cas 55; see also Khanum v

Crown, A I R 1930 Lah 171=31 Cr L J 759 Where the confession of a prisoner is made in a language foreign to the recording Magistrate, and is interpreted to him by some person who is not an official interpreter, such confession can not be regarded as properly proved by the testimony of the Magistrate which is only hearsay evidence. The signature of the accused in the translated record of the confession is no evidence of its correctness, when there is no proof of the record having been accurately translated to the prisoner. Queen Empress v. Lakshmya, Rat. Un Cr C 575

Section 364 of the Criminal Procedure Code—the rules laid down in section 361 of the Criminal Procedure Code are applicable to the examination of the accused under section 312. Emp v. Nagar, 1 Bom. L R 161 All that a Court has a right to do under s 364 Criminal Procedure Code, is to ask the accused person to explain the circumstances which

him. Tufan v. King-Emperor 15 C L J 32

283 In examining an accused person under improper to ask him such a question as 'If you who did?" Chelan v. King-Emperor 7 O C 1 person to a statement recorded in the presence and under the control of the

Bhika, Rat. Un Cr C 1

statement by a prisoner in Majji v. Chentramma, 3 Weir 137 Where the Magistrate instead of asking separate questions to the accused puts him a long composite question, the examination of the accused is irregular and not in accordance with law. Hassan

v. Emperor, 103 Ind Cas 847=28 Cr L J 707=A I R 1927 Lah 660 If the prisoner is not prejudiced in questions put to him does not make it in any way in his defence

1=100 Ind Cas 821=A I R

and they are admissible only if the confession is proved to be strictly observed, presiding officer of the Court. The whole of it need not be in the Court's handwriting. Empress v. Riaz Ali, A W N 1900, 203 The recording of confessions should be made by Magistrates with their own hands. Criminal Cr

.. .. .

Memo No 7 of 1873 But a confession recorded by a clerk, under s 364 of the Code, in the presence of a Magistrate, in the form of a narrative and without the questions being recorded would not be illegal if the accused was not prejudiced if the accused makes a statement in be inferred that the statement held that such a statement is

Procedure Code. Emperor v

Paranath, 37 C 735=8 Ind Cas 653, error has not injured the accused is to his defence on the merits. Section 333,

Cr Pro Code, is intended to apply to all cases in which the directions of the law have not been complied with, without any distinction between omissions to comply with the law and infractions of it. Under that section, if the record of a confession is inadmissible owing to failure to comply with the law such as omission

document

Act, not proved,

- 24 that it has not affected the merits of the defence Queen Empress v Raju, 23 B 221. Section 533 is to be interpreted liberally, and though a confession recorded by a Magistrate was in the first instance and by itself inadmissible as not being in the form of question and answer, not being recorded in the vernacular of the accused, and not bearing the signature or mark of the accused, it will become admissible by the taking of the evidence of the Magistrate that the accused duly made the statement recorded Empress v Pularam, 8 C P not to a Police officer and not improperly the Evidence Act is always admissible uj-Emperor, 8 O C 395=2 Cr L J 511 to certify the voluntariness of a confession recorded by him under s 161, Cr Pro Code, the defect may be cured by the evidence of the Magistrate Ram Sanchi v. Emperor, 9 Ind Crs. 148=12 Cr L J 15; see also Khudiram v Emperor, 9 C L J 55 The Sessions Judge as a witness nor was evidence taken that the accused duly made the statement so recorded. Held, that as it could not be presumed without some evidence that the statements had to be recorded in English as they could not be recorded in the language in which they were made, there was no justification for their being recorded.

Judge was wrong in admitting such a record of the statements again in the accused Baua v King Emperor, 10 O C 112=6 Cr L J 94; but see Lunda v Queen Empress, 8 C 277 Oudh.

A defence person by the confession Code, provided person "duly either the Magistrate himself or some other person who was present when the statement was recorded. Empress v Mussaumat Hani 8 C P L R Cr 6, J B R r = 164 he was 11, th 1 under solar voluntarily made Ma On Nyun v King-Emperor, 1 U B R (1902-1903) Cr Pro Code, 18

This section has no made of a confession 211=19 Ind Crs 307=3 Magistrate shall record making it, he has reason where laid down that the he has put to the person made voluntarily. But it is advisable that the Magistrate should always receive a minor inducement showing that he has, by questioning the person making it, satisfied himself that the confession is made voluntarily. Khemau v Emperor, 6 Lab 58=5 P L R 316=A I R 1925 Lab 315; d Crs 1029=26 P L R 513=26 C Under section 533 Cr Pro Code, 1892, in accordance provisions have that the confession or other statement was duly made Queen Empress v Shairab, 2 C W. N 702

Section 80 of the Evidence Act and confession. So far as section 80 of the Evidence Act is concerned, the Court is bound to make the presumptions specified in that section in respect of the document purporting to be a confession of the accused Sin Ban v Crown, 1 L. B. R. 310 F. B. Both the memorandum and the certificate required by s. 161 should be attached to the confessions. The effect of these is to afford proof of the accuracy of the record, of the presence of the Magistrate, and of the voluntary nature of the confession. Reg v Shwaya, 1 B. 219; Prater v F, 1 B. 219; R. Cr. 5, 18.

 "Magistrate"
India R. v
R. 9 Cr. L. J.
 169 = 16 Bom. L. R. 261 = 15 Cr. L. J. 433

essions, s) made by a prisoner, to any person at any moment of time, and at any place, subsequent to the perpetration of the crime, and previous to his admission in evidence as best Ev § 524; Wills promise of benefit,

or a threat of harm, it is unworthy because it has been associated with an attraction too strong to reject person which causes our distrust two alternatives, one of which is truth or falsity — Wigmore § 82 is a pseudo confession. It is not a confession at all. It is not made animo confitendi. It is merely a self-serving statement masquerading in the garb and under the name of a confession. Accordingly, it has not the relevancy of a true confession, a self-diserving statement, and is, in consequence, rationally to be regarded with suspicion. As impairment of probative value due to the object of the rule relating to the admission of confessions is by the prisoner being self to be guilty of an J in R v Court, 7

 every case it is for the inner and under such such confessions were true or no"

Declaration must be voluntary Confessions it is said, must be voluntary. The reserve statements that a confession will be received in evidence, are equally familiar. The difficulty experienced in understanding precisely what, in these expressions given out of the fact other words several distinct ideas the most commonly and widely accepted meaning of the term "voluntary" is that which is employed when a confession is rejected as involuntary because the speaker has been over-persuaded, coerced by hope or driven by fear into making it
 statement
 it was true

matter covered by his declaration and honestly endeavoured to state it. An

24. under a misleading inducement is therefore, said to be involuntary Chamberlayne v Ev § 1479

Meaning of the term voluntary The terms voluntary and involuntary are apparently used in respect of confession indiscriminately in three distinct entirely separable situations—(1) Where the will of the declarant has been left entirely unconstrained to his judgment in such a incriminating statement for the declarant statement subject, (3) cultural statement To put a incriminatory declaration b misleading inducement, by a judicial compulsion to break silence or the states of fact is found to exist, and what are the real considerations attending question of admissibility in any particular case in which they are present Chamberlayne v Ev § 1480 A confession may reasonably be said to be voluntary when it is made with the concurrence of the will,—where the volition is not for a voluntary one, the exact truth or however a confession rejected by a rule of procedure,—even though it is a matter of experience that this incriminating statement, though subject to criticism or the argument of counsel would still warrant the jury as reasonable men in acting in a word with it Chamberlayne v Ev § 1483

Scope of section 24 In this section the framer of the Act perhaps properly avoided the use of the word voluntarily or involuntarily which is of doubtful import but stated the circumstances under which a confession is made by saying that a confession is one of receiving some benefit or with pending proceedings in authority over the court. Section 24 of the Evidence Act provides that a confession of an accused person is irrelevant in a criminal proceeding if the making of the confession appears to the Court to have been caused by any inducement having reference to the charge against the accused.

of voluntariness 2 Bom L R J 228 The reason for rejection of confession thus stated by Ejpe C B A confession forced from the mind by the

... when
given to But a counsel
—of the a consequences the
You are overestimating it. The law does not presume it is untrue, but rather that it is uncertain whether a statement so made is true." Lord Campbell, C J added "I doubt whether the rule excluding confessions made in consequence of an confession is and that known from same case

Pollock C B said "There is no presumption of law one way or other. There is no presumption that it is false, or that the law considers that such a confession is true, but such confessions are rejected because it is dangerous to leave such evidence to the jury." Wyllie 11 Cox C 1 639 Williams J said. "It is saying the truth elicited that these confessions are excluded, but the law is jealous of not having the truth." Similarly in Scott's Case, 1 D & B 58, Campbell L C J reiterated "It is a true maxim that the confession of a crime, to be admissible against the party confessing, must be voluntary, but this only means that it shall not be induced by improper threats or promises, because under such circumstances the party may have been influenced to say that which is not true, and the supposed confession can not be safely acted upon." The principle upon which all this class of cases is founded is that by inducement being held out to the prisoner, he may be led to suppose that he will be more mercifully dealt with if he confesses and that temperament, may falsely acknowledge guilt. This possibility arises wherever the innocent person is placed in such a situation that the untrue acknowledgment is preferable. The law cannot attempt to weigh testimony before even listening to high testimony of a confession. Thus conceivably than silence unless a confession of a confession more § 822 section 24 of the Indian Evidence Act. Section 24 contains an absolute rule which is not affected by the proviso made for a different purpose in section 27. When the Legislature wished to make an exception to the absolute rule, it did so by a separate section, namely confession rendered irrelevant that are irrelevant under other section of the Act. promise can be relevant, e.g. King Emperor v Nga Po Mun, 2 L R 168, Nga Sanya v King Emperor, U R 1909 1st Cr Evidence 3=11 Cr L J 41 1 Ind Cas 759, but see Amriddin, v Emperor, 45 C 557=22 C W N 213. A confession to be

- S 24. But, in coming to a decision law and principles which Justice and should not be in recording what should be evidence adduced Nja Shue v Queen Empress, L B R (1883-1900) 147 A confession by an accused person is not made irrelevant if otherwise relevant merely because the accused person has been sworn or affirmed Raj v Empress, 3 P R 1880 Cr An oral confession by an accused person is not irrelevant merely because of the Evidence Act is, as an

Emperor v C 57-23 C W N 213-37 C L J 148-41 Ind Cas 305-31 Cr L J 305, but see Emperor v Nja Hung, 35 Ind Cas 962-17 Cr L J 402-U B R (1916) Vol II 114 Jara Singh v Emperor, 29 Ind Cas 317 11 P R 1915 Cr 16 Cr L J 345

If the case against the accused entirely rests on the confession made by the accused and there is a conflict as to the manner in which the confession was obtained, the accused is justified in asking the Court to give him the benefit of doubt Rahman v Emperor A I R 1930 Lah 88 Where a person of sound mind and of full age makes a confessional statement in ordinary language after he has been warned he must be bound by the language of the statement and by its ordinary plain meaning and a subsequent retraction of the same is of no effect Munari v Emperor, 121 Ind Cas 247-A I R 1930 Oudh 303-31 Cr L J 1210 Where the confession made before the police was found by the Court not to have been voluntary it cannot be corroborated by the confession of the accused as an approver, subsequently retracted Sufi v Emperor A I R 1930 Nag 209-124 Ind Cas 459-31 Cr L J 661 A confession made by an accused person is not invalid merely because it was made under the benefit by making it Public Prosecutor v I R 1919 Mad 92 A confession is not a statement and hence the evidence of persons who say that the accused made counterfeit coins in their presence is not barred by s 24 or 26 By Andan v Emperor 133 Ind Cas 151-A I R 1931 All 91 A confession alleged to have been made by the accused person in the jail to the warder in the absence of any evidence on the part of the prosecution to prove it

Emperor v C 57-23 A I R 143-144 Cr L J 536

Emperor, 26 Cr L J 957-86 Ind Cas 1001-A I R 1930 All 1001 Where the Magistrate who recorded the confession took all possible precautions to satisfy himself that the confession was made voluntarily and that the accused and he were alone in the room In C 57-23 A I R 143-144 Cr L J 536

The mere fact of a person being in custody cannot be a valid basis for a confession, if it is induced by an inducement, threat or promise. S. 24, Cr. P. Code that a certain set of words used in a particular case has been held to be in the nature of an inducement. Kunja Subulu v. Emperor, A. I. R. 1929 Pat 275. Where there is a veiled threat as well as inducement, a confession so obtained is invalid. Kunja v. Emperor, A. I. R. 1929 Pat 275.

Lawrence Act Dip Singh v. Emperor, 27 Cr L J 158 = 101 Ind. Cas 891, A. I. R. 1926 All 216.

Made A confession made to one person by the accused is irrelevant, even where the inducement, threat or promise is held out by a different person if the confession is made to a person who is a prisoner, for a confession by the use of a promise made by a person not to be presumed to have induced him to confess the crime. Russ Cr p 303

C R 416 But unless the confession is made to a person who is a prisoner, for a confession by the use of a promise made by a person not to be presumed to have induced him to confess the crime. Russ Cr p 303

Accused person The expression "made by an accused person" in this section, means that person must be an accused person at the time of the confession. Per Sunlara Appar J in Kumara Swami v. A. I. R. 35 M 397 (1936) see also Empress v. Jaddab 4 C. W. N. 129. The words "accused person" in this section, means that person must be an accused person at the time of the confession. Per Sunlara Appar J in Kumara Swami v. A. I. R. 35 M 397 (1936) see also Empress v. Jaddab 4 C. W. N. 129.

It is sufficient if the person ultimately comes to be an accused person with reference to the charge in respect of which he is said to have made the confession. Per Shah J in Emperor v. Chhina 22 Bom. L. R. 147 = 19 Ind. Cas 324, A. I. R. 1931 Bom 147.

It is sufficient if the person ultimately comes to be an accused person with reference to the charge in respect of which he is said to have made the confession. Per Shah J in Emperor v. Chhina 22 Bom. L. R. 147 = 19 Ind. Cas 324, A. I. R. 1931 Bom 147.

24. was present when the deceased was killed, then stated that he and not the accused had shot the deceased, is properly excluded unless the person whose statement is offered shall be produced as a witness. Selby v Commonwealth (Ky) 80 S W 221. The prisoner may, of course, disprove his guilt by proving the guilt of some other person. But he cannot do that by introducing the extra-judicial confession or declaration, or that he had committed it never conclusive upon the declaration because of this so-called confession. To receive such statements as exculpatory proof would be to open wide the door for the practice of fraud whereby the acquittal of the real criminal would be assured. Underhill Cr Ev § 145.

If it appears "The words lend some colour to the argument that the confession ought to be made to appear to the Judge to have been improperly induced—in other words that the onus probandi is in the first instance on the prisoner. I do not accede to that argument. A confession may appear to the Judge to have been the result of inducement on the face of it, and apart from any proof at all. In every case, I contend, where a prisoner says he has been forced to confess the Judge is put upon judicial enquiry, and as I ended before, I end now, that enquiry should precede the admission of the confession and any examination into its truth." Lex, 2 Bom L R (Journal) 163. "A confession seen made voluntarily in section 24 of the same Act. When admitted, and acted on only if it is proved to have been made voluntarily." Basu v State 25 Bom L R 168. The use of the word 'probably' in a particular case fairly hesitates to say that it was proved that the confession had been unlawfully obtained and yet might be in a position to say that such appeared case, it appears to the Court that there is reason to suspect that a confession was take into consideration conjecture. Em

Cr L J 497—depends upon a

to und decl
con

Ind Cas 1001—A I R 1925 All 606

In Pratap v Panchikari Dutt, 29 C W N 300—52 C 67—86 Ind Cas 111—Cr L J 782—A I R, 1925 Cal 587, Mr Justice Mukherjee said attached on surmise.

Ind Cas 961—guilty of a confession on evidence antecedent that it is liable to rejection and upon this issue and upon the contents of the
—26 Cr L J 937—

"There are words and expressions in this section to which one must point out S. direct his attention in order to construe the section. There occurs the word 'appears', the 'inducement' against the accused person."

is said as to the person in inducement, threat or promise would in the opinion of the Court be sufficient to give the accused person grounds which would appear to the accused person (and not the Court) reasonable for supposing that by making the confessions he would gain an advantage or avoid an evil of the nature contemplated in the section. It will be seen therefore that the mentality of the accused has to be judged rather than that of the person in authority. That being so, not merely actual words, but words accompanied by acts or conduct as well on the part of the person in authority, which may be construed by the accused person situated as he then is, as amounting to an inducement, threat or promise, will have to be taken into account. A perfectly innocent expression, coupled with acts and conduct on the part of the person in authority together with the surrounding circumstances may amount to inducement, threat or promise. In scrutinising a statement at the Court will t, to determine ertain grounds,
l to see whether position that is the confession

appears to have been caused in consequence of the inducement, threat or promise the use of these vague expressions has been deliberately made with the object this direction. A study of the cases, bearing upon the question, which are too numerous to mention, would show that anything ranging between the barest suspicion on the one hand and absolute certainty on the other has been held to be sufficient to satisfy the requirements of the section. In this connection reference may be made to Reg v Balwant 11 B H C R 137, Shafi v Emperor A I R 1930 Nag

11a 15 B
Empress v Pranmali
tion is not

is not as strong an expression as proved

N 1112 = A I R 1929 Cal 226. The true view seems to have been taken in the case of Empress v Pranam 1925

Thompson, (1893) 2 Q B p 12

matter, with regard to which there opinion in this country is well of the Indian Evidence Act and also to the presumption attaching to certain recorded confessions and arising under section 80 of the Act the true and been obtained by use of threat, persuasion etc. Anything from the barest

24 suspicion to positive evidence would be sufficient for a confession being admitted Raghu v. Emperor, 23 A. L. J. 521=89 Ind. Cas. 903=L. R. 6 All. Cr. 161-6
 Cr. L. J. 1431=A. I. R. 1925 All. 627 P. C.

Burden of proof—English law The question of voluntariness is for the

2 Q. B. 12, R. v. Rose, 19 Cox. 717, Abraham v. R. (1914) A. C. 593 (610, 611-18 C. W. N. 705 (P. C.) where all the English cases have been reviewed, Phy, 18) 1 K. B. 301 But Prof. Wigmore interpreted Thompson in a different way. He was a middle pub, and seems to receive the confession improper inducement, and then in case of doubt leaves upon the prosecution the burden of convincing the Court of the admissibility R. v. Thompson (1893) 2 Q. B. 12, 18, Carr J. (in case of doubt)
 See also Chamberlayne's Ev. § 1579

Burden of Proof American view 'Under the early English procedure which has been followed and still prevails in a majority of American Courts (R. v. Thompson, [1893] 2 Q. B. 12, R. v. Harrington, 2 Den. Cr. 447, Thompson's Case, 1 Leich. Cr. L. 3rd Ed. 328 Emperor v. Bhagi, 8 Bom. L. R. 691) the burden of evidence is upon the prosecution to satisfy the Court upon the tender of the confession in evidence that it was voluntarily given, to the extent at least, of showing that no threats, promises or other misleading inducements were held out to the declarant by the person to whom the confession was made.
 Where objection is taken to a confession as 'involuntary' its voluntary nature must be affirmatively established in the first instance by the prosecution to the reasonable satisfaction of the presiding Judge. This may be done either by direct or circumstantial evidence. Such a requirement will, however, receive a fair construction. The State need not show beyond a reasonable doubt that there was not the slightest fear or the least possible hope of benefit in the mind of the declarant.' Chamberlayne's Ev. § 1579 The view has also found representatives that the prosecution must not merely in the above circumstances, but in all cases show the absence of an inducement from any one else and not merely from the person receiving the confession (State v. Garvey 28 La. An. 559
 This is an absurd extreme. A few jurists regard the confession as prima facie admissible and require the defendant to show that the alleged improper inducement existed. The reason to object to the
 Of course he should the Court's ruling,
Chamberlayne's Ev. § 1577 1578

Introduction of confession into Evidence It is a natural, if not inevitable, says Mr. Chamberlayne 'result of the rules of procedure rejecting confessions deemed, for some reason 'involuntary' that a prisoner's counsel is tolerably certain to contend that his client's statement of guilt was not a 'voluntary' one. Usually the chance for success on the main issue of the trial is entirely dependant upon his ability to keep that confession from the jury.
 Much subject selves
 nature evidence. In the absence of statutory regulation, or binding precedent, the presiding Judge will be called upon to consider (1) Shall he decide the question of admissibility upon prosecution or shall examine the government
 (2) Is it better that jury or after their retirement from the courtroom? (3) Would it be better whole, sounder admin-the prisoner's statement-alternative instruction they find that it was not 'voluntary' as that term is defined by the law procedure?—Chamberlayne's Ev. § 1577

1112; Emperor v. Panch Kori, 29 C. W. N. 300-52 C 67, Wingmore § 861, Borton v. State, 167 Ala 108; Emperor v. Kesari, 11 Bom L R 332. The right

both parties, at the stage of voir dire, to enter upon an extended range of enquiry into all facts bearing upon the voluntary nature of the confession, tracing any attendant circumstances under which it was made and also the physical, mental and moral characteristics of the declarant. The Judge, on the other hand, as is elsewhere said, may receive the confession in evidence upon a prima facie showing by the prosecution that it is relevant;—leaving to the defendant at an appropriate later stage, an opportunity of showing that the confession was in fact involuntary. Among considerations tending to exclude the evidence of the accused at that stage is the very important one that it is not customary to consume time by hearing affirmative defences resting upon controverted fact on voir dire. It is not, moreover likely that a Judge will overlook the further consideration that evidence, as a rule, is admitted whenever the jury might reasonably act upon it, and that, unless the facts are such that probable that it would be within short, conclusive point disposing the trial of receiving the evidence it once is obvious. It has been said that where, the burden of evidence is upon the defendant to show the heterodox rules prevalent in in admitting evidence. In “(1) The Judge must hear the defendant's evidence (including evidence may be introduced

R 338-A I R 1930 voluntarily made and was it in evidence once it not Emperor v. Kesari, 11 Bom L R 332-2 Ind Crs 514

The maxim of the English Courts is no influence used, or decide upon its 1 & 7 36. But the Indian Act places

In Reg v. Navojji Dadabhai 9 leaves it entirely to the Court to fix evidence which would be rejected in §. 24. suspicion to positive evidence would be sufficient for a confession being direct

Raghu v Emperor, 23 A L J 821=89 Ind Cr 903=L R 6 All Cr 161=6
 Cr L J 1431=A I R 1925 All 627 P C

Burden of proof—English law The question of voluntariness is for the Judge; and it is now settled that it lies upon the prosecution to establish, and not upon the accused to negative the element, it being the duty of the prosecution to satisfy itself therefore before putting the statement. R v Thompson, (1893) 2 Q B 12, 18, Cate J (in case of doubt) 2 Q B 12; R v Rose 18 C W N 705 (P C) : : : : :
Li 7th Ed 256; R v : : : : :
 the ruling laid down in : : : : :
 modern English law : : : : :
 unless attacked by evidence of an improper inducement, and then in case of doubt leaves upon the prosecution the burden of convincing the Court of the admissibility R v Thompson, (1893) 2 Q B 12, 18, Cate J (in case of doubt) See also Chamberlayne's Li § 1579 view 'Under the early English procedure prevails in a majority of American Courts (R v Warringham, 2 Den Cr 447; Thompson), the Case, 1 Leach Cr L 3rd Ed 28, Emperor v Bhagi 8 Bom L R 697), the burden of evidence is upon the pro- : : : : :

 of the confession in evidence : : : : :
 least, of showing that no threats, : : : : :
 held out to the declarant by the person to whom the confession was made : : : : :
 Where objection is taken to a confession as 'involuntary' its voluntary nature

declarant' Chamberlayne's Li § 1579 "The view has also found representation that the prosecution must not merely in the above circumstances, but in all cases, show the absence of an inducement from any one else and not merely from the person receiving the confession (State v Garvey, 28 La An 301). This is an absurd extreme. A few jurists regard the confession as prima facie admissible, and require the defendant to show that the alleged improper inducement existed. This is the : : : : :
 reason : : : : :
 Of course : : : : :
 the Court : : : : :
layne's Li §§ 1577, 1578

Introduction of confession into Evidence "It is a natural, if not inevitable," says Mr Chamberlayne, "result of the rules of procedure rejecting confessions deemed, for some reason, 'involuntary', that a prisoner's counsel is tolerably certain to contend that his client's statement of guilt was not a 'voluntary' one. Usually the chance for success on the main issue of the trial is entirely dependent upon Much learning subject Nice question serves to a trial nature of the statement evidence In the absence of statutory regulation, or binding precedents presiding Judge will be called upon to consider (1) Shall he decide the question jury or after their retirement from the counter room : (3) Would it be confession, it is obvious that the various situations can be best grouped according to the nature of the inducement. But as the strength of the inducement depends more or less upon the power of the person offering it, the rule of law must first specify the kinds of persons from whose mouths the inducements may be

Though a too restricted person in authority" in this had authority to interfere in I be sufficient to give him that authority; Emperor v Antul 57 C 188=A I R 1930 Cal 633. Unless the person attempting to obtain a confession has the power (apparently to the confessor) to carry out the threat or promise, there is no reason for treating the facts which may amount to a confession, and such statement, if not privileged by reason of the relation between the accused and the party to whom it is made may be used. For example, X, who is charged with the murder of A, is induced by the chaplain of the jail to confess his sins. He accordingly confesses the crime with which he is charged. Reg v Gilham, 1 voluntary. Reg v Gilham, 1 tried at Exeter Summer Assize prisoner to confess a murder the denunciations of scriptural it could be used against him, and Best C J refused to allow the clergyman to that it was improper in the clergyman to by the prisoner, and expressed a strong les cited Perke, 78, Williams, v Williams,

On principle, such a promise should be of no consequence unless the promisor was one having (apparently) the power to arrest or prosecute. Wigmore § 829. In England the older and more usual view was that inducement to exclude must come from a person who has legal interest or authority in the arrest and prosecution. R v Row R & R 153, R v Gibbons, 1 C & P 97, R v Warringham, 2 Den C C 447, R v Taylor, 8 C & P 734. In 1839 Lewin in his note to his 2 Lew Cr C 125 said "The cases seem to establish the principle that where a confession is obtained through the medium of a the prisoner can have nothing to hope R v Dunn, R v Slaughter, 4 C & P telling a prisoner that it will be better confession made to him. See also R v Spencer, 7 C & P 776. Finally in 1852, the earlier view was confirmed, and the existence of a legal interest in the prosecution was taken as the test—not the mere existence of actual control or influence growing out of social or commercial relations of the persons. Wigmore § 829. In connection with an inducement held Moore, 2 Den Cr C 522 said (when it was

24. England without a moment's hesitation" 2 Bom L R J 237 But it must be remembered in this connection that the English practice which is based on drastic procedural rule has provoked much unfavourable comment from judges seeking to operate a rational system of judicial administration Vide Per Br 1 Parke in R v Moore, 2 Den Cr C 522 (527), Chamberlayne's Ev §§ 1007, 1033

Was the inducement sufficient by possibility to elicit an untrue confession of guilt While no one seems to have questioned the fundamental principle of exclusion of confessions, there has been a decided difference of practice in the kind of test used in applying the principle It has been seen that the reason for distrusting a confession arises when the person is placed in such a situation that an untrue confession of guilt (more correctly, a confession of guilt irreducibly to the single form of pardon) is the inducement of freedom which will recompense the false confession more attractive at the moment than the mere possibility of freedom, coupled with temporary restraint, which attends silence Again, where a mob's threat of hanging has induced a confession, the alternative of present certain and future possible safety proves naturally more attractive than present certain death Thus in both cases—a promise and a threat—the confession is untrustworthy because it has been associated with an attraction too strong to resist In general, then, the position of the confessing person which causes distrust is that of being compelled to choose between two alternatives, one of which involves a confession of guilt irrespective of its truth or falsity Each instance presents a confession (or non-confession) of what it is, averaging the three evidences (involvement, degree, and roughly, was the inducement such that there was any fair risk of confession? Wigmore § 824

Person in authority
procedural rule, says in or, in other respects, to direct the course of the trial, 14 Q B 789. Authority in this connection may be delegated expressly or by implication (R v. Garner, 11 C & M 947). The term 'person in authority' may therefore extend so far as to designate any one who acts in the presence of the accused, and whose position or colour of his power in the matter may be delegated expressly or by implication.

on questions of this nature and among the considerations which must be taken into account in determining the admissibility of a confession depends on the relative strength of the inducement to confess falsely, as measured against the prospects attached to the confession.

24. But wherever Zamindars are directly concerned in the investigation by the direction of the Police, then they clearly are persons in authority within the meaning of s 24 of the Indian Evidence Act Crown v Long, 10 S L R 140. A headman is a person in authority Zeta v Emperor, 18 Cr L J 106=37 Ind Cas 314=10 Bur L R 270. A confession made to a police peon is invalid Emperor v Ramadhan, 31 Ind Cas 340=17 Bom L R 898=16 Cr. L J 742. A Lambardar is a person in authority un, 4 Lah L J 235=A I R 1922 : ayaldars are not persons in authority.

The expression "persons in authority" is used in the actual prosecutor and the test is, 'has the person authority to interfere in the matter and any concern or interest in it is sufficient to give him authority' Smith v Emperor, 43 Ind Cas 605=19 Cr. L J 189. The mere fact that the accused

185=A I R 1931 Lah 406

An Artificial Rule, repudiated person extending a misleading inducement and necessarily, to be a person in authority.

admissible. So intangible a distinction between actual and ostensible authority has, very reasonably failed to commend itself to certain distinguished courts who extend the function of "persons in authority" to include the language of the Supreme Court of

be fairly supposed by him to be coerced, or to influence the threatened

Confession made before coroner. In England, it is now the practice to admit statements or depositions of the prisoner before the coroner if properly proved. Formerly there was some doubt as to their admissibility and the cases on the subject were conflicting. Vide 2 Russ Cr (8th ed) 265, R v Whately, 8 C & P 240, R v Owen, 9 C & P 83, 235, 134, Hanth, Greenw Coll Stat 137, R v Santh, C & Mar 315 1m 134.

admitted by the P 110, 1, R v, & alia, subject of the R 21

A statement made on oath by the accused before the coroner at the time of the inquest is admissible in evidence at the time as a confession made by him where the accused was told he need not make any statement but he insisted upon doing so. Such a statement is a pure voluntary statement. Section 20 of the Coroner's Act provides that a coroner shall be deemed to be a Magistrate for the purposes of section 26 of the Evidence Act. Emperor v Ram Nath, 28 Bom L R 111-50 B 111-93 Ind C is 690-A I R 1926 Bom 151; Emperor v Mithond, 30 Bom L R 86. But it would be wrong of a coroner to examine an accused person on oath on the ground that he did not know that the person was an accused person and thereafter use that evidence in a trial for a charge based on that evidence. Emperor v Khatu, 28 Bom L R 79-50 B 56-A I R 1926 Bom 141.

Confession when caused by inducement, threat or promise. The terms of the promise or threat or inducement must be such as to make the confession involuntary. Wallis and first rule is to what constitutes inducement. The question is one for the discretion of the Judge, and its decision will vary in each particular case. Nort Ev 161. The inducement need not be express. Cox 69. It need not be made to the accused, but it may be made to some other person who comes to his knowledge. R v and does it. Ev 106. "Before a confession either judicial, or extra judicial can be received as such it must first be shown that it was in every respect freely and voluntarily made by any sort of threat or ever slight the hope. And while circumstances are usually invoked to determine whether the confession is voluntary yet as a safe general rule, it may be said that the statement will be presumed to be volunt procured Underhill

'voluntar obscure th choice be subject to a choice. As between the rack and a false confession the latter would usually be considered the less disagreeable, but it is none the less voluntarily chosen. The term 'voluntary' then, is describing the absence of the vicious element which excludes a confession is, in ultimate exactness unsound. All conscious verbal utterances are and must be voluntary, and that which may impel us to distrust one is not the circumstance that it is involuntary, but the circumstance that the choice of false confession is a natural one under the conditions. The choice of false confession is associated with a prospect (namely) that it is not human nature to resist whether the confession has been obtained by a third person to the prisoner's mind but this after all is merely one of several tests or rules, which have been employed as representing a general principle underlying these differently phrased tests. The foundation of all rules upon this subject rests upon an anxiety to petent is not because any wrong is done to the accused in using them, but because he may be induced, by pressure of hope or fear, to admit facts unfavourable to

24. found only in frequent ment held out to the one" R. v Thomas, 7 1 Den Cr C 331; R

whether there had been a subornation of such a nature that from fear of it the prisoner was likely to have told an untruth. If so, the confessions should not be admitted. Its exclusion rests on the connection with the inducement, they stand to each other in the relation of cause and effect. If it is apparent that no such connection exists, there is no reason for the exclusion of the evidence.
Williams v State, 63 Ark 527, Greenl. Ev § 219 (a). "The well recognized misleading motives under the influence of which procedure anticipates danger to judicial administration under certain circumstances, are hope and fear. The risk run by a tribunal in relying upon incriminating statements so induced has found judicial expression of great frequency. It is distinguished as distinguished infirmative consi influence."

It is much more common to make them unsafe by the use of hope or fear such as to make them unsafe.

probability state that or a threat is made there and this has or promise 155, Bonnet

early, histor confession w so indefinite tion with the

1 Leach Cr C 293, R v Fennel 7 Q B D 150, R. v Thompson, (1893) 1 Q
B 17, State v Jones, 54 Mo 479, Greenl. Ev § 219 (a).

A confession induced by a false allegation is irrelevant even if it is true.
Queen Empress v Chintaman, Rat Un Cr C 153. When the statements made by the accused amount to saying that the other accused were really guilty, and any share they had in the offence was owing to compulsion, they are not confession which can be used against the other accused. Queen v
7 W R.

Confession was made by the accused. Judge did not disbelieve it by the accused under the belief this was not a confession in is not invalid. Public Prosecutor

The question whether or is being a confession or not will arise in the case of a Police officer or the police. Ambar

For a threat

as to give the accused would gain an advantage. In this case, before the accused confessed to Magistrate said to him "It is no use your trying to get out of it. You were with the pair of shoes." Held that though the language used might be considered to overcome the mind of an uneducated and inexperienced boy, yet, it was not sufficient to overcome the mind of a man of the age, experience, education, and position of the accused, so as to induce him to make a confession, and that it therefore, did not invalidate the confession. Mukherji v. Queen Empress, L R (1897-1901) Vol. I, 147.

A panchayat is not a Police officer, but only a person in authority within the meaning of section 24 of the Evidence Act. Therefore a confession made by an accused before a Panchayat is admissible in evidence, if the Panchayat does not make use of any inducement to admit his guilt Emperor v Jasha Beica, 11 C W N 901=6 Cr L J 151 But where an inducement to confess a crime proceeds from a member of the Panch, the confession made in virtue of such inducement is not bad under s 24 of the Evidence Act, the member of the Panch not being a person in authority Emperor v Philip Ju e Fernandez, 4 Bom L R 785

S. 2

Even in cases where certain words used by the Police officer to the accused amounted to a threat, that fact would not render inadmissible in evidence the information given by the accused which led to the recovery of articles which are the subject matter of the offence Emperor v Pidak, 17 Cr L J 33=32 Ind C 221

comes out Zeta v Emperor, 18 Cr L J 106=37 Ind Cas 311=10 Bur L T 270

451=45 Ind Cas 284=19 Cr L J 524 When a confession was made after Police custody for several days and the investigating Police officers the confession was made under duress Moharaj Ali v Emperor, 23 C W N 886=53 Ind Cas 929, Emperor v Pramatha, 30 C L J 503; Rusna Peli v Emperor, 54 Ind Cas 881=21 Cr L J 177

When the confession was made was called him were made freely, then drawn up that at the time, that the hand cuffs told the accused that he was arrested, held that the confession voluntary and truthful Daulat made by an accused person the officer in a subtle way in the Magistrate is inadmissible in imprisonment made a statement the offence for which he had a witness he denied implication made to the Magistrate was was convicted Held, that the Khan v Emperor, 18 A L J

18=54 Ind Cas 893, see also Emperor v Gunna, 59 Ind Cas 321=22 Bom L R 1247=22 Cr L J 68

and informs it becomes in admiss-

24

Misleading Inducements—Hope The real question is whether there has been any threat or promise of to tell an untruth from fear of thr
v Reason, 12 Cox Cr 229 “ be seen that his mind is entirely free from every false hope or fear that would be likely to operate upon his mind and induce him to say that which is not true That is the principle upon which all these cases are decided R Hornbrook 1 Cox Cr 54

Mislead
 nection with fear which lea certain circum
 the truth for f
 to the resulting statement a high degree of probative force In like man a fear lest an innocent person should suffer for the crime and a feeling that therefore an obligation exists to tell the truth at all hazard is naturally call of a h

to the emotion instilled by duress It is the fear of the coward of the man colloquially speaking, = but for the reason tha worse off, in connection statement apparently desired Such an emotion, united to a lively imagination may possess many of the elements of terror and render a declaration affe and by it entirely worthless for evidentiary purposes Under its influence back at times by the counsel of injudicious friends perfectly innocent persons have not only confused that they were guilty of crimes which they did not commit but of wrongs which of crimes which in degree of fear, assumi
 ment is not material so far as the exclusion of the statement is concern if the fear has been applied in connection with the proceedings by some person in out in que effect
 ;
 ;
 ;
 ;

general principles to withdraw the confession from the jury In like man the operation of fear in a given case may have been such that the will of the declarant has been actually forced and controlled, the act is not his
 A pnce

centuries It is the subordination of reason exercised on the facts of jur cases to reliance upon a general rule for which certain instances furnish a r ason
 A hearsay statement may mislead a jury, therefore all hearsay state ment whether actually pro confessions induced declarations so influe

of a confession, can be regulated or measured In Hoyle v People, 110 the Court observed, “The admissibility of such evidence so largely d p and wisely forbor exclusion would, under or promise The ex., age, disposition, education, experience, character, intelligence and previous training of the prisoner are elements to be considered in Williams geous and nity, in a State, 97

Ma 1 6, 7, Linterhall Cr Lv § 178

Inducement at an end 'If the impression produced by the promise or threat is clearly shown to have been removed q, by lapse of time or by intervening caution given by some person of superior (but not of equal or inferior) authority to the person holding out the inducement, a confession subsequently made will be strictly received Phup Lv 255 R v Cleves, 4 C & P 224, R v Hones, 6 C & P 404 R v Richards, 5 C & P 318, section 28, infra

Having reference to the charge against the accused The charge here means a criminal charge or a charge of an offence in a criminal proceeding The words "having reference to the charge against the accused" read with the words "in a criminal proceeding antecedent and the words 'in reference to the proceedings against him' following imply that the inducement, threat or promise must be with reference to the charge of an offence in the Criminal Courts of the country, and the language is wide enough to admit of the construction that the charge need not have been framed nor any criminal proceedings begun at the time of the confession In other words, the object of the person to gain a confession of having committed which will be the subject of a with the intent that the confession may be used in the subsequent criminal proceedings In this view it is difficult to understand Queen v Hicks 10 B L R App 1, 5 M L J Art p 26 The inducement must have reference to any charge against the accused person R v Mohan Lal, 4 A 46, R v Garner, 2 C & K 920 A promise or threat to render a confession irrelevant, obviously imply that the prisoner is worse according as he confesses 2d 310 302 An inducement to confession as to another and different one R v Warner 3 Russ Cr 6th Ed 459 (n) But this rule is not applicable where the two offences are so blended together as to form in fact but one transaction R v Hearn, 1 C & M 109 Id Lv § 591 Where a confession has been obtained by an inducement having no connection with the charge without the charge being stated upon a confession was made, it was 1 D & P 245=6 Cox C C 213 been obtained from the accused by an inducement relating to some collateral matter unconnected with the charge Roscoe Cr Lv 43

out the inducement or threat

But a rule has been laid down in different

24. precedents by which we are bound, and that is, that if the threat or inducement is held out actually or constructively by a person in authority, it cannot be rejected, however slight the threat or inducement, and the prosecutor, Magistrate, or constable, is such a person and so the matter or mistake may be. If not held out by one in authority they are clearly admissible." So also section 24, whilst offered by a person in authority, leaves it entirely an opinion as to whether the inducement, threat or the prisoner to suppose he would derive some temporal nature by confessing. Per Sargent C J in Reg v Navroji, 9 B H C R 353 (367); see also Per Parke J in R v Gurney 2 C & K 920.

Sufficient to give accused grounds . . . avoid any evil. The Courts have construed these words liberally in favour of prisoners. Considering the ignorance of the people of this country and their dread of persons in authority, the holding out a hope of forgiveness from God would therefore be admissible evidence. In Empress v Mohan Lal, 4 A 46, the threat employed was excommunication from caste for life. This was an evil probably temporal. L J J 29

Misleading inducements—Hope and Fear—Necessity for determining Actual mental State. For several reasons, it may be essential to determine in any particular case, the actual effect produced upon the mind of the declarant by the inducement or threat. It may have been held out to him, and what judicial authority offered that the falsifying motive actually operated on the mind of the accused. Logically considered however, it is frequently essential to determine the actual influence exerted upon him.

in order to involute on the who has the actual result produced, under the circumstances disclosed, the influence exerted. A secondary consideration, also requiring the determination of this question of actual mental state, is that it may become the province of the jury, to find the probative weight to be accorded to the confession, in view of the infirmity consideration arising out of the inducements. Should the question be submitted to the psychological effect to his will in view of the inducement. Per S 1489 or was deterred with the view calculated to create such an impression may be considered by the jury and the confession made under the influence of each other in the relation of cause and effect.

Such an enquiry will divide itself roughly, into three main lines (a) A consideration of the resisting power of the declarant's mind (b) Examination of the kind and strength of pressure brought to bear upon it (c) What administrative or procedural assumptions may properly be made as to the continuance of any mental state once shown to exist. In other words, the effect of a misleading inducement upon the mind in any given case is a result of two factors—its objective aspect. It will then remain to examine the extent, if any, to which an inducing inducement may be taken to have affected the mind at the time of making his

(A) Subjective considerations. In deciding in any given case, what was the actual effect of a misleading inducement it is necessary to consider not only the quantity and quality of the pressure but the resisting power of the person whose confession is offered in evidence. The logical test of admissibility is the question: Have the emotions of fear or hope, either as aroused by himself or by others, been such as to render him incapable of resisting the inducement?

direct or coerced it into a particular channel. While a statement if made on account of its truth, is not rendered incompetent because it is the utterance of a person labouring under some mental disability, natural or superinduced by his voluntary act, in judging whether a given statement is true the mental capacity of the declarant to resist the inducement may be natural, as in the case of feeble minded persons, or induced by intoxication, or by other causes. —Chamberlaine's Ex § 1490

Children, Feeble minded etc. Whether a confession of guilt made by a child shall be deemed relevant because truthful, is a question for the decision of the Court in view of the special facts of each particular case under proper circumstances, the incriminating statement of a child legally competent to make a confession is admissible. —People v. ...

will be fail to notice confession by one of it is probably less feeble minded persons tion very similar to that occup is such that the presence of Subjective considerations—Intoxication. A confession is not rendered was furnished him by one in authority for the express purpose of inducing him to talk, and by leading the conversation in certain directions, to persuade him to confess, do not suffice to exclude a declaration so secured. Such a course of conduct ranks as a mere deception like any other, and, unless more appears than the mere fact of unguarded loquacity brought about by intoxication, no ground for rejecting the confession is furnished. In other words, loosening the sufficient to So long as the is talking about, 187) When the later stages longer knows the effect of because entirely untrustworthy

24

the brain is not and the accomplice knows what he is doing, 7 (C & P)

(B) Objective considerations—Hope The objective strength of the inducement which operates by way of hope or fear to bring about a confession may be as varied as is the subjective strength of individual accused to resist them. Things promised may range, in intrinsic value from those less highly desirable by persons of well balanced judgment down to considerations so slight as to render the conduct in question practically unmotivated. If the hope should in any case be regarded as having induced a confession it is essential that the latter should have been made at such a time that the inducement may fairly be regarded as still operative. It is further necessary if hope is to be regarded as inaction, that some benefit, not necessarily a material one, should have been distinctly presented to the mind of the declarant and his ability to obtain it conditioned upon his confessing. Any mere suggestion as to the general desirability of confession or of confessing of guilt is not sufficient to show the influence of hope. Should the declarant be told a promise of benefit had been made by confessing his guilt and that he had to have acted in accordance therewith. As intimated it is not essential that the inducement should be 'worse off

way of hope something if he speaks left in mind
sion because it is right and the value promise event is not in all cases one easy to draw in connection with the need not be specified it may be between a mere exhortation to confess of material benefit in the case

Chamberlayne v Dy § 1490

Inducement must be material The thing hoped for must be of a material nature. Admonition to speak out based on moral grounds, e.g., that confession is a better thing than guilty silence is not, legally speaking, an inducement. R v Akshlesnar 4 P 646-89 Ind Crs 961. The words used in the section are of a temporal nature. The word "temporal" is opposed to spiritual or religious. A confession induced by holding out a hope of forgiveness from God would therefore be admissible. In Pratt v Mohan Lal 4 A 46, the threat employed was excommunication from caste for life. This was an evil probably temporal. 5 M L J 99. But confession induced by moral or religious exhortation will not be excluded. R v Gilham 1 Moo C C 186 R v J. L. R. 1 C C 1196 R v Lee 1 R 1 C C R 362, R v Hill 1 Moo C C 452, R v Sleeman 1 Cox C C 245. A simple request for a confession in a given matter, though made to the accused by the person aggrieved in the matter, is not a subsequent confession made in accordance with it. Layne v Fy § 1496

Influence of a religious or of a moral nature In R v Relford 1 Moo C C 192 a clergyman had by him on the benchness of the crime charged the denunciations of thereby. But Best J. held dangerous after crime of which he was not guilty, or that a man under a spiritual relation with God could hope to please God by a falsehood, or that a confidence created between him and his pastor, or the being thrown off his guard by his confidence should induce him, not to confess (that it is not naturally so if he were guilty), but to induce him to confess falsely. Such a spiritual convictions, or 'spiritual exhortations', stem from the nature of religion, the most likely of all motives to produce truth. They are therefore of a class entirely different from those that exclude confessions. A confession is excluded because the motive which induces it is calculated to produce untruth because it is likely to lead to falsehood. If temporal hope exists, they may lead to falsehood. Spiritual hope can lead to nothing but truth." Joy Confessions, 11, R v Gilham, 1 Mood. Cr C 186, R v. Guiney Jobb Cr C 15, R v. Hild, 1 Mood Cr C 152; R v. Stearns, 6 Cox Cr 245. Proof that an incriminating statement was made by one accused of crime under the influence of a moral or religious inducement to make a statement, is in reality a negation of its probative force.

Exhortation to tell the truth by Emperor v. Whilesnar, 89 1 R 1925 Pat 772. The fear trustworthiness of a confes-

Threats made but not influencing the accused. Where threats are made to the accused but the accused made the statement deliberately, & uninfluenced by the threats this section does not apply. Emperor v. Inandarao, 19 B 613 = 27 Bom L. R. 1034 = 89 Ind C. 1016 = 26 Cr L J 1478.

Advice that it would be better to tell the truth. 'On principle says Prof Wigmore the advice by any person whatever that it would be better to tell the truth cannot possibly vitiate the confession, since by hypothesis the worst that it can evoke is the truth, and there is thus no risk of accepting a false confession. The confessor is not obliged to choose between silence and false confession but utterance of is nothing in it for if it has

But that theory does not obtain in England. A confession obtained after the advice that it would be better to tell the truth is excluded in England. R v. Enoch, 11 C & P 539; R v. Hearn, C & M 109, R v. Langley, 2 C & K 225; R v. Garner, 1 Den Dr C 329, R v. Baldry 2 Den Cr. C 42, R v. Waringham, 15 Jur 318, R v. Gellis 11 Cox Cr C 69, R v. Bate, 11 Cox Cr 686, R v. Dogherty, 13 Cox Cr 23, R v. Fennell 7 Q B D 147, R v. Enoch, 5 Car 539, Queen v. Uzier 8 W R Cr 13, R v. Thompson (1893) 2 Q B 16, 18

'It can hardly be said to confess what he 96 Kelly C B said meaning that they confessions. Some cases have gone the length of saying that a statement is inadmissible if it is 'er tell the truth. For my part, I that he had better tell the truth had better confess, when you do not know whether he is guilty or innocent.' Per Penock J in In Nobodery Chandra, 1 B L R Cr 15. 'Much conflict says Mr Chamberlayne exists among the judges as to whether an exhortation to hope or suggestion that received in evidence a statement prima facie induced. The ruling seems justified, for, upon the surface the inducement if any, held out to the declarant is a moral one. It is required that no threat or promise or favour by one in authority should have accompanied the suggestion. On the contrary the use of but slightly varying expressions such as 'it will be better for you to tell all you know' or 'you had better tell the truth', has been held to exclude a confession so induced. Chamberlayne's Ex § 1517. A mere exhortation to

5. 24. the accused to speak the truth could not be construed into an inducement, threat or promise, and, least of all, into an inducement to make a false confession and is not enough to exclude evidence of a confession
 55, 9 P R 1891 Cr
 made by a superior 24 of the Act
 11 Cr R 37

the moral or religious officer or other person in the presence of the latter & presence goes so far as to prove will do what he is told. The subsequent confession of the person in authority frequently both in tone & language is better for covert truth case if he is frequently in the proceedings, will accrue in the manner requested. There is plainly danger in such a situation of volition of the accused being over-powered, that he will state the truth not as it is but as he thinks will be pleasing to the officer, or other person in authority to have him say that it is. Adopting this distinction the Courts of several jurisdictions have regarded the statement of an accused person thus influenced as inadmissible under the rule, because involuntary. Chamberlaine & Er
 § 1516 1517

or perhaps under the violent pain of the rack, he thinks of nothing but present relief from agony which his confession will gain him. Wignior § 533. A confession is not admissible, which has been made immediately after the prisoner with others had been threatened with a loaded rifle. It was immaterial that the threat was not made to extort a confession, but to suppress an attempt at mutiny. Queen v Hicks, 10 B L R. Ap 1. It is a mistake to suppose that a confession cannot be irrelevant under section 24 unless it can be alleged that there was torture leaving marks of personal violence. Under the section the confession becomes irrelevant if the making of it appears to have been caused by any inducement, threat or promise. Queen Empress v Narajan, 20 B O 13= 3 Bom L R 122

Promise of pardon. A confession by promising immunity from prosecution of another case is not admissible against the confessor. Haloo & R, 12 P W R 1907 Cr - 5 Cr L J 437, see also Abdul Karim v K F, 1 A L J 110-1 Cr L J 211. Mahommad Shafi v Emperor, 1 P R 1899 Cr 100 v Radha Kissen 9 P R 1869 Cr. R v Ishaj 2 A 260, Nya 10 v Emress L B R (1872 189) 396. Inda v Emperor, 45 A 633, Emress 2 Infant 32 C L J 201=60 Ind C 417-22 Cr L J 225, Queen v J 23, C 30 (73), Inde Kora Govindan 11 Cox Cr 69, O Hojan J and the prisoner induced by a person in authority to make the information, making himself by the hope of obtaining the immunity of an approver that he was. He became a Crown witness in a reasonable expectation that he would escape punishment as a return for his accepted services in bringing offenders to justice. Where a promise of safety was made by a Police officer to whom the accused confessed, which confession was repeated before the committing Magistrate and the accused also made a confession, although different in at the confession before the S.

It is an inducement or threat to withhold my matter within voluntary statement given in evidence as against him

Reg v Alibhai, 8 B H C Cr 103

Inducements involving a higher punishment, mild treatment in prison or a reward of money "It is scarcely conceivable" Prof Wigmore (1909) they do so they will receive lenient punish-entirely wrong impression and to be Kang Emperor, U B R (1916) 2nd Qr.

p 113=17 Cr L J 103=35 Ind Cis 962, 820, People v Johnson, 41 Cal 153, Smith

in treatment while in confinement cannot a false confession R v Green, 6 C & P 655, Com v Dillon, 4 Dall 116 Although bartered times be Cr. 337

often con
ld be voluntarily result has some-Lackburn, 6 Cox, raser offences are he housed in and reject absolutely a confession so induced Where the circumstances of a obably thus induced, let it be excluded the basis of so unusual a contingency Evidence" Wigmore § 835

Promise of cessation of prosecution release from arrest etc A promise you will tell me where my goods are I will be fore able to go Could J cy are secutor if he o R v

Simpson, 1 Moody Cr C 410 It was disallowed as it was obtained do all he could Similarly in R because there the prosecutor said if you will not tell we of course can do ient was ch But promise v Mans ase 6 Cr exclude 3rd ed

Assurance that "what you say will be used for you" or "used against you" The advice of one in authority promising that "what you say will be used for you" was regarded in many cases as excluding a confession As regards confessions thus obtained Cotteridge J said "I cannot conceive a more Retracted confession—Corroboration of To use a confession as evidence against the accused, the Court must be satisfied (1) that it is voluntary, and (2) that it is substantially true. Moreover, it is a general rule of practice not to act upon retracted confessions, unless they are corroborated on material points by credible independent evidence. Crown v Motan, 2 S L R Cr 31=10 Cr L J 20; Mahammad v Crown, 5 P L R 1915=1 P W. R 1915 Cr=16 Cr L J 157=17 Ind Cas 221; Hanprosad v Emperor, 36 Ind Cas 133=17 Cr L J 453; Sher Khan v. Crown, 2 P W. R 1917 Cr=75 P L II 1917 Cr, Queen Empress v Ginn, Rat Un Cr C 817. It is a recognised rule of the Law of evidence, that a retracted confession may be used against the person making it, but not against other accused jointly with him. Chet Singh v. Crown 28 P W R 1907=7 Cr L J 227, Yasin v Emperor, 28 C. 683. A Judge should in the first instance, see whether a retracted confession is voluntary or has been improperly induced. The mere fact that prisoner puts in a plea of guilty made it by allegation induced. That is a

If, upon weighing it appears to the Judge that the confession has been improperly induced, no matter how true it may be, he is bound to exclude it, it then becomes evidence and liable to be appreciated and weighed with the rest of the evidence in the usual way. Emperor v. Bhagji Vedu 11 Bom L R 697=4 Cr L J 332, King Emperor, v Durga 3 Bom L R 441, Ujaji v Emperor A I R 1927 Lah 683=104 Ind Cas 247.

certified by a Magistrate, is not enough if unduly induced. Queen Empress v

by credible and independent evidence, it is unsafe in the majority of cases to found a conviction on a retracted confession. A retracted deposition does not of itself afford a sufficient corroboration of a retracted confession. Empress v Chutia 13 C P L R 107 Queen Empress v Bhaimappa, 12 M 123=2 Weir 376, Empress v Tila Ram, A W N 1880, 52; Queen Empress v Rang 10 M 295=2 Weir 361, Queen Empress v Ranu 19 M 482=2 Weir 745, Empress v Balai Ghosh 124 Ind Cas 486=A I R 1930 Cal 141, Safi v Emperor, 124 Ind Cas 459=31 Cr L J 661=A I R 1930 Nag 259, Mnan v Crown, 30 Cr L J 340=A I R 1929 Lah 597, Sheonarasim v Emperor, 9 Pat 262=A I R 1929 Pat 212; Kunya v Emperor, 8 Pat 289=A I R 1922 Pat 27; Ujan Singh v Emperor, 30 Cr L J 1046

made

trial,

to deal with him as a co accused, his retracted confession would be irrelevant under s 24, notwithstanding the special provisions of cl 3 of s 339 of the Criminal Procedure Code. Mohammad v Empress, 1 P R 1899 Cr, Crown v Radha Kishen, 9 P R 1869 Cr, Yasin v King Emperor, 28 C 689=6 C W N 670

Where a confession was made before a Magistrate under circumstances not liable to suspicion, and, to all appearances, fulfils the requirements of the law, the fact that it is retracted in the Sessions Court does not negative the presumption of the genuineness of the confession. Queen Empress v Banda, A W N. 1890, 173

A confession before the Magistrate, though afterwards retracted in the Sessions Court, is evidence against the party making it. Queen v Jema, 8 W.

24. R. Cr 40; Chit Sun v. 17 W B Cr 4,
R v Gharya, 19 B
R v. Kelvie 29 A 434; Sarkulal, 20 A 13. an absolute rule of law that a confession made and subsequently retracted by a prisoner cannot be accepted as evidence of his guilt, without independent corroboration d confession must depend as originally given, and the the reason given by the prisoner for his retraction Sayad Hussain v. Emperor, 16 P. R 193
Cr = 153 P L R 1903; Emperor v Bueswar Dey, 26 C W N 1010 Patna; Prya v Queen Empress L B R (1872-1892) 425, Dawley v Emperor, 134 Ind
Cas 876-A I R 1931 Oudh 412

A confession though made voluntarily by an accused person before a Magistrate, if subsequently retracted, is not sufficient by itself to justify a Sessions Court in acting upon it. Queen Empress v. Balant. Rat. Un Cr C 30.

A 1 R 1927 Lah 519 A retracted

Emperor, A I R 1930 Lah 89-30 Cr L J 1080; Naicab v Emperor, 6 Q
W N. 545-118 Ind Cis 757-A I R 1929 Oudh 381; Samual Das v
Emperor, 1929 M W N 791,
31 Cr L J. 26-120 Ind Cis
5. Durga v. Emperor, 132 Ind Cis

* value of confession seems to be this the retraction, etc withstanding its having kind that not only confirms the general story of the crime but also, unambiguously, connects the

P. L. R 1914=15 C

R 1914 Cr: see a

Chitsun v Crown, 1

Cal. 633 Is. civ

made and subsequently retracted by a prisoner cannot be accepted as evidence of his guilt without independent corroborative evidence. The weight to be given retracting them were true. An omission on the part of the Judge to circumstance to the Jury amounts to a misdirection. Voir 533; Queen Ex p.

Bhaji, Rat. 19 B. 729. If a believes that a confession made by a prisoner although subsequently withdrawn, contains a true account of that prisoner's connection with a crime, the Judge is

S.

indicate that it is a natural narrative of what took place in the presence of the man making it, and is not at variance with any evidence in the case which is believed mouth

224; QueenEmpress

W

fession

was not liable to be convicted on the confession alone. Queen v Hardena, 5 N W P. 217. But confession of a co accused, though subsequently retracted is admissible in evidence against his co accused. Sardara v Emperor, 125 Ind Crs 639=31 Cr L J 877=A I R 1930 Lah 667. Where the confession made before the police was found by the Court not to have been voluntary, it cannot be corroborated by the confession of the accused as an approver, subsequently retracted. Safi v Emperor 131 Ind Crs 459=31 Cr L J 661=A I R 1930 Nag 259.

In capital cases, the jury should often refrain from convicting on retracted confessions. Queen Empress v Ruppia, Rat Un Cr C 245=Cr Reg 12 of in a criminal case was the confession of the but subsequently retracted, and where it the prisoners who confesse ly retracted, such a very good corrobora-ground that it was ter admission, is to be Evidence Act, and the proper course for the Judge to take evidence about the circumstances before admitting the given in the

W N 380

understood

in another

what statement was made by the accused. It is not the practice to base a conviction upon a retracted confession, unless it is corroborated. That a person, and while not ignoring the difficulties that surround retracted confessions, it evidence by reason of the person making it having retracted it before the committing Magistrate. Sahib v Empress, P L R 1900, 19 Cr. There is nothing in section 30 of the Evidence Act which would exclude, as against

5. 24. persons being jointly tried for the same offence, a confession made by one of the accused duly proved, simply because at the trial the confession is withdrawn or denied Aung Thin v Crown, 1 L B R 133. Certain accused persons made confessions which led to the arrest of certain other persons. The confessions were subsequently retracted, but were corroborated by the evidence of the approver. Held that the retracted confessions taken behind the back of the rule them, conviction

J 73=13
of J by fracturing her skull. C made a confession before a Magistrate, which she retracted in the Court of the trying Magistrate. Except the evidence of one witness, who said he saw the two women together, there was no evidence whatever to show that C committed the crime. Held that C could not be convicted on his retracted confession. Held also, that production by

with in Mt Chandan v Crown, 3 P W R 1304. A confession made to a Magistrate and retracted at the sessions trial, especially when that confession was not fair

Empress v Jadub, 27 C 295=4 C. where a confession was recorded under duress when it was corroborated in material particulars. King-Emperor v Mohiuddin, 25 M 1 made under the provisions of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1861, if retracted afterwards.

A confessing prisoner should not be condemned upon a retracted confession unless it is corroborated in material particulars. Emperor v Mussamat Janab, 70 P L R 1918=19 P W R Cr 1918=44 Ind Cas 179=19 Cr L J 210; Har Prosad v Emperor, 36 Ind Cas 133=17 Cr L J 453; Behari v Emperor, 60 Ind Cas 789=22 Cr L J 293.

An accused's confession subsequently retracted and not tallying with the other evidence in the case, cannot be pressed as strong evidence against him. Emperor v Tilak, 32 Ind Crs 331=20 L J 468=17 Cr L J 33. In the absence of corroboration in material particulars, it is not safe to convict on a retracted confession, unless from the peculiar circumstances in which it was made and judging from the reasons, alleged or apparent, of the retraction, there remains a high degree of certainty that the confession, notwithstanding its having been retracted from its genuine source, is true. Khushi v Emperor, 31 Ind Crs 821=16 Cr L J 815. But it cannot be laid down as an absolute rule of law that a confession made and subsequently retracted by a prisoner cannot be accepted as evidence of the plaintiff without independent corroborative evidence. The weight to be given to such a confession must depend on the circumstances under which it was made and the circumstances under which it was retracted.

N 1010=24 Cr L J 115=A I R 1923 Cr L 217; Bassireddi v Emperor, 9 L J 613=18 L W 667=33 M L 1 H C 37. Manna Lal v Emperor, 9 O & A 1 R 947, Moti Ram v Emperor, 75 Ind Crs 153=21 Cr L J 401.

The duty of a Judge presiding over the trial by Jury is to prevent the production of inadmissible evidence, whether it is or is not objected to by the

They will be admitted only if they are voluntary. If the Judge is satisfied as to the truth of a confession but doubts voluntary character he is bound to exclude it under the law, though such rejection amounts to excluding truth from the Court. Imperial v Panchhari Datta 29 C W N 300—52 C 67—86 Ind Cas 414—26 Cr L J

It cannot be and subsequently guilt without ind of a confession is a matter to be decided by the Court in the circumstances of each particular case. Hanna Lal v Emperor, A I R 1925 Oudh 1. In deciding whether a retracted confession is to be admitted in evidence it is necessary to examine not only the statement of the prisoner as to how he came to make it, but all the circumstances of the case. There is no rule of law which compels a Court to raise an inference of improper inducement from the mere fact that a confession is retracted. Partab Singh v Emperor, 6 Lah 415—7 Lah L J 482—A I R 1925 Lah 605, Mohor Sing v Emperor, 96 Ind Cas 747—27 Cr L J 982. Confession though retracted, although certain detailed confession explained the con-
381 Conviction based on retracted confession which was voluntary and was sufficiently corroborated is legal. Iqbal v Emperor 103 Ind Cas 112—28 Cr L J 656

Procedure to be followed—Where admissibility of confession is objected to—English Practice. Now the such alleged admission. A voluntarily. It must have been made by any promise or favour, or by any threat held out by a person in authority. R v Thompson, (1893) 2 Q. B. at p. 15. So the only question in these cases really is—was any promise or favour or any menace or undue terror made use of, to induce the prisoner to confess? And if so was the prisoner induced by such promise or the evidence. R v Thompson

It is also important to note that the question as to the admissibility or otherwise of the alleged confession is a question for the Judge and not for the Jury.

No until objection by the prosecution is made. If the Judge is satisfied of the truth of the statement, he may accept it, though the Judge in the absence of the Jury.

Very often, however especially in cases of quarter sessions it is not unusual to mention the statement to the Jury. And then when the evidence in chief is by statement, of the defence in the absence of the Jury.

It must be obvious to any person that such a procedure must be very damaging to the accused because even if the objection is sustained the Jury must naturally conclude that something not in the prisoner's favour is being withheld from them.

S. 25.

"What then is the correct procedure to be adopted in such case it is he followed in such cases. And that procedure appears to be as follows. The prosecution, in opening, should make no reference whatever to the accused's statement, and should not even mention the fact that the accused made a statement.

"In examining his witness or witnesses, the prosecution must in the same way refrain from asking the witness whether the accused made a statement. When, however, that statement is made, the defence should state this stage of the proceedings.

"In the absence of a witness or witnesses examined and re-examined, the accused will be entitled to call witnesses in support of his defence. This seems to be a moot point. Thus, in Salvo's case, an application was made by the defence to call the prisoner to give evidence in support of the allegation that the confession was made involuntarily, but such application was refused by the Judge.

"It is difficult to see, however, on what grounds the Court can refuse to hear the prisoner on the question of admissibility.

"It is submitted that the prisoner is entitled to call other persons to prove that the confession was made involuntarily, persons, for example, who would say that they were present when the alleged confession was made, but that it was made in response to an inducement or the like at the time to the

If the Judge has ruled out all to the statement must be made. If, on the other hand, he has held that the prosecution will continue their examination, such evidence stopped in order to allow the question of the evidence to be argued in the absence of the statement will, of course, be given. It will then be examined the witness again, but before the judgment was made involuntarily, the Judge will tell the Jury the reason why their retirement was requested, and also his reason for deciding to admit the evidence.

"The defence in opening will, inter alia, deal with the question of the

See case cited in 33 Cr L J pp 12 (Journal)

When accused is the truth or form in a were so, per

Emperor, 88 Ind C 18 283=26 Cr L J 1115

Confession to police officer not to be proved

25 No confession made to a police officer shall be proved as against a person accused of any offence.

Difference between English and Indian Law "Sections 25, 26 and 27 differ widely from the law of England and were inserted in the Act of 1891 (14 Geo 5)

"In the Upper Burma insert 'who is a Magistrate,' see s 4(3) (c) of the Burma Laws Act, 1893 (13 of 1893).

which they have been

police for the purpose

England confessions of threat or promise R v Kerr 8 C & P 176, R v Berriman (1854) cited in Roscoe Cr Ev 19, R v Best, (1909) 1 K B 692, R v Man 17 Cox C C

639, R v Hershan, 18 1 L R 357, R v Dougal, 67 J P 325, R v Leibling,

2 Cr A R 315, Rogers v Hawkins 19 Cox 123, Ibrahim v R (1914) A C

599=18 C W N 705 P C, 206, R v

Hirst, 18 Cox C C 374, R v Harris, 24

Cox C C 66, Darling J said be done to induce or threaten, but short of that, if the person is not in custody, it is certainly not the law that the constable may not make enquiries which may lead to his getting evidence from a person which he may use against the person" But a constable has no right to elicit admissions from those he suspects R v Mathews, 11 Cr A R 23, see also R v Vaisin, (1918) cited in Roscoe Cr Ev 51.

Reason of the Rule This law is applicable only in India. The following extract from the First Report of the Indian Law Commissioners shows the reasons which prompted the Legislature in enacting ss 25 and 26. The Police in the province of Bengal are armed with very extensive powers. They are prohibited from enquiring into cases of a petty nature but complaints in cases of the more serious offences are usually laid before the police darooga who are authorized to examine the complainant, to issue process of arrest, to summon witnesses to examine the accused and forward the case to the Magistrate or to submit a report of his proceedings according as the evidence may in his sentence taken by the sessions of 1852 and abundantly shows

uses of extortion and exercised by the

the conclusion that the facilities which session of such

Regulation XX

y confession n

ns for preventing character of the confession confessions are frequently extorted or fabricated. A by getting up a case against parties whose circumstances and character are such as are likely to obtain credit for an accusation of the kind against them. This is not unfrequently done by extorting or fabricating false confessions and when this step is once taken there is of course impunity for the real offenders

25. result of which is to constitute a written document. This of course will prevent a police officer from receiving any information which any one may voluntarily offer to him, but the police may statement made by a party accused.

As regards sections 25, 26 and 27

v. Babu Lal, 6 A. 509 at pp. 511-522. I have stated the effect of the observations which I am about to make that the rules contained in ss. 25, 26 and 27 of the Evidence Act were not originally treated in British India as strictly speaking rules of evidence, but rather as rules governing the action of police officers, and as matters of criminal procedure. I may take it that no such rules existed either in the Muhammadan Law or in the English rule of evidence the only two systems to which the Courts resorted for guidance on questions of evidence in criminal matters. Then after making mention of previous legislation on the subject he added it p. 523. These legislative provisions leave no doubt in my mind that the prisoners accused of offences

Section 25

Solan v. Emperor 13 Ind. C. 1

in Queen v. Hurulole 1 C. 207,

4 A. 108 (204). The reason a confession made by an accused it be made in the immediate apprehension that a police off per one may unwillingly excite terror in their minds and extort false and involuntary confessions and his duty to investigate criminal cases and to detect offenders and bring them to justice may make him feel tempted to obtain confessions from accused persons by threat promise or other improper influence

Queen Empress v. Brij 2 C. W. N. 71

Origin of the section As far back as the year 1817, the Legislature repealing the older rules upon the subject passed Regulation XX of that year which after all for its object the can be as in the rule

the said section provided that "no compulsion shall be used either towards parties or witnesses for the purpose of obtaining any

25. over
Queer.
R 11

made, in the first instance, to two policemen, and taken down in writing, and the prisoner was then brought before the Deputy Commissioner of Police Mr Lambert, in the Police Office in Calcutta, when he again affirmed the truth of his former statement to Mr Lambert, and Mr. Lambert, in his capacity of a confession made by a prisoner in custody, to any person other than a Police Officer, shall be admissible, unless made in the presence of a Magistrate. It is of opinion that is the true meaning of the 25th section. Its humane object is any undue to which for reading

R, 11 C 193, in it cer by no
a fortiori

it is inadmissible against an accused. Emperor v Hari Singh, 12 Bom L R 899=8 Ind Cr 622=11 Cr L J 690; Nga Phakin v Emperor, 36 Ind Cas 480=17 Cr L J 512. This section is absolute. Kodumy v Emperor, A I R 1932 Mad 24. A confession contained in a statement made by an accused person to a stranger in the presence of a Police Officer while he was in the custody of a jailor does not fall within the purview of s 25 or s 26 of the Evidence Act and is admissible in evidence. Nadu v Crown, 3 P R 1314 Cr=214 P L R 1914=15 Cr L J 480=21 Ind Cas 463. A confession made by an accused to a private person in the presence of the Police is inadmissible in evidence against him. Chanau v Emperor, 20 Ind Cas 468=37 P W R 1913 Cr=320 P L R 1913=14 Cr L J 596. Section 25 of the Evidence Act lays down that a confession to a Police officer shall not be not say that such a confession may be used subsequent judicial confession. Ind Cas 693=6 L L J 54. "a person" in this section means only in the proof of a confession as to the matter so it should be confession as a whole is excluded, whether by reason of the section or much of the information given by the prisoner he was an accused and in custody, as discovered becomes admissible. Amurath v Emperor, 41 Ind Cas 321=23 C W N 213=27 C L J 113=19 Cr L J 201. See also in the Matter of Hiran Moya, 1 C L R 21; Emperor v Hari, 21 Bom L R 721. A confession made to a Police officer is inadmissible even if the was convicted on the evidence of the offered them Rs 10 per bull of large quantity of illicit opium from had been also enrolled as Police

A confession, therefore, made to accused of any offence is inad-only to section 25

the use,
to Police statement
L T, 1=

examined this section Empress v Jadabdas 4 C W N 129 In that case the Court

Confession—Definition of A confession is an admission made at any e, stating or suggesting the inference, statements which amount to a direct y statements which et suggest an in The factor deter not the motive of e of guilt M Din
11 Cr L J 153.
1 338 Confession

which it is proposed to prove against him to establish an offence Queen

Police officer, meaning of "In construing the 25th section of the Evidence Act of 1872, I consider that the term 'police officer' should be read not in any strict technical sense, but according to its more comprehensive and popular, meaning" Per Garth C J in Queen v Hurribole, 1 C 207 (215) A Deputy

25. Commissioner of Police in Calcutta = a Police officer. Ibid Primarily the term "Police officer" in this section means the same as it does in the Police Act but it can be extended beyond the definition in section 1 of the Police Act to cover only those persons who like Police officers coming within that definition, are any member of the community for doing so. That Police officer whoever that officer may be British territory or = Police officer in foreign territory, v. Naqia, 23 B 235, Mabli v Emperor, 87 Ind Cas. 520=26 Bom L R 706=26 C L J 984; see Salam v Emperor, 43 Ind Cas. 111; Nadir v Crown 15 Ind Cas 800. A village headman in Burma who is authorized to arrest without warrant is not a Police officer so as to make a confession made to him in admissible. Nga Myain v Emperor, 3 Bur L J 11=81 Ind Cas 540=20 Cr L J 924. The widest and most comprehensive extension of the term "Police officer" cannot make it include a Kotwar in the Central Province. Sulhiana v Emperor, 25 Cr L J 117=76 Ind Cas 291=A I R 1924 Nag 29, see also Bhagatidin v Emperor, 59 Ind Cas 88=21 Cr L J 568. A member of a frontier constabulary is, for the purposes of sections 25 and 26 of the Evidence Act, a Police officer, and admission made to him, and not in the presence of a Magistrate by an accused person cannot be proved against the maker. Akhuys Hassan v Emperor, 71 Ind Cas 360=24 Cr L J 136. In the Punjab a village Chaukidar is not a Police officer within the meaning of section 25 of the Evidence Act. Akhuda Baksh v Emperor, 43 Ind Cas 84=19 Cr L J 52=42 P. R. 1917 Cr. See also Dal v Emperor, 17 Cr L J 62=26 Ind Cas 654. A chaukidar, although he is not a Police officer under Act V of 1861, is one under Reg XX of 1817 and Act I of 1872, and a confession made to him is inadmissible. Empress v Indra Chundra, 2 C W N 637, Nazim v R, 9 C W N 47.

Police to him
Sin v

21), a police Sub Inspector (Addu Sul
19 W R Cr 51), a darogah (R v police (R v Luchoo, 5 N W P 86).
10 B. L. R. v Babu Lal, 6
confession made

There is no

High Courts

excise upon having the power to detain, search, seize and arrest any person whom he believes to be guilty of any offence under the Opium Act or Bombay Abkari Act has powers which are very similar to those exercised by a Police officer.

other
in
the provisions of
L R 19, 1920
1196=51 B 75=23
L R 674=97

But the Calcutta is admissible in section 25 of the v Sio v Emperor,
J 579=1 I R
C W N 824=45
151, Pura Nand

v Emperor, 52 C L J. 177; Moh Lal v Emperor, 36 C W N 163; contra Ibrahim v Emperor, 35 C W N 601; 9 Mys L J 71 following 51 B 18; Maunisan Myin v Emperor, 7 R 771=121 Ind Cis 715=31 Cr L J 303=A I R 1930 Rang 19 An exercise officer is not a Police officer within the meaning of section 25 of the Evidence Act Emperor v Budhu, 99 Ind Cis 594=A I R 1927 Sind 112, Pillibai v Emperor, 83 Ind Cis 151=25 Cr L J 1223; Mechi v Emperor, 88 Ind Cis 32=26 Cr L J 1088=A I R 1925 Nag 310; Emperor v Wajir Singh, 11 Ind C=588=3 P R 1918 Cr=19 Cr L J 361; Muhammad v Emperor, 39 Ind Cis 977=21 C W N 694=18 Cr L J 3 Cr L J 165=15 Ind Cis 305=5 Bur L.

ot a Police officer and confession made to him under s 25 of the Evidence Act Queen Empress v Sama Papi, 7 M 357=2 Weir 235 A confession made to Yuadungyi should not be admitted in evidence He is the head of the rural police and has police duties to perform He is, to all intents and purposes, a Police officer though he may not be so designated Maung Wun v Queen Empress, L B R. (1833—1900) 22

Confession made to a police officer whether admissible A confession made to a Police officer is not to be used in evidence E v Thalun A W N 1883, 188, E v Pancham, A W N 1883, 21 1 A 198 Confessions recorded

A Cr 153=106 Ind Cis 112=26 A L J 92 A confession made to another person in the presence of a Police officer, who has asked or instructed that other person to take the confession in such a way as to be his agent, where the confession takes place under such circumstances that the Police officer is in such proximity as to make his presence likely to affect the mind of the confessing person is in substance a confession to a Police officer Emperor v Mt Har Piar, 97 Ind Cis 44=44 A L J 958=A I R 1926 All 737, see also Channan v Crown 21 Ind Cis 168 Rule 195 of the Madras Councils Rules of Practice is not a rule of law but merely a rule for the guidance of village Magistrates and the police investigate the Magistrate know Emperor, A I R 1927

Mad 974

Where a house was searched and the recovery list, held that the fact of the recovery list is not admissible in evidence

8 Loh 326=28 P L R 119=100 Ind Cis 707=28 Cr L J 323 If after out the route taken by them in going to commit the offence of dacoity and the 25. 178-23 Cr L J 197 A first information of murder was lodged at the Police station by the accused himself on the morning following the murder and after stating the narrative of events prior to the night of occurrence he confessed that he had committed the offence.

- Sections of section 25 of the Evidence Act in its entirety, yet, in so far as it spoke it was admissible in evidence if and in 62 Ind Crs 578-25 C W N 788-—
- Police by an accused person is admissible to prove the ownership of property in respect of which he is accused Ganpat v Banu, 53 Ind Crs 62-21 Cr L J 414. Statement made by the accused in the presence of a Police officer is admissible.
- R 724

Confession

v Emperor, 48 Ind Cas 883-36 P R 1918 Cr = 10 Cr L J 80. A statement made by a complainant in his first report at the Police station is not admissible as proof of the facts therein mentioned and cannot be used as evidence against the accused in his trial Dal v Emperor, 16 Cr L J 62-26 Ind Cas 104. Accused went to a Police station and made the report "I have killed my wife and her corpse is lying in my house," in consequence of which the Police proceeded to his house, discovered the corpse of his wife in an inner room of the house. Held, that the provisions of ss 25 and 26 of the Evidence Act apply to the circumstances of the case Surendra Nath v Emperor 16 A L J 478-47 Ind Crs.

made in an investigation must be taken to be a statement made by the accused himself or by somebody else in his presence. But incriminating statements made by accused persons while in Police custody, in answer to questions put by a Police officer, are not excluded from evidence under section 25 of the Evidence Act. L J 106-37 Ind Crs.

of making an admission or withdrawal of the plea can be allowed if the accused wishes to withdraw it. Emperor v Shuldian, 28 Ind Cas 145-44 P W R 1914 Cr.

The only evidence against the first accused was that in consequence of information given by him property was produced to the police before the police conviction of the first accused not lead directly to the recovery of the property. In re Ippani Ram 3 M L T 333-7 Cr L J 798. Where a confession was made before an investigating officer.

under s 25 of the Evidence Act Lee Bein v Queen Empress, L B 1892) 479. Confession made by an accomplice, committed to a Police officer, was in a plea of guilty was a confession of evidence of

to a Police officer and Queen Empress v Jagan made by an accomplice, tender of a pardon by an Assistant Commissioner acting in his

S.

337, Cr Pro Code was held to be Empress, 10 P R 1895 Cr Section 25 confession made to a Police officer shall not be proved as against an accused person. It does preclude an accused person from proving, on his own behalf, a confession made to a Police officer by another accused person tried jointly with him. Ibrahim v Emperor, 12 Cr L J 79=9 Ind Cas 419. Confession to a Police officer of having given false information cannot be admitted and charged under s 182 and s 211 of Nga Phet, U II R (1897 1901) Vol I, 156 or rioting. During, and, admits the information was not a confession under s 25 of the Evidence Act, and as against the person other than the informant, it amounted to an admission of evidence against them. Hair v King Emperor, 11 C L J 301=5 Ind Cas 305=14 C W N 593.

Where a Police officer read over to the accused the statement which he (Police officer) had taken from others and then told him 'I know the whole thing now,' and the accused, thereupon, made a statement in consequence of which he was arrested and his confession was duly recorded, held that the confession was voluntary and was perfectly admissible. Hanmat 3 Bom L R 401. Accused person is not illegal for a confession which is open to grave suspicion of having been produced by ill treatment of the police. Khair Din v Crown, 21 P W R 1907 Cr =6 Cr L J 266.

ting statement made to a Police officer by an accused person in custody. Queen Empress, v Mathews, 10 C 1022.

admits

the evidence for the prosecution consisted of certain confessions made to the Police. The Police found some stolen cloth for the Police. The confession was inadmissible under s 25. The confession mentioned did not justify his conviction under the section. Empress v Nanhe Beg, A W N 1883, 126.

Admissions not amounting to confessions. Whether admissible when made to a Police officer. Every statement is not a confession. Ilho v Emperor, 19 S L R 6=A I R 1925 Sind 257. An incriminating statement to a police officer, though on the face of itself exculpatory, is inadmissible. Emperor v Inantra, 5 Cr R 15=49 B 612. 89 Ind Cas 1016. The question whether a particular statement whether it be positive or negative, verbal or expressed by conduct, is or is not a confession, must be decided on the facts of each case. Umer Durang v Emperor 86 Ind Cas 410=26 Cr L J 778=A I R 1925 Sind 237. After a fight in which death was caused, several accused drove certain cattle belonging to the deceased to the pound. Two of them made a statement to a Sub Inspector of Police that they were in the

5. 26 fight and that the deceased had attempted to interfere with the seizure of the cattle. Held that the statement did not amount to a confession inasmuch as it was only an explanatory statement of the circumstances under which the cattle had been seized and was not an admission of guilt but rather of the nature of a complaint against the deceased and was not therefore admissible in evidence. Jotal v. Emperor 81 Ind. C. 317—20 Cr. L. J. 811. A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 232. A statement by one accused to the police that certain property which he produced had been stolen to him by two other accused who were charged with him was being an admission. Ac. v. Emperor v. Sher. A statement made by a confession may nevertheless be used against him and more particularly it is a statement to it amounts to under section making the 23 Cr. L. J. confined to from which

In Gang v. Emperor 41 Ind. C. 100. The Act does not say that it includes only confession.

to them, there being which are statements which is charged. Furling leading to discovery whether such statements amount to confession. Emperor v. Kanool Mah 6 Ind. C. 161—15 Cr. L. J. 713—41 C. 601, E. v. Buddhu 3 N. I. R. person to a Police admissible in evidence 14 Cr. L. J. 202. A statement directly or indirectly to an admission of any incriminating circumstance is admissible in evidence, hence where the accused was found carrying a box at night and when asked by a policeman on duty about the ownership of the box stated that it belonged to him the statement was held admissible against him. Confession by a person in the commission of an offence. For such a purpose confession for other purposes would be admissible under section 21, in his character of one settling up an interest in property in litigation, or judicial enquiry and disposal. Queen v. Empress 5 Cr. L. J. 131.

26 No confession made by any person whilst he is in the custody of a police-officer, unless it be made in the immediate presence of a Magistrate, shall be proved as against him.

* Explanation—In this section "Magistrate" does not include the head of a village discharging magisterial functions in the Presidency of Fort St. George or in Burma or elsewhere unless such headman is a Magistrate exercising the powers of a Magistrate under the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1882.

*This Explanation was added to s. 26 by the Indian Evidence Act (Amendment Act (III) of 1891) s. 3.

† See now the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (Act 5 of 1898).

used on section 149 of the Criminal S.

III of 1891, s 3 The rules cor
in British India
governing the Queen v. Dhu

or in rules Procedure.
35 M 397

persons through any undue Per Gault C J in Queen the rule seems to be that the of coercion for extorting conf

3 section deals with confessions made in the the custody of an accused person that is, presence of a Magistrate, in which case the confessing person has an opportunity of making a statement uncontrolled by any fear of the police Per Ainslie J in

In the matter of Hiran Miya, 1 C L R. 21 Section 26 is not to be read as qualifying the plain meaning of s 25 Queen v. Harribole, 1 C 207, Queen v. Duman, 12 W R Cr 82 Section 26, cannot be treated as an exception or proviso to s 25, there being no words to justify such an interpretation The criterion adopted in s 26 for excluding confession is the answer to
If the ans police officer evidence, unless it v Dabu Lal, 6 L an accused person
v. Mathew, 10 C 1 makes no distinct substantive rule
L J 290 This section does not make admission dependent upon knowledge of the custody of a be excluded from

M L T 1=13 Cr L J 352=35 M 397=14 Ind Crs 896 But it may be admissible in favour of an accused R v Pitamber 2 B 611 The general rule, applicable to confessions made by prisoners whilst in the custody of a police officer is contained in section 26 and the proviso contained in section 27
Chomer Sahib 12 M 173

T to a Police Superintendent on the day next
M was arrested but neither of the other two accused was suspected of having Confessions made in police made to a Police officer, but not in Queen-Empress v Ah Baksh, S

20 M L J 352=15 Cr L J

which was made by the accused when not in Police custody is admissible in evidence Harbans v King-Emperor, 8 Q C 365=2 Cr L J 811, see also Raj Kumar v by an acc his house, back to pc

* Cr L J 524=92 Ind he was sent by the which involved an examination of the patient in private Two police men took the accused from the lock up to the dispensary At the dispensary the police men waited outside on the verandah while the accused was inside undergoing examination at the hands of the doctor, and during the few minutes that he was with the latter he made a confession Held, that the confession was inadmissible in evidence under section 20 of the Evidence Act, in as much as the accused remained in the would be found in a heap of rubbish close to his house and after making the statement he took out the property from the heap in the presence of two police

27. constables held that admissible in evidence, in the heap of rubbish
845=21 M L J 352=15 Cr. L J 533

Where an accused person promised, while in police custody to restore the stolen property, held, that the promise was an incriminating statement suggesting the inference that the 'therefore' a confession v King-Emperor, 20 P . . .

A statement made
'if it is an admission of . . .
Queen Empress v Jaracharam, 19 B 363; Queen Empress v Nana, 11 B 260 & 11

Confession made in the presence of a Magistrate A confession to a Magistrate while in Police custody is not inadmissible Nazir Singh v Emperor 9 Ind Cas. 806=27 Cr L J 131=A I R 1925 Lah. 557, Queen v Mani Mohan 24 W R Cr 33, Queen v Shahabat, 13 W R Cr 42; Queen v Nilma Thab, 10 C 595 A confession made by an accused person before the Administrator in Portuguese territory, who is not a Magistrate or of the Indian Evidence Act It is immaterial that the confession was made was not himself the case Emperor v Mhalil Rana, 26 Bom L R 706=1924 Bom 480

Police officer, meaning of The word Police officer in this section is 'police-officer' in Native State C 855=Cr Reg 22 of 1896, 22 B 235, Q v Sundar Si 257 It is doubtful whether Nazir v Emperor, 9 C W N 174=2 Cr L J 255 The words "police officer" in this section are used in the same sense in which they occur in section 23, and

L J 931 A Deputy Commissioner Queen v Horibole, 1 C 215 A is not a police-officer Queen Anand Rao, 49 B 493=89 Ind C Badan Singh v King Emperor, 2 P R 1909=7 P. W. R 1909; Lal Rao Anand Rao, 49 B 642 A police officer in a French Territory is a police officer R v Viraraghava, 11 M L T 407 A police Patel is a police officer R v Rama Birajpa, 3 B 12

Magistrate The word 'Magistrate' Native States Queen Empress v Kala, 22 B 235, Queen Empress v Ind Cas 257, R v Bhuma, 17 B in the district in which he has been

Crown 8 P. W. R 1314
, see also R v. Fakal Jell 7 n of the French Government is a late presence are admissible in ted to the Magistrate exercise
Panch Nath Pillai v Emperor Administrator is not a Magistrate

Emperor v Mhalil, 87 Ind Cas 20=26 Bom L R 706

Explanation Previous to the enactment of this explanation by Act III of 1891, it was held that a village Munsiff falls within the purview of this section and as such he was a magistrate Empress v Ramanagitt, 2 M 5, see also R v Ranga 10 M 2954

27. Provided that, when any fact is deposed to as discovered

How much of information in consequence of information received from a person accused of any offence, in the custody of a police-officer, so much of such information, whether it amounts to a confession or not, as relates distinctly to the fact thereby discovered, may be proved

Principle
any circumstance to be influenced by been induced to say each of the confession is 35 notes (1) to R v 197 This section was intended not to let in confession generally, but only such particular part of it as set the person to whom it was made in motion, and led to his ascertaining the Per Straight C J in Queen Empress v Certain statements, made under certain cases, considered them unworthy of credit, but the trust is removed by the finding upon search, of articles connected with the crime or other facts 5 Mad L Jour Article at p 80 "The prisoner's statement as to his knowledge of the the admission of the exception to the general rule The fact discovered shows that so much of the confession is immediately related to it is true' Queen Empress v Babu Lal 6 A 509 (513, 517) supports other testimonial exclusions) and the tests worked out are often more or less artificial, but the principle underlies the whole body of rules If now a circumstance appears which indicates that the law's fear of untrustworthiness is unfounded and counteracts the significance of the improper inducement by demonstrating that after all it exercised no sinister influence, the confession should be accepted This is the theory of confirmation by subsequent facts, about excluding cases on otherwise firm it in material points, the possible influence which through caution had been attributed to the improper inducement is seen to have been nil, and the confession may be accepted without hesitation' Wignore § 856

"But it should seem, that so much of the confession is related strictly to the L C J. states the reason for such admission thus "Because it leads to the Origin of the rule The section 150 of Act XXV of 1861 (The Criminal Procedure Code) runs as follows. "When any fact is deposed to by a police

27. officer is discovered by him in consequence of information received from a person accused of any offence, so much of such information, whether it amounts to a confession or admission of guilt or not as relates distinctly to the fact discovered by it, may be received in evidence" That section was thus altered by Act VIII of 1869 "Provided that when any fact is disposed to in evidence is discovered in consequence of information received from a person accused of any offence or in the custody of a police officer, so much of such information, whether it amounts to a confession or admission of guilt or not, as relates distinctly to the fact thereby discovered may be received in evidence" Section 150 of Act XXV of 1861 was re-embodied in section 27 of the Indian Evidence Act Queen Empress v Babu Lal, 6 A 509

Scope of the section In Mahmood J held that s 27 came down in s 25, but only that Cr 13, 9 W R Cr 16, 11 C 6 A 509 (F B) the question

Empress v Kuarpal, A W N J said, at pp 520 521 "The question raised by this reference is one of interpretation of the Statute, and it may be briefly stated to be, whether the proviso contained in section 27 of the Evidence Act governs only the preceding section, or also s 25. In order to arrive at a satisfactory conclusion upon this point, it seems to me advisable to trace the history of the rules contained in ss 25 26 and 27 of the Evidence Act, so as to ascertain for these provisions find a place in the Code of Evidence for India. I have stated these facts as introductory of the observations which I am about to make that the rules contained in ss 25, 26 and 27 of the Evidence Act were not originally treated in British India as, strictly speaking rules of evidence but rather as governing the action of police officers and as matters of criminal procedure. Then stating that s 150 of Act XXV of 1861 was repealed and re-enacted by Act VIII of 1869 he went on "What was the effect of change of language introduced by the new section? Why was it introduced? What was its effect? The other questions which must be considered rendering the language of s 150 a mere amendment of the immediately preceding section 149 which is expressly limited to confessions made by a person 'whilst he is in the custody of a police officer' they (sections 25, 26 and 27) are identical in the rules which they lay down, though the language has been improved by some verbal alterations which require no special mention except the omission of the word 'or' from the clause 'a person accused of any offence or in the custody of a police officer' in the place of the omitted word 'or' a comma has been substituted. 'officer' a parenthetical clause for 'confession' would fall under the same remarkable and, if it has any effect, proviso" But the majority of not only to section 26, but also to information given by the accused confession or not as related distinctly to the fact thereby discovered must be proved Queen Empress v Babu Lal 6 A 509 (F B), see also Queen v Lallu 19 W R 51, Reg. v Jora Hiji, 11 B H C R 213, Lingress v Rana Lallu 3 B 12, Empress v Pancharan, 4 A 193 Thur v Queen, 11 C 635 Queen v Kamalia 10 B 595, Queen v Nana, 14 B 260, Surentra v Emperor, 16 A 178, Imaruddin v K E 24, 22 C W N 213, Supriental v Bhoo 1 C W N 106. That the view taken by Mahmood J in Queen Empress v Babu Lal, supra is the correct view was reiterated by Lord Williams J in Supriental v Bhajoo Singh, supra at p 111. It has also been pointed out by Lord

C. J. in a very recent case, that an anomalous position has been created by follow- S. 2 express mention of it is made therein, see also Empress v Pancham, 4 A 198

 "The reasons given for and against the view that section 27 controls section 25 also apply with equal force to the question whether that section like wise controls lous that in t receives a y leads to ient may be g Emperor, ng Emperor

 thurm Dutt, peration of tody of the custody of confession
 or not, as relates distinctly to the fact thereby discovered may be proved Per Oldfield J in Queen Empress v Babu Lal, 6 A 509 (I B) at p 513, 514 This police officer or by other an in these two sections of it in accordance with nly to the extent of the strictly relates to the fact

Per Straight C J in Queen Empress v Babu Lal 6 A 509 (I B) at p 544 But Mahmood J said in the same case at p 541 "I hold that the rule laid down by the Legislature in s 24 (read with s 28) of the Evidence Act, is a rule absolutely independent of the question of discovery or on discovery to which s. 27 relates, that the state of things in India has induced the Legislature to frame in section 2, an equally absolute rule in regard to confessions made to police officers which are presumed to have been made under conditions prohibited by s 24 that the s prohibited the admission s by the accused whilst in s rules but only the last rule

so enunciated, is much subject to the saving clause contained in section 26 rendering confession admissible, if they are not made to the police officer but to a third person, 'in the immediate presence of a Magistrate' which affords a guarantee that the confession was not extorted, that the proviso contained in section 27 is not intended to qualify the absolute rules contained in ss 24 and 26, which relates persons whilst the

 In short, I hold the same as the rule laid down by Lord Eldon in Harvey's Case 2 East P C 658 and that improperly a question of

in the case but indeed receives corroboration in respect of many points, then the confession should be held to be true as implicating the person making it unless he can make up a story to the contrary. It is not necessary that the confession of an accused should receive direct corroboration as to the fact that the accused was concerned in the offence. It is sufficient that there is such corroboration of the confession as to indicate that the accused had such knowledge of the circumstances of the offence as would suggest his taking

1-68 Ind Crs 17-9 O L. J.

whether by reason of s 26 or 25

information is set the pol
Amriddin v Emperor, 15 C Crs 331 Section 27 of also s 24 all three of which Crown 11 P R 1915 Cr.

This section has got nothing discovered is or is not relevant 1929 Lah 344 (F B) Recoveries etc

fact
I R Sham

admissible in evidence, the fact force, independently of the confession, would be admissible in evidence In re Choda Achanna, 11 Weir 735-3 M H. C 318

peror, 36
oint out to 27 of it has rovisio to
It is 2

S. 27.

is a result of it. That is the present case. It cannot be admitted in evidence because the man was not in custody, which of course is thoroughly absurd. The result is that the fact discovered is not a fact discovered by the accused person.

There seems to me to be nothing in section 21 or section 23 to prevent evidence being given. In consequence of something said by the accused I went to a certain place and there found the body of the deceased. In cases under section 27 the witness may go further and give the relevant part of the confession.

Any fact. The fact discovered by a statement must be a material fact and not a mental state induced in another person by that statement. Emp to show how the fact that was discovered is connected with the accused so as in itself to be relevant evidence against him." Per Straight C J in Queen v. Phipps & Habu Lal, 11 C. 137. The test is whether the information received from an accused person in connection with the fact discovered, and how much of the information was the direct cause of the fact discovered, and is such a relevant fact? J Mad L Jour p 80 (Article)

Deposed to. It is necessary, in order to bring a case of discovery within section 27, that the fact discovered should be deposed to by the person to whom the statement was made. J Mad L Jour p 80 (Article).

Discovered. The meaning, firstly, of known before to something, the existence of the fact.

It is in the latter, and not in the former, sense that the word is employed in section 27 of the Evidence Act, and this will be made evident upon considering the principle underlying the section. J Mad L J p 80, 81. From this definition of 'discovery' it follows that simple statements, or statements made while pointing out the scene where the crime was committed or while producing articles, and showing the connection of the place or thing with the offence, are not rendered admissible under section 27, but only statements preceding the finding, upon search or inquiry of articles or other facts connected with, or referable to the crime. Ibid see also R v. Long Horn 11 B H C R. 242, R v. Latif, 49 C 167=25 C W. N. 783. The word 'discovered' is very important. The test is that the fact discovered must be discovered in the sense, that the proof of the existence of the fact no longer rests on the credibility of the accused's statement but rests on the credibility of the witnesses who depose to the existence of the fact. The rest of the information is not admissible. But if the accused wishes to challenge the veracity of the statement that it was on his information that the thing was discovered he words deposed to is concerned, they are still governed by the provisions of s 27 which must be construed as favourable to the accused as possible for it is a section which makes an exception against the accused contrary to the general sections, namely 25 and 26 which are in his favour. Karam Din v. Emperor, A I R 1929 Lah 333

soner [vide

made a statement

344 (F B)

1929 Lah 333

the word 'information' cannot be used as synonymous with the word 'statement'. There is no reason why the word 'information' should have been used instead of the word 'statement' in the section if by 'information' statement alone was intended. The word 'information' as distinct from the word 'statement' connotes two things namely a statement or other means employed for imparting that 'information' also includes knowledge derived by the person informed from the informant.

Statements made while present at the scene of murder made to a prisoner's saying "that is the place"
11 B H C R 242, Empress v. Rama Birappa 3 B 12

If the prisoner himself connected with the crime and the act of production or delivery its producing statement discovery in such

3 B 12 (17)
recorded confession his pointing out connected with the

Queen Empress, 11 C 635

27. In consequence of information. "Whatever be the nature of the fact covered, that fact must in all cases be itself relevant to the crime, and the connection between it and the statement made must have been such that the statement constituted the information through which the discovery was made, in order to render the statement admissible" Pry v. Jora Hussi, 11 B H. R. 242. It read under section 111 c property. In the course the police where the pro buried the property in the fields. It was contended property was concealed, and with it in which the property was kept out the spot to the effect that he had buried the property there. It was contended ed that the statements were in was in custody of the police ment and "As regards 27, the property, it is said, was not discovered in consequence of the information given by the accused to the police, but by the act of the accused himself on the

in accordance the property police in making accused to ing on the p and was the natural consequence of the information they had received from and so connect causa causans consideration thereby disco

Courts in dealing with proximate and remote cause of damage, namely, what followed was the natural and reasonable result of the defendant's act. It being of great importance that the law should, in a matter of such common occurrence, be distinctly settled, I am glad that my doubts have been removed, and this Court is not divided in opinion. But to avoid our judgment being applied to circumstances beyond its meaning and beyond the policy of the law to statements that cannot be regarded as proximate cause, I would refer to Lord Blackburn's decision, where he discusses Lord Bacon's Maxim "It is re-

It is result of drawing
Q. B. at p. 267,
London and South East case I am of his earlier case usual course of section 27 was not cular parts of it ascertaining the
v. Babu Lal, 6 A.

R. 51, where it was held that of the party, even there it was no information. But in Empress v.
a contrary view. In Empress v.
laid down a distinction between a discovery by the act of the party, and one from his information. See also Queen Empress v. Babu Lal, 11 A. 509, Queen Empress v. Aamcha, 10
B 595.

The view as expressed in R. v. Nana, 14 B. 260, has also been adopted by the Calcutta High Court. Legal Remembrancer v. Chema Nashya, 20 C. 413, R. v. Pagree Saha, 19 W. R. Cr. 57.

The fact deposited as discovered in consequence of information received or confession made to the police by an accused person must be a fact relevant to the case in which the evidence is sought to be given if it is sought to be admitted in evidence under section 27. Gokul Chamar v Emperor, 105 Ind Crs 683=28 Cr L J 791=6 Pat 611. If arms are recovered in consequence of information supplied by the accused, the statement made by them are, admissible under section 27 of the Indian Evidence Act. Ali Ahmed v Emperor, 1923 Lah 134.

From a person When a fact is discovered in consequence of information persons charged with an offence, and when others could not be treated as discovered from the could be deposed that a particular fact has been information as relates distinctly v Ram Churn, 24 W R Cr 36. In J observed "I where two persons or 'they said that,'

that both the persons should speak at once, and it is the right of each of them to have the witness required to depositions individually used. And I may constable is having been made by covered a certain fact or certain on the witness so that there may be In dealing with statements of this to the discovery it is of the essence should be precisely and separately state this point, and the witness refused paid no attention to it." See also Rama Singh v Crown 50 P R 1915=7 Cr L J 12. Where all the accused persons jointly pointed out the place where blood stains were found and subsequently the place where the dead body of a person was discovered buried such evidence is not admissible at all against any of the accused unless it can be shown who made the discovery first. *Faqira
v Emperor* A I R 1929 Lah 665. Adam Khan v Emperor, 101 Ind Crs
483=28 P L R 187=28 Cr L J 456. Ditto v Emperor A I R 1931
Sind 154. Emperor v Shivaputhya A I R 1930 Bom 244=32 Bom L
R 574.

In my opinion section 27 of the Evidence Act ought to be strictly construed were in the custody of the police it is quite clear that the statements of the persons other than the first person who made the statement can not be used in evidence. The statement made by the first individual under section 27 and in the circumstances described therein may be treated as evidence against him but it is not allowable under the provisions of the law to treat the evidence of the other persons who may have made statements of the description referred to in section 27 as evidence admissible under the provisions of that section. This persons who made

27.

based on the untrustworthy information

police that they rebutts that pre-subsequent discovery a guarantee of
If therefore the not of both have subsequent to the discovery are irrelevant. Crown v. Suleman, 10 S L R 7=17 Cr L J 35-

36 Ind Cas 171.

Where a material fact, for instance, the manner in which a theft was committed, has already been discovered by some other means, an accused's subsequent statement relating to the same fact, while in police custody, is not admissible against him under s 27 of Act I of 1872. Mann v. Empress, 9 Ind Cas 232=12 Cr L J 35=3 P W R 1911

Where the Police succeeded in discovering property in consequence of information received from an accused, it is not competent to the Police to replace the property in the place where it was discovered, and to ask the other accused to produce the property, because there is no further discovery under s 27 Evidence Act as against the other accused. Queen Empress v. Bishop, 2 Bom L R 1089.

Accused in Police custody. The words used in section 150 of Act VIII of 1869, (which is re-enacted as section 27 of the Evidence Act, 1872) are "a person accused of any offence, or in the custody of a police officer." The only alteration in section 37 is the omission of the word "or" before "in custody," but this only shows that the operation of the provision is restricted to information from an accused person in custody of the police, and does not apply to information from accused persons not in custody of the police. Per Oldfield J in Queen Empress v. Babu Lal (1891) 13 Ind Cas 151. The meaning of the words in the Evidence Act appears it is not in custody of a police person.

(b) in custody but not accused besides under the circumstances mentioned and is Empress

tion in
“(

circumstances
person
but not accused (c) accused but not in custody, notwithstanding any discovery in consequence thereof

“(2) A confession made to a police officer by a person who is at the time (a) neither accused nor in custody (b) in custody but not accused, (c) accused but not in custody, is wholly inadmissible in consequence thereof. A confession made by a person who is not in custody of the police, could not fall under the purview of the custody of a police officer (Queen Empress v. Babu Lal, 6 A 100=11 Ind Cas 151=152=153=154=155=156=157=158=159=160=161=162=163=164=165=166=167=168=169=170=171=172=173=174=175=176=177=178=179=180=181=182=183=184=185=186=187=188=189=190=191=192=193=194=195=196=197=198=199=200=201=202=203=204=205=206=207=208=209=210=211=212=213=214=215=216=217=218=219=220=221=222=223=224=225=226=227=228=229=230=231=232=233=234=235=236=237=238=239=240=241=242=243=244=245=246=247=248=249=250=251=252=253=254=255=256=257=258=259=260=261=262=263=264=265=266=267=268=269=270=271=272=273=274=275=276=277=278=279=280=281=282=283=284=285=286=287=288=289=290=291=292=293=294=295=296=297=298=299=300=301=302=303=304=305=306=307=308=309=310=311=312=313=314=315=316=317=318=319=320=321=322=323=324=325=326=327=328=329=330=331=332=333=334=335=336=337=338=339=340=341=342=343=344=345=346=347=348=349=350=351=352=353=354=355=356=357=358=359=360=361=362=363=364=365=366=367=368=369=370=371=372=373=374=375=376=377=378=379=380=381=382=383=384=385=386=387=388=389=390=391=392=393=394=395=396=397=398=399=400=401=402=403=404=405=406=407=408=409=410=411=412=413=414=415=416=417=418=419=420=421=422=423=424=425=426=427=428=429=430=431=432=433=434=435=436=437=438=439=440=441=442=443=444=445=446=447=448=449=450=451=452=453=454=455=456=457=458=459=460=461=462=463=464=465=466=467=468=469=470=471=472=473=474=475=476=477=478=479=480=481=482=483=484=485=486=487=488=489=490=491=492=493=494=495=496=497=498=499=500=501=502=503=504=505=506=507=508=509=510=511=512=513=514=515=516=517=518=519=520=521=522=523=524=525=526=527=528=529=530=531=532=533=534=535=536=537=538=539=540=541=542=543=544=545=546=547=548=549=550=551=552=553=554=555=556=557=558=559=560=561=562=563=564=565=566=567=568=569=570=571=572=573=574=575=576=577=578=579=580=581=582=583=584=585=586=587=588=589=590=591=592=593=594=595=596=597=598=599=600=601=602=603=604=605=606=607=608=609=610=611=612=613=614=615=616=617=618=619=620=621=622=623=624=625=626=627=628=629=630=631=632=633=634=635=636=637=638=639=640=641=642=643=644=645=646=647=648=649=650=651=652=653=654=655=656=657=658=659=660=661=662=663=664=665=666=667=668=669=670=671=672=673=674=675=676=677=678=679=680=681=682=683=684=685=686=687=688=689=690=691=692=693=694=695=696=697=698=699=700=701=702=703=704=705=706=707=708=709=710=711=712=713=714=715=716=717=718=719=720=721=722=723=724=725=726=727=728=729=730=731=732=733=734=735=736=737=738=739=740=741=742=743=744=745=746=747=748=749=750=751=752=753=754=755=756=757=758=759=760=761=762=763=764=765=766=767=768=769=770=771=772=773=774=775=776=777=778=779=780=781=782=783=784=785=786=787=788=789=790=791=792=793=794=795=796=797=798=799=800=801=802=803=804=805=806=807=808=809=810=811=812=813=814=815=816=817=818=819=820=821=822=823=824=825=826=827=828=829=830=831=832=833=834=835=836=837=838=839=840=841=842=843=844=845=846=847=848=849=850=851=852=853=854=855=856=857=858=859=860=861=862=863=864=865=866=867=868=869=870=871=872=873=874=875=876=877=878=879=880=881=882=883=884=885=886=887=888=889=890=891=892=893=894=895=896=897=898=899=900=901=902=903=904=905=906=907=908=909=910=911=912=913=914=915=916=917=918=919=920=921=922=923=924=925=926=927=928=929=930=931=932=933=934=935=936=937=938=939=940=941=942=943=944=945=946=947=948=949=950=951=952=953=954=955=956=957=958=959=960=961=962=963=964=965=966=967=968=969=970=971=972=973=974=975=976=977=978=979=980=981=982=983=984=985=986=987=988=989=990=991=992=993=994=995=996=997=998=999=1000=1001=1002=1003=1004=1005=1006=1007=1008=1009=1010=1011=1012=1013=1014=1015=1016=1017=1018=1019=1020=1021=1022=1023=1024=1025=1026=1027=1028=1029=1030=1031=1032=1033=1034=1035=1036=1037=1038=1039=1040=1041=1042=1043=1044=1045=1046=1047=1048=1049=1050=1051=1052=1053=1054=1055=1056=1057=1058=1059=1060=1061=1062=1063=1064=1065=1066=1067=1068=1069=1070=1071=1072=1073=1074=1075=1076=1077=1078=1079=1080=1081=1082=1083=1084=1085=1086=1087=1088=1089=1090=1091=1092=1093=1094=1095=1096=1097=1098=1099=1100=1101=1102=1103=1104=1105=1106=1107=1108=1109=1110=1111=1112=1113=1114=1115=1116=1117=1118=1119=1120=1121=1122=1123=1124=1125=1126=1127=1128=1129=1130=1131=1132=1133=1134=1135=1136=1137=1138=1139=1140=1141=1142=1143=1144=1145=1146=1147=1148=1149=1150=1151=1152=1153=1154=1155=1156=1157=1158=1159=1160=1161=1162=1163=1164=1165=1166=1167=1168=1169=1170=1171=1172=1173=1174=1175=1176=1177=1178=1179=1180=1181=1182=1183=1184=1185=1186=1187=1188=1189=1190=1191=1192=1193=1194=1195=1196=1197=1198=1199=1200=1201=1202=1203=1204=1205=1206=1207=1208=1209=1210=1211=1212=1213=1214=1215=1216=1217=1218=1219=1220=1221=1222=1223=1224=1225=1226=1227=1228=1229=1230=1231=1232=1233=1234=1235=1236=1237=1238=1239=1240=1241=1242=1243=1244=1245=1246=1247=1248=1249=1250=1251=1252=1253=1254=1255=1256=1257=1258=1259=1260=1261=1262=1263=1264=1265=1266=1267=1268=1269=1270=1271=1272=1273=1274=1275=1276=1277=1278=1279=1280=1281=1282=1283=1284=1285=1286=1287=1288=1289=1290=1291=1292=1293=1294=1295=1296=1297=1298=1299=1300=1301=1302=1303=1304=1305=1306=1307=1308=1309=1310=1311=1312=1313=1314=1315=1316=1317=1318=1319=1320=1321=1322=1323=1324=1325=1326=1327=1328=1329=1330=1331=1332=1333=1334=1335=1336=1337=1338=1339=1340=1341=1342=1343=1344=1345=1346=1347=1348=1349=1350=1351=1352=1353=1354=1355=1356=1357=1358=1359=1360=1361=1362=1363=1364=1365=1366=1367=1368=1369=1370=1371=1372=1373=1374=1375=1376=1377=1378=1379=1380=1381=1382=1383=1384=1385=1386=1387=1388=1389=1390=1391=1392=1393=1394=1395=1396=1397=1398=1399=1400=1401=1402=1403=1404=1405=1406=1407=1408=1409=1410=1411=1412=1413=1414=1415=1416=1417=1418=1419=1420=1421=1422=1423=1424=1425=1426=1427=1428=1429=1430=1431=1432=1433=1434=1435=1436=1437=1438=1439=1440=1441=1442=1443=1444=1445=1446=1447=1448=1449=1450=1451=1452=1453=1454=1455=1456=1457=1458=1459=1460=1461=1462=1463=1464=1465=1466=1467=1468=1469=1470=1471=1472=1473=1474=1475=1476=1477=1478=1479=1480=1481=1482=1483=1484=1485=1486=1487=1488=1489=1490=1491=1492=1493=1494=1495=1496=1497=1498=1499=1500=1501=1502=1503=1504=1505=1506=1507=1508=1509=1510=1511=1512=1513=1514=1515=1516=1517=1518=1519=1520=1521=1522=1523=1524=1525=1526=1527=1528=1529=1530=1531=1532=1533=1534=1535=1536=1537=1538=1539=1540=1541=1542=1543=1544=1545=1546=1547=1548=1549=1550=1551=1552=1553=1554=1555=1556=1557=1558=1559=1560=1561=1562=1563=1564=1565=1566=1567=1568=1569=1570=1571=1572=1573=1574=1575=1576=1577=1578=1579=1580=1581=1582=1583=1584=1585=1586=1587=1588=1589=1590=1591=1592=1593=1594=1595=1596=1597=1598=1599=1600=1601=1602=1603=1604=1605=1606=1607=1608=1609=1610=1611=1612=1613=1614=1615=1616=1617=1618=1619=1620=1621=1622=1623=1624=1625=1626=1627=1628=1629=1630=1631=1632=1633=1634=1635=1636=1637=1638=1639=1640=1641=1642=1643=1644=1645=1646=1647=1648=1649=1650=1651=1652=1653=1654=1655=1656=1657=1658=1659=1660=1661=1662=1663=1664=1665=1666=1667=1668=1669=1670=1671=1672=1673=1674=1675=1676=1677=1678=1679=1680=1681=1682=1683=1684=1685=1686=1687=1688=1689=1690=1691=1692=1693=1694=1695=1696=1697=1698=1699=1700=1701=1702=1703=1704=1705=1706=1707=1708=1709=1710=1711=1712=1713=1714=1715=1716=1717=1718=1719=1720=1721=1722=1723=1724=1725=1726=1727=1728=1729=1730=1731=1732=1733=1734=1735=1736=1737=1738=1739=1740=1741=1742=1743=1744=1745=1746=1747=1748=1749=1750=1751=1752=1753=1754=1755=1756=1757=1758=1759=1760=1761=1762=1763=1764=1765=1766=1767=1768=1769=1770=1771=1772=1773=1774=1775=1776=1777=1778=1779=1780=1781=1782=1783=1784=1785=1786=1787=1788=1789=1790=1791=1792=1793=1794=1795=1796=1797=1798=1799=1800=1801=1802=1803=1804=1805=1806=1807=1808=1809=1810=1811=1812=1813=1814=1815=1816=1817=1818=1819=1820=1821=1822=1823=1824=1825=1826=1827=1828=1829=1830=1831=1832=1833=1834=1835=1836=1837=1838=1839=1840=1841=1842=1843=1844=1845=1846=1847=1848=1849=1850=1851=1852=1853=1854=1855=1856=1857=1858=1859=1860=1861=1862=1863=1864=1865=1866=1867=1868=1869=1870=1871=1872=1873=1874=1875=1876=1877=1878=1879=1880=1881=1882=1883=1884=1885=1886=1887=1888=1889=1890=1891=1892=1893=1894=1895=1896=1897=1898=1899=1900=1901=1902=1903=1904=1905=1906=1907=1908=1909=1910=1911=1912=1913=1914=1915=1916=1917=1918=1919=1920=1921=1922=1923=1924=1925=1926=1927=1928=1929=1930=1931=1932=1933=1934=1935=1936=1937=1938=1939=1940=1941=1942=1943=1944=1945=1946=1947=1948=1949=1950=1951=1952=1953=1954=1955=1956=1957=1958=1959=1960=1961=1962=1963=1964=1965=1966=1967=1968=1969=1970=1971=1972=1973=1974=1975=1976=1977=1978=1979=1980=1981=1982=1983=1984=1985=1986=1987=1988=1989=1990=1991=1992=1993=1994=1995=1996=1997=1998=1999=2000=2001=2002=2003=2004=2005=2006=2007=2008=2009=2010=2011=2012=2013=2014=2015=2016=2017=2018=2019=2020=2021=2022=2023=2024=2025=2026=2027=2028=2029=2030=2031=2032=2033=2034=2035=2036=2037=2038=2039=2040=2041=2042=2043=2044=2045=2046=2047=2048=2049=2050=2051=2052=2053=2054=2055=2056=2057=2058=2059=2060=2061=2062=2063=2064=2065=2066=2067=2068=2069=2070=2071=2072=2073=2074=2075=2076=2077=2078=2079=2080=2081=2082=2083=2084=2085=2086=2087=2088=2089=2090=2091=2092=2093=2094=2095=2096=2097=2098=2099=2100=2101=2102=2103=2104=2105=2106=2107=2108=2109=2110=2111=2112=2113=2114=2115=2116=2117=2118=2119=2120=2121=2122=2123=2124=2125=2126=2127=2128=2129=2130=2131=2132=2133=2134=2135=2136=2137=2138=2139=2140=2141=2142=2143=2144=2145=2146=2147=2148=2149=2150=2151=2152=2153=2154=2155=2156=2157=2158=2159=2160=2161=2162=2163=2164=2165=2166=2167=2168=2169=2170=2171=2172=2173=2174=2175=2176=2177=2178=2179=2180=2181=2182=2183=2184=2185=2186=2187=2188=2189=2190=2191=2192=2193=2194=2195=2196=2197=2198=2199=2200=2201=2202=2203=2204=2205=2206=2207=2208=2209=2210=2211=2212=2213=2214=2215=2216=2217=2218=2219=2220=2221=2222=2223=2224=2225=2226=2227=2228=2229=2230=2231=2232=2233=2234=2235=2236=2237=2238=2239=2240=2241=2242=2243=2244=2245=2246=2247=2248=2249=2250=2251=2252=2253=2254=2255=2256=2257=2258=2259=2260=2261=2262=2263=2264=2265=2266=2267=2268=2269=2270=2271=2272=2273=2274=2275=2276=2277=2278=2279=2280=2281=2282=2283=2284=2285=2286=2287=2288=2289=2290=2291=2292=2293=2294=2295=2296=2297=2298=2299=2300=2301=2302=2303=2304=2305=2306=2307=2308=2309=2310=2311=2312=2313=2314=2315=2316=2317=2318=2319=2320=2321=2322=2323=2324=2325=2326=2327=2328=2329=2330=2331=2332=2333=2334=2335=2336=2337=2338=2339=2340=2341=2342=2343=2344=2345=2346=2347=2348=2349=2350=2351=2352=2353=2354=2355=2356=2357=2358=2359=2360=2361=2362=2363=2364=2365=2366=2367=2368=2369=2370=2371=2372=2373=2374=2375=2376=2377=2378=2379=2380=2381=2382=2383=2384=2385=2386=2387=2388=2389=2390=2391=2392=2393=2394=2395=2396=2397=2398=2399=2400=2401=2402=2403=2404=2405=2406=2407=2408=2409=2410=2411=2412=2413=2414=2415=2416=2417=2418=2419=2420=2421=2422=2423=2424=2425=2426=2427=2428=2429=2430=2431=2432=2433=2434=2435=2436=2437=2438=2439=2440=2441=2442=2443=2444=2445=2446=2447=2448=2449=2450=2451=2452=2453=2454=2455=2456=2457=2458=2459=2460=2461=2462=2463=2464=2465=2466=2467=2468=2469=2470=2471=2472=2473=2474=2475=2476=2477=2478=2479=2480=2481=2482=2483=2484=2485=2486=2487=2488=2489=2490=2491=2492=2493=2494=2495=2496=2497=2498=2499=2500=2501=2502=2503=2504=2505=2506=2507=2508=2509=2510=2511=2512=2513=2514=2515=2516=2517=2518=2519=2520=2521=2522=2523=2524=2525=2526=2527=2528=2529=2530=2531=2532=2533=2534=2535=2536=2537=2538=2539=2540=2541=2542=2543=2544=2545=2546=2547=2548=2549=2550=2551=2552=2553=2554=2555=2556=2557=2558=2559=2560=2561=2562=2563=2564=2565=2566=2567=2568=2569=2570=2571=2572=2573=2574=257 and found the corpse. Held that the statement to the police was not admissible. S. 2

tion contained in it unless the person who confesses is a person accused of any King Emperor v Nga Aung Bu, 402 Ind Cis 962. For the does not necessarily mean detention or confinement, but submission to custody by word or action under s 46(1) Cr Pro Code may be taken to amount to custody. Where the accused, who was suspected after the first report had been made, made a statement and pointed out the dead body to the police and his name was subsequently mentioned in second report. Held that the accused was not in any kind of custody at the time he made the statement and that it was consequently not admissible under s 27. Jalla v Emperor, 131 Ind Cis 93-32 Cr L J 650-A I R. 1931
 Lah 278

So much of the information as relates distinctly to facts thereby disas to the extent of the informaho first view is in favour of clates distinctly," so as to a limit ectly and immediately to the discovery of the fact that the Superintendent v

'Relates to' means distinctly' means
'undoubtedly'
 "clearly" or "definitely"
 In Queen v Pagase Singh, 19 W R Cr 51, the accused stated to the Sub-Inspecto (the deceased) by the neck, and pushed a plantain tree, and broke that the woman then and there remove the body took from it a concealed in the neighbouring jungle.

In consequence of this information, the accused was taken to the jungle pointed out by him, and he then produced from a concealed place, the necklace and sed of the and might be proved against the accused. So it is clear from this case that the Court in this case followed the first view. But West J in Reg v Jora Hayi, 11 B H C R 42, took a as will be is not all sta which are n

5. 27. this would guard prison
For instance killed Rama went to the confession in

prisoner has said, 'I placed a sword or knife in such a spot,' when it was found that too, though it involves an admission of a particular act on the part of the prisoner, is not admissible, because it is the information which is directly led to the discovery, and is thus directly and independently of any other statement connected with it. But if, besides this, the prisoner has said what would lead to put the knife or sword where it has been found, that part of his statements it is not furthered, much less caused, the discovery, is not admissible. T submitted that the case of Queen v. Pajares Siba, 19 W. R. 51 is not reconcilable with the principle laid down in Reg. v. Jora Haspi, 11 B. H. O. R. 247, Empress v. Rama Bhaya, 3 B. 12, Queen Empress v. Babu Lal, I. L. R. 11 503, Shikhar v. Queen Empress, 11 C. 675; Queen Empress v. Commr. Siba, 12 W. 153, Queen

Adul Shikhar
to the assault.

subsequent discovery

refers to his taking the ornaments and concealing it in the jungle" 5 W. R.
Four Article

In R of views on subject of

councils and at the Bench at the of very eminent Judges of the High Courts in India. A. I. R. 1929 Journal 101

In Sulhan v. Emperor, A. I. R. 1929 Lah 311 (F. B.) the question of the admissibility of an incriminating statement made by an accused while he is in the custody of a police officer was considered. The prisoner in that case was tried for the murder of a boy who his disappearance but the ornaments recovered from a well. At the trial the Superintendent of Police stated the fact that in consequence of information received from the prisoner he had recovered from one Alah Din silver karas (bangles) which were proved to be the karas which the boy was wearing when he was last seen. The witness was then asked to disclose the information communicated to him by the accused which caused the discovery of the fact deposed to by him, and he stated that the prisoner had during the investigation, made the following statement: "I had removed the karas, had pushed the boy into the well and had killed the boy with Alah Din." The trial Judge

Tek Chand and Aga Haidar J. referred to the Full Bench, the confession

Shah

said "No

confession

ore solving in evidence, cer If this mining the

S. 2

cludes, not only the physical fact which can be perceived by the senses, but also the psychological fact or mental condition of which any person is conscious. It is in the former sense that the word is used in section 27. The phrase 'fact discovered' used by the legislation refers to a material and not a mental fact. The fact discovered may be the stolen property, the instrument of the crime, the corpse of the person murdered or any other material thing, or it may be a material thing in relation to the place or the locality where it is found. Taking the present case as an illustration, the fact discovered is, not the larcas simpliciter, but the possession by Allah Din of the property of the accused.

possession by Allah Din

of the

s. 27

limitation accused fact. This condition follows from the phrase 'fact discovered' and also from the expression 'information' used by the

The information

pointed out, the wording of the section shows that the requirements of both the conditions specified above must be satisfied before an incriminating statement can be received in evidence. These conditions when combined lead us to the conclusion that the fact is provable which was the fact. Anything which is it does, an exception to the general rule, must receive a strict construction but also conforms to the principle upon which the exception is founded. The real difficulty arises in applying the test to the facts of a particular case. To illustrate this, let us take the case of a confession. A confession must be separated from the accused by the accused. It has been held in some judgments that the professional portion thereof given by the prisoner which relates to the fact includes not only the concrete thing discovered by the investigating officer, but also its connection with the crime of the information can be there is no legal justification for defeat the very object with must be proved in Emperor, A I R 1914

Man v Emperor, of the majority no hesitation in d the boy into the well is wholly inadmissible, as it relates to a separate matter and had no connection with the possession of the ornaments by Alla Din which was the only fact discovered. Nor do I think that the statement that the prisoner had removed the Laras from the boy can be regarded as immediate cause of the discovery. A man may remove the ornaments from the boy, but he may not give them to t the statement is admissible

ju v Emperor,

(1914)

In
 observe statement
 but in
 is cont

whole confession of a prisoner were the confession includes a the offences charged that part the discovery of the weapon Sogamuthu Padayachi, 50 M.
Bhan v Emperor, A I R 1936 expressed by Forde and Jaisil JJ in the minority judgment of Sukhan v.

27. I R 1929 Loh. 311 (P B) as well as in Mornam Singh v Emperor. So it is clear that the Full Bench case in English Common Law the section while the Madras Govt and Judicial ...

Madrid.

micro

and

1 for •

Act

En

USC144

effect of section 27, it must be a confession made to a police officer by a person in custody ■ admissible in evidence, provided the prosecution first shows that the confession has not been obtained by any improper means such as coercion, ■ Evidence Act, prohibits a confession if it comes within the ■ on the subject probably arises ■ In ■

...once it has been ...

the part confirmed, and thus of the case, for a confirmation on material points produces ample persuasion of the whole. It can hardly be supposed that at certain part can or part,
confessor or of the death case distrusting all, Wignore § 857

'If the exclusion of the confession rests altogether upon the probability that the confession is untrue, as we have seen, then if the prosecution produce evidence tending to show and sufficient to warrant the jury in finding that it is true, it ought to be received, for in such cases the reason of the exclusion is done away with. All the Courts recognize the propriety of this reasoning, but illogically decline to pursue it to its logical results. If one, accused of larceny, being put to torture, confess the crime and produce the goods from his own possession or disclose their concealment, and they are afterwards found in the place in evidence the fact of confession, but the finding of the

you may not in the same the owner's statement that he deposited the

But, I assert, in the case tends to corroborate declaration

10

the son fact fact confesses that

A statement
under section 27

The words:

so much of such distinctly to the information was used. This 175 Such portion of the confession made to me as is to the disadvantage of any fact am admissible under section 37 of the Act.

Jagan & Dhanuk v Emperor, 5 Pat 63=93 Ind Cas, 881=7 Pat L T 30

also Emperor of Police that committed

Held that of one transaction and the words used by the accused were admissible in evidence Bahadur v Emperor, 88 Ind Cas 7-26 Cr L J 1063-A I. R 1925 Sind 389

A statement made by an accused may be proved under section 27 of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, so far as it relates to any material fact discovered in consequence, statement was made Naina Malai ing an information by accused under ion must have had the direct effect of y Ramasami Boyan, In re, 11 L W 8-54 Ind Cas. 479 The accused made a statement during who is afterwards proved to be a dacoit is not the aning of s 27 of the Evidence Act. The test of of the Evidence Act, if an information received from an accused person in the custody of a police officer, is whether the fact so discovered was a direct natural and necessary consequence of the information so received Salam v Emperor, 11 N L R 193-43 Ind Cas 111-19 Cr

L J 79

Under s 27 it is legitimate to record evidence that an accused person said
"I will point out certain property" if such statement leads to a discovery, but it accused said "I will point out are of the booty in the dacoity"
W R (1918) Cr-44 Ind Cas
The King Emperor, 155 P L R.

1908-21 P W R 1908 Cr

It is not all statements made by an accused person connected with the production or finding of property which are admissible. It is only those immediately connected or directly pointed out, in the had taken the Panchu, 13 A

L J 1077

ience
the 7 Cr

used was nati,

2 Weir 736.

27. Emperor, A I R

Sulhan v.

and very probably b

Fforde J in Hornam

Act has been drafted,

English principles o effect of section 27, it must be borne in mind that where is in admi

conf

evid

any

Evide

it comes within on the subject rarely arises

ruins of the sect
well as Fforde and Jail J only the language of the sect n consideration as observed by

section 27

obtained by

section 27

section 27

section 27

section 27

section 27

section 27

section 27

section 27

section 27

section 27

section 27

section 27

section 27

section 27

section 27

section 27

section 27

section 27

section 27

section 27

section 27

section 27

section 27

section 27

section 27

section 27

section 27

section 27

section 27

section 27

section 27

section 27

section 27

section 27

section 27

section 27

section 27

section 27

section 27

section 27

parts the possible fiction stopper coincidence the truthful parts are needed to confirm. Such a difference actual mental processes, either of the re to cease distrusting any part, we should cease distrusting any

"If the exclusion of that the confession is untrue, evidence tending to show

it ought to be received, possession or disc found in the place in

the finding of the

you may not in the same case, according to the received opinion, he goods in the place where assert, in the case supposed, the not only tends to corroborate the

and there, but also his declaration that he stole them and concealed them at the place, if he make this statement

In o pass

Cour

prob

(that confesse

A st

under sec

The

so much information

received,

may be proved

Ilahibuz v Emperor, A I R 1915

175 Such portion of the confession made to the investigating officer as leads to the discovery of any fact are admissible under section 27 of the Evidence Act.

Jagann Dhanuk v Emperor, 5 Pat 63-93 Ind Cas. 884-7 Pat L T 33-37

different purpose in s 27. When the Legislature wished to make an exception to the absolute rule, it did so by a separate section, namely section 28, which declares under what circumstances a confession rendered irrelevant by s. 24 may become relevant. Statements that are irrelevant under one section of the Act may be relevant under some other section of the Act. No confession made under inducement, threat or promise provided for by s 28. King L. a confession must be taken.

in the confession which it disbelieves

Did inducement come into existence at all. The inducement is almost always addressed to the person in question, and thus becomes known to him as a fact. It was intended to be addressed to the person, but for him as an inducement. We must determine whether it was in fact present as an inducement? This will of course be a pure question of fact for the Judge, and no ruling can serve as a precedent, the conduct and language of the person will show whether he had the inducement in mind. The important question is whether the person was directly or indirectly induced to such a course of action, and if so, is he responsible by reason of the inducement? It is said to have been held in the case of a son who hears of his father's death, and hopes that it will not be true, that he would not be responsible.

Was the inducement brought to an end? "Here" says Prof Wigmore "five questions may arise (1) Must it be shown clearly that an improper
Are there any situations
, and thus the inducement, n? Can the same person who has offered the inducement put an end to it so as to make admissible a confession afterwards made to himself? (4) Are confessions made subsequently, but to a person different from the one offering the inducement, to be treated as not made under the inducement, or must it be shown to have been negruved by the second person? (5) What suffices, in general, to end the inducement?
Wigmore § 855

Subsequent ending of improper inducement There must be strong and cogent evidence that the influence of the inducement really has ceased. In R v Sherrington, 2 Den C C 123, Patteson J said ‘There ought to be strong evidence to show that the impression, under which the first confession was made, was afterwards removed, before the second confession can be received. I am of led to have made the first, the interval of the result of reflection suspected of stealing Id forgive her if she was taken before a Magistrate and, no one receivable in evidence, as the promise of the mistress must be considered as still operating on the prisoner's mind at the time of the statement, but that if the mistress had not been present it might have been otherwise. R v Hewitt, 1 Car & M. 534; R v Rur, 13 Cox Cr 209. So the general principle is universally conceded that the subsequent ending of an improper inducement

S. 28. must be shown, it is as well to have continued until the contrary is shown Wigmore § 855, see also R v Cleverton, 2 F & F 533 This inducement may be removed by subsequent caution R v Hornbrook, 1 Cox Cr 51 R v Hor 1 Cox Cr 361, R v Collier, 1 Cox Cr 77; Berjinn's Case, 1 Ir Cr C R 171 R v Bryan, Jebb Cr 157, R v House, 6 C & P. 101

Can inducement be irrevocable? The next question raised by Wigmore is whether there is any situation in which it cannot be shown that inducement, once offered has been brought to an end? In an earlier question he said 'There is nothing permanently irrevocable in an inducement, whether it has been brought to an end is, in all respects, always open to inquiry' Wigmore § 855

A person who has offered inducement can put an end to it. It has not been decided specifically whether the same person may put an end to an inducement of his own making. But there is no reason why he cannot. Wigmore § 855. Where a Magistrate told a prisoner that if he did not strike the first blow and would tell all he knew, he would use his influence to protect him. He afterwards communicated to the prisoner a letter from the Secretary of State declining to give pardon. C & P 221. Nor do I think that this declaration with Magistrate after given by the Coroner must be taken to have completely put an end to all the hopes that had been held out.

Inducement offered by one person and confession made to another. 'There is on principle no reason for assuming that a promise or a threat made by one person will be treated by the accused as equally to be attributed to some other person who had no share in the other's conduct and shows no power or inclination to corroborate his promise or threat. Nevertheless, if the inducement may on the facts, prove to be in effect the second person's as much as the first one's. It should thus be a question to be determined in each case, no general rule can be laid down. Wigmore § 855, see also Curly's Trial, (Ire) 20 How St Tr 889 R v Bell, McNaughton Ev 13 R v Tyler, 1 C & P 129, R v Cleverton 4 C & P 223

What suffices in general to end an inducement. If the impression produced by the promise or threat is clearly shown to have been removed—e.g., by lapse of time or by an intervening caution given by some person of superior (but not of equal or inferior) authority to the person holding out the inducement—a confession subsequently made will be strictly receivable. Philp Ev 20. And Where a prisoner confessed some port in 1871 R v Bate 11 Cox Cr 171

Magistrate had told the prisoner that, if he would make a disclosure, he would do all that he could for him. The prisoner after he was committed to the statement to the turnkey of the prison who had held out no inducement to him.

prevent the superior from carrying his promise into effect' Russ v C p 2184, S, see also R v Gilham 1 Mood 136, per Littledale J Where a collecting pan-removed therefrom Imperoi v Ganesh, 74 Ind Crs 264=50 C 127, Queen v Luchoo, 3 N W P 86, Reg v Navroji, 9 B H C R 358

In the opinion of the Court It is for the Court to decide whether the impression caused by inducement threat or promise has been fully removed So where promises or threats have been once used of such a nature as to render a confession inadmissible, all subsequent admissions of the same or like facts will be rejected, unless from the length of time intervening, from proper warning of the consequences or from other circumstances there be good reason to presume, that the delusive hope or fear which influenced the first confession has been effectually dispelled Joy on Conf 69, R v Hewitt, C & Marsh 534, R v Cooper, 11 C & P 534, R v Russ it appears to the satisfaction away with before the confession was

Fv § 221 So, where the prisoner had been induced, by promises of favour to make a confession, which was for that cause excluded but about five months by two Magistrates that he made a full confession this Case, 5 Halst 180 In this the length of time intervening or from proper warning of the consequences of confession, or from other circumstances, that the delusive hopes or fears under the influence of which the original confession was obtained were entirely dispelled Guild's Case, 5 Halst 180, R v Chererton 2 F & T 833 But other wise the evidence of a subsequent confession made on the basis of a prior one unduly obtained will be rejected Com Harman 4 Burr 269 In the absence of any such circumstances the influence of the motives proved to have been offered will be presumed to continue, and to have produced the confession, unless the contrary is shown by clear evidence, and the confession will therefore be rejected State v Roberts 1 Dev 259, Greent Ev § 221 If there

2 Q B 12=62 L J M C 93=17 Cox Cr 641, See also R v Jose 18 Cox Cr 717=67 L J Q B 289 R v Smith (1897) Loscree Cr Ld 47

29 If such a confession is otherwise relevant it does not become irrelevant merely because it was made under a promise of secrecy, or in consequence of a deception practised on the accused person for the purpose of obtaining it, or

Confession otherwise relevant not to become irrelevant because of promise of secrecy, etc

29. when he was drunk, or because it was made in answer to questions which he need not have answered, whatever may have been the form of those questions, or because he was not warned that he was not bound to make such confession, and that evidence of it might be given against him.

Rule criticised. 'The rule of procedure' says Mr. Chamberlayne "which rejects so-called 'involuntary' confessions induced by threats or promises by those in authority is based entirely upon an assumption. In reality, like other rules of procedure, it is a mere law controlling the normal exercise of the law. As at present conducted it proceeds upon the assumption that the accused, and even, as has been suggested, frequently operates against him by substituting private, irresponsible investigation for responsible official inquiry. The rule assumes that those in authority over legal criminal proceedings ought, in the public interest, to refrain from placing pressure upon the free will of their prisoners. What injury is done by the confession of private persons is none of their business."

actually a person in he sees fit in connection by way of hope or fear he not one as to benefit or injury connected proceedings it is not important that it be held out to the accused by one in authority. Neither situation brings into operation the special work of procedure or substantive law in this connection. This consists in rejection without weighing the statement itself."—Chamberlayne's Ev § 1533.

Scope. Confession procured by deception or under promise of secrecy are not, on this account alone, rendered inadmissible. This, of course applies to confessions which otherwise satisfy the conditions prescribed for admissibility of obtaining a confession, regard to it R v Shar confession inadmissible if obtained by fraud or

Mc
been however the statement merely be Magistrate,
even though

Promise of secrecy. 'If no inducement has been held out remain the charge,' says Mr. Taylor, "It matters not in what way the confession has been obtained." Taylor § 881. It is not necessary that it should have been the prisoner's own spontaneous act. So it will be received, though it were induced by a solemn promise of secrecy, even if R v Shar, 6 C. & P. 372; Com v Knapp, 9 Pick 496, (54- prisoner had been committed on a him, 'I wish you would tell me how you murdered the boy, pray prisoner said "Will you be upon your oath not to mention what I tell you. The other prisoner went upon his oath, and he hoped, if he told that he might have made a statement. It was inadmissible."

s. 1535 (a)

Deception. A free and voluntary confession is not inadmissible because it was originally obtained by an artifice practised on the accused by officers having been in charge, or by other persons, if the means employed were not calculated to cause him to make an untrue statement. People v McMahon, 15 N Y 384. So it is no objection that some of the artifice has been explained. Ev (7th Ed) also where a confession is obtained into the possession of the accused.

gave it to the visiting Garrows B, held that the in making an objection, who
in my here thing J in
in when at the bar overruled it. In 1 B L R Cr

the confession,
that the accused

Act expressly says that a confession made in consequence of deception is not to be excluded. The question, however, is of importance. The main point is, is it true? (People v McMahon, 15 N Y 384). It turns, not so much upon the nature of the deception, but upon the motive obtaining and the charge on the truth of the guilt of the officer, a promise made to him, or the nature of the decoy were in promise of a confession.

- 29 always been in regard to confessions made by a person when under arrest to the authority over him, they have not gone so far as to exclude them simply because they were procured by deception provided they were voluntarily made. They are careful, however, to leave the credibility of the witness who procured the deception and the circumstances under which the confession was made to the consideration of the jury. In Imeri it has been held that a confession procured by a person who by falsely representing himself to be an attorney obtained the confidence of the prisoner, was inadmissible. Cotton v State, 87 Ala. 119; Comwealth, 77 S W 63. "A man who will deliberately say, 'I betrayed the ... every means in confession of ... the downfall of ... of a very high thing is really good evidence' ... where Howland ... but as a matter of law called forth an admission Cr 228 sympathetic fellow prisoner. Howland ... the inadmissibility of the confession is ... Li § 1538(b)

False personation. A confession is none the less admissible because of the person to whom made ...

Confessions overheard statements made while asleep. A person who may overhear the remarks of a prisoner made to himself or to another person as his wife or an attorney or spiritual adviser, who is incompetent as a witness to privileged communications may testify to what he has heard. Rea v State 6 C & P 510 see also Queen v Sajina 7 W R Cr 36, R v Gardner 11 Cr A R 265—But not to incriminating declarations made during sleep for the declarant is then unconscious of what he was saying. People v Foban 13 Cal 40 (Am), R v Elizabeth Kent Sum Ass 1839, Gore v Gibson 13 W & W 623, Best 11th Ed 511. A confession constituting a part of a prayer may be proved by one who overheard it, though he may not be able to prove the whole prayer. Woodford v State 85 Ga 69 (Am). A confession made to another prisoner, under the erroneous impression that one prisoner cannot testify against the other, is not for that reason inadmissible. State v Mitell, Phil (N Car) p 147 (Am). A confession to a fellow prisoner in jail, procured by the latter's spirit to be rejected. v State, 50 Ga was again charging H were read by a sergeant to the three together, purposely to the admissions, though evidence of what then took place is strictly admissible to the trial Judge, if satisfied of such a purpose ought to exclude it. R v Gardner 11 Cr A R 265, R v Grayson 16 Cr A R 7, R v Pilley 16 Cr A R 100. R v Turner, 19 Cr A R 191

Misleading inducements. Illegality. Not only may deception, treachery, any unfair treatment says Mr Chamberlaine 'be employed for the attainment of an reliable and trustworthy, merely, because obtained by means of an ... violation of the prisoner's privilege against compulsory self incrimination is entirely without support in legal analogy. The confession, viewed as extorted by one act of duress, stands in a different position. It is not the act of the declarant. Accordingly, he is not responsible for it." Chamberlayne's Ev § 1539

S. 2

When he was drunk. Confessions made by the accused when under the influence of liquor are not thereby rendered inadmissible. R v Spilsbury, 7 C & P 187. In the last named case Coleridge J said: "I am of opinion that a statement made by a prisoner while he was drunk is not therefore inadmissible, it must be obtained either by hope or fear. This is matter of observation for me, upon the weight that ought to attach to this statement when it is considered by the jury." This is the rule, even where the intoxication was produced by liquor given to him by the officers having him in charge for the sole purpose of cated as to be incapable of understanding what he says or does his confession should not be used against him. Com v Howe 9 Gray (Mass) 110. Eschwege v State, 25 Ala 30. The question as to the mental condition of the accused at the

the confession the Court would not submit the confession to the jury at all. McKelvey's Ev § 92

Some recent cases of America, however reject confessions thus obtained because of the trick practised. But the general rule has been sustained even where the accused was suffering from delirium tremens if he was mentally and physically able to describe past events and to state his own participation in the crime. The intoxication of the accused at the time of making a confession may be used as evidence

It is by no means for with men of a moral exaggerated state permitted to show that statements made with him he has done this the him speaking that he appear 11 Cr Ev § 136

this is subject to some exceptions which will be found collected in the case of Volton v Cimroux, 2 Exch 487, Best Ev § 529

Confession in answer to questions. A confession is also not to be rejected merely because it has been elicited by questions put to the prisoner. Taylor § 841. But this statement of law must be read subject to the provisions of sections 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100, 101, 102, 103, 104, 105, 106, 107, 108, 109, 110, 111, 112, 113, 114, 115, 116, 117, 118, 119, 120, 121, 122, 123, 124, 125, 126, 127, 128, 129, 130, 131, 132, 133, 134, 135, 136, 137, 138, 139, 140, 141, 142, 143, 144, 145, 146, 147, 148, 149, 150, 151, 152, 153, 154, 155, 156, 157, 158, 159, 160, 161, 162, 163, 164, 165, 166, 167, 168, 169, 170, 171, 172, 173, 174, 175, 176, 177, 178, 179, 180, 181, 182, 183, 184, 185, 186, 187, 188, 189, 190, 191, 192, 193, 194, 195, 196, 197, 198, 199, 200, 201, 202, 203, 204, 205, 206, 207, 208, 209, 210, 211, 212, 213, 214, 215, 216, 217, 218, 219, 220, 221, 222, 223, 224, 225, 226, 227, 228, 229, 230, 231, 232, 233, 234, 235, 236, 237, 238, 239, 240, 241, 242, 243, 244, 245, 246, 247, 248, 249, 250, 251, 252, 253, 254, 255, 256, 257, 258, 259, 260, 261, 262, 263, 264, 265, 266, 267, 268, 269, 270, 271, 272, 273, 274, 275, 276, 277, 278, 279, 280, 281, 282, 283, 284, 285, 286, 287, 288, 289, 290, 291, 292, 293, 294, 295, 296, 297, 298, 299, 300, 301, 302, 303, 304, 305, 306, 307, 308, 309, 310, 311, 312, 313, 314, 315, 316, 317, 318, 319, 320, 321, 322, 323, 324, 325, 326, 327, 328, 329, 330, 331, 332, 333, 334, 335, 336, 337, 338, 339, 340, 341, 342, 343, 344, 345, 346, 347, 348, 349, 350, 351, 352, 353, 354, 355, 356, 357, 358, 359, 360, 361, 362, 363, 364, 365, 366, 367, 368, 369, 370, 371, 372, 373, 374, 375, 376, 377, 378, 379, 380, 381, 382, 383, 384, 385, 386, 387, 388, 389, 390, 391, 392, 393, 394, 395, 396, 397, 398, 399, 400, 401, 402, 403, 404, 405, 406, 407, 408, 409, 410, 411, 412, 413, 414, 415, 416, 417, 418, 419, 420, 421, 422, 423, 424, 425, 426, 427, 428, 429, 430, 431, 432, 433, 434, 435, 436, 437, 438, 439, 440, 441, 442, 443, 444, 445, 446, 447, 448, 449, 450, 451, 452, 453, 454, 455, 456, 457, 458, 459, 460, 461, 462, 463, 464, 465, 466, 467, 468, 469, 470, 471, 472, 473, 474, 475, 476, 477, 478, 479, 480, 481, 482, 483, 484, 485, 486, 487, 488, 489, 490, 491, 492, 493, 494, 495, 496, 497, 498, 499, 500, 501, 502, 503, 504, 505, 506, 507, 508, 509, 510, 511, 512, 513, 514, 515, 516, 517, 518, 519, 520, 521, 522, 523, 524, 525, 526, 527, 528, 529, 530, 531, 532, 533, 534, 535, 536, 537, 538, 539, 540, 541, 542, 543, 544, 545, 546, 547, 548, 549, 550, 551, 552, 553, 554, 555, 556, 557, 558, 559, 560, 561, 562, 563, 564, 565, 566, 567, 568, 569, 570, 571, 572, 573, 574, 575, 576, 577, 578, 579, 580, 581, 582, 583, 584, 585, 586, 587, 588, 589, 590, 591, 592, 593, 594, 595, 596, 597, 598, 599, 600, 601, 602, 603, 604, 605, 606, 607, 608, 609, 610, 611, 612, 613, 614, 615, 616, 617, 618, 619, 620, 621, 622, 623, 624, 625, 626, 627, 628, 629, 630, 631, 632, 633, 634, 635, 636, 637, 638, 639, 640, 641, 642, 643, 644, 645, 646, 647, 648, 649, 650, 651, 652, 653, 654, 655, 656, 657, 658, 659, 660, 661, 662, 663, 664, 665, 666, 667, 668, 669, 670, 671, 672, 673, 674, 675, 676, 677, 678, 679, 680, 681, 682, 683, 684, 685, 686, 687, 688, 689, 690, 691, 692, 693, 694, 695, 696, 697, 698, 699, 700, 701, 702, 703, 704, 705, 706, 707, 708, 709, 710, 711, 712, 713, 714, 715, 716, 717, 718, 719, 720, 721, 722, 723, 724, 725, 726, 727, 728, 729, 730, 731, 732, 733, 734, 735, 736, 737, 738, 739, 740, 741, 742, 743, 744, 745, 746, 747, 748, 749, 750, 751, 752, 753, 754, 755, 756, 757, 758, 759, 760, 761, 762, 763, 764, 765, 766, 767, 768, 769, 770, 771, 772, 773, 774, 775, 776, 777, 778, 779, 780, 781, 782, 783, 784, 785, 786, 787, 788, 789, 790, 791, 792, 793, 794, 795, 796, 797, 798, 799, 800, 801, 802, 803, 804, 805, 806, 807, 808, 809, 810, 811, 812, 813, 814, 815, 816, 817, 818, 819, 820, 821, 822, 823, 824, 825, 826, 827, 828, 829, 830, 831, 832, 833, 834, 835, 836, 837, 838, 839, 840, 841, 842, 843, 844, 845, 846, 847, 848, 849, 850, 851, 852, 853, 854, 855, 856, 857, 858, 859, 860, 861, 862, 863, 864, 865, 866, 867, 868, 869, 870, 871, 872, 873, 874, 875, 876, 877, 878, 879, 880, 881, 882, 883, 884, 885, 886, 887, 888, 889, 890, 891, 892, 893, 894, 895, 896, 897, 898, 899, 900, 901, 902, 903, 904, 905, 906, 907, 908, 909, 910, 911, 912, 913, 914, 915, 916, 917, 918, 919, 920, 921, 922, 923, 924, 925, 926, 927, 928, 929, 930, 931, 932, 933, 934, 935, 936, 937, 938, 939, 940, 941, 942, 943, 944, 945, 946, 947, 948, 949, 950, 951, 952, 953, 954, 955, 956, 957, 958, 959, 960, 961, 962, 963, 964, 965, 966, 967, 968, 969, 970, 971, 972, 973, 974, 975, 976, 977, 978, 979, 980, 981, 982, 983, 984, 985, 986, 987, 988, 989, 990, 991, 992, 993, 994, 995, 996, 997, 998, 999, 1000 form of the question is immaterial even though it is sure the prisoner. R v Hill 1 Moo C C 152, R v Thornton 1 Moo C C 27, R v Kerr 9 C & P 179, per Park J. A confession, in other respects admissible is not invalid because it is not the spontaneous utterance of the prisoner. The fact that confession was obtained by the employment of persistent questioning alone excludes it, (State v Pennell, 113 Iowa, 691) but the practice of confession by putting questions after questions to the accused is conducive to the procurement of truth, and the mode in which the

29

was elicited may always be considered by the jury to determine what they shall hold it. Underhill Cr Ev § 110. In R v Ellis, Ry & Moo 12, Littledale J admitted a statement of an accused on examination before a Magistrate without threat or promise but upon questioning and after refusal to allow counsel. The case was decided by following an unreported ruling of Hobbs J and disapproving Wilson's Case 1 & R v Wilson, Holt. N P 30, where Richard C B is following such statements and 'An examination of itself implies an admission to speak the truth, if a prisoner will confess that to so voluntarily. Mr J, also relies his authority as to the practice in habeas corpus confession. Joy Croft 104, 10 also o R v Tully, 5 C & P 550, R v Lucas 7 C & P 177, R v Wheel, 8 C & P 30, where this practice was accepted indirectly. An answer given by the prisoner to a question put to him by a Magistrate was rejected by Parke C J in R v Lister 111, 6 Cox Cr 303. Queen v Adair 1 B L R 15.

The mere fact that a statement in a confession was elicited by a question put to the Magistrate or that it does not make it irrelevant as a confession. But the fact may be very material to an enquiry as to whether the confession is voluntary or not. Bhartha Kumar v The Emperor, 14 C W N 1114-37 C 467. In King Emperor v Promotha 30 C L J 503 the Court in rejecting a confession obtained by continued questioning observed: 'His confession in our opinion cannot upon the evidence made by the prosecution, be said to be voluntary. The evidence is that he was kept at a little distance from the Post Office in charge of a head constable and was being questioned by the Sub-Inspector and that after being in that condition for 3 or 4 hours, to the words of the learned Judge 'and the continued questioning to which he was subjected he finally broke down'. If there is reason to think that the confession was induced by the pressure of questions by one in authority or in order to escape from his custody it should be rejected. R v Knight 20 Cox 711-69 J P 168.

In England the controversy on this point is now closed by Reg v East (1900) 1 K B 692-76 L J K B 658 where Lord Alverstone C J said: 'In our opinion it is quite impossible to say that the fact that a question of this kind has been asked invalidates the trial. There are many cases in which the prisoner is entitled to give an explanation as to anything found upon him, and he may be able in answering the question to say and show that the thing found was his own property. In our opinion Reg v Grim 15 Cox C C 626 was not properly decided. It is commented on in a note printed at the end of the report. The decision has not been followed to its full extent as appears from Reg v Drachenbury 17 Cox C C 678. The statement of law as set out in the report is too wide and requires qualification. So this case practically overrules Reg v Gaim 15 Cox C C 556 and Reg v Vab 17 Cox C C 589. In R v Miller 18 Cox Cr C 54 Hankins J said that it was impossible to discover the facts of a crime without asking questions, and as he held that the questions were properly put after due warning he admitted evidence of defendant answers, saying that every case must be decided according to the whole of the circumstances. Roscoe Cr Ev 10, see also R v Hirst 18 Cox Cr C 374. R v Hirst 19 Cox Cr C 16, Lewis v Harris 24 Cox Cr C 66-110 L T 337. All these authorities were considered in Abraham v Reg, 83 L J P C 185-(1914) A C 590-91 Cox C C 174. A private in an Indian regiment murdered one of the officers. Shortly afterwards, while he was in custody the commanding officer asked him 'why have you done such a senseless act?' and he replied 'Some three or four days he has been abusing me, and without doubt I killed him'. The confession was admitted. Lord Sumner in delivering the judgment of the Judicial Committee (Lord Haldane L C Lord Atkinson, Lord Shaw Lord Moulton and Lord Sumner) said 'if the matter is one for the (trial) Judge's discretion depending largely on his views of the impropriety of the questioner's conduct and the general circumstances of the case' it was not improperly excluded. 'Then after reviewing a large number of cases, he added The English law is still unsettled strange as it may seem since the point is one which constantly occurs in criminal trials. Many Judges, in their discretion, exclude such evidence, for they fear nothing less than that the exclusion of all such statements can prevent improper questioning of prisoners by removing the inducement to resort to it. Having regard to the particular position in which their Lordships stand to criminal proceedings, they do not propose to intimate what they think the rule of English Law ought to be, much as it is to be desired, that the point should be settled by authority, so far as a general rule can be laid down where circumstances so greatly vary. S.

Want of warning. A voluntary confession is evidence, to whomsoever it may have been made, that what he might say was not so warned. R v Long, 6 C & P 179; R v Empress v Ucer, 10 C of the duty of a Magistrate to tell an accused person that anything he may say will go as evidence against him." See also Queen v Nobodoe, 1 R. L. R. Cr 15-15 W R Cr 71. Answers to questions under that section are admissible in evidence, even if the Magistrate has omitted to warn the accused that he need not answer. Dinoo Roy and others, 16 W R Cr 21, 5 Mad H C. App 9. But sub-section (3) of section 161 of Criminal Procedure Code enacts "A magistrate shall, before recording any such confession, explain to the person making it that he is not bound to make a confession and that if he does so it may be used as evidence shall record any such confession unless, upon he has reason to believe that it was made

Act XVIII of 1923

§ 775 Now the

Balram Singh v

1, 6 Lah 183-26

Hari, 30 C W N

Luc Sin v King

Lah 325 A statement of an accused, a suspect, made at an inquest before a Coroner is clearly admissible, either as a confession under s 16 or as a statement made by a party to proceeding under ss 18 and 21 of the Evidence Act. As regards the objection that such a confession is not relevant in as much as the Coroner did not warn Pendse referred to section 161 of the Criminal Procedure Code as containing a general principle to the contrary. But that is a special enactment applying only to certain statements made in particular circumstances contemplated by s 161.

R v Ellis, Ry & Moo 432 and R v Gilham, 1 Mood Cr C 186, 191 are more

30. When more persons than one are being tried jointly

Consideration of proved confession affecting person making it and others jointly under trial for same offence for the same offence, and a confession made by one of such persons affecting himself and some other of such persons is proved, the Court may take into consideration such

S. 30. confession as against such other persons as well as against the person who makes such confession.

* Explanation.—"Offence" as used in this section, includes the abetment of, or attempt, to commit the offence.

Illustrations

(a) A and B are jointly tried for the murder of C. It is proved that A and B murdered C. The Court may consider the effect of this confession as against B.

(b) A is on his trial for the murder of C, and it is proved that C was murdered by A and B, and if

This statement may not be taken into consideration as against B as B is not being jointly tried.

Principle. This section is entirely new. There was no such provision either in Act II of 1857, or in Act II of 1861 and 1872. Before the passing of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, the confession of an accused person was only evidence against him-self. (Queen v. Hall, 11 Cr. 181; Queen v. W. R. 51 (1)) and it could not be taken as corroborative evidence at all, against any body other than him-self. (Queen v. Brindley, 11 Cr. 183 (1)). So the confession of one prisoner could not be used as corroborative evidence against another. ("Until the confession of one prisoner could not be used as corroborative evidence against another.") by the confessing person it were of the sanction

* This Explanation was inserted in s. 30 by the Indian Evidence Act Amendment Act, 1891 (3 of 1891) s. 4.

another, but confessions guaranteed
 The reason character is :
 Judges are provision, that, when more persons than one are tried for an offence, and one of them makes a confession affecting himself and any other of the accused, the

for the Indian Evidence Act, ho ion, in fact, was one of those rules which though well adopted to trials for Jury, are meaningless and out of place on occasions where the functions of Judge and Jury are con to consider whether the prosecutors and under the present system it is better to follow the wise advice of the writer cited by Justice Cunningham, where he says 'The policy of the dangerous innovation Per Glover J in Queen v Jaffir Ali, 19 W R. 57 (64) Cr ; Queen v Sadhu Mundle, 21 W R 69 (79) per Phear J in Mad J Journal and was a confession

Lalaram, 81 Ind Cas 817

Sadhu Mund

N S. 19

section 30, Act I of 1872, be 'considered' as against other parties then on their trial with them, but such confessions, when used as evidence against others, trial jointly for the same offence, can be used under s 30 of the Evidence Act

30. The section is not to be treated as though the words "at the trial" were inserted after "made" and the word "recorded" substituted for "proved." Queen Empress v Tunga, Rat. Un Cr C 510 = Cr. Rg 30 of 1890. Confessions made by an accused person may be considered against persons who are tried with him, but they cannot be accepted as evidence of any fact necessary to constitute the offence. In re Kalyappa Goundan, 2 Weir 711. In order that a confession of an accused person may be admissible as against the other accused tried with him, it is not necessary that the confession should have been made in the latter's presence. 2 Weir 745. When this section lays down that the Judge may consider a fact in certain circumstances it plainly declares that fact to be relevant in those circumstances. Gobraya v. Emperor, A. I. R. 1330 Nag. 243 (F B) = 26 N L R 229 = 125 Ind Cas. 673.

Section 30 does not refer to statements made at the trial but the statements made before and proved at the trial. Gounda v. Emperor, A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 28; Emperor v Mahadev Prosad, A. I. R. 1928 All 322 = 45 A. 323, Empress v Ashutosh Chakravarty, 1 C 183 = 3 C L R 270, but see In re Bal Reddi, 33 M 302 = 22 Ind Cas 167 = 15 Cr L J 13, where Auling J held that there was no reason why confessions taken into consideration in J. in Emperor v Mahadev.
 accused person is entitled called upon for a defence in no mere form but with certain exceptions closes the door to any further evidence against him. "If a prior confession is to be proved, he can attack it by cross examination of the witness who proved it."
 the dock after the prosecution case has closed.
Per Waller J in Gound v Emperor, sup.
 Act is not limited to cases where the stances of each case tion of the confession accomplice evidence

 K. B 658, a c to lay down r applicable to tion does not the accomplice
 3 Cox C C 1
 Magistrate w evidence thus person to wh

Magistrate's Court when examined as a witness in the Sessions Court. Queen Empress v Nagu, A. W. N 1891, 184. Section 30 merely enacts a special exception to the general rule that a confession (admission) can be proved (only) against the person who made it. It does not limit the operation of s. 32. Illius ratioc (b) to section 30 cannot be construed to have this effect. Aga Po Im v King Emperor, U B R 1906, Evidence 3 = 5 Cr L J 300. Where an accused person makes a confession, the most that could be taken into consideration on such a statement against a co-accused would be, under sections 27 and 30 of the Evidence Act, so much of the information as was the immediate cause of the discovery of some relevant fact against him. In re Sankappa Rao, 18 M. L. J. 66-31 M. L. J. 127-3 M. L. T. 270-7 Cr. L. J. 325. Prior to the Evidence Act the rule not accused. Shambhu v. Emperor A. I. R. 1933 All. 228-1932 A. L. J. 163

L. W. 474

confession of one prisoner the confession, applies prisoner tried at the

section are the criminal sessions update
Pat
intly fence
con

the other accused and the confession was evidence against them all. King Emperor v. Dep, 37 A. 347

A person escaping from custody during the trial but, before charge, who has been tried separately after re-arrest, cannot be said to have been jointly tried with the person whose trial, from a stage prior to the charge, was separate. Hassan

abatement of it before hand and being present during its commission, were held to be jointly

S. 30. tried for the same offence within the meaning of a 30 P R person;

mitted the murder ed upon his trial—the used the statement of the first. Held that accused person's statement was not admissible against the first, either under section 327, Cr Pro Code, 1872, or ss 30 and 133, Evidence Act. Croft v Jhobu, 13 P R 1878 Cr.

s when the confes-
he be called still join this section again t co-accused. In Acq v Kaku Patel 11 B R C R 116 Cr et al. cited.

when the Assistant Judge, in framing his judgment took his evidence into consideration. Imperatrix v Dalu Patel, 5 B 63; Venka Sams v Queen, 7 W 10 Imper 1895.

in Acq v Pachiy, 19 E Purbhu, 1895 A

trial taken with Case person
this w
evidence

the trial without convicting those of the accused who pleaded guilty, yet, it is unfair to defer convicting them merely in order that their confessions may be considered against the other accused who are being tried with them. Queen v Empress v Paltua, 23 A 52=A W N 1900, 192; Emperor v Akoraj, 30 A 540.

Where the statements of two of several co-accused persons followed their plea of guilty, held they were not entitled to be considered as evidence against the other accused persons and that, in those circumstances, they ceased to be statements of persons. Queen v Shuldham, 44 P.

Acq v Acq v, 33 C 410, 1895 A essarily end as soon as he pleads guilty of these courses has been expli guilty is left in the dock merely to him, though the Court intends In such a case, it will not be fair to allow his confession to be considered as taken into consideration against them under s. 30, Evidence Act, appears to he is still an accused person and is, therefore, not a competent witness against trial was good. Sukdev v. Emperor, 9 C. L. J. 291=13 C. W. N. 552.

A. I. R. 1928 Lab. 880=111 Ind. Cas. 387=29 Cr. L. J. 835; Kanhaya v. Emperor, 15 P. R. 1911=12 Ind. Cas. 381=51 P. W. R. Cr. 1911; Fakhruddin v. Emperor 302;

A confessed
Judge subsequently conceded the charge against A into one of abetment B, who was new trial.
Evidence

could not be allowed in appeal since the two charges were so nearly related, and there was no such material prejudice as would under ss. 447 to 449 of the

S. 30.

is tried but of a minor offence, it does not satisfy the requirements of the Evidence Act. In a case but not in the present case the confession was inadmissible. 70 = 61 Ind Cas 793 of the Cr Procedure (co-accused, the provision to a case like the present. Ambirulla v Empress, 22 C W N 403.

Two persons were jointly tried, the former for criminal breach of trust and the latter for the abetment of that offence. The only evidence against the latter was the confession made by the co-accused, such unsupportable evidence made the trial alone, Thalur Singh v Jita Singh, A W N 1831, 164.

An accused person and another co-accused were tried together for an offence. The accused, though only liable for abetment of the offence, was found to have been present at the time of the commission of the offence. Held, that under s. 114 I P Code, the accused stood in the same position as if he himself had committed the offence; that his trial with the co-accused was proper, and that the confession made by the co-accused in such trial could be taken into consideration under s. 30 of the Evidence Act against the accused. Thalur Singh v having before it the definition of an abettor in enacting s. 30 Evidence Act and in the latter section included the "abetment of an offence" also if the intention really was that section 30 was to be so understood. But if the offence abetted is committed as the result of an abetment and the abettor is present at its commission, the abettor must be held to have committed the substantive offence. Queen Empress v Kaldin, S C 143 Oudh (but now this objection has been removed by adding of the explanation by Act 3 of 1891); but see Teja v Empress, 51 P R

pa, Rat Un Cr ~
Cr. C 450

3 tried under s. 411 I P
457, cannot be considered
P. Code, are distinct of now within the meaning of s. 30, Evidence Act. Nga Po Tok v K E, U B. & R 1911, 4th Cr 159 = 20 Ind Cas 136 = 14 Cr I, J 376. Where two persons were

, though it appeared to the Magistrate charged with abetment of the offence with which Empress v Hira Lal, A W N 1893, 63, see also

Maya Singh v. Empress, 9 P R 1886 Cr.; Nur Ahmed v Crown, 8 P R 1874
Cr., Badri v. Queen Empress, 7 M. 579, Empress v Bala Patel, B 63 = 5 Ind

Ghena v. Emperor, A. I. R. 1932 Lah. 180.

Confession. This section must be strictly construed. It makes a clear distinction between an admission and a confession. It is only under this section that the confession of one of two or more accused, jointly tried for the same offence, can be taken into consideration against the rest. It must be a confession to be so admissible, that is, it must affect both the person confessing and must not be a confession of being an abettor or of being an accomplice. It is one whom it is tendered" was against also Empress v. Day A 114; see Queen v. Belat Ali, 19 W R 10.

Queen v. Khukree Oara
Queen v. Naga, 23 W
Choudhury, 25 W R.

for which they are being to the section abettors
I. R. 1931 Mad 177

A statement by an accused person consisting of the vague accusations of a

who was not charged with 5 Cr The confession of a he does not substantially implicate himself to the same extent as the other accused, but on the contrary

Aeshub Bhonia, 25 W R Cr 8, see also Kusir Bap v. Emperor, 14 Cr L J.
586=21 Ind Cas 378 A confession must be one of guilt. The accused must inculcate himself Bum v. Emperor, 107 Cr L J 67=91 Ind Cas
v. King Emperor, Where a person
makes a confession
Evidence Act.
Emperor v. Aunaji, 26 Bom L R 614=A I R 1924 Bom 445 Merely because a confession by one of the accused is not a complete and detailed confession up

S. 30. to hilt, it cannot be rejected against the co-accused Lalhan v Emperor A. I. R. 1924 A. 511. A statement by an accused that he and his co-accused and the deceased in exercise of their right of private defence, is in no way a confession and cannot be taken into consideration against the accused Lalhan v Emperor, 6 = 85 Ind. Cas. 371 Confes. made before a Magistrate, Cr. P. Code, even though made the conviction of persons based solely on a retracted confession of a co-accused which does not implicate the confessor to the same extent as the co-prisoner Uppendra v Emperor (1918) Pat 175-46 Ind. Cas. 842. Statements made by one set of prisoners, criminating another set of prisoners, when each individual prisoner made a case for himself in which he was free from any criminal offence ought not to be taken into consideration under s. 30 of the Evidence Act against the prisoner of the second set, when the two sets although tried together were tried upon

Queen v. I before a this section
the confes
L. R. 201-2 Dom Cr C 102-15 Cr. L. J 433.

Made "The word 'proved' in s hand" Per

Imperatrix v

section 30 is word 'made' and the word 'recorded' substituted for 'proved'. that therefore Cr. L. J 305-21 A. L. J 179-(1923) A. I. R. All. 323-45 A. 823, see Queen Empress v Pirbhu, 17 A. 524; Queen Empress v Pailua, 23 A. 53. It seems to me that evidence at the trial confession, and to by the section "At before a charge in restricted to an unretracted confession on which a confession is proved it is

v. P. & 1911 Cr. = 22 P. W. R. 1911 Cr. = 13 Cr. L. J 267, Sri Ram v 2 A. L. J 100-2 Cr. L. J 59.

accused Raj Kumar v. Emperor, A. I. R. 1929 Pat 473-9 P. L. Ind. Cas. 721.

v. Queen Empress, L. B. R. (1893-1900) 7. The rule that the statement of one extent as he implicates the other co-accused and who tries to throw the entire blame on the other co-accused is of very little value at least as against the other co-accused. Kunja Subudhi v. Emperor, A I R 1929 Pat 275=8 Pat 289, Topandas v. Emperor, 25 Cr L J 761=81 Ind Cas 249=A I R 1925 Sind. 116 It is not the law that unless a confessing prisoner implicates himself as fully as his co-accused the statement will not be admissible, the is the accused. Suka Raut v. Emperor, 4 Pat L T 505 A confession in order to be admissible under this section, must implicate the confessing prisoner Bag Shah v. Crown, 3 P. R 1879 Cr.

E. I. A.—62.

S. 30. to him, it cannot be rejected against the co-accused. Lakhan v. Emperor, A. I. R. 1921 A. 511. A statement by an accused that he and his co-accused met against the person making the statement, but it may be unsafe to use it against a co-accused Jasola v. Emperor, 53 Ind. Cas. 691. It is not safe to base the conviction of persons based solely on a retracted confession of a co-accused which does not implicate the confessor to the same extent as the co-prisoner. Upendra v. Emperor (1918) Pat. 175-46 Ind. Cas. 812. Statements made by one set of prisoners, criminating another set of prisoners when each individual prisoner made ought not to be tried upon it. Queen v. Khur, before a Magistrate, this section. the confession. L. R. 261-2 Bom. Cr. C. 192-15 Cr. L. J. 433.

Made "The word 'proved' in s. 30 must refer to a confession made before hand" Per Gaj. Imperatrix v. Tari section 30 is no word 'made' and confession made trial for the same the other accused. The duty of the the guilt of the accused in existence at the time when the charge is made, and the expression 'a confession' is to my mind, inapplicable to the procedure where the Judge asks questions and an accused person gives explanations under a special provision for that purpose" Mahadeo Prasad v. Emperor, 76 Ind. Cas. 1025-47 Cr. L. J. 305-21 A. L. J. 179-(1923) A. I. R. All. 323-45 A. 323, see 47.

under section 24 of the Evidence Act cannot be taken into consideration a co-accused as well. Emperor v. Umda, 166 P. L. R. 1911-10 Ind. Cas. 111 P. H. 1911 Cr. = 22 P. W. R. 1911 Cr. = 12 Cr. L. J. 267, Sri Ram v. Emperor 3 A. L. J. 100-2 Cr. L. J. 59.

accused May Kumar v. Emperor, A. I. R. 1928 Pat. 473-9 P. L. Ind. Cas. 721.

Chunder Bhattacharyee, 24 W. R. 42. The expression "proving a confession" is applicable to the question and answer under a 361 Cr. Pro. Code. Mihadeo Prasad v. Emperor, 15 A. 323-24 A. L. J. 179-A. I. R. 1923 All. 322. When a confession is taken in the absence of other prisoners and the latter have no opportunity of denying or even of knowing what their fellow prisoner has said, and when it has not even been read over to them afterwards, it cannot be proved. Empress v. Chundhanath, 7 C. 65; 121. After proper proof, such confession can be proved. Ess v. Lakshmin, 6 B. 121. The word "proved" in this section means proved before the case for the prosecution comes to the Court or proved in some accused's mind from the confession taken into consideration by the Court and such confession cannot be made the basis of the conviction of the other accused. Muralimuthu Palayachi, In re, 51 M. 783-61 M. L. J. 378-1931 Mad. 820, Mihadeo v. Emperor, 15 A. 323 but see Ganpat v. Emperor, 27 N. L. R. 163-33 Cr. L. J. 1222-A. I. R. 1931 Nag. 160-131 Ind. Cas. 656.

Court. The word "Court" in this section means and includes in a trial by jury, both Judges and Jury. Empress v. Ishutosh Chuckerbutty, 1 C. 318-3 C. L. R. 70 (F. B.)-1 Shone, L. R. Cr. 79.

Every confession is of that the word "may" consideration if it is so on must be exercised giving it a decision that confession to exclude a confession by an accused altogether from consideration against the co-accused if it is so disposed. Gobraya v. Emperor, A. I. R. 1930 Nag. 212 (F. B.)-20 N. L. R. 229-125 Ind. Cas. 673.

May take into consideration The words "take into consideration" in partial or qualified admission of guilt on the part of the accused himself and by a limited physical facts pointing to his connection with the crime imputed to him, they are not precluded by law, any more than by reason, from finding of guilty thus sustained. Queen Empress v. Bayaji, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 311-Cr. Rg. 64 of 1850. The words "may take into consideration" mean may treat as evidence, the weight to be attached to it is evidence against the accused,

Khanjan v.
section does confession in e against the may be taken

s. 30
his c ques one dera
J in Queen v. Chunder Bhattacharyee, 24 W. R. Cr. 42. This section does not say that the confession referred to therein is relevant but only says that the Court

30. may take it into consideration against the co-accused. The Court may take into consideration such confession with or without supplementary to relevant facts which may form the basis of a judgment. As a matter of judicial prudence a confession implicating others must be regarded with suspicion. Sallu v. Emperor, A I R 1922 Nag 146-65 Ind Cas 561-23 Cr L J 129. The confession of a co-accused can be taken into consideration, but the Court requires corroboration before acting upon such a confession. King Emperor v. Barker 11 21 C L J 192=19 C W N 34=42 C 789=28 Ind Cas 657=16 Cr L J 321, W. v. Crown, 19 P W R 1916 Cr L J 158=33 Ind Cas 136, Glavin v. Crown, 31 Ind Cas 332; see also Daulat v. Emperor, A I R 1933 Nag 190 1 2 Cr 721.

rated as evidence of a defective character, and that they require special scrutiny before they can be safely relied on. Queen v. Sathu Pandit, 21 W R Cr 69.

definition

Empress

S 384, Queen v. Ahluwalia, 21

Weir 3rd Ed 491 Queen

C R App 15, R v. Dymaram, 37 A 217

In Queen Empress v. Naga, 23 W R 21 Cr Phear J said: "We find the Legislature avoids saying that confessions of this sort are evidence and may be used as evidence. It says merely the Court may take into consideration such confession." Jac' son J in Queen v. Chunder Bhat Acharye, 21 W R 47 and Marlby and Morris JJ in Queen v. Naram Tel, 27th May 1875 (mentioned and overruled in 4 C 185) also took the same view. But in Empress v. Ahluwalia (Chunderbutt) 1 C 483 the Full Bench said that the Legislature has not any intention of calling the confession of an accused person evidence against a co-prisoner. It has no intention of making the confession of the accused evidence against a co-prisoner. So according to the F.

does

same

of evidence which make them ex not giving his liberty of cross

Rathagan v. ...

co-accused and consi existed or circumstances of the particular case to act on the supposition that it existed the Court should then

J in ibid. The confession of a of great weight against the oth means "may be must be treated confession of or a joint trial for

11, 42 C 789

and if uncorrobo

Anur Hossein, 2 C W N 749. A confession under section 20, taken into consideration but cannot be treated as substantial evidence. The words matter of Ram Mulla, 1 I G 77.

'taken into consideration' in the accused are not to have the fact and though it is not connection with the crime imputed to him, they are not precluded by law any more than by reason from finding of guilty thus sustained R v Kanyan Kom S. 30.

Indu, 11 Ind Jur N S 331; see also Imperial v Suntra, A W N 1881, 33

sions which affected the accused by connecting or tending to connect him with the crime Scott C J remarked (p 469, 170).—'If the confession (of a co-accused) is corroborated by other evidence it matters not whether, in proving the case at the trial, the confession precedes the other evidence, or the

of each case.' On this point Scott C J differed from a doctrine of Macleod J in Emperor v Gangappa Kardeja, 38 B 156=21 Ind Cas 673=15 Bom L R evidence Both decisions agree that the confession of co-accused could not In Emperor v is nothing in s 30, after taking the Courts of India had laid down a rule of practice which had all the reverence of law that a a as leading based on the Attacharya v

 A I R 1927
 If evidence of

degree of proof referred to in section 8 of the Evidence Act has been received or not King Emperor v Nga Lo Tha U R II 1913, 2nd Qr 170=21 Ind Cas 166=14 Cr L J 566, The Nayan v Queen Empress, L B R (1893 1900) 368 No higher value can be put upon such a confession than upon the statement of an accomplice Emperor v Abani, 8 Ind Cas 770=15 C W N 25=11 Cr L J. 710=38 C 169

S. 30. although such evidence is admissible in evidence under section 30 no confession can be given to it unless it is corroborated. Queen v Jaffar Ali, 19 W R Cr 57. Queen v Kunjo, 20 W R Cr 1, Queen v Salhu Mantal, 21 W R Cr 69. Queen v Naja, 23 W R 21, Queen Empress v Dosa Jiva, 10 B 231. So, such a confession must be rejected upon. Queen v Imperatrix v Gasparina, 11 Ind Jur N S 20, Weir 3rd Ed 499. Queen v Bayoo Choukhury, 25 W R 63; Queen Empress v Khanlu, 15 B Cr Empress v Bhaurani 1 A 664; Empress v Panichan 1 A 675, Keher v Emperor, 59 Ind Cas 913, In re Lalayam, 81 Ind Cas 817, Reg v Indigera 1 M 163=2 Weir 740, In re Kuppam, 9 Cr L J 30=5 M L T 300. Prudat v Anur Hossein, 2 C W N 741, Rajshubir v Emperor, 11 O C 38. In re Ramaswami Boyan 54 Ind Cas 479, Queen v Malaya 11 B H C R 19, Queen Empress v Jadal Dis 27 C 295=4 C W N 129, Falaiah v Emperor 10 C W N XVI, Munja Behari v Empress 5 C W N 913. Emperor v Gangappa, 39 B 156. Aja Po Kanu v Emperor, 95 Ind Cas 71. Cr L J 718=1 I R 1926 Ruz, 127, Aja Po Kya v Emperor 12 Cr L J 465=11 Ind Cas 1001, Queen v Dwarbaroo, 13 W R Cr 14, Ranah v Emperor, A I R 1932 I R 73. Confession is not sufficient evidence of corrected guilt. Manna Lal v Emperor, A I R 1925 Outh 1. The confession of a co-prisoner can not per se sustain conviction and in order to achieve that object it must be corroborated at least by independent evidence in some material circumstance. Aher Singh v Emperor, 59 Ind Cas 913=22 Cr L J 161. It must be corroborated by independent testimony and in material particulars. Ramaswami Boyan In re, 11 L W 8=54 Ind Cas 469=1 Cr L J 79, see also Emperor v Ammulun 57 Ind Cas 462=21 Cr L J 678. Emperor v Sabit Khan 51 Ind Cas 537=43 B 739=21 Bom L R 449. 20 Cr L J 479. But there is no rule as to what constitutes sufficient independent corroboration in a particular case. That must depend upon the circumstances. The statement must contain some corroboration when those confessions are retracted at the trial is very low, as pointed out in Lasin v King Emperor, 28 C 689=5 C W N 670 and in Lalit Mohan case (Emperor v Lalit Mohan, 10 Ind Cas 1593=38 C 509=10 C W N 95. Per Heaton J in Emperor v Sabit Khan supra Ugappa v Emperor 30 L W 403=1929 M W N 272=A I R 1929 Mad 491. "Very possible that there may be material to the case." Reasoning is not

21 W R 69. Reg v Balhu 1 B 475, R v Kahappa Weir 3rd Ed 424. Reg v Dosa, 10 B 231, Queen Empress v Rama Sara, 8 A 306, Pam M J, Emperor, 89 Ind Cas 889=26 Cr L J 185. The rule as I understand it, is not of eye witnesses or of admissions by the co-accused. The difficulty arises in cases where the evidence is circumstantial evidence when it consists of circumstantial evidence it was sufficient corroboration. A similar view seems to have been expressed in Mad L J Article 97. But in Empress v Ashulosh Chakra- old that an it's confes-constituting tion, is to in question support a ling about Emperor, facing state-Cr L alone

all, In re, 20 L W 203=25 Cr L J 1041=81
The self inculpatory confession of an accused upon which alone the conviction of his Nor can such a confession even if it be corroborated by other evidence which is insignificant atun the iviction Judge is and as r, 26 N L ill not be I R 1925

roborated

by the confession of another accused as against the accused person who has not confessed at all; but the confession of one co-accused may furnish the corroboration of the confession of another co-accused as against the latter and vice versa Gangaram v Crown, 60 Ind Crs 786=22 Cr L J 290, Emperor v Gangapa, 15 Bom L R 975=2 Bom Cr C 143=21 Ind
Crs 673=14 Cr L J 625=28 B 156 Emperor v Budhu, A W N 1881 18 The conviction based on the confession of a co-accused not corroborated in material particulars by independent evidence is illegal Amir Shah v Empress, 20 P. R 1880, Empress v Pura, A W N. 1885, 320, Empress
v. Bhauani, 1 A 664; In re Kappan, 5 M. L. T 300=9 Cr L J 303=7 Ind Crs. 547.

the only evidence evidence, which,
in Kishen v King-

S. 30.

There is uncorroborated evidence against him caution and care
on its truth or falsity

Agarwal v Emperor, 11 Cr L J 179=19 Ind Cas 179=6 Bur L 147

Value of retracted confession is sufficient evidence for conviction

it to be true As regards the person any corroborative evidence from

127 Ind Cas 871=A I R 1930

Ind Cas 155

Retracted confession and co accused. And retracted confession is admissible but should have no weight attached to it unless either corroborated in material particulars or unless the tribunal comes to the conclusion that the statement as a whole is a truthful statement. In either of these cases the retracted statement is co accused Sharma

The Evidence Act

retracted confession declaration against the accused though it may be that the weight would be to a retracted confession Gour Chandra v Emperor, A I R 1930 C 11

Mahomed v Emperor 81 Ind Cas 62 A retracted confession is evidence and there is no provision in this section by which a confession is to be received in any or another The use to be made by a Court of a confession whether retracted or not is a matter of procedure rather than law, the business of the Court being to make up its mind in accordance with the dictates of common sense whether it is wise to believe the confession or not. M. Laxmi v Emperor 100

Ind Cas 641=A I R 1931 Lah 196

But a mere retracted confession of a co accused cannot be sufficient to sustain the conviction of another accused Pala Singh v Emperor, A I R 1930

Lah 329=29 Cr L J 267=107 Ind Cas 614 Because 'experience and common sense show that in the absence of corroboration in material particulars

it

in retracted

with 30 but

sio

can

v Emperor, 8 Pat L T 566=101 Ind Cas 881=28 Cr L J 497=A I R 1930

Pat 257 A retracted confession is not the meaning of section 133 of the Evidence Act

40 C L J 551=A I R 1925 Cal 406 law with regard to a retracted confession not made the maker fullest cor demanded

v Emperor, 2 Pat L T 776=60 Ind Cas 56=22 Cr L J 200

"series of cases of which the 23 C 689 and E. P. v Emperor the confession should carry
it is

Where a confession made by an accused person is subsequently retracted by him and he does not implicate himself one of the conspirators, held the confession

S. 30

v. Emperor, 62 Ind Cas 515=22 Cr L J 529, Emperor v. Narain, A. I. R. 1931 Oudh 53=131 Ind Cas 72. Where the confession of a co-accused retracted before the trial, was not corroborated in a material particular, the connection of the other accused with the cause of the death, that other accused must be acquitted. In re Manicha Padayachi, 11 L W 171.

The retracted confession of accomplices may be taken into consideration under s. 30, where there is evidence tending to conviction, but they cannot form the basis of a conviction when there is no evidence whatever. Reg v. Timaya, Rat Un Cr C 104, Queen Empress v. Sahadu, Rat Un Cr C 771, Atiya v. Crown, 5 P. R. 1911 (F=11 P. L. R. 1911=27 P. W. R. 1911, Emperor v. Kheshri, 29 A. 931. So the retracted confession alone of an accused is not sufficient to justify a conviction of a co-accused but where such confession reasons is known used, the evidence is admissible and is a strong piece of evidence against the co-accused. Waid v. Emperor, 32 Cr L J 12=A. I. R. 1930 Oudh 412, see also Sheo Balan v. Emperor, 111 Ind Cas 771=A. I. R. 1929 Oudh 162, Aryan Singh v. Emperor, 30 P. L. R. 616=119 Ind Cas 325, Rahmat v. Emperor, 11 Lah. L. J. 5=113 Ind Cas 65, Sordona v. Emperor, 125 Ind Cas 638. Confessional statements of accused cannot be used in corroboration of the evidence of the approver in as much as tainted evidence is not made better by being corroborated by other tainted evidence. Daulat v. Emperor, A. I. R. 1930 Nag 97=31 Cr L J 153.

Against such other persons as well as against the person making the confession. A confession by one of several prisoners which is irrelevant or latter Imperatrix v. Istambar, 2 admissible under ss. 24-26, against (provided it otherwise satisfies its Four Article 103 In the case of a maker under s. 27, it is admissible, only when the admissible part is a confession of himself and other persons. If the

as against the co-prisoner, on the ground that the whole confession was unduly corroborated and the mere discovery of conviction of A, in the first case also from evidence to show that properly put there by him) corroborate A theft. Ibid

Confession of of an accused person considered as the same to in section 133 of the

for the f (apart ad prob- in the

30. be examined as a witness. This being so, the provision that a conviction is not illegal merely because it proceeds upon the uncorroborated testimony of an

the wordings of the latter section that it contemplates that the accomplice be examined as a witness not illegal merely accomplice, has no effect into consideration as against a co-accused jointly tried with accused under s 30. All the Chartered High Courts of India have held that an accused person cannot be convicted solely on such a confession made by an accused. Empress v Karimbuz, 11 C P L R 37 Cr, Empress v Gorrado, 9 C P L R Cr 35. So it is clear that such a statement cannot alone form the basis of a conviction but that it could only be taken into consideration along with other evidence in the case. Emperor v Lalit Mohan, 38 C 559-10 Ind Crs 582-15 C W N, 593; Queen v Chunder Bhattacharya, 94 W R Cr 42.

testimony
probable

Gangappa Kandeppa, 21 Ind Crs 673-38 B 156-15 Bom L R, 510-50 W R Cr C 143-14 Cr L J
'I think it will be a Reading, L C J in R v
115 L J 473-25 Cr

ation as lending support to other evidence in the case. But if there is evidence in the case, it is not a proper basis for a conviction. It is not strengthened by the fact that it is supported by the other confessions whether they have been made in such circumstances as to preclude the theory that there has been connivance between the persons making the confessions or not. Agarwal v King-Emperor, U B R (1917) 1st Cr. Statements of co-accused persons are not entitled to even as much consideration as the testimony of an accomplice. Queen Empress v Aana Raju Rnt Un Cr C 463-Cr Reg of 1889, Queen Empress v Uma, Rnt Un Cr C 370-Cr Reg of 1889, Empress v Ganapabhat, Rnt Un Cr C 456. The practice when there is a joint trial, of refusing to accept the plea of guilty and proceeding to try the accused in order that his confession may be taken into consideration against his co-accused is illegal and an abuse of the process of the Court. Muhammad v The Emperor, 35 C W N 490, Queen Empress v Lakshma Raja, 23 M 491, Q E v Pirbhu, 17 A 599, Q E v Paltua, 23 A 53, Emperor v Kheorje, 19 B 195, Q E v Subramanya, 25 M 61, contra Q E v Patonola, 23 M 151, Suldeb v K E, 13 C W N 552, Ascho v Emperor, 13 C L J 742.

Explanation—Under the explanation to section the word 'offence' always includes abettments and attempts. In Periya suami Alopam, 51 W 75-53 M L J 471-129 Ind Crs 645.

desire to obtain wise produce. But this course is not essential. Muhammad v
C W N 490-A I R 1931 C 341

Admissions not conclusive proof, but may stop.

31. Admissions are not conclusive proof of the matters admitted, but they may operate as estoppels under the provision hereinafter contained.

S. 3

Admission—meaning of. The word "admission" as used in this and in the previous sections is rather misleading. "The law of Evidence" says Prof. Wigmore, "has suffered in its most vital parts, from an ailment almost incur-

miss of consider the procedure
admissions as

sions may operate as a waiver relieving the opposing party from the need of any evidence and any party may at any stage of a suit, where admissions of fact have been made, either on the pleadings, or otherwise, apply to the Court for such judgment or order as upon such admission he may be entitled to (Rule Order XII, rule 6, Civil Procedure Code) So judicial admission

ment of parties which become in themselves the foundation of independent right for other persons, by virtue of some doctrine of substantive law, — in other words from binding estoppels, warranties and representations Wigmore § 1057.

at liberty to prove that such admissions were mistaken or untrue, and is not induced by them in disputing their and that transaction v Ram Sebul, enath v Bundo 13 M I A 525; 18 W R 485, 21 W R 422, 1 Cas 33 An estoppels of judicial admissions have no quality of conclusiveness, and on principle cannot have. Wigmore § 1059, Loveridge v. Bolham, 1 B & P. 49;

§. 30. be examined as a witness. This being so, the provision that a conviction is not illegal merely because it proceeds upon the uncorroborated testimony of an accomplice, has no application to the case of an uncorroborated confession taken into consideration as against a co-accused jointly tried with the confessor.

the wordings of the latter section that it contemplates that the accomplice may be examined as a witness and not illegal merely.

an accomplice, has no application into consideration as against a co-accused jointly tried with the confessor under § 30. All the Chartered High Courts of India have held that an accused person cannot be convicted solely on such a confession made by an accused. Empress v Karimbur, 9 C P. L. R. 37 Cr; Empress v Gorunda, 9 C P. L. R. Cr 35. So it is clear that such a statement cannot alone form the basis of a conviction but that it could only be taken into consideration along with other evidence in the case. Emperor v Lalit Mohan, 21

Gangamma Karendra, 21 Ind Cas 673=38 R 156=15 Bom L. R. 460=20

ened by the fact that it is supported by the other confessions, which have been made in such been connivance between

Nyeen v King Emperor, persons are not entitle accomplice. Queen Empress v Nana Raju, Rat Un Cr C 468=Cr. 19 of 1889, Queen Empress v Uma, Rat Un Cr C 370=Cr. Rg. 19 of 1889, Empress v. Ganapabhat, Rat Un Cr C 456. The practice when there is a joint trial, of refusing to accept the plea of guilty and proceeding to try the accused in order that his confession may be taken into consideration against his co-accused is illegal and an abuse of the process of the Court. Muhammad v The Emperor, 35 C W N 490, Q. F. Empress v Lakshmanappa, 22 M 491; Q. E. v Pirbhu, 17 A 529, P. J. v. Paltua, 23 A 53; Emperor v Kheorje, 19 B 195, Q. E. v Paltua, 19 B 195, Subramanyam v K. E., 25 M 61; contra Q. E. v Paltua, 19 B 195, Patonohu, 23 M 151; Suldeb v K. E., 13 C W N 552; Kesho v Emperor, 13 Cr L. J. 742.

Explanation—Under the explanation to section the word 'offence' always includes abettments and attempts. In re Periya suami Moopan, 61 M. L. J. 471=129 Ind Cas 645.

pass a sentence completely joint trial to give evidence his evidence with a mind being punishment and the desire to obtain immunity to himself at the expense of the prisoner might otherwise produce. But this course is not essential. Muhammad v Emperor, 35 C W. N. 490=A. L. R. 1931 Cal 341.

Admissions not conclusive proof, but may stop.

31 Admissions are not conclusive proof of the matters admitted, but they may operate as estoppels under the provision hereinafter contained

Admission—meaning of. The word 'admission' as used in this and in the previous sections is rather misleading. "The law of Evidence" says Prof Wigmore, 'has suffered in its most vital parts, from in ailment almost incurable,—that of confusion of nomenclature. The term 'admissions' exhibits this misfortune in one of its notable aspects.' Wigmore § 1049. According to that learned author the term "admissions" as mentioned in these sections should be termed "quasi admission". The true admissions, in the fullest sense of the term" says Prof principle. But totally distinct a method of is kind of mass of under the Procedure missions as in admissions may operate as a waiver of any evidence and any party may, after facts have been made, either for such judgment or order as upon such admission he may be entitled to (Wade Order XII, rule 6, Civil Procedure Code). So judicial admission, is a formal act, done in the course of judicial proceedings, which waives or

ment of parties which become in themselves the foundation of independent right for other persons, by virtue of some doctrine of substantive law, —in other words from binding estoppels, warranties and representations. Wigmore § 1057.

admissions, in greater or less at liberty to prove that such admissions were mistaken or untrue, and are not induced by them in disputing their and that trans in v Ram Sebak, enath v Bindo, 13 M I A 585, 18 W R 185, 21 W R 423, 3 Cas 33 An estoppels of judicial admissions have no quality of conclusiveness, and on principle cannot have. Wigmore § 1059, Lovelidge v Bolham, 1 H & P. 49;

31. Neulton v Belcher, 12 Q. B. D. 921, 921, Neulton v Luldiar, 12 Q. B. D. 921
Such an admission does where it has been acted upon by the party to whom it is made. Jinan Chou Ihury v Doolar, 18 W. R. 347, 1 rojendra v Chairman Dacca Municipality 20 W. R. 233, Ja Sant v Paltu 14 B. 312, Chandra Kant v Pearce Mohan, 5 W. R. 209. Admissions resemble admissions in the party again explain the of an estoppel that the party who is estopped cannot bring forward any evidence to contradict his former conduct—in other words, an estoppel is a conclusive admission. Cf R. v Pyllem (1896) 2 Q. B. at p. 270, Poult on Evidence p. 477. Dharm v Gurjar, 10 B. H. C. 311.

Scope of the section. Admissions by a party to the record out of Court are evidence and primary evidence, of the facts so admitted. Roscoe N. P. Fr 61. The value of the admission lies in the circumstances under which it was made, and further to Ev 61.

within sections 115 to 117 of the Evidence Act, they are not conclusive, but are open to rebuttal or explanation. And this applies equally with the circumstances established, and must be held binding. The party may confess its untruth, he may show in such a manner that the response which formed the admission was made not in a serious but in a joking manner or that the admission was made in ignorance of the true state of the facts.

Rep. 220, Thornes v White 1 Fyfe & G. 110. Express admissions of a party to the suit or admissions implied from his conduct are evidence and strong evidence against him, but he is at liberty to prove that such admissions were mistaken, that the admission was made in ignorance of the true state of the facts.

Abdul Karim v Rashuddin 131 Ind. Cas. 903—A. If R. 1331. On Admissions made at another time, for such other statements are not admissible for that purpose, unless they form part of res gestae. Lee v Hamilton 3 Ala. 59. Roberts v Trawick 22 Ala. 490. Burn Jones § 296. Informal admissions may be either in writing or oral or even by conduct. They may have been made in business correspondence or casual conversation long before any litigation began or was even contemplated, and with no intention of making a binding admission. They are therefore more easily explained away than formal admissions, but if sufficiently clear they shift the onus of proof. Poult on Evidence, 430.

This section declares that admissions are not conclusive proofs of the fact. An admission is the evidence of the fact, the witnesses are the evidence of the fact, the admissions may operate as an estoppel of saying that an admission is not

The person to whom the admission was made was mistaken and untrue. When the admission is duly proved and the person against whom it is proved does not satisfy the Court that it was mistaken or untrue, there is nothing in the Evidence Act, and there is no general principle or rule of law, to prevent the Court from deciding the case in accordance with it. Mumy Muz v Ma Thi Yi, U. R. R. (1897-1901) Vol. II, 377, see also Sayajullim v Johar Jan, 131 Ind. Cas. 555=53 C. L. J. 222, Abul Karim v Rishulalun, 131 Ind. Cas. 563=8 O. W. N. 266=A. I. R. 1931 Outh 216. What a party himself admits to be true may reasonably be presumed to be so. Where the defendant is not a party to the deed, and there is, therefore, no estoppel, the party making the admission may give evidence to rebut this presumption, but unless and until this is satisfactorily done, the fact admitted must be taken to be established. The expressions of a party to the suit, or admissions implied from his conduct, are evidence and strong evidence against him, but he is at liberty to prove that such admissions were mistaken.

When a case is taken up by a party, and that party admits, but as to third parties he is not bound. Jain Chandra v Chaudhary 9 Bom. L. R. 267=11 C. W. N. 321=4 A. L. J. 102=5 C. L. J. 115=17 M. L. J. 103=2 M. L. F. 109. Those admissions which have not been acted upon, either because they were originally made without any intention of being acted upon, or because for any other reason they, in fact, remain unacted upon, or have not altered the situation of the opposite party are not conclusive, though they are receivable in evidence.

whether the person who made the admission was or was not acquainted with the incidents of the property when he made the statement. Dunabindu v Minnu Lal, 52 Ir. L. Cas. 443. An admission by one defendant against another, which admission the Court finds to be conclusive, cannot relieve the plaintiff from the burden of stating his case against the admitting defendant, nor can it shift the burden of proof to the shoulders of the latter from of the plaintiff. Shankar v Mubhar Hussain 6 W. R. 299. Where there is no privity of contract between the parties an admission made by one party will not bind another. Ganesha Das v. Dularani 1 P. Ind. Cas. 7=12 L. L. J. 137.

Admissions not conclusive proof. Under this section admissions are not conclusive evidence of the matters admitted. Jaganmuth v Kalilar, 8 Pat. 776=10 Pat. L. T. 191=A. I. R. 1919 Pat. 245, see also Sali v Jala, 131 Ind. Cas. 128=32 P. L. R. 245, Secretary of State v Fildybatu, A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 743, Darindar v Lachmi, A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 9=5. A party is not bound by his own representation when If treated as admissions that they were not true. Admission is conclusive only, made Janan Choudhur where its circumstances. Ramabek, 12 W. R.

Where the defendant wants to make of the transaction. Musammal Lotufunnissa v Gour Saran, 18 W. R. 455=493. An admission not explained, though not conclusive, is strong evidence. Hunsa Kour v Sheo Gehind, 24 W. R. 431; Sankarachariya v Manali, 51 Ind. Cas. 876; Ambar Ali v Lutfe Ali, 21 C. W. N. 996. A deliberate confession though not operating as an estoppel case is upon the making it, the burden of explaining is not averted was not the fact. 5 B. L. R. 329; Greenath v, 21 W. R. 431; Vir v Harnam, 184=11 C. W. N. 331 P. C.

THE INDIAN EVIDENCE ACT

S. 32. If the defendant admits any sum to be due, that admission, irrespective of the proof offered by the plaintiff, is sufficient to warrant a decree for that amount in the plaintiff's favour. Ishan Chunder v Nobodutep 6 W R 132 See also Dhur v Sreenath 18 W R 331. If in a suit for specific performance of an agreement, the defendant admits the terms of the agreement and its execution, the plaintiff need not put the document in evidence nor prove its execution. Burjuri v Mancherji 5 B 153, Mc Gowan v Smith 26 L J Ch 8, see also Alexander v Mr Mahomed 5 B L R 59 (P C) = 11 W R P C 29-13 W I A 438.

The weight to be given to such admissions depends on various circumstances. If the pleading is sworn to and hence it is deliberate and solemn statement of the party, its admissions may afford evidence, and it is not easily rebutted. When the allegations are made on information and belief they are still admissible in evidence, as this fact only detracts from the weight of the testimony. Doe v Steel, 3 Camp 115, Pope v Illie 1 U S 363.

Admissions made in Court or in appeal, where properly proved in a transcript or case made so long as they remain a part of the record and the statements or admissions were made by himself or by his counsel and not honest mistake or misapprehension of what the facts really were, and he desires to be relieved from the effect of such admissions, the Court for leave to withdraw such admissions to do so make a showing of good faith should be granted or denied in the discretion of the Court. In that action conclusive evidence is in the pleadings, or expressly makes in the pleadings, or are formally entered into for the purpose of dispensing with proofs. Bar J 23 § 274.

Admissions made in another suit, and from their solemn character are entitled to great weight, but they are not conclusive against the party and do not constitute an estoppel. Doe v Steel, 3 Camp 115. Canero v Light foot 2 W Black 1190, Sturdy v Sanlers, 2 Dowd & R 315, De 117 12-13 dale v Milburn 5 Price 185.

be
ca Acuton v
The doctrine have turned rest upon embrace all them it is purely and eking the to the rule

Legal Lord H with r truth private lying under oath more than a witness of the judicial power in his behalf contraria non est audiendus which 130, expresses in technical language man should not be permitted to the same transaction, on in a o c ng allegations as ord mu Boston Elevator Co,

STATEMENTS BY PERSONS WHO CANNOT BE CALLED AS WITNESSES.

32. Statements, written or verbal, of relevant facts made by a person who is dead, or who cannot be found, or who has become incapable of giving evidence, or whose attendance cannot be procured without an amount of delay or expense which under the circumstances of the case appears to the Court unreasonable, are themselves relevant facts in the following cases :—

(1) When the statement is made by a person as to the cause of his death, or as to any of the circumstances of the transaction which resulted in his death, in cases in which the cause of that person's death comes into question.

Such statements are relevant whether the person who made them was or was not, at the time when they were made, under expectation of death, and whatever may be the nature of the proceeding in which the cause of his death comes into question.

(2) When the statement was made by such person in the ordinary course of business, and in particular when it consists of any entry or memorandum made by him in books kept in the ordinary course of business, or in the discharge of professional duty ; or of any acknowledgment written or signed by him of the receipt of money, goods, securities or property of any kind ; or of a document or receipt in commerce written or signed by him ; or of the date of a letter or other document usually dated, written or signed by him.

(3) When the statement is against the pecuniary or proprietary interest of the person making it, or when, if true, it would expose him or would have exposed him to a criminal prosecution or to a suit for damages.

(4) When the statement gives the opinion of any such person, as to the existence of any public right or custom or matter of public or general interest, of the existence of which, if it existed, he would have been likely to be aware, and when such statement was made before any controversy as to such right, custom or matter has arisen.

(5) When statement relates to the existence of any relationship* [by blood, marriage or adoption] between persons as to whose relationship* [by blood, marriage or adoption] the person

* These words in s 32, cls (5) and (6), were inserted by the Indian Evidence Act Amendment Act (18 of 1872), s 2

32. Making the statement had special means of knowledge, and when the statement was made before the question in dispute was raised

(6) When the statement relates to the existence of any relationship [by blood, marriage or adoption] between persons deceased, and is made in any will or deed relating to the affairs of the family to which any such deceased person belonged, or in any family pedigree, or upon any tombstone, family portrait or other thing on which such statements are usually made, and when such statement was made before the question in dispute was raised

or in document relating to transaction mentioned in section 13 clause (a),

(7) When the statement is contained in any deed, will or other document which relates to any such transaction as is mentioned in section 13, clause (a).

or is made by several persons and expresses feelings relevant to matter in question

(8) When the statement was made by a number of persons, and expressed feelings or impressions on their part relevant to the matter in question.

Illustrations

(a) The question is whether A was murdered by B, or

or directly to the murder, the rape and the actionable wrong under consideration, — relevant facts

(b)

An business, of a son is a relevant fact

Kept in the course of her and delivered her

(c) The question is, whether A was in Calcutta on a given day
A statement in the diary of a deceased solicitor, regularly kept in the course of business, that on a given day the solicitor attended A at a place mentioned in Calcutta, for the purpose of conferring with him upon specified business is a relevant fact

(d) The question is, whether a ship sailed from Bombay harbour on a given day

A letter written by a deceased member of a merchant's firm, by which she was chartered, to their correspondents in London, to whom the cargo was consigned, stating that the ship sailed on a given day from Bombay harbour, is a relevant fact

(e) The question is, whether rent was paid to A for certain land

A letter from A's deceased agent to A saying that he had received the rent on

and

on a certain day The fact that a letter written by him is dated on such day is relevant.

* These words in s 32, cls (5) and (6), were inserted by the Indian Evidence Act Amendment Act (18 of 1872), s 2

(h) The question is, what was the cause of the wreck of a ship
A protest made by the Captain, whose attendance cannot be procured, is a relevant fact

The question is, whether a given road is a public way statement by A, a deceased headman of the village, that the road was is a relevant fact

(i) The question is, what was the price of grain on a certain day in a particular market A statement of the price, made by a deceased banyan in the course of his business, is a relevant fact

(k) The question is, whether A, who is dead, was the father of B.

A statement by A that B was his son, is a relevant fact.

(l) The question is, what was the date of the birth of A

A letter from A's deceased father to a friend, announcing the birth of A on a given day, is a relevant fact.

(m) The question is, whether, and when, A and B were married

An entry in a memorandum book by C, the deceased father of B, of his daughter's marriage with A on a given date is a relevant fact

(n) A sues B for a libel expressed in a printed caricature exposed in a shop window The question is as to the similarity of the caricature and its libellous character The remarks of a crowd of spectators on these points may be proved as witnesses Sections 32 and which exclude hearsay The possibility of getting the person, or that he may be examined is a witness in the regular way But this is practically impossible in many cases Markby Ev 32 So the first principle on which these statements are admissible is regards

ments as

Indian

who is a given

of

read

over

such evidence is receivable, are consonant with reason and general convenience

Nort Ev 174

Nature of Hearsay as an Extra Judicial Testimonial Assertion utterance in his hearing qualified to testify, so that testimony to it In other words,

S. 32 been asserted on the extra judicial occasion in question by the extrajudicially stating or narrating witness" Book VI, Ch IV of Bentham's Rationale of Judicial Evidence. The Hearsay rule tells us that B's assertion cannot be accepted because it has not been made at a time and place where it could be subjected to certain essential tests or investigations calculated to demonstrate its real value by exposing such latent sources of error. Wigmore § 1561

Form of Hearsay In respect to form hearsay statements may properly be regarded in one of two ways. The rule of exclusion applies indifferently to them all. As distinguished from each other by the nature of their source—unsworn statements in their assertive capacity may be treated as composite or individual.

Composite hearsay may be defined as a compound or blended extrajudicial declaration of an indeterminate number of people so mingled that the separate voices can no longer be distinguished.

Individual hearsay, on the contrary, may be regarded as an extrajudicial statement shown to have been made by a particular person or set of persons. So far as classified by means of the which through which the utterance is presented to the tribunal they may be conveniently considered as being oral, printed or written. Chamberlayne's Lx § 2737

Composite Hearsay Composite hearsay, as above defined, usually presents itself to the tribunal, with increasing vagueness as Reputation, Rumour or Tradition. Individual expressions of opinion, though persistent, do not constitute reputation. Chamberlayne's Lx § 2738

Hearsay Rule and its exceptions—its Historical development etc Then is a great head of the law of Evidence' says Prof James B. Ailey Tluyer "comprising indeed, with its exceptions much the largest part of all that truly belongs there forbidding the introduction of hearsay. The true historical nature of the rule is hinted by the remark of an English Court, two centuries ago and over when they checked the attempt of a woman to testify what another woman had told her. 'The Court,' it was quietly remarked 'are of opinion that it will be proper for Wells' ... Chamberlayne's Lx § 2739

How St Tr 38
communication, by that time be verant, a hearer a say as the with audition, selves
testimon

of what they were sa else had ...

to j fou insl opi

they might act on might form a judge not do this, or ri

thought, or 'believed,' or had heard from others, or had inferred from now all circumstantial evidence. This contrast between the function of the
... to criminate and ...

When ... who ... by the number of ...

pendent rules whose opera-... morality of this other
for

We find these used by a complaint witness as far back as ... evidence to the jury in 1721. Such declarations in early times, and even in ...

times, had a way seems always to have been followed, used to know what the statement was.

the aspect of family reputation, and reputation was often reckoned an adequate ground for judicial action. In the thirteenth century we find a witness, in proving another person's age, giving as the basis of his testimony the fact of the mother's recording the age in the records of a P'riory, which record he had seen. In matters affecting a whole parish or a large number of persons, the hearsay and reputation of those belonging in the given community was always regarded as good.

"There was another class of unwritten statements which had always been resorted to in judicial proceedings and admitted to the jury, namely, written ones, entries in registers, in a person's books, in the account books of the stewards, in a merchant's books, in contracts, deeds, wills, and other documents. Documents had always been shown to juries,—long before witnesses were required to testify to them. In the early days they did not stick, it would seem, at showing the jury any document that bore on the case, without even thinking of how the writer knew what he said.

authenticated were one.

It appears, then, that libelation came in under it, or rather, so to speak, stayed in, simply because they had always been received, and no rule against hearsay had ever been formulated or suggested as applying to them. Such things, continuing at the present day, are e. g., the admission of old entries and writings in proof of ancient matters, written declarations of deceased persons against interest, and in the course of duty or business; and, to

of 1000, qualified by every in their turn, these deceased persons of law the made; or of such same fact use of testimony, and declaration of present intention or present physical condition

whether and how far

In a leading question of

"I have my judgment upon this that no document could be received, and within the general rule that hearsay evidence is not admissible" (Clark v. Freeman, 16 App. Cas. 623). On the other hand, Sir George Jessel, in a very different time, in 1876, had declared it to be the Court's duty to extend the exceptions to the hearsay rule, out of regard to the reasons and principles which have induced the tribunals of this country to admit exceptions in the other cases" (Stephen v. R. Leonard, 1 Prob. Div. 154). It seems a sound general principle to say that in all cases a main rule is to have extension, rather than exceptions to the rule; that exceptions should be applied only within strict bounds, and that the main rule should apply in cases not clearly within the exception. But then comes the question, what is the rule, and what the exceptions? There lies a difficulty. A true analysis would probably tentatively state the law so as to make what we call the hearsay rule the exception, and make our main rule this, namely, that whatsoever

S. 32 been asserted on the extra judicial occasion in question by the extra judicially stating or narrating witness" Book VI, Ch IV of Bentham's Principles of Judicial Evidence. The Hearsay rule tells us that B's assertion cannot be accepted because it has not been made at a time and place where it could be subjected to certain essential tests or investigations calculated to demonstrate a real value by exposing such latent sources of error. Wigmore § 1361

Form of Hearsay In respect to form, hearsay statements may properly be regarded in one of two ways. The rule of exclusion applies indifferently to them all. As distinguished from each other by the nature of their source, unsworn statements in their assertive capacity may be treated as composite or individual.

Composite hearsay may be defined as a compound or blended extrajudicial declaration of an indeterminate number of people so mingled that the separate voices can no longer be distinguished.

Individual hearsay, on the contrary, may be regarded as an extrajudicial statement shown to have been made by a particular person or set of persons as far as classified by means of the which through which the utterance is presented to the tribunal they may be conveniently considered as being oral, printed or written. Chamberlayne's Ev § 2737

itself

Tradition

tute reputation. Chamberlayne's Ev § 2739

Hearsay Rule and its exceptions—its Historical development etc. There is a great head of the law of Evidence" says Prof James Bradley Thayer "comprising indeed, with its exceptions, much the largest part of all that truly belongs there forbidding the introduction of hearsay. The true historical nature of this rule is hinted by the remark of an English Court, two centuries ago and over when they checked the attempt of a woman to testify what another woman had told her. The proper for Wells if opinion that it will be the Canning's Case 10 went to the medium of ordinary testimony. But it must be understood that it must be a statement of a person who could say as the witnesses to Courts in older times always had to say quod videtur audiri, it must not be themselves originally with testimony of other witness of what they were saying. When a witness who were by the state it if they did, were not to say inferred from what between the function of a criminal and a fact

now call circumstantial doctrine, rules which were coeval with the doctrine itself or much example, it seems always to have been true, in cases of homicide, that the declarations of persons killed were reported and acted on in judicial proceedings. We find these used by a complaint witness as far back as 1202, and used in evidence to the jury in 1721. Such declarations in early times, and even in law times, had a peculiar credit allowed them say seems always to have been resorted to loped, as knew wh :

 the aspect.

ground for judicial action In the thirteenth century we find a witness, in proving another person's age giving as the basis of his testimony the fact of the mother's recording the age in the records of a Priory, which record he had seen In matters affecting a whole parish or a large number of persons, the hearsay and reputation of those belonging in the given community was always regarded as good.

in a merchant's books in contracts, deeds, wills and other documents Documents had always been shown to juries,—long before witnesses were received to testify to them In the early days they did not stick, it would seem at showing the jury any document that bore on the case, without even thinking of how the writer knew what he said
 authenticated were one :

It appears, then, that prohibition came in under the head of written entries or declarations; they were in, or rather, so to speak, stayed in, simply because they had always been received, and no rule against hearsay had ever been formulated or interpreted as applying to them Such things, continuing at the present day are e. g., the admission of old entries and writings in proof of ancient matters, written declarations of persons against interest were received, and, in England even oral declarations of deceased persons in the course of duty or business And not only has the scope of these old titles been enlarged, but now exceptions have been made; or perhaps they are rather old ones coming to be recognized and formulated; such

whether and how far
 as being mere exceptions:

should apply in cases in question, what is the rule, true analysis would pro-
 hearsay rule the exception,

S. 32. is relevant in adm exceptions, but this classification rule would have that it shows a sp particular instances, while rejecting it generally. For example there is, son & to say the contrary or as part of a series of statements or a class of them which are usually careful and accurate and the like; credit amply enough in point of reason to entitle them to be received as evidence, though once the absence of the fact itself pari passu lying under the course of hearsay, but received, by way of exception, on account of this special intimacy of connection with the admissible fact. This part of the subject presents an instructive spectacle of confusion resulting from the desire on the one hand to hold to the just historical theory of our cases and on the other to be aware of the size and complexity upon Thayer's Prel Treat

Theory of Hearsay Rule The principle of exclusion of hearsay evidence Credit being derived from attestation fountain from whence it flows and when there was such a speech made for rat rely to be affected by it, had no opportunity of cross examining him' Idem in Wignior § 1362 "It seems agreed that what a stranger has been heard to say is in strictness no manner of evidence either for or against a prisoner not only because it is not upon oath but also because the other side, hath no opportunity of a cross-examination" Haul in's Pleas of the Crown C. II C. 46 § 41 In also the objection of Peckham in Wright v Tatham, 7 A. & E. 313, Co an oath furnishes some guarantee for value of it' In the same case Alderson B said "The general rule is that facts are to be proved by testimony of persons on oath and subjected to cross examination In Grasham Hotel v Manning Ir R 1 C J 125, O'Brien J said "The statements and declarations of opinion received in evidence in this case were made by parties not examined upon oath or subject to cross examination and would not be exempted from the general rule excluding hearsay evidence

In some of the cases great stress is put on the right of cross examination In Dyball Peerage Case, L R 11 App Cas 503, Lord Blackburn observed "In the evidence of a man who is not pro-not be cross examined, as a general rule

Key v. Pirt of Inglesea, 17 How St Tr
... So "the general rule is that that such statements are the author of the statements not being exposed to cross examination in the presence of a Court of justice, and not speaking under the penal sanction of an oath, with no opportunity to investigate his character and motives, and his deportment not subject to observations" Marshall v. R. Co., 48 Ill 476, see also Berkeley Peccage Case, 4 Camp 406; Doe v. Judgady, 4 B & All 51; R. v. Darlin, Jobb Cr C 127; Smith v. Blake, L. R 2 Q B 326, R. v. Jenkins, L. R. 1 C C. R 193; Suglen v. St. Leonards, L. R. 1 P D 154.

'Of the two main facts' says Mr Chamberlayne which impair the probative force of an unsworn statement used as hearsay, lack of oath and the absence of cross-examination probably the latter is, at the present time regarded as being by far the more serious. Indeed, the importance of the oath is more frequently regarded as an incident of cross examination, than as a valuable guarantee for truth in itself considered. While, therefore, lack of sanction of an oath is spoken of by judges as being an infirmative consideration in relation to hearsay of practically co-ordinate importance with absence of cross-examination, such can scarcely be regarded as the fact. The real reason for thus joining the two requirements of oath and cross examination is that cross-examination, in a juristical sense, takes place under oath. An extra judicial statement given under oath, is as objectionable to the present rule, if not tested by cross examination, as an unsworn statement would be" Chamberlayne's Ev § 2712.

Reason for Hearsay Rule—Inherent weakness—Absence of cross examination. The absence of a cross-examination is a more serious matter. Not without withstood the probing of a well conducted cross examination. A proponent whose witness in stating the truth can ask for no better help for the establishment of regarded

break a p

is composed is sound or rotten. In much the same way, in the absence of the searching test which cross-examination alone makes practically possible, the tribunal has, as a rule, no satisfactory data upon which to estimate the probative being misled. A presiding Judge ring that such a statement was irrelevant, without probative force, or that the jury could not reasonably act upon it.

On the other hand, the use of a rigid rule of procedure to the effect that however necessary the extra judicial statement may be to the proponent in prov-

S. 32. that instance, that the statement offered is free from the risk of inaccuracy and untrustworthiness, so that the test of cross-examination would be a work of

for the evidence—may be examined more closely, taking first the latter

(1) Where the test of cross examination is impossible of application by reason of the declarant's death or some other cause rendering him now unavailable as witness statements &c
The question
the latter or the policy of the test of cross-examination

(2) There are many situations in which it can be easily seen that such required test would add little as a security, because its purposes had been already substantially accomplished. If a statement has been made under such circumstances that even a deep ordinary instance) in on a test whose chief object exists, the statement comes from that person was the Hearay etc.

Jessel M R in Sugden of some other country persons who are dead in all cases where they were made under circumstances in which such evidence ought properly to have been admitted, that is, where the person who made them had no interest to the contrary, and where they were made before the commencement of the litigation. That is not, however, our law. As a rule the declarations, on, are not admissible on this subject, so frequently entirely could it have been. A most crying and intolerable injustice, that a large number of exceptions have been made to the general rule. Now I take it the principle which underlies all these exceptions is the same. In the first place, the case must be one in which it is difficult to obtain other evidence, for no doubt the ground for admitting the exceptions was that very difficulty. In the next place the declarant must be disinterested, that is, disinterested in the sense that the declaration was not made in favour of his interests. And, thirdly, the declaration must be made before a dispute or litigation, so that it is made without bias on account of the existence of a dispute or litigation which the declarant might be supposed to favour. Lastly, and this appears to me one of the strongest reasons for admitting the declaration must have had peculiar means of knowledge not possessed in ordinary cases." Chamberlaynes Ex § 2763 notes

he is dead

a greater or less necessity for more than (1) The person whose statement offered may now be unavailable for the palpable reason. It seven ensuing ones out in the rules, but the general notion is clear and unmisleading acknowledged in these exceptions with more or less directness and strictness but we cannot expect, again or at this time, to the same or other sources. This appears of less duty in the exception section 6), for reputation, and is (as in the first case) with the entire some valuable source of evidence

. convenience, can be predicated. But the 1121, Chamberlayne's Ev § 2761. Hearsay here is better evidence. There are certain their very nature, admit of the production relationship, character, custom, prescription and
 R. Act X Rule. 30.

Second : second principle untested, is cross-examination
 accuracy and equivalent to ability of not quite the cir-stances presuppose. It is merely that common sense and experience have from time to time pointed them out as practically adequate substitutes for the ordinary test, at least, in view of the necessity of the situation. Wigmore § 1422

Witness qualifications, and other Rules, also to be applied to statements admitted under these exceptions. The Hearsay rule is merely an additional test or safeguard to be applied to testimonial evidence otherwise admissible.

declarations. The English rule in R v Phipps 509 according to ion it is relevant, though, possibly

Scope of Section 32. This section provides an exception to the general may have spoken hastily, inaccurately or even falsely. Moreover the person who is really responsible for the statement did not make it on oath; he was not

S. 32. cross-examined upon it, and the Court had no opportunity of observing his conduct when he made it. It is a fundamental principle of our law that evidence is not admissible unless it is given by a person who is not a party to the suit, and who is not a witness therein.

are as follows:—Statements written or verbal, of relevant facts when made by a person (a) incapable of being impeached by cross-examination, or (b) incapable of being impeached by cross-examination.

to the Court unreasonably, and inadmissible: (1) when it relates to the cause of his death or (2) when it is made in course of business, or (3) when it is made against the interest of the maker; or (4) when it gives opinion as to public right or custom, or matters of general interest; or (5) when it relates to existence of relationship, or (6) when it is made in will or deed relating to family matter, or (7) when it is made in document relating to transaction mentioned in section 13, clause (a); or (8) when it is made by several persons and expresses feelings relevant to the matter in question. In the absence of the conditions prescribed by section 32 of the Evidence Act a plaintiff filed in a prior litigation a statement to prove a statement by a superior landlord Lakshmi v. Tahir, 39 C. L. J. 90-29 C. W. N. 1033-80 Ind. C. 357. A recital in a document is admissible in evidence against parties who are not parties to the document, only where the conditions laid down in section 32 of the Evidence Act are fulfilled. Ram Sarup v. Bhajant Prasad he admitted as corroborative of collection of rent at a certain the corroboration required by Charlter R. v. R. 41 Ind. Cas. 422

Requisites of admissibility under section 32. Statements oral and written made by persons not parties to the suit, and not witnesses therein, are not admissible.

of the rule itself. The first of these is that of necessity; i.e. the situation in which it is no longer possible to subject the person to oath and cross-examination, so that if his statements are to be had at all, they must be had without applying these securities (i.e. securities guaranteed by oath and cross-examination) for trustworthiness. The law on the subject is thus laid down by Tillyer in C. J. in Garwood v. Dennis, 4 Bing 328. "It is objected that however impressive the declaration of a man of character may be, yet the law admits the word of no man in evidence without oath. The general rule certainly is so, but subject to relaxation in cases of necessity or extreme inconvenience. The second notion is that, even though a necessity exists for relaxing the hearsay rule, nevertheless this is not to be done unless there is in the particular case of declarations offered, some shall—in some degree, at otherwise required. Green v. Conn 507, Loomis J. said oath and the test of cross-examination as a pre-requisite to verbal testimony, unless it discloses the nature of the case, and the truth. So statements elicited from being cross-examined under section 32 and 33. Stechling hearsay is relaxed under section 32 and 33. The whole that shows her sanction by persons who are possible in the 17 "Section 32 of persons who The object of those restrictions and the reasons for them are plain The basic principle of legal evidence being that the Court must always have the best, it follows that where persons can be, they must be brought before the Court to tell what they know at first hand Their veracity can then be best tested by the art of cross-examination Where however witnesses cannot be brought before the Court evidence of a kind that a Court The conditions which when no imposed upon its admission truth As there is no tement will not be t ordinary course, a true statement,"

Per Beaman J in ibid

Written or verbal The rule as regarding hearsay is so sweeping that it excludes all written hearsay irrespective of the mode in which it is presented—very often in the form of official records, but more frequently according to the particular commercial transaction to which it relates Of course the fact that the written hearsay is in the form of letters or telegrams does not avail to make it admissible The fact that hearsay is printed no matter in what form, does not alter the application of the rule Burr Jones § 298 So considered as hearsay, an unsworn consideration of the writ Temporary, against hearsay § 2756 As it is but proof of the exceptions to that rule

"Verbal" means by words, it is not necessary that the words should be spoken If the term used in the section were 'orally', it might be that the statement must be 'confined to words spoken by the mouth' But the meaning of the word 'verbal' is something wider the words of another person may be so adopted by a witness as to be properly treated as the words of the witness himself Per Petheram C J in Queen Empress v Abdulla 7 A 385 (397) F B In the same case Straight J said 'I am also of opinion that the signs made by the deceased Dulari in response to the question put to her, may be given in evidence from which the inference may be drawn that she assented or negatived the matter of such questions As is established satisfactorily to the that such questions taken with her assent or titute a verbal statement is to the cause 32 of the Evidence Act I am not rely technical distinction is to say that while questions adopted or negatived by a mere 'yes' or 'no' constitute a 'verbal statement' within s 32, they become inadmissible when assent or dissent is expressed by a nod or a shake of the head' But Mahmood J expressed a different view in the same case At page 398 he said 'I should accept the not to interpret the the meaning of word' to me

'verbal' cannot mean more than 'by means of a word or words' Nodding the head or waving the hand is not a word As regards dying declarations Prof Greenleaf observes "The testimony here spoken of may be given as well by signs as by words, thus, where one, being at the point of death and conscious of her situation, but received, was asked the wounds, and, if squeezed his hand, consideration of the jury" Greenleaf Ev § 159(b) In Mochabau v Com, 78 Ky.

- S. 32. 382 Hines J said "Dying declarations are not necessarily either spoken or written. Any method of communication between mind and matter adopted that will develop the thought, is the pressure of the hand or the nod of the head or a glance of the eye" See also R v Lowe, 10 Br C 1, 39, R 12 Cox Cr C 168

Rejection of evidence by the lower Court When the Court below rejected the evidence of certain witnesses on the ground that it was false and had not conformed with section 32 of the Evidence Act, and on the other hand the evidence it was sometimes uncertain whether the witnesses were from their own personal knowledge or from information derived from others, but the Court had considered it from both points of view and held it admissible. The Judicial Committee saw no reason to differ from the estimate which the lower Court had formed as to the credibility of the witnesses in the former case, nor, in the latter case, to question the manner in which the Court below applied the provisions of section 32. Shafiq-un-Nissa v Shabon Ali Khan, 26 A 581-9 C 105-6 Bom L R 750

Relevant facts. This section lays down that the statement, whether written or verbal, in Queen-Empress v. Per Pithers examination" says employed as hearsay, or, more properly, determinate, evidentiary value to a declaration not so tested, has led to its administration as is most clearly seen in connection with the exception of hearsay rule. subjective, vancay objective evidence a to be received the absence of a demonstration of overwhelming forensic necessity on the part of the prosecution would warrant incurring some hazard by way of misleading the Chamberlayne's Ex. § 272. Facts which are objectively relevant are relevant and 5 Blusana not relevant "If a fact Facts are learned 16, relevant

I cannot see that the other portions of the Examinations is to the declaration undoubtedly the identity of the murderer is a fact in issue in a trial for murder. These would not have been the intention of the Legislature. Facts in issue are facts about which there is a question in issue, I cannot understand how the facts that are in issue can be other relevant to the determination of the suit, and this I think is clear from language of section 5. But see Patel v Patel, 15 E 365

Subjective relevancy If the objective relevancy of a hearsay statement is tacitly assumed as a matter of course the question of subjective relevancy stands in quite a different position much more. In connection with two conditions of subjective

Adequate Knowledge and Absence of Controlling Motive to Misrepresent, this difficulty is almost entirely confined, in case of hearsay, to other statements, to the latter. Adequate Knowledge like Objective Relevancy, raises in practice, but little difficulty in its determination. It can be finally settled, once for all almost on inspection. But in the case of Absence of Controlling Motive to Misrepresent, the situation is quite different. Chamberlayne's Ex § 2731

Subjective Relevancy—Adequate knowledge—A qualification required in case of every witness is that he should be shown or can reasonably be assumed to possess a knowledge commensurate with, sufficient to give evidentiary value to, the evidence which he proposes to offer. Should the matter be one covered by direct observation, it must facilities and opportunities to

Where the fact to be stated is appear or be justifiably assumed knowledge helpful to the jury. Should it appear that the proposed testimony is not based upon adequate personal knowledge gained from observation or otherwise, it is subjectively irrelevant and should be rejected. The fact may be established but cannot be credited. The requirements are no means restricted to the judicial use of unsworn statements. But it is naturally insisted on in such a connection so far as can reasonably be done. Chamberlayne's Ex § 2732

Subjective relevancy—Absence of controlling Motive to misrepresent—"The credibility and consequent admissibility of an unsworn statement is thus seen to rest upon its subjective relevancy and this in turn, upon the existence of the motive to misrepresent. The question is a crucial one and of some nicety and difficulty when viewed from the strict point of Procedure. To exhibit to the jury by the aid of cross examination facts out of which may be thought to arise motives tending to pervert, consciously or unconsciously, the desire to truthfully narrate facts known to the declarant is a comparatively easy matter. The provisions of Procedure have been greatly taxed in an attempt to formulate general rules as to what may or may not have been omitted which may to a certain extent supply the place of judicial testing. Chamberlayne's Ex § 2733

"Secondary evidence In considering the use of hearsay statements at the present day under enlightened judicial administration by the use of reason it would be natural in case of a hearsay statement to adopt the rule that in order for the declaration to be subjectively relevant it must appear that the declarant was not so far under the influence of bias, self interest or other controlling motive to misrepresent as to render it irrational that the jury should credit his story. Chamberlayne's Ex 2733

"In dealing, however, with the exceptions to the hearsay rule where the assertive unsworn statement is treated as secondary evidence, it is important to bear in mind that we are dealing, as it were with the stone age of judicial evolution. The temper of the times during which the hearsay rule and its exceptions were formulated is procedural rather than administrative. Preappointed equivalences, the ability to state one fact in the terms of another like the place to which the judgment deduced by reason from legal principles might more properly lay claim. Thus in relation to subjective relevancy Adequate Knowledge in case of a declaration regarding Pedigree must be shown by membership in the family. Absence of controlling motive to misrepresent is established by the fact that the assertion was made before the warmth of partisanship or the beguiling of self interest had been aroused by a Lis Motu. In other words, to secure admissibility on account of subjective relevancy the hearsay statement must have been made ante litem motam. Chamberlayne's Ex § 2733

Primary Evidence
equivalences characteristic cases in which modern jury sufficient guarantee

In course of legal evolution the existence of one of two forces was found to furnish a sufficient guarantee to this effect. These are (1) the Force of Spontaneity and in certain cases (2) the Force of Habit. In either case, experience showed that the

S. 32.

is the probative force of assertive judicial decisions as happened to modern judicial administration that the evidence is not secondary as originally regarded by procedure but is, under modern conditions, primary there being no species of proof of a superior grade in connection with matters to which they relate." Chamberlayne's Ld § 2733

Person "This argument was based entirely upon the provisions of the General Clauses Act which says that 'person' shall include 'persons', it was contended that 'person' in section 32 must be read as 'persons'. I do not think that this ingenious argument is entitled to succeed." Per Maclean C J in Chandra Nath v Nilmudhub 3 C W N 88(89)=26 C 236 (237) as a statement relating to the existence of a person signed by several persons some only under clause 5 of section 32 of the Evidence Act. If the document is dead, the statement made by it is not admissible under section 32, if it comes under one or other of its clauses, being thus the statement of a person who is dead. And

...dered to be sufficient to satisfy an, 10 Conn 11, Williams J 241

...writing by such a person filed before him was held to be inadmissible in evidence as Agat Lal v Jogeshwar, 25 A 149 P C Before Queen v Govalao 19 W R 236=3 C W N 83 So as to persons who has been fully adm

Cr

also the case examined and cross examined the suit In such a case for the admission of the previous statement made by the witness Kusum Kumari 46 Ind Cr 929=5 Pat L J 161 Where a person making a dying declaration chances to live, his statement is not admissible Emperur v Ram Sattu, 1 Bom L R 434

Who cannot be found is in effect unavailable if disappearance is shown by search The only objection to the possibility of collusion between to be satisfied that there had been bona fide, this objection loses its force find a witness, then he is as it were dead may be read "so is the party make oath that he did his endeavour to find a witness, but that he could not see him nor hear of him" Anon Godbold 3 B In Oates trial 10 How St Tr 1237, 1285, Oates "My lord, I will try to produce what he swore at another trial; L C J Jeffereys "Why, where is he? Is he dead?" Oates "My lord, it has cost a great deal of money to search for him; but I cannot anywhere meet with him and that makes my case so much worse that I cannot, when I have done all that man can do to get my case better, when I thought my trial would be of him" L C J, "Look at it, my lord, to admit of any will indulge you so far

found within the jurisdiction of the court residence or in the country is not sufficient Thomas v State, 130 Ind 171 A Pope v State, 130 Ind 171 A making a dying declaration chances to live, his statement cannot be admitted in evidence as dying declaration under s 32 of the Evidence Act, but it may be relied on, under s 157 of the Evidence Act, to corroborate the testimony of the complainant when examined in the case Emperor v Rama Sattu, 1 Bom L R 191

Incapable to give evidence. In a murder case one of the witnesses for the fully discussed

evidence referred is Samaobserving during the his section giving of has been for the sake by plain accounts to an account written statements of relevant facts made by persons whose attendance could not be procured without unreasonable delay and expense, such statements having been made in the ordinary course, and written or signed

238 But the mere

is not a ground for ad

previous statement made by him on the ground that his evidence cannot be procured without unreasonable delay or expense Kadappa v Tirupathi, 80 Ind Crs 576-21 L W 210-A I N 1925 Mad 111 Vide also under section 33

CLAUSE I.

Dying declarations—Principle of Admission The grounds of admission of dying declarations are (1) death, (2) necessity, for the victim being generally the only eye witness to such crimes, and (3) the sense of impending death, which creates a sanction equal to the obligations of death R v Woodcock, 1 Leach 500 (504); R v Perry, (1909) 2 K B 697, Phip Ld 308

The injured person being dead, any proof, the testimony of these witnesses the charge could scarcely be made out except by the facts of the transactions of the real facts The received unless there is to be a failure or miscarriage of justice While these is considered by the law as creating an obligation equal to that which is imposed by a positive oath administered in a Court of Justice. Per Erle C B. in R v Woodcock, 1 Leach 500 501 "Taking men as they are at present the will of the witnesses for truth telling in case so high as early administrative was argument in favour of the establishment of the exception that a sense of impending death created a sanction equal to that of the administration of an oath may be conceded. Is it quite certain however that the sanction of the oath remains the same at the present time as in early days? Christies in a religious belief in a growing disbelief in the once universal accepted doctrine of eternal punishment registered in the registers of the fact that the punishment is still insisted on no period of its utility have the result. Perjury has always been a curse of judicial administration. If the law is to be a deterrent rather than a trial Even so the present state of the law therefore that it is in a species of oath under which a man is by truth telling in judicial service. — L. J. M. 1819

S 32

Dying declarations when admissible under English Law A declaration made by a declarant as to the cause of his death or as to any of the circumstances of the transaction which resulted in his death is deemed, to be relevant only in trials for murder. A declaration is shown to the jury of death and to have given a reason was made. Steph Dig Ev tri 21 So declarations are admissible upon charges other than homicide or as to homicides other than that of the declarant. The deceased must be proved to the satisfaction of the Judge to be in actual danger of death at the time of the declaration. R v Pray, (1909) 2 K B 100 So the application of the law is strictly and absolutely limited to cases in which the death of the declarant is the subject of enquiry, or is part of the transaction. R v Maudslayi B & C 605 So dying declaration is not admissible on an indictment of perjury. Ibid So when on an indictment for administering poison to a woman pregnant but not quick with child the intent to procure the declaration made by the woman being the declaration made by the woman were admitted in an enquiry of enquiry. L J M has been are also 337 In in evidence, and his maid servant who was present and had made the cake, and not afraid of it, and thereupon ate of it, and was in consequence poisoned and died. Her dying declarations (made after she knew of her master's death and was conscious of her own approaching death) as to the manner in which she made the cake, and that she put nothing but in it and that the present eating his breakfast at one end of the table while she was making the cake at the other end of it, were tendered in evidence, and objected to on the ground that the only person whose dying declarations could be received in evidence was the person whose death formed the subject of enquiry. But Coleman J after consulting Parke B admitted the evidence on the ground

32, S. :

ch
be to

the earth [Sussex

R v Perry,

10, was in

Leach 500,

s of persons son making such declaration

an account to his

Alderson B said

he is in the san sanction of an oath

ed equal to an oath, but they are nevertheless open to observation. For though the evidence of such declarant inadmissible? If the above conditions concur, it is immaterial under the English law that the declarant lingered for several days, or even weeks (R v Burnadotti, 11 Cox 316, R v Craten 1 Law 77) or of the name of Edwards, very much been recently executed for a high way he had

of the

evidence

this subject had proceeded from the solemn declaration of a dying man, it was admissible evidence in favour of the prisoner. The Court observed "It would be inconsistent with the rules of evidence which are rules of justice, to examine a witness to the declaration of a person dying under the circumstances described received is, that the mind acts under a sanction ed by a solemn appeal to und convict, would be carrying the rule of evidence beyond its possible extent, even if the person were alive, for as an attainted convict, he could not have been admitted to give testimony upon oath, and the dying declarations of such a person cannot, consistently with the principles of justice, be considered as better evidence than his testimony on oath would have been if he had been alive. The fact, however, that a man resembling the person of a prisoner was executed, may be g prob

the w satisfied', and be inadmissible.

they were made

F & T 857;

ouell, 1 Den 1

danger existed

The deceased clearly thought he was dying, and had no hope of recovery.

Bissorunjun Mookerjee, 6 W R Cr. 75, Lalji v. Emperor, 6 P. 717, Queen v. Ugrail, 2 N. W P 212 In that case where in admitting dying declarations in a case of rape the Court consisting of Kemp and Markby JJ said, "It seems pretty certain that the law in England on the subject has been much narrowed of late years. There are instances in the older books in which dying declarations have been admitted in civil cases, and in no rule as laid down in Neither in the party making the statement is the apply with equal force to its admissibility in which dying declarations are admissible rant is in a less likely under the

S:3

put on a level with a deposition, technically so called, which is admissible in is it the reason why this evidence is admitted, but, even if it were so, that necessity is just as likely to exist where the deceased person has been robbed, or raped or assaulted, as where he has been murdered see also Queen v. Ugrail, 3 N W P 212 In England, to render a dying declaration admissible, the declarant must have been in actual danger of death, he must have been fully aware of this danger, and death must have ensued Taylor Ex § 718, Sussex

Peerage Case, 11 Cl & F 108, R v Curtis, 21 T L R 87, R v Woodcock, 1
Leach, 500, R v Osman 15 Cox 1; R v Gloster, 16 Cox 471, R v Forster,
It is not necessary

John, 1 East P C 337; R v Woodcock 1 Leach 500; R v Morgan, 14 Cox, 337 But in India the statement was or was not at the time when v Digamber, 19 W R Cr 44, v Premananda, 52 C 987-29 C dying declarations for under a facts made by persons who are dead are themselves relevant facts when the statement is made by a person as to the cause of his death and as to the nature which its are ho are

S. 32. examined in Court before the presiding Judge S. 32 provides an exception to the rule that a declaration made by a person in the Indian Penal Code must be given in Court by the person himself. 1932 Lah 14. Before the passing of the Indian Evidence Act XXV of 1861, the declaration of a deceased person, if made at the time of making such declaration, believed himself to be in danger of approaching death, although he was not in danger of death, was admissible in evidence. 29 of Act II. The declaration, and then thought himself to be in the danger of approaching death, etc. "Both these enactments, then required that, before a dying declaration is received in evidence, it should be proved that the person making it statement shall be received in evidence. 15 W. R. 11 at p. 13. See 76, R. v. Synder Singh, 9 W. R. 11. point even with the English law. entertain no hope of recovery (XXV of 1861) and the old Evidence Act provided a hope of recovery. By the present Act it matters not whether there existed even any exception of death at the time of making the declaration. Ev. 175; Empress v. Bitchyuden, 6 C. L. R. 278. A dying declaration made at the time when a person is in a precarious condition does not cease to be admissible and become inadmissible under s. 32 of the Evidence Act merely because a few days more. Thakur Singh, 1 L. R. 1929 Lah 64. According to the declarations are admissible when a person has died in a hospital after being injured by the injuries but was cured by medical treatment. Ev. 175, held that the dying statement of a person is not admissible in evidence in a trial of the person who made the statement deceased under s. 32. Wali Mohammed v. Emperor, 126 Ind. Cas. 311 (1930) L. J. 1903 = A. I. R. 1930 Oudh 249. So also where a woman who was alleged to have been raped and who committed suicide three days after the incident was proved to have made a statement shortly after the rape to one of her relatives. Held that the rape not being the cause of death her statement was not admissible in evidence under s. 32 (1). Kappinayah v. Emperor, A. I. R. 1931 Mad 1000 (1930) 11 W. N. 702.

the necessity from any of the declarations

the necessity from any of the declarations

(c) Its limitations are heresies of the last century which have no sanction of antiquity. They should be wholly abolished by legislation. Ev. § 1436

Subject matter of dying declaration A declaration made by a declarant S. 3

It 509 The deceased declarant must be the person whose death is subject of the charge R v Mead 2 B & C 605, R v Hind, 3 Cox 300=23 L J M C 117 In R v Mead, the dying declaration of Lau after giving an account of the circumstances under which he was shot by Mead, proceeded to negative his having been present at, or having had any concern whatever in, the smuggling transaction deposed to delivering the opium cannot be received ed to a confession by the party himself of a very heinous offence he had committed The same observation applies to the case of Wright v Tetter, 3 of the charge, and the circumstances of the death the subject of the dying declaration See also R v Hichison, 2 B & C 608 (notes) R v Murton 3 L & L 492 So the statements of a deceased person made prior to his death as to the cause of his death, or as to any of the circumstances of transaction which brought about his death are relevant as against all the accused Alama v Crown 67 P L R 1905=2 Cr L J 237; see also Mur v Emperor 81 Ind Cas 964=4 Lah 151 Wali Mahomed v Emperor 126 Ind Cas 511=A I R 1930 Oudh 749 The reason of the rule is thus stated by Angman, C J in State v Lohan, 15 Kan 413 Mr Pelfield states that this evidence is not received upon any other ground than that of necessity, in order to prevent murder going unpunished Its admission can be justified only on an extent, where the death of any one else than the declarant is the subject of the inquiry, as to justify the adoption of rule admitting such testimony So the declaration may not concern any and all topics It must concern facts leading up to or causing or attending the injurious act which has resulted in the supposed necessity for the foregoing limitations it will as introduced by Sergeant

East in Pleas of the Crown Vol I p 303, where he said Besides the usual evidence of guilt in general cases of felony there is one kind of evidence more particular to the case of homicide which is the declaration of the deceased after the mortal blow as to the fact itself and the party by whom it is committed Evidence of this sort is admissible in this case on the fullest necessity, for it present to be an eye witness to the deed of other felonies namely, the party who further and equally necessary results

(1) If the killing was not secret, or if other and adequate testimony as to the circumstances of the death is at hand nevertheless the dying declaration is admissible even though in strictness it is not needed

(2) Where the fact of the killing is conceded the dying declaration under the spurious principle is by hypothesis unnecessary, nevertheless, this result is not recognized, the declaration is admitted even where the killing is conceded Wigmore § 1435

Where in committing a dacoity the dacoits caused the death of a person the latter's dying declaration as to what was done by those concerned in the dacoity, in which the murder was caused was held to be not only relevant against the person who actually caused the death but also against those concerned in the dacoity In re P Subbu Tejan, 2 Weir 700, see also R v Balcer, 2 M & R. 53

S. 32.

The dying declaration must the mouth of a witness—c 7, 1

Taylor L. § 720, R. v. Sellers, Carr

be, it must be complete in itself;

to qualify it by other statements, which he is prevented by any cause from making, it will be received Taylor L. § 621. Section 32(1) does not cover only statement made by the person when he is dying from the result of the injury which caused his death but also covers the statement, as to the circumstances of the transaction which r causing the death was inflicted

50 B 633-28 Bom L R 10

1924 Nag-115, Emperor v. Fariz, 20 P R 1916 Cr-35 Ind Cas 998-41 P

L R 1917, but see Amar Singh v. The Crown, 1 Lah 451-A 1 R 1924 Lab

253, where it was held that dying declarations are statements made by a dying person as to the injuries which have brought him to that condition or the circumstances under which the injuries were inflicted and as such, statements person and that treatment is the cause though not the direct cause of the death the whole affair, ill treatment and subsequent suicide, forms one transaction and, therefore, statements, made by the deceased, as to the cause of his death are admissible in evidence under section 32(1) of the Evidence Act Emperor v. Fariz 35 Ind Cas 998-20 P R 1916 Cr-47 P L R 1917. The motive for a crime is of course a rule

Where the statement

reference to the motive it cannot be deemed of the circumstances, if admissible under s. 3(1)

any act of the deceased and her make the statement Fariz v. The Crown 35 Ind Cas 998-20 P R 1916 Cr-47 P L R 1917. Where the deceased, who had having wounded him stated that another person had committed the crime, it was held that such statement was not admissible in evidence in the proceedings.

before a witnesses,

prosecution

42-8 C L R. 273 "A statement of a witness as to what he heard from and not by

574-28 C 39

injured person

know more or as much about the circumstances of his death than or as any other person. So this doctrine does not apply where the object of the trial is to ascertain whether certain persons are the dacoits or not—a matter which has nothing to do with the declarant's death. Nga Te v. King Emperor, 20 Ind Cas 90-14 Cr L J 510

Surendra Nath, J. In necessity, it is that a witness and so is likely to

Dr. J.

25 Cr. L. J. 29. "The cases all S. 3 a case where the evidence would observed by him, the in by the jury so that the witnesses' inferences become superfluous Now since

At § 2849, see also Hanery v Comm, 3 Cr Law Mag 47; R v Scarfe, 1
M. & R 351.

Scope of declaration—Emotion excluded. The dying declaration must be fore, be cannot for the is free er have accused Cham-

berlayne's Ev. § 2850.

the a office:
ment in respect thereto is therefore admissible, where deceased was in a position to know the truth. Indeed, even where a certain element or degree of inference is necessarily present, e g, where the assailant is masked, or in ambush the fact absent, and the evidence as contained in the dying declaration will be rejected in the absence, however, of evidence on the point, intrinsic or extrinsic the the statement should directly charge the accused with being the assailant Where dying declaration was as to the identity of the accused, it was held that the declarant might be impeached by showing that the deceased was in the habit of mistaking her friends for persons whom they did not resemble Chamberlayne's Ev § 2851

Scope of dying declaration—Inference So far as practicable, administration confines the dying properly take were he a witness or judgment, is to be excluded employing it. Very plain is statement by the deceased that he had been told such was his intention. The mental state of a third person is not subject to direct observations. The statement of a dying declaration in regard thereto may therefore be rejected as an inference. The declarant's own mental state, being a subject upon which he might properly testify as a witness, may, however, be established in this way. A sufficient adminis-

S. 32. trative necessity for accepting an inference or conclusion in a dying declaration furnished where a large number of minute phenomena, often so intricate and interblending as to forbid effective individual statement, are given by the declarant in the form of a collective fact, often the only way in which the speaker can well express himself. Thus a declarant may properly state that a given shooting was an 'accident' or that he had been 'butchered' by the mad practice of a doctor, and so forth. Chamberlayne's Ev. §§ 2852, 2853

Testimonial qualification of the declarant is admissible only as to matters to which he is sworn in the case. Taylor Ev. 117. Declaration of a child of such tender age that the doctrine of a future state was rejected. See also R v Drummond 1 Leach 61, 338, R v P Donnelly 100. A witness who is sworn in People v ... is on the same footing as the testimony of a witness sworn in the case, and are governed by the same rules.

must have been he relates facts are not under s. 118 of the Evidence Act. Samadun v King Emperor, 5 O C 246. where a Court could not find a competent witness.

time or by conviction of crime, or by subsequent or prior inconsistent statement. Wigmore § 1446. In State v Thaulcy, 4 Harringt. Del 562 general evidence of the declarant's intemperate habits and of his low state of health at the time.

himself responsible for his own death or that the fatal result was an accident or, as the earlier law used to say, by misadventure, may be within the proper scope of a dying declaration and even add to its probative force. To be received in evidence a self-disavowing statement must, however, fulfil the conditions laid down for the reception of a dying declaration. Chamberlayne's Ev. §§ 2816, 2817.

Form of dying declaration. The form to be used in making a dying declaration is as follows:

been inflicted on her, that she was at that time unable to speak, but was conscious and able to make signs. Evidence was offered by the prosecution and admitted by the Sessions Judge, to prove the questions put to the deceased, and the signs made by her in answer to such questions. Held by the Full Bench (Mahmood J dissenting) that the questions and the signs taken together might properly be regarded as "verbal statements" made by a person as to the cause of her death within the meaning of s. 32 of the Evidence Act, and were therefore admissible in evidence under that section. Queen Empress v. Abdulka, 7 A 385 (T. B.)

not mind not member se to questions put, it is admissible in evidence. In such cases, however, the statement should be a true record of what in point of fact occurred, and should bear on its face the questions put and the nature of the fluctuation made in response. Bulla v. Empress, 2 P. R. 1886 Cr. Where a person whose throat had been cut as a result of which death ensued later, made certain gestures in reply to questions put by the police. Held, the gestures were admissible in evidence. The interpretation of the gesture is for the Court alone and the opinion of witnesses as to their meaning is not evidence. Chandrika v. Emperor 1 Pat 401 = 3 Pat L. T. 771 = (1922) P. 535 = 71 Ind. Cas. 353. Where shortly after the deceased had received the injury a Magistrate proceeded to record her dying declaration in the hospital and although she could not speak in answer to questions put to her pointed out the accused as the assailant. Held that questions and answers taken together might properly be regarded as verbal statements made by a person as to the cause of her death within the meaning of section 32 of the Evidence Act and were therefore admissible. Emperor v. Sadhu Churn, 26 C. W. N. 111 = 49 C. 600 = A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 109 = 77 Ind. Cas. 993; see also Ranjan.

Ev. § 153 (b), Mocub
Steele, 12 Cox Cr. C.

Patchatt his story, then when dying and being asked what happened, he said, "Tell him, Patchatt" and Dr. Patchatt reported the story in declarant's presence.

In admitting it 'himself' declaration
a deceased

shown by the witness to have reference to the infidelity of deceased's wife. Chamberlayne's Ev. § 2811. So it is clear that dying declarations may be communicated by any adequate method of communication whether by words or by signs or otherwise provided the indication is positive and definite, and seems to proceed from an intelligence of its meaning. Wigmore § 1415.

and answer is not admis
and so must the questions seem to me to be useless been made for another purpose as the message to the wife of the injured man. No requirement is imposed, for example, that the declaration should all have the declaration to give the family of certain deceased. Bishan Singh v. Crown, 8 L. L. J. 296 = 96 Ind. Cas. 215. 27 P. L. R. 181 = 27 Cr. L. J. 903 = A. I. R. 1926 Loh. 196.

First Information report. The First Information Report is admissible under this section as a dying declaration where it is the statement of a person

32. who is since in death Ra R. 1930 Lah 400, see also Ra Imperator, A. I R 1931 Lah 103=1931 Cr C 167. which read J 475=A I Gajjan Singh ing declaration is admissible A admissible even when the charge is

of
of I

Evidence Act
R Cr 70, that of English

A dying declaration is admissible where the prisoner is charged with the offence of homicide Dusadh v Emperor, 6 Pat 441-42 Cns 698=29 Cr L J 106=A I R. 1928 Pat 162.

Dying declarations made by an accomplice The dying declaration of an accomplice is admissible where the prisoner is charged with assisting the accomplice to commit suicide. R v Smith, (1897) 18 Cox 470, R v Beziey, (1906) 70 J P 263, R v Stevens, (1904) 4 N S W State Rep 727; Russ Cr 200; R v Tucker, 1 East P C 353 In R v Jessop, 16 Cox. 204, on an indictment charging with murder the survivor of two persons who had agreed to commit suicide together, Field J admitted statements by the deceased, made when purchasing poison in the absence of the prisoner, on the ground that the acts and words of the deceased in carrying out a pre arranged plan were evidence against the prisoner Dying declarations in favour of the party charged with influence on the clause but is admissible under clause (3) Sheik Shafi Nrg 259=124 Ind Cns 459=31 Cr L J 661; see also Unna v Emperor, A I R 1925 P C 52=6 Lah 45=52 I A 121 P. C. 3 Lew 150, Arribold accomplice, as in an Sadler, (1911) 10 complice incriminating, admissible under the Emperor, A. I R 1930

Proof of dying declaration A dying declaration may be either verbal or written A verbal dying declaration recorded by a Magis rate cannot be received in evidence, when it has not been proved by taking the statement of the Magistrate Shia v Crown, 17 P R 1911 Cns 18 Ind Cns 883 When what purpose person is not taken down by the court

Boulter Ah, S C 19 000, the dying declaration of a deceased is admissible in evidence and is to be put in the document itself and is not to allow him to give evidence orally as to what he had recorded in Court that he had recorded it certified in Court that he had recorded it proof of its own contents, and it is unnecessary that the person who recorded it should repeat exactly what was said may arise whether it is his own or otherwise approved or otherwise approved may be offered as his own the written statement of a The dying statement of a accused; if not so taken, may arise whether it is his own or otherwise approved or otherwise approved may be offered as his own the written statement of a accused; if not so taken, the writing cannot be admitted to prove the statement made. The statement may be proved in the ordinary way by a person who heard it, and the writing may be used for the purpose of refreshing the witness's memory. Empress v Samundlu 8 C 211, Sarat Chandra v Emperor, 52 C 116=88 Ind Crs 860=26 Cr L J 1211=A. I. R. 1925 Cal 821. A declaration made by a person in expectation of relevant fact to be proved was the statement made by the deceased person admissible under section 32 of the Evidence Act. That statement is not the document

and
section 512
by the oral at liberty

to refresh his memory by referring to the note made by him or read over by him at or about the time the statement was made. I would lay stress upon this because in many cases irregularities of this nature have led to a miscarriage of justice or to great delay in the trial of cases. I may note that the record by the Magistrate is in English. It clearly does not contain the exact words used by the accused which alone would detract considerably from its value as a true

v. Emperor, 67 Ind Crs 577=23 Cr L J 417=1 U P L R (L) 43. Gowdas v Emperor, 2 Ind Crs 841=26 C 649=13 C W N 680=10 Cr L J 186. A dying declaration was recorded in the presence of a witness, read over to the deceased in the presence of the witness and admitted by the deceased to be correct. If the witness, who heard that statement swears that the written statement correctly reproduces the words used by the deceased, that is sufficient to prove that the deceased did use the words contained in that statement. Emperor v Balaram 49 C 358=(1922) A I R 38. A dying declaration recorded, in the absence of the accused, by a Magistrate, who held the enquiry preliminary

289 P L R 1912=18 Ind Crs 883. The proper method of proving the oral statement is that the witness should hear it and then he should repeat it. Cr L J 1129. In rep should sent if

3. 32. the presence of the witness, the witness would be entitled to refresh his memory if he so wanted, by referring to such writing; otherwise the writing itself is not relevant unless it is in the nature of a deposition taken in the presence of the accused. Where the deceased dictated his statement and it was taken down and he then signed the statement after being satisfied as to its accuracy such writing may be regarded as a statement of the deceased in writing although under s. 32 of the Evidence Act. But even if what was stated was taken down by some one in writing a witness who heard the And ordinarily it would to reproduce from memory what he heard the deceased stated in addition to

R 1870, se
made by t
the accused Magistrate,
dence Act,
the statem stated therei be verbal o

with the questions have been held to be verbal statements. If written precise statements made should be proved either by the person who recorded or by some one who saw the signature.

there must be a dying declarat examined at th deceased also and the dying person who re there can be no was not real maintains role

M L J 401 Although a dying declaration is not recorded in writing evidence of what the deceased said is receivable. In re Hanumanth 2 W L R 1921, Kusal Singh In re A statement made by the deceased cannot be used in evidence.

deceased

ed is a witness. Lachmi v Emperor, 3 L J

A statement of a deceased person is not receivable in evidence of his not having a son.

in case of his not having a son. In re Hanumanth, 2 W L R 1921, Kusal Singh In re A statement made by the deceased cannot be used in evidence.

95 Ind Cas 385 Dying declaration of one direct about circumstances of a conspiracy is not admissible against other direct. Danna Singh v Emperor, 50 Ind Cas 613-26 Cr L J 517-A I R 1920 All 237

Section 164 of the Criminal Procedure The deceased made a full statement, about an assault which resulted in his death, before a third Magistrate. The statement was not taken into consideration by the session.

It comes in to consideration by the session where the witness who recorded the statements was empowered under s. 161 is immaterial Rahman v. S. Emperor, 131 Ind. Cts. 117-32 Cr L J 1118.

Rule of Preferring Written Testimony. "The principles which determine whether a written report of another person's statement is to be preferred to oral examination; for such a person has no duty or authority by law to report dying declarations, and it would be solely by virtue of an express duty that a Magistrate's report could be preferred to other witnesses. (b) When a written memorandum or report thus made is read over to the declarant and signed or assented to by him, the writing thus becomes a second distinct declaration by him. The first oral statement is not merged in the latter written one, because,

(c) Where the declarant makes one oral statement, and afterwards at another time a second statement, the latter being in writing or reduced to writing, there are here two distinct statements, and either one may be offered without testifying to the other; for the principle of completeness requires only that the whole of a single utterance should be offered together, and in the present instance the theas making It is thus clear written one has been proved; (2) that, even before or without proving the written one, the separate oral ones are admissible—though on the latter point the Courts are not always explicit. Wigmore § 1450, see also R v Reason and Transfer 16 How St Tr 83. In that case Pratt L C J said 'You know in the Court of Chancery when the party is examined on his oath, he gives in a first answer the same person that enquired of him before, and all this is done in order to perfect and consummate the examination whether you will not take them both together as one entire account given by the deceased?' In the same case Fortescue J observed "I think we should allow what was said at other times to be given in evidence, because the first is no examination, because no Justice of the Peace was then present, so that the examination stands distinctly by itself." The opinion of Fortescue J prevailed. Wigmore § 1450

Evidence Act, to corroborate his evidence Emperor v. Ram Sattu, 1 Bom L R 431

32.

Stage at which dying declaration should be made The necessity of recording a dying declaration arises only when the hopes of life of the man are given up. Uppendia v Emperor, 129 Ind. Crs. 676=32 C L J 425

English and American following (1) The all deceit. There be furthered (2) If a belief Higher Power upon human ill doing, the fear of this punishment will outweigh any possible motive for deception, and will even counter balance the inclination to gratify a possible spirit of revenge. (3) Even without such a belief there is a natural and instinctive awe shown (profane language) was important in another point of view It sits at the very foundation of the reasons upon which dying declarations are admitted at all There are certain guarantees of the truth of dying declarations, growing out of the solemnity of the time and circumstances under which they are made

It was clearly the right of the accused to show that the deceased in making the statement was not in that frame of mind which the law presupposes and requires in such cases that the deceased was in a reckless irreverent state of mind and entertained false views of all that he felt towards the accused then at the child

Second

in her mind could have had that idea of a future state which is necessary

it was received heaven if he told the truth

under English and American law Vide Woodcock's Case, Leach Cr

think I ought not to say that I was fully convinced that the deceased was in such a state of mind as to be able to recover, as he was a kind who have no conviction that their death is near approaching, and that he felt that he was very near, and that he

I think there is no sufficient proof that he was without any hope and that I, therefore, ought to reject the evidence. But even in cases where the guarantees of the trustworthiness of dying declarations are present must receive it with certain degree of caution. It may be seldom that a dying

the his or ack-urk-by ury

generally given by relatives and friends of the deceased who had watched by his bed side, and bias in his favour is to be expected. And even if given by police officers it should be carefully examined. The declarations are liable to be misunderstood, and to be reported by an unfaithful memory, especially if much time has elapsed since they were made, and the evidence goes to the jury with mind emotions of deep sympathy against the accused. There is credulous of the entire integrity of declarant is apt to make his own and to be rid of the importunity and annoyance of those around him, he may say whatever they choose to suggest. So, too, as respects the declarant's statements, it is to be remarked that many persons, even in serious conversation, assert as facts those things of which they have only strong convictions and not knowledge derived from senses. If the declarant related his opportunities for observing the facts stated and they appear to be ample, this would add to the repeated his statements rationally and speech" Moore's Weight and Value, After a dying declaration, or any other to be given to it is a matter exclusive not believe it, by rules of law to have been or though they do suppose him to have been thus conscious they may still not believe the statement to be true. In other words, their canons of ultimate belief are not necessarily the same as the preliminary legal conditions of admissibility whose purpose is an entirely different one. Wigmore § 1451. In deciding as to its credibility the jury should consider all the evidence in the case, including any which may have come to their attention during the preliminary hearing on voir dire. The credit which the jury may be disposed to give may one of fact, on the

So, as to whether a duress is a question for them. The jury may reasonably find that the probative force of the dying declaration is increased by the fact that the speaker is not possessed in favour of his own side of the contention. The facts stated in a dying declaration thus seem to be not conclusive upon the jury. Clamberlayne v. Ly 28 J8

Weight for the Jury—Impeachment. When the statement of a witness previously made is used as evidence under the provisions of this section then any other statement made by that witness can be used by virtue of s. 153 for the purpose of contradicting that witness as if such witness had appeared in Court

32 is clearly within the rights of the accused. The effect, however, of the most conclusive demonstration of the falsity of the dying statement in some particular case where the declarant enumerates among his assailants one who could not have been present, does not affect the admissibility of its weight. The accused may declare by showing that the other times Niamat v Emperor, A. I. R. 1930 Lah 409=31 P. L. J. 111. Indeed, it is his right to establish that fact if it is within his power to do so. The existence of such inconsistent statements, even that of a contradictory dying declaration does not warrant the rejection of an in evidence or require that it be stricken out, probative efficiency of the latter. Should it may, relies upon a dying declaration of the deceased to impeach the latter in any way appropriate to a witness. For this purpose, may show, if it can that the declarant has made inconsistent or contradictory statements.

The accused may at all times introduce evidence tending to show that the deceased was without a proper sense of moral accountability, or that a sense of impending death would fail to clear his mind of bitterness or falsehood leaving a controlling desire to tell the truth. That he was in the habit of using profane or indecent language or suffered from other moral obliquities e.g., the habit of drinking intoxicants to excess, may be shown. Conviction of crime may be a relevant fact in such a connection. Similarly, while evidence is not admissible to establish the general bad character of the deceased, the accused may prove as he might in case of a witness, that he believed and that this reputation for truth where he resided. That the actual state of animosity, revengefulness and thirst for revenge is also a relevant fact. Lack of belief in a future state of rewards and punishments naturally affects, as has been noticed the character and the fact may be the credibility of his statement. Disbelief of such a nature will not be assumed but must be affirmatively shown. Chamberlayne's Ex §§ 2864, 2865, 2866.

Mental state of the declarant. To enable the jury properly to judge of the probative force of a dying declaration, the jury are entitled to be fully informed of the circumstances under which it was made. Prominent among these is the mental condition of the declarant. Thus they are entitled to view from all angles, reaching a conviction of their own as to an actual sense of impending death experienced by the declarant at the time of making his statement and as declaration to be admissible, must have been the utterance of a Chamberlayne's Ex § 2867.

Value of declarations in nanula, 29 C. In the case of a dying declaration which by the law of England assumes a character very widely different from what it is under the English Law, which is relevant under the Evidence Act, whether the person who made it was or was not at the time when it was made under expectation of death, and the weight to be given to it is a guarantee which it was made of it, Chamberlayne's Ex § 2867.

be relied upon or not" No statements made by a dying man relating to the cause of his death are admissible in evidence against a person causing his death, but too much reliance cannot be placed upon the details of such statements as they are hearsay. Emperor v. Sultan Bena, 76 Ind Cas 389. It is not safe to base a conviction on the uncorroborated dying declaration of a deceased person, for it is well known that the inhabitants of the Punjab will often in a dying declaration not only accuse the actual offenders but will also include the names of other enemies. Bikkesh Singh v. Emperor, 86 Ind Cas 826 = A I R 1925 Lah 519, see also Stephen's History of Cr. Law. Mr Justice Stephen also said known in the Peshawar division that a dying declaration as to the cause of the declarant's death is admitted in proof of the matter stated. The effect of this was that whenever a man was mortally wounded, and found himself dying

This is very far indeed from the way in which a dying Punjabi looks at the subject. His

his dying declaration
'Dying declaration'
England. Very often the murdered man himself, before his death implicates every male member of his su n Madappa Kone, trustworthy dying

of the faculties

and proved by the clearest and most reliable evidence to be the exact words of the person making it, and corroborated by the surrounding circumstances, is sufficient to support a conviction for murder under s 302 I P Code. Karim Khan v. Crown, 4 P W R 1909 Cr = 9 Cr L J 156 = 1 Ind Cas 100. But a Court should be careful not to be misled by the violence, confusion, or the fact that the declarant is deceased.

Crown, 117 P R 1866, Sher Ali v. Crown, 8

202 N Y 491 (500). Much weight must be given to the dying declaration recorded by the Magistrate where it is supported by the consistent evidence led on behalf of the prosecution. Sawan Singh v. Emperor 10 Lah L J 281. It states itself in its various forms for the sake of argument such declaration is for all practical purposes negligible. Inayat Ali v. Emperor, 103 Ind Cas 526 = L E A. — 68

32.

dent corroboration of facts and circumstances to prove that offence Battu Singh v Emperor, A. I. R. 1929 Pat 219. In England questions of admissibility arise chiefly with respect to the mental condition of the declarant. To make such declaration admissible in England there must be a "settled hopeless expectation of death not qualified by any prospect of recovery, however slight." In India they are not under the section;

h, that statement is relevant not entitled to particular after the occurrence it may for his friend to suggest falsehood. But if the man is in bed in hospital for four days after the event and a month before he dies and makes a statement, that statement carries no more weight than if he made it in the witness box, and rather less, because he has never been cross examined. Under these circumstances it is incumbent on the

Dying

regarded as to questions,

& P. 238, 1.

711, R v Bottomley, 118 L. T. 88; R v Fitzpatrick, 46 Ir. L. T. 173 (1911).

But in R v Mitchell, 17 Cox C. C. 503, Care J said "Where a statement is not the ipsissima verba of the person making it but is composed of a mixture of questions and answers, there are several objections open to its reception in evidence, which it is to be able to do so in cases in which the person has no opportunity may be leading to declaration there is without their force and effect being freely comprehended. In such circumstances the form of the declaration should be such was the question and what was the answer suggested by the examining Magistrate and how much was person making it. See also R v

17 T. L. R. 552. On the other hand

311-115 L. T. J. 88, Laurence question and answer was admissible, although the answers only and not the questions had been taken down. In R v Corbett (1903) Queensland S. R. 41

Griffith C J said, that R v Mitchell, unsettled what had before been the law and followed R v Smith saying further that it is not essential that a dying declaration should be proved by two or more independent sources. Pleadings

P.

Ind.

is

to C.

the exact

W. N. 72.

the weight

the examining giving a witness ed told the police Emperor v Sikandar, A. I. R. 1910 16 Ir. L. R. 173, it was held statement when d contains a note Sikandar, A. I.

it was held

the value and credibility of the declarations. Therefore, it is no objection to their admissibility that they were made in answer to leading questions, or obtained by pressing and earnest solicitation Russ Cr. 2092; R v Reason, 1 Str. 499; R v Woodcock, 2 Leach. 51; R v Welburn, 1 East P. C. 358; R v. Smith, L & C. 607, R v. Steele, 12 Cox. 168, R v Whitmarsh, 62 J. P. 683, 711.

it mu
by the he m 2092

expressed by the declarant; it must be complete as far as it goes. But it is immaterial how much of the whole affair of the death is related, provided the § 1448 Administration by no means requires that the extra judicial statement to appear, the dying declaration will be rejected as incomplete Chamberlayne's

26 Cr L J 1256=52 C 987 It must be taken as a whole and a portion of it cannot be allowed Infr v Imperor, A I R 1930 Cyl 211=50 C L J 584; 22 M L J 435 prisoner there seems no reason to doubt the propriety of admitting a dying declaration which is in favour of the prisoner. Indeed, almost every case of man-slaughter, in which such declarations have been admitted, is an authority him, but rati

"Owing to
for homicide

it has sometimes been argued that the declaration cannot be used by the accused. But the argument has no foundation whatever, and has been generally repudiated. Wigmore Ev § 1452, see also Mattox v U S, 146 U S 151, Moore v. State, 12 Ala 767; People v Southern 120 Cal 645, Com v Bednorski, 261 Pa 124

Nature of dying declarations "Where statements are made by the deceased at different times, all may be proved as his dying declarations if all are administrative precedence over the remainder. And one among several written statements may be proved without producing the others. Naturally, there is no

5. 32 preference between oral statements made under similar condition at different times' Chamberlayne's Cr § 2847

Dying declaration captured in a ration as to the
 the circumstances causing his death, and the statement is admissible to prove his own participation in the offence but was not admissible against the other accused Dattu Singh v Emperor, L R 5 A 201 Cr. When the declaration of a person wounded by the accused in committing dacoity was made on the 13th August 1899, and he died on the 20th of that month and there was no other evidence wounds received at his death, the High Court in evidence Imperial v P. d. 25 P 15-2 R. 1 J R 331 In a case of murder the statement of a head 1872, that section who made the statement of death Qu certain statements relating to the cause of the the investigation of a criminal case, held, in Bahawala v Empress, 17 P R 1886 Cr A was dying at the time he made it is a dying term and is admissible under this section, the lingered for six days afterwards and then died Thakar Singh v Emperor
 A I R 1929 Lah 61-10 L L J 163 The statement of a deceased person was recorded in the absence of the accused. Subsequently in the presence of the accused, the statement was read over and the accused were allowed to cross examine the dying person. Held that the statement was not a dying deposition under s. 33 of the Evidence Act, and was not admissible under section 37 (1) unless it was proved by examining the Magistrate who recorded it or so as to one who heard it made Njo Po v Emperor, 14 Cr L J 396-20 Ind Cas 200 Bur L T 68 The statement of a deceased person that she was confined in the house of an accused, that he was keeping watch over her and that another accused had raped her on account of which she had become pregnant and that they were getting ready to give her medicine to miscarry and so to put an end to her life is admissible under s. 32 (1), as a statement made by a person as to the circumstances of a transaction which resulted in her death in a case in which the cause of death comes into question Wahid Bux v Emperor A I R 19 Sind 250

CLAUSE II

facts asserted oral declarations namely (i) the necessity that the statement should be made by a person having knowledge, (ii) that it should entry of any collateral fact person entering it to record the Legislature, so that Court any evidence which falls within the terms of the present section

Cr 163

Principle. evidence is admissible principle, and (2) it

Necessity principle On the principle of Necessity this exception is made the use of statements by persons who are competent, though not necessarily the sole evidence available on the subject, is yet the only testimony now available with

 C 271 P 1
 here in the Engl 3 Cr
 1901 with clause (a) such ally, (1) the

 of Trust or affords the greatest security for truth. Their declarations verbal or written, must, however, sometime in order to prevent a abandoned and can no longer be traced, his extra judicial declaration made in the course of business or official duty will be received in evidence Chamberlayne's Ev § 2879. Section 32 provides that written or verbal statements made by a person who is dead or cannot be found are relevant facts in certain cases Rama Sوامي v Rama Nandan, 22 Ind Crs 627=(1914) M W N 240=1 L W 136.

ments fairly trustworthy

- (1) The habit and system of making such a record with regularity calls for the influence of races and to Dicas, 1 Bing what is false, ly incurred accuracy

- (3) If, in addition to this, the entrant makes the record under a duty to an employer or other superior, there is the additional risk of censure and disgrace from the superior powerful and Tindal C J. 811.

could be likely such the entry false would or Ev § 697, layne's Ev. §§

32. Section 32 imposes restrictions upon the admissibility of statements made by persons who cannot be brought before the Court to give their own evidence. The object of those restrictions is the principle of legal evidence being followed that where persons can be what they know at first hand of cross-examination. Where however witnesses cannot be brought before the Court, their previous statements are at best indirect evidence, of a kind that the conditions which are imposed upon it, are truth. As there is to be no chance of testing a man by cross examination his statement will not be admitted unless it has been made under conditions which, looking to the ordinary course of human affairs raise pretty strong presumptions that it was a true statement. Thus the whole scope and object of section 32 centre upon securing the highest degree of truth possible in the circumstances for the statement. Per Beaman J in Sethna v Utrala 3 Bom L R. 1017 at p 1048

Statement made in ordinary course of business. This clause provides that a written statement of a relevant fact made by a person who is dead is itself a relevant fact in the ordinary course of business. The exact meaning is more than one place.

the existence of any course of business

4 Camp 193. The course plaintiff's counting house methodical cannot carry the so too by section 114 the Court it thinks likely a natural event to the facts of public and private business such a case was meant to be or business, illustration (c) its well known transaction or trade. Agg in the explanation to section 47 it is said per in per me of a broke 'Agg course of Spinning the Privy 118=4 C in evidence none of or (as in banks) from hour to hour as transactions take place. I think, be no said) are, I think regularly kept in the course of business. Having regard, then, to the above considerations there can, I think, be no doubt that the expression 'in the ordinary course of business' in section 32(1) must be read in the same sense. It may in one sense be true that it is in the ordinary course of business, for a mortgaged deed to contain recitals of the boundaries of the land mortgaged. But that would not make the recitals evidence. The question is, whether the mortgage deed itself is a statement made in the ordinary course of business. Looking at the particulars set out in clause (1) of section 32 the nature of the statements 'made in the course of business' and looking at the sense in which the expression is apparently used in other sections ed deed executed by an profession, trade, or business' Act) of an agriculturist ca v Bharmappa, 23 B 63 at pp. 65-67. In the same case Fulton J at p 70 observed "It can hardly be said that the execution of a mortgage deed is an act done in the ordinary course of business. Doubtless when a person has determined to mortgage his land, the

v. Jeonandan, 13 C. W. N. 71) The phrase was apparently used to indicate the current routine of business, which was usually followed by the person

W. N. 71.

been ford, course
the ex
v Rac expre of bus

Mass 481, State v Phair, 48 Vt 378; Due v Sayer, 29 Me 119 So also in America and England
"This may be defined performed in one's mode of obtaining a l of doings kept merely for one's personal satisfaction, but it would not exclude admitted Similarly in R v Cope, 7 C & P 726, an endorsement of service on an order of the aldermen, the writers duty being to serve orders and endorse

C L J 155 Where account books are admitted in evidence before the Commissioner under section 32 of the Evidence Act, as having been kept in the ordinary course of business by persons deceased, it is in the discretion of the Court to hold that they are sufficient evidence of the transaction to which the entries
L R 81 und 10 Bom
before l unately die l
Evidence Act as being statement made by a dead person in the ordinary course of business and in the discharge of his professional duty Mohan Singh v.

- S. 32. Imperial, 11 R G All 19=55 Ind Cas 647=26 Cr L J 551-A I R 1930 All 413 Jama wasil baki, and Jamabandi papers can be admitted in evidence under this clause but it must be clear that the persons who made them are dead and that the papers were made in the ordinary course of business. An entry as to the rate of rent cannot be distinguished from other entries therein as are not made usually one, nor even that it should be a secular one, it follows that a register of marriages or the like is admissible. Reed, Doyle, 16 All Mr "An entry made in performance of a duty is admissible than one made by a clerk, or messenger or notary or attorney or solicitor, or a physician in the course of his secular occupation."

A deed of conveyance was tendered in evidence which purported to be the mark of G, as vendor, and which was duly attested by four witnesses. However, she denied that she had ever executed the deed, and said that the mark was not hers. All the attesting witnesses were dead. A witness was called who knew

11 B 600 In a suit to recover loss sustained on the sale by plaintiffs, of goods consigned to them by the defendant for sale by their London firm accountants are good prima facie evidence put in

26 Bom 253. Entries in this section as the register in the case of a jayman cannot be admitted to pronounce affirmatively "not of such a character as to enable the Court to pronounce affirmatively" course of business. Ma C)=18 M L J 511

mark is that of the executant is admissible in evidence under this clause if the writer is dead and it is proved that the document is written by him. Lah

v Rangayan, A I R 1923 P 111=67 Ind Cas 57 Where a family pedigree was sought to be proved by books kept by a family chronicler, held that under section 32 (2) they would be admissible as books kept in the ordinary course of business by a professional chronicler. Ma C)=18 M L J 511 such a book Mohan Singh v Ind. Cas 235; see also Gobind, 48 Ind Cas 375 But entries in the diary of a deceased person relating to birth and death are not admissible under this clause. Gobordhan, (1919) Pat 352=37 Ind Cas 421=2 Pat L J 42

Statement includes verbal statement. The statement may be written or verbal (vide s 32). The general prevailing doctrine in America requires the declarations to be in writing; the exception relates to entries strictly speaking and does not extend to oral statements. Wigmore § 1523 In England, however, it seems settled that an oral statement is equally admissible. Sussex Peerage Case, 11 Clark & F. 85, Lord Campbell says at p 113 "By the law of England the declarations of deceased persons are not generally admissible unless they are against the pecuniary interest of the party making them. There are two exceptions. First, where a declaration, by word of mouth or by writing, is made in the course of business of the individual making it, there it may be received in evidence, though it is not against his interest." See also Stapleton v. Clough 3 El & Bl 933, 937; Eddie v. Kingsford, 14 C B 759 (763). In Reg v. Buckley, 13 Cox Cr Cas 291, which was a trial for murder, the prosecution offered to show the verbal report of the deceased, who was a constable, to his superior officer as to where he was going on the night of the murder. It seems he had reported that he was going to watch the accused, who on a previous occasion had been convicted of larceny, chiefly on the evidence of the deceased. It was held admissible. But in a recent case it has been held by one English Court, that a declaration made by a physician admissible, and it

reason, 22 T

Review 301

Since in that jurisdiction the third motive of trustworthiness (vide supra under the head circumstantial guarantee of trustworthiness) is regarded as most important, and the statement must be made under a duty to a third person, it may be conceded that an oral statement would be scarcely inferior to a written one in trustworthiness. In this country, however, where that limitation does not obtain, the trustworthiness of an oral statement would seem to be far inferior to that of a written one, especially as affected by the second reason for the rule (vide supra under the head circumstantial guarantee of trustworthiness). Nevertheless, in the usual conduct of business by subordinates in mercantile or industrial houses (practically the only class of persons by whom oral reports are regularly made), the element does exist

where it

English

, there is written statements and of the

made in most of the other exceptions." The words "and in particular" in s. 32(2) seem to point to the superior force of written over verbal statements. Natt. L. 177

Section 32(2) and section 34. In Rampyavabai v. Balaji, 28 B 291=6 Bom L R 50, the plaintiff relied on entries in the hand writing of her deceased husband kept in the ordinary course of business. The lower Court rejected certain items for want of the judgment observed support of her claim.

The accounts are relevant both under section 34 and under section 32(2) of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872. The learned Judge has considered that corroborative the accounts without corroboration the only point being that the law does not require corroboration." See also Must. Rani v. Firm Bahadur, 62 Ind Cas 946. So also where entries in Jama bandi papers began over 70 years before the action was tried, the presumption was that the person who made them was dead and could not be called and as they were made in the ordinary course of business by the land-lord's agents, they were relevant without any corroboration, as evidence against the tenant under sub-section (2) of section 33 of the Indian Evidence Act which does not require corroboration is under section 34. Dhukha Mandal v.

32.

persons who Kailash, 44 Ind be evidence u be admitted, n
and the entrie

v Nauab Khaja Habibulla, 31 C L J 63=47 C. 266=56 Ind Cas. 38, Dulu v Jogadish, 90 Ind Cas 564=A I R 1926 Cal 379 Jonah Biswas v Sita Kumari A I R 1927 Cal 855 But in Gopeshwar Cal 854, Mr Justice Mookerjee said "The entry relevant under s 34 and one relevant under s 34 (2) in the former case the person who made the entry may be available as a witness while in the latter case he is not I find it very difficult to appreciate on what ground the legislature could intend to exempt entries relevant under s 34 cl (2) from the disability that it imposed on entries relevant under s 34 by the second part of that section, and personally I have always felt inclined to take the view that such entries, no matter whether they are relevant under the one section or under the other, are not to be considered as alone sufficient to charge any person with liability"

English Law A declaration is deemed to be relevant when it was made by the declarant in the ordinary course of his duty as a witness in the discharge of professional duty irrelevant ex

3 B & Ad 82

the ordinary c

by a person duly authorised to make them Steph art 27 The leading case on this rule is the case of Price v Earl of Turrington, 1 Salk 285=2 Smith L C 320 The short report of it in Salked is as follows "The plaintiff being a

the Earl of Turrington for beer sold and to charge the defendant was, that the usual that the drymen came every night to the clerk of the warehouse and gave an account of the beer they had delivered out which he set down in a book kept for the purpose, to which the drymen set their names, that the dryman was dead but this was his hand set to the book and this was held good evidence of singly, without more' That case

Previous to that in Pitman v Maddox, 1 Loru Kayn, 100, 100 v Indee the plaintiff produced a copy of a book written by one of the

to be good evidence within the year alone Phayer Cas. Ex 511

Origin In England, formerly a party to an action was not permitted to testify in his own behalf An apparent exception to this rule, however existed in the application of the so called "shop-book rule" In early times in England parties were permitted to show, by entries made in their books, the sale of goods or performance of labour, of 7 Jac 1, C 12 was passed relevant portion of the authority of the

before the same action brought, except he or they, their executors or tors, shall said debt, or admini

year next after the same wares delivered, money due for wares delivered, or work done." Later developments narrowed the rule to the cases where the entries less, seemed to be a witness entries made by he entries was required by the clerk who made them, if living and within reach; if he was not, proof of his handwriting was considered sufficient. Pitman v. Maddox, 1 L. R. 732; Price v. Earl of Torrington 2 L. R. 873. The rule with respect as evidence through no absolute necessity, but by reason of a presumption of necessity only, inferred from the nature of commerce. See also Woodnath v. Lord Cobham, Bomb 180, Lord v. Hopkins, continued to go in, when the entries were the deed. There is reason to think that the when made in a stranger's books grew out of the practice in the case of a party's own "shop books." Thayer Cas. Ev 509

jecte l on the ground that he is responsible. R v 558, Trotter v Maclean, or v Walmesley, (1904) 2 d surveyor, employed by recorded Smith v Blaken L. R. 2 Q. B. 332. See also Iolena v Gray, L. R. 12 Ch. D. 411. Lyell v Kennedy 35 W. R. 725, Stu la v Freccia, 5 App. Cas. 623. In Chambers v Bernasconi 1 C. & J. 451, the Court rejected the

which the person is employ the entry relates, and then

32. the duty must be proved by other independent evidence Bright v Lejer 1 Deg F & J at p 614 The Henry Cozon 3 P D 156, Doe v Twiford L R 1 Q. B at p 332, Pere R 347 Personal c towards any person of costs delivered by him are not admissible on the ground that it was his duty to keep proper books, or that they were made out in the course of duty Pere R 321 see also Bright v Lejer 2 Deg F & J at p 617, Hop v Hope 1893 W N 21, Leroy v Coulthard (1897) W N 25, contra Rush v Richard 28 Berv 370 The acts must have been done by the declarant and not by third person Smith v Blakey, supra, Ryan v Ring 25 L R Ir 141 In Polini v Gray supra, James L J held that entry must not be to a thing said learned or ascertained by the declarant, but something done by, or to him and in Lyell v Kennedy supra Brown L J approved the statement Phipps v Eyre 7th Ed 270 The office or employment to which the duty is attached may be private, as in the case of ordinary clerk or public as in that of a Sheriff (Chambers v Bernasconi 1 C M & R 347) or of a notary public (Poole v Dumas 1 Bing N C 619), or of a Magistrate (Wills v Little and another, 29 L J Ex 267) Wills v Little 2nd Ed 180 The duty must have been to record or otherwise report it at the time Smith v Blakey supra, Polini v Gray supra, Doe v Twiford, 3 B & A 1 890, Pearson v Ash 25 L R Ir 184 The Henry Cozon, 3 P D 159, Poole v Dumas (1900) 3 C 388, Sturtevant v Neccio (1880) 3 App Cas 623 (640) 'This limitation of Prof Wigmore is a reminiscence of the early history, and is needless strictly'.

Duty to a third person—Necessity under this section Under the Indian Evidence Act, the report or record need not be made in the course of a duty to a third person "The statement must relate to a

so far as the question of with the performance of

Whether this fact naturally finds a place in the narrative what is the nature of its connection with the fact the statement of which was a matter of duty and whether this connection was such as to information or observation must however being the weight due to such evidence when

Field 7th Ed p 98 So in India the following observation was made in Denham v Chambers v Bernasconi 3 L J Ex 313-1 C M & R 347 has no application 'We are all of opinion that, whatever effect may be due to an entry made in the course of business any officer reporting facts necessary to the performance of a duty the statement of other circumstances however naturally they might be thought to find place in the narration, is no proof of those circumstances' A register of marriages kept by Ishahad since delivered who celebrated a marriage, and in which register was entered the amount of the dowry, was held to be admissible and relevant as evidence of the sum fixed, being an entry in a book kept in the discharge of duty within section 32, cl (2) Zakaria v S 19 C 689=19 I A 159

ordin
the tr

Indian Evidence Act made at or near the time in or before the declarations in the course of

at the time it purp

Similarly in Poole v Dumas

any doubts whether ought to go down to the

Pearson v Ash 25 L

Lyell v Kennedy 36,

1103
1104 1105
1106 1107 1108
1109
1110

not made until two days after the event it was held not contemporaneous. The Henry Coxon, 3 P. D 156. But in Price v. Torrington, 1 Salk 285 a record in the evening of an act done in the morning was admitted in evidence. The provisions of the Indian Evidence Act contain no similar restriction as to the admissibility of this kind of evidence; but in determining the weight to be allowed to it in particular cases, it will always be important to consider how far the statement or entry was contemporaneous with the fact it relates. Fild Ev. 7th Ed 95; Can Ev 7enth Ed. 163

Personal knowledge. The declarations are only evidence of the precise of which consequently he had
In Brian v. Prece, 11 M & W £1 15s for coals alleged to have been sold by the plaintiff's testator to the defendant. At the trial it appeared person of the name of Baldum to make entries in the books from what he, Yem, told him. Both Harvey and Yem were dead, but in order to prove the delivery of the coals, Baldum was called as a witness who produced the book, and stated that he made it out from Yem's directions and that every evening he read over ness for the

There was not apt conclud book other ca case w dictation by another man who is dead, is widely different. As regards the case of Price v. Lord Torrington, it is better to adhere to that case as it stands, and a deceased

it the entries relate to an act or acts done by the deceased person and not by third parties." There can be no doubt that the general principle of testimonial evidence should person who had no personal knowledge of the supposed facts recorded. Every's Executors v. Avery, 19 Ala 195, Walling v. Morgan Co, 126 Ala 326. In the regular course of business, of a transaction lying in the personal knowledge of the latter, there is no objection to receiving that entry under the present exception.

judgment Lord Robertson at a different position. Its alleged truth. But the exhibit in question is Gurdat in a claim made by him proceeding was to make himself this admittedly was untrue. I

His relation to the document is from the personal knowledge and belief of a deceased person upon which that appears the genealogical table is is admissible in evidence question might never h been entirely the worl this observation of the

of which require "speci To reject a declaration would cause great incon

For aught that appears, the genealogical table in not the entries thus made in the usual course of business of this extensive trading establishment, and as a part of it who prove them not only the best, practicable to secure? We have no hesitations and convenience require them to be admitted. The weighers, wharfingers and numerous subordinates who handled this cotton kept no books. They report to the clerks who keep the books of the concern, and their functions are performed. I remember the multitude of transactions and suppose a different rule upon the subject of justice in commerce and amount to a denial of justice."

Extrinsic proof Extrinsic proof must be given of the death or disability of the declarant. Duke v Jagdish, 90 Ind Cis 551, Chatterjee v Kaulas, 41 Ind Cis 422-4 Par I, W 513 77.
be properly
C & P ere, how r iced from proper custody, the hand the one, he presumed (rule & c been noted on in the case of declar

we have nothing to do in this case : must S. 3 also be proved by extrinsic proof of acting therein as sufficient , , , Phyp.
Ex. 379

it is made in writing, there

Any mark or sign that is

North Bank v. Abbot, 13

Pick. 417; Wigmore § 1531.

Cases under clause (2). A mortgage bond purported to be executed by three persons who were all dead at the time of the suit. The signature of each of the three statements were proved to have been written by a deceased professional bond-writer who wrote the whole document in the ordinary course of business. The two attesting witnesses are also dead and the signature each of them was satisfactorily proved to be in his handwriting. Held that there was sufficient proof of the execution of the bond, and that the statement in writing of the deceased bond-writer was relevant under s 32(2) of the Evidence Act. Haria v. Manah Chand, 11 N L R 9 = 27 Ind Cas 866. In order to prove that a certain reply to notice had been signed and sent by the 1st defendant, plaintiff's Kariyasthan was called, who deposed that he was told by the writer of the notice in question that he wrote it at the request of the 1st defendant. The writer was made the statement to the plaintiff's the writer's business. Held, that the the Evidence Act. Kolonqorath v

On a trial of a loading for the purpose sent from Delhi to C in Calcutta, advising the despatch of the goods, was tendered in evidence under section 44 cl 2 of Act I of 1872, but the Court refused to receive it, and intimated a doubt whether it fell within the instances specified in the section Queen v Tasnee Charun Dey, 9 B L R App 42 In a suit on a bond, the defendant, though admissible under section 32 (2) of the Evidence Act, have very little probative value when they are not signed by the transferors and are not supported by the evidence of persons who purport to sign them as witnesses. My Po Nyein v. Maung My, 27 Ind Cas 777 = 5 Bur L R 85. A statement made in a deed of conveyance or mortgage deed is not made in the course of business within the meaning of cl (2) of s 32. Abdulla v Hum Behary, 14 C L J 467. In a registered deed, the signature of a deceased person is not admissible in evidence. Evidentiary value of a deed executed by a deceased person in the ordinary course of business and consisting of an acknowledgment written or signed by him of the receipt of money, is admissible in evidence under s. 32, and not under s. 13. Ahmad Sharif Jamat Ahmad, A I R 1928 Oudh 218; but see Abdul Ali v Rejan Ali, 19 C W N 468 = 21 Ind Cas 618; Soraj Kumar v Umed Ali, A I R 1922 Cal 251. Where ordinary course of business and they are admissible under s. 32, sub-section (2).

Abbas v. Pratul, 65 C. 1070-32 C. W. N. 759-103 Ind. Cas 585-A, I. R.

v. Kali Prasanna, 26 C 832 (839). But section 95 of the Bengal Road cess Act (IX of 1880) is not exhaustive. It was intended to restrict the operation of s 21 of the Evidence Act, and a road cess return may be admissible in evidence as made the return Challo Singh v. Gouras Sankar, 23 W R 192, Hem A. 177. The road cess return filed by a person in his capacity is admissible in evidence in favour of him and may be regarded as a person's statement.

v. Ajodha, 39 C 1005

Swarnamoy v. Sourendra, 12 C L J 11-89 Ind C 717-A I R 1925 Cal 1189

Deposition of Patwari. A deposition made by a Patwari of a village in Bengal under the Bengal Deposition Act, 1882, is admissible in evidence under s 32 of the Evidence Act. Man v. Duarka Prasad, 9 Pat. L T 679-109 Ind C 136-A I R 1928 Pat 129 clause See illustration of the

CLAUSE III

Scope of clause (3) This clause makes declarations against interest admissible in evidence. Illustrations (e) and (f) apply to this clause. This section makes three classes of declarations against interest admissible in evidence, namely, 1st, where they affect the declarant's pecuniary interest, 2ndly his proprietary interest, and 3rdly his interest in office or charge.

admissible against the interest of the person through whom he claims. Rani v. Khagendra, 31 C 871 P C-9 C W N 71. Under this clause the tests of admissibility of statements against interest made by deceased persons are that (1) the deceased must have had personal knowledge of the facts he was stating, (2) the facts stated should have been to the immediate prejudice of the deceased, (3) the statements must have been, to the knowledge of the deceased contrary to his interest, and (4) the interest must be either pecuniary or proprietary. Ramanathan v. Murugappa, 33 Ind C 969-3 L W 216-(1916) 1 M W N. 208

English law According to English law declarations against interest are statements made by deceased persons adverse to their pecuniary or proprietary interest; and the guarantee of their credibility consists in the fact that they are statements made by a person who is presumed to be true. Middleton v. Milton, 11 C 63, 67, Brady v. Atkinson, (1879) 13 Ch D 1. interest in other sense as for instance an

32. v. Exeter, (1869) 4 Q. B. 311, Hayes observed: "Having regard to the great changes that have in recent times, been made in admitting the evidence of interested witnesses, when alive, it would be most objectionable to lay down any narrow restrictions upon the reception of declarations in any way against interest which have been made by persons since deceased, and which are frequently the only evidence that can be obtained on the subjects to which they refer and where the Courts are frequently obliged to supply the want of evidence by presumptions."

In Taylor v. Witham, 3 Ch. D. 11, no doubt an established rule is again at the interest of the man who is dead for all purposes. What is I adopt the view of Baron Parke in C. 333, that it must be prima facie speaker is admissible even if upon the facts and other circumstances, it may be making it and "not an admission which may or may not turn out at some subsequent time to have been against his interest." See also Smith v. Blake, L. R. 2 Q. B. 326, Marssey.

In Tucker v. Olcott, 1008, Lord Justice that the statement in this state Court of Appeal Company, (191 sought to be put related to an acknowledgment of paternity and a promise made by the deceased to marry the mother of the child, who claimed compensation under the "Workman's Compensation Act," as a dependant on the deceased. Lord Justice Hamilton, after making an incidental observation that as between the dicta of Blackburn J. in Smith v. Blake, 2 Q. B. 326-26 L. J. Q. B. 14, that the statement must be one which never could be made available for the person himself, and that of Jessel M. R. that it is sufficient that the statement is prima facie against the interest of the person making it, he is inclined to the former view, "if there is any real difference between them," proceeds to lay down categorically the tests of admissibility of statements against interest. According to the learned Lord Justice, (a) the deceased must have had personal knowledge of the facts he was stating, (b) the fact should have been to the deceased's immediate prejudice, (c) the statement must have been to the knowledge of the deceased, contrary to his interest, and (d), the interest must be either pecuniary or proprietary. The case went up to the House of Lords. Lords Forchurn and Moulton on neither accepted the statement of the law. to agree. A. C. this point ground.

time when she was not of sound mind, memory or understanding. Under which had been destroyed her husband took a life interest in her estate after as under an ante nuptial settlement he was, in the events that had happened.

entitled absolutely to her estate. A statement by the husband, who had died before the suit was brought, mind when she destroyed sound disparagement of his own ing in T. L. R. 202. ills, 27

departure from English
h would subject the declar-ant. This seems to be the Case, 11 C & F 108 In that case the question was whether A was lawfully married to B A statement injuriously affect the interest of the party making them. Nor is it true, that s to certain

These are
in that case
be liable to prosecution, that, therefore, the instant the grave closes over him, all that was said by him is to be taken as evidence in every action and prosecution against another person, is one of the most monstrous and untenable propositions that can be advanced." Nort Ev 184 So "the interest involved must, according to the English Law, be one of a pecuniary or proprietary nature, no other interest will suffice. But the Indian Law, as laid down in sub section (3) of section 32 of the Evidence Act, extends the scope of this exception and put a penal interest on the same footing as a pecuniary or proprietary interest." Per Shadi Lal C J in Mahomed v Emperor, A I R 1926 Lab 54-89 Ind Cas 252 (258) So a statement which would have exposed the declarant to a criminal prosecution or to a suit for damages, would be admissible as a piece of evidence in any proceeding in which such evidence is relevant to the issue or issues being tried in such proceeding. Per Ffoides J in Mohammad v Emperor, 89 Ind Cas 252 (254)

Principle The exception presupposes, like most of the others, first a neces-untruthfully. Wigmore § 1455 ely to have been stated impo

being unavailable, his statement sho his case being regarded as must show that a particular fac as here applied, signifies the the same source, the declarant for the witness is practically

Manley v Curtis, 1 Price 229, Phillips v
Cole, 10 A & E 106, Barrows v White 4 B & C 328, Sjargo v Brown, 9
B & C 936 In Fitch v Chapman, 10 Conn 11, Williams J said The cases where such evidence is admitted seem to proceed generally upon the principle that, by the principle of insanity from jury
evidence incompetency.

S. 32 v Blad's, 3 Camp 458, the declarant had suffered from an apoplectic fit and was declared by his physician to be in extremis. The question was whether the declaration of such a person
Tottenborough L C J said and I am afraid to establish patient is not all permitted there this section of the the declarant is - procured without an amount of delay or expense, which under the circumstances appears to be unreasonable. Asiatic Steam N Co v Bengal Coal, 30 C 701 of evidence is covered. And admits that when since could not be

Subjective relevancy—Adequate knowledge In connection with the with the other exceptions to the hearsay rule, judicial attention is concentrated upon the subjective relevancy shown by the declarant. Here is elsewhere the elements of such subjective relevancy are two, Adequate knowledge and Absence of controlling Motive to Misrepresent.

Adequate knowledge may co-curate with the inference or state sufficient, in the opinion of the present, in acting in accordance with extent on the part of the declarant must be shown in order to warrant reception of a declaration against interest as secondary evidence of the facts asserted. It is not regarded as sufficient, for example, to show that such an extra-judicial statement was found, after his decease, among the papers of the person purporting to be the declarant. He must be affirmatively shown to have made the statement and it must also appear that he knew what he was talking about. Chamberlayne's Ex § 2772

Circumstantial Guarantee or Absence of controlling Motive to Misrepresent
 The basis of this exception is the principle of experience that a statement asserting a fact distinctly against one's interest is entirely unlikely to be deliberately false or heedlessly incorrect, and is thus sufficiently sanctioned though oath and cross-examination are wanting. In Smith v Blakely L R Q B 326, Blackburn J said: "When the entries are against the pecuniary interest of the person making them, and no other evidence could be made available for the person himself there is such admitted after the Talor & L R are, statement appears which after the death
Mercer & Almer v taught us that when one makes a declaration in disparagement of his own or interests it is generally true, and because it is so the law has deemed it the exception to the likely to make a false posed to be the fact when a person, who making a declaration prejudicial to his own interest says something which is cessat ipso facto. Per Sir John Lubbock
Lath 54-89 Ind Cts 303
 446-57 I A 14 (P L) = 34 C 11
 1910, 1 K B 31

making a declaration prejudicial to his own interest says something which is cessat ipso facto. Per Sir John Lubbock
Lath 54-89 Ind Cts 303
 446-57 I A 14 (P L) = 34 C 11
 1910, 1 K B 31

Origin of the rule In John Bunbury 16 (1719) rentals or wed at Winchester and Dorchester v Brock, 3 Woodeson's Lectures it is said: "On a similar principle of evidence, because the landlord or tenant Roe & Brun v Pauling, 1 H. & M.
 'The contents of the leasehold his possession of it, it diminishes his interest in the fine on renewal, in the same proportion as it raises the rent to be reserved. The paper was written by a confidential agent at least, though it does not appear that he was the immediate steward of the estate at the time, but in evidence the following entries from the day book and receiver or a man and wife who had attended the mother of William Fowden junior at his birth, and was since deceased —

Day Book Entries

' 22nd April, 1768.

38* Richard Fallows's wife Bramhall Filus circa hor 9 mututu cum forcipe, etc paid †

Then followed in the same page the entry in question without any intervening date —

' Wm Fowden junr's † wife, 79 †
Filus circa hor 3 post merid nat etc

Ledger Entry

' Wm Fowden junr, 1768
Aprilis 22 Filus natus, etc

Wife
26th Haustus purg

£	s	d
1	6	1
0	15	0
<hr/>
2	1	1

Pd 25th Oct, 1768"

These entries were tendered in evidence to show the precise day or the birth of Wm Fowden, jun. The evidence was objected to. But the jury found on this evidence that Wm Fowden, jun. was not born on the 2nd but on the 22nd April should would been established for the security of life, liberty and property but in declaring our opinion upon inadmissibility of the evidence in question we shall lay down is limite Warren

ks of a making ve been entries "

I think the evidence here was properly admitted, upon the broad principle on which receiver's books have been admitted namely that the entry

* The figure 38 referred to the ledger

† This was the designation at the time of the father of Wm Fowden jun in question

‡ These figures referred to the ledger the entry in which follows

32.

in his own handwriting repels the claim which he would otherwise have had against the father from the rest of the evidence as it now appears. Therefore the entry made by the party was to his own immediate prejudice when he had not only no interest to make it if it were not true, but he had an interest the other way, not to discharge a claim which it appears from the other evidence that he had.

beginning with Warren v 279, in that if a person's declaration of that fact, at his death, if he could!

Ibid But in Gleadown v expression reported to be is 'if he could have been not introduced in any way such qualification and I have great doubts whether I ever used the expression. If I did, Scoble v. Lord Barrington and Bosworth v Colclitt, decided in the House of Lords, are against it" Phayer Cas 487

Statements against pecuniary interest. Statement of a fact against pecuniary interest when its tendency is to take away or lessen the pecuniary interest.

may include both verbal or written ones, documentary evidence, and particularly in books of account. Where the books of collectors of taxes, stewards, bailiffs, or receivers subject to the inspection of others, and in which the first entry is generally of money received, within the principle of this rule. Kington 3 Brod & Bing 131; Leaton, 4 T R 669; Short v Lee 556; Dean v Caldecott 7 Burd 133; Marks v Lalce, 3 Bing N C 408; Wynns v Pyrahall, 7 B & Ald 570. De Rutca v Farr, 4 Al & El 53, Plaxton v. Dare, 10 B & C 17. But it has been extended still further, to include entries in private books also, though retained in is not sufficient.

 attempted to be pro of his deceased in this exception Green v $ 150, Rudgway, 10 East. 109; Middleton v a mere memorandum of in agreement

S. 3

nor were they made in the course of his duty or employment R v. North, 4 Q B 132 In general, the interest or burden involved in the fact stated must be a positive one and of the declarant

A given fact may circumstances; for example, that one is a partner may or may not be against his interest according to the state of the firm's assets Raines v Raines, 30 All 128, Humes v. O'Bryan, 74 All 428 In the last named case A brought a suit against X and Y as partners Y having died, the suit was pressed against X alone X denied his partnership with Y and to prove his case offered declarations made by Y to the effect that he (X) was not a partner It appeared that the Y made these declarations to be noticed, the absence of that Humes

 at his interest

this is so because, if true, it would entitle, Humes to a half interest in the partnership assets The assertion, therefore, that Humes was not a partner, having been made at a time when the partnership business had failed, was a declaration exonerating him from a pecuniary liability for the partner ship debts, and, if true, to this extent doubled the ultimate amount of Glover's (Y's) liability So it is clear that whether a statement is against interest or not depends upon circumstances A statement by Y that X is not a partner is not against the interest of Y when the firm is solvent, but it is so when the firm is insolvent.

of money received by him on behalf of his cestui que trust, and for which he was liable, held admissible against the cestui que trust Bright v Legerton, 29 L. J Ch 802. In an action by a statement by the testator debt is admissible Watson testator the evidence against trator Smith v Smith, 7 Car & P 401 In an action of trover to recover a watch, the defendant pleaded that it was not the property of the plaintiff It appeared that the watch had formerly been the property of the father of the plain-

S 32. made it is not sufficient that it might possibly turn out afterwards to have been against his interest Thurds Ex parte, 14 Q B D 415

Against Proprietary interest An equal guarantee of trustworthiness furnished when the extrajudicial statement is opposed to the proprietary interest of the declarant. By declaration against proprietary interest we mean a in the property. The principle on which these declarations are received in the presumption of absolute ownership arising from possession. When a party in possession of land claims that he holds a less estate than a fee simple, for instance, that he is tenant in tail for life for a term of years, or that he manifestly cuts down his own interest in title, and it is not likely that a man interested than he claimed or stated. Nort 192, Peaceable v Watson & Taunt 16 R v Exeter (1869) L R 4 B 341, Gauld v Miles 27 L R v Birmingham Blackburn J said 'It is now well settled that a statement against interest by a deceased person is admissible with certain limitations and evidence in proceedings between show that where a person prima facie evidence of a tenancy down that interest is admissible against his interest'. Similar declaration of the deceased father of the claimant who had been in the possession of the property that he only occupied and managed it for his son was held admissible as being against the interest of the person making it. A declares on interest in the land whatever is shown by Redman 1 Q B D 11 that a person in possession of land is the owner thereof for the purpose of the rule therefore.

Ibid, see Wills Ev 193 Welsh v Wynnwood 7 T R 397 The rule therefore is that the

to treating declarations

a question of public right was in issue, the declaration of a deceased land made whilst planting a tree stating that he planted it to show the boundary of road is not evidence of public right, for it is not a statement of general reputation but of a particular fact. R v Bliss 7 Add & E 560 Cf Selby v Chadwick 2 Moo & Rob 507 Assertions that one's estate is a leasehold or is not a freehold or that one's possession is merely as agent or as trustee for another are admissible. Walker v Broadstock 1 Esp 458 Doe v Hutton 1 Esp 4 Doe v Jones 1 Camp 367, Peaceable v Watson 1 Taunt 16 Nicol 1 Bing N C 430, Doe v Longfield, 16 M & W 513 A declaration by the person in possession, that his interest was less than a fee simple for his own life only, would be primary evidence that it ceased to exist at his death. Doe v Welsh v Longfield, 16 M & W 497 To make a declaration against proprietary interest in lands evidence after the death of the declarant must have been at the time in actual possession. La Touche v Hutton, 1 R 9 B 166 A declaration or a written entry by a deceased person when occupied as a tenant that he was tenant at so much rent and had paid it, is admissible as a declaration against proprietary interest to prove the fact of the payment of rent of the tenancy. Rex v Exeter Guardian, 10 B & S 133 Dalrymple v

deceased person, claiming a limited interest under a particular Will of property of which he was in possession, are admissible to prove the fact that the Will had a legal existence, and certain persons were named executors therein Sty v Dedge, 19 L. J. P. 63. On an issue as to the right of L. to a fishery, entries of a deceased receiver charging himself with the receipt of rent from a sub receiver, due from the fishery, are

L. J. Ex. 1. admissible in cases where made indas v. Ayu-to a pecuniary penalty, by way of imprisonment. Cuel le Cas decided, in 1844, was neither precedents, nor a backward without bias was received 1476 So it is plain testimony to such an admission if oral. This is the ancient rusty weapon that of procuring fabricated a very strong tendency to make any one out side of a Court of Justice believe L. J. A.—71

S. 32.

the admissibility of such a confession; the of the two countries do not bind us; case of declarations against interest as well against interest as a confession of murder than dying declarations, which would l one that there is no which declarations is not being against the declaration to a

against his pecuniary or proprietary interest. Not L v 184 But in order to make such statement admissible in evidence, the fact stated in the statement must expose him, to a criminal prosecution or to a suit for damages, at the time it was made. Stoke's Anglo. Ind. Code Vol II. 874; see also Nicholas v Aljar

the evidence

firmed by th

P. L. R. 1

forgery one trate died being

by the Session statement was to criminal pro

L. R. 248 f.

Daolat and to

She then died

before the committing

Magistrate and th

statements of the deceased were relevant un

she having witnessed an offence and no officer or Magistrate exposed herself to

Emperor, 10 N. L. R. 30-56 Ind. Cas 582-21 Cr L. J. 480

Statements of sundry facts against interest. There are many facts which in their ultimate effect be against the proprietary or pecuniary interest, though in their immediate and narrow aspect there may be no such clear character. These facts, however, may never the less be facts so decidedly against interest that no one would be inclined falsely to concede their existence. If so, on the general principle they should therefore be admitted. No more precise state the terms of the contract with B, was rejected. Blackburn v Lye is no more than an admission that he has the care of the three chests which arrived at the office and the possibility that this statement might make him show the existence of the Will. In Flood v Russel, 29 L. R. 1ra.

high she profited Wyn, (1914) A claimant was a the deceased's son Loreborn ng a legal
Wigmore
 § 1461. In R. v. Worth, 4 Q B 131 an entry of a hiring at a certain wages in the deceased master's private book with a memorandum of payment, was held to pay conditionally = none the subject to some conditions imposed contract liability of any sort is on § 1461 fact is of a Wigmore

of merely the is because the likely to be create a liability

Preponderance of interest—Credit and debit side—No motive to misrepresent In some cases it has been stated on the analogy of other Hearsay exceptions that there must be no motive to misrepresent and this has been put as an additional requirement Gladwin v. Atkins, 3 Tyrw 301; Marks v. Lahee, 8 Bing N C 403 "But" says Prof Wigmore "there is no such additional requirement The real ol a not uncommon situation, interest, there is also a increasing of the entry standing alone must be against the interest of the man who made it Of course, if you can prove an unde that the man had a particular reason for making it, and that it was for his interest, you may destroy the value of the evidence altogether, but the question of admissibility is not a question of value The entry may be utterly worthless when you get it, if you show any reason to believe that he had a motive for making it, and that though apparently against his interest, yet it was for account in which the receipts creating liability are on the whole exceeded by the payments or credits in his favour When, in the principle, any reference to collateral records which amounts to a repetition or an incorporation of them would make them a part of the admissible statement." Entries made at a subsequent occasion, when the original entries are complete, are clearly excluded. Doe v Tyler, 4 Moo & P 381, Knight v Waterford 4 Y & C Ex R. 283 (294)

In Reg v Overseer of Birmingham, 1 H & S 763—31 L J M C 63, Cockburn J observed "I should be prepared to say, that as soon as it is established, which it now is on the authority of Higham v Ridgway, supra, and the other cases, that you may receive the declaration of the deceased person as showing, not only something adverse to his interest, but all incidental facts contained in that declaration, so far as they are not foreign to it, it follows as a consequence that those collateral facts may be proved by the declaration." In Davies v Humphreys, 6 M & W 153 Parke J (afterwards Baron Parke) said "The entry of a payment against the interest of the party making it, has been held to have the effect of proving the truth of other statements contained in the record to therein provided that the

a variety of circumstances. If the statement happens to be recorded in a docu it came to be making it or an implicity in the

It is now, however, well settled that declarations of deceased persons against their interest so much contained in the facts stated in them, as to the declarations, and may be taken to have formed a substantial part of them see per Cockburn

parol declaration

tion of a tenem

proprietor as at

Smith's Les

A statement

a property credit and mortgagee had held the whole former part alone

admissible. Sitaram v Ahubtal 5 Pat 168=91 Ind Cas 13=7 Pat L 7 573=A I R 1926 Pat 255 But disconnected facts though contained in the same document or statement are inadmissible. Doe v Betts supra Knight v
Waterford, 4 Y & C 293, Angama v Bharmajpa, 23 B 63

When the statement must be against interest The fact stated must of early engrafted upon the rule, viz. that an admission of a fact, made by a deceased person which is against the interest of a party making it at the time, is evidence of that fact as between third persons. See also Percival v Hanson,

3. 32. 7 Ex 1, per Parle B; Lalor v Lalor, 4 L R 681; Ex parte Elcock & Tollemache, 14 Q B D 115; 416, Smith v Blakey, L R 2 Q B 326, McGill Allen, 13 Ch D 326. The chief application of this rule was to the endorsement of payment on bonds or notes before the claim was time-barred. The creditor's receipt of payment, in part or in whole, was a fact against interest, hence his memorandum endorsing upon the instrument the fact of receipt of payment would be a statement of fact against interest, the fact of payment thus evidenced, would be by implication an acknowledgment (of a promise) by the debtor, and thus would at common law suffice to give a new beginning to the period of the statute of limitations. Wigmore § 1466, Seele v Lord Barrington, C J in Addan a motive for unimpaired.

made after the Statute had run was not evidence, and that the note was barred by the Statute. See also Turner v Crisp, 2 Str 827; Glyn v Bank of England, 2 Ves 43; Short v Lee, 2 J & W 488, Gleadow v. Atkins, 3 Tyrwh 601, Neubold v Smith, 29 Ch D 277.

When the declarant to be prosecuted, and so the sub section (3) were not clause 3 of section 32. Nga To v King Emperor, 7 L B R 33=20 Ind 90=14 Cr L J 510.

Statements begun in question stated to be judge Jur N t stances t admissibility of evidence. Phip Ev 271

Spontaneity not required. No administrative necessity has been put forward for requiring another general safeguard against mistake in or manufacture of evidence, i.e., guarantee of spontaneity should also be present, if a statement against interest is to be received. Doe v Twiford, 3 B & Ad 890, Chamberlain, 14 Ev § 2773.

31 L J M C 63. Feulen v Thomson, 13 Ch D 293. Farmingham v T

in the cases. See also Jagnot v Hay

Eseler v Warren, [1911] 1 Ch 190-191. in whose-ever has been called in the latter case it is not necessary to call

Contemporaneity of entry Declarations against interest are admissible even when they are not made contemporaneously with the facts Doe v Tuford, 3 B & Ad 890, Smith v Blakey, L R 11 Q B 326, Whaley v Masserene 8 Ir Jur N S 281

Personal Knowledge The qualifications of the declarant with reference to the facts as those of the ordinary witness v Nanson 7 Ex 1, Tay § 669, is held that it was not necessary knowledge of the fact stated—that if the entry charged himself, the whole of it became admissible against all weight, and not magna, 1 B 610 is applicable to uniform Vide Doe v Robson, 15 List 31, Short v Lee 2 Jac & W 488, Barker v Bay, 3 Russ 76, Uddleton v Melton 10 B & C 317 Lloyd v Pouell (1913) 2 K B 133, 137 C A Gleadon v Atin 3 Tyrw 302, Marks v Lakee 3 Bing N C 420, Percival v Nanson 7 Ex 1 In the above cases it was held that the declarant must be shown to have had a competent if not a peculiar knowledge of the matter of the declaration Tay § of what the chest contained. Similarly in Doe v Longfield 16 M & W 514 the assertion of an estate by life interest only was regarded as ambiguous and inadmissible See also Plaxton v Dare, 10 B & C 19, Doe v Barton 9 C & P 254

Extrinsic Proof Extrinsic proof must be given of the declarant's death (unless it is presumed) necessitate the admission be shown to have Short v Lee, 2 Jac & W 467, Plumer M R said: In all these cases (of books by bailiffs etc) the first wrote them, if you fail in that Phip Ev 7th Ed 272, Curtis 1 Price 228, Bullen 1 D 58, Doe v Deviss 7 C should Barry

hand were Where
t 1178

authorised or adopted by the deceased Lancum v Lovell 6 C & P 437 Bradley v Jones, 13 C B 822, Doe v Hawkins 2 Q B 812, Re Lountaine (1909) 2 Ch 382, Phip Ev 7th Ed 272 Where, however, the document is thirty years old or receiver of another, it is necessary, in addition to give some proof that he really occupied an alleged position, except (1) where the agency is a public one, or (2) perhaps where the entries are ancient produced from proper custody and bear strong internal evidence of genuineness Tay § 663 Phip Ev 311

Declarations against interest and Admissions, distinguished. Declarations against received and contrary, are of the deceased declarant, admitted as an exception to the hearsay rule Maclellan v L 316 Such declarations are made, being compelled by truth, and as such they are trustworthy as if made on the stand under oath and cross-examination H. Jones § 1170 The points of essential difference in main are to his advantage, because apart from the existence of a Will, he in fact took no interest in the property. Re Adams, Benton v Pouch, (1923) P 240-127 L T. S.

within the meaning of s 32, Evidence Act and are hence inadmissible Jagdish v Harihar, 78 Ind Cas 219-10 C L J 39 On the death of a member of a joint Hindu family the other members sued the widow of the deceased for possession of certain properties on the ground that she had no right to them, her husband having died an undivided member The widow set up a division and relied inter alia, on a mortgage executed by her deceased husband and attested by the plaintiffs containing possession of the properties acknowledgment that they had admissible in evidence as a statement against interest under s 32 of the Evidence Act Gnanamuthu v Veilu Kanda, 19 L W 491-79 Ind Cas 3-A I R 1924 the circumstances with the adoption under s 32 (3) of the Evidence Act Danopati v Balsundara, 36 M 19-18 Ind Cas 989 The varaspatra in this case was admissible not only under section 32, clause (3) of the Indian Evidence Act as a declaration made by the widow against her proprietary interest, but also by reason of s 90 of the Act Hari Chintaman v Moro Lakshman, 11 B 89 Recitals in deeds in favour of one party to suit showing nature of some lands are admissible not only under this clause but also under s 13 (b) Tikaram v Motilal, A I R 1930 All 299 In a suit for account by the representatives of A, deceased, evidence was adduced of a document his interest Zaynub v Hadjee, 2 Ind Jur N S 51 Where the question, whether there was partition between the ancestors of the parties or not, is in issue, the statements made by the deceased ancestors of the parties that there was partition are admissible in evidence as they are statements against proprietary interest of the persons making them Jairam v Narottam, A I R 1929 Nag 131

32. L J 881. A statement of a convicted person made about the time of his being hanged that the approver in the case was not involved in the crime may be admissible Shafi v. Emperor, A. I. R. 1930 Nag 259=124 Ind Crs 409. Statement in adoption deed that adopter's sons were suffering from leprosy is admissible to decide validity of adoption and attestation by sons being against their interest is admissible Nangammal v. Sankarappa, A. I. R. 1931 Mad 100. Vendors in sale deeds belong to them, but not land Tula Ram v. Maitra, A. I. R. 1930 All. 299; but see Aligun Nayahars v. Perumal, 39 L W 472.

Declarations held not admissible under this clause. An admission made by a bankrupt in his statement of affairs that a debt is due from him, is not after his death, admission of the existence of the debt after paying the same. 13 Q B D 720.

Evidence, either on the general ground of pecuniary interest, or on the ground of the audit having been made in the ordinary course of business. Wheat v. Moot, 45 L T 1. Business done by a creditor account, merely because the account is acknowledged by a firm of the trader acknowledged on the part of the person by whom the account is acknowledged. Whaley v. Moot, 45 L T 1. The day book and ledger of a firm kept by himself with no other person.

427=102 Ind Crs. 145=A. I. R. 1907 No. 133. Statements of persons under s. 32, Evidence Act, conditions specified therein are for a certain person a statement in the more than 20 years before is not admissible under s. 32. Shan v. Hindu is admissible in interest.

Long enjoyment of her husband's property Dalbhadur v. Loyoy, C. W. N. 300=A. I. R. 1930 P. C. 50=30 R. M. I. R. 497=51 C. L. J. 41.

Held, that neither the

as the statements in the Will made by the deceased that he had spent a particular S.

plaintiff, a statement

The evidence of Act would be ad

rietary interest of the deponent, even in a of title Shyamanand v Rama Kanta, 32

Will of the purchaser of the title title Held that the recital of brahmav title in the Will was not admissible Satindra v Krishna Kumari 36 Ind Cas 682 A statement by a plaintiff as a witness to the effect that her father told her that he had mortgaged the land in suit to the defendant is inadmissible under this section Mt Nga Ma v Nga Lalab, 29 Ind Cas 607 = U B R (1915) 1st Qr 50 A recital in a conveyance not admissible in evidence under this clause. Harihar v Guwagranth, 128 Ind

Cas 791 = A I R 1930 P C. 610

Statement as regards boundray In Rajah Leclanund v Mt Lakhaputee, 22 W propriet mortgag ment ad founded govern case wa interest

Under t
the prop

proprietary interest Karuppanna v Hanja Suami, 107 Ind Cas 293 = A I R 1928

THE INDIAN EVIDENCE ACT

- S. 32. It is unnecessary to cite any v. Radgway, 2 Sm L. C 307 under the cases the
- This case na v Bharmappa, 23 B 63, which again was followed in the High Court in case of Haji Bibi v. H H Sur Sultan Mahal 11 Bom L R 409=2 Ind Cas 817, and in our Court Kunj Behury Lal, 16 C W 116=25 C I, 116 in Allahabad in all these cases Sudhari Pandey, 1 case of Ambar Ali 116=25 C I, 116 in the case of Radha Krishna v Sarbeswar Nag, A I R Cal 681 and in the case of Choom Lal v Nilmadhab, A I R 1925 Cal 44 C L J 587=99 Ind Cas 910=A I R 53 Ind Cas 863, Trimbah v Ganesh, 68 Ir in the mahal, in which there was then zemindar many years prior to the question that the original re Mr Justice Mackay held that possible." It is clear that the view is consonant with the principle underlying guarantee to the trustworthiness of Couch C J and Auslie J said "We c Judge that this statement was not ad which the interest in the m l a t it is against cut down the p mount of the original no a document of this kind is, and the part which is which is against his inter interest of the proprietor, taking the doc favour. In the circumstances there was nothing to impeach the judgment of Mr. S. 3 63 and upon on Calcutta

 even in Kunj
 ing the trans-either extin-and Cis 752, any reason 7, it was held

 in evidence

land then conveyed was limited by certain boundaries, was an admission that their proprietary interest did not extend over any land outside the boundaries mentioned. The entire statement was consequently inadmissible (Higham v Ridgway, 10 East 109, Connar v F. Nanson, L R 2 Q B 326, and R v Eze).
 is that the statement is accepted, not interest of the person impose boundaries may how a statement of that nature can be said to be against the proprietary interest of the person making it, is some what difficult to ascertain. This view is supported by the following observation of Sir Richard Garth in Brojesuar v Budhanudhi, 6 C 268, where the learned Chief Justice observed 'A recital in a deed or other instruments is in some cases conclusive, and in all cases evidence as against the parties who make it. But it is no more evidence as against third persons than any other statement would be.' See also Brojomohan v Gaya Prosad, 30 C W N 761, Choon v Aulmadhab, 41 C L J 374, Radha v Sorbesuar, 20 C W N 469.

death as a statement against his proprietary interest. Wills Ex 192. And a fortiori if it shows that he has no interest in the land whatever. Ibid. This is based on the well known rule of law, that a person in possession of land is presumed, until the contrary appears, to be the owner thereof in fee simple. Grey v Reiman, 1 therefore is not the land occupied against his interest to deny his possession of one close than it is to assert his

the subject matter of the document cannot be regarded as having been against the pecuniary or proprietary interest of the person making it within the meaning

S. 32 of section 32(3) of the Evidence Act and is consequently inadmissible in Kumil Kumari v. Dilsool Roy 101 Ind Cas 512-15 C L J 53
Dandajani In re 8 Ind Cas 968, contra Lahu Singh v. Sahaleo Singh 30 Ind Cas 610

CLAUSE IV

exposing them to constant contradiction Pappu Do 7th Ev 280

in or Mansingh to have had a personal knowledge of the facts, and to have stood quite independent ed are received in evidence In case of general rights, which depend declarations are admissible in the Berkeley Peerage Case, 4 C 107 deceased persons who are entitled intervals of time, direct proof of their existence therefore only required

Administrative requirements Necessity Before secondary evidence unsworn statements can be received as proof of the fact asserted it is essential here as in other instances of the use of secondary evidence that the proof of the oral testimony of the declarant should be shown to be unsworn and that in consequence, a sufficient administrative necessity to produce secondary evidence has been placed on the proponent A declaration of this nature is said to be admissible, 'where no better evidence can be had' Of a the 10th Ev § 2791

tions
 7 A & prove answer being rightly ascertain conceive the exception reputation of investigate existence of be given'

of a variety of sanction or test, deemed equivalent for ascertaining the truth of the statements in a manner the purpose of cross examination After it is reasonably safe to accept the result as an established fact 1191000 § 1083 So the guarantee of its credibility consists in the

of a large number of persons, all interested in and therefore likely to ascertain the truth of an opinion which if untrue, would be surely challenged. Hill v 2nd Ed 222; Wright v Doe, 7 A & E 313 in H L, 1 Bing N C 489; R v Bedfordshire, 4 E & B 535.

